Hon. Robert Rogers Said to Be Back of the Move

Minister Alleged to Have Whipped into Line Some Objectors to Government Bills by Hint of More Money if They Swallowed Their Convictions—Contract for P. E. I. Car Ferry Awarded.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—It was a very serious and deeply interesting episode of Conservative personal matters. Since the commencement of the year there has been a gnawing sensation getting hold of a considerable number of the government supporters that the time is opportune for a substantial increase in their seasonal income.

Until lately the pot stirred and simmered in expectation of a new government, but now it is going to be stirred and simmered by the prospect of a new government.

Excuse for Boost.
In view of the high cost of living for politicians under the new government, and with the prospect of an election in sight, it is understood that the deputations today urged that the seasonal indemnity be increased by $1,000, thus bringing it up to $4,000.

Some days ago when a rumor of a "salary grab" pervasively leaked out the premier denied that any such application had been made.

According to an answer given in the commons this afternoon to Mr. Hughes (King), the contract for the new car ferry service between Prince Edward Island and the mainland had been awarded to Sir W. G. Armstrong White & Carter, New Castle-on-Tyne, for $1,138,000.

Mr. Macdonald pointed out that the whole policy had been a procession of blunders. The measure itself had not yet been regularly introduced into parliament by the premier, who now sat silent. Two weeks ago the young minister of finance had announced that he was going to tell us how to save the country.

Mr. Macdonald passed on to Messrs. Nantel and Coderre, also sitting silent. The Borden policy, Canada, was making a confession that she had no men, no articles, no capacity for a naval scheme like Australia.

BRITISH LIBERALS HAVE KEPT THEIR PLEDGES

Borden's Servile Followers Are Gagged

Hon. Charles Marcell and E. M. McDonald Condemn the Policy of Contribution to Naval Defence as Unworthy of Canadians—Not a Word in Reply from Government Side.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—Canada wants to hear from those men declared Mr. Macdonald, of Pictou, sweeping his arms towards the silent members of the government benches. "These men who sit tight and dumb; these men who have adopted the ostrich policy of putting their heads in the sand."

Liberalism is developing an aggressive spirit with the retreat of the government from the naval defence. The field was secondarily left to their adversaries who are taking full advantage of the situation. More than once they broke out into applause which overtopped the customary desk thumping and vigorous plaudits by the speakers' touched responsive chords.

Mr. MacDonald's trenchant personal arraignment of the silent ministers gave the recipients an uncomfortable half hour, while the Liberals broke into a stormy five minutes of steady cheering when Hon. Charles Marcell, leaning over the side of the Liberal benches, exclaimed: "Every Canadian is interested, vitally interested, in solving this problem in the interests of his country and of his own pocket."

Mr. Marcell resumed the debate this afternoon. The loyalty cry had been submitted. It had been worked by both sides. "But it is the essence of loyalty to Canada which impels me to do this."

Mr. Borden was making a false move, he was taking a step in the wrong direction. To ally the suspicion of tribute and contribution was a dangerous course. It was a fatal mistake of that kind which gave birth to the republic to the south.

TURKS' LOSS HEAVY IN BLOODY BATTLE

Left 5,000 Dead on the Field

Fled from Victorious Bulgars After All Day Fight

London, Feb. 6.—A Constantinople despatch to the Daily News says that heavy fighting has been going on for two days in Gallipoli and that the Bulgarians have won all along the line. The Turks, on their own admission have lost 5,000 men. The fighting began on Tuesday. The Bulgars advanced from Keddik towards Kavak, which the Turks occupied. The fight lasted until evening, when the Turks retired to Bulak. Another Bulgarian force on the Marmora coast occupied Myrpho-lyto. It is reported that the Bulgars before leaving Rodosto burned all the military buildings.

The grand visier, Mamhoud Scheffet Pasha, in his recent visit to the front, is understood to have met General Savoff, but nothing came of the interview.

Little Official News.
London, Feb. 6.—News from the east of the war is meagre. Vague reports of fighting in Gallipoli and at the Thracian lines have been received, but no details enabling one to judge of the character of the operations. The fact that the Bulgarians appear to be moving their positions westward along the Thracian lines seems to show that they realize there is a possibility of an attempt to outflank them but so far there is no confirmation of rumors that the Turks are moving troops by sea to the neighborhood of Rodosto and Midia.

