TURKISH NATIONALISTS AGAIN DEFYING ALLIES

BRITISH BATTLESHIPS ARE ORDERED TO DARDANELLES; CONSTANTINOPLE MENACED

Mustapha Kemal Pasha, With Strong Reinforcements, Is Threatening To Advance Upon Black Sea and Sea of Marmora—Additional British Troops Are Necessary If Constantinople Is To Be Retained by Allied Powers.

London, June 8.—Large military reinforcements have been received by Mustapha Kemal Pasha, head of the Turkish Nationalist Government at Angora, and he is threatening to advance upon the Black Sea and the Sea of Marmora. The Angora Government is said to have taken an arrogant attitude toward the Allies. Dispatches containing these statements were featured by London newspapers this morning, and the situation in Asia-Minor was declared to hold alarming possibilities.

Assertion is made by the Daily Sketch that the British Government had received reports of a grave nature from its representatives in Constantinople, which is declared to be menaced with capture by the Turk Nationalists. The newspaper says large reinforcements for British troops in Constantinople are necessary if that city and the Dardanelles are to be retained in the hands of the western powers. British representatives there, the newspaper says, have advised the Government that if reinforcements are not available it is desirable that British forces in the Near East and Middle East be withdrawn to India.

Warships to Dardanelles.

A Constantinople dispatch to the Daily Mail reports the British battleships Iron Duke and King George have been ordered to the Dardanelles, it being intended that they will join in operations against the Nationalists by blocking Black Sea ports and covering the landing of Greek reinforcements. The dispatch implies that the British battleships Benbow and Centaur, which recently have been engaged in target practice on the Sea of Marmora, will cooperate with the two battleships, and prediction is made that British destroyers will soon arrive in the Straits.

Corroboration of these reports is lacking in official quarters, where it is said the British Government has not reached any decision regarding the difficulties encountered in Asia-Minor. While it is denied that orders have been given British warships as indicated in the newspaper dispatches, admission is made that the Iron Duke and the King George are due in Constantinople next week. It is declared, however, that their arrival there will be in accordance with arrangements made some time ago, and the Benbow and the Centaur are declared to have been engaged in "usual manoeuvres." The question of how Great Britain will act in view of the attitude assumed by the Angora Government is declared not to have been discussed by the cabinet as yet. It is said that the matter will not be considered until Prime Minister Lloyd George returns to London from the country, where he is resting this week.

SIR GEORGE PERLEY, Canadian high commissioner in London, who has placed the collection of interest on Canadian credits to Greece and Rumania, in the hands of the British Government for action.

Says War Between Britain and U. S. An Impossibility

New York, June 7.—Secretary of War Weeks, in an address today to the graduating class of New York University, declared that war between Great Britain and United States was an impossibility. He opposed disarmament for the United States on the ground that there were "active and feverish military preparations among those with whom the United States might possibly come in conflict," but added: "I want to say here and now that I cannot give a moment's serious consideration to the possibility of war with Great Britain." Such a conflict, he declared, would, in his opinion, be the end of civilization.

Under present conditions, it would be the height of folly for the United States to be the first to disarm, Mr. Weeks declared.

"World-wide disarmament must come as the result of an international agreement, and must be done simultaneously," he said. "Prudence would not permit our disarming while others hold weapons in their hands."

GORDON WILSON, M. P., who has offered to meet Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public works and highways for Ontario, on a public platform. This offer is a sequel to charges made by Mr. Wilson in the House against Mr. Biggs' highway program.

EALING SCHOOL MOTHERS INDIGNANT AT IMPLICATION OF BOARD OF EDUCATION

Children of That School Are Not Dirty, They Declare—Are Sending Letter of Protest to Trustees—Trustee Tanner Brings Matter Before Fond Mammas.

That the mothers of the Ealing school are most indignant at a recent implication on the part of the board of education that the children of that school were dirty children was evident by the lively expression of opinion which was given at the regular meeting of the Ealing Mothers' Club, held at the school last night. So badly do the mothers of this school feel about the accusation that they are sending a letter of protest to the board of education, and the suggestion has been made that it be signed by every member of the club.

It is not fair, they say, to accuse all the children of being unclean when the children of but one or two families may be guilty.

"Only on the day of the recent school picnic I remarked on what a lovely, clean-looking group of children were those from the Ealing school," said Mrs. Rake, president of the club, who occupied the chair last night. "It isn't right that such a statement as that which came from the board of education should be allowed to go without correction."

The matter was brought to the notice of the club last night by Mrs. W. A. Tanner, school trustee.

During the past year the club has raised $117, and has $31 on hand. At this meeting $20 was voted towards the Children's Hospital, and plans were made for a mothers' picnic in July and a bazaar and sale of home cooking at the end of the month. V. K. Greer, who was to have given a talk on "Intelligence Tests," before the club, was unable to be present.

BOYLE MEMORIAL M. C.

The principal feature of last night's program at the Boyle Memorial Mothers' Club meeting was a demonstration of first aid and home nursing, given by Miss Ella Davis and her assistants of No. 28 Nursing Division. The remainder of the very fine program was given by the mothers of the club. This club is planning a bazaar for the fall.

MINERS TO VOTE ON ACCEPTANCE OF NEW OFFER

Labor Leaders Confident That Strike Will Soon End.

MEANS A COMPROMISE

Men Have Lost Over $25,000,000 in Wages During Walkout.

London, June 8.—Canadian Associated Press.—The best news which has come to the public for weary weeks is that the miners' executive has resolved to recommend that the convention of district delegates of the miners, which assembles here on Friday, order a ballot of the Miners' Union on the question of accepting the amended proposals of the coal miners. It is understood that the owners have offered something like 20 per cent on the wages of 1914, plus additions made since, and have also guaranteed a proper wage for the lower ratings among the mine workers.

A two-thirds vote of the delegates will be necessary to carry this recommendation, but the leaders are said to be sanguine that it will be forthcoming.

Assuming that the referendum of the miners is favorable to acceptance of the owners' proposals, work can hardly be resumed before Monday. The miners will have lost over £50,000,000 in wages and many will be unable to start work for weeks owing to the condition of the mines.

Yesterday employers in the engineering trades posted notices of reductions in wages affecting a million and a half men. Hon. Thomas MacNamara, the minister of labor, is also meeting the employers in the cotton trade today.

A settlement of the disputes between employers and operatives in the woolen industry is said to be likely.

ANTI-CHURCH UNIONISTS FAIL IN AN ATTEMPT TO RE-INTRODUCE QUESTION

Opposing Members Maintain That Presbyterian Assembly Had No Constitutional Right To Take Definite Action Towards Union With Other Denominations — Moderator Declines To Permit Reopening of Discussion On Question.

Toronto, June 8.—Canadian Press.—The last-ditchers of the anti-unionists made another attempt in the Presbyterian General Assembly today to have the church union question again referred to the people for decision, and, failing in this they entered a formal dissent from the action of the assembly, holding that the assembly had no constitutional right to disband the Presbyterian Church or to answer for its property. The dissent was referred to a special committee for a reply. A meeting of those joining in the protest has been called by Dr. E. Scott for this afternoon to decide on a course of action.

As a result of the vote of 414 to 107 for union yesterday the moderator announced in the opening of this morning's sederunt that the next step would be the formal adoption of the motion to "proceed towards union as expeditiously as possible," and to accept or reject the balance of the union committee's report. Dr. Banks Nelson immediately moved a new amendment to the motion, as follows: "That, whereas, it is six years since the mind of the members of our church was taken on the question of organic union, that this General Assembly proceed to take, at the earliest possible date, a referendum of our people on the question of union." Dr. Gordon, the moderator, said the amendment brought up in a little different form a proposal that had been rejected by yesterday's vote, and he ruled it out. The seconder, Hon. R. M. MacGreggor of Nova Scotia, tried to argue that it was a new issue, but made no headway. Dr. E. Scott reminded the moderator that he had promised early in the debate to accept any amendment, and the moderator replied that he would accept any amendment that did not reintroduce an issue already decided. "I must decline any motion calling for a new mandate from the people. We settled that point yesterday," said Dr. Gordon.

Dr. W. J. Clark then moved the adoption of the balance of the union committee's report, clause by clause, which was done, with three minor amendments.

Carry Out Policy.

Clause 3 of the report read "that a representative committee be appointed, with instructions to confer with the negotiating churches; and to carry out the policy of this assembly," to which was added by amendment, "and to report to the next General Assembly." The ninth and last recommendation of the committee urged the assembly to express gratitude to God for the growing spirit of Christian unity, and for the spirit of peace and harmony with which the Presbyterian communion had been blessed.

To this Dr. Banks Nelson wished to tack on "and that for the continued peace and harmony of our church we refer our action to our church, seeking the mind of the people for guidance in carrying union into effect."

After some discussion Dr. Nelson agreed to refer this amendment to the union committee for a report and recommendation, and the clause was adopted as it stood.

EAST MIDDLESEX FARMERS' PICNIC AT QUEEN'S PARK

Two Thousand Expected To Attend Gathering This Afternoon.

HON. DOHERTY TO SPEAK

Peter McArthur Will Also Address Crowds in Grandstand.

East Middlesex Farmers' Picnic in Queen's Park today promises to be a gala event, advance parties already on the grounds indicating that there will be at least 2,000 people in attendance.

At 10 a.m. a baseball tournament was under way, Ilderton being defeated by the Thorndale nine, the final score being 10—7. This afternoon Bryanston clashes with Granton, and the winners of this game will meet Thorndale at 4:30 p.m., to play off for prize money.

The Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture, is expected to address the people in the grandstand this afternoon, and Peter McArthur will also speak, taking as his subject, "Insurance as a Solution for Economic Problems." This is a new phase of interest to farmers. Speed events are also on the afternoon program, including a 2:30 pace or trot, and a 2:16 pace or trot, each for a purse of $300, with Canadian Trotting Association rules governing.

In addition, a tug-of-war, baby show and foot races will add to the day's sport. This morning about 300 Middlesex residents viewed with enthusiasm the initial baseball game of the tournament, and they lunched on the grounds. Hot water from a traction engine was supplied to the guests free of charge. A. J. Hodgins is president of the picnic committee, and J. A. Hughes is secretary.

The defeat of Ilderton in the baseball game is attributed to ragged support of George Loft, who pitched an excellent game for the losing nine. Poor baserunning also cut off runs, which loomed up on the horizon for Ilderton. Johnston pitched a fine game for the Thorndale outfit, which accorded him air-tight support, although the losers threatened in the ninth, when they scored two runs. He helped win his game when he made a triple, driving in two runs in the sixth inning.

The fans cheered their respective teams, and repartee from the sidelines was a feature of the game.

The teams lined up as follows:

Ilderton.	Thorndale.
R. Robson	Ardield
Watson	Henderson
H. Robson	Smith
Scott	Riddell
C. Telfer	Pearson
Charlton	Kennedy
Loft	Johnston
Grieve	Armstrong
L. Telfer	Francis

Umpire—Harris of Springfield.

GERMANY PAYS IN EXCESS OF ALLIED DEMAND

40,000,000 Marks Delivered Over Total of Billion Set For June 1.

Paris, June 8.—The reparations commission announces that in the execution of Article V. of the schedule of payments for reparations, Germany has delivered up to the present time treasury bonds payable August 31, 1921, amounting to about 840,000,000 gold marks and foreign currency representing about 200,000,000. The excess of the total of these two sums over the one billion gold marks which Germany was to pay June 1 will be used for the amortization of part of these bonds. The excess amounts to about 40,000,000 marks.

REFUGEE CAMP FOR PUEBLO INHABITANTS RENDERED HOMELESS

Normal Conditions in Flooded Areas Being Rapidly Restored.

Pueblo, Col., June 8.—Establishment of a refugee camp today to receive those made homeless by the flood is regarded as Pueblo's greatest step toward the restoration of normal conditions. Col. P. J. Hamrock announced that refugees from various public buildings would be removed to the tent city today. There are about 2,000 homeless in the city, he said.

Relief work was rapidly being systematized. The lighting system was being steadily improved, and with the expected installation today of a water purifier, the solution of another vexing problem bade fair to be solved.

Col. Hamrock said he expected the camp would be needed for three or four weeks.

TORONTO MAN KILLED IN MOTOR ACCIDENT

Toronto, June 8.—B. M. Richardson was almost instantly killed and Samuel Evers so seriously injured that he died in the General Hospital soon afterwards, as a result of an automobile collision accident early this morning at an intersection in the western part of the city. Richardson was a passenger in a car which was traveling east, while Evers was a passenger in a car traveling north. The drivers of both cars were taken into custody.

EXTRADITION REQUEST DENIED.

Fargo, N. D., June 8.—The United States extradition commission today denied request of the Dominion of Canada for the return of William Connelly, alias J. F. Burns of Omaha, charged with forgery and burglary. The extradition commissioner held the evidence was not satisfactory for identification of the prisoner.

MUST DEPEND FOR SOME TIME YET ON BRITISH SUPPORT

London, June 8.—Canadian Associated Press.—That he has recanted his ideas announced a year ago anent the advisability of imperial federation on a parliamentary model, was admitted by Sir John Findlay, formerly a noted legislator of New Zealand, in his address before the meeting of the Colonial Institute. The past ten years have seen changes in the conception and practice of imperialism as rapid as fateful. Sir John said, and the lesson of recent developments is that we must rely upon the sure foundations of the British commonwealth, as enunciated not long since by Sir Robert Borden while still prime minister of Canada, namely, the complete autonomy of the dominions, with Britain primus inter pares.

Sir John suggested, however, that some method must be devised to fill the wide gap in imperial councils which existed between the visits of the dominion premiers to London.

SINN FEINERS CUT WIRES IN SEVERAL PARTS OF ENGLAND

Men in Stolen Car Hold Back Spectators.

London, June 8.—An epidemic of telegraph and telephone wire-cutting broke out in various parts of England yesterday evening, which today was attributed by the police to Sinn Feiners. At Harlington, on the outskirts of London, several men were seen to alight from a stolen car, two of whom climbed the telegraph poles, while the others held up pedestrians with revolvers, allowing the climbers to descend. It was discovered later that 42 wires had been cut.

Similar outrages occurred along a nearby railway. Fifty-five telephone wires were severed between Hayes and Yiewsley, and many others around Surrey and Barnet.

At Gaetacrea, a suburb of Liverpool, the police surprised and surrounded a gang on a similar expedition, after an exchange of revolver shots.

Reports received by the authorities at midday today indicate a large number of wires also were cut this morning at Sidcup, Kewfery and Northwood. A pole carrying the main Irish telegraph line had been partly sawed through, and 70 lines, including the continental wire, had been cut. In the Seven Oaks district two poles, carrying the line from London to the coast, also were cut.

COMMUNITY STILL SEIZED.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 8.—A community still, set up on wheels and which ran up and down the alley in which it was operated, delivering its illegal product wherever mash awaited it, was discovered in full operation here, prohibition enforcement agents reported today. Barrels of mash were found in different houses along the alley, they added.

The man who happened to be using the still at the time the detectives visited the alley was arrested, and the still was confiscated.

WILSON DECLARES HE WILL PROVE ALL HE SAID IN COMMONS

Wentworth Member To Address Mass Meeting At Dundas.

Toronto, June 8.—The Star prints the following dispatch from Dundas, Ont.:

"I will hold a public meeting in Dundas Park within the next thirty days, whether Hon. F. C. Biggs attends or not," said Mr. Gordon Wilson, M. P. for Wentworth, referring to the refusal of the Ontario minister of public works to debate with Mr. Wilson the question of "the roads that Biggs built." The federal member added that Mr. Biggs "will be invited to the meeting, and if he cannot come himself I will ask him to send a representative. I am going to prove everything I said on the floor of the House. Mr. Biggs is now beginning to realize that his roads system is going to be a white elephant. I am not playing cheap politics. Politics is the business of the country, and the lavish expenditure of public funds on roads is a matter of public interest."

MONTREAL WOMAN REFUSES TO GIVE CENSUS INFORMATION

Enumerator Beats Retreat Before Oratorial Bombardment.

Montreal, June 8.—"I won't tell you anything, because it's nobody's business. What I earn, how old I am or what breed I spring from, is none of your affair," said an indignant woman to one of the census enumerators this morning, as he plied her with questions. "You can't get anything out of me," she continued, "and I'll give you just two minutes to get out of the house with all your foolish truck." Seeing that his case was hopeless the enumerator beat an orderly retreat. The lady, however, will hear more of the matter.

Each pupil will write in a district school.

PROTESTS AGAINST ADDRESS OF SIMS

Washington, June 8.—Senator McCormick (Republican), Illinois, complained formally today to President Harding and Secretary Denby about the address delivered in London yesterday by Rear-Admiral Sims, in which he discussed the Irish question. The senator asked Secretary Denby to take disciplinary measures against the admiral. He did not see the president formally, but asked Secretary Christian to call the address to the attention of the executive.

BANDITS ROB DANCERS.

Chicago, June 8. — Four bandits lined up dancers in an inn north of Evanston early today and escaped with jewelry and cash estimated at nearly $20,000. The dancers at first thought it was a joke, when a young man with a cap pulled low over his eyes and a pistol in each hand stepped out on the dance floor and commanded them to line up, but the guests quickly complied when three other robbers entered and fired several shots into the ceiling. One woman saved diamonds valued at $15,000 by dropping them into her cup of coffee.

AMATEUR BANDIT FAILS IN ATTEMPT TO ROB OFFICE

Sherbrooke, Que., June 8.—A daring but unsuccessful attempt to rob the Canadian Bank of Commerce branch office at Bury was made yesterday by George Lavalle, a former employee of the bank, according to a statement by the police. Owing to the amateurish methods employed, he failed, and is now under arrest in Sherbrooke jail, and will appear before Judge Mulvena shortly.

METHODISTS DISCUSS PROFESSOR LEACOCK'S PROHIBITION VIEWS

Clause in Report to Cornwall Conference Is Ordered Deleted.

Cornwall, June 8.—The report of the committee on evangelism and social service was the storm centre in the Methodist conference here yesterday. Part of it was discussed in the forenoon, but it was not disposed of finally until night. Criticism in the report of certain utterances of Professor Leacock of McGill University, in connection with the recent Ontario referendum, called forth a variety of comment, showing that this criticism was not by any means unanimously indorsed. The result of discussion was that the paragraph referring to this matter was ordered deleted. No one agreed with Professor Leacock's views and many regarded his remarks as unwise and injurious to McGill, but as he was giving his personal views and not speaking for McGill, it was the general opinion that the right of free speech was as much Professor Leacock's as that of temperance advocates who, in this case, had been able to reply to his lectures in public, while the Ontario electors also had answered him at the polls.

WORK ON CENSUS IS PROGRESSING

Little Difficulty Experienced in Foreign Quarters of City.

Although the employees of the census department, who are compiling statistics for this city, have encountered several individuals who are reluctant to divulge any information concerning themselves the work is progressing satisfactorily, according to Col. French, the local director. The officials of the department in London fully expect that work will be virtually completed next week.

"Many people misunderstanding the purpose of the census talk about themselves very reluctantly. Some of them think that the questions have something to do with the income tax," said Col. French when interviewed by The Advertiser today. "Convincing these people so that the necessary information can be secured requires much time."

Contrary to expectations, little difficulty is being experienced in the foreign quarter of the city. The employees of the departments are assisted in the work in this section of the city by interpreters who have been engaged for two weeks. Three interpreters in all have been secured, speaking Italian, Chinese and Russian. The foreign population readily answer the questions asked, making but few mistakes.

Altogether 36 men are canvassing the city. On an average they secure information from 150 people each day. Many people will have to be called upon the second time for various reasons, but this cleaning up will be done after the general work has been completed.

After the census has been taken the returns must be checked to discover mistakes which might have been made.

TURKISH NATIONALISTS PERMIT ENTRANCE OF MOSLEM BOLSHEVIKI

Constantinople, June 8.—Turkish Nationalists authorities have opened the frontiers to admit large bodies of Moslem Bolshevik troops, which have been concentrated during the past month on the Armenian border.

The Angora Government has also made an offer to Gen. Wrangel, former head of the Anti-Bolshevik Government of Southern Russia, to transplant his army in Thrace, and there form a Turco-Russian Republic. Gen Wrangel has rejected this proposal.

Oppeln, Silesia, June 8.—Rosenberg, a town about 20 miles northeast of this city, and located near the old Polish frontier, has been occupied by a battalion of British troops.

GERMANY'S FARM PRODUCTION FAR BELOW OLD LEVEL

Berlin, June 8.—Germany's agricultural production, in all lines, is less than 70 per cent of its pre-war volume, the Prussian minister of agriculture declared before the Diet yesterday, when he presented his program for extensive agrarian reforms. He proposed the establishment of 4,000 new agricultural communities throughout Prussia in 1921, locating them in hitherto uncultivated districts and in moorlands. He also declared there would be an attempt to reclaim lands along the coasts.

State credits and premiums for the improvement of agricultural areas are contemplated in the plans of the ministry. He hopes to divert the overflow population from the cities to rural districts through the granting of benefits, in the way of land, housing and equipment, and by guaranteeing increased security to farmers.

CHANGES IN CUSTOMS ACT COVER EXCHANGE

Canadian Duty Computed on Premium Value of American Invoices.

The department of customs has announced the following changes in the customs act value of currency of invoice:

Section 59 of the customs act is amended by adding thereto the following sub-section:

"3. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this section, in computing the value for duty of the currency of an invoice, no reduction shall be allowed in excess of 50 per cent of the value of the standard or proclaimed currency of the country from whence the goods are invoiced to Canada, irrespective of the rate of exchange existing between such country and Canada on date of the shipment of the goods; and in respect of goods shipped to Canada from a country where the rate of exchange is adverse to Canada, the value for duty of the currency of the invoice shall be computed at the rate of exchange existing between such country and Canada at the date of the shipment of the goods.

Under the provisions of this amendment to the act in computing the value for duty of currency of an invoice no reduction shall be allowed in excess of 50 per cent of the value of the standard or proclaimed currencies as contained in Memo. 2163-B irrespective of the existing rates of exchange.

For example the proclaimed value of the German mark is 23.82 cents. Under the provisions of this amendment the value of the mark is to be taken at not less than 11.91 cents. The proclaimed value of the Italian lira is 19.3 cents; the value in computing duty will now be not less than 9.65 cents.

