LLOYD GEORGE TAKES SIDES WITH MINERS

DEFENDS LETTER PUBLISHED IN UNITED STATES

Attacks Baldwin's Attitude on Mission to America

FLAYS CHURCHILL

Declares Colleague Attempting to Lead Prime Minister "Around a Ring"

(New York Herald-Tribune Special Cable.)

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Just at the time when Great Britain's coal strike seemed to many observers to have been on its last legs, David Lloyd George has entered the fray on the side of the miners, with his usual impetuosity. He replied vigorously at Annapolis last night to Winston Churchill's week-end attack on him for his article in the United States press, calling Prime Minister Baldwin's letter "the meanest document ever penned by a minister of the British Crown."

Mr. Lloyd George accused his colleague in the Liberal and coalition cabinets of leading the Prime Minister "with rather cruel impetuosity" around a ring, and declared it was no surprise that the "poor man" has sought refuge in Aix Les Bains.

ATTACKS BALDWIN

"Baldwin wrote his letter to the United States, where else could I send my reply?" Mr. Lloyd George asked his hearers. "When a mission went to the United States to appeal for funds to feed the miners and their families, Mr. Baldwin wrote a letter to discourage Americans from subscribing to that fund. I called that a mean letter and call it so again. I am told I am vilifying the British Government. He is vilifying the 1,000,000 gallant miners of his country."

VESSELS ASKED TO REPORT WRECKAGE

Further Efforts Made to Learn Fate of Schooner Sadie A. Knickle

Canadian Press

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 24.—Attempts will be made to ascertain if the numerous reports of wreckage sighted in the vicinity have any relation to the missing LaHave fishing schooner Sadie A. Knickle, according to C. H. Harvey, local agent for the Marine and Fisheries Department. Mr. Harvey communicated this morning with Sable Island, Sable Head, and Cause wireless stations, instructing them to broadcast requests that reports be given of all wreckage sighted in the vicinity of Sable Island, with a view to identifying it definitely.

TWO WEEKS OVERDUE

The Sadie A. Knickle has not reported since the storm of over two weeks ago, when the lumber schooner Sylvia Mosher was lost with 25 men, and the Knickle was known to have been near the schooner when the storm broke. The Knickle carried 22 Nova Scotia fishermen.

INTIMIDATION FAILS TO STOP COAL MINERS

7,000 Men Return in Notts. and Derbyshire

29 PITS WORKING

Speculation Rife Concerning Mystery Meeting of Leaders in London

By HERBERT BAILEY

British United Press.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Local intimidation at the pits is reported from many mining areas, but like the promises of A. J. Cook, all such efforts are failing materially to affect the general intention of the miners to return to work. There is much speculation concerning today's great mystery meeting of the miners' leaders in London. The mystery is heightened by Cook's continued cryptic utterances that "something is happening."

It is believed in many quarters, although no definite confirmation can be secured for the rumor that the men's leaders may try to get in touch with the government again after today's session, but no official of the Christian industrial fellowship, which collapsed the last negotiations, which collapsed, professes to know anything about a new move. The names of possible intermediaries were in circulation last night and this morning, including the Archbishop of Canterbury, Sir Herbert Aspinall, who was seen by the commission, and David Lloyd George.

MANY MINES RESUME

While the dickerings are going on, 29 pits are working in Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire, and thousands of tons of coal are being daily brought to the surface. Seven thousand men have returned in these two districts alone and a large number must be added in an undetermined number at other areas.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 24.—A force of Royal Canadian Mounted Police, estimated at anywhere from 15 to 30, came to the border some time over the week-end, and formed a line stretching from Amherstburg to Belle River, with the object of stopping cross-river rum-running.

The new force, here to fight smuggling operations, are said to have no connection with the regular force stationed at Ford City. They are equipped with motorcycles, and are patrolling the whole of the river front. No boats have been able to pass from any dock after 6 o'clock in the evening. All boats clearing have been registered, and United States boats have been notified in accordance with customs regulations.

Department Now Is Functioning To Full Extent

SYSTEM GAINING

Increased Use Accounted for by Adoption in Rural Communities

Special to The Times-Star.

FREDERICTON, Aug. 24.—The school book department of the Province of New Brunswick is now functioning to its full extent for the first time since the free school book regulations went into effect more than a year ago. On Monday two tons and a half of school books were shipped to Saint John for distribution there for the opening of the schools of that city, which has been set for Monday next.

In Fredericton the distribution will take place next Thursday morning when the schools open, each school receiving its allotment first.

MORE SENT OUT

The increasing quantity of school books going out from the department is accounted for by the fact that the rural schools are becoming more accustomed to the system, and also are adopting the standardization which is imposed by the government of test books according to system.

The expectation is that the adoption of the free school book system in its entirety will result in marked benefit to the rural schools of the province in addition to the relief of financial obligations on the individual taxpayers.

VALENTINO SPENT $1,000,000 LAST YEAR, DIED POOR, SAYS SCHENCK

THE IDEALIST'S GAZE AND CYNIC'S SMILE

Another Report Declares Film Star Left Estate of $750,000.

Canadian Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Rudolph Valentino, born Guglielmo, several times remarked to a producer of his motion pictures, that he wanted to die young, and that he would like to live to be an old man. Today the body of the 31 year old "perfect lover" of the screen, lay in an undertaker's parlor, magnet for a crowd that blocked traffic, awaiting the arrival from Italy, of his brother, Alberto.

UNIVERSAL TRIBUTE

From his native Italy to Los Angeles, capital of filmdom, tributes flowed into the dead actor, who came to the United States practically penniless and without knowledge of the English language, thirty years ago, got a job as assistant gardener on a Long Island estate, and last year earned and spent $1,000,000.

Valentino is reported from Los Angeles to have left an estate of $750,000. More than one-third of this sum is said to be represented by the collection of antique vases, armour and furniture, which made his home, "Falcon Lair" above Beverly Hills, akin to a museum.

SPENT CONTRACT MONEY.

But Joseph H. Schenck, head of a film corporation, said the check left practically nothing. He spent nearly every cent of $1,000,000 he made last year under his contract of $200,000 a picture, and one fourth of the producer's gross receipts from his pictures, Mr. Schenck said.

Mr. Schenck denied reports that Valentino's life was insured for $1,000,000 in his favor, but said he was insured for $200,000 in favor of the company.

MONUMENT SUGGESTED.

Italian admirers in Los Angeles already have started a movement for funds to erect a monument to Valentino. Pola Negri, Polish actress, who announced some time ago, that she expected to become Valentino's third wife, was prostrated by the news, despite the fact that she had just given birth to a child.

Charles Epton, mutual friend of Valentino and Miss Negri disclosed at Los Angeles, Epton and

5 Forced To Abandon Swim Across Channel Yesterday; Girl Fails In Attempt Today

Canadian Press

DOVER, England, Aug. 24.—The turbulent English Channel, which has turned back five would-be conquerors within the past 24 hours, today turned back another swimmer. Jane Dawson, an English girl, starting from Dover on her first cross-Channel attempt, was forced to quit because of rough water, shortly after she had cleared the harbor this morning.

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Aug. 24.—Gertrude Ederle apparently is to be the only swimmer who will have to her credit during the present year the feat of swimming the English Channel. The season is late, and the sharks, who know the vagaries of the treacherous old stretch of water lying between the shores of France and England, say that henceforward it is likely to go daily into such tantrums that it will be impossible to negotiate it.

