RING OF DROWNING VICTIM SOLVES MYSTERY

Women Demand Preservation of Ontario's Beauty Spots

WOMAN FOUND IN RIVER IDENTIFIED BY RING AS LOST TENT-DWELLER

Police System Solves Mystery

The system of local police in filing articles which may offer a clue to identification has probably resulted in establishing the fact that the body of a woman found in the Thames last July is that of Miss Wilson of Highland Park. A ring which she wore on her right hand was preserved by Detective George E. Walsh and through the fact that it is gold and bears a scroll, the woman's brother, describing it this morning, practically established identity.

Police Believe Disappearance of Miss Alice Wilson, High- land Park, Is Explained.

BROTHER CONCURS

Had Not Heard From Eccen- tric Woman Since Day of Drowning.

Miss Alice Wilson, 59, who lived for three years alone in a little tented home, Highland Park, is now believed by police to be the unknown woman whose body was found floating in the weeds near the Ridout street bridge on July 29 last.

Added color is given to the conviction of Detective George E. Walsh, as a gold ring found on the woman corresponds to the description of a ring owned by Miss Wilson, and described to the Advertiser this afternoon by her brother, George Wilson, who lives on a farm near Ingersoll.

Miss Wilson's tent on Cliftondale avenue blew down some two weeks ago, and it was not till a few days ago that neighbors began to wonder at her continued absence. They stated that Miss Wilson was rather eccentric, and in the habit of leaving her home for weeks and months at a time, and then turning up calm and serene. They did not think it unusual that she should be away for several months, and did not worry over her absence.

Received No Word.

Mr. Wilson this afternoon stated that as far as he knew his sister was still living in Highland park. "Have you heard from her since last July?" Mr. Wilson was asked. "No, I can't say that I have," replied Mr. Wilson. "None of us corresponded very regularly with her." "Did she wear a ring?" "Yes, she wore a gold ring with sort of scroll work on it. I think you would call it a figured ring," replied Mr. Wilson.

Always Wore Black.

Miss Wilson was invariably dressed in black, her neighbors state. The body found by Robert Murrell and Neil McDonald was also dressed in black. Height and general description correspond with that of Miss Wilson.

Miss Wilson was born in West Oxford and has a brother and two sisters living near Ingersoll. Another sister, Mrs. Fred Soden, lives at 3229 Post street, Los Angeles, Cal. There is a letter for Miss Wilson at the Highland Park postoffice from Mrs. Soden, which has been lying in the postoffice for over three weeks. High Constable Wharton states.

Mr. Wilson stated that he or his sister would come to London on Saturday to see the police and interview neighbors of his sister. After being told of the belief entertained by the police, Mr. Wilson is more or less convinced that it was his sister's remains which were found on the river's bank last July.

High Constable Wharton, who went through Miss Wilson's effects yesterday, found a purse with over $33 in it in an unlocked trunk, and a marked check for $1,029, marked accepted by the Royal Bank in April, 1925, and signed by herself. This led the high constable to believe that she had intended transferring the money to another bank, but had never finally decided to do so.

Miss Wilson's tent was blown down a week ago. It was yesterday placed in position by the high constable, who took charge of her effects today. Miss Wilson's bed was made of a packing case with high board sides. The bedding was spotted with stains, as was everything else in the tent. Her Bible lay beside her.

Ousted After 325 Years

GIANT PARK ELM UPROOTED.

Standing in the way of athletic progress, a giant elm tree, 25 feet in circumference, has been uprooted in Thames park to make way for a soft-ball diamond. Rings in the tree indicate that the tree was 325 years old. Since the tree had to be torn up by the roots, the task, undertaken by the public utilities commission staff, was not an easy one and was only completed after days of hard work. Now that the tree has been torn down it must be removed from the park, and the large hole which was necessary to get at the roots of the tree will have to be filled up.

SHIPS MOVE AGAIN CONTINUE SEARCH IN WELLAND CANAL FOR LOST YACHT

Serious Tie-Up Is Blamed on Hope of Finding Crew of Three Water Diversion—Ottawa Gets Protest.

Canadian Press Despatch. St. Catharines, Nov. 5.—Traffic is again moving on the Welland canal after the fourth serious tie-up during the season as the result of low water. From Tuesday night until 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon not a boat was able to pass up through the aqueduct at Welland, and down-bound traffic was not under way until 10 o'clock last night.

The St. Lawrence River was the first to be caught in a jam, the bottom of the stone structure, there being a line-up of twenty stalled steamers before traffic was resumed with the coming of the better weather. The unfavorable wind on Lake Erie had shifted.

The municipalities of St. Catharines, Merrittton and Thorold have a memorial on the way to Ottawa protesting against the Chicago drainage canal as a contributory cause to these tie-ups, which in each instance means the shutting off of the supply of water to the old Welland canal from which numerous factories derive their waterpower.

MEXICAN CLERICAL LAW IS BRANDED AN OUTRAGE

Associated Press Despatch. Mexico City, Nov. 5.—Archbishop of Mexico in a statement today condemned the law enacted in the state of Tabasco requiring priests of all creeds to marry in order to exercise their offices.

"It is a monstrous outrage," said the archbishop, "contrary to the freedom of the church and ecclesiastical laws, and we energetically protest. No Catholic bishop or priest will heed such an absurd law."

Count Edouard Francois Marie de la Rocheboucaud, father of the young man, remembering that he is duke of Bisaccia of Italy, is putting his hope on breaking the engagement through an appeal to the King of Italy and Pope Pius to intervene.

ENLARGED MEMBERSHIP IS THAMES VALLEY AIM

Ways and means of enlarging the membership of the Thames Valley municipal golf course at Springbank will be considered at a meeting of the year's members to be held in the public utilities commission board room at 8:30 tomorrow night. F. W. Brown, captain of the club during the past season, will preside at the meeting, at which it is expected there will be a large attendance.

JURY TRIAL FOR WM. A. McDONALD ON BANK CHARGE

Herbert Brewer To Remain in London Till Case Comes Before Higher Court.

UNAUTHORIZED LOAN

Former Bank Teller Reveals Method by Which Rum Venture Was Financed.

William A. McDonald, charged with conspiracy in the theft of $7,000 from the market branch of the Bank of Montreal, was committed to trial by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon today after Herbert G. Brewer, sentenced to Kingston penitentiary last August in connection with the same case, gave evidence for the crown.

McDonald will be tried by jury at the December sitting of the county court. Meanwhile Brewer, brought to London from Kingston several days ago, will be held at the county jail, to give further evidence when the case is heard before County Judge Tabbot Macleath.

In the preliminary hearing this morning after McDonald had pleaded not guilty and elected trial by jury through his counsel, Howard Cluff and C. St. Clair Letch, the bank's lawyer, declared he had made unauthorized loans of the operation of boats in the exportation of beer.

May Be More Arrests.

From the information against McDonald, read to him by Magistrate Graydon, others are connected with the case, and it is likely that further arrests may be made by the police. Brewer told how he had become acquainted with McDonald last year. McDonald opened an account with the Bank of Montreal, and when hard pressed for funds, asked Brewer to accept a check made out for a greater amount than his account had in it. He persuaded Brewer to "hold" the check which he promised to make good in a few days.

Brewer stated that he had made no personal gain from allowing McDonald the money. Once he had made the mistake of cashing the first two checks, he was unable to stop. He was to allow McDonald more money in order to provide sufficient capital to recoup his losses.

Asked for Loans.

"McDonald would ask me for loans," Brewer said. "He would give me checks without dates, and when, as he promised, the money was deposited in his account, I was to cash the checks, and then credit them against his account."

"The first two amounts of $900 were never paid," Brewer said. "I told him that unless he had more money, I would not cash the checks."

Meighen To Reply To King In Statement Late Today

Prime Minister's Announcement That Liberal Government Will Continue in Office and Meet Parliament Prompts the Conservative Leader To Make Views Public.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Nov. 5.—Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Conservative party, will issue an official statement at 5 o'clock this afternoon dealing with the announcement made by Premier King shortly before midnight last night to the effect that his government would continue in office and meet parliament at the earliest possible date.

The attitude of Mr. Meighen has not been revealed, except to his closest advisers, and there is much speculation as to the tone his reply will take.

New York, With Jazz Mayor, Recalls Time City of London Had Troubles of Its Own

James Walker, of Gotham Tin Pan Alley Fame, Can Have Nothing On Frank Cornish, Who Drove Horse Through Arcade.

New York has just elected as mayor, in the person of James J. Walker, writer of popular songs in "Tin Pan Alley," a chief magistrate who, if he lives up to his reputation, will give the metropolis a jazz administration which will be remembered and talked about for years after.

But even London has not been without its colorful personalities in the mayor's chair, as a very cursory glance at the city's past history would indicate. Seeking the aid of City Clerk Baker in the search for some such "local color," The Advertiser stands up this morning whether London had ever had a musician as mayor.

"Oh, yes, several of them," Mr. Baker began. "Let me see. There was Dr. Wilson and Dr. Stevenson." "Pardon me, I said musician, not physician," interjected The Advertiser.

"Oh, musician?" queried Mr. Baker. "Have we ever had a musician? No, thank heaven. I would advise you as soon have a newspaper reporter."

Not Devoid of Color.

But while totally devoid of song composers in its long list of mayors, London has had several whose acts and personality are still the subject of reminiscence whenever old-timers meet. In 1848, the mayor of London (which in those days was a tiny town) was a Mr. Dixon, Mr. Baker's admirable centennial year review, The Rise and Progress of London, makes the following reference to his regime:

"Mr. Dixon is said to have been the most cantankerous mayor London ever had. On about six different occasions he refused to put motions and declared the council adjourned. Each time the council appointed a chairman, did its business and censured the mayor. Then, at the last meeting, he was elected."

W. R. JARMAN, CITY, OPENS LAUNDRY OWNERS' SESSION

Condition Directly Due to the Shortage of Coal Owing to Strike.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Nov. 5.—The annual convention of the Canadian Laundry Owners Association opened here this morning under the presidency of W. R. Jarmain of London, Ontario, who delivered his presidential address. A civic welcome was extended to the delegates by Mayor J. P. Balharric, to which J. A. Wright of Hamilton, Ontario, former president of the association, responded.

Routine business was transacted at the first session, while the afternoon session will be left open for the delegates to visit the exhibits of the allied trades.

IRON DUKE OF JUTLAND FAME WILL NOW TRAIN BOYS

Associated Press Despatch. London, Nov. 5.—The battleship Iron Duke, flagship of Admiral Jellicoe in the battle of Jutland, and three other 25,000-ton ships of the same class, namely, the Marlborough, Emperor of India and Benbow are to be withdrawn from full commission. They will be used for training boys at sea.

WINS MACDONALD TROPHY.

Canadian Press Despatch. St. Catharines, Nov. 5.—Advice was received from Ottawa today that the 10th Field battery of St. Catharines, commanded by Major J. Roberts, M.C., O.S.S., has won the Macdonald trophy, awarded for the most efficient personnel in gun-laying and signalling in the dominion.

Bogus Labor Which Played Politics Branded Traitor

London Trades Council Resolution Is Condemnation of H. G. Fester, Who Was Imported by District Conservatives, and of William Hevey, Editor of Toronto Labor Leader.

Declaring that they were traitors to the labor movement and to the working class, the London trades and labor council last night adopted a resolution condemning the professional labor leaders who in the last campaign gave platform assistance to either the Conservative or the Liberal party.

Particular condemnation was inferred in the case of H. G. Fester, 60-year-old Hamilton labor leader, who was imported by district Conservatives to aid in the campaign here. Mr. Fester had long ago ceased to represent Labor, several delegates declared. William Hevey, editor of the

INSTITUTES ASK THAT LAKE FRONT LAND BE SAVED

Purchase of Water Frontage by U. S. Capitalists Is Deplored by Convention.

