Germany's Entrance Into the World Body Is Imperative, He Declares.

Geneva, Sept. 4.—Prime Ministe MacDonald of Great Britain, speaking with notable feeling and force-fulness, declared to the assembly of the League of Nations today that Great Britain saw the only hope of future peace in the extension of the policy of arbitration and the development of the League of Nations.

The British statesman warned the world against regarding national security as merely a military problem based on the predominance of force, and he urged the convocation of a disarmament conference in Europe attended by representatives of all countries, including the United States and Germany.

In his address the British prime minister declared that Germany cannot remain outside of the league.

The best way of handling the prob lem of aggression, he said, was to set up a court or courts of arbitration. Before he began his speech, which was delivered before a crowded hall, he conferred with the representatives of the British dominions, outlining to them the main issues he would follo Premier MacDonald mounted the costrum of the assembly at 11 o'clock to begin his address, amid tremendous explause, all the delegates standing in their places.

During his address he declared that the British Empire would do every-thing in its power to widen the influence and prestige of the League of Nations.

Insisting that Great Putter intensely interested in the problem of security, Mr. MacDonald added:

"But we do not believe that military alliances can bring security. Such alliances, like mustard seeds which finally produce a tree would bring the world back to the situation which existed before 1914. Pacts based on military alliances would break up the league, and certainly cause great secessions. Depends on League.

Through the league he said it was hoped to lay surely and finally the foundations of peace. The future happiness of the world must be based on agreements reached through the gue. Warning against attempting base peace upon force, he said: "If we cannot devise a system of arbitration, then do not let us fool

"Nevertheless," he added, "the proposed trade treaty between Canada

Mr. Robb was in a belligerent mood. He replied to an interpellation by Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, that if there was unemployment in the border cities, it was for the same reason that there was unemployment elsewhere. Gross Incompetence Is Charged by Percy Ashton, 45 Victor Street.

BENNETT SILENT

Charges of incompetence are made against one of the valuators of the city assessment department today by Percy Ashton, of 45 Victor street.

He claims that the valuator a few days ago came to his house, sat on the veranda for a few minutes, raised the assessment of his house $500, and went away. When Mr. Ashton complained to the assessment department of this summary fashion of raising the assessed value of his house, the valuator came back withing twenty-four hours and made a thorough inspection of the house. The assessment, however, remained with the extra $500.

"My complaint as a ratepayer," says Mr. Ashton. "is that this valuator is not competent to carry out his duties, and that in justice to other ratepayers some other valuator should be obtained by the department. Another complaint is that the system of assessing houses now in vogue is not as efficient as it should

KICK-OFFS

The two soccer elevens of the C. N. R. paid a visit to Merritton on the holiday, and both were beaten, the seniors losing a splendid game by 2—1, and the Juniors being on the losing side by 5—2. The game between the seniors was one of the finest exhibitions of soccer seen in the Slab Town for some time. At half time the locals led by 1—0 Rutherford being the scorer. The same player scored again in the second half, while Astles scored the goal for the Railroaders. The game ending: Merritton 2, C. N. R. 1.

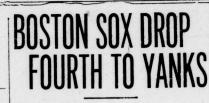

Both London teams were royally feted by the Merritton fans, and it was de-cided to make the affair an annual one. That Merritton soccer fans are keen soccer enthusiasts goes without saying, as the Railroaders were loud in their praise of the treatment received at the hands of the people of the Slab

The London and District has decided not to enter a team in the Plenty Cup competition this season.

The game between the Guelph team and London did not come up to expectations, as only a few of the team originally selected by the district, were able to play, but credit must go to the Babes for the display they gave, and they well deserved to win. Jack Herring was easily the best man on the London team and he scored their lone tally.

FLASHY IN SPOTS

A couple of handfuls of fans were all that went over to Tecumseh Park yesterday afternoon to bid the Tecumsehs farewell and witness them losing the third out of a fourgame series by a 5-2 count.

It was like so many of the games the Tecs have lost this season that the last impression of the team is much the same as that which came with their first few appearances here—a most baffling one. When they were good they were good, and when they were bad they were awful, and then there were the in-between games, of which one was yesterday's, when they did good enough work to overshadow the faults, in the minds of the fans, if not in the statistics.

