Differences Bridged

(Associated Press)
London, July 29.—The conference of the conferees of the two main parties who are trying to compose the institutional differences of the House of Lords and the House of Commons already have succeeded in bridging several gulleys that have separated them and a statement made by Premier Asquith in the lower chamber this afternoon indicates that the outlook for a compromise is more hopeful than had been anticipated.

Unless a rupture occurs during the recess little further of an official character is likely to be heard regarding the negotiations until parliament reassembles on Nov. 12.

Mr. Asquith after stating that the conferees in the course of twelve meetings had surveyed the field of controversy carefully said:

"The result is that our discussions made progress although we have not so far reached an agreement as to render it the option of all of us not only desirable but necessary that they should continue. In fact I may go further. We would think it wrong at this stage to break them off. He added that if further deliberation showed no prospect of an agreement that could be announced in parliament at the present session the conference would be closed."

SNAKE IN GIRL'S "RAT"

Bites of Reptile Cause Serious Illness of Victim

Richmond, Va., July 29.—Bitten several times by a small moccasin snake which nested in her "rat" when she had laid that creature off during the evening in a hammock in her front yard, Miss Mary Wood of the west end is reported to be in a serious condition. The girl is a department store clerk.

On the day of the occurrence her head began to itch and pain her. Enduring the pain all day she went home at closing up time and told her mother of her discomfort. The hair was again taken down, and drops of blood with incisions were discovered. The mother, then asked for the "rat" and taking it began squeezing it, feeling something wriggle inside, she hastily tore it to pieces, a six-inch moccasin dropping to the floor.

The girl fainted at the sight of the reptile and is under the care of a physician.

INSURANCE MEN IN SESSION AT CHARLOTTETOWN

Address by E. R. Machum, President and Interesting Papers Read

Charlottetown, P. E. I., July 29.—(Special)—The address by E. R. Machum, of St. John, president of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada, was the chief feature of last night's session of the Maritime Life Underwriters' Convention, which opened here yesterday.

He maintained that the association had justified its existence by preventing drastic legislation and securing what is now the best insurance act in the world, amply safeguarding the public and the insurance interests. The association has still work to do in the struggle between federal and provincial authorities over the question of jurisdiction, providing better facilities for education of field men, and securing transportation and hotel privileges now given commercial men.

He held that the association had advanced the standing of insurance and restored public confidence in the security of life insurance. He said federal jurisdiction should prevail in insurance and if the provinces win the test case now before the supreme court the association would be the provincial laws were made uniform.

The programme of the convention included addresses by H. Cole Evans, Halifax, on "Co-operation of the Head Office"; J. E. Matthews, Charlottetown, on "Duties of Agents"; and W. J. G. Adams, on "Will the Time Come when Solliciting will be Necessary." Among the speakers were Messrs. Evans, Somers, and Bartley, of Halifax; Robertson and Lawlor, of St. John; Hayden of Sydney, and Ross of Charlottetown. A paper on "The Secret of Success in the Field," prepared by A. H. Chipman, of St. John, was also read. Today the delegates are being entertained by the local men.

Even this occupation gave but temporary respite to her depressed spirits, and as the day wore on and the home grew more cheerless she tottered to her bedroom. With a great deal of exertion she lowered herself to a chair, and in a moment she was lying on her back, her head on the pillow, her strength evidently gone out. She had returned home early. When he opened the front door he scented gas. He traced it to Mrs. Birk's room, and when he entered the room he found her lying on the floor. Her efforts were futile, and he called a ladder and entered the room from the front door. He scented gas. SON-IN-LAW FINDS BODY

She Weeps Over Family Pictures, Then Totters to Her Bedroom, Closes the Windows and Turns on the Gas

New York, July 29.—Loneliness, because of the absence of her daughter and grandchildren, is believed to have led Mrs. Hannah Birk, a white-haired, frail woman of ninety-one to take her own life yesterday in the home of her son-in-law, Alfred Bernheim, a diamond broker, living at No. 2123 Arthur Avenue, the Bronx.