The reports indicate that the Turks have met a reverse in the Gallipoli peninsula, but no word has been received as to whether the main forces have yet been engaged, an dit is assumed that the Turkish lines at Bulair and across the neck of the peninsula are well defended by modern works, which ought to offer resistance.

Fighting at this point should bring the river into action and operations of no naval movement has been reported.

Dr. Danef, head of the Bulgarian delegation, returned to Sofia today. The emissaries of the powers had another meeting in London this afternoon.

Foreigners Must Stay in Adrianople.
Sofia, Feb. 6.—The ministers of the powers in Sofia today communicated to Premier Guecheff the request of the consuls at Adrianople for permission for foreigners to leave the town or for the establishment of a neutral zone for their protection.

Premier Guecheff declined to accede to the request. He said, in explanation, that there was no precedent for foreigners leaving a besieged place under similar circumstances and that shells would not only be suitable and practicable for this country. The Canadian act is valuable to a country of employers and employees.

Turkish Troops Retire.
London, Feb. 7.—The main body of the Turkish troops has retired behind the main line of defense at Gallipoli, according to a despatch to the Daily Telegraph. A Constantinople despatch says that the Bulgars have attacked the Dda forte but were compelled to retire to their old positions. The Turkish cruiser Mesoudieh with two torpedo boats has sailed for the Black Sea, apparently to cover the landing near Midia of troops from Trebizond.

GETS FRIEDMAN SERUM FOR HIS AFFLICTED WIFE

Pittsburg Physician Reaches New York from Berlin With Culture That He Believes Will Effect a Cure.

New York, Feb. 6.—Hurry home from abroad with tuberculosis serum in his possession, that he says is the first of the widely-diffused Friedman culture to be brought to this country, Dr. Austin B. Heid, a physician of Pittsburg, arrived today and at once took a train for his home where a consumptive wife awaits the arrival of what Dr. Heid believes is a cure for her.

Dr. Heid has enough bacilli for only one patient, but he says that the serum will be his wife. Dr. Heid was met at quarantine by Dr. Milton H. Foster, of the Ellis Island health service, and questioned in behalf of the United States government about the Friedman cure. Dr. Heid told Dr. Foster he had been convinced of the efficacy of the cure and had obtained from Dr. Friedman just enough serum to treat a patient suffering from tuberculosis of the bone.

Part of this startling story came out in the house this afternoon when the present minister of the interior, Dr. Roche, replied to questions put by W. M. Martin, the Liberal member for Regina. Much more of it is likely to come out in the near future, and it is expected that the transaction will prove to have been one of the most successful of the kind ever come to light in domestic affairs.

The fact that this "homestead" is said to be within the city limits of Prince Albert is understood to be worth a quarter of a million dollars, and yet under the Rogers' administration of the interior department land of this class and this great value was allowed to be taken up as a "homestead."

But this is not the most remarkable fact in connection with the matter. In his reply to Mr. Martin's questions he was asked, "What was the result?" he asked, "I was not satisfied with the result."

Mr. Macdonald pointed out that the whole policy had been a procession of blunders. The measure itself had not yet been regularly introduced into parliament by the premier, who now sat silent. Two weeks ago the young minister of finance had announced that he was going to tell us how to save the country.

B. & A. TRAINMEN NOT ANXIOUS TO STRIKE

No Action Taken on Decision to Quit

Company Refuses Offer of Employees to Arbitrate.

Governor of Maine Recommends Such a Course—Engineers and Firemen's Places Have Been Pretty Well Filled, and Most of Train Service is Being Maintained.