DISCUSS HIGHWAYS

Resolutions Against Liquor and Crime News Also Pass at Closing Session.

The purchase of land on Ontario lake frontage by American speculators was strongly deplored by the members of the federated women's institutes of Western Ontario in their final session in the Masonic Temple this morning. A resolution will be forwarded to the government asking that body to reserve at least a part of the lake frontage at short intervals for the use of residents of the district as park and picnic land. It was thought by the assembled delegates that the purchase of large extents of lake frontage for speculative purposes, thus cutting off access to the lake shore, was not in the best interests of the country.

Paved highways which have no provision for horse travel during icy weather, came in for their share of censure by the convention. It was pointed out that many accidents occurred during bad weather for this reason. The result of the discussion was a petition to the minister of highways at Toronto asking to have this defect in the roads remedied in the roads as speedily as possible.

Buy In Canada.

The gathering went on record as approving the complete prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. The endorsement of the purchase of Canadian-made goods; the introduction of home service nurses into rural districts by the government; and the discouragement of undue publicity given to crime news in the press.

Addresses by Dr. Helen McMurphy of the dominion department of child welfare and by Miss Emily Guest, who was responsible for the establishment of women's institutes in Canada, followed.

TWO PRIESTS ESCAPE CHINESE BANDIT GANG

Rev. Frs. O'Melia and Rauschen- bath Wire U. S. Sem- inary They Are Safe.

Associated Press Despatch. Ossining, N.Y., Nov. 5.—Two Catholic priests, sent from the Maryknoll seminary here two years ago to China for missionary work, have made their escape from bandits who held them captive for six days, they cabled last night from Hong Kong, where they were taken by a United States navy gunboat.

The Rev. Thomas O'Melia and the Rev. Otto Rauschenbath were in charge of a parish on St. John's Island, near Hong Kong. A few days ago they returned from a journey to their mission and found it occupied by Chinese bandits, who made them prisoners. They made their escape and fled to Peking, whence a gunboat took them to the international port of Tientsin, where they were taken by a train to the Rev. James Walsh, of Ossining, head of the Catholic Foreign Mission Society in America.

The Maryknoll seminary trains priests for foreign missionary work.

ACTIONS OF GLOBE CALLED TREACHEROUS BY LIBERALS

Toronto, Nov. 5.—The following resolution was unanimously passed yesterday at a meeting of the Toronto Men's Liberal Association:

"Whereas the Globe newspaper has seen fit to align itself with the Conservative interests, as demonstrated during the recent campaign, and whereas the Toronto Men's Liberal Association look upon this action of the Globe as an act of treachery to the prime minister and the Liberal party, be it resolved, that in the opinion of the association, the immediate steps should be taken toward establishing a Liberal morning paper in the city of Toronto to promote the principles of Liberalism throughout the province of Ontario."

"Be it further resolved, that copies of this resolution be forwarded to other Liberal organizations in the province for the object of eliciting their hearty support and co-operation."

NEW GREAT LAKES SHIP LAUNCHED IN MONTREAL

Canadian Press Despatch. Quebec, Nov. 5.—The steel steamer City of Kingston, built by the Davie shipbuilding and repairing company in their yards at Lauzon, and destined for special freight package trade between Montreal and the great lakes for the Canadian Steamship lines, was launched yesterday. The ship measures 230 feet and has 1,500 tons dead weight capacity.

GOVERNMENT TO REMAIN, PREMIER WILL SUMMON JANUARY PARLIAMENT

Mackenzie King Bases Decision
On Strength of Low Tariff
Representatives.

RIDING TO BE OPENED

Majority To Be Determined by Elected Members, Not by Largest Party Groups.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—Confirmation of expectations that Premier King would continue in office and meet parliament, leaving it to the people's representatives to say what party should rule, came tonight in an official statement from the prime minister, after he had had further consultation with the government's representatives in the House of Commons. Parliament is to be summoned at the earliest possible date so that it may have opportunity of determining the question arising out of the peculiar numerical position of the parties.

It is expected, in view of the premier's statement, that parliament will be called to meet not later than January. In the meantime, the government will make no appointments not essential to the carrying on of public business.

In recommending the summoning of parliament, the cabinet took the view that under the principle of responsible self-government in Canada the majority were entitled to govern, but the majority as determined by the elected representatives of the people. Mr. Meighen, the prime minister points out, could not command such a majority. He further makes it clear that there is no precedent in Canada or Great Britain for recommending in advance of the meeting of parliament that the leader of a party not having a majority in the House of Commons should be asked to form a government. The course dictated by precedent and circumstances is that of allowing the house of commons to disclose its attitude on division.

HENRY WISE WOOD,
president of the United Farmers of Canada, is the most powerful figure in the Agrarian movement in the west, who thinks Premier King should carry on and is willing to help him.

SEPARATE JEWISH SCHOOLS FAVORED

Appeal to the Supreme Court
Brings Question to Fore Again.

Although opinion among Hebrews is more or less divided on the question of whether or not a separate primary school should be inaugurated by the Jews of the province of Quebec, there appears locally to be considerable sentiment in favor of such a move.

The matter has been brought into the limelight through an appeal being made to the supreme court of Canada, from a judgment recently handed down by the Quebec court of appeals, which ruled that the legislation enacted by the Quebec legislature to the effect that, for school purposes, Jews should be regarded as Protestants, was ultra vires of the Quebec legislature.

The controversy arose over the unwillingness of the Protestant school board of Montreal to allow persons of the Jewish religion to act as members of the board. It is pointed out by London Hebrews that almost the total enrollment of many Protestant schools in Montreal is made up of Jewish children, and because of this they feel that members of their faith should be admitted to the school board.

In Montreal there is a strong feeling among many Hebrews that the school board should be a third school system, distinct from the other two in Quebec.

Max Lerner of this city favors such a scheme. He points to the fact that the constitution provided for such a plan if it is desired, and explains that the Jewish school board in Montreal is made up of Jewish children, and because of this they feel that members of their faith should be admitted to the school board.

"This is hardly fair," he says, "and not at all in keeping with the freedom of religion which is guaranteed in the constitution. Our people should receive money out of the regular tax with which to maintain schools of their own just as do the Protestants and Catholics."

No Agreement
"In the interval until parliament assembles, it is the intention of the government to refrain from making appointments beyond such as are essential for the proper carrying on of the public business."

"In the present situation there are three possible courses of procedure, which have been carefully considered by the cabinet:

(1) That his excellency be asked to grant an immediate dissolution of parliament;

(2) That his excellency be asked to call upon the leader of the largest political group to form a government;

(3) That his excellency be asked to summon parliament at the earliest practicable date for the purpose of re-opening the election.

"With respect to an immediate dissolution, it was felt that it was not in the interests of the country to open the door to the expense of another general election until at least the people's representatives in parliament had been summoned and afforded an opportunity of giving expression to their views."

"With respect to the leader of the largest political party having the largest definite following in the house of commons being called upon to form an administration, the cabinet holds the view that responsible self-government in Canada rests on the principle that the majority are entitled to govern, the majority so understood to mean not the largest party or group, but the majority as determined by the duly elected representatives of the people in parliament. Far from indicating that Mr. Meighen is in a position to command a majority in the newly-elected house of commons, the results of the elections appeared clearly to indicate that he is not in such a position. I am not aware of any precedent recommending, before parliament meets, that the leader of a party not commanding a clear majority in the house of commons should be asked to form a government."

"To summon parliament and to allow the house of commons to disclose its attitude upon division is the procedure warranted by constitutional precedent, and by the present circumstances. To do any other course would be to fail to recognize the supreme right of the people to govern themselves in the manner in which the constitution has provided, namely, by electing their will through their duly elected representatives in parliament and in accordance with recognized parliamentary practice."

OFFICIALS PLEDGE OF OIL CAR RUN

Transcontinental Test May Ultimately Mean Passing of Locomotive.

BRANCH LINE PLAN

Forrester Believes Oil Electric
May Be Used on the Huron and Bruce.

Real pride in the new record for a transcontinental run, made by the C. N. R. oil-electric car, was expressed this morning by C. N. R. railroad officials. The car made a trip from Montreal to Vancouver in 67 hours, and during that period the engine of the car was never stopped. It was the longest non-stop run ever made by any engine, 2,937 miles, and creates a new record. The trip, besides demonstrating the value of the car, showed the efficiency of a railroad system which could accomplish the feat.

"It was a pretty good performance," was the comment of Charles Forrester, superintendent of the C. N. R. "I have no doubt that type of car will come into general use on branch lines, such as the Huron and Bruce. It will be where the car will be used."

From the first to the last the transcontinental trip demonstrated the superiority of the new oil-electric car. Arranged primarily as an endurance test for the engine, not only did it prove this point, but also it showed the speed possibilities which previously had not been proved. At one point on the western route 23 miles were made in less than three hours, the steepest grades in the Rocky Mountains were climbed at an average speed of 40 miles per hour.

Officials of the Canadian National Railways who accompanied the car in its transit, the trip expressed themselves as being thoroughly satisfied with its performance, and, in their opinion, it is within the realm of possibility that this journey may be the forerunner of a new epoch in motive power as applied to steam railroads. The oil-electric car is in its infancy, they point out, just as the steam locomotive was in its infancy a century ago. With wider application and further development, they believe it may develop along similar broad channels, and this may bring about the passing of the steam locomotive.

Three Questions
Mr. Justice Lacombe gave the jury three questions to answer:

1.—Was the defendant guilty of negligence? If so, why?
2.—Was the plaintiff guilty of negligence? If so, why?
3.—The amount of damages in the event of the defendant being found guilty of negligence.

The jury answered No to the first question. They answered Yes to the second question, and that the defendant was guilty of negligence. They answered No to the third question.

"You have answered No to the first question, and that disposes of the whole action," observed his lordship in being handed the verdict.

"I don't think the defendant should ask for costs," said F. W. Gladman, counsel for the defense, said that his client was not asking for costs.

Guy Fawkes To Be Burned In Effigy On Market Square 320 Years After Big Plot

Parade From Ulster Hall Will Find Members of All Orange
Lodges in City in Line—Bands To Take Part.

An effigy of Guy Fawkes will be burned tonight on the market square in commemoration of the Gunpowder Plot which occurred in England in 1605. On Nov. 5 of that year, Guy Fawkes, together with Robert Catesby and other Roman Catholic adherents, had completed the plans by which they hoped to destroy King James I., his two sons, his ministers, and the entire house of commons while in session at the parliament buildings. The plot of the conspirators was to pack with gunpowder a cellar immediately beneath the house of lords, and to light the fuse at the zero hour when the members were in attendance.

Roman Catholic members of parliament were warned not to attend parliament on the fatal day. These warnings were analyzed, and the plot was detected. Fawkes was captured in the act of lighting the fuse, and was forced to pay the extreme penalty along with many of the other conspirators. The lives of the members were saved, and the Gunpowder Plot of the 5th of November has been recognized as a day of national thanksgiving.

The arrangements for the big celebration tonight are in charge of J. W. Carson, A. Niven, W. B. Savage and Joe Murray. A huge parade will be formed at Ulster hall, Dundas and Clarence streets, at 7:45 p.m., and every Orange lodge in the city is expected to participate. The London Orange brass band, the Forest City flute band, and the Hackett five and drum band will take attendance, and together with the hundreds of flaming torches will form a picturesque array as they parade to the historical square.

Upon their arrival here the effigy of Guy Fawkes will once more fall prey to the flames. Following this grand ceremony a banquet will be held at Ulster hall. E. T. Essery, past grand master of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario West, will preside at the banquet, while the Rev. Mr. J. W. Hibbert, past grand chaplain of the Orange lodge, will be the chief speaker of the evening. A musical program will be presented. Miss Isabelle Mortimer and Miss Mae Metcalfe will offer several recitations, while Miss Corliss will render several pleasing vocal solos.