Before starting for Far Rockaway yesterday morning Mrs. Bernheim and her three children urged the aged woman to accompany them. She said she longed for a glimpse of the sea, but declined their invitation on the plea of extreme feebleness.

"Grandma is too old, and would only be in the way," she said when they went on her going with them.

Mrs. Bernheim, reportedly left her mother at home. It was the first time in months that she had been alone. As a consequence of desolation took possession of her. Mrs. Birk evidently tried to cheer herself by looking at the portraits of the members of the family, as they were found to have been moved from their accustomed place, and on one a tear stain was discovered.

AMERICAN AND CANADIAN IMMIGRATION OFFICERS TURN DOWN GREEK LAD—Now on Way to Halifax

Boston, July 29.—A composite dramatization in real life of "The Pardon Came Too Late" and "A Man Without a Country" is being enacted on the high seas on the steamer A. W. Perry, which left here yesterday afternoon for Halifax. A Greek boy, 10 years old, is cast in the star part, and his story is a tale of hard luck in the words of the immigration laws of the United States. The boy's name is Yannis, and he is a native of Greece.

Young Yannis landed in New York four months ago and went to Albany. Ten days ago he took passage from there to Halifax, where he was to be given employment by a cousin. Hope, the best high in the young immigrant's heart and property seemed near at hand when the disaster came. The Canadian immigration laws bar from admission an alien not coming in passage direct from his native land. The youth had been in the United States four months and must be turned back.

After a hearing before the Canadian officials he was sent here, arriving yesterday morning on the steamer A. W. Perry. Then more trouble. He was an alien, and his admission here was doubtful. He was a widow's son and brought her four children with her. Before coming here she had settled up her husband's estate but had a considerable sum of money. She was invested in real estate in the Bronx, where she made her home. The money was in value and is now worth many times what she paid for it.

She was well known to the older residents of the Bronx. Increasing age had forced her to forego her daily walk, and she was well known to the older residents of the neighborhood for some time.

British M. P.'s Would Have Have Representatives of Overseas Parliaments at the Ceremony—Barnardo Children for Canada—At the Hague

Times' Special Cable
Johannesburg, July 29.—The Union leaders have pledged themselves to introduce the German system of industrial compensation and insurance if the party is successful in the forthcoming election. Premier Botha, speaking at Pretoria, opposed aid to immigrants until the unemployed were supplied with land. He advocated the wholesale deportation of Asiatics with compensation.

London, July 29.—The Canadian teachers had tea last evening in a room in the commons. Messrs. Thompson, McMaster and Mackinder welcomed them. They were afterwards shown over the houses. A meeting of the members of parliament has been held in connection with the movement for securing invitations to representatives of overseas parliaments to the coronation. The plan met with hearty approval and the premier will be approached.

Two hundred Barnardo children sailed today for Canada. Lord Hindlip sailed on the Empress of Ireland.

J. G. Adams has been admitted a member of the Royal College of Physicians and A. J. Gilchrist, W. Krupp, and J. R. McLean of Toronto, and C. Wallard of Manitoba have been granted licenses to practice.

At the Hague Mr. Robson, continuing, argued that the United States was wrong in claiming that the treaty gave it an apparent right. If the United States had no means of remedying infractions of the treaty by Britain the sanction of the treaty consisted in public opinion. He pointed out that the treaty had not given the Americans a privileged position in regard to fishing, but only a share in the fisheries on the same terms as British fishermen. He argued that the treaty gave the United States a right to the exclusive of other nations. The United States had no right to demand that the treaty be interpreted to mean that America could, if she wished, authorize millions of Asiatics to come to the United States and fish in her waters. The treaty could not be interpreted to mean that America could, if she wished, authorize millions of Asiatics to come to the United States and fish in her waters. Important Matters to be Discussed—Appointment and Supervision of Professors

Toronto, July 29—The approaching general conference of the Methodist church in Canada, which opens on the 14th of August in Victoria, B. C., is the principal subject of conversation in Methodist ministerial circles at present.

Ministers and members are looking forward to the discussion of several more than ordinary subjects, and the result of the general overhauling of all departments of the church, which is a feature of this conference.

