JOIN WITH MAYOR IN URGING DAM

Two Aldermen Discuss Situation in City Hall This Morning.

PROVIDE WORK

At a triumvirate meeting today :n the mayor's office, Aldermen Hayden and Douglass joined with the mayor in urging the erection of a dam at Springbank on the Thames, not only as a source of beauty and cleanliness for the city, but also for the supply of a certain amount of power.

E. V. Buchanan has stated that a dam built at this point would not supply sufficient power to make it's erection worth while. On the other hand these three members of the council argue that the public utilities commission was able to save about $20,000 a year when the dam was in operation, and that they should be able to save the city something, even if not as much as now. Three in Unison.

Three in Unison.

All three were in unison in declaring that the Thames Valley was too fine a site to be spoilt by the lack of a dam, and that to give the city a boating river again would not only add to the beauty of the city but give it an advertising value in the eyes of visitors. They regard the actual amount of power that might be obtained from a dam as secondary to the other benefits of the dam.

"There's another point of interest to Londoners in the building of a dam," said the mayor. "It would provide work for men now out of work. At the present time I am having men come in every day asking for work.

Cash corn sold 2½c lower. Broad demand in wheat; some edging and considerable realizing. hedging and considerable realizing.
So long as wheat prices in Winnipeg continue to advance, other markets are expected to follow. Price recessions are expected to be moderate, but just as long as present conditions prevail, purchase on sharp declines are favored by traders.

The critical condition of the wheat crop in Canada is emphasized by the action of the market, and it ostimated that serious damage to the Canadlan crop would react strongly on world's values, but the present market will not advance steadily. There will be many reactions from time to time.

Eastern and western houses were prominent buyers of wheat, and hedging sales were readily absorbed.

Knollwood Community Spends Superintendent Charles For-Eventful Day At Home of Phillip Brooks.

HUGE SUCCESS

The community gathering of Knoll-wood Park and district held at the farm of Phillip Brooks, 4th concession was a broad all dreams on Saturday and one full of pep grounds in automobiles.

The sports program was the largest planned by any picnic this year, there being a total of 43 events on the day's roster. This total day's sport was run off in three hours, as the contestants for the races were sport was run off in three hours, as the contestants for the races were lined up and ready to start as soon as the other runners had started. The starter, Ed. Horlor, handled his end in an efficient manner.

P. J. Lavender, chairman of the committee, was the idol of the children all afternoon. He conducted candy showers about every ten minutes, and the candy he threw to the children if stretched end to end would reach from the picnic grounds to Knollwood Park. A. A. Williams, secretary of the association, hustled all the time, as it was he who saw that the races were run in their proper order.

Difficulty in Judging.

Alderman Ed. Hayden was the judge in the baby show and did his task well, considering the fact that the babies of this section are reputed to be the best in the city by the residents and the contestants of the London division. cored time and again.

Mayor Wenige was present, and gave a short talk after supper. He informed the gathering that he had received a telegram from T. G. Meredith, city solicitor, at noon, teling him he would not stand in the way of the Quebec street sewer, and this meant that the work would start in a short while. He also made it nlain that if the people gave him n a short while. He also made it plain that if the people gave him good material to help him (meaning the council), more would be accomplished for this section. He assured them that the paving of Quebec street would be done this year, the work to start as soon as the engineer's department had completed other jobs they were now defined. Another feature of the day was the Perfects. The most noteworthy dec-oration was that of Henry J. Laven-der. He had designed an airship frame, constructed of light wood and light cloth for his wheel. The model was complete in every way except for a motor. He had a rudder on the back, propeller on the front, and guy wires on the wins. This took first place in the Perfect class, Rose Huntplace in the Perfect class, Rose Huntley was second, and Edward Olney was third. In the Red Bird class, the number of entries was larger. Isabel Tompkins, an 8-year-old girl, was the winner of this class. He bicycle was decorated in orange, with many pretty flower designs placed on the wheels and handle bars. Bobbie Naylor was second and Edith Francis. Naylor was second and Edith Francis

The feature of the Wortley Road picnic was a softball match between sides captained by Reginald Warner and Ralph Paisley. Mr. Warner's side proved victorious to the tune of 15 to 12. Harold Monk and Miss Olive Roy, president and social convenor, respectively, had charge of the arrangements for the picnic, which was attended by about 35 people.

Sters.

There were twenty-five events in all, and the credit for carrying out such a lengthy program in an order-ly and expeditious manner was largely due to Ed. Jones, general chairman of the committee. Other officials were: Secretary, F. Lewis; W. Barkley, refreshments; H. Gilmore, transportation.

One of the most interesaing competitions during the entire program was attended by about 35 people.
