COST $2 TO SLEEP IN HAY.

Boys Fined For Going Into a Barn to Snooze.

Margaret Bonar In Police Court Again To-day.

Ald. Crerar on the Throne at Old No. 3.

In the absence of Magistrate Jelfs this morning Ald. T. H. Crerar presided at the Police Court.

Harvey Brown, Gibson avenue, and Samuel Clarkson, Chestnut avenue, were charged with vagrancy by P. C. Venard. Complaints were made by Charles Smith that persons were in the habit of sleep ing in his barn at the corner of Barton and Earl streets, and this morning about I o'clock the constable discovered the two boys there. Brown was employed by Smith about a year and a half ago, and since then has been in Welland, having returned only last Saturday. Col. Logic appeared for the boys, and said vagrancy could not be proven, as the one boy had work and the other was to have started this morning; it was an act of treepass on their part. Brown said it was the first time they had slept in the barn, and they did so only because they could not get in their own homes. The father of Brown gave evidence showing that his son had been working. They were fined $2 each.

The local manager of the Inland Navigation Company was charged with carrying passengers on a freight boat, Glencila, without having a certificate authorizing him to do so. Col. Logic appeared for the Minister of Justice, and said that in October, 1908, a fitter and family had been carried from Port Arthur to this city. The man was an employee of one of the directors of the company. The company acknowledged a technical breach of the law. Mr. Logic apprent of the supplemental breach of the law. fine of $100 was recorded.

Margaret Bonar, the young woman who was charged with vagrancy yesterday, but was allowed to go if she would be guided by what the matron of the Salvation Army Rescue Home said, was up again this morning on the same charge and was remanded.

Walter Sapsford, MacNab street north, and John Morrison, Hughson street north, were charged by P. C. Ince with acting in a disorderly manner. They were found guilty and fined $2 cach.

Alvin Weathers, the boy who was charged with vagrancy, and who told a story of running away from his home in New York six months ago and traveles since that time, was again remanded.

Coorne Leelin and Ebenezer Gilroy in

George Leslie and Ebenezer Gilroy indulged too freely at the flowing bowl, and were gathered in by Constables Staton and Merritt. They were assessed the customary $2.

POLICE HORSE BALKED.

A good natured patrol horse apparently took pity on the victim the police were after and created quite a stir in front of Climie's store, King. street west, this morning. It kicked hard and damaged the wagon to such an extent that it was found necessary to have it repaired. While the horse was standing unharnessed waiting for the wagon to be repaired it started in for some more of its antics and became so troumore of its antics and became so trou-blesome that it was found necessary to take it back to the station.

Maple Leaf Park Presents Smart Appearance.

"One great feature about Maple Leaf Park," said S. L. Robertson, the manager, last night, "will be the fact that every attraction on the grounds will be strictly high class and there will be nothing at which the most fastidious strictly high class and there will be nothing at which the most fastidious could take offence. I have always made it a point in my experience with pleasure parks to always have legitimate attractions and will not stand for anything that has the least tint of vulgarity about it. There will be no trouble in having everything in shape for the big opening next Monday."

The famous Holstein and Sangster shows arrived in the city yesterday and their tents are being pitched to-day. The shows were at Tampa, Florida, last fall and had the misfortune to be the victims of a blizzard, and all their tents were destroyed. The outfit, which they will use here, is entirely new, and as the tents are of bright red and white cairvas, they help to make the park look more business like than ever. The opening ceremony on Monday will be short' and sweet as the management realizes that the public would rather see the attractions than listen to long speeches. The Mayor and City Council will attend in a body, and an effort is being made to have the Lieutenant-Governor attend.

The big transformers that will be used at the park are being put in their places to-day and they are so large that it is no small task for the men in charge of the work. Two teams were used to haul each one yesterday, and it is thought that they are the largest in

A SUICIDE.

Mr. Robt. Richards, a Farmer, Hanged Himself.

This morning Grown Attorney Washington was notified by Coroner McGregor, of Waterdown, that Robert Richards or, of Waterdown, that Robert Richards, a farmer who lives between Clappison's Corners and Millgrove, had been found dead in an outhouse and that it was a clear case of suicide. In view of the Coroner's report the Crown Attorney decided that it was not necessary to hold an inquest. Mr. Richards was a man well up in years, and had been in poor health for some time. He killed himself by hanging. He leaves a grown up family.

CHARLES SMITH SHOT AND KILLED.

Well-Known Contractor Met Almost Instant Death at His Home Yesterday Afternoon.

A coroner's jury will investigate the death of Charles L. Smith, 146 Rebisca, street, a well-known cement contractor, whose instantaneous death late yester day afternoon was the result of a charge fired at close range from a shot gun. About 540 the neighbors in that district were startled to hear a gun go off with a loud explosion in the yard, in the rear of Mr. Smith's house. They fire were should for that, some of the more curious investigated. Looking over the fence they were shocked to behold the body of Mr. Smith's houde, againg wound in the left side of his face, and a smoking shot gun at his side. Leaping over the fence, they hastened to his face, and a smoking shot gun at his side. Leaping over the fence, they hastened to his side, only to find that he had received a death wound. One of the neighbors ran to she grocery store of George Elder, at his each would not be comer, and telephoned to Dr. Rennia and Dr. Greenway, while another entered the house and informed Mrs. Fred Smith, a daughter-in-law, of the tragedy. Within a tew minutes a squad of police and detectives were on the secue. A couch was carried out into the back yard and the body placed upon it. The victim was in his working clottes, but had removed this cost, even and changed his benefit of the many picked up, together with a place of steel.

Has it been left to a Hamilton man to accomplish this great end? In a measure it has, and to Mr. Burton, the credit is due of inventing a machine and operating it on flights ranging as far as

Last night about 7 o'clock the residents along the mountain top, near the head of the Jolley Cut, were greatly surprised to see the graceful flights of an oblong, canvas-covered machine, flying through the air at a rapid rate, and sailing along as smoothly as though running on an invisible track. In a short time a large crowd had gathered. For over an hour the machine made short flights, and so successfully, that the young inventor gained confidence with every flight and finally decided to fly down the mountain side. It was a severe test, and might have ben safely accomtest, and might have ben safely accom-plished if Mr. Burton had had a little more experience. The start was made successfully and the machine began to glide gracefully down the mountain side and had travelled about a quarter of the

The machine was picked up and carried back to the top of the mountain, and was left in the care of one of the residents. By the time Mr. Burton has for a number of years been in the employ of Stewart & Witton as a draughtsman, and has devoted a great deal of his spare time to the perfecting of his machine. He is only 22 years of age, and for one so young he has accomplished a great deal. When called on by a Times reporter this morning he was still in bed, and for a while hesitated about granting an interview. He was not daunted by the mishap, and says that such a thrilling experience as flying through the air is not to be given up on account of the accident. He does not seem to appreciate the value of his invention, and looks upon it more as a medium for pleasure than any practical idea. He said that he had been working on the machine for a long time, and it

MAGNATE DEAD

Sudden Death of H. H. Rogers,

Prominent Financier.

