NO COMPROMISE FOUND

Two Points Upon Which Neither Japan Nor Russia Will Yield.

War a Question of Only a Few Hours If Russia Moves Her Black Sea or Baltic Fleets—Correspondent Making Trouble and Killing People—Japan Have Secured Assurances of the Korean Court.

London, Jan. 18.—In what it claims as an authoritative statement, The Daily Graphic this morning announces that the negotiations relative to the Far East have arrived at a stage leaving two points upon which neither Russia nor Japan is inclined to yield, and as to which no means of a compromise has yet been found. While both of these points concern Manchuria, their adjustment would not in the slightest modify the legal status quo or change the administrative situation in Manchuria, but Japan insists "that they be embodied in a treaty between Japan and Russia, while Russia, as a matter of honor proper, refuses to accept such dictation at the hands of Japan. Much, however, is still hoped from the czar's influence."

What Might Occur in Few Hours. The statement adds: "Of course, any attempt of Russia to increase very largely her naval forces in the Far East by moving her Black Sea or Baltic fleets would make war a question of only a few hours." This statement is borne out by the Associated Press despatch from Tokyo yesterday, that Japan has received Russia's communication relative to the treaty rights in Manchuria, which shows that negotiations are continuing on the question of Manchuria.

At the Japanese legation last night it was said that no fresh news had been received and the situation remained unchanged.

Correspondent Breaking Out. The Daily Mail's Tokyo correspondent says that M. Pavlov, the Russian Minister at Seoul, has notified the Korean Government that the Korean troops have crossed the Chinese boundary repeatedly and committed excesses against the inhabitants. The Russian customs officials on the extreme northwestern border report similar occurrences, and assert that the Koreans are burning villages and killing people. Minister Pavlov warned the authorities that such proceedings will necessitate severe measures.

The correspondent says that riots have broken out at Ching Chyong-do, in Korea.

According to The Daily Telegraph's correspondent, the Seoul correspondent of the Jiji Shimpō learns that a similar rising is imminent at Phong Yang, and that Korean soldiers are co-operating with the rebels. Phong Yang was the scene of the rising, which led to war between Japan and China.

The Daily Mail's Seoul correspondent says that an armored cruiser with quick-firing guns from the ships is ready at Chemulpo to rush men to Seoul at a moment's notice.

Japanese Have the Court.

The correspondent says that the Japanese have secured control of the Korean court, and that the Emperor has wired Peking and Tokyo, advising a triple offensive and defensive alliance, and promising not to leave Seoul.

According to the correspondent, McLeavy Brown, supervisor of the Korean customs, secured possession of Korean field guns on the pretence that they needed repairs and locked them up in the customs house.

The Daily Mail's Port Arthur correspondent estimates that the total number of Russian troops now in Manchuria is 200,000, half of whom are guarding the railway. The correspondent says:

"China's firm stand since the re-occupation of Mukden has caused the Russian arrangements in Manchuria for defence and doubled the difficulties of guarding the long line of communication between the boundaries and the coast."

"The Council of War is sitting daily. The port of New Chwang and ports on the Yalu River are ice-bound."

Will Respect Rights.

Tokyo, Jan. 18.—The Associated Press correspondent is reliably informed that Japan has received a Russian communication saying that Russia will respect their rights and privileges already acquired by the treaty of Manchu and existing powers in China, excepting the establishment of foreign settlements, and in so far as these rights and privileges are not prejudicial to Russia's future in Manchuria. These reservations are regarded as nullifying the value of the assurance.

War Talk Diminished.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 18.—Emperor Nicholas' pacific utterance made during the New Year's reception at the winter palace in St. Petersburg Thursday last, together with the favorable comments of the foreign press, have created a splendid impression and have also a good effect in perceptibly diminishing the war talk in army and navy circles, which were quick to take their cue from the assurances coming from the throne. The newspapers which have been discussing the Far Eastern situation with considerable freedom, have grown almost silent, and what they do say is commendatory of the improved prospects of peace.

IS CALLED KING JOSEPH

British Free Trade Press on Chamberlain's Commission.

Announcement Expected of a Royal Commission to Consider Best Means of Including Colonial Representatives of National Defence Committee and Making Colonial Statesmen Life Peers—Only Way For Canadian Free Traders.

London, Jan. 18.—King Joseph's commission is the description of the contents of the bills in the Liberal newspapers of the first meeting of the Chamberlain Tariff Commission. Punch's cartoon represents them all blowing trumpets, each man facetiously a replica of Chamberlain, who is conducting what is called "Joseph's orchestra."

The Commission numbers sixty-five and, although the official Tory Standard dubs them plutocrats and nonentities, they include a remarkable number of chief manufacturers, railway shipping managers and economists.

A Royal Commission.

The statement by Premier Balfour at Sheffield last week that he wasn't now sure that fiscal methods were the best for securing a closer Imperial union is believed to prepare the way for the announcement in the King's speech, Feb. 2, when Parliament meets of a Royal Commission to consider the best means of including colonial representatives on the National Defence Committee, making it Imperial, and adding colonials to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, which is the ultimate court of appeal for the Empire, and making colonial statesmen life peers.

Balfour's friends say such a policy is complimentary and not antagonistic to Chamberlain's though they admit it may be difficult to so persuade the latter.

The Only Way.

London, Jan. 18.—Chamberlain, writing to a correspondent, says that the so-called Canadian free traders know perfectly well there is not the slightest indication of any desire on the part of the Canadian people to leave their principles. Preferential tariff is the only way to increase commercial intercourse.

His Supporters Wholehearted.

London, Jan. 18.—(C.A.P.)—Postmaster-General Austen Chamberlain, speaking at Bolton Saturday said his support of Premier Balfour was wholehearted, but if Mr. Chamberlain carried the field, he would follow the party implicitly, though probably not as a Cabinet minister.

Mr. Tillett's victory in Norwich is causing unbounded jubilation among the Liberals. Mr. Tillett has been flooded with congratulatory telegrams. Mr. Wilton, M.P., writing: "What a corrective to Mr. Chamberlain's address to his vice-regal commission."

LOST HIS WAY.

Had End of a Farmer Near Lucknow in Newmarket.

