BRITAIN NOW FACES GENERAL STRIKE

FIVE MILLION WORKERS TO QUIT TUESDAY IF MINERS STILL OUT; STATE OF EMERGENCY PROCLAIMED

What Practically Amounts To Martial Law Rules In England; Special Trains Ready To Carry Naval Men If Trouble Rises

TRANSPORT WORKERS ARE INCLUDED

Distribution of Essential Foodstuffs Provided For If General Walk-out Takes Place; Hopes Faint For Reopening of Parleys With Mine Owners

LONDON, May 1.—The General Council of the Trades Union Congress has issued a detailed Memorandum regarding the trades and unions which have been called upon to cease work Tuesday. It is understood that the safety crews in all the coal mines throughout the country will be allowed to continue work in order to prevent damage to the mines.

The industries affected in the general strike order include: Transport, railways, sea, docks, harbors, roads and railway repair shops, unions connected with maintenance of air transport and the printing trade, including the press; productive industries in iron, steel, heavy chemicals and building trades, except those on hospital work; electricity and gas, including power lines. The council has recommended that there be no interference in the sanitary services, health, food and hospital supplies.

The British government today moved detachments of troops into the coal mining areas of South Wales, Lancashire and Scotland. The movement, characterized as "purely a precautionary measure," is to assist police in maintaining order during the miners' strike.

LONDON, May 1.—Great Britain faces a general strike as a result of the coal miners' strike against lower wages and increased hours.

Representatives of 203 trades unions, comprising five million workers, with enormous financial resources, met today and decided to back up the miners by ceasing work in all the vital services next Tuesday, unless a settlement of the miners' dispute is reached meanwhile.

STATE OF EMERGENCY PROCLAIMED

The government, aroused by the walkout of the miners, who laid down their tools at midnight, when the governmental subsidy expired, issued a proclamation that "a state of emergency exists."

The proclamation under the law gives the government almost unlimited powers, to be exercised in protecting the general public from suffering through curtailment of the vital necessities. Some hope remains that the negotiations between the coal owners and miners, may be re-opened, but the hope is very faint.

In proclaiming that "a state of emergency exists" the government assumes power, granted by the throne, to employ troops or take any other measures necessary to maintain order and insure the welfare of the population.

NEAR STATE OF SIEGE
Great Britain is placed under what approaches a state of siege by the proclamation that "a state of emergency exists." While not a proclamation of martial law, or a formal state of siege, it gives the government almost unlimited powers. The only limitation prescribed in the law under which the proclamation is issued, is that the government cannot declare industrial conscription for compulsory military service.

APART FROM this limitation, it may institute any measures it deems for the preservation of peace, the securing and regulation of supplies of food, fuel, light and other necessities, and the maintenance of means of transport.

TROOPS IN READINESS
There is not much talk of employment of troops, as the government is not inclined to stir the passions of the workers at this juncture, or special service, and it is safe to say that the troops throughout the country are prepared for any emergency.

THE financial section of London viewed the outlook with concern, as after a standstill today, with more than a million miners idle, as a result of failure by the mine owners and their

May Involve All European Mine Workers

British United Press

LONDON, May 1.—The beginning today of a British coal strike involving one million men, which may conceivably eventually involve the miners in Germany, Belgium, Poland and Czechoslovakia, has made this May Day potentially the darkest since the war for workers throughout Europe.

Labor's solidarity which is symbolized by May Day observances, may soon be put to a practical test if the continental miners adhere to the Amsterdam agreement to support the strike of the British miners. This agreement, which would plunge Europe's workers into what conflicts would be effective only if the British miners request the support of sympathetic strikes. In that event the British miners would agree to remain on strike until continental miners obtained what they demanded.

months. The government, since the last strike, also has been preparing for the possibility of a future emergency, and is said to have perfected elaborate arrangements to meet the public needs for food and other necessities.

More than 200,000 private and commercial vehicles with their drivers, are ready for distribution services. It is said that last night many of these were called to the places assigned to them to begin work.

STRIKES HEAVY COST

The government's subsidy to enable the mine owners to pay the scale of wages which terminated at midnight last night, already has resulted in an expenditure of twenty million pounds. The last national coal strike in Great Britain in 1921, is estimated to have cost the nation nearly £200,000,000 in direct and indirect losses.

The government began its subsidy last July, when a crisis similar to that of today threatened. It appointed a Royal Commission to investigate the entire coal problem and endeavor to find a solution. The commission made recommendations for re-organizing the industry and increasing its efficiency.

MACDONALD'S VIEWS

LONDON, May 1.—"Great Britain is face to face with the class conflict," Ramsay MacDonald, former Premier of England and leader of the Labor Party in the House of Commons today said. "We face a machine, which, although adroit and powerful, nevertheless goes on from blunder to blunder thanks to its ruthless aims and narrow vision and the stubborn facts which confront it."

RHINE PROFITS

AMSTERDAM, May 1.—The Rhine-Westphalian coal syndicate is counting on important increases in coal transport by way of Rotterdam as a result of the shutdown of the British industry. The syndicate anticipates particularly an increase in bunkering business in the new waterway here, if the strike continues, and necessary preparations for handling it have been completed.

Several vessels which had intended to take on coal at Cardiff, Wales, have entered port. About 200 Rhine coal barges are now lying at Rotterdam ready to unload.

U. S. AFTER TRADE

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 1.—Coal operators and exporters in the United States are watching with intense interest the developments in the British coal crisis. Plans are being made, it was learned here today, by United States coal interests to capture coal trade in the world markets away from the British coal interests in case of any prolonged shutdown of British mines.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 1.—When emerging from the water off Long Point, the big submarine V-1 struck and killed a whale, 28 feet long.

GOVT. MEMBERS ARRIVE HOME FROM CAPITAL

Session Just Ended One Of Longest On Record

85 BILLS PASSED

Many Important Measures Were Discussed and Approved By Legislators

PROGATION of the Legislature last night at Fredericton resulted in the arrival in the city today of many of the members en route to their homes after one of the longest first sessions on record. Usually, the sessions subsequent to an election are not of a lengthy nature but the one just concluded, in the opinion of several veterans, extended over a longer period than others of this kind. The Legislature opened on March 11 last, concluding on the last day of April.

Many important pieces of legislation will make the one just finished a noteworthy one. The outstanding work of the session was the passage of bills relating to the department of the Grand Falls but probably the most interesting to the electorate at large was the bill relating to direct taxation.

OTHER MEASURES

In these two respects alone, the late session might well ground a favorable claim to an historic session, but back of these are bills relating to extension of the crown land leases to pulp and paper companies for a period of 99 years; increase in taxes on gas, trust and loan companies, telephone and express companies, insurance companies; a gasoline tax; and consolidation of the Highway Act, the latter an important enactment. In the matter of heavy legislation, therefore, the session was an outstanding one.

85 BILLS APPROVED

Eighty-five bills were passed during the session. Ninety bills were introduced, five of which were never reported. Among these were a bill to amend the Health Act, a bill in amendment of the Workmen's Compensation Act and an Act to amend the law relating to the amendment act. Last session one hundred and three bills were introduced.

Following prorogation the provincial government held a brief final meeting following which it was announced that no further meetings of the cabinet would probably be held for at least two weeks. Meanwhile no announcements have been made respecting the bye-election to fill the vacancy now existing in Saint John County or for vacancies which will probably be created through the appointment of new members to the government to posts with emolument.

MEMBERS RETURN

Among those arriving home today were Premier Baxter, Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, K. C., President of the Council, Lieut. Col. W. H. Harrison, M. E. Agur, James Lewis, the outgoing member for Saint John, returned home Friday evening. Among the out-of-town members passing through were Hon. E. A. Reilly, K. C., chairman of the N. B. Electric Power Commission, Hon. Dr. H. I. Taylor, Minister of Health, H. M. Wood, Dr. M. A. Oulton, Hon. Antoine J. LeGer, A. J. Brooks, J. William Smith and H. V. Dickson.

7 Apply For P'ton City Marshal Job

FREDERICTON, May 1.—John H. McCollom this morning handed in to the city treasurer everything pertaining to the office of city marshal and tax collector and is not an applicant for reappointment. Seven applications have been received. The appointment will be made Monday.

Big Black Cat Paces Hall As Strike Begins

LONDON, May 1.—While the miners were framing their vital reply to the government's final suggestion for compromise a large black cat paced outside the Premier's room in the House of Commons. The moment the door was opened, the cat dashed in. Ramsay MacDonald, Arthur Henderson and other prominent Labor leaders were in the corridor at the time.

"Does that mean good or back luck?" one of them inquired. A few moments later the miners had rejected the government suggestion and the strike was on.

Eight New Sheriffs Named By N. B. Govt.; No Changes In Saint John and Kings County

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 1.—Eight changes have been made in the slate of high sheriffs of New Brunswick, announced today following the completion of the session of the Legislature. The changes have been made in Albert, Carleton, Gloucester, Kent, Madawaska, Restigouche, Sunbury and Westmorland.

No changes have been made in Charlotte, Kings, Northumberland, Queens, the city and county of Saint-John, Victoria or York. The following sheriffs have been retained in office: Charles E. A. Stewart, Kings; Isaac Campbell, Northumberland; William A. Skidd, Queens; William S. Machuga, City and County of Saint John; Amos Wilson, Victoria; James Tibbitts, York; John B. Hawthorn, Sheriff Campbell was recently appointed by the government to succeed the late Sheriff Macleod in Kings while Sheriff Machuga was appointed to succeed Sheriff Frank Reid, following the latter's resignation soon after the general elections.

NEW APPOINTMENTS

The following are the new appointments: Aiden H. Peck, to succeed Sheriff E. W. Lynds, in Albert; Frank L. Tompkins, to succeed Sheriff Hector Poirier to succeed Sheriff J. A. Meahan in Gloucester; Telephone Arsenault to succeed Sheriff Basil J. Johnson in Kent; James E. Clair to succeed Sheriff Donet L. Daigle in Madawaska; Phillip LaViolette, to succeed Sheriff Stanislas Blanchard in Restigouche; Charles Bilis to succeed Sheriff James W. Goun in Sunbury and David H. Charters to succeed Sheriff L. N. Killam in Westmorland.

HURST PARK, ENG., May 1.—Phalaros, owned by Mrs. Arthur James, won the Victoria Cup race of two thousand pounds here today. Lord Glendy's Capture Him, was second and Sir George Balfour's Ethnarch was third. Seventeen ran. Phalaros won by four lengths and there was a length and a half between Capture Him and Ethnarch. The betting against Phalaros was 9 to 2; against Capture Him, 100 to 6 and against Ethnarch 5 to 1.

Damaged Schooner Arrives At Halifax

HALIFAX, N. S., May 1.—The racing schooner Columbia of Gloucester, Mass., which dragged ashore in a gale at Capos, N. S., on April 26, and was considerably damaged before she was refloated, arrived here this morning in tow of the trawler Lord Darling. The Columbia will probably go on the marine slip here for repairs to her underbody.

Put Clock Hands Hour Ahead Tonight

REMEMBER to set the hands of the clocks ahead an hour at midnight tonight, for that is the starting time of daylight saving in Saint John for this summer. It will continue until September 25, just about five months. As the church services will be on the daylight schedule tomorrow, it is important that in all households the clock hands be advanced; otherwise there will be disruption of the family schedule tomorrow.

HYDRO LINE TO HAVE LOCK IS NOW ASSURED

Power Commission Will Recommend Extension To Gov't

SHEDIAC APPLIES

Delegates Asked To Secure More Information; Reilly Lauds New Projects

EXTENSION of the Musquash system to Havelock, Kings county, has been practically decided on by the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, and work on the transmission lines will be commenced shortly, it was learned today. At a meeting of the commission in Fredericton this week the members were assured that there were sufficient contract applications to carry the service, and it was decided to recommend this extension at the next meeting of the Government.

An application from residents of Shediac for extension of the system to that town also was before the Commission and delegates representing the town were requested to secure information as to the number of prospective customers and submit this to the commission. If such information is favorable, it is likely that the system will be extended to include Shediac.

REILLY OPTIMISTIC

Hon. E. A. Reilly, K. C., chairman of the commission, passed through the city this morning en route to Moncton. He expressed optimism over the Grand Falls and Nepisiguit River Hydro developments and predicted great industrial strides for the province resulting from them.

"It has taken many months to bring our regulations to a successful conclusion," he said, "but now that that part has been completed the government and the commission look forward with confidence to the future."

ALL LARGE CITIES ON DAYLIGHT TIME

Only Exceptions Are Hamilton, London and Western Ontario Towns

CANADIAN PRESS
TORONTO, May 1.—All large cities in Eastern Canada, with the exception of Hamilton, London and other cities in Western Ontario, will go on daylight saving time for the summer months tonight or early Sunday morning. Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, Halifax and Saint John will all put the clocks forward one hour, as well as Quebec City, Hull, Sherbrooke and numerous small towns in the Eastern Townships.

Liner Zealand Docks At Halifax Today

HALIFAX, N. S., May 1.—After being laid off for one trip for drydocking and general overhaul, the Red Star liner Zealand, Captain Thomas, arrived this morning from Antwerp, Boulogna and Southampton to land 12 cabin, 332 third class passengers, 150 bags of mail and 17 tons of cargo.

BRITAIN'S PERIL

Great Britain today faces not only a general strike but more than the possibility of something like civil war. The walkout of a million miners has been followed by a decision of the general labor body to call out all the organized trades unionists on Tuesday next unless the Government makes concessions which are not at the moment believed possible. The Government has proclaimed that "a state of emergency exists" as a consequence of the coal strike, which means that England, Scotland and Wales are today practically under martial law.

The British have a way of surviving crises of this character, and frequently in the past, events of the gravest order have been averted at the last moment, or after a few weeks' struggle. There must speak for itself; but in the interval it is impossible to regard the situation with anything but deep anxiety, so vast are the forces opposed, and so resolute. Both the miners and mine owners are wrong, as Mr. Baldwin has told them, but disastrous as a prolonged struggle between these forces would be, that which is now predicted as almost certain to occur will far transcend any mere struggle between the mine workers and the mine operators over wages and hours.

If a general strike comes on Tuesday there will be, roughly, 6,000,000 organized workers at war with the state. The real cause of the mining trouble will be forgotten in the struggle for supremacy, the fundamental issue being whether any class can dictate to the people of Great Britain.

The safety of the state takes precedence necessarily over all other considerations. Mr. Baldwin has said repeatedly—and other members of the cabinet have backed up his words—that while he had his associates would make every possible effort to avert such a desperate struggle as now impends, nevertheless should conciliation and the appeal to reason fail, the challenge would be ready to meet the challenge of those who defied the state's authority, and that a very great majority of the people of Britain would stand with the Government for law and order, at any sacrifice.

The subsidy by which the mining strike was averted six months ago was recognized at the time to be a palliative rather than a remedy. Mr. Baldwin fully realized that. He wanted a breathing spell during which it was hoped the opposing forces might be brought to some reasonable compromise. In order that this might be attempted over a period of six months he subsidized the industry at an immense cost to the taxpayer. That expenditure has failed, and to continue the subsidy would be substantially to bribe the miners and the mine owners to keep the peace, would be a fatal policy, and Mr. Baldwin is not the man, and the English are not the people, to live upon sufferance. They will live by their teeth, if it need be, however painful the process.

has borne very heavily on the Maritimes, helped to shut them out from the United States markets, and still given them no compensating markets in Central Canada. To some extent, therefore, our Western contemporary suggests that we are ourselves to blame for many of the conditions about which we have been complaining, and which, at last, we are making a united effort to remedy.