The re-election of all general conference officers is, of course, among the first items of business. There will be 230 members of conference, and the conference is expected to last for two or three weeks.

Under the Jackson controversy will come in for a prominent place in the discussions. The question of the training students and testing of the belief of professors before their appointment and their supervision afterwards, is known to be a question of some importance.

Of particular interest to Toronto pastors, though of wide general interest to the church as well, is the proposal to establish a new church department, to be called the Department of Financial, Education and Membership Leaving, with a paid general secretary in charge.

This scheme, which owes its origin to a plan put first into practice in the Trinity church, Toronto, is designed with a view to securing better and more systematic methods of raising money for church and educational purposes. The plan so far has proved so successful that it has been thought advisable to extend the same.

The selection and appointment of a successor to the late Rev. Dr. Sutherland, of the Home Department, is another matter of interest. Rev. T. E. Egerton Shore, who was Dr. Sutherland's assistant secretary in the Foreign Missions department, is regarded as his most probable successor.

Rev. Dr. T. A. Moore busy. A very busy man indeed these days is Rev. Dr. T. A. Moore, secretary of this year's general conference. He found by 10 minutes, however, in which to sketch for the Telegram an outline of the principal points which will come up for discussion on August 14.

"While I can give an opinion, of course, on the subject of the Home Department, I will do so, briefly, they will be," he said. "All the legislation of the church and work of the church departments will come under review in the first case."

"Then there is the publication of a new hymn book. This is an important matter to be arranged for by this year's conference, especially the Home Department."

"Changes also are to be made in the methods of administration of the missionary work, especially the Home Department."

"Then there is the matter of making the Superannuation Fund more stable and at the same time enlarging the annuities."

"An important matter, too, will be the consideration of the course of study required of men entering the ministry, and the bringing of college professors under some central authority in the matter of their appointment and teaching."

"The work of the moral and social reform department of the church is extended to every part of the Dominion and this matter comes up for conference discussion, as does the question of changing the methods of Epworth League work so as to make the organization more popular."

"Sunday school work will be still further developed, and this is a matter the conference will deal with, paying special attention to the keeping up of attendance at Sunday schools during the vacation months."

General Superintendence. "The conference will also deal with the question of the pastoral term of office, and will endeavor to make possible a longer pastoral term than the present four year's term."

"The General Superintendence is to be re-viewed, and possibly two or more persons may be appointed in future to fill that onerous office as Associate General Superintendents."

196 Union St. HOWE'S CIRCUS "MADE GOOD" IN CONVENTION

A Clean, Bright Show, Sparkling With Many Good Features and Very Orderly

Large crowds attended the performances of Howe's London Shows at Lunenburg yesterday afternoon and evening, and were pleased with what they saw, the show bearing out the statement of the manager that it was good—what they had of it, although it was not the largest.

When the feature acts were being performed they were given the whole stage, but in the attractions of lesser interest three acts were on at once. This arrangement gave the spectators better opportunity to see all that was going on when the best was being offered.

There is a good elephant act, and two superb riding performances command attention and applause. Acrobatic work, tumbling, clever trapeze exhibitions and other usual circus features are on the programme, and three special acts won the favorable comment of everyone.

The young women and boys gave an excellent performance, swinging in mid air, and at one time, while suspended, playing a trio on guitars and mandolin. The youngest of the women and the boy gave as fine an exhibition of tight wire as was ever seen here in big or little shows, and all took part in a good acrobatic and tumbling performance.

There is a clever troupe of Japanese acrobats—men, girl and boys, one of the latter a youngster of seven years. Their work is of a high order, and their performance clear cut and of high order.

The after concert had some good features, including a clever exhibition of rifle and pistol shooting. The general appearance of the circus outfit was good, animals well kept, and the attendants courteous. Deputy Chief of Police Jenkins and his men on the grounds report no trouble during the day.

THE DAIRY SITUATION IN KINGS COUNTY

(Sussex Recorder)
Things are looking brighter in the dairy world of Kings. Three years ago the dairy of King and the high prices charged for feed discouraged many farmers to such an extent that many herds were sent to the butcher and there was at once a falling off in milk production. Since then things have been improving. This year there has been a big increase in the supply of milk sent to the creameries and with the great hay crop now ready to cut the demand for stock promises to be keen.

