CHAPTER XXXVI.

A YEAR'S FAREWELL.

THE trials of France were ended. Colonel Childes wore his honors gravely and modestly. His bravery had been rewarded as greatly as lay in the power of a nation. His name was not alone cleared from shame, but was laurel-crowned. The great novelist was the battle's hero. Every paper published stories of his life. Those who had regarded him as an unpunished criminal now called him martyr.

Miss Beaufort, also, was not without her share of well merited praise. The beauty of the 'American Duchess,' her tenderness and care of the wounded and dying, were loudly praised.

But it was all over and done with now. France was being soothed to rest in the lap of her own misery. The Americans had done what they could, and the steamer that sailed from Liverpool upon a certain Saturday bore Donald Quintard, his wife and daughter, Miss Beaufort, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Quintard, who had been married in London.

Childes was to follow some time later, but had accompanied them as far as Liverpool, taking leave of Miss Beaufort in her own sitting room at the hotel. 'It is cruel that you do not go with us,' she said, 'so that he held both her hands at parting. 'America should have an opportunity to show her appreciation for the gallant soldier who has risked such credit upon her.'

'Your words are sweeter to me than those of a nation,' he said gently, 'but it is much better that I should not go yet. You know my weakness, Duchess, and I dare not place myself in the face of temptation. I am a poor man again now, you know, compelled to struggle with life.'

'It is very hard for you!'

'No; oh, no! How should I ever spend these long, weary months without suffering terrible pains from his kidneys.'

Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body, and most people are troubled with some kind of kidney complaint, but do not suspect it. There is no way of getting the kidneys to work properly except through the kidneys, and no medicine so effective in taking them out as Dr. Boyel's Herb Tablets. They help the kidneys to flush out the acids and poisonous impurities which have collected in the clearing out the kidneys, bladder and urinary passages. Mr. C. Jordan of Port Sandfield, writes as follows: Gentlemen:— It gives me pleasure to testify to the merits of Dr. Boyel's Herb Tablets. I suffered terribly from kidney disease for three years, which trouble I contracted from exposure while working at my trade which is carpentering. I was advised to try your medicine. I am thankful to say that I am now completely cured, and I can truly recommend this medicine to all sufferers from this painful disease. Thankfully yours, C. JORDAN.

At The Bar Of Another World.

THE MARCH ASSIZE.

Something more than half a century ago, a person, in going along Holborn, might have seen, near the corner of one of the thoroughfares which diverge towards Russell Square, the respectable-looking shop of a glover and haberdasher named James Harvey, a man generally esteemed by his neighbors, and who was usually considered well to do in the world. Like many London tradesmen, Harvey was originally from the country. He had come up to town when a poor lad, to push his fortune, and by dint of steadiness and civility, and a small property left him by a distant relation, he had been able to get into business on his own account, and to attain the most important element of success in London—a connection. Shortly after setting up in the world, he married a young woman from his native town, to whom he had been engaged ever since his school-days; and at the time our narrative commences he was the father of three children.

James Harvey's establishment was one of the best frequented of its class in the street. You could never pass without seeing customers going in or out. There was evidently not a little business going forward. But although, to all appearance, a flourishing establishment, the proprietor of the shop was surprised to find that he was continually plucked in his circumstances. No matter what was the amount of business transacted over the counter, he never got any richer.

At the period referred to, shop-keeping had not attained that degree of organization, with respect to counter-men and cashiers, which now distinguishes the great houses of trade. The primitive till was not yet superseded. This was the weak point in Harvey's arrangements; and not to make a needless number of words about it, the poor man was regularly robbed by a shopman, whose dexterity in pitching a guinea into the drawer, so as to make it jump, unseen with a jerk into his hand, was worthy of Herk Dobler, or any other master of the sublime art of jugglery.