Bangor, Me., Feb. 4.—Although practically the entire force of 250 conductors in the employ of the Bangor & Aroostook railroad have voted to strike in the event of a 46 per cent increase in the wage schedule all were on duty this morning and no action is expected to be taken until the men are completely ordered to go by the joint committee representing the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in whose hands the matter now lies. The Bangor & Aroostook was notified on Saturday that the vote for a strike among the conductors and trainmen was practically unanimous, and the strikers will meet in the morning to discuss the matter. The effect of the strike of the 250 men will be to prolong the present conditions on the road, which are the result of a walk out on the part of 150 engineers and firemen, who have been on strike for the past two weeks, and will mean a great deal to the business interests of Aroostook county through which the line runs. The railroad had the men in hand during the two weeks had secured enough new men to fill the places of the strikers and to run all passenger and most of the freight trains on the road. According to the statements given out from the general offices in this city, the railroad does not intend to accede to the demands of the conductors and trainmen any more than they did to the others, and the officials do not anticipate a great deal of difficulty in filling the places of the men if they decide to strike at the present time. The committee of the conductors and trainmen met at noon yesterday with President P. R. Todd and General Manager Stewart of the railroad, but without avail. They then went over the heads of the general officers and made a direct appeal to the directors of the corporation. In a communication to the members of the committee the directors upheld the action of the president and general manager in refusing to grant the increase and gave as their reason the present financial condition of the road which they claim will not warrant increasing the wages of any of the men.

Company Refused to Arbitrate. Following this the committee made a proposal to the president that the matter be left to arbitration to be settled either by the state board of arbitration and conciliation, Judge Knapp, of the U. S. Commerce Court, or U. S. Commissioner of Labor Neil.

The road will not agree to this proposition and the committee was informed inasmuch as it had deemed it wise to make an appeal to the directors the officials now felt that the matter had been taken under their hands and as far as the railroad is concerned it rests there.

Active preparations have been made to offset the effect of the strike of the conductors and trainmen which will begin at any moment by the hiring of new men. It is understood that this morning the company had enough conductors and trainmen to make all passenger trains with the exception of the Patten branch.

While there are enough to handle the passenger trains it will mean another heavy loss to the freight business before the road is filled on these trains and the Aroostook potato shippers are worried over the outlook.

The freight embargo laid on receiving new freight for shipment still holds and will remain until some definite action is taken by the conductors and trainmen. It is not been for the fact that a strike from this source was anticipated. It is understood that the railroad would have raised the embargo last week, as they had succeeded in replacing their firemen and engineers at that time and had already handled a great many carloads of freight.

Most of the seed potatoes that were under contract have been moved from points in Aroostook county and delivered to the Maine Central as well as to steamers at Stockton Harbor. A great many carloads of paper have also been sent down over the line from the Great Northern Paper Company's mill at Millbrook. General freight, however, has not yet been accepted, and if the conductors and trainmen send their forces to the strike, it will probably be some little time before the embargo is raised.

Men Hoop About Striking. The committee of the conductors and trainmen held a meeting Sunday, but when it was over Vice-President Perry, of the Order of Railway Conductors, stated that there was no definite action. He said that the men would remain at work pending some decision. He got no tell when the committee will go to work again to the strike. Vice-President Murdoch, of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, said that it is uncertain when the men will quit work. He said that the B. & A. trainmen and conductors were asking for the same rate of wages that are being paid by the other railroads in the eastern part of the United States. They are now getting, he said, 50 per cent less than is paid by other roads. Since the beginning of the strike on the B. & A. the trouble has excited widespread interest. The state legislature is in session, and has discussed the matter and the state board of arbitration and conciliation, at the request of the governor, has made an investigation of the situation.

NORTON MAN FELL FROM HIS WAGON AND WAS KILLED

Patrick McGinnis Had Been Hauling Deals and Was Returning Home When Fatality Occurred.

Norton, N. B., Feb. 4.—Patrick McGinnis was killed last evening by falling from his wagon, and the wheel passing over him. Mr. McGinnis had been hauling deals to Norton, and was returning home, which is about four miles from Norton, with the empty wagon, sitting on a plank which was placed on the running gear, and in some means slipped off, falling on the frozen road, and the hind wheel passed over him. John McCartoon, who was in the team ahead, saw him fall, and he was at once picked up and carried into Benjamin Cummings' house near by, and Dr. Folkins set him, but when the doctor arrived, he will say no more.

Mr. McGinnis was a good and industrious man and greatly respected in the community, and general sympathy goes out to the bereaved family. There is left to mourn a widow, two sons, John and Thomas, at home, and four daughters, Mrs. Michael Cummings, Mrs. Thomas Hickey, Nora and Mary at home. The funeral will take place at the Sacred Heart church, Norton, Thursday morning.