MR. CARLETON'S LETTER

The Times-Star publishes today a letter from ex-inspector James Carleton which makes imperative an enquiry into the Main street paving affair. Mr. Carleton points out that the first of the foundation laid was according to specification, except that it was not all six inches in thickness, and that gravel was used instead of broken stone. But it was very far superior to that adopted later, which Mr. Carleton declares costs fifty per cent less than that called for in the specifications. Who gets the benefit of the difference?
Mr. Carleton very properly points out that since a sample of the cheap material was taken to city hall there should also have been a sample of that which was first laid, and which was nearly up to specification. Why wasn't this done?
Why did the contractor begin by keeping nearly close to the specifications and then suddenly change to a cheaper material? Why was he permitted to do it? Who gets the benefit?

The more this matter is looked into the more clear it becomes that Mayor Frink should stop the work and have an investigation. The suggestion that some one should "make a charge" is merely playing with the question. Mr. Carleton's letter today is sufficient to make perfectly clear the need of a full enquiry. The mayor must act.

CAMPBELLTON

The question, Will Campbellton be rebuilt? was answered yesterday when Hon. Dr. Pugsley stated that the place would remain an I. C. R. divisional point and the shops and other buildings would be rebuilt. The minister had earlier his personal interest to ensure this result, and thus did the people good service, for there was a feeling among members of the I. C. R. board of management that a divisional point in another location might serve the interests of the railway. Dr. Pugsley pointed out how unjust this would be to the stricken people of Campbellton, and was able to bring them the assurance that no change would be made. The fact ensures the rebuilding of the town. The minister also stated that a substantial post office and customs building would be erected.

Touching the matter of a federal grant, Dr. Pugsley was not able to speak definitely. Federal grants had been refused to Fernie, Three Rivers, and Burke's Falls. All he could say on this point was that he would personally favor a grant, and that he had brought the matter before his colleagues and suggested to them that Campbellton was an important town on the government railway the principle established in the case of the other towns might be varied and federal assistance granted. The matter will be further considered by the cabinet. For the present, the assurance given by Dr. Pugsley regarding railway and public buildings re-built in the case of Campbellton. It had been stated that $100,000 or more was needed, but the purpose to which it was to be devoted was not clearly indicated. Judge McLatchy informed Dr. Pugsley that $125,000 was required for purely public purposes, including electric light, water, fire apparatus, civic buildings and expenses, schools, streets and other matters.

That is to say, the town of Campbellton requires $125,000. Not one dollar of this amount could be devoted to relief of the people individually. The rebuilding would provide them with work, and they would benefit from the various civic services as these are restored; but this $125,000 is for the town itself.

What of the people? There must be another fund for them, and unless it is raised soon the cold weather will find them shivering in tents. Let it not be forgotten that there was a loss, above all inurance, estimated at $1,000,000. The money thus far subscribed is as nothing when contrasted with the needs of the people. It is stated that many people who fled to friends elsewhere for shelter after the fire are returning to the town, hoping to be able to rebuild their homes. They add to the number of those seeking relief, and relief should be forthcoming without delay. The announcement that the $125,000 called for by the committee does not include one dollar for the people makes doubly clear the urgent need of prompt measures of relief for the homeless and penniless families.

The Standard this morning hopes that Dr. Pugsley will recommend a substantial federal grant. What about Mr. Hazen and a provincial grant? It may be hoped that the premier will break silence today, and that the question of the extent of government aid may be settled, and an appeal made by the lieutenant-governor to the whole country for funds for the homeless people. The provincial government would be heartily endorsed by public sentiment if it made a very substantial grant, but however large a sum it might name there would still be need of generous public subscriptions, and these should not be withheld.

