IN HOWLING GALE FISHING VESSEL BREAKS UP

Nothing but Bits of Wreckage to Tell Story of Foundering of Newfoundland Schooner Off Long Island.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—In a biting, driving snowstorm of the Long Island shore, the schooner Swallow of St. John's Nfld., and her crew, was lost to-day, according to evidence furnished by a turbulent sea which has strewn the beach east of Fire Island for several miles with bits of wreckage from the ship itself and from her cargo.

On some of this flotsam appeared the name "Swallow, St. John's, Nfld." and this told the beachman who found the wreckage what vessel it was that had foundered in the howling gale.

Of the crew, probably five or six, nothing was seen. The wreckage was scattered about close to shore. He hauled some of them in, and finding it was new wreckage, hurried back to his station to report and secure aid.

The Swallow, according to the marine register, was a small schooner of 73 tons. She was built 30 years ago at Moses' River and was owned by John Dawson of St. John's Nfld.

BRITISH SAFE ON NORTH SEA

Dreadnaught Ships Unequaled, Ship for Ship, in the World's Fleets, Says Admiral.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Just as England was the first to have a Dreadnaught, so she is before all other nations in having a fleet of these, the most modern of fighting ships.

With the commissioning of the new battleship Lord Nelson, and her assignment to the North Sea, the home fleet, the first line of defence against a possible attack from across the North Sea, that fleet, in the words of a British admiral, became "a combination of strength and homogeneity unequalled, ship for ship, in the world's fleets."

Before midsummer it is anticipated that the fleet will be further strengthened by the Dreadnaught battleships Temeraire, Bellerophon and Superb.

The fire also spread to the old train shed of the Park-square Railroad station, formerly used as the terminal of the Providence division of the New York, New Haven, Hartford Railroad, and destroyed the bicycle track and a large pavilion used for exhibition purposes.

The insurance rates on the destroyed property were somewhat higher than those in effect on other buildings of like use in the city, and the majority of the owners were but partly insured, while one or two firms had none.

LIBEL ON OUR CLIMATE

Spanish Papers Publish Wild Tales of Canadian Winter. MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—(Special.)—The commercial community here think the government should take steps to prevent in future the publication of the erroneous statements going the rounds of the Spanish newspapers, notably in the Argentine Republic. In a recent editorial one of these read: "The observations relating to Canada, published by Dr. O'Farrell, are absolutely correct. Canada is a great agricultural country, but is completely dead during the six winter months. He was in Montreal last year at the beginning of September, and the River St. Lawrence was frozen over, while navigation was at a standstill. He left Montreal the following April and the St. Lawrence was still frozen."

MR. TEDDY OR U.S. PROSECUTOR OF N.Y. WOULD?

Speculation as to Right of Government to Proceed Against Newspaper for Alleged Criminal Libel.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The latest and most interesting suggestion regarding the service yesterday of subpoenas upon a number of newspapermen, is that an individual and not the United States Government is the real plaintiff in the case. It is true that the subpoenas served here read "The United States v. The Press Publishing Co."

The identity of this individual or individuals, for there may be more than one of them, is purely a matter of speculation, for the public will have to await the issue of the promised statement of Attorney-General Bonaparte, in the course of a day or two, to get any accurate understanding of this remarkable case.

Local lawyers are discussing the case with interest, and already sharp differences of opinion appear as to the right of the United States Government to prosecute a criminal libel proceeding against either an individual or a newspaper, which is after all the contentions, for there can be no question of the right of an individual to bring such an action.

It is pointed out that the supreme court on record in the Goodwin case, as denying the power of a United States circuit court to take jurisdiction in a criminal libel case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Quick to appreciate the plea that the fine area has been denied the governmental consideration accorded by other nations, as suggested by the American Institute of Architects, President Roosevelt announces to-day that he has selected the institute to designate the names of 20 men, representing all parts of the country, to compose a council of the fine arts.

PROHIBITION TORRENT SWEEPING CONTINENT

Hon. Eugene M. Chafin, and Speaker Crawford Address Canadian Temperance League.

The presence of Hon. Eugene W. Chafin, presidential candidate of the National Prohibition party in the United States, attracted an audience which crowded Massey Hall, hundreds having to stand. The Alexander Choir and Ruthven McDonald led the singing.

The chairman said that he had been privileged a number of times during the past few years to preside at the meetings of the Canadian Temperance League. It rejoiced his heart to see the vast audiences which attended the services, such as that which crowded it at the present meeting.

The work in educating the public by the Canadian speakers had been valuable, but possibly that of the prominent leaders from the United States had exceeded it in consequence of their ability to speak from a wider acquaintance of the good effects of prohibitory liquor laws.

In Ontario the sign of the times was that the bars must go. The hotel and barroom must be divorced. Temperance people should proceed quietly and cautiously to hold what they have already attained. An important matter was the establishment of temperance hotels. There was no doubt about the success of the prohibition party in the sweeping victories for local option.

