

WEST LONDON IS BOOMING BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL; MANY HOUSES TO GO UP

Insistent Demand for Breakwater and Prospect of Adequate Protection Causes One Purchase of Twenty Lots on Which Thirty Houses Will Be Erected.

REAL ESTATE MEN PREDICT A FINE FUTURE FOR WEST LONDON

Twenty-two lots on Grosvenor street, West London, were sold Thursday by Mr. Patrick Walsh for Mrs. Bessie C. Macdonald to Mr. George Fielding & Son, who will begin the erection of thirty houses upon the property at once.

Has the campaign conducted through The Advertiser done harm to West London?

The above real estate item would hardly bear out the claim of the croakers who have maintained that because the need of a breakwater has been vigorously made known West London would be harmed and property could not be sold on account of it.

West London Optimistic.

The sale of the twenty-two lots and the decision of the buyers to erect houses at once, has been directly a result of the prospect of securing adequate protection for that section of the city. West London was never more optimistic than at the present time, and that there is to be further activity is the confident prediction of real estate men and the businessmen of West London.

Big Building Deal.

The erection of the thirty homes of a type that can be rented by workingmen will be the most important building deal that has gone through in years.

"West London just needed to have its claims brought to public attention in the proper way," said a real estate dealer today. "That section of the city is going to go ahead. There is a more hopeful feeling than ever existed there before, and it is based upon the prospect of getting protection. If the breakwater is built as it must be, you will see hundreds of homes go up in this section. It is not more than ten minutes from the centre of the city, and as was recently pointed out the building up of it is not more than ten minutes from the centre of the city."

BIG QUESTIONS TO BE TALKED OVER WITH GERMANS

Viscount Morley Leaves for Berlin, and King Will Follow Shortly.

The Wedding of the Kaiser's Daughter Will Take Place on May 24.

(Canadian Press.)

New York, May 16.—A cable from London to the Tribune says: Though it is officially announced that Viscount Morley of Blackburn has gone to Berlin for "a purely private visit," it is said that Mr. Asquith's septuagenarian colleague will not devote all his time to sightseeing. Lord Morley will meet not only the Kaiser but also Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, and all Germany's leading foreign politicians, and discuss with them all the problems in which British and German interests are associated.

Ragdad, the Mediterranean and the Turkish questions will certainly be discussed, and the boundaries of the British and German East African possessions will be reviewed.

The question of the limitation of armaments will not be touched upon, as it wrecked Lord Haldane's visit, and nobody in Germany, and apparently nobody in Great Britain, is anxious to revive it just at present.

King George will start on Monday for Berlin for the wedding of the Kaiser's daughter on the following Saturday, and the Czar will also be present at the ceremony. In this case, too, an attempt has been made to strip the gathering of any significance. Officially it is nothing more than a purely family formality, but it is generally expected that it will have important political consequences.

URGES GOVT. TO MAKE GRANT TO FIGHT TYPHOID

Ten Millions Spent for Militia, But Nothing for Protecting Health.

Formation of Corps of Sanitary Engineers Would Be a Good Move.

Ottawa, May 16.—"The Dominion Government spends about $10,000,000 a year on military matters, and not a cent to fight typhoid fever, which is killing thousands of our people every year. It seems to me that the Government would do well to spend as much to protect the health of the public as it does on military matters," said Geo. Bradbury, M. P., chairman of the special committee appointed to deal with the pollution of rivers and streams in Canada during the sitting of that body today.

"Would it not pay the Government to employ a special board of sanitary engineers to deal with the problem confronting us?" asked Mr. Bradbury. R. S. Lea, a Montreal hydraulic engineer, who was a witness before the committee.

"It would be money well spent," answered Lea. "There is not a special course of sanitary engineering given in any of the Canadian universities. The Government would do well to provide chairs of sanitary engineering in the universities of Canada."

"If this problem we are dealing with were taken hold of systematically by the Government, how much would typhoid be reduced?" questioned the chairman.

"Three hundred per cent, and it would considerably reduce the probability of typhoid epidemics."

Important Proposals. The outcome of Mr. Bradbury's suggestions will probably be that Parliament will be asked to vote a large sum of money to endow chairs of sanitary engineering in the universities, and for the formation and upkeep of a central board to deal with the problem.

C. H. MacLeod, vice-dean of the faculty of science at McGill University, and Wm. Kennedy, consulting hydraulic engineer of the city of Montreal, concurred in the views expressed.

SIMCOE PLATER WORKS OUT.

Toronto, May 16.—Mausolus, the Simcoe plater, went the plate distance in 2:22 2-5 today. Outside of this workout there was nothing much doing at the Woodbine. Heart of Oak is expected to work this afternoon.

THE WEATHER.

TOMORROW—WARMER. Toronto, May 16—8 a.m. Moderate to fresh westerly to southerly wind; clearing and fair tonight and on Saturday, with higher temperature.

The following were the highest and lowest temperatures during the 24 hours previous to 8 a.m. today: High. Weather. London 53 42 Rain. Clear. Victoria 50 38 Cloudy. Winnipeg 50 38 Cloudy. Port Arthur 50 38 Cloudy. Parry Sound 48 32 Cloudy. Toronto 50 42 Cloudy. Ottawa 50 38 Rain. Montreal 52 39 Cloudy. Quebec 50 38 Cloudy. Father Point 44 34 Cloudy.

Weather Notes. The depression which was in Wisconsin yesterday now covers the lower lake region with much diminished energy. Rain has fallen over Ontario, attended by local thunderstorms, and showers have occurred in parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

WHERE thirty new homes will be built on Grosvenor avenue, West London, an indication of the optimism the residents have for their section of the city through the prospect of securing a breakwater. Twenty-two large lots changed hands here Thursday, and there are rumors of other extensive real estate movements in the locality.

Why Were Tenders Not Called For? FORMER CITY ENGINEER STATES THAT HE TRIED TO INFLUENCE CITY TO SECURE TENDERS WHEN INCINERATOR CONTRACT WAS TO BE AWARDED

George W. Wright Recalls His Refusal to Accept Contract, Believing That Proper Details Were Not Being Furnished--Is the City Council in London Usually Run by the Mayor and One or Two Others?

Has there been too much of close corporation rule about municipal affairs in London for many years?

Is it true, as some observers claim, that two or three men in the city council handle practically all matters, and by their plausibility or bullying methods succeed in making the others, or most of the others, keep in the background? Have the councils been in truth "my councils"?

Are most of the city aldermen afraid of the mayor at the present time, for instance? And is this the reason that the citizens do not always bear the whole truth about transactions, despite the endeavors of the newspapers to get at the heart of things?

A Duty to the Ratepayers. In the incinerator matter The Advertiser has endeavored to present some facts that the ratepayers were entitled to. The Advertiser feels that its first duty is to the ratepayers, and not to any public official or officeholder. It has made no accusations, nor has it even mentioned any names in regard to the manner in which the $50,000 voted by the citizens for garbage disposal was being spent.

Whether the citizens are responsive or not is a matter of responsibility with the citizens alone. They get the kind of government they want. And there is nothing in the nature of muck-raking, or nothing that a fair-minded citizen can take offense at, in any of the revelations. It is simply a discussion of the citizens' business.

Mr. Wright's Resignation. The retirement of City Engineer George W. Wright was coincident with the awarding of the contract for the incinerator. While he resigned after the investigation into the sidewalk situation, he held firm convictions in the incinerator matter.

The Advertiser has communicated with Mr. Wright as to whether tenders should have been called. His reply was received on Thursday and is as follows:

"I objected from the start on the procedure in connection with the incinerator, and was strongly in favor of competitive plans, and bids to get the best value for such a large expenditure. In this case, I refused to pass the plans, etc., as submitted, they being absolutely devoid of detailed information, and the specifications and agreement being unusual and too much in line with the contractor's wishes. For further particulars, I would refer you to my letter to the press under date of Oct. 8, 1912. Yours truly, GEO. W. WRIGHT."

"Toronto, May 15, 1913."

The portion of Mr. Wright's letter written to the newspapers having reference to the incinerator, was as follows:

"The incinerator proposition is one that has its interesting sides, and one which the public might be interested in knowing how the $50,000 is to be spent and what the ratepayers are going to get for their money. The proposition, as submitted by Laurie & Lamb, giving their own specifications, conditions and terms of payment, were accepted, and I was instructed to draw up a contract to protect the city's interests. This I would not do until I was furnished with detail plans, showing what the city was to receive for the $35,500 expenditure. This caused considerable delay, and I was sent to Montreal to find the exact condition of this proposition. In Montreal I met with the same result regarding the detailed plans which I could not see nor secure, and I advised the committee of this fact on my return by letter under date of Sept. 13, and pointed out the fact that from the information furnished or forthcoming I was unable to determine what the city was getting for their money, and refused to pass on the work, leaving the responsibility to the mayor and committee to act as they thought proper, giving them an agreement prepared by the solicitor based on the former acceptance of the tender. This agreement, specification, indefinite plans have been accepted by the mayor and aldermen, and I doubt very much if any member of the council knows exactly what they are going to get, or can force Laurie & Lamb to give them what they think they are going to get."

SUNDAY STREET CARS AGAIN A LIVE ISSUE; CITIZENS WANT VOTE

According to the act of the Provincial Legislature governing the operation of Sunday street cars in cities above 50,000 in population, the vote of the people on the question must be taken at the "general municipal election." This is generally interpreted to mean the January election, when elections for the city council and other municipal bodies and offices are held, and that it cannot be construed to cover an election on money bylaws such as the storm-sewer, breakwater, or electrification.

A Live Issue Again. Since the Traction cars commenced running to Port Stanley on Sundays, a great many citizens have been discussing the Sunday street car problem and asking when a vote will be again taken on the Sunday car question.

At the present time there is no organization in the city in support of the Sunday car movement, but a strong feeling exists that in as much as the people have voted in favor of Sunday cars before, and now that the city has a population of 50,000 they should not have to wait a full year for what they want. Premier Whitney has, however, expressed his unwillingness to allow any alteration or stretching of the act to allow a vote being taken before January, 1914.

LASH FOR WHITE SLAVERS IN ADDITION TO PENALTY

Important Amendments to Criminal Code Introduced by the Minister of Justice—Parcels Post Passes First Reading.

[Canadian Press.] Ottawa, May 16.—A bill to amend the criminal code was introduced in the Commons today by the Minister of Justice. It facilitates the conviction of white slave traffickers, and makes the penalty more severe, including the lash; provides a penalty for seducing an employee under 21, prohibits leasing of houses for immoral purposes, and provides for arrest on "reasonable suspicion" of vice.

Hereafter no person can purchase a revolver or deadly weapon without authority of the chief of police, and they cannot be bought by persons under 18.

Hon. L. P. Pelletier introduced his parcels post bill in the Commons today, and it was given its first reading. Second a bare outline, the bill does not give details, which will be forthcoming on second reading. Parcels are to be limited in weight to 11 pounds, and in length to 72 inches. Parcels will include farm and factory products with some exceptions.

PLAN IMPORTANT CHANGES IN PICTURE SHOW REGULATIONS

Licenses Will Be Issued in Similar Manner to Hotels, and More Safety Precautions Are To Be Inaugurated.

[Canadian Press.] Toronto, May 16.—There are 235 picture theatres in Ontario, and the provincial treasurer's department is now preparing rules for their better regulation. When new regulations are brought into force, the theatre itself, as well as the premises, will be licensed instead of the machine as at present, so that "emptying the theatres" will make better control possible, shall always be easy and rapid.

NEW CITIZENS ARE FINE LOT

Party of One Hundred Britishers Will Arrive Here This Evening.