Support Wobbly.

Coogan and Bonnelly hurled a nice duel, but the former's bad support enabled the latter to tuck away his first win since joining the Hamilton team. He did it after offering London splendid scoring opportunities, three of which occurred in the seventh, eighth and ninth innings.
Baker kicked in the whole three misplays chalked up against the team yesterday, two of them in the ninth, paving the way for two Hamilton runs, which cinched matters and disheartened an effective London

After London tied it up in the sixth, Baker's misplay put Windle safe on first to start the seventh. White sacrificed him to second, Bonnelly's ground out put him on third, from where he scored on Froman's hit to deep short. Walks to Kernan and Baker and Coogan's single filled the bases in the London half with two gone, but Beatty uppercut a short fly into Schwab's hands. In the eighth, with two gone, Eiffert doubled. Gehringer stung a hit down at second which Windle raced after, and, although he lost the runner at first, Eiffert had overrun third, and was pinched off by the play relayed with one gone in the Ham ninth Baker's high peg put Windle on second. White scored him with a single to right, making second himself. He made third on Baker's muss up of Bonnelly's bounce, and came home on Froman's sacrifice fly.

Kernan Singles.

Kernan started the ninth with a ingle to deep short, but Schwab cut him off at second on Coogan's choice. andquist singled, sending Coogan to third, but both runners were left narooned when Baker took three trikes and Beatty was thrown out by Roper.

Doubles by McGee and Schwab to Eiffert's right field pasturage in the first inning with Gleich's single sandwiched in between, gave the Hams two runs and the only thing they eally earned. In the fifth, singles by Eiffert and Kernan coined a run. Coogan drew a walk, but Sandquist grounded out

GEORGE LYON THIRD

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Sept. 3 .- The seventh annua championship of the Canadian Senior ociation opened this afternoon on the course of the Toronto Club, and, as was expected, the number of competitors broke the previous record of 185 by a considerable margin, as 148 players turned in cards for the eighteen holes that comprise the first half of the championship, and nearly a dozen others failed to make a return. The second half will be played tomorrow, and the championship is still an open matter, as there are ten players with scores of 85 or better, and the two leaders, F. A. Parker of Lambton and P. D. Ross of Royal Ottawa, had cards of 82, while George S. Lyon of Lambton, six times champion, was third with 83. Five players have 84's and two have 85's.

The following are today's scores divided:

With Fifth Position This Year

Talks More About Annual Improvement in Athletics Than Previous Pennants and World's Series Accomplishments-Says Yankee Players Are Aging.

New York, Sept. 3.—While Miller Huggins, Tyrus Cobb, Stanley Harris and George Sisler are worrying about the financial reward and fame of piloting a world's series ball club, Connie Mack leans against the second division background and talks about being satisfied with a nitth place ball club for 1924. Last spring the manager of the Athletics had visions of becoming the pennant runner-up. Things have changed since then, and now he says: "I want to beat a team percentage of .454 and get fifth place."

For the last five seasons the House of Mack has shown a steady improvement. He wants to keep up the work: He hasn't forgotten his prosperous days when he was the man everybody was looking up to and interviewing on the world's series events, but today he really talks more about the annual improvement in his organization than his previous pennants and world's series accomplishments.

He has helped me because he is a left-handed hitter. Joe Hauser is the best first baseman in the league. That Lamar and Hauser J have the wallog from the left side of the plate. Al Simmons will be a real fence-buster next year. Welch and Miller give me was to we send his welch and silloway.

"I did considerable experimenting with third base and second base, and finally found the winning combination with Dykes at third and Bishop at second. So I feel that I am set for 1925 with everything but some good pitching."

Mack then dabbled int osome season's statistics to show how his club has been playing almost as snappy ball as any team in the league since the early part of July. At one time he was last with a mark of 22-40. He compared this first baseman in the league.

915—Eighth 43 109 28:
"You will notice," explained Mack that starting with 1920 we have advanced. That was a terrible club in 919, I admit, but it is worth something know that you are going forward a to know that you are going forward and not slipping in the wrong direction. "I have not entirely lost sight of this year's pennant lace, but my own ambition is to get fifth place and surpass 404 for our team play. We were eight in 1929, advanced to Seventh, landed sixth last year, and now I want ofthe place.