An oyster supper will also be held at the Orange lodge. The speaker of the evening, where the Rev. Mr. William Lowe will be the speaker of the evening.

NO DAMAGES FOR ACCIDENT VICTIM

Jury Absolves Car Driver
From Blame and Action
Is Dismissed.

The $5,000 damage action brought by Miss Doris Tanner, daughter of W. A. Tanner of the board of education, against George L. McDonald, of the London division of the C. N. R., county, was dismissed, without costs, by Mr. Justice Lacombe at noon today, following a jury verdict that Valentine was not liable for the accident in which Miss Tanner was struck down by defendant's motor car.

The jury took just 30 minutes to absolve Valentine of any blame for the accident, which occurred at Bridgeport and Richmond streets shortly after 9 p.m. on Oct. 1, 1924. Miss Tanner stepped out into the street to board a street car.

This is the second accident damage action to be tried at the fall sittings and the plaintiff has lost out on both occasions.

LATTA'S RISE IN POLITICS NO SURPRISE TO LONDONERS

Man Who Is Likely To Be Premier of Saskatchewan Lived in City Many Years.

Inclusion of Hon. Charles Dunning, premier of Saskatchewan, in Mackenzie King's government at Ottawa would probably mean the selection of Hon. Samuel J. Latta, minister of education, and well-known as a former resident of London, as his successor in political affairs of the western province.

All who knew Mr. Latta when he resided in London for the period 1895 to 1906 as a public school teacher, speak of him in the highest terms, both as to his ability and his personality, intimating that they are in the least surprised either at the position which he has already attained or at the honors that are likely to come to him in the future.

While a resident of this city Mr. Latta taught school under the late R. M. Graham at Simcoe street school, and later was principal of the old Colborne street school.

Famed as an Artist.
"Mr. Latta was a really wonderful good fellow," declared Wm. Wallis, principal of the old Colborne street school, and everybody liked him as principal. He was quite an artist and an amateur photographer, and at the public school art exhibit, which was held in the old city hall in 1905 he was one of the most active workers. He was always one of the most popular of the city.

Born in Huron County.
Mr. Latta, who was born near Zurich in Tuckersmith township, Huron county, is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Latta. Two brothers, Charles Latta, a school teacher, and Edward Latta, a public school art exhibit, which was held in the old city hall in 1905 he was one of the most active workers. He was always one of the most popular of the city.

REV. JOHN HOSIE,
Pastor of St. George's Presbyterian Church Here Is Undecided.

Rev. John Hosie, St. George's Presbyterian church, who has been called to Kintyre church, is as yet undecided whether he will accept the call or not. Mr. Hosie, who has been pastor of St. George's church for fifteen years, has been prominent throughout the church union campaign. He will likely have reached a decision in the matter when the call comes up at the next meeting of the London Presbyterian presbytery for consideration by that court.

Mr. Hosie's call is only one of five or more calls to come before the London presbytery at its next meeting. Rev. Chas. Waddell, B.A., St. Mary's, has been called to Delaware and Tempo charge, while A. Ledes, student at Knox college, Toronto, has been called to Port Stanley as successor to Rev. Peter Jamieson, B.A., who has moved to Long Branch, N. S. Waddell and Kintyre congregations have given a call to Rev. Chas. M. Anderson, B.D., LaSalle, Mo., but according to Rev. James Kay, R.B.D., moderator of presbytery, work has been received from Mr. Anderson that he will be unable to accept the invitation owing to unsatisfactory state of his wife's health. The congregations will therefore have to proceed to call another man.

Knox church, St. Thomas, will meet on Tuesday night next week to extend a call, while it is quite probable that Mosa church also will have decided to call a minister prior to the date of presbytery meeting.

Gloria's Husband
Furnishes Proof
Shows Title Bestowed by Polish Queen in 1707.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Nov. 5.—Numbering among its passengers Gloria Swanson and her husband, the Marquis de la Palaise de la Courde, and Ignace Paderewski and the Prince and Princess Ass of the Japanese royal house, the French liner Paris reached New York last night, 24 hours later after one of the roughest voyages it had ever made.

Gloria Swanson was highly contemptuous of reports tending to discredit the title of her husband. The marquis produced documents to show that the title was a genuine one, bestowed upon his ancestor by Queen Maria Casimir of Poland in 1707.

Miss Swanson said it made little difference to her whether her husband had a title or not. "I married a man and not a title," the motion picture actress said.

DUGOUT EUCHE DRIVE.
Members of the Great Western Automobile Club are staging a big eucuche drive in the "Dugout" at the city hall tonight.

Insulated homes, the newest and latest form of house construction, are now possible for residents of Middlesex and Elgin counties. Guaranteed to cut the coal bill in half or what it would ordinarily be for other styles of houses, this new process in the building trade not only makes it possible to build at a reasonable cost, but also assures cooler dwellings in the summer.

Through the efforts of three London men, rights to the patents have been secured for the above two counties. The London men behind this new plan have had long years of experience in connection with building and the sale of homes. Their venture into purchasing the exclusive rights is but a sure sign that insulated homes are successful and a proposition within the reach of all.

Four Objects.
They are the William Copp Builders' Supplies Company, Bert Weir, rector, and Mr. V. Dodge, building contractor. The history of insulated homes lies in the successful experiments of Henri Gauvin, and today is known in the building profession as "Gauvin's Insulated Homes." It has four definite objects. The first is the scientific construction of homes; second, it guarantees that the coal consumption will be half or less of houses otherwise constructed; third, a cooler home in the summer; and fourth, and most important of all, the reasonable cost for which the Gauvin homes can be built. This system of insulation provides for completely enclosing the living quarters of the house.

Gauvin's insulated homes have long since passed the experimental stage and are recognized as the greatest saving in coal bills ever brought about. From every angle it is a decided improvement in the building trade and meets up with climatic conditions of the country. In Ottawa the Gauvin homes have proven their worth. Under an official check made by the Ontario government the Gauvin system of insulation fully measured up to expectations and was all it was represented to be by its backers.

Prominent Architect.
Henri Gauvin was provincial architect for Alberta until 1914. It was in 1921 that he built his first house in Ottawa. Since that year the construction of Gauvin homes has spread rapidly. This year the company has started construction in Hamilton. The needs of the city and the residents of Middlesex and Elgin will be well taken care of by Messrs. Copp, Weir and Dodge.

The new and improved building principles are embodied in the new Gauvin homes, such as reinforced concrete walls and cork insulation, which is the primary cause of the new construction methods. It will be remembered that Mr. Gauvin was brought to London as the guest of the Rotarian club to give a talk on his successful venture.

JAZZ MAYOR RECALLS LONDON EARLY DAYS

charged." An amazed court-room filled out chuckling. The newly-elected Tammany chief magistrate of Gotham is somewhat different.

James J. Walker is perhaps the most unusual type of man to occupy the New York mayoralty. Beside the ponderosities of John F. Hyland, Jimmy Walker is a jazz mayor. Greenwich Village, Broadway-trained, Tammany Hall-educated, in so far as politics goes, he is the first man of the type which represents New York to the office of all the mayors New York has ever experienced.

He is a "real New Yorker." He is a second generation Irishman, born in the lower West Side forty-four years ago.

Rhymes in "Tin Pan Alley."
Always ardent for the spotlight self-incident and conscious of certain quality of smartness, Jimmy Walker early made friends among a number of stage folk who at that time resided in the old Greenwich village in far greater numbers than is now the case. He leaned naturally toward the theatrical, and had some ability as a jangling creator of agile rhymes. During his student days, in odd moments he began to set line against line in meter.

He had a wide acquaintance among the Broadway crowd and he quickly associated himself with a "Tin Pan Alley" house, which was prepared to offer him a job on his lyrics, set, and his law practice absorbed his interests.

"I haven't written a piece of verse for years," he told a reporter recently. "No time. No time." Walker went to the assembly in 1909. Al Smith then was a veteran at Albany, with eight terms behind him.

Under Smith's astute guidance Assemblyman Walker became a power in the lower house, while other assemblies were reduced to a mere lack of Walker's quickness of wit and Smith's patronage, were still wondering what it was all about.

Ice Cream Man Is Brought to Court on Charge Laid by Humane Inspector.

For allowing his aged horse to reach a "terrible state of starvation" by feeding it only weeds, Raffaele Rizzo, 47 years old, an ice cream vendor, came in for denunciation in today's police court, and on being convicted on a charge of cruelty to animals, he was fined $10 and costs.

Humane Inspector George Tustin declared that he found the horse yesterday in Rizzo's yard. It had been lying neglected for more than a day, he said. It was just a frame of bones covered with a hide. Rizzo, in attempting to make the animal rise to its feet, had beaten its head with a stick of wood.

In view of the fact that the animal was in such a weakened condition that it had to be destroyed, Magistrate Graydon inquired what he termed only a small fine, declaring that had the horse lived Rizzo would have been given a severe sentence.

who, since those early days, has become as famous among popular song writers as his associate in the December and May ballads has become well known in the political field.

Jingles Sidetracked.
Walker wrote other hits of fair popularity, among them the "I Like Your Way," which was on everybody's tongue around 1910; but more serious affairs called him and he found no time to construct jingles as politics and his law practice absorbed his interests.

NEW H

PROGRESSIVE CZAR ANXIOUS TO ASSIST KING GOVERNMENT

Henry Wise Wood Believes
Alberta Farmer Members
Will Co-operate.

NO ELECTION NEED

Message of U. F. O. Chief
Indicates Opinion That King Should Carry On.

Special to The Advertiser.

Calgary, Nov. 4.—In the light of the present political situation in Canada, a statement made by H. W. Wood, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, and head of the Farmers' political movement, in the current issue of the U. F. A. provincial party organ, is of considerable importance. In the past Mr. Wood has always taken the stand that the Farmers' representatives in the federal house cannot co-operate with any political party in the house. Now he departs from this stand and suggests that the U. F. A. (Alberta Progressives) members-elect will stand ready and anxious to assist any party in legislative efforts in the interests of industrialism as a whole. He indicates the opinion that Premier King should carry on the government in co-operation with the U. F. A. and other independent representatives in the house.

"The U. F. A. elected members to represent the basic industrial interests of the country and of civilization," writes Mr. Wood. "They do not want their industrial interest exploited by any other interest, nor do they want to exploit any other interest. What they do want is to meet representatives of all other legitimate industrial interests in co-operative effort to legislate in the interests of industrialism as a whole."

Ready to Co-operate.
"Other industrial interests," he continues, "have not seen fit to send such representatives, but have consigned their interests to the keeping of a political party. While no political party has ever dealt intelligently or fairly in legislating for industrial interests without favor or discrimination, the U. F. A. members will stand ready and anxious to co-operate with and assist any party in such legislative efforts."

"On this basis, and this basis only, can any party justly ask and receive such co-operation."

This is taken to mean that the nine Alberta Progressive members are willing to co-operate with Premier King, should he decide to carry on the government, in all legislative efforts which do not conflict with the principles on which they were elected.
Earlier in his article, Mr. Wood says: "One serious problem that is facing us in the immediate future is how a legislative group on a strictly non-co-operative basis is going to function with less than a majority of all legislative members. Will this group recede sufficiently from its iron-clad position of non-co-operation to hold out the olive branch of co-operation to some of the smaller groups or independent individuals who stand on a co-operative basis? Or will it take the attitude that it will unilaterally stand on the basis of competition and will not undertake the responsibility of governing without a dominating majority, and to that end proceed to call another election?"

Would Mean Many Elections.