AND WORK AWAITS THEM

Mr. John Riggs, Dominion Immigration officer of this city, received a telegram this afternoon from the immigration authorities in Montreal, stating that the long-expected contingent of English immigrants had arrived in that city on the Canada on Thursday evening and had left for London early this morning.

Mr. Riggs has not yet ascertained the time of the arrival of the party in this city, but expects that it will be some time during the night. The party is one of the largest that has arrived in Eastern Ontario for some time, and he has already received a large number of applications for help, both from farmers and manufacturers of this section of the Province. The contingent is composed of young men and women, as well as married men with their families, and the total number is over 100. The men include skilled mechanics, as well as laborers, and Mr. Riggs expects that the majority will be able to commence work on Monday morning. Mr. Riggs stated that the taking of the beds from the East End town hall by the immigrants who were living there was due to a misunderstanding, as the newcomers understood that the league had given the beds to them for all time, but as soon as they understood the particulars they made arrangements with the officers of the league.

RENEW PLANT IS SCHEME OF LONDON ELEC.

Present Equipment To Be Sent to Scrap Heap Within a Year.

STEAM TURBINE TO GIVE POWER

Powerful Canada General Electric Company Believed To Be Behind Local Concern.

The shareholders of the London Electric Company this morning received the last payment on their stock. The stock has been purchased in three installments, the first being at the rate of 10 cents, and the last two at 20 cents. With the final payment comes the announcement from several authoritative sources that the company will construct a new plant within a short time, installing turbine steam engines and actively continuing in the local electric field.

London's Blunder. The Canada General Electric Company are supposed to be the sole owners of the London Electric Company. They purchased the stock of the company at 50 cents on the dollar after the city of London had been given the opportunity to take it over at about 25 cents on the dollar.

Citizens generally have come to the view that the city made a grave blunder in so far as the success of hydro was concerned when it failed to secure the company and close it up, utilizing only the poles and the buildings of the company.

To Build New Plant. It can be said with certainty that the company will practically consign every portion of its present equipment to the scrap heap, and completely renew the plant within the next year. The success of the steam turbine apparatus in other cities has influenced the officers of the Canada General Electric, and it is reliably advanced that the company will be able to place itself on such a footing as will enable it to compete with the municipal plant.

The Advertiser endeavored to get in touch with Mr. E. O. Jenking who has acted as manager of the London Electric. Mr. Jenking was not at the offices of the Canada General Electric, and was not expected for a day or two.

Steam Turbines Bought. An electrical contractor who was in the city recently stated that an item had appeared in one of the electrical journals stating that the London Electric Company had purchased two steam turbine engines and that they would be installed during the summer.

MILITANTS WIN FIGHT TO HAVE PAPER PRINTED

Defeat British Government's Efforts to Have "The Suffragette" Stopped.

Many More Bombs Were Found in Various Parts of London.

[Canadian Press.] London, May 16.—A defeat has been inflicted on the British Government by the "wild women" in their fight over the question of the suppression of the militant suffragette newspaper, The Suffragette.

After Archibald Bodkin, counsel for the treasury, had announced that the government would prosecute anyone printing the newspaper in the future the labor press and some of the Liberal newspapers, which are the strongest supporters of the present cabinet protested that this was an infringement of the liberty of the press.

Scored Offer. The former Socialist member of parliament, George Lansbury, and the Socialist member James Kier Hardie, offered personally to undertake the publication of the paper, but the suffragettes declined their offer with scorn.

Thereupon the home office issued a statement declaring that Mr. Bodkin's pronouncement had been misconstrued and that the Women's Social and Political Union or any publisher could issue the Suffragette so long as it did not contain any incitement to crime.

Sydney Drew, the former publisher, has written to the home office pointing out that he was compelled to undertake that he "will not hereafter, directly or indirectly, take part in printing the Suffragette or any other organs of the Women's Social and Political Union." He wants to know what steps are now to be taken to relieve him from this undertaking.

Labor Men Aroused. The special interest taken by the labor party in the question of the Suffragette newspaper, because the labor newspapers frequently come in collision with the Government. This is the case in regard to general conscription for the army, and in the event of this becoming the policy of the British Government, which the labor party fears the labor newspapers proposed to urge the workingmen of the British Isles to resist it.

The militant suffragettes have renewed their complaint that the Government discriminates between them and the Ulster Unionists. They point out that Sir Edward Carson has gone (Continued on Page Ten)

SHORT CHANGE MEN AT WORK

Several London Bartenders Touched by Their Smooth Methods.

GIRL CLERKS AS WELL

A couple of short-change men, who were artists, went through London Wednesday and Thursday, and a number of bartenders and clerks are the sorrier.

The short-change men worked the time-honored game of proffering a large bill for a small article, and then discovering that they had the right change. In the meantime they had secured the change from the bill, and in the confusion they neglected to return it.

Four or five hotels were visited, and in each case $3 and an amount of change was secured. The men entered a five and ten-cent store and preyed upon the young girls acting as clerks, with the result that a number of them were out several dollars in their change.

Some "wise" bartenders are getting the laugh, but for the men who fleece the girls there is nothing but contempt expressed.

DOES IT PAY TO ELECTRIFY?

[From the London Free Press.] REDUCE DIVIDEND RATE FOR THE YEAR

Boston, May 15.—The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company today reduced its dividend rate from eight per cent to six per cent a year, by declaring a quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent on the common stock.

The road has been paying eight per cent since 1895. Between 1873 and 1895 the stock paid 10 per cent, and its shares sold as high as 27 1/2. The stock sold as low as 10 1/2 during the last fortnight.

This is the road the London Free Press has been holding up as an example of what electrification does for a railway.

THE THIRD READING.

The third reading of the naval bill has passed the House of Commons by a majority of 33.

It was significant that while five Nationalists opposed it, all the Nationalists voted against any Liberal amendments which affirmed the Canadian navy principle.

"He still wants the blood of our children," was a phrase hurled at Laurier by one of the Nationalist members. Here is the whole secret of the Conservative-Nationalist compact. Mr. Bourassa boasts, with reason, that the Nationalist victory in Drummond in 1910, and the ensuing agitation, caused Mr. Borden to repudiate the Canadian navy idea. The contribution plan is less objectionable to the Nationalists; at any rate, it enables Mr. Borden's followers to save their faces. While on the hustings they opposed naval expenditure in any form, their attacks were directed mainly against the Laurier bill. Mr. Bourassa sounded the keynote of the 1911 campaign with his famous philippic about the sons of the habitants being torn from their homes by Laurier to serve on British warships, and be disembowelled by German or Japanese cannon. The Laurier law was represented as the wedge of conscription, and its author as the tool of British imperialism.

The game of the Nationalists is to keep this picture before the eyes of Quebec. As L'Evenement, the Postmaster-General's Quebec organ, naively puts it, the Borden plan is preferable, because British-Canadians will not be needed for naval defence, and British sailors can be hired for 25 cents a day. "The blood of our children will not be shed." The Government will give its Quebec supporters the advantage of this cry in the back concessions of that province. That is the whole explanation of the betrayal of the Canadian navy project. That is why Mr. Borden destroyed the compact between Liberals and Conservatives to lift this great issue out of the rack of partisanship.

THE CRY OF THE PESSIMIST.

Among the scientists of the Victorian age few stand higher than Alfred Russel Wallace. Contemporary with Darwin, Spencer, and Huxley; pioneer in the investigations that led to the discovery of the theory of natural selection, with its corollary, the doctrine of evolution; with a good claim to be considered himself the discoverer of that theory, though the credit has been given more largely to others; every word from such a man is worthy of attention. Outliving all his old associates, at the age of ninety, he speaks again with no uncertain sound. But his words are somewhat startling. He says: "I have come to the general conclusion that there has been no advance, either in intellect or morals, from the days of the earliest Egyptians to the reel-laying of the latest Dreadnought."

We seem to hear an echo of the voice of the gated and wearied Israelitish king: "Vanity of vanities; all is vanity." Is Wallace right? Then Christianity has been a failure, and our boasted civilization is a whitened sepulchre. Nearly two thousand years ago a religion was founded which today, some 500,000,000 people claim to have been of divine origin. Has it failed to raise humanity any higher than it was in the days of the early Egyptians? Have all the educational forces that have been in operation during the Christian era left the human intellect where it was in the days of the Pharaohs? Was the inventive genius of ancient Assyria and Chaldea as great as that which has given to the world the comforts and luxuries which the poorest man can have today and the wealthy and powerful of by-gone days never had? It would seem to be sufficient to ask such questions that a child could answer.

No one but a blind pessimist can fail to see that in every department of life there has been progress. We need only to go back a few centuries when war meant slaughter and rapine to the non-combatant as well as to the soldier; when in the highest society there was the lowest standard of purity; when religious sects thought more of their dogmas than of Christianity; when politics was a game of corruption in which every man had his price; when the masses were degraded and starved, and the classes were degraded and rich. How can a thoughtful man compare the past with the present and not realize that everywhere there has been improvement? That there is evil in the world today is not questioned. Feeble intellects, debased souls, starved bodies, are only too abundant. But that there has been no improvement cannot for a moment be admitted.

Of course, it is probable that Dr. Wallace would not wish to be taken too literally. It is possible he did not mean there was no improvement. He may have meant that in the peculiar morality which causes a man to live up to, if he does not surpass, the standard of his own time, there has been no advance. But even from that point of view, if it be a correct one, we must not overlook the fact that the standard has been raised much higher. In the past ages it was not very difficult for a man to reach the standard of intellect and morals of his own time, for it was exceedingly low. In a state of society where a man's female associates are only limited by his ability to support them, it is not very difficult to be virtuous. Where war justifies the capturing of a defenceless city, and putting all the inhabitants to death, a soldier might easily acquire a reputation for being merciful. And yet a man who lived up to a higher standard than was required a few centuries ago, might find himself in jail or on the gallows if he could do no better today. In relation to the standard of the age, the average man does not get beyond it, but the standard itself is immeasurably higher than it ever was.

So, when Dr. Wallace declares that we are not any better than the ancient Egyptians, and still further emphasizes the statement by adding that "our whole system of society is rotten from top to bottom, and the social environment as a whole, in relation to our responsibilities and our claims, is the worst the world has ever seen," we can only conclude that we are having an exhibition of the worst form of pessimism.

CHINA FACING A CRISIS.

In an article in this journal, April 25, notice was made of the assembling of the new Chinese Parliament, its parties and its problems. To solve the financial situation was mentioned as the great question confronting the Provisional President and Parliament. And attention was called to the patriotic attitude of Sun Yat Sen in supporting Provisional President Yuan Shi Kai for election by Parliament to the presidency.

Since then there have been some sensational developments in Chinese affairs. Sun Yat Sen has very much changed his mind about brother Yuan. He has issued a manifesto to foreign governments and peoples, in which he says that "as the result of careful investigations by officials appointed by the Government to inquire into the recent murder of the Nationalist leader, Sung Chiao-jen, the fact is clearly established that the Peking Government is seriously implicated in the crime." Other political assassinations are laid to the door of Yuan Shi Kai. The great radical-socialist-revolutionary party of the south, which swears by Sun Yat Sen, raises the slogan that "Yuan must go," or the sword will be drawn again. What sharpens the general indignation is that on that very Sunday, April 27, which was set apart for Christian prayers in Britain and America, autocratic and subversive acts, such as the Manchou emperors did not dare to attempt, threw the Republican constitution in the dust. About half-past three that Sunday morning, Yuan Shi Kai's chief ministers secretly signed a loan agreement dictated by a quintuple group of powers for $125,000,000, without awaiting the consent of Parliament, and in spite of protests and warnings from parliamentarians who suspected what the Government was about.