Public Amusements

The advance sale of seats for Hilda Spang will commence her week's engagement at the Royal Alexandra tonight, in her new play, "A Man and His Maid," which is an indication that her success here will be unusually large. Hilda Spang is comparatively a stranger to many Toronto theatregoers, her reputation has evidently preceded her. During the short time she has been produced it has scored a success in every theatre in which she has appeared. Her play, in fact, has left such a strong impression that her engagements are being asked for. The story of the play is so unique and romantic that it is almost entirely new to the stage and that is what the public is looking for. Miss Spang will be supported by a number of those who were in Daniel Frohman's production of "The Girl in the Red Velvet Gown" and the play will be produced with very close attention to scenic and electrical effects. This will be the first time that Miss Spang will have appeared at lower prices than $1.50 and $2.00, and it will also be her first appearance at prices ranging from 25c to $1.00. Matinees will be given on Thursday and Saturday.

Charles Frohman will present Hattie Williams at the Princess Theatre for an engagement of four performances, beginning Thursday evening. Her play, "The Girl in the Red Velvet Gown," has been her greatest success. "Fluffy Burlesque," Miss Williams has in her play a worthy successor to "The Girl in the Red Velvet Gown," in which she made such a big hit last year. She comes with the original and the best company of singers, dancers and comedians, among whom are such well known names as William Morris, Benj. G. Gardner, John Bunny, Marion Abbott, Nellie Butler, Josephine Drake, Marie Annis, Mattie O'Brien and Violet Henning.

Numerous encores and epidemics of mirth wherever Kathryn Osterman appears show how the audience of the "Night of the Play" is made up of those who saw her in other roles, that there was considerable truth in the allegations made by the press agents in the city that she knows how to act and please her auditors. Miss Osterman is one of the few really funny women on the American stage, and in "The Night of the Play," the offering at the Grand Theatre will present for the first time a distinct novelty in comedy. The novelty lies in the fact that her play is the first ever written where women predominate, and make most of the fun in the piece.

Love, pathos, treachery, retribution with a final happy outcome, are the main elements of "Bunco in Arizona," a breezy comedy drama of the far southwest, which will be presented at the Majestic this week. The story is one of absorbing interest, interpreted by Miss Eugenie Resner as the star, supported by a fine class company with genuine Indians, cowboys and horses with realistic stage settings and mechanical effects. The play is in four acts.

Another splendid bill has been arranged at Shea's in fact there will be four real headliners. Laddie Cliff, the English boy comedian, will repeat his former success; Harry Gilfoil, the clever impersonator, will be seen as an extra attraction; Willis Holt Wakefield has a novelty, "Piano-logic," and Edna Luby is a wonderful impersonator. Others will be A. G. Kenyon & Co. presenting "Cupid, M.P. Kitamura Japs, in their wonderful acrobatics, and Nelson & Nelson, acrobatic comedians, and the Kinetograph.

Wholly unlike any other and entirely new in everything, the Golden Crook Extravaganza Company, will be the agents to attract the lovers of pure, wholesome fun and musical extravaganza to the Gateway for the week. The scenery transformations are unrivaled for stupendous spectacular splendor, and the display of electrical effects is brilliantly dazzling. Matinees will be given daily.

The Gans-Nelson fight pictures are an added attraction with "The Duckings," which opens at the Star to-day. The pictures are said to be very clear and the knockout in the first round is very clear. Miss Louise Dacre is the bright star. No raise in prices is asked for the show and the pictures.

One enthusiastic critic describes Lhewine as a pianist who plays outdoors. In other words he makes his listeners forget that there is a concert and the spirit of the outer air, the atmosphere of seas, mountains, winds and sunlight, or whatever the music is intended to be filling the concert hall. He makes his auditors feel that music is in the air and they as he himself were listening to the music along with the audience, completely at variance to the virtuoso, who uses his memory and technique, rather than himself. This very remarkable artist comes to Massey Hall on Friday of next week. The sale of seats begins on Monday next.

LAYMEN'S MISSION CAMPAIGN

Program is Mapped Out for an Extensive Movement in U. S.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A national campaign has been determined upon by the executive committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement. The plan involves holding a series of public meetings for men in all of the more important cities of the United States during the winter of 1909-10. The initial series will be held in Washington and will be participated in by the president and by many public men. The Dominion of the country will thereafter be visited, laymen being the chief speakers in every city. Over 90 laymen have been abroad investigating missions at their own expense under the commission of the laymen's movement and many of these will share actively in the campaign. The changed conditions in Turkey, Persia, India, China and other lands will be forcibly presented. The campaign has been recently conducted in Canada, stretching from Prince Edward Island to the Pacific coast at Vancouver, the concluding convention of which will be held in Toronto March 31-April 4, when at least 2000 delegates from all parts of the Dominion are expected to participate. A world's convention is to be held in London in June, 1910, to which these two national campaigns from North America will lead up.

There is many a man and woman tossing night after night upon a sleepless bed. Their eyes do not close in the sweet and refreshing repose that comes to those whose heart and nerves are right. Some constitutional and irritated the nervous system, that it cannot be quieted. Or again, you are going to die; or perhaps, you wake in your sleep feeling as though you were about to choke or smother, and rest leaves you for the night. If you allow these conditions to continue for a short period even, you will begin to feel your health declining. It is the nerves and heart not acting rightly, and they can only be set right by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. They soon induce health, refreshing sleep, not by deadening the nerves, but by restoring them to healthy action.