Listowel, Jan. 18.—About 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, A. W. Maybury, a well-to-do and highly respected farmer, who lives about five miles southeast of here, started for home with a load of chop. The roads were so heavy that he left his horses at Haddow's, about three miles out, and went forward on foot in a blinding snowstorm. He was found dead in a field about 6 o'clock Sunday morning, a mile from home, within fifteen rods of a farm house. He had apparently missed his way and had been overcome by the cold. He was 32 years old and leaves a widow and small child.

Prof. Mills is Unwell.

Toronto, Jan. 18.—Prof. James Mills, the newly appointed member of the Federal Railroad Commission, arrived in Toronto from Trenton, N. J., yesterday, and is the guest of J. C. Creelman, 63 Prince Arthur avenue. Prof. Mills is seriously indisposed on account of a cold. He is confined to his room during the day and denied himself several callers. Mr. Creelman said last night that Prof. Mills, if able to get out to-day, would call on the members of the Ontario Cabinet.

Dr. Murphy Dies Suddenly.

Brockville, Jan. 18.—Dr. J. B. Murphy, superintendent of Brockville Asylum for the Insane, died suddenly at noon yesterday for heart disease. He attended services at St. Francis Xavier Church as usual, walked part way home and was driven the remainder of the distance. He did not complain of ill-health until after reaching his home. After removing his overcoat, he lay down on a couch and expired in a few moments.

Plugging and Persuasion.

Toronto, Jan. 18.—Newspaper charges of plugging and persuasion in connection with the recent municipal elections in Toronto have stirred up a hornet's nest in the city. There will be a judicial investigation undertaken to clear the matter up, and if any aldermen, as charged, be guilty, to bring them to justice, which is six months in jail.

Many a married man envies the bachelor his independence who would not know what to do with it if he had it.

"ROBIN HOOD"

A full rehearsal of all interested in the production of the opera "Robin Hood" will be held this evening, commencing at eight o'clock, in the auditorium over the Standard Bank. A full attendance is specially requested.

MODERATE COL. MA' DER.

Commended Others Bravery, But Didn't Mention His Own.

London, Jan. 18.—Several months ago Victoria Crosses were awarded Capt. Walker and Rolland for gallantry during action at Harard Fort in Somaliland, in carrying a wounded officer back under a heavy fire.

The announcement Saturday that Major J. E. Gough, commander of the column, had got the Victoria Cross for gallantry in the same action caused surprise and wonder why it was so belated.

It seems that Gough, as commander, recommended the other two, but made no mention of his own conduct. A private letter from Rolland first brought the news to England, with the result that it was called to the attention of the King recently.

Gough is but 32 years old. He has been mentioned three times in despatches for services in South Africa, and is now promoted to be brevet lieutenant-colonel.

TROUBLE AT CAPE HAYTIER.

Gen. Deschamps Takes Refuge in the American Consulate.

Cape Haytier, Jan. 18.—The Government troops, which disembarked recently at Souva, were Saturday ordered to march on Porto, Plata. A brisk attack supported by the guns of a Dominican war vessel began in the evening. Operations were resumed yesterday morning, and the Government troops entered Porto Plata, causing the flight of Gen. Deschamps, who took refuge in the United States Consulate. The British cruiser Pallas has landed marines to protect the Consulate. The United States cruiser Hartford has arrived.

Revolt Over Anti-Slave Measures.

Rome, Jan. 18.—The company governing Benadir, in Italian Somaliland, has reported to the Government that the measures adopted to stamp out slavery have produced a rebellion in the tribes, and that the colony practically is in revolt. In order to put down the trouble, 10,000 men are necessary, and the company only has 1,000.

North Oxford Conservatives

will Put up the Fight of a Life-time

Rose, the Prohibitionist Candidate, Withdraws From the Field—Straight Contest

Woodstock, Jan. 16.—At the Conservative convention here to-day Mr. R. E. Butler, of the firm of Butler Bros., lumber dealers, Woodstock, was nominated as the Conservative candidate. There were several other nominations, but all withdrew in favor of Mr. Butler, who accepted.

Mr. Butler is well known here as a respectable business man, and will make a splendid run. One thing is certain, and that is that the Conservatives will put up such a fight as has never been seen before in North Oxford. Several prominent speakers are already announced, and it is said that three meetings a night will be held during the campaign. It is not yet known whether or not Mr. Gamely will come into the riding, but the prospects are that he will.

The Conservatives here are determined to make the fight of a life-time.

The meeting to-day was the largest in the history of the riding, and would have been much larger if there had been more room.

After a preliminary address by the president, Mr. J. C. Wallace, Mr. C. A. Muma, of Drumbo, was heard from. It was thought at one time that Mr. Muma was to be the candidate. He had already contested the riding, and his name was prominently mentioned this time, but he declared that the state of his health forbade his entering into a winter campaign. He moved the nomination of Mr. J. B. Youngs, of Youngville, West Zorra, another gentleman whose name has been freely mentioned in connection with the candidature. The others nominated were Dr. Youngs, Dr. Walford, Edward Giesler and J. B. Wallace. All withdrew in favor of Mr. Butler, whose nomination was made unanimous.

Mr. W. J. Humana, M.P.P. for West Lambton, made a very effective speech. He drew a parallel between his own case and that of North Oxford. He had turned a big minority into considerable of a majority, and he thought the candidate in North Oxford might be trusted to do the same thing. He made something fierce to the corruption of the Ontario Government, recalling the West Elgin and South Waterloo episodes, and denounced very strongly the conduct of the Government in the See election, when, he said, the workingmen were compelled to sign receipts for pay with one hand and furnish

The Government with information required to ensure the registration of voters with the other. He condemned particularly the part that Hon. J. M. Giblin had played in the campaign. He referred to the Liberalism of such men as Mackenzie and Mowat, and contrasted it with the Liberalism of the present day. He declared that the only thing that could purify modern Liberalism was a candidate, running as a Liberal, for inconsistency in attending the convention after he had already been pledged to the support of the Liberal candidate, and he moved the Doctor's name be withdrawn from the list of officers. The doctor put up a strong defence, and there was a hot interchange of opinions for a time. The resolution was finally lost on a tie vote. The impression here after yesterday is that the usefulness of the North Oxford Prohibition Association is at an end. It has been sacrificed to the interests of the Liberal party. Dr. Ross was elected president of the association, to succeed Rev. Dr. Mackay.

