Hon. Dr. Pugsley Told London Deputation He Could Not Say as Yet What Will Be Done, But He Appears To Be Personally Favorable to Port Stanley Improvements.

A STRONG DEPUTATION WAITED ON THE OTTAWA MINISTER TODAY

Delegates Are Feeling Jubilant as a Result of the Interview-Other Ministers Put Themselves On Record as Being Favorable to the Improvements.

[By Our Own Man.]

Ottawa, Oct. 26.-If the Port Stanley harbor is not improved and made the best on Lake Erie it will not be owing to lack of energy or enthusiasm on the part of the large delegation who interviewed Hon. Dr. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, at noon today.

The party arrived shortly after 7 o'clock this morning and possible got in touch with ministers. Messrs. Duncan C. Ross. Phil. Pocock and others interviewed Secretary of State Murphy also, and placed London's claims regarding Port Stanley before him in a most favorable light. That Mr. Murphy and the other Ministers have given this matter careful consideration was evidenced by his careful questioning and his evident grasp of the situation at all points. Other ministers, including Hon. George P. Graham, were seen and before the conference the deputation were advised that the Government would do NOTHING NEW IN CASE something as soon as the matter could be arranged. A preliminary meeting of the delegates was held in the Russell House. At the request of delegates Major Lamb explained the present situation, levels, etc., and the speakers were thus fortified for the conference.

THE SPEAKERS. Those who addressed Hon. Dr. Pugsley were Mayor Beattie, Geo. C. Gibbons, JJ. I. A. Hunt, Col. Gartshore (London), Mayor Guest, Ald. Price (St. Thomas), Reeve Jackson and Nat Cornell (Port Stanley), Dr. Ling, warden of Elgin, and Duncan Campbell, warden of Middlesex.

All laid particular stress on the necessity of a harbor of refuge and the possibilities of the development of trade east and west if proper harbor accommodations were provided and other kindred matters.

The fact that the Bessemer might not have been lost with a toll of 35 lives had there been a harbor of refuge at Port Stanley was a strong card and seemed to impress the ministers. With Hon. Dr. Pugsley were Graham and Mr. Murphy and a number of Government officials.

"I have been on many delegations to this Government, and this is heard the most important testimony the first time I have been honored by five ministers," said Mr. Ross. "This being given by Dr. Ferguson, of South argues well for our success. All we ask is a share of the prosperity of the

Mr. Pugsley pointed out that the Government had not been niggardly toward the port. Since 1904 $265,751 had been expended and 1,600 yards had of the track. At Komoka Mr. Mcbeen dredged in addition. "One speaker stated that the port resembled a sow with one eas," returned Dr. Pugsley. "I want to tell him that when we started the sow had

COST OF IMPROVEMENTS.

The minister stated that it would be necessary to expend $640,000 to who conducted the inquest, was picked make the improvements suggested. Of this $400,000 would be for breakwater up, and which later secured the body and $240,000 for general improvements.

"I have been impressed by the fact that there were no harbors of refuge on the north shore," said Hon. Mr. Graham. Our American cousins the matter of fixing the responsibility, have shown us an example in this. That argument will have great weight

'Any proposition to improve Port Stanley will receive no opposition from me," said Mr. Murphy. "You have not made your case local, and anything that touches South ern Ontario touches me most vitally," was Mr. Patterson's comment. "I have no desire to object to any improvements to Port Stanley." declared Mr. Aylesworth.

The deputation are feeling jubilant over the prospects. In addition to ministers already named, Hon. Mr. Aylesworth joined the conference later Mr. Pugsley gave most cordial greeting to the delegates, and expressed his great pleasure at meeting them.

Major Beattie introduced the deputation. He pointed out that London' railway was handicapped because of lack of harbor accommodation. HOME RULE WILL FEDERATE THE EMPIRE

London, Oct. 25.—The idea of Home Rule all around as the first step toward the realization of a federal empire appears likely to become working policy. The fact that the Times has just published a series of articles, ad-

Elibeck, chief Liberal whip, who spoke at Belfast a few nights ago, and other party leaders, point out the probability that the committee on the veto power of the House of Lords will be converted into a table conference for discussion of federal home rule. "Yes, the men were a short off, she said," was the reply. And in spite of the screams she did ot give satisfaction to the police." "Yes," said witness is Confused. "Your story about Mrs. Teidmann did not come to you till two or three days ago, how could you have menioned it to George two or three weeks

Mrs. Jardine hesitated while the juestion was repeated, and she stated she could not be sure just when the matter was mentioned to George. "Then George has known this for a ong time?"