Five aspirants including Cleobelle Barrett of New Rochelle, N. Y., and Lillian Cannon, of Baltimore, Md., tackled the cold and rough waterway, during yesterday, and last night. The cold out in the rushing tides and among the billowing waves, stopped the two girls, and monster dogfish collided with Otto Kemmerich of Germany, and bruised him so badly that he was unable to go on. The other two men, a German named Vierkotten and a Frenchman named Ledrunt, were forced to abandon the attempt and were taken to Calais.

Miss Barrett suffered from seasickness, while Miss Cannon had an attack of cramps in the stomach and was taken out of the water.

LILLIAN CANNON QUILTS

BOULOGNE, France, Aug. 24.—Miss Lillian Cannon, of Baltimore, who failed yesterday in her attempt to swim the English Channel, will not try a second swim again this year, under the advice of her doctor. The latter stated that she had overstrained herself and that her stomach muscles were badly strained.

MEIGHEN DEFENDS RAILWAY MINISTER

Declares Hon. W. A. Black Has Unexcelled Record as Citizen

SASKATOON, Sask., Aug. 24.—After a busy day, during which he addressed audiences at a number of rural points in Saskatchewan, Premier Meighen spoke before a Conservative rally here last night, reiterating that the intention of the Conservative government, if returned to power, to complete the Hudson Bay Railway; that he was opposed to statutory freight rates for any part of Canada, and that the Conservative party would maintain the Canadian National Railways.

The Premier made a vigorous defence of Hon. W. A. Black, Minister of Railways, when asked if Mr. Black's appointment was permanent.

The appointment had been made, the Premier said, with the same assurance of permanency "given any minister ever appointed in any cabinet."

Mr. Black, he said, had a record as a Canadian citizen "unexcelled in this country."

Compromise Seen On Question of Tangier

Canadian Press

PARIS, Aug. 24.—A compromise on the question of Tangier which will satisfy Spanish aspirations in the territory is now thought possible in official French circles.

Negotiations over the international territory thus far have been confined to unofficial talk between the French Charge d'Affaires and the Spanish foreign minister, but the French are aware of the reasons why Spain wants a bigger control of Tangier and think that the wish can be satisfied.

The Vocational committee was able to save $44,000 on the land, and is confident that it will save $20,000 on the equipment. The building cost $20,000 more than the estimate, but from that must be subtracted the saving on land and equipment. It is also to be remembered that the government provides twenty-five per cent of the cost of the building, fifty per cent of the equipment and sixty per cent of the salaries.

The gift was presented at the V. O. N. office yesterday. It was the proceeds of a very successful bazaar held on Saturday by a group of children at the home of some of the young organizers in Elliott row.

Two Showers Given In Honor of Marriage

Eric Ring, son of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Ring, 122 St. James street, West Saint John, was given a shower last evening at the home of his parents in honor of his approaching marriage. The party was given by Mrs. Charles Robinson and his former associates in the firms of Francis & Vaughan and Waterloo & Ring, Ltd. Mr. Ring was the recipient of many useful gifts. He made a pleasing address and thanked his friends for their kindness and gifts.

IN GRATITUDE

On next Thursday at 6.30 a.m. a high mass of requiem will be sung in the chapel of the Monastery of Our Lady of Charity of the Good Shepherd, at 183 Waterloo street, for the repose of the soul of Mrs. Johanna Barry. Mrs. Barry was one of the first who helped the Sisters in the first trials and difficulties which are never lacking in all foundations. Her devotedness, kindness and generosity could not be surpassed; nor did she hesitate to help the Sisters in the menial work of the house. Mrs. Barry's name will be always remembered with the foundation of the Good Shepherd at Saint John.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., AUGUST 24, 1926.

SUITABLE INDUSTRIES.

On the eve, as we confidently believe, of a great industrial revival in the Maritime Provinces it may be profitable to take note of an article published in The Commercial and Financial World. This article draws attention to the condemnation accorded by the conference of industrial managers of Chambers of Commerce held under the auspices of the United States Chamber of Commerce to those cities which direct indiscriminate efforts towards inducing industries to locate within their boundaries irrespective of whether conditions warrant it or no.

The article says in part: "These trained specialists declared themselves committed in a practical way to the principle of seeking to locate in their cities only those industries for which there is prospect of economical and profitable operation. They concluded that the uneconomically located factory is a loss not only to those who have invested their money in the enterprise but to the community in which it is located."

The conference discussed, among other things, the industrial survey as the basis for the determination of economical factory conditions. Information thus obtained is drawn upon in presenting the situation from the viewpoint of a particular industry. It covers the natural resources of the community, its industrial resources, its condition of industrial operation, including cost of labor, fuel, water power, materials, transportation, its social conditions and conditions of trade, its financial conditions and available factory sites.

If the conditions disclosed do not fit the industry, it is better for the community, the conference decided, to do without it rather than suffer the ill effects of its subsequent failure would entail.

This is sound economics. It is better in the long run to have industries that are successful ones than to have industries which are unsuccessful ones. It is to have industries which are successful ones that we should seek to establish in the city. There can be no doubt that hard and fast rule not susceptible of modification as conditions alter, but several guiding principles can be stated.

All manufacture consists of changing raw material into finished or semi-finished articles. Transportation and handling are the main contributors to the eventual cost. Therefore, given power, the industries first indicated should be those which utilize nearby natural resources. Examine our principal resources of forest, farm, fishery and mine and those are the most surely profitable origins of the articles we should manufacture.

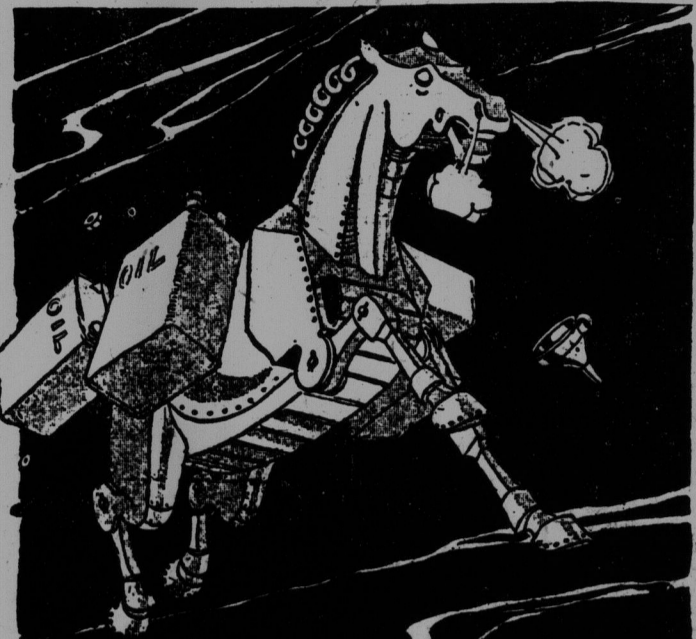

But sometimes articles are required in a country which cannot produce the raw material and that raw material is not finished in its country of origin. Therein ports have the advantage over inland cities, again because of transportation and handling, and ports ought to watch these opportunities. Already Saint John has taken steps in this direction and when improvement and extension of port facilities permit more can be pursued.

There are but the broadest of broad generalities and it must be remembered that every project must be examined on its inherent merits and demerits. Bold enterprise is essential, but caution is no less necessary. Let us induce all the industries we can to locate in Saint John, but let us do all in our power to minimize failures which react harmfully in the place where they are situated.