THE FLOWER FACTORY.

Lisabeta, Marianina, Flametta, Teresina. They are winding stems of roses, one by one, one by one— Little children who have never learned to play. Teresina softly crying that her fingers ache to-day. Tiny Flametta nodding when the twilight slips in, gray. High above the clattering street, ambulance and fire gong beat. They sit, curling crimson petals, one by one, one by one.

Lisabeta, Marianina, Flametta, Teresina. They have never seen a rose bush nor a dewdrop in the sun. They will dream of the vendetta, Teresina, Flametta. Of a Black Hand and a Face behind a grating: They will dream of cotton petals, endless crimson, suffocating. Never of a wild rose thicker nor the singing of a cricket. But the ambulance will below thru the wretchedness of their dreams. And their tired lids will flutter with the street's hysterical screams.

Lisabeta, Marianina, Flametta, Teresina. They are winding stems of roses, one by one, one by one. Let them have a long, long playtime. Lord of toil, when toil is done. Fill their tiny hearts with roses, joyous roses of the sun. —Florence Wilkinson in McClure's.

Honor for Queen Helena.

VIENNA, Jan. 17.—Emperor Francis Joseph has conferred the grand cross of the order of Elizabeth upon Queen Helena of Italy in recognition of her "self-sacrificing and heroic labors" in connection with the earthquake in Calabria and Sicily.

The Suffragette.

Editor World: In answer to a letter recently published in "The World" by a Canadian Girl in London I may say that I am somewhat surprised that the name of Elizabeth upon Queen Helena of Italy in recognition of her "self-sacrificing and heroic labors" in connection with the earthquake in Calabria and Sicily. It would seem as if her eyes had only caught the glamor of the old world's romance and to grasp blind to its harsh realities and submerged elements of evil. She has stated a good many self-evident truths, but remember, we do not want platitudes from men or women who see only the exterior; before they have a right to express an opinion on any of the social problems of the day they must have a certain depth of insight into such questions. Suffrage is not to be won by a wide-spread expression to-day, it is no mere bubble or light effervescence in the social world, but a means from the deep sea of human activity, an incoming wave with the strength of the ocean behind it and the inability of the public to grasp the fact is astounding. Perhaps it is because so few men probe to the roots of a thing and give an unbiased opinion upon it.

The suffragette has become a by-word—has, no doubt, made herself public property—and, in consequence any person, whether male or female, who shows at her. Then as an excuse for the harsh treatment meted out to her she maintains that she likes to pose as a martyr. Well, all I have to suggest is that she should try to hinder her own progress by the use of the word martyr in an adequate reward.

You who have ever opposed to the stolidity of public opinion some cause which was dear to your heart may understand how readily one becomes fanatical. The advocate of woman's suffrage is a martyr in the hardest sense, for not only is her voice suppressed on the public platform, but the great itself—the supposed medium of justice to all and sundry—is not unbiased and is more ready to publish any calumnious little breezy unkind jest than a clear-minded, rational criticism of the subject. Let it be plainly understood that the place that suffrage is not something which in any sense aims at undermining the domestic fabric, but is a divine right of men, husbands and kings to govern irrespective of their own merits and the dissenting voice of the rest of humanity. Then, too, the question is not how many women want a vote or how many will use it, but why should the stigma of irresponsibility cling to any woman? The man who has no voice in the government of his country is a serf, that is to say, he is not recognized as a fully developed individual capable of thinking and acting for himself. Is it not easy to understand the zeal of the young college woman who, having wrestled with men in the world of thought and against the harsh mandate which says, "After all, it is not what you can do, but what providence has made you— you are only a woman and your individual talent is of no avail against the restrictions which hedge you in from certain spheres of action."

Wherever birth draws a strong demarcation between two human beings, whether between the workman and the capitalist or between man and woman, there readily enters into the mind of the favored one a contempt for the moral worth of the other.

As to the theorist that the responsibility of the franchise would deflect a woman's mind from the duties which she owes to her country, her home and woman, apart from their narrow individual sphere in the world, has no more to say than I thought which ought to be devoted to the wider problems of sociology and humanitarian interests. This would not be true, but rather give a deeper import to the activities of the individual in domestic life. For common sense is the remark, "No, I don't approve of that because Jones advocates it and I know all about Jones." This is a sample of the illogical mind which always forgets that a truth is a truth whether it comes from the lips of a saint or a sinner, and in dealing with the question of suffrage let us not judge the cause by some individual member whose personality does not please us.

Archbishop McEvay Delivers Strong Sermon on the Sin of Profanity.

St. Michael's Cathedral was the scene of a very impressive religious service yesterday afternoon held specially for the Holy Name Society of the Roman Catholic Church. This society has been organized for the purpose of disseminating profanity.