The amendment also provides for a change in computing value for duty of the currency of an invoice from a country where the rate of exchange is adverse to Canada. In such case the value for duty in Canadian currency is to be determined by advancing the actual home consumption value by the premium of exchange.

For example, on an invoice of goods imported from the United States where actual home consumption value is $100 in the United States funds and the premium of exchange is 12 per cent, the value for duty purposes will be $112.

You are further instructed that in respect of adverse exchange the importer is to state on invoice the amount to be paid for the goods in Canadian or foreign funds, and in respect of goods of a class or kind made or produced in Canada special or dumping duty is to apply where the price paid by purchaser is equivalent of Canadian currency is more than 5 per cent less than the value for duty as shown by the customs entry.

Until otherwise ordered collectors are instructed to compute the value for duty in such cases according to the local bank rate of exchange at the date of the shipment of the goods to Canada.

Above instructions are in effect on and after the 6th of June, 1921.

BAPTISTS OF TWO COUNTIES HOLDING ANNUAL CONFERENCE

First Day of Convention At Petrolea Devoted To Ladies' Missionary Work.

BANNER WINNERS

Denfield Mission Circle and Talbot Street Mission Band, London.

[Special To The Advertiser.]

PETROLEA, June 7.—Baptists of Middlesex and Petrolea opened their annual conference here today, when most of the day was devoted to the work of the Ladies' Missionary Society.

Mrs. N. Mills of London presided at the opening session, and the devotional exercises were led by Mrs. T. S. Roy of London. Twenty-five reports were received in reply to the recent questionnaire.

In answer to the question: "How to secure new members"? the most favored suggestions were, by telephone, invitation, personal letters, individual effort and public announcement.

"How to secure new subscribers to our missionary papers"? brought the following suggestions: Personal canvass, free copy for a certain period.

"How to raise money"? a very pertinent question at the present time, brought at least one novel suggestion, one society proposing that "the men be made honorary members, but that they pay for the honor." Other suggestions were penny banks, mite boxes, fees, free-will offerings, socials and birthday gifts.

"How to construct a program"? Only two answers were received to this question, one recommending that the program be based on current missionary literature, and the other that a mission study book be used.

The Mission Circle at Denfield carried off the banner for the year, while Talbot street mission band, London, is the banner mission band.

An interesting feature of the reports was the announcement that among the rural mission circles the Listowel circle had raised $13 per member for mission purposes.

The report by an old lady from a difficult field, made with strong Scotch accent, that "we are holding our own," brought a roar of applause.

The report of the Denfield Mission Circle showed that it is the only "young ladies' mission circle in the two counties."

At the afternoon session Mrs. J. R. Baldwin of London reviewed the year's work of the missionary societies. This was followed by three devotional addresses. Mrs. J. R. Baldwin spoke on "Sacrifice," Mrs. J. B. McCormick of Ailsa Craig on "Soul Winning," and Mrs. Thomas Doolittle of Forest on "Intercession."

Mrs. A. S. Rogers, St. Thomas, gave an address on "The Value of a Soul."

A prominent feature of the program was a debate on on the resolution "That a program based on current accounts of our own mission work is more beneficial than a program based on a missionary study book." The affirmative was taken by Mrs. N. S. McKechnie, Mrs. R. Mills and Mrs. Hazelgrove, and the negative by Mrs. McFadden, Mrs. F. H. Yull and Miss Frances Short, all of London. The judges were Rev. A. A. Barnes of Wyoming, Rev. A. H. Jones of Arkona and Rev. Thomas Bingham, Park Hill. Their verdict was in favor of the affirmative.

CLADEBOYE

CLANDEBOYE, June 5.—There was no service in the Methodist Church today, as the pastor and delegates are attending conference in London.

The contractors are rushing the job of putting gravel on the roads while fine weather holds. The brigade of teamsters, with their bright red and blue umbrellas attached to the wagons, form a picturesque part of the landscape these days. A large part of the gravel hauled to the town line has been obtained from the pit of James Witherspoon of the fourth concession of McGillivray, making the trip as short as possible for the teams.

The school children who obtained eggs to raise chickens for exhibition at the school fair this fall report a much better hatch than last year, with the chickens doing well, so prospects are good for some prize poultry.

CONFERENCE IS FIRMLY OPPOSED TO ALL DANCING

Indorses Also W. C. T. U. in Stand Against Immodesty of Dress.

LAYMAN ADVISES CARE

"It Is a Woman's Subject," Delegate Protests, But Report Passes.

Rev. John A. Agnew, pastor of Ridout Street Church, was elected chairman of London Methodist district, at the final session of the London Methodist Conference held in Askin Street Church Tuesday. Rev. S. Judson Kelly of Colborne Street Church was elected financial secretary for the same district. Rev. A. J. Langford of St. Marys was elected chairman, and Rev. Thomas A. Allen of Moncton was elected financial secretary of Stratford district.

The new chairman of Wingham district is Rev. R. Fulton Irwin of Lucknow, with Rev. F. E. Clysdale of Fordwich financial secretary. For Goderich district Rev. S. Anderson of Clinton headed the vote as chairman, while John W. Johnston of Holmesville was elected financial secretary. Exeter district will have Rev. George W. W. Rivers of Hensall as chairman, and Rev. Arthur Sinclair of Centralia as financial secretary.

Sarnia District Chairman.

Rev. George Jewitt of Wyoming was elected chairman of Sarnia district, while the new financial secretary will be Rev. S. J. Bridgette of Corunna. Rev. Robert Hicks of Chatham will act as chairman in his district, with Rev. Albert E. Jones of Blenheim acting as financial secretary. The chairman and secretary elected for Windsor district were Rev. J. W. Hibbert of Essex and Rev. Charles R. Durrant of Harrow, respectively.

Ridgetown district's new chairman is Rev. Arthur S. Whitehall of Thamesville, while the newly-elected financial secretary is Rev. William Conway of Highgate. Rev. W. A. Waldon of Brownsville was elected chairman of St. Thomas district, with Rev. Leonard Bartlett of Yarmouth Centre as financial secretary. In Strathroy district the newly-elected chairman is Rev. W. L. Hagar of Watford, with Rev. R. A. Miller of Mount Brydges as financial secretary. The elections were spirited, and several runners-up threatened to defeat the above new officers.

Dangerous Tendencies.

At the final session clauses of the evangelism and social service report regarding dancing and immodest dress which were referred back during a previous session were adopted. One clause, "We look with a certain degree of alarm upon the growing fascination for the dance, which is assuming some very dangerous tendencies in our time, and we believe it is time for our church to take a more decided stand than heretofore against this form of amusement, and that we record our strenuous protest against dancing in public schools, high schools, collegiates or church colleges or under the auspices of any of these," was adopted by unanimous vote.

"How about including church choirs?" inquired a delegate.

"Why not include the preachers?" was the comeback of a fellow minister. A second clause adopted was "that we call attention of the people to the pernicious influence fostered by the public of dancing in summer resorts, resulting in sexual immorality, and we urge that our parents recognize this and give greater protection to our young people during the adolescent period."

The third clause adopted by the conference was: "We commend the W. C. T. U. and Women's Institutes and concur in their opinion of the immodesty of dress."

Some Protests Made.

"That is a live subject," cautioned C. J. Beal, a layman of this city "What do we know women say about other women. We had better be careful." It was explained that the former organization has come out strongly on the subject, and that the conference wished to concur. "It is a woman's subject anyway," protested another delegate, as the report in full was then passed. Ministers were urged in the report to take the lead in providing wholesome recreation for the young people.

Rev. W. E. Millson, social service secretary of the conference, rose and said at this point: "I want to draw the attention of the conference to a law in Ontario which is far-reaching. That is the venereal disease act, putting all communicable diseases in the same class. Doctors behind this law say the public are not interested and do not demand it. We ought to stand by these folks who are endeavoring to educate the public along these lines." A resolution supporting this work was then passed by the conference.

It was decided at the session that all pastors taking over new charges and circuits in the conference will be responsible for the same the first Sunday in July. The standing mission committee was selected as follows: Rev. D. N. McCamus, Rev. George Jewitt, Rev. C. G. Moorhouse, J. T. Burgess, Israel Taylor, John Ferguson and Charles Austin. A letter of sympathy was ordered to be written to Rev. G. H. Johnstone, whose wife died recently.

Resolution of Appreciation.

Rev. S. R. McVittie of Muncey moved a resolution in appreciation of the splendid hospitality of the people of London in general, and of Askin Street Church in particular, and to assure them that we will not soon forget our delightful visit to this beautiful city." This resolution passed unanimously. The report of the Laymen's Association was then received.

The conference special committee was appointed as follows: R. R. Smith, L. W. Allison, S. C. Chown, J. C. Hay, Henry Pocok, Rev. J. W. Hibbert, conference president, and conference secretary, I. W. J. Kilpatrick. A vote of thanks from the conference will be conveyed to R. R. Smith and London laymen for the excellent motor ride, and to Dr. J. H. Smith, organist of Askin Street Church, and the choir for music provided during conference services.

This session concluded the conference, which opened early last week, and delegates left for their homes in Western Ontario Tuesday evening. While it was the concluding general session, it was perhaps the warmest, discussion reaching such a pitch at one time that Rev. J. W. Hibbert of Essex, conference president, warned his fellow ministers and the laymen present to "keep cool and not get all het up."

G. T. R. TRAFFIC EARNINGS.

MONTREAL, June 7.—Grand Trunk Railway traffic earnings for the week ending May 31, were $2,401,220, a decrease of $242,8991, compared with the same period in 1920.

SANSONE FOUND GUILTY BY JURY ON TWO CHARGES

Attempting To Break and Enter, and Assault With Attempted Robbery.

JURY DISAGREED FIRST

After Half Hour More Without Supper, Find Prisoner Guilty.

Salvatore Sansone, commonly known as Sylvia, a 16-year-old youth, residing on Ridout street, this city, was found guilty on two charges when he was tried by a jury in the opening session of the general session of the peace of the county court in this city on Monday. It required the jury but a few minutes to find him guilty on the first charge, that of attempting to break and enter, but when he was tried on a charge of assaulting and attempting to rob Jacob Wolf, an east-end merchant, on March 3, the jury deliberated three hours and fifteen minutes before it finally agreed.

Uncertain About Identity.

The evidence in the second case was not completed until after 6 o'clock. The jury left the court room at 6:40 and without supper the members argued until 9:25 o'clock. When they returned to the courtroom, the foreman announced to Judge Macbeth that no agreement had been reached and that he felt certain that the members would never agree. He said in reply to a question that there was some uncertainty over the identity of the prisoner. The judge told them to try once more and so 30 minutes later a verdict of guilty was reached. Only one member had taken the stand that the prisoner was not guilty, but he was finally convinced.

Sansone now awaits sentence for attempting to break into the William Ward cigar factory on Thames street on Sunday, March 13, and for assaulting and attempting to rob while in the company of another man, Mr. Wolf, who keeps a store at 629 Dundas street. On the second charge the jury recommended that the youth should be dealt with leniently.

In the second and more serious charge, Jacob Wolf, the victim of the assault and the police were the only witnesses for the prosecution, while the defence was conducted on the evidence given by the prisoner alone.

Mr. Wolf claimed that he was at the back of his store at 8 o'clock in the evening on the day in question, when two men, one considerably taller than the other, entered the store. One, whom he afterwards identified as Sansone, carried a gun that seemed a cross between a revolver and a shotgun. He was ordered to throw up his hands. While they were tieing him to the post he managed to get his hands free, and then he made for the door. Before he reached it he was struck over the head. He bled freely from the wound. He pursued the would-be robbers down the street then finally went across the road to Childs' drug store. Mr. Childs called the police. Two weeks later he identified Sansone in the police station. He was still more positive when he saw Sansone with a cap on his head, which Wolf managed to grasp in the struggle.

Covered With Blood.

Detective Bolton, who responded to the call, said that Mr. Wolf was covered with blood when he arrived on the scene. From the description which he was given he was able to identify Sansone two weeks later. Detective Down was also called. He stated that when any robbery happens the police always watch the men of Sansone's type closely.

Sansone denied absolutely the stories told by the witnesses for the prosecution. He claimed that he was nowhere near the east end of London on the night in question. He stated that he had spent the night in a local dance hall, which he left about 10:45. He knew nothing of the charge against him until he was arraigned in police court some time later. He tried on the dark green cap which had been used by the police as a clue. It made a tight fit. His father swore that he never saw the cap before it was produced in court.

Called the Police.

Thomas Hodkinson, 14 King street, was the star witness, when Sansone was charged with attempting to break and enter Ward's factory. He told the court that through his front window he saw the prisoner try the doors and windows of the building across the road. He called the police.

In the case also Detective Bolton proved the undoing of young Sansone, for while responding to the call he met the prisoner on Thames street and after asking him point blank why he had broken into Ward's he arrested him on suspicion. He took the boy to Mr. Hodkinson who identified him.

Detective Bolton swore that Sansone had said when arrested: "I see where I go for a ride this time." When he confronted Mr. Hodkinson the boy exclaimed: "Don't you say that I tried to break into Ward's?"

Screwdriver Clue.

When he was examined a screwdriver was found in the boy's pocket. This instrument fitted exactly in marks that had been made on the door leading to the coal chute of the factory. When the screwdriver was taken away from him, Mr. Bolton stated that Sansone had said: "Play square now; you don't have to produce those things in court." He referred also to a knife, which Constable George Pilgrim had found in his possession.

William Ward testified that there were goods in the factory at the time of the attempted robbery.

When called to the stand, Sansone admitted that he had been at Ward's factory, but he denied trying to break into it. He had gone there for private purposes. He denied absolutely making the statements which Detective Bolton attributed to him. He did say: "I will ride back, but I won't walk." He asked Bolton for the return of his knife, but he did not ask him not to show the tools in police court.

When pressed for a reason why he had gone to that section of the city, Sansone said that he had called on a woman friend at Thames and Bathurst streets. He reluctantly stated that her names was Mrs. Murphy.

Detective Bolton afterwards testified that there was no house where Sansone claimed he had called.

Denied Accusations.

Sansone denied that he tried to force the lock. He claimed that he had been out in a car the night before with a girl and that he had used the instrument to fix the lights of the car. He had put the screwdriver in his pocket and had forgotten it was there until he was arrested.

He admitted that he had a long record of crime, having appeared in police court twice before he was nine years of age. He had been sentenced to the Industrial School on several occasions.

During the progress of the second trial, the jury on the first case returned, and so the trial was held up until the verdict was given.

COUNTY COUNCIL DEBATES QUESTION OF SCHOOL NURSES

Second Agricultural Branch Is Another Point of Keen Contention.

COLLEGIATE ISSUE ALSO

Latter Problem Is Referred To Auditing Committee With Power.

Two busy sessions with several committee meetings sandwiched between marked the second day of the June session of the county council in session in this city. In the afternoon many communications and reports of committees were dealt with, while in the evening long discussion evolved about the designation of many miles of roadway as county roads, while the whole council sat in committee.

The first communication was received from the West Middlesex U. F. O., which met recently in Strathroy. The members of the organization drew up two resolutions, putting themselves on record as strenuously opposing the appointment of school nurses and the establishment of a branch of the department of agriculture in Strathroy to serve the western portion of the county. It was believed by the members of the U. F. O. that any necessary medical inspections should be done by medical health officers appointed by the municipality to do the work.

Recommended No Action.

The two resolutions were turned over to the finance committee, but as that committee brought in its first report Monday night, they were again discussed by the council as a whole. The finance committee recommended that no action should be taken on them at the present time, but Reeve C. C. Henry objected to this, and so the council went into committee for the second time in the night.

Mr. Henry asked that Reeve A. Holman, chairman of the finance committee, should explain why the committee refused to honor the petition, which had been made in a regular way. Mr. Holman explained that he did not think it was up to the committee to deal with such questions at the present time, for he understood that a deputation would come before the council at a later date to discuss the matter of school nurses.

Warden As Peacemaker.

Mr. Henry still objected on the ground that the actions of the finance committee in refusing to deal with the petitions at the present would indicate that it favored the school nurses. Warden Alton Ryckman acted as peacemaker, when he explained to Mr. Henry just why the finance committee could do nothing else but to lay the question over for the present time, as nothing tangible concerning the questions had been brought before it. The report was finally adopted.

A petition was received from a resident of Mount Pleasant avenue, asking that that street be oiled in the section of the county. He also asked that the county engineer and the city officials should get together to consider improvements to the street. The petition was turned over to the board of road directors, who recommended at the night session that no action be taken.

Records Destroyed.

A request was received from the board of education in London asking that as there was no available records for the past year the county should agree that the attendance of county pupils in the London Collegiate Institute should be based on the attendance figures for 1920. It was explained that all records or registration had been destroyed when the school was burned. The board was in possession of figures showing the number of pupils attending and of the amount of fees being paid, and these, as far as it is known, show that the attendance of county pupils this year practically is the same as the attendance in 1920. The request was referred to the auditing committee, with power.

The council as a whole voted that an account presented by the Children's Aid Society of London for the care of children from the county, who have been or are inmates of the Shelter, should be paid. With a per diem charge of 50 cents for each child and other expenses the account totalled $594.42. A detailed account of the care accorded to each child was given.

Agricultural Branch.

The need of a second branch of the department of agriculture in Middlesex was fully explained in a letter received from R. S. Duncan, director of agriculture for the province. He explained that owing to the fact that there are 15 thickly-populated townships in the county it was not possible for the representative in London to do justice to the whole of Middlesex. He urged the necessity of splitting the work of the county by appointing a second branch, preferably in Strathroy.

The full cost of establishing such an office and of maintaining it year after year would amount to $5,000 annually, but of this amount the county was asked to contribute only $500 each year towards the maintenance, the province provided the rest.

A special committee was recommended to deal with the disposition of a loading device and gravel bins now located in the White Oak gravel pit. The committee will be composed of the warden, the chairman of the board of road directors and the county engineer.

The insurance of the trucks owned by the county will be left to the warden and the county engineer.

Favor Amendment.

The board of road directors, reporting on a resolution received from the Elgin County Council, recommended that the council should go on record as favoring the suggested amendment of section 12 of the highway improvement act, so that any municipality would be allowed to appoint a capable man, other than civil engineers, as road superintendents. it also recommended that the account for $15,481, presented by the Provincial Government as the county's share of the expense of the provincial highway, should be paid. The report was adopted.

Much of the afternoon's session was devoted to the reading of the judgment handed down in Toronto recently, respecting the question of dividing the cost of suburban roads. As the result of the judgment, it was pointed out that London owes the county considerable money for 1919 and 1920. The lengthy documents were read by J. C. Elliott, county solicitor. Following the reading, Reeve C. C. Henry, seconded by Reeve E. Douglas, moved that a committee composed of the warden and County Engineer C. Talbot should see to the collecting of the money from the city. The motion carried.

As the result of a motion drawn up by Reeve C. C. Henry, Murray Smith will receive the appointment as high school trustee, to succeed H. Munroe, who moved from the district in question.

Grant to Glencoe.

In the evening the second report of the board of road directors was read. It was recommended that a grant of $400 should be made annually for the next 15 years to the village of Glencoe towards the cost of paving the main street of that municipality. This money is to be considered a part of the regular appropriation for their county road work. The recommendation carried.

It was moved that the county should bear 70 per cent of the cost of the oil used on the street of Lucan. This matter was left in the hands of the board of road directors.

It required more than two hours to read and to trace on a huge county map the different roads which have been proposed, on a schedule drawn up by the board; as county roads. These roads, amounting in all to approximately 55 miles, will be designated to replace those county roads taken over last year as a part of the provincial highway. The schedule was laid over for further discussion.

The county treasurer in making a report, stated that the receipts in the period between January 1 and June 1 amount in all to $204,474.22. The disbursements were $204,587.52.

The council in a body will visit the House of Refuge in Strathroy this morning.

LONDON SYRIANS TAKE PART IN DETROIT FEAST

Several Hundred Participate in Parade—Early Morning Prayer.

A number of London Syrians took part in the feast of Id-ul-Filter, held in Highland Park, Detroit, on Tuesday.

From early in the morning, when several hundred of the faithful knelt in prayer on rugs spread upon the mud floor of the incompleted mosque at 242 Victor avenue, until the middle of the afternoon, when the parade disbanded, the day was one round of festivity.

The parade was the outstanding feature. The swarthy Orientals, headed by a band, and marching under the banners of America, Arabia, Syria, Mexico and Turkey, left the mosque and marched through Victor avenue, the backbone of the Syrian colony, to John R. street, to Buena Vista street, and thence out Woodward avenue to Ford playfield. There the parade rested for a few minutes before returning to the church.

Three sheiks sat together in an automobile, and, behind them, in another auto, three Arabians in their Bedouin costumes. Members of the Arabian-American Association fell into line for nearly three blocks, and these were followed by members of the Mohammedan Young Men's Christian Association. And to show that they were Americans they permitted their women to ride in the parade also, a thing that would not have been permissible in most of the Mohammedan countries of the old world.

Tuesday was the occasion of a double celebration. It was the feast of Id-ul-Filter, when Moslems end their 30-day fast, and it was also the first time any use had been made of the mosque, the only one in the United States. The weather, however, was inauspicious, and only a few hundred of the 16,000 followers of the prophet were in attendance at the early morning prayer service, which did not differ materially in form from a Christian church service, except that the members of the congregation removed their shoes before entering the presence of the altar. The building was so far from completion that the cement had not yet been laid on the basement floor, but linoleum and rugs were spread upon the wet dirt, and a temporary altar was erected.

The half-hour of prayer was conducted by Dr. Mufti Mohammed Sadiq, and this was followed by a sermon by Hussien Karoub, sheik of the local congregation. The entire assemblage was free then to break its fast, and all were given a luncheon by Mohammed Karoub, who is financing the building of the mosque.

The rest of the morning was spent in greetings and mutual well-wishing. Immediately after the noon luncheon, the parade formed. Following its conclusion the annual three days of visiting began.

There was also the giving of presents, chiefly within the family, as is done on the Christian Christmas.

Rev. A. W. Brown goes to Sparta, and Rev. Henry T. Ferguson, B.A., B.D., first drafted for Essex, will replace Rev. L. W. Hill, B.A., at Aylmer. All these changes affect St. Thomas district, and in addition it was announced that H. Merwin Wright, a student for the ministry, will supply at Erieau during the summer season.

