D. Bassen's

QUESTION :

For Shoes, where do you intend to buy them? Do you know, or have you ever figured your shoe expense? You pay big prices for your shoes; do you know why you pay so much? If you don't know we will tell you. You pay for the name of the shoes, and not because they last longer or have any special style for you.

WHY !

We have the same styles, the same shapes, and looks same; and they will wear just as long or perhaps longer, in every class of shoes, for men, women and children, high shoes, low shoes, laced, button, or elastic sides; in black leather, patent leather, tan, chocolate or ox blood. The prices are so low you will ask yourself: "Is it possible?" Ladies' Low Cuts from 98c to $2.50, Children's from 50c to $1.45, and the prices of all the stock in general are lower than one can imagine.

Social and Personal.

Caleb Hennessey went to Calais, on Thursday's train.

Hazen McDowell of St. Andrews, spent Sunday in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wentworth, of L'Etete, spent Monday in town.

Miss Ethel McLaughlin of Calais, Me., is visiting the Misses McLaughlin.

Frank Birby, representing Baird and Peters, Str John, was in town Monday.

Dr. Hubert McLaughlin of Danforth, Me., arrived in town on Saturday.

Daniel Phillips of Plaster Rock arrived home on Monday.

Cecil Magee of Back Bay was in town on Friday.

Miss Lillian Magee spent Sunday at her home in Back Bay.

Mrs. Thomas Youngmans is slowly improving from her recent illness.

D. J. Leland of Mascarene was in town Monday.

Edward Clinch arrived home from St. Andrews on Sunday.

Miss Sarah Moore enjoyed a trip to her home in St. Stephen last week.

Chas. Lynott made a trip to St. John last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Goodnow, arrived from Boston on Monday, to spend the summer months at their home.

L. V. Price of St. John and L. P. Snyder of Toronto registered at the Victoria last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dockendoff of Lawrence, Mass., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Matheson.

Frank Chaffee, wife and family of Letang spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Chaffee's father, Thomas Magowan.

Mrs. John Murphy, who has been spending a few weeks with friends here, returned to her home in Parrsboro, N. S., on Monday.

Geo. McCallum, Patrick McLaughlin and Samuel Austin went to St. Andrews on the S. S. Connors Bros. yesterday to attend County Court.

The Think'le Club met last night at the home of Mrs. James Chase. It was the last meeting of the year, and each one was dressed in ancient costume. Excellent refreshments were served and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Rev. E. V. Buchanan has been on the sick list with LaGrippe, being unable to conduct the evening service in the Baptist church on Sunday last. We are pleased to learn of his convalescence.

Mrs. T. R. Kent was hostess at a delightful party on Friday evening. About thirty were present including the members of the junior choir of the Baptist church. The hostess as usual, had many novel forms of amusement with which to make the evening a most enjoyable one. Miss Carrie Gillmor and Miss Edna O'Brien furnished excellent music. A feature of the evening was the advertisement guessing contest. The prizes, for the lady and gentlemen having the most numbers correct, went to Miss Carrie Gillmor and Mr. Edward McGratten.

About midnight a delicate repast was served consisting of coffee, sandwiches, various kinds of cake and ice cream. Loath to leave such an enjoyable gathering, the jolly crowd continued to make merry. After singing a lengthy selection of college songs the happy crowd broke up and pronounced the evening to be "just the best yet." None reported seeing Halley's comet! It could not have been on time.

Town Council

First Regular Meeting of New Council--Many Reports Received--Three Hour Session--Well Petition Granted

The new council met in regular session for the first time since election on Monday night and three hours was the time required to transact the business. Present the whole council. In the absence of Mayor McGee, Ald. Craig was appointed chairman of the meeting. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The marshal's report was read and received. The estimate of expenditure for the school amounting to $3,262 was read. It was moved and seconded that the estimate of expenditure be assessed, carried. The following bills be ordered to be paid: J. Dewar & Sons--$11.07. Alfred Spinner, labor--$3.00. Tom Spiney, labor, $1.50. St. George Pulp & Paper Co.--90cts. Robert Berry labor--90cts. Greer's Publishing Co. $1.25.

Ald. Seelye reported that H. V. Dewar would not accept the alms house commission and moved that Harold Dow be appointed, seconded by Ald. Cawley, carried.

The council then held a recess to recommend appointments. On being called to order the following officers were appointed: Town Clerk--J. C. O'Brien. Town Treasurer--H. G. McDougal.

Town Marshal, Scott Act Inspector, Levi W. Goodell. Auditor--Alex. Herrod.

It was moved, seconded and carried that Capt. Chas. Johnson's bill of $5.00, expenses for being sworn in police magistrate, be paid.

The report of the assessment committee that the amount of $5435.29 be voted for the total expenditure was read, moved, seconded and carried that the report be adopted.

It was moved, seconded and carried that the clerk be instructed to make a warrant to the assessors to the amount of the assessment.

It was moved, seconded and carried that the police take charge of the lights.

Al. McKenzie then read a petition signed by 161 ratepayers of the town that an artesian well be bored on Carleton street.

In a ten minute address he claimed that it was the duty of the council of an incorporated town to look after the interests of the people and showed that the boring of the well was to their best interests.

He claimed that the past mayors and council's had made many improvements and had been active in the town's progress and he would continue to make improvements. He favored the motto of "First things first" and an adequate water supply was the first thing to be considered. He claimed the waterworks would be expensive for the town at present, but a well could be afforded.

He further pointed out that the lower street was the most thickly settled street in town and further that the school children would be greatly benefited by such a well. He then closed by moving that a well be bored on Carleton street in accordance with the wishes of the people.

It was quickly seconded by Ald. Boyd. Ald. Meeting claimed that many residents of the other parts of the town were opposed to such a well.

Ald. Seelye suggested limiting the amount to be expended on the well but strongly favored it and he claimed the people needed it.

Ald. Meeting thought it would be a good idea to clear off the town debt first. He would favor waterworks in the town, which he thought could be put in for $10,000.

Ald. Seelye claimed that the town could put in three artesian wells for less than $1,000. On motion council then adjourned.

By The Way.

"Gone, again."

The population of Canada apart from natural increase is growing at the rate of one thousand per day this year.

The new council made their acquaintance with each other and town affairs on Monday night.

Get out and limber up your arm and it will be easier to get in shape when the new baseball diamond is finished.

What better fun is there than to feel the tug and quiver of a nice speckled three pounder? (If he stays on the hook.)

John Magowan has made a great improvement in the appearance of the lawn in front of his residence. At least one has had pride enough in the town to help beautify it. Let others follow.

On Friday night a Jeffries Johnson mill caused great excitement. After sparring for an opening for a few moments Jeffries made the said opening in Johnson's opener. Johnson lost the fight on a foul and the referee separated the ring artists and called the bout off.

THE KIND HE WAS PLANTING

"Hello, Pat, what are you doing? 'I'm plantin' potatoes.' 'What kind of potatoes?' 'Raw ones. D'ye think they'd be biled?'"

THE COAT THAT SHRANK

Clothier--Were you pleased with the overcoat which I sold you? Customer--Oh, yes; all my boys have worn it.

"Well, think of that!" "I do. Every time after a rain the next smaller one has to take it."

ing claiming that it would cost the town much more than $10,000 to put in waterworks. He took for examples the town of Gibson which town is the same size as St. George and their waterworks cost over the $20,000 mark; also Marysville, the waterworks of that town costing $22,000. Ald. Cawley advised taking time to consider the question. He would limit the amount to be expended and would have the well as near the school as possible. Ald. Bogue claimed that the people on Carleton street paid taxes and was strongly in favor of having the well bored. Ald. Meeting would support having a well near the school.

On the call for question the motion being put six voted to grant the petition and one against it. It was moved by Ald. McKenzie that a committee of three be appointed to decide upon location of well and report details at a special meeting to be called upon the return of the mayor, seconded by Ald. Bogue, carried.

Committee--McKenzie, Bogue and Cawley.

It was moved, seconded and carried that a lady selling a religious book in connection with the lectures given by Pastor J. O. Miller be exempted from paying a license fee.

It was moved, seconded and carried that the marshal's monthly salary be paid. It was moved, seconded and carried that the polling officer's bill of $5.00 be paid. On motion council then adjourned.

Death Came Suddenly for King Edward

The official bulletin announcing the death of the King was as follows: "May 6--11.50 p. m. His Majesty the King, breathed his last at 11.45 to-night in the presence of Her Majesty Queen Alexandra the Princess and Princess of Wales, the Princess Royal, the Duchess of Fife, Princess Victoria, and Princess Louise, the Duchess of Argyll.