VALENTINO, THE ARTIST.
Art is long, life short. The emotional hysteria which impels women to sob aloud when informed of the death of an artist who, outside his art, can be nothing to them, induces one to think seriously regarding the effect of stage and screen on that type of mind. To the ordinary balanced individual, it is intelligible that powerful acting should so grip an audience as to transport it from reality to the counterfeit and hold them as actual spectators of a genuine drama. Without imagination we should be no more than the beasts of the field and it is imagination that true art stimulates. But it is art, not the artist, that should supply the stimulus. When the personality of the artist, as distinct from his assumed personality, becomes a force, imagination has run riot and individuals who permit this are in a dangerous state.

Valentino was a great artist of his kind. He was particularly great in his expression. He at least never attempted to gain effect by what are commonly called histrionics. Publicity is an essential factor in the economics of the show business, but it is destructive of art in its elevation of the artist. That can be the only excuse for those ladies who, being totally unacquainted with Valentino, except through the characters he played, shed tears at his passing. Not a soul but deprecates the untimely death of an artist so eminent as he. The world is the poorer and a light is extinguished, but art does not die with the artist. Art is long, life short.

Queer Quirks of Nature

By AUSTIN H. CLARK

ALMOST the whole world over you will see this pretty little butterfly, for the only places where it is not found are the polar regions. It is the most common butterfly in Egypt, where it flies throughout the year. It is abundant elsewhere in north Africa, in South Africa, and in the higher parts of India.

Two years ago it was the most common butterfly in New England, but since then it has almost completely vanished.

This is a shy and nervous butterfly with a rapid dashing flight. Dry, open places, especially dusty roadsides and hot and sandy regions, are its favorite haunts. It is very fond of flowers, especially thistle flowers and sweet white flowers like those of the button-bush and privet.

Decaying fruit has an irresistible attraction for this butterfly. What should these things be doing in an orchard it sometimes becomes sadly intoxicated. When so disturbed, this butterfly commonly circles irregularly about and returns to the place from which it started.

No matter how common it may be we have nothing to fear from it, as its caterpillars feed almost entirely on thistles. They are sometimes found on hollyhocks and occasionally on other plants, mostly obscure ones, but the thistles are especially their favorites.

He Can Fly Hundreds of Miles.

started. But, unusually strong upon the wing, it is capable of flying for enormous distances. It has been found at 600 miles from land, and in 1879 immense swarms appeared in Europe coming across the Mediterranean from north Africa.

The attitude of the British government is altogether friendly. It has a somewhat difficult double duty to perform. It must protect from molestations and annoyances, like arbitrary search, bona fide British merchants and shippers, in the West Indies as elsewhere; but it must make it plain that it does not connive at the British flag being used as a cheap and easy shelter for persons of any nationality or of none, who are enriching themselves by profiting the laws of a friendly country. For many reasons the policy of responding obligingly and even generously to these American requests is as wise for the future as it is agreeable in the present. To have met any reasonable expectations of support in the past is the strongest ground from which to refuse extravagant demands in the future, and there are signs that in the future campaign for intensified enforcements such claims may be made.

FAMILY LIFE IN CHINA

Victoria de Bunsen, in the Contemporary Review: "The coherence and intensiveness of family life in China is hopeful, too, in many of its aspects, for the future, in spite of its undoubted disadvantages, the reactionary spirit it breeds and the backward view, the sense of responsibility, each for all in a family, will always operate for the benefit of the child. It has been pointed out that the demand for state relief and even of organized charity on a large scale, sickness and old-age insurance and so on, need never arise at all in China. For the family system supplies these needs of family responsibility, at least in no way incongruous with it, is the slowly evolving social consciousness of the people. No doubt such a sense is sanctioned by Confucianism, but it is brought into strong relief by Christianity, which teaches a common brotherhood over and above the ties of family relationships, and which can modify even the deep reactions of necessity for doing good. Certainly such heat as that of yesterday is enervating. It is borne, we are told, by a current of air from the Azores, and it does with us as pleasure, not because the hot and humid atmosphere is intolerably oppressive, but because we do little or nothing to adopt ourselves to it. There were people, a few hours ago, gloating over the promise of a new life age that was made in our columns yesterday; and if it comes, of course, they will blame the scientists, Marconi, the government of the day, and any other available scapegoat, and will sigh for a return to the weather of 1926. When either tropical or Arctic weather arrives suddenly, at any time, it will find us unprepared, and insisting on our right to grumble."

IN TROPICAL ENGLAND

(Westminster Gazette.) "It is difficult, in a heat wave, to keep the temper under perfect control so that a certain amount of impudence on the part of those people who insist that we are living just now 'in a Turkish bath' is not at all surprising. In a Turkish bath, of course, we would be very much more at our ease; we would do nothing, and would be satisfied with doing nothing. Certainly such heat as that of yesterday is enervating. It is borne, we are told, by a current of air from the Azores, and it does with us as pleasure, not because the hot and humid atmosphere is intolerably oppressive, but because we do little or nothing to adopt ourselves to it. There were people, a few hours ago, gloating over the promise of a new life age that was made in our columns yesterday; and if it comes, of course, they will blame the scientists, Marconi, the government of the day, and any other available scapegoat, and will sigh for a return to the weather of 1926. ATTACKS ON MR. KING.

(Toronto Star.) "The personal campaign against Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King is notoriously bitter one, up and down the country from end to end. It is not his policy that is discussed, nor his arguments that are answered, but against him there is turned loose every kind of personal attack. He is abused as no leader has been in politics in this country for many years. A lot of Conservative politicians who never themselves went to the war, and who if they ever got into khaki never accompanied their battalions beyond the port office nor faced anything more deadly than cameras in front of the Toronto city hall have been denouncing the ex-prime minister because he was not in the war. He has an infinitely better answer than many who criticize him. Now that one reckless slanderer after another launched by the Conservative party has been exposed as being what it is, one finds it a little trying to read in the press these solemn and pretentious appeals to 'both sides' to cease that sort of work. Any such rebuke should be addressed to those who deserve it. Mr. Meighen is not being subjected to coarse personal abuse by the Liberal press. Slanders against the lives of his lieutenants are not being uttered from Liberal platforms one day that have to be withdrawn next day as entirely false."

GROUPS IN POLITICS.

(Ottawa Journal.) "Mr. Porke and a number of his like-minded associates are candidates as Liberal-Progressives; some Labor men are in the field as Labor-Liberals; and a few independent we not of have been nominated as Independent-Liberals. Mackenzie King has said on numerous occasions that he does not like groups in politics. Ergo, he does not like himself, and he does not wonder?"

POEMS I

LOVE

"My True Love" by Sir Philip Sidney.

IN THIS deathless sonnet, Sidney somewhat professes himself the true poet. This, too, drips with beauty, and can scarcely be matched for quiet simplicity and haunting charm. It should be a part of every lover's testament.

My true love hath my heart, and I have his, By just exchange one for the other given;

I hold his dear, and mine he cannot miss; I never was a better bargain driven:

His heart in me keeps him and me in one, My heart in his his thoughts and senses guides:

He loves his heart, for once it was his own, I cherish his, because in me it bides:

His heart his wound received from my sight; My heart was wounded from his love's bright:

For as from me, on him his hurt did light, So still throughout in me his heart did smart:

Both equal hurt, in this change sought our bliss; My true love hath my heart, and I have his.