There were present about 2600 men, representing organizations from nearly every parish in the city, and each organization marched in a body, headed by the parish priest, to St. Michael's. The following representatives acted as ushers: Edward Brown, T. H. Bennett, from St. Basil's; P. Kennedy, I. Medlock, D. Miller, from St. Patrick's; Alex. Thompson, J. Cashen, B. Coffey, J. Rompley, from St. Michael's; D. P. Sherrin, D. Eoney, F. McConroy, from St. Peter's; W. A. McGuire, L. O. Rielly, from St. Mary's; I. J. Magher, I. J. Nightingale, from St. Patrick's; and Jasam O'Byrne from St. Francis.

His Grace Archbishop McEvay preached from the commandment, "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain." There were two ways of taking the holy name in vain, one of which was perjury. It was a grievous sin for a man in taking an oath to call on God to witness a falsehood, but a greater sin that was much more prevalent was that of cursing. Parents cursed their offspring and children in turn curse their parents. "It is not hard," he said, "to find boys who know how to swear and blaspheme and do not know how to pray."

In concluding his grace made a strong plea for men to attend communion service more frequently in view of the fact that they are subject to greater temptations than the women of the church. Vice-General McCann of St. Mary's conducted the benediction service, while Rev. Father O'Mally led in the singing. The rosary was said by Rev. Father Whalen.

Fractured Her Hip. Mrs. Elizabeth Logan, mother of J. D. Logan, 510 West Marion-street, on her way home from church last night slipped at the corner of Roscelvalles and Queen-street and fractured her hip. She will be confined to the house for some weeks.

Dr. G. R. McDonough leaves to-day for South America, and will be absent two or three months.

George Arliss, "The Real Devil" Who Comes to the Alexandra.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The remarkable run of George Arliss in "The Devil" at Belasco Theatre came to an end to-night before one of the most brilliant social audiences the season. Arliss' early last August until his last and two hundredth performance in New York. Mr. Arliss has been a sensational success of the season. Harrison Gray Fiske has arranged to send the Belasco production to his entirely new theatre, the Royal Alexandra Theatre, Toronto, for the week of Jan. 25. Mr. Fiske is confident that, despite the numerous variety of Devils that have sprung up thru a lack of copyright, the country at large will give Mr. Arliss as great a victory as did New York City, where four different "Devils" tried in vain to rival Mr. Arliss' wonderful characterization.

Thousands have said this when they caught cold. Thousands have neglected to cure the cold. Thousands have filled a Constipative grave through neglect. Never neglect a cough or cold. It can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the medicine you need. It strikes at the very foundation of all throat or lung complaints, relieving or curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Sore Throat, and preventing Pneumonia and Consumption.

It has stood the test for many years, and is now more generally used than ever. It contains all the lung healing virtues of the pine tree combined with Wild Cherry Bark and other potent remedies. It stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and subsides inflammation, soothes the inflamed parts, loosens the phlegm and mucous, and aids nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulations. Don't be humbugged into accepting an imitation of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and price 25 cents.

"Mrs. J. Brewer, Grafton, N.S., writes:—'Two winters ago I suffered severely with a very bad cold and asthma. I was so bad I could not get my breath, and very often thought I was dying. My husband became very much frightened, and got me a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and it gave me almost instant relief. I can recommend it to anyone having the least kind of a cold.'

League Scores :: Curling Down to the Semi-Finals :: Base Ball Officers At Play

NOTE AND COMMENT

While every one of the eight rinks that fought Saturday in the trophy competition was undoubtedly a considerable calibre the beaten teams were almost outclassed in three of the four games.

John Richardson of East Toronto not only won as expected from J. P. Rogers, the conqueror of H. A. Hays, but the score of 7 to 1 was nearly the most one-sided of the series and his game on Saturday makes it no certain thing that the Granite's will flourish in the final.

Tom Rennie had Charles Snow 9 to 0 at one stage, but the Lakeview quipster pulled up by clever slipping and curling even had a chance to win the match.

Whether the committee's judgment was good or not in stopping the games was open to criticism, according to opinions given in the galleries. The semi-finals could have been contested nicely Saturday night, and the final, if the men, who are now keyed up to conquer, may get off their play by the conclusion of the Grand primaries, the three of the four rinks left are also curling in this week's competition.

President McCaffery announces that he is bringing a business manager from New York for his ball club and that little ago, he is so long as the play.

The board on Saturday succeeded in disposing of the matter brought to the attention of the Tri-State League. He was with Albany a year ago. This, with the valuable assistance of the board, and some more into the treasury without a ball going into the lake.

State prospects for the Longboat-Shirubri race a week from today are not so bright as at the last Marathon. The race is being held at the Marston Hotel.

They are giving a carnival at the Thistle rink Sunday and Monday nights, and the local enthusiasts will bring a large crowd to-night and they drew a very large crowd on Saturday.

OTAWA'S GREAT FINISH. The Shamrocks stacked up against the Ottawa to-night and they drew a very large crowd. The Ottawa took things easy in the first half, but in the second half they showed a new spirit.

HEPSELER ON TOP. The second inter-mediate O.H.A. game was played this evening between Ayr and Hespeler. The game in the first half was in Hespeler's favor by a score of 2 to 1.