With the exception of the above changes the report of the final draft, as published on Tuesday, was adopted by conference during its concluding session.

Total Is 7,324 in Comparison With 6,945 Last Year.

A comparative statement of the number of pupils enrolled in the public schools here during the month of May, 1921 and 1920, by Public School Inspector V. K. Greer, shows an increase of 379, for this year, with an average increase of 335.

The statement shows that the total enrollment this year in public schools is 7,324, in comparison to 6,945 in 1920, The average cost of education per pupil for the year 1920 was $44.09, which includes all sinking fund and debenture charges, as well as regular maintenance. The Toronto Board of Education reports $58.55 as the cost per pupil for 1919.

FELLOW EMPLOYEES FIND WORKER DEAD

W. Wilson Expires Suddenly At 9 o'Clock This Morning.

W. Wilson, of 61 Smith street, an employee of George White & Sons, took sick at his work this morning about 9 o'clock, and decided to rest for a short time. When his fellow employees went to see if he was better they found him lying dead.

A doctor was called but could do nothing, as the man had been dead for some minutes, having been stricken suddenly with heart failure.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter.

MUCH PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

Transfers for Month of May Total 390.

Property transfers for the month of May in this city total 390, which is a decided increase over previous months. This is attributed to the new law, which exacts a graded fee, with a $2 minimum, for registration of deeds, the owners rushing to register before the law took effect. The usual run of property transfers for London is about 200 a month.

INDUSTRIAL UNREST IN CANADA NOT AS BAD AS CLAIMED

Manufacturer Declares Labor Leaders Are Spreading Propaganda.

Quebec, June 8.—Canadian Press.—Denial that general industrial unrest existed in Canada, as claimed in some quarters, was made at this morning's session of the annual convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association by S. R. Parsons, Toronto. The convention was considering the reports of its industrial relations committee, which made a reference to the growth of the "open shop" movement in the United States. Mr. Parsons asked where was the great gulf they sometimes heard about between employer and employee. Only here and there could be discovered evidence of trouble in individual plants. Yet they heard that from one end of the country to the other there was unrest. There must be some reason for this circulation of incorrect information. Mr. Parsons suggested that "the great army of men engaged in running labor movements would lose their jobs if they were not engaged in disseminating propaganda of this sort."

Mr. Parsons, continuing, said that unorganized labor had no voice in running the country, yet the great mass of labor was unorganized. Why had the open shop movement obtained such headway in the United States?" It was clear from the utterance of labor leaders. When Mr. Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was in Toronto he referred to the United States Steel Corporation as the "autocracy of industry." Mr. Parsons said he himself had no brief for the steel corporation, but he could remind them that it had 50,000 of its employees amongst its shareholders, and had spent $70,000,000 in welfare work. He would like to know about the autocracy of labor and its tyranny. He would like to know about the causes of the printers' strike in Toronto and other places. He had heard that printers who had gone on strike had stated that they had nothing to do with the hours of work or salaries. They had gone on strike on orders from Indianapolis. Mr. Parsons reminded his audience that only Greece had carried out the conventions passed.

PLANNING TO FIGHT VENEREAL DISEASES

Local Council Addressed by Dr. Gordon Bates, Toronto.

To formulate a platform of activities so that the maximum of effectiveness might be reached in the fight against venereal diseases, the executive of the local council for combating the evil, met with Dr. Gordon Bates, Toronto, general secretary of the National Organization for Fighting Venereal Diseases, in an informal discussion at a luncheon today in the Tecumseh House. Although at press time the meeting was still in progress, much had been accomplished towards forming a definite policy.

Dr. Bates told the nine members of the executive who were present about the work of the national organization and of the experiments which had been conducted in Toronto. He laid particular stress on the advertising and propaganda features of the work. He suggested that a committee of newspapermen, advertising men, and other experts on publicity should be formed to supervise the education of the public.

It was suggested also that small pamphlets dealing with the subject as it should be taught by parents to children, should be published and distributed generally among the homes. It was feared that because many parents did not teach their children the great lessons of life and of sex hygiene the little ones picked up unhealthy knowledge on the street, which too often was false and harmful.

The doctor also told of the work of the clinic in Toronto and of the treatment which had been administered to many who had been infected.

The little girl is reported to be recovering today.

SEMENOFF PREPARED TO GO ON TO MOSCOW

Vladivostok, June 8.—Officials and supporters of the new anti-Bolshevik regime in this city have been holding frequent conferences with Gen. Semenoff, who was not permitted to land here last week when he arrived with the expressed determination to assume the leadership of the Government. These conferences which are taking place on board his ship, which is anchored in the harbor, are for the purpose of attaching Semenoff, whose staff includes 23 generals, says his goal is Moscow. Semenoff will not interfere with the local situation, but may take the field against the Bolsheviki, if he so desires.

SAYS ALDERMEN HAVE COLD FEET

Ald. Wenige Disgusted With Confreres On Council.

COMPANY BLUFFING

Would Like To Know Why the Stanley Street Matter Was Reopened.

Ald. George A. Wenige, who has taken the stand that the city should pave the London street railway track allowance on Stanley street, and charge it to the company, has a comeback for critics interviewed by the local press on Tuesday: "I have a lawsuit on with the City Gas Company, which has not materialized, and which has been held up for information, and technicalities," he stated to The Advertiser today.

"Ald. Wilson wants to charge temporary paving to streets general. Why should we, living in another street, pay for Stanley street? The residents of Stanley street do not want us to pay it. That is the street railway company's best-paying line, leading to Springbank. They would not let us rip it up."

"Ald. Wilson says all traffic would be diverted to King street. Stanley street is advertised all over the United States and Canada. Tourists are directed to proceed from Dundas street, via Richmand to the Tecumseh House, and then over York street, out Stanley to Wharncliffe road. It is on every road map, blue book and guide. It is the same route from Detroit, only reversed."

"Isn't that worth something to our city to have the street paved?" he queried. "It is the straight, natural course, and will make more traffic than ever. Let us pave between the present car tracks. It is the company's funeral if it is not good enough afterward. The Stanley street people don't care about the tracks.

"Why not supply the company with round wheels on their cars, as they have flat wheels now? Why not supply them with modern cars as the contract calls for? I would like to find out why this case was opened up again, as the council passed it unanimously to pave the car tracks at a previous meeting."

"We can have redress, because if a man does not pay his debts he is sued. A company with a four-year franchise and conditions getting better on a $1,250,000 investment will not let go. They cannot afford to tear up their tracks."

"It is just a case of cold feet," declared Ald. Wenige, referring to fellow-members of the city council. "Nine of them had ice-cold feet. In other words, they laid down in the road and said to the street railway company, 'Come out and run over us.' Ald. Cameron Wilson admitted that the company had bluffed them, just for a paltry $10,000."

"They will admit that the company has been bluffing, and surely it must be seen that there was a chance to call their bluff. It sets a precedent against us instead of a precedent for us. Nothing can be done regarding paving Central avenue or Wellington street, because of the street railway company's attitude. Never in twelve or fifteen years has the company complied with one thing in the contract but that the city had to drive for it."

WILNER CASE WILL BE CONCLUDED TODAY

Charged With Having Received Stolen Goods.

Harry and Jacob Wilner (uncle and nephew) were on trial at the county court before Judge J. C. Judd at the courthouse this morning on a charge of receiving stolen goods. Part of the evidence of the crown had been presented by early afternoon, but it is not expected that the case will be concluded before a late hour this evening.

Jurors, with the exception of those who are sitting on this case, were dismissed until tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, when, it is believed, the case against Roy Brammer, ex-constable of the local police force, will be commenced. Brammer is charged with Fred Mason with stealing whiskey from Biddulph farmers. In dismissing the jurymen, Judge Judd remarked that he knew that they wanted to go to the farmers' picnic at Queen's Park this afternoon, and said that he would rather have them enjoying themselves than sitting around the courtroom.

James A. Case, an employee of Mile & Gill, Limited, of Strathroy, stated that on May 15, 1920, about 12:30 o'clock, the store had been entered, and three shelves of silk, valued at $1,350, taken. Silk, which he identified as that belonging to his employers, to the value of $488, had been recovered from the factory of the Wilners at 355 Clarence street, London, on June 2, 1920.

On June 1, he said, two men, Smith and Armstrong, had been arrested for the theft. They are now serving their sentences in Kingston penitentiary, but have been brought here as witnesses in the case, which was heard at the December court, but at which the jury disagreed and a new trial ordered.

He identified one piece of silk by a price tag that was on it and the others by the color and because it was the same line of goods that his store carried.

When he, Detective Harry Down and Detective-Sergeant Robert Egelton of the local police, Inspector Albert B. Boyd of the provincial police, and Chief Wilson of Strathroy, went to Wilner's place, Harry Wilner, one of the accused, first denied knowledge of the goods. He said, and later told Detective Down, that he would be honest and that he had the silks.

Detective Down corroborated this last statement, and added that Harry Wilner had said that he would make good any of the silk that was missing, and had declared that a man named "Ernest" had brought the goods to Wilner's house in an auto and that he, Wilner, had paid him $250.

As Detective Egelton was ill his evidence given at the December court was read. Counsel for the defence objected to it being read, but Judge Judd directed that this procedure should be taken.

Inspector Boyd said that Harry Wilner told him that the wrappers and tags which had been on the silk were destroyed. He heard him say that a man named "Ernest" had brought the goods to him in an auto, and had also overheard him tell Detective Down the story which that witness had related.

Chief Wilson of Strathroy also heard the admission, he said. The chief admitted that Armstrong and Smith had told them where to look for the goods.

Edmund Meredith, K.C., Jared Vining and P. H. Bartlett are conducting the defence, while Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop is conducting the prosecution.

WILL URGE THAT CHURCH UNION BE HELD UP 5 YEARS

New Motions To Be Introduced at Presbyterian Assembly Today.

Toronto, June 8.—Canadian Press.—According to the printed docket the Presbyterian General Assembly is due to wind up today, but a large amount of business still remains unfinished, and there is now little hope of getting through before Thursday night or Friday. The three-day debate on church union made a big hole in the assembly period.

Although the vote of the assembly yesterday was decisive for union with the Methodist and Congregational Churches, viz., 414 to 107, new motions on the subject were billed for presentation today, one to postpone union for five years, and another to call for another vote of the church members. Before the assembly closes some course will likely be laid down concerning negotiations with the other churches. About a dozen commissioners have already left for home.

The assembly today will cable greetings to the Presbyterian Assembly of Ireland, now in session, and also to the new Ulster Parliament. Dr. Banks Nelson, who moved that the cable be sent, asked the assembly to give him credit for not adding "No surrender." "Do you think the Ulster Parliament is safe?" asked the moderator, with a twinkle in his eye. "Well," came back the Hamilton man, who opposed church union while the moderator did not, "seeing that they have not yet voted away their Presbyterian identity, I would say 'Yes'."

U. S. OFFICIALS WILL MAKE INSPECTION OF WATERWAYS ROUTE

Tour Will Start On July 11 At Niagara Falls.

Duluth, Minn., June 8.—Dates of inspection tour over the proposed St. Lawrence waterways route by United States cabinet members, governors, senators and others, have been set for July 11 to 15, it was announced today by Charles P. Craig, executive director of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association, which will sponsor the trip. Prominent men invited to make the trip include Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Secretary of the Navy Denby, the governors, senators and representatives from the Council of States—an organization of sixteen states interested in the project—and a delegation of officials from New England States. Secretaries Hoover and Wallace already have accepted the invitation, Mr. Craig said.

The journey has been arranged, according to Mr. Craig, to provide the cabinet heads and others having direct concern in the proposed waterway with first-hand knowledge of the problems involved.

Engineers and economists who have made surveys of the route will accompany the delegation to explain the various phases.

The party will assemble at Niagara Falls on July 9 and 10, according to present plans. The tour will open on July 11, with an inspection of the new Welland canal, and conclude on July 15 Montreal. The Tidewater Association has accepted an invitation from the Canadian Government, which, Mr. Craig says, "signified its wish to extend its hospitalities to the official party as long as they may be in Canadian territory or upon boundary waters."

States in the Council of States which will be represented in the party are: Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Indiana, Ohio, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas.

WILL PROTEST COURT FINES GOING TO GOVT.

City Clerk S. Baker has received a communication from the city clerk in Hamilton, asking that London join in a protest against the collection of police court fines by the Provincial Government, and that delegates be sent along with those from Hamilton to protest to the Drury Government. The letter will be dealt with at the next meeting of No. 1 committee.

"Hamilton did not pay anything before 1914," said Mr. Baker, "while London has for many years, right up to 1920, I don't think it is fair. I do not see why the city of London should pay for its police department and the Government take away the fines. It is the only revenue that we have. They use the city police, yet they pay nothing for their services. Hamilton did not pay before 1914, St. Thomas never paid the fines, while London, I believe, has always paid them."

It is quite likely that the city council will appoint delegates to unite with those of the city of Hamilton in protesting to the Provincial Legislature against payment of the police court fines.

COMPOSITORS RETURN ON TENTATIVE AGREEMENT

Toronto, June 8.—"The only change this morning," said President Andrew Gerard of the Typographical Union, commenting on the local strike situation, "is that the compositors of the Southam Press are all back on a tentative agreement with the management, which included the 44-hour clause."

President Gerard announced that 45 shops throughout the city had signed agreements on the basis of a 44-hour working week, and that the strike was proceeding satisfactorily to the men. The members of the union received their strike pay today. President Richard Southam of the Southam Press, stated that it was quite true that the compositors, bookbinders and pressmen were all back at work at the plant. "The compositors came back to work this morning on a 44-hour basis at the old wages of $35.50," said Mr. Southam. "The agreement is only tentative and will operate until such time as negotiations are completed or an agreement reached. The same proposition applies to the bookbinders and the other trades involved who are back at the plant."

Secretary J. W. Sutherland of the Toronto Typothtae, said there was little change in the situation. "Today all the members are planning for the operating of open shops throughout the city, and there are meetings of the defence committee of the organization this morning and this afternoon."

KATHLEEN EDY WRITES PRIZE ESSAY ON BROCK

"Prince of Wales Book" Donated by I. O. D. E.—Pupil at Oakhurst School.

Miss Kathleen Edy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edy of this city, is winner of the prize, "The Prince of Wales' Book," donated by the I. O. D. E. for the best essay on Sir Isaac Brock written by a Grade VIII. pupil of Oakhurst School.

Following is the essay:

The renowned general, Isaac Brock, was the eighth son of John Brock of Guernsey, and was born in Guernsey, 6th of October, 1769. He is described by his nephew as having been, like his brother, a tall, robust boy, the best boxer, and strongest, boldest swimmer among his companions, but noted withal for his gentleness of disposition. He was sent to schol at Southampton at the age of 10, and was afterwards under the tuition of a French pastor at Rotterdam.

On the 2nd of March, 1785, when a little over 15, he entered the army as an ensign, in the 8th (King's), which had become vacant by promotion. In 1790 Isaac Brock was promoted to a lieutenancy, and in 1793 he purchased his majority. He served in the expedition to Holland under Sir Ralph Abercrombie, and was wounded in the battle of Egmont of-Zee. He was second in command of the land forces during the attack on Copenhagen by Lord Nelson. In the spring of 1802, Brock, now a lieutenant-colonel, was sent to Canada. Lieut.-Col. Brock took the command at Fort George, and the 49th Regiment, which had previously attempted revolt, soon became one of the trustiest regiments in the line. In 1805 Brock visited England, where he advocated the formation of a veteran battalion for Canada. A year later he became commander of the troops in Canada, taking up his residence in Quebec. When Lieutenant-Governor Gore returned to England on leave in 1811, Col. Brock was appointed administrator of the Government. In 1812 the memorable war broke out between England and the United States, and Brock, now major-general, gave his great military abilities and his enthusiasm towards preparing Canada to bear her part with credit. He made Fort George his headquarters, and thence planned the campaign which has conferred such lustre on his name in Canada. On the outbreak of the war, Brock made active preparations for the defence of the Canadian frontier. On August 16, 1812, he captured Detroit, where Gen. William Hull was in command of the American forces, and received the ignominious surrender of the entire American army. Brock was mortally wounded on October 13 while leading his men against an American attack on Queenstown (now Queenston), near Niagara Falls. On Queenston Heights, the site of the battle, a magnificent monument has been erected to honor his memory. Brock's remains were interred in one of the bastions of Fort George, beside those of Lieut.-Col. McDonnell of the Canadian militia. Brock was in his 44th year and unmarried when his untimely death occurred. While valiantly charging up the abrupt ascent, at the head of a far inferior force, he fell mortally wounded. Brock fell, not as Wolfe fell, in the arms of victory, for victory still hovered in the distance. He fell rather as did Montcalm (a kindred spirit), in the moment of repulse, and, like both Wolfe and Montcalm, he met a soldier's death upon the battlefield. He fell in the arms of his country, and they shall forever embrace him and hold affectionately the memory of a son whose valor placed Canada in the foremost rank of nations, and whose stainless life and heroic death will ever be an inspiration to Canadians.

AMERICAN IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS ON THE JOB

British Settlers Have Hard Time to Cross the Border.

That the American immigration authorities at the border are adhering strictly to the regulations governing persons attempting to cross over into the United States, is the opinion of J. C. Farrell of the local immigration bureau of the Ontario department of immigration. Mr. Farrell returned recently from the Sarnia district.

"Now and then," said Mr. Farrell, "we hear of one of our new settlers receiving letters from some friend or relative in an American city, telling him to leave his job here and go over to the States. Reaching the border, however, he usually experiences disappointment, as the authorities there, in view of the times, are more determined than ever, apparently, to prevent entry into the United States of any immigrant from the British Isles who has not been a resident of Canada for at least one year. A bona fide British passport is required if the person has not resided here for that time.

"In this way," continued Mr. Farrell, "One of our new settlers occasionally, not often, of course, throws up his work on the farm and starts out only to meet reverses. Naturally he becomes disheartened, and rarely, if ever, returns to our office again, but more often this provides the means to start him drifting."

The nine new arrivals from the old country who reached London on Tuesday have been all placed on farms, Mr. Farrell states.

NOT CONNECTED WITH MEETING.

Montreal, June 8.—C. P. Riddell, general secretary of the Railway Association of Canada, stated today that his organization had nothing to do with the conference of railway employees, scheduled to be held at Ottawa on June 16. Mr. Riddell added that a conference had been arranged for between the railway association and the general committee representing the shop crafts of practically all the railways in Canada, to take place during the next fortnight.

SARNIA CITIZENS TO DEMAND PROBE OF POLICE DEPARTMENT

Assert That Complete Reorganization Is Necessary—Police Commission Meets Wednesday.

SARNIA, June 7.—A resolution requesting the reorganization of the Sarnia police force will be presented to the police commission from substantial businessmen of the city, who held a meeting this afternoon at the chamber of commerce rooms for discussion of the situation.

The opinion was unanimously expressed that the general conduct of the police force is entirely unsatisfactory. The concensus of opinion expressed was that there is no energy shown in the administration of police affairs and the various complaints of a serious nature laid before the chief of police resulted in indifferent action. Reference was made to the laxity of enforcing the traffic laws in the city and to the lack of vigor in following up the various criminal offences which have occurred in the past year.

Headed by Mayor Crawford, the police commission will hold a meeting on Wednesday, when they will make public the result of their probe and complaints made against Chief of Police Forbes.

To be strong, vigorous and active you must have plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It quickly helps make rich red blood, revitalize wornout, exhausted nerves and give new strength and energy. At all druggists. ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain—How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advt.

CHURCH UNION VOTE NEARLY FOUR TO ONE

Presbyterian General Assembly Approves Church Union by 414 To 107.

IS THIRD VOTE

Votes At Winnipeg, 1918, and Edmonton, 1911, Also Favorable To Union.

TORONTO, June 7.—The official figures of the church union vote at the Presbyterian General Assembly today were:

For the motion—229 ministers, 185 elders; total 414.

For the amendment—61 ministers, 46 elders; total 107.

Vancouver or Toronto.

The question of a meeting place for next year was referred to the general board after an invitation had been given by Dr. E. D. McLaren to the assembly to meet in Vancouver in 1922. Dr. E. Scott said heavy expenses would be entailed by meeting in Vancouver, chiefly in railway fares, and as the church paid the expenses he urged that next year's meeting be held in Toronto. The matter was not decided.

Rev. Dr. W. J. Dey, convener of the committee on church praise, proposed the publication of a hymn book for the 75,000 Ukranians in the West at a cost of $800, and the assembly approved. The debate on church union was resumed at 3 o'clock, speakers alternating in support of the motion and of the amendment.

Missionaries Favor Union.

Speaking for the missionaries, Dr. Fraser Campbell of Centre India said that to the best of his knowledge the missionaries were almost unanimously in favor of union. "The fact of the division among the Christian churches is a stumbling-block to the heathen," he declared.

Dr. Fraser was given ten minutes to sum up for the amendment, and Dr. Clark fifteen minutes to sum up for the motion. Dr. Fraser said that whether the motion carried or not there would not be a divided church.

"If the motion carries, we will be in exactly the same position we have been in since the Winnipeg vote," he said. He preferred to go into union quietly and willingly. Union secured by coercion would, he feared, not be a peaceful union. The amendment, he announced finally, was more in harmony with the feeling of the special union committee than was the motion.

Dr. Clark wondered whether the world had not had enough of fighting. If it was a matter of right or wrong he would say fight the motion by all means, but if it was merely a question of expediency the fighting mood was out of place. He said no congregation in Canada could tempt him away from his present church, but the question was bigger than the matter of a comfortable position. Some had regarded the forward movement fund as a pledge against union. Was it only an offering to the Presbyterian Church? he asked. Only one real argument, said the doctor, had been brought forward against the motion, namely, that it would cause a schism in the church. "I say that any man," he continued, "who goes out from this assembly to divide the church takes an awful burden on his soul." There was a higher loyalty than loyalty to associates. Each man as he voted should ask himself what his motives were. A majority for the amendment, he said, in conclusion, would be a message to the other churches that union was dead.

THE THIRD VOTE.

TORONTO, June 7. — (By Canadian Press.)—Organic union with the Methodist and Congregational Churches was approved by the Presbyterian General Assembly of Canada today by a vote of 410 to 111. The result was little different from the vote on union taken at the Winnipeg General Assembly in 1916, when the returns were 460 to 90 in favor of union.