Good-natured and unsuspecting, perhaps also, not sufficiently vigilant, Harvey was long in discovering how he was plied. Cartwright, the name of the person who was preying on his employer, was not a young man. He was between forty and fifty years of age, and had been in various situations, where he had always given satisfaction, except on the score of being somewhat gay and somewhat irritable. Privately, he was a man of loose habits, and for years his extravagances had been paid for by property fraudulently abstracted from his too-confiding master. Slow to believe in the reality of such wickedness, Mr. Harvey could with difficulty entertain the suspicions which began to dawn on his mind. At length all doubt was ended. He detected Cartwright in the very act of carrying off goods to a considerable amount. The man was tried at Old Bailey for the offence, but through a technical informality in the indictment, acquitted.

Unable to find employment, and with a character gone, the liberated thief became savage, revengeful, and desperate. Instead of imputing his fall to his own irregularities, he considered his late unfortunate employer as the cause of his ruin; and now he

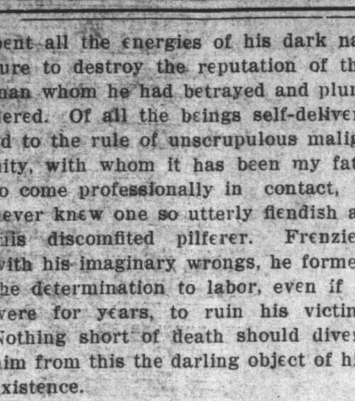

This will Stop Your Cough in a Hurry. Save 52 by Making This Cough Syrup at Home.

This recipe makes 16 ounces of better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. A few doses quickly conquer the most obstinate cough—stops even whooping cough quickly. Simple as it is, is no better remedy can be had at any price. Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16 oz. bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It has a pleasant taste and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. Has a good tonic effect, braces up the appetite and is slightly laxative, too, which is helpful. A handy remedy for hoarseness, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles.

The effect of pine on the membranes is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norwegian white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula. This Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe has attained great popularity throughout the United States and Canada. It has often been imitated, though never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Whooping Cough CROUP ASTHMA COUGHS COLDS BRONCHITIS CATARRH Vapo-Cresolene

Animated by these diabolical passions Cartwright proceeded to his work. Harvey, he had good reason to believe, was in debt to persons who had made him advances; and by means of artfully concocted anonymous letters, vividly written by some one conversant with the matters on which he wrote, he succeeded in alarming the creditors. The consequences were—demands of immediate payment, and in spite of the debtor's explanations and promises, writs, heavy law expenses, ruinous articles and ultimate bankruptcy. It may seem almost too marvellous for belief, but the story of this terrible revenge and its consequences is no fiction. Very incident in my narrative is true the whole may be found in narrative in the records of the courts which a few years ago I was familiar.

The humiliated and distressed feelings of Harvey and his family may be left to the imagination. When he found himself a ruined man, I dare say his mental sufferings were sufficiently acute. Yet he did not sit down in despair. To reestablish himself in business in England appeared hopeless; but America presented itself as a scene where industry might find reward; and by his kindness of some friends, he was enabled to make preparations to emigrate with his wife and children. Towards the end of February he quitted London for one of the great seaports, where he was to embark for Boston. On arriving there with his family, Mr. Harvey took up his abode at a principal hotel. This, a man of strained means, was doubtless imprudent; but he afterwards attempted to explain the circumstance by saying, that as the ship was to sail on the day after his arrival, he had preferred incurring a light additional expense rather than 'let his wife—who was now, with fatigue spirits, nursing an infant—should be exposed to coarse associations and personal discomforts. In the expectation, however, of being only one night in the hotel, Harvey was unfortunately disappointed. Ship-masters, especially those commanding emigrant vessels, were then, as now, habitually promise-breakers; and although each succeeding sun was to light them on their way it was fully a fortnight before the ship stood out to sea. At that time a second and more dire reverse had occurred in the fortunes of the luckless Harvey.

The Queen Mother, Queen Alexandra, does not intend ever again to wear colors, and has given away many of the costly and elaborate garments in the royal wardrobe which she will never wear again. She will wear the becoming small Mary Stuart bonnet with the peak in front and hanging well behind for some time to come when out of doors, but indoors she usually wears a white crepe head-dress, with a white crepe collar and broad cuffs of the same material. Queen Alexandra has only left the palace of Buckingham Palace twice since her widowhood, but has taken a good deal of exercise in the beautiful grounds of the palace.