New York, May 19.—H. H. Rogers, the Standard Oil capitalist, died at his residence in this city to-day. Mr. Rogers died at his house, 3 East 78th street, about 7 o'clock this morning. He arose about six, and about half-past six he began to feel ill, complaining of numbness and nausea. Before anything could be done he sank and died. He went on Friday last to his country place at Fairhaven, Mass., and returned yesterday.

The death of Mr. Rogers follows closely upon the completion of the great railway project, to the accomplishment of which the energies of his later years, his genius for organization and a very considerable portion of his private fortune was devoted. This was the building of the Virginia Railway, a line which opened up a rich bituminous coal country in West Virginia, extending 443 miles from Deep Water, W. Va., to a tidewater terminal at Sewalls Point, Va. This road was distinctly an individual undertaking of Mr. Rogers, and he probably bore the greater part of its construction, which has been estimated at $48,00,00,000.

Mr. Rogers rose, as he usually did, about 5 o'clock this morning. At 6 o'clock he complained of feeling ill, and a physician was immediately summoned.

That portion of the township has become very thickly populated, and the more houses that are built the worse become the sanitary conditions. CHINKS' APPEAL

A Conviction of Magistrate Jelfs Quashed.

Sam Lee Hing's appeal from the

The evidence at the police court was to the effect that police court was to the effect that these three Chinese were in the room, but there was nothing to show that they had been playing. The magistrate fined Sam because he was the keeper of the place, and the other three men because he presumed that if they were in the room they must have been interested in the game.

Judge Monck held that in order to be found guilty of gambling a person must have 'een actually in the game, running the risk of winning or losing. He allowed the appeal, and the Chinese will get their money back. The Crown Attorney appeared for the Crown, and T. H. Crerar was counsel for Sam and the others.

Following a conference yesterday afternoon with Mayor McLaren, Chairman Allan, of the Board of Works, City Engineer McCallum and Secretary Brennan, the Street Railway Company announced its intention this morning of roceeding with the reconstruction work on Barton street at once, and notified the city to that effect. It will begin at Sherman avenue, working westerly, and will keep gangs going night and day to July, if possible. Two concrete mixers will be operated. The company was rather doubtful about the advisability of proceeding with this work at present, as the traffic receipts on the Barton Many Prominent Physicians Attend Tuberculosis Convention.

The Welsbach Company, of Boston, has a representative here, and although he received a shock when told the low price at which the city will get its are lamps, under the new contract, it is likely his company will make an offer to place gas lamps in the middle of residential blocks.

Although it has been stated several times that the work of building the Hamilton, Waterloo & Guelph Railway would be begun this summer, city officials have been informed that it is as good as settled that nothing will be done before next year, and that when the road is built the Dominion Power & Transmission Company will be behind it.

A Love Affair

With a feeling of sadness and melancholy, she leaned upon the balustrade, and resting her head upon her hand, looked dreamily across the lawn, so lost in thought that she did not hear a step near her until it was close behind her. Then she turned her head with a little start, and saw the marquis.

"This is a glad sight," he said.

She thought he meant the sunset, but looking up at him, saw that his eyes were fixed on her, and she turned her head aside.

"I—do not avoid you, my lord."
"Yes, yes, you do. Do you think I do not know it—and feel it? When I come into the room you shrink behind that curtain. You avoid any conversation with me. Once or twice you have got up and left the room that you might not be forced to speak to me."
Constance tried to speak now, but she could not.

Chapter XV.

Since the day she had come back, Constance had not left the upper part of the house. There was a balcony running some little distance in front of the windows on the west side, and she had gone out upon this balcony and got a few minutes of fresh air.

The marchioness had urged her to come down at meal times, and the marquis had just stopped short at the point of ordering her to do so, but Constance had resisted all their entreaties.

She had come back, she told herself, for one sole object; to nurse Arol, and she would confine herself to that. As soon as he got well she would return to the lonely life at Mr. Merryn's, and begin again the struggle for existence.

So she resolved with an aching heart, and the colon-soon vanished and left her pale—so pale that when the marchioness came in presently she noticed it.

"My dear," she said, gently but firm ly, "you are looking tired and pale. Wolfe"—she often dropped his title when speaking to Constance—as if she were one of the family—"Wolfe is right, I am afraid, and we have been cruelly selfish. He was quite angry this morning, and said that he was sure you would be ill."

"Do go now; it is beautiful out. And then when Lord Wolfe comes back I can tell him you have been out."

"Put on a shawl or something over your shoulders, my dear," said the marchioness as Constance, re-entered with languages; so old and yets os perpoundly very shoulders, my dear," said the marchioness as Constance re-entered with languages; so old and yets os perpoundly very sour shoulders, my dear," said the marchioness, as Constance re-entered with languages; so old and yets os perpoundly very sour shoulders, my dear," said the marchioness as Constance re-entered with languages; so old and yets os perpoundly very sour shoulders, my dear," said the marchioness as Constance re-entered with languages; so old and yets os perpoundly new so new that it comes as reveryour shoulders, my dear," said the marchioness as Constance re-entered with languages. he turned and leaned a little toward him.

He took her in his arms with a low cry, and kissed her hair, her lips, with a profound, yet tender, passion.

"Oh, my lave, my love, my dearest! What shall I say to you?"

When love speaks, all else, even reason, is dumb. Constance, with his arms around her, with her head upon his breast, was not m a condition to think or argue. In the stillness of the gloaming her soul was wrapped in infinite joy and peace. The love which comes but once in a life, the perfect unreasoning love which compensates poor humanity for all its suffering on this terrestrial globe, had come to her, and she simply accepted it.

"Not yet, not vet. May I not have you for a little while longer, after waiting so long?"
"So long! so short a time!"
"It has been years to me, dearest. Even now I can scarcely believe that it is true. Tell me once more that you love me, Constance."

"Ah, you know that, I think you must have known it all along, though I—"
"Well!" he asked, looking down at her, and dwelling on the preciousness of his treasure, on the clear, oval face, the his treasure, on the clear, oval face, the deep blue eyes, the long lashes, and the dark, silky hair. Woman's beauty is always a wonder and a marvel, but it is never more so, never more worthy of worship, than it is to the man who has just won it all for himself.

"I—I do not know, Did I love you, do you think—I mean from the first?"

