TONY REVEALS PLOT TO MURDER EDWARD GREEN AND IMPLICATES THREE OTHER ITALIANS IN CONFESSION

CASTRO COMING BACK TO TAKE HIS MEDICINE Deposed President Believes His Luck Holds Good

Tells the Parisians His Country Needs Him and Deplores the Treachery Displayed by Gomez.

PARIS, March 25.—Cypriano Castro, the former president of Venezuela, and the members of his party left this city this morning for Bordeaux. At the railway station Senor Castro confided to a small group of Venezuelan adherents and addressed his intention of re-establishing the power in Venezuela by a revolution should this be necessary. After entering the car, where he donned the celebrated gold embroidered skull cap that his figure in every description of Senor Castro which he was occupant of the low House at Caracas, the deposed president of Venezuela leaned from a window and spoke to his countrymen with an earnestness and passion which left no doubt in their minds that he was convinced that he was another Napoleon returning from Elbe to conquer his country. "Like Francis first, all is lost save honor," Castro declared. "I am going back to Venezuela. My country needs me and my mission is there. Continuing, Senor Castro declared that his trip to Europe had been misunderstood both at home and abroad. He has not even been treated as a prisoner because he needed medical treatment but also to serve his country by interesting foreign capital in Venezuelan industries. He spoke bitterly of the treachery of Juan Vicente Gomez, whom he left as vice-president and who has since been made president of Venezuela, and predicted that those who were in control of the state would drive the country into bankruptcy. "In six months," he asserted, "the present government will be unable to meet the obligations of the republic." In conclusion Castro denounced as the enemies of his country those who were in control of the state and who had no attractions for him. He implored the people to support him, and his words were: "I believe that God and destiny call me back to Venezuela. I intend to return to my country, and there, even though it involves revolution, Castro's friends were much impressed by what he had to say. They asserted that he was a man of indomitable will, with supreme confidence in his own star.

Details of the Crime Given by Murderer Now Under Shadow of the Gallows

James Hatch, His Brother, and Another Italian Placed Under Arrest --- One of the Prisoners Escaped From Custody This Morning But Was Recaptured --- Great Excitement at Perth and Andover

As the result of a confession made to Constable Miles Macrae, of Andover, on Tuesday afternoon, important developments have arisen in the Perth murder case. Tony Arosia has confessed the whole affair, and in his story has revealed the existence of a plot in which at least five Italians were concerned, which had as its object the murder and robbery of Edward Green. From his statement it would appear that three others are perhaps as guilty as Tony himself, and his companion, Leon Seppilli.

By Constable Macrae and was eventually captured, after an exciting chase. The three are now under lock and key, and Constable Macrae is out looking for persons named by Tony as possible witnesses. After twelve o'clock today it was decided to examine the prisoners, and they were taken to the court house. There an enquiry was conducted behind closed doors, those taking part declining to make public what had transpired. In conversation with the Star this afternoon Constable Macrae regretted that he was unable at the time to disclose details of Tony's confession. He stated that the developments of yesterday and today were of the utmost importance, but from what has been learned it is apparent that a number of men other than those now under arrest are implicated in the crime, and any extended report of Tony's confession might alarm those men. The constables will this afternoon endeavor to gather in the other suspects.

ANOTHER SCANDAL IN SERBIAN COURT Crown Prince George Accused of Murder

Renounces His Right to the Throne and Will Leave Belgrade—His Act Affects European Situation

BELGRADE, March 25.—George, Crown Prince of Serbia, has renounced his right of succession to the Serbian throne. This action is the result of a bitter grass campaign in which the Crown Prince was accused of being the cause of the recent death of one of his servants, a man named Skokovic. In a letter to Premier Novakovich this morning the Crown Prince announced that he has taken his step rather than rest under the suspicion of having murdered his servant and that by the renunciation he foregoes all special privileges and immunities that attach to his person of the heir to the throne. Continuing, he expressed his willingness to proceed abroad for a lengthy sojourn. The actions of Prince George of Serbia in recent years have been the scandal of the Serbian Court. He is 29 years old and was designated Crown Prince of Serbia when his father, Peter First, ascended the throne in 1903, after the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga. He has been a leader of the war party in his country since the outbreak of the trouble with Austria-Hungary over the annexation by the Dual Monarchy of the provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina, and on a visit to St. Petersburg last October he was urged by Emperor Nicholas to abandon his warlike attitude. His riotous living has alienated the affections of the Serbian people and it often has been said that they would welcome the substitution of his younger brother Alexander as heir to the throne. The renunciation of the Crown Prince brings a new and perhaps important element into the crisis between Austria-Hungary and Serbia which is indirectly affecting all the great powers of Europe. The prince has been recognized as one of "radical fighting element," and while this is not the reason publicly assigned for his withdrawal it may exert important influence on the present crisis. The young prince has been the central figure of several sensational episodes since he came to Belgrade with his father, culminating with the latest affair of the murdered servant. He still managed to hold a considerable following among the people, mainly because of his warlike declarations as to maintaining Serbia's position by force of arms against all outside influences. VIENNA, March 25.—Official despatches have been received here confirming the statement that George, Crown Prince of Serbia has renounced his right to the throne of that country. It is reported that the prince already has fled the country, and another rumor is that he has resigned in favor of his younger brother, Alexander. (Continued on page seven.)

JOHN B. GUNTER, OF FREDERICTON, DEAD Has Been a Resident of the Capital for Nearly Half a Century—Normal School Student Dead of Typhoid.