SMALL BOY KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTO AT INGERSOLL

Since edging his way out of the athletics sees the Yankees getting close to the rocky edges. They are getting close to the rocky edges.

Do you know," spoke Mack, "that "Do you know," spoke Mack, "that there are only eight pitchers in the league today who were pitching ten years ago—in 1915, when I dropped from the top to the bottom?
"And of those eight, four are members of the New York Yankees' staff. The eight are: Waiter Johnson, George Dauss, Urban Faber, Allan Russeil, Sam Jones, Bob Shawkey, Joe Busn and Herb Pennock.

Jauss, Urban Faber, Allan Russell, Sam Jones, Bob Shawkey, Joe Bush and Herb Pennock.

"Those four veterans are due to slip, and when they do I'm going to laugh at the worries of the Yankees trying to rebuild. See these gray hairs—most of them came in 1916. Mark this down: I had a fellow named Nabors. He won exaactly one game and lost nineteen that season. Sheehan, another youngster I was trying to develop, won one game and lost nineteen that season. Sheehan, another youngster I was trying to develop, won one game and lost sixteen. Thus, you see, I had two pitchers who won two and last 35 games.

"I am not saying that the Yankees will duplicate this record, but when Bush, Shawkey, Pennock and Jones depart, the Yanks will have a job on their hands finding four pitchers of the same class to fill their shoes."

Although fence-busting continues to be the rage, Mack insists that the value of pitching, steady and smart pitching, has not been lost. pitching, steady and smart pitching, has not been lost. And he swung over to the development of his own pitchers in talking about his club for the next

Had he but gone with these so of his to his brother, or had he but been able to abate them sufficiently to allow reason to prevail, he must have been brought to understand how much furbrought to understand now much tarther they carried him than was at all justified by probability. Oliver would have shown him this, would have told him that with the collapsing of the charge against himself no fresh charge could be leveled against any there, that no scrap of suspicion had ever attached to Lionel, or ever could. But Lionel dared not seek his brother in this mat-ter. In his heart he was ashamed of his fears; in his heart he knew himself his fears; in his heart he knew himself for a craven. He realized to the full the hideousness of his selfishness, and yet, as before, he was not strong enough to conquer it. In short, his love of himself was greater than his love of his brother, or of twenty brothers.

A Point To Bite On

(Los Angeles Times) Now a dentist is being sued for $20,000 be cause he violently opened the mouth of a patient juvenile court, without any salary, through its Snuffing out human lives to clip the fraction of and wrenched from it a set of false teeth for which the lady had failed to pay. If a patient neglects to pay for his artificial incisors in whom does the title lodge? Under commercial practice if a creditor can get possession of property which has not been paid for he may be sustained by the courts. But in this case the dining-room furniture becomes attached to the person and is not readily divorced. It will be quite a relief when the court decides whether a man's false teeth are his own or belong to the dentist-

WHOLE WHEAT BREAD. The campaign for bread made of the whole grain of the wheat is not only rampant in America but in Europe.

The efforts of millers to please the eye by whitening the flour, and to do so by extracting all things that interfere with its perfect color, have resulted in taking away from the flour those elements of the grain which are necessary for the sustenance of the human body. A book, recently published in England, holds that cancer, which is increasingly prevalent in civilization, is due to devitalized food, and that the best cure for this mysterious and horrible disease is the preventive influence of whole wheat or whole meal bread. Doctors are not yet agreed upon that to which the germ of cancer is due, but it is the general impression that it must be due to malnutrition of some sort, at least that malnutrition furnishes it a favorable soil on which to work.

Another terrible disease is that of blood poisoning, such as took off the son of President Coolidge. It is averred, in some circles, that blood poisoning only attacks those whose vitality is weakened by under-nourishment and that the continuous use of the products of devitalized products is favorable to blood poisoning. Whatever conclusion we may reach as to the influences which react favorably to these two diseases it cannot be doubted that the continued use of devitalized flour is not beneficial to the race. We have seen considerable instances recently of attempts to popularize whole wheat flour and the products of the same. Wheat is the natural food of the human body and probably more people live upon the products of wheat than upon any other one thing except those

It is established that devitalized rice, or polished rice, brings on the disease known as beri-beri. It is also well known that the disease of pellagra is caused by the eating of food products made of devitalized corn flour. Just what nourishes the human body is among the secrets of that mysterious science known as organic chemistry, but there are considerable grounds for believing that the use of whole wheat flour or the use of the whole grain in some way, is beneficial and that the use of devitalized flour, or flour made white in the endeavor to make it pretty, is responsible for diseases of more than one kind.