The nature of the agreement may be understood from President Wilson's plain words about it in a message to the American Congress. Explaining why the United States must withdraw from the Six Nations group on this loan, he said: "The conditions of the loan seem to us to touch very nearly the administrative independence of China itself, and this Administration does not feel that it ought, even by implication, to be a party to those conditions. The responsibility on its part which would be implied in requesting the bankers to undertake the loan might conceivably go the length in some unhappy contingency of forcible interference in the financial and even the political affairs of that great Oriental state, just now awakening to a consciousness of its power and of its obligations to its people."

He went on to point out that the financial conditions of the proposed loan "include not only the pledging of quoted and burdensome, to secure the loan, but also the administration of those taxes by foreign agents, the responsibility on the part of our Government of a loan thus secured and administered is plain enough and is obnoxious to the principles upon which the Government of our people rests."

Sun Yat Sen's manifesto charges that Yuan Shi Kai has yielded to the terms laid down by the quintuple group of powers, which was a sextuple group before President Wilson drew out, in order to get plenty of money to carry on a tyranny and reign of terror. Yuan Shi Kai seems to be aiming to be a Chinese Diaz. "It," says Sun Yat Sen, "the Peking Government is kept without funds there is a prospect of a compromise on behalf of the people being effected, while the immediate effect of a liberal supply of money will probably be the precipitation of a terrible and disastrous conflict."

The limelight now shifts to the Senate.

The Borden contribution bill was never before the people, but it ought to be.

It would have been a relief to the British Government if Laurier's motion to give the naval bill six months' hoist had been carried.

The Government's majority on the third reading of the naval bill was 33. If every member pledged to vote against any naval expenditure had kept his pledge, the bill would have been defeated.

The new French army law will put an additional 250,000 young Frenchmen into barracks. The new German army law will put an additional 300,000 young Germans into barracks. Each nation will be relatively in the same position as before. Sensible, isn't it?

The City Council has kept the tax rate a fraction below 25 mills, but at the cost of street improvements. The mayor's theory, that it is only necessary to fill up the dangerous holes in the roads, will put the city in a deeper hole, if acted on. The roads will go from bad to worse.

The final payment on the London Electric Company's shares has been made by the purchasing syndicate. The city could have bought out the company and extinguished its perpetual franchise for a smaller sum. The refusal to do so, on Mr. Beck's advice, was a colossal blunder.

There is something in this passage from Laurier's speech on the third reading of the naval bill: "What a triumph for the Nationalists! What a triumph for those men whose souls were tortured with the fear that their sons would be disembowelled fighting for the flag of the Empire. Methinks that the Government would best perpetuate Canadian appreciation of its proposals if it named the three battleships—the three empty battleships which are to represent Canada, not on the firing line, but under the protection of the guns of the Gibraltar Citadel, the Pelletier, the Nantel and the Codere." (Prolonged laughter and applause.)

COST OF LUNCHING.

[Brooklyn Daily Eagle.] "Do you charge for bread and butter in this restaurant?" "No, sir." "Then gimme some."

LITTLE FATHER CLASSES.

[Industrial Banner.] Another subject has been added to the curriculum of the Toronto public schools. In addition to the seventeen classes, the young girls of the senior classes will take up the study of infant care, and this upon Saturday morning, the only morning in the week when they have any time to help their mothers. There is no doubt that it will have a salutary effect; girls will learn to look upon marriage more seriously. It will not continue to be that end-of-all-work elysium that it has been heretofore regarded. And we are glad to see that when the Little Father classes were established for the senior boys? When will boys and young men be taught that it is not good for babies to be kicked into the world before their time? When will they learn that it pays to be kind to the prospective mother? That forced motherhood is not good for motherhood? Little Father classes, be it just as necessary as Little Mother classes. But there is not a great deal of sense in this sort of instruction for 14-year-old children.

TRIED HARD.

[Judge.] Angry diner—"Waiter, you are not fit to serve a pig." "Water—" "I am doing my best, sir."

A GREAT SCOTTISH ORDER.

[Marquise de Fontenay.] Viscount Haldane has just received the Order of the Thistle from King George, on the nomination of Premier Asquith, taking the place of the late Earl of Crawford. The membership of this order is restricted to sixteen knights aside from the sovereign and the prince of the blood. It is limited to peers of Scottish birth and origin, the only case in modern times of a commoner being admitted thereto having been that of the late Sir William Stirling Maxwell, of Pollock, a great Highland chieftain, high in the favor of the reigning house, and who contracted in the declining years of his life a second marriage with the celebrated Mrs. George Norton, daughter of Thomas Sheridan, aunt of one of the most romantic figures of the Victorian era. The Order of the Thistle, according to Scotch tradition and belief, is of remote origin, antedating the foundation of the Order of the Garter by several hundred years. It is said to have originated in the vision of a bright cross in the heavens, seen by Achaius, King of the Scots, and by Hingus, King of the Picts, while they were engaged in their prayer the night before their battle with Athelstane, King of England, in the eighth century. What is historic, however, is that in 1540 James V. of Scotland either established or revived the order, assigning to its knights stalls in the now ruined chapel royal of Holyrood, at Edinburgh. James II., last of the Stuart kings of England, Queen Anne, and in later years George IV., modified its statutes.

BAD LUCK.

[Punch.] "Did you enjoy your trip home from New York, Mabel?" "Not at all. I didn't meet a single man I knew so I had to pay for my own supper."

HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

Do not throw away your old banana skins. Save them until you have about 200 of them. Then scrape them carefully and sew them together. They make beautiful and inexpensive rugs. Housewives ignore the useful scrubbing-brush and neglect it until it becomes an eyesore. Glid the old scrub-brush and paint flowers or landscapes on the handles. Tie a bow of pink ribbon at each end and the brush becomes ornamental as well as useful. When boiling cabbage always place a pound of lumburger cheese in the oven and let it bake, and the unpleasant odor of the cabbage will not be detected.

ASSORTED CASES IN POLICE COURT

Fighter Running From One Constable Is Gathered in by Another.

A FINE FOR A FAN

Also for Several Indian Lists and Cyclists Who Rode on the Sidewalks.

Hector McIntyre and Bertram Lawrence have had fists, and blows behind those fists that leave a reminder every time they strike. At least one would judge that after having a look at them in police court this morning, McIntyre's left eye was almost closed, and presented a very queer appearance, while the rest of his face looked like the stamping ground of a hen that had done much scratching. Lawrence's eyes were intact, but he had a bruise on the point of his chin that would give one the impression that he had run up against a hammer.

Both men were fighting on Richmond street Thursday afternoon, and when a police officer hove in sight, they broke and scampered off. McIntyre ran towards the Grand Truck depot, and right into the arms of P. C. McKee, who gathered him in fondly, and when the men appeared before Police Magistrate Judd this morning they could not say whether they had been fighting on or as they were sniffling from a serious lapse of memory. The court ordered to adjourn the case, and summon witnesses, but the men decided that it was best to plead guilty. Both were fined $5 and $9 cents' witness fees, besides being given a warning.

Here's Albert Again. Albert Ardel has visited the police station before, and is a member of the prohibitory list. When his name was called this morning he bobbed up in the box, and when asked if he had been drunk, replied that he had taken some. Just then Sergeant Birrell produced a bottle, half full with Scotch whiskey, and with a groan the magistrate said: "Oh, pshaw, you have broken every clause of the act; $10 and costs, or 21 days in jail."

Pharos Mascari did not go to see the ball game the other day, because he had to work. He is an enthusiastic fan, however, and turned his horse on to the wrong side of the street to look at The Advertiser bulletin, with

"Triangle" Case Aired in Court

One Man Told to Keep Away From Another Man's Wife.

William Stewart, for the past two months, has been paying attention to another man's wife, and although he has been warned on numerous occasions by the husband to stay away he refused to do so. It is also said that he told friends that he was not afraid of the husband. The couple have only been married a little over two months, and it is said that Stewart made several trips to the magistrate's office to see if he could do something to make Stewart stay away. The court was powerless, and took for Stewart the first time he heard that he was out with his wife. He missed the woman last Friday night, and after making a tour of the theatre of the city, started down Richmond street. At the corner of Richmond and York he met Stewart with his wife, and a fight ensued. P. C. Noonan happened along and took the three of them to the station.

After hearing the facts of the case the court told the husband that he was breaking the law by fighting on the street, but intimating that he thought he had protection. He suspended sentence on the husband, and adjourned the case against Stewart for one month. If Stewart does not go near the woman in that time, but if any reports of him going near her reaches the ears of the court he will likely receive a term in jail.

Diplomats to Settle California Trouble

No Movement of Troopships in Connection With Dispute.

[Canadian Press.]—Secretary of State Bryan returned from New York early today and was at his desk long before the cabinet meeting at which he was to present the reply of the United States to Japan's protest against the California land legislation.

It is probable that steps will soon be taken to publish the Japanese protest, thought that may be deferred until the answer of the United States has been delivered.

President Wilson's announcement, that there are to be no movements of troops that could be connected with the situation is expected by official circles can be construed as evidence of his conviction that the issue can and will be adjusted by diplomacy.

Skin Diseases ARE PAINFUL AND UNSIGHTLY.

Among the most prevalent are Salt Rheum, Eczema, Tetter, Rash, Boils, Pimples and Itching Skin Eruptions. These troubles always arise from the blood being in a bad condition and it is absolutely impossible to eradicate them from the system unless you put your blood into good shape. This you can do without the slightest trouble by using Burdock Blood Bitters.

It drives out all the humor from the blood, and makes it pure and rich. Thousands of people have used it during the last thirty-five years and have been cured. Mr. Robert Gamble, Jones Falls, Ont., says:—"I write with the greatest of pleasure to recommend your great blood purifier, Burdock Blood Bitters. My wife and I had itching sores on our face and ears, and tried everything to help them, but found no relief. We saw your B.B.B. advertised and got a bottle, and before it was half gone we both were getting better, and when it was all gone we were cured."

Detective Egelton Investigating Case

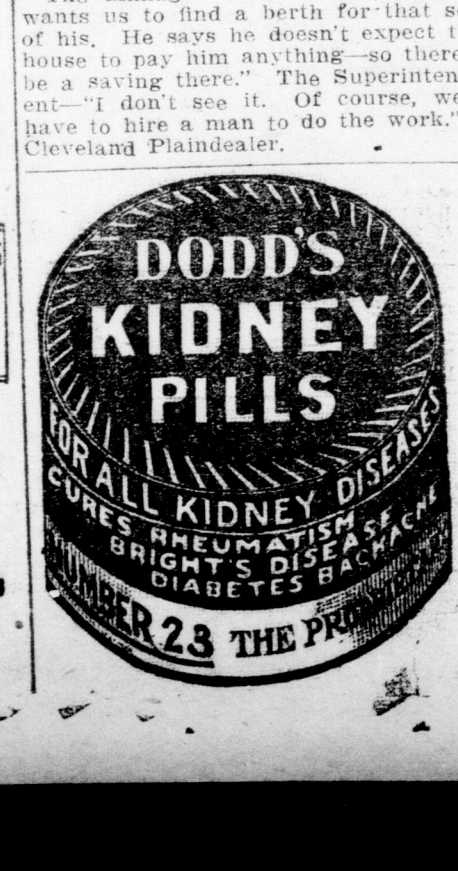

Disappearance of Traveller's "Roll" Had Peculiar Circumstances.

Detective Robert Egelton is continuing his investigations into the case of the German, Menko, who claims to have been robbed of a large amount of money.