"I think so." You told him of your conversation with Mrs. Anderson before you were ere the last time?" 'No, it was since.

"Why did not you tell me then, why lid you tell me a few minutes ago you ad never spoken to any member of our family about this matter since ou gave evidence the last time?"

"Only this." "Why did you tell me this false-hood?" "You have spoken to one nember of your family about it?" "And that member is George? and George's wife?"

"Yes." Witness was asked again if she were out of the house after 8 d'clock on the night of the murder, and said "We'll ask somebody else about that and see what you have to say," said Mr. Blackstock. Mrs. Love was called, but did not "It seems queer every time I ask for witness they're not here," complained Mr. Blackstock. Then he turned to Mrs. Jardine.

"If she said she saw you on the street at nine o'clock would it be

"Then on Tuesday night, as told in our former examination, Edward was nome to supper at 6 o'clock?"

Witness hesitated. "You swore absolutely he was in.
Is that statement you made last time Mrs. Jardine was still uncertain, and her former evidence was referred to in which she stated he had gone out in the afternoon, came home to tea, and gone out a little after six. After a lengthy examination about where the Jardine boys slept on the night of the tragedy, the time of arising and the call of Anderson, the dead girl's father, in the morning, Mr.

Blackstock asked: One Statement Untrue.

"Then, madam, will you tell this jury how you come to swear Thomas was in the tent at seven when you called him to breakfast. Now you say he did not go back to the tent at an. When you said he was in the tent at seven o'clock that's incorrect?" Mrs. Jardine paused long.

"If you please, both can't be cor-The statement that you found him there at seven is untrue?" Another pause

'Yes." she said. "Then, when did Edward come in?"

"Shortly after Thomas." "He just walked in?" "I don't know whether he heard Mr.

"So both would be in the house near half-past six?

"Charlie had gone to his work before "Then he may have heard Mr. Anderson there. Do you think that brought

"I think so." Witness thought Edward and Thomas at this time were in the te.t. Mr. Anderson, she said, came in and said he had lost his little girl and inquired if witness or the boys had seen Witness Hesitates.

She told him she thought Eddie had seen or spoken to her

"I don't think so " "You said in your last evidence that Eddie had mentioned seeing her on the grounds about seven- o'crock," Mr. Blackstock, reading from the for-

"Is that statement true? You swore to it before?

"Now if your story is true, before Anderson came in the morning you "Why did you not recall it before had learned the night before from Ed-grounds and given her 15 cents to get her supper." Witness again hesitated. "I want to ask you to be candid That is the reason you get into this trouble," stated the crown.

"Now, is it true, he said he gave her 15 cents for her supper?" "Then when Anderson came in the morning you had all this information locked up in your breast?"

A pause followed. These pauses you make, Mrs. Jardine, are very extraordinary," stated esday or Thursday after the disap- Mr. Blackstock. "They are not the pauses of a straightforward woman. Why does it take us so long to get the answers out? Now, all that you told Anderson in his distress was that Eddie had seen her the night before?"

"You did not say about him paying for her supper?"

"No-I want to be sure." "So you allowed Anderson, madam, to go away without seeing Eddie?"

"Although he was only a few feet away in the tent?' No answer. "If your story is true?"

"So you allowed the grief-stricken parent to go away without telling him the story or letting him see Eddie?" "This never occurred to me."

"Anderson went away, evidently in She murmured something about her-

Witness was asked if Edward did not mention to her that he had seen a man with a black fedora hat and brown suit talking to Lizzie Anderson, and replied that he did not tell her en that morning.

"That story of the stranger struck you as pretty important, did it not?" asked Mr. Blackstock. "That the last person to be seen with her was a stranger, important also for the Andersons to know?" "I would suppose so," witness re-

"Yet not one of you took that important information to the Andersons or anyone else?" "And that night Eddie came in shortly before nine and Charlie was in since supper, and they stayed in till five in he morning?" "They went out to the tent and found it was too cold." Crown Criticizes. "Do you know what an oath means, madam, don't you know when you kiss

Children's Ready-to-Wear Dresses

In children's as well as in ladies' Ready-to-Wear Garments they have developed into departments in themselves, and are assuming greater proportions each season. In children's garments we are showing a particularly pleasing assortment of practical styles, which are much appreciated in the home of the large family of girls, as the problem of getting children's clothes made in the busy seasons is, with most people, a difficult one. See our new lines in children's dresses while the assortment is complete and sizes unbroken.