Victory For St. Helens. The game between St. Helens and St. Peter's was a clean, fast game of hockey. The score was 2-2 in favor of St. Peter's.

Toronto Hockey Teams Losers To Kingston and the Cliffside

Osgoode Hall Beaten 6-5, Making Good Showing—T.A.A.C. Behind Two Goals—Games in Eastern Canada League.

The newly organized Osgoode team showed some class at Mutual-street Saturday night and while the Senior O.H.A. champions, the 14th Regiment of Kingston, made them tight during the time of 6 to 5, they plainly showed their mettle and incidentally lost to the best Senior O.H.A. team Toronto has had in years.

GRANITES TO SEMI-FINALS SINGLE RINK RESULTS

Granites Have Two Rinks Left, While Queen City and Aberdeens Have One—Results.

Owing to the keen ice the games in the single rink competition lasted till nearly 7 o'clock Saturday, the result narrowing the competition down to the semi-finals which will be played after the Tankard prize has been decided.

At the Granite Rink both the Granite rinks won. T. Rennie defeating C. Snow and defeated W. Scott of Parkdale. It was J. Richardson of the Aberdeens who had the victory at the Queen City rink, winning 2 to 4.

Q.O.R. and Grenadiers Win Officers' Indoor Ball Games

Two Good Games Decided Saturday at the Armories—Highlanders and Ex-Officers Losers.

Two good games were played at the armories on Saturday night in the Officers' League, the Queen's Own and the Royal Grenadiers being the winners.

The Q.O.R. took the lead in the first innings and held it until the seventh when the Ex-Officers came back and looked like their game, but the Queen's Own came back strong in the eighth and scored four runs which put them 2-2.

The second game was a surprise, the Grenadiers putting it all over the ex-officers to the tune of 10 to 2. This game was terrific, the Grens making 13 runs in the third innings, which clinched the game and made the Ex-Officers out of the game.

the situation, as it now presents itself, and is not in the least likely to depart from her attitude of quiescence—not necessarily indifference. The continuance of the imperial co-partnership is in somewhat perilous straits if it is dependent on the success of the tariff reform movement in the United Kingdom, or on the introduction of any particular fiscal system. Imperial preferences are the result not the cause of imperial sentiment, which The World believes will remain unaffected by fiscal systems so long as these do not discriminate against other British states, but simply carry on the policy that commends itself to the nation immediately interested. There are other ways of encouraging inter-imperial trade and if there is anything in the imperial idea it must ultimately rest on considerations of a different and more stable character. This does not cast any doubt on the value of establishing preferential duties within the empire if circumstances should render it possible. Canadian nationality has reached a stage making it independent of the course of trade and Canada's loyalty to the empire does not need to be fostered artificially. If the British people choose to adopt a protective system and to reciprocate Canada's preferences, the conclusion will be accepted in the same spirit of goodwill, but if they decide otherwise, Canadians will not be less assured of the general desire to maintain the imperial union.

THE ONTARIO OPPOSITION.
Discussing the suggested retirement of Hon. A. G. MacKay as leader of the opposition, The London Advertiser (Liberal) hopes that he will "at least consent to direct the opposition during the ensuing session of the legislature."
"No leader could have fought with more energy and pluck than Mr. MacKay in the last campaign," observes The Advertiser. "His supporters knew that he was fighting against hopeless odds, and although they met with a more decisive defeat than either party expected, Mr. MacKay has no reason to think that he has been interpreted as a Liberal as in any degree disparaging to himself."
"The report that Mr. MacKay would be succeeded by Mr. J. A. Macdonald, editor of The Globe, has no foundation other than Mr. Macdonald's acceptability to the rank and file of the party. He has few equals on the platform; he would be a virile and aggressive leader, and would take advanced ground. But it is not likely that he could be induced to relinquish his present and more important position."
George Brown used to say he would rather be editor of The Globe than prime minister of Canada. It may be taken for granted that Mr. Macdonald would rather be editor of The Globe than leader of the Ontario opposition. He might be both, but as a journalist he is likely to prefer the position of editor. Mr. Brown would be the dual role, but The Globe would lose prestige if it were the mouthpiece of any party. The old-fashioned party organ is a thing of the past."

PREMIER AND FARMERS' FONES.
The attention of Premier Whitney was called to The World's note on Saturday on farmers and telegraph operators. He said that the government was always prepared to carry out the law, but the government would not, however, be expected to provide phones for the farmers or others until they were asked for, and the subject had not been brought before him yet in any way.
VACCINATION.
Editor World: Would you kindly inform me thru your valuable paper, during the epidemic, is there a statute in the Dominion of Canada for compulsory vaccination? Also, if there is compulsory vaccination in England? An Old Subscriber.

Vaccination is not compulsory by law in Ontario, but can be enforced by school boards or by municipal councils during an epidemic. It is compulsory in England, but parents having conscientious objection and giving their reasons, under oath, can be exempted from the statutory penalties for non-compliance.