The Free Press quotes as follows from the London Times article in question: "Does the blame lie at the door of the Dominion Government? Not only is it powerless to break down the high fence of the Fordney tariff, but the people of the Maritime Provinces themselves have helped to shape the protectionist policy of Canada. They gave a majority to the Conservative government which established protection forty-seven years ago. In 1891, when unrestricted reciprocity with the United States was the main issue of the election, they cast their votes against the Liberals who had fathered the policy. And in 1911 they were sharply divided on the question of the trade agreement with Washington that paved the way to Laurier's defeat."

How much is there in what the London Times says? The Manitoba Free Press sums it up by saying that "on three critical occasions the people of the Maritime Provinces were more interested in playing politics than in furthering their interests. This course was very gratifying to the politicians who profited thereby, but it has landed the Maritime Provinces in the quagmire in which they now find themselves."

Then comes the lesson: "The people of the Prairie Provinces, who also have their own local problems, decided a few years ago to forget about traditional politics and send people to Ottawa to fight for the limit for their interests. For this they have been roundly condemned by those to whom this course proved inconvenient, but time has proved thoroughly vindicated their insuance."

It might well have been thought, the Free Press observes, that we in the Maritimes would have profited by this western example, "but its only visible result has been to send a contingent of partisans to Ottawa who seem to be more interested in making Mr. McLaughlin Premier than they are in righting Maritime wrongs."

WHO'S WHO IN A DAYS NEWS

The new editor of the Encyclopedia Britannica, James L. Garvin, was called "the greatest living journalist" by the late Lord Northcliffe, prominent British publisher.

During the war, Garvin wrote a page a week on the war situation for the "Observer," which was widely read both in England and America and considered one of the outstanding pieces of wartime journalism.

Looked upon as one of the leading interpreters of the American point of view to England he plans to preserve an international viewpoint in the Britannica, feeling that "in the spirit of knowledge no national prejudice can be allowed to exist for all nations help to accumulate what may be called the common stock of civilization."

It is at the urging of American members of the Britannica board that he takes the post.

He was born in Cheshire, Eng., in 1868. He was educated at "Birkenhead" and "Newcastle-on-Tyne."

He left his business career at 23 to accept a position as proofreader on "The Newcastle Chronicle." Within six weeks he was writing editorials for the paper and soon contributed to other magazines.

In 1907, Lord Northcliffe asked him to become editor of "The Observer." Under the guidance of Garvin in the combined magazine and newspaper gained a circulation of a quarter of a million copies.

He is a member of the Spanish Academy and possesses a literature degree from Durham University.

POEMS I LOVE

"One Day I Wrote Her Name," by Edmond Spenser

One day I wrote her name upon the strand;
But came the waves and washed it away.
Again I wrote it with a second hand,
But came the tide and made my pains
his prey:
Vain man! said she, that dost in vain assay
A mortal thing to immortalize;
For I myself shall like to this decay,
And eke my name be wiped out likewise.
Not so, quoth I; let base things die,
To die in dust, but you shall live in mine,
My verse your virtues rare shall eternize,
And in the heavens write your glorious name,
Where, whereas death shall steal your life,
My love shall live, and later life renew.

THE BEST OF ADVICE

BY CLARK KINNAIRD

THE SPIRIT OF YOUTH
renew our spirits, for we are really growing old. For—

"It is the glory of the present age that in it one can be young," says Bourne. Our times give no check to the radical tendencies of youth. On the contrary, they give the directed stimulus. A middle of a world and a brave outlook combine to inspire us to the bravest of radicalism. Great issues have been borne in the last century and are now loose in the world."

"The secret of life is then that this fine youth spirit should never be lost. Out of the turbulence of youth should come this fine percolate a sane, logical, aggressive spirit of daring and doing. It must be a flexible, growing spirit, with a hospitality to new ideas, and a keen instinct into experience. To keep one's reactions warm and true is to have found the secret of perpetual youth, and perpetual youth is salvation."

But if we cannot keep our minds steadily, how about our physical? Do they have to grow old and falter with the body? Isn't there an attitude of mind that makes the matter of thinning locks and slowing steps of no particular importance? What is this good for? And when it gets to the point of thinning locks and slowing steps, is it not a sign of old age? The late Randolph S. Bourne, in his essay on "Youth and Life" says:

"Youth puts the remorseless questions to everything that is old and established—Why? What is this thing good for? And when it gets to the point of thinning locks and slowing steps, is it not a sign of old age? The late Randolph S. Bourne, in his essay on "Youth and Life" says:

"This was the youthful radicalism of Jesus, and His words sound across the ages calling civilization ever back to sound bases. With him, youth eternally reproaches the ruling generation—'O ye of little faith! There is so much to be done in the world; so much must be done if you would only dare! You seem to be doing so little to cure the world and muddle and the lethargy all around you. Don't you really care, or are you only faint-hearted? If you do not care, it must be because you do not know; let us think out of reason to institutions, customs and ideas, and finding them inane, or poisonous, turns instinctively to sound bases. If you do not care, it must be because you do not know; let us think out of reason to institutions, customs and ideas, and finding them inane, or poisonous, turns instinctively to sound bases. What is this thing good for? And when it gets to the point of thinning locks and slowing steps, is it not a sign of old age? The late Randolph S. Bourne, in his essay on "Youth and Life" says:

AND THEN—
EACH week end, when your work is done, you plan on havin' heaps of fun. You'll take the family out somewhere, and just drink in the open air when the old car fixed up right, and then real late on Friday night, you crawl yourself upon the floor and look up road maps by the score.

"Course you've had the happy hunch to pack a peachy campin' few days. She's fixed some said; cooked a ham, made sandwiches of bread and jam.

The kids, long since, to bed have gone. They plan to wake up with the dawn. You've worked a lot and feel quite worn, but fun will come tomorrow morn."

There was a very impolite man in a store here the first of the week. He seemed ahead of women and children. He "sassed" a woman who stepped on his toe. Canadian men in general are less polite than they were a few years ago. Perhaps it is because women have been screaming so much for equality with men that men are beginning to treat them as equals. It is noticeable that no longer do young men tip their hats to young ladies. And when a young man calls at a young lady's home nowadays to take her for a ride in his car, he whistles for her or honks the horn, and remains in his seat. He does not get out

LEGISLATURE SESSION ENDS; VENOT BEATEN

Former Premier's Motion On Direct Tax Measure Is Defeated

HOUSE PROROGUED BY LIEUT.-GOV. TODD

Time-Honored Battle of Papers Takes Place At Closing

BY JOHN J. DUNLOP

FREDERICTON, N. B., April 30.—The provincial legislature was prorogued by His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Todd at 11.15 o'clock tonight.

Following prorogation, the usual time-honored battle of bills took place on the floors of the house.

The last hours of the legislature saw most of the members in their places.

The house considered only three bills in the evening, the most important being the granting of authority to the Lieutenant-Governor in council to issue Crown Land licenses to pulp and paper companies for a period of 30 years, renewable annually.

Hon. Dr. Veniot again voiced his protest of this bill, but he did not call for a division.

The crown land renewal license bill sets out that it is designed to support investment necessary to the pulp and paper industry and has particular reference to the hydro developments at Grand Falls and the Nepisiguit River.

The bill says it is advisable that persons investing money in this industry should be assured of a reasonable rate of return and sufficient timber area to support such industry.

An extension of 20 years, in addition to the 30-year period is provided for on certain conditions.

ALTERNATIVE TOLD.

Sound finance or disastrous bankruptcy was the alternative facing the Province of New Brunswick and placing direct taxation on the people his party was not influenced by political considerations, Premier Hon. Dr. Veniot, in his speech on the amendment offered by P. J. Veniot, leader of the opposition, to give the direct tax bill a six months' hoist.

The amendment was beaten by a vote of 32 to 11.

The vote was preceded by a brief denunciation of the amendment by the Premier, Hon. Dr. Veniot, Hon. A. A. Dymally, F. G. Richard and J. P. Landon spoke briefly in favor of the amendment.

VENIOT TELLS STAND.

Hon. P. J. Veniot in discussing the direct taxation bill, declared he was opposed to this on the ground that such a levy was not necessary and that it was an additional burden on the municipalities. He objected to the clause regarding the return of the face of the warrant for direct taxation.

revenue was next taken under consideration.

PRINCIPLE OPPOSED

Mr. Veniot said he already entered his protest against the principle of direct taxation and did not propose taking up much time of the House in again discussing the question. He was more convinced than ever that it was not necessary to take such steps as was proposed under this bill. He referred to the issuing of a warrant against a municipality and thought there would be a hardship imposed by reason of the province demanding the full amount whereas there would likely be a shortage in collection from the taxpayers.

He said that it was an additional burden on the municipalities. He objected to the clause regarding the return of the face of the warrant for direct taxation.

present an opportunity for development, immediate and great, which would advance the growth of New Brunswick instead of retarding it.

His honorable friend had criticized the government for lowering the stumpage, yet he himself, had lowered it twice as much.

With regard to the amount to be collected from the different municipalities, the government would ask for the amount required and allow the locality to make the collection in their own way. He assured the House that there would be no haste in the matter of putting this taxation proposal into effect.

Mr. Richards said he could not support the bill, and he hoped that the amendment would carry.

PREMIER GIVEN CREDIT.

Mr. Dymally said the Premier took a great deal of credit for facing the financial situation in a courageous manner, but instead of paying interest and sinking fund out of the ordinary revenues of the province he was proposing to bond the deficits. From all the criticism he had heard from those who opposed the present government, he got the impression that the matter of increasing the bonded debt of the province by bonding deficits on current account was to be a thing of the past.

Mr. Landon said when this government, after reducing the stumpage, was giving back bonuses to the lumbermen, and then directly taxing the people, he would oppose the bill.

VOTE ON AMENDMENT.

The vote on the amendment being called, it stood, yeas, 11; nays, 32. The bill was passed on this vote reversed, the following clauses being in the amended preamble:

"Whereas it has been deemed advisable at this session of the Legislature to authorize the issue of bonds to provide for capital and current liabilities of the province up to the 31st day of February, 1926; and

"Whereas bonds of the Saint John and Quebec Railway Company will require to be issued to provide for capital expenditure incurred in respect of said railway to the amount of $2,000,000;

"These clauses with the others bringing the total amount of proposed bond issue to between four and five million dollars formed the basis of the bill to provide for direct taxation.

GASOLINE TAXATION.

The bill respecting the taxation of gasoline was next considered.

Mr. Veniot inquired if any arrangements were pending regarding the collection from large dealers in gasoline.

Hon. Mr. Stewart said that a consultation was being held between the provinces and the dealers were agreeing to a uniform system. Discussing the clause requiring all dealers to pay a license fee of $2 before it was legal for them to sell gasoline, Mr. Richard said it was not fair for the small dealer to be required to pay the same license fee as larger ones.

Hon. Mr. Stewart said this plan was merely following the practice in other provinces, and he did not think that $2 could be called more than a nominal amount for such fee.

DOUCET FAVORS TAX.

Mr. Doucet favored a tax on gasoline, but he did not consider it fair for the ordinary retailer to have to pay a license fee. Many men kept gasoline merely as a convenience to their customers and not for profit. He was opposed to that provision of the bill.

Hon. Mr. Tilley thought the preceding speaker was inconsistent in favoring a gasoline tax and then opposing a section which provided keeping track of sales.

Mr. Veniot thought the distributors of gas should pay according to their volume of sales. He thought there should be a license, but not a uniform fee for it. The amount should be regulated according to the importance of the district in which the sales were made. Large dealers in cities should pay more than men in the back country districts.

Hon. Mr. Stewart said there was no idea of getting a revenue from the license fees, but he considered licenses were necessary to enable the department to keep track of sales and the fee was merely nominal to cover expenses of forms, mailing, etc. He was quite willing to make the amount $1, instead of $2, if hon. members preferred.

The clause was amended in accordance with the suggestion.

Mr. Dymally agreed that all sellers of gas should register, and suggested that only those who had tanks installed should be compelled to pay for a license.

TANK CARS MENTIONED.

Mr. Smith (Carleton) said he did not see any provision to take care of tank cars coming from the United States and supplying customers in New Brunswick. All along the border from Houston north, these tank cars carrying as much as 2,000 gallons at a time were daily coming over to supply customers in New Brunswick. There should, he thought, be some means of collecting from these foreigners.

Mr. Veniot agreed that a large amount of gasoline was sold in this way and some means should be devised to collect the tax.

Mr. Taylor (Stambury) thought there was need of regulating the wholesale price of gasoline. There was a great spread in price in different localities, and he felt that arrangements might be made with the large suppliers so

Cheer Up, You Parents Who Complain You Have Nothing to Give Your Children—You Can Give Them Love and a Brave Heart; Can Teach Them the Joys of Reading and the Thrill of Seeing Things—These are Worth More Than a Fortune.

THE bitterest cry of poor people is that they have nothing to give their children. The fathers and mothers who cannot buy imported frocks for their girls or sports-model cars for their boys and send them off to expensive colleges and fill their pockets with money feel that they come empty handed to their children and have nothing to give them.

Yet the poorest man and woman who bend above a crisis have it in their power to bestow upon their babe treasures so great that their worth cannot be computed in dollars and cents, and that will bring the child more pleasure and happiness in life than they could purchase with all the wealth of the Rothschilds.

FOR there is no price tag on the most precious things in the world. They are equally free to prince and pauper, and more often the beggar gets them than the millionaire does.

For example, there is love, a close, intimate, personal association, a tenderness, and understanding. Poor parents can more easily give to their children than the wealthy can. And the child that has them is rich beyond the dreams of greed, and the child that has them not is poverty stricken although it has all else besides.

THE mother who rocks her baby to sleep on her breast; whose tender arm are always outstretched to gather her youngsters to her heart; who is never too tired or too busy to listen to childish confidences; who surrounds her little ones with a brooding atmosphere of affection, gives to her children far more than does the rich mother who gives her children nurses and governesses and pony carts and fine clothes and costly playthings, but who does not give them herself; who bestows on them everything but the things that a child wants most and needs most—mother love and tenderness; the real mother touch.

Not long ago a very rich young man figured in a disgraceful scandal and the one excuse offered in his defense was that his father was dead and his father had never given him anything except money. He had never had any affection bestowed upon him. He had had no parental guidance. When a little lad he had been put in a school and kept there without even being visited by any one who loved him, without even going home for vacations. He had been just a pitiful little millionaire wail for whom nobody cared.

THE lot of such a child is infinitely worse than that of the one whose parents are in such humble circumstances that they can give it perhaps only the plainest of food and clothes, but who do give it a real home that is full of love, warm, family life.

The fathers and mothers to whom children are grateful and whose memories they revere are not those who bequeath them great fortunes, but those who leave them the memory of a love and understanding that never failed, and of a childhood that was made sweet by their parents' cherishing.