The United States adopted a high protective tariff, and Canada a moderate one, with a preference to Great Britain. Each has grown and prospered amazingly. The United census returns this year will show a p pulation of about 100,000,000, and Canada will soon touch the 10,000,-000 mark. By the end of the century the united population of both countries may reach 300,000,000.

The United States has passed the infant-industry age, and can compete in the markets of the world. American producers do not need protection to necessity ever existed. Canada has not reached the same stage of industrial development, and there is no doubt that the free exchange of manufactured articles, if suddenly brought about, would give a snock to the fabric of Canadian industry, and perhaps close many Canadian factories. Care should be taken to disturb as little as possible the satisfactory conditions in Canada today.

In less fortunate days for Canada. the Liberal party was willing to enter into an agreement for unrestricted reciprocity, and there is no doubt if that policy had then been adopted both countries would have profited immensely. FINTON TRIAL WILL START NOVEMBER 8

Young Wentworth Farmer Will Face Charge of Killing His Father.

[Special to The Advertiser.] St. Catharines, Ont., Oct. 26.—One of the most mysterious murder cases in the history of Ontario is to come to trial at the Wentworth assizes on Nov. 8, when Thomas Finton, a young farmer, will be placed upon his trial for the murder of his aged father. Elijah Finton was found dead behind his barn one day last spring, and his death was caused by a terrible gash in his head, supposed to weapon that killed Finton has never been found, however. After several days' investigation the authorities placed Thomas Finton, the son, under arrest, because of alleged incriminating circumstances connected with the case. It was alleged that Tom and his father were on bad terms and had quarreled. Young Finton has been in jail since his arrest, but the iail authorities declare that he has in nowise shown the demeanor of a murderer, especially of one who has murdered his own father. He is confident he declares, that at his coming trial his innocence will be entirely proven. Since his arrest he has not lost a pound in weight. He will be defended by George Lynch-Staunton.

IRISH LEADER IS GUEST OF DETROIT

John E. Redmond on Campaign For Irish Freedom.

Detroit, Oct. 26.-John E. A queer murmur ran through the crowd, that was all, a murmur that was ominous, almost sinister. He scanned the faces of the crowd, trying to pierce their stollid aspect. Some of the bystanders obviously belonged to the mutinous regiment; but he looked in vain for any sign of anger or regret. Skilled conspirator that he was, Poluski seemed rather to discern a deep-laid purpose behind their unnatural phlegm, yet his suspicions died away when the street began to empty as soon as the prisoners' vehicles and the escort had clattered past. The foot regiment marched off, and within ten minutes Felix was back in his nook, smoking and drinking coffee, and thanking the chance that left Joan unconscious of this grim episode, since her bedroom windows looked out on the garden in rear of the hotel.

The hottest hours of a hot day might well have driven the citizens of Delgratz indoors; but some powerful inducement was drawing loiterers to Furst Michaelstrasse. It was evident that the attraction, whatsoever it might be, was not supplied by the thoroughfare itself. Men lounged along the payement or gathered lounged along the pavement or gathered in groups, and Poluski noted that few women were present. THEY ACTUALLY DO THE WORK

Food Eaten Is Worthless Unless Digested-Some Stomachs Must Have Help.

Food taken into the Stomach which, rom the nature of the food or the condition of the stomach, is not digested worse than no food at all. This i Irisbrook, Taormina and Columbia and a great many dyspeptics go only this far with their reasoning. They argue with themselves that because their stomachs do not do the work given them, they must be given less work; in other words, they must be starved. It would be just as sensible for a businessman who is unable to do all his own work to cut down his busi ness to his own capacity, as it is for man to starve himself to relieve hi stomach. The sensible businessma employs help and goes forward with his business. Likewise the sensible dyspeptic will employ help for his stomach and give his body proper nourishment.

Stuart's Dyspeptic Tablets actually do the work assigned to them. They re with those of the digestive fluids and secretions of the stomach, and they simply take up the grind and carry on On this account Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are perfectly natural in their action and effects. They do not cause any unnatural or violent disturbance in the stomach or bowels. They themselves digest the food and supply the system with all the nourishment contained in what is eaten, and carry out Nature's plans for the sustenance and maintenance of the body.