In the interest of good health, therefore, the use of whole wheat

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Dependable Help to Mothers

Port Greville, N. S.—"I took your medicine for a terrible pain in my side and for weakness and headaches. I seemed to bloat all over, too, and my feet and hands were the worst. I am the mother of four children and I am nursing my baby—the first one of four I could nurse. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound be-fore the baby's birth a vegetable. fore the baby's birth, so you can see how much it helped me. I cannot praise it too highly for what it has done for me. I took all kinds of medicine, but the Vegetable Compound is the only one that has helped me for any length of time. I recommend it to any one with troubles like mine and you may use my letter for a testi-monial."-Mrs. ROBERT MCCULLEY, Port Greville, Nova Scotia.

Before and after childbirth the nother will find Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a blessing. Many, many letters are received giving the same sort of experience as is given in this letter. Not only is the mother benefited, but these good results pass on to the child. No harmful drugs are used in the preparation of this medicine—just roots and herbs—and it can be taken in safety by the nursing mother.

98 out of every 100 women reported benefit from its use in a recent canvass among women users of this medicine.

Peter Rabbit Tells Jenny Wren of Mrs. Blacksnake's Stolen Eggs

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS. Having learned the surprising fact that, while the babies of some members of the Snake family were hatched from eggs, the babies of other members of the family were born alive. Peter Rabbit began to wonder about other neighbors. Because he had discovered that Mrs. Blacksnake laid eggs he had take, it for granted that all kinds of Snakes came into the Great World from eggs Little Mrs. Garter Snake had in Little Mrs. Garter Snake had in-formed him that her babies were born alive just as were Peter's own, that it was the same way with Rattlesnake. Now he wondered was the same way in the Tuitle fain.

Peter knew that the babies of Spotty the Turtle were hatched from eggs buried in the sand. He had seen Mrs. Slow Poke the Box Turtle bury her eggs. So he had taken it for granted that all Turtles did the same thing. But now a doubt crept into his mind. If some snakes laid into his mind. If some snakes land eggs and some didn't, why shouldn't it be the same way with the Turtle family? Why shouldn't it be the same way with the birds? The idea sked Peter.

How Jenny Wren did laugh! "What creation!" she cried. "Of course

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box A Straight-From-the-Shoulder Talk to Over-Strict Mothers-How to Get Away From a Cruel Step-Mother - The Too-Affectionate

Girl Who Wants Her Fiance To Be a Kissing Bug.

Dear Miss Dix-I am an only child, and as far back as I can remember have associated only with people ten, fifteen and twenty years older than I am. I have been expected to enjoy the things they did. I have never been allowed to dance, or play cards, or to go to parties, or have boys come to see me, or do anything but stay at home and be an old maid, although I am only twenty years old. In the last two years, whenever I expressed a desire to go with the boys, I have been laughed at and kidded in my home until I did not feel like letting them come. Whenever I visit out of town I always have comp ny, but never yet have I had a date in my own home. As a result of all this I lead a very lonesome life,

Mother still clings to old-fashioned ideas, and even these are limited, so far as amusement for young people is concerned. I do not wish to do anything wild, but I do wish I could get her to see the modern viewpoint. LONESOME GIRL.

Answer: I do not know of any more pathetic individual than that of an only child who is brought up in a household of old people with fusty, mid-Victorian ideas, and who is expected to do just exactly as mother thinks she did when she was a girl. For mother has forgotten that when she was young she was hungry for pleasure, and that she was boy crazy, and that she wanted to dress like other girls did and go with the crowd and have a part in all the fun. She didn't enjoy the instructive conversation of her elders in those days nor prefer knitting socks for the heathen to going to parties. But she thinks she did, and so she forces a bleak, premature age on her daughter, which cuts her out of all the pleasures that belong to her time of life. Of course, all mothers think that they have a divine commission to be their daughter's consciences and decide what is right and wrong for them to do. So if mother happens to be narrow and rigid, and prejudiced in her views, it makes it pretty hard for the girl. You have to do in Rome as the Romans do if you want to play about with young Romans. So if mother won't let daughter dance and thinks card playing is a sin and the automobile a devil wagon, why, it leaves daughter stranded high and dry on the barren rocks of home, which is hard

Hostesses won't invite her because she is a white elephant on their hands at a party. Boys fight shy of her and never take her anywhere because she doesn't fit in modern society. And so the poor girl has to spend her evenings communing with our best authors, instead of having a normal time talking foolishness to boys and girls of her own age.