NO MATTER how poor you are, you can give your children love and companionship and the privilege of growing up in a peaceful and cheerful home, and that is something that few rich parents can give their children.

Another gift that you can make your children is that of teaching them how to read. When you really don't know how to do much more for them, because you have put a magic coin in their hands that will buy them entrance into all the doors of knowledge and open to them all of the portals of romance.

No one who loves to read can ever be bored or lonely. He or she has only to open a book, and, presto, he or she has for company all of the wit and wisdom of the ages. Gay adventurers, successful ladies and gallant gentlemen beckon, and one has only to follow them into realms of enchantment. All of interest, all that informs, that thrills, that amuses is the property of the reader.

NOW, reading does not always come by nature, as Dogberry thought it did. Often it has to be acquired by art, but any child can be taught to like to read; it can be given the reading habit, and no other gift can possibly be bestowed upon it that is half so valuable or that will bring it such happiness, or that will be such an ark of refuge to it in times of trouble.

Another gift that the poorest parents can make to their children is to teach them how to see. Most persons go through the world as blind as bats. They never see anything that isn't directly under their noses, and thereby they miss half of the fun and pleasure in living.

THERE are men and women to whom a sunset is just a phenomenon of nature that happens every day; to whom a crowd is just a jam of people; who get nothing out of travel but inconvenience and missing the particular kind of breakfast food they prefer; and who loathe rain because they get their feet wet and hate snow because it is messy.

And there are other men and women who see the glory of God in every flaming sunset; who thrill to the fingertips at the drama they see enacted in every crowd; to whom travel opens up a new world; to whom every rain is a symphony and every snowstorm a poem.

WHICH gets the most out of life, those who see or those who are blind? Those who can get pleasure out of little things, or those who are too dull and dumb to amuse themselves? Those who are sensitive to every beauty in nature, who appreciate music and literature, who get the last flavor out of good cooking, or those who find everything flat and stale and uninteresting because they have never been taught to see the underside of things?

Finally, the poorest parents can teach their children that brave attitude toward life without which all the balance is cinders, ashes and dust. For disappointments and trouble come to us all, and it is only those who have been taught how to make the best of their bad bargains, how to laugh at misfortune and mock at fate, who achieve any real happiness in life.

SO CHEER up, you parents who complain that you have nothing to give your children. You can give them love. You can teach them to read and to see things. You can give them a brave heart. And nobody can take them away from those who have them. DOROTHY DIX.

Originality of Design Shown In Imported Frocks

IMPORTED frocks and suits for summer are distinguished by their simple but sophisticated and original lines. The absence of bead or jeweled garniture is quite marked thus preserving the dainty tone that midsummer wear dictates. The first example illustrated (left) is made up in very simple lines and the materials chosen are black silk muslin and ochre lace. It is one piece with side fullness and an apronlike trimming of the lace in front. The muslin sleeves end at the elbow and wide ruffles of lace come well down over the hands. This is an afternoon model. Blue and black crepe de chine compose another afternoon frock (centre). It also is in one-piece style but the upper section simulates a jumper. The neck is simply rounded, the long sleeves are slightly belted at the wrist and gathered into a narrow cuff, and are trimmed with the embroidery which finishes the bottom of this upper section. This bodice section is cut low on the hips with an upward curve in the middle which is further emphasized by a panel of black which unites the skirt and bodice sections. The skirt is made of the black crepe de chine and both it and the blouse are edged with embroidery trimming. The third model (right) is an original two-piece suit. The short coat has a cape effect over the arms and a straight tuck. The skirt, which has a wraparound effect, is trimmed with a double row of silver kid polka dots. The blouse worn with the suit of rose georgette with flowing, pleated sleeves from the elbow. A smart little turban of draped blue satin ribbon finished with a rising skyscraper. You may see him in the crowds that throng a theatre lobby, in the booths of a Chinese noodle resort or on the stairway of a sinister looking sidewalk brownstone. And his two guns are always with him, for dopehead breeds many desperadoes. If you are a good listener Joe will entertain you with thrillers that make the average western tale sound like a lullaby.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont Navy blue reigns supreme for spring and there is truly no costume so trim in appearance as the simple frock or suit of navy blue. Rep is the material used for the modish dress above. From the back it gives the appearance of a long straight coat with separate skirt, but it is really all in one piece. Ball buttons of steel make a smart trimming treatment. The little hat is navy grosgrain, with a band of red and a red ornament.

A Thought

Only by pride cometh contention, but with the well advised is wisdom.—Prov. 13:10.

THE pride of men will not often suffer reason to have any scope until it can be longer of service.—Burke.

BEHIND THE SCENES

LILYAN FASHMAN is another actress who got her chance while dining. You see it was this way: Lilyan, a Brooklyn girl, decided she would become a school teacher. Now budding teachers must have recreation, so with several fellow students she attended a tea at that Flo Ziegfeld (we needn't bother to identify him, need we?) was a guest. Flo got one glimpse of her tawny beauty and a Folies contract was hers. This was at a time when Flo was "glorifying" Nita Naldi, Jacqueline Logan and Helen Lee Worthington. But Lilyan's fiance, Edmund Lowe, was making movies in far away California. Also James Cruze, director, was filming "The Garden of the Weeds." Lilyan set right out for the west—hadn't she played a part in the stage version after she had graduated from the Folies? She went, got the part and has been in demand ever since. Furthermore, she is now Mrs. Edmund Lowe. At present she is working in "Revelation," Ernest Lubitch's new production. Mary Brian has been loaned to Fox Films for the leading feminine role in "More Pay, Less Work," an adaptation of the Peter B. Kyne story, "No Shenanigans." Without the aid of a wig, transformation or hair dye Vilma Banky, blonde Hungarian beauty who scored such success in "The Dark Angel" and "The Eagle," will blossom forth in brunette tresses when she appears opposite Rudolph Valentino in "Sons of the Sheik." Director George Fitzmaurice accomplishes the trick by manipulation of the studio lights. "It's about time this thing was ended," said Edward Earle when he was informed that he was cast to play a drunken doctor in "Pals First." Edwin Carewe's next First National picture. His reason for the cancellation is obvious when one is told that Earle has played three drunken doctors consecutively in Carewe pictures. This is his fourth drunken doctor role for First National, his fifth doctor role for that company. Between pictures many screen actresses and actors turn to favorite outdoor sports and games. Huntley Gordon, between completion of one film role and the start of another, plays golf. Lilyan Fashman rides horseback between pictures. Edmund Lowe divides his time between squash, handball and boxing. Marian Nixon takes long motor trips to east coast cities. Helene Chadwick hunts during hunting season and swims in the summer time. Walter Hiers spends his between-picture rests—as rests, nothing more.

IN NEW YORK SEE-SAWING UP and DOWN BROADWAY

THE west had its "Billy the Kid," who was put to rest by a sheriff's bullet at the tender age of 21—but not before he had shot his full quota of 20, not including Indians and Mexicans. Now and then, thanks to the movies and the tale tellers, we still hear of "Two-Gun Charlie" and "Deadshot Pat." It has been the prevalent belief that all such belonged to the land where men were men until fictionists turned them into sentimental saps. And to include such a character in the Broadway herd would have been nothing short of treason. Yet a "two-gun man" does roam the ranges of the great white way and, if you care to believe any proportion of his tales, there are notches in every corner lamp-post from Fortieth street to Harlem marking the end of "bad guys" who fell at his hand. Joe Murphy is his name and he is attached to the Broadway narcotic squad. You may see him drifting into night clubs and scanning the crowd for the familiar face of a dope peddler who may be out spending a fat fraction of his profits. Or you may see him watching the furture figures in dark shadows of a rising skyscraper. You may see him in the crowds that throng a theatre lobby, in the booths of a Chinese noodle resort or on the stairway of a sinister looking sidewalk brownstone. And his two guns are always with him, for dopehead breeds many desperadoes. If you are a good listener Joe will entertain you with thrillers that make the average western tale sound like a lullaby.

At such-and-such a spot he shot Dopey Ben and at such-and-such another spot he shot it out with four men in Harlem he battled with a gang barricaded in a room and in Central Park his "man" duelled from a clump of brush. All of this, and much more, Murphy relates, as only an Irish tale spinner can. Believe the tales or doubt them—the fact remains that Broadway has a "two-gun man," as unique and colorful a personality as the plains ever produced.

AS THE summer of violins increases from year to year the price of famous old makes mouts to the sky. Ben Bernie, the orchestra leader, tells me that every violinist in Manhattan hopes to own an instrument made by a famous maker. "But by the time he could have up enough money to buy one he would have retired," sighs Bernie. "The price of violins is nothing short of tragic."

ADVENTURES of the TWINS by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE QUEEN BEE PAYS HER RENT The next place that Mister Tingaling, and the Twins went to collect rent was at the bee-hive. So they went tap, tap, tap on the front door of the big round hive. "May I see the Queen?" asked Mister Tingaling as one of the bees came to let him in. "Certainly," said the bee, stepping aside to let the three tiny people pass. "Here, Queen, here are some people to see you," said the bee. "How do you do," said the Queen Bee. "Are you workers or drones? I have no use for drones. They're lazy useless people and we put them out." "Oh no, your Royal Highness," said Mister Tingaling hastily. "We are workers, I assure you. We work very hard—especially on the thirty-second day of the month. And this is the thirty-second. We are collecting rents." "Rents!" cried the Queen Bee. "Imagine a queen paying rent! I never heard of such a thing!" "Neither did we, ma'am," said the fairyman, "but your name is in the rent book, so I suppose you must owe it to us. I'm terribly sorry. I certainly apologize." "Oh, no! Don't bother," said the Queen Bee. "We shall get around it some way. Let me think! Oh, I have it! Instead of money I shall give you honey. That sounds almost the name. Besides, queens may give presents if they wish. It sounds far better than paying rent." "That's true, your Highness," said Mister Tingaling. "I think it's a fine idea. What do you think, children? Shall we take honey for the rent?" "I think it's a very good idea myself," said Nancy. "And I'm sure my wife would think it a good idea, too," said Mister Tingaling. "Every bit," declared the Queen Bee. "Now then, I know where there are four empty spoons. They are right under the window of Mrs. Greenway's room in the garden. They were on the window sill and fell out. I saw them there yesterday. They'll do for wheels." "But how can we carry a whole combful of honey to your house, Mister Tingaling?" "I know," said Nancy. "We'll put it on wheels and roll it along." "Why certainly!" said the Queen Bee. "Little girl, you'll be queen of something or other yourself some day. See if you're not." "Thank you," said Nancy. "The head of the class, and that's almost as good." "Every bit," declared the Queen Bee. "Now then, I know where there are four empty spoons. Prizes Announced In Junior Red Cross Contests In N. B.

May News Letter Just to Hand Carries Names of Successful Ones—List of Portfolios—Two New Branches Are Formed in Province

ANNOUNCEMENT of the winners in the provincial Junior Red Cross contests is made in the May News Letter just issued. The "Moonbeams" of Pembroke, Carleton County, were awarded first prize in the health rhyme contest, the only prize awarded in this competition.

In the poster competition no first prize was awarded, the second prize was won by "Sunshine Workers," grade 3 pupils, of Kothessy, and the third prize was won by the "Live Wires," grades 3 and 4 pupils of Hampton.

For the essay only a third prize was awarded and that was won by the "Utopians" of Utopia. For the "Health Alphabet" first prize, went to the "Sturdy Oaks," of Oak Point, and no second and third prizes were awarded. The first verse of the winning health rhyme, which is to be sung to the tune of "Good Night Ladies" is as follows:

Red Cross Juniors! Red Cross Juniors! Of Canada, good and true, Clean our teeth every day, Do our work before we play—Red Cross Juniors true!

WHAT LETTER CONTAINS.

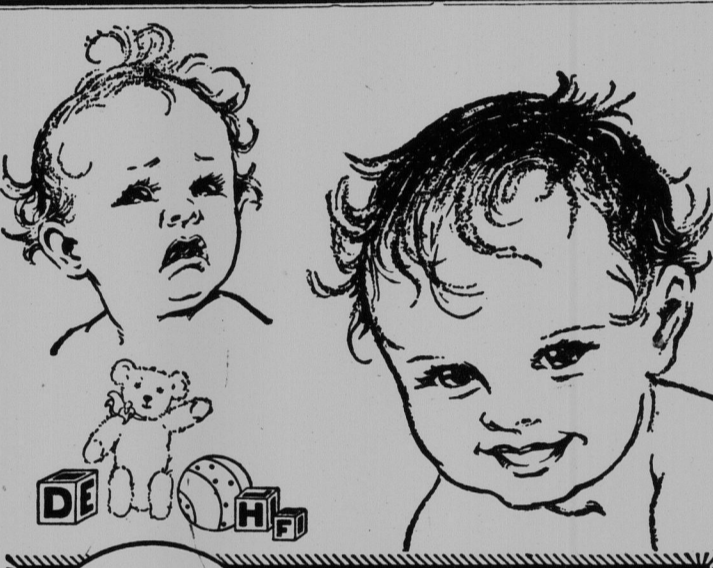

The News Letter contains the report of Miss Jessie L. Lawson, provincial Red Cross supervisor, of the annual meeting of the Junior superintendents at which Mr. Kittredge and Miss Olmstead, representatives of Red Cross Societies in Paris were speakers. Miss Olmstead had told of how greatly a few worn scrap books were appreciated by the Junior Red Cross children she visited in Esthonia and Miss Olmstead is asking the New Brunswick Juniors if they would not like to send scrap books to those fellow members in the distant European country, now that scrap books are not wanted for the Saint John post nursery.

The French page and a page of rhymes for little Juniors are included in the News Letter and instructions about annual reports.

The list of portfolios sent in by New Brunswick Juniors in April is given as follows: "Red Cross Servers," Andover, a very good one, for Spain. The Chatham Juniors, Grades I to VI, a very good one, for Australia. New Albert Juniors, Saint John, Grades I to VIII, a beautiful one in three volumes, in reply to one received from Fretter Woodhouse, a very nice one, for England. "Maple View" branch, an interesting one, for Australia. "Lantnam Helpers," Middle Sack-

Social Notes of Interest

The bridge and dance, given at the Health Centre last evening, under the auspices of the nurses of that institution, was largely attended and proved to be one of the most delightful social events of the season. Simplicity in the decoration was notable, Chinese lanterns only being used in the spacious halls, and the rooms where cards and dancing were enjoyed. The guests were received by Miss Huliova Dykeman, acting director, and Mrs. William Warwick, wife of the medical director of the Health Centre. The Admiral Hearty orchestra provided excellent music for the program of 16 dances and two supper extras. The lecture hall, apartment living room, lower hall and Board of Health room, were thrown open for dancing, and for those who preferred cards, bridge tables were provided in the anti-tuberculosis clinic,

Mrs. Gilbert Ferrabee, Dominion president of the W. A., was the guest of honor at a delightfully arranged luncheon at the Admiral Beatty Hotel yesterday, given by the executive of the Fredericton Diocesan Branch of the W. A. The artistically arranged table was centred with daffodils. Those present were Mrs. Ferrabee, Mrs. James F. Robertson, Mrs. L. R. Harrison, Mrs. W. D. Foster, Mrs. W. P. Dunham, Mrs. Cortland Robinson, Mrs. G. F. C. McIntyre, Mrs. J. Roy Campbell, Mrs. L. Lee Day, Mrs. Rowland Ellis, Mrs. George Scott, Miss Clara Schofield, Miss Sadler and Miss Fortia Mackenzie.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Brennan and Mr. and Mrs. William Wetmore entertained most enjoyably on Thursday evening at the former's residence, 719 Kings street, six tables of bridge. Tulips and narcissi were very prettily arranged in the decoration of the drawing room. The fortunate prize winners were Mrs. George Ferris, Mrs. O. S. Dykeman, Mr. Earle Kincaide and Mr. Harry Weisford. The travelling prizes were won by Mrs. Alice Trearthen and Mr. O. S. Dykeman. The hostesses served delicious refreshments. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. VanWart, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Black, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Kincaide, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weisford, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Mahoney, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Daye, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Watters, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. N. SHORE PACKERS TO DEMAND PROBE OF DATE CHANGING

Declare Action of Federal Department Has Resulted in Heavy Loss

VIOLATION OF GOVT. ORDER IS ALLEGED

Certain Fishermen Said to Have Cast Lines Before Official Opening

SHEDIAC, April 30—That the Department of Marine and Fisheries at Ottawa bungled the arrangements for the opening of the lobster fishing season along the North Shore from Carquet to Richibucto Cape this week is charged by the A. Paturel Co. and Dr. James E. White, both of Shediac, and other packers doing business along the Kent county shore. It is understood that an attempt will be made to have several circumstances investigated at Ottawa, inasmuch as the changing of date for the opening twice has cost them, they say, several thousands of dollars and may result in a poor fishing season.