POLLUTED FOUNTAINS

The city engineer has adorned the public fountain on King Square with large samples of the foundation for the Main street pavement. What good purpose he thought this would serve is not apparent. To be of service for purposes of illustration the samples should bear some such inscription as the following:—"These are samples of the cheap material for which St. John taxpayers are paying the price of costly material. The difference (50 p. c.) between what this material costs and what real concrete would cost is the price the taxpayers pay for having a city council that refuses to lit the lid."

It is of course possible that this exhibition is an expression of defiance of public opinion, or another move in the game of bluff. But it does not alter the fact that the taxpayers are paying for one thing and getting another that is far cheaper; and that they are not getting the benefit of the difference in cost.
It will be noted also that there is no sample of the first concrete laid down. Why not?
As to King Square fountain, it does not present any more hideous an appearance now than on the too frequent occasions when the water has been turned off. But even if the fountain of civic virtue be polluted, why extend it to the fountain on the square?

Hassam still has 'em.
Those aldermen who have been standing pat cannot afford to ignore the letter of Mr. Carleton.

The Chatham board of trade has named a committee to take up the question of attracting tourists to the beautiful Miramichi valley.

Why was the first section of pavement foundation on Main street laid according to specification, or nearly so, and then a change made to the cheaper material?
Halifax is somewhat agitated over the question of an enlarged dry dock and a ship-building plant. It wants both and will offer inducements.

If the telephone company can prevent it, there will be no enquiry into the question of its rates by the Public Utilities Commission. The board of trade meeting this afternoon will doubtless be lively.
The province of Ontario continues to send much of its best blood to build up the west. The Toronto Telegram of Tuesday, says:—"Nine hundred citizens of Western Ontario left Toronto today to seek new homes in the Northwest. The first C. P. R. train pulled out of the Union station with 900, and at 10.15 p.m. the second train will leave the Union station. The party consisted of men, women and children. This evening a special train with settlers' effects will be sent out."

On the subject of immigration, the Ottawa Free Press tells this story:—"Some of the English critics of our immigration laws might be asked what they would do, in their own country, if they were called upon to have the experience of an employer in Chatham, Ont., who the other day started out in search of some men to work at his factory. He met three English immigrants, who were loafing around the street, and offered them jobs at $1.25 a day. All he received was a sneer, accompanied by the remark that they would not work for such "small" wages. Yet these same men would probably have been glad to earn half that daily wage in the Old Country, and it is safe betting that they will be looking for charity this coming winter."

Rhode Island not only is the smallest state in the union, but it has the smallest county, Bristol, which contains but 23 square miles. Eight hundred Bristol counties could be placed within either Custer county, Mont., or San Bernardino county, Cal. Nearly eight counties the size of Bristol could be placed within the confines of the city of Chicago.

After marrying for money many a man wishes he had been brought up to work for a living.

THE GRAY ANGEL

Thy wings are close, O Sorrow,
When other loves brush by,
For they would laughter borrow,
But you are soberer than they.

The lighter loves remind me
That joy is dead and dim;
Then in the dark behind me
You stir again.

And when bright youth and laughter
Sing songs and blow them high,
Like some scurrier rat,
Where echoes lie.

You chant the consumption
Of suffering's ancient worth:
The high gold full libation
To gray-winged birth.

Till, groping for tomorrow,
Amid the joys of life
On thy dark wings, O Sorrow,
I reach the sky.

IN PARADISE.

When Eve had set her woman's heart
On nice, new sleeves,
I wonder if I was Adam's part
To pick the leaves.

Was it the task to scratch his face
And bruise his feet,
While wrestling from his swinging place
A gown complete?

And when old Adam tore his frocks
And to Eve came,
Did she get out her mending box
And patch the same?

Did she pick each garment wreck
And look it over,
So that he need not risk his neck
In getting more?

If these things did not chance to be
I'm sure 'twas nice,
And—man or woman—you'll agree,
'Twas paradise.

An Historical Celebration

(Ottawa Free Press)
Halifax will have a celebration in September which will focus the attention of the members of the Church of England in the world over upon Canada, and that year upon that city in particular. It will be a commemoration of the two hundred anniversary of the foundation of the church in America.