"If there is any truth in love creating love, I think you ought to have done so," he said. "The first night I came, I wou knocked at the door of my heart, and I let you in, without knowing it, perhaps, foreseeing that you would cost everything else and take up sole possession. My darling, how happy you have made me! Do you know," and his voice grew grave," this is the first time I have ever been really happy in my I have ever been really happy in my

"Have you been so unhappy?"

"Have you been so unhappy?"

"Yes, Constance, very. But we won't say any more about the past. The future is all our care. I am going to be happy, and, please God, make you so, too. How glad my mother will be!" he added, after a pause.

Constance started, and looked up at him as if his words had awakened her

Constance nestled a little closer to him, finding it hard not to lift her face to his and give him a kiss that trembled wistfully on her lips.

He smoothed the hair from her forehead and kissed it lovingly, holding her face in his hands.

"What do you mean!"

"Oh, how blind those beautiful eyes are," he retorted, "not to have seen that poor Elliott is dying for love of them!"

"Lord Elliott"

"Yes, poor Elliot! And you never saw it."

"No, no. Oh, it is not true!"

"It is persectly true, dearest," he said. "Why, you silly girl, it was patent to the best observant of mortals. He could not look at you, speak to you, without proclaiming it. Shall I tell you how jealous I was?"

"Ah, no, no, it was only fancy! He—he never spoke to me, never said anything—" erts, of Scotland Yard, is here following up a pair of runaways from London, who are the principals in a sensational case of forgery and embezzlement, and have capped this performance with an elopement.

The pair are Wilson Barnard, accountant and trusted confidential employee of Messrs. Stillwell & Co., Tottenham Court Row, London, and Mrs. Eliza Jennings, the beautiful wife of a nephew of Mr. Stillwell, head of the firm. They are alleged to have eloped with $50,000 of the firm's money. The couple were traced to Liverpool, where they are believed to have booked on a passage on the Dominion to Montreal, and to have travelled under assumed names, arriving here yesterday, and leaving immediately by the C. P. R. express for the west.

Detective Roberts started some days after the fugitives, crossing the Atlantic by the Curar development of the form of the firm of the fugitives, crossing the Atlantic by the Curar steamer, thinking he would arrive-here in time to intercept four hours heepind them but leaves for

MONTHS OF AGONY.

A Severe Case of Rheumatism Cured

A Severe Case of Rheumatism Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"For many weary months I suffered untold agony. I could not walk. I could scarcely raise myself to a sitting posture. I was under medical care, but in vain. Finally I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they have restored me to my former healthy condition."

This strong statement was made to a reporter recently by Mr. Charles S. Keddey, formerly of Kingston, N. S., but now living at Port Maitland. Mr. Keddey is a carpenter by trade, and is now able to work every day. He adds: "I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they cured me after other medicine failed. While I was living in Kingston, N. S., I was seized with "I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they cured me after other medicine failed. While I was living in Kingston, N. S., I was seized with rheumatism in its most violent form. I was compelled to take to my bed, and for months was an invalid. I was so weak that it was difficult for me to raise myself to a sitting posture. It is impossible to tell how much I suffered day and night, week in and week out. The pains were like piercing swords. I had medical attendance, but it failed. Then I tried medicines advertised to cure hreumatism, but with the same result—money wasted. One day when hope had almost gone a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I told him my experience with other medicines, but he assured me that these pills would cure rheumatism, but with the same result—After using a few boxes I was able to leave my bed, and from that on my restoration to health was rapid. I am now as well as ever I was, and have not had the slightest touch of rheumatism since. The change they have wrought in my case is simply miraculous, and I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to anyone suffering from any form of rheumatism."

Rheumatism is rooted in the blood.

Rheumatism is rooted in the blood. Rubbing the aching limbs with liniments and outward remedies cannot possibly cure it. You must get the rheumatic acid out of the blood, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the one sure medicine to do this, because they actually make new blood. That is why these pills cure anaeymis, headaches, backaches, neural-gia, indigestion and the secret ailments that make miserable the lives of so many women and growing girls. Sold by all that make miserable the lives of so many women and growing girls. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MURDER OR SUIDIDE?

Woman Found With Scarf Twisted About Her Neck.

Dauphin, Ma y 18 .- Councillor Jame Moore, of Winnipegosis, found the body of his wife with a scarf knotted and of his wife with a scarf knotted and twisted about her neck on the floor in the kitchen late on Sunday night. It is hard to decide whether it is a cas of suicide or murder. Mr. Moore was on good terms with his wife, and left her on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, and returned to the house about three hours later. There is a family of two young children.

The remains of the late George Meredith are to be cremated. This is in accordance with Mr. Meredith's own wishes.

IRRIGATION. The subject of irrigation, which also is placed under the superintendent of forestry, constitutes an important part is placed under the superintendent of forestry, constitutes an important part of the report.

The importance of a proper hydrographic survey is dwelt upon. "The determination of the water supply is of the greatest importance, not only to the irrigation interests, but for the municipal supply of the rapidly developing towns of the west, for the operation of railways and for the convenience of the growing population. As the administration of the water resources of this great district is under the control of the Dominion the responsibility for dealing with this subject rests upon the Federal authorities, and the importance of the interests involved would justify the increased expenditure that may be necessary to place the hydrographic survey on an efficient basis."

The inadequacy of the work so far done and the difficulties of the present situation are dwelt upon and the progress made in this line of work in the neighboring states of the Union referred to.

The Irrigation Act is also touched upon the present situation are supplied to the law is neighboring states of the Union referred to.

The Irrigation Act is also touched upon. The general principle of the law is stated as follows: "The principle of the law is that the water is public property and that any rights to the use of it do not convey any property in it, but are granted for beneficial use in connection with a specific location. If any larger right were permitted to exist, a right to water might be held speculatively and not used beneficially. One person or company might get control of the water and have a monopoly which would place the holders of land dependent on the stream at their mercy. The evidence of experience is against the unrestricted transfer of water rights, and the proper policy seems to be to adhere in the main to the principle already established by the Act of making the right to the use of water appurtenant to the land."

The ammendments to the act are not-by the Department and the organizing of their administration is also treated. During the year (1907) Elk Park had been fenced, in order to confine the buffalo, and a new reserve-Buffalo

Reports from Norman M. Ross, chief of the tree planting division, James Leamy, Crown Timber Agent at New Westminster, John Stewart, Commissioner and Chief Engineer of Irrigation, and other officers of the Branch are given as appendices.

The report is illustrated by a dozen fine full-page half-tone cuts. Copies may be obtained on application to the Superintandent of Forestry, R. H. Campbell 1997.

THE INDIAN LIST.