Signet

Lakin, Reed, Powell Dawson.

The Prince of Wales is King, assuming the title of George V. and took the oath of allegiance at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

No hope had been held throughout the night for the recovery of His Majesty, whose death was due to pneumonia, following bronchitis contracted shortly after his return from Biarritz.

Only a day or two ago the King was conducting the affairs of the State.

Throughout the Empire the word was flashed, and today flags are floating at half-mast the world over. Besides the social gloom which the King's death casts over England, several important and long planned official events must be abandoned. The Prince and Princess of Wales were to go to South Africa, but his accession of the Throne will prevent this.

The last words which fell from the lips of King Edward VII were: "Well, it is all over, but I think I have done my duty." This one of the greatest sovereigns the world has ever seen, left a sorrowing nation.

It may be of interest to some of our readers if we were to recall some historical facts connected with the late King's visit to Canada in 1866. St. George then had a company which was drilled under the command of one Sergeant Ward. This company is said to have been the most thoroughly drilled one in New Brunswick. At the time of the Prince of Wales' visit to Canada the company consisted of forty-eight men. There are only five living at present who are as follows: Goodwin Sparks, James O'Brien, Robert John Austin, Thomas Magowan, and Joseph McCormick. All these are living in our town with the exception of the latter who is now in the States.

There being no railway at that time our company drove to St. John in carriages. There were some eight or ten companies at the wharf to welcome the Prince, and our Company was chosen as Guard of Honor to the Prince during his stay at St. John.

The ladies of St. George had made a silk flag and presented it to the company previous to its departure for St. John. This flag was the first one to drop over the Prince on his arrival. The flag is now in possession of Joseph McCormick. It is interesting to know that Mr. Sparks has still the boots which he wore on the trip. He was a Corporal of the company at that time.

Ottawa, May 2--In connection with the suggestion of H. R. Poussette Canadian trade commissioner at Durban, South Africa, that the flag be flown upon all the schools throughout the Dominion of Canada on the first of May in honor of the first natal day of United South Africa, the superintendent of education of Nova Scotia has notified the department of trade and commerce that the flag will be flown upon the schools throughout that province on the day mentioned. The department has also been notified that there is every likelihood of the suggestion being adopted. Ottawa,

RUB THAT SORE SPOT

With Father Morrissey's Liniment and Promptly Stop the Ache.

Every household has its share of aches, pains, bruises, chilblains, burns, stiff joints, chest colds, sore throats, muscular soreness and similar troubles. It is surely unwise to suffer with even the least of these, when there is a sure and speedy remedy.

Father Morrissey, the famous priest-physician, was especially successful in devising a prescription for the prompt relief of these ailments. Many thousands of families keep a bottle of Father Morrissey's Liniment constantly in the house, ready for any emergency.

Unlike most liniments, it has both a pleasant feeling and a clean, wholesome smell. It is a splendid rubbing liniment as it makes the skin soft and smooth, and does not blister. Better yet, it goes straight to the seat of the trouble, very little remaining on the skin.

In rheumatism and headache, it is a helpful adjunct to Father Morrissey's "No. 7," and in cases of sore throat and cold on the chest it supplements his well-known "No. 10."

The liniment should be always on hand against a case of need. 25c a bottle, at your druggist's, or from Father Morrissey Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N. B. 88

The Ruling Passion.

Threadbare clothing, one arm in a sling—that was the first impression gained of the man. Good looking, well dressed, very much in love—that was the impression gained of the young couple opposite. At the Grand Central Station the happy pair separated. They said good-bye regretfully. The tender radiance of the girl's face slightly dimmed when the young man left the car, but her dejection was only momentary. Happiness such as hers was buoyant even under the strain of a few hours' separation.

By the time the train was racing past the Forty-second-street her ebullient spirits again soared high. Then she began seeking an outlet for her great joy. She smiled at the tired laborer who had to stand. Next she said "Pretty darling to the fraul lady across the aisle. Presently she turned her quick attention to the man opposite. He had an evening paper and was trying with his one available eye to turn the pages. She leaned forward sympathetically.

"Can I help you?" she said.

Without waiting for a reply, she took the paper, deftly straightened out the pages and handed it back.

"Thank you, miss," said he, but even though he held the paper at the proper reading angle, it was noticed that he did not read.

At 116th street the girl left the car. Then the man with the injured arm began to rattle the paper once more. That time another passenger who had been interested in the little pantomime volunteered assistance.

"Let me help you," he said. "Perhaps you want to turn to a particular page?"

"I do," said the disabled man. "I was reading a rattling good article on the sporting page and was dead anxious to get to the end of it, but the young lady turned to the fashion page instead. That I see, contains three illustrations of wedding gowns and other articles belonging to a bride's trousseau. I don't take much interest in such things any more, but I couldn't hurt her feelings by telling her so."—New York Herald.

Uncle Walt's Corner

I hear the call of the babbling brook, and I look around for a line and hook, I'd cut out labor for half a day, and go and fish in the good old way. But alas! I'm old, and I rather hate the tiresome matter of digging bait; and the creek is more than two miles away—the creek where the trout and the suckers play; and a man must sit in discomfort there, for there's not a sign of an easy chair; and the man who's running the woodland green forgot to put up a mosquito screen. When I was young it was fun to wend to the fishing place with a school-boy friend. The world was brighter and fairer then or so it seems to the gray-haired men; the streamlet gurgled o'er whiter stones; the fish were better, with fewer bones; the logs and boulders on which we sat were soft as plush—but they've outgrown that. Alas, my friends for the old, old days, and the winding stream and the woodland ways, and the journey home when the dusk was gray—old age a million of leagues away! And so I sit with a pipe and book, and hear the call of the babbling brook; but my legs are stiff and my feet are sore, and the brook must come to my cottage door.

WALT MASON.

A Bishop's Pronouncement

The Lenten Pastor of Bishop Casey of the Roman Catholic Church has attracted quite widespread attention. It has been quoted in the papers of many Canadian cities, and also, in papers outside of Canada, and has received much favorable comment. "A notable deliverance," the pronouncement is one of the most striking signs of the times; "takes more advanced ground in favor of temperance than any previous pastoral of the same church in Eastern Canada," of immense value to the cause of temperance reform; "is some of the reforested to it, and indicate the character of all that have come under our notice. The Maritime Baptist gladly joins in commending the much good counsel the bishop gives his people, and his earnest warnings against various evils and destructive habits of mind and body—counsel and warnings, in the main good for all people.

As will be understood by the foregoing quotations, the pastoral deals especially with the evil of drunkenness. It also points out the responsibility of those who offer inducements to drink, especially to the young, and condemns the illegal sale of liquors, and the indiscriminate sale of licensed dealers. The bishop's characterization of the drunkard is severe. He says:

"No other sin makes a man so helpless before Heaven. However abandoned by grace, however sunk in crime of any other nature, a sinner has intelligence left by which he can turn to God in prayer, a will by which to repent of his folly. The drunkard has neither intelligence nor will left, by which to pray or repent. Is the picture exaggerated? No, there can be no exaggeration of such degradations. He is more obnoxious than the mad-man, more contemptible than the demoniac. These are objects of pity, for they are afflicted through, perhaps, no fault of their own; the drunkard deserves but scorn, for he has de used his very manhood. He has brought the curse of God upon his home, and closed the gates of heaven against himself." That this pestilential vice—drunkenness, is wide spread around us, we have but to open our eyes and look. Nearly any day on the streets, the eye and the ear may be sadly regaled by the sight and profanity of "one more unfortunate." The prison statistics and the penitentiary records throughout the Dominion are afflicting testimonies to the ravages on the moral and social order of the Commonwealth.

And he appeals for the overthrow of the evil: "The well being of the individual, of the family, of the public, is at stake. It is everyone's duty to be interested. The evil, though still vigorous and bent on its destructive course, may yet be conquered, if we can secure the good will and hearty co-operation of the great multitude not yet reduced to miserable slavery."

Those who place temptation in the way of the weak he declares are not less guilty than the victims of the drink habit. He who offers to treat one whom he knows to have a weakness for drink, or dealer who sells to such an one, is as guilty before high heaven as Cain who killed his brother.

In view of the deplorable and widespread evil—the poverty, the crime, the destruction of homes and the ruin of men in body and soul, which he charges to drink, he appeals to his people to make efforts and sacrifices that temptations may be lessened and the weak and tempted helped and rescued. And in this connection he says:

"We look with favor and benediction on the efforts, whether made by Church or State, to confine liquor stores to that number which is strictly necessary to the legitimate wants of the community; and to see that those who are granted licenses observe the law regulating the tariff, and the principals of Christian morality."