FREDERICTON, N. B., March 25.—John B. Gunter, a widely known and respected citizen, died at his home this morning after a lingering illness from heart trouble. He was born in Gagetown and when quite young moved to Queensbury. For the past forty-five years he has been a resident of this city, being engaged during the greater part of his life in the insurance business. In the early seventies he contested the county unsuccessfully for the legislature, and on one occasion he was an unsuccessful candidate for the admiralty. He served as alderman for St. Ann's ward for fifteen years. Deceased was seventy years of age, and leaves a widow and two sons, and Marie at home. Dr. Fred B. of Chelsea, and Arthur of this city, and two daughters, Myrtle and Miss Lena Ritchie, a student at the Normal School, died at Victoria Hospital this morning from typhoid fever, aged eighteen. She was a daughter of N. R. Ritchie, of New Brandon, Gloucester, and her father was with her when she died. Deceased was a bright young lady and her death is deeply regretted by her late associates. The sad event was feelingly referred to by Principal Bridges at the opening of the Normal school this morning.

NEW YORK, March 25.—A special to the Times from Saranac Lake, N. Y., says: Some interesting financial possibilities have lately developed in the affairs of John McDonald, a prosperous plumber, who recently removed from Saranac Lake to Plattsburgh. The McDonalds are claimants of a very substantial portion of the City of Montreal, Que. Their land now valued at $5,000,000 was a war time grant from the British crown to the great-grandfather of John McDonald, according to the latter's story. The McDonalds have engaged counsel in Canada to prosecute their claim and are assured by their attorneys they say the case is a strong one. Should the McDonalds win the former Saranac Lake man figures he will receive $250,000 as his share.

P. E. ISLAND HAS HAD NO MAILED THIS WEEK Both Steamers in the Ice—Legislative Session Nearing an End—Dates of Election Trials Arranged.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., March 25.—No mails have been received from the mainland since Monday, the two steamers being tied up in the ice. The bye-election in the first district of Queens for the seat of the late Matthew Smith, will be held at 7 p. m. The Liberals have nominated Cyrus Crosey, of Bonahay, and the Conservatives John Myers. The election will be held on Monday, March 27, if the Liberals win the parties will stand 12 to 13, if they lose, 18 to 14.

GLACE BAY, N. S., March 25.—There is nothing new today in labor situation. Daniel MacDonnell, president of the Nova Scotia district union U. M. W. A., arrived from Halifax today and will proceed at once to make all necessary arrangements for the sessions of the conciliation board which he expects will begin work on Monday or Tuesday next. It is likely Hon. Justice Wallace, of Halifax, the chairman of the board, accompanied by G. S. Campbell, the Coal Company's representative, will arrive here either Friday or Saturday evening. In accordance with the terms of the Lennox act, the members of the board will hold a consultation with the parties to the alleged dispute and endeavor to erect an amicable settlement. And should their efforts in this matter fail they will commence their work and take evidence from witnesses for both parties. There are no further developments in the No. 1 trouble. The whistles did not sound for work today and the colliery remains idle as before. U. M. A. men claim there was no attempt on their part to prevent any of the men from work at the colliery if they desired, reports in local press to the contrary notwithstanding. It is not likely that the men at No. 2 will work until after the meeting of the board of conciliation.

STRIKES IN MANILA NO LONGER NECESSARY POLICE COURT.

MANILA, March 25.—The leaders of the strike and boycott against the Manila Street Railways and of the commercial houses of the city, have called them off. Both strikes have failed from their inception, but the boycott against the street car system has been partially effective. The union in control of the strike has announced plans to re-organize along lines which will lead to greater sympathy between labor and capital. The general labor situation has improved and it is doubtful if any more strikes will occur.

THE MOOSE HORN FIGHT WAS NOT VERY SERIOUS But It Might Have Been—One Man Got a Cut on the Arm, the Other Was Stabbed in the Hand.

HAMPTON, N. B., March 25.—There were a number of wild stories afloat here last night and this morning in regard to an alleged fight in a lumber camp at the Moose Horn, which resulted in a smashed face and a knife cut on the hand of one man, and a slashed arm from an axe on another. One story being that in the latter case a portion of the arm was cut entirely off, necessitating the amputation of the member. It is almost impossible at the present moment to get authoritative particulars of the occurrence, but so far as can be gathered it would appear that a quarrel arose between John Mallory, who is conducting lumber operations on the Moose Horn stream for the G. and G. Firewellings Mfg. Co., of Hampton, with a gang of some twenty-six men, and Joseph Best, the camp cook, over the wages to be paid by the former to the latter's camp assistant, Mallory refusing to pay the amount approved by the company. Best insisted on his men receiving $45 a month as agreed, and a wordy quarrel ensued during which Mallory smashed a tea cup on Best's face and stabbed him in the hand with an open clasp knife, whereupon Best seized a double bitted axe and made a swing at Mallory, the blow hitting him on the arm and inflicting a gash which "put him to bed." In Best's own expression, as reported here last night, when the latter came down the line on his way to the Ferry Point. The Firewellings Company officials here are without any details of the occurrence but have sent to the camp for a full statement of what took place. Both men are well known, here and have been in the employ of the mill company for some years.

TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS OF MATRIMONIAL MONGTON One Man Looking for His Wife, Finds She Has Been Married Two Years—A Husband Missing.