ODDS AND ENDS

A Wonderful Camera

(Grove Patterson, in Duluth Herald.) "There is a camera in London which is capable of recording pictures at the rate of 300,000 a minute. Strange that man can make machines more wonderful in some ways than the human body. The human eye, in comparison with the camera, cannot record more than thirty impressions in a second. The new camera is 150 times as fast. Let a vase be blown up by a charge of powder and this speedy camera will show the particles of the vase being blown from the center.

Shall we not have a camera some day which will detect the madly whirling atoms and electrons? Shall we not have a machine which will show us what the scientists already know—that matter is force?

When we have learned to use atomic energy the steam age will seem as out of date as the stone age.

Meals for Sponges.

(Montreal Gazette.) "One of the hardest things to believe is that the sponge you use daily is an animal, and not a vegetable growth of the ocean. Sponges live their own lives, and eat their own food as other animals do. The separate existence of a sponge begins with the breaking away from the parent of a tiny particle. The latter, after being whirled about for a time by tides and currents, eventually attaches itself to a piece of rock, and from that home it seeks its own livelihood. The food of infant sponges consists of yolk cells, which contain a form of nourishment. Later, as the sponge grows, it requires something more solid, and this is brought by the currents, which sweep into a half-moon-shaped stomach—minute particles of new food.

Diamonds in Guiana

(Winnipeg Tribune.) "The production of diamonds in British Guiana in 1925 amounted to 182,207 carats, valued at $4,072,295, constituting an increase in weight but decrease in value from 1924, the record for which was 184,871 carats, worth $4,092,437. The peak year was 1923, when 214,747 carats, valued at $4,958,466, were produced. The output of preceding years was less than in any of the last three."

LONDON NETS $10,000,000 A WEEK FROM AMERICAN TOURISTS

ABOUT 140,000 VISITORS AT BRITISH CAPITAL

Many Others Visit Southern Watering Places in Great Britain
STORES BENEFIT BY WOMEN'S PURCHASES
Several Descendants of English Forefathers Reunite Ties of Kinship

LONDON, Aug. 24.—London is at present the temporary home of about 140,000 Americans and it benefits by the circumstance to the extent of, roughly, $10,000,000 a week. These visitors include many wealthy people, and an average individual expenditure of $10 per day is not an excessive estimate. The aggregate is welcome to shops, theatres and restaurants in a "black" month when numbers of Londoners desert the city for the seaside, the country and the continent. London is not, however, the resort of all Americans on this side of the Atlantic. There are many at southern watering places, whither they have fled to escape the "half-deadness" of London during Bank Holiday week. Those who remain faithful to the city in all her moods go away on brief trips to places of historical interest. Oxford is one of their favorite objectives, and

WRATH OF THE WATERS

Stratford is thronged at the moment with Americans. Some Trans-Atlantic visitors have traveled as far north as Edinburgh and Glasgow, but the American invasion of Scotland does not begin seriously until the end of this month, when the journey over the border is the last before "going home."
WOMEN SHOPPERS.
Many American women are making a point of devoting some of their time to shopping, eagerly seeking articles which are more readily obtainable here than in their "home towns." Linen, particularly appeals to these customers, who in the course of their visits to the large stores replenish their household stocks.
Many prominent Americans and the descendants of some of the oldest English county families, but the present generation have lost touch with their kinsmen over there.
They know only their great-grandfathers came from England, but of the vaguest idea. It is therefore proposed that a short list of the names of families most closely identified with any particular district should be included in publicity literature for America and Canada.
The name Jolliffe almost certainly indicates connection at some time or other with the Isle of Wight. Name is a Thanet name, and Lintott is from Hereham.
Yorkshire is the cradle of all Pickering, Ambler, Butterfields, Hadfields and Womeneyors. The Chalke come from Wiltshire.
All these names are common enough in America, and it is suggested that instead of these people making a lightning tour of the sights recommended by agents, they might derive more permanent interest by leaving the beaten track and discovering for themselves the rural beauties of the counties where their forefathers lived.

MILK MATTERS AT HEALTH BOARD MEET

Housing Also Gone Into and One Place is Ordered Closed as Unfit
The sub-district Board of Health at a special meeting yesterday afternoon took up further matters in connection with the report on housing conditions in the northeastern section of the city and ordered part of one more house to be closed as unfit for habitation. Milk regulations were also discussed. John Kelly presided.
In the matter of housing conditions it is stated that the Board is taking action gradually, but will deal fully with the reports recently received which stated that there were 111 houses in the northeastern section of the city that were unfit for habitation. With reference to milk regulations in the city it was said by an official

MEIGHEN REFERS TO LIBERAL ISSUE

Opposes Dissolution of House Prior to Vote, in Rosetown Speech
Canadian Press Despatch.
ROSETOWN, Sask., Aug. 23.—"I don't think any House should be dissolved for the purpose of preventing a government," declared Premier Meighen, addressing the electors of Rosetown at a breakfast hour meeting this morning.
Mr. Meighen has a crowded day ahead of him, with two regular afternoon meetings in the neighborhood of Saskatoon and an evening meeting in the city of Saskatoon.
On the constitutional issue here he took the ground that when a vote of censure on a government was pending that government should wait till after the vote before asking for dissolution; otherwise, if dissolution were granted, House would ever be able to express its opinion.

3 CANDIDATES OUT FOR SEAT IN BRITAIN

North Cumberland Vacant as Capt. Howard Enters House of Lords
Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Aug. 23.—Through the death of the Baroness Strathcona and the succession of her eldest son, Captain the Hon. Donald Howard to the title of Baron Strathcona and Mount Royal, the constituency of North Cumberland, which Captain Howard represented in the House of Commons since 1922, is now vacant, as he takes his seat in the House of Lords.
Three candidates are in the field for the vacant seat: Capt. Fergus Graham, a member of a well-known Cumberland family, Conservative; Richard Burningham, ex-M.P., of the firm of Alfred Holt & Co., ship owners, Liverpool, Liberal; and George McIntyre, schoolmaster, Labor.
Capt. Howard diligently nursed the constituency in the Conservative interest while he represented it in Parliament and it is regarded as being in good shape for a Conservative successor in the seat. His majority in the three-cornered contest in 1924 was 3,765.

Marquis Praises Immigrant Plan

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 23.—"I am convinced that Canada offers unlimited opportunities to immigrants from the Old Country," said the Marquis of Salisbury, chairman of the Empire's Parliamentary Association and leader of the Conservatives in the British House of Lords, here this morning.
"The 3,000-family scheme," he said, "is progressing simply wonderfully, and I earnestly hope that it will be possible in the future to procure British immigrants for Canada on a much larger scale."
The Marquis of Salisbury will leave tomorrow afternoon for Victoria, where he will meet on Wednesday the other delegates of the Empire Parliamentary Association.

Settling the Mother-in-Law Question by Sharing the Burden—Why Miss Eighteen is in Love With Love and Not With Any Special Boy—How Often Should a Young Man Have the Family Car?

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Whom do you think the mother-in-law should live with, her own daughter or her daughter-in-law? My mother-in-law has lived with us ever since we have been married, and it has been eight miserable, unhappy years that but for her would have been happy and peaceful. She is so disagreeable that her own daughters cannot get along with her, and so she is foisted on me. I have to do all my own work and have smaller children than they have, and I feel that it is their place to take care of her. What is your opinion? MRS. X.

DOROTHY DIX

and easy-going on the most conscientious one of the children is appointed the family goat and mother or father wished on him or her by the others.