The first vote on the question of union, taken at Edmonton in 1911, was also in favor of union, but was not so decisive as the later votes. The issue came before the 47th assembly last week in the form of two resolutions which had been sent on by a sepcial committee on union overtures, one moved by Dr. W. J. Clark of Montreal "that the general assembly take such steps as may be deemed best to consummate organic union as expeditiously as possible," and an amendment moved by Dr. D. J. Fraser of Montreal "that the assembly at no time seek the consummation of organic without a clear and unmistakable mandate from the people."

Vote by Synod.

Synod.	For Motion.	For Amendment.
Montreal and Ottawa	43	19
Maritime Provinces	62	19
Toronto and Kingston	85	19
Manitoba	54	2
Saskatchewan	64	4
Alberta	27	15
British Columbia	23	13
Hamilton and London	56	16
Totals	414	107

Note—In the above, Hamilton and London voting for the motion were: Ministers, 28; elders, 28; for the amendment: Ministers, 10, elders, 6.

Some Surprises.

There were some surprises in the result. Throughout the debate, which lasted three days, the strong pro-union sentiment in the West was repeatedly emphasized, yet Alberta came last of all the synods in support of union, favoring the motion by only 62 per cent of its vote. Ninety-five per cent of the Manitoba vote was cast for union. The Winnipeg Presbytery, from which 19 votes were cast, went solidly for church union. British Columbia supported union to the extent of 64 per cent of its vote, but had it not been for the Presbytery of Honan, which is included in the British Columbia synod and which gave a solid vote for union, the showing would have been less pro-union.

The Presbyteries of Montreal and Ottawa, which take in Eastern Ontario, gave substantial support to the amendment. Owing to the necessity of getting legislation from the federal as well as all the Provincial Governments to ratify the transfer of church properties, leaders of the union forces predict that the adjustments will not be made and actual union take place within three years.

Fraternal Greetings.

Soon after the sederunt opened this afternoon the following message to the moderator from Archbishop Matheson, Winnipeg, was read:

"Permit me to convey two messages to the moderator and the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church. First, as a fellow Winnipegger, I congratulate you on your election to the presidency of a great assembly of a great church. Secondly, as primate of the Church of England in Canada I send warm greetings to the representatives of your church in council assembled, and I pray that God's richest blessings may rest upon your deliberations."

On motion of the assembly by standing vote the moderator was authorized to reply, conveying the thanks and greetings of the assembly.

EXTRAVAGANT SPENDING BY GOVERNMENT

"No One Would Think Country Hard Up," Says F. F. Pardee, M.P.

WAIT FOR CENSUS

West Lambton Representative Declares Liberals Have Made Good Headway.

SARNIA, June 7.—In an interview tonight F. F. Pardee, M. P. for West Lambton, who has returned from the parliamentary session at Ottawa, said that the session had been a pretty busy one and he considered that the Liberals had made considerable headway. He found that there was much dissatisfaction with the Government, which was spending money in a most extravagant manner. "One would never think that this country was hard up at all by the manner in which the Government is spending," said Mr. Pardee. "Then this sales tax," he continued, "has created much opposition. I do not think it will ever work out."

Farcical Inquiry.

"The Government also took a very unfair stand in regard to inquiry into railway matters. It would grant a committee of inquiry, but only such matters as the Government saw fit were to be investigated. This would naturally prove farcical."

Asked as to the prospects of a general election, Mr. Pardee said that this must be purely a matter of guessing, as to whether it would take place this autumn or the following spring. The impression in Liberal circles was that the Government proposed to effect a redistribution following receipt of the census returns. In that event the election would likely be next year.

FARM LABOR MAY JOIN IN LABOR CRISIS

British Government Announces Intention To Relinquish Control of Agriculture.

FINANCIAL CRISIS

Reason For Action That May Add To Industrial Troubles.

LONDON, June 7.—A further industrial dispute may be added to the existing controversies in the coal, cotton and engineering trades, through the decision of the Government, as announced today by the ministry of agriculture, to cease control of agriculture.

This decision is due to the financial crisis through which the country is passing. It has already been seen by the Government that the protracted depression in trade, which has been intensified by the continued suspension of work in the coal fields, involving the Government in heavy expenditures for the maintenance of unemployed, and the heavy deficit of the railways, which still are under government control, will completely upset all budget estimates. Hence, it seems that the Government is hastening to do away with all control which involves financial liability.

The cessation of control of agriculture, which will require the assent of Parliament, would mean the abolition of guarantee prices for wheat and oats and of the powers possessed by the county councils to enforce proper cultivation.

It also would result in doing away with the agricultural wage board, which fixed minimum wages, varying from 46 to 50 shillings weekly for agricultural laborers.

This would mean that farmers would be permitted to resume their freedom from legal restrictions in the payment of wages, and it is considered certain that they would reduce the scale of wages now in force, which probably would lead to a series of serious wage disputes affecting more than 400,000 persons.

ARE FINE BIG BEASTS, BUT VERY HUNGRY

Declares Irish Farmer In Protesting Against Lifting of Cattle Embargo.

BITTER OPPOSITION

Another Witness At Investigation Scores Canadian Bills of Health.

LONDON, June 7.—(Canadian Associated Press.)—Further Irish evidence was heard today before the cattle embargo commission, when Col. Westropp of County Clare stated that before the act of 1896 Canadian cattle were known in the West of Ireland as "fine big beasts, but very hungry," and a large number of Irish cattle could be fed on the same acreage, the Canadian cattle taking longer to mature.

The admission of cattle from abroad, said the witness, would much discourage Irish farmers and the maintenance of home supplies was also an important provision again war risks. The entire Irish cattle trade resisted the removal of the embargo, he said.

Other witnesses held similar views. One who said he had spent 20 years in the United States stated that he accepted Canada's clean bill of health in the same way that he would accept criminal statistics from a country with no police.

PTOMAINE CAUSE DEATH OF JUDGE A. C. CHADWICK

Mrs. Chadwick and Daughter Also Poisoned, But Are Recovering.

GUELPH, June 7.—His Honor Judge Austin Cooper Chadwick, one of the best-known of Ontario jurists, died at his home here last evening from ptomaine poisoning, in his 80th year. Mrs. Chadwick and Miss Rose Chadwick, a niece of the judge, are also suffering from poisoning, but their condition is not regarded as serious. Canned fruit partaken of several days ago is believed responsible for Judge Chadwick's death.

Born in Ancaster, Wentworth County, in 1842, Judge Chadwick had spent the most of his life in Guelph. He was called to the bar in 1864, and later practiced his profession for seven years in Toronto and Mount Forest. He was appointed junior county judge of Wellington in 1873, high court justice in 1882, and senior judge of Wellington in 1891. He retired from the bench in 1914, and was succeeded by the late Judge Hayes, who died last month. Besides his wife Judge Chadwick is survived by one son, Harry, Calgary, and one daughter, Mrs. Basil Chamberlain of Birmingham, England, whose husband is a nephew of the late Joseph Chamberlain, the famous English statesman. One brother, E. M. Chadwick, K.C., of the firm of Fasken, Robertson, Chadwick, Sedgewick & Altchison of Toronto, also survives.

$500,000 FIRE IN QUEBEC.

QUEBEC, June 7.—Loss estimated at $500,000 was caused last night by the fire which destroyed buildings occupied by the Joseph Tanguay Shoe Company, the Cie Pharmaceutic de la Croix Rouge, Dominique and the Candiac Candy Manufacturing Company. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Dear Marie,

Cheers, old dear, for I can play golf now! And oh, Jack is such a marvellous teacher. I only lost three balls for keeps, and just said two really very bad words. But I can't remember the names of all those funny old sticks you use. I always got the "mashie" and "putty" mixed up, but thank goodness I have them thoroughly straightened out now.

The sun was terrifically hot that day though, and I was so engrossed I didn't notice how red my arms and neck were getting. However, my ever-ready bottle of Campana's Italian Balm saved the situation once again. It is so soothing when rubbed on gently, and takes all the pain and redness away.

Love,
Peggy

CLAIM NEW RULING MEANS HEAVY LOSS TO JOCKEY CLUBS

Protest Sent To Minister of Agriculture by Montreal Jockey Club.

MONTREAL, June 7.—A protest, which, if recognized by the department, will make a difference of many thousands of dollars to Canadian race tracks, was announced by Commander J. K. L. Ross, president of the Montreal Jockey Club, as having been made to the minister of agriculture at Ottawa concerning pari-mutuels take-offs at the race tracks prior to the running of the first race here today.

The protest is as follows:

"To the Honorable Minister of Agriculture:

"Sir—The Montreal Jockey Club desires respectfully to protest against the recent ruling of your department re the percentage that racing associations may retain of the total amount deposited on each race at the pari-mutuel machines. The Montreal Jockey Club claims that under the act it is entitled to retain 7 per cent of the first $20,000 staked or deposited; 6 per cent of the next $10,000, or part thereof; 5 per cent of the next $10,000, or part thereof; 4 per cent of the next $10,000, or part thereof, and 3 per cent of all amounts exceeding $50,000.

"Yours respectfully,
"J. K. L. ROSS,
"President of the M.C. J. C."

Yesterday the Dorval track handled $7 over a certain stipulated amount in one pool, and thereby under the sliding scale arrangement lost $1,300 in take-offs, which would have gone to the track had they handled $7 less.

The protest of the Montreal Jockey Club, the most powerful racing organization in the province, will be watched with keen interest all over Canada.

The old portion of the grounds will be given especial attention, and the disgrace of God's half acre, the people hope, will be for ever eliminated. The society is calling on all lot holders and residents generally to co-operate in the removal of the many objectionable features in the area where the former pioneer residents of the neighborhood are buried and many of whose graves are lost in jungle of grass, weeds and briers.

The council, the board of trade and Kiwanis Club will be asked to assist in the removal of this eyesore from otherwise pretty and attractive surroundings.

Light Goes Out, Evans Comes In.

Richard Evans, recently returned from Windsor, and George Walker, St. Thomas, who were found in the house of Leonard Light, Hiawatha street, a few mornings ago, and were charged with improper conduct, were discharged by the magistrate on a technicality. The crown attorney hoped that the lesson would find a place in the memory of other gentlemen around town who are in the habit of making calls on married women in the absence of their husbands. In unraveling the skein of events which marked the visit of Mrs. Light's guests, it was explained that the gentlemen called on the lady to get Mr. Evans' diamond ring, which had been loaned to Mrs. Light. They had been invited to put in an appearance after Mr. Light had gone out to work and claim the jewelry.

DANGER OF DISEASE FOLLOWING FLOOD IS REPORTED AS OVER

Pueblo Is Fast Recovering From Disastrous Flood of Last Week.

PUEBLO, Colo., June 7.—Danger of pestilence, following last Friday's disastrous flood, has passed, according to officials of the United States public health service; there is plenty of food; shelter has been provided for in a refugee camp to remove the congestion in churches, schools and private homes, and an army of men has been at work, clearing the streets of debris, removing dead animals and clearing out the business places.

Part of the city is again electrically lighted. The gas company has preparations nearly complete for supplying gas for heat and light. The city water plant is functioning, and tomorrow a water purifier will prepare for human consumption five million gallons of water daily.

Dr. John C. Cornell, head of the United States public health service for this district, declared that the presence of contagious and infectious diseases is rarer than in the days prior to the disaster, and this in the face of the fact that hundreds of dead bodies of animals are drying out in the flood-swept area.

The city has been remarkably free from lawlessness under the circumstances. Only a few arrests have been made for looting.

Partial resumption of railway service between here and Colorado Springs made possible transportation of food supplies and troops into the city. No general resumption of railway service, however, will be possible for weeks, railroad officials said.

RAILROAD LOSS HEAVY.

PUEBLO, June 7.—Damage to three principal railroad entering Pueblo will aggregate $4,500,000, according to an estimate made today by H. A. Mr. Tice estimated the damage to that road at $2,000,000; that of the Missouri Pacific at $1,000,000; that of the Denver and Rio Grande at $1,500,000.

AURORA TO CAUSE MORE SUNSHINE

Sir Oliver Lodge Says Electrified Particles May Benefit Vegetation.

LONDON, June 7.—Recent solar eruptions which caused brilliant auroras and disorganized cable and telegraph service throughout the world may result in the earth receiving an increased quota of sunshine during the remainder of the year, says Sir Oliver Lodge, the noted scientist. He declares it is probable the monsoon will be strengthened, and that in consequence the Indian harvest will be improved. He even ventures the opinion that the electrified particles thrown off by the sun during the disturbance may assist in the development of vegetation and reduce the amount of dust held suspended in the atmosphere.

Sir Oliver says the magnetic disturbances that attended the solar eruption were due to a torrent of electrified particles, which constituted a gigantic electric current.

This opinion is also held by Camille Flammarion, the veteran French astronomer, who has expressed surprise at a storm of such unusual violence occurring at this time. M. Flammarion has pointed out that the sun is now at a period of diminishing activity, the eruptions on the surface of the luminary recurring at intervals of eleven years.

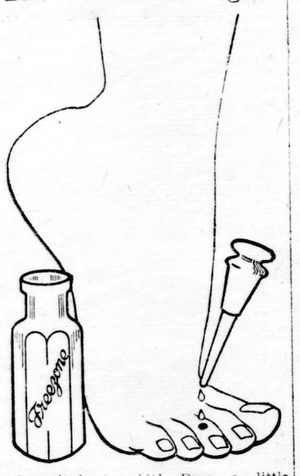

Sir Frank Dyson, the astronomer royal, declares that the disturbances caused by the sun spots were the worst ever experienced in England.

Mrs. SELCHERT'S DAUGHTER

Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Horicon, Wis.—"My young daughter had been troubled for several months with backache and a bad feeling in her stomach. She did not want to eat anything, while before she was so hungry she could hardly wait for her meals. The doctors gave her medicine but it did not help her. One day I was reading a little book of yours and it reminded me that when I was a young girl I took several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So she went to the drug store and got a bottle, and after taking the second one she could eat and has not had backache since. In all she took six bottles of it. She goes to school and on Saturdays helps with the housework. She is a normal, healthy girl now and we recommend your medicine. You have my permission to publish this letter as a testimonial for the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. FRANK SELCHERT, 150 Larabee St., Horicon Wisconsin.

Mothers all over the country have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to be a most reliable remedy for such conditions.

CITY EMPLOYEES WANT TO RECEIVE THEIR PAY WEEKLY

Two Weeks Too Long To Wait —Request Is Granted.

SEWER CAUSES DEBATE

Alderman Allege Proposed Construction Is For Contractor's Special Benefit.

ST. THOMAS, June 7.—Over sixty employees of the city, mostly of the board of works, petitioned the council tonight, at its regular meeting, that their wages be paid weekly. Heretofore the men were paid bi-weekly. The council agreed to the proposition, although the change in the established practice will entail some additional work in the city engineer's department. The employees made this appeal on the grounds that the majority of the men had been idle for months, and owing to living conditions the payment at the end of each week had become a necessity. The council allowed the request.

The board of health advised the council that it was in the interest of the public health to have a sanitary sewer constructed on Edward street between Alma and Balaclava street.

Objects to Double Sewers.

Ald. Meehan protested to have a second sewer constructed on Edward street to accommodate Contractor Hatch in securing sanitary conveniences for a couple of houses built by him. Ald. Meehan remembered a sewer built on that part of the street a couple of years ago, and the alderman considered it an injustice to the other property owners on the street that they should be compelled to pay for the double and uncalled for service. A resolution followed by Ald. Curtis that the sewer be constructed by two-third vote of the council.

Another Street Car Action.

William Bennett, through C. St. Clair Leitch, wrote the council, demanding damages because of a collision of his atuo car with a street car at the intersection of Talbot and East streets. Bennet claims that the accident was due to the negligence of the motorman.

The tender of A. Wigmore for installing tubes in No. 1 boiler in the gas department at $125. A telephone was ordered installed in the residence of Superintendent Christie.

The mayor was authorized to sign an agreement with the M. C. R. in connection with extending the sewer system under the tracks at White street.

The minister of agriculture wrote, advising that the matter of removing the office of the department from Dutton to St. Thomas was under consideration.

Wants Inmate Removed.

Esther R. Shine, secretary of the Thomas Williams Home, advised the council that owing to the number of inmates in the home who require special care and nursing, the ladies of the society desire to have an inmate, Mrs. Belton, removed. The mayor will investigate.

T. Payne asked for a permit to construct a portable oven for a bakery at 613 Talbot street. Given No. 3.

Mrs. Foley made a request on the council for permission to raise the back roof of her dwelling by two feet, granted.

The Byron Sanatorium wrote requesting the council gran; an increase of 25 cents a day for the treatment of patients in the institution. Given No. 1 committee.

Must Get Permit.

The chief federal migratory bird officer of Ontario, directing the council that a permit must be secured for keeping of a Canada goose and several Mallard ducks in confinement at Pinafore Park, was given to No. 4 committee.

The city council will join with the county council in making a success of the meeting of the Association of Managers of the Homes for Aged and Infirm to be held at the courthouse on June 28 and 29.

ST. THOMAS ZOO TO BE CLOSED

Humane Society Alleged That Animals Were Confined Under Conditions of Cruelty.

ST. THOMAS, June 7.—The parks committee tonight decided to close the St. Thomas Municipal Zoo, and the animals will be handed over to the local Humane Society to be sold or otherwise disposed of.

The Humane Society, in conjunction with the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, protested against the conditions under which the animals were confined, and the parks committee, believing that the money which would be required to provide proper cages and housing for the animals, could be better spent for the relief of indigent families in St. Thomas, decided to close the zoo.

GOVERNMENT CASES OPENED IN G. T. R. ARBITRATION COURT

MONTREAL, June 7.—The case for the Grand Trunk Railway before the arbitration commission sitting to inquire into the value of the road prior to its acquisition by the Dominion Government, closed today, and the Government opened its evidence by calling Lieut.-Col. C. N. Monserrat, a bridge expert, whose opinions on the Grand Trunk bridges, and especially those on the Central Vermont, were condemnatory in the extreme. His adjectives ran all the way from "horrible" to "deplorable," and his evidence was in striking contrast to that of J. B. Berry, the United States engineering expert for the Grand Trunk, who has, during the last few days, analyzed the whole system.

Lieut.-Col. Monserrat's evidence had not gone far today before the sitting was adjourned. In view of his testimony it was stated today that the Grand Trunk would probably have to make a fairly complete series of rebuttal evidence, which may further lengthen the proceedings.

TOWN OF SANDWICH WANTS MAGISTRATE

Council Instructs Police Chief Not to Take Cases to Windsor.

WINDSOR, June 7.—Members of the Sandwich Town Council continue to press for the appointment of a magistrate for that town by the attorney-general, and a showdown with Hon. W. E. Raney was suggested at a meeting on Monday night. It was stated at the meeting that Magistrate Gundy had refused to hold court in Sandwich, and the chief of police was instructed by the council not to take any more cases to the Windsor police court for hearing. Chief Dillon announced that 13 cases were waiting hearing for alleged infractions of the motor vehicles act. Magistrate Gundy stated today that he had never been asked by members of the Sandwich Council to hold court in that town, and accordingly had never refused to hold a sitting there.

W. W. Dunlop, inspector of prisons, and Architect Govan discussed proposed new jail and county buildings with the members of the county council today. The department will give its decision at a later date.

Mrs. Mary Mailloux, 243 Chatham street west, 72 years old, dropped dead of heart disease in the office of Dr. Douglas, Allen Theatre building, a few minutes after she had arrived there for medical treatment.

MAKING VICTORIA PARK SAFE.

It is the opinion of a great many citizens that motor cars and motor vehicles generally should not be driven through the Victoria Park, any more than they should be driven through the playgrounds where school children disport themselves day by day. The paths in Victoria Park were never meant to be used as public highways in the same sense as the streets and roads allotted to ordinary traffic, and when the park was laid out horse-drawn vehicles were the rule, and the danger to life and limb arising from this source much more remote.

Secretary C. E. Bernard of the London Motor Club has expressed the opinion that the park should be closed to motor traffic, and his views are shared by a large number of automobilists of the city. As Mr. Bernard points out, the park is a small one, and is surrounded by well-paved streets, and there is no reason why motorists should make it a short-cut from one point to another. They have not even the excuse of calling it a short-cut, as more caution is required to navigate a car through a resort such as this than to steer a clear way along the neighboring thoroughfares, and therefore no time is saved by this course.

On the other hand, such traffic is a constant source of danger to those who frequent this public breathing-space, not only to the children, but to the aged and infirm, who enjoy a ramble through this pleasure-ground, where they can admire the flowers and shrubs, and watch the birds in their flight from tree to tree. That the pleasure of young and old alike is to a large extent marred by the stream of motor cars—some of which appear around curves without warning—there can be no doubt, and the risk to little tots running across these paths in their irresponsible way is still more pronounced. Danger lurks at every turn from the swift-moving vehicles, and at a time when there is so much made of the "safety first" idea, it is altogether inconsistent that such a state of matters should be allowed to prevail. Let there be "safety first" by all means, and parents will be free from the anxieties which beset them whenever they allow their little ones to play in the park. This slogan becomes an absurdity when it is made a mere theory. It ought to be put into practice, and there is no better place to put its efficacy to the test than in Victoria Park.

Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M.L.A., who has been interesting himself in this matter, calls attention to the fact that at least one place in the centre of the city should be kept safe for women and children. We have our bird sanctuaries, where the feathered songsters can live their joyous lives undisturbed, and there is still more reason why we should have at least one beautiful spot in the midst of the turmoil of the streets where children can enjoy themselves to their hearts' content, free from every thought of danger.

THE PAST SESSION.

The parliamentary session just closed will go down to history as one in which a last desperate effort was made to revive the dying forces of Toryism. After the general election in 1917 the Government majority was officially announced as 71, but in the recent vote on the Fielding amendment to the tariff proposals it was reduced to the narrow margin of 20. Mr. Meighen has made frantic attempts to check this downward movement, but it cannot be said that his efforts have been in the least successful. The country is not to be fooled by a Tory administration camouflaged under the name of a Union Government, for it is united in nothing except in its desire to hang on to office until the last thread is severed, and to bolster up the interests from which it mainly derives its power, at the expense of the welfare of the people at large.