It is alleged by Emil Paturel of the Paturel firm that the fisheries regulations were violated by two Northumberland county firms which placed their lines in the water several days before the season was permitted to be opened by Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

GOT PICK OF GROUNDS.

By getting their lines in the water, while other packers, desirous of conforming to the regulations, held off, Northumberland packers were able to obtain the pick of the Kent county grounds from Point Escuminac to Richibucto Cape, the local men assert. These positions are on submarine ledges of rock where the lobsters stay at this season.

The situation in general was placed before A. J. Doucet, M.P., for Kent R. K. Smith, M.P., for Cumberland, and others several days ago, but at that time it had not developed fully. In the House of Commons on Wednesday Hon. Mr. Cardin told Messrs. Doucet and Smith that a change in the season's opening date had been agreed upon on account of ice conditions. Orders had been issued, he added, permitting the season to commence at once (the afternoon of April 28).

DATE CHANGED.

The season was to have opened on April 28, but at that time the department issued an order fixing May 4 as the date.

It is said that the first change was made on representations of Northumberland county packers that they could not get their boats and gear through the ice of Miramichi Bay to the Kent county shore in time for April 28. However, according to Shediac lobster packing houses, who do business along the northern Kent county shore, the Northumberland county gear was got down early in the week and the lines set on the choice fishing grounds despite the postponement of the opening date by Hon. Mr. Cardin. It is further maintained that the lines were not removed from the water during the several days of continued closed season. Many of the several hundred fishermen employed by Shediac packers had to have money advances during the winter and early spring, so that the industry was a costly one to disarrange, even for a week. Furthermore these fishermen went long distances, in many cases, to begin work on April 28. When the date was changed to May 4 they went home again and many were still home when Hon. Mr. Cardin pushed back the opening to the afternoon of April 28.

The whole affair has a bad look, continued Mr. Paturel, "and will greatly injure the work of protecting the valuable lobster fishery, which needs more protection than it now receives, if the industry is to be preserved."

Mr. Paturel added that there had been apparently more or less confusion between orders announced at Ottawa and the instructions received by fisheries officers. Dr. James E. White, of Shediac, is also strong in his criticism of the date changes by the Department of Marine and Fisheries. He said he had a message from Ottawa giving one date of opening and a second from Overseer Barry, of Newcastle, naming another. Like Mr. Paturel he favored an investigation at Ottawa to ascertain why two large packers were permitted to leave their lines in the water before the legal season opened.

Boy Killed By Bullet From Playmate's Rifle

NEW YORK, May 1—Bradley Roy, sixteen years old, of 101 East 19th street, the Bronx, was accidentally shot and killed while shooting at a mark with other boys in woods near Funkehoe road, Yonkers. Ralph Kutner, fifteen, of 207 Echo Place, the Bronx, who had the rifle at the time, was arrested, pending an inquiry. There were five boys in the party. They had fired most of their ammunition. According to the boys, Ralph Kutner had levelled the rifle at the target for his last shot when Bradley Roy stepped in front of the muzzle of the weapon. At that moment the Kutner boy pulled the trigger.

FRENCH DEBT FUND WILL AID U.S. SHIPS

President of Cosmopolitan Believes Gradual Benefit Will Result

NEW YORK, April 30—Prospect of favorable settlement of the French debt to the United States hold out hope of an improvement in trade between this country and France which will benefit American shipping, in the opinion of A. F. Mack, president of the Cosmopolitan Shipping Co., operators of the America France Line for the Shipping Board.

"Funding of the French debt would not be immediate, but would be noted gradually in the near future," Mr. Mack said. "This development would not be immediate, but would be noted gradually in the near future." Concerning the freight situation on the North Atlantic at present, Mr. Mack said that conditions were basically sound, despite the seasonal dullness which has appeared earlier this year than usual. The America France Line has had fair support from American shippers, who apparently have appreciated the regularity and reliability of the service, he said. "One of the most striking features of our trade in recent months has been the steady growth of shipments from French ports," Mr. Mack remarked. "We have secured a satisfactory share of this business. As a result of the financial situation in France, promotion of her export trade has been necessary, and this has maintained traffic at a high level." One of the reasons given by Mr. Mack for the support of French shippers was the consistency of the company in keeping its scheduled sailings and in running its vessels regularly without substitutions. He cited the fact that three of the nine vessels operated by the line have made 37 consecutive round voyages, while only one ship has made less than 22 trips. The company operates services at intervals of a week to ten days from New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore to Bordeaux, Dunkirk and Havre.

CHATHAM MEN ARE NAMED MASTERS OF GOVT. PATROL BOATS

Captains John McEachern, C. McLean Appointed by Customs Dept.

MRS. T. MEWEN DIES AT BROCKTON, MASS.

Lumber and Saw Mills, Long Closed, to Reopen For Season

CHATHAM, April 30—According to advices received today by Special Customs Officer G. P. Stewart, Captain John McEachern, of Chatham, has been appointed master of Customs Patrol Boat No. 5, engaged in patrol of the Northumberland Straits with headquarters at Richibucto. Another Chatham man, Captain Christopher McLean, has been appointed master of Customs Patrol Boat No. 9. The latter will patrol Miramichi Bay and adjoining waters.

Chatham relatives of Mrs. Thomas McEwen have received word of her death in Brockton, Mass. The deceased was formerly Miss May Marshall, of Newcastle. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Puffer, of Brockton, and one son, Stanley, also of Brockton. The remains will be brought to Newcastle for interment.

K. of C. MEETS. E. J. Henneberry, of Saint John, state deputy, Knights of Columbus, and H. F. McEvoy, of Campbellton, district deputy, paid an official visit to Chatham yesterday. Last night the officers of the local council No. 1219, were installed at a special meeting held in the council chambers. The state convention of the order will be held here during the latter part of May.

Though the Miramichi River is open at Newcastle and for some miles at Escuminac, the ice bridge still holds good at Chatham. Several loaded teams crossed here today. Crossing at Loggieville had to be abandoned yesterday, and at Millbank, one mile below Chatham, the Fraser Companies have a tug running across the river. It is thought the ice will hold here until the first of the week, and there seems no doubt that a Maypole will be placed in the ice for the first time in 12 years.

REFITTING MILL

The Miramichi Lumber Co. are refitting their mill at Morrison Cove, just outside the town limits. A drum barker will be put in here for the manufacture of crossed wood. The mill has been out of operation for several seasons.

The J. B. Snowball Co. are also getting their big saw mill ready for the season. This plant has been closed for the past two seasons. Though the cut will not be as large as in former years it is expected that the reopening of the mill will greatly aid business here. It is reported here that the old Lyman mill property has been purchased from the Snowball Co. with a view to establishing a new industry there.

Court Decision May Avert Labor Trouble

MELBOURNE, May 1—The Federal arbitration court has announced its willingness to hear the applications of any unions for a variation of awards in regard to working hours. This decision may avert the labor upheaval threatened as a result of the recent decision of the High Court of Australia that the 44-hour week is inapplicable to industries covered by the Federal award of a 48-hour week.

Goes Back 55 Years For Spring Comparison

LINDSAY, Ont., May 1—Thomas Connolly, of this town, will remember the spring of 55 years ago, and says it was "as similar to the spring of 1926 as two peas." "Spring opened on May 1 and the year was one of the most prosperous in the history of the country," said Mr. Connolly.

Father John's Medicine

Declared To Be "One Of The Most Valuable Nutrients Known"

Cod Liver Oil Blended With Other Valuable Ingredients By Exclusive Process. Possesses Great Body Building Power

Why is it that little children—pale, thin and under weight—grow round and rosy by taking Father John's Medicine? How can their delicate systems digest the cod liver oil in Father John's Medicine when their stomachs cannot retain ordinary cod liver oil concentrated butter-fat in cream or butter.

For the same reason that a baby thrives on milk but cannot digest the concentrated butter-fat in cream or butter. The base of Father John's Medicine is solid liver oil, which is well known as one of the best nutrients. But this cod liver oil is blended with other valuable ingredients by exclusive process, so that it is broken up into very small globules. In fact some of the little globules in Father John's Medicine are only one-tenth the size of the average globule in milk. Thus it is easily seen why the cod liver oil in Father John's Medicine can be readily digested. For old people, too, Father John's Medicine is a valuable body builder and, as it contains no alcohol or dangerous drugs, it is perfectly harmless.

WOULD SPEND EXTRA MONEY IN AIDING LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY

Report to Legislature Endorses Policies for Various Divisions as Outlined By the Minister of Agriculture

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING APPROVED

Suggest That Activities of Agricultural Societies Be Carried Out in Accordance With Rules and Regulations of Province

FREDERICTON, N. B., April 29.—A recommendation to the Legislature that an increased grant be made to the Department of Agriculture next year and that the money be devoted to the encouragement and improvement of the livestock industry of the province is contained in the report of the agriculture committee as presented to the House by Hedley V. Dickson, chairman of the committee.

The report in full is as follows: "Your committee beg leave to report that we have held some ten meetings during the session, all of which were well attended by the members of the committee, and great interest shown in the work by the several members. "The policies and activities in connection with the several divisions of the department have been gone into very thoroughly and much valuable information given by the minister and his staff in the different divisions of live stock, poultry, dairying, agricultural education and agricultural societies, in a manner satisfactory to the committee and we have no hesitation in endorsing the policies as outlined by the minister of agriculture in recommending their very careful consideration by the farmers and business men of the province. "Under this heading we might mention the housing of pure-bred sires owned by agricultural societies and individual farmers in the case of pure-bred rams, the organization of boys' and girls' pig clubs and sheep fairs, the distribution of pure-bred cockerels among the poultrymen, the organization and assistance given to central creameries, the co-operative marketing of the following articles of farm produce: Sheep and lambs, through the sheep fairs and marketing clubs; wool, through The Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers' Association; hops, through the boys' and girls' pig clubs and co-operative marketing clubs; poultry and eggs through The New Brunswick Poultry Exchanges; cheese through the public auction sales as conducted under the auspices of The New Brunswick Dairymen United; seed potatoes through The New Brunswick

MUST FOLLOW RULES.

"Your Committee have also gone quite carefully into the activities of the agricultural societies and would commend the action of the minister in arranging the supervision of the agricultural societies in order to keep in closer touch with their work, and we would recommend that in so far as it is possible their activities should be carried out in accordance with the rules and regulations as laid down by the department. "We would also recommend that agricultural societies purchasing for sale flour, feed, etc., should keep these accounts separate and apart from the regular business of their societies. "Your Committee would strongly recommend that the grant to this department be materially increased next year and that this department devote the money to the encouragement and improvement of the live stock industry of the province. "We would further recommend that the honourable Minister of Agriculture as he become more familiar with the work of the several divisions look very carefully into the several branches of work as carried on, with a view of increasing the efficiency and usefulness of the department to the farmers of the province wherever it is possible."

The Automobile Industry has never had 35% protection --- only 14 1/2%

The duty on the finished motor car has significance only when considered in relation to the duties applicable upon the parts and materials which it is necessary for Canadian manufacturers to import.

Certain parts are themselves dutiable at 35 per cent. A great many parts and materials are dutiable at rates in excess of 20 per cent.

These figures reveal the facts:

Canadian manufacturers made and sold in Canada, during 1925, 84,000 motor cars whose wholesale value was	$67,500,000
If these 84,000 cars had not been made in Canada, but had been imported from the United States at prices which, after payment of 35 per cent duty, would have represented a wholesale value in Canada of $67,500,000 the duty collected would have been	$17,000,000
After deducting all drawbacks, Canadian Manufacturers in 1925 actually paid in customs duties on parts and materials used in the cars made and sold in Canada	$10,000,000
Their actual protection therefore was only	$ 7,000,000
Thus a protection of 35 per cent is actually a protection of only $7,000,000 against $17,000,000, leaving a NET protection of 7-17 of 35 per cent, or less than	14 1/2 per cent
Under the proposed Customs tariff, the majority of Canadian-made cars will have no protection whatsoever!

CHURCH PARADE
NEXT BIG EVENT
FOR BOY SCOUTS

REQUIREMENTS
FOR CUBS' BADGES

Boys Report On Features of Their Weekly
Meetings

Scouting's big event for the week was the annual inspection of troops and packs which was held in the Armory on Tuesday evening when 480 scouts and cubs with their leaders assembled. At the conclusion of his inspection Dr. G. B. Peat, district commissioner, congratulated the packs and troops on their evident progress. It was a picturesque scene with the large numbers of neatly uniformed groups standing in an orderly manner, the leaders forming the front row, their assistants the second row, the color bearers the third, followed by the line upon line of scouts and cubs making one of the neatest and snappiest turnouts in the history of the association here.

The inspection was carried on under the direction of District Scoutmaster O. J. Lawson, while each group was supervised by the assistant district commissioners for scouts and cubs, F. Chappin and L. E. Johnson, respectively. The inspection is held annually in preparation for the annual church parade which it is hoped to hold this year on May 9.

FOR NEXT WEEK

Next week sees an interesting program planned for the troops and packs in addition to their regular meetings. On Monday evening the annual inspection of No. 6 22nd avenue Pack will be conducted by the assistant district commissioner, who will also inspect St. James' Pack on Tuesday evening. Tuesday is also the day set for a concert and display in St. Paul's Sunday school of No. 2 St. Paul's Wolf Cub Pack. Tomorrow the scouts and cubs of St. George's church will take part in a service at which their troop and pack colors will be solemnly consecrated.

GENERAL PARADE

The troops and packs of the city are eagerly looking forward to Sunday,

May 9, for the annual church parade when a splendid turnout is anticipated. The band of the R. C. N. Y. R. will play for the parade and will lead the procession.