This virtually ruins the life of the victim, who must endure day in and day out, year after year, the fretting and querulousness and nagging of an idle old person who, having nothing to do and no interests of her or his own, takes out his or her discontent at life by never-ending fault-finding. Yet no one need be unduly sacrificed if each of the sons and daughters took turns at taking care of mother or father.

Of course, Mary says that she is too busy to take care of mother, and Sally says that her husband is perfectly furious all the time mother is with them, and Tom's wife can't get along with mother at all, and Sam's wife insists on living at a hotel so mother-in-law can't stay with them, and so it is left to poor Jane or Bob's wife to have mother all of the time, while the others pay her a flying visit. And the other children ignore the fact that mother is just as much their mother as she is Jane's or Bob's, and that she aggravates Bob's wife just as much as she does the other in-laws.

But in all the world there is nothing more pitiful than these poor old people whom nobody wants, unless it is the poor young people who have their happiness destroyed and the peace of their homes wrecked by the old!

Yet nobody is really to blame in this terrible dilemma in which thousands upon thousands of families find themselves. Mother is not to be blamed because she is "set in her ways" and full of prejudices and peculiarities, nor is she to be blamed because she feels that she has a right to run her children's homes and interfere in all of their affairs and advise and admonish them continually.

Nor is mother's daughter to be blamed for not wanting mother to live with her when she sees that mother keeps her husband in a constant state of irritation and is driving him away from her and breaking up her home. Nor is the daughter-in-law to be blamed for not wanting to live with a mother-in-law who is a continual thorn in the flesh that torments her past endurance.

The only solution of the difficulty is for the children so to divide out mother's time that each will have a rest from her nagging. Or better still would it be to establish some sort of old ladies' home de luxe, where mother could be boarded and only pay visits to her children. It seems to me that it would be a far happier fate for the old woman themselves to have a home of their own in which they know themselves welcome than to know that they are living with their in-laws who don't want them.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am 18 years old and I am in love with a boy. That is, I am in love with him when I am not with him, but I am not in love with him when I am with him. I don't understand this, do you? MARY.

ANSWER: I certainly do, Mary, and, take it from me, you are in love with love, but you are not in love with the boy.

Every girl goes through this experience. From the time she is 14 or 15 years old she begins to think about love. Out of her fancies and her imaginings, and out of the stories she reads and the plays and the pictures she sees, she weaves a beautiful and wondrous garment, and she tries it on every good-looking youth that comes along.

Sometimes it seems to fit as if it had been fashioned for that particular one. Very often she has to alter it to make it do. Lops of some good quality here and widen it out with another quality there to make it go on at all. And generally after a little while she decides that it doesn't become the boy who is wearing it, so she grabs it off him and folds it up and puts it away in her hope chest to wait for somebody else to deck out in it.

But all the time her mind is filled with the thought of love, for she has fashioned this beautiful robe that she is just dying to give away. The danger to her is that she is in such a hurry about it that she won't wait for the right man to show up, but hands it out to the first passerby.

You see, the trouble with matrimony is that it has to be lived at close range with a man whom you have got to see unshaven and cross and tired and grumpy, and unless you love him well enough to love him even that way, then you are not in love.

Don't think you are in love with any man until you feel that you would never let him get any farther away from you than the length of your apron string if you could help it.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Here is a question over which we have a lot of trouble at home. How often should Mr. Seventeen use his parents' car if he keeps good company? We have agreed that your decision is to be final. SEVENTEEN.

ANSWER: I think that you should be allowed to have the car two nights a week.

You know, the gentleman who pays the freight and buys the gas has a right to use the car most of the time, so you must give your father and the other members of the family their innings. But every boy likes to have the use of a car nowadays, and it keeps him satisfied and contented at home to have that pleasure.

But play fair, son, with your parents. Don't abuse your privilege. Don't take the car anywhere your father wouldn't take it. Don't ask any girl to ride in it whom you wouldn't ask if your sister were along, and don't ride too far or too fast.

I hope your father will let you use the car twice a week and that, having agreed to do so, there will be no more arguments on the subject, and that nobody will ask you where you are going or when you are coming back.

The privilege that is accorded freely comes with a double grace. And most boys are good enough sports to play fairly with a father who deals generously with them.

This dainty little crepe frock is just the thing for afternoon wear. The blouse is very long waisted and is fitted at the waist, lending a slightly bloused effect above the waist line. The sleeves are long and tight, and the modified Peter Pan collar is tied with a bow of the crepe, the ends long enough to touch another bow about eight inches below the collar, which in turn touches another and tapers bow at the natural waistline.

The skirt has godets, and is pleated all around.

SEE-SAWING ON BROADWAY

OUT where the west begins to get next to the tourist possibilities they have a summer sport known as "dude wrangling."

It consists of gathering groups of "dudes" from points east, herding them on a "dude ranch," dressing them in Stetsons and cowboy attire and, for a liberal fee, giving them a taste of "western life."

THE Broadway variation on this pastime is "yokal steering."

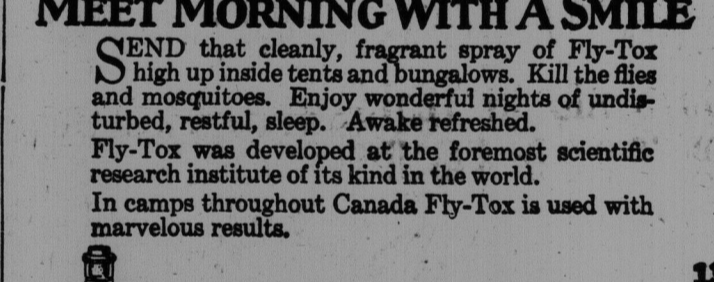

It is sort of a return favor to those living west of the Hudson.

THE "steerers" are, for the most part, wire and attractive girls who have achieved 3rd degree membership in Broadway.

THE rest is simple. When the "steerers" bring in her man she is spotted at once by everyone from the headwaiter down.

BOYS AID IN TESTS OF FOOD VALUES

Abstain From Sweets in Attempt to Find Ideal Diet For Scholars

LONDON, Aug. 24.—In a village 11 miles from London is a community of youngsters who should have a medal for sacrificing their naturally healthy youthful appetites on the altar of science.

For four years, by strict dieting, they have been helping towards the solution of a problem which the Medical Research Council, in its report just issued, describes as one of great social value and national importance.

The groups of boys lived in model cottages, and while a large number lived on the basic diet of the village and gained an annual average of 3.55 lbs. in weight and 1.84 inches in height, boys in other cottages received additional rations.

The result of the increased rations showed this annual difference:

Table with 3 columns: Item, weight, height. Rows include cow's milk, cod liver oil, oatmeal, etc.

Why the milk, which was pasteurized, should have made such a remarkable difference to the ordinary diet is not certain. "We may come to attribute it to vitamins, but it may be due to other factors," comments the report.

MEIGHEN PASSES CROWDED HOURS IN SASKATCHEWAN

Denies Blame in Remark Concerning Alien-Born in Ontario

ABERDEEN, Sask., Aug. 23—Premier Meighen returned today to the wheat fields of Saskatchewan. His first day was one of crowded hours. At breakfast time he spoke at Rosetown; in the afternoon he had a meeting at Aberdeen and Bradwell. His Aberdeen meeting was held in the open air on the prairie. Mr. Meighen spoke from the verandah of a farmhouse.