The so-called Indian list is becoming a source of trouble to License Inspecto Sturdy, who is said to despair of being able to effectively enforce the law as it now stands, owing to the great nu of inebriates with whom he has to Inspector Sturdy's difficulty hardly worse than that with which the various licensed liquor dispensers are confronted. The proposal is made that the "Indian list" should be kept down to a small number so as to make the inspector's job easier. As the law stands,

Act: "The husband, wife, parent, child of 21 years or upwards, brother, sister, master, guardian, or employer, of any to convince the public that the Hazen person who has the habit of drinking Government is actuated by honest liquor to excess-or the parent, brother person-or the guardian of any child or children of such person-may give notice in writing," etc. This notice does not leave it optional with the license inspector to list or not to list; sub-section 3 says he "shall forthwith give notice to the person having such habit" by registered letter. The notices served upon the liquor dealer holds good for 12

Obviously it is not the intention of the act that the license inspector shall exercise his pleasure in the matter of placing persons upon the "Indian list;" he must accept and act upon notices given him. The lengthening of this list, however, is becoming a matter of difficulty. The law does not seem to be capable of enforcement as it stands, and some amendment is necessary. How are seevral hundred liquor dispensers in the various bar-rooms of the city to recognize upon sight some hundreds of these legal "Indians"? And without how is respect for the law to be se cured?

It would appear that unless enforce ment of the act is to degenerate into a farce, an amendment in one of two directions must be made: the mass of drinkers must be required to take out licenses and exhibit the same on calling for liquor; or every "Indian" must be made to wear a badge sufficiently dis-tinctive to instantly lead to his recogition in all the drinking places in the city. Reasonable fairness, not only to the inspector, but to the holders liquor licenses, argues for some such amendment. Meanwhile Inspector Sturdy and the "barkeeps" will have to make the best of a bad job.

IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST.

On Saturday last, May 15th, the new Act governing the sale of patent and proprietary medicines came into force. Perhaps it would be more exact to say that that was the last day upon which these medicines are supposed to be sold without bearing a Government stamp Proprietary preparations are required to be registered at Ottawa, and particulars of the formulae are there filed. Goods that were put up before the passage of the act must bear a stamp provided by registered must be according to the for mulae filed. Any person selling prepara-tions containing cocaine or other dan-'gerous drug in violation of the act is lia ble to a penalty of $50 for the first offence and $100 for the second. The mak er's name must appear on the package for the case of medicines of a non-secret chaarcter, the formula of which are printed on the packages.

It is worth noting that a recent am endment to the Pharmacy Act permits country stores to sell patent or proprie tary medicines, alum, spirits of turpen tine, Epsom salts, senna, borax, castor oil, sulphur, Glauber salts, cream of tartar, carbonate of soda, bi-carbonate of soda, glycerine, carbonate of magnesia Rochelle salts, bluestone, copperas, rhu-barb root, saltpetre, spirits of nitre chloride of lime, gum camphor, citrate of magnesia, quinine, tincture of iodine, hellebore, a 5 per cent. solution of car-bolic acid and arsenate of lead, also

TELEGRAPH LIABILITIES.

A very interesting decision affecting the liability of telegraph companies has recently been given by the United States Supreme Court. S. M. Weld & Co., Cot ton Exchange brokers, wired their agent in New Orleans, in December, 1905, "Sell twenty thousand March 1270." The agent received the message as follows: "Sell 20,000 Meh. 1207." Owing to the error in transmission, the New York agent sold immediately, thus causing disturbance in the cotton market. Im mediately upon being advised of what had been done, the firm sent a buying order, which, to some extent retrieved their loss. It also claimed from the Postal Telegraph Company compensation for the loss it had sustained. The telegraph company set up the defence that it did not undertake to send the message correctly and promptly; that the message was so obscure that it was impossible for the operator to form any ider of its importance, that no loss had been sustained and that if the brokers had wished to be sure that the message would be delivered accurately they should have had it repeated. Had this been done the company would have admitted its liability-to the amount of fifty times what was received by it in service tolls. When the case came to trial the court declined to accept the view of the telegraph company, that the contract printed upon its message blanks, and which purports to relieve it from liability, is binding. The Supreme Court held that the company is distinct y liable for mistakes even in unrepeated messages. A judgment for $12,665 was The general view of the court was that reasonable accuracy in the transmission of messages is expected of telegraph companies, and that no conditions sought to be imposed by being printed upon the blanks can relieve them of that legal obligation.

The stamp tax and income tax meet with severe criticism, and, in financial circles, are regarded as likely to drive business from London to other financia centres. The stamp duty on conveyances on sale is doubled, that is, it is raised from 10s to 20s, except in the case of stocks and other securities which change hands frequently. The duties on trans-fers of securities are readjusted, the rate between £5 and £100 to be 6d (inpresent); £500 to £1,500, 2s; and a further 2s for every additional thousand. The income taxes are, in some cases, considerably increased. SAVING THE WATER. (Brantford Courier.)

By the construction of a dam across the river, St. Mary's now has a beautiful boating stretch. How the people of the town appreciate it is shown by the fact that although the first season has scarcely opened, yet there is already quite a fleet of motor boats on the water and a handsome, commodious boathouse has been erected.

THAT SPELLING MATCH. (Toronto Star.)

(Toronto Star.)

However, we understand that Inspector Hughes has challenged the Telegram to a spelling match—a picked team from its editorial staff to meet a picked team from the third form in the public schools. It is scarcely discreet on the part of our contemporary to go on discussing the subject until it has won that spelling match. Then it would have some right to talk. For the honor of the press we hope the Telegram is not going to back down, and if it will be any encouragement, the Star will cheerfully hire a hall and present a suitably engraved shield to the side that wins.

President Hoodless outlined the work the association had in view, and invited the co-operation of the citizens in general, and the members of the old society, which had done so much towards the improvement and beautifying of the city in the past. It was arranged to hold another meeting to-morrow afternoon at the Board of Trade rooms at 4.30 o'clock, and a general invitation to attend this meeting is extended not only to the members of the association, but to all citizens who are in sympathy with the work of beautifying the city.

The street railway reconstruction work is costing the company $100 a day in loss of receipts owing to the disorganization of the service, so the Mayor and aldermen have been informed. The company will rent one of the city cement mixers for the Barton street work. Originally it was the intention to have done Herkimer street this year, but the company fears it will not have enough money. There will be a conference with the city in the fall to map out a programme for next year's work.

Building permits have been issued to Bush & Bailey for a brick house on Queen street, between York and Barton streets, to cost $2,000, and to William Disher for a cement stable at 65 Oak avenue, to cost $120.

He was not there, he said, to advertise any nostrum or special cure like those advertised in the press, and which gulled thousands of people. If there ever was such a cure it would be snapped up in a hurry by some American capitalist and patented. Dr. Mullens elaborated on the work of the laboratory men, Thousands of these men, he declared, worked day and night for the benefit of humanity, and never got more than a living out of it. Open air, rest, proper tood and right living, he declared, to be the only cure for consumption.