The silent man of the Winchester Regd. Workhouse has died, leaving a good record for eccentric conduct that would be hard to equal. He was an inmate of the workhouse for fifteen years, during which time he spent on only two occasions. His indifference to his surroundings would have done credit to an Indian mystic. His habits were of perfect mechanical regularity, and the other inmates could tell the time of day from the place in which he was to be found. He declined gifts and favors, and once declined a legacy. When informed of it by a lawyer, he neither spoke nor gave any sign, and he refused to put his signature to the legal documents.

Zbysco Failed to Throw Deriaz.

Deriaz, the Swiss wrestler, easily won the handicap match against Zbysco, the Pole, recently at Solmer Park. Zbysco had agreed to throw his opponent three times in an hour, but in this he failed badly, not being able to even put Deriaz's shoulders to the mat once. The Pole was away of condition. Instead of the 235 pounds that he should weigh when in the pink, he scaled 250 last night, and had quite evidently not recovered from the effects of the sea voyage. In the first thirty minutes Deriaz, on sufferance, several times took the offensive but could do nothing. After a brief rest on the mat Zbysco walked easily out of a hold at the thirty-minute stage. Deriaz began to come stronger while the forty minute stage showed Zbysco plainly weakening. The perspiration was pouring down his face and his wind was bad. In the last ten minutes Deriaz gained confidence before his formidable

Three Children Perish.

Buchanan, Sask., Nov. 8.—Word was reached here of the death by suffocation of three children of A. Todd during the absence of their parents. The fire started in the wood box and when the mother came in from milking she found her six-months old baby dead under the bed in the main room, where it had been carried by a child only three or four years old, the eldest of the family. The second child died five hours later, and the distracted mother ran to two or three neighbouring houses imploring some one to go for a doctor, but no one responded. Word reached town the following day and a doctor went out, but was unable to save the life of the eldest child.

Father Morrissey's Lung Trouble.

Cured Miss Maroney of Serious Lung Trouble. Blissfield, N.B., Dec. 26, 1909. Father Morrissey Medicine Co. Ltd. As a patient of Father Morrissey's I would thank you for an opportunity of giving expression to the benefits I have received from his prescriptions and medicines, not on one occasion but at different times. Some eight years ago I had occasion to apply to the Rev. gentleman for treatment for lung trouble which proved to be of a serious nature; so serious was my case that my friends looked upon my recovery as almost hopeless, but after his treatment I am thankful to say that to-day I am in perfect health. On Feb. 26, 1907, I had occasion to ask his advice and treatment for a lame back. I received a prescription which gave me immediate relief. Thanking you, I am Yours faithfully, Mrs. M. MARONEY.

If you know of a case of Lung trouble, tell the sufferer of Father Morrissey's "No. 10" (Lung Tonic). Trial Bottle 25c. Regular size 50c, at your dealer's, or from Father Morrissey Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.B.

Kidney Suffering

Backaches and tired feelings tell of weak kidney action—Prompt relief by using Dr. A.W. CHASE'S KIDNEY AND LIVER PILLS. There is no treatment for kidney disease which will afford you relief so quickly as Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills, and none which will so certainly cure the most complicated forms of this disease. There is a reason for this. Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills awaken the action of the liver and bowels as well as the kidneys and thereby effect a thorough cleansing and regulating of the excretory system. Mr. S. J. Argue, Kara, Carleton, Co. Ont., writes:—'I have suffered a great deal with kidney troubles and pains in the small of the back and have tried a good many remedies without obtaining very much benefit. I wish to say, however, that I can heartily recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a splendid medicine as they have proven of very great value to me.'

Deriaz won the handicap, not only by his good condition, but by his guilefulness. He was put through a hard grueling in the first thirty minutes when Zbysco was on top practically all the time, cutting loose a punishing assortment of mat tricks.