Mr. Wood appears to be of the opinion that Premier King should carry on the government, seeking to co-operate with the U. F. A. representatives and other Progressive and Independent members. He goes on to say in answer to his question: "This might lead to a series of elections extending over an indefinite period, with no definite change in results. The whole situation is a perfect exemplification of the hopelessness of the present false political party system."

"The U. F. A.," says the president of that organization, "has elected enough representatives to give the larger groups the necessary assistance to carry on. These members were elected on a strictly co-operative basis. They are being sent to parliament for the purpose of co-operating with any or all other groups in the interest of constructive legislation, and will stand ready at all times to respond to any appeal for co-operation, but that co-operation can only be given on the merits of the legislation that is offered."

This appears to be a pretty clear statement that Mr. Wood believes that Premier King should carry on with the government, and that a basis of co-operation should be reached between the federal U. F. A. members and the Liberal party.

Mr. Watts Writes a Letter.

Harvey M. Watts of Philadelphia, in a letter to the New York Times, has nothing but contempt for the "hysterical, self-abnegating Americans" who doubt the wisdom of claiming for citizens of United States the exclusive right to the name "Americans." He claims "we have every right to the title Americans and to the name America."

If Mr. Watts will take his geography and look at the continent on which he lives he will notice that it is marked North America; he will also see that there are two chief divisions following in a general way the forty-ninth parallel with the exception of the Great Lakes district which causes the northern division to dip a considerable distance to the south. One of these is marked United States and the other Canada. Continental United States, that is excluding Alaska, contains 3,026,789 square miles, while Canada has 3,810,395. Together, with Mexico and the neck of land that tapers off toward Panama, they form the continent of North America.

Yet geography plays small part in Mr. Watts' ideas. He is certain that "we are the Americans and United States is America." The right to the name was established early in the eighteenth century, and the exclusive privilege to these names is "logical and natural and right, his politically and philosophically and poetically."

Mr. Watts does not think much of Canada, for he says when United States was earning the right to be called America "Canada was then, and is today, a comparatively insignificant settlement of Europeans on this continent." Probably if Mr. Watts were to come to Canada on a visit he would bring with him a set of blankets, two or three rifles, a compass and a pocketful of glass beads to trade with the Indians.

Canadians will not pick a quarrel with Mr. Watts, nor will they ask him to desist from his overblown rhetoric. If he finds that great patriotic emotions well up within him that must find voice in the words, "this is America, we are the Americans," that is entirely his own affair, and if he can find an appreciative audience, so much the better. He wrote his letter to a New York paper. If he happens to be in that city he can go to the Metropolitan Opera and hear a Canadian tenor and a Canadian contralto; if he happens to telephone to see if his next letter will be printed he will use a Canadian invention; if he eats bread made from the best flour he may be dumfounded to know he is being built up by Canadian wheat; if he has nickel trimmings on his car he can be sure they came from Canada, and if he goes into Wall street he will find that the dollar of "this insignificant settlement of Europeans" is standing a trifle higher than the currency of the land of which he sings with such abandon.

If Mr. Watts cares to go farther he will find very serious-minded jurists in United States going over crime statistics and stating openly that British ideals of justice, such as are observed in Canada, are immeasurably better than their own. Had he been a close student of current history he would have recalled that United States passed a quota law against immigrants from all countries in the world with the one exception of this "insignificant settlement of Europeans." Were he to look into census figures of his America of the Americans he would have found by the 1920 census that 76.4 per cent of the population of New York was foreign born.

Had Mr. Watts been very studious he could have read in the Saturday Evening Post, published in his own city of Philadelphia, the following from the issue of October 24: "Canada has never indulged in shortcuts to growth and prosperity. Her immigration policy has always been a cautious one, dictated largely by a desire to keep the original stock undiluted. Canadians seem to feel that the wiser course is to grow slowly rather than to profit by a boom in population, and any one who considers the problems that our old free and easy policy has created for us must applaud her decision."

It might pay Mr. Watts to look around; he could find plenty of material that would add to the sum total of his fund of knowledge without any crowding.

Mr. Barnjum Can Answer.

Frank J. D. Barnjum, who writes more letters to Canadian newspapers than any group of fifty correspondents, has sent out his analysis of election results, in which he seeks to make it appear that the returns show that his policy of an embargo on pulpwood leaving Canada swept the country. He also advances the idea that the Conservatives made his policy their issue while the Liberals did not, and then says:

"It would be interesting to know to what extent the American interests, intent upon despoiling our raw materials, contributed towards the silencing of those speakers, and just what proportion of the enormous campaign fund of the Liberal party in this election was derived from that source. This is a subject of vital interest to the Canadian people. They want to know to what extent foreign interests are to be permitted, through bribery and corruption, to interfere with Canadian internal affairs."

Mr. Barnjum takes advantage of the safety of a glaring general statement to give vent to mean words, which, had he the courage to narrow them down to a specific case, would bring him face to face with a charge of slander or libel.

If Mr. Barnjum knows or has reason to suspect that outside funds were brought in to influence the vote of the Canadian people, it is his duty, if he is the patriot he professes to be, to come out openly and tell what he knows.

Speaking of campaign funds in the recent election, it is notorious that the amount of money spent by Mr. Barnjum's party in this province was colossal.

His Challenge Unanswered.

In Washington there is a doctor, somewhat of a specialist we should imagine, who restricts his practice to mental disorders. Apparently he has gone on past the stage of asking questions and noting answers to test brain capacity, nor is he content with peering into the eye to detect there a vacant response to his gaze. His research has taken him far along the path to the point where he weighs the brains of the living and by the turn of the steelyard pronounces sanity or the reverse.

Of course there are those who scoff at this idea; they are of the old school of skeptics that holds it possible to tell whether a man is sane or insane by what he does, but this method is defective. An excitable Liberal, for instance, might call his neighbor crazy because he is of a different political stripe, whereas it is quite possible for a man to be a Conservative and very sane. We have known of such cases.

This Washington doctor has challenged his hecklers. Like Elijah at Mount Carmel with the prophets of Baal, he would have a test case. His method is simple and direct. First he would weigh the brains of the inmates of Washington asylum, and then those of members of the house of congress. So far there has been no enthusiastic response from congress. The members probably fear that having their brain power weighed and publicly graded would be putting too great a bludgeon in the hands of their political opponents.

Sir Robert Borden as Governor.

A London cable says that Premier Baldwin has submitted no names to Premier King of Canada regarding the successor to Lord Byng as governor-general of Canada. The same report does state, though, that the name of Sir Robert Borden is being seriously considered, and that London believes the appointment of so eminent a Canadian would be in line with public sentiment in Canada.

The appointment of Sir Robert may or may not be made, but the fact that it is being considered in London is in itself evidence of a desire to more and more encourage public men in British dominions to assume the most responsible offices in the empire. It is not so much a departure from an old tradition as it is the fuller development of the new ideas of nations within an empire.

Sir Robert Borden is an eminent Canadian, a thorough constitutionalist, a man of culture and broad outlook, whose appointment would, on many counts, be appropriate.

When They Work Together.

The London committee working on financing the local allotment for the new hotel are now within $50,000 of their $300,000 objective. They have done well, and are now certain of securing the total amount.

This undertaking right from its inception has been an object lesson of what can be done when the men of London pool their energies and resources and travel all in the same direction at the same time. When the building is completed it will be a monument to united London effort, and for that reason might very well be called the Hotel London.

Note and Comment.

If this is Indian summer, then may the tribe wax strong!

Sir Arthur Currie, brave warrior that he is, declined to discuss the political situation when he visited London.

Mayor Wenige has tossed his hat in the election ring again, but a man with a head of hair like he's got can afford to do it.

Ontario has kept her skirts clean, sang one Conservative writer in praise of election results. Yes, Miss Agnes was elected, wasn't she?

Stratford man rolled a peanut across the street after the election, which is much better than having peanuts in the game while the contest is on.

Mr. Patenaude said he was as independent of Mr. Meighen as he was of Mr. King. The electors didn't exactly get the point, so they left him home.

Berlin had an election and revolvers, brass knuckles, hydrochloric acid, a few daggers and the odd lead pencil were used to get the ballots properly marked.

St. Thomas council is a trifle critical of its police force and in Chatham they talk of asking for the chief's resignation. Have the police no criticisms to offer?

Boston man sends his pastor $50 every time he is absent on Sunday, and perhaps as the parson enters the pulpit he murmurs "Hang it, he's here again today."

The Guelph Mercury refers to the humble potato. If the township of Erin comes along with the crop of which it is capable there will be nothing humble about the returns.

Mayor Mitchell of Windsor will recommend that the city council appoint a committee to find out why residents are being charged fifteen cents a quart for milk, which is an increase of five cents a quart over the price paid in London. City councils are well within their rights in looking into such matters. Anything that affects the living conditions of the people, especially when the cause is local in origin, becomes a matter with which a council has a right to deal.

Spuds vs. Potatoes

By ARK.

I see potatoes on the jump when I go to the grocery store, he says as how he has to charge a higher price than was before.

Explaining this he says to me the crop has failed in Timbuctoo, potato eaters over there they scarce know what they're going to do. So them what's over there come here and scrape the kopecks from their purse, it's pleasant for the folks that sell but them that eat they find it worse.

Potatoes put on airs these days like folks when decked in Sunday duds, the chances are no one will dare to call them now just plain old spuds.

Yet I remind when I was young the sun it beat upon my lugs, when I was takin' row on row and knockin' off potato bugs. And lots of others did the same and worked for that they was worth, to keep potatoes in that day from gettin' banished off the earth.

And when we took the coal oil can they stuck a spud upon its snout, so when we swung it on the street there wouldn't be no oil spill out.

What's more, we took the little spuds and boiled 'em up for half a day, and fed them to the chickens then like how they feed pigs corn and wheat.

So knowin' spuds as how I do it sours me now clean through and through to see high prices just because the crop has failed in Timbuctoo.

Editorial Opinion

A PAIR OF SCISSORS.

(From the Montreal Guardian)
A PAIR of scissors is not regarded as a dangerous tool but it brought two men out of prison, Thomas Morris Marks and Alfred Bacon. Both men were serving short sentences. The two jail-breakers occupied adjoining cells on the fourth floor of the prison, and each of them was in possession of a pair of scissors that they used in their employment during their term of imprisonment. Upon examination of the walls it was found that they had scraped the cement from between the bricks, and removing the bricks, had made a large hole in the wall. They then apparently tied their sheets and portions of their clothing together and dropped from the hole down the remaining floors on the outside of the building to the ground below.

AN EXPERT SPEAKS OUT.

(From the Hamilton Herald)

A Total Loss

ORCHARDIST ATHOLSTAN—"Every last one of 'em frozen and ruined, an' they were all hand-picked."

Read 'Em and Weep

By Mackellar McArthur.

The Farm, Nov. 4.—There is no doubt about it, these newspapers are too many for one house. Owing to circumstances over which I have no control the number of dailies which creep up. Formerly we sought to develop our views and opinions of local, national and world affairs with the aid of one editorial page. In the summer the second paper started coming. As it is of a different complexion to the first one we thought it would be interesting and instructive to get both sides of every story, particularly during the recent most unsatisfactory election.

A couple of weeks ago the third paper put in an appearance. It is different from either of the others. Now we are getting three sides to every story. It is too much. The old Irish judge refused to hear both sides of a case before giving his decision, because "hearin' both sides had a tendency to confuse the court." Had he known that there might possibly be three he would probably have retired to private life.

Noon is Not Long Enough.
The noon hour is my usual time for looking through the news of the day. In the period of one newspaper I went through the pages fairly easily. Now I have to live in one of the most crowded of editorial pages. The editorials carried a certain measure of uncontradicted conviction, and I went back to work feeling that I could talk with some authority on the question of the day. But since I have been trying to do justice to three papers I am unable to express an opinion about anything.

To The Editor

About the Bus Lines.