LIBERAL TRIBUTE TO MR. WILLSON.

The Dresden Standard a Liberal newspaper, pays the following tribute to the ability and popularity of the Conservative candidate in East Kent.—Mr. B. W. Willson, the candidate of the Conservatives in East Kent is a man who has been in public life for years and his career has been a good one from beginning to end. He served for a number of years in different capacities on the council board of Howard Township. He was several times mayor of Ridgeway, and was a county councillor for a number of years, being warden of this county for one term. He was chairman of the committee that built the county house of refuge, which stands as a monument of his work. He is very popular where he is known, and enjoys the high esteem and confidence of a large section of the county. The party made a wise choice in selecting Mr. Willson for their standard bearer in the approaching election.—Bridgetown Dominion.

HIS HONOR'S MISTAKE.

The Globe is arguing a theory few people have seriously advanced, that Lieutenant-Governor Clark should dismiss the Ross Government, pointing out the Toronto World. Perhaps His Honor would be justified in demanding the resignation of a ministry which is in a minority of several thousands of the popular vote and controls the legislature by virtue of a small majority that the Election Court could probably dissipate in forty-eight hours.

The spirit, if not the letter, of the Lieutenant-Governor's authority would unquestionably uphold him in taking office cognizance of these conditions, but a less difficult and less drastic duty confronted His Honor. The time for executive action was when the Ross Government asked that the legislature be summoned on the very day fixed for two election trials. Lieutenant-Governor Clark should not have countenanced Mr. Ross in this bold move. He should have firmly insisted that the five election petitions be disposed of before the calling of the legislature. If the courts dismissed the five petitions, well and good. Mr. Ross would have his majority of two in the legislature, and so long as this narrow majority sustained him he would be entitled to hold office.

Unfortunately Lieutenant-Governor Clark made himself a party to the Ross Government's plan to head off the election trials by calling a session of the legislature. It was his duty to see that the legislature represents the people, but at the bidding of Mr. Ross he summoned a legislature which in all probability does not represent the people. For this action the Lieutenant-Governor is criticized, and the World thinks justly criticized. The duty which confronted him was not an embarrassing one. His Honor should simply have told Mr. Ross when the latter made his extraordinary request that the legislature could not be called until the courts disposed of the five petitions pending. Ten days would have sufficed to show if the five Liberal members whose elections were protested were entitled to their seats, and if the Ross Government had a real or only an apparent majority in the House.

His Honor in calling the legislature for Jan. 14 in effect temporarily dismissed five election petitions which had not been tried by the courts. He made duly qualified members of five government supporters who may be intruders in the House. He gave a new lease of life to a government which may or may not have a majority of duly qualified members in the House. Does His Honor think that the province should be exposed to the risk of coming under the power of a legislature and a government which may not represent the people? He deliberately courted this danger when he consented to call the legislature while five government supporters were face to face with the election courts.

The Globe's pitiful plea on behalf of gentlemen in "high offices" will not awaken sympathy for Lieutenant-Governor Clark nor protect him from honest criticism. Neither will it obscure the real issue, which does not relate to the dismissal of the Ross government, but to the Lieutenant-Governor's failure to see that the administration was in possession of a legitimate majority before allowing it to meet the legislature. At present the people of Ontario do not know, and the Lieutenant-Governor does not know, whether in calling the legislature he was acting at the bidding of a duly constituted government or an aggregation of usurpers.

Economy

Is a strong point with Hood's Sarsaparilla. A bottle lasts longer and does more good than any other. It is the only medicine of which can truly be said 100 DOSES ONE DOLLAR.

HARMLESS OBJURGATIONS.

That the world grows better is abundantly proved by the increasing disuse of profane or torrid language. Our grandfathers—or the grandfathers of some of us, for we desire a peaceful life—were given to the use of expletives that incarnated the air. They were almost as vigorous in language as was the army in Flanders. Nowadays, hot words are as rare as they were common fifty years ago. In England the march of progress cannot have been as swift as it is on this continent. The young Canadian rightly considers swearing bad form. In the Old Land they have a National Association for the Suppression of Bad Language, of which Lord Wolseley is president.

The N. A. S. B. L. has issued its first annual report. The pamphlet shows that good progress has been made towards the goal of the Association. And it also makes a valuable suggestion when it raises the question of the "possibility of compiling a dictionary of harmless words which may be used to take the place of profane language when the exigencies of the situation demand it." The idea is good, but it is not new. Expletive substitutes have been known for centuries, as witness "fackins," "ods bodkins," and many other exclamatory makeshifts. Perhaps Peggotty, beloved of David Copperfield, had the most unique. "I'm 'gorned!'" would Peggotty ejaculate in moments of excitement. There was for some years at Ottawa a highly esteemed Senator, now dead, who likewise rejoiced in a curious formula. "By beeswax," was his expression; and it was quite successful, if appearances went for anything.

Happily, we in Canada need no substitutes. Very few of us ever indulge in any kind of bad language. We are not puffed up over this, but we are not so blind as to be unable to recognize our own merits. To us the advice of Mark Twain would be useless—quite. "When angry," prescribed Mr. Clemens, "count ten. When very angry, swear." No modern Canadian ever becomes angry beyond the counting ten stage. Such is the effect of the advance of modern culture as evinced in the national study of the psychology of irritation.—Toronto News.

A BULLY'S BACKDOWN

J. L. Harbour, the popular writer of books for boys tells the following story in "Our Young People" of a street gamin who showed he had the right "stuff" in him.

Some school boys were on their way to school one morning. One of them, a little fellow, was terribly annoyed by the teasing of a bigger boy, and finally "shed" an apple core at his tormentor.

This roused the bully's wrath and he proceeded to man the little fellow without mercy. In either boys all looking on without a finger lifted in the little boy's defence.

Leaving against a lamp post up the street, was a typical gamin, ragged, unkempt, and far removed from the tidy, well-fed and well-dressed school-boys. Their life-ways were far apart. A bundle of newspapers was under his arm, and he seemed to be looking about for a customer. Suddenly he let the unsold papers drop to the snowy ground and came running lightly and swiftly down the street. His blue eyes aflame and his grimy face clenched. The next instant the big, well-dressed assailant of the small boy found himself seized by the collar and jerked violently to the ground by a boy of about his own size, who said boldly:

"Take a kid of yer size when yer want ter fight, yer big coward! Take a kid of yer size!"