THE WORLD'S TALLEST OFFICE BUILDING

New York, Feb. 4.—The completion of the highest office structure in the world, the Woolworth building, is to be celebrated later in March with a banquet to be given in honor of the architect, Cass Gilbert, one of America's foremost projectors of different styles of office buildings. More than 600 persons have been invited to attend and the guest list contains the names of the governors of all the eastern States and of many prominent Canadians, now in the country.

The Woolworth building rises to a height of 70 feet above the sidewalk, has fifty-five stories, will accommodate 10,000 tenants, and be used daily by 50,000 people.

The state board having no power to take any action reported to Governor Haines, who in a letter to the legislature stated that the road should submit to arbitration. The situation in regard to the movement of freight along its line.

The Canadian Pacific Railway and the Maine Central are both benefiting by the strike, and Bangor wholesalers, who furnish Aroostook county with the bulk of the supplies, are shipping via the M. C. R. R. and the C. P. R. to all points east of those in Aroostook, but also in Passataqua county.

It has been reported, in contradiction to the statement that the strike ballot among the conductors and trainmen was practically unanimous, that some of the other employees are advising to the strike, and that there was a division of feeling on the matter. This may be the reason that the committee has hesitated to call the strike.

Unless the conductors and trainmen put the general impression is that the road has defeated the firemen and engineers. It has filled all places with new men and is operating both freight and passenger trains on both divisions.

TORIES SILENT ABOUT LEYD GEORGE

Take No Part in Naval Debate

Liberal Members Riddle Government's Absurd Contentions, But They Sit Dumb

Warning to Jingo Imperialists Uttered by Member for Qu'Appelle—Mr. Turgeon Makes Effective Speech.

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—The policy of silence which Premier Borden enjoined upon his followers in the House on the bank act discussion is apparently being continued in connection with the much delayed and many times adjourned naval debate. The emergency proposal again emerged this afternoon, and occupied the attention of the house until adjournment. But there was no word spoken from the government benches, and the weight of debate in consideration of the many important phases of the question fell entirely upon the Liberal members, three of whom added valuable contributions to the speeches already made. The government has apparently exhausted its arguments on the matter, and will say no more.

Mr. Turgeon, of Gloucester, who resumed the debate this afternoon, quoted from many authorities against the idea of a contribution, including Lord Milner and Balfour. He declared that the British government had not accepted the principle of contribution and that it would be much better for the empire and the United Kingdom to have a Canadian navy. The development of overseas navies, to replace the vessels withdrawn by Britain, was necessary in order to provide protection for trade routes.

Mr. Turgeon ridiculed the idea that an emergency existed. "If there is such a thing," he said, "it is made up of moving emergency, but it is such a position from time to time to meet the convenience of the premier and his government."

Levi Thompson, of Qu'Appelle, followed. "If the British Empire is ever destroyed," he said, "its destruction will be caused by the ultra-imperialists and Jingos, and empire is not strengthened by centralization. The old plan of dealing with the colonies was a plan of force, and in every case it failed. It failed with Rome, it failed with Spain, and it failed with Britain until it was changed. The great colonizing time came when the British government dropped the policy the Borden government is now contending for. The lighted torch of the empire, the more liable they are to break. That is true or else history is false. Why will men here in Canada and why will men of influence in Britain shut their eyes to history?"

Hon. Charles Marcell, the last speaker of the day, dealt eloquently and effectively with the constitutional aspects of the Borden naval bill. The government had no mandate and parliament had no authority under the British North America Act to direct cash contribution to Britain, but the act did authorize parliament to maintain land and naval forces. The Canadian people he believed to settle for themselves their own destinies and control their own expenditures. If a vital departure in imperial policy were made the people should be given an opportunity to declare upon it.

The ex-speaker briefly pointed out what was involved in Premier Borden's proposal to Canada, and then turned to the foreign policy of Britain. It meant that Canada would have to become responsible for the integrity of the Ottoman Empire, for the Balkans, for the Persian Gulf and Sweden, of Portugal, of Persia and of Abyssinia. For this meddling with the affairs of Europe no member of parliament had any mandate from his electors.