Test Big Guns on Battleship Neptune.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The new Dreadnought battleship Neptune, of the British navy, which completed her official gun trials in the Channel on October 3, reported a satisfactory result. The concussion was terrific when the broadsides were fired from her ten 12-inch guns, and minor damage was done on board, although every preparation had been made to prevent it. The new superimposed turrets or barbettes worked quite up to expectations, and the guns' crews in the lower turrets withstood the test of concussion well.

The feature of interest was the effect of the firing of guns, their muzzles almost exactly over the turrets of the guns in front, for the two turrets aft were thus arranged, the guns of the one to the rear and at a higher level than those of the turret in front. The gun mountings of the hydraulic type, for insuring accuracy and rapidity of fire, gave full satisfaction.

In a few days Gunner Allen will be executed here for the murder of Captain Ellison.

The Evening Chit-Chat
By RUTH CAMERON

Not long ago a woman wrote me a little story of a mother who had her little boy with her in a millinery shop. While she was looking at the new models, the boy went from hat to hat, examining them. Being of an investigating turn of mind, he was anxious to see what everything was made of, and on each hat would squeeze some ornament between his fingers, saying "That's glass" or "that's wax" or "that's cloth," as the demostriation proved.

One of the clerks, catching sight of the destruction that was going on, bore down upon the youngster with a gentle "Oh, little boy, please, you mustn't." Whereupon the mother, instead of reproving the boy and apologizing for his actions, turned upon the clerk haughtily announcing "He may play with all the hats he likes, and spoil every one in the shop if he wishes. His grandfather owns the store."

My correspondent winds up her tale by inquiring if I approve of the woman mother's conduct.

Seems to me that's very analogous to inquiring if I have any common sense at all.

That mother had the pleasure of discomfiting the saleswoman and bringing about a very dramatic denouement to the little incident. I wonder if that repaid her for the harmful lesson she taught her boy.

Instead of self restraint and respect for the rights of others, she was impressing upon him his right to absolute self gratification.

Some day maybe that son will run away and marry a chorus girl, or disgrace his family by stealing a few hundred thousands from some bank. And his mother will wring her hands and bewail her fate. Will she ever

AFTER FOUR YEARS OF MISERY

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md.—"For four years my life was a misery to me. I suffered from irregularities, terrible dragging sensations, extreme nervousness, and that all gone feeling in my stomach. I had given up hope of ever being well when I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Then I felt as though new life had been given me, and I am recommending it to all my friends."—Mrs. W. S. Fox, 1908 Lansdowne St., Baltimore, Md.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test of years and to-day is more widely and successfully used than any other female remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed.

If you are suffering from any of these ailments, don't give up hope until you have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. If you would like special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. She has guided thousands to health, free of charge.

Looking Forward.

Editor, Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—We are now looking forward for the Election of 1912 when we hope to see the Tory Government wiped out of power, which will be, I hope, the returning of the Bond Government back to the House once more, so as we poor fishermen of Placentia Bay will get our rights as fishermen, and not have to pay the taxes for the Government looters of Placentia who are daily walking the streets with brass buttons and gold chains.

Now, Mr. Editor, the Tories were elected to power in May, 1909, what have we Red Island men got since? They got a leaky dredge boat to dredge the harbour which was worn out and condemned by M. P. Cashin, of Cap-Broyle, and which is now lying on the bottom in our little harbour in the mooring places for our boats at winter time.

Now, Mr. Editor, does Mr. Howley think we are all "cods" like himself, or does he think, as Morine said, we are too green to burn. He will find his mistake; the Red Island men are wide awake to the facts and won't allow Will Howley to "cod" us.

What have they done in Placentia. They have built a $3,000 motor boat, they have built a $1,000 breakwater at the Blockhouse, a $100 breakwater at Richard Wyse's, and now they tell us they have given Job Bros. the contract of running the motor boat.

Now, Mr. Editor, how can we expect to get our rights as fishermen of Placentia Bay when Placentia is getting all the cream.