The big fellow struggled to his feet, and said buster angrily: "Who's going to keep me from touching him if I want to?"

"I am," said the gamin, standing as erect as a high school cadet; and whipping off his ragged jacket he gave his head a toss, and said again: "I am going to see that you don't touch him again! If you want to fight, take a kid of yer size, I tell yer! Try yer hand on me!"

"Humph!" said the big fellow, without, however, offering to touch the "kid" of his size.

"Yer a coward that's what you are!" said the gamin. "Ye don't dare touch a kid of yer size!"

Nor did he. Mumbling and threatening, he walked off, with the jeers of his schoolmates ringing in his ears.

DON'T KISS YOUR PET ANIMALS.

In a medical paper an account was given of a girl of nineteen of robust appearance who was undergoing treatment at a hospital for thickening of the gums, which caused protrusion of the upper lip and consequent deformity. On being questioned the girl stated that she was very fond of animals, and had been in the habit of fondling and kissing her dog, which had recently died. Further examination showed that the cause of her trouble was a nematode, or parasite, and that it had its source from the dog.

This is one of the very many cases known to doctors which prove the danger of kissing dogs and cats.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

At the Chatham Grand:—Innocent Maids—Jan. 19-20.

Macebae Minstrel—Jan. 21-22. Ritchie Co.—Jan. 25.

A Thoroughbred Tramp—Jan. 27. Henry Hill—Jan. 29.

(Supplied to The Planet by Press Agents.)

There will be a whirlwind of clean, wholesome fun at the Grand Tuesday and Wednesday nights, when "The Innocent Maids" Company, one of the prime favorites of the burlesque and vaudeville field, pay their visit here. This season "The Innocent Maids" will present a startling innovation on this class of entertainment, by introducing, besides the regular burlesques and vaudeville bill a sensational novelty entitled "Studies in Art." This will surely prove to be a startling departure from the class of entertainment usually given by organizations of this kind. Ten special acts of scenery are provided for this feature alone.

The artists who supply the vaudeville part of the bill are Foley and Dale, Louise Satour, Blackford and West, Conwell and Hunter and The Garden Trio.

Two bright and breezy burlesques are on the bill, the opening one being entitled "The Magic Hat," and the closing called "A Lottery Ticket." Both include new songs and ensembles sung by capable soloists, and twenty charming, handsomely gowned show girls.

This will prove one of the most enjoyable entertainments that will visit this city this season. Action in performance and "The Innocent Maids" have it, for they start, go and end with a dash.

Senator Allison, of Iowa, has the reputation of being the most cautious man in public life. He takes no chances, but always qualifies his statements. This was never more clearly shown than when a citizen of Dubuque made a bet that he could force the Senator to say "Yes" to a direct proposition.

Half a dozen friends went along to see the miracle performed. They entered Allison's office and chatted on various topics. Presently a flock of sheep, newly shorn, came by.

"These sheep have just been sheared," Senator Allison said to the man who had made the bet, winking earnestly at his companions.

Sensor Allison gazed earnestly at the sheep. Then he softly replied: "It looks like it on this side."

SEVEN STORES The NORTHWAY COMPANY, Limited TWO FACTORIES

Keep Busy. The value of the bee in the work of fertilizing plants, by carrying pollen from one plant to another, is greater than its use in producing honey. In fact, without the aid of bees many crops would be complete failures. Darwin found that in 100 head of purple clover protected from the visitation of bees not a seed was produced, while 100 head visited by bees produced nearly 3,000 seeds. When two varieties of certain plants are grown in the same neighborhood there is a liability of cross fertilization, as bees forage over a large territory. It will therefore pay the farmer or fruit grower to keep at least one hive of bees, or encourage his neighbor to do so.

AN IMPORTANT SESSION

Grand Trunk Pacific Contract the Piece de Resistance.

Some Kind of Settlement Has Been Effected by the Government and a Modified Trans-Continental Scheme Will Be Submitted to Parliament—Whole Question Will Thus Have to Be Again Discussed—Revision of Tariff.

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—The re-opening of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway contract and the calling of another session of Parliament has given a new aspect to the political situation. Far from being an unimportant session it will be a most important one, and perhaps far-reaching in its consequences. If the Government has any notion that the session will be a last, more than two months it is strangely in error. The probability is that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his men who a few months ago were very friendly to the company. All the statements heretofore made to the effect that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co. was satisfied with the contract and putting up satisfactory securities are shown to be without foundation. It is now officially admitted that the contract has lapsed.

What Does the G.T.P. Want.
The next question is what are the modifications which the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co. has demanded. They must be important or the Government would not have made them the excuse for summoning Parliament instead of bringing on the elections as it formerly intended to do. The modifications turn on the eastern section, for the abandonment of which the company has strongly contended. It has also come to light that enormous engineering difficulties have been encountered in a portion of the road between the Ottawa River and Winnipeg. Fully 150 miles of this road is declared by a competent authority to be an engineering impossibility.

Some Kind of Settlement.
The calling of the session goes to indicate that some kind of settlement has been effected between the Government and the company, and a modified transcontinental railway scheme is to be submitted to Parliament. This means that the whole question of a transcontinental railway will again be discussed. Much interest is manifested in the attitude of MacKenzie and Mann. It is very broadly hinted that the C. P. R. and MacKenzie and Mann did a good deal to prevent the financing of the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme on the London money market.

Tariff Revision.
Perhaps the most important outcome of the re-opening of the G.T.P. contract will be the revision of the tariff at the approaching session of Parliament. There are the strongest reasons for believing that the Government has decided to revise the tariff and to as far as possible to prevent a tariff issue at the general elections. The Government feels that it has lost prestige by reason of the lapse of the G.T.P. contract, and the modifications which the company has enforced. To repair this loss it will add considerably to the height of the tariff wall.

Another part of the sessional program will be the granting of provincial autonomy to the Northwest Territories. The next six months there will be developments of far-reaching political significance at the capital. The fighting session of the present Parliament is at hand, and upon the prestige which the respective parties in the vital issues that will engage them must largely depend the result of the general elections.