Mr. Marcell moved the adjournment of the debate at 10 o'clock in order to give members opportunity to catch the night train as he believed the capital crew tomorrow's holiday (Ash Wednesday).

A. M. Bouillon, chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific eastern division, is in the city and is registered at the Royal. Mr. Bouillon has just returned from Fredericton, where he had an interview with Premier Fleaming in connection with railway matters.

It is understood that the Grand Trunk Pacific is considering the idea of reaching St. John via the St. John Valley railway, and that the project to make connection between that railway and the St. John Valley railway from Nappadogan to a point in the vicinity of Fredericton, is under discussion once more. It was said some time ago that there were two possible routes for the connecting link between Nappadogan and the St. John Valley railway, one via the Keswick valley to cross the St. John river eight or ten miles above Fredericton, and the other to use the Stanley branch of the York and Carleton line and the Canada Eastern division via the Nashua valley to meet the St. John valley crossing the St. John river over a new bridge at Fredericton.

BRING THE RIVER ACROSS THE ISLAND BY MEANS OF A HARBOR BRIDGE, SAYS THIS UP RIVER CORRESPONDENT

To the Editor of The Telegraph: Sir—Having noticed a number of letters of late in the press of St. John in regard to the several courses suggested for the Valley Railway if you will kindly allow me space I would like to give four strong and, I think, convincing reasons, why the Valley Railway should follow the west bank of the river to Westport, either go into St. John on the C. P. R. rails, or by a line of its own, and cross the harbor at Navy Island.

It is admitted by engineers who have made borings at the Mistake, and at Gorman's Bluff, that it is impracticable, and almost impossible, to build a bridge across the river at these points, on account of the river bed, where soft mud and springs were found to exist at a depth of 100 feet below the bottom of the river. I understand why Mr. Peters and the Gagetown board of trade are willing for us in this old parish of Gagetown to be set off from communication with the city all because of a few miles extra fare that they would have to pay.

But, sir, in spite of Mr. Peters and the Gagetown board of trade, when the cost of millions of dollars for bridges and tunnels are taken into consideration, I am of opinion that the Valley Railway will be sited along the beautiful shores of the Long Reach, giving rise, the oldest settled part of New Brunswick, the accommodation that has been looked forward to for so long.

Thinking you for space, I am, Yours, etc., O. A. FLEWELLING, Oak Point (N. B.), Feb. 4, 1913.

CANADA AND RECIPROCAL

Hon. W. S. Fielding Points Out Weaknesses of Austen Chamberlain's Criticism.

London Times, Jan. 16. To the Editor of The Times: Sir: Into questions between the two great political parties or between the two sections of the United Kingdom, I have no desire to enter. I am not one of the Canadians who feel that they have a mission to come over here to instruct the people of this country. But when leading men in our own country, to whom the public may properly look for guidance in the interpretation of the views and actions of a great part of the Canadian people on questions touching the relations between the Mother Country and Canada, themselves say anything which is not in accordance with any Canadian citizen may claim a right to be heard in correction of the errors.

A few days ago I had to ask the printer the time of entering what seemed to me a necessary protest against the grave misconceptions existing in certain quarters as to the attitude of the Canadian people towards the American tariff movement, would be the last to question—Mr. Chamberlain says: "To the Liberals the idea of treating the Mother Country as a rival is doing more for your friends than you do for rivals, is anathema. To us it is the kernel and the essence of the whole question." Mr. Chamberlain's criticism is a fair and honest criticism, but it is not a fair and honest criticism of our own people. It is a criticism of our own people, and it is a criticism of our own people.

After speaking of "reciprocal arrangements" which are "the sea," Mr. Chamberlain describes the reciprocal agreement with the United States as "a similar arrangement from which the Mother Country was excluded." It is to be regretted that Mr. Chamberlain has allowed himself to be led into such a misrepresentation of the Canadian-American agreement. It is not true that the Mother Country was excluded from the benefits of the agreement; there was not a word in the agreement to justify or excuse such a statement. There was not a word in the agreement which touched the right of the American negotiators to divert the trade supplies which Canada sends here to the markets of the United States, and would have had the effect, in President Taft's own words of making Canada, the oldest, the greatest, the most prosperous of our dominions, an "outlet" of its southern neighbor.