Must Return to Farm

Preaching upon the laws of "Bible Finance," Rev. Fran' DeWitt Talmage, pastor of the Chambers Wylie Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, declared that the high prices of food could primarily be traced to the fact that Americans no longer remain on the farms. He said in part:

The great trouble about the world today is too many men do not want to work. They are afraid of the callous hand and the rough clothes of the laborer. They want to be gentlemen; they think they must do differently from what their fathers did. The result: The men who gave to this country the sterling worth which it has are gradually passing away.

Do you know why this cry of high prices for food has come? I will tell you it is true that the trusts might for a time hold the prices up, but only for a little while at the most. The reason we have high prices for food is because the strong American patriots, who were once the great food producers of this country, have left the arm. Those farms are now being taken by the ignorant foreign emigrants, who hardly know the difference between the right hand and the left. What is to be the outcome? Unless the American people and their best blood back to the farm this country is doomed.

Go almost anywhere you will, and you can find that what I say is true. There are thousands of farms in this country which can be bought for the price of the buildings on their land. Why? Because the men who have been on those farms were too ignorant to run them, if the American boy is willing to make the same preparation in the great agricultural schools to fit himself for his life's work upon the farm, as he would study to fit himself for the law or medicine, not only would he would he earn for himself a substantial livelihood, but more than that—he would be one of the great producers of whom our country is so much in need.

James Hill has just sounded forth this warning. "Back to the land" is the cry of all thinking men. Yet the men and the women will swarm into these large cities, where they are not needed, and leave the farms of this country empty of those men who made this nation what it is.

A Little Learning.

Here are a few history answers collected in New York State Education Department in the past year:

Modern conveniences. Incubators and fireless telegaphy.

The Republican party was formerly known as the Free Soil.

The President takes the yoke of office. The salaries of teachers are paid from the dog tax.

Benjamin Franklin produced electricity by rubbing cats backward.

Lincoln had a woman make him a suit of homespun from rails which he had split. They were hickory rails, hence hickory shirts.

The cause of the revolution was that the colonists wanted room to pasture their cattle.

The spoils system: The place where spoiled things and waste are kept. The board of health has largely taken the place of this.

The difference between Jackson and Roosevelt is that Jackson has been dead a long time, and Roosevelt is in Africa shooting lions.

Don't laugh at a boy who magnifies his place. You may see him coming from the postoffice with a big bundle of his employer's letters which he displays with as much pride as though they were his own. He feels important and looks it, but he is proud of his place. He is attending to business. He likes to have the world know that he is at work for a busy concern. The boy who says "we" identifies himself with the concern. It interests are his. He sticks up for its credit and reputation. He takes pleasure in his work and hopes to say we are in earnest. The boy will repeat what he says if he keeps his grit and sticks to his job. You may take off your hat to him as one of the future solid men of the town. Let his employer do the right thing by him; check him kindly if he shows signs of being too big for his place, counsel him as to his habits and associates, and occasionally show him a pleasant prospect of advancement. A little pride does an honest boy a heap of good. Good luck to the boy who says "we."

Jokers Column

A youthful bride and bridegroom fresh from the prairies, were taking a trans-continental trip on their honeymoon. The car was filled with "drummers," as the Yankee knights of the carpet bag, are called, and many and various were the allusions to "Love's Young Dream," and "The Honeysuckle and the Bee," which however, did not disconcert the happy pair one jot.

It was late at night. The newly married pair were the last to seek repose. They had just entered their well-appointed Pullman when the lady found that she had forgotten her traveling bag. The sleeping apartments were not numbered, and being fearful that she might become confused—the berth being so similar—she said, in a loud whisper to her adoring spouse: "Johnnie, dear, just put your big toe out through the curtain when I come back. That was enough. When she returned there were fourteen pairs of big toes from as many feet, and not one of them was labelled 'Johnnie.'

HE HAD.

"Goodness, John," said a Washington (Kan) woman to her husband, "your suit looks as if you had been sleeping in it!"

"Well," replied John, "why not? Isn't that the suit I wear to church?"—Kansas City Journal.

His finances—And, you know, Tom jumped in after me and rescued me from the waves at the risk of his own life!

Bella—Do you know if I were in your place, from sheer gratitude, I would not marry him!

John said he never knew what it was to live until he was married. He says that during all his years of bachelor life he was never contented more than two months at once, but now—

"How long has Jones been married?"

"Six weeks."

"Couple of fine girls, ain't they? One of 'em is a fine singer and the other one a cook."

"Yes, old man. But there's tragedy in your home. The one who sings thinks she can cook, and the one who cooks thinks she can sing."

She took Notice.

An inspector one day visited a country school taught by a young lady, and in the course of the lesson said, "Now children, I wish you to take notice of what I do, and then write an account of it."

Then he stepped to the blackboard and wrote a sentence upon it.

All the children except one wrote in effect that the inspector had come into the room and wrote on the blackboard, "I love a good school."

One little girl, however, followed instructions more literally, and completed the story by adding:

And then he went to the platform, sat down, played with his watch chain, twirled his moustache, and winked at the teacher.

An Acute Sense of Taste.

William and Lawrence were in the habit of saving a part of their desert from the evening dinner for consumption the next morning. In accordance with this custom two small cakes had been placed in the cracker jar for them.

William, being the first up on the following morning and being hungry, went to the jar. He found only one cake, and a large piece had been bitten out of that. Full of wrath, he went upstairs and roused his brother.

"Say! he demanded, I want to know who took that bite out of my cake!"

"I did," sleepily answered Lawrence.

"What do you do that for?"

"Well, when I tasted it I found that it was your cake, and so I let the other one."

"The Power of the Editorial"

President of Princeton Delivers Striking Address Before American Newspapermen in New York.

New York, April 28.—Woodrow Wilson, President of Princeton University, delivered an address tonight at the banquet in New York of the Associated Press, and the American newspaper Publisher's Association on "The Power of the Editorial." Mr. Wilson said in part: "We have witnessed in our day an extraordinary multiplication of journals of all sorts, and an extraordinary increase in the amount of printed matter of every kind. Printing has become so cheap that it has become almost a common-place medium of speech. There was a time when anything one saw in print seemed very serious and deliberate, but in our time there has been an unmistakable falling off in the influence of printed opinions. The power of the Editorial is certainly not what it once was.

"The telegraph and the telephone, moreover, have drawn the world together into something like a single community. It is just as easy and natural to read the news of yesterday from Rome as the news of yesterday from the neighboring towns. And with the news comes the comment from every quarter, not only from our neighbors, but from editors and correspondents all over the world. And so what we read begins to have for us only the significance of what we hear. Printed opinions are coming to take rank with casual spoken opinions, and editorial comment has very little more weight than conversational comment.

NEW BASIS OF JUDGMENT.
 "A very interesting thing has happened therefore, involving an entirely new assessment of what we read. We are beginning to judge what we read, as we judge what we hear, by the character of the person who utters it.

"All politics, all industry, all literature must accept the drastic revolution, and for my part, I think it very heartening to live in such a time. I believe that the time is full of the beginnings of great things; of great readjustments; great simplifications of responsibility; great clarifications of the basis of judgments; great readjustments of organization. No newspaper, no corporation, no organization of any kind will much longer serve any man as a mask or cover. Opinion calls him forth. He stands for himself. And the final verdict with regard to him will be based upon the answer to this question: "Is he serving himself alone, or is he serving the public interest? If he private and sinister purposes to serve, or does he indeed wish to clarify common counsel and bring the country to better things?"

If your Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are weak, try at least a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover a cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor drug the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes quickly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the dependent organs soon of necessity fail. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally and successfully successful. Its success is lending drug-gists everywhere to give it universal preference. A trial will convince you. Sold by all druggists.

The Brook.

Like the brown brook that slips beneath the frost,
 Its murmured message for the moment
 is lost
 To grosser ear than Mother Nature's own,
 So 'neath life's winter do we slip unknown,
 All seemingly unheard. And yet, forsooth,
 I fain would keep the brown brook's
 noise of youth;
 Within sealed silences would guard the key
 Which God first struck, to guide my melody
 Of life. Ah, I would keep my theme,
 Clear-hearted and pellucid as the stream
 That conveys its lesson at the icy lip
 Of frozen sources. I would later slip From out constricting fastnesses to bring
 The weary world what peace and silence sing.
 ---Mary Baldwin in the Outlook.

Pat's Angel.