Mr. Meighen referred to a statement about the foreign born which, he said was being circulated as having been made by a Conservative speaker at the Lennox picnic near Toronto. In some way, Mr. Meighen added, he was being personally held responsible for the statement. "I was present at the picnic," Mr. Meighen continued, "but left early. I did not hear the statement and I was not responsible for it."

"I am bound by what I say," Mr. Meighen continued, "but what I have said, I stand, but there responsibility ends. My ministers follow the policy we adopt. If they don't adopt it it is my business to see that they do. I have no responsibility for what some one else says. That is his outlook."

HITS LIBERAL PROGRAM

Mr. Meighen declared that the Liberal tariff program had only been adopted with a view to fool the people of the prairie. Not ten per cent. of that program had actually been put into effect.

"How do you like being fooled?" Mr. Meighen asked. "If you prefer being fooled keep on voting for Mr. King and the Progressive party."

"I would like to see the luxury tax off everything," said Mr. Meighen discussing the Robb budget, "but if you can't take it off everything, would it not be better to take it off clothes than to take it off automobiles?"

While working about his garden last night, William A. Hamm, of 192 Lancaster, West Saint John, passed away suddenly. JAZZ NOW RULES IN NOTED DREAMWORLD

The famous mansion "Dreamworld" of the late Thomas W. Lawson, the "copper-king" and author of "Frenzied Finance," which created a sensation in the business world a few years ago is now the home of jazz dancing, and lobster parties and known as Dreamworld Hall Inn. The estate which was one of America's show places was sold out, together with its contents a little before Mr. Lawson's death about a year ago, to settle with his creditors. Mr. Lawson spent money with a lavish hand on "Dreamworld" and it was estimated at the time of the sale that it had cost him together with its contents, and his horses and dogs over $2,000,000. Today the proprietors of the inn, which is situated in Egypt, Mass., advertise "Hear the wonderful chimes of Dreamworld. See the famous pipe-organ, one of the finest in America."

Keeping Your Schoolgirl Complexion

By FRANCES NEEDED Beauty Adviser

Copyrighted 1926 by P. O. Beauty Features

Never Touch

Any but a true complexion soap to your face

Good complexion too priceless for experiment

THE only kind of soap to use on your face is a soap made basically for that purpose. Rinsing your complexion to an unproved soap is a folly.

Before Palmolive came, women were told "use no soap on your face." Soaps then were judged too harsh.

Then came this famous beauty creation. A soap made by experts in beauty solely for ONE purpose: to safeguard the complexion. A soap made of rare cosmetics oils, to be used freely, lavishly, on the skin. A soap, thus, that changed the beauty habits of the world.

Leading skin authorities urge it. Most of the pretty skins you see today are largely due to it. Lather, cleanse with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake, take care.

Start the day in the following way for one week... note the improvement in your skin.

The rule for gentle skin and pore cleansing

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly first with warm water, then with cold.

If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge, if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

Get real Palmolive

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

It costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain a cake today. Then note what an amazing difference one week makes. The Palmolive Company of Canada, Limited, Toronto.

REPORT PROGRESS IN PLANS FOR FAIR

Protestant Orphanage Committee Meets—Gift of Building Lots Gratefully Received

Two building lots at Millidgeville, overlooking the Kennebecasis, have been given to the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage Fair committee by Mrs. John K. Storey to be disposed of for the benefit of the maintenance fund of the institution. The gift has been received most gratefully and at the meeting of the fair committee, held last night in the Orange Hall, with W. H. Campbell, presiding, W. A. Stepler and Frank Kinnear were appointed a committee to take charge of the manner of disposing of the two lots.

All of the sub-committees presented very encouraging progress reports indicating a splendid response from the provincial districts and from the city. Sales of tickets for the fair were reported to be very satisfactory. How best to introduce new features into the fair, which will be held in St. Andrew's rink, in Saint John, opening on Sept. 27, was generally discussed and several very apt suggestions were made. One plan decided upon was to have special nights for various societies, to give special patronage and on those nights to have members of the particular society man the various booths.

The car and the hope chest which are to be special prizes at the fair are to be displayed at the Saint John Exhibition and will be taken to the Fredericton Exhibition also, it was decided.

R. J. Adams and Frank Kinnear were appointed a special committee to conduct a canvass of the Loch Lomond district, soliciting contributions for the fair.

Concert Adds $75 To Funds For Orphanage

Hopkins; sketch, "The Research Doctor," Miss Blanch Jones and Messrs. Whitehead, Jones and Day. About $75 was raised by the entertainment. Members of the Grand Bay Outing Association, who assisted the concert party in having supervision of the arrangements, were W. A. Simonds, John Jenkins and Walter C. Peters.

YOUNG JUDAEANS HOME AFTER CAMP

Boy Scouts Enjoy Fine Outing—Investure is One Feature

The Young Judean Troop, Boy Scouts, arrived home yesterday after ten days of enjoyable weather, good sport, and plenty of enthusiastic and instructive scouting. The camp was under the leadership of Scoutmaster Eli Boyaner, who very ably managed affairs. Under him were assistant Scoutmasters A. R. Isaacs, N. W. Rubin and Troop Leader Joseph Gus. On Saturday night an excellent "council fire" was enjoyed by all present. On Sunday morning an investiture was held. An investiture is a scout ceremony by which a boy by taking on his honor, the Scout promise becomes a Tenderfoot Scout. Those invested were: Assistant Scoutmaster A. R. Isaacs and N. W. Rubin. The latter acted in the capacity of camp doctor, being a student at McGill University, although very rarely were his services required during the camp. Sunday afternoon was spent in Scout

Budovitch); second, the Crows, with 616 points (P. L. S. Jacobson); third, the Hawks, with 591 points (P. L. E. Zebberman). SHE (after the proposal): I'm sorry Teddy. FREE 10-DAY TUBE—NOTE COUPON

Gums like Coral

Teeth with that dazzling whiteness you seek

This NEW way will bring them quickly. It removes the film that invites "off-color" teeth and unhealthy gums. See what difference in only a few days. Make this unique dental test.

HERE is a simple dental test. A test that will work a great change in the color of your teeth, in the color and firmness of your gums.

You may not realize it, but yet be handicapping yourself immeasurably with a smile that lacks the attraction of glistening white teeth and healthy gums.

For your own sake, send the coupon. It means much to you.

That stubborn and dangerous film—you must remove it

Dental science now traces scores of tooth and gum troubles, directly or indirectly, to a germ-laden film that forms on teeth.

You can't see it, but run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel it... a slippery, viscous coating.

That film absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc. And that is why your teeth look "off color" and dingy. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack and your teeth open to decay. Germs by the millions breed in it. And they, with tartar, are a chief cause of pyorrhea.

You can't have pretty teeth unless you combat it. Highest authorities all tell you this.

Brushing won't end it. Ordinary dentifrices and cleansing won't fight film successfully. Feel for it now with your tongue. Note how your present cleansing method is failing in its duty.

It removes that film. And firms the Gums

It accomplishes two important things at once: Removes that film, then firms the gums. No harsh grit, judged dangerous to enamel.

A few days' use will prove its power. Why cling to old methods when world's authorities urge a better way? Send the coupon. Clip it now before you forget.

Form for requesting a free 10-day tube of Pepsodent toothpaste, including fields for name, address, and city/province.