He offered states that he heard Menko's story through an interpreter, and that the man did not say he was justified by anyone getting on a train.

It was learned that the man had his pocketbook with him and took it out in the luncheon room to pay for what he had to eat. He stated that he put it back in his pocket, and that he did not miss it until he got on the train again.

A peculiar circumstance in the detective's opinion was that Menko should have taken out his pocketbook when he had quite a bit of loose change in his pocket at the time. It appears that two stories were told: one that he had $600, and the other that he had $2,500. It was reported to the police that four crooks had bought tickets for London to Hamilton and return, and were trying to "work" the trains. No trace of them was secured.

The Modest Violet

BY GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

(Copyrighted by George Mathew Adams.)

At this time of the year the modest violet is being eulogized by a thousand poets and is being held up to mankind as an example by earnest teachers on every hand.

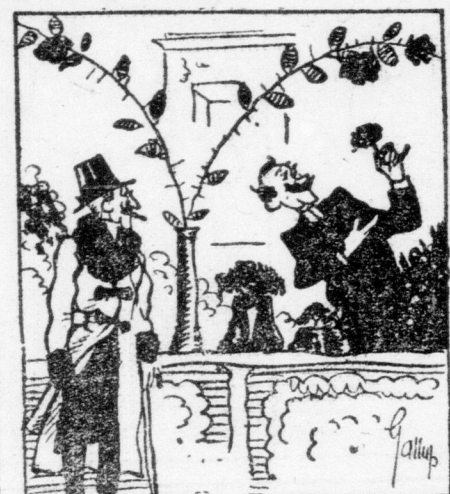

The modest violet is a short, squat plant which grows out fairly early in the spring and grows to the dizzy height of two inches or more after severe effort. After it has finished its attempt at sky-scraping, it produces a number of beautiful blue blossoms which it usually hides under its leaves. It is about the most modest thing in the world except the statesman who has just acquired a $1,000 bill and who would rather die than brag about it.

After the violet has blossomed, it does not advertise nor beat a drum, but continues to bloom in a quiet, dignified way, offering itself to the world with all the indifference with which a country grocer sells dried apples. Most of the violets in the world are eaten by cows, but sometimes the beautiful flowers are discovered by man and he induces the plants to go into a greenhouse and bloom in a businesslike and regular manner.

The hot-house violets are more beautiful than the country violets and are probably just as modest, but not as far as price goes. Along about Christmas time modesty comes about $3 per bunch, and small bunches at that.

This teaches us a great lesson. Modesty is beautiful and does not harm anyone providing he or she employs a good business manager.

Many an actress is so modest that she employs two stout men to chase admirers away from her private car and three press agents to get the newspapers get the names of admirers. The most successful politician is the man who declines to become a candidate for the public honors until his campaign manager has perfected the irresistible demand of the people.

All violets are modest, but the ones which get the credit are the ones which hide themselves where they can be discovered in all their shyness.

Princess George of Greece is an ardent student of Vedanta, having become a convert to the simple, ancient faith, which has been called the oldest religion in the world and one of the purest. She eats no flesh food at all, not even eggs. She is a very beautiful and highly cultured woman.

The Grand Duchess Serge became an Orientalist at the time of her husband's assassination several years ago, and she now lives a life of retirement in a Russian convent, having given up her life to working for the poor. She eats no flesh of any kind, and lives chiefly on rice, wheat and dried fruits. She is an exquisitely beautiful woman with a face of great purity.

RURAL DEAN DEAD
Rev. A. H. Robertson Was Rector of St. Peter's Church at Cookshire. [Canadian Press.]
Montreal, May 16.—Word was received today of the death in Cookshire on Tuesday of Rural Dean A. H. Robertson, rector of St. Peter's Church, in that town. Born in Scotland 54 years ago, deceased was early in the employ of the Bank of Montreal, but decided to enter the ministry and attended Hopes College, Lennoxville. He was especially interested in Sunday school work and was one of the committee on this line of endeavor at the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada. He had also held the office of secretary of the diocesan synod.

British Columbia Methodists Will Endow Big Western College. [Canadian Press.]
Vancouver, B. C., May 16.—Rev. W. Lashley Hall, pastor of Mount Pleasant Methodist Church, was yesterday elected president of the Methodist Conference. The chief question considered by the Methodists of British Columbia this year is financing Ryerson College, whose buildings adjoining British Columbia's proposed university are to cost $200,000. The amount has already been raised, and the church is now busy getting together another similar amount for the initial endowment.

WATCHING COMET
Newly-Discovered Star is Lacking in Brilliance. [Canadian Press.]
Cambridge, Mass., May 16.—The Schuamasse comet, the latest visitor from the inter-stellar regions, is rather disappointing to the ordinary star-gazer, according to a report of observations received at the Harvard observatory today.
Prof. Barnard, of the Yerkes observatory at Chicago, has been unable to find any semblance of the usual fiery appearance, commonly known as a tail, while the comet's illuminating powers have reached only the tenth magnitude.
Astronomers hope that the Schuamasse comet's brilliancy will increase in the course of the next few weeks.

HURTS RAILWAY
Report of Commission Says Abuse Has Had Bad Effect. [Canadian Press.]
Boston, May 16.—Counsel for the New York, New Haven and Hartford and the Boston and Maine Railroads today submitted to the interstate commerce commission their final analysis of the inquiry into their operations.
The briefs follow closely the lines of the oral arguments presented last week.
In concluding their summary of the proceedings, counsel say:
"There can be no doubt that the torrent of abuse which has been poured upon these railroads has had a serious effect upon the morale of these organizations. No small part of the time of the principal officers has been devoted to preparing for hearings before state and federal commissions, and in preparing for trials before state and federal courts. It is a marvel that the results accomplished have been as good as they are."

REFUSE FREIGHT
Mexican Railways Unable To Secure Supplies of Fuel. [Canadian Press.]
Mexico City, May 16.—The National Railway Company has notified shippers that it will receive no more freight for transportation. Scarcity of fuel and oil makes the operations of trains difficult, and the activity of the rebels renders the arrival of shipments at their destinations uncertain.

MISS EMERSON ILL.
London, May 16.—Miss Zelle Emerson, the militant suffragette, of Jackson, Mich., was operated on today for appendicitis, which is said to have developed owing to the privations she underwent while she was carrying on a hunger strike in Holloway jail. She was released on April 8 on account of her weakened condition, and some time afterward was taken to a private hospital in the country to prepare herself for the operation. She had been sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment on Feb. 14 for smashing shop windows.

STRANGE ACTS OF NEW SECT

The Pentecostal Convention Is Attracting Much Comment in North of England.

WOMEN HYSTERICAL

[Canadian Press.]
New York, N. Y., May 16.—A London cable to the Tribune says:
Extraordinary scenes have been occurring this week at Roker, near Sunderland, in the north of England, where three women and two men, the latest converts to the peculiar sect known as Pentecostals, who are holding their annual convention, were laptised in the sea yesterday.
The ceremony took place in the early morning, and so cold was the water that the women almost collapsed from the shock. While the converts were in the sea those on the beach danced and sang, waving their arms and singing hymns.
The women went into the water without shoes or stockings, and wearing skirts and blouses. One man was arrayed in pale blue pyjamas and the other in a bathing suit. One of the women on leaving the water, after the ceremony, told of the hysterics and shouted and danced about on the sand.

Big Glass Merger $8,000,000 Capital

Corporation Is in Process of Formation by Montreal Financiers.

[Canadian Press.]
Montreal, May 16.—The Canada Glass Corporation, Limited, will probably be the name of the new company to take over the Diamond Glass Company, in addition to the Montreal Glass, the Sydenham Glass Company and the Canadian Glass Company will be included in the combination.
The new company will have a bond issue of $2,000,000 and an authorized capital stock of $8,000,000. The stock will be divided as follows: Preferred—authorized $3,000,000, issued $2,000,000; common $5,000,000, issued $1,250,000. The shares of the new company have all been disposed of by C. Meredith & Co., Limited, the greater portion going to London, and the bond issue has also been sold.
The merger will, it is understood, make large additions to its various plants.

Here's a Spot That Needs Attention

Plugged Sewer Responsible for Bog at Richmond and Horton Streets.

Residents in the vicinity of Richmond and Horton streets are up in arms over a condition that has existed at the corner for the past week without any attempt on the part of the engineering department to remedy it. The sewer at the point has become plugged, and a large pool of stagnant water has lain between the sidewalk and street car tracks, posing a serious health hazard. It is to be reached by street cars, and Thursday night during the heavy storm they had to walk a block to catch cars. One man stated that he had complained of the condition at 433 street, but that no notice had been taken of it.

to Belfast to open the new hall of the Drifting Club there, the object of which is to resist the Irish home rule government if it should be established. The women want to know why Sir Edward Carson is permitted to advocate rebellion, while they are imprisoned for doing so.
Out as Usual.
This week's number of the Suffragette appeared today, and was freely circulated. It was printed by the firm of Edward Francis. The newspaper says:
"Though he has constantly deprecated the calls for coercion, he has undertaken the work, believing that the freedom of the press was in danger and also gravely doubting the wisdom of those who seem bent on depriving the suffragettes of their legitimate forms of expression."
The general tone of the newspaper is much milder than it was before the raid on the militant suffragettes' headquarters and printing office.

FIND MORE BOMBS

[Canadian Press.]
London, May 16.—The militant suffragettes' cooperation by means of "bombs" placed in public institutions in order to intimidate the British Government into granting the parliamentary franchise to women, was carried out in several quarters of London and the province today.
A very workmanlike canister of explosives, with a clockwork attachment, was found in the Rotherhithe public library in the southeast of London. It was labeled "Votes for Women."
The bomb was placed, according to the belief prevailing in some quarters, by a man, many of whom the police suspect have been engaged by the officers of the militant suffragette society for this work.
Another machine was found today in the letter box of the Wandsworth district postoffice in the extreme southeast of London. It consisted of a glass tube containing fluid. A partially burned fuse was attached to one end. The police declare that the placing of the bomb was apparently the work of the militant suffragettes.
Still another canister of explosives, with a partially burned fuse, was found today in Holy Trinity Church at Hastings, a popular watering place on the south coast, where the militant suffragettes have been most active during the past week.

MISS EMERSON ILL.
London, May 16.—Miss Zelle Emerson, the militant suffragette, of Jackson, Mich., was operated on today for appendicitis, which is said to have developed owing to the privations she underwent while she was carrying on a hunger strike in Holloway jail. She was released on April 8 on account of her weakened condition, and some time afterward was taken to a private hospital in the country to prepare herself for the operation. She had been sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment on Feb. 14 for smashing shop windows.

was a larger one than those usually employed. It was filled with live cartridges wrapped in cotton wool, which was saturated with paraffin oil. The attached fuse had been ignited, but had gone out. The whole machine was wrapped in militant suffrage literature.

BOER WAR HERO LURED HER WITH PROMISES TO WED

Charles Anderson Under Arrest in Detroit on Serious Charge.

Claimed He Was Wealthy, But Victim Found Him Penniless.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Detroit, May 16.—Claiming an honorable record as a soldier in the Boer war, Charles H. A. Anderson pleaded tearfully with United States Commissioner Hurd Thursday to deport him instead of prosecuting him for violation of the immigration laws.

Anderson was charged with bringing Esther Nicholson, 40 years old, into this country from Hamilton, Ont., for immoral purposes.

The woman told the immigration officials that Anderson had won her heart and promises of her hand by his fornication over the alleged death of his first wife, and that he had told her he held $5,000 worth of property in Ottawa, Toronto and Detroit.