Speaking on "The Prevention of "Tuberculosis," Dr. Morrison illustrated his lecture with a number of slides. He referred to the scheme of Dr. Roberts, the Medical Health Officer, to secure a pure milk supply for babies during the summer months, and said too much importance could not be attached to this. One point he specially emphasized was the necessity of people with tubercular ancestry choosing proper occupation and carefully avoiding any intemperance in habits.

Dr. Roberts lectured on "Children Santoria." He spoke entertainingly and instructively of the institutions in Germany, and in connection with the crowded tenements of New York, illustrating his lecture with a number of excellent views.

HOW TO BUILD UP.

HOW TO BUILD UP.

Intemperate eating and drinking, together with loss of rest and lack of good, fresh air, tend to weaken the vital powers and make one an easy victim to many forms of disease.

If you are in bad physical condition now, cut out the smoking and drinking, cancel most of your social engagement, and try a 9 o'clock bedtime for a while. Also eat about one-third less than you have been in the habit of taking and get all the fresh outdoor air you can, both during the day and night. Persist in this regimen for a few months and it will do wonders in building up for you a strong and vigorous constitution.

Then again Mr. Carey showed his capabilities as a conductor, his handling of the orchestra and the singers being particularly good, for which he was heartily applicated. Probably the most enjoyable was that of the scene "Chi Mi Frena," otherwise known. as. the saxtette from "Lucia de Lammermoor," by Donizetti. In this Mrs Le Roy Grimes and Mr. Vernon Carey won distinctive praise, and the rest of the members in the scene sang splend idly. Judgment of Court of Appeal in Florence Mining Case,

Mr. Aylesworth Retains His Opinion of This Legislation.

Ottawa, May 18 .- The "blazing indiscretions" of the Ontario Government figured prominently in the proceedings the House of Commons to-day, and were the subject of stinging comment. Mr. Haughton Lennox, one of the most faithful of Sir James Whitney's "watchdogs on the tower," delayed supply for couple of hours in order to call attention to the judgment of the Court of Appeals in the Florence Mining Company's case. His object was two-fold: First, to have the judgment placed in Hansard, and, secondly, to make it the basis of an attack or the Minister of Justice, whose denunciation of the Provincial legislation, closing the doors of the courts to a test of the case on its merits have rankled in the minds of the Concernities. merits have rankled in the minds of the Conservatives since it was uttered earlier in the session. Mr. Lennox sought to draw the comforting conclusion that the judgment completely disposed of the criticisms of the Minister of Justice and of the Liberal press, but he was quickly disillusioned, for far from modifying his opinion of the Ontario Government's action, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth was more scathing in his condemnation than before. "I can find no words in the English language too strong to denounce the iniquity of the legislation," was his final comment.

MR. LENNON'S ATTACK.

MR. LENNOX'S ATTACK.

Mr. Lennox called attention to the judgment of the Court of Appeal as to the Florence Mining Company case. He the Florence Mining Company case. He was proceeding to refer to the comments of the Minister of Justice on the action of the Ontario Government, when he was called to order and reminded that he could not refer to a past debate. He then spent half an hour in reading the judgment in order to get it on Hansard. He claimed that it justified in every respect the action of Ontario and refuted every statement that had been made by the Liberal press. The Minister of Justice had made an unwarranted attack upon the Government of Ontario, which upon the Government of Ontario, which described as the "best and cleanes Government the Province of Ontario eve.

COULD TAKE NOTHING BACK. Hon. Mr. Aylesworth replied that he had very little to add to what he had already said, and nothing to take back. He had read the reasons given by the judges for their decision, and there was nothing said by any of the judges to cause him to modify in the least degree anything he had said with reference to the legislation of the Government of Ontario in a question upon which he as anything he had said with reference to the legislation of the Government of Ontario in a question upon which he, as the adviser of the Governor-General, had to decide in reporting on the legislation as to whether or not the Legislation as to whether or not the Legislation of Ontario had constitutional power to pass on. Believing that the true working out of the constitution in the best interests of all parties was that Provincial Legislatures should within scope of their constitution be supreme, he reported that he had considered the legislation referred to was within the constitutional powers of the Province. Nothing had been said by the judges in any degree affecting that position. He took the view that the Legislatures of the Provinces had constitutional power to do wrong if they saw fit. As to the propriety of such legislation he had expressed his opinion as a citizen and taxpayer of Ontario. That legislation had been a bar to the courts entertaining the question on its merits. No court had been put in a position where, with untrammelled hands, it could pronounce upon the facts or decide the question on its merits.

"I can find no words in the English language strong enough," declared Mr.

Discussing a vote of $10,000 for the expenses of the International Fishery. Commission, Mr. Jameson asked whether the fishery regulations, to which reference had been made in the House, had been signed by Prof. Prince.

Hon. Mr. Brodeur said the regulations had not been signed by Prof. Prince. Some time ago the department received the first draft of the regulations from Dr. Jordan. It was marked confidential and clearly set forth that it was for the purposes of the fisheries commission. That was the document which had been published with the imprint of the Ontario Government, and with the declaration that they were regulations adopted under the treaty of 1908. The document thus circulated had created a bad impression apparently, but he could inform the House that the regulations contained therein were not likely to be those accepted by the commission. He regretted exceedingly that the Ontario Government had sent out to the public, as being the adopted regulations, a document which was marked confidential. Some harm had been done by the Ontario Government's indiscretion, but he believed a satisfactory conclusion would be reached by the commission.

Mr. Brodeur said that what he complained of was not that the Ontario Government had published a document received from him, but that they had published and circulated as regulations adopted by the commission a document sent to the Dominion Government by Dr. Jordan, United States commissioner, which regulations were marked confidential and were not accepted by Prof. Prince or the Government.

Mr. Borden did not think that as the regulations had been published in the United States press the Ontario Government had committed any breach of faith.

Hon. Mr. Brodeur replied that even so they had no right to represent that regulations had been adopted by the commission.

Messrs, J. D. Taylor, Foster and Geo. Taylor also claimed that the publication of Dr. Jordan's proposed regulations in the United States newspapers was an excuse for the Ontario Government.

The body had evidently been in the car for nearly a week, and was considerably decomposed. One side of the head had been smashed completely in as though by a slung shot, and, in addition, there were other fearful wounds upon the body.

The car where the body was found was Wabash No. 67149, and had come from some point in New York State over the Lehigh Valley and Grand Trunk via Niagara Falls.

The unknown was dressed in dark clothes, and wore tan shoes. Beside him was a small parcel containing a complete linen outfit similar to that worn by dining car chefs. The linen was marked with the initials "A. P." The body was removed to the morgue.