In 1710 there were no Anglicans in the regions now comprising Ontario and Quebec. But Acadia was ceded to Great Britain in that year. The British had taken possession more than once before but had given the country back to France. The cession of 1710 was final so far as Nova Scotia proper was concerned, and that year regular services of the Church of England began at Port Royal, now Annapolis.

Roman Catholic worship had been conducted at Port Royal for a century before that time. Thus it happens that two memorial festivals will take place in Eastern Canada almost simultaneously, one celebrating the completion of the second century of Anglican worship and one the completion of the third century since the first Catholic baptism.

More than seventy years passed after the beginning of Protestant worship before the first diocese in what is now Canada was established and the first bishop consecrated. This was after the American revolution and was one of the results of that separation. That first bishop, nearly all his clergy and the great part of their congregation were Loyalists.

The diocese of Nova Scotia is the oldest colonial diocese in the British Empire. The whole of British America, as far west as Lake Superior, appears to have been under the jurisdiction of Bishop Inglis.

A feature of the celebration will be the dedication of the new cathedral of All Saints at Halifax, while another interesting item on the programme will be an excursion to Annapolis Royal, the site of the first Anglican church in America. Bishops and other distinguished ecclesiastics will come from all parts of the English-speaking world, so that with this celebration and the meeting of the Episcopate Congress of the Roman Catholic church in Montreal, September will be a notable month in our religious annals.

Bathurst Iron Mines
John J. Drummond, a member of the executive of the Canadian Iron Corporation, which is developing the iron deposits at Bathurst, has arrived in the city and is at the Royal. He said last night that the corporation have just finished the railway from the mines at Bathurst to the I. C. R. The road is to be known as the New Brunswick and Seaboard Railway, and is expected that the first ore train will be running by August 10, and the first ore will be shipped from Newcastle on the I. C. R. The contracts for the Bathurst ore, he said, were mostly for the United States though some cargoes have been ordered for the old country.

Plant at Alfred Demonstrates Itself a Commercial Success

(Ottawa Free Press)
The simplicity of the Dominion government demonstrating peat plant was the feature that most impressed the hundred old veterans to Alfred yesterday afternoon. All the delegates to the American Peat Society Convention attended as well as a number of Ottawa people and men interested in peat bogs in Ontario and Quebec.

From a trench twenty feet broad and varying from three to twelve feet in depth the peat is dug by hand and placed on a chain conveyor which elevates it to the pulverizer.

Here the peat is macerated by a series of knives, and then delivered on a belt to the field presser.

The cans run on tiny tracks laid in a belt on the bog. They cling to a cable operated by the same engine that runs the pulverizer.

The field press is a simple arrangement of weighted rollers which smoothes out the dumped loads of the cans and presses them into a black ribbon of peat about 3 feet wide and six inches thick. "The Man with the Hoe," follows cutting the ribbon into

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

At a meeting of the dry dock committee of the Halifax city council yesterday, S. M. Brookfield, manager of the dry dock, said that the company would be willing to enlarge it if the city would give an annual bonus, and grant exemption from taxation. The committee will report on the matter next week.

The city of Montreal was startled yesterday by the evidence at the investigation conducted by the aldermen in a committee, to enquire into the truth of a statement that a plot had been hatched to ensnare priests at the Eucharistic congress. C. A. Millet and Y. P. Baugre gave testimony that they had heard the speeches of some members of the French Masonic lodge, by listening in an adjoining room, and the remarks told of a plot whereby priests would be inveigled to houses of ill-fame, photographed, and arrested. This could be done, on the pretence that the houses were open for boarders.

Large crowds at Marystown yesterday attended the festival for the benefit of Campbellton's sufferers, and a tidy sum was realized.