FIREMEN OUT ON 2 CALLS YESTERDAY

First to Elliot Row and Second, More Serious, in The North End

The fire department was called out on two occasions yesterday, the first by an alarm from Box 13 at 4 o'clock, for a slight fire among some papers in the rear of Hon. R. J. Ritchie's residence, Elliot Row. There was practically no damage, and again at 8:30 check last evening by an alarm from Box 128 for a fire in a three-story house, owned by C. Herbert Ritchie, 71 Clarendon street, when damage to the extent of about $600 was caused.

The Clarendon street house was occupied by Stephen McDonald on the ground floor, Archibald Speight on the second floor and Thomas Parks on the top floor. While Mr. Ritchie carried $1,000 insurance on the building, it is understood that the tenants carried no insurance. When the fire was discovered it had started from some unknown cause in a small room in the McDonald apartment near a stove and was working up through the partition. Police Constable George Totten was one of the first on the scene and assisted Mrs. McDonald and two children to leave the building. While the fire was being answered to the alarm the policeman tried to quench the fire in the wall by throwing water on it. The blaze however had gained considerable headway and when the firemen arrived it had worked clear up through the wall to the roof.

With a couple of good streams of water the blaze was soon under control, but before the fire was "all out" a section of the building was damaged considerably. Part of the contents in the three flats were also damaged by fire and water.

HAS FENDER BROKEN. A Fairville street car following a West Saint John car along Douglas Avenue last evening about 9:30 bumped into the west bound car and had its fender broken and some damage done to the woodwork. The passengers were jolted by the impact but nobody was hurt. The accident happened near the meteorological observatory.

STOCKS CONTINUE UPWARD MOVEMENT IN MONTREAL

BRAZILIAN, AT NEW HIGH, 119, LEADS MARKET

Gains Two and Half Points Overnight; Good Demand for Smelters
GENERAL MOTORS WALL ST. FEATURE
Pool Operations in Specialties Causes Gains in Some Issues

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—Values at the opening of the local stock exchange this morning, continued their upward movement and trading was very brisk. Brazilian was again the leader in point of activity and strength, touching a new high of 119 for an overnight gain of 2 1/2 points, but in subsequent trading, eased to 118 1/2, for a net advance of 2 points during the first half hour. Smelters was in good demand and came second in point of activity, but revealed an irregular trend. This stock opened at 240, up two points, but in later trading touched 239 1/2, and 239 3/4. Power, New, common, and preferred were fairly active and firm at 6 1/4, for the former, and 4 3/4 for the latter. Winnipeg Balls came in for some attention, and sold up one point at 54. Laureyside, which has been the centre of interest for some time, was particularly inactive this morning, only 50 shares of this issue changing hands at 105. At this price, Laureyside was up one point.

IN WALL STREET
NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Renewed activity and strength in General Motors, which opened 1 1/2 points higher, at 212, featured the opening of today's stock market. Pool operations were again apparent in a number of specialties, initial gains of a point or so being recorded by Consolidated Gas, Foundation Company and Remington Typewriter. General Asphalt was heavy on realising, quickly sagging 1 1/2 points.

"Western" Cyclone Smashes Long Island Landscape

After crossing over New York City harbor, a regulation "Kansas" style cyclone descends on Long Island and smashes things up indiscriminately but without any resultant fatalities. The photo shows a house at Sea Cliff under which two men were buried until rescued by police. A garage near here was blown away but the car within it left undamaged.

Morning Stock Letter

NEW YORK, August 24.—In our opinion yesterday's market showed a distinct change and we believe the upward trend of stocks has been resumed. There has been a great deal of short selling in the last week. White brokers' loans, announced after the close last evening, showed a small increase, the technical position of the market is not weak. In this rally, we believe General Motors and Dupont will remain the leaders, with General Motors making a new record high.
Warner Bros. Pictures was another feature yesterday. This stock has very great possibilities and we would not be surprised to see it sell a great deal higher. Several weeks ago, we recommended the purchase of International Tel. and Tel. Since then, the stock has done practically nothing. We look for some very bullish developments in connection with this company and believe the stock is one of the best purchases in the market at the present time. The rights in this stock, which expire September 1, will not be exercised until then, but we would buy it now. Another utility in a good position, is American Power and Light. The rubber stocks did little. We believe they will come to life one of these days with a good upward movement. Think Greulich and I. S. Rubber are purchases. Pressure may be put against the steel stocks again, as there is seemingly a well organized group attempting to put stocks down by selling the stock. We think that U. S. Steel on any slight dip is a purchase, and we continue bullish for the pull on Bethlehem Steel and Youngstown Sheet and Tube.

Easy To Gain Weight With Yeast and Iron

Thin, run-down and underweight, men, women and children can now improve their health, increase their energy and regain normal weight in a surprisingly short time.
A new combination of yeast vitamins with vegetable iron, restores the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and supplies the system with the vitamins that build up weight.
For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamin food, but until we perfected "ironized yeast" which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the proportions that build weight.
Vegetable "iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes just as beneficial as fresh or cake yeast.
Ironized Yeast tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. If you are underweight, do not enjoy good health, lacking in energy and force, "ironized yeast" tablets will pick you right up, and if they fail, you get your money back.
Sold by druggists at $1.00 for a large 60-tablet package or sent direct from laboratory on receipt of price. Ironized Yeast Co., Fort Erie, Ontario, Canada.

IN FORCE AUGUST 1926
SAINT JOHN MONTREAL BOSTON NEW YORK
$15.00 $16.50 $16.00 $14.75
Montreal, Boston and New York dealers recently notified their trade of an additional cost on and after September 1st.
Coal today in Saint John is selling $1 per ton below Boston and only 25c above New York, yet both these cities are much nearer the Anthracite mines and transportation charges are several dollars per ton less than to Saint John.
Established coal dealers in Saint John are earning very little better than a new dollar for an old one at these prices. During summer months when coal can be bought at fair prices and handled economically, dealers here are usually not busy because people fail to grasp the profitable opportunity of summer buying and summer delivery.
The coal burning season is less than sixty days off. Why not co-operate with your dealer and lay in your supply now at these prices and while he can deliver with proper economy, ease and care.

BETTER THAN SODA For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in

IMPERIAL HAS TALE OF FLORIDA BOOM TIME MEN

Real Estate and Baseball Mingle in Thomas Meighan Picture

Of the many novel methods used in selling Florida real estate—and they're all shown in Thomas Meighan's new picture, "The New Klondike," which opened at the Imperial yesterday, is that of keeping the prospective customer in a happy frame of mind by the use of music.

This, real estate experts say, has been found to have a remarkable psychological effect in that it soothes away worries, pacifies minds, and works one into the most receptive mood imaginable for listening to the pleasant and desirable attributes of Florida dirt.

A violinist, with flowing hair and the air of an artist written on his features, is employed to stand next Hugh Cameron, a salesman in the picture. Cameron first looks a customer over. Then he hands the sheet of music to the violinist, which he thinks best suited to each individual prospect. As the melody is begun, Cameron starts his "spiel" in a vein completely harmonious to the music.

An aged couple walk up. Cameron hands "Silver Threads Among the Gold" to the violinist, and bursts into a heart-breaking eulogy on the happi-

'QUEEN SQUARE' HAS FASCINATING FILM

In "The Road to Glory" Theme is Developed in Interesting Manner

The role that chance plays in shaping one's destiny is the theme which Howard Hawks took for his story "The Road to Glory," which he has personally directed for Fox Films. The picture is now at the Queen Square theatre, and its run will end tonight.

At the start of the picture is seen Judith Allen, a typical girl to today, good-looking, rich and of high ideals. A benevolent fate has given her all these things in addition to the love of young David Hale and the devotion of her father, Jim Allen.

