London was yesterday visited by another disaster, and as a result Fire Chief Clark, Sergt. Cockburn, of Wolseley Barracks, Fireman Henry Wein are dead, and Fireman William Cole is badly injured. The horror occurred in a fire at Westman's hardware store, on Dundas street west. It started shortly before 5 o'clock, and the three floors collapsed about 6:25 o'clock, burying all four men. Fireman Cole was taken out about 8:30 o'clock and removed to his home. Chief Clark was taken out dead five minutes to twelve, and Fireman Wein shortly after. Sergt. Cockburn was not found until about 10 minutes of 3. The loss will amount to $100,000, well insured.

The alarm was turned in from Westman's hardware store, Dundas street, at 10 minutes to five. Chief Clark, who had just returned to the hall from a conference with Mayor Stevely, Ald. Greenlees and ex-Mayor Judd, relative to the claim of the late Fireman Seccombe, led his brigade to the blaze. When he reached the scene of the fire he got his men to work rapidly.

A DESPERATE FIRE.

From the beginning it was seen to be a desperate fire. From every window poured cloud upon cloud of heavy smoke. Chief Clark lecided to pour in all the water he could, and as a result every available foot of hose was laid. As a result of this there was need of many volunteers. Sergt. Cockburn, Market Clerk Maker and many others went into the line of fire-fighters and commenced the work of saving the building from destruction.

Five streams were poured into the building from the rear and six from the front.

In spite of the immense volume of water used, the flames appeared to be getting the best of the firemen.

For an hour they toiled and worked, until at last it seemed as if the fire king was about to be overcome.

Then it burst out worse than ever, especially on the upper floors.

Chief Clark then sent for the steam engine, and it arrived at a few minutes after 6 o'clock. Two streams were detached, and Foreman John Case and Fireman R. Haylock took the nozzle.

THE FINANCIAL LOSS.

With the exception of Westman's hardware, all loss entailed by the conflagration is fully covered by insurance.

Mr. Eldon Westman today stated that as near as he could judge the stock was worth between $40,000 and $45,000.

Several years ago the insurance carried by the Westman Company amounted to $28,000, but several thousand dollars of that amount has since been dropped.

Last March Mr. Westman celebrated his 40th anniversary as a London businessman, having for 34 years been in business at 111 Dundas street, a few doors west of the present place of

"Yes, we will try and get on our feet again and begin business in some way shortly," said Mr. Westman. "After having been in business for so long, we feel that we can manage to get going

The loss to buildings adjoining that occupied by the Westman people resulted chiefly from water and smoke, but some of the other losses, particularly that of Darch & Hunter, are very heavy.

Stock Destroyed Was Valuable One Contained Much Inflamable Matter

Little Damage Was Done.

The Westman Hardware Company carried one of the finest stocks of hardware in Western Ontario, and according to the statement of a former Cockburn and Fireman Wein - was employe who had assisted many times heavily stocked with stoves, harvest in taking stock it was valued at from $45,000 to $50,000.

The cellar, where the fire started, was almost completely filled with inflammable material, such as linseed oil, turpentine, and barrels of paint of all kinds. A large benzine tank in the cellar had not been used for years on account of the insurance, which prohibits the carrying of explosive materials, such as benzine, gasoline, etc. The destroyed building was owned by Mr. V. Cronyn, and was almost free from partitions of any kind, with the exception of the offices of the firm. Midway in the cellar was a flight of stairs leading to the ground floor, and front of the third floor in summertime been entirely unprotected from the spreading of fire. The nearest approach to fire doors in the shaft, it is alleged, was a wooden door, which was located on the ground floor over the cellar, about fifteen feet from the market entrance to the building, which was 125 feet deep and four stories in height.

From the moment when the flames were first subdued and the report that Chief Clark, Sergt. Cockburn and London, Aug. 17.-There has been quite a revival of Edgar Allan Poe in his most intimate friends said to him: England recently. Many editions of his works are being sold, and a recent critic alludes to him as one of the most "imaginative and cultivated of De Maupassant.

Doubtless the revival of Poe is due to the strongly developed public taste for short stories of a Poesque character, tending to the weird.