Editor of The Advertiser:
Sir,—I noticed in The Advertiser last night a short statement from Ald. McKay that the city council had not granted any franchise to a bus line to operate in London.

I believe Ald. McKay when he says this is so, but it does not alter the fact that some of the aldermen were very active in carrying on negotiations with one bus company before the present one came and started on the streets here. If they could start without a franchise why did the first company ever ask for one?

It hardly seems reasonable that as many buses as want to can come here and start in business. That would mean that they might put a couple of hundred on one street if they wished and make a traffic problem that would stop everything.

There must be some control entered some place.

The thing that the men are most concerned about now is not who they run under, but that many of the men employed by the street railway company have been thrown out of a job at a time of year when they can't get anything else to do. That's a condition that will take a lot of explaining to set right.

J. R. STURRETT.
London, Nov. 3.

What of the Future?

Editor of The Advertiser:
Sir,—The lesson of the election is a challenge to the forces of progress to unite. The returns show that the Liberal and Progressive parties, by uniting, are able to stand; but when divided, both may fall.

The Progressive movement has performed a noble work in bringing the Canadian farmer into more active participation in politics. The movement has on the whole raised the level of progress life. If the Liberal and Progressive parties are to unite, Liberalism must incorporate something of the fervor and sincere appeal of the Progressive movement.

In respect to the tariff, the Atlantic shipping combine, rural credits and other issues, Liberals must boldly

After perusing one paper I may decide that its editorial statements are too biased and cannot possibly be the truth. The second paper may be a trifle more to my liking, though it appears to be side-stepping. Then I relight my pipe and start on the third bunch of editorials. Even though they may suit me they lose something of their convincing power since I cannot help recalling that the first paper put things in an entirely different light. It is very unsatisfactory.

Here's a Further Trouble.

There is a certain advantage in glancing over the news columns three times, for repetition tends to impress a thing on the memory. Still, this advantage is offset by the difficulty I experience in deciding which paper to roll up to start the morning fire. This keeps me late getting out to the barn and my days are shortened.

I recall hearing of a poet who spent a day each year reading the almanac in order to get the news. He probably was poorly posted on current events, but he wrote a lot of good poetry and made a name for himself. How he lit his fires I cannot imagine. He must have lived in one of the most crowded of editorial pages. The editorials carried a certain measure of uncontradicted conviction, and I went back to work feeling that I could talk with some authority on the question of the day. But since I have been trying to do justice to three papers I am unable to express an opinion about anything.

More than any other class, the farming community in Canada is weighed down under the burden of economic depression. Let the Liberal party, therefore, return to its historic function of befriending and assisting the oppressed.

A further task of Liberalism is to formulate bolder policies. The nature of Liberalism depends on the appeal it makes to youth, and youth will never be satisfied with safety-first programs or safety-first tactics. The literature of Liberalism in the last election was somewhat lacking in salt; while the catchwords of "progress and prosperity" did not strike the imagination of the masses.

Nothing or little was mentioned about Liberal policy in the great work of international affairs.

The party policy respecting the reform of the senate and the Atlantic shipping by greater precision. The need of Liberalism, then, is greater courage, greater boldness in attacking privilege, and sterner adherence to the moral and social principles of the party.

Meanwhile, in the unconquerable spirit which the party leader, Mackenzie King, is manifesting in the moment of temporary defeat, the Liberal party has a fine example of political courage, and an excellent portent of future success.

[Ed. Note.—Mr. Sturrett was Liberal candidate in East Lambton.]

Blazing a New Trail.

Editor of The Advertiser:
Sir,—With an election over for the present, suppose we turn to other subjects of human interest—for instance, bobbed hair. Several references have been made in The Advertiser to the courageous venture of the editor of the Thorold paper in offering a liberal prize at the local exhibition for the best head of long hair. His action was encouraged by the directors of the fair who added a second premium. In this virtually setting up a challenge to the superlatively type of topknot, he has proclaimed the fuzzy-wuzzy South Sea style in motion in a tide that may yet land him in the Canadian temple of fame. He certainly has blazed a

Pocock and Vining to Run For Utilities Posts Again

Dean of Commission Questions Advisability of Breaking Up the Present Combination, Now Functioning in Satisfactory Manner.

Jared Vining and Philip Pocock, chairman and dean respectively, of the public utilities commission, are almost certain to be candidates for another term on that body. But whether or not they will be re-elected, an announcement, as were T. W. McFarland and R. J. Webster, the other two members of the commission last year, remains a question which cannot be answered until nomination day, still about two weeks away.

"I want to see the water supply of the city assured for many years to come," declared Mr. Vining, when asked whether he intended to run this year or not, "and, while that has been achieved for the moment, we are experimenting with a number of wells in order that the city will have sufficient water to provide for future expansions for the next 20 or 30 years."

"The Springfield dam should be built," observed Mr. Pocock, "and the amusement park at Springfield should be completed. I believe that if the public utilities commission were to be given a free hand it could provide, if not the whole cost, then at least a large part of the cost of the dam, of course, would make Springfield much more attractive. All the talk about a Coney Island at Springfield is tommyrot, but there are 20 or 30 acres not being used at all at the park and a section, which it was used, would not interfere in any way with the rest of the grounds. The commission maintains Springfield park and provides the magnet for large crowds each year, but other people, the London Street Railway and the Victor Amusement Company carry off all the profits. The commission should complete arrangements for a clean, up-to-date amusement park within the park proper and secure some revenue from that source.

"When I criticize affairs in London," pursued Mr. Pocock, "the attitude of the mayor for instance, in being accused of being anxious to secure some other utility, because I have already made many sacrifices in being a member of the utilities commission for fifteen years in that connection, and moreover, I have not drawn a single cent for any of the trips I have taken on behalf of the commission for the city during that period, and I have made dozens of them to Toronto, Montreal and other places. One thing is certain, that the utilities commission is functioning so satisfactorily as a combination that it is hard to beat, and I do not think it would be wise to disturb the membership at present."

City Churches

ALL SAINTS' W. A.

The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of All Saints' Anglican church took the form of a bazaar, yesterday afternoon, in the schoolroom. Preparations were made for the bazaar to be held at St. Paul's Indian school in Carleton Place, on the 10th inst. The bazaar was a success, and a large attendance. An interesting feature was a talk given by Mrs. Frank Anderson, on her recent visit to the Indian school, giving a description of the work being done there. Mrs. Frost rendered a pleasing solo, accompanied by Mrs. Harold Slade, and refreshments were served under the convenship of Mrs. Stein, Mrs. Birch and Mrs. Hunt. Mrs. Kidner and Mrs. Fox poured tea.

KNOX W. A.

The regular meeting of the women's association of Knox United church was held yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium of the church, with Mrs. A. Gunther presiding. The devotional exercises were taken by Mrs. W. Blakeley and Mrs. A. Fitzsimons. Final arrangements were made for the bazaar to be held shortly after plans were made for a rummage sale to be held on Nov. 6. At the close of the business meeting the apron committee of the bazaar, under the convenship of Mrs. J. O. Brown, entertained at a social hour. Mrs. A. Gunther and Mrs. John Stevenson poured tea from a prettily decorated table, with members of the committee serving. Clever piano solos were given by Walter Blakeley, vocal solos by Mrs. T. S. Trout and Carmen Lindsay, and two Scotch readings by Mrs. John Gemmell were much enjoyed. Rev. Mr. Macdonald came in at the tea hour and joined the ladies.

METROPOLITAN C. G. I. T.
The members of the C. G. I. T. of Metropolitan United church met last night in Metropolitan hall for supper, after which the election of officers took place, with the following results: President, Miss Helen Glass; secretary, Miss Audrey Ebel; treasurer, Miss Lillian Daly; Rev. Bruce Hunter, the pastor, presided. After the election a half-hour was spent in games.

WESLEY SHOWER.

Mrs. George Baker, Duchess avenue, entertained at a shower in aid of the baby booth of the Wesley United church at her home yesterday. The rooms looked charming with Halloween decorations and bronze mums. A delicious lunch was served, which was supplied by the following committee in charge of the booth: Mrs. Baker and Mrs. G. A. Young, conveners; Mrs. B. Doyle, Mrs. T. Copp, Mrs. Colborne, Mrs. Many beautiful articles for babies were collected in a pretty basket arranged with many crepe paper streamers. During the afternoon contests were enjoyed, the prizes going to Mrs. Doyle and Mrs. Johnston. Billy Young, who was greatly appreciated. There were 25 ladies present.

REDEEMER GUILD SOCIAL.

The members of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Redeemer held a social last evening, in the parlors of the church, which was prettily decorated in colors of orange and black. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Major Bradshaw presided. The guests were won by Miss Emily Sugden. A splendid program was arranged, including readings by Miss Kathleen Kingston, Walter Holt and Master Jack Eady; solos by Major Alex. Bradshaw, Mrs. Hugh McCormick and Miss Iva Lagan. At the close of the social, refreshments were served, under the convenship of Mrs. J. W. Bradshaw, and a good time was enjoyed by all.

ST. PAUL'S G. F. S. PARTY.

The members of the girls' friendly society of St. Paul's cathedral, held a very successful masquerade party last night, and a jolly time was spent in games, for which Miss Wood supplied the music. There were 50 guests in all, and the costumes and half-holiday decorations made a very effective scene. Fred Ross, the only boy present, was dressed as a girl. The contest was in charge included: Decorations, the Misses L. and A. Foxcroft, Miss Peters and Miss Gill; games, the Misses L. and A. Foxcroft, Miss Peters and Miss Gill; refreshments, the Misses Thora Webb, Christine Hart, Daisy Ponting and Lucy Ford.

CHRIST CHURCH LADIES.

Mrs. H. J. Trumper entertained the ladies of Christ church yesterday afternoon in her home in Grey street. An enjoyable afternoon was spent in sewing for the bazaar, which will be held shortly, and afternoon tea was served by the hostess.

EALING MOTHERS HEAR J. SAUNDERS

Conveners For Coming Bazaar Are Appointed—Plan Tea Showers.

J. Saunders, a pioneer of the Ealing school district, was the interesting speaker at this week's meeting of the Ealing mothers' club, when he spoke on "The Origin of Ealing School." Mr. Saunders gave many amusing tales, as well as historical facts, about the school, and his address was greatly enjoyed by the members.

During the business session, over which the president, Mrs. Mark Ayres presided, further plans were made for the bazaar to be held on the first Tuesday in December. The conveners were appointed as follows: Home cooking, Mrs. E. Burgess; fancy work, Mrs. Markham; ice cream, Mrs. Parker; tea table, Mrs. Hill; Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Knowles. A short musical program was also given, including piano selections by Miss Olive Hathaway and Miss Isabel Facer. A social half hour was enjoyed at the close, and light refreshments were served.

A tea and shower is to be given at the home of Mrs. Wilson, Glenwood avenue, on Nov. 17, and Mrs. J. Hill, Hummer, will be giving a tea and shower at her home on Nov. 24. The final tea will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Mark Ayres, when the gifts for the bazaar will be tagged and priced.

INCREASED WAGE PROSPECTS DIM

American Railway Unions Seek Restoration of War-Time Peak Scale.

There is little prospect of an increase in the wages paid railway conductors and trainmen, according to local railroad officials. Meeting in Chicago yesterday the western joint association of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen and the order of railway conductors decided to re-open their drive for a general increase in wages till they reached wartime level.

In any case the Canadian railroads negotiate separate agreements with their employees, and it is not likely that American roads would not binding on them.

"Railroad employees are only human, and it is perfectly logical that they should ask for more money," said Charles Forrester, superintendent of the London division, C.N.R. He said the matter of wages was justified or not was one for the head office, and he refused to express an opinion on it.

"There is no chance of a strike in any case. The day of railroad strikes is definitely past," said Mr. Forrester.