The session just closed has passed no legislation calculated to provide remedies for the burdens that now afflict the country within, or to improve its commercial relations with the nations without. On the contrary, it has tightened the strings of protection in such a manner that while no relief is afforded to the people of Canada from present conditions, vexatious restrictions are placed on trade with countries whose goodwill ought to be retained. Instead of a revision of the tariff based on the findings of the long and exhaustive investigation of some months ago, matters have been made worse by attempts to tinker an already bad and pernicious piece of work.

Mr. Meighen now goes to Great Britain to take part in the deliberations of representatives of the dominions included in the Empire, but, as pointed out by Mr. Masterman, who was a prominent member of the Asquith administration at Westminster, Mr. Meighen will only represent a small minority of the people of Canada. He is in no sense the outstanding personality of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in whom the British people recognized a man who was not only a leader of the people of Canada, but an outstanding figure among the statesmen of the world.

The story of the by-elections has been one continuous expression of popular disapproval of the actions of the Government, but, like barnacles on the ship of state, the Tories cling to office, no matter what damage is sustained by encountering the rocks and currents of public opinion.

During the session the Hon. W. S. Fielding has rendered splendid service in the cause of sound finance by calling attention to the disastrous effects of the Government's fiscal policy, and the Liberal leader, the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, has ever been on the alert to safeguard the best interests of the people. Duncan C. Ross, member for West Middlesex, W. C. Kennedy of North Essex, and A. B. McCoig, Kent, have been fearless and stalwart upholders of those principles of reform and good government which make for the prosperity of a nation, and have on no occasion failed to drive home their contentions and to offer constructive remedies for the problems at issue.

Meanwhile the people of the Dominion, while compelled to mark time in the field of politics, cannot much longer be deprived of their right to convert Premier Meighen's attenuated margin of power into a majority for those who will truly represent their views and provide remedies for the evils that now hinder the progress of the country.

PICNICS OLD AND NEW.

The school picnic has become, in point of numbers, the greatest annual event of London. It may remind the history student of the excursion which the Athenians in ancient Greece made once a year to Eleusis. They went out "pandemei" (all the people together), ostensibly for a religious purpose, but really for a picnic. The ancient festival was a journey in procession on foot, and pronouncedly Bacchic, while we have our street-car service, without wine.

What is a picnic without baseball? One of the features of the ancient Eleusinia was a stone-throwing contest or sham-battle. The only person much endangered in the modern picnic baseball is the umpire. Baseball is like the lady of whom Shakespeare said that "age cannot wither nor custom stale her infinite variety." The English who say that "baseball is only rounders, you know," have a very slight conception of the game. It is as much like rounders as, say, Walter Johnson's delivery resembles the awkward throw of an uncoached eighth grade girl.

But these girls are coming on. They were playing ball all over the place on Friday. Not only baseball, but field hockey gave scope for feminine prowess. At a picnic 25 years ago you would see a bevy (that was the Victorian word) of tittering and blushing girls declining urgent invitation to enter a foot-race or ride side-saddle on the merry-go-round. Now they stride about in bloomers and do as they blooming like, without affectation. False modesty is a thing unheard of among these dainty young amazons! More power to their muscles, and bliss to their brow's bent.

It is a fine sight for the older people, these splendid, quick-moving boys and girls, all happy and animated. They are a radiant glass where the future is shown in hopeful colors. What are the shows of summer itself compared to this?

SYMBOLICAL PUNISHMENTS.

The farce trials of war criminals going on at Leipzig are exactly what the world expected. In the "punishment" of illegal acts committed during the war, the Germans are left under no compulsion. Without the compulsion applied by the Allies, in particular the French, no reparations would have been paid, no matter what the Huns signed their name to at Versailles.

To the cynical it might appear that the Allied governments are actuated by such mercenary motives as to care all for monetary losses, and nothing about the personal wrongs done to life and limb by the monsters who ordered the use of gas and poison, murdered civilians, nurses, Belgians, merchant captains and crews ("spurlos versunken"), enslaved whole populations to forced labor and "fines," made "screens" for their troops of Belgian women and children, abetted the Armenian massacres by the Turks, sheltered infamous Turkish refugees, and resorted to indiscriminate shelling and bombing of unfortified cities. The arch-criminals are many of them easily obtainable. But only three or four petty ruffians are brought before the Leipzig tribunal. Why are the Allied governments so slack? The reason probably is not mere materialism, though that may be a partial explanation. It is realized that while material damages can be "repaired" in some measure, a blood vengeance on the authors of atrocious and illegal warfare can give no complete satisfaction. At the same time the cynic may reply that one reason for not striking down the arch-murderers may be that these men are some of them important for the political and economic reconstruction of Germany, and without them reparations may be less certain. The pessimist may add that little murderers, thieves and thugs have to be held in check everywhere so as to leave the field freer for the operations of major "self-seekers trampling on the right." Hence the mechanical little cut-and-dried penalties handed out to a few scapegoats at Leipzig.

But perhaps it is best to regard these "punishments" as symbolical, from the Allied viewpoint. Putting the best face on it, we may consider the action of the German court as at any rate sealing the guilt of their criminals in general. The big offenders suffer by proxy, so to speak. History will certainly not forget to notice the sitting of this court, the laughable inadequacy of its proceedings, and the unrepented wrongs committed by Germany against humanity.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Summer shirts should be seen and not heard.

Meighen the pessimist is now en route to London. the grave of many fond hopes.

The Detroit News says that Lord Byng is "a man's man." Certainly, "a man's a man for a' that." Biff! Bang!! Byng!!!

It is stated that Canada is to get $2,000,000 out of the army canteen funds. We presume that, of course, these canteens were dry.

It is said that Alaska has 1,000,000 square miles which can be used for agricultural purposes. And yet there is not a rush of farmers to Alaska. Why?

The acquittal of the German, Neuman, on a charge of sinking a hospital ship, on the ground that he was only obeying superior orders, places a premium on the most wicked of war crimes.

The secretary of the Irish Department of Agriculture says that the lifting of the embargo on Canadian cattle will injure Ireland's cattle trade with England. But, of course, the business in Irish "bulls" could continue.

An English immigrant, who says he came to Canada with his wife, on the understanding that they were to be paid $40 a month for doing farm work, has been offered only $16. He now thinks he knows why Canada is called "The Land of Promise."

POLAND AND THE TREATY.

[Indianapolis News.]

But for the treaty which the Poles are now violating, and the support of Great Britain, France and Italy—and we may add the good-will of the United States—the new Polish state could not possibly live. If Germany were not disarmed under the Versailles Treaty, she would long since have taken all the territory of Poland that she desired to take, and have reclaimed all the territory that had been assigned to Poland by the treaty. The war of the Poles is not against Germany, but against the Allies, and against the peace and safety of Europe, and the world.

OTHERS' VIEWS

GET AFTER THE CAT.

[Halifax Chronicle.]

The song birds are the farmers' friends, and the few cherries, or berries, they take are atomic as compared with the goods they save him as they patrol his fields and orchards in the insect season. When the value of the birds gets into the heads of those who need their clean-up work, there will be fewer cats tolerated as pets. Anybody who knows anything about the matter can tell you that the birds have foes enough—squirrels, crows, skunks, rats, minks, weasels, snakes and boys, some smaller and some larger boys. Why then harbor the housecat? Dirty and cruel, faithless and dangerous in the house, the cat is a demon in the orchard, where the birds have their nests. When you hear that sharp bird cry in the night you hear the death shriek of a friend that is in the fell clutch of your cat. Next time you hear it, pass sentence on the cat, or better, put the cat out of business before another night falls. The birds will reward you for the sacrifice. June owes very much of its joyousness to their tuneful, busy presence.

TALAAT'S SLAYER ACQUITTED.

[Ottawa Journal.]

It is not often that a man is justified in constituting himself a court of trial and justice for the punishment of another, but very few will be disposed to disagree with the verdict of the German jury in excusing the slayer of the wholesale Turkish murderer, Talaat Pasha. The acquittal of the Armenian student who ran the destroyer of his people to earth is, in fact, the most creditable action that has been recorded from Berlin since 1914. Teilirian, the Armenian, is not to be blamed. Talaat was responsible for the murder of his mother in the general massacre of tens of thousands of people. There was little likelihood of his being brought to justice by process of law. He had gone to Germany to find refuge. He deserved worse than the easy death inflicted on him, but he might have escaped even that but for the avenging Armenian student.

JAZZ AND HYSTERIA.

[Kingston British Whig.]

Is jazz music an outward and visible manifestation of an inward hysteria, reflecting the jangled nerves of the people? Judging from the remarks of Dr. Frank E. Morton, chairman of the music industries committee, who spoke at the opening of the music trades convention in Chicago the other day, this hectic form of modern music is having a most pernicious influence, in the land and should be checked before it leads to disastrous results.

It would appear that Dr. Morton is himself becoming rather hysterical on the subject of jazz. Jazz has its bitter enemies and they cannot say enough mean things about it, but it is an ephemeral phase of music that will disappear in time. But there will be no dissent from Dr. Morton's dictum that the world needs good music as never before. Good music soothes the nerves; jazz irritates them. Jazz is killing itself. Give it time and it will expire with a raucous yawp. Nothing so empty as jazz can exist very long.

FACING THE UNKNOWN.

[New York Sunday Times.]

Several clergymen have referred in the pulpit to the letter written by the late ex-Secretary Lane giving an account of his thoughts and sensations just before undergoing a capital operation. His eager curiosity as to where and how he might awake, in case of a fatal result, his attitude of cheerful acquiescence in whatever fate might await him, naturally appealed to those called upon to teach and preach about immortality. There was nothing especially new in Mr. Lane's reflections except as he gave them unusually vivid expression. It is common for thoughtful men to "consider their latter end," at least in the sense of wondering with how much fortitude they may be able to meet death when it comes. In the actual hour of trial, so physicians assure us, most of the dying are quite unaware of their condition. The question is, rather, of anticipatory reasonings and emotions when in health. These a man ordinarily keeps to himself. If he has so extreme a shrinking from the thought of death as had Dr. Johnson, he does not like to talk about it. And knowing that he has to submit to the common lot of mortals, he sees no use and certainly no merit in announcing his resignation to the inevitable. In his history of the Crimean war Kinglake spoke of "the unlabeled, undocketed frame of mind which shall enable a man to encounter the Unknown." Obviously, such a mental attitude may be cherished, but it cannot well be set forth in words or bruited abroad.

MAN, WOMAN AND MARRIAGE.

[Vancouver Sun.]

Man, Woman, Marriage! Surely a comprehensive subject to be presented in the form of a "movie."

This is the title of a photoplay being shown this week at one of Vancouver's moving picture theatres, and it deals, in brief, with the age-old conflict between the sexes.

The element of conflict is, of course, the basis of all drama, yet rarely is this subject dealt with so emphatically as it is in "Man, Woman, Marriage." It speaks well for the progress of the silver screen that fundamental problems are being given full consideration.

For, after all, marriage and the difficult situations attendant upon or growing out of marriage are the basic problems of all time.

In no age more than this has woman stepped out into the activities of life, thereby complicating and creating new situations in regard to the establishment and maintenance of homes.

All theories of Government, all philosophical creeds must admit that the home is the flesh and blood of the social fabric.

When homes disintegrate, society disintegrates; when homes are destroyed, civilization and the evidences of civilization are proportionately weakened.

As "Man, Woman, Marriage" makes clear, maternity is the highest and most impelling duty of womankind.

The true woman is governed first by the needs of her children. Her battles are fought, her resolutions are made, her actions are taken that her children may benefit.

Much as politics, the professions and all commercial activities need the illuminating qualities of woman's mind, her participation in these to an extent that will injure her home is bad.

Women only need enter into these spheres when men forget their duty to their homes.

It is not to the credit of the male sex that women have had to step into the political arena to obtain for themselves and their children the legal protection they needed.

And it is just here that the conflict of the sexes enters in.

So long as man protects his home, his wife and his children, everything is as it should be. When he fails to afford this protection, woman must become active to supplement his shortcomings.

War between the sexes is not a pretty thing.

But homes must be preserved at any cost.

SONNET IN SPRING.

[Roy Meldrum in The Nation and Athenaeum.]

Meadows are spangled now with buttercup,
Pastures with daisies white, and woods with may,
And when on eastern dews the sun rises up,
The scented hedge-winds with the sunbeams play,
Larks spin to amber haze; and in midnoon
The sower hears across the fallows still
The homely cheating cuckoo call; and soon
Thrushes with evensong the distance fill,
Lambs bleat, bees hum upon the sheltered slope,
And villages appear in cleaner red,
And farmers measure by new fields new hope
And maids sing blither by the creaming lead,
The very solitudes invite to wooing;
And here the sweetest error needs no ruing.

OPTIMISTS AND PESSIMISTS.

[Harold Seton in the Gateway.]

In this old world of ours of course
All sorts of folk we meet;
And some use tact, and some use force,
Some scold, and some intreat,
Some shed a sympathetic tear,
While other rudely mock;
The great majority, I fear,
Just knock,
And knock,
And knock!

But there are some who realize
That Will can master Fate,
That Truth is bound to conquer lies,
And love to conquer hate;
They know the ancient adage well,
That chicks come home to roost,
And so on pleasant thoughts that dwell
And boost,

THE FAIRY RATH OF LISSARINK.

[Rev. James B. Dollard, Litt. D.]

The Fairy Rath of Lissarink stands in a lonely glen,
And all day long in summertime the wild bees range around,
No sounds unseemly vex the spot, from out the world of men,
For this is magic's very home—the Rath is haunted ground!

The hazel and the quicken tree make shade for silent birds,
The woodbine's drowsy perfume and the harebell's scent blow sweet,
The spear-grass sways, low whispering some mystic fairy words,
Pale primroses are waiting for the press of fairy feet.

So all the day the Fairy Rath in shade and sunshine sleeps,
While, moving slow, the silver clouds sail ceaselessly on high,
Till evening o'er the quiet fields in solemn vesture creeps,
And sunset's purple oriflamme illumes the western sky.

So all day long beneath the sun the Fairy Folk sleep on:
Within their golden palaces they rest on beds of down;
They fly the garish sunshine; but the moonlight faint and wan—
They love its gentle lustre on their Fairy Mountain's crown.

And when the shadows dim and cool have covered glen and lea,
At midnight, and a gibbous moon treads softly through the rack,
There opens in the Fairy Rath a gate of mystery,
And silver-helmet companies surge down the beaten track.

Then weird and thrilling music sounds
—the Koel Shee* rings out
As curving in a graceful line, or rigid as a lance,
The elfin legions eagerly take up their joyous rout
And wake the startled valleys in the wondrous Fairy Dance!

HAYSEED IS RISIN'.

[A. T. Worden, in Judge.]

We kin all of us remember, along about September,
The papers used to tell us about the caucus and the fair,
And them fellers frum the city used to get almighty witty
On the feller with the duster what had hayseed in his hair.

They had fun in legislaters with the man what raised pertaters,
If by any hook or crook or chance elected and sent there,
End the reportorial friskers used ter comment on his whiskers,
End the carpetsack of Billson, what had hayseed in his hair.

Yes, b'gosh, he rid his pass out, and he used to blow the gas out,
End he used to drink hard cider when he went out on a tear;
End he used to pinch a dollar till the buzzard used to holler,
End the man cut up ree-e-diklous what had hayseed in his hair.

But, by gum! ef you've been readin',
you observe a strange percedin'—
It's the feller with chin whiskers that is slowly gettin' there,
End it won't be too surprisin', if by slowly organizin',
Old parties may wake up tew find the hayseeds in their hair.

When the fashions change, you fellers will all carry green umbrellas,
End trousers wide across the seat to make the dudelets stare;
In them times if you pass muster, you must wear a linen duster,
End if you wunt tew throw on style put hayseed in your hair.

SPANISH DOUBLOONS

BY CAMILLA KENYON

And to me the wildest feature of the whole wild tale was that at the last he should have parted with the cherished secret of a lifetime to Miss Higglesby-Browne.

In a general way, every one of us knew this history. Even I had had an outline of it from Cuthbert Vane. But so far nobody had seen the map. And now we were to see it; the time that intervened before that great event had already dwindled to minutes, to seconds—

But, no; for Miss Browne arose and began to make a speech. The beginning of it dealt in a large and generalizing manner with comradeship and loyalty, and the necessity of the proper mental attitude in approaching the business we had in hand. I did not listen closely. The truth is, I wanted to see that map. Under the spell of the island, I had almost begun to believe in the chest of doubloons.

Suddenly I awoke with a start to the fact that Miss Browne was talking about me. Yes, I, indubitably, was the Young Person whose motives in attaching herself to the party were so at variance with the amity and mutual confidence which filled all other breasts. It was I who had sought to deprive the party of the presence, counsel and support of a member lacking whom it would have been but a body without a soul. It was I who had uttered words which were painful and astounding to one conscious of unimpugnable motives. In the days of toil to come, we were reminded, the Young Person, to wit, myself, would have no share. She would be but skeptic, critic, drone in the busy hive. Thus it was obvious that the Young Person could not with any trace of justice claim part or lot in the treasure. Were it not well, then, that the Young Person be required to make formal and written renunciation of all interest in the golden hoard soon to reward the faith and enterprise of the Harding-Browne expedition? Miss Higglesby-Browne requested the sense of the meeting on the matter.

Under the fire of this arraignment I sat hot-cheeked and incredulous, while a general wave of agitation seemed to stir the drowsy atmosphere. Aunt Jane was quivering, her round eyes fixed on Miss Higglesby-Browne like a fascinated rabbit's on a serpent. Mr. Hamilton T. Hubbs had pursed his lips to an inaudible whistle, and alternately regarded the summits of the palms and stole swift ferret-glances at the faces of the company. Capt. Magnus had taken a sheath-knife from his belt and was balancing it on one finger, casting about him now and then a furtive, crooked, roving look, to meet which made you feel like a party to some hidden crime. Mr. Vane had remained for some time in happy unconsciousness of the significance of Miss Higglesby-Browne's oration. It was something to see it gradually penetrate to his perceptions, vexing the alabaster brow with a faint wrinkle of perplexity, then suffusing his cheeks with agonized and indignant blushes. "Oh, I say, really, you know!" hovered in unspoken protest on his tongue. He threw imploring looks at Mr. Shaw, who alone of all the party sat imperturbable, except for a viciously-bitten lip.

Miss Higglesby-Browne had drawn a deep breath, preparatory to resuming her verbal ramble, but I sprang to my feet.

"Miss Browne," I said, in tones less coldly calm than I could have wished, "if you have thought it necessary to—to orate at this length merely to tell me that I am to have no share in this ridiculous treasure of yours, you have wasted a great deal of energy. In the first place, I don't believe in your treasure." (Which, of course, despite my temporary lapse, I really didn't.) "I think you are—sillier than any grown-up people I ever saw. In the second place, anything you do find you are welcome to keep. Do you think I came along with people who didn't want me, and have turned my own aunt against me, for the sake of filthy lucre? Did I come intentionally at all, or because I was shanghaied and couldn't help myself? Aunt Jane!" I demanded, turning to my stricken relative, who was gazing in anguish from Miss Browne to me, "haven't you one spark left of family pride—I don't talk of affection any longer—that you sit still and hear me made speeches at in this fashion? Have you grown so sordid and grasping that you can think of nothing but this blood-stained pirate gold?"

Aunt Jane burst into tears.

"Good gracious, Virginia," she wailed, "how shocking of you to say such things! I am sure we all got along very pleasantly until you came—and in that dreadfully sudden way. You might at least have been considerate enough to wire beforehand. As to blood-stains, there was a preparation your Aunt Susan had that got them out beautifully—I remember the time the little boy's nose bled on the drawing-room rug. But I should think just washing the gold would do very well!"

It was impossible to feel that these remarks helped greatly to clear the situation. I opened my mouth, but Miss Browne was beforehand with me.

"Miss Virginia Harding has herself admitted that she has no just or equitable claim to participate in the profits of this expedition—I believe I give the gist of your words, Miss Harding?"

"Have it your own way," I said, shrugging.

"I move then, Mr. Secretary," Miss Browne inclined her head in a stately manner towards Mr. Tubbs, "that you offer for Miss Virginia Harding's signature the document prepared by you."

"Oh, I say!" broke out Mr. Vane, suddenly. "I call this rotten, you know!"

"In case of objection by any person," said Miss Browne loftily, "the matter may be put to a vote. All those in favor say 'Aye.'"

An irregular fire of "ayes" followed. Mr. Tubbs gave his with a cough meant so far as possible to neutralize its effect—with a view to some future turning of the tables, Capt. Magnus responded with a sudden bellow, which caused him to drop the gleaming knife within an inch of Aunt Jane's toe. Mr. Shaw said briefly: "I think the distribution of the treasure, if any is recovered, should be that agreed upon by the original members of the party. Aye!"

Aunt Jane's assenting voice issued from the depths of her handkerchief, which was rapidly becoming so briny and inadequate that I passed her mine. From Cuthbert Vane alone there came a steadfast "No"—and the Scotchman put a hand on the boy's shoulder with a smile which was like sudden sunlight in a bleak sky.

Mr. Tubbs then produced a legal-looking document which I took to be the original agreement of the members of the expedition. Beneath their signatures he had inscribed a sort of codicil, by which I relinquished all claim on any treasure recovered by the party. Mr. Tubbs took evident pride in the numerous aforesaids and thereofs and other rolling legal phrases of his composition, and Miss Browne listened with satisfaction as he read it off, as though each word had been a nail in the coffin of my hopes. I signed the clause in a bold and defiant hand, under the attentive eyes of the company. A sort of sigh went around, as though something of vast moment had been concluded. And, indeed, it had, for now the way was clear for Violet's map.

McCORQUODALE—McKAY.

A quiet yet very pretty wedding took place on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m., at the home of Mr. W. J. McKay, Embro, when his eldest daughter, Elizabeth Catherine, was united in marriage to Mr. Alex. McCorquodale, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David McCorquodale of Winnipeg, Rev. N. P. Lane officiating. The bride entered the parlor on the arm of her father and took her place beside the groom, looking very pretty in a suit of navy blue tricotine and white georgette blouse and navy georgette hat with jet trimmings and wore a corsage bouquet of roses. After the signing of the register the happy couple motored to Woodstock, where they took train for Chicago, Port Huron, Detroit and Bay City, before going to their home at 714 Broadway avenue, Winnipeg. The wedding breakfast was served in the dining-room, prettily decorated with roses and peonies.