While there has always been a of his men wanted to go in and locate England, it is only within the last year or two that he has become what you might call a "popular" author among the generality of readers. Many critics of the higher-class literary weeklies regard Poe as the

LONDON, TUESDAY, AUGUST 18. SIR WILFRID LAURIER.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's tour of Ontario may or may not presage a general election this autumn, but there will be no need of campaign excitement to send a wave of enthusiasm through the Province His mere presence is sufficient. As he is the first citizen of Canada by title, so he is first in the hearts of his countrymen. They are one in acknowledging his great personal distinction. His is a figure big enough to be seen from far beyond the bounds of his own country. He is the first Canadian to enjoy an international reputation, and all true Canadians must be proud of him as a local product.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, like all party leaders, has his enemies, but they are disarmed by his character and personal charm. There is a ring of insincerity in their attacks, however maliciously worded: at any rate abuse of Laurier finds no response in any large section of the public. The mass of the Conservatives like and respect him, and merely lament that they have no such man in their own ranks.. The the cabinet, but they leave Laurier untouched. Even when they tried to run a campaign in Ontario on race lines, as in 1900, they concentrated their fire upon Mr. Tarte and not his

Sir Wilfrid Laurier may or may not be making his last appeal to the In the course of nature he should have ten years of usefulness There is an impression, shared by many Conservatives, that so long as he chooses to remain in public life he will remain in office. The Canadian people are loyal to public men who have taken hold of their affections. Macdonald at Ottawa, Mowat at Toronto and Fielding at and prosperity, and he has set in moof these is the transcontinental railway. This enterprise is in a stage where its opponents can carp and criticise and indulge in gloomy vaticinations. The statesman mainly responsible for it should be at the helm a few years hence, when it can be described it as the crowning achievement of his career, and, perhaps, even his adversaries will admit that this is no mere rhetorical flourish when his magnificent conception is realized. But Laurier's main contribution to his country is in the realm of moral and not material things. He has allayed suspicion and distrust between the French and English elements of the population, and inspired them, as never before, with the ideal of a united Canada. This will be his epitaph.

Old Employees Not Much Influenced by Ultimatum of Company.

Montreal, Aug. 18.-At 10 o'clock today the time expired when accordinto the ultimatum issued by the C. P. R., the striking mechanics might save their standing as to length of employment and eligibility for the pension fund, but not a single man applied for reinstatement.

Yesterday the strike leaders made the declaration that the ultimatum was a bluff, and the men would not be influenced by it. So that the failure of any of them to apply for their old positions at the Angus shops today was expected.

Reports from all points, including North Bay, Winnipeg, West Toronto, London, St. John, and, in fact, everywhere along the line indicate that the men are standing firm, not a single break being known. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the company, authorizes a denial of the report that he has been called to Ottawa by the Government for the purpose of arriving at a settlement of the mechanics' strike. It was stated that Mr. McVeity, the strikers' representative at Winnipeg, was to meet the president at Ottawa to confer with the department of labor.

West Toronto, Aug. 19. -The strikrs here apparently were unaffected by the ultimatum issued by the company on Saturday to the effect that if striking mechanics did not apply for reengagement by noon today they would lose their seniority standing.

A remarkable feature of the situation which developed today was that als own legs. His best day's run was 110 there are over a score of men who are miles in the Mohawk Valley. #### NO WORD FROM MISS PECK

Champion Woman Mountain Climber May Have Met With Accident.

Lima, Aug. 19. - Alarm is felt here for the safety of Miss Annie S. Peck, of Providence, R. I., the noted mountain climber, who on Friday afternoon signalled her arrival at an altitude of 25,000 feet on Mount Huascaran, the summit of which is covered with pernetual snow. Since that time no word has been had from Miss Peck, or the two Alpine climbers who accompanled her.

Miss Peck's feat in reaching an altitude higher than that attained by any other man or woman in the world was learned here with astonishment and admiration, and her return from the mountain was eagerly looked forward to. Her failure to return, or communicate in any way, since Friday noon caused great anxiety, and various expeditions were organized and have started to her assistance.

The terms of the Netherlands answer to the letter of President Castro were fully discussed, and the actual H. C. BECHER, 432 Richmond text, as well as broad lines of action, drawn up to meet any possible eventualities, were agreed upon.

The view is entertained in diplomatic circles here that the present difficulty between Holland and Venezuela is not of a nature to be settled by arbitration, and in explanation it 93% 94% is pointed out that the dispute is not of a private commercial character, like the difficulties between Venezuela and 521/2 531/6 Great Britain, Germany and the United States. In these cases satisfaction for claims was sought, and Holland has no claim against Venezuela. It is main-tained here that the present question is rather one of sovereignty and national honor, matters which are not susceptible of solution by arbitration.

Thrilling Incidents.

There seemed to be a chapter of thrilling incidents. During the fire it was necessary to move one of the ladders.

As the firemen were all busy, some of the spectators tried to move it. The ladder got away from them and fell across the trolley wire. Some of the men had hold of it at the time, and several were badly was a sheet of flame leaping three feet above the engine. Just at the same moment the windows and doors of the burning building burst out with an overwhelming cloud of smoke, followed by the crashing of the ceilings.

At that moment the chief and his gallatt comrades met their death.