Daily Hints For the Cook

SIMPLE SIRUP Two and half pounds loaf sugar, one pint water. Boil gently about 10 minutes. STRING BEAN SALAD. Clean and string young beans. Break the pods into halves lengthwise. Cook until tender in salted water. Drain and serve with French dressing into which a small onion has been chopped. Garnish with parsley. ICE CREAM COFFEE. Put good-size spoon of vanilla ice cream into the bottom of a tall, large glass and fill up with chilled and iced coffee made with sugar and cream. Do not stir. Serve with long-handled spoon. CHERRY VINEGAR. Pour 1 1/2 pints of vinegar over 2 quarts of red cherries, let stand 3 days, then strain. Measure, and to each pint of liquid add 1 pint of sugar, boil 20 minutes and bottle. Dilute with iced water when served. RED RASPBERRY SPONGE. Mash one box of cherries with one cupful of sugar and run through a fine sieve. Dissolve one-half box of gelatin in 1 1/2 cups of water hot enough to dissolve the gelatin. Strain the gelatin into the berry sauce and beat five minutes. Keep the gelatin on ice while beating, or have the dish inside another dish containing ice water. Beat two eggs very stiff and whip these into the gelatin until it begins to thicken; then pour in a mold and set on ice until solid. NEW WAY OF SERVING SARDINES. One of the new ways with sardines suggests a pleasant substitute for the usual oyster on the half shell at a formal dinner. The sauce is prepared as for an oyster or clam cocktail and half lemon skins are added with it. The oyster plates are filled as usual with shaved ice. In the centre of each ice bed place the lemon skin containing the sauce, and all around outer edge lay the sardines to form a ring. The little fish must be carefully skinned so that no fragment of their epidermis remains. They are dipped in the sauce before eating.

LINGERIE GOWNS ARE VEILED WITH CHIFFON WRAPS A broderie Anglaise frock, designed for afternoon wear at Newport, was made most distinguished on its appearance last week, by the gray chiffon wrap covering it. The chiffon, sheer enough to allow the beautiful pattern of the white frock to show through, was embroidered heavily across the shoulders and around the edge with self-colored silk, and was looped up, as the photograph indicates, at the center back with a gray ribbon rosette, making graceful, dragged-in effect below the knee. The hat—a white leghorn—is faced with black and covered with gray plumes.

TREASURY BOARD

The Board Re-affirms the Dismissal of Constable Sherwood—Other Matters At a meeting of the treasury board yesterday afternoon a sworn investigation was held into the complaint of Manfred Day against Constable A. G. Sherwood. Mr. Sherwood was not present but sent word through Ald. Sprout that he saw no use in appearing before the board and that his lawyer, H. W. Robertson, was out of the city. Mr. Day, G. Earle Logan and Capt. McIntyre were heard and the former action of the board, recommending Sherwood's dismissal, was reaffirmed. A complaint by Chris. Nichols against Constable A. M. Sherwood was dismissed. A deputation of teamsters was heard in relation to a readjustment of license and the matter was referred to the bills and by-laws committee. A. E. Hamilton asked for a reduction of $500 on this year's taxes. The chairman thought that the assessors ought to attend to this and it was agreed to send it to them.