COLVIN—BROWN.

A very pretty wedding took place recently at ine Lawn, the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Brown of Mount Brydges, when their youngest daughter, Amy, was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas Colvin, the Rev. Mr. Robertson officiating. The wedding was performed under an arch of evergreen and lilies. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was beautifully gowned in ivory charmeuse, embroidered in pearls, and carried a shower bouquet of carnations and lilies, and wore the usual veil and orange blossoms. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Stella Doan of London, who wore a dainty frock of pink georgette and corsage bouquet of Sunset roses. Little Fern Smith, niece of the bride, frocked in pink, and carrying a basket of lilies of the valley, made a charming flower girl. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Dan Colvin. Miss Margarette McNeil of Dutton played the wedding march, and during the signing of the register Miss Winnie Kinkaid sang. The groom's gift to the bride was a rope of Oriental pearls; to the bridesmaid, a platinum bar pin; to the pianist a gold bar pin; to the flower girl a string of beads, and to the groomsman a pearl tie-pin.

Following the ceremony the two youngest children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, sister and brother-in-law of the bride, were christened. A wedding breakfast was served to about fifty guests, after which the young couple left amid showers of confetti on an extended trip to points east. The young couple will reside in Mount Brydges.

CALLARD—MORRISON.

About forty guests were present at the pretty house wedding held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Morrison at 6 o'clock last night, when their eldest daughter, Agnes Mary, became the bride of Mr. Harold Keppel Callard of this city, the Rev. D. C. MacGregor officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly robed in white crepe charmante, with train gracefully draped from the shoulders and bodice made in surplice style, with touches of pearl trimming and tulle. The veil of filmy net was crowned with orange blossoms, and the bridal bouquet was of Ophelia and Sweetheart roses, showered with white ribbons and white sweet peas. Her only ornament was a gold wrist watch, the gift of the groom.

Miss Lillian Morrison, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, wearing a lovely gown of pink charmeuse, made with draped panel and trimmed with shadow lace, and she carried an armful of Columbia roses. Little Miss Amy Cairncross made a charming flower girl in her frilly frock of pink taffeta, wee pink taffeta hat and basket of pink sweet peas and Sweetheart roses. Master Jim Cairncross was a quaint ring-bearer, while Mr. James Lambie of this city acted as groomsman. The wedding music was played by Miss Marjorie Morrison, another sister of the bride, who was becomingly gowned in blue net and silver. Mrs. Morrison, mother of the bride, wore grey canton crepe and corsage of sweet peas and Sweetheart roses, while Miss Callard and Miss Annie Callard, sisters of the groom, were in taupe and nigger brown crepe de chine.

Pink and white peonies and quantities of greenery filled the living-room, while in the hall and on the stairway orange blossoms were used effectively as decorations. The dining-room was a bower of roses, the bride's table being centered with the wedding cake, topped with Sweetheart roses and surrounded with small vases of this same attractive flower.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Callard left by motor for St. Thomas, leaving later for New York, the bride travelling in a modish suit of brown satin and hat to match. On their return they will reside at 288 Piccadilly street. Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Porter of Toronto, and Mr. Fred Callard of Birmingham, Alabama.

FOR LOVE OF BETTY

[BY MAY CHRISTIE.]

(Copyright, 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

CV.—CROSS-EXAMINATION.

As April Moore looked into Trevor's accusing eyes, she knew that everything had been discovered—that her schemes were overthrown.

"The game's up," she told herself. "The only thing now to do is to try to be as sporting as possible."

But it wasn't easy to be "sporting" under the clear, contemptuous look in Trevor's eyes.

"I'm waiting for an explanation, April," he repeated coldly. "I should also like to hear where Mr. Davon is."

April bit her lip. His last remark had touched her on a sore point. For Charlie Davon—a laggard in war as in love—had sped off to town by an extraordinarily early train this very morning, leaving his lady-love to face the music and the wrath to come—alone!

"I—I don't know where he is," stammered April. "I—that is—"

"He's cleared out, has he" Trevor resumed, and in his voice there was an icy note. "Well, I'm not surprised! He always was a coward—but a warrant for his arrest will no doubt pull him up."

April took a step forward, and laid an appealing hand on Trevor's arm.

"Oh, you wouldn't do that" she cried, her face paling. "You wouldn't ruin him—and me"

"Why not? Haven't you both worked harm enough already?" Trevor flung off her hand as though its touch were poisonous. "It's too late in the day to whine and cry——"

He broke off abruptly, pointing once more to Betty Gordon's letter.

"You've given no explanation yet of this," he added. "Heavens, how cruel women can be to each other—it's a revelation!"

There was a silence in the room, broken only by Trevor's agitated breathing.

April's active brain was turning towards a certain line of action. The look on Jack's face was so cold and determined—it was perfectly possible that he would carry out his intentions of arresting Davon, unless she, April, somehow could play on his feelings and prevent him. The role of "more-sinned-against-than-sinning" she attempted first.

"I—oh, Jack—I've never had a chance in life—don't be too hard on me!" With well-feigned sorrow, April broke down, sobbing. "If I'd only had a mother—"

"You'd have turned her hair grey in a week," supplemented Trevor grimly, not in the least impressed by this emotional display. He knew only too well how easily Miss April could assume these theatrical roles.

April, baulked and disappointed, raised a face remarkably free from tear-stains or any trace of sorrow. Trevor spoke again.

"You never cared for me, April—not at any time—then will you tell me why you persisted in following me to Maine, in playing a double part, in lying, stealing, in deliberately coming between me and the girl I loved? Why have you done these things? Why?"

The look on Trevor's face was so compelling that April somehow felt she was being hypnotized. She raised her eyes to him. It seemed to her that the relentless eyes of the man she had injured would drag the very truth from her.

In the silence of the room their two wills clashed and fought. But it was Trevor who at last gained the mastery.

"Why did you do those things," he repeated sternly.

"I did it because I wanted—money."

Trevor stared at her incredulously, then threw his head back and laughed aloud. It was a strange, eerie sort of laugh—and April shuddered as she heard it. Was Jack going mad?

"Money—could money buy happiness?" he cried. "Money—the root of all the evil in the world!" He laughed again, but there was no mirth in the sound of it.

"Hush, Jack; Miss Crowell will hear you," April whispered nervously.

He turned and looked at her.

"Miss Crowell? Oh, she knows you are here," he answered coolly. "In fact, she knows the very worst there is to know about you—I don't think she'll interrupt our conversation!" The grim look deepened around his mouth.

"Was it she—who told you—about the will—and the m——" April could not keep the questions back. Something—the compelling look in Jack's eyes—seemed to drag them from her.

"Mrs. MacTurk wrote to tell me this morning." Trevor tapped a letter that he held. "And Miss Crowell, seeing her handwriting and the postmark, confirmed the contents of the letter. No, she didn't give you away before—she was very merciful—for a woman." He laughed unpleasantly again.

There was a silence in the room.

"Tell me," said Trevor suddenly. "What did you do with the twenty-five hundred dollars? I can understand you would want to destroy the will." His tones grew cutting. "But the actual cash—did it go in 'clothes,' as usual?"

With unexpected spirit April answered:

"No, it didn't! If you want the truth, most of it went in saving Charlie Davon from the jail you threaten to put him in."

Trevor whistled softly.

"Oh, you women—queer, inexplicable creatures! And so you really care for him?" He stared critically at the girl.

She nodded.

"I never cared for anyone else," she criticized, and there was a flash in her blue eyes. "You can call him what you please—I stick by him."

Something flickered momentarily across Trevor's face. Was it a look of sympathy, compassion?

Tomorrow: "April's Confession."

Puppy Stories (by Vincent G. Perry)

IN THE LAND OF NEVER-WORK.

Part One.

It was "Pete, do this, and Pete, do that. Go after the cattle, Pete; keep your eye on the hen-coop, Pete, and, Pete, you bad dog, where have you been?" all the time, so it is no wonder poor Pete was tired of, being a farm dog.

Pete's master was a very busy farmer and worked hard all day himself, so he thought everyone else on the farm should work, too. From the time he was a little puppy Pete had been trained to work. First he had thought it great fun to go after the cattle and nip at their heels, but when his master stopped going with him and made Pete go by himself, the fun ceased, and it became work. Then, too, it had been fun keeping the cats and the rats from the young chickens, to say nothing of keeping an eye open for a stray fox; but after he had killed most of the rats in the neighborhood and frightened the rest away, chased all the cats so far that they never again ventured near the farm, and been in at the killing of the very last fox that lived in the woods, there was no fun at all in guarding the hen coops. Pete knew that no harm could come to the hens now, but somehow his master couldn't see that—so Pete was made to spend all his time doing chores.

It was spring when Pete decided to rebel. It was one of those nice days that a dog likes to go roaming on, so early in the morning, before it was time to bring the cows up for milking, Pete started off. At first he had intended to go after the cows, but the sun was shining so brightly he wandered just a little way off his course, and the first thing he knew he was scrambling along the side of the brook, headed for the village. What a glorious day Pete put in. It was the first real holiday he had ever had, and he did enjoy the company of the village dogs he met that day. They were nice, friendly dogs, too, and Pete played with them all day, not giving a thought for the chores he had left undone.

Sunset came all too soon. Pete knew then that it was long past second milking time, and he felt hungry. All the village dogs had gone to their homes for supper, and a great longing for his own well-filled plate at the kitchen door came over Pete. So with not just as light a heart as he expected, he started home, feeling just a little bit ashamed of having neglected his duty.

Now, would you believe it, that very day there had been most unheard-of doings at the farm. First of all, Pete's master had become very angry because he had had to neglect his early plowing to go after the cows. Where could Pete be? he wondered. Then, some stray cat had found its way to the farm-yard, and half a dozen of the best baby chicks had been devoured.

Pete sauntered in, feeling that something was going to happen. Something did happen. When his master saw him all covered with mud and dirt he knew quite well that Pete had been off playing with the village dogs. It was quite unlucky for Pete that just at that time his master had a whip in his hands, for it proved handy, and poor Pete was given a most terrible thrashing for having shirked his duty.

It was a tired, aching, and hungry dog that went to sleep in the barn that night. How Pete wished he could die. Life on the farm was quite unbearable, and he had decided to runaway the very next day.

GELATINE.

Gelatine is one of the albumenoids of meat. It is a transparent, tasteless substance, got by boiling, with water, muscle, skin, cartilage, bone, tendon, ligament or membrane of animals. By this boiling, collagen of connective tissue—that is, a substance like glue—is dissolved and converted into gelatine. It is insoluble in cold water, soluble in hot, but is decomposed in boiling water, and will not solidify again when cooled if boiled long. Gelatine, although it does not dissolve in cold water, swells in it, and becomes much more readily soluble in hot water.

It is highly nitrogenous, but does not make new tissue in the body. It is rather used by the body as fuel, and thus protects other proteins from being so used, leaving them to make the new tissue. Therefore, gelatine is called a protein protector. It is a neutral sort of food, causing no digestive disturbance, and is therefore very useful for the sick and convalescent, and is a useful medium for stiffening fruit juices and making pretty and palatable light foods.

The general proportion for gelatine is one ounce of gelatine to a quart of liquid. As served, jelly should not contain more than three per cent gelatine. Too much, besides making the jelly tough and leathery, is likely to have a disagreeable animal flavor. A two-ounce box of gelatine holds five tablespoonfuls, and half of it should thus suffice for a quart of liquid.

Gelatine in this proportion requires from three to five hours to stiffen, and should be set on ice or in cold water. To remove jelly from a mold, dip the mold quickly into and out of hot water, and turn it upon the serving dish.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF HOME FOR INCURABLES IN TWO WEEK'S TIME

Will Take the Form of a Garden Party During Afternoon and Evening.

The official opening of the new Victoria Home For Incurables, on Grand avenue will be held in about ten days or two weeks' time, according to plans made by the executive of the Women's Christian Association, at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Marshall yesterday. The members of this association, under whose supervision the new home is, have been most energetic during the past few months in promoting the building of a huge addition to the old Minhinnick Home, "Parkwood," on Grand avenue, which together with the old building, will accommodate about 125 patients. The work has been carried on under the able direction of Mrs. Ingram, convener of the improvement committee, and the board of management. The grounds themselves cover five acres and are beautifully laid out with shrubbery and flowers. The official opening will be held on the afternoon and evening of a day yet to be set, and will take the form of a garden party, so that the citizens of London may inspect the new building. An ice cream booth and band music will be the features of the opening day.

The association is now rejoicing at a gift of $100 from George Stewart of Calgary towards the furnishing of a room at the new home. This gift has been sent direct to Smallman & Ingram's, whom the doner has directed to furnish the room. Similar gifts have come from other friends of the association, which are very oncouraging, but Mr. Stewart's is the first which has been actually turned into furniture, and the room he furnishes will bear his name over the door.

THREE BIG PRODUCTIONS TO BE GIVEN BY DRAMA LEAGUE IN COMING YEAR

Production Committee Meets to Select First Play on Monday Next.

J. Stanley Meredith, convener of the Drama League production committee, has already chosen his committee, a meeting having been called for Monday night last, when plans were made for public presentations of plays in November of this year, and in January and May of next year. It is possible that one of these presentations will take the form of three one-act plays. The selection of a play for the first presentation in November will be made at a meeting of the production committee to be held next Monday.

In addition to providing for three public Drama League presentations during the coming season, the production committee is also planning to provide small one-act plays at several of the regular meetings of the club, so that Londoners interested in the subject of the drama will have an adequate study program offered them during the coming year. If the program planned by the league for the coming year materializes, the league will be a long way in the road toward its ultimate aim to interest the people of the community in better drama.

The production committee includes, J. S. Meredith (convener), Miss Grace Blackburn, Mrs. Lyne-Evans, Mrs. Arthur Brickenden, Mrs. A. D. Jordan, E. Reynolds and Kenneth Greene.

DANGER SIGNALS

Headache, colds, nausea, blues, mental depression—these are not only painful and annoying, but they are danger signals.

A great majority of these passing illnesses are due to self-poisoning resulting from constipation. Unless you keep your system free from decaying food waste, you start continuous poisoning inside. Ultimately Bright's disease, rheumatism, gout, diabetes, pernicious anemia, and the like, may result.

Pills, castor oil, laxative waters and salts only force and irritate the bowels, and make constipation a habit.

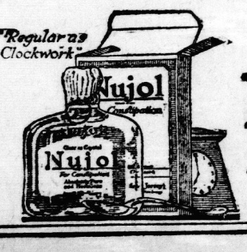

Nujol works on an entirely new principle.

Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system.

Nujol thus prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

Nujol is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol Trade Mark. Write Nujol, 22 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal, P.Q., for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger."

LEFTY QUINN CRACKS IN 8TH WHEN BALL ROLLS FOR HOMER

Brants Took Last Game of the Series From Beavers 8--1 —Sharpe Banished From Game.

KITCHENER, June 7.—The Brants took the series from the Beavers by winning this evening's game by the score of 8 to 1. "Lefty" Quinn pitched a good game for the locals, holding Brantford to 2 to 1, until the eighth, when Werre, the first man up, hit to right field, the ball rolling under a board, and a double was converted into a home run. Before the side was retired the Brants had made seven hits and scored five additional runs. Edgren pitched steady ball, keeping the eleven hits off his delivery well scattered. An unfortunate occurrence took place in Kitchener's half of the eighth, when Ernie Sharp was called out off first base by Umpire Griffin. Sharp rushed at the official and they collided, the umpire falling to the ground. Sharp was banished from the game. Umpire O'Hearne addressed a few words to the occupants of the grandstand, apologizing to the spectators for the profane language which took place during yesterday's game, and for the episode which had been enacted in the previous innings. Seldom has there been a game played in this city in which the umpires were called upon to make as many close decisions as tonight.

Sam Vance Back In Form Is Tied With Barnes In "A" Shoot at St. Thomas

R. E. Jordan of London Second in the "B" Shoot — Arie Takes First Money 'Mongst Pros.

[By Staff Reporter.]

ST. THOMAS, June 7.—High scores featured today's shoot of the Grand International Trapshooting Tournament here. The weather was more suitable than on the opening day and this is acclaimed by the shooters as the reason. Sam Vance, a member of the Canadian Olympic team in 1920, and Bill Barnes of Hamilton, are tie for first place in Class "A," breaking 196 targets each. G. Beattie, another shooter from Hamilton, holds the second position with 195 birds.

Class "B" shooters did not do as well today as on Monday. The highest score, 190, was made by J. Fries of Buffalo, N. Y. R. G. Jordan of London was second with 189.

Shooters in Class "C" are considered to be under 85 per cent, those in "A" and "B," over this mark. W. Schuffert of Wyandotte, Mich., broke 95 birds. A. Glover of Port Stanley, who led his class on Monday, was second with 187 broken birds.

Mark Arie, Champaign, Ill., won first money amongst the professionals, breaking 198 birds. A remarkable feature today was the showing of S. Boa of Montreal, who came second. During the morning shoot he missed three birds, but in the afternoon lowered this to one. Boa had broken every bird in events 1, 2, 3 and 4, but missed the last one of event 5. This made his long run total for the afternoon 79, and for the day 96. F. Huseman of Rochester, N. Y., turned in a perfect score of 100 in the afternoon, but missed seven in the morning. He was third among the professionals.

The trophy winners for the morning shoot are—Class "A," Beattie and Harris; Class "B," Murdock, Jordan and J. passmore; Class "C," Schuffert, 97.

Wednesday afternoon the Grand International Handicap will be decided. Over 100 have entered this. Mayor Brinkman has declared the afternoon a civic holiday.

Bolt and Hosiery Nine Beat Scott-Chamberlain

The Bolt and Hosiery ball team had no trouble winning from the Scott-Chamberlain nine last night. Stephens, who dished up the slants for the shoe manufacturers, was touched up for 10 hits, and these, coupled with four errors and three passes, gave the combination team 10 runs.

Oliver for the winners was quite a puzzle, only allowing six hits, along with four passes, netting the losers six runs. The Bolt and Hosiery got to Stephens in the first for four hits, coupled with three double plays by Arnold, second base, put them five up, and continued after blanking the shoe manufacturers in the first by piling up four more runs in the second, by finding Stephens for 5 more hits, coupled with a wild peg by First Baseman Barrows.

The Scott-Chamberlain team scored three runs in the second on two hits, a walk and Catcher Biggs' wild peg to third.

The Hosiery netted another in the third, when Biggs stole home, having already stolen second and third, after getting a walk. The shoe manufacturers found Oliver for three hits in their last frame, along with a pass and an error by Pitcher Oliver, netting two runs.

TURF NEWS AND GOSSIP

BY BERT E. COLLYER.

(All Rights Reserved.)

(All rights reserved by Collyer's News Bureau)—Tantalus, hop to it, big boy. This maverick goes for the grapes at Montreal today and the price is likely to be juicy. Look out for old Bolster, which is just getting good. The Nevada entry should romp away with the first, while Crown of Gold is the whispered good thing in the fourth. From where I sit it looks like Motor Cop all the way in the fifth with Eddie Rickenbacher's Bang Up second. Woodthrush in the chin strap is the last. One of the cleverest men that ever rigged a thoroughbred for a winning effort is Johnny Schorr. He has Starella going for him in the second at "Death Valley" this afternoon and if "Old Man" Butwell don't stew things up too badly the Holcan Baby will be on the front end of the procession when the pay-off station is reached.

A clique of sharpshooters has things all rigged up for a genuine melon-cutting today. The medium of the "Smart" play to be Napoo. This maverick has been burning up the track in recent trials and a race back to some of those "Moves" will be good enough. Kewpie O'Neill has finally found the right spot. Only a question of how far this good plater will win by.

One best bet of the day—Tantalus.

Best take a chance bet—Motor Cop.

Best parley—Burgoyne, An-mut, Dr. Jim to show.

Adonis for mine in the fifth. This bird only has to run back to recent sensational trials in order to take his field by the head and race them into the ground.

Montreal Selections.

First race—Nevada entry, Chateaugay, Dar.

Second race—Efficient, Burgoyne, Lonely.

Third race—Lacyprine, Superba, Algardi.

Fourth race—Crown of Gold, Anmut, Allies Way.

Fifth race—Motor Cop, Eddie Rickenbacher, Carmandale.

Sixth race—Tantalus, Gain de Cause, Bolster.

Seventh race—Woodthrush, Duke Ruff, Dr. Jim.

Latonia Selections.

First race—Napoo, Grace Minard, Jim Daisy.

Second race—Starella, Atta Gal, Bright Leaf.

Third race—Kewpie O'Neill, Alex Jr., Nellie Yirke.

Fourth race—Dancing Spray, P. G. King, Matinee Idol.

Fifth race—Adonis, Balance Wheel, By Ginger.

Sixth race—William Oldt, Stonewall, Dad.

Mrs. Rowe gave Mrs. Gibson a very tidy match yesterday, however, carrying the argument right to the 18th hole. Miss Hutton in her match with Mrs. Henderson ended the contest at the 13th hole, with six up at that juncture.

The approaching and putting contest will be staged Thursday morning as per program. The driving competition, scheduled for today, has been put on to between the hours of four and six on Thursday afternoon.

The results in the cup play and consolations follow, the players grouped being matched for today's matches:

For Secretaries Of Bowling Clubs

The secretaries of bowling clubs throughout Western Ontario are once more reminded that The Advertiser accepts draws of tourneys sent by wire, and the results as well.

It means a big convenience to bowlers who contemplate entering a tourney to know just where they are in the draw. Sometimes it is possible to save a half day for business if it is known whether the draw calls for morning or afternoon play. Many complaints have been registered by London bowlers taking part in outside events, and the same complaints must be made by bowlers of other towns. Give them the draw of the tourney in their morning paper, and watch the increase in entries.