Canadian Institute.
At a meeting of the Canadian Institute Saturday night Prof. J. P. McMurrich delivered an interesting address on the Mendelian inheritance and its application to man. One of the principal features discussed by him in regard to the theory was the inheritance of disease.
There was a fairly good attendance at the meeting, which was held at the institute on College-street, and after Prof. McMurrich's address a lively discussion took place.
The treasurer of the Street Railway Men's Union, in his annual statement, shows that the assets have increased $300,000 during the past year. Their annual concert will be held in Massey Hall on Feb. 18.
Every Canadian concedes the absolute right of the British people to maintain or establish whatever tariff regulations they consider best adapted to their interests and special circumstances. The Canadian has no difficulty in making this admission, because on his own behalf he claims and exercises precisely the same privilege in connection with the affairs of his own country. He may have his own opinion regarding the advisability of protecting the home industries of Great Britain just as British free traders have their opinion concerning the wrong-headedness of Canada's policy, and are not backward in uttering it either. But no Canadian desires to influence public opinion in Britain in a matter that primarily concerns themselves. As, however, Canada is a member of the imperial co-partnership, any Canadian is free to advocate any policy which he may consider beneficial for the empire as a whole, even though it be an inter-imperial preference, and he is perfectly justified in commending it to his kin beyond the Atlantic. The fact that the other self-governing imperial states favor this proposition is an element in the case which the British people are entitled to have before them, and, indeed, are bound to give due consideration.
Canada, however, is quite calm over

UNIVERSITY SERMON

No more eloquent, impressive or spiritually powerful sermon has been preached in the university series than the great discourse which enthralled the very large congregation yesterday in convocation hall.
The text was from Matthew xii, 30: "He that is not with Me is against Me."
The words have a harsh and crabbed sound and express the intolerance of Jesus Christ, and we do not like to associate intolerance with an ideal character."
Such was Canon Cody's opening comment.
He depicted the scene of the miracle which had just been performed, and told how Jesus rebuffed the charge that He was an accomplice of Satan and triumphed over him. He said it was by the power of God He cast out the devils, so the Kingdom of God must have come among them.
To the disciples He declared there could be no neutral ground between right and wrong. They could not forever hold their equilibrium, refusing to take sides.

The grievance of the disciples when they complained that one cast out devils who did not follow them was personal, as John naively admitted. He did not belong to their set, their coterie or clique.
Canon Cody dilated on this point. They marveled that one who was dishonoring Jesus, but merely that doing the work of Jesus he did not belong to their company.
Jesus then enunciated the far-reaching principle that one who is not against us is on our side, the expression of the tolerance of Jesus which should have forever rung the death-knell of all intolerance, ecclesiastical and sectarian narrowness.
The gracious comment of Jesus shielded the good in all. He was compelled to attack the Pharisees, not on account of their intolerance, but on account of their inhumanity and He showed them consideration by accepting their hospitality. No man ever grievously attacked Him, they showed they believed in Him by counting on His forbearance and their conviction that He was free from animosity toward them.
The two sayings were not contradictory, but complementary. They were applied to different persons or the two truths were set out on different occasions.
Every one who followed the eternal Christ, whether he ever heard of the historic Christ or not, came within the scope of the one, but without the principle of the other. The world was apt to degenerate into lax indifference. He wished to emphasize the rarer principle of the intolerance of Jesus. His fine severity and lofty intolerance of evil went to make no small share of His perfect moral beauty.

Shelley's vow to battle with intolerance if he lived arose out of his contact with the cold, hard, ecclesiastical bigotry of his cousin's family. Yet in all great intolerance there must be a strain of high intolerance.
Insincerity and inhumanity caused Jesus to blaze forth with splendid indignation and when His terrible polemic was ended the word Pharisee became forever a synonym for hypocrite.
They talked about the limits between drunkenness and sobriety but a woman who had the cursed thing come into her home and destroy her could have no tolerance for liquor.
"Would God there came into the lives of all academic persons more of the feeling of sympathy for the painful problems, the knowledge of evil and all the hideous brood that follows sin," said Canon Cody. Their intolerance would then be begotten of understanding. It was because Christ knew the heinousness of sin that He hated it.

A spirit of true tolerance was then to be cultivated towards all who were striving to do their duty. They should never wrap the garments of sectarianism around them with the formula, "He followeth not with us."
To be angry without sin was possible. Christ's wrath never had its source in selfishness. Bad men should make us angry, but there was a tendency to excuse them and sinners more sinned against than sinning, the victims of the system. Nothing was more needed to-day than an enlarged capacity for moral indignation.
where in the New Testament was there a flabby thought on great moral issues, and that was the only atmosphere in which lives noble and strong could be lived.
"Life should not be spent as a royal commission, which never reports," said one of Canon Cody's clever mots. Men should think to an issue. It was not reasonable to delay the verdict forever. Gamaliet, who would let things alone to see what would happen, cut a sorry figure beside the apostles who counted on the day of their lives for Christ's sake. The pleasures of every generation evaporate in air. The pains increase the spiritual momentum of the race.
Canon Cody concluded his address with the apt words of Prof. Simpson in bidding to the graduates of the graduating class of 1909 in Edinburgh: "It may chance that some July day far down the coast you may have long been in the ether, one or other of you will talk with child or grandchild of the years when the century was away down the coast when the wings there will rise before you the memory of the day when at last you burst the chrysalis shell of pupillage to lift free wings into the azure. You will recall the unusual concurrence of the simultaneous leaving-taking of the university by the graduates."
"We came away," you will say to the child, "a goodly company all thru the gateway that leads to the rosy dawn. He passed out all alone thru the door that looks to the sunset and the evening star. He was an old man like me."
"I foresee you say, 'Not in himself a great man. He had been the friend of great men and came out of a great time in the last century, when there was a midsea and the mighty things and it looked to the men of his generation as if old things had passed away and a new world had begun. And he told us that the great lesson he had learned on his way thru life was the same that the disciple who leaned on Jesus' breast he taught to his fathers, the young men and little children of his time when he said, 'The word passeth away and the lust thereof, but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever.'"