I thought I'd dead for a minute,
 So I let myself just lay,
 And I wandered, kind o' stupid,
 If I'd get to heaven that day--
 And then thinks I, 'I've got there,'
 For I heard an angel say:
 'Poor fellow, he's had a tumble,
 Just help me lift his head.'
 'And your scarf will stop the bleeding.'
 Another Angel said,
 'And I thought, 'If this is heaven,
 It's jolly to be dead.'
 Somehow I didn't know nothing,
 Till I opened my eyes up wide
 In what I guess was a drug store,
 'Cause there's bottles on the side,
 And the loveliest lady standin',
 And looking as if she'd cried.
 At first I, so awful happy
 I couldn't say a thing,
 Then I said, 'If your an angel
 Won't you let me hear you sing?'
 And she answered, 'I'm not an angel,
 I'm the Daughter of a King.'
 She said I could allus tell 'em
 By the silver cross they wear,
 And she explained to me her meaning,
 And I thanked her for her care;
 I tell you I'll not forget her,
 That lady good and fair.
 And now when I meet a lady
 Who wears a cross like that,
 I bow as polite as I can sir,
 And take off my old felt hat,
 For I believe they're all 'em angels,
 As sure as my name is Pat.

Boston's Mayor Favors Cicer Trade Relations

The Mayor of Boston at the close of the recent negotiations which averted a tariff war between Canada and the United States expressed himself as enthusiastic over what he regarded as the beginning of an increased exchange of products, and consequently an increased intimacy between New England and Canada. Of course the agreement which was reached between President Taft and the Canadian Government is not as itself much more than the maintenance of the state of things which has hitherto existed. It is fair to note, however, that the tariff agreement is coupled with an invitation on the part of the United States to consider further reductions of tariff between us, and that our own government looks on such a proposal with favor. Should any substantial reduction of mutual obstructions follow such negotiations, there would indeed be cause for mutual felicitations.

The ideal condition of affairs for the Maritime Provinces would be Free Trade with the States. New England is our natural market.

Home Reading Column

The gleeful laugh of happy children is the best home music, and the graceful figures the best statuary. We are all kings and queens in the cradle, and each babe is a new marvel; a new miracle. The unaffected lamentations when he lifts up his voice on high, or more beautiful, the sobbing child--the face all liquid grief, as he tries to swallow his vexation soften all hearts to pity, and to faithful and clamorous compassion. The small despot asks so little that all reason and all nature is on his side. His ignorance is more charming than all knowledge, and his little fits more bewitching than virtue. His flesh is angel's flesh all alive.

A PERFECT WIFE

She is handsome, but it is beauty arising not from features, complexion or from shape. She has all three in a high degree, but it is not by these she touches a heart; it is all that sweetness of temper, benevolence, innocence and sensibility which a face can express that forms her beauty. She has a face that just raises your attention at first sight; it grows on you every moment and you wonder it did no more than raise your attention at first. Her eyes have a mild light, but they awe when she pleases; they command like a good man out of office, not by authority but by virtue. Her stature is not tall; she is not made to be the admiration of everybody, but the happiness of one. She has all the firmness that does not exclude delicacy--she has all the softness that does not imply weakness. Her voice is a soft, low music, not formed to rule in public assemblies, but to charm those who can distinguish company from a crowd; it has this advantage--you must come close to it to hear it. To describe her body describes her mind--one is the transcript of the other; her understanding is not shown in the variety of matters it exerts itself on, but the goodness of the choice she makes. She does not display it so much in saying or doing things as in avoiding such as she ought not to say or do. No person of so few years can know the world better; no person was ever less corrupted by the knowledge Her politeness flows rather from a natural disposition to oblige than from any rules on the subject and therefore never fails to strike those who understand good breeding and those who do not. She has a steady and firm mind which takes no more from the delicacy of the female character than the solidity of marble does from its polish and luster. She has such virtues as make us value the truly great of our own sex. She has all the winning graces that make us love even the faults we see in the weak and beautiful in hers.

She watched us to school in the summer sun and taught us our lessons by the wintry fireside. From childhood's moon to manhood's hour she was ever at hand to soothe and console and when at last we must go forth from the old home and fireside, how tenderly and affectionately she caressed us and kissed us good-bye--then waited and hoped and prayed that all would be well. From first to last her love was the same--it knew no bounds. With cheers for the right, tears for the wrong, she was happy in our joys, sad in our sorrows and she washed away our errors in the flooded rivalets of the soul. Her conscience was her guide and her family her greatest joy. She loved her home more than glittering fashion and sought honor in the consciousness of doing good.

Mid afflictions, trials and suffering years, she lived for a purpose--that we might succeed. We loved her as we loved no other and pleasant memories cluster around her peaceful grave. She is gone now--the kind heart has ceased its tender murmurings and the voice so full of love and sympathy is hushed in the silence of the winding sheet, but floating up before us in the infinite past we see a form radiant with the splendor of noble virtues, pure and spotless as the new fallen snow. It is facing the throne of the eternal right and as it draws near to that beautiful realm, the glittering luster of Heavenly sheen light up the view and we behold the sacred form of our loved and loving mother--safe at last in the peaceful home of the soul.

Pains of women, head pains, or any pain struck in 20 minutes sure, with Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets. See full formulae on box. Sold by all dealers.

FROM THE TROPICS TO HEALUS

In Central America many natives are gathering the seeds of this plant, Cedron Seed, a rare medicine that has valuable curative powers. But few drug stores carry this seed, owing to the high cost of the article. This country is a large consumer of this costly seed, because it enters into the famous osceola remedy, Furus, and the world over.

Let us take Time.

Let us take time for the good-bye kiss. We shall go to the day's work with a sweeter taste for it. Let us take time for the evening prayer. Our sleep will be more restful if we have claimed the guardianship of God. Let us take time to speak sweet, foolish words to those we love. By and by, when they can no longer hear us, our foolishness will seem more wise than our best wisdom.

Let us take time to read our Bible. Its treasures will last when we shall have ceased to care for our political parties and rise and fall of stock or the petty happenings of the day. Let us take time to be pleasant. The small courtesies which we often omit because they are small, will some day look larger to us than the great we court, or the fame for which we struggle.

Let us take time to get acquainted with our families. The weal in you are accumulating. Remember, father, may be a doubtful blessing if the son who is a stranger to you. You should keep house, busy mother, and give a little to the daughter who has no time to care.

Regular Workmen in Women.

This disease is constitutional--caused by virus in the blood that circulates to all parts of the body. To cure, you must use a constitutional treatment. Nothing so completely helps the osceola remedy as this. It purifies and renews the blood, clears it of every taint. The system is fortified and strengthened and thus enabled to fight off all future attacks. Not only does it remove the virus, but it cures rheumatism, gout and lambo-governments. Results guaranteed. See boxes at all dealers.

Prizes for St. John Fair.

The St. John Exhibition Association has issued the Prize List for the approaching Dominion Exhibition, which will unquestionably be the greatest event of its kind ever held in the East of Canada. This list of modest but valuable prizes in the Agricultural, Stock Breeding, Horticultural, Industrial, Living, Home Work, etc., is complete and highly interesting. As before stated, the awards are generously increased from 50 per cent to 125 per cent over former appropriations. Those lists can be had of the Exhibition Association for the asking if the sender is really interested. There are not enough of the lists to go around among those who are merely curious and do not intend exhibiting.

A pain prescription is printed upon each 25c. box of Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets. See our formulae or formulae if this formulae is not complete. Pain means congestion, blood pressure. Head pains, pains anywhere, get instant relief from a Pink Pain Tablet. Sold by all dealers.

Canada's Wonderful Growth

The Canadian Bureau of Census estimates that the population of Canada at the close of the year 1909 was 7,350,000. At the end of the fiscal year the population by provinces was estimated as follows:

Maritime Provinces	1,638,112
Quebec	2,088,461
Ontario	2,619,025
Manitoba	466,268
Saskatchewan	341,521
Alberta	273,859
British Columbia	289,516
Unorganized Districts	58,309

Since the close of the fiscal year there have been 129,000 immigrants entered Canada, causing the total population to figure first eleven.

As Others See Us.

The pleasing picture, painted by Earl Grey as to Canada's future, may be to some, somewhat visionary, but he speaks with authority having had as he himself says "abundant opportunity, probably more abundant than has ever been vouchsafed to man, to make myself closely acquainted with the high hopes and confident beliefs of the Canadian people and to form a more or less adequate estimate of your tremendous potentialities." Few of us will live to see the fulfillment of the prophecy, but each may have a part in its realization. This is his picture.