BRANTFORD PEOPLE MUST SHOW INTEREST FOR BRANTS TO STAY

BRANTFORD, Ont., June 7.—The Brantford Chamber of Commerce has carefully investigated the conditions surrounding the rumored sale of the local Mich.-Ont. baseball franchise and the members are prepared to back the local club to the limit. The option held by Guelph men for the transfer of the team expires at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon next and the decision as to disposal or otherwise must be made by then. The gathering determined that the franchise should remain in Brantford, and to make sure that the financial aid is forthcoming, the members of the chamber of commerce will during the present week endeavor to dispose of 350 books of tickets at $10 per book. This would arouse further interest in the game and it would supplement the attendance at present being recorded, which, while good, could be bettered. The campaign will be pushed hard, for it is desired to learn at as early a date as possible the definite answer of Brantford to the question, "Is the franchise worth retaining for this city?" The chamber of commerce believes that it is and believes further that there can be but one answer—the success of the drive to dispose of the books to the number of 350 or better.

MUTT AND JEFF—Thirty a Week Isn't To Be Sneezed at These Days. (Copyright, 1921, by H. C. Fisher. Trade Mark Registered in Canada.) BY BUD FISHER

SCALERS FAIL TO EXPLAIN DISAPPEARANCE OF LUMBER

No Explanation Re Difference In Culling Obtained by the Court—Lambert Company Must Produce Books.

SUDBURY, Ont., June 7.—James A. Sharp, a scaler in the employ of the Government, testifying at the timber inquiry before Justices Riddell and Latchford here this afternoon, explained a difference between two years' cut by the S. L. Lambert Company, stating that the first year Lambert, an inexperienced man, did the cutting himself, and "took anything and everything," but the next year old-timers were on the job and picked their timber.

Asked how it was that Lambert, in 1915-16 when sawing his own logs and paying dues to the Government, had as much at 3,000 logs culled out of a total of 25,000, thus giving a big over-run in the company's favor, whereas the following season, when Lambert sold his logs, presumably on the scalers' count, he had only 110 logs culled out of 12,000 cut, the witness said he could not give an explanation, except the varying quality of the cut.

Isaac Hart of Orillia, who had assisted Sharp in scaling the Lambert timber in 1916-17, on the witness stand was unable to account for the fact that their scale had shown more logs than had been received at the mill, unless that some were lost in coming down the lakes.

Ordered to Fetch Books.

David Darling, the Lambert Company's manager, was instructed by the commission to go to the camp at Lambert's Siding and bring back certain records and books. He explained that there was a train running to that part of the country only every alternate day.

"Couldn't you motor to the camp?" Darling was asked.

"Hardly," he replied. "You couldn't get into that country with an aeroplane."

Thomas Thorpe, a government scaler, said it always had been the custom to measure only merchantable timber. He said he could see no reason why contractors should not be charged for cull timber which was marketable. Thorpe admitted that it was more or less an established custom among scalers to give lumbermen, rather than the Government, the benefit of the doubt in culling and scaling timber.

Justice Latchford made some strictures on the loose system of keeping records in camps.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, former minister of lands, forests and mines, who was given permission to speak on the question, at his request, said that while much of the lack of system might have been improper and irregular, it was not of itself necessarily vicious.

"You can't always get a fellow with a college education and use him as a foreman in a lumber camp," he said, and added that many of the best lumbermen in the country could not read or write.

Thorpe said he never had paid any attention to the shanty book of the foreman. He regarded it as unreliable and practically useless.

This attitude was objected to by Justice Latchford, who said: "The shanty books should be carefully guarded and distributed in such a way as to prevent all fraud."

John G. McGaw, an official in the crown timber agent's office at Sudbury, said the shanty books usually arrived some time after the camp was opened. In some cases, he said, the log cut was just entered in a passbook and later in the season transferred to the shanty book which the Government provided.

BRUCE COUNTY COUNCIL SITTING AT KINCARDINE

Treasurer Claims His Salary Is Not Proportionate to His Responsibility.

KINCARDINE, June 7.—The county council of Bruce County is in session. A few preliminaries were attended to yesterday evening, so that this morning the session opened in a real business way. Secretary Malcolmson's report was listened to with marked interest.

Treasurer Robertson's statement was a plain systematic report of every phase of income and expenditure. He referred to the labor and care necessary in handling so much money, and expressed the opinion that he was not adequately paid, that many of the laborers were making as much as he, without such responsibility.

WORK STARTED ON THE CEMENT HIGHWAY WABASH-THAMESVILLE

WABASH June, 7.—Work on the new cement highway from North Thamesville to Wabash is being started this week.

Louis Merlo of the contracting firm of Merlo & Wray of Walkerville, was here last week looking over the roadway in order to ascertain the requirements in the matter of supplies. The firm will bring their industrial railway equipment which was used on the Toronto-Hamilton highway. It is expected that about 50 men will be employed on the construction work, mostly local and district men.

Local teams will be hired as far as possible, and the firm states that the road will be ready for travel this summer.

Rev. F. W. Craik, pastor of the Wabash Methodist Church, conducted services in the Centennial Methodist Church at Londin yesterday afternoon. According to the first conference draft, Rev. Mr. Craik will be transferred to the Putnam circuit in the London District, and will be succeeded by Rev. F. Hazelwood on the Dawn Mills circuit.

Zebbie Phillips of Wabash and Miss Smith of Catham Township were recently married.

The groom is a son of Mrs. George Walkinghood and the bride a daughter if Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith.

WOMEN READILY TELL CENSUS ENUMERATORS NEEDED FACTS, AGE

Brantford Man Refused Information—Tells Court He Did Not Understand.

BRANTFORD, June 7.—In the taking of the census here enumerators tell of surprising work of co-operation on the part of citizens. A total of 35,000 people are to be visited before the work is completed, and only in one instance is a householder known to have retarded the work. This man was Frank Smith, and he refused to answer the usual questions. Mr. Smith was haled to court today, but was allowed to go when he declared that he had not understood the intentions of the enumerator. It is said the women are not all reticent in telling the canvassers what is desired in the national stock-taking and readily disclose their ages.

Mount Pleasant, a village of 400 people, a few miles west of here, is to have a park and playgrounds of its own. BRITAIN DECLINES GERMANY'S OFFER OF HELP IN SILESIA

Allied Forces Will Soon Be Sufficient To Maintain Order.

PARIS, June 7.—The British Government, according to information received here today, has notified the German Government that the Allied forces in Upper Silesia will soon be sufficient in number to suppress the disorders in that region.

The German proposals to relieve the British troops, therefore, the notification said, were unnecessary and would tend to augment rather than to diminish the difficulties of the present situation.

A Berlin dispatch of May 6 quoted the then German chancellor, Dr. Fehrenbach, as asserting that the German Government had requested the Allies to reinforce the troops in Silesia so that the revolt there might be suppressed and order restored.

Germany was willing, he added, to help bring about normal conditions in the disturbed area.

PROTECTION OF KEY INDUSTRIES AND TO STOP DUMPING

LONDON, June 7.—The House of Commons this evening, by a vote of 312 to 92, passed the second reading of the bill for the protection of key industries and for the prevention of "dumping."

This legislation, known as the "Safeguarding of Industries Bill," provides for a five-year custom duty of 33 1-3 per cent, ad valorem, on the importation into the United Kingdom of optical glass, optical instruments, scientific glassware, porcelain and various instruments, magnetos, tungsten and its products and synthetic organic chemicals, except dyestuffs, coloring matter and fine chemicals.

Under the bill a similar duty, is addition to the existing customs duty, would be required on any article which the board of trade might specify, which it was considered was being sold or offered for sale in the United Kingdom at a price below the cost of production there.

GOVERNMENT CANDIDATE DEFEATED IN ST. GEORGES

By-Election Was Deadly Dull—Labor Situation Given Scant Attention.

LONDON, June 7.—(Canadian Associated Press.)—The St. Georges-Westminster by-election today resulted as follows: J. M. Erskine, 7,244; Sir Herbert Jessel, 5,356. This is a defeat for the Coalition Government.

Deadly dullness marked the election campaign. The seat was formerly held by Rt. Hon. Walter Long, who was created a viscount. The constituency was considered a pocket Tory seat under normal conditions. Two Conservatives were in opposition for the seat, namely, Sir Herbert Jessel, championing the Coalition Government, and J. M. Erskine, standing upon an anti-waste ticket. The present industrial situation was hardly mentioned throughout the election, and no prominent members of any party spoke in the constituency.

DISCUSS EXTENSION OF RADIALS IN THE BORDER MUNICIPALITIES

WINDSOR, June 7.—T. U. Fairlie, engineer in charge of hydro radials in Ontario, W. R. Robertson, general superintendent and E. A. Hugill, legal advisor, conferred with representatives of the border municipalities this afternoon regarding proposed radial extensions. Sir Adam Beck, chairman and F. A. Gaby, chief engineer, were unable to attend the conference. It is understood that financial arrangements were discussed and the various representatives will go back to the different councils and seek indorsement of the money outlay.

CAPTURED GERMAN SUB IS SUNK IN LAKE MICHIGAN

Chicago, June 8.—The German submarine U-97 was sunk yesterday in Lake Michigan, some 30 miles off Chicago by the 4-inch guns of the United States ship Wilmette.

The U-boat, with a known record of seven allied ships sunk, was destroyed in accordance with provisions of the treaty of Versailles.

The craft had been lying here for more than a year, stripped of all removable machinery and its copper and brass parts. It toured the great lakes during the Victory Loan campaign.

SEEKING TO END LABOR TROUBLES BY NEGOTIATION

Conference in Progress Over Coal, Cotton and Engineering Labor Disputes.

LONDON, June 7.—Conferences are continuing at the ministry of labor in an endeavor to bring about a settlement of the wage dispute in the cotton manufacturing and engineering trades.

The negotiations seeking to end the coal strike are proceedings without the assistance of Government officials. The miners' executive committee is to recommend a conference of delegates and a resort to the ballot by members of the union on the latest proposals of the mine owners. The more conciliatory disposition shown by both sides to the dispute has improved the hopes for an early settlement of the trouble.

Carrick pleaded guilty to a charge of incest. He collapsed in the prisoner's box when sentence was passed.

ASST.-SECRETARY OF WINDSOR JOCKEY CLUB REPLIES TO RANEY

Alleges Attorney-General Is Really Attacking the Hendry Family.

WINDSOR, June 7.—E. J. Baxter, assistant secretary of the Windsor Jockey Club, in a reply today to Hon. W. E. Raney's attack, launched before the Methodist conference in London, charged that the attorney-general's criticisms were actuated by a desire to rap the Hendrie family.

"It seems strange that when Dr. Rutherford was commissioned by the Government to investigate race track conditions in Ontario, and Mr. Raney acted for the Social Service Reform League, that Mr. Raney's attacks were chiefly and persistently directed at the Ontario Jockey Club, Toronto, of which Col. William Hendrie is president, and the Windsor Jockey Club, Windsor, of which George M. Hendrie is president," said Mr. Baxter.

"Let the public be the judge as to why Mr. Raney, as attorney-general of Ontario, directs his latest attack chiefly against the Ontario Jockey Club and the Windsor Jockey Club.

FLORENCE

FLORENCE, June 7.—The I. O. O. F., Court 196, Florence, entertained the visiting lodges here on Friday last, when Grand Master Bro. Robinson of Toronto was present, giving instructions and conferring degrees. A banquet was held at 6 o'clock, and at midnight lunch was served. The banquet and lunch was under direction of the Ladies' Aid.

While Miss Helen Armstrong of Sarnia was on a visit to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Armstrong, she was engaged picking some flowers and playing along the road in front of her granparents' home, she was badly bitten about the shoulder and arm by a neighbor's dog. The child is now recovering from the bites and fright.

St. Mathew's Guild were entertained to a supper at the home of Mrs. George Bilton on their regular meeting day.

It was feared by many in this locality that a frost would pay a visit on Saturday night, but if so it was very light and no damage resulted. The fine rain that fell on Friday did much good.

Mrs. James Paul while on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Law of Chatham, fell on a step when entering the home and sustained a fracture of her right shoulder. Mrs. Paul will be unable to use her arm for some weeks.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

STRAWBERRY PRICES ARE AGAIN LOWER

Selling at 21 and 23 Cents Per Box—Small Market Today.

Strawberries took a noticeable drop on Tuesday owing to the fact that the housewives do not seem to be prepared to preserve them. In the early part of the morning they were selling at 27c and 30c, retail, but later dropped to 21c and 23c, while the wholesale price dropped from 25c and 27c to 19c and 20c.

There is a small market today on account of the farmers' annual picnic at Queen's Park. Only two loads of hay and a few hogs and fat sows, with a meagre supply of strawberries, were on hand. Fat sows, formerly selling at $3.50, sold in some cases at $4.

Chicago, June 8.—Wheat developed a little firmness today as a result of apprehension on the part of some traders that rains reported in the Southwest would tend to spoil the harvest. The fact, however, that the government crop report was due this afternoon operated to restrict business and to prevent any sharp changes in price. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged to ¾c lower, were followed by moderate gains all around, and then something of a reaction.

Corn hardened with which. fter opening ⅛c to ½c lower, the market rallied to the same as yesterday's finish.

Oats were governed by the action of other grain, starting ⅛c to ¼c off, but soon recovering.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, June 8—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Very mixed conditions existed at the opening of today's stock market. Prominent oils, steels and equipments were materially lower, but the junior oils, coppers and low rails strengthened. Within the first fifteen minutes, losses of 1 to 1½ points were registered by Mexican and Pan-American Petroleums, Royal Dutch, Crucible, Baldwin and American Tobacco. General Asphalt, Chino Copper, National Lead, Missouri Pacific and New Orleans, Texas and Mexico were higher by fractions to 1½ points. Preliminary quotations indicated further irregularity in foreign exchange.

1:30 p.m.—Call money rates dropped to 6½ per cent, the lowest quotation in many weeks, during the mid-session. The stock market ignored this favorable development, however, numerous speculative issues, particularly oils, independent steels and equipments extending these losses.

MAHARG CLAIMS THAT HE WAS MISQUOTED

Moose Jaw, June 8.—Hon. J. Maharg, now a member of the Saskatchewan Government, yesterday wired Minister of Railways Reid, claiming he was misquoted in a dispatch from Assiniboia on Sunday, which reported him as stating that a delegation from Southern Saskatchewan had been informed by Mr. Reid that they could not get additional railway facilities unless they could show a solid vote against the Martin Government during the forthcoming Saskatchewan elections.

Mr. Maharg in his telegram pointed out that the statement had been used by him only as a quotation, and that the original statement had been made at a political meeting recently by a member of the delegation mentioned.

Mr. Reid further claimed that no such conversation ever took place with any such delegation, or with Mr. Maharg personally, neither has Premier Martin or his government ever discussed with any delegation or with any members of the House of Commons, personally or otherwise. Mr. Maharg to this has replied: "Your statement that no such discussion took place with me personally is correct."

WILL REPEAL AGRICULTURAL ACT

London, June 8.—Canadian Associated Press.—The Government has decided to repeal the agricultural act of last year, which means that guaranteed prices to farmers and minimum wages to laborers, as well as powers to compel proper cultivation of land, are discarded, leaving only the clauses insuring security of tenure. The repeal of the act means decontrol of agriculture generally. In some districts the farmers have been threatening to strike against the present wages of farm labor.

ANTI-UNIONISTS ARE STILL HOPEFUL OF MODIFYING DECISION

Will Offer Amendment On Wednesday To Delay Union Five Years.

EIGHT RECOMMENDATIONS

Much Controversial Business Yet To Be Dealt With by the Assembly.

TORONTO, June 7.—By Canadian Press.—The anti-unionists have not abandoned hope of securing some modification of today's decision of the Presbyterian General Assembly on church union and an amendment, it is understood, will be moved at the Wednesday morning session to send the issue to the people again, and also in any case to bring union into effect only after a period of five years from the present time. The assembly will also have to deal with eight recommendations submitted by the union committee, the substance of which are as follows:

That the assembly arrange a conference with the Methodist and Congregational Churches as to the next step towards organic union.

That a committee be appointed to carry on the negotiations.

That a declaration be made by the assembly that Presbyterians joining union churches may continue to consider themselves in vital fellowship with the Presbyterian Church.

That the church boards be instructed to co-operate with similar bodies of the other churches in social work, education of students for the ministry, publishing church papers, etc.

That a committee be appointed to get into touch and co-operate with independent union churches.

That congregations be permitted to dispose of local church properties where union takes place.

Rights of Ministers.

That the assembly guarantees to continue the rights of ministers in good standing in united churches, and even in independent union churches when approved by the local presbytery.

That the assembly express gratitude to God for the growing spirit of Christian unity.

The assembly listened to a report tonight by Dr. M. A. McKinnon of Regina on the result of his survey of the educational institutions of the Presbyterian Church which he recently carried out. He had found that proper attention was not given to candidates for the ministry after their entry into the university. They should be taken more fully under the wing of the church, he thought.

Allowance Not Adequate.

The allowance of fifteen dollars a week to students for mission work in the summer seasons was not adequate, thought Dr. McKinnon, because a student's expenses each year while at the university now ran about six or seven hundred dollars. The church, he said, should give students for the ministry more assistance. The cost per graduate to the church was between $2,000 and $9,000, but the cost mattered little if good men were turned out. The standard of training in the colleges should, said Dr. McKinnon, be kept high and the slogan should be that the whole church must stand behind all the church colleges.

UNVEILING OF WAR MEMORIAL AT HALIBURTON

HALIBURTON, June 7.—The monument to the fallen soldiers of Haliburton was unveiled today in the presence of hundreds from the surrounding country. The ceremony was performed by W. R. Curry, past warden of the county, and short speeches were made by Gen. King, O. C. M. D. No. 3, Kingston; Rev. J. M. Whyte, Bobcaygeon, who was pastor of the union church here during the war, and Corp. Schofield, who spoke for the veterans of the 109th Battalion. Music for the occasion was furnished by the pipers of the 48th Highlanders, Toronto. The monument is a rough granite shaft about 14 feet high, bearing the names of those who made the sacrifice and was erected at a cost of about $3,000, the greater part of which was raised by the Women's Institute of the village.

TWO BRITONS LEAD PRO GOLF PLAY

GLEN EAGLES, Scotland, June 7.—Two British players, Edward Wray, who holds the United States open championship, and James McKenden, today led the field of professional golfers in the first day's play of the qualifying round in the two thousand guineas tournament. Each man turned in a card of 104 for the 27 holes.

Jock Hutchison of Chicago, and James Braid, the noted British player, each with 107 shared honors for third place. The other members of the United States contingent, aside from Hutchisin, required from 111 to 123 strokes to cover the Queen's course of nine holes, and the King's course of 18, the aggregate bogie for which is 116—36 for the nine holes, and 80 for the onger course.

NEW VICEROY WINS BELFAST BY SPEECH

Uncertain How President of Catholic Union Would Be Received.

THE WEATHER PERFECT

Union Jack and Stars and Stripes Intertwined Prominent in Decorations.

BELFAST, June 7.—When the viceroy and the vicerine were escorted into the city hall for the ceremonial they were received with honors by all the members present. The opening prayers were recited by the Protestant primate of all Ireland, the Most Reverend Charles Frederick d'Arcy, archbishop of Dublin, one of the first signatories of the Ulster Covenant.

The opening act of the Parliament was to elect Major O'Neill as speaker, his call to that office being unanimous. The new speaker, son of Lord O'Neill of Shane's Castle, is in direct line of succession of the O'Neill family whose name figures throughout many centuries of Irish history. The new speaker saw active service in Palestine during the war, and his elder brother, Charles O'Neill, who sat in Parliament for South Armagh, was the first member of the House of Commons to fall in action in June, 1915. The motion to appoint Major O'Neill was moved by William Coote.

Immediately upon the election of the speaker, the lord lieutenant convened a royal commission and approved the choice.

A striking feature of the city's decoration was the intermingling of the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes. The United States emblem was flown, amongst other places, from the city hall itself, close to which is the United States consul's office.

The weather for the occasion was perfect, and the entire function was carried through without a hitch.

Viceroy's Debut a Success.

Viscount Fitzalan's debut as viceroy is considered to have been a distinct success. Religious feeling runs high here, and there had been doubts as to how the president of the Catholic Union would be received. But these were dispelled, when, at the outset of his speech, the viceroy alluded to the difference in creed and made it the subject of humorous remarks.

His reference to the auxiliaries, and his denunciation of murder pleased the Belfast audience. A significant passage in his speech was the admission that the partition act was not perfect and needed amendment, and the expression of his belief that it would be amended in the not far distant future.

The speech of Viscount Fitzalan was delivered at a complimentary luncheon. He said:

Ireland Not Prosperous.

"Ireland is not prosperous. No country has a right to be prosperous when sin is rampant in large parts of it. Before we can hope to see Ireland prosperous the sin of murder must be eradicated.

'Babe' Ruth Sent To Jail, Fined For Speeding

TWO MEALS A DAY FOR JACK DEMPSEY

Atlantic City, N.J., June 8.—The noon dinner bell no longer rings for Jack Dempsey. The world's heavyweight champion today was placed on a restricted diet, and his eating was reduced to two meals a day, breakfast and dinner. How long this order of things will last depends on the speed and manner in which he takes off weight.

The order cutting Dempsey to two meals a day was issued following his enforced lay'off from boxing due to the reopening of the gash over his left eye. Lack of work with the gloves, his handlers figured, would not make it possible for the champion to reduce as scientifically as had been planned, so it was decided to eliminate the noonday meal.

Dempsey drubbed the punching-bags and shadow boxed for 35 minutes yesterday, in addition to taking some vigorous bending exercises.

CARPENTIER PERFECTING HIS DEFENCE TACTICS

Manhasset, N. Y., June 8.—Georges Carpentier is well aware of the fact that he will enter the ring on July 2 several pounds lighter than Dempsey, the champion, but he does not worry about it.

He has demonstrated to his own satisfaction, in sparring with Joe Jeannette and Paul Journee, that he can drop a heavy man with ease.

Jeannette, who tips the scales at 240 pounds, went down on Monday afternoon under the challenger's overhanded rights, and Journee, at 200 pounds, topples easily when Georges' right connects.

It is believed by his trainers that Carpentier has developed his knockout punch to a point of perfection. And now, when the barn doors are locked, Georges is perfecting his defence.

Georges is in the air when delivering the short right overhand blow, and he is working for a speedy recovery, knowing it to be dangerous business to be caught off balance.

MEUSEL LEADS IN HOMERS.