I have purposely extended my quotations a little beyond what is necessary for a momentary notice, because I wish Mr. Chamberlain to have the benefit, if such it is, of whatever help he can obtain from the Liberal who is not only a fair and honest critic of our own people, but also a fair and honest critic of our own people.

Mr. Chamberlain's criticism is a fair and honest criticism, but it is not a fair and honest criticism of our own people. It is a criticism of our own people, and it is a criticism of our own people.

New York Prosecutor to Summon a Police Inspector as Result of Patrolman's Confession.

New York, Feb. 5.—As a result of further disclosures in the police graft situation made to the district attorney today by Eugene Fox, the policeman who has confessed to paying tribute as collector for superior officers, it was decided with the consent of Supreme Court Justice Goff to hasten the investigation of the extraordinary grand jury by having that body convene tomorrow instead of next Monday.

District Attorney Whitman conferred with Justice Goff after Fox and a relative had been questioned all the afternoon and it was agreed to summon a police inspector, mentioned by Fox, to appear as a witness before the grand jury tomorrow.

A direct trail to the much-talked-of "men higher up" in the police department is thought now to have been struck by the prosecutor.

A BREAK IN THE DAM

Those Who Wept or Raved Over the Dangers of Reciprocity—What Do They Say Now?

(Montreal Witness). Canada is to have all the reciprocity treaty would have given her without having to make any concessions in return. But great doubts are going to go up all over Canada from those who opposed that treaty, as though they were told to go to the right in the right in having done so. But the treaty was chiefly fought as based on the harm to the home market, and on the harm we should get from access to the United States markets. The United States would buy up our food products and increase the price on our own people. They would buy up our raw materials and sell us the finished products. The trusts that controlled the producing markets of the United States would annex ours. We would become an adjunct and have to do our banking at Chicago and New York. These succinct phrases were furnished later by the newspaper men who were seized on by the opponents of reciprocity as rightly stating the case. But all these were very minor matters. Annexation would be sure to follow from the United States market, and every one was a traitor, conscious or unconscious, who favored it. We heard a very intelligent reader of a neighbor journal who tears declared his determination to defend his bit of land against foreign armies with his gun. It was in vain that we responded day by day that the United States would not open her markets to us on any day she chose, and we could do nothing to hinder her. We are now told that she is going to do it, and! we who opposed the treaty was the beginning of tariff reduction. They realized that if duties were taken off natural products which Canada, nothing would satisfy the producers of these but the removal of other duties the burden of which falls upon Canada. It is a similar affair. A Canadian farmer break in the United States tariff, knowing how our tariff was born of that one, how the United States tariff has been the one argument that has restrained our export. What avidity we follow United States notions. Well, the time is now alleged to have come when that stately and well-knit structure of our own people, which we were able to withstand the Canadian demand for released markets? When the change comes, it will not come as a concession to another country, which is but tactics. It will come, as it seems to be doing in the United States, as a demand from our own people to be released from burdens which they resent.

Land Reform Scheme Condemned

Say British Laborer is Better Off Than Overseas Ones

London, Feb. 6.—The land policy of the chancellor of the exchequer has sounded the rock bottom of the Tory ladder of Liberalism and all its ways. At first the necessity of land reform was vigorously denied, then it was ridiculed, next it entered the realm of practical politics and now it is accepted as a leading plank in the Liberal programme.

The Conservative press, and behind it the Conservative party, are tumbling over each other in order to show that the rural life of England is ideal, and the lot of the laborer is such that he is contented and happy. His pent-up and stifled and the lot of the laborer is such that he is contented and happy. His pent-up and stifled and the lot of the laborer is such that he is contented and happy.

LOOK UPON CITY AS FRIEND WORTHY OF TRUST

James Lowell, in Letter Read at Meeting of Lancaster Board of Trade, Expresses Appreciation of Treatment Received.

Tuesday, Feb. 4. At a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Lancaster Board of Trade last evening the following letter, which explains the views of Mr. Lowell, solicitor of the Board:

To the Parish Council: I must say to the people of Lancaster and the Lancaster Board of Trade, that they must appreciate the kindness of the common council of St. John for the hearty way in which they received the committee of the Lancaster Board of Trade. After hearing what we believe was a reasonable argument on the water rates they were willing to reconsider the whole matter and not only reduce the proposed increase but place the people of Lancaster on the same footing as the city residents. I am glad to look at the committee of St. John as an opponent, but as a best friend and one whom the people of Lancaster might well trust.