Miss Nicholson, who is said to come from a highly respected Canadian family, filed application in the Y. W. C. A. employment bureau at Hamilton for a position as housekeeper. Anderson saw the application blank and decided that Miss Nicholson could fill the position for him.

Fell in Love.
At sight of the woman he fell in love, and his feeling was reciprocated. It was arranged that the pair were to be married as soon as property matters could be arranged.

Good fortune seemed to have at last come to the woman and the news was immediately given to her brothers and sisters. Chance, however, had been against Anderson, and he found himself penniless with only a few miles separating him from a fortune which he claimed. A brother of the girl advanced him $20 with which to go with his sister to Ottawa, where his lawyer could be found and matters adjusted.

According to the story of the girl, they went to the Canadian city, but did not find the lawyer. He had recently sailed for England, so the girl was informed. She asserted she had been informed by Anderson the property in Detroit had been disposed of, and that by coming here they could claim it. Again the brother of the girl forwarded money to bring the pair to Detroit, where she asserts house after house was pointed out by her promised protector as belonging to him.

Got a Loan.
Meanwhile, it is alleged, Anderson had been able to convince a bank in Detroit that his security was good, also that he needed a loan, which is said to have been secured.

The pair, it is alleged, took rooms in the Pacific Hotel and lived as man and wife. They were arrested by Inspector Leonard Coyne May 8. Anderson was taken to the Wayne County Jail, and Miss Nicholson to the Florence Crittenden Home. The girl will be deported and Anderson will probably follow her across the border, but if he is convicted, a period of confinement on this side may be imposed.

Deplores Waste of Men and Money in the Wars

Presbyterians Will Send Overture for Universal Peace to the General Assembly.

[Canadian Press.]

Prescott, Ont., May 16.—In the dining hours yesterday afternoon of the meeting of the Synod of the Presbyterian Church of Montreal and Ottawa an overture in reference to universal disarmament came up, but was not discussed owing to the fact that most of the ministers and elders had gone home, and those remaining scented politics in the suggestion of navies and hastily disposed of it.

The overture came from the Brockville Presbytery and endorsed the attitude of the Vancouver Presbytery in deploring the waste of men and money by the nations of the earth for warlike purposes. It was urged that Canada should take the lead in seeking to draw the nations into a peace pact.

The overture contended that Parliament should be approached as a means towards bringing this peace about and asked that the subject be brought to the attention of the next General Assembly.

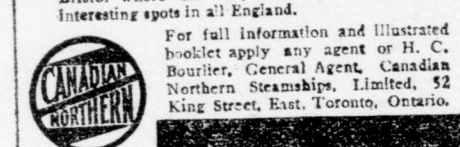

The overture was formally accepted, to be forwarded to the General Assembly.

GALE AT DULUTH

Forty-Four-Mile an Hour Blasts Damaged Many Boats.

[Canadian Press.]

Duluth, Minn., May 16.—A "low" northeaster that attained a velocity of 44 miles an hour, played havoc with boats entering and leaving the Duluth Superior harbor, and today shipping here is in bad condition. The canals are jammed high with ice which in many places is piled to a depth of 12 feet; outgoing boats are held in the canals and incoming boats have been compelled to anchor outside, a dangerous feat, because of the high seas.

During the trouble last night the S. M. Clement was rammed by the Fred. G. Hartwell. The Clement's port side bulwarks were damaged, and the Hartwell sprung two bow plates.

LOST HIS POSITION

[Canadian Press.]

Winnipeg, May 15.—W. A. Wisely, who while on patrol duty, shot at a fleeing milk-bottle thief, and struck John Zakovak, switchman, was today acquitted by Judge Davidson of the charge of wounding. The switchman recovered. Wisely has been dismissed from the force.

Labor Men Object To Walter H. Page

Allied Printers Send Strong Protest Over His Appointment.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, May 16.—That Walter H. Page, United States ambassador to Great Britain, was regarded as antagonistic to the interests of union labor is declared by officers of the Allied Printing Trades Council, Thomas Carroll, secretary of the council, had been instructed by a vote of the council's officers to send a letter to London protesting against the appointment of Mr. Page. It was stated that in this letter the council reviewed the controversies of the union organization with the publishing company with which Mr. Page was connected, declaring that the ambassador was not friendly to labor organizations and their leaders. This was given as a reason by the council's officers for sending the letter to London to notify union leaders in England of Mr. Page's views.

BACKACHE IS A DANGER SIGNAL

Kidney Troubles, Bladder Disorders, Rheumatism and Serious Diseases Follow.

There are other symptoms, such as pain in the region of the kidneys, nervousness, dizziness, tired and worn-out feeling, weak bladder, or urinary troubles, which are just as dangerous, for the slightest kidney derangement if neglected may develop into the deadly Bright's Disease, Dropsy, or Diabetes.

It is not only dangerous, but needless, for you to suffer, and endure the tortures of these troubles, for the new discovery, Croxone, promptly ends all such misery.

There is no more effective remedy known for kidney, bladder trouble, and rheumatism, than this new scientific preparation, because it removes the cause. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings, cleans out the clogged-up pores, neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and waste matter, that lodge in the joints and muscles and cause those terrible rheumatic pains, and makes the kidneys filter the poison from the blood and drives it out of the system.

Three doses of Croxone a day, for a few days is often all that is ever needed to relieve the worst backache or overcome disagreeable urinary disorders, and you can take it with the utmost confidence that nothing on earth will so quickly reach the worst case of kidney, bladder trouble, or rheumatism.

You will find Croxone different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case.

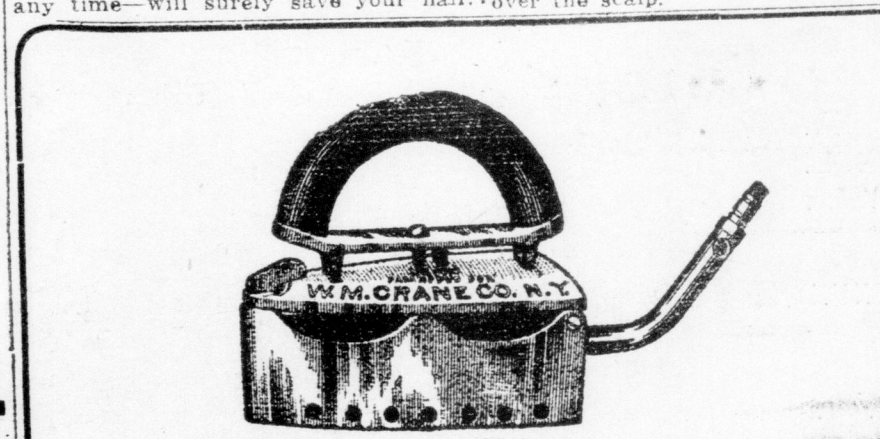

25-CENT "DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR AND DANDRUFF---GROWS HAIR

Don't Pay 50 Cents for Worthless Hair Tonics—Use Old Reliable, Harmless "Danderine"—Get Results.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf, which is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

STRATFORD FIRE VICTIMS HAD BIG CIVIC FUNERAL

Cortege Was the Largest Ever Seen in the Classic City—Fire Chiefs From All Over Ontario Were Present.

[Special to The Advertiser.]—Stratford, May 15.—Stratford paused this afternoon to pay a last honor to the victims of Tuesday's fire tragedy, when Chief Hugh Durkin, Chief McCarthy and Constable Hamilton lost their lives. It was a full day of mourning, the family funerals being held in the morning, and the civic funerals in the afternoon. The cessation of business in shops, factories and schools at one o'clock this afternoon was followed by the appearance of thousands of people on the streets. The city hall auditorium, where the service was held, was nearly filled, and the streets in the vicinity were crowded.

Impressive Service.
The public funeral service was in charge of the Ministerial Association, Magistrate O'Loane, Ald. D. M. Wright and Mayor Greenwood made speeches, and each expressed his high esteem of the three dead men, and briefly related their sterling qualities. The cortege was one of the largest ever seen in the Classic City, and included two companies of the Collegiate Cadets, the G. T. R. Band, city council, and other city officials, city clergy, visiting police and fire chiefs, veterans of 1867, Knights of Columbus, Oddfellows, city firemen and policemen, and A. O. U. E. The visiting fire chiefs and others at the funeral included Chief Tench, York, Hamilton; Chief Aitken, London; Chief Borland, Woodstock; Chief France, Bain; Chief Cook, Berlin; Chief Keyes, Waterloo; Chief Stepmeyer, Waterloo; Chief J. E. Keyes, Galt; Chief Thompson, Owen Sound; Chief Ertchard, Chatham; Chief Henderson, St. Thomas; Assistant-Chief Kingswell and Fireman F. Howarth, Brantford; Firemen George Tait and F. W. McKenna, the Gitta Percha Rubber Company, Toronto; Chief Moyes, Captain Coupland, and Firemen John Alberts, Joseph Alberts, Alex. Hyde, C. McIntyre, George Polan, and O. Whetstone, St. Marys; Chief L. G. Finch, Guelph, secretary of the Provincial Firemen's Association; Chief Bell and Fireman H. R. Scott, C. Stewart, and W. Reid, St. Catharines; Chief officers were also present: Chief O'Neil, Merlin; Chief Flint, Waterloo; Chief McCauley, Owen Sound; Chief Frank Young, and Constable Hunt, St. Marys; also Mayor Butcher, of St. Marys.

OUR IMPERIAL RELATIONS DISCUSSED BY MR. ROWELL

Liberal Leader Was Guest of Honor at a Big Meeting of the Owen Sound Canadian Club.

[Special to The Advertiser.]—Owen Sound, May 16.—Mr. Newton W. Rowell was the guest of honor at the Canadian Club meeting here last evening, and gave a splendid address on "Our Imperial Relations." The discussion of the subject in the House of Commons, said Mr. Rowell, "has compelled all thoughtful Canadians to realize anew the importance and far-reaching significance of our imperial relations."
Mr. Rowell commented on four suggestions that had been made in recent years as to the form an imperial organization should take, (1) Imperial Federation, (2) Imperial Council of Defence, (3) Committee of Imperial Defence, (4) Imperial Conference. The speaker outlined the proposed functions of each of these bodies and came to the conclusion that the Imperial Conference was the one best suited to meet all the needs of the situation.
"The Imperial Conference," said Mr. Rowell, "was already in existence, and its creation in 1907 marked a new era in the national development of the Dominions, as well as in the relations between these Dominions and the mother country. It recognizes the national status of the Dominions as distinct from the mother country.

It is truly representative in its character, being composed of the prime ministers of the mother country and self-governing dominions; it is responsible in that each prime minister has back of him a parliamentary majority, and, therefore, has the power to implement the resolutions to which he gives assent; it recognizes the autonomy of all the governments, and no resolution affecting any particular government can become effective unless assented to by it. It is formed for the consideration of all matters of common interest. The conference has already done much to promote co-operation and unity in matters of common interest throughout the empire. It has promoted measures for imperial defence on land and on sea; for the development of inter-imperial trade; for the improvement of communications and transportations throughout the empire; for the harmonizing of our laws at important points of common interest, and for the creation of a truly imperial citizenship."

In Mr. Rowell's opinion, after a careful review of the whole subject, this imperial conference was much to be preferred to the committee of imperial defence.