MONCTON, March 25.—Among the witnesses to be summoned here in connection with the robbery case, which has been publicly assigned for his withdrawal it may exert important influence on the present crisis. The young prince has been the central figure of several sensational episodes since he came to Belgrade with his father, culminating with the latest affair of the murdered servant. He still managed to hold a considerable following among the people, mainly because of his warlike declarations as to maintaining Serbia's position by force of arms against all outside influences. BRITONS IN THE SOUTH.
While the romance of the north is plentifully filled with the names of famous men who have toiled and suffered in the progress of science, the history of Antarctic exploration is almost destitute in this respect, and if for no other reason than the existence of this condition, the success of Lieutenant Shackleton should, in polar retail, be regarded as all the more remarkable. Yet since a voyage of exploration in this area, merely an incident whereas in former days it was a momentous undertaking, Shackleton's name will be meaningless to thousands, among whom the stories of far less successful explorers of the past are thoroughly familiar. What matters it whether Amundsen discovered the northwest passage? Who cares that Nansen brought back from the land of ice and snow a wealth of scientific knowledge? What, even, will it avail if Peary reaches the pole? These names and these discoveries are the dark rooms of memory while in our minds will ever be present the heroic recollection of Sir John Franklin. And as long as Erebus and Terror tower above the glistening ice fields of the south, so long will the name of Sir James Ross stand above that of all other Antarctic explorers. The Ross expedition was a greater achievement in its day, than will be the final dash to the south pole by whatever trident adventurer may win that triumph. So, although the man who effects one percent saving in fuel in power production today is a greater success than Wait, the name of whom appears above all others in the history of mechanics. The Shackleton expedition reached a point one hundred and eleven miles distant from the pole. It has traversed three hundred and fifty miles of ice, and returned absolutely unscathed, and the information obtained will no doubt disprove much of what has, on defective reasoning, been inferred by scientists. Shackleton's additions to the hitherto meagre store of knowledge possessed regarding the south polar regions will be the most valuable since the expedition of Captain Ross in 1841-42.

The first expedition to the south was in 1567 when the governor of Peru sent his nephew Alvaro Mendana on a vain quest. In 1603 another expedition left Callao and discovered land which is now part of the Hebrides group.
The first ship to reach the Antarctic circle was a 150 ton yacht which in 1599 was carried from Magellana Straits southward by tempestuous weather and touched land in 64 degrees south. In 1671 La Roche discovered the island South Georgia in the South Atlantic. Erebus and Terror which was discovered in 1773 by the Frenchman whose name it bears was visited by Capt. Cook on his third voyage. The Sandwich group south-east of South Georgia was discovered in 1772.
Among the most noted explorers of the southern districts was Capt. Cook, who in 1773 sailed from the Cape of Good Hope and crossed the Antarctic circle in long. 39.35 E. After meeting such losses ice and many icebergs, Captain Cook turned back and made his search for the southern continent. Captain Cook left New Zealand in Dec. 1773, and reached latitude 71.5 S. before he was forced to turn back because of danger threatening from the ice. In this voyage he established the north polar land it must be south of the parallels along which he sailed.
Various discoveries were made after this time by British, American and French vessels which added considerably to the knowledge of the region. The English Antarctic expedition of 1839-43 was undertaken mainly with a view to magnetic observations, and the determination of the south magnetic pole. Two old bomb vessels, "Erebus" and "Terror" were fitted out under command of Captain (afterwards Sir James) Ross. During the first season they made a careful survey of Kerguelen Island and established a magnetic observatory at Hobart Town. On New Year's Day, 1841, they crossed the Antarctic circle in long. 173 E. After toiling through an ice pack they reached clear water in 70.35 S., and the next day sighted land rising in lofty peaks covered with snow. Approaching nearer, the mountain peaks were found to rise to a height of 10,000 feet with glaciers filling the intervening valleys and snow feeding into the sea. A landing was made with difficulty. Innumerable penguins covered the shores, but no vegetation was seen. Sailing southward they discovered and named Franklin Island, and an active volcano which they named Mount Erebus. Another peak was found by them about Terror.

A wall of ice was found to skirt the shore, rising from 150 to 300 feet above the water, and calculated to be 1,000 feet thick. It was followed for 450 miles without a break. This great district was named Victoria Land. The latitude of 75 S. was reached in this voyage. On their next year's trip the expedition reached a point 73.11 deg. south. The work was continued in 1842 and 1843 with considerable success in locating new land and adding to the store of scientific knowledge.
The expedition was the most pretentious ever sent southward, and although its main object was not to reach the pole it penetrated the Antarctic to a point which stood as a record until 1900. In that year another British expedition, under Captain Scott, of the Discovery, reached 82.17 south. The Scott party included Lieut. Shackleton, who has in his recent voyage apparently made good use of his first experience.
Thus although other nations have given attention to the south polar regions, British explorers have been the only ones to achieve marked success.

POLITICAL SITUATION IN GERMANY IS INVOLVED
Von Buelow's Coalition Breaking Up—Rumors of His Resignation.
BERLIN, March 24.—Prince Von Buelow's coalition of the Conservative, Liberal and Radical parties apparently has reached a fatal crisis over the scheme of financial reform. In the Reichstag today, Herr Von Norman, the Conservative leader, on the floor of the house informed the leader of the National Liberals, Herr Baumbach, that the Conservatives were determined to carry through financial reform without considering where they would get a majority. This evidently means with the assistance of the clerical party which the government has taken since the dissolution in 1906. The Tagblatt indicates that Chancellor Von Buelow has been dropped and must resign. It declares that the Conservatives did not inform the Chancellor of the step they intended to take.
The Tagblatt says that the views expressed among the members of the Reichstag indicate that Chancellor Von Buelow will continue in office, working with a Conservative and Clerical coalition.

SHOT BY HIS OWN RIFLE

IPSWICH, Mass., March 24.—Untangling a parcel which he believed contained a rifle which had recently been stolen from a local store, a proprietor of Hayes Tavern, released a secret mechanism which fired the gun, late today, and the hunter, who had been brought in a package found in an outhouse. The package resembled a gun and Broderick opened it. It was peculiarly wrapped up, and before the last wrapper had been taken off, it was discharged.
It was Broderick's own rifle but no one seems to know how it happened to be loaded or how it came to be placed in the outhouse.