Of the two native States in Africa which are to-day independent, Morocco and Abyssinia, the latter is the most prominent, For many years the death of the sovereign of Abyssinia has been followed by givil war and anarchy, and since 1841 no sovereign of the old royal line has occupied the throne. Menelik, the present ruler, however, is of royal lineage; in fact, he claims to be a direct descendant of King Solomon.

The mother had been broken down and forced to make admissions which had grown into accusations. The girl was silent. The mother persisted. She almost shouted, "You say you didn't do it; but I know you did."

ground for the complaint was a letter received by plaintiff from defendant and which was signed "Yours truly."

Both sides had their witnesses, all of whom were sworn to tell "the truth, nearly all the truth, and not much more than the truth." The make-ups were funny, and the many amusing incidents created much mirth. All those taking part did their work exceptionally well. Magistrate Jelfs acted as judge, and filled the role to perfection. Miss Salisbury as Annabella Clovertop created a furore of laughter by the manner in which she answered the questions of the opposing counsel, and she freely made use of a handkerchief, which was secured from the bottom of a 'squaw-bag, to wipe away the tears, which flowed because J. Harrymore de Brown Smythe had denied the engagement.

Russell Treleaven, as J. Barrymore de Brown Smythe, explained his part of the case in a very straightforward manner, and showed that by writing "yours truly" he had not meant it as a proposal. After hearing both sides of the case the jury retired, and after being out a short while returned a verdict of guilty against the defendant, and he was recommended to mercy and let off with a fine of 7 cents.

Insurance Bill Cannot Go Through Till Next Session.

HELD UP.

Criminal Code Amendments Fare Severely in Senate.

Ottawa, May 18 .- Two Government ills were held up by the Senate to-day. The insurance bill, as was expected, was left over for next session, Sir Richard Cartwright explaining that in view of the importance of the bill and the desire of so many parties to be heard in regard to it, the Government would not urge proceeding with it this session in the Senate. The bill will be reintroduced in the court as superior to a Federal court. Senator Belcourt thought the bill would lead to a confusion of jurisprudence in Excheuqer appeals. On motion of Senator Power, the bill was turned down by a vote of 12 to 9.

In committee in the Senate on the criminal code, Senator Lougheed, in referring to the amendment, declared that a prize fight means an encounter with or without golves, by previous arrangement, said this seemed to be going rather far. Under this clause any magistrate could put an absolute end to the manly art of self-defence. He did not know that this was altogether did not know that this was altogether did not know that this was altogether desirable.

Senator Power also declared himself cut of sympathy with this clause. It was struck out.

Senator Power took exception to a provision restricting six months' imprisonment for any person found in a house of ill-fame. Senator Lougheed said it seemed that this legislation was indulging in maudlin sentiment in regard to matters which cannot be suppressed.

Sir Richard Cartwright agreed that the penalties were severe, but he doubted if they would be successfully enforced. He thought there might result considerable blackmail.

Senator Power said the social evil was bound to exist in cities and particularly in seaport towns.

Three Montreal Men Beat Poor Animal to Death.

mal to Death.

Montreal, May 18.—Three young men were to-day found guilty of inhuman cruelty to a horse, and were fined in the Recorder's Court six dollars each or one month in jail, and to pay all costs. The trio kept the horse galloping around and struck the animal time after time with stout sticks, and eventually the horse got "groggy" and collapsed.

Not satisfied with belaboring the animal to this extent, they procured a bag, which they placed over the horse's head, and then recommenced thrashing it. As a result of this cruelty the horse died next day.

THE HANSOM CAB.

All-Conquering Taxicab Supplants It in London.

London, May 18 .- The rapidly approaching extinction of the hansom cab before the all-conquering taxicab before the all-conquering taxicab was generally recognized some time ago. Little thought was given to the cabby himself. People were heard now and then to remark that the competition of the taxi had improved his manners, and that he was more grateful for a 50 per cent. over fare than he used to be, and of occasions would even acknowledge a small increase or his legal fare.

Then Lord Rosebery wrote a short letter to the Daily Mail drawing attention to the fact that the hansom cabby was practically starving, calling

In four days the public subscribed £5,000, yesterday the fund amounted to £6,986, and it is increasing every hour. Every day scores of cases of extreme destitution are reported. Men who have owned their own stables are now making sometimes as little as 4 or 5 shillings a week.

Wherever it is possible the broken Wherever it is possible the broken cabby is being supported while he learns to drive a motor. Hundreds are doing this, but the age limit is 44, and the medical test is severe. Something, however, is being done to help every cabby, but he is a hard man to find work for.

Union labor reports made some start. Union labor reports made some start-ling allegations, among them the charge that many vessels now on the lakes are manned wholly by inexperienced men who, in the event of a storm, would be worse than useless. Unless a settlement is reached it is believed the revelations will result in a material "boosting" of marine insurance rates. marine insurance rates.

A DEFIANT PEDDLER.

Will Not Pay Chatham License Fee, Although Reduced.

Chatham, Ont., May 18.—Gasparre Favato, an Italian fruit peddler, came up in the Police Court to-day, charged with peddling on the streets without a license. He was dismissed on the ground that the fee, one hundred dollars, was prohibitive. A new by-law was passed by the Council last night, making the fee fifty dollars. To-day Favato refused to pay even the fifty dollars, and says that he will continue to sell on the streets without a license, and he defies the City Council to stop him.

Sandwich Farmer, Aged 103, Gives Property to Children.

Windsor, Ont., May 18.—Francis Nolan, aged 103, a rethred farmer living in the town of Sandwich, yesterday formally drew up an agreement disposing of all his real estate and other property, estimated at almost $50,000, to his sons and daughters, making sure that a clause was inserted requiring them to provide for his welfare and maintenance the rest of his life.

Whale Was Caught by Cable and Alaska Was Isolated. Its Whalebone Became Entangled and Contortions Held It Fast. Seattle, Wash., May 18.— A big whale recently played havoc with the cable connecting the Territory of Alaska with this city and it cost Uncle Sam many dollars to repair the damage. Sent nouth to discover the cause of a sudden interruption of cable service between Valder and Sitka, Capt. Laffin, of the United States cable ship Burnside, has just returned here with an interesting story. The cable ship picked teresting story. A whale feeding on the bottom of the ocean and swimming along with its mouth open wide in order that the meshes of whalebone might catch and hold food, collided with the cable. MANNED BY GREEN CREWS.

Many Vessels on the Lakes Without Experienced Men.

Detroit, May 18.—The members of the arbitration boards of the States of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan went into session at the Hotel Cadillac at 11 o'clock this morning in an effort to effect an amicable settlement of the marine strike. At midnight tonight they were still in seassion, and no results had been reported. All newspapers are barred, but it is known that the debate was extremely acrimonious on both sides.