It is a pity that somebody can't jolt these mothers awake and make them see that we are living in a new world, with new standards of value, new standards of conduct, and that most of their old-lashioned theories of what a girl should do have gone into the discard, and that they have no right to impose their hide-bound restrictions on their daughters, But when mother won't change and a girl sees herself not only being cut out of a good time, but being done out of any chance to marry, and being jockeyed into a drab, blind alley that ends in a spinster's retreat, she is certainly justified in rebelling against maternal restrictions and making a fight for her right to happiness. The overstrict mother is just as bad a mother as is the neglectful mother who doesn't look after her girls at all. Dear Miss Dix-I am a girl fifteen years old. My mother died when I was ten years old, and my father married again. My stepmother is very unkind to me, and I am asking you for advice about what to do.

When we are in a bad place, my dear, the brave thing an' the wise ining is to fight out of it. We can always do this if we have the grit and courage to fight. By this I do not mean for you to fight your stepmother. That will get you nowhere, and every time you have a quarrel with her it simply makes your lot worse and fills you with bitterness and hatred. So get along with her as well as you can. Give in to her and save all of your strength for fighting the conditions that surround you and fitting yourself to get away from her as soon as possible. the frying pan into the fire. A fifteen-year-old girl is like a little jost motor trip to London, lamb when she is out in the world alone, and there are thousands of

And don't be foolish enough to get married while you are still a child in order to get away from a cruel stepmother. You are too young to know what you want in a husband, and you might find yourself married to a man from whom you could not get away who would be even unkinder to you than your stepmother is. And anyway, you would have all the burden of wifehood and motherhood thrust on you while you are nothing but a child

The first thing for you to do is to study very hard and try to educate yourself, because the more you know and the better education you have the better position you will be able to get when you start out into the world to seek your fortune. Put all of your mind and your thoughts on your books and you will be amazed to find quickly the time goes and how much happier you will be, for work is the cure-all for every sorrow.

Don't spend any time pitving yourself because you are a little, unfortunate stepchild. Whenever you are tempted to dwell on that just run to your books and concentrate on a history lesson, and you will forget your own troubles in learning about the sorrows of the great people who had much more serious things than bad stepmothers to endure.

Then decide what you want to do to make your own living.

what occupation you want to follow, and fit yourself to do that so thoroughly that you will be able to command a high salary. And before you know it you will not be a poor, little, persecuted stepchild. You will be a happy, independent, successful woman DOROTHY DIX Dear Miss Dix-I have a very affectionate nature and am engaged to a man who I know loves me dearly, but who is not demonstrative. He likes me to make a fuss over him, but often when I go up and kiss him while he is reading he will gently push me away without realizing what he is doing.

It would kill him, and me, too, to have our engagement broken, but I am afraid that his coldness will make me miserable. What shall I do? Try to be less maudlinly sentimental and use a little common sense. You will certainly bore your husband to extinction if you are always caressing him, and he will get so that he will loathe your kisses if you kiss him in season and out of season.

Marriage isn't a petting party. It is doing one's duty. It is being kind, and faithful, and true. And if a man gives that sort of manifestation of his love he doesn't have to be a kissing bug. DOROTHY DIX

CANADA BREAD.

Contrary to reports the sales of the preferred shares of the Canada Bread Company, Limited, at par yesterday did not establish a new high for the stock. About the middle of July last sales of Canada Bread preferred were recorded on the local exchange at par.

A dividend of 1% per cent will be paid on the preferred shares of the Canada Bread Company October 1, and the stock will go ex-dividend about the security of the dividend payment.