WHAT A TRIUMPH

defence. That was a doctrine for which he had no apology. The voice and views of the Canadian people through their Parliament must always prevail. The great mistake of the present Government was that it was not willing to trust the people.
Moves Six Months' Hoist.
In conclusion the Liberal chief declared, amid intensely enthusiastic cheers from his followers: "We are a nation within the British Empire. It is one of the greatest glories of Britain that her colonies have grown into nationhood without weakening the imperial tie. We are proud to claim our rights of nationhood within that Empire. It is our duty to take up all the responsibilities of nationhood. This policy of makeshift and expediency which the Government now advocates is based on no broad or permanent principle. It takes no root. It leaves no residuum. We believe that the $35,000,000 should be applied to a Canadian naval service, built, manned and equipped in Canada, and in close co-operation with the imperial fleet. We stand by that policy in Opposition as we stood by it in office. For these reasons I beg to move, seconded by Hon. George P. Graham, the six months' hoist." (Prolonged Liberal cheering.)
Demand Plebiscite.
Mr. J. P. O. Gullbault (Joliette) one of the seven still recalcitrant Nationalists, followed briefly. Speaking in French, he declared that he had wanted to propose the same amendment, but for entirely different reasons. Sir Wilfrid wanted to continue as a permanent policy the Canadian navy. He still wanted the blood of our children. Premier Borden's policy of contribution was almost equally objectionable. Both parties had evidently conspired to prevent the plebiscite which the Nationalists demanded.
Mr. Borden spoke at some length, using the emergency argument. He criticized the Liberal attitude.
Sir Wilfrid had declared of the act of 1910 that the ships of Canada would be neutral in time of war until an order in council had been passed by the Canadian Government directing these ships to participate in such a war. He had declared that the naval force of Canada should be an entirely separate naval force, and that Canada should have no voice in the councils of the Empire for peace or war. That was to say that in time of peace Canada could enjoy every benefit of the protection afforded by the fleet of Britain, and that in

For Two Years SUFFERED SEVERE PAIN IN THE BACK.

Many people fail to understand the significance of a lame, weak, sore or aching back.
When the back aches or becomes weak it is a warning that the kidneys are affected in some way.
Take notice to the warning and cure the backache on the first sign, for if you don't do this, serious complications are sure to arise, and perhaps develop into Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's Disease, the three most deadly forms of kidney trouble.
Doan's Kidney Pills go right to the seat of the trouble, cure the back and prevent any further trouble from the kidneys.
Mrs. D. J. McInnis, Carleton, P.E.I., writes:—"For two years I had a severe pain in my back. I was so bad that when I would stoop down I could not straighten up again. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they helped me so I kept on using them until I had used three boxes, and now I am completely cured. I think they are the only remedy for disordered kidneys."
Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents a box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
When ordering direct specify "Doan's."

time of war Canada should judge the justice of the quarrel and decide whether she would participate or abstain.
Wanted a Navy.
Every one on the Opposition side of the House was in favor of the creation of a naval force which would be neutral and would not take part in the wars of Britain unless ordered to do so by order in council. He asked how this theory would be measured both ways, "supposing," he said, "Canada should create a naval force and become involved in a controversy, and the British Government should say: 'We do not think that your quarrel is just, and we will not fight for you, but will let you fight it out yourselves,' does anyone think that the British Empire could be held together by such maxims as these? The other policy, and the one which we adhere to is that all parts of the Empire shall stand together and repel possible invaders in whatever part of the Empire they appear and wherever they come from."
Quotations were: "Canada, he thought, should share in the Empire's councils. The Dominion, by proceeding with drydock construction, could take an important step in aiding in defence."
It was the intention of the Government to proceed with the contribution of drydocks on both the Atlantic and the Pacific. The Government was calling for the establishment of naval bases on both the Atlantic and the Pacific, to undertake their fortification, and in addition, to provide for their additional defence by torpedo craft, and the advent of modern machinery, which would afford a measure of protection for commerce for some distance from the coast. Premier Borden states that he had expressed to the British authorities the view that all the facilities for shipbuilding should not be concentrated in the British Isles, but that shipbuilding could well be established in Canada.
He maintained he had a mandate from the people. The aid proposed in the present bill would be appreciated not only for the actual force which would be provided, but for the moral force and strength which the measure would add to the Empire.
Mr. Graham's Reply.
Hon. G. P. Graham made a vigorous and effective reply to Mr. Borden, and showed up the "unholy alliance" with the French Nationalists, and its effect in causing the Government to go back on its word, and to give up the peace or war. He had declared that he had expressed by Mr. Borden prior to the last election.
"I do not admit for a moment that we are less loyal than the hon. gentlemen opposite," he said, "but do not present each other with Union Jacks every time we hold a meeting, but our actions speak louder than their words."
The leader of the Government has admitted these facts, and has no alternative policy. I submit there should be permanent policy," said he. "Had there been no Drummond-Arthabaska election there would never have been such a policy. I have said that I am not satisfied. The formation of the present Cabinet was proof of this. Where were the Forgets and others of the old Tory line in Quebec in the Cabinet? The leader of the Nationalist party in Quebec had demanded his 'pound of flesh.'"

TORONTO, May 15.—The run at the Union stockyards today totalled 49 cars, with 41 head of cows, 293 calves, 148 sheep and lambs, 1,812 hogs. The only really sufficient run this week was that of Tuesday, which stocked up the market for a little time, and was responsible for the quieter tone of yesterday's trading on the high livestock market. There was a lively demand for cattle, and the small run was cleaned up early, with prices very firm, and in a few cases slightly higher. One cattleman said this morning that much more beef could be disposed of than was coming in, and said that a three good runs a week would not be a bit too large to meet the demand. At 11 o'clock today, however, the market was made purchases. Prices for butcher cattle were in some instances from 5c to 10c higher than yesterday's. Heavy steers, weighing 1,250 lbs. selling at $7.50, and another lot of heavy steers, weighing 1,200 lbs. each, bringing $7.10 per cwt. These figures, however, were exceptions. The general run of medium good butchers selling from $6.50 to $8.85, and cows selling at $4.50 to $6. Good bulls brought $5 to $5.75, while choice calves were a little firmer, with prices steady, and easier for common qualities. A good live demand prevailed for stockers and feeders, and prices as quoted were firm. A fair inquiry existed for milkers and springers, and other grades of cattle sold at unchanged prices. The light receipts of sheep and lambs went out at the usual prices, with the market steady to firm, especially for good lambs. Despite the heavier run of hogs, trading was very firm and prices stationary with yesterday. Quotations were: May 15.—Cattle—Receipts, 1,800; active, 50c higher, $10 to $10.50. ANNUAL FROLIC OF THE STAGE HANDS

Unusually Strong Vaudeville Entertainment Program Put on at Grand on Thursday.

A large audience attended the benefit performance given by the members of London Local, No. 105, International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, at the Grand on Thursday evening. But for the inclement weather there is no doubt that a capacity house would have greeted the different artists that took part in the evening's performance. The stage employees' benefit is an annual affair, given at the close of each theatrical season, and in previous years the performances have been very favorably commented upon on account of the quantity and quality of the program. The performance Thursday evening was even better than those of previous years, and the audience, while expressing its approval of the work of the different performers, was agreeably surprised to learn that there was such an amount of excellent vaudeville talent in the city. With two or three exceptions those participating in the performance were residents of London, and each received hearty applause from the large audience. The program consisted of high-class comedy and dramatic sketches, solos, quartettes, musical numbers and dances. Perhaps the best act of the evening was the comedy sketch, "A Tip on the Derby," by Frederick Baldwin and Lillian Starr, members of the Stanley Stock Company. Both are clever actors and their work delighted the audience. Joe Egan, musical comedian, won hearty applause through his own work and the manner in which he has trained the two dogs to assist him. Fred Dowling and Ivy Wheatcroft were particularly pleasing in the manner in which they rendered their solos. The National quartette, composed of four well-known young men, Charles Boyce, Vincent Adams, J. Maloney and Bert Johnson, presented a comedy sketch, entitled "The Corner Grocery," and during the time they were on the stage rendered a number of solos and quartettes. Joe Moran and brother brought down the house in the sketch, "The Street Vendor's Troubles." The former, who is property-man at the Grand, took advantage of the opportunity to introduce a number of witticisms that convulsed those of the audience who were familiar with the staff of the house. Moran's song, "Strawberry," was the musical hit of the evening. "The Call of the Wolf," a story of the American Indian, by Arthur G. Shirley, was given in an excellent manner by the author, assisted by Margaret Walker, George Steer and Clifford Frailek. Madden Brothers, who are great favorites with London audiences, were good in their exhibition of burr, an diving dancing. W. G. Hemsley, E. Linwood and Geo. Steer were also good. Last, but not least, was an exhibition of scene setting by the stage employees of the Grand. Mr. Sam Loughrey, the master mechanic, showed some marvellous sprinting in his endeavors to keep the stage clear of all those who had no business interfering with the scene shifters. The orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Crosswell, rendered a number of selections during the performance. The officers of the London local are: W. J. Burrows, president; W. Wilson, vice-president; G. McPadden, secretary-treasurer; Wm. Cooney, business agent, and G. Flint, sergeant-at-arms.

AMUSEMENTS

Charming Operetta.

Despite the inclement weather of Thursday evening, the schoolroom of St. James' Church, South London, was filled almost to capacity to witness the performance of the "Captain of Plymouth," presented by the choir of the church, under the direction of Mr. Charles E. Percy, organist and choir-master. The play is a musical burlesque on Longfellow's famous poem, "The Courtship of Miles Standish," and was productive of some splendid musical numbers. Nor was the element of comedy lacking; the dashing captain, Miles Standish, having to pass through some adventures, from which it would have taxed the ingenuity of Longfellow to extricate him. Mr. V. B. Pope portrayed the character of the captain in an able manner, and was respicient in a gorgeous military uniform, with the high boots and steel helmet of the time. Miss Minnie Fox was a captivating Priscilla, the maiden of his faithful friend and secretary, John Alden, desired to wed. The play followed pretty closely the plot of the original story.

Excellent Numbers.

The sextette of Plymouth daisies, comprising the Misses Rousson, Fox, Mitchell, Armstrong, Chatto and McDonald, were responsible for several excellent numbers, including "Just What a Little Maiden Should Do" and "They'd Nothing To Do But Chat," in which the solo parts were taken by Mrs. Thornicroft. The whole company made up a splendid chorus, the closing chorus, "Love Is Life," being especially pleasing. Other numbers were, "Hail, Captain of Plymouth," "Soldiers' Chorus," the Indian braves executed an Indian goose dance in approved fashion and an "Indian Lullaby" by a chorus of Indian maidens drew much applause. Too much cannot be said for the solo work of the members of the cast, many delightful lyrics being introduced, all of which were artistically rendered. Priscilla's spinning song, sung by Miss Fox at the spinning wheel, in a scene depicting the interior of a Puritan cottage, was loudly encored. A duet, by Mr. O'Neil and Miss Fox, "Love Thy Neighbor," was also greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Percy added much to the success of the entertainment by the sympathetic way in which he rendered the accompaniments. Altogether the play was much above the average of amateur theatricals, and the audience was well pleased. The performance is being repeated this evening.

Annie Russell Company Tonight.

Miss Russell will open a two-day engagement at the Grand Opera House tonight in "She Stoops to Conquer," that rare comedy of manners by Oliver Goldsmith, which has stood the test of time. As generations of theatre-goers have enjoyed the half-humorous and half-tragic complications of the plot, theatre-goers await with interest Miss Russell's portrayal of the charming and volatile Kate. Young Marlowe will be taken by Oswald Yorke, who lends to the production years of experience with the famous Benson Players of England. Tony Lumpkin, that roystering, joke-loving, irresponsible English squire, will be embodied by George Goodens, whose characterization has been in demand for every important English revival during the period of ten years. "She Stoops to Conquer" will be repeated for the Saturday matinee. "The Rivals," Sheridan's famous fun-making comedy, will be the only other offering of the engagement, and will be given on Saturday night.