"Gentlemen, when I reflect on the vastness of your area, on the fertility of your soil, on the unutilized wealth of your natural resources, which I rejoice you are determined scientifically to conserve, as well as vigorously to develop, when I reflect upon the invigorating nature of your climate and on the strenuous character of your people; when I reflect, on all these great advantages which you possess in such abundant and exceptional degree, then, gentlemen, I feel as convinced, as I am tomorrow's sun will rise, that if you keep true to the highest ideals of duty and disinterested service, nothing can prevent you from becoming and perhaps before the close of the present century, not only the granary but the heart and soul and rudder of the Empire.

"It shall be my happy privilege, on my return to England to submit to the king an expression of your devotion to his throne and person, also to impress upon his majesty, and on the people of the British Isles, that you, the people of Canada, are united in your high resolve to accomplish your part in the maintenance and building of the Empire of which, if you are not afraid of the greatness of your destiny, you will one day become the controlling part."

Three in One.

To one who has watched our great men clearly it would appear that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in his speeches, develops more and more some of those mannerisms which were so characteristic of the public appearances of Sir John A. Macdonald the great leader of the Conservative party. But now, in view of his recent utterances, the London Times speaks of him as one who has been excelled in clearness of vision and the felicity of his phrase passages wherein on Tuesday he outlined the relations between the British governors-general system and national self-government "speaking with something of the fervor and imagination of Gladstone."

Canada's Pulp Resources.

(Winnipeg Free Press)

Having with such prodigious wastefulness depleted itself of its own pulpwood supplies, the United States is now awakening to the necessity of belated action for the restoration of those supplies; and it is for this country in the carrying out in every respect of the policy of conservation of natural resources and the utilization of those resources under public control in the best interests of the national prosperity and welfare to take account of the situation and not to allow the pulpwood supplies which are public property to disappear in the wake of the vanished pulpwood supplies of the United States. It is not a question of tariffs; it is a question of conservation of natural resources.

That was a most fitting tribute to the man's greatness when the friends of Hon. W. S. Fielding presented him with a testimonial accompanied by the substantial gift of $120,000. There are few, if any, in the service of the public more deserving. To have charge of the public treasury for so many years and remain a comparatively poor man appeals to the finest public irrespective of party. May he remain poor with this magnificent bonus.

Exhibits That Make Things

Some Interesting "Process" Displays for Dominion Exhibition at St. John

Experienced exhibition promoters will testify that the show which contains a number of "process" or manufacturing exhibits is usually credited with being a success from the standpoint of public interest. Realizing this to be an absolute truism, the manager of the Dominion Exhibition to be held in St. John, N. B. September 5th to 15th, have been successful in arranging with some of the most important manufacturers in Canada to demonstrate the making of their wares in Machinery Hall. There will be a woolen mills' loom in full operation, knitting machines at work, nail and tack making machines, foundry activities, printing processes, wood-working novelties, boot and shoe manufacturing, electrical mechanics, motor boat demonstrations, etc., not to mention the mouth-watering processes involved in the making of candies, fancy confectionery and baking. In order to accommodate numerous applicants for space and power in the mechanical department of the approaching big show, the Exhibition Executive have been forced to make arrangements for increased facilities, and those who visit St. John next September will spend a great deal of their time within Exhibition gates watching these "process" exhibits. A notable feature in this section of the show will be the invasion of the East, as it were, by vigorous western concerns, who have made early request for preferred positions.

"The Hygienic Commandments."

The following primary rule must be observed carefully to insure positive immunity against contracting Tuberculosis or giving it others, so says T. F. Lockwood M. D. in "The Medical Council for May 1910."

Commandments

I Thou shalt not spit upon the floor of a dwelling, schoolroom, church, theatre, place of public gatherings nor sidewalks of towns or cities.

II Thou shalt not cough or sneeze in the presence of any one without holding the handkerchief or hand over the mouth while so doing.

III Thou shalt not sleep in a room that is not well ventilated both day and night. Sleep with windows open winter and summer.

IV Thou shalt not take colds by sleeping in a cold airy room provided the air be pure. There is no such thing as "catching colds;" it is "taking germ infection."

V Thou shalt not sleep with anyone known to have consumption; better not sleep in the same room.

VI Thou shalt not breathe impure air when it can be avoided. Observe the air you breathe with the same precaution you do the water you drink.

VII Thou shalt not drink from a cup after some one with consumption has drunk. Do not drink after anyone without rinsing the cup.

Thou shalt not eat with dirty hands, nor eat anything that flies have walked over with their dirty feet. Do not eat apples, peaches, or pears without first having pared them. Do not eat berries such as strawberries or blackberries in a raw state, procured from the markets or in front of grocery stores that have not been protected from flies and from the dust of the streets by proper cover.

IX Thou shalt not bite an apple or any other fruit or substance that is being eaten by another. Do not kiss or be kissed upon the lips by any one suspected of having consumption. Do not wet pencils by putting them in the mouth.

X Thou shalt not give consumption to others and thou shalt not let others give it to you.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor,—

At the annual meeting of the Charlotte County Board of Trade, I was asked to produce information in regard to the potato market for the benefit of the farmers of the county. This I have tried to do, and while I can give nothing definite as to prices, as they must obviously depend on crop conditions. I am able to give some points which may be of use.

In any ordinary season there is sale for practically an unlimited quantity of potatoes at paying prices, the principal markets being Western Canada, the United States and Cuba and the West Indies, the latter being apparently the most profitable. During the months of October, November and December the Island of Cuba alone takes about 30,000 barrels weekly. The potato crop on the Island is very uncertain and they buy their seed in the north, Canadian potatoes having the preference. The variety most in demand are Early Rose for the early market and Green Mountain for main crop. Prices for potatoes during the past season have been extremely low, there being a good crop in all parts of the world, a condition which has not occurred before for twenty seven years. Potatoes are purchased at digging time or any time later, by Connors Bros. of this county or by other firms in St. John and Fredericton, and are bought in bulk and packed by the shippers. I will be glad to furnish such further information as I possess to any one inquiring.

Letter of Condolence.

To Mrs. Jennie Smith,—

Dear sister we the officers and members of the Golden Rod Lodge No. 212 desire to extend to you our heart felt sympathy in this time of your sad bereavement in the loss of your dear daughter Eva. Therefore we pray that God in his tender mercies will lessen your sorrow by filling your hearts with a strong desire for a glorious reunion where all tears will be wiped away knowing that words fail to comfort such sorrow as yours, we therefore direct you and your family to Him who heals every pain. Bound as we are in a great Christian sisterhood your sorrow is our sorrow and your loss our loss. Our prayer is that our Heavenly Father who saw fit to remove her to a fairer home above may also give you grace sufficient to overcome your sorrow and say thy will be done. While we know that death is the lot of all yet the blow is none the less heavy when it comes. We cannot always see God's purpose in our afflictions but we know best who doeth all things well and your loss is her gain. In his keeping all is safe—A little while and our sorrows here are ended then the glorious reunion above where death never enters and partings are no more. She was the music of our home. A day that knew no night. The fragrance of our garden bowers. A thing all smiles and light. The form remained, but there was now No soul our love to share. Farewell with weeping hearts we said. Child of our love and care. Signed in behalf of L. T. B. A. Lizzie Leonard W. M. Emma Barker Chap.

Canada's Best Year.

The year just closed will undoubtedly be the best year financially in Canada's history. The total income will exceed $100,000,000. When Mr. Fielding predicted these figures in his budget speech some months ago, people became optimistic, but now it is a realization and indeed a glowing tribute to the good judgment of Canada's Finance Minister.

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

LOCAL AND SPECIAL.

The Smt. Connors Bros. discharged a load of freight at the wharf on Monday.

Owing to pressure for space we are compelled to leave out a full list of town officers appointed by the council. These will appear in our next issue.

The Eastern Journal and Bulletin newspapers in Port Hawkesbury, C. B., both supporters of the Liberal party, have become amalgamated.

Mark Morrison has moved from the Young block into the house owned by James Jack, and Archibald Warren has moved into the Young block.

We have received an interesting piece of correspondence from Back Bay, if the writer will send in his name as the writer of it we will be pleased to publish it.

Tooke's Westmount Collar is the very latest thing on the market. 13c, 2 for 25c. at Hanson Bros. only ask to see Westmount.

Successful, up-to-date hostesses always contrive to introduce some novel feature or something 'really new' to entertain their guests. Why not be the first to serve Red Rose Cranial Coffee?

Bruce McDougall, formerly editor of the Free Press, Moncton, and who has been confined in prison for the past year and a half on a libel charge has got out a new paper called the "Vindicator."

Don't place your order for wall paper until you have seen the many attractive designs and beautiful colorings Frauley Bros. are showing this spring. The most pleasing feature of this line is the price.