CUB BADGES

Group IV—Before a cub can receive any badge in Group IV, he must promise: "I will do my best always to keep myself clean in body and thought, and to play fair."

Athlete—These tests are divided into two classes, "A" and "B." Class "A" is for cubs from 8 to 10 years of age; "B" for those of 10 to 12. The tests are of the same nature in both classes, but the standards are different. The average height of cubs in class "A" is 5 ft. 10 in. If a cub in this class is unusually developed (not only in height, he shall be judged in class "B."

Swimmer—Must be able to swim 25 yards in 40 seconds in salt water or 30 seconds in fresh water, be able to take off a pair of shorts in the water (as an alternative), swim up back with arms folded on chest, for 15 yards, be able to "duck dive" (i.e., dive while standing in the water or swimming), or (as an alternative), perform a "honey-pot" (i.e., jump with arms spread around the knees) from a board, tank or boat.

Mr. Michael saw no difficulty about controlling the tanks as he had to report at the Customs House each time they entered and leave a record of the amount of gasoline they brought in. Mr. Baxter saw no way to get after the wholesalers, except with their consent, as the province's power of taxation was really limited to the individual. No tax could be placed upon trade.

BAXTER'S AMENDMENT.

Hon. Dr. Baxter moved an amendment providing that manufacturers using gasoline for other purposes than the generation of power should be exempt from the tax. Mr. Dr. Baxter, when the bill providing for the taxation of the New Brunswick Telephone Company was under consideration, said that the distance toll earnings of the company last year amounted to $318,646.41. On this business a tax was paid amounting to $22,824.20. The bill would provide that on this amount of business the province would secure this year over $31,000.

ELECTORAL BILLS.

The House again went into committee to consider bills regarding the changing of certain electoral districts and sub-districts; regarding the settlement of crown lands and respecting the granting of certain lands on the Southwest Miramichi River. These bills were also reported to be read a third time today.

Intimate relation to the development of the industrial life of the province. Measures have been passed by means of which our chief water power will be developed by the aid of outside capital, thus bringing into the province not only the money but also the interest of great industrial concerns. The policy of inducing capital to work with the province instead of in spite of it is bound to produce excellent results. You have occasion also to rejoice that another water power development is to be undertaken on the Neigigait and that the province is practically assured of three pulp and paper mills together with a large increase in capacity of another mill.

HOPES INDUSTRY REVIVAL

"I thank you for the provision which you have made for the public services which I am sure will be applied with strict economy. It has been desirable to increase the revenue, but I am hopeful that reviving industry may soon enable you to lessen these impositions. In relieving you from your duties I have my best wishes for your individual prosperity and happiness." I could keep my house in order, but many things had to go undone at the time, because of my ailments. I was told by a neighbor to take Lydia E. THIS BLOOD BUILDER
STRENGTHENS NERVES AND PROMOTES VIGOR

Everywhere You Will Find People Who Have Gained New Health Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Worry, overwork, severe shock and improper nourishment will lower the bodily tone, upsetting the delicate balance we call health. Those who can read the early signs of thinning blood can generally arrest any of the more painful symptoms appear, but the disease creeps on so stealthily that it is frequently well advanced before it is discovered.

Among the early symptoms of decline are pallor, especially of the lips; a slight palpitation of the heart; shortness of breath after walking a short distance and a tendency to tire easily. Continued decline causes nervousness, irritability, depression, sleeplessness, headaches and fainting spells.

If you want vigorous health, strong nerves and good blood begin treatment now with a tonic that has been used successfully in many families for generations. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and enable it to carry nourishment to enfeebled organs, nerves, muscles and tissues. This new blood will so tone the entire system that colds and epidemic diseases can not get a foothold.

Men and Women Are Strained. Men who have overworked and are blamed for ill-temper; whereas the fault is not theirs. Their poor health is the cause. The tired, overburden wife or mother, whose household cares have worn her out; the bread-winner whose anxiety for his family has worried him until he is thin and ill, are the nerve sufferers who become run-down. Their nerves, like all bodily organs, need healthy red blood; worry tells on their digestion and their nerves are ill-fed. In such cases a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is necessary, for these pills make new blood and tone up the nervous system. The patient becomes full of energy and happiness for themselves and others returns. Mr. W. Hughes, Coldwater, Ont., has proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and does not hesitate to say so. She says:—"Two years ago I suffered untold agonies with my nerves. The pains in my head and the back of my neck were unbearable. I was depressed and cranky all the time. All the rest of the best of medical attention did me no good. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking them for a time felt much better. I continued to see with great

SHIELD IS WON BY CARLETON TOWER

Closing Debate in Pythian Series Held in West End

Carleton Tower Lodge No. 37 won the silver shield of the Knights of Pythias Past Chancellors' Association in the last debate of the Pythian series held in the Carleton Tower hall, West Saint John, when their team defeated the team of the Carleton Tower Lodge No. 37. The debate was held on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock and was presided over by the Grand Chancellor, Captain J. A. Mowry, who was present last night and many visitors from city lodges. Carleton Tower Lodge served excellent refreshments at the close of the evening.

Two Runaways In Saint John Streets

There was considerable excitement on Prince Edward street yesterday afternoon at 4:35 o'clock when a team of horses, owned by William Madill, of Kings county, ran away. The horses became frightened and during their wild run, the heavy team, to which they were attached, collided with automobile No. 19,070, owned by Thomas Rogius, of Torriburn.

Unable to Do Any Work

Among those who have proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mr. Austin Wile, Hemford, N. S., who says: "I have never been so healthy as I am now. I have done for me. An abscess developed in my head, and the doctor who was called in said my whole system was poisoned. My appetite completely failed and I grew so weak I was unable to do any work. The doctor's medicine did not help me so I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. At this stage I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and my friends did not look for my recovery. I soon found, however, that the pills were helping me and after taking them for about two months I was fully restored to health. My case was known to all my neighbors and my recovery looked upon as almost a miracle."

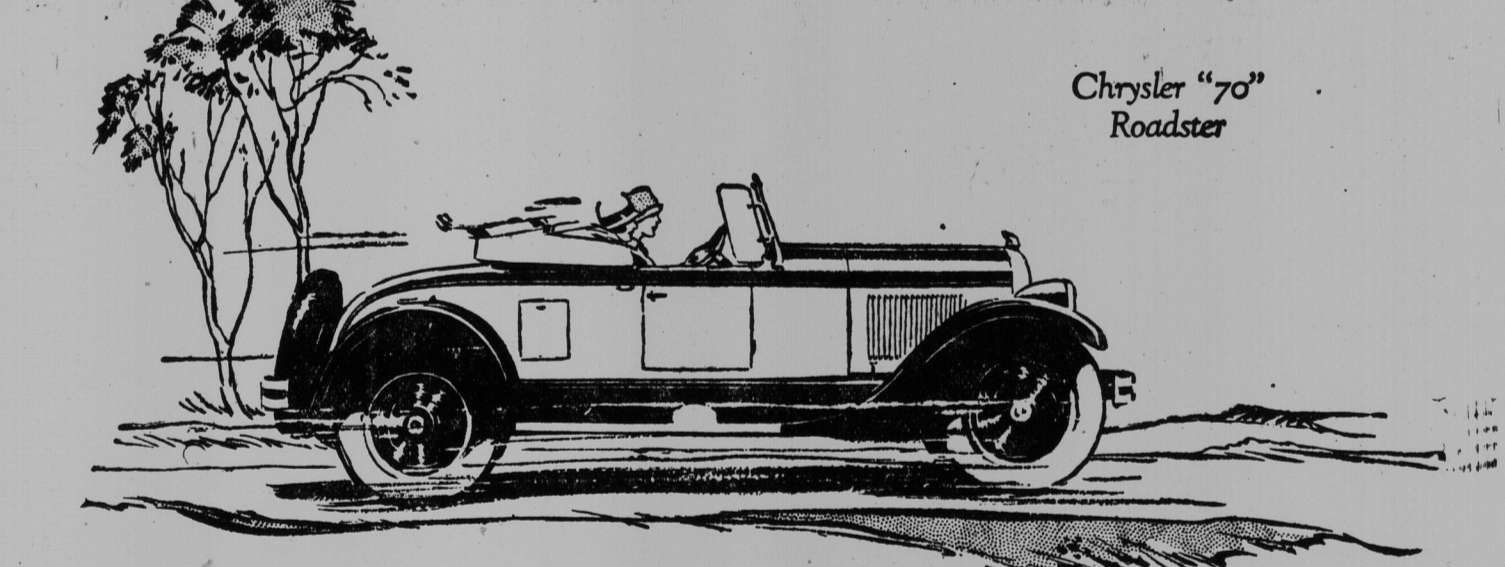

Keep Your System Toned Up

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills assist digestion, correct the lassitude, the pallor, the nervousness, the headache, the pain of the face and lips that are the results of thin, impure blood. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. Get a box from the nearest drug store and begin this treatment now.

COLORS OF OLD SEA FENCIBLES FOUND IN BARN

Now in N. H. Museum—Regiment Here Many Years Ago

The regimental colors of the Saint John Sea Fencibles, a militia regiment of a century or so ago in this city, have been found.

They are as bright today as when the red and blue and white were cut and sewn together to form those flags of inspiring size.

They are now being cared for at the Natural History Museum and were discovered a short while ago in the barn of the Mrs. George F. Smith estate by Dr. William MacIntosh, curator of the museum.

Nobody knew what the long rubber cases concealed but when once the cases were removed the colors made their own announcement of their identity.

THE LETTER W. R.

On the King's Color painted in oils are the letters, W. R. surrounded by a Royal Crown, sufficient evidence that the regiment was formed in the days of William IV. On the Regimental Color a Royal Crown surmounts a large anchor and beneath on the painted scroll are the words "Saint John Sea Fencibles." There are a few small holes in the silk but considering the age of the flags they are in exceptionally good state of preservation.

They are considerably larger than the regimental colors of today and measure six feet four inches by five feet ten inches. The painted emblems are shown exactly the same on both sides although the flags are made of only one thickness of silk.

The New Brunswick Almanac of 1834 records the fact that on Feb. 26, 1833, Lt.-Col. A. Otty was commissioned commander of the Sea Fencibles.

To Col. E. T. Sturdee, Y. I., The Times-Star is much indebted for some facts concerning the old regiment. It was formed in 1833 and ranked fourth among the militia battalions in Saint John and the uniform worn by its officers and men was scarlet, probably with blue facings. It is thought that the regiment was for shore service but that its muster was chiefly officers who drilled the men that gave compulsory two days of service each year according to the custom of that time. In 1864 Major Thomas M. Smith, father of the late George F. Smith, was the commanding officer and it is presumed that the regiment was disbanded at the time of Confederation and the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel was conferred upon its commanding officer.

LIST OF OFFICERS

The list of officers in 1861 was as follows: Major Thomas M. Smith; Captains John Reed, George L. Lovett and Edward Eagles and Lieutenants, John W. M. Irish, John Murray, William McKay, John Strange, Gilbert Jordan, Charles Eagles, William Wright, George Otty, Robert Lovett, Henry P. Otty, John Gardner, William J. Smith, Robert W. Otty and H. J. Travis. The postmaster was William Leavitt and the quartermaster was A. Ballock.

At the museum at the present time are a number of splendid gifts which have been received from the Mrs. George F. Smith estate through the interest of Dr. William MacIntosh, curator of the museum. Perhaps the most unique of these is the engineer's sketch made up of it in compiling his scientific history of New Brunswick.

FIRST DRAWING

The may is probably the first engineer's drawing that was made and it shows the Fort Frederic site in Carleton in detail but otherwise is purely geographical.

As great a "find" perhaps as the map and the Sea Fencibles regimental Colors is one of the gifts from the Edward Sears estate, presented to the Natural History Society only yesterday.

This gift is the original parchment document proclaiming in Saint John the succession George IV. It is dated April 24, 1820, and has the signatures of all the civic dignitaries of that day.

THE MAIL LINE DEAL ORDERED DELAYED

President Crowley Directed Not to Sign Contract — Hearing Set For May 3

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Announcement is made by the Shipping Board at Washington of a delay in the consummation of the sale of the American Oriental Mail Line until after the whole transaction is discussed before the Senate committee on Commerce on May 8.

Bids for the sale of this line which comprise five combination passenger and cargo ships of the "838" type, operating out of Seattle to Far East ports, were opened April 6 by the board. R. Stanley Dollar, representing the "Admiral" Line, presented a bid of $4,800,000. W. B. Keene, former vice-president of the Fleet Corporation in charge of traffic, representing undisclosed principals, bid $4,000,000.

The board met on April 18 to pass on the bids. Shortly before the meeting Mr. Keene presented another sealed bid but the board decided to meet on the ground that it was meeting to pass on bids already received and not to open new ones. Subsequently Mr. Keene stated his second bid was $4,600,000.

SIGNING OF CONTRACT

The board awarded the service to Mr. Dollar. On April 16, Mr. Dollar signed the contract, as drawn up by Fleet Corporation officials. On April 17, Elmer E. Crowley, president of the Fleet Corporation, was prepared to sign the contract on behalf of the Fleet Corporation. On that date, however, the Senate adopted a resolution offered by Senator McNary, of Oregon, providing that it was "the sense of the Senate" that the contract be not signed.

The board then directed Mr. Crowley not to sign the contract until further notice from the board.

On April 24 the board wrote to the Attorney-General asking him for an opinion as to the legal effect of the Senate resolution. The Attorney-General replied April 22 that the resolution had no legal effect and left undisturbed the authority of the board, under the provisions of the Merchant Marine Act of 1920, to sell ships.

The Shipping Board has prepared a written statement on the whole transaction for presentation to the Senate committee on Commerce. It is expected the entire membership of the board, together with Elmer E. Crowley, president of the Fleet Corporation, will be heard. Mr. Crowley opposed the sale.

The matter comes before the Senate committee, Senator Jones of Washington, the committee chairman, announced, because of requests he and Senator McNary have received from the Northeast Pacific Coast interests, that the matter be looked into. The board is composed of four members in the board. Chairman O'Connor and Commissioners Hill of South Dakota, Teller of Colorado and the Hon. W. B. Louisiana voted for the sale. Admiral Benson of Georgia voted against it.

ACADIA SUGAR CO. PLANS AGREED TO

SHAREHOLDERS IN GLASGOW O. K. MOVE

HALIFAX, April 30.—According to an announcement tonight by D. R. Turnbull, local general manager of the Acadia Sugar Refining Company Limited, the shareholders of the company, meeting in Glasgow, Scotland, yesterday, unanimously agreed to the reorganization plan recently made public.

As already announced the company goes into voluntary liquidation and reduces its capital from $4,000,000 to $2,000,000. The holders of preference shares are to receive 75 per cent. of the new issue of preferred stock, while the common shareholders receive 25 per cent. of ordinary stock in the new company. There will be a first mortgage bond issue of $2,500,000 and a general bond issue of $1,500,000. The names of the company will remain the same, but hereafter it will do business under a Nova Scotia charter instead of a British one.

MONCTON RUNAWAY ELUDES CAPTURE

MONCTON, May 1.—Somebody informed Truant Officer Burden yesterday that young Peter Cormier, the 13-year-old runaway, who was first reported seen at Truro then in Saint John, had again passed through Moncton on his way east. It is said he was accompanied by another lad. Night before last it was reported that this elusive lad was at the round house, having been put off the train here on which he had evidently been stealing a ride. It is claimed that he was with three other lads while at the round house.