CAN'T DIVULGE THEM.
No Official Announcement Regarding Modifications in G.T.P. Contract.
Montreal, Jan. 18.—"I cannot discuss the changes now, although I will be glad to do so when they are brought down by the Government." "Certain modifications have been asked for by the company, and it would be a breach of faith on our part to divulge them just now."

The above constitutes the answer given yesterday by Charles M. Hays, who was asked if he cared to give an explanation regarding the official announcement of the ministry that a session would be called to consider certain modifications in the Grand Trunk Pacific enterprise.
A second Grand Trunk official was also seen, and his answer was similar to that of the second vice-president and general manager, as a matter of course.

To Oppose Newfoundland Government.
St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 18.—Sir William Whitway, former Premier of Newfoundland, in a letter to a daily paper, announces his return to public life, and that he will be a candidate at the next general election, in opposition to the present Government. The regular Opposition whither has been led by former Minister of Finance Morine, is likely to be reconstructed under the leadership of former Premier Goodridge.

Laurier's Health.
London, Jan. 18.—The Chronicle's Ottawa correspondent wires that the Canadian Parliament dissolution has been postponed, owing to the health of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

EAST MIDDLESEX.

London, Jan. 18.—Peter Elson was nominated by the East Middlesex Liberal-Conservative Association, in convention here on Saturday afternoon. There was a large attendance of delegates, and the meeting was harmonious. James Gilmore, M. P., the present representative, was nominated, but declined the honor, and then three names went to the convention—Joseph H. Marshall, ex-M. P.; John Ceary and Peter Elson. The last mentioned received a majority vote, and the choice was made unanimous.

Mr. Borden Leaves For Ottawa.
Montreal, Jan. 18.—R. L. Borden returned to the city Saturday evening, having concluded a series of meetings in Sherbrooke, Magog, Coaticook, Richmond, Granby and Farnham. Mr. Borden left the same evening for Ottawa.

CATTLE MARKETS.

It is now apparent that what the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co. failed to make the $5,000,000 deposit within the time stipulated in the contract there was method in its action. Its object was to re-open the contract and secure some important modifications. In some quarters the conduct of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co. in this respect is described in very strong language. The words "hold-up" have been used by men who a few months ago were very friendly to the company. All the statements heretofore made to the effect that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co. was satisfied with the contract and putting up satisfactory securities are shown to be without foundation. It is now officially admitted that the contract has lapsed.

Detroit Specialist Discovers Something Entirely New for the Cure of Men's Diseases in Their Own Homes.

You Pay Only if Cured.

Expects No Money Unless He Cures You—Method and Full Particulars Sent Free—Write For It This Very Day.

A Detroit specialist who has 14 certificates and diplomas from medical colleges and State medical boards, has perfected a startling method of curing the diseases of men in their own homes; so that they may be no longer in the hands of a doctor.

DR. S. GOLDBERG.
The Possessor of 14 Diplomas and Certificates Who Wants No Money That He Does Not Earn.

The method and the ability to do as he says, Dr. Goldberg, the discoverer, will send the method entirely free to all men who send him their name and address. He wants to hear from men who have arthritis that they have been unable to get cured, prostatic trouble, sexual weakness, varicose, lost manhood, blood poison, hydrocele, emaciation of parts, impotence, etc. His wonderful method not only cures the condition itself, but likewise all the complications, such as rheumatism, bladder or kidney trouble, heart disease, nervous debility, etc.

The doctor realizes that it is one thing to make claims and another thing to back them up, so he has made it a rule not to ask for money unless he cures you, and when you are cured he feels sure that you will willingly pay him a small fee. It would seem, therefore, that it is to the best interests of every man who suffers in this way to write the doctor confidentially and lay out his case before him. He sends the method, as well as many booklets on the subject, including one that contains the 14 diplomas and certificates, entirely free. Address him simply.

KEEPER OF RECORDS

SKETCH OF MR. A. G. DOUGHTY, THE NEW DOMINION ARCHIVIST.

Gentleman of Great Literary Attainments Succeeds the Late Douglas Brynmor, LL.D.—The National Records to be Rearranged—No System of Preserving Papers and Documents of Great Value Properly at Present in Operation.

Mr. Arthur G. Doughty, M.A. (Carlisle), who is to be appointed Dominion Archivist in place of the late Douglas Brynmor, LL.D., is an Englishman, and has only been in Canada about twelve years. Born at Maidenhead on March 22, 1860, he was educated at the Lord Eldon School, London, and afterwards at New Inn Hall, Oxford, and at Dickinson College, Carlisle, where he took his M.A. degree in 1890. He at one time contemplated entering the Church of England, and was for a time associated with All Hallows' Mission, Southwark, London. When he went to Montreal, he was for a number of years connected with the Legal and Commercial Exchange, but his literary tastes led to his determining to devote his life to literature rather than to commerce. He published Tennyson's "In Memoriam" in shorthand, and later wrote the libretto of a comic opera, "Bonnie Prince Charlie," which, however, was not a success.

Mr. Doughty was one of the charter members of the Sir John A. Macdonald Club of Montreal, acted as secretary for Sir Donald Smith when he contested the St. Antoine Division of Montreal in 1891, and was always identified with the Conservative party until after the return of the Liberal party to power in 1896. In fact, he wrote the ode which was read at the unveiling of the Montreal monument to Sir John A. Macdonald in 1895.

When the late Hon. H. T. Duffy became Provincial Treasurer of Quebec he appointed Mr. Doughty his private secretary and he held that position until Mr. Duffy's death. Since then he has been assistant librarian of the Legislature of Quebec. Last year Mr. Doughty published "The Siege of Quebec," in six volumes, and has received therefore high praise from many critics. Mr. Doughty is a Fellow of the Royal Colonial Institute.

The Government has approved of the complete reorganization of the archives branch. It is a curious fact that the reorganization of records and historical documents has been carried on in three departments. This state of affairs prevailed for many years prior to the advent of the present Government. The archives branch of the Department of Agriculture was established about the year 1872. The late Mr. Douglas Brynmor was the first archivist, and the work of these two branches has been of an identical character, and to some extent has been duplicated. This was made evident on one occasion in a rather costly way. One of the branches went to considerable expense to have certain documents copied in London, while all the time the originals were in the possession of the other branch. In addition to the two custodians already alluded to, the Clerk of the Privy Council has had charge of some documents. In many of the departments there are papers of great value not only to the State, but to the individual, involving as they do questions of title and proprietary rights.