Bread preferred is a non-cumulative security and dividends have been paid regularly over a period of years. The earnings for the year ended June 30, 1924, were equal to 31.9 per cent, while the surplus at credit of profit and loss is equal to 73.6 per cent, of the total par value of $1,250,000 preferred shares outstanding.

OUTLOOK FOR VICTORIES. Canadian exchange at par, and a large volume of renewal money waiting here there seems no reason why all the loan should go to New York.

The berry market is nearly over, only a few boxes of blueberries being noticed this morning, and the prediction has it that Saturday will see the last of this coveted and delicious fruit, which tastes so good in the winter time, when made into jam and jelly.

Tomatoes and cucumbers also show the effects of time, the offerings of these being on the wane for the last week or so.

With an unexpected good demand and a fair price offered, six loads of hay were brought to the city this morning. The price offered was from $10 to $13 per ton, although the prevailing price was $12 to $13.

New oats are now quoted at $1.35 per cwt, this being due to the large quantity this year, and the fact that farmers have just completed their harvest. Yards. Canadian Press Despatch.

Right Oil Gives More Power YOU can put in wrong oil and cut down the power of your engine. In the Wasson Motor Check the power of one car fell from 31 horse power to 10, because the oil was too heavy. Note the chart reading. The right oil will always build up power. The wrong oil acts as a power extinguisher. Put fresh oil. the right grade, a fine oil like Havoline, in your motor and you bring back the power!

Power for that hill, power you can feel or miss. Power that will mean less gasoline and the utmost satisfaction of your car.

Prove it to yourself. Have the old oil drained and fill up with Havoline, the power oil.

EARLY IN DECEMBER

Bylaw Passed Announcing Vote To Be Taken First Monday in Month.

Special to The Advertiser.

Strathroy, Sept. 3 .- Municipal elections in Strathrov will be held on the first Monday in December, with nomination meeting the last Monday in November, according to a bylaw put through the council last evening at the regular monthly meeting. There was little business to dispose of. Two petitions were presented, one from the residents of Salisbury street for lights and road improvements, which was referred t joint committee of the fire and water and road committees, the other from James Broom for a light near his residence on Centre Lane, referred to the fire and light committee. In connection with the Salisbury street petition, one of the reasons urged upon the council was the prevalence

f motor car petting parties along this dark highway. Chief of Police Wilson reported that many young men liable for poll tax were endeavoring to evade payment claiming to be members of the militia. The chief was instructed to militia. The chief was instructed to collect from every one who did not produce a certificate from the commanding officer of the 26th regiment, A report of the court of revision was approved, allowing the appeal of Libby, McNeil & Libby for rebate of taxes for last six months of this year as they have removed their business, and of the Canadian National Ra way against their business assessment for the express office, as been held by the courts the Canadian National Railway is not liable for business assessment as an express company. The appeal of Miss W. Buchanan, one of the collegiate teachers, who left at the end of June, against income tax, claiming she was a resident of London, was allowed in part. The court allowed her credit or last six months of the year, and the amount of income tax she may pay in London. The complaint of the citizens on Maitland Terrace against the stench which is coming from the drain from the Dominion Canners factory along that street was turned over to the road committee. Mayor Wright was empowered to allow the use of the main street for a street dance on the last night of the fair. The ladies of the hospital a, auxiliary expect to sponsor the dance, proceeds to be used to furnish the general ward in the new wing to the British Trade Union Council Will Have Control in All Disputes.

FORM UNITED FRONT

Associated Press Despatch. London, Sept. 3.—The significance of the decision of the British Trade Union Congress at Hull yesterday to extend the powers of the general council by giving it greater control over individual unions in the case of industrial disputes, and additional power to intervene in disputes, is being much commented on. The deci-sion is regarded as investing the general council, whose membership numbers 32, with powers not given to any single body of men since the Labor movement was launched a century ago.

The proposal to increase the council's power was first made three years ago, but it was then rejected by a majority of three to one.

The new rule does not merely permit the council to take the initiative in any industrial dispute, whether it is requested to interfere or not, but authorizes it to render the union or unions involved in the dispute all moral and material support possible. A. J. Cook, general secretary of the Miners' Federation, who seconded the resolution yesterday, granting the council the extension of power, in n interview here today said the coun cil can go any length without calling for a ballot or consulting the rank and file of the workers chiefly con-cerned in a dispute, and can ever call a general strike at any time, and it can impose levies on all the unions for running any strike it likes. Ben Tillett, Labor M.P. for North Salford, however, takes a less drastic view of the resolution. He expresses the opinion that individual members of the unions will be able to check the power of the council.