Stanley Stock Company.

Two plays will be produced each week during the engagement of the Stanley Stock Company here this summer. "Beware of Men," a four-act pastoral drama, will open Monday, May 19, and will be given four performances, including Wednesday matinee. On Thursday, and for the balance of the week, with Saturday matinee, the five-act costume military drama, "A Soldier of the Empire," by Howard Hall, who used it for several seasons in all the principal cities of the country with great success, with new scenery and effects, will be given special attention. The company has been rehearsing the past two weeks and are getting along fine. The seat sale opened this morning.

LOST $17,000,000

[Canadian Press.]
Topska, Kas., May 16.—Seventeen million dollars were lost by farmers of Kansas last year through the depredations of chinch bugs, according to G. A. Dean, state entomologist. This included the loss to wheat, oats and corn. Mr. Dean expressed the belief that 90 per cent of the bugs remained alive through the winter, and that they would cause even greater loss this year unless effective methods to destroy them are adopted before the early crops have matured.

13,000 Barbers On Strike at New York

Many Arrests Made as a Result of Disorderly Outbreaks.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, May 16.—The barbers' strike continued into its fifth day today, with the men who are out busy trying to bring the shaving and hair-cutting industry to a standstill. Posing as ordinary patrons, the strikers individually invaded the hotel shops, and while submitting to a shave they quietly sought to spread their "cause." Fifteen arrests were made as a result of various disorders charged against the strikers and their sympathizers yesterday, which included a pitched battle with the police in front of the Hoffman House, when a large plate glass window was broken.

Alos Genaro, a young barber arrested as a leader, was sentenced in the night.

GEORGE BERNARD FIRST VEGETARIAN

THRIVING ON CEREALS

Daniel's Handsomeness Appealed to Shaw, and He Was Vegetarian.

There are a number of reasons why people become vegetarians; and religion, health, desire for beauty, taste and artistic feelings play a part in them.

Shaw Most Famous. Perhaps the most famous vegetarian in the world today is George Bernard Shaw.

Mr. Shaw is tall, robust and healthy, with a ruddy color, clear eyes and an elastic gait.

Miss Marie Corelli is another English vegetarian of literary fame. She is a vegetarian because of her aversion to killing.

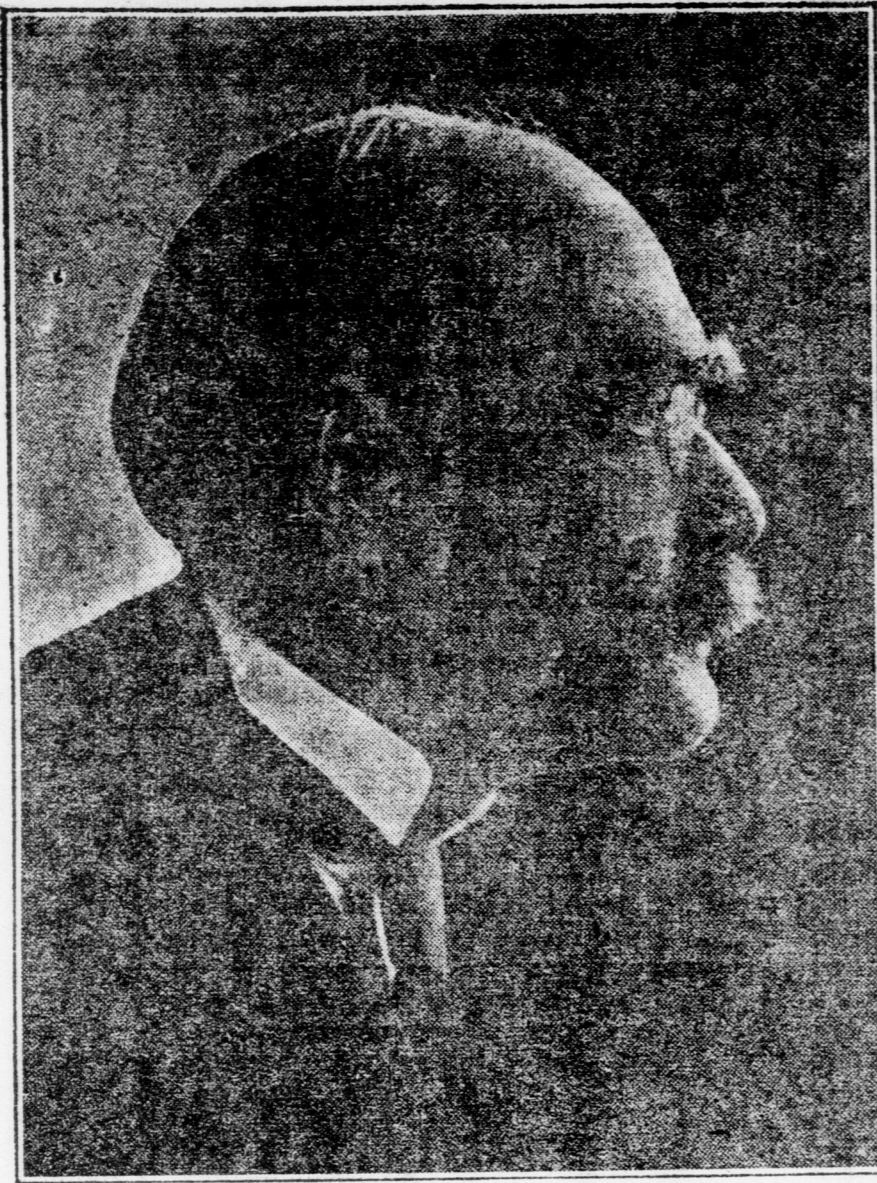

The Countess of Warwick adopted vegetarianism about a year ago and people have surmised a good many motives for the action of the beautiful noblewoman.

Divine Sarah Losing Shape? One cannot imagine Sarah Bernhardt getting actually fatter than the famous actress was gaining weight and losing the lines of her figure.

HOW PRES. WILSON MAKES UP HIS MIND

It Is So Simple That It Is Disconcerting to the Washington Politicians.

THE men who find President Woodrow Wilson hard to solve have only themselves to blame, and their fault is that they do not take him at his word. If he keeps silence a long time on some matter whereon any other President would immediately speak, they conjecture some burrowing conspiracy on his part, some private fence repairing or log rolling.

His method, so disconcerting because it is so novel, is just this: First, to leave his mind entirely open and to get all the information and all the opinions he can from everybody, from the Cabinet member to the man in the street, but to give no opinion himself and to form none until he has got every scrap of information obtainable.

Second, having made up his mind, to stick to what he has resolved upon; one of the most striking features of his character is his perfect openness to conviction until he reaches a decision and his utter impregnability to argument when he has reached it.

Does It Spell "Success"? THOSE who have been well enough acquainted with the President to understand this side of him speculate on whether it promises success or failure for his Administration.

A Business Administration HIS plain democracy in little things and big was, perhaps, regarded at first as a pose; but that mistake has worn away under contact with him and the certain proof of unaffected sincerity which is furnished by his manner, look, and talk of the man himself.

When he first started to sell goods he used to carry a pocketful of loose diamonds, said a man who knew him. "He couldn't be coarse with a railway president who bought his steel rails and car wheels. But he could say to that president in a modest, gentlemanly way: 'Have a little diamond on me?'"

BARON ROTHSCHILD WRITES A PLAY WITH A MARKED MORAL

MILLE, GABRIELLE DORZIAT, who takes the principal part in the millionaires' new drama of love and money, and Baron Henri de Rothschild, the millionaire author of the strange play "Croesus."

BARON HENRI DE ROTHSCHILD, of the famous financial family, has written a play which he has called by the significant name of "Croesus." It is now being produced in London, and though it will not be given in Paris or New York until next fall, it is the theme of every tongue.

Baron Rothschild, who is at once a millionaire, physician, and philanthropist, and of whom a photograph accompanies this article, explains his play as follows: "The money question is not the motive of my play 'Croesus.' Money comes into it. But this is quite secondary. It is what you might call a human interest play. It appeals to people because it is so human. The play is in no sense autobiographical. You ask me why I wrote 'Croesus' and my answer is that I am a writer by choice and by profession. You know I am a physician. I write medical articles as regularly as any member of the staff of the newspaper in which they are published. I write hygienic and philanthropic articles. I have written fiction in fact. I have touched upon many phases of literature. The specific answer to your question is that I felt impelled to write this play. I was saturated with the subject. I could find no relief until it was done.

A rich man has his troubles and worries and griefs and sorrows just as a poor man. He can buy certain pleasures, but there are joys which money cannot purchase. My hero is very poor in sentiment, but is very rich in money. He is the subject of adverse criticism. He makes a present to some charitable institution, and the people say he ought to have given twice as much. They follow it up by saying that he gives back to the community a portion of what he has taken from it. The public have no thanks for him. They see in him only nothing more. "His sentimental side makes him wish for a wife who would be affectionate. He tries different ways of securing affection, but always with failure. He cannot win the love of his wife. The attitude of the outside world towards him is what satisfaction it can get out of him. The moral of the play is that a rich man may well be unhappy; that wealth and happiness are far from being synonymous; and that if we desire the esteem of others we must make ourselves worthy of it. We cannot expect to be loved for ourselves, and we must be content by making ourselves worthy of esteem. We must be good, kind, and amiable towards the poor."

LADY ABERDEEN IS LOVED BY THE POOR

Only by the "Elite" of Dublin Is Her Charitable Work Criticized.

HAS HER SOUL TO KEEP Therefore, Her Interest in Suffering Humanity—Incidents of Canadian Court.

OF the two Ladies Aberdeen, the one of fact and the other of fiction, the former is infinitely the more attractive. It is impossible to encounter the lady of the anecdotes, either in print or in spoken gossip, without conjuring up a mental portrait of the lady of reality. Try to fit her into the distorted picture that is so often thrust before one; it is impossible to reconcile the two.

In the first place, Lady Aberdeen's eyes give the lie (ever so gently) to the notion that her charities are unwise, that she misunderstands the poor, that she offends the Dublin sense of humor. The only thing she might honestly be accused of offending is Dublin's lack of humor—the lack of humor of the Dublin of officialdom; the only people whom she might with any sort of justice be thought to misunderstand are not the poor, but the rich. In any case, there must surely be a better word than "misunderstanding" for her attitude towards the small group of people who are discontented with the present regime in Dublin. She understands the "smart," the unpleasantly "smart," view of life well enough to be in complete disagreement with it.

The "Extraordinary Smile" I T may be objected that it is rather much to read in any eyes. But Lady Aberdeen's are remarkable. They have "sweetness and light"; they are wise and kind, humorous and penetrating; they are as famous as her smile. "An ordinary woman with an extraordinary smile" was the initial impression of a man who makes history in America when he first saw her across the Canadian border. He had gone to Ottawa to observe the imported formalities of a Governor-General's court, prepared to be amused by its stiffness; but the thing that impressed him most was the angelic good humor of Lady Aberdeen. An English Lord Chief Justice, on the other hand, who went expecting to see a much freer and easter state of things than he allowed in his own particular court, found himself reminded ten minutes after his arrival of some minor law of precedence he had neglected to observe. "We're kept in our places here," he growled, and behaved himself for the rest of his visit.

Formality, however, is not the chief characteristic of her court. One of the very few stories, out of a multitude, bearing a real resemblance to her or her ways, purports to come from a Liberal Minister. It is a caricature, but, at any rate, not a libel. The first Lord called at the Castle and rang the bell, but without effect. After ringing again, he peered through the glass and the door, into the deserted interior. Just as he turned to go, he saw Lady Aberdeen, her skirts well tucked up, and to reach the servant also ran across the Minister's field of vision in the same direction, and faster. The door was opened and she was admitted. "I do hope you were not kept waiting," said Lady Aberdeen after greeting him. "You see, this is the servants' Weekly Games Day, and the household is so excited; everything is at sixes and sevens."