Among the men in London there has been no concerted demand for an increase, and the matter has not been officially discussed at union meetings for some time.

JOHN A. CRODEN, who has announced himself as a candidate for alderman at large.

J. CRODEN SEEKS SEAT IN COUNCIL

Well-Known Businessman Announces Intention of Standing as Candidate.

Aspirants for aldermanic honors in the coming municipal election continue to come forward. Today John A. Croden, a well-known businessman and longest resident of the city, signified his intention of yielding to the wishes of his friends by becoming a candidate for the contest which takes place here on Dec. 7.

Mr. Croden is one of London's most widely known citizens, having spent his whole business career here in the piano and phonograph business. He was born in this city and received his education in the local public schools and collegiate schools. He entered the employ of C. F. Colwell, veteran music dealer, later joining the staff of Heintzman & Co., where he served for twenty years, following which he entered business for himself under the name of the Starr Phonograph Company. Mr. Croden has always taken an active interest in public affairs, for which reason his friends have been urging him to consider offering himself as a candidate for municipal honors. This he has now definitely decided to do.

The announcement that Mr. Croden will be in the field now makes a considerable number of candidates mentioned so far seven, for the eight places on the council which are to be filled.

Missing Eight Weeks.
The lot is some 200 feet from the nearest neighbors. Mr. and Mrs. Morley, who stated that they have not seen Miss Wilson for more than eight weeks, possibly longer. They did not think much of this, though, as Miss Wilson had a habit of leaving her canvas abode for weeks at a time. It was not until the tent blew down some two weeks ago that they gave the matter a second thought.

"She was very eccentric, and we didn't have much communication with her," said Mrs. Morley. "I should think she would be a woman between 55 and 60 years of age. She had relatives near Ingersoll or Woodstock, I believe."

Mrs. Morley could not understand why she would leave without her glasses, or locking her trunk with the money in it.

NEW YORK STOCK BOOM BENEFITS LONDONERS

Total Sales 2,801,000, Largest Number in Ten Years.

Londoners are still keenly interested in New York stock markets, motor and other stocks, having made considerable profits during the past few days, presumably benefitting through rumors of "melon cutting" by some of the larger companies.

Incidentally, Wall street yesterday experienced its greatest stock market boom in nearly ten years. Total sales were calculated at 2,801,000 shares, the highest figure since the famous "three-million-share" market which followed the "leak" of President Woodrow Wilson's peace note in December, 1918.

Twenty leading railroad and 20 leading industrial stocks attained the highest levels in their history, and many other individual issues smashing their previous peak prices.

IDEALS OF ROTARIANS EXPLAINED AT LUNCHEON

Ideals of Rotary were explained by members of the education committee of the club at a luncheon held at the Y. M. C. A. at noon today. E. J. Jenkins, chairman of the committee, announced that the club at the regular luncheon on Monday and explained that its purpose is to inform members coming into the club at a full meaning of the club's program and principles as part of Rotary international. At later luncheons other members of the club, since the committee's duty is to educate the members of the club, will also attend and secure the benefit of the education committee's more intimate knowledge of Rotary affairs.

PATHFINDERS.

The Pathfinders of St. Andrew's United church met at the church last night. Supper was served in the forum at 5:30 o'clock, after which the juniors and seniors met in St. Andrew's hall, where Miss Winnie Hata read the Bible lesson. After the devotional period a missionary meeting was held, and Mrs. (Dr.) MacGregor gave a short talk on her trip to the holy land. Clothing was brought in for the 4-year-old girl who is being provided for by the members. Miss Emma McClellan took charge of the meeting.

SERGEANTS TO HOLD DANCE.

The sergeants' messes of the Canadian Fusiliers and the 1st Hussars will hold a military dance in the messes on Nov. 14. The sergeants' mess of the 2nd Canadian machine gun brigade will hold theirs on the 19th.

SMALL BLAZE.

Hot ashes thrown upon a pile of paper in the rear of the Ronald Roy Grey Memorial hospital gave the fire department a run at 8:30 o'clock last night. The blaze was extinguished with little loss.

WORTLEY ROAD M. C.

The members of the Women's Mission Circle of Wortley Road Baptist church held their annual thank-offering meeting yesterday and the program was in charge of Mrs. Dalgleish and Mrs. Gordon King. Rev. Gordon P. Baggis of Tekkai, India, who has given fifteen years in service there as a missionary, was the special speaker of the evening. He told how Christian people should assist those less fortunate and also spoke of the self-sacrifice of the disciples of India, after giving up idolatry and having grasped the free salvation of Jesus Christ. The devotional period was led by Mrs. A. A. Affleck, Mrs. A. C. Mendenhall and Mrs. Arthur Brown. A very pleasing solo and little Jean Stanfield gave a recitation. There was a large attendance and a substantial offering was brought in.

Krim's Underground Refuge Houses Autos, War Wealth

Private Machine of Rifian Chieftain Can Manoeuvre Freely in New Stronghold Built on Slope of Atlas Range—Moors Declare Retreat Is Impregnable.

Associated Press Despatch.
Fez, French Morocco, Nov. 5.—Abd-el-Krim, leader of the insurgent Rifians, driven from his former capital of Ajdir by the Spaniards, has dug himself in at the little village of Targuist, on the northern slope of the Atlas range.

This "digging in" is literal, according to the report of a Rifian prisoner recently taken by the French, who says that the chieftain has had constructed for himself a subterranean refuge of such dimensions that his automobile can enter it, turn around and manoeuvre freely.

Trenches and dugouts, extending in star shape several miles out from the center of the village, have made Targuist a stronghold which the Moors consider impregnable.

Abd-el-Krim has had his war treasure, his reserves of arms and munitions and his few remaining prisoners transported there, and while he is not expected to take the offensive, he is evidently prepared to make a stubborn resistance if he is attacked in his stronghold.

Dr. McMurtry's talk was inspirational. "How Easy It Is To Be Kind To People," the speaker explained that in the province of Ontario alone there were 3,000 immigrant children—children not in their own homes. Here was a wonderful chance to be kind.

The Great Thrill.
When boys and girls reached young manhood and womanhood they began to have those greatest of all thrills, which are called love. They begin to want a home of their own. How easy it would be to be kind to the girl who is beginning her "hope chest," or to the girl in connection with whom no one has ever thought of a hope chest.

"The best morning of the dead is to be kind to the living," said the speaker in conclusion.

Miss Emily Guest's talk was practical and humorous. Choosing "Neighborhood Talent," she declared that the brain institute was the bone and muscle of the whole women's movement. It was not a club, but a study center for homemaking. "It was an educational institution receiving financial help from the government, as well as lecture courses and so on. Indeed it was the only institution in the country with the exception of the schools, which was receiving such service from the government. It was practically a school for homemakers and should be treated as such."

"In preparing your program think of such things as: How to care for turkeys properly?"

"And when you do know how to look after them, do it. It is declared, has cut rum-running to a minimum, although evasion of the immigration laws has created a big problem."

During recent weeks, a fast aeroplane has been seen by residents on the Canadian shore, and now it is along the line, spying out nests of "bootleggers," or watching the ur-wary automobile driver in any attempt he may make to cross the line by avoiding the regulations.

AEROPLANE AIDS IN WAR AGAINST RUM-RUNNERS

U. S. Customs Officers Wage Campaign Along Manitoba Boundary.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Winnipeg, Nov. 4.—Aided by an aeroplane, United States customs officers along the Manitoba boundary are waging a vigorous war at the present time on liquor-runners and persons seeking to evade the immigration laws, according to reports reaching here today. The border, along which the little white warplanes has cut rum-running to a minimum, although evasion of the immigration laws has created a big problem.

During recent weeks, a fast aeroplane has been seen by residents on the Canadian shore, and now it is along the line, spying out nests of "bootleggers," or watching the ur-wary automobile driver in any attempt he may make to cross the line by avoiding the regulations.

Helpful Hints.
And so on throughout a long address Miss Guest gave practical and helpful suggestions.

Mrs. Arthur Little, president of the local branch of the Greenfield mission, was present, and made an appeal on behalf of Dr. Wilfred Grenfell's new hospital in St. Anthony.

Mrs. W. T. Meade of Blenheim presented an interesting paper on "Canada," she declared, or Canada was not have a country of her own. Mrs. Meade encouraged the institute women to seek out the foreigners coming into their midst and to assist in the process of making them better citizens.

Mrs. Fred Haggan of Aymer reported on legislation. One branch had been instrumental in securing the attention of the legislature to speed laws were being disregarded and accidents happening. She appealed to the women of the institute to become familiar with the laws of the country so that they might help in their enforcement.

Announcement was made of the winners of the provincial contest for the Smallman program for the best branch carried on during the year, among the girls institutes. Elgin, Komoka and Huron institutes were the winners, while West Kent, North Bruce and East Lambton won among the senior institutes.

TORONTO MAY BE JOINED WITH HAMILTON BY RADIAL

Lines in Existence Cover All But Ten Miles of Distance.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Nov. 4.—The Ontario hydro-electric power commission may be instructed to prepare estimates on the basis of a study of a radial railway between Toronto and Hamilton together with the estimated operating costs and revenues. Some of the municipalities concerned have made a request for data.

At present there are lines west from Toronto to the border Hamilton and but approximately ten miles of the distance. These sections would have to be rehabilitated.

JUDGE EMPHASIZES NEED OF CAREFUL CHILD TRAINING

Special To The Advertiser.
Toronto, Nov. 4.—The need for more careful child training was emphasized today by Judge Coatsworth when he addressed the Kiwanis club on methods of crime prevention.

During the last ten years methods of dealing with criminals had made considerable improvement, he said, but the success had been more in reformation than in preventive work. The one leading cause of crime was the extra-mural permit systems had all achieved good results.

COMPLETING CURBS AND GUTTERS.

Due to weather conditions and the succession of frosts the city engineer's department is pushing to completion as rapidly as possible all cement curb and gutter construction, concrete sidewalks and other work which concrete is used. There is now very little left to complete. Mr. Near stated this morning, and his department expects soon to get its winter program of sewer construction under way.

$10,000 SLANDER ACTION BEING HEARD BY COURT

The slander action for $10,000 brought by Mrs. John Gilbert of Parkhill against George Coates, a next-door neighbor, is now occupying the attention of Mr. Justice Lacombe and jury at the fall assizes at the court house.

N. E. Newton, Parkhill, outlined the case to the jury just before the noon adjournment. J. M. McEvoy, K.C., is acting for the defendant.

A similar action for a similar amount will be heard against James Metcalfe, another neighbor, at the conclusion of the above case.

MADAME STANLEY ADMIRES CANADA

Says Women Can Be Home-Makers and Have Careers If Not Lazy.

Women can run a house and have a professional life, too. At least this is the opinion of Mme. Helen Stanley of New York City, who arrived in London this morning and who will give a recital at the Patricia theatre this evening under the direction of Harry T. Dickinson.

Madame Stanley admits that it is hard work to be a home-maker and a professional, but she believes it can be done if one isn't lazy. She is very fond of housekeeping and takes a real pride in her home. Her husband is a New York businessman, and they have a small daughter, 7 years of age, going to school. In speaking of her little girl, Madame Stanley said that she already showed quite a marked talent in molding and she hopes that she will become a sculptress.

ANNIVERSARY MARKED BY MERRY GATHERING

London Buffaloes Open Second Lodge Owing to Increasing Membership.

Hyman Hall was last night the scene of a merry gathering, when 250 members and visitors of Prince of Wales Lodge, No. 1, B. O. B., celebrated the local lodge's first anniversary, which took the form of a concert and dance.