2000 SUNDAY WORLDS
Read at the Same Time by the Audience at the Grand Opera House.
Between the second and third acts at the Grand Opera House, when the sorry figure of the man who had been an inmate occurred which brought the attention of those who stood at the rear of the auditorium to the picture. Two thousand copies of the illustrated section of the Sunday World were distributed among the audience, and for fully ten minutes everyone was scanning the pages of the neatly printed paper. It formed a pretty picture, and was commented upon by those who had an opportunity of witnessing it from the front of the house. The section contained a full page picture of the talented comedienne Kathryn Osterman and also contained a half page advertisement of the Grand Opera House.

A FREEZE-OUT IN CEMENT?
Story Said to Be Behind Failure of Warton Company.
It is understood that an arrangement will be come to for the carrying on of the Canadian Portland Cement Co. of Warton, whose assignment is noted.
A good deal more lies behind this little raffle at Warton than appears on the surface. The O'Pland cement trade is one of the most important interests in Canada, and for twelve or thirteen years past has been practically in the hands of native manufacturers. There have sprung up in comparatively great numbers, deposits of clay and marl of the best quality having been discovered in many districts in different parts of the country.
Uncle Sam, who knows a good thing when he sees it, found the duty, which had been 40 cents a barrel and was raised later to nearly 47 cents, an inducement to establish cement works of his own in Canada.
There are two big American firms, one at Belleville and one at Montreal, and in the endeavor to obtain a lion's share of the trade during the past season they conducted a campaign of cut-throat price reduction. The public

Fire in Roiston Laundry. A fire in the five-story building occupied by the Roiston Electric Laundry and the Big Four Cap Co., gave all the quarters of an hour drilling Saturday evening.

On account of the narrow alleys on both sides and the littered state of the yard in the rear, it was impossible to get the aerial ladders into play, and together with the extreme cold, made it very difficult to reach the fire.

Long extension ladders were hoisted at a steep angle, and mounted on these the firemen had to play the water while working in the very teeth of the flames. Meanwhile the water froze on the walls and hose and covered the men with snow.

At 11.30 Saturday night a still alarm was sent in to the College-street station for a blaze at 641 Bathurst-street, occupied by Mrs. Stevenson.

Undertone Shows Firmness Despite the Irregularities

Public Still Distrustful of Wall Street—Signs Point to Further Advances at the Toronto Exchange.

World Office, Saturday Evening, Jan. 16.

The irregularity and nervousness imported to the New York stock market by the break in the price of Consolidated Gas has not yet disappeared. The sharp and heavy break in gas has intimidated holders in general and any sign of weakness in other stocks has served to loosen up large numbers of shares before the price has dropped far. This happened in Erie during the week when an unexplained weakness served to cause considerable liquidation and it was only when the old record of a recovery was indicated that the price displayed any tendency to recover.

The feature of recent trading has again been the advances in low and moderate priced issues. Some of these have been accounted for by the conclusion of deals such as that for Wisconsin Central and Clover Leaf, but aside from this there appears to be a desire by the public to operate in the less costly stocks and the insiders are not unmindful of the desire. The upward high priced shares have done very little during the week and in fact have declined in several instances while the small priced issues were advancing. The market has exhibited weakness all round and has not accorded with the action of the price of the metals themselves.

Mr. Lawson has for purposes known only to himself and for those for whom he is acting, made a desperate attack on the steel trust. It has been usual for Lawson to attempt to knock the market just as an advance was pending, and to play the reverse way when prices were about to succumb to technical market conditions. This has happened so frequently that it is concluded by many that the Boston operator is still engaged by the big market interests as a decoy and to lead to the undoing of his innocent followers.

Matters of some interest to the market this week were the advance in the price of English discount rate, and the engagement of further supplies of gold for export. The English bank advanced remaining at 2 1/2 per cent. since last May, was put up to 3 per cent. on Thursday. The rise is regarded as incidental to the new Russian loan of $200,000,000, and to prevent any further loss of gold to the bank. Wall Street does not seem to be perturbed by the event; money rates have not advanced, and further gold shipments will be necessary before any decided change in rates will develop.