Suddenly, chance ceases to treat her as its favorite child. While speeding in her roadster with David the car overturns and Judy's forehead is injured. Later, her father is killed. Soon she is confronted with a doctor's verdict that she will in a short time be blind.

Then Judith transformed into a bitter agnostic. She denies her love for David. She determines to spend her time blaspheming those things which she has always held sacred. Del Cole, a ne'er-do-well who is infatuated with her, aids her in this respect. When he discovers her affliction, however, he deserts her.

Judith then seeks escape from civilization by starting for a lonely mountain camp. She is followed by David to bring her to her senses. The climax is dramatic.

BRINGS CHEERY WORD OF TRADE IN OLD COUNTRY

G. S. Mayes and Wife Return From British Isles

FIND PEOPLE FED UP WITH MINERS' STRIKE

Spirit of Optimism Prevailing in England, Ireland and Scotland

"Trade conditions in Great Britain are excellent and the people are very optimistic throughout England, Ireland and Scotland," declared G. S. Mayes, of West Saint John, who returned home last evening after a trip through the British Isles. Mr. Mayes was accompanied by his wife, his son, Harold, and the latter's wife, who met them at Quebec a week ago last Friday, and the party motored home by way of Montreal, White River Junction, Boston, the White Mountains, Portland and Bangor, Me., and Woodstock, N. B.

GO AHEAD SPIRIT

While in the Old Country, Mr. Mayes visited all the principal centres and probed deeply into matters of business. He said he was particularly impressed with the go-ahead spirit which was being manifested on all sides. Among the labor people he was informed that they were totally against the coal strike, as it was interfering with many of the other industries, throwing out of employment a great number of people. Even the miners themselves, he was informed, were against remaining out, but were being kept away from the mines by their leaders.

Although the transportation systems were badly affected during the early part of the strike, the trains were running on normal schedules, Mr. Mayes said, before he left the other side.

NEWSPAPER FEAT

Mr. and Mrs. Mayes returned to Canada by the steamship Express of Scotland, which was the first vessel leaving the other side after Gertrude Edle's accomplishment of her record feat of swimming the English Channel. Pictures of her swim were sent to America by the ship, and were shown at near Father Point, in the St. Lawrence, by a hydroplane, which carried them to New York. The pictures were reproduced in New York's leading daily. Incidentally a New York paper, in an article on this newspaper feat, gave Joe Page credit for assistance in carrying it out.

On the same steamship with Mr. Mayes and his wife, were several British parliamentarians, who are making a tour of the Dominion. Mr. Mayes said that, despite the fact that they were Conservatives, Liberals, Laborites and Irish Free State members in the party, the whole group got along admirably together, and during their party on several occasions while on the ocean, he gained interesting and valuable information from them.

BUILDING IN SCOTLAND

Mr. Mayes commented especially on the large amount of building which was being carried on in Scotland, particularly in Glasgow and Aberdeen. In London, he said, Regent and Oxford streets had been entirely rebuilt with up-to-date shops and business places which made them, in his opinion, the finest business streets he had ever seen. In all, he declared, more than two miles of streets in the heart of the West End business district had been reconstructed.

Belfast, Mr. Mayes continued, was flourishing, and Dublin, while not quite so progressive, appeared to be forging ahead in unison with the rest of the country.

EMPIRE TOPICS

Regarding inter-empire relations, Mr. Mayes said that there was a feeling among the people favorable to stronger imperial federation, and in the matter of trade, he said there was a strong leaning towards added preference for the products of Canada and Australia. Considerable coal was imported into England during the coal strike, he said, a great deal of it from Germany, but the consensus of opinion was that it was much inferior to the domestic article.

Mr. Mayes said that the southern watering places, including Brighton, Bournemouth and Torquay, were all going ahead and were attracting increased number of visitors from year to year.

RESCUE IN RIVER IS EFFECTED BY WOMAN

S. J. Nealis Saved When He Falls From Boat at Oromocto

The prompt action and presence of mind of Miss Louise Godfrey, of Winthrop, Mass., who is a guest of Mrs. Leonard Hubbard, of Oromocto, averted a drowning fatality when she rescued Mrs. Hubbard's brother, S. J. Nealis, of Boston, when the latter fell from a boat into the Saint John River. Mr. Nealis, who is also the guest of his sister, Mrs. Hubbard, was fishing from a rowboat near the Oromocto wharf. While endeavoring to remove a fish from the line of a companion, he lost his balance and fell overboard. Miss Godfrey immediately went to Mr. Nealis' assistance and succeeded in bringing him to shore partially exhausted. Miss Godfrey is an expert swimmer and her prompt action has won a great deal of comment. Mr. Nealis is well known in Saint John.

BAND CONCERT

The Carleton Cornet Band will play a program of good numbers on Alexander Square, North End, this evening. York live.

SEE THE FALLS

At high tide the water of the Bay of Fundy reaches a higher level than at low tide. The water flows through the gorge and over the falls, creating a "falling" sound. The water at the falls becomes so much lower than the river, that the fall of water is reversed and flows down river into the Bay.

At low tide, when the level in the Bay and River are about equal, the falls disappear entirely, and the water at the Falls becomes smooth as a mirror. To fully appreciate this wonder of the world it should be seen at all three stages.

As Hiram Sees It

THE SETTLEMENT.—Hanner had the table decorated today with golden-rod. The summer 'il soon be gone. The golden-rod, an' f'reweed, an' wild aster, an' thistle blossoms, an' all kinds o' wild flowers is bloomin' along the roads—as fine a sight an' as great a blaze o' color as you find anywhere. I wonder how many people look at 'em to enjoy 'em—how many don't see 'em at all as they race along. Old Mother Nature 'is workin' merces every day—but a lot o' folks is blind an' can't see 'em. Some o' the finest things in life can't be look in at forty mile an hour. A feller needs time to meditate with his eyes an' ears open—an' the Settlement 'is the place to do it. I was talkin' yesterday to a Noo York feller. He goes to his office every mornin' in the subway cars—an' goes home the same way an' lives in a flat reached by an elevator—an' he's like a bee in a hive all day an' all night. But he can't fly over the clover-bloom, an' that's why I wouldn't like to be a bee in a Noo York hive.

NUMBER ROADS OF N.B. NEW PLAN OF ASSOCIATION

Project Designed to Simplify Travel by Auto Parties

Among the activities planned for next year by the New Brunswick Automobile Association is a complete numbering of all the roads of the province, similar to those in many of the eastern states, according to announcement made by the president, T. P. Regan, today. This plan, Mr. Regan said, has been found the most satisfactory of all schemes tried on the roads of the United States and he was certain that it would prove of great benefit to those using the highways for motor tours.

EXPLAINS PLANS.

The scheme is to number the trunk roads between the principal cities and towns and to carry this number at frequent intervals on telephone and telegraph poles all along the route. For instance, the road from St. Stephen to Saint John might be numbered "1," that from St. Stephen to Fredericton, "2" and so on. These numbers would correspond with those shown on a chart or guide and would facilitate the finding of the various routes through the country.

The numbering system, Mr. Regan said, was vastly superior to the colored banding scheme, used hitherto, as it was plainer and not nearly so liable to cause confusion.

The band travels in a special train and a reason for this is found in the fact that the personnel includes 83 people among whom are eight soloists. At that time the concerts were given in St. Andrew's park and the Oratorio Society of that day sang several choruses.