Mr. Lowell's letter was received with enthusiasm. Councillors Bryant and Golding spoke during the evening and thanked the committee of the Board of Trade for the valuable aid it had given. They said that they could not have accomplished their object without the strong united assistance rendered by the members of the Lancaster Board.

There will be a meeting the latter part of the week of the Lancaster Board of Trade by-law committee and it is the intention of the members to get down to business.

ST. JOHN, N. B., FEBRUARY 8, 1913

THE STANDARD'S CONVERSION

It gives us no little pleasure to note that The Standard, which formerly regarded our growing trade with the United States with undignified horror, is now beginning to welcome the prospect of increased "truck and trade with the Yankees."

Canada, it tells us further, retained its fiscal independence by defeating reciprocity, and now "can witness the lowering of the tariff wall by the United States with considerable complacency."

Wonderful indeed are the changes wrought by time! Not many months ago The Standard would never have employed such a word as "complacency" in this connection.

But generally it was able not only to "wince with complacency" at the proposed tariff reductions, but to welcome a projected free list including lumber, both rough and partly dressed, all food products, cattle, meats, wheat, flour, raw wool and much else.

which our loyal contemporary has been notoriously reluctant to embrace.

RENTS AND HOMES

It is perfectly human to complain about increased rentals for houses and stores. Provided one does not own the houses and stores, if St. John had sufficient houses of modern construction to contain the persons of all the various walks in life who are looking for homes within their means, there would be less outcry about rising rents.

Although really valuations will probably go up considerably this year in the eyes of the assessors, it is very likely that rents will go up to an even greater degree; but it requires competition—that is, more houses—to make city rentals reasonable, and one effect of the rising rents in all directions will be to impress upon all classes the need for more and better housing accommodation.

The great Webster, in his speech on the question of revising the constitution of Massachusetts, began by asking that all or any of the letters received in the turmoil of discussion that is arising over the proposal of Lloyd George and his land policy, it may be well to state the real problem that is before any Liberal government in Britain at present.

Some citizens are complaining that the activity of the Board of Trade has produced high rents. A little consideration should dispose of that contention. The immediate cause of high rents is the belief of the landlords that there are now people enough in search of houses to warrant them in asking a higher return from their property.

THE BLACK MAN'S BURDEN

The blessings of European civilization are proving of but doubtful value to the natives of the tropics who work the rubber plantations. During the rubber boom of two or three years ago, it is said that $150,000,000 was invested.

Even though the worst is not told, for many other abominations are revealed in step to have the government suspend the duty in any case wherein it was shown that the price of any home-made article to the Canadian consumer was being enhanced unduly.

grieved when they stand isolated and armed among tribes of helpless people. Men and women in the "smarter" society draw their incomes from the anguish of tortured and murdered men and women, and praise their foresight when the dividends run so high.

It is beyond question that the contact of Europeans with natives all over the world has been one long tragedy for the native races. In the record of misery and pain nothing else can for a moment compare with the cruelty, lust and brutal greed by which that contact has almost everywhere been accompanied.

THE LAND FOR THE PEOPLE

The great Webster, in his speech on the question of revising the constitution of Massachusetts, began by asking that all or any of the letters received in the turmoil of discussion that is arising over the proposal of Lloyd George and his land policy, it may be well to state the real problem that is before any Liberal government in Britain at present.

Some citizens are complaining that the activity of the Board of Trade has produced high rents. A little consideration should dispose of that contention. THE FARMER AND THE POLITICIAN

A Charlotte county farmer, in writing to The Telegraph in favor of rural free delivery, recites some of the hardships and disabilities suffered by New Brunswick farmers.

As a matter of fact, our friend in Charlotte county, if he overstates his case in some particulars, understates it in others. As he writes, for example, the county taxpayer has really very little to say as to what shall be done with the road money.

supreme interest and concern to drill into the hands of various so-called "governing" bodies which were supposed to give high class service, but which, in reality, served themselves instead of serving the people.