Worse than the famous Gordian knot of old. Unable to free itself the whale drowned and the crew of the Burnside never had a worse job of lifting a cable than when they tried to haul on board the wire some miles off Cook's Inlet. When the twisted and knotted cable was finally brought on the deck the partly decayed carcass of the whale was still attached to it. The cable was severed and again connected, and put into service while the ship's crew cleaned up the kinked section of cable. It is believed that more than two hundred feet of cable was twisted into a knot. The cable did not part because of its tensile strength of 20,000 pounds.

The Militia Department is having an official report made in the matter, and it is not im-probable that drastic action will be taken to prevent further undue influence of the musicians' union in connection with military bands. It is probable that union regimental bands will be discriminated against by preventing their accepting any outside engagements.

Synod office, and arranged for the business that will be presented to the meeting of the Synod of the Diocese, which date was fixed for June 23, and succeeding days. It is the intention of the Synod to consecrate St. Mark's Church on the morning of the first day of the meeting, and Christ's Church Cathedral in the evening. Bishop DuMoulin will officiate at both consecrations. His Lordship may have some out of town clergy assisting him in this event.

The committee on finance and investment, and also the auditors, reported the affairs of the Synod office to be in a highly satisfactory condition. The income from the invested funds is larger than it has been for many years. There is never has been a time in the history of the diocese when the clergy were more faithful and regular in the making of the prescribed collection for missionary and other purposes, or the people more responsive in their giving, than they have been in the last year. Every diocesan fund has been taken out of the period of depression which it has been is aboring under, and has been placed in a state of efficiency.

The mortgage on St. Barnabas Church, St. Catharines, was renewed for $3,000, with the consent of the Standing Committee.

There will be many notices of motion before the Synod this year for consideration, and some are of considerable im-

Editor Assaults Quebec Minister of Public Works.

Emergency Meeting of Cabinet Called After Assault.

Quebec, May 19 .- A big sensation was caused when Oliver Asselin, former edi-tor of Le Nationaliste, struck L. A. Paschereau, Minister of Public Works, just after the House adjourned early this norning. Almost immediately the Pro-incial police arrested Asselin. The cause of the assault was the statement made by Mr. Taschereau in the House regardby Mr. Taschereau in the House regarding Asselin's part in the Abitibi scandal. Asselin was conducted to the prisoners' quraters in the basement of the Legislative building, where bail was refused, on orders presumably from the Attorney-General. Though Asselin struck Taschereau with his open hand, the force of the blow was such that blood was flowing from the Minister's lips. Mr. Taschereau had several books under his arm when assaulted. He first laid the books down and appeared about to strike back, when other Cabinet Ministers, members and newspaper men made a ring around the pair. Then Taschereau seemed to collect himself, and called upon the police to arrest his young agressor.

It was curious that the man who immediately constituted himself Asselin's legal representative was Allyn Taschereau, cousin of the assaulted man, but who is a strong advocate of the Nationaliste party.

Chicago, May 19 .- Despite the claims made by Canada of the immense immigration entering its borders from the gration entering its borders from the United States, C. B. Schmidt, commissioner of immigration of the Rock Island-Prisco lines, has compiled figures which shows that during the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1908, more people came into the United States from Canada than emigrated from this country to Canada. He obtained his figures from reports of the commissioners of immigration of the United States and Canada.

During the year Mr. Schmidt finds that 56,860 left the United States to take up homes in Canada, while 58,268 came from Canada to live in this country, a difference of 1,408 in favor of the United States.

WHAT IS GOING ON TO-DAY IN THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Gossip and Comment

Hundreds of racing fans will go from Hamilton to the Woodbine on Saturday to see the running of the King's Plate-probably more than ever, on account of the low holiday rate being in effect on the two railways. The running of the King's Plate on the opening day of the O. J. C. spring meeting is always a society event of Dominion importance. The Governor-General and his suite form the setting of the world of fashion, and the sight is one to be long remembered by those who witness it.

It begins to look as though Peter Maher would never be able to land that terrific punch of his.

I always thought Walter McMullen was a foot running expert till I heard Sam Robinson, of the Maple Leaf Park Co., talk last night.

From the Toronto Star: The Hamilton handicapping was awful. Think of giving a man 175 yards in half a mile bicycle race, and a novice only 175 yards yards in a two-mile walking race, with such cracks as Goulding, MacDonald, Goddard and Skene on the scratch."

Progress is noted in the reactionary racing movement in New York. After feeling it out for a couple of days, the gamesome gentlemen who were willing to take a chance at demonstrating that the sport had a vital principle detached from systematized speculation are greatly encouraged and they are beginning to think they would be justified in making six days of it instead of three. This may be taken to mean that the customers are adapting themselves to the wink and the nod system of fulfilling the real purpose of their presence.

Toronto World: Track habitues are sweet on Hendrie's Shimonese owing to her steady good work, while followers of Dyment took courage yesterday on accounting Fort Garry's impressive performance, and they are wondering how good the list of the Seagram lot will prove, though the sharps say that Courtier and whatever others are selected are sure to start on Saturday pretty pronounced favorites.

The dope on to-night's principals would make Jake O'Brien win from Jack Johnson in their six rounds at Philadelphia, except that the Quaker scrapper went out too soon against. Ketchell, showing that he is likely on the down grade, says the World's dope artists. Training reports have the champion in the finest condition. He is good enough to fight six fast rounds, in the judgment of A. J. Drexel Biddle, Philadelphia society man who is also something of a boxer, and who tried out the conqueror of Tommy Burns in a short bout with gloves on Monday. Much to the regret of the crowd, Johnson would only box two rounds of two minutes each with Biddle.

Prevailing Winds in Antarctic.

In the reports of the recent Antarctic.

In the reports of the recent Antarctic expedition frequent allusion is made to the prevailing southerly winds and blizzards. The fact that these winds continue to within such a short distance of the South Pole throws doubt on the view that a great anticyclonic area lies over that region. If such were the case light variable breezes might rather be expected so near the pole.

ACOOSE FOR TORONTO.

Toronto, May 19.—Paul Acoose, the Grenfell Indian who has been outclassing all the western runners and who beat Fred Appleby at the latter's world's championship distance, fifteen miles, at Winnipeg Monday night, has been signed by the promoters of the St. Yves-Marsh-Sellen race at the Island Saturday night to meet the winner here next month. The winner of the Montreal professional Marathon will also be invited to start against Acoose in this race. The big three-cornered event at Hanlan's Point will be started at 8.45, and most of the one hundred electric are lights have already been installed around the track. Tim O'Rourke thinks it's a good bet that either Coley or Sellens will defeat St. Yves in the big three-cornered twelve-mile race at Britannia Park next Tuesday night, as both of the Canadians are under his instructions at Toronto and are working hard. They are working out at 'Varsity Oval.