The founders of the lodge were introduced by Sir Knight Tucker, who acted as chairman. Primo Kents briefly outlined the history of the lodge during the past year. The membership has increased from 15 to 125 members. Owing to the rapid increase in membership, a second lodge has been opened in the Hamilton road district. Primo Kents had outlined the status and aims of the organization, which centered on harmony, concord and goodwill. Sir Knight Garnet and Primo Palmer, the other founders of the lodge, were introduced also.

Frederick Hunter, who was in attendance, and who is also a member of the organization, was appointed chairman of the program, which was excellent in every detail.

The evening was opened with an overture by Miss Bessie Palmer, followed by two clever comic recitations. Tomorrow, by Mrs. M. Hunter. A comedy quartet number, The Farmer, was given by Messrs. Exley, Stein, Kents and Lark. Exley sang "The Four Leaved Clover," while Miss Thoma's recitation, "Brother Lamon and the Apple," was most pleasing.

A very enjoyable dance with music by Guide Wigley's Moonlight Serenade brought the evening to a close. The success of the entertainment was largely due to the splendid arrangements made by Bro. B. F. Box, who acted as chairman of the committee in charge.

GENERAL KING EMPHASIZES VALUE OF C.O.T.C. COURSE

Gen. W. B. King, C.M.G., D.S.O., addressed the student body of the military school this morning on the value of taking the Canadian officers' training course. This course, which is open only to university students leads to a commission in the military.

PAINS IN LEFT SIDE AND BACK

Other Troubles Women Often Have Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lachine, Quebec.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my left side and back, and with weakness and other troubles women so often have. I was in this way about six months. I saw the Vegetable Compound advertised in the 'Montreal Standard' and I have taken four bottles of it. I was a very sick woman and I feel so much better I would not be without it. I live Wash. I recommend the medicine to my friends and I am willing for you to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. M. W. Rose, 180 Notre Dame Street, Lachine, Quebec.

Doctor Said An Operation Proved, Alberta

"Perhaps you will remember sending me one of your books a year ago. I was in a bad condition and would suffer awful pains at times and could not do anything. The doctor said I could not have children unless I underwent an operation. I read testimonials of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the papers and a friend recommended me to take it. After taking three bottles I became much better and now have a bonny baby girl four months old. I do my housework and help a little with the chores. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and am willing for you to use this testimonial."—Mrs. J. Adams, Box 54, Provost, Alberta, C.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified cod liver oil, which is a new medical discovery with two-fold action, it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creomulsion is recognized by medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to cod liver oil, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creomulsion goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and kills the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, Creomulsion Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Advt.

SKINNY MEN RUNDOWN MEN NERVOUS MEN DON'T MISS THIS

You're behind the times if you don't know that Cod Liver Extract is one of the greatest flesh producers in the world.

Because it contains more vitalizing vitamins than any food you can get. You'll be glad to know that McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets come in sugar-coated form now, so if you really want to put 19 or 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh on your bones and feel well and strong and have a complexion that people will admire, ask Standard Drug, Liggett's or any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets.

Only 60 cents for 60 tablets, and if you don't gain five pounds in 30 days your druggist has authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

It isn't anything unusual for a person to gain 10 pounds in 30 days and for old people with feebleness overtaking them they work wonders.—Advt.

Wife and Husband Both Ill With Gas

For years I had gas on the stomach. The last dose of Adierika helped. I now sleep well and all gas is gone. It also helped my husband. (Signed) Mrs. B. Drinkley. ONE spoonful Adierika removes GAS and often brings astonishing relief to the stomach. Stops that full, bloated feeling. Brings back the appetite. Brings back the normal function of the stomach. This excellent intestinal evacuant is wonderful for constipation. The Standard Drug, Limited.—Advt.

Cured Her Rheumatism

Knowing from terrible experience the suffering caused by rheumatism, Mrs. E. Hurst, who lives at 204 Davis Ave., E. Birmingham, Ill., is so thankful at having cured herself that she has pure gratitude she is anxious to tell all other sufferers just how to get rid of their torture by a simple way at home.

Mrs. Hurst has nothing to sell. Merely put out this notice that she has cured her own name and address, and she will gladly send you this valuable information entirely free. Write her at once before you forget.—Advt.

GAS IN STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastric ulcer, and in serious cases, creates the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloated feeling out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form) is made of pure milk and is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to use, and is the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advt.

CHANCE IS SLIGHT OF IDENTIFICATION

Parents of Florence Heal, Missing Sarnia Girl, Wire Omaha Police.

REMAINS ARE FOUND

Dismembered Body of Woman Recovered From Nebraska River.

Special to The Advertiser by Staff Correspondent.

Sarnia, Nov. 4.—There is but one chance in ten thousand that the body of a girl hacked to pieces and taken from the Missouri river at Omaha, Nebraska, is that of Florence Heal, missing Sarnia girl, despite a report from Omaha that there was reason for suspicion.

Enquiry made today from Florence Heal's parents here, respectable people residing on Queen street, revealed the origin of the Omaha report when Mrs. Heal admitted, revealing to the police at Omaha after noticing a story of the discovery of a girl's body there in the local press. In any case, it is held to be a practical impossibility to make identification even if the dead girl were Florence Heal.

The latter, a pretty, dark-haired girl with brown eyes and about five feet six inches in height, has been missing from her home since January last, and her mother has made continuous efforts through the press and by other agencies, including radio broadcasting, to locate her daughter, all without avail. It is known here that Florence, shortly before her disappearance in January last from the Port Huron store where she was employed, had married a man by the name of Hewitt at Port Huron.

Wires Description.

Mrs. Heal today wired a description of her daughter to Omaha, but it is understood that the only means by which identity might be established was her peculiar walk, which resulted in the quick wearing of her shoes on one side of the foot.

Beck Memorial Not Supported

Stratford Feels No Enthusiasm For "San" Endowment.

Special to The Advertiser.

Stratford, Nov. 4.—There will not likely be a canvass here for the Beck memorial fund to create an endowment at the Queen Alexandra sanatorium. It has been found impossible to get anyone to assume the responsibility of heading a committee to make this canvass, and there has been very little interest manifested in the drive. Aaron Knechtel, president of the chamber of commerce, has so advised the general committee in charge of the province-wide campaign.

BRUCE MEMBER SILENT ON CABINET POSSIBILITIES

Special to The Advertiser.

Kincardine, Nov. 4.—James Malcolm, Liberal member-elect for North Bruce, whose name has been prominently mentioned as a probable member of Premier King's cabinet should the premier decide to form the next government, stated this morning that he thought it would be out of place for him to discuss the possibility at present. Premier King, he pointed out, has on his hands just now a constitutional problem of the first magnitude and until this is disposed of it is unlikely that he will be able to give attention to the formation of a new cabinet.

SETTLEMENT IS REACHED IN OPERATORS' STRIKE

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—The local offices of the Marconi Wireless Company of Canada announced tonight that the strike of its wireless operators and receiving clerks in London, Liverpool and Manchester, had been settled. All the company's services are now working on a normal basis, the announcement added. No details of the settlement were available.

CAPTAIN AND ENGINEER OF MACKINAC NOT GUILTY

Associated Press Despatch.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 4.—Captain George W. McVey and Assistant Engineer George C. McMullen, of the excursion steamer Mackinac, on which a boiler exploded last August, taking a toll of 53 lives, were today found not guilty by a jury of 12 men in the charges charging negligence in connection with the blast. John A. Grant, chief engineer of the Mackinac, several weeks ago was found guilty of negligence as a result of the probe into the explosion, and his federal license was revoked.

CHATHAM MAN FOUND DEAD

Special to The Advertiser.

Chatham, Nov. 4.—Stephen Titus, aged 62, well-known and highly-respected citizen, was found dead in his home this morning by his daughter, Coroner T. L. McKilloch decided that death was due to natural causes and that an inquest was unnecessary. Mr. Titus was survived by three sons and three daughters. Charles Titus of London is a son.

Urgent Request Is Disregarded

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Nov. 4.—Despite the urgent invitation given by Bert Sims, garage proprietor here, for the bandit to meet him on the Wellington road from London last evening, the alleged hold-up man felt differently about it. Mr. Sims told of being fired at on Saturday night and Monday night while motoring from London on the Wellington road.

SPINDRIFT An Adventure of the Great Lakes

By HAROLD TITUS

INSTALLMENT 29.

Val Haines left Cap'n Needham's house as though he had implicit faith in Janet's promise; as if he felt that she had been glad to bargain with him, as if he thought that she would try to evade him and slip away or call on some one of her father's crew who had remained behind for shore work had never entered his mind. But suspicion of her dependability in this crisis was among the two or three foremost things in his consideration. From the east windows of his boarding-house he could see both the front and rear entrances of Janet's home, and she could not leave the house without his seeing her so long as he remained near one of those windows. He did not leave those vantage points for an instant.

He called his cook from the kitchen. "Go over to the store," he said, "and have 'em look through the mail that's there for a letter of mine that's missing. Make 'em ransack the place. I'm sure they've overlooked one."

The cook departed on this manufactured mission, and when she was gone Val turned to the telephone, keeping his eyes constantly on the Needham house. He had given her word, yes, but his word meant nothing. He would see that Janet kept her bargain, but he had no intention of hearing up his end of the agreement. He had not had from the night his plan became perfected in his mind.

"Hello!" he said, gruffly to the operator. "I want to get the sheriff. Yeah, Bart McManus. This is a special message, and if anybody listens in on the line and Bart hears about it he'll make it hot for some body."

A rather frightened girl's voice mumbled some assurance of privacy over the wire, and he waited. He waited for what seemed an eternity. The early December twilight faded, the stars came out, and the clicking and buzzing in his ear, and then a voice.

"Hello! Bart? Not there? . . . This is he?" . . . impatiently. Then a smile flickered about his lips. "Oh, he's there, eh? And you're going to call him now? That's good. He can get here in an hour."

"Tell him this, and get it straight: He's been looking for Carl Garrison, who slipped out of Marquette last August. Tell him Garrison is working for Ezra Needham; that the old man's been keeping him under cover. He's using the name of Goodheart."

"And tell him this: That both of 'em are at Vane Harbor, or have been this afternoon. Maybe he can catch 'em there. If he can't, they'll be coming back to Fairport and he'd better be here when they dock. . . . Get it?"

An excited voice replied: "I get you. He'll be on the job. Who's this?"

But Val Haines hung up the receiver and laughed aloud to himself. No matter who it was. They could find out easily enough from the operator, but he did not care who knew or what anyone thought. He was putting that carefully conceived plan into swift execution and what might happen in Fairport after another half hour had passed was no concern of his.

Had he not laughed aloud, however, he might not have been possessed of such a sense of self-being as that which filled him as he walked to the window and stood there, watching the Needham house where Janet moved about. This, he counted the seconds of his laughter covered the slight sound of a closing door, and the wind, still raging, obliterated the sounds of rubber boots and running down the steps and out to the road.

The Hopp Brothers had recovered from the effects of their experience on Summer Island shoal. They faced a complicated situation, with nets in, no boat available that they could use and the most profitable fishing of the year drawing to a swift close.

That afternoon they had talked in their characteristic way of what might be done and had decided that the most feasible plan was to go to Escanaba at once, try to bargain for a boat that would serve them, come back, and try to land their cargo with the fishing, hoping to recoup some of their stiff losses by the luck that remained for them in the lake.

So Willie went bent as Val Haines if he would take them to Escanaba when he went with the fish that day. Willie stalked out of the cottage and commenced inquiring for him. He was not on his dock, not in the reel yard. In the store, however, he met the cook.

"In a hurry?" she said, with a jerk of her head, and Willie went that way.

He did not knock. No one knocked at the door of the little fisherman's establishment because it was as near a public house as the village accorded. He went in, quiet in his rubber boots and as he started to close the door he heard Haines' voice talking into the telephone.