King's to Honor Archdeacon Of Saint John

HALIFAX, April 30.—At the insignia service here next Wednesday evening of King's College, Honorary degrees of Doctor of Divinity will be conferred upon Dr. Moore, President of King's and Venerable Archdeacon Crowley, M.A., of Saint John, both of whom were nominated for the degree by His Grace, the Archbishop of Nova Scotia and the Lord Bishop of Fredericton.

The degree of Doctor of Music will be conferred upon David McK. Williams, organist and choir master of St. Bartholomew's church, New York.

INQUIRY REVEALS BOYS ASKED MERCY FOR SILK SMUGGLER

Chief Conservative Whip
Seeks Man's Freedom
From Jail in Bribery

DOUBLE DUTY HELD
PENALTY ENOUGH

Release of Liquor Boats
Delved Into at Customs Probe

OTTAWA, April 30—The name of W. A. Boys, chief Conservative whip and member for North Simcoe, was brought before the customs inquiry committee this afternoon. C. R. Kendall, now sub-collector of customs at Barrie, Ont., and formerly customs examiner at that place, told of attempts to bribe him made by David Waisberg in the fall of 1922.

"He offered from $2,000 to $3,000 a year if I would pass one trunk of silk a week without examination," Mr. Kendall informed the committee.

OFFER REFUSED

He had refused the offer and warned Waisberg not to repeat it. A day or so after he attempted to pass a trunk laden with silk through the customs at Barrie. Mr. Kendall searched the trunk, the contents of which he appraised at approximately $1,600, and placed Waisberg under arrest.

Waisberg, he said, had told him that he was going too far and that he (Waisberg) would see his solicitor. Following this a member of the legal firm of Boys and Murchison had seen his superior, former Collector of Customs T. E. Young, in regard to the matter.

"Which member of the firm came to see Mr. Young?" the witness was asked.

"Mr. Boys," he replied.

A number of letters which were exchanged between Mr. Boys and Hon. Jacques Bureau, then Minister of Customs, on behalf of Waisberg, were read to the committee by R. L. Calder, K. C., counsel for the committee.

"While admitting the attempted bribe by Waisberg, Mr. Boys informed the minister that this was Waisberg's first offence. He asked that the offender be permitted to go on payment of double duty and sales tax on the goods.

CAPT. LECOUEVE CALLED.

Captain A. L. Lecoueve, master of the customs preventive ship Margaret, was called to the witness stand and under examination by Mr. Calder told of the seizure of the schooner W. C. Kennedy in Northumberland Straits in June, 1923.

Captain Lecoueve produced the log and chart of his ship to establish the fact that the seizure was within territorial waters.

He was then examined by Mr. Calder on the seizure of the motor boat Jeanne D'Arc, which contained over 100 packages of liquor from St. Pierre to Nassau.

"Would you go to Nassau in a boat like that?" asked Mr. Calder.

"I don't know about that, but the boat couldn't possibly get to Nassau running up the Straits of Northumberland."

The witness said that he had reported the locality of the seizure as so many nautical miles from land. Later the question had arisen as to whether he had not measured the distance in land miles. Had he done this the seizure would have taken place about in territorial waters. The captain said he understood the launch seized had been released.

Captain Lecoueve said he firmly believed that this launch had no intention of proceeding to Nassau. The captain of the launch had told him that the liquor was to be landed at Point du Chene.

LIQUOR CARGO SEIZED.

The witness told of having seized the cargo of liquor on the W. C. Kennedy.

"Where did you take this cargo?" he was asked.

"To Quebec," was the reply.

"On whose instructions?"

"On the instructions of Ottawa." When he got the cargo to Quebec, he had been instructed to carry it back to Halifax and transfer it to the owners. He had done this, transferring the liquor to the schooner Benson White.

It would be easier to prevent smuggling of liquor if all the waters inside of the Cabot Straits, including Northumberland Straits, were declared territorial waters of Canada, said Captain Lecoueve, in answer to a question from Mr. Doucet.

BENEFIT TO FISHERMEN.

Chairman Mercer suggested that for many a year smuggling had been a benefit and a pleasure to the fishermen." Captain Lecoueve admitted that it had always been so in his 20 years of experience. Ships had been cruising round outside the three-mile limit for 30 days at a time.

"It must have been right. There never was a comeback," he commented. C. W. Bell.

PROHIBITION BLAMED.

Captain Lecoueve said the situation did not become acute until about five years ago. He agreed with Chairman Mercer that it was prohibition which had established liquor warehouses in St. Pierre, Miquelon, and laid the foundation for the present liquor running traffic. In answer to a question, he said that if Nova Scotia and New Brunswick were not dry provinces, his preventive service would have considerably less trouble. "We would be happy."

A. J. Doucet suggested that if the excise was less than ten dollars per gallon the problem would not be so acute.

Captain Lecoueve—"I don't know. We had smugglers when the excise was only $2.50 a gallon. A reduction in excise might make it cheaper for the importer, but not for the smuggler."

FIGHT COSTS MONEY.

D. M. Kennedy asked if the witness would suggest that Canada should back down and refuse to fight the smugglers.

Captain Lecoueve replied, "We could fight them. But it takes money to fight money. An addition of several cruisers would have to be made to the preventive service."

Answering a question from Mr. Bennett, the witness said that of the ships which he had seized during his term of office he could only remember one that was forfeited to the crown. That was a sloop which sold for $75.

TERRITORIAL WATERS.

Captain L. A. Demers, Dominion Wreck Commissioner, was called and interpreted as to what waters were considered territorial for the purposes of his investigations. Since 1901 he thought that the whole of the Straits of Northumberland (which were particularly involved in the seizure of the W. C. Kennedy) would be territorial waters. Asked if a seizure 12 miles off Northumberland (which were particularly involved in the seizure of the W. C. Kennedy) would be territorial waters, he said, "Yes."

BOYS LETTERS READ.

Committee Counsel Calder read a series of letters exchanged between W. A. Boys, M.P., for North Simcoe, and Hon. Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs, in November, 1922. Mr. Boys interceded on behalf of David Waisberg who had attempted to bribe a customs officer. Waisberg had offered

$50 to the officer and generally employed such "crude efforts," that he was obviously "green to the business," said Mr. Boys. He had been charged double duty on the trunkload of silks he was smuggling in, he had been charged a sales tax and Mr. Boys thought he had been sufficiently punished for a first offense. Further prosecution would be a blow to his family and Mr. Boys suggested that the minister might very well show clemency in this case.

Mr. Bureau sent Mr. Boys a part of the departmental file which, he said, would indicate that Waisberg's offer had been greater than he obviously had admitted to Mr. Boys. There were every indication from reports of customs people in Barrie of an attempt to establish a smuggling ring, and "Waisberg must have been in the ring."

PROSECUTION CALLED OFF.

Mr. Boys then asked that decision be postponed until the following week so that he could discuss the matter with Mr. Bureau during a visit to Ottawa that week-end. The decision apparently took place, and after he returned to Barrie, Mr. Boys wrote to the Minister expressing the hope that the local customs collector would be instructed to call off further prosecution.

C. P. Blair, general executive assistant to the department of customs, on the stand, told the committee that he had prepared a recommendation that the goods be released on payment of double duty and sales tax. Mr. Farrow, said the witness, was very anxious that prosecution be proceeded with.

Mr. Farrow, however, had told him that the Minister (Hon. Jacques Bureau) intended not to prosecute because of representations made to him by Mr. Boys.

The committee adjourned until Tuesday.

The Junior W. A. of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Fairville, held its regular meeting in the church hall yesterday. The superintendent, Mrs.

Gerhard DeGeer, presided. Rev. F. J. LeRoy led the devotional service. Miss Elsie Gorrie gave the scripture reading. The Juniors have been very busy during the past month. Two quilts have been completed and other articles made. Games were enjoyed. Miss Elsie Gorrie and Miss Jean Armstrong served dainty refreshments.

M'DONALD ASKS I. C. R. RETURNED TO EAST IN DEBATE ON BUDGET

South Cape Breton Member Declares C. N. R. is Being Starved in Maritimes and Says This System Shouldn't Be Run For Dividends

OTTAWA, April 30.—Speeches during continued debate on the Budget in the House of Commons today followed lines already laid down. The income tax proposals brought criticism from R. E. Ryerson, Conservative member for Brantford, who said that many citizens would be penalized by the new provision.

Finally MacDonald, Conservative member for South Cape Breton, also criticized the income tax changes on the ground that they merely shifted the burden "from the shoulders of one class of people to those of another."

W. E. Rowe, Conservative for Dufferin-Simcoe, referred to the Finance Minister's statement as a "Fork-and-tongue budget."

Liberal speakers voiced their approval of the budget. "I believe in using the tariff to protect the Canadian manufacturer and the Canadian farmer, but I do not believe in bottle-nursing an industry along for 20 years and then bleeding the consumer," said C. B. Howard, Liberal, Sherbrooke.

MACDONALD SPEAKS In the course of his speech, Mr. MacDonald stated that the changes in the income tax act announced by the Minister of Finance would merely mean the "shuffling" of the payment of the tax.

TOLMIE ADVOCATES LAND SETTLEMENT

Raps King Cabinet in Exodus of Canadians in Speech at Kingston, Ont.

KINGSTON, Ont., April 30.—An array of Conservative speakers were on hand at the first annual banquet of the Conservative Club of Kingston and Frontenac here tonight, including Hon. S. J. Tolmie, former Minister of Agriculture.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Conservative party, and Hon. G. H. Ferguson, Premier of Ontario, sent messages of regret at not being able to be present.

Hon. Mr. Tolmie said that the great demand in Canada was to bring people here who would settle on the land and become good Canadians and to do this effectively a proper colonization system must be adopted.

Dr. Tolmie quoted statistics to show that of all the immigrants, the Britisher was the "best sticker" and therefore should receive plenty of encouragement to come here and settle.

ASKING TOO MUCH It was asking too much to request Maritime people to throw their hats in the air and cheer for the Canadian National Railways.

SYSTEM STARVED IN EAST The National system in the Maritimes was being starved. Several recent serious accidents on the Maritimes section was due to the shortening of the track crew.

CIVIL SERVICE DEFENDED BY FED. EXECUTIVE

Ottawa Meeting Explores Disclosures of Irregularities REFORMS NEEDED Importance of Appointing Men of Adequate Experience To Vacancies Emphasized

OTTAWA, Ont., May 1.—The executive of the Civil Service Federation of Canada met last night under the chairmanship of the president, Major D. L. McKean, M. C., and at the close issued the following statement to the press: "A meeting of the executive of the Civil Service Federation, held last night, discussed the present state of civil service affairs. The federation views with dismay the recent disclosures of grave irregularities in civil service administration. The federation hopes that particular cases of venality will not be interpreted by the public of Canada as a reflection upon the honesty and integrity of the public service of Canada as a whole. "The Federation believes that the present situation, although disagreeable, may yet be of use as a principle and occasion for true reforms. Chief among these is the need of co-operation between the government authority and the organized service through civil service councils, such as advocated by the Federation for many years, and endorsed in principle, by the premier and other prominent parliamentarians on the floor of the House, and on public platforms in this city. "The Federation emphasizes the importance of appointing to the vacancies in the civil service commission, men who have adequate experience of civil service problems and who are qualified in every way, and hold the respect and confidence of the service and the public. "The Federation will submit its views to the government at an early date."

RECOMMEND CUT IN HEALTH DEPT. COSTS

Public Accounts Committee Makes Suggestion For Reductions in Report

FREDERICTON, April 30.—Touching on the department of health, the public accounts committee report recommends the following suggestions for reduction of expenditure in this department: 1.—That printing expenditure be curtailed. 2.—That the medical school inspectors be required in future to observe closely the wishes of the parents in regard to vaccination. 3.—That every precaution be taken against incurring extraordinary expenditures for and that the Health Act be amended to require medical school inspectors with a view to having the local doctors carry on this duty.

SUGGEST CHANGES

Respecting agriculture the committee desires to impress upon the minister and government the necessity during the coming year of a thorough re-organization. The report says: "Your committee believes that a small staff in Fredericton with a careful selection of district representatives, say five or six in number, located at various points throughout the province and prepared to demonstrate in a practical way to the farmers would be much more effective than under the present system."

SPECIFICATIONS FOR S. S. MOUNT VERNON

Plans and specifications for the reconditioning of the steamship Mount Vernon are expected to be issued by the Shipping Board next Monday, bids to be received in about 10 days from the date of issue. Final touches are being put to the plans this week. It is believed the new arrangement of the ship will provide accommodations for 750 cabin, 389 tourist third class and 209 third class passengers.

PRINCETON, N. J., April 30.—After visiting the office of Dean Christian Gauss today to confer with him in regard to an examination Fred L. Simey, 27 years old, of Montreal, was found dead in his room this afternoon with a bullet wound in his body just above the heart.

AROOSTOOK SPUD STOCKS DEPLETED

CARIBOU, Me., April 30.—Potato shipments from Aroostook points jumped to about 100 carloads today. The stock in storage in Aroostook is now very much depleted, some experts considering that there are now not much more than 1,800 carloads left. Much of this stock is hard to move as roads are now very bad in many places. The local market continues at a standstill with little enquiry. Growers hauling in small lots are selling at $6.75 to $7 a barrel.

URGENT IMPROVEMENT OF LAND RECORDS

Public Accounts Committee Recommends More Accurate Particulars of Values

FREDERICTON, April 30.—A recommendation that a more complete and accurate record of value of the crown lands of the province in the fiscal report of the Public Accounts Committee today, and to this end a suggestion is put forward that a committee of five members be created and empowered to take evidence from all the holders of crown lands of full and complete information respecting the areas held by them. The committee believes this to be important not only from the standpoint of giving to the department valuable information, but also because of the transition through which this industry is now passing, and to enable the government before the time arrives for the fixing of the rate of stumpage. The committee notes that it was impressed with the vast amounts overpaid without the consent of the Legislature and calls attention to a resolution adopted concerning this practice.

ST. STEPHEN SEEKS TO BUILD CREAMERY

Leading Citizens Back Undertaking to Benefit Farmers of County

ST. STEPHEN, April 30.—About 23 attended a public meeting held here last night under the auspices of the Agricultural Society in the interest of establishing a creamery. Many of the leading citizens spoke in favor of the undertaking and felt that it would benefit the farmers of the county and would indirectly help the town. After the matter had been fully discussed a committee consisting of E. G. Beer, J. W. Scovell, A. A. Laffin, C. W. Hickey, Alfred Lorrison and A. E. Vesey were appointed to see about what stock could be sold. A board of provisional directors, consisting of Jas. McAllister, Wm. McGibbon, R. E. Hyslop, Alfred Lorrison and Tilly Reed were also chosen to apply for a charter under the Farmers' and Dairy-men's Co-operative Act. The Board of Trade is strongly in favor of the project, and is willing to lend its support. Meetings are to be held in the near future in the country districts to get the views and support of the farmers.