The contractors have just finished laying a very handsome hardwood floor in Frauley Bros. new shoe store. Their immense stock of ladies footwear will be moved in just as soon as the painter finishes his work.

A lady subscriber writes:—"Why don't you say something in your paper about that new Red Rose Crushed Coffee. I'm telling everyone I know about it. The flavor is delicious and by some new process every bit of chaff is taken out, so at last we have a really clean pure coffee."

Have you tried one of Hanson Bros. 50c. working shirts this spring; if not you have made a mistake. Get wise and correct your mistake at once.

The keel of the battleship Princess Royal, the largest warship of any navy in the world, was laid Monday at Barrow, England. This will be of 26,000 tons displacement and over 700 feet long.

We are all glad to welcome back our fellow townsman, H. R. Lawrence who has been spending the past two months in the West. He speaks in glowing terms of the West as a capital place to "make your pile" but to enjoy life he says, "back to St. George."

Several lots of correspondence from surrounding villages are received every week without the signatures of the writers. It is a sinful waste of stationery and stamps to send matter for publication in the Greetings without the name of the author.

Fred Cameron the speedy little "Blue-nose" marathoner won and was forced to break the Canadian record for five miles in his run with Cockey of Toronto in Amherst on Monday night. He won by a yard in a close race in the fast time of 25:59.4-5. On May 17th, Cameron, Cockey, Horsman and Sterling will meet in a five mile race in St. John.

At a special meeting of the town council on May 2nd the following committees were appointed.

Police—McKenzie, Meating, Craig.
Streets—Meating, Bogue, Cawley.
Assessment—Bogue, Seelye, Kent.
Wharf—Craig, Bogue, Seelye.
License—Mayor, Cawley, Bogue.
Fire—Bogue, Meating.
Printing—Seelye, Kent, McKenzie.
Poor—Cawley, McKenzie, Bogue.
By-laws—Kent, Craig, Mayor.
Finance—The whole council.
H. V. Dewar was appointed alderman and elected in place of W. Seelye who resigned. Council then adjourned.

LOCAL AND SPECIAL.

The Pulp Company finished up their drive yesterday.

Thomas R. McIntyre has installed an acetylene plant in Dr. Wilson's house.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sellers of Pennfield, are mourning the loss of an infant child. The little one died yesterday at the age of 3 months and 7 days.

A good catch of fish is reported at Frye's Island where one weir took fifteen hogheads and another ten hogheads. A few are also reported in Back Bay. At Bocabec and Digleguash fish seem to be very scarce.

Red Rose Tea is a good example of what quality and moderate price will do. Nearly every store in the land sells it and it would seem that almost everyone uses it.

Pastor J. O. Miller, the Seventh Day Adventist, lectured on Sunday afternoon and evening and on Monday evening in Court's Hall. His lecture was fairly well attended, and much appreciated. He left yesterday for St. John and will lecture in Nova Scotia next week. He expects to return to St. George in two weeks.

It is an undisputed fact that the highest grade Fertilizers, and those that give the best results are the Provincial Chemical Fertilizer Company's Brands. Frauley Bros. are still local agents for this Company. In connection with the Fertilizers this firm also has a small quantity best quality garden seeds, which are being sold at low prices to clear.

Montreal, May 5—There will be a building boom in Montreal this season if no labor troubles come to upset the present calculations. Reports from the City Hall state that including the C. P. R. station and the St. Lawrence Hall structure, the total value of new work will be about twelve millions. There are also one thousand flats being constructed in the north part of the city.

PERSONALS.

Miss Mattie Carson, is visiting at the home of Mrs. James Kelman.

Theodore Hickey of Back Bay was in town Monday.

Wilson Carson of Digleguash paid Greetings a call yesterday.

D. Bassen left this morning for St. John on a business trip.

G. McDonald of St. John, was registered at the Victoria, on Monday.

George A. Lochart, of W. H. Thorne & Co., St. John, was in town yesterday. Senator and Mrs. Gillmor arrived home from Montreal on yesterday's train.

J. O. Miller, the Seventh day Adventist who has been lecturing here, left for St. John yesterday.

W. L. Harding of W. F. Hatheway & Company, St. John, was a business visitor in town on Monday.

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

That Trout
I've watched that trout for days and days.
I've tried him with all sorts of tackle.
With flies got up in various ways.
Red, blue, green, gray, and silver-hackle.
I've tempted him with angle-dogs.
And grubs, that must have been quite trying.
Thrown deftly in betwixt old logs.
Where, probably, he might be lying.
Sometimes I've had a vicious bite,
And as the silk was truly running.
Have been convinced I had him, quite.
But 'twasn't him; he was too cunning.
I've tried him when the silver moon
Shone on my dew bespangled trousers.
With darts, but he was "too soon"
Though, sooth to say, I caught some rousers.
And sadly viewed the ones I caught,
They loomed so small and seemed so poor.
'Twas finding pebbles where one sought
A gem of price—a Kohinor.
I've often weighed him (with my eyes),
As he with most prodigious founces
Rose to the surface after flies,
(He weighs four pounds and seven ounces.)
I tried him—Heaven absolve my soul
With some outlandish, heathenish gear—
A pronged machine stuck on a pole—
A process that the boys call spearing.
I jabbed it at his dorsal fin
Six feet beneath the crystal water—
'Twas all too short. I tumbled in,
And got half drowned—just as I'd order.
Adieu, oh trout of marvelous size,
Thou piscatorial, speckled wonder,
Bright be the waters where you rise,
And green the banks you cuddle under.

The Lure of the West.
From an interesting article in our valued contemporary, the Dartmouth Patriot, we clip the following—But why any sane person should leave the Annapolis Valley to go farming out in the West is beyond the knowledge of the writer.
Those who are leaving will learn a few things. They will learn among other things that will have to do more work in one day out west than they have been accustomed to do in the Valley. They will not be able to go sporting around with father's horse and buggy, kid gloves and flying high with the best girl a good half of the time. They will not be wearing a white collar and a fancy vest more than about three times a year. They will rise with the sun and work long after the setting thereof. They will be too blooming tired after that to care whether there is a girl on earth or not.
That is the way they will find things in the west and if they do not fall in line, they will not be wanted.
They will get some fine solid lessons in real industry taught them.
They stick they will make money so they would have done in the v and had twice the comfort in antime. Still it is just as well to go. It is probable they lesson they will get.

Famous Ladies Orchestra Engaged
The star musical attraction at the Dominion Exhibition, to be held at St.
John, N. B., September 8th, to 18th, next, will be Madame Hefie Yvonne Ren-frew's Ladies Orchestra of 25 players.
This organization ranks high in musical circles of America, and is being brought to St. John at a very considerable expense. The comely bevy of young ladies dress most attractively in different costumes from day to day, and their programme are a happy conglomeration of popular, classical household, religious and national music. They have numerous specialty numbers specialty numbers, in imitation of animals, minstrel troupes, etc., and among the party are some veritable comedienne, who create merriment as well as delight from the musical standpoint. Madame Renfrew's Orchestra will be heard afternoons and evening at a central point in the main buildings, and to assure the thorough enjoyment of its programmes special seating provision will be made nearby. During the afternoons and evenings local brass bands will supply music in front of the Grand Stand and round about the grounds also being employed for parades through the city twice daily. In the Amusement Halls special orchestras will be heard.
On April 20th, the Manager, H. J. P.
Good, of the Dominion Exhibition, cabled
the management of the Grenadiers Guards Band of England asking if there was any possibility of securing this famous organization for one of the Exhibition days at St. John during their Canadian tour. It may transpire that this can be arranged, and if so one of the finest features of the year will be in store for visitors.

Lost His Voice Entirely.
Mr. J. H. Woods, of Point Rock, Onondaga Co., N. York, had a hard experience. "A bad attack of Catarrh settled in my forehead and the pain over my eye was so intense I thought my head would burst. My voice grew very hoarse and I coughed every night, and through the winter could scarcely speak. My voice was gone. Two doctors didn't help me at all. The next doctor (ordered "Catarrhose") it cured me and now many others use it also. My doctor says he doesn't know anything so good for Catarrh and throat trouble as Catarrhose. Use it today, you're better to-morrow, 25c. and $1.00 at all dealers.
Try Catarrhose.