We will get our rights, Mr. Editor, when we get the Bond Government back to power, and our own three good reliable representatives: Jackman, Sullivan and James Davis, once more looking after the interests of the Placentia Bay fishermen, not the Placentia looters.

Trusting, Mr. Editor, I have not taken up too much space in your paper, this being my first letter. I trust you will publish it for me.

I remain yours,

Harbor Grace Notes.

The s.s. Adventure arrived here at 4 p.m. on Friday and landed 1,000 tons of coal to R. Rutherford & Co. This same firm had a small schooner, the Dorothy, last week, and expects another schooner to go south for her, the Victory. The s.s. Euphrates discharged 100 tons hard coal to the same company on Thursday last. No more coal famine for a time at least.

We have been asked to draw the attention of Sir E. P. Morris to the fact that the gold medals supplied by the above gentleman, toward for our regatta last summer had won by the Sons of England crew in the Maggie, have not yet been presented. It is surely time now that these trophies of victory were handed to the winning crew. There certainly must be neglect somewhere.

Your paper referred one day last week, as did also another of the dailies, to a suicide having taken place here in the early morning and that passengers by train could not find the particulars of the report before the train left other than that a man had hanged himself. It is too bad to take such items from irresponsible people. Had such a sad affair happened recently would have telegraphed you, provided, of course, I was not the unhappy individual, when no doubt some other person would do the needful. It is unfair to this town to send broadcast such reports without foundation.

Something over thirty years ago, while at Murray's Harbour, Labrador, Mrs. Patrick Moriarty had the misfortune to lose her wedding ring. She searched everywhere was fruitless. Each summer, after 40 years, when the family went to the coast, search was made, but without success. Moriarty's son, Frank, while fishing there this summer noticed in the pathway leading to the beach, about 20 feet distant, something bright, and on picking it up thought immediately of the ring. On returning to Harbor Grace his mother recognized the lost article, which is worn a little but still in good condition, and is now wearing the long lamented gold band.

Miss N. Munn, of Woodbine Cottage, and her guest, Miss Hippaley, returned by Saturday's train from Cochrandale, where they enjoyed a three weeks' visit to Mrs. Mackinnon.

The sch. Studlands, Capt. W. Parmiter, left this morning with a load of fish, etc. for St. John's from Mr. E. Stimpson.

Some very large codfish were caught on the "ledge" grounds, Friday and Saturday. They were the largest fish caught around here this season and sold readily, some of the largest realizing 30, 35 and 40 cents each. Fishermen say fish are very plentiful on these grounds now.

People who had friends on Bell Island, and likely to come in for Sunday, were rather uneasy on Saturday night when it was learned that the s.s. Mary had left the island early in the evening, but was unable to make port on account of the dense fog. It was not until 2 o'clock Sunday morning that the captain could make this harbor.

Another large contingent of our young men will leave by tomorrow's express for Sydney, where they will work for the winter.

While Mr. Frank Shute, farm servant with Dr. Strapp, was going up Green's Lane a few evenings ago on horse back, the animal went to the one side and crashed the rider up by the wire fence of the lane. The jag was somewhat cur and bit, and Mr. Shute suffered much pain, but he is now all right again.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. K. Alcock on Thursday, November 8th.

Cities Boost Themselves.

Towns and States Spend Thousands of Dollars in Advertising.
Spokane, Wash., laid out more than $100,000 last year holding herself up to the public gaze; Memphis expects to spend $25,000 this year for the same purpose; St. Paul $18,000; Chicago, with a "Booster Club" of 3,000 hustlers, pays an advertising manager a salary of $10,000 a year and does not consider that she really needs much boosting either.

The advertising bills of the city of New York during the last six years aggregated a trifle under five millions of dollars, says Business. Denver, Des Moines, Detroit, Kansas City, Topeka and Wichita, Kan.; Indianapolis, New Orleans, Rochester, Cleveland—one might fill a page with a list of the cities that are boosting and booming themselves, systematically and resolutely, and laying out their good, hard coin to do it.