Lieut.-Commander J. M. Kenworthy Liberal M.P. for the Central Division of Kingston-Upon-Hull, who is attending the Trades Congress as a guest, says with reference to the cour cil's powers that the united front pre-sented by the trade unions is now the greatest spectre the employe rs of Great Britain have ever confronted

PROBE AUTHORITY OF SPEED OFFICER

Complaints Registered Against Constable Working From London To Pt. Stanley.

St. Thomas, Sept. 3 .- Although classed as a county issue, the city aldermen registered a complaint against the employment of Special Patrol Officer Baker, who operates on the London and Port Stanley road. and whose activities have brought many St. Thomas, Port Stanley and London people into police court, dur-ing the last week and a half, on charges of reckless driving and speed-

Alderman Meehan, who opened the discussion told the council that a Londoner, Mr. Ashplant, had been fined in court today on the evidence given by a special officer. He desired to know under whose authority employed, and if his word was to be believed rather than respectable citizens. He cited other instances where well-known local men had been fined on the evidence given by "this man."

Alderman Meehan believed that drunken speeders should be convicted and men who drive without any conscience, but it was time that a lot of these reliable citizens who are being summoned into court were protected. Mayor Sloggett agreed to ascertain who was employing the officer.

DOCTOR POSE COVERS ACTIVITIES OF ROBBER

Peterboro Seeks Mysterious Dr MacDonald Following Losses of Merchants.

Canadian Press Despatch. Peterboro, Sept. 3.-The Peterboro

police today sent out a call for the arrest of a man who last week signed "Dr. R. J. MacDonald, Toronto" in the register of a local hotel. He is wanted for house-breaking and theft, having completely fooled the medical men of the city, the hotel-keeper and others, leaving them all with worthless checks ranging from $5 to $2. 000, and taking with him Dr. King's set of surgical instruments. In the hotel he left a club bag containing a stethoscope stethoscope.

The stranger told local people that he was here to establish a practice, and had almost decided to open in Milbrook. He bought Dr. King's instruments and equipment, paying him with a worthless check.

That he had some knowledge of medical work was evident from his having attended a confinement case in Millbrook. He boasted here that he made $37.50 in one day, and intimuted that he would about the mated that he would show the rus-tics som; real work.

It has been discovered that the "doctor" was driven by motor to Fraserville, where he purchased a ticket for Montreal and boarded an eastbound train.

Among Women Who Know—Silks Will Have Preference

Smart women, who achieve both style and efficiency, have long since learnt the value of silks. They know that comfort and wearing quality go hand in hand with the fine threads, as soft as spider-web, and of steely strength. And so they prefer silks. The new silks will tailor smartly or they will drape in soft folds for afternoon or evening wear. Because the fine, strong threads wear long—they are

Have you ever envied your neigh-lived in London? And who could be relied upon at any time of the year to go into Smallman & Ingram's and match ribbons or lace or purchase a white kid belt, or a pair of stockings, and have them mailed quickly off to your neighbor?

If you live in a small town or in the country, and you have a neighbor who has this sort of a cousin. and you yourself have no such handy friend or relative - then you've probably broken the Tenth Commandment more times than you care to tell

But you sinned wite needlessly. One of my favorite roles is that of a London cousin for out-of-town buyers. And I can tell you with frankness rather than modesty that to commence a letter, Judith," is to be assured of quicker and more satisfactory service than if you addressed it to the bestnatured cousin who ever lived.

Because when you write to "Dear Judith," it means that you invoke for your own particular service (like the genii of old) the entire experienced force of the Smallman & Ingram shopping service.

Perhaps you haven't heard the little minor melody which your neighbor has sometimes mouned to her husband, "I don't like that belt, but I can't send it back because that means that Cousin Edith will have to go all the way downtown and she's probably quite as busy as I am with all the autumn canning."

So if you commence your letter to "Dear Judith" (who is more concerned with your needs than with autumn canning) you'll be assured of direct, efficient service.