BRITAIN'S NAVAL PANIC IS ACUTE
Unionists Making Much of the Government's Germanic Disclosures
Critique Liberals for Consenting to be Party to Ten-Power Conference, Whose Report is Now Due.
NEW YORK, March 24.—The Tribune's London correspondent cables—The text of the Declaration of London, in which the representatives of ten naval powers united, is not available here, the officials not being in frames to disclose when the air is electric with suspicion and the country has temporarily lost control of its nerves. The declaration, which is being prepared for the international naval conference is the same government which did not know until yesterday that the German Admiralty had been accelerating since April the construction of Dreadnoughts and gaining ground in contesting England's supremacy of the sea.
The new code is likely to be sharply criticized by the naval martinet and experts, who consider that the country having the strongest navy should be a law unto itself and not be associated with nine other powers in framing a code for regulating the practice of belligerents and neutrals.
The nation is too greatly excited over the evidence that Germany is bent upon rivalling England in her line of battleships to do justice to the work of the conference and to give up the rights of her seafaring rights have been materially impaired or whether the interests of neutral commerce have been adequately protected. It is preoccupied with the vote of lack of confidence proposed by Mr. Balfour respecting the declaration, and the charges of the radicals that the Tories are working up an anti-German panic for political effect.

THE GIRL PATSY
Of all the good plays that Myrtle Hardie Co. have produced so far The Girl Patsy will compare most favorably with any of our previous offerings. It is a good old man part, Miss Myrtle in Patsy gave a finished performance and was the centre of attraction at all times. Mr. Albee as the father, while for sugar the boiling is continued until 235 degrees are reached when it is removed, and after cooling it becomes solid.
The opposition parties meanwhile are taking advantage of the opportunity and are denouncing the government for not meeting Germany's challenge by laying down eight Dreadnoughts in a year, or floating a naval budget of £100,000,000. ONLY REAL SECRET PLENTY OF STRING
Twill Make a Slim Genevieve of a Plump Doty.
Tips as to Adjust Straps and Such are Welcomed by the Eager Modistes.

The secret of the whole thing lies in plenty of string. Miss White said so at a recent session of the dressmakers' convention at Masonic Temple, New York, and proved it to the apparent satisfaction of the entire audience. "How can you pull them down over the largest part of you if you have little cotton strings a yard long?" she demanded. Not a dressmaker ventured a reply, but Miss White went on to say that she wasn't going to ask them to take her word for it and told her trusty lieutenant, Lella, to bring out the living models.

Lella obeyed promptly. The up-state modistes left their seats in a body and rushed toward the stage to get a closer view of the procession that filed forth from the dressing room, says the Sun. The first glimpse of Doty, who led the march, was enough to convince any unprejudiced spectator that it would take all the string the premises afforded to properly adjust her. Doty admitted that she tipped the scales to 275 pounds and added that she hoped Miss White would be able to fit her, because no one else had ever come anywhere near it.

"Dearest thing in the world," declared Miss White. "Probably you have never before had a sensible model. For a stout woman they must always be made of coutil—never of batiste. You can't expect to hold in 275 pounds of flesh with a few strips of silk or linen around the waist." "Probably you had never before had a sensible model. COMPULSORY SAFETY FOR STEAMSHIP PASSENGERS

Lilla by lilla the protection of the land has been thrown about passengers at sea, by making it compulsory for owners of vessels to equip them with certain safety-devices. Yet statutory provision always lags behind invention and today the provision of numerous pieces of apparatus is wholly voluntary. The Republic disaster is responsible for a considerable public opinion, but it is only by telegraph to be made compulsory on ocean-going passenger steamers, or on all those whose trips exceed in length a stated number of miles. It is noted editorially by the Marine Review that other devices might well be included in this provision, notably those for the detection and prevention of fires at sea.

As for the guests so gorgeously were they attired and so beautifully did they set off the creations that Miss White had purchased on the Rue de la Paix that the dressmakers said it would be awfully hard for them to make a selection among the models. The Moven Age was sweetly chic, but then so was the Louis XV.

Had Heart Trouble and Shortness of Breath For Six Years.
Was Weak and Thin—Only Weighed Seventy-three Pounds. Now Weighs One Hundred and Thirteen.

When you find your heart the least bit out of rhythm, your nerves unsteady, your breath short, don't wait until you are prostrated on a bed of sickness. Take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. They'll put you right on your feet. You'll feel your heart, make your nerves strong and your whole being thrill with new life. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured Mrs. K. E. Bright, Burnley, Ont. She writes: "I was greatly troubled, for six years, with my heart and shortness of breath. I could not walk eight rods without resting four or five times in that short distance. I got so weak and thin I only weighed seventy-three pounds. I decided to try some of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after taking eight boxes I gained in strength and weight, and now weigh one hundred and thirteen pounds. The most I ever weighed in my life. I feel well and can work as well as ever. I did, and can heartily thank Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for it all."

COMPULSORY SAFETY FOR STEAMSHIP PASSENGERS

There are several systems of fire-fighting apparatus aboard ship, but how many vessels are equipped with a device which will unfailingly announce the presence of fire in its incipency. How much longer has the shipmaster to depend on the keen sense of smell or sight of the various members of his crew to detect the smoldering blaze? A recent fire aboard ship was discovered through smoke being observed rolling from a hatch. In fact, the fire the master and mate of the vessel were overcome, the fire itself being extinguished only after many hours of strenuous effort on the part of the crew. This was a fire which, according to report, must have been smoldering some considerable time. Fire at sea is one of the few things which strike terror to the heart of the sailor. There are devices at present in use aboard ship which not only announce the presence of fire in the freight or other compartments, but will give warning of a rise in temperature in these compartments and so prevent any possibility of an outbreak. We have read letters written by masters, mates and engineers, commending these devices; letters from the men who were aboard ship when the device was the means of saving the vessel and lives of the crew. Is the day to come when shipowners will be compelled to adopt some such device, or will they still continue to depend on the pluck and endurance of the masters and crews of their vessels to extinguish any conflagration which may break forth?