It is only in the archives branch of the Department of Agriculture that these papers are properly classified and open to the inspection of the general public. Under the circumstances Hon. Sydney Fisher has recommended to his colleagues the consolidation of the records branches and the collection of volumes and documents having any historical value under one roof, a recommendation in which they fully concurred.

In 1897 a commission was appointed to examine into the state of the public documents, and after investigation made a series of recommendations. These form the basis of the action upon which the Government have now decided. The papers and documents in the records branch of the Department of Agriculture, in the records branch of the State Department, and in the Privy Council Department will all be brought together under the care of Mr. Doughty, whose title will be "Dominion Archivist and Keeper of the Records."

From the other departments will be assembled papers relating to the war of 1812, the rebellion of 1837, the Northwest rebellion, the Behring seal fishery dispute and other international disputes and other matters. Such other papers and documents as the Government may from time to time see fit are also to be placed in the custody of the Dominion Archivist and Keeper of Records.

AN ARTILLERY SERGEANT SINGS

London, Jan. 9.—The National Association for the Suppression of Bad Language, of which Lord Wolseley is president, has issued its first annual report. This shows that the pure speech mission has been extensively carried on by means of public meetings and the distribution of literature. It also moots the question of the possibility of compiling a dictionary of harmless words which may be used to take the place of obscene and profane language when the exigencies of the situation demand it.

Did ye 'ear as 'ow Sir Garnet says we musn't swear no more, Because it isn't pretty as I've 'ard 'im say before. 'Im and good old Bobs is lords, they wear pretty Windsor swords, I knowed 'em in the Soudan with the Second Camel Corps.

They talked scandalous at Aboukir, in the bloody old Soudan, Bobs knows language like a cabbie or a time-expired man; Yes, even good old Wolseley 'ad a 'ak'n' trick of speech. When we tried to shell the dardies an' the mortars wouldn't reach, 'Im and Bobs is King's Esquerries, an' the foolish like o' that—Fancy Bobs a Windsor soldier with big feathers in 'is 'at; An' Sir Garnet 'e's turned pious—says we musn't swear no more; Bleedin' lot he cared for swearin' with the Second Camel Corps.

Wot gets me is why does Wolseley go attemptin' to convert Civilians from the use o' words selected from the dirt? Wot in Gawd's name does it matter 'ow a mere civilian talks When 'is pint o' beer is sour or 'is bloomin' 'ab 'orse balks? The Army man is different, an' since Sir Garnet seems to care— I don't want to shock old Wolseley, an' damn me, why— I won't swear.

TO OUR FRIEND, THE ENEMY.

O thou whose brown and ample bulk delight The jaded appetites of boys and kings, And makes dyspeptic uncles dream at nights Of imps and things.

We little heed, who had with loud applause The liquid fire that round about thee glides, The havoc thou wilt subsequently cause In our insides.

For lo! thou art Plum pudding! and the year, The Christmas tree, the cracker and the wait Mere gauds with which our loving hands invest Thine awesome state.

Turkey and goose, for more conventional sakes, We trifle with, or pass severely by, And ladies, if they're superstitious, take A hot mince pie.

But thou art food for gods. The appointed hour Calls us as to a sacrificial feast, Where thy peculiar votaries devour Three helps at least.

Lone men in clubs, misanthropists at heart And sun-baked wanderers beyond the sea, Calling the waiter quietly apart, Inquire for thee.

None is so wholly destitute but some Kind Providence preserves him in its care, Giving him duff whereout the casual plump Peeps unaware.

STOMACH TROUBLES.

A disordered stomach may cause no end of trouble. When the stomach fails to perform its functions the bowels become deranged, the liver and kidneys congested, causing numerous diseases, the most fatal of which are painless and therefore the more to be dreaded. The important thing is to restore the stomach and liver to a healthy condition, and for this purpose no better preparation can be had than Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. THE NATIONAL GAME

"We can't understand why the Canadians do not see the fun as the profit in our great national game of this continent."—New York Paper.

Baseball isn't their national game! Strange as this thing may sound, They've got another—one just the same. It lasts the whole year round. Baseball runs four months or so. Hurt by rain or spoiled by snow, And muzzled by storm and hail! One all-year game the Yankees had. Since I was just a bit of a lad, 'Twas twisting the Lion's tail.

They played it morning, noon and night. They played it rain or shine. A twisting away with all their might To make the Lion whine. They'd laugh till their sides were sore, Each time they made him yelp and roar. The national game the Yankees had. Since I was just a bit of a lad, 'Twas twisting the Lion's tail.

They gave that Lion no sleep nor rest His noontime nap was missed. And hahes were brought from east and west To give

A CANADIAN CHRISTMAS POEM.

Across the outland Christmas night,
The echoing darkness and the cold,
The stars are crowned with light
And every window touched with gold.

Their new gods come, their old depart,
Their strange creeds into dust have died—
Yet He must live, O troubled heart,
Who gave to men this Christmas tide!

He dies not, for still clear His star
In smoky night-winds, or a since we Remember now the Christ we are,
And watch, the man that He would be!

And through the hushes outland night,
Across the gloom, a star of light
I see dead homes re-crowned with light,
And each light swings its star of night.

Comparison of Prices of Little Things
Here and in England.

It was at Brandon Fair that we first realized that one of the drawbacks of this country is the total absence of useful things of small value. We have learned that lesson the hard way, for in the old country, where there is a very appreciable buying power, there are ten cents, or fivepence, or practically the smallest coin in use, and is certainly of no more worth than twopenny here.

At Brandon Fair, the "side shows," which at home would charge a shilling, here cost only a few cents, or twopenny, or at the very utmost threepence, for admission, charged invariably 15 cents, or 7½d., and they were crowded.

At a shop where a mother was buying a little candy for her fractious and peevish child, and she gave 5 cents, or 2½d., for an amount that would have been purchased in England for a half-penny. It costs you fivepence to get your boots blacked, and a shilling for a shave in a hotel. Any drink, in the smallest of tankards, such as a couple of table-spoonsful of gin and a squirt of stone ginger beer, costs 15 cents.