OLD COLONY FLEET NETS 203,943 SEALS

Catch is Greatest Since 1916 and Value of Fat Exceeds $400,000

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 30.—The catch of the sealing fleet this year is the greatest since 1916, totalling 203,943 seals, as compared with a total of 125,240 seals last year, and the approximate value of the fat to date is over $400,000.

This season's catch, including reports from sealers still out is as follows: Seal, 19,468; Eagle, 26,274; Beothic, 48,421; Sagona, 20,237; Neptune, 27,851; Thetis, 21,237; Terra Nova, 22,628; Ranger, 11,000; Viking, 2,900; Eagle (second trip), 3,900. Today being the last day for killing seals, it is probable that the two ships not yet returned, the Eagle and Viking, will be back in port within a few days. The former is on her second trip.

A Lovely Skin Comes from within

Constipation is the cause of most skin troubles. Poisons from the waste matter are picked up by the blood and carried to all parts of the body, especially the skin. No one needs to have a sallow, muddy complexion. Proper diet, exercise, surface cleanliness and above all—internal cleanliness. Nujol prevents the formation of internal poisons that ruin your health and complexion. Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is so safe, so gentle, and so natural in its action. Nujol makes up for a deficiency of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular bowel movements without gripping. Nujol can be taken for any length of time without ill effects. Unlike laxatives, it does not form a habit and can be discontinued at any time. Ask your druggist for Nujol.

CURRIE EULOGIZES WORK OF CARNEGIE

Says Future Historians Will Recognize It, in Speech at Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 30.—Andrew Carnegie was eulogized as the outstanding laborer of his generation toward the betterment of education by General Sir Arthur Currie, principal of McGill University, Montreal, in an address yesterday at the 50th annual founder's day exercise at Carnegie Institute. Sir Arthur, who was commander of the Canadian forces during the world war, said that when the future historian tries to visualize for his time the great laborer for the betterment of education, no figure will stand out so prominently as Carnegie. "Your founder," he said, "believed that the human mind will always remain the prime factor in the onward march toward a higher plane of national life and that as a consequence there was nothing more important in a civilized nation than its educational establishment. "The dream of the working people is materializing steadily. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, another speaker, said, in tracing the history of the labor movement."

EDITOR SUMMONED TO CUSTOMS PROBE

OTTAWA, April 30.—The editor of the Ottawa Citizen is being summoned to appear as witness at the customs probe for examination with respect to an editorial appearing in this morning's issue of that paper. A motion to this effect by Hon. R. B. Bennett carried at this morning's sitting by a vote of seven to one, after some discussion. Mr. Bennett said that the members of the committee in the discharge of their duties should be free from pressure by way of attacks. He desired to have the editor summoned because he, stated Mr. Bennett, had intimated that there were people being protected by the committee. "ISN'T PERSONAL AFFAIR. "If he has such knowledge we want to get it," he said. "Is this a personal affair," inquired Chairman Mercer. "No," said Mr. Bennett.

The Pendulum to Paige SIX TIMES as many Paige cars have already been sold this year as were sold in the same period a year ago. Three times as many Paige cars have been built and sold in these first four months as were sold during the entire year of 1925. And ten—yes, twenty times as many men and women are clamoring for this car as ever before aspired to Paige ownership. Throughout all Canada—the pendulum is swinging to Paige! The amazing fact that a Paige can now be bought for nearly a thousand dollars less accounts for some of this increased popularity. But there is also the infinitely more significant fact that a great many shrewd motor-wise buyers are turning from cars priced much higher to this less costly but equally capable Paige. And why not? No car is more beautiful. None is more carefully built of higher quality materials. No engine is more modern, more efficient than the powerful and economical Paige-built motor. No finer 4-wheel brakes are to be had. No list of essential or desirable motor car features can anywhere be found that will add to a more impressive total than those built into this satisfying car. We will gladly arrange for you to drive this tremendously popular Paige entirely without obligation. OPEN PRO. HOCKEY WAR WITH MEETING AT DETROIT LAST EVENING

CENTRAL LEAGUE OFFICIALS PLAN LARGE CIRCUIT

N. H. L. Magnates To Consider Situation At Montreal Today

DETROIT, Mich., May 1.—The first gun was fired last night in the long-simmered hockey war when officials of the Central League met here for the reorganization and expansion of the league to embrace clubs from as far west as St. Louis and Winnipeg, and as far east as Philadelphia.

James Gibley, vice-president and in-charge of the league last year, and a group of Detroit men who are behind the club that will operate here, gathered to lay plans that are expected to cause a future in the East, where the clubs of the National Hockey League are just now enjoying the fruits of the most successful year in the history of the organization.

PLAN NINE CLUBS According to present plans, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth and Winnipeg will round out the circuit that will bid for pro hockey prestige next November. Detroit promoters being prepared to operate a club in the central league regardless of the outcome of today's meeting of the N. H. L. in Montreal, where it is expected some definite disposition will be made of the franchise promised Detroit.

N. H. L. MEETING TODAY MONTREAL, May 1.—Whether the National Hockey League remains an eight club circuit as at present, or is expanded to ten clubs, with new teams in Chicago and Detroit, will be decided at the continuation of the semi-annual meeting of the League here today. Detroit and Chicago interests who are bidding for franchises in the pro league, which they want to operate next season, are assembled here to lay their claims before the league directors.

Winnipeg Toilers Win First Game For Canadian Basketball Title

Too Much "Bally-hoo" Has Kept Many Fine Players From Reaching Pinnacle

BY HENRY I. FARRELL. NEW YORK, April 29.—From a showman's point of view the bally-hoo is the most desired agent in selling either peanuts or baseball to the public. Barnum made millions in exploiting Jumbo, the biggest elephant in captivity, and the New York Yankees built the biggest baseball stadium in the world on the trade drawn by Babe Ruth, the greatest baseball slugger in the world.

As long as Jumbo retained his dimensions and as long as the Babe kept his seige gun working the investment in the manufacture of the bally-hoo returned dividends one-hundred fold. The bally-hoo always will last as long as the subject delivers and there is even compensation when the razz-dazz chorus goes to work.

FLOCK TO SEE RUTH The crowds that flocked to see Babe Ruth ride a ball out of the park take almost as much delight and they turn out in numbers almost as large to give the Babe the berry when he fans. From a business point of view anything serves well that draws the customers and to a manager of a team of athletes who is trying to build a winner, the bally-hoo sometimes delivers a kick-back in the face from which there is no recovery.

The New York Giants had a sorry experience with Jimmy O'Connell who rode into the big leagues from California bally-hood as the most expensive youngster in baseball. O'Connell was so awed by the task of living up to the reputation that he was a complete failure. The Athletics had the same experience with Lefty Groves, a $100,000 pitcher. Groves wasn't a total flop but he is just beginning to respond to two years of careful tutelage to get him into the mood of being just as pitcher and not Lefty Groves, a $100,000 beauty.

There was great interest in the Yankee training camp to see what success Babe Ruth would have in his attempt to stage a comeback and it was pointed out that Buster Gehrig and Tony Lazzeri, the home run king of the minor leagues, would spur the Babe on.

"I think the presence of the Babe on the club will work more of a benefit at the start to Lazzeri than any threat of Lazzeri might have on the Babe," Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees said.

He expressed the opinion if the Babe got away to a fast start, the fans wouldn't pay so much attention to Lazzeri and Mark Koenig and that any nervousness attending the bally-hoo given to these high priced youngsters might be removed.

ROOKIES MADE GOOD "On the other hand," he explained, "if Lazzeri and Koenig made good from the jump and Babe doesn't get started so well, it may work to the benefit of the Babe. The fans will not be watching him so closely and he will get a chance to work in peace. He is a sensitive big fellow and he tries too hard when the stands are all watching him."

Lazzeri and Koenig made good and, just as Huggins predicted, the failure of the Babe to get a good start was overlooked and he may profit by being only a member of a slugging team of colorful players instead of the bell-cow of a rather drab team as he was for so long.

Red Grange was a great subject for a bally-hoo because he always delivered on the college field when the going was the hardest. Grange did his best work for Illinois when eleven men on the other side of the line had been ordered to stop him at all costs. He didn't do quite so well on the professional field but he did well enough to make plenty of money.

Georges Carpentier always has been a good subject for the bally-hoo. Despite the fact that he has won only one fight in this country he is matched for a good shot in T. Richards and Sydney Geisler and is considered several offers for better money than a first class American fighter can command.

Carpenter can still be bally-hooded as the Gorgeous George and the gentleman of the ring and that is the part that he has cashed in on.

N. Y. Commission To Allow Dempsey Bout

NEW YORK, May 1.—Two important obstacles barring the way to a heavyweight championship fight here this summer were removed yesterday, when the State Athletic Commission ruled Jack Dempsey eligible and granted a license to Eric Rickard to promote boxing exhibitions at the Yankee Stadium. This action virtually assured a title fight between Dempsey and either Harry Williams or Gene Tunney, at the American League Park around September 16.

KENNEL CLUB WILL HOLD SPRING SHOW

Dog Fanciers Have 130 Classes in Which to Enter Favorites

The second annual spring dog show of the New Brunswick Kennel Club will be held in the Pythian Castle next Friday and Saturday, and entries for the show close next Tuesday. Many dog fanciers have been working hard to get their dogs in condition for this banner event of the spring season. In all, 130 different classes will be open for competition and a large entry list is expected.

Any person wishing to exhibit a dog can do so, as the show is not limited to members of the kennel club. The dogs do not have to be registered or pedigreed to enter the lists. All that is necessary is to send in the entry fee and list of all breeds and variety classes for which the dog is eligible and qualifies to the secretary, Thomas A. Linton, 62 Princess street.

All dogs entered in the show will be judged by C. C. Sullivan, and the judging will commence at 10.30 o'clock each morning, 2 o'clock in the afternoon and 7.30 o'clock in the evening. Ribbons will be given for prizes in all the regular classes, while special prizes will be awarded in certain classes.

The show will be in charge of a special committee, consisting of Francis Kerr (chairman), J. A. Scott, H. J. Keyes, Kellie Wilson, Ralph Preston, B. M. Montgomery, H. H. Bryden, C. A. Christie and T. A. Linton.

Friary Court Wins Newmarket Stakes

NEWMARKET, England, April 30.—Lord Alendale's bay filly, Friary Court, by Friar Marcus, underestimates, won the Newmarket 2-year-old stakes this afternoon by a head from Lord D's Abernethy Blue. Lord Alendale's filly was third by three lengths.

The betting was 9 to 4 against Friary Court, 9 to 4 against Blue, and 8 to 1 against All's Blue. Ten ran. The race was over the five furlongs course and had a value of about $40,000.

DECATUR IS RELEASED

NEW YORK, May 1.—Arthur Decatur, right hand gladiator of the Phillies, has been released to the Newark Club of the International League under an optional agreement, Manager Fletcher announced today.

SLUGGERS HELD SWAY YESTERDAY IN BIG LEAGUES

Pitchers Found Newly Acquired Supremacy Very Rudely Shaken

NEW YORK, May 1.—April ended in a tremendous uprising of the batsmen of the major baseball leagues, the National showing an average of 12 hits and seven runs for each team. The champion Pirates, who have suffered much in the early season, again staged a terrific onslaught and buried the Reds 13 to 4, with Wright, youthful shortstop star, smashing out two homers.

Another slugging battle was staged by the Cubs and the Cardinals, the National showing an average of 10 to 9, when Pitches Jones shot out a double and scored on Wilson's single in the 11th. Thirty one safe hits were made in the struggle, Blades, of the Cards recording a homer. Boston's Braves downed the Giants in a ten inning fray, 5 to 4. Grimes, moat ball expert, hurled winning ball for the Dodgers and the Brooklyn team set up their fifth straight victory of the week, 8 to 4, Philadelphia being the victims. Cox and Wheat, of the Dodgers, hit homers.

SENATORS STRIKE SNAG

The American League champion Senators fell again before the powerful bats of the Yankees 7 to 2. Ruth registered his fourth homer of the year. Sam Gray of the Mackmen served the best ball of the day, holding the Boston Red Sox to five hits, and besting them 5 to 2. Lamar drove two runs across with a homer in the first.

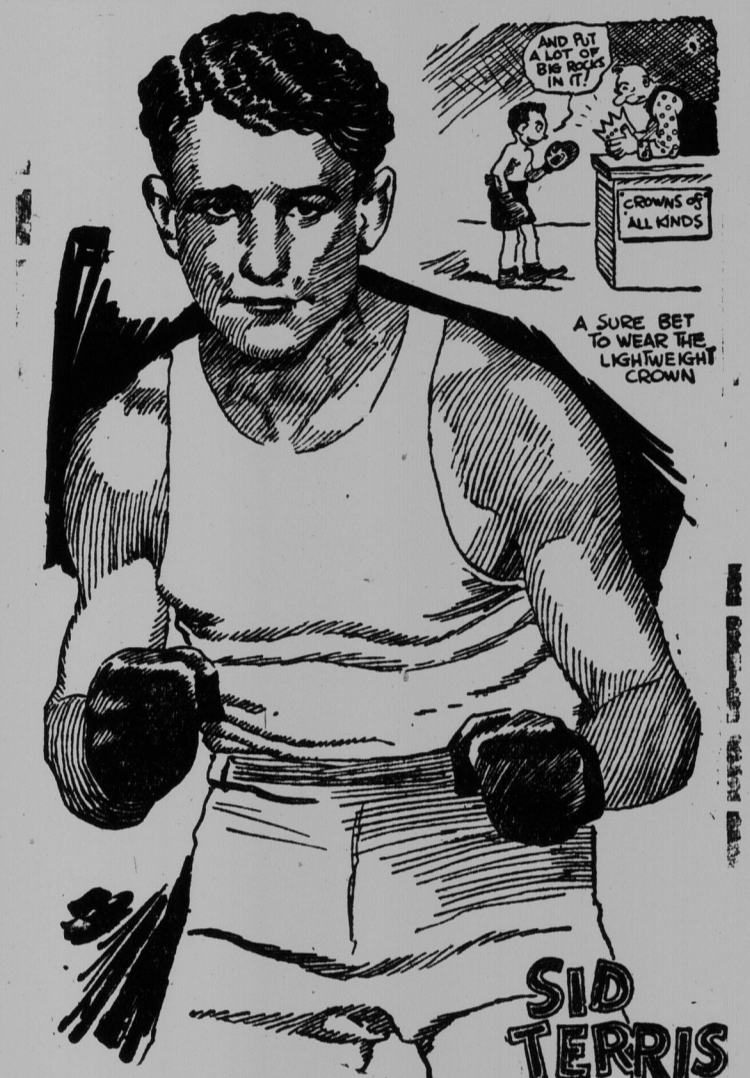

The Chicago White Sox gained their second straight victory over Cleveland, 3 to 2, with Lyons and Connolly doing the pitching.

HILTON BELVEA TO COACH JR. SCULLERS

A meeting of the Saint John Amateur Rowing Club will be held within a few days to elect officers and to discuss the prospects for the coming rowing season. The object of the latter question, it is said, is rather serious.

While there are several young oarsmen who are anxious for competition, both in the rowing club and in the tremendous drop during the past few years for a city that has produced several champions in the rowing circles. The Telegraph-News, ex-Champion Hilton Belyea, said that there are several scullers in Saint John, even in the junior class, who look remarkably good

Stepping To Front

One of the most promising lightweights in the game today is Sid Terris. In the last year he's stepped to the front rapidly, beating such prominent pug as Ace Hudkins, Jimmy Goodrich, Johnny Dundee and Pat Moran.