ANOTHER BLACKHAND MURDER IN NEW YORK
Cigar Maker Shot Down by Italians—His Wife Pleaded With Them Not to Kill Him

Had Heart Trouble and Shortness of Breath For Six Years.
Was Weak and Thin—Only Weighed Seventy-three Pounds. Now Weighs One Hundred and Thirteen.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Another killing which the police declare should be added to the lists of crimes of the Blackhand Society was committed on the streets of Brooklyn today, when Joseph Genaro, a cigar maker, and supposed to be the father of a vaudeville performer of that name, was shot down and killed in a hail of bullets that followed a meeting of Genaro and a crowd of several Italians. The police made several arrests, and Mrs. Genaro who stood by and implored her husband's enemies not to shoot him, declared that Antonio Cincoetta, a saloon keeper, one of the prisoners, had killed her husband. Detectives have had Cincoetta under surveillance for some time, believing that he might know something of the movements of the Blackhand Society. Genaro had trouble last night with Cincoetta over a bad bond which the victim had put up for a friend of Cincoetta, who had fled. Genaro told Cincoetta that the latter should pay something toward the loss sustained and the saloon keeper thrust him out of the place. This morning Genaro, according to his wife, intended to see Cincoetta, but she begged him to remain at home, saying that Cincoetta and his friends would be waiting for him. Genaro, when he went out today, was followed by his wife. They met Cincoetta and his friends on the corner and the shooting followed.

AIRSHIP USELESS AS WAR MACHINE
Prince Henry of Prussia Gives His Views.

BERLIN, March 24.—Prince Henry of Prussia lectured Saturday before the Marine Academy at Kiel on his recent experience in making a voyage in the Zeppelin airship. His conclusions are not very encouraging to the Zeppelin enthusiasts. He said, among other things, that the airship was so sensitive to changes of equilibrium that, notwithstanding its enormous size, when a member of the crew had to change his place at the end of the car with a man at the other end they must leave their places simultaneously and pass precisely in the centre of the connecting gangway. The movement required considerable steadiness and courage on the part of men changing places. Orders could not be given orally from one car to another owing to the noise of the motors and propellers. Neither could a man be sent from one car to another, as the balance would be destroyed. Orders were written, placed in a carrier and passed along an endless wire.

Incorporated at $10,000,000 to Make Revolutionary Motor That Costs Almost Nothing to Operate—How in Reeling's Hands.

PORTLAND, Me., March 24.—The receivership for the C. O. Q. Development Company, whose principal office in Philadelphia was made permanent by a decision from the supreme court today and the receiver, Benjamin G. Ward of this city was ordered to wind up the affairs of the company. John E. Carroll, the Philadelphia inventor, formerly was treasurer of the company. It handled a motor invented by him and which he claimed would revolutionize the mode of propulsion and would cost practically nothing to operate. The company was incorporated at $10,000,000 and afterward some of the heaviest stockholders, contending that Carroll was not properly managing the affairs, asked for a receiver. Charles Oesebach was one of the liquidators.

VERDICT OF MURDER IN FORTY MINUTES
Two Negroes Will Die and Third Gets Term of Fifteen Years.

RICHMOND, Va., March 24.—At Powhatan court house today the jury in the Skippoth murder and arson case, after forty minutes' deliberation, returned a verdict finding Joe and John Taylor guilty of murder in the first degree and John Brown guilty of murder in the second degree and fixing the punishment of the last named at fifteen years in the penitentiary. The first degree murder verdict carried with it death in the electric chair. The men are three of a number of negroes charged with murdering Mrs. Mary R. Skippoth and Walter G. Johnson, the manager of her estate, and afterwards setting fire to the historic home, "Southwest."

WIFE MURDERER MAY BE PARDONED
PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 24.—The senate committee on pardons today voted favorably on the application for pardon of James F. Lynn of Pawtucket, now serving a life sentence for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Ann M. Lynn, in Pawtucket on the night of August 19, 1881. The woman's killing grew out of domestic trouble. The two had separated about three months before Lynn walked into his wife's store, pushed her out into the street and shot her down with her baby in her arms. She died instantly from a bullet wound at the base of the skull.

CARLETON'S NEW MEMBER
MAKES SERIOUS CHARGES

FREDERICTON, March 24.—Geo. W. Upham, the new member for Carleton, delivered his maiden speech in debate on the address this afternoon, and in the course of a vigorous and forceful address made serious charges against the Conservative party in his constituency—charges reflecting in a damaging way upon the government itself. Amid frequent applause from opposition members, Mr. Upham replied in a telling manner to the attacks made upon him by government speakers, and exposed the disgraceful methods resorted to by his opponents to bring about his defeat in Carleton. He also made reference to the recent Dominion campaign in his county and charged that a Conservative worker named Armstrong, undergoing a sentence in jail for theft, had been released in order that he might exercise his franchise on behalf of B. Frank Smith.

Mr. Currie of Restigouche and Mr. Tweeddale of Victoria also made strong speeches this evening in condemnation of the government's policy.

It is expected that the debate on the address will scarcely be finished before Friday evening. Several members of the government are yet to speak, and Hon. Mr. Borden has announced that he intends to define his position.

A government newspaper has sought to break the force of Dr. Sormany's caustic criticism of the government by publishing the statement that he is an applicant for the position at the Trades Institute vacated by the death of Dr. Smith. As a matter of fact Dr. Sormany is not an applicant for this position, although it is generally understood that he could have had it for the asking. He is supporting the application of Dr. Lauglis of Petit Roche for the position, and the latter is pretty sure of being appointed.

MAGNIFICENT STABLE AND CONTENTS BURNED

BROOKLINE, Mass., March 25.—A magnificently-appointed stable, belonging to Miss Annie Lowell, sister of Prof. A. Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard University, on Warren Street, was burned early this morning with all its contents, causing a loss of $5,000.

Five valuable driving horses, two expensive automobiles, seven carriages and several sets of harness were destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown.

SPLENDID OFFER MADE
BY LORD STRATHCONA

Ten Thousand Dollars Yearly
to Encourage Physical Drill in Canadian Schools.