Courtesy in the Home
It is to be regretted that individual courtesy in the household is at so low an ebb. We treat our guests with favor and boston upon them every mark of polite attention; but the minute they are out of the house we slip back into the old ruts, and treat those about us with an indifference that borders on contempt. Not that this is intentional; rather it is the result of carelessness, a failure to realize that the polite attentions, "the little things" count so much to those we love as to some outsider who becomes a member of a family for a day.
It would be a successful host one should be a successful parent or brother or sister, and courtesy is an inevitable requisite in both bases. The home life is a training for the larger life in which we meet other men and discuss other interests. If at home we learn to say "thank you," and mean it we will not forget to say it to others at a proper time.
There is one form sacred in memory's gallery, one face which time can never erase. It is that of our mother, the dear, gentle compassionate mother who loved us ere we knew what love was, and taught us the right ere we knew the wrong.
She sang us to sleep in the innocence of childhood, and awoke us with loving kisses on the bright mornings of long ago. Her eyes beamed with joy as she blessed us at life's dawning and spoke a tender farewell, as the life-sun went down.

Indigestion
Stomach trouble is not a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—poisoning also.
It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and relief to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no single medicine accomplished more ever to be had.
For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and slow constipation, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and chemi-

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

Non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla

If you think you need a tonic, ask your doctor. If you think you need something for your blood, ask your doctor. If you think you would like to try Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla, ask your doctor. Consult him often. Keep in close touch with him.

Ayer's

Ask your doctor to name some of the results of constipation. His long list will begin with sick-headache, biliousness, dyspepsia, thin blood, bad skin. Then ask him if he would recommend your using Ayer's Pills.

The Wily Chinese

Late one day in the autumn of last year a Chinaman lay tossing in a dirty bunk in one of the numerous shacks which abound in the city of Vancouver thinking of his far-away home and whispering to himself unpleasant things against the steamship companies which charged such an outrageous amount of money for the piece of cardboard which would pass him along. He had lived in British Columbia almost twenty years and during that time had amassed a fortune that had been dutifully sent home to China and now he intended to follow where he could live with his wife and children in luxury to the end of his days. But with the money charged by the steamship companies for transportation he could not afford to do so. He had to make a way to save money it takes him but a little while to think out a solution. The next morning found Ah Sing at the gang-plank of the China boat making himself most ostentatious and clamouring for the captain. At last the captain was brought and Ah Sing commenced to put his scheme into operation.

"What is the matter?" asked the captain, frowning down upon the struggling group.

"Huh!" said one of the men, "this blooming chink wants to get aboard without a ticket; says he will cook his way over."

"Captain, me heap good cook," shouted Ah Sing in his shrill piping voice. "Me cookee potato, rice, meat, puddinee all kinds, me likee cookee heap much, no wantee money."

"Go away you--heathen, you are about the tenth man who has come here and said that," roared the captain and poor Ah Sing was led away crestfallen. Not to go far, however. When a Chinaman intends to save money he does not give up upon the non-success of one scheme but meets failure with another.

Now the Vancouver freight-stowers are not naturally an observing body of men, not being paid for observing, so no one noticed a small Chinaman dart down the freight plank of the big China liner during the lull at noon hour. No one noticed him squirming his way among the cases until he reached the coal bunkers and no one heard the scuffle of the coal as the same Chinaman scrambled in.

Ah Sing, however, was not sufficiently sed in the ways of ocean liners or he would have hidden there. Wherever ships dock there will be found some engine-room stow away and it naturally follows that the ship's officers expect these stowaways and institute a thorough search for them. The coal bunkers had been utilized too many times to be overlooked by the searching squad and so not more than six hours had passed before Ah Sing heard the searchers exploring the neighbouring bunkers. Nevertheless he felt safe for upon entering he had craped a hole among the coils large enough to hide in and now slid down the sides until even his head was covered.

Last the searchers entered the section in which he lay hidden and one of the deck-hands stepped in and commenced to rummage over the coils. He found nothing suspicious and stepped out. Happening to glance back, however, he saw a stream of bright gleaming red running down from the top of the pile and stopped, gazing open-mouthed.

"Holy sufferin' cats, look at the blood runnin' down them coils," he whispered. His companion who carried the lantern turned and also looked with awe at the spectacle of a stream of blood which sprang from the top of a heap of coal, ran down the surface for about four feet and then disappeared. They were about to flee disconcertedly and inform one of the officers when the first gave vent to a stifled laugh and quickly closed the door.

"Hush," he said, laughing, "it's not blood at all; it's a Chinaman's pig-tail. Call the rest of the boys and we'll have some fun."

In a minute almost all the deck-hands had gathered around the bunker entrance and one of the men took hold of the thin red line. It was sure enough a Chinaman's que neatly plaited with red silk. He first gave a gentle tug but nothing happened.

"It's anchored, boys, but I guess we can get it out alright," he said.

Two or three of the men then took hold and commenced to pull in earnest. It was not long before the air was rent with a series of piercing yells mingled with Chinese and English curse words whilst the coal began to heave in a most remarkable manner.

"I guess we've got him," said one of the pullers.

"You certainly have," answered a man outside. "Gee, but I wish I could swear like him--have to take some lessons."

"Bring the yellow peril out here."

"Yellow peril nothin' he looks like the Black Plague."

These and other ruder jests were thrown about by the men while little Ah Sing begrimed and scared, was dragged unceremoniously forth from the hiding place.

"Why it's the blooming chink who wanted to see the captain this morning," exclaimed one of the men. "Going to cookee rice with yourself chink?"

"Yep, me heap good cookee rice, potato meat. You wantee cookee? Me heap clean cookee, washee pan heap clean, washee dish heap clean."

"You're a clean mongolian alright, alright," said a sailor. "Come, boys, let's give him a wash."

With that they grabbed the hapless Chinaman, tightly tied a rope around his waist and carrying him to the side of the steamer dropped him overboard, sousing him up and down until he hung limp like a wet towel. He was then hauled up, allowed to lie on the deck until revived and with sundry kicks and cuffs driven along the freight plans, onto the wharf from whence he fled beaten but not defeated.

Late one rainy afternoon following the events above recorded, a Chinaman was seen to board the C. P. R. ferry at Vancouver enroute for the fair city of Victoria. He was a poor, sorry-looking Chinaman with ill-fitting clothes and seemed to be without a friend in the world. Nevertheless he had many friends right in the city of Victoria yet knew no one in Vancouver hence he was bound. He was going over to meet the China steamer, Tango Maru, which called at Victoria on her way from the Orient to Vancouver. But why should one go to meet a boat which could come to him and why should a man leave a city full of friends to go to a city of strangers? It was a proceeding which would have made one wonder, if he knew the circumstances.

Arriving at Victoria the Chinaman was one of the first to leave the steamer and walked with his shuffling gait thro' the city and down into Chinatown. That night he slept in one of the alleys which abound in the district and was up with the sun waiting for the stores to open in order to make himself some good purchases. He first ascertained that the Tango Maru would touch at the Quarantine Station about eight o'clock that evening and dock at the Outer Wharf a few hours later where she would lie until morning, landing her passengers and freight for Victoria. No passengers would be taken aboard, however, until on her way back to China from Vancouver.

The mysterious Chinaman then visited a Chinese haberdashery where after considerable bargaining he bought a cheap suit of clothes bearing the label 'Kow

She, Shang'it'. A cap with the label attached was then bought and he donned the new clothes. Resplendent in his new array he next visited a stationery store where he purchased a Chinese envelope and a Hong Kong stamp, addressed the envelope in Chinese hieroglyphics to himself at Pekin, affixed the stamp and made some curious marks upon it which resembled the Hong Kong postmark. This apparently constituted the days work for he now lounged round gazing in store window until dusk. About eight o'clock the Chinaman visited one of the coal yards on the waterfront and commenced to perform strange antics. Going to the top of a pile of coal he would lie down and roll to the bottom. This was done several times until his clothes, face and hands gave him the appearance of a coal-heaver.

The Tango Maru docked at the Outer Wharf in Victoria at midnight and the immigration officials went aboard to give the necessary permits and examine the Chinese. The Chinamen were all lined up along the deck to facilitate matters. As they were tumbling out from below they were joined by a strange Chinaman, grim-looking and dirty who had clambered aboard from a small boat now adrift and stealthily joined the procession.

All the Chinamen passed the officials until it came to the turn of the stranger. The Canadian officials failed to make him understand English so the Chinese interpreter was called. He found that the Chinaman was eligible neither as a student nor an immigrant and as he seemed to lack both understanding and money the captain was brought and one of the officials said:

"See here, Captain, you'll have to take this passenger back to China, he is not a student and he has not the five hundred dollars to pay the immigration fee."

"The h-- I will," shouted the captain.

"I saw that all the Chinese passengers were able to pay their way before we started."

"Well, he hasn't got a red cent now, so I'm afraid I'll have to send him back," answered the official.