WINTER WITHOUT THE WEATHER

The chief of the season cuts even less deeply in England than it does here this winter. At Christmas the red and white roses from the gardens ousted the holly from the tables, and January came with even a more open sky and with the air a degree or so more summery.

It is growing weather. The schoolmaster gets his pupils to collect wild flowers, and the list of those they find putting forth their buds before their time, increases daily. Primroses, polyanthus and wall-flowers; ranunculus, hepatica, and periwinkle, contrast their colors with the snowdrop and the Christmas rose.

THE HOME AND THE CITIZEN

Shifting taxation to land tends to reduce rents, just as the taxation of houses tends to increase rents. For a tax upon the house is borne by the tenant, while a tax upon the land falls first upon the shoulders of the landlord.

As a matter of fact, our friend in Charlotte county, if he overstates his case in some particulars, understates it in others. As he writes, for example, the county taxpayer has really very little to say as to what shall be done with the road money.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The opinions of correspondents are not necessarily those of The Telegraph. This newspaper does not undertake to publish all or any of the letters received. The sign of communications will not be noticed. Write on one side of paper only. Communications must be plainly written; otherwise they will be rejected. Blatant should be enclosed if return of manuscript is desired in case it is not used.

for thorough examination and study with the city commissioners, than the question of taxation. It is a matter of supreme public concern. One of the most welcome bits of news of the day is the announcement that the Mayor and Commissioners are going to take up taxation reform, and take it up courageously.

A REPLY TO HIS LORDSHIP BISHOP RICHARDSON'S SERMON ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

To the Editor of The Telegraph:—According to history for nearly three centuries after Jesus' ascension into heaven, Christians followed the whole command of the Saviour—even raised the dead.

It might be argued that the command, "And ye go ye preach, saying, The Kingdom of the Heavens is at hand," was to the twelve apostles only, but when Jesus said: "These signs shall follow them that believe," he meant that they should cast out devils, they shall speak with new tongues, they shall take up serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing it shall not hurt them, as Jesus plainly stated how to know a believer.

LOWER DEATH RATE FOR JANUARY

Health Officer's Report Gives Number of Deaths in St. John Last Month as 62.

The January health bulletin is prepared by Dr. G. G. Melvin, health officer, is as follows: The following number of cases of contagious diseases was reported from the city during January: Measles, 18; Typhoid, 1; Diphtheria, 1; Scarlet fever, 1; Typhoid, 1; Measles, 18; Typhoid, 1; Diphtheria, 1; Scarlet fever, 1.

Table with columns: Disease, 1912, 1911, 1910, 1909, 1908. Rows: Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever, Typhoid, Measles, Tub. Dis.

Deaths from Intest. Dis. under 5 years, none. Among the many minor discoveries of the last century perhaps no more useful one was made than that which enables food to be kept wholesome for an indefinite period by means of canning.

Occasionally, however, canned goods prove unwholesome. This is due either to an accident or negligence in canning, or to the use of inferior materials in the canning process.

Decay is caused in all vegetable and animal matter by the action of bacteria or germs. These are present everywhere, and are especially numerous in food.

As soon as the Emergency was properly trained, Premier Borden took it over to himself. He was not a politician, but a man of action.

But the best of canned food may be spoiled after it is opened for consumption. It is well known that the best of canned goods should be kept in a cool, dry place.

THE EMERGENCY BOGEY SCARES NOBODY NOW

Borden is Rather Ashamed of His Creation and Would Like to Drop It

H. F. Gadsby Describes How the British Government Viewed the Matter of Giving Canada a Say in Empire's Affairs—Ornamental Job for Parley Nipped in the Bud.

BY H. F. GADSBY (Special to The Telegraph and Toronto Star). Ottawa, Jan. 30—The Emergency is an again, of again, on again, gone again, again, of again, on again, gone again, again, of again, on again, gone again, again.

It is a better-bred Emergency than the one the Borden government had after the election of 1911, the Nationalist Emergency which was a nasty bad-tempered brute that had to be got rid of.

Don't you know, and it pleases the tongue to hear him speak? St. Premier Borden went to Winston Churchill and asked the same question.

In actual conference with the British government Premier Borden had as much to say as he could get.