OTTAWA, March 24.—In the commons this afternoon Sir Frederick Borden made an announcement that he had received a letter from Lord Strathcona offering the sum of $10,000 per annum for the encouragement of physical and elementary drill in schools. In his letter Lord Strathcona wrote that he had long entertained the opinion that such training was of the highest value in developing the moral, physical and intellectual qualities of children as well as patriotism, and he was anxious to take part in the work in that direction. He suggested that a fund be designated, a fund for the encouragement of physical and military training in public schools, and that it should be administered by a body of trustees appointed for the purpose. The central body might be composed of the Minister of Militia as president and the Minister who should control the education in the various provinces as vice-presidents, provided each province declares its adhesion to the principles agreed upon. Lord Strathcona suggested the executive might be composed of members of the militia council representatives to be named by the Ministers controlling the education in the various provinces, two each for Ontario and Quebec, one each for the other provinces, military officers commanding in independent districts. His lordship also suggested the Governor General as patron and the Prime Minister as vice-patron and that the money should be distributed by local committees. He desired particularly that the special value of military drill, including rifle shooting, should be borne in mind.

THANKS TENDERED.
On motion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, seconded by Mr. Borden, the thanks of the House and of the people of Canada were tendered to Lord Strathcona.

The premier, in moving the resolution of thanks, said Lord Strathcona had rendered many services to Canada, but he thought none of greater importance than this one. The value of physical education for the young was being increasingly understood throughout the world and the system now initiated by Lord Strathcona would provide that physical training will become part of the education of boys and girls of this county.

The rest of the sitting was spent in committee of supply on supplementary public works estimates for the current fiscal year.

On the item of $4,650 for construction of wharves in the tidal waters of the St. John River and tributaries, Mr. Crockett asked why the work of building wharves on the St. John River, provided for in the estimates passed last year, had not been gone on with. He said tenders had been called for prior to the general election, but after the election proposed works had been quietly dropped.

Dr. Pugsley explained that after the provision of parliament last July he had given orders to the engineers of the department to have the plans and specifications prepared for wharves in question, but when the tenders were submitted he found that the cost of the wharves would be considerably more than he had anticipated. He thought none of these wharves should cost more than $2,000 and accordingly the work of construction was not proceeded with. During the coming summer new plans would be prepared and the promised wharves would be built next year.

PRINCE OF WALES' ACTIVITY SURPRISE TO HIS FRIENDS

Hair to the British Throne Visits a Score of Hospitals and Attends Lectures and Banquets.

LONDON, March 24.—Many people have been wondering lately how very active the Prince of Wales has been. Hardly a day has passed since his return to London, five or six weeks ago, without his visiting some hospital or public institution.

He has been to about a score of hospitals by now. He has attended certain scientific lectures and made a speech to cadets on patriotism, which has fairly stormed the hearts of the people. Besides all this he has his routine duties and his work in relation to the Duchy of Cornwall, to which he always attends personally. He has dined with the Saville Club and the Automobile Club, and I suppose that these two occasions may be taken as rather less matters of duty than the others.

The only question is whether he does not take his life too seriously. Some of his friends seem to think that the capacity for sheer enjoyment which has been not only a relief but even a valuable asset to King Edward for forty years has found no place among the Prince's qualities, at least in this respect in the public eye. His circle of friends is very small, and his house is really the centre of his happiness and England his chief interest, and point which almost reaches popularity.

The contrast between the King and the Prince works in their personal relations—as contrast so often do—extremely well, and it is to be remembered that circumstances have made it more difficult for the Prince than it was for the King to find his public work.

GROOKS SELL ERIE MAN BIT OF CENTRAL PARK

"For Sale" Sign Locked Genuine—Pennsylvanian Stung for $4,000.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Captain Michael Betty of the West Sixty-eighth street police station was on duty yesterday for two extra duty days, and he was stung for $4,000. He was stung by a Pennsylvanian who had bought a genuine "For Sale" sign for $4,000. The sign was for a bit of Central Park in West Forty-third street.

Sawtelle, who is quite a stranger here, pleads that he does not come from Erie proper, but from a suburb of that prosperous burg. He came to New York in answer to a real estate advertisement, and he was lured into elaborate real estate offices in West Forty-third street.

Sawtelle had with him $4,000 to bind the proposed deal. The party, two men and Sawtelle, got into an automobile and were whirled up to Central Park, where that proposed part of the city's property that was to go to the man from Erie, for a consideration, was located. This had been neatly labelled with a small sign, "For sale. Apply to Charles Hanks, West Forty-third street." Sawtelle was amused of the lot. He went to the Plaza to close the deal. Meanwhile a confederate pulled down the sign.

Sawtelle paid down $4,000, and the owners took a mortgage on the property for the remaining $12,000 and handed over the deed.

SAYS WIFE DESERTED WHEN BURNS MADE HIM UGLY

Husband, Seeking Divorce, Tells of Woman's Love That Died as She Saw His Disfigured Face

PHILADELPHIA, March 24.—The story of a love that was killed when the husband became disfigured for life was told in the statement filed by Frederick P. Sulzbach of 1844 Germantown avenue, yesterday, in a suit for divorce from his wife on the ground of desertion. The suit will not be contested, it is said.

The Sulzbachs were married in the summer of 1907, after a short but ardent courtship. Sulzbach at that time was a picture of health and vigor and a man of unusual physical attractiveness. They lived happily together until April, 1908, the papers say, and then came the accident that ruined the appearance of the husband for life.

Sulzbach was horribly burned and was taken to a hospital. The proof of the affection his wife bore him, he says, was shown in the fact that she could hardly wait until his wife should come to pay her daily visit, to tell her the good news.

But when Mrs. Sulzbach came, she says, there was a change. She found him with both ears burned off and with his face covered with scars which would never be effaced. She shuddered, he said, and left the hospital after a shorter stay than usual.

The day toward which the injured man had been looking eagerly forward to came. The bandages were removed, and he was assured that in a short time he could return to his home. He could hardly wait until his wife should come to pay her daily visit, to tell her the good news.

