THE FIRST CALL was paid in full by 442 of the shareholder and 79 bodies of trustees; even the seconcall found 85 persons and 27 bodies c trustees able to discharge it. and there ar. still 68 who are expected to pay it in full eventually. A large number seem to have made their peace with the liquidators by giving up the whole of their property a once. Of these 599 did not possess pro perty enough to enable them to meet the first call. They paid about thirty per cent of it, and had then to ask for a discharge Some paid the whole value of their estate in undisturbed enjoyment of them first call resulted in forty-eight bankrup! cies in addition to these settlements and there still remain about forty cases i which it is expected the full amount ' i'

THE SECOND CALL eems scarcely to have been so crushing a * the first. The poorest had been weede out. There were, however, 240 contr outor who could only pay half a millio out of three millions and a quarter demand ed from them, and were then ruine The bankruptcies under this call were on'; tive. Under each call, however, there r main a considerable number of cases whi have not yet been dealt with; and th whole amount of the ruin spread amou these eighteen hundred people has not been fully accomplished, even at the end of the first year of the liquidation. Ti. failure of the Glasgow Bank has therefor resulted in the