How much more sensible is this means the body and brain get all the good, nutritious food they need, and the man is properly nourished and equipped to carry on his work and perform his duties. He could not possibly be in proper working condition by starving himself or employing some new-fangled, insufficient food that does not contain enough nutriment for a year-old baby. A strong man doing strong work must be properly fed, and this applies to the brain as well as the

The Cubs do not accuse their conquerors of unfair tactics. It is a ball team's business to get its opponents' signals if it can be done by watching. The Cubs believe that the American Leaguers were "on," and give reasons to back their belief.

Reason No. 1.

Chief among the reasons is the "toe hold" taken by the Philadelphia batsmen. Usually, when a batter doesn't know whether a curve or a fast ball is coming up, he is afraid to walk into the ball as did the Mackmen, because if he was guessing it for a curve and it turned out to be a fast one, he might be "beaned."

But the Athletics appeared to know what was coming, and they stepped into Pflester Surprised.

Jack Pflester said he was the most surprised man in the world at the way in which the Athletics outguessed him. On one occasion, with Ira Thomas at bat, lack pitched of fact hell. Jack pitched a fast ball. Ira was lookfor another fast one, but Pfiester shook his head and pitched a curve. Ira swung right out from his shoulder as, if he thought it was going to be fast. The curve was low and inside, and accordcurve was low and inside, and according to Jack, Thomas missed it by two and a half or three feet. Other Cub pitchers corroborated Pfiester's testimony. They were not "knocking" the Athletics when they did this, for they realized that it was a battery's own fault if it allowed the opposing batters to know what was going to be pitched.

on the 'white man's hope' situation."

Easy for White Man.

In the first heat Oldfield ran away Jack pitched a fast pall. Ira was flow-ing for one and took a healthy swing, from Johnson. He was quicker to get but succeeded only in fouling the ball into the stand. Kling then signalled Jack about a quarter of a mile. His time for the five miles was 4 minutes 44 seconds. The time of the second heat, 5 min-utes 14 4-5 seconds, or 30 4-5 seconds slower than the first, tells the story of the heat.

Both men were slow in starting, and Oldfield, after gaining a lead several times, slowed up to allow Johnson a chance. He always held the rail, how-ever, and in rounding the paddock turn, took a lead of 50 yards, which he held to the finish

BLOOD LINES OF PHILLIES AND REDS CHAMPION COLTS PLAN BIG EXCHANGE

Interesting Table For Horsemen Manager Dooin and Manager on History of Speedy Trotters.

Joan This Year Smashed Marks of Fifteen and Sixteen Years' Standing-Other Feats.

A table in which trotting horse fanciers find never-failing interest is the one showing the blood lines of the champion olt trotters.

Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight pugifist, to annex other honors as a racing automobile driver, received a blight here this afternoon at the hands of Barney Oldfield.

Johnson showed to poor advantage in his new role, and Oldfield, in one heat of their five-mile race at Sheepshead Bay, toyed with the big fighter. Only two heats were needed to settle the question of superiority.

Following his victory, Oldfield tonight gave out this statement:

"I raced with Jack Johnson for neither money nor glory, but to eliminate from my profession an invader who would have to be reckoned with sooner or later. If Jeffries had fought Johnson five years are lift perfectly as a soil of the Cleveland Naps. Tom Jones, the Tiger first baseman, is about all through as a big league player, and mist be replaced if the Tigers are to world with solutions. Cincinnati, Oct. 26.—President August Herrimann, of the Cincin. nati Baseball Club, announces that the Cincinnati club has transferred Pitchers Rowan and Bebee, Third Baseman Lobert and Outfielder Paskert, to the Philadelphia National League Club, in exchange for Pitchers Moren and McQuillan, Third Baseman Grant and Outfielder Bates.

In discussing the change, President Herrmann said:

"The deal has been in progress of completion for almost a week. Various other players were mentioned from time to time, but Managers Griffith and Dooin finally agreed on these eight players. It is believed that the deal will benefit both clubs, and I do not hesitate to say that I am fully cenvinced that it will work a great good for our team."

Manager Dooin, of the local team, met Manager Griffith, of Cincinnati, in Chicago during the world's series, where the offer of exchange was made. Manager Dooin said today that patches from Cincinnati are not quite secret. He admitted that a deal is on, and said the whole matter is now up and said the whole matter is now up to the Cincinnati club.

There was a lack of harmony in the Philadelphia club last year, and it is known that Manager Dooin is endeavoring to get rid of several players.