The Greater Georgia Association, with a membership of nearly 20,000, is at work raising $200,000 to be used in exploiting the State and expects to establish permanent advertising headquarters in many cities throughout the country. Mississippi is getting busy with a somewhat similar plan; eighty Nebraska newspapers have pledged themselves to methodically exploit their commonwealth and to raise $25,000 within the coming year with which to do the work; the Northern Pacific Railway Company has just put a force of thirty writers and publicity men to work on a campaign of advertising for Oregon.

Judge's Ruse.

The following story, attributed to Mr. Joseph Choate, is taken from the Troy (N.Y.) Times, and is illustrative of the remarkable ingenuity displayed by a judge. The case occurred some forty years ago. A workman claimed to have lost the sight of his left eye in an explosion. There was no doubt about the explosion, and there was no doubt that the workman's eye had been injured; but the physicians claimed that he could see out of it, while he stoutly declared that the sight was utterly destroyed. The judge heard all the evidence pro and con, then, sending the workman from the room, he said, "Get a blackboard and write a sentence on it with green chalk. Also get a pair of spectacles with ordinary clear glass for the left eye and with red glass for the right." This in the course of an hour or so was done. Then the workman was brought back, and he was ordered to put the queer glasses on. He put them on, and the judge said to him, "Turn the blackboard round, and see if you can read what is written. The man read the sentence without hesitancy, whereupon the judge said to him sternly, "Your case is dismissed. You are an impostor. You must have read the sentence with your left eye; for the red glass over the right one turned the green writing black, and made it quite invisible on the blackboard."

Seaman Goes Into the Water

When the s.s. Harmony had been only 3 days out of this port on her voyage to Labrador, on the night of Saturday, October 15th, one of the crew narrowly escaped drowning while a regular blizzard raged. A tremendous sea ran, the vessel rolled and pitched and the man alluded to went overboard. It was very dark and as the man was seen to go over a lifebuoy was thrown him, and this he fortunately grasped and thus kept afloat. The ship was quickly stopped, by Capt. Jackson, a boat was lowered away and the man was rescued in an exhausted state, as a terrible sea ran. A new diver awaited the man for when the boat reached the ship she was hauled against the side by a wave and heathen pieces. All managed to get on board the ship, but it is a wonder that there was not less of life as a result of the accident to the boat.

Court Finding on Loss of Regulus.

The Court of Marine Inquiry, in which Judge Conroy, Capt. English and Inspector McLachlan sat to enquire into the loss of the s.s. Regulus, has made the inquiry, and taken among others the evidence of A. J. Harvey, agent and owner, A. D. Brown, Capt. Strong, Capt. Jas. Roberts, master of the John Greene, some of the crew of the latter, R. G. Rendell, the Captain of Cape Spear, P. Howlett, Hy. Chafe, of Petty Harbor, and two of the divers of H.M.S. Brilliant. The inquiry is now closed. Nothing new of a material nature has come to light. The finding of the Court has been made to the Governor and will be sent to the British Board of Trade together with a report of the evidence.

We learn that the finding of the Court is such as might have been expected by those who read the story of the wreck in the Evening Telegram. In the main the facts as found by the Court on sworn testimony are those stated by our reporters and reported in our columns at the time. We will briefly rehearse them. On Sunday the 23rd of October, the ill-fated Regulus was on her way in ballast from Bell Island to Sydney. At 8.50 that morning she passed Cape Spear. At 2 in the afternoon Mr. A. J. Harvey received by way of Bay Bulls, a telegraphic message from Capt. Taylor reporting that the tall shaft of the Regulus was broken and asking aid. Mr. Harvey despatched the two steam tugs "John Green" and the "Ingramham" promptly.

H. M. S. Brilliant was ready to give assistance, if she had been asked; but the Court considers that the two tugs could have rendered the aid needed if both had fallen in with her. The Ingramham, however, did not meet her. The "John Green" did not come across the Regulus until 10 p.m., owing to the dense fog, although he had the position of the vessel had given. After talking the matter over with Capt. Taylor, the master of the tug took the line aboard at 10.30 p.m. At this time the fog was very thick and heavy seas were getting up.