A large number of are lights have been placed in Britannia Park for the race, and the track will be brilliantly illuminated, so the spectators can follow the runners at all stages of the journey. More interest is being shown in the race since it was decided to make it a three-cornered affair.

Manager Duffy knew, of who is here preparing for his match race of twenty miles with Henri St. Yves on Thursday afternoon, came out with a bitter statement this afternoon in reply to Billy Sherring's sweeping defi. Shrubb says he will run Sherring a fifteen-mile race, providing the Athens Marathon winner will gamble $1,000 on the side, and run anywhere except in Canada.

"So Sherring has decided that he can trim me," said Shrubb, after finishing a ten-mile jaunt. "Well, he can have a whirl with me if he will bet $1,000 on the side and post an equal amount to guarantee his appearance at the track-side. I have been fooled too much by Longboat, and hereafter I want to see my opponent's money.

"In answering Sherring's challenge 1 want to add that the race must take place in America. L won't run him in

"I understand that Sherring has been quietly preparing for me," continued the great English distance runner. "I came to this country to demonstrate to the American people that I'm the world's greatest fifteen-miler. If Sherring this he can disprove what I've started out to prove, he's welcome to try, if he will accept the terms I name. I'm ready with my money. Let Mr. Sherring come forward. His bluff is called."

If Shrubb and Sherring match up, Canada will back the Hamilton boy off the boards. Sherring is unquestionably the greatest distance man this country ever produced. Shrubb stubbornly declares that the race must be run in America. He won't give his reasons. If the pair could be brought together in one of the Dominion cities there isn't a race track large enough to hold the crowd that would attend.

When Sherring was told of Shrubb's reply he lost no time wiring signifying his willingness to sign immediately under the terms stipulated by Shrubb. The race will be run in Buffalo.

ACOOSE A GOOD ONE.
Winnipeg, May 19.—That Acoose, the Grenfell Indian, is one of the greatest runners in the world to-day is the opinion of Fred Appleby, the English champion, who went down to defeat before the redskin last night in the greatest race ever seen in the west.

"I ran the fastest race in my career, except when I broke the word's record against Shrubb," said Appleby, "and I failed against my competitor. He is a remarkable runner, although I may be able to beat him on an outside track, where I hope to arrange a race shortly."

The time made last night was remarkable when it is analyzed. Shrubb and Marsh ran over the same track, but it was not measured, and was allowed at ten laps to the mile. Yesterday i was measured and was found to go eleven laps to the mile. Yesterday i was measured and was found to go eleven laps to the mile. Yesterday it was measured and was found to go eleven laps to the mile. Yesterday it was measured and was found to go eleven laps to the mile, consequently Appleby, and Acoose had to run fifteen laps furtler than March and Shrubb, or about one mile and a third, yet they did it in just 42 seconds more time. Acoose will now be taken east to go against the best Marathoners.

Toronto, May 19 .- Dyment's Fort Woodbine yesterday, is by Fort Hunter, out of Flying Bess, the latter being by Woodbine yesterday, is by Fort Hunter, out of Flying Bess, the latter being by Courtown—Galena. He is a strictly Barrie production, and both his parents carried the orange and green jacket with distinction before they retired to the stud farm. Fort Hunter was a champion three-year-old and a Derby winner, whose triumphs are fresh in the memory of racegoers, as they are tales of only a few seasons ago. Flying Bess, like distinction before they retired to the stud farm. Fort Hunter was a champion three-year-old and a Derby winner, whose triumphs are fresh in the memory of racegoers, as they are tales of only a few seasons ago. Flying Bess, like Fort Garry, was bred at the Brookdale Farm, overlooking Kempenfeldt Bay, and was one of the late Mr. N. Dyment's particular favorites. A successful performer at two years old, she had an off-season at three, but recovered her form at four years, and several times won mile races at 1.40, when such time was not 50 frequently recorded as it is nowadays. The story is told that at the end of that season, when Mr. Dyment sent his cheque for a large contribution to discharge the debt on his home church, he said, the "credit should be given to Flying Bess, who was bred in Belmont Park, N. Y. May 19.— The form at four years, and several times was not so frequently recorded as it is nowadays. The story is told that at the end of that season, when Mr. Dyment sent his cheque for a large contribution to discharge the debt on his home church, he said, the "credit should be given to Flying Bess, who was bred in Barrie." Both sire and dam of Flying Bess were imported, and the lines of Courtown's breeding, if not so fashionable as some other parts of the pedigree, are without a flaw. Courtown himself was practically always a private stallion, but all his progeny that were trained showed high speed. He could beget Plate winners, for Sapper and Thessalon were sons of the Irish horse, and a daughter was Jessamine Porter, who long held the Canadian record for a mile and a quarter. Imported Galena was a tower of strength to the Barrie breeding establishment, her produce including Flying Bess, Lady Berkeley and Court Martial. Fort Garry is not without racing experience, as he ran in five races last year, but did not get into the money in any of them. On paper the Fort Hunter colt lacks none of the requirements of a winning Plate horse. Nothing in the race has a greater turn of early speed. Even if Dog of War is a front runner, and Shimonese worked six furlongs better than 1.13 last summer, Fort Garry should be able to take in place in the early stages on Saturday, and escape the crowding. His work all goes to suggest that he can stay, so the Cock o' the North can be looked on as still in the pit, heeled and ready.

It will show the performance of the car on smooth roads and rough, on hills and on the level—will show its lack of vibration—its silence—its extreme comfort. In a fight to a finish Johnson would surely win because of his strength and endurance, also his patience and cautiousness. Chicago, May 19.—James J. Jeffries has jumped on the scales in public for the first time since he came out of retirement, and in the presence of a few interested persons tipped the beam at 243 pounds.

Jeffries announced he would weigh again before he left the city and would show whether or not he was reducing his weight. He said his best fighting weight is 220. "I don't see where I am asking much for delay in training," said Jeffries. "I simply want to be in the best possible shape when I enter the ring. Five times in the sixth round he was saved from a knock out by a second. Twice he was knocked through the ropes, once clear across the roess table into the seats of spectators. Ketchell apparently toyed with his opponent. Only the cheering voices of his companions from the audience inspired McGann several times to get upon his feet again, after being all but knocked out.

For a moment it was feared that a murder had been committed, but an examination of the wound quickly disposed of the possibility of such a crime. If this had been the case the murderer would have had to approach to within a few feet of the deceased, and this could not have been accomplished without Mr. Smith hearing him. Furthermore no powder marks were found on the face, and the gun was the property of Smith. The weapon used was of the common bird shooting variety, and appeared to be an old-timer and rather worn. The ammunition used in these guns is a cartridge about three inches in length and three-quarters of an inch in diameter. It contains hundreds of small shot, which when discharged spread in all directions.