The captain glanced keenly at the Chinaman and said: "I never saw that chink before: I bet he just sneaked aboard."

"Perhaps you have not seen him before," remarked the official.

"He looks as if he stowed away in the coal bunkers. He is just from China alright. His hat is marked 'Shanghai' and we found a letter from Hong Kong addressed to him at Pekin. All his clothes appear to have been bought in China and he is clearly trying to come in here without paying so back he'll have to go. I guess you can make him work his way across."

"I have got all the men I need now," roared the captain.

"Besides, what is the use of a chink who cannot understand English?"

This company is not going to keep anybody in idleness for a trip so I'm going to throw him off, officials or no officials.

"Oh, well," answered one of the immigration, "I guess you can throw him off if you want to. Read chapter ninety-five of the Revised Statutes of Canada and then think whether it would be cheaper to throw him off, or give him a free passage back to China."

The captain took two or three turns up and down the deck talking to his first officer and then going to the Chinaman yelled at him to get below, emphasizing his words with a few heavy kicks. He then turned to the immigration officials and said:

"I suppose we can proceed to Vancouver, eh?"

The Chinaman scrambled down into the bowels of the steamer and running to a corner squatted there, each hand thrust up the opposite sleeve, muttering to himself:

"Go to China now. No have to pay. Ah Sing Heap smart man."

SALARIES OF BRITISH AND AMERICAN CABINET OFFICERS COMPARED.

London, April 12.--The proposal to raise Mr. Burns' salary as president of the local government board to $25,000 a year calls attention to the remarkably high remuneration of members of the cabinet of the United States. The various salaries to members of the cabinets in this country are as follows.

Lord chancellor	$50,000
First lord of the treasury	25,000
Secretaries of state--
Home affairs	25,000
Foreign affairs	25,000
Colonies	25,000
War	25,000
India	25,000
Chancellor of the exchequer	25,000
President of the board of trade	25,000
First lord of the admiralty	22,500
Chief secretary for Ireland	22,125
Postmaster general	12,500
Lord president of the council	10,000
Secretary for Scotland	10,000
Presidents of the--
Local government board	10,000
Board of agriculture	10,000
Board of education	10,000
Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster	10,000
First commissioner of works	10,000
Total	$377,125

The salaries of members of the United States cabinet are on a much lower scale:

Secretary of state	$8,000
Secretary of the treasury	12,000
Secretary of war	12,000
Attorney general	12,000
Secretary of the navy	12,000
Secretary of the interior	12,000
Secretary of agriculture	12,000
Secretary of commerce and labor	12,000
Total	$104,000

On the other hand, the American workman receives higher wages than his English compeer.

Position Not Well Founded

There's a bachelor maiden teacher in one of the local public schools--it would really be too mean to specify which one--who had it rubbed in a little the other day by one of her juvenile pupils.

The little miss was delinquent in the subject of geography. She either wouldn't or couldn't get her lessons. When she recited she put Africa in the western hemisphere and located Ireland in the South Sea. So the teacher wrote a little note to the child's mother, apprising her of the situation.

A few days later the teacher asked this pupil:

"Did your mother get the note all right?"

"Yeth."

"What did she say?"

"Oh, she didn't say nothin' much 'cept that she never studied goggerphy much, an' she got married all right; nor Aunt Jesson never studied goggerphy any, rnd she got married, and grandma never studied goggerphy much, an' she got married to my grandpa, an' you've studied goggerphy lots an' never got married at all."

A little boy was given a $10 gold piece the other day by an Uncle, who cautioned him to save it and not to spend it foolishly. The boy, however, in an unthoughtful spirit of mischief took the money the other afternoon, and came down town, where he spent several dollars in candy, which he ordered sent to the house. The dealer, supposing that his mother had ordered the candy for party, sent it up as directed. When it had been delivered it was at once returned to the dealer and the little lad came in for punishment, which he took much to heart. That night as he was preparing for bed he knelt down by his mother's side and, as usual said his prayers. When he came to ask a blessing upon his various relations, he enumerated them all slowly and distinctly, but his mother's name he omitted. Then, as he rose from his knees, he remarked coldly:

"I suppose you noticed you wasn't in it."

Young people should acquire the habit of correct speaking and writing, and abandon as early as possible any use of slang words and phrases. The longer you put this off the more difficult the correct language will be.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so? The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organ, that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

St. Andrews

The St. Andrews Brass Band concert and dance in Androloe Hall, April 28, was a great success. The programme consisted of twelve selections, each giving satisfaction and pleasure to the audience, who embraced a large number of people. The dance, which too, placed immediately after the concert, was well patronized, and kept up with energy until the "five o'clock" hour was reached. Refreshments were served, also a canny table was a taking feature. The sum of $155 was realized from the several sources. The hall was a pretty sight, draped in bunting, and the new and handsome dresses worn by the ladies made a pleasing effect.

The weather being unfavorable for outdoor amusements, the ever popular game of bridge has been indulged in as much as ever during the long winter evenings. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil DeWolfe are guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. DeWolfe for two weeks. Miss Agnes Carson has returned to her position as superintendent of the Polytechnic Hospital New York.

Walter B. Morris is slowly recovering from the result of a strain. His friends will be pleased to see him out soon in good health. E. C. Crawford, of St. John, who has been filling the place as manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia in Mr. Jabbitt's absence, has returned. Mr. Crawford made many friends while here.

Cedar Cove is again open for the summer season, Rev. A. T. and Mrs. Dwyer arriving here this week. Their return is a source of much pleasure to their scores of friends here.

Mr. Rabbit, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, returned from his vacation with Mrs. Rabbit and family. The vacation was pleasantly spent in Fredericton and other places.

Mrs. Charles Matthews, of Los Angeles Cal., is a most welcome guest of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lamb, her parents. Mrs. Matthews has many friends here who most kindly welcome her.

OBITUARY.

WM. HICKEY.

A gloom was cast over Letang yesterday when it became known that death had claimed Wm. Hickey as its victim at the age of 67 years. In his removal by death the community has lost an ever ready and obliging neighbor, an honest and upright man, and the household a kind father and a loving husband.

The deceased has always been a resident of Letang and has served as secretary of the school trustees for over twenty years, he was also an ex-councillor, and an adherent of the Baptist church.

He leaves to mourn a disconsolate widow, a son Kinsman of Boston, and a second son Theodore, at home, also two daughters at home.

He had been in ill health for some little time, and his death was expected. The funeral will be tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence and the service will be conducted by Rev. E. V. Buchanan.

Story of an Erudite Speaker.

The following story is told of one of the many speakers who have presided over the Ontario Legislature since its establishment in 1857. This gentleman, like some others who have worn the official rosette between their shoulder blades, was weak on grammar and had but vaguely mastered the rules of the House.

A member of the Opposition was speaking and said something reflecting on the honor of a member on the Government benches. The wares cries of order and the speaker interposed: "The honorable member must withdraw them words." "What words?" asked the member unabashed. "I can't recall them," said the honorable speaker, "but if you'll say it over again I'll tell you."

Shipping Intelligence.

The Sdr. Fred C. Holden, Hibbard, cleared on May 6th, for Vinyard Haven, for orders with 147,000 feet of lumber. The lumber was shipped by the St. George Pulp & Paper Co. She was towed out by the Star, Dolphin, Taff. The gasoline tug, Keystone, towed a raft of logs to Eastport, on May 7th. The Sdr. Nonpareil, Ross, cleared for Eastport, with a load of boxwood on Monday.

DIED.

Hickey--At L'Etang, on May 10th, Wm. Hickey, aged 67 years. Dixon--At Beaver Harbor, on May 9th, George Dixon, aged 77 years.

PAINT PAINT

INVESTIGATE BEFORE YOU BUY!

In these days of sharp competition, it is well to know that you get what you pay for. There are so many brands of house paints on the market, now-a-days, advertised as "pure" (but little better than "dope"), that a man ought to investigate what he intends to buy. We suggest to those about to paint, to make a practical test and convince themselves. Buy a small can of

The Martin-Senour 100 Per Cent Pure Paint,

and one of any other brand with which you may have been favorably impressed, selecting about the same colors, and paint a few feet. Carefully measure the paint, so that you use no more of one than you do of the other. Thus, with the conditions the same, you can determine for yourself which paint has the better body or covering capacity; which is the easier brushing out and has the better finish. If you do not decide in favor of The Martin-Senour 100 Per Cent Pure Paint, we will return the money paid for the can of the Pure Paint used in making the experiment. We have no doubt as to your decision, and are prepared to supply you with the BEST PAINT on the market.