But when Mrs. Sulzbach came, she says, there was a change. She found him with both ears burned off and with his face covered with scars which would never be effaced. She shuddered, he said, and left the hospital after a shorter stay than usual.

GETTING FEW FACTS IN THE WHITLA ABDUCTION

Prosecution Likely to be Conducted in Pennsylvania—High Praise for the Police.

CLEVELAND, O., March 24.—J. P. Whitla, of Sharon, Pa., father of Willie, the central figure in the kidnaping case, did not return to Sharon with the other members of his family yesterday. He asserted he is in Cleveland to clear up some private-law affairs.

Charges against Boyle and the woman who claims to be his wife, are expected to be handed down by the grand jury today. Further efforts to obtain a satisfactory identification of the woman in the case will be made today, Thomas F. Boyle, of Sharon, Pa., a brother of the man under arrest, has arrived in Cleveland today. He has asked permission to see the woman detained at the central police station and he may be able to throw some light on her identity.

"We want justice administered and have just been reached," said Mr. Whitla, "and we want justice administered and have just been reached." He said he and Mrs. Whitla have the highest appreciation for the constant activity of the police all over the country.

"No understanding as to prosecution has yet been reached," said Mr. Whitla, "and we want justice administered and have just been reached." He said he and Mrs. Whitla have the highest appreciation for the constant activity of the police all over the country.

A LONG-SILENT CITY

Discovered by a Mountain Climber in California.

LONG BEACH, Cal., March 24.—The most important archeological discovery ever made in the southwest is reported by B. F. Bond, who has just returned from a trip to the San Jacinto Mountains. Mr. Bond found the ruins of an ancient city of unknown origin, hidden in the mountains and containing about one thousand stone houses.

Charles F. Lummis, historian of Los Angeles, and a noted archeologist, says no such ruins had ever been reported before, and that the discovery is of the greatest importance to archeologists and historians of the early period of California. Mr. Bond immediately sent accurate information concerning his find to the scientists of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, so that it may be properly exploited.

The discovery was made by accident. Mr. Bond was tramping in the mountains when he stumbled upon the silent city. The houses were all one-story dwellings of two sizes. The older and larger houses were 12 by 12 feet, and the smaller and better preserved were 8 by 12 feet. The houses were built along regularly laid out streets paved with huge blocks of stone that had been covered 30 days before by white earth. This earth had been washed away by the rains, leaving the stones bare. At the point of greatest height of the city there are seven of these paved streets.

LUMBERMEN WON'T MAKE PUBLIC THEIR REQUESTS

Delegation Saw the Surveyor General and Will Meet the Government Later.

FREDERICKTON, N. B., March 25.—The New Brunswick Lumbermen and Mill Holders Association had a meeting this morning and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, John P. Burroughs; Vice-President, Henry Hildyard; Secy-Treas., R. A. Lawlor.

A delegation composed of Messrs. White, Burns, Hinch, Bandolph, Hill, Burdell, Crocker, Robinson, Gunter and Curran afterward met the Surveyor General and presented a memorial in relation to the lumber regulation. After an informal talk it was agreed that the delegation should meet the whole executive before the office of the session and discuss the question. It was decided not to make public the contents of the memorial in the meantime. Announcement that small lumber operators in the North Shore were organizing, probably influenced this decision.

ANOTHER SCANDAL IN SERBIAN COURT

The Serbian Kolakovic was removed to a hospital last week suffering from serious internal injuries, and he died the next day. According to the report of the doctors who performed an autopsy on the body the man suffered from a serious injury consequent upon falling down stairs. The press and the public, however, openly voiced their suspicions that the Crown Prince was responsible for the death of his servant. The scandal grew to such proportions that it was impossible to hush it up, and the final outcome was the sensational announcement of the Crown Prince to the Premier.

Immediately upon the receipt of the Prince's letter the Premier notified the members of the cabinet of its contents and summoned an urgent meeting of the cabinet for this afternoon at which King Petr will preside. The action of the Crown Prince has created a profound sensation here. The national assembly at once adjourned upon hearing the news. The newspapers issued extra editions and the intelligence quickly caused the assemblage of excited knots of people in the public places of the city. Acting in the name of the Serbian constitution the renunciation of the Crown Prince can be accepted only by the Grand National Assembly. Minister of Finance Protos declared in an interview today that the Crown Prince could not voluntarily renounce his rights to the throne, explaining that such a step must have the sanction of the National Assembly before which the matter will be laid tomorrow.

Probably the largest display of the muslin, white and colored linen, and wool goods dresses are on sale this week and new robes are arriving every day to complete the company's collection of new models for the Easter opening which will be an especially attractive one.

LOCAL NEWS

Only a few more days of Pidgeon's great clearance sale. Come today and take advantage of the final prices on finest shoes, boots and rubbers for men, women and children.

The monthly meeting of the Treasury board will be held this evening at City Hall. The most important matter on the program will be the estimates for the assessment for the coming year.

The Standard made its appearance from the Globe press this morning. In an editorial which begins: "It is hardly plain why it is here," a half column of space is devoted to explanation. The paper is, in appearance, identically the same as the Montreal Standard.

At Brussels street Baptist parsonage at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Rev. A. B. Choe officiated in the marriage of Miss Minnie I. Reid, of Salt Springs, and Mr. Spurgeon W. Smith, formerly of Timorville.

The marriage was a very quiet affair. The bride was attended by Miss Betty Porter and the groom supported by Mr. Hilyard Reid, both of Salt Springs. Miss Reid was married in a very dainty costume of brown silk. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Smith left by the C. P. R. express for Vancouver where they will make their home.

FOUR NEW APPLICATIONS FOR LIQUOR LICENSES

All Have Been in the Business Before—One Loss Wholesale—Hotels, Club and Brewery Unchanged.

Four new applicants want to run saloons in the city and one wholesale firm has decided to drop out. This is the net result of an examination of the applications for liquor licenses for next year, the time for receiving which expired at noon today.