From the way in which new stocks are being introduced into the market it is evident that the front market still retains what might be termed a bullish disposition. The response to the beneficiaries of the January dividend was not satisfactory, much of the money being put into bonds rather than into stocks. The reaction of the public to the market is still one of aversion, but this has to be overcome by a considerable manipulation which will be resorted to in order to bring this about. The least satisfactory way to do this would be to have any heavy buying prices. The market's recent action points to firmness, but with no big upward movements.

Canadian exchanges have undergone a further speculative broadening during the past week, the Toronto market showing signs of keeping more in line with the activity at Montreal than has hitherto been the case during recent months. There is no doubt that a scarcity of many of the speculative stocks around recent levels has served to provide a good foundation from which to start a bull movement in the market. To what extent this will go depends largely upon the interest which the public takes. Considerable buying recently has been for the account of what might be termed speculative investors. Purchases made in this way have been taken up and there are no signs in consequence very few margined accounts in the market. The local money market is in excellent shape for rendering assistance to the

New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The statement of clearing banks for the week shows that the banks hold $35,583,716 more than the requirements of the 25 per cent. reserve rule. This is an increase of $3,850,000 in the proportionate cash reserve as compared with last week. The statement follows:

Loans, $12,400,000; deposits, $22,183,716; legal tenders, $3,070,000; specie, $14,315,200; reserve fund, $14,422,700; reserve required, $11,577,475; surplus, $2,845,225; ex-U.S. deposits, $2,618,725.

The effect of actual reserve of the clearing house banks to-day was $7,000. The statement of banks and trust companies of Great Britain and Ireland reported a clearing of $2,000,000, which shows that these institutions have aggregate deposits of $1,146,949,000, total cash on hand of $112,400,000, and loans amounting to $1,034,549,000.

The increase of $46,109,000 in deposits in banks and trust companies is the largest ever recorded in the history of the clearing house. A large part of this is believed to have been due to the clearing of New York banks of large sums disbursed in payment of dividends and interest.

On Wall Street.

Charles D. Cox, as yet at the close of the market:

There was a demonstration of increased strength in the stock market during the hour, the entire list moving up and further material gains being made in a number of instances. The market was strong at about highest on active buying. Wisconsin Central preferred showed little higher.

Ennis & Stoppard wired to J. L. Mitchell at the close of the market:

The week's close of the developed sales of 3,482,000 shares of stocks, as compared with the previous week, shows that the United States, France, Germany and Russia have increased aggregate sales of 1,122,000 shares, an increase of credit of $1,122,000,000. The higher English Bank rate and other factors have had a depressing effect on the revival. Despite tariff agitation and coming court decisions, the question is how high will prices go. The market has recovered the 40 per cent. loss in production and sales as compared with 1907.

J. R. Helms & Co. wired R. B. Holden at the close of the market:

The buying in U.P. has been especially good, and this stock should be prominent in any further advance. We would not overlook B.O. look for this stock to do much better. The market remained strong up to the close and we look for higher prices next week. Avail your- selves of opportunities to buy the better stocks at all recessions.

Russian Loan Prospects.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The prospectus of the new Russian loan of $200,000,000 interest at 5 per cent. Dec. 1st appeared to-day several days in advance of the date originally set. This anticipates a close of business for the purpose of forestalling possible further advance in the Bank of England's rate of discount on Jan. 21. The issue price is 98 per cent. on an immediate rush of subscribers. The loan will not be redeemed for a period of ten years after which a sinking fund and annual drawings will be applied to this end. It is calculated that the entire loan will be redeemed at par by Jan. 15, 1939.

Railroad Earnings.

United States Railroad reporting for the first week of January show total gross earnings of $4,822,000, a gain of 9.8 per cent. over the corresponding period of a year ago, but a loss of 8.8 per cent. under the first week of January, 1907. Comparison with last year with reduced earnings, but going back two years, and the loss shows to what extent railroad earnings are affected by the curtailment in business this year.

Money Markets.

READY TO BUILD ANNUITIES

Postmasters Will Now Receive Deposits of Applicants.

Postmasters have been informed that they may now receive deposits for the purchase of government annuities. Application for annuity rights must, however, be first made to the annuities branch at Ottawa.

Forms and cards have been forwarded to the postmasters and may be obtained on application. An illustration of the working of these annuities may be mentioned that if an applicant at 20 years of age pays 25 cents a week until 60 years of age, $120 per year will then be paid as long as the applicant lives. The payments may be made in almost any way preferred by the applicant for annuities ranging from $50 to $600 a year.

There are two plans "A" and "B," under which contributions may be made. Under plan A, in case the annuitant dies before the first installment of annuity is due, all that has been paid in will be returned to the heirs. Under plan B, where the same annuity may be obtained for lower payments, there will be no return in case of death.

These annuities cannot be seized on any account, and the whole cost of management is paid by the government. If the applicant dies before the maturity of the annuity all the payments, together with compound interest at 3 per cent. are returned to the applicant or his heirs.

Residence: The Annuity Branch, Paris, France. The Government had requested President Fallieres to confer upon distinguished foreign and French acrophilists including the Wright brothers, sixteen crosses and one decoration of commander of the Legion of Honor.