The choice of the procedure in the opinion of the Court was one of three: 1. The Regulus might have remained at anchor for the night with the tug standing by her. 2. The tug could have taken captain and crew off, run to Bay Bulls, and returned to the Regulus the next morning. 3. The third course was to take a tow from the "John Green." The Court considers it unfortunate that the third choice was taken. It was most hazardous for the Regulus to take a tow from the "John Green" as the tug, in the opinion of the Court, was not heavy enough for the undertaking with fog, wind and sea conditions so adverse.

Bad as were the conditions, from an hour and a half to two hours were taken up in heaving the anchor, during which time the wind had increased to a gale and veered to S. E. and S. The Court finds that there is no one living now who can tell the Court why the cable was not slipped instead of the anchor being weighed and precious time saved.

Towing went on for over two hours at from 2 to 2 1/2 miles an hour. This speed allowed both tug and tow to make much leeway towards the land. At 2.30 a.m. land was sighted on the port bow of the tug. She ported to escape the rocks and the line broke, which the tug began hauling in. Five minutes later the lights of the Regulus disappeared suddenly.

The position of the propeller makes it certain that the Regulus struck on "Hayes's Reef" in Leeward Cove, south of Petty Harbor Motion, and there her crew of 19 men met their fate.

The Court considers that the course steered by the John Greene was neither a safe nor a proper one to clear the Petty Harbor Motion, and that if the casualty had occurred in the Motion both tug and tow would have been lost.

The Court holds further that in order to clear the Motion an east course should have been steered instead of the N.E. by E. course which was taken.

DE LAVAL

CREAM SEPARATOR.

Nearly 1,200,000 farmers, creamerymen, milk dealers and owners of country homes, throughout the world, are already using De Laval Cream Separators, and 150,000 or more are being added to the number every year—many more this year than ever before.

If you haven't a De Laval Cream Separator already you can't be anywhere near the head of this tremendous procession that started thirty years ago, but it will be foolish to wait to bring up the tail end of it.

The use of a De Laval Cream Separator—with even a single cow—means more and better cream and butter, warm and sweet skim milk, less labor and more profit, twice a day every day in the year.

A De Laval Cream Separator saves its cost in a few months, not only over any other method of creaming milk but over any imitating cream separator.

Then why not fall into the De Laval procession now? You can't recover the waste and worry of previous years, but you can stop it going further. Why not do so? Every day of delay means just that much more waste of product, quality and dairy comfort. Why prolong it?

De Laval Cream Separators are made for one cow to one thousand, in proportionate size, style and price.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—Apropos of a leader in yesterday's issue of the Chronicle under the above heading, I would like to say a few words.
Previous to the last general election the writer, as one interested in shipping in the West End of the harbor of St. John's, was encouraged by Sir E. P. Morris (now Premier) to hawk around a petition for signatures, setting forth the inconveniences which the commercial people in the West End of the city suffered from owing to the location of the training ship Calypso. Sir E. P. Morris assured the writer that he was in full sympathy with the movement and fully appreciating the position of the business people in that locality, and that he would, if elected to power, immediately attend to this matter. Now what has happened?
Sir E. P. has been in power eighteen months, and during that time a deputation waited on him in reference thereto. He referred them to the Colonial Secretary, who heard their complaint and promised that the Executive Council would attend to their representations. Since then all we folks in the West End know about it is, that the Calypso is still in the same position, we are still subjected to the same inconvenience and loss, and that Mr. J. Downey has been across to the other side of the Atlantic, seen a dredge boat, was greatly impressed by the work done by it, and at considerable expense to the Colony, and reported accordingly. Now, Mr. Editor, the point I want to make is this: How long is this cog going to continue? How long are the people who are suffering and losing money by this inconvenience going to put up with it?
Long winded editorials in Government organs simply aggravate the feelings of people who are embarrassed by the annoyance, and is a poor substitute for the practical action that was promised but never performed.
I would like to remind Sir Edward publicly of the great injury done to the commercial interests of firms in the West End of the city, which react injuriously against the interest of a very considerable number of laborers and other workmen in his constituency.
Surely such a serious affair as this, affecting as it does his own constituents, ought to make him besite himself at once and get the grievance remedied. He has it in his power to-day, if he wishes to do so; which being so, I should like him to explain why there is no move being made in the matter. Failure of action in this connection on his part may result in another verification of Abe Lincoln's famous saying, "You may fool all of the people some of the time, some of the people all of the time, but you cannot fool all of the people all of the time."
With a warning to Sir E. P. that the eyes of the West End laborer is upon him, and that a day of reckoning is at hand, I remain, Yours truly,
WATER ST. WEST.
Nov. 15th, 1910.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its Forms can be Cured.
It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything, I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.
Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