"The Love of the Wild"

By A. P. McKishnie.

$1.10

Once in a while we strike a novel that is out of the ordinary—a book that is good enough, human enough and big enough, that makes everybody read it. Such a book we now offer you.

The scene of the story is laid in Western Ontario, and the characters are those homely, honest, wholesome pioneers who toiled in the wilderness to hew out homes for themselves and their children. Back of the story is the love of the settlers for their wilderness, and their hatred for the approach of the civilization which meant to them the destruction of their beloved forests. If you liked "Freckles," "Trail of the Lonesome Pine," or "Shepherd of the Hills," you will surely like this new one—"The Love of the Wild." Price, $1 10.

She declared that the two men had taken herself and Cecile out in an automobile on the last Tuesday in August. She was 14 years old and Cecile 13. The men had promised to get them back by 7 o'clock, but instead took them to a resort outside the city and ordered wine and supper. She said that the men tried to ply them with liquor, but did not think either of them drank any. Finally she became uneasy and started to go home, when Chevrier offered her $10 to stay buns, which she was told were for until 9 o'clock. She wanted the money, but when Chevrier said she would have to earn it she knew what he meant and left. She tried to induce Cecile Michaud to go with her, but the latter refused, and that was the last she saw of her. Madam Bediveau, wife of the proprietor of the resort, said that the party had arrived there and supper was served for three, one of the girls having gone. She, however, declared that the automobile left earlier and also Cecile Michaud, but she did not know whether they went together. Chevrier, she said, was held until arrangement for payment was made. The men of the party were drinking a good deal.

Further than this the evidence did not go and no light was thrown upon the manner in which the little girl met journed until next Friday.

GOVERNMENT WOULD BE ACTING

Mr. Ross introduced Mr. Geo. C. Gibbons, K.C. as the first speaker, Mr. Bibbons made mention of the pioneer railway venture of the city of London in building a railway to the port. An investment of one million dollars was made. and the indirect benefit was considerable. The deputation now asked that the harbor be made adequate to the needs of the railway. There was no harbor of refuge from Port Colborne to Kingsville. More accommodation was necesoresent. sary. The harbor was too narrow.

Mr. Marshall, the Misses Marshall, proper accommodation were provided. The freight business would be large if the Mr. Hunt made particular reference to the grain trade, and pointed out the advantages of the port along this line. A BIG ELEVATOR COMING.

The port would serve the counties of Elgin, Middlesex, Lambton, Essex and Kent. If Port Stanley is improved, there will be built an elevator as large, if not larger, than at Goderich. Development will be as rapid and as certain.

Col. Gartslore spoke briefly on behalf of the manufacturers. The Government has done much, but more must be done to improve the harbor. If the Government does deepen the canals, as proposed at no distant date, ocean freight will be brought to Port Stanley.

"I will mention one subject in a whisper, of course—reciprocity," said Col. Gartshore. "If that ever comes, although I am not here to advocate that course, It does not take vivid imagination to depict the importance of the port. It would serve the whole of the Dominion because close to the great iron fields of Pennsylvania." Mayor Guest, on behalf of the city of St. Thomas, and the board of trade of that place, supported the claim of Port Stanley. His worship dealt particularly with the wreck of the Bessemer, and stated that Captain McLeod would have reached Port, had it been properly equipped to provide shelter.

Nat Cornell, Port Stanley, declared we can run for our lives when in a that undoubtedly the Bessemer would storm at sea." have been saved had Port Stanley harbor been in a proper condition. "We in Port Stanley want a harbor so that we can be like other nations,"

Mr. Price, of St. Thomas, gave information along the same lines, and Mr. Hunt and Mr. Campbell wound up the case for the deputation. Mr. Duncan C. Ross also made a strong plea for the improvements

The Globe

Canada has an East as well as a West. This is a country rich in natural resources, of surpassing natural beauty full of historic interest. It is destined to play a great part in Canada's future. It contains seaboard towns which are becoming great shipping centres as Canada's trade with Europe develops. These are some of the points that readers of The Globe have an opportunity to learn about. The Globe has sent Mr. S. T. Wood to the Maritime Provinces to write a series of letters on Newfoundland, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. These letters will tell about the Canadians of the East, their social customs, their industries, and the industrial possibilities of their country. They will prove interesting and instructive to the readers of The Globe. No one should miss them. Send for three months' trial subscrip-