Schooner Damaged

Boston, July 28—During a terrific storm today, the big four-masted British schooner A. F. Davidson, from New York for St. John, was struck by lightning and lost her foremast. The schooner was forced ashore at Sandy Hill Cove, Black Island, but floated later and proceeded to St. John. F. M. Scandlers, commissioner of the board of trade of St. John, who has been spending a vacation here, received a telegram yesterday which necessitated his leaving for St. John last night. He called back to his post because it has been decided to send him to represent St. John at the Toronto exhibition. Mr. Scandlers will probably return to New Brunswick in September and then complete the vacation which this summer compelled him to cut short.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By EUTH CAMERON AND how old is your daughter? I inquired when an old school friend called on me the other day, bringing his little daughter who is making her first visit to her father's boyhood home. At the question father's proud smile vanished. He looked blank, then puzzled, then hopeless, all in ten seconds, and finally gave it up and appealed to the lady in question. "I declare, I've forgotten which it is, six or seven. How old are you, Jean?" "Why, papa," most reproachfully, "I'm not six or seven at all. I'm eight, eight and a quarter, too. I'm spruced at you for not knowing." "I wasn't, though. I've seen too many fathers like that before." And I'll wager right now that a good many fathers who are reading this couldn't do much better offhand than he. Perhaps twenty-five or thirty fathers out of a hundred are fairly well acquainted with their own, but I don't believe ten out of a hundred have more than a speaking acquaintance with their daughters. I was in a college girl's room the other day with a group of girls were gathered, talking, studying and otherwise occupying themselves. One girl was writing a letter. "Who are you writing to, Marie?" called one of the idlers. (No, that "who" is not an error of mine. It is a literal and accurate question. I don't know one college girl in ten who uses any better grammar than that.) "My father," said Marie. "Well, I'd like to know what you want to write to him for. I saw a purse just filled with bills on your dresser yesterday." "I didn't say I was writing for money. I'm just writing an ordinary letter to my father. Don't you suppose he ever wants to hear from me except when I write for money?" "Listen to that, girls. She's writing to her father and she isn't writing for money." "I know that's more than I've done for some time," volunteered one of the girls, rather soberly. "Then, just for fun, we took a count and only one of the eight girls had written to her father except for money that year." One hadn't written at all, because she had her own check book. The one who HAD written did it because mother was going away for a month and thought father would be lonesome and asked me to write and cheer him up. And father wrote back the jolliest letter and sent me a ten dollar bill and said it was worth more than that to get a real letter from me with no business in it." Maybe that was an exceptional reckoning but I'm inclined to think it was fairly typical of an ordinary group of girls away from home. Of course it is inevitable that most of the letter writing should be done to mother, because father hardly has time for a regular correspondence, and of course father gets the news through mother, but that doesn't mean that it would do any harm to surprise father once in a while with a jolly letter all his own. Nor am I writing this wholly at girls' away from home. Most of your family companionship must, of course, be with mother, but that doesn't mean that you can't have a good, confidential, jolly talk or a lark or tramp with father once in a while. If you haven't been in the habit of it, why not try making your father your friend as well as your exchequer occasionally and see which of you enjoys the novel experience the most.

THE PREMIER'S TWO CARDINAL PRINCIPALS

The Autonomy of Canada and the Unity of the British Empire The New York Herald publishes the following despatch concerning the premier's meeting in Humboldt, Saskatchewan, last Monday night: "Humboldt, Sask., Tuesday—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech here last night dealt with the naval defence question in a strongly imperial way. It was heard by an audience of nearly three thousand persons representing the polyglot population of Humboldt district, which was originally settled by a colony of American citizens of German birth from St. Cloud, Wis. It is by appealing to the fervent national spirit of the west that the premier draws most applause in presenting the government plans for a purely Canadian navy. His declarations that Canada has emerged from the colonial stage, has thrown off its swaddling clothes and is now a nation which should provide its own defence from the line of argument for himself and his colleagues, the Minister of Railways, F. F. Patenaude, M. P., and E. M. MacDonald, M. P. Sir Wilfrid said in part:—"We have been told that this is the first step toward militarism. I do not admit it. I shall never be opposed to militarism, but defence means defence, and it is our duty to look after our own country. Up to the present time our country has been defended wholly by the motherland, but it is time that Canada should assume the rights of a nation. "We have the sovereignty of George V. over us, but while we acknowledge the sovereignty of the King of Great Britain we say also that Canada is a nation and we say that the part Canada shall play is not the part of a dependency but the part of a nation. (Cheers). "There are independent nations existing which have neither the population nor the wealth of Canada. Canada, with a population of seven millions, is a nation ready to assume all the duties and responsibilities that pertain to a nation. There has been no nation with such a sea coast that has existed without a navy. It is part of our manhood to relieve the British taxpayer of the duty of defending us. We claim the navy we have built neither cause the loss of independence nor lead to separation. "We shall present to the world a unique spectacle. The history of Canada is not like the history of other nations. All colonies after a certain time have severed their connection with the parent state. The United States severed theirs in the eighteenth century, but we claim we have found our independence in the maintenance of our liberty. "We are going to build the British Empire on the rock of autonomy and that local autonomy is connected with imperial unity. I ask men of all races to stand by these two cardinal principles, the autonomy of Canada and the unity of the British Empire." At request of Mayor Frink, the City Cornet Band will play a programme in King square this evening.