At the S.A. Citadel.

Colonel Gaskin bid farewell to the Army at a meeting held specially for the purpose, at the Citadel last night. There were present one of the largest gatherings ever seen there. After thanking the soldiers and officers for their hearty co-operation in the field work, he read the text from Ez. 33: 32: "And lo, thou art unto them as a very lovely son of one that hath a pleasant voice and can play well on an instrument, etc." He spoke of Miriam, Deborah and David and expressed the opinion that the hymn sung on the eve of Our Lord's death must have been soulless as only John remained with Him. "There is great need of soul in our songs," said the Colonel, as his eye flashed with enthusiasm and he scanned the bands of men who had so ably done their part in the service. Many heads were bowed and tears flowed as the Colonel pictured in vivid terms the dying saints and spoke of the hymns they sung. The impression was profound and the Colonel's burning eloquence captivated all hearts. The fine brass band of the Army was present and played some soul stirring selections. Capt. King also gave a selection on the piano, from Chopin, which was greatly enjoyed. Mr. Heber, a worthy, the youngest bandman in the city, played a beautiful cornet solo which won much applause. The Field Secretary warmly complimented all the bandmen on their proficiency. He will return to Canada on Thursday, but crowds are anxious that he should speak again before leaving.

The S. S. Adventure arrived from Harbor Grace last night after discharging her coal cargo there. She leaves for Sydney again on Thursday night to take another cargo of coal.
The S. S. Benedick sails tonight for Montreal via Sydney. She will return later with another full cargo.

Asbestol Horsehide Gloves for Men.

TAKE men who are plying their calling through storm and tempest—the crew of ships handling icy ropes, cases and all kinds of packages in all conditions of weather, many of these packages with nails and sharp edges of iron jutting out at the sides.

Picture a man with pierced and bleeding hands caused by these sharp edges.
The captain from his position, on the bridge exposed to the severest cold—the railroad man at all kinds of work—the engineer handling and fitting hot steam pipes—the truckman doing rough and heavy work—the mechanic doing outside skilled labor, and you will say it is necessary for these men to protect their hands with Asbestol Horsehide Gloves.

Asbestol Gloves are made of genuine horsehide, tanned by a mineral process, which makes these gloves stand the test of heat, steam, water and washing—sewed in the strongest possible manner, perfect fitting, and made for rough, heavy and hard work.

These gloves when dirty can be washed with soap and water, can be wet through and dried in the strongest heat and will dry out absolutely soft and pliable as when new. Made in black and yellow. Size 9, 9½, 10, 10½.
Come in and see these gloves.
Prices are low for the qualities.

SHOPPING BY MAIL.

DICK'S MAIL ORDER SERVICE annihilates the distance between your home and Dick's Popular Book and Stationery Store and Bazaar of Fancy Goods.

Dick's service is dependable, whether you trade in person, or ask us to make selection for you. In one way perhaps it may be said that we pay even closer attention to the order by mail, because when you call in person it naturally relieves the store of some of the responsibility of selection.

Please do not think that your order is thrown into the basket with scores of others to be ground out mechanically—nothing of the sort at the Popular Store.

It is the conscientious handling of orders as well as the high quality of goods which accounts for the steady growth of Dick's Mail Order Service.