I had a little ammonia and sweet oil mixed in a small bottle to neutralize mosquito bites. The cost was two shillings. If you ask for lager beer they give you a small glass, one-third of a half-pint bottle, for fivepence. A bottle of lager beer, which I could get for sixpence in a Canadian hotel—not lager brought from Germany, but locally brewed. It is necessary, in brief, to pay heavily for small purchases or do without them.

The latter is the better plan. It seems to me that "living" in Canada is quite twice as dear as living in England, but in Canada the food is somewhat more varied and profuse. A single working man has to pay thirty shillings a week for food and lodgings on the average, and he can easily spend another pound a week on such luxuries as smoking and drinking. I suspect that a good deal of the saving which the Germans make is made possibly by men going without things that are unnecessary. The strong temperance feeling of the country has, in no inconsiderable degree, an economic basis.—John Derry, one of the visiting British journalists, in The Sheffield Independent.

Not a Canadian Bird.

As the robin is with us but half the year, it is not right to claim him as a Canadian bird, as he is sometimes done. He is of a migratory nature, and leaves us at the end of October, returning early in April. This bird is the most songster that visits us, and when caged and carefully attended to make a most cheerful and amusing companion, writes Sydney Smith of Toronto. In my time I have had many kinds of birds, but not one of a more attractive and pleasing disposition than the robin.

What I would particularly draw attention to is a remarkable illustration of this bird losing his own natural song and learning from tuition something altogether different. Having got possession of him when he dropped from the nest, I whistled to him, and in his hearing repeatedly day by day, and when not at home one or other of the members of the family did the same, so that now he cannot be recognized by his song as a robin. Sweet as his natural song still, in reality it is not a song, but a melodious and changeable whistle, interlarded with variations of many and peculiar noises. When spoken to by one of the family he invariably answers in bird language, and he gives unmistakable proof that he knows one person from another.

The first footstep that reaches his ear in the morning brings from him a welcome salutation, and no matter how late at night the last one home is greeted with a cheerful word or two from Bobby. Noticing at an early stage his fondness for play, I introduced a few trinkets, which he pounced upon at once, and ever since I have kept him supplied with small things, which he delights to pick up and throw about his cage. The more noise they make the more he enjoys the fun. I have also hung on a string from a wire at the top of the cage a very small bell. This he takes hold of and jingles. His fondness for music is demonstrated whenever the piano is being played or when singing is heard in the house. At such times he raises his voice above all. How to feed and care for the robin in captivity is what I wish him well. In the first place, keep him clean, or give him the means of keeping himself clean. He should have his daily bath, as he is passionately fond of water. For most any kind of prepared stuff, but simply fresh meat in very small pieces. That is as near his natural food as you can get. When fruit is in season give him a few berries, or even now a few currants is a welcome and wholesome addition to his bill of fare.

Oldest Trade Secrets.

The two oldest secret trade processes now in existence are considered to be the manufacture of Chinese red, or vermilion, and the method of inlaying the hardest steel with gold and silver, which seems to have been practiced at Damascus ages ago and is known only to the Syrian smiths and their pupils even to this day.

Tortured with Pain.

Too Weak to Work.

ULCERS, BOILS AND PIMPLES
ALL OVER HER BODY

Such was the condition of Mrs. Samuel Deitz, Zurich, Ont.

She happily found relief from her terrible suffering by using

Burdock Blood Bitters.

A remedy without a rival for the cure of all diseases and troubles arising from bad blood. A record extending over a quarter of a century and thousands of testimonials will prove this. Mrs. Deitz writes: "Too weak to work, tortured with the pain of ulcers, boils and pimples all over my body, especially on my face. I had almost made up my mind to give up trying to have them cured. I was ashamed to have any person come to see me, my face was in such a terrible state. I tried everything I could think of but got worse and worse. I was then led to try Burdock Blood Bitters and was surprised at the wonderful change the 5, 10 and 15 bottle made. Altogether I took seven bottles and am now completely cured and am in perfect health again. I feel that B.B.B. saved my life."

Growing Railroad Ties.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has made a new departure. The increasing scarcity of timber suitable for railway ties and the failure of substitutes for wood in the roadbed have led the Pennsylvania into a forestry experiment. One hundred acres of land have been planted with 50,000 young lucusts. The lucust is a rapid grower and, moreover, the timber is durable under the exposed conditions of ties.

The company intends to plant 2,000 acres of ground in lucusts to provide for future construction and renewal of its roadbed.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

This preparation is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of those diseases over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough, has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous results. It is especially prized by mothers because it contains nothing injurious and there is not the least danger in giving it to children. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by all druggists.

Good Town Builders.

No power on earth is so strong to build up a town as a newspaper well patronized, and its power should be appreciated. A newspaper whose columns overflow with advertisements of business men has more influence in attracting attention to and building up a city or town than any other agency that can be employed. Capital and labor will locate where there is an enterprising community.

HE DESERVED PITY

His suffering from Sciatica was so great, but thanks to Nerviline he was cured. "I suffered for three years from sciatica," writes E. S. Jenkins, of Portland, "and no man ever suffered more." I spent a small fortune on different remedies, but the only one with real merits was Nerviline. I used a few bottles of Nerviline and was perfectly cured. I can recommend Nerviline as a sure cure for sciatica;
it's excellent also for rheumatism and neuritis." Try Nerviline, 25c. at all

When the egotist talks he expects Contentment is condition within the reach of the most humble.

A puny child is always an anxiety to the parents. There seems generally no reason why the little one should be weak when it is so well fed.
But the fact is that it does not matter how much food the child takes if the stomach cannot extract the nourishment from it. No benefit can be derived from just eating. That is the condition of many a sickly child. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition are not doing their work, and the body is really starving. It is little use to give fish foods, like cod liver oil or emulsions, in such a case, because these also have to be digested; they may lighten the stomach's labor but they don't strengthen it. Strength is what the stomach needs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach, increases the action of the blood-making glands. It is superior to every other preparation for children's use, on account of its fine building qualities, and also because it is pleasant to take and contains no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a valuable aid when the bowels are irregular. They are small. Children take them readily.

Wounds and Their Treatment.

These are not of uncommon occurrence, and much can be done by the amateur doctor. Wounds are either incised, punctured, contused, or lacerated.