New York, June 8.—Emil Meusel of Philadelphia, again leads the National League in home runs. The Quaker outfielder brought his season's total to 10 yesterday, and is now one ahead of George Kelly of New York. Babe Ruth of the New York Americans, who has 16 to his credit, failed to hit safely in his one time at bat, and walked three times. Kenneth Williams of the St. Louis Americans made his ninth homer.

CHURCH IS NOT READY FOR UNION, SAYS LEICHLITER

Like An Army the Church Can Only Live by Conquest.

PETROLEA, June 7.—The regular quarterly Baptist Pastors' Conference of Middlesex and Lambton was held here today. The feature was a powerful address by Rev. G. A. Leichliter of London, on "The Crisis of the Church."

"The Church of God," said the speaker, "is like an army, and like a military army can only live by conquest. If the church loses the spirit of conquest it just as surely as an army ceases to function.

"The church and the world must continue to live at variance."

"The church is weakened by over-organization. The church is not an organization, but an organism. It is not a movement, but an energy. There are too many movements. The church has let the bars down too far.

"The inter-world church movement has been the greatest failure ever launched. Church union is another movement, but the church is not ready for union at the present hour."

CANUCK MARE, O'DEENA L., IS SURPRISE IN 2:17 TROT AT DETROIT

Airship Sails Gracefully For Two Heats, Then Acts Like Maude in Third.

DETROIT, June 7.—Racing of more than ordinary merit marked opening of festivities at Dexter Park this afternoon, when six horses won heats, three events on the card. Conditions were good, the track better than in other years, and attendance quite the largest the shortshippers have drawn in this city.

There were two tight finishes. In the 2:17 trot the Canadian mare, O'Deena L., scampered off with two heats, although Paul Dillard had been fancied in advance. In the third mile First Degree got up to O'Deena L., and in a driving finish beat her a scant nose.

The Airship sailed gracefully along for two heats, registering 2:13¼ in the second. In the third this gelding gave an imitation of Maud in the funny papers as they reached the first turn, and tried to kick Cares back to town. When he got straightened away he made up ground, but the heat was between Red Bingei and Sheriff Direct, the last named winning by a head.

Lacrosse Game at St. Marys Today Is Straw For Group

Will Tell Which Way Wind Blows If Stone Town Registers Big Win.

St. Thomas lacrosse team journeys to St. Marys today to meet the Stone Town ten, and this will give a pretty fair indication of what London's chances of beating their ancient enemies from the quarries are, as the Railway City team registered their first win of the season against the local Tecumsehs.

If St. Marys does the trick in an easy walk, then the London team have trouble ahead for them, but if the Quarry lads are forced to a close decision, the chances of London putting over a win when they meet in their first clash on June 22, have a pretty bright surface to them.

The Londoners still point to the fact that with two men off, they scored two goals in St. Thomas, as an argument against the St. Thomas win.

It must be admitted that any home that can go in and score goals with two men off, is some home and would bear a lot of watching under real conditions. As a matter of fact as far as a home is concerned, two men off practically means three, as the odd man is everything to a lacrosse attack.

The local fans are greatly interested in the result of the game at St. Marys today.

LUCAN AND KIRKTON WIN GROUP GAMES

Lucan Nine Won Theirs With 8 Runs in First Frame.

ST. MARYS, June 7.—Lucan and Kirkton nines were winners in the local group of the N. W. B. A. tonight. The Lucan team won their game here in the first inning against the local vets.' team, when they got to Westman for eight runs in that frame.

On Local Sand Lots

Dominion Express beat Canadian Express 9 to 8 in a regular game over at Tecumseh Park last night. The Canadian crew made a "claim" that they could beat the Dominion, but like most of the claims put in, it hasn't been proven yet.

The batteries: Canadian, Clark and McVicar; Dominion, Richmond and McGinnis.

Umpire—Hutchinson.

Broughdale Terriers beat Hyde Park nine last night at the Broughdale sandlot by something awful to nothing. A big crowd watched the game, including the occupants of the trolley from Toonerville that meets everybody at the Richmond street bridge—if they wait long enough.

The Broughdale club secretary ought to get busy on the phone and give his team some publicity.

The best part about the Broughdale diamond is the wire screen behind the backstop.

ST. MARYS WON.

St. Marys won a fast game from St. Peter's nine last night. Minier, in the box for St. Peters, was very weak and gave away in the fifth in favor of Ashwell, who held St. Marys for the balance of the game.

McIntyre, though touched for two hits, showed great control and never was in danger. St. Marys opened strong, getting two runs in the first, and managed to romp off with six runs in all. Cooney of St. Peters was by far the best man on the field.

BAKERS RAISE THE PRICE OF BREAD TWO CENTS A LOAF

Action Follows Conference of Woodstock Bakers On Monday.

WOODSTOCK, June 7.—The local bakers have fallen in line with the bakers of other nearby towns, and as the result of a conference held here yesterday the price of bread is today 12 cents a loaf, an advance of two cents. A London firm today sold bread for 10 cents, but the grocer handling the bread was tonight notified that the price would advance to comply with the price charged by the local bakers.

At the Oxford County Council session this afternoon the road superintendent's report was read, which showed that up to May 1, $59,238.81 had been spent already this year on county roads. H. Irwin, the district engineer on county roads, addressed the council and commended the road work being done in Oxford under Supt. Forbes. He advocated the establishing of a road committee which would have the deciding of the roads to be built. Altogether there are 285 miles of county roads in Oxford. Mr. Irwin would also like to see the establishment of a suburban road around Woodstock, which would include all roads leading into the city.

About 35 members of Lorgar Encampment, Tillsonburg, visited the local encampment of Woodstock Lodge, I. O. O. F. tonight. The degree team of 26 members from the visiting encampment put on the degree in a manner which drew very favorable comment. Speeches and songs followed the degree work, and before the visitors left for home refreshments were served.

METHODISTS MAY LAUNCH CAMPAIGN AGAINST GAMBLING

Hamilton Conference Commends Action of Attorney-General Raney.

HAMILTON, June 7.—The Hamilton conference held its closing session this morning at First Methodist Church. It was resolved that a strong appeal be made to the Dominion Government with a view of putting a stop to race track gambling. The action of Attorney-General Raney was again very favorably commented upon. If the Methodist Church as a whole adopts the same policy as that taken by the Hamilton gathering, a big campaign will be launched within the next few months to stop all forms of gambling.

A copy of this resolution has been sent the premier with a hope that he will take a decided stand against track gambling.

A Matter of Years.

The opinion of the conference deemed to be divided on the point of whether or not the work of the co-operation committee should be carried on as usual in view of the fact that the church union situation has practically reached a crisis. It was pointed out that the work of co-operation would all go for nothing if the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church now meeting in Toronto should take a vote opposing union.

'Even if the Presbyterians do take a vote favoring church union it will be a matter of at least four or five years before anything of a definite nature can be accomplished," declared Rev. George Barker of the co-operation committee.

Reduce Number of Appeals.

The conference decided that during the next year appeals for financial aid from sources other than their own bodies would be reduced to the minimum. It was shown that during the past year congregations had been burdened unduly with "days set apart for this and that financial appeal."

The stationing committee, after an all-night deliberation, gave their report. Many changes in stations throughout the conference were made.

In speaking of the advisability of retaining military rank when referring to ministers in the Methodist Church, Rev. T. L. Kerrush of this city said that they as a body were all soldiers of the Prince of Peace, and he considered that the denomination was sullied with the applications of military titles to the clergy.

Personal Health Service

(By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D., Noted Physician and Author.)

THE ASEPTIC TOUCH.

Antiseptic is rather old stuff now. The present word is aseptic. Antiseptic meant literally against poison, and referred to chemicals which had some real or imagined discouraging influence on the multiplication of disease germs. Few alleged antiseptics do discourage germs even outside of the body. None of these chemicals or drugs has any appreciable effect on the growth or multiplication of disease germs in the body tissues.

Aseptic means without poison and refers to the means and methods whereby disease germs are denied access to body tissues (not necessarily to the surface or to the open cavities such as the mouth, nose or intestine.

Asepsis is not only possible but practicable. Antisepsis is not only utopian but often harmful, for if the chemical or drug applied really does discourage or destroy germs, it is certain to discourage or destroy the cells of the tissue or part to which it is applied, for these delicate cells are less resistant to poisoning than are the cells which constitute disease germs. This explains why simple wounds and serious wounds are often so slow to heal—the unwise use or excessive use of antiseptics has a destructive influence on the delicate new cells. It suggests also the absurdity of the claim frequently made by the exploiters of "healing" remedies that their remedies heal anything as fast as nature undisturbed can heal. Understand, when I say "nature undisturbed" I mean scientific neglect, which is another word of saying asepsis.

To keep germs out of a wound or to deny them access to the body tissues is a much greater problem than the lay reader can comprehend. Asepsis is an art. Its technic and successful application is learned by the nurse in the operating room and in the lying-in chamber, and in the contagious disease wards. A great many doctors in practice not only do not practice asepsis, but do not even know the fundamental principles of this modern use of absolute cleanliness. The cleanliness is not mere white enamel and nickel plate display—that is often the dirtiest and most dangerous environment. It is the art of not touching or being touched by anything unclean. Thus a doctor who sits on the bedside betrays ignorance of asepsis. A nurse who lifts a "sterilized" instrument from the basin or tray with her fingers betrays her unfitness. A mother who wipes the nose of a child with coryze, then goes to attend to some other household duty without having first washed her hands, becomes a menace to every other member of the household.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Soda and the Teeth.

Kindly tell me whether soda will injure the teeth if used only once a week in brushing them. It seems to whiten them. Please tell me what would be good for a hard place on the bottom of the foot. MISS M. W.

Answer.—The occasional use of soda will not injure the teeth. Paint the callus once a day with a solution of 30 grains of salicylic acid in a solution of collodion. This may be had ready prepared in some drug stores under the title of salicylated collodion.

Local Anaesthetic.

What is meant by a local anaesthetic? Is ether internally necessary for an operation of internal hemorrhoids, or may this be given under a local anaesthetic? A. N. J.

Answer.—Local anaesthetic is anything which removes or stops the pain sense in a local region. Sometimes hemorrhoids may be operated on with a local anaesthetic, though a general anaesthetic is more commonly used.

Sweaty Feet.

I am 15 years old, and troubled quite considerably with sweaty feet. Could you recommend anything that will prevent it? MISS R. G.

Answer.—Stop washing your feet with warm water. Use only cold or cool water, but the more rarely they are washed the better. Freely sprinkle in the shoes and inside the toes of the stockings each second day some powdered alum. Wring the feet of the stockings out in a solution of as much boric acid as the water will take up, and let them dry out before wearing them. Go barefoot at every opportunity, and avoid tight shoes.

PLAYGROUNDS OF QUEBEC.

To the summer vacationist weary of the conventional summer resorts, the Province of Quebec makes an especially strong appeal. The old and the new are here found side by side. The visitor may tread where some of the great pages of history have been written in blood. The lover of the quaint and curious may search out places which are in the twentieth century, but are not of it. The artist may revel in the sight of the grandest of scenery amid the mountains, in the valleys and on the Gaspe Peninsula—by the sea. For the sportsman there are unrivaled forests and streams, lakes and shores. Within a day's journey of the cities are regions as yet so little disturbed that the moose, caribou and deer occasionally visit the farmyards of the settlers. Among the cities are the commercial capital of Canada, Montreal, a happy combination of New York and Paris, with a dash of New Orleans, giving it spice and flavor"—and the oldest city on the American continent, Quebec. The Canadian National-Grand Trunk Railway have issued a very handsome booklet descriptive of many of the attractive summer resorts in Quebec. It is profusely illustrated and contains a splendid four-color map of the Provinces of Quebec. A free copy for the asking from Canadian National-Grand Trunk agents, or from C. E. Horning, D. P. A., Toronto, Ont.

SHOULD EDUCATION BOARD PAY PART OF ELECTION EXPENSES?

City Council Holds That Schools Department Should Contribute $345.51.

Should the board of education pay a share of the expenses for conducting a civic election? It appears that the city council holds the opinion that a sum of $345.51 is the board's portion of expenses for the last contest, and the sum has not as yet been forthcoming, the city clerk points out.

Trustee Coleridge, chairman, at Tuesday's meeting of the board, vouchsafed the opinion that the city council was obligated to stand the expense and pointed out that as the board has so reduced its appropriation that no funds were now available to pay such a sum.

Trustee Smith desired to know if the city had ever been billed for the use of the schools during election. Secretary C. E. Tanner assured the meeting that such had been done at the rate of $7 per room, and credit had accordingly been given the board by the council. The question was referred to No. 1 committee for additional consideration.

The city council will be asked again to provide sewer accommodation for the Ealing school. It is claimed that this request was made last year without success.

TRUE BILL AGAINST ROY BRAMMER AND F. MASON RETURNED

Grand Jury, However, Refuses To Indict Roy Adair and R. S. Ford.

True bills on two charges were brought in by the grand jury during the opening session of the general sessions of the peace af the county court on Monday against Roy Brammer, an ex-constable of the London police force, and an alleged companion, Fred Mason, also of this city. The two men will be tried for theft and for obtaining money under false pretences.

Robert Roberts and William Boyle will also be tried on charges of robbery with violence. Treu bills were brought against them on the strength of the evidence compiled by the prosecution. They are accused of robbing and assaulting Thomas Summer on Waterloo street several weeks ago.

The grand jury refused to bring true bills against Roy Adair on two charges of theft preferred against him. He was accused of stealing a sum of money from the Commercial Credit Company and with stealing a Ford. No bill was brought against Robert S. Ford, who was charged with injuring a child by reckless driving. These three charges will, therefore, be dismissed without further action.

Two civil cases listed formerly to be tried by jury have been transferred to the non-jury list. They involve two actions brought against the city by private parties.

H. A. SABINE DIES AFTER ILLNESS OF 11 WEEKS' DURATION

Born in London 54 Years Ago —Lived Here Continuously.

A LEADING BUSINESSMAN

Founded Firm of Sabine & Co., Formerly Spittal & Sabine.

Never fully regaining his former health after an operation eleven weeks ago, H. A. Sabine, 46 Ridout street, a lifelong resident of London, and founder of the firm of Sabine & Company, died suddenly at his Springbank residence Tuesday morning at 8:30. He leaves a wife, four daughters, Mrs. Thomas Lamb, 85 Ridout street; Katherine, Grace and Harriet at home, and one son, Alvin G., also of London. Although out of the city this morning, the latter was recalled from Edmonton, Alberta, some weeks ago when his father was first overtaken by illness.

Born in this city 54 years ago, the late Mr. Sabine when a boy embarked upon his business career as an employee of the firm of John Birrell & Company, one-time wholesale drygoods merchants, whose place of business was at the corner of Richmond and York streets. Several years later he joined the firm of A. E. Pavey & Company in the capacity of traveling salesman. Later on in life he entered into partnership relations with the late Fred Spittal, and the firm of Spittal & Sabine, wholesale hatters, became subsequently known to Londoners for many years. Following the late Mr. Spittal's demise Mr. Sabine continued the business alone until the moment of his death.

Educated in London, the late Mr. Sabine resided in the city continuously. As a businessman he always enjoyed the enviable distinction of being consistently attentive to duty, and was moreover particularly known as a man of home-like tendencies. He attended St. James' Anglican Church, South London.

The funeral takes place Thursday afternoon from the residence to Woodland Cemetery.

He was born in Scotland, but at two years of age came to Canada with his parents who settled at Kilworth. He is survived by five daughters, Mrs. J. W. Long and Mrs. J. W. McKenzie of London, Miss Christina McLellan and Mrs. James Long at home, Mrs. A. Levie of Fernhill, and one son, Hugh McLellan at home.

The funeral will be held Thursday morning to Poplar Hill cemetery.

WEIR THREATENS SUITS; MRS. TANNER SCOLDS NEWSPAPERS

Truant Officer Alleges "Defamatory and Slanderous Statements" Were Made.

SAYS HE WAS MISQUOTED

"Flimsy Defence," Replies Trustee Rowe—"Exercise Judgment," Says Trustee Coleridge.

Although his opponents expressed themselves as willing to receive what they termed a partial explanation from him, Dr. George S. Weir, attendance officer of city schools, asserted at Tuesday's meeting of the board of education that the controversy arising from his alleged detrimental criticism of the Technical School, was far from being concluded. "It is my intention," he declared, with undoubted emphasis, "to institute suit against certain persons for defamatory and slanderous statements recently uttered by them against me. At the time in question that I referred to the Technical School I was speaking as a citizen of London, and had no idea that the interview would be published. Furthermore, my remarks have been misquoted. My words were that if a boy after spending three years at the Technical School should receive no credit for the same as apprenticeship, then I failed to see where the boy had benefited. This is not criticizing the school. As a matter of fact it is the unions who make the discrimination. I'm not attacking the school, and in fact I was decidedly in favor of diverting the commercial classes to the Technical School.

"And with reference to the statement that I suggested turning the Technical School into an east end high school, I may say that such an utterance can never be attributed to me. However, as a heavy taxpayer in the city of London I retain the right to express my private opinion, and if, after eighteen years of continuous service, the board feels that I am incompetent, all I can say is for them to get some person else. I may add, however, that I shall never canvass people for the Technical School."

"Do you deny the interview?" questioned Trustee Rowe.

"I most certainly deny the correctness of it," was the reply. Trustee Rowe at this juncture moved the adoption of the resolution passed at Monday night's meeting of the advisory industrial committee of the board, that the attack upon the Technical School by Dr. Weir was uncalled for, and contrary to the conditions as they exist.

Blame the Newspapers.

At this moment Trustee Mrs. C. E. Tanner was impelled to rise to voice her opinion that if any rebuke was deemed necessary the onus for the entire affair should rest on the newspapers. "Dr. Weir said that he was speaking as a private citizen and not as an officer of the board," she insisted, "and you are aware how the papers garble the reports. Why, if the newspapers printed the proper account of our meetings during the time plans were being made for the Collegiate Institute, there would have been less hard feeling among people in certain quarters of the city."

Trustee Rev. A. A. Bice next rose, and briefly expressed his determination to vote against the resolution: "I think Trustee Tanner is right," he asserted, "and as for the newspapers, we have all read our speeches at different times, and you realize the situation."

No Right to Criticize.

"No person can retain the right, even if it is Trustee Bice, to criticize the merits of the Technical School," retorted Trustee Rowe. "Any person who desires to do so should obtain some first-hand information upon the subject before he hands out criticisms that will be read by the public. Principal Beal has sufficient evidence, however, to counteract the visionary opinions of these people.

Dr. Weir's claim that he was speaking as merely a citizen of London and not as an officer of the school is a very flimsy defence. He is still an employee of the ratepayers of the city of London; people who are vitally interested in the Technical School. However, I am prepared to accept his partial explanation of this interview with the press."

"I'm not saying anything about the Technical School," ventured Trustee Bice at this point.

"We have evinced no desire for Dr. Weir or any other person to canvass for the school," declared Principal Beal. "That is not the point. We do not wish any person canvassing against us."

Should Exercise Judgment.

Although expressing opinion that he believed Dr. Weir would be the last person to injure the institution, Trustee Thos. Coleridge, chairman, thought that some discretion should be always shown and suggested that Dr. Weir be asked to exercise judgment in his duties in the future.

NEW DENTAL CLINIC NEEDED FOR PUPILS OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Dr. Fuller Says Fifty Per Cent of Children Receive No Attention.

That another dental clinic should be established for the public schools was the keynote of Dr. E. W. Fuller's report before the board of education Tuesday afternoon.

"Over 50 per cent of the children of the city of London receive absolutely no dental attention," declared Dr. Fuller, "while 78 per cent of the total pupils show defective teeth. No better work is done in the city than at the general clinic at the Alexandra School and the only trouble is that there are more cases to attend to than can be handled by one clinic. The general clinic can accommodate between four and five hundred pupils a year, while there is always a waiting list of some dozens. We certainly require another clinic to enable us to attend to every child in the schools."

Dr. Fuller explained the usage of the dental card system in the schools and in response to inquiry from the board, regretted to report, he said, that the card report sent to the parents was not returned in more than 25 per cent of the instances.

Consideration Promised.

Trustee Thos. Coleridge, chairman, while agreeing that the importance of dental work for the children was deeply appreciated advised that the board was handicapped at this moment by a lack of funds, but assured Dr. Fuller that the appeal for another clinic would certainly receive the utmost consideration.

Replying to an inquiry from Trustee Edward Smith, Dr. Fuller explained that should a new clinic be established, Riverside School would likely be chosen by reason of its proximity to West London.

That a report should show fully 50 per cent of the school children receiving no attention at all was indeed regrettable, commented Trustee Tanner and asked Dr. Fuller's assistance in pursuing the campaign among the various mothers' clubs.

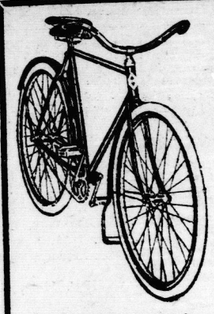

Summer School Passed.

The recommendation from No. 3 committee that a summer school, as outlined by Principal Mooney, be organized for the first and second year pupils who fail in the June examinations, was passed by the board. The organization of the classes and the securing of teachers has been left to Principal Mooney and Trustee A. A. Langford, chairman of No. 3 committee. The classes will open the last week in June, and continue for five weeks after. The cost has been estimated at about $400.

Despite the fact that the board has no authority to compel attendance, it is felt that the majority of those who fail will avail themselves of this only opportunity of preparing themselves for the coming year.

The committee's recommendation to accept the offer of the Kingston Construction Company for certain plumbing and heating fixtures was favorably received, as was an offer by the McClary Company to purchase the electric stove salvaged from the collegiate fire.

The financial accounts of the various committees were read and approved. Resignations of three teachers were accepted. Hazel Guest, W. H. Elliott and Frank Wray. A number of applications for positions on the teaching staffs and as janitor were referred to No. 1 committee.

LITTLE GIRL'S LEG BADLY BROKEN

Fell Off Truck and Wheel Passed Over Her Leg.

DUART, June 7.—Altha, 5-year-old daughter of Thomas A. Ford, met with a serious accident on Saturday, while riding with her father on a truck, loaded with water. In some way she fell, and the rear wheel passed over her leg, crushing both bones close to the hip. Dr. Macpherson, who was called, rushed her to Chatham, and under the X-rays the full extent of the injury was learned. The injured limb was placed in a plaster cast and the child brought back to her home.