Her Greatest Friends ONE thing quite certain in Dublin is that the poor are fond of her. Even after she has written three volumes on their diseases, and after than with phylax, they still regard her as their friend. Her own great griefs in life are akin to theirs; the loss of a son, the spilling of maternal blood, these are woes common to the Castle and the back street. She says that she has not only given consolation in the slums, but found it there. As for her work on Ireland's Crusts against tuberculosis, she knows quite well that a certain section of society would prefer to have less said of the prevalence of the disease. There is the season of the scourge, and the prosperity of to keep in mind, and the prosperity of the city, which might suffer if the notion got abroad that it was a centre of disease. But Lady Aberdeen does not attack in Canada she is told. She hush up because she is a Canadian. She would attack in London, or any other city where the need and her duty seemed clear to her.

As the editor of reports and treatises and commentaries, she has done her work extraordinarily well, but an easier book to write and to read is "Through Canada with a Kodak." Like Mrs. Asquith's privately-printed account of a Scottish journey, it provides a short cut to an understanding of its author. It is one way of guessing at the "extraordinary smile" of a President of the International Council of Women, of the Irish Industries Association, and of three or four other similar bodies, and a founder of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Canada, she also started and christened the Onward and Upward Association. And if she is all laughed, and the correspondent was much taken aback to find that he had thus been making free with a prince of royal blood.

REV. DR. O. C. S. WALLACE RETURNS TO CANADA

Former Chancellor of McMaster University to Become a Montreal Pastor.

Rev. Dr. O. C. S. Wallace.

ANOTHER Canadian who has heard the call of his native land and determined to return from Uncle Sam's domain is the Rev. O. C. S. Wallace, M.A., LL.D., formerly chancellor of McMaster University, who has accepted a call extended him by the Westmount Baptist Church, Montreal. Dr. Wallace has been for the past four and a half years ministering to one of the largest and most influential Baptist churches in the Southern States, the historic First Baptist Church, of Baltimore, Md. Previous to that he had been pastor of the First Baptist Church at Lowell, Mass., where he went after resigning the chancellorship of McMaster University, Toronto, in 1905.

the baccalaureate sermon and the deliverer of the convocation address at the commencement exercises this year. The ex-chancellor is a "wonder" at system and details. He never seems to forget anything. He made himself master of all the intimate facts of the students' lives, and whenever he met one of the young men or women in the college halls or elsewhere, he was able to ask them questions about themselves and their friends that fairly astonished them. And he did not do it for mere show. He had a genuine love for the young people entrusted to his care, and there are many who can tell of little deeds of kindness which smoothed out troubles and made life happier. More than one graduate of McMaster to-day could relate how Dr. Wallace sought him out and made it possible for him to continue his studies when apparently financial resources had all disappeared. In appearance Dr. Wallace is one of the finest looking men that ever graced a Toronto pulpit or taught a class of students. He is a smart dresser and a polished gentleman. Mrs. Wallace was formerly Mrs. Wells, principal of Moulton Ladies' College, and is a most gracious helpmate.

Progressives Did Not Meet. — The East London Progressives did not meet Thursday night owing to the inclement weather, only three members turning out. As there are several important questions to be discussed it is likely that the meeting will be held next Thursday night.

Lecture on Palestine. — Miss Dorothy Schor, assisted by the Girls' Patriotic Club and others, gave two lectures Thursday in Cronyn Hall on life in the Holy Land. The afternoon lecture was an eastern sketch showing a bridal procession, eastern songs, costumes and shepherd life. The curious marriage customs of the never-changing east, the primitive musical instruments, and the weird singing at the marriage were vividly portrayed. In the evening scenes in a Jerusalem market, street cries of the various business-men, and many other phases of life in the interesting country, were presented.

The latter part of the program was a visit to Safed, in Galilee, where the local club supports a school. The proceeds of the lectures will be given to the support of the school.

Bought Hamilton Property. — Mr. J. D. Metcalfe, of this city, completed the purchase Thursday of Hamilton of the Logie farm, situated near Mount Allison. BARBERS RAISE SHAVE PRICES

After June 1st it Will Cost You Fifteen Cents Each Time.

SAME FOR NECK SHAVE

Woe unto you who have to be shaved three times a week, for after June 1st it will look like 45 cents instead of 30 cents. At a meeting of the Barbers' Association in Moose Hall on Thursday evening the barbers unanimously decided to raise the price of a shave, including neck shave, to 15 cents. The reason for this raise is that the cost of buying has gone up in the city the last 46 years, and the price of a shave has not. The cost of barbers' supplies has materially increased, and the barbers feel justified in charging the 15 cents for a shave. Every shop in the city, with two exceptions, have decided to make the increased charge. The barber shops will close on Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, commencing June 1.

CITY IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR DAMAGE BY RIVER

Where Water Encroaches on Ridout Street Property.

The board of works Thursday night decided to pay another 15 per cent, or $3,750, of the contract price of the new incinerator to Lauric & Lamb, the contractors. Twenty per cent of the price will be still retained until the incinerator is found to be satisfactory after one month's test.

City Solicitor Meredith gave it as his opinion that the storm sewers could be put down as local improvements, provided they were petitioned for. The storm sewer question will be voted upon in the form of a by-law. Mr. Meredith also stated that the city was in no way responsible for the protection of private property on Ridout street, where the river is encroaching, but that the city only had to look after the safeguarding of the roadway. If the citizens want to build a breakwater they can do so as a local improvement.

Ingersoll Case Is To Be Investigated

Council Claims That Authorities Lost Case by Withdrawal.

[Special to The Advertiser.] In 1901, May 1. — An interesting case will have to be decided as a result of a contention made today at the trial of John Marelli, charged with selling candy on Sunday, that the procedure is illegal.

The authorities went ahead in the case without waiting for the Attorney-General's consent, as the law states. When his consent was obtained the original information was withdrawn.

J. C. Hegler, who is looking after Marelli's interests, claims that the information having been withdrawn, the case ends. In case it goes on he enters a plea of not guilty. The matter has been laid over until Monday for investigation.

It is understood that J. C. Smith, B. A., principal of the Wingham high school, will succeed Principal Briden, who is resigning as head of the local collegiate owing to ill-health. The salary is $1,800 per year, and Mr. Smith will it is expected, assume his duties in the fall.

Want the Pastor For Another Year

At the regular meeting of the quarterly official board of Ridout Street Methodist Church, held Wednesday evening, May 14, a cordial invitation was extended to the pastor, Rev. A. E. Lloyd, to remain for another year. Great appreciation was expressed of his splendid work in the past year, during which time the membership has been increased 50 per cent and a fine parsonage added to the property near the church. The present church edifice is small and unprepossessing on the exterior, a great deal of interest has been aroused in the meeting under the leadership of Mr. Lloyd.

It was therefore felt to be very important that just as this time when a new church is being planned for the future on the beautiful site already obtained, the services of such an efficient minister be retained.

Mr. Lloyd expressed his pleasure in accepting the invitation and thanked the members for their hearty co-operation in the past, with the hope that it would be continued in the future.

SHIPS OF CONCRETE.

A 500-ton concrete scow was recently launched at Baltimore, Maryland. It is 110 feet long, 28 feet wide and has a depth of 10 feet 6 inches. Others, built before this one, have shown a large saving in repairs over wooden craft. It is claimed by the builders that concrete vessels will ultimately create a revolution in ship construction. The Italians have already made use of concrete vessels, and have found them practicable. It is stated, but a crack, which it was quite possible to repair successfully. This accident, indeed, they seem to be of exceptionally stout build, for one of them, rammed by a small war cruiser, showed no other than satisfaction.

BARBERS RAISE SHAVE PRICES
After June 1st it Will Cost You Fifteen Cents Each Time.
SAME FOR NECK SHAVE

Woe unto you who have to be shaved three times a week, for after June 1st it will look like 45 cents instead of 30 cents. At a meeting of the Barbers' Association in Moose Hall on Thursday evening the barbers unanimously decided to raise the price of a shave, including neck shave, to 15 cents. The reason for this raise is that the cost of blades has come up in the city the last 4½ years, and the price of a shave has not. The cost of barbers' supplies has materially increased, and the barbers feel justified in charging the 15 cents for a shave. Every shop in the city, with two exceptions, have decided to make the increased charge. The barber shops will close on Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, commencing June 1.

Motorman on an Oxford Line Car Shows Presence of Mind.
A motorman on the Oxford line had occasion to show his presence of mind Thursday evening about 7 o'clock. Two small boys passed behind an Ottawa car at the corner of Richmond and Horton streets and stepped into the path of an Oxford car, which was speeding along at a rapid rate. The motorman saw the smaller lad standing

CITY IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR DAMAGE BY RIVER

Where Water Encroaches on Ridout Street Property.

The board of works Thursday night decided to pay another 15 per cent, or $3,750, of the contract price of the new incinerator to Laurie & Lamb, the contractors. Twenty per cent, of the price will be still retained until the incinerator is found to be satisfactory after one month's test. City Solicitor Meredith gave it as his opinion that the storm sewers could be put down as local improvements, provided they were petitioned for. The storm-sewer question will be voted upon in the form of a by-law. Mr. Meredith also stated that the city was in no way responsible for the protection of private property on Ridout street, where the river is encroaching, but that the city only had to look after the

Ingersoll Case Is To Be Investigated

Council Claims That Authorities Lost Case by Withdrawal.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
In Ingersoll, May 1. — An interesting case will have to be decided as a result of a contention made today at the trial of John Marelli, charged with selling candy on Sunday, that the procedure is illegal.

The authorities went ahead in the case without waiting for the Attorney-General's consent, as the law states. When his consent was obtained the original information was withdrawn.

J. C. Hegler, who is looking after Marelli's interests, claims that the information having been withdrawn, the case ends. In case it goes on he enters a plea of not guilty. The matter has been laid over until Monday for investigation.

It is understood that J. C. Smith, B. A., principal of the Wingham high school, will succeed Principal Briden, who is resigning because of ill-health. The salary is $1,800 per year, and Mr. Smith will it is expected, assume his duties in the fall.

Want the Pastor For Another Year

At the regular meeting of the quarterly official board of Ridout Street Methodist Church, held Wednesday evening, May 14, a cordial invitation was extended to the pastor, Rev. A. E. Lloyd, to remain for another year. Great appreciation was expressed of his splendid work in the past year, during which time the membership has been increased 50 per cent and a fine parsonage added to the property of the church. Although the present church edifice is small and unprepossessing on the exterior, a great deal of interest has been aroused in the meetings under the leadership of Mr. Lloyd.

It was therefore felt to be very important that just as this time when a new church is being planned for the future on the beautiful site already obtained, the services of such an efficient minister be retained.

Mr. Lloyd expressed his pleasure in accepting the invitation and thanked the members for their hearty co-operation in the past, with the hope that it would be continued in the future.

As Washington, a strong contender for the American League pennant, will be playing there on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and Walter Johnson, their star twirler, working in one of the games, this excursion should be doubly interesting to the ball fans. SHIPS OF CONCRETE.
A 500-ton concrete barge was recently launched at Baltimore, Maryland. It is 110 feet long, 28 feet wide and has a depth of 10 feet 6 inches. Others, built before this one, have shown a large saving in repairs over wooden craft. It is believed by the builders that concrete vessels will ultimately create a revolution in ship construction. The Italians have already made use of concrete vessels, and