Incised wounds are clean cut. But as they may also be dirty as well, the first thing to do is to wash them and remove dirt and grit. If there is very smart bleeding it may be better not to wash, but to stop it by means of pressure, but the cold washing is often enough of itself to check the flow of blood, assisted by elevation of the limb or part. That being done, the edges of the wound should be as neatly as possible brought together, and narrow strips of sticking plaster fixed across it at some distance from each other, so that the wound will be closed. This must be particularly attended to in cuts about the face. A bit of dry boracic lint should then be placed over it, and a light bandage applied.

If the wound is too large for adjustment with plaster, stitches must be introduced by the surgeon when he can be got. The wounded part should then be placed in as easy and comfortable a position as can be had.

For example, a hand bag placed on each side of the neck to steady the head is useful in cuts of the throat.

Functional wounds are deep, narrow ones, the result of pressing and stabbing instruments. There is little to be done with these but to wash them and clean them out by a gentle stream of water. If at hand, the mild carbolic lotion is at hand. They should not be closed, but some boracic lint may be applied as a dressing.

Lacerated wounds are ragged and irregular, produced by being struck.
They should be treated like incised wounds,
but will not be as neatly closed. If severe, not much can be done, but give attention to cleanliness and comfortable position. They are of a more dangerous character, and more difficult to heal, being more prone to be followed by erysipelas, gangrene and lockjaw. They should, therefore, from the beginning be treated by antiseptic washes.

Contused wounds, the result of severe bruising, are very serious.
The effects of the violence on the parts is to make them apt to die and slough off. If severe, warm water should be used, if slight, cold.

Feed Value of Skim-Milk.

In response to the inquiry from your correspondent, we state that skim-milk is a valuable food, both for man and other mammals. Extensive experiments have been carried on with skim-milk in the feeding of the lower animals, and the results of them are found recorded in experiment stations. It is wholesome and nutritious, but used alone makes a very narrow ration, that is, in which the food is lacking in element of the good is lacking in excess.

In round numbers, skim-milk may be said to contain 3 per cent. protein, 5 per cent. sugar and 0.7 per cent. ash, consisting largely of phosphates. To balance, a large part, which skim-milk forms a deficiency rather poor in gluten may be used, or a bread richer in gluten, together with potatoes and butter. A very well balanced meal of a simple and nutritious nature may be made of 500 cubic centimeters of skim-milk, 150 grams of potatoes, 100 grams of bread and 25 grams of butter. This is a ration on which a man could do a lot of work, mental and physical.—Prof. Wiley.

SOME ADVICE

A Clergyman Thinks No Old Maid Can Marry Even If She Tries

The following letter appeared in the Detroit News:—
To the Editor:—One of your correspondents in the spinsterhood controversy asks this pertinent question: "Does or does not a tender bud of womanhood take in her own hands her little life?" I answer, No. "What will be, will be," is expressive of a great truth. If a woman is born to be an "old maid" she can no more change her fate than the leopard can change his spots or the Ethiopian the hue of his cuticle. If a woman is born to marry, she will marry in spite of herself. If a marriage is to be it will be.

Marriages are made in heaven, written down in heaven's books are the parties concerned come into existence. That there are divorcees does not disprove this contention. Heaven-made marriages only dissolve at the grave—never in the courts. That there are divorcees only proves that heaven-made affixes are seeking their own. To attempt to restrict affixes in their search for each other by interposing legislative or canonical enactments is as fruitless as to attempt to chain the volcano, or to calm the surges of the ocean. To advise "old maids" to marry is wasted effort. Let them stay in that station in which it has pleased a wise providence to place them, in contentment, knowing this, that "whatever is, is best," and that it is vain to struggle against the decrees of fate.

Nor are the decrees of fate unkind, when rightly viewed and calmly submitted to. Were the real "old maids" of the world changed into wives to-

ST. THOMAS GIRLS, PROBABLY? John Slavin, an actor, recently resigned from a theatrical company because he was required to do too much kissing on the stage. The overplus consisted in smacking some ancient members of the company. The result of John's action has been to provoke the poet of the Toronto Star into this outburst:

Now, think of that, you ladies fair,
This man his job deserted
Because he simply could not bear
To kiss the maidens skirted.
None but the brave deserve the fair,
And tho' we boast but rarely,
We're brave enough, we do declare,
To fill that job, oh fairly.

Stratford, Ont., is named in honor of Stratford-on-Avon, a town in England made famous by connection with the career of its late William Shakespeare, who took the blame for some plays and verses alleged by some people to have been penned by F. Bacon, also deceased. Stratford's city parents have also further honored the city's patron saint (?) by naming the wards of the city thus: 1. Avon. 2. Faletta. 3. Hamlet. 4. Romeo. 5. Shakespeare. It is noticeable that Juliet is forgotten. Poor Yorick also shares her oblivion. But these defects may be remedied when Stratford grows a few wards larger.—Detroit News.

Jan. 18.—With continued little snowfalls the sleighing in this section of Kent is in excellent condition. The oldest inhabitants say they never saw such a continuance of good sleighing. Judging by the amount of logs, bolts and stove wood that is being brought in the farmers are getting on well with their winter work, and among the pleasure seekers sleighing parties are all the go after sundown.

THE BIG SHOW

The curtain will raise on Thursday night on one of the funniest first part settings ever seen in Chatham. The overture, "All Hail to the Kings of Mirth," is tuneful and full of ginger, then comes the eight funny end men, who will certainly be a surprise to their many friends. "Go Home," sung by Will Chrysler, is a sure hit; "I've got Something on my Mind," by Burney Weldon, is one of the late coon songs, and Burney does certainly sing it. Jack Glassford sings "Trouble." He has to be heard to be appreciated. "Doe" Tye will be heard in late coon song entitled "Magnolia." "Doe" is a show in himself.

The ballads are ably handled by Messrs. Hutchinson, Wilson, Flowers, Moorehouse and Pleasance—every one of which is a winner. The jokes are all new and will make you laugh. The olio or second part is made up of specialties. Joe Tilt will be seen in this part. Duff and Hardcar in an original act. Dave Cokeran in coon songs, Mr. Christie the wonderful saxophone soloist, will also be heard in this part. Then George Suttan will tell you all about his troubles for a while. The Rube Act, by Glassford, Maimes, Weldon, Chrysler and Shepard is a holler. Sale of seats open to-morrow morning at Brisco's.