John Robinson & Sons, who formerly had a branch here, did not apply for renewal and this leaves twelve wholesale dealers instead of thirteen, as last year. There are the usual applications from one brewery, one club and six hotels.

Among the retailers the changes are as follows: W. E. Baxter asks for a license for Water street where he used to keep and J. C. Doherty applies for a license for 14 Church, both in the same ward.

John Travis asks to be allowed to re-open on Mill street and W. L. Hogan wants to change from 100 to 102 City Road, both in Kings ward. John A. Warnock applies for a license on Queen street and W. L. Hogan in Wellington ward and M. A. Harding wants to change from Main street to 9 Paradise row in Dufferin ward.

As Queens ward now has nine licenses and Kings six, which is up to the limit allowed by law, four of the new applicants are doomed to disappointment unless the applications of some of the present holders are denied.

The license commissioners meet this afternoon to fix a date for the consideration of the applications. It will probably be about April 10th.

A UNIFORM SYSTEM OF MUNICIPAL ACCOUNTING

Mayor Bullock has received an advance proof of the bill providing for a uniform system of municipal accounting which has been drawn up by a committee of the Canadian Union of Municipalities. The plan will be discussed at the next meeting of the Union and in the meantime criticisms will be made by the various cities and towns.

Mrs. Mowatt was formerly Miss Holland of this town. Death was due to pneumonia. Her son Chester left yesterday for Boston and will bring the remains here for burial.

He leaves four daughters, Mrs. John Sewell, Mrs. James Anderson and Mrs. King of Burnt Church and Mrs. F. S. Titus in Campbellton. P. GIFFKIN TALKS OF THE NEEDS OF THE D.A.R.

Losing Money on Present Winter Service—Want a Better Berth—Not Anxious to Sell to the I. C. R.

P. Giffkin, general manager of the Dominion Atlantic Railway, arrived in the city today on his return from Ottawa.

Mr. Giffkin's mission to the capitol was to secure better terms from the government for the St. John and Digby steamer service. Until two years ago the company ran an intermittent service in the winter months and drew a subsidy of $18,000 per annum. It was then agreed that the service should be made daily all the year around at a subsidy of $20,000. The company had been losing money under the old arrangement and the new plan was adopted as an experiment. It has been found that it is impossible to run the present service without a loss, and in consequence the government has been asked to either allow a reduction of the service or grant an increase of $5,000 in the subsidy.

The St. John Board of Trade have placed themselves on record as opposed to any reduction, and A. B. Copp, ex-M. P., has been to Ottawa in the interests of the service.

Mr. Giffkin made application to Sir Richard Cartwright, Minister of Justice and Commerce, and it will probably be referred to the New Brunswick and Nova Scotia members. He looks for favorable consideration.

Regarding the suggestion that the D. A. R. be purchased by the I. C. R., the general manager said: "The road is not for sale. We do not look on the D. A. R. as a branch road and I do not see that it comes under the proposed bill. Of course the government can buy anything, but we are not looking for an opportunity to sell."

Mr. Giffkin expressed the hope that if the harbor is taken over by a commission it may see its way clear to give their steamers a better berth, where they can load and discharge at any time of the tide.

67TH ANNIVERSARY OF WATERLOO ST. CHURCH

Will be Observed by Appropriate Services From April 4 to 6.

The congregation of Waterloo Street Church has arranged a special programme in honor of the sixty-seventh anniversary of the founding of their church which occurs on Tuesday, April 6th. On Sunday, April 4th, Rev. W. K. Kesteven, Ph. D., of the University of New Brunswick, will preach at both services and a special service will be held in the afternoon.

On Monday evening a thank offering service will be held at which each member of the congregation will respond verbally to the roll call. During the evening Wm. Peters, the oldest member of the church, will give some reminiscences and the Clerk, J. S. Smith, will read a history of the church. A congregational social and a special service will be held on Tuesday evening for which a musical programme is being arranged. The pastor, Rev. Gibson Swin, will preside at all the gatherings.

FURTHER FACTS ABOUT THE ITALIAN'S CONFESSION

Sandy Murray is the Name of the Third Man Arrested—Tony's Story Written Out.

A late message to the Star this afternoon, in connection with the report of the Plaster Rock murder case which appears on the first page of this paper, states that although the three new prisoners are described as Italians, there appears to be some uncertainty about this. The men are James Hatch, Andrew Hatch and Sandy Murray. The latter was arrested by Sheriff Gagnon in Madawaska County.

Constable McRae had a hard struggle with James Hatch whom he arrested at Peter Crocco's hotel in Plaster Rock. McRae was not armed, and Murray put up a fight but was eventually overpowered.

The session in the courthouse at Perth today was for the purpose of formally taking down, before a magistrate and witnesses, the confession made by Tony.

VERY SUDDEN DEATH OF JOHN T. McLEOD

About eleven o'clock this morning John T. McLeod of the West Side took suddenly ill while at work and dropped dead.

The deceased was a man 70 years of age and one of the best known residents on the western side of the harbor. He was a ship carpenter by trade. This morning Mr. McLeod was assisting Frank Babey in some survey work on the Carlton flats when he suddenly expired. Coroner Kenney was notified and the remains were removed to the deceased's late home, 43 Winslow street.

Mr. McLeod leaves a grown up family. He was a citizen esteemed by all who knew him.

AN UNBREAKABLE SET OF TEETH

There is a class of patients who do not object to paying a fair price for artificial teeth, if they can really secure comfort, usefulness and naturalness.

I have a set of teeth, such as is unobtainable in any other office in this city, to my knowledge. It is out of the ordinary line and unlike the teeth in general use its beauty is at once apparent and it is practically unbreakable. It will pay those who are desirous of obtaining the best to be had in the dental line to call and inspect this for themselves. I will gladly demonstrate its superiority over other plates, even if you have no immediate intention of investing.