Terris started out as an amateur, where he was a sensation. He won 50 bouts in a row. He was never defeated. He capped titles in his days as a simon-pure.

Terris started his professional career in 1922. Since then he has engaged in close to 100 fights. He likes action and plenty of it. His only setback last year was in his bout with Sammy Mandell. After 15 rounds of hectic scrapping Mandell was given the decision.

Many critics opine Terris is one of the best bets for the lightweight championship at this time. Some even go so far as predicting that the Gotham gladiator will be the next title-holder. Terris is 23.

DEFEAT M. A. A. A. BY FIVE POINTS LAST EVENING

Final Contest in Series Tonight—Total Scores To Count

MONTREAL, May 1.—Winnipeg Toilers are a step nearer the basketball championship of Canada as a result of their 27-22 victory over the M. A. A. A. quintette at the Forum last night in the first game of the Dominion finals. The Westerners will thus take a five-point lead into the second and deciding tilt this evening.

The game last night was as fast as all stages as the 3,000 spectators could wish for and both teams shared the lead at different stages of the game. Both teams, though playing at different styles, were very evenly matched and it was only in the final moments of the contest that the Toilers put the game away with a determined rally, taking advantage of the loss to the M. A. A. team of Ed Gronatz, who was barred for personal fouls.

The crowd constituted a record attendance for basketball in Montreal, and they thoroughly enjoyed the contest.

STYLES OF PLAY DIFFER

A feature of the game was the different styles of play adopted by the two teams. M. A. A. used their favorite system in the passing game, and the Winged Wheelers' machine worked well in getting the ball up the floor to a shooting position. The westerners, on the other hand, played more on the American style and dribbled the ball continually and with more or less continued success. The Toilers, too, played a much faster and flashier game, and showed more speed than the M. A. A. forwards, who were content with working the ball up the floor by their clever passing. The great size of the floor favored the westerners in their style of play, and the M. A. A. guards had great difficulty in covering their fast forwards on the big expanse of court.

TENNIS CLUB ELECTS

At the annual meeting of the Drury Core Tennis and Outing Association, held recently at the Y. M. C. A., reports of the last year were submitted and officers elected as follows: A. E. Massie, honorary president; K. C. Fraser, president; T. B. Inkpen, vice-president; J. Elliott, treasurer; A. C. Clark, secretary; T. E. Simpson, W. G. Wright, C. H. Scott and L. H. Sandall, ad hoc members of the executive.

The years pass and the knowledge grows, and no more do we believe in the absolute goodness of individuals or parties that was ours in the far-off days."

ABRAHAM LINCOLN TO FEATURE

Chautauqua Programme in Saint John This Season

Chautauqua patrons in this section are to see John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln" this summer with Frank McGlynn in the title role, according to an announcement just made by Burt P. McKinnie, Director of the American-Canadian circuit, who visited here Wednesday evening and met with the local Chautauqua committee to lay plans for the Chautauqua for the coming summer.

"Contracts have been signed with Mr. Drinkwater giving us the rights to the play Abraham Lincoln for the Chautauqua season of 1926, and now that Mr. McGlynn has accepted our invitation to play the part of the Great Emancipator which he made famous in the original cast in the United States, we are ready to announce the news to our patrons and friends," said Mr. McKinnie. Drinkwater's "Lincoln" was the sensation of the 1919-20 dramatic season according to most dramatic critics. When it was originally produced at Hammersmith, England (a London suburb), it immediately made its place by its powerful but simple treatment of its dramatic hero and setting, with the result that Arnold Bennett said: "Nobody can dine out in London today and admit without blush that he has not seen Abraham Lincoln. Monarchs and princes have seen it. Archbishops have seen it. Statesmen, without number, have seen it. . . . Why has 'Abraham Lincoln' succeeded? Here are a few answers to the question: Because the author had the wit to select for his hero one of the world's greatest and finest characters. Because he had the audacity to select a gigantic theme and to handle it with simplicity. And, of course, because he has a genuine dramatic gift." It is expected that several of the cast associated with Mr. McGlynn in the first United States production, including his daughter, Grace McGlynn, will also be in the Chautauqua company.

BOY KILLED IN FALL FROM LUMBER LOAD

ST. GEORGE, April 30.—David Watson, 12 years of age, was instantly killed this morning at Pennfield. The boy was riding with two other boys on a load of lumber driven by Fred Gillespie, coming from the Sherwood mill, fell off and was crushed under the wheel. His family, mother, brothers and sisters recently moved from Second Falls to Black's Harbor. His father is dead and the family moved to Blacks to obtain employment in the factory there. Dr. C. C. Alexander, of St. George, was called, but found life extinct. There will be no inquest.

TO REPLACE CHURCH

Hopewell Hill Baptists Meet to Discuss Financing of New Building

HOPEWELL HILL, April 30.—A business meeting of the Hopewell Hill Baptist church to further consider matters in connection with the erection of a new church building to replace the one destroyed by the same months ago, was held in the hall on Wednesday evening. The building committee are to prepare and present plans and specifications for the congregation's approval at an early date. The matter of securing the additional amount of money to cover the cost of building, supplementary to that now on hand, was discussed and four solicitors were appointed to interview the members and report later. The church already has $2,000 insurance money and a number of contributions. No estimate of probable cost of the building was given at the meeting, but it is expected such an edifice as proposed will cost in the neighborhood of $5,000 or $6,000.

Is at Base of Detroit Arctic Expedition at Point Barrow

NEW YORK, April 30.—Captain George H. Wilkins is under treatment at the Point Barrow base of the Detroit Arctic Expedition for a broken right arm suffered more than two weeks ago but until recently thought to be merely a severe strain, according to despatches of the North American Newspaper Alliance today. The injury was received while Captain Wilkins was taking off from Point Barrow in his aeroplane on the attempted trip back to Fairbanks, Alaska, base of the expedition. Plans and specifications for the congregation's approval at an early date. The matter of securing the additional amount of money to cover the cost of building, supplementary to that now on hand, was discussed and four solicitors were appointed to interview the members and report later. The church already has $2,000 insurance money and a number of contributions. No estimate of probable cost of the building was given at the meeting, but it is expected such an edifice as proposed will cost in the neighborhood of $5,000 or $6,000.

BOAT CONSTRUCTION

The Carnegie Steel Co. at Pittsburgh is preparing plans and specifications for the building of three new river tow-boats. The Barrett Line, of Cincinnati, one of the most prominent and successful western river lines, is having a new boat built by the Howard Shipyards, at Jefferson. The machinery will be installed at either Cairo, Ill., or Paducah, Ky. The line is said to be planning the construction of at least one additional steamer.

FATHER SAVAGE IN CITY AFTER LONG JOURNEY

Moncton Priest Has Been In Various Parts of Old World

After three and a half months sojourning on the oceans of the world and under foreign skies in the most interesting parts of the universe, Rev. Edward Savage, pastor of St. Bernard's church, Moncton, and in years past the beloved pastor of the Catholic people at Sussex, reached New Brunswick today on the Boston express. He was met by the Rev. F. F. Walker of the Stella Maris parish here, and warmly welcomed.

Rev. Father Savage left with Hugh Hamilton of Moncton, on January 19th last, sailing from the Holy Land via the Indian route. After visiting the sub-tropical group of islands nearby, they proceeded to the extensive tour of the South American countries. The next jump was directly to Africa.

IN AFRICA

In the African territory they journeyed steadily on until Egypt was reached. Mr. Hamilton took the Holy Land trip but Father Savage, who had previously visited the sacred sites and was anxious to see other sections of that continent, proceeded in the direction of King Tut's tomb, where he inspected the outer enclosures of the famous coffin. These were seen in a museum in Cairo. The body of the young Egyptian monarch is still being guarded against the curious gaze of everybody.

Leaving Egypt, Father Savage retraced via the Mediterranean Sea, and the Strait of Gibraltar, through the Bay of Biscay to Southampton. While in the Mediterranean waters he did not neglect making another visit to Rome where he was received by His Holiness the Pope. The journey home from England was without special incident, though in the Old Country the Moncton clergyman revisited many familiar haunts.

Father Savage bears evidence of his ramblings in the blazing sun of the warmer climates. His face is bronzed and he appears in excellent health. Friends casually meeting him in the depot, congratulated him upon his safe return and good health.

GOOD PROGRAM IS ENJOYED BY MANY

Entertainment Given in Portland United Sunday School by C. G. I. T.

An enjoyable entertainment, attended by a large number, was given in Portland United Sunday school by the C. G. I. T. members. The first part of the program included: Selection by the Sunday school orchestra; piano solo, Miss Jean Stanton; vocal solo, Mrs. Fletcher Peacock; piano trio, The Misses Brown; vocal solo, F. J. J. Somersault; piano solo, Miss Phyllis McConnell; saxophone solo, Charles Kourke; vocal solo, Mrs. Percy J. Steed. Rev. H. A. Goodwin, who was chairman, cordially thanked those who had assisted.

The sale of candy was conducted, and afterwards the C. G. I. T. members gave a very fine presentation of the Chinese playette "A Somersault to Love." Mrs. H. A. Goodwin and Miss Emma Chown had trained the girls with much success, and a pleasing incident of the evening was the presentation of flowers to Mrs. Goodwin and Miss Chown as a mark of appreciation from the girls. Mrs. C. R. Mersereau kindly assisted with the arrangements for the play. Those taking part were: The Jade maiden, Miss Jean Stanton; Peach Blow, Miss Eva Monahan; small boy, Miss Dorothy Monahan; gateman, Miss Leah Baker; go-between, Miss Myrtle Jones; grandmother, Miss May Stanton; mother, Miss Olivia Sargent; young man, Miss Vivian Armour; maid servant, Miss Phyllis McConnell; man servant, Miss Dorothy Henderson; hair dresser, Miss Ruth Henderson.

BOY'S LEG BROKEN

Jumped Off Team Into Path of Automobile in Thorne Avenue

Francis McCoy, a seven-year-old lad was struck by an automobile last evening and received a fracture of one of his legs. It is not thought that he received internal injuries, although an X-ray had been taken at the General Public Hospital to make sure.

Percy Mackenzie, owner of the car, who was driving at the time, said he was in Thorne avenue about 6:30 o'clock last evening and while he was meeting a double team, going in the opposite direction, the little lad jumped off the rear of the team and directly in front of his car. Mr. Mackenzie, who said he was going at a slow rate, immediately headed the car for the fence, and the lad ran in the same direction, and the corner of the bumper struck the child. The accident happened about opposite the old Church of England burying ground.

Mr. Mackenzie took the injured lad to the General Public Hospital and reported the matter to the police and notified the mother of the child, who resides in Robthesay avenue. The matter was investigated by the detective department this morning and the statement that the lad had jumped off the rear of a team and in front of the automobile was confirmed.

CUSTOMS FIGURES

The Saint John customs receipts for April show a large decrease compared with the corresponding period last year. The decrease, $178,850.50, does not actually mean a falling off in business of this amount, as last year the income tax figures, which totalled the larger portion of this amount, were included, while this year they have been changed to a separate department again. However, there was an actual falling off of approximately $50,000 in receipts for last month. The figures follow:

1925	1926
Import duty.....$24,811.94	$481,624.36
Excise tax.....21,296.28	21,296.28
Excise duty.....4,972.32	5,400.83
Sundry Colls.....1,410.58	1,524.91
Income tax.....28,825.95	—
Flotage.....5,874.20	6,786.00
S. S. inspection.....1,240.00	210.00
Marine dues.....2,793.28	2,481.21
	$911,288.83
	$522,438.28

Decrease—$178,850.50.

AGAIN PRESIDENT

Miss Marion Peters Re-elected Unanimously By Trinity Tennis Club

The annual meeting of the Trinity Tennis Club was held last evening in the Church School rooms, with the honorary president, Rev. C. Gordon Lawrence in the chair. The reports of the secretary-treasurer, A. C. W. Parlee for 1925-1926 were confirmed by the meeting. Pleading features of the meeting were the re-election of Miss Marion Peters, the president, by acclamation, she having served as president for several years, and the large number of applications received for new membership in the club. Miss Dorothy Kee was appointed convener of the entertainment committee, with Miss B. Tapley and Miss M. Murray as additional members. It was decided to hold the opening tea on Saturday, May 15. The officers were elected as follows: Honorary president, Rev. C. Gordon Lawrence; honorary vice-president, Rev. W. E. Fuller; president, Miss Marion Peters; vice-president, Miss Margaret Wilson; secretary-treasurer, C. Allan McKee; additional members of the executive, Miss R. Crawley and A. C. W. Parlee.

COAL STRIKE NOT TO AFFECT SAINT JOHN GREATLY

Local Dealers Speak of Possibilities Following British Shutdown

A despatch to The Times-Star from Cardiff, Wales, this morning announced that ports of South Wales had been ordered to suspend exportation of coal and that ships which had already sailed were being ordered to wait for their turn. This was taken, the despatch said, to mean that the Government has taken over the control of the coal supplies.

Local dealers brought the information that Consumers Coal Co. Ltd. were the only one that imported Welsh coal by shiploads at this time of year. A representative of the company said that they had just had two small steamers in with this class of fuel and they had a fair supply on hand. However, he said it might mean no further shipments could be secured and this would stop the arrival of several vessels for the company during the summer.

BUNKERING

The agents here for the Dominion Coal Co. which look after bunkering steamers, this port said that the strike would not have any effect on the situation in Saint John as very little bunkering was done here during the summer.

One effect that the strike may have on local citizens a coal dealer remarked was to bring about the danger of an increase in the price of American anthracite as the mine owners were liable to take advantage of the removal of competition by Welsh and Scotch anthracite from the market and jump the wholesale price. This, he thought, would be only in case of a prolonged strike on the other side. At present little change was expected from the strike in the local coal market.

GOOD WORDS SAID FOR CHOIR LEADER

Wm. Ross of Church of Good Shepherd Leaves For Summer

Rev. F. J. LeRoy and Mrs. Le Roy of Fairville entertained the choir of the Church of the Good Shepherd at their home last evening in honor of William Ross, the choir leader, who is leaving for his summer home. Mr. Ross' valuable services to the church, and Thomas Pile on behalf of the choir cordially thanked Mr. Ross for his able direction, and painstaking leadership. Mr. Ross responded pleasantly and thanked the choir for co-operation. He will return in September and take up the work again. A social time was held for the practice. Old time songs were sung and all joined in playing games. Mrs. Edna Stevens, tubercular meningitis, acute tuberculosis, carcinoma pylorus, carcinoma of stomach and malignancy disease of intestines, one each.

A Moving Ode

The Busy Wife with Mop and Broom
 Hunts down Dirt from room to room.
 But with all her effort its plainly seen
 She needs the help of "CLEEVO CLEAN."

Despite the scrubbing and scurry about
 Rubbing and Polishing—all spots won't out.
 On base board and floor the marks still cling.
 So we'll paint 'em over with "HAND and RING."

When Walls are Dingy and Faded of Hue,
 And you sigh and wish for colors new
 Just take a brush and without stint
 Give them a coat of DECOTINT.