The door shut noiselessly, then an unconscious bit of courtesy and, as another respect for Haines' privacy, Willie stood in the hallway, waiting.

Neglected Coughs

Often lead to serious trouble—Are quickly relieved by Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

Many people regard a cold as a simple incident. But Coughs and Colds when neglected lead on to pneumonia and consumption—the most dreaded diseases common to this Northern temperature. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is well-known as a most effective treatment for coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup and asthma. For many years it has held its place in the homes of Canada as absolutely dependable and was never so popular as it is today.

Composed of simple and yet powerfully effective ingredients it is suitable for children and adults alike and is found constantly in most homes for use in case of emergency. Prompt treatment is half the battle when fighting colds.

for him to finish his telephoning before he intruded upon the room. But he did not go into that other room. What he heard, standing there in the faintly lighted hall, set his jaw sagging. He breathed swiftly and trembled, torn between the desire to hear more and to flee from the wrath of the very grip of death day before yesterday was a murderer! And old Cap'n Ezra, Janet's father, was in danger from the sheriff! Nothing that he had ever experienced, not even the desperate situation aboard the ruined Three Hoppis, had impressed him as that message did.

He heard the door open and he stepped into the hall, and he waited for no more. Very cautiously he opened the door, slipped out, and closed it. He had overheard and his anger would be great. But Haines did not step out. Willie heard him move slowly across the room, saw the door open, and he went into the hall, and he waited for no more. Very cautiously he opened the door, slipped out, and closed it. He had overheard and his anger would be great.

No one had ever known a Hopp to run. Always they covered distance, alone or together, as at a march. But in the dusk this evening a Hopp ran, ran desperately past the reel yards, past the store, on down the winding path that led to the cottage on the beach.

And none of the Hoppis had ever seen another agitated. Even during their own experience on the lake the other day they had faced catastrophe dumbly, with few words, but William and little Will looked up from the rifles that engaged them as Willie burst into the room, leaving the door open, letting in the gale to set the oil lamp flaring and smoking. His face was white, and his eyes were wide. He tried to speak, but words would not come, so he shook his head sharply and swallowed in desperation.

"What's the matter?" asked William. "The matter?" cackled Will, frightened by the man who had once been his stolid brother.

"Goodheart—Cap'n Ezra—th' sheriff's after 'em!"

Mrs. Gordon Chalk was last night elected to the presidency of the Ontario hospital nurses' association. Her executive includes: Honorary president, Mrs. Jacobs; vice-president, Miss Florence Ball; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. C. Sutherland; assistant secretary-treasurer, Miss Alice Fitzgerald; press secretary and Canadian nurse representative, Mrs. Frank Moffat.

The annual report of the association was read. It was very gratifying and showed a great deal of work had been done by this baby organization, of which Miss Ball has been a most enthusiastic and energetic president. The report showed that during the two years the association had been in existence a number of charitable kindnesses had been done. Treats were arranged for the residents at the Ontario hospital, who were not regularly visited by friends, and on one occasion a street car ride was arranged to Springbank park, with a treat of ice cream at the grounds. Sewing has also been done by the organization for the Victorian order of nurses, for which the material was bought out of the association's funds. Flowers were also sent to members in time of illness.

C. P. R. DENIES REPORT OF NORTH BRANCH LINE

Company Has No Intentions of Building Line To Fort Churchill.

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Nov. 4.—"The company has no intention of building a line to Fort Churchill, on the Hudson Bay," declared D. C. Coleman, vice-president of western lines, Canadian Pacific Railway here today when advised of a report that the C. P. R. planned the construction of a branch line through The Pas mineral belt. A local paper carried the report from its Ottawa correspondent and it said the "ultimate destination of the line would be Fort Churchill."

"There was," said Mr. Coleman, "a survey of a proposed Prince Albert to Herb Lake line but construction is not contemplated at the present time."

(Herb Lake is a mining district of Northern Manitoba, near The Pas.)

WEDDINGS

GLIDDEN—PURDY.

A quiet wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of Rev. John Garbutt and Mrs. Garbutt, Ontario street, when Miss Edna Leona Purdy, only daughter of Mrs. M. Purdy, York street, became the bride of Mr. Walter Harold Glidden, of Cleveland, Ohio, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Glidden of Malta, Ont. Only the immediate relatives of the young couple were present, and the marriage service was performed by Mr. Garbutt.

The charming bride was lovely in her gown of silver-gray georgette over a green slip. The groom was dressed in straight lines with cut-off and medals down the front, and on the shoulder were rose and green ribbons, which fell to the hem. An effective bouquet of roses and valley lilies was fastened on one shoulder, and a smart mulberry hat, faced with silver gray, was worn. Black velvet shoes and silver hose completed her costume.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Glidden left on a wedding trip to southern Ohio and West Virginia. The bride donned a smart tailored dress in bokhara shade, a mulberry cloak with gray fox trimming, and chic silver cloche hat, while travelling. Mr. and Mrs. Glidden will reside in Cleveland.

HUTCHESON—BOYES.

Dorchester, Nov. 5.—A quiet wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, Nov. 4, at the manse, Dorchester, by Rev. D. Stewart. The contracting parties were Miss Mary Ethel Boyes, daughter of Mr. George Boyes, of Putnam, and Mr. Ronald Hutcheson, son of John Hutcheson, also of Putnam.

BEAL—FOURNE.

St. Thomas, Nov. 5.—A wedding of local interest was celebrated at Wilkesport, when Anna Vera Fournie, of that place, was married to Mr. Gordon Beal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beal, this city. Mr. Albert Beal, of this city, supported the Cheesman of Toronto attended the groom.

The bride's mother wore a becoming crown of navy georgette, heavily beaded in steel and a corsage of deep red roses and lily-of-the-valley. The groom's mother was gowned in black satin-faced crepe with touches of gold and wore a corsage of pink roses. During the signing of the register Mr. Ed. Webster sang "O Fair, O Sweet, O Holy."

A dainty buffet luncheon was served immediately after the ceremony by girl friends of the bride, the Misses Grace Brand, Peggy Scott, Lenore Mitchell, Agnes Mullins and Ruth Wainwright. The bride table was prettily arranged with pink roses, and at either side were placed the bride and the groom's cakes. Later Mr. and Mrs. Porter left on a short wedding trip to Toronto. The bride donned a smart navy fallie gown and Prince of Wales coat for travelling, and also wore a chic little pouf blue felt hat and scarf to match. Blonde shoes and hose completed her going-away costume. They will reside in Mimico.

Out-of-town guests were present at the wedding from Simcoe, Paris, Brantford, St. Thomas, and Toronto.

LOCH LOMOND CHAPTER SUPPORTS CENOTAPH

Sum of $100 Voted at Recent Meeting—Arranging For Euchre and Concert.

The sum of $100 has been voted toward the cenotaph project by the Loch Lomond chapter, I. O. O. E. The decision was made at a meeting of the chapter members this week, with Mrs. Webbs, hostess, and the regent, Mrs. Hendry, presiding.

Arrangements were also made for a euchre to be held on the evening of Nov. 11 in the Conservative rooms. Mrs. George Eddie is the convener.

On Nov. 12 a concert is being arranged for the men at the Byron sanatorium by the chapter. This entertainment will be the second in a series of programs being planned for the winter months.

TILLSONBURG W. I.

Tillsonburg, Nov. 4.—The regular meeting of the Tillsonburg women's institute was held this week at the home of Mrs. H. C. Elder, with a splendid attendance. It was a very enthusiastic meeting. The first vice-president, Mrs. A. Brompton, occupied the chair, and after the usual opening ceremonies and business session, a pleasing program was rendered. Included: Solo, Miss Catherine Carr, piano solo, Mrs. Charles Waller; reading, Miss Margaret Webster; solo, Mrs. A. A. Sinclair; reading, Miss M. Dennis, yellow body mums and pink roses.

Mrs. (Dr.) J. B. Reid, the president, gave an interesting paper on "When the Boy or Girl Reaches the Job Age."

A feature of the afternoon was the sandwich-making contest, with the following prize-winners: Mrs. Mervin Minshall, Mrs. James Rodgers and Mrs. Wm. Sutcliffe. The judges were Mrs. Rowley Hill, Mrs. S. Shiden and Miss Mary Irmle, all of Maple Park Institute. A fine lunch was served by the social committee.

CANADIAN CLUB PLANS MEETINGS

Splendid Speakers Are Being Brought To London by Women.

An exceptionally fine program has been outlined by the Women's Canadian club for its meetings during the next few months. Outstanding speakers, will timely subjects, will be guests in town from time to time.

Marshall Saunders, author of "Beautiful Joe," and other popular books, will be the first speaker, addressing the club on November 24. This session will be in keeping with Canadian Book Week. Mrs. Staufeld, of Toronto, will be the speaker at a meeting early in December. She will take as her topic, Handicrafts. Their Use and Abuse, and in her talk will make special reference to weaving.

On December 18, Judge MacDonald, of Vancouver, will be a guest of the club, speaking on Public Opinion. On January 21, Henry Lawrence Southwick, president of the Emerson school of oratory, Boston, will speak on Rhetoric.

Some time in February, Mrs. George Black, wife of the member for the Yukon, will be an interesting guest of the club. Mrs. Black will bring a message from the north country, and will speak on the Flora and the Fauna of the Yukon.

JEWISH COMMISSION APPEALS JUDGMENT

Quebec Court Rules Hebrew Children Should Attend Protestant Schools.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—Argument was opened in the supreme court this morning on the appeal of certain Jewish members of a special commission appointed to investigate school matters in Montreal from a recent judgment of the Quebec court of appeal, which ruled that the legislation enacted by the Quebec legislature to the effect that, for school purposes Jews should be regarded as Protestants, was ultra vires of the Quebec legislature. The appeal is opposed by the Montreal Protestant board of school commissioners and the Catholic board of school commissioners. The court is asked to decide whether the act passed by the legislature of the province of Quebec in 1913 is ultra vires of its powers, and whether under this statute persons of Jewish religion can be appointed to the Protestant board of school commissioners of the city of Montreal, and if under the statute the Protestant board of school commissioners of the city of Montreal are obliged to appoint Jewish teachers in their schools, should the be attended by children professing Jewish religion.

NO. 9 MOSA W. I.

The No. 9 Mosa W. I. met recently at the home of Mrs. D. D. Graham. There were nine members and three visitors present. The collection amounted to $2.45. In the absence of the president and secretary, Mrs. F. L. Abbott and Mrs. D. C. Graham very ably filled the positions.

Further arrangements were completed for the poverty social to be held the last of November. Members who had not yet sent in fruit towards the sick children's hospital were kindly asked to do so at their earliest convenience, as the box was being held at Mrs. D. D. Graham's for packing. It was decided to open the meetings sharp at 2:30 o'clock.

A paper on "Friends and Friendship," by Mrs. A. Walker, and a very interesting talk on the women's institute by Mrs. William Hyatt of Mount Brydges, the district president, were much enjoyed.

Nanny Meadow Mouse Experiences a Great Adventure All Her Own

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Nanny Meadow Mouse had been almost as frightened as Danny. You know, she had seen all that had happened. When Black Pussy had jumped the first time Nanny had wanted to squeal right out. She had been almost as sure that Black Pussy had been caught as sure that Black Pussy had been. When Black Pussy sprang the second time Nanny had no hope at all. She couldn't see how Black Pussy could possibly miss Danny a second time. She shut her eyes as soon as she saw Black Pussy pick up Danny's limp little form in her teeth. She kept them shut as long as she could, which wasn't long at all. She just had to see what was going on. The instant she opened them she saw that Danny had escaped. She knew that Danny had escaped, though how she hadn't the least idea at first. Black Pussy's tail was twitching angrily, and Black Pussy herself was working at an odd feline limb. Then Nanny guessed that there was a whole in it, and that Danny was inside, safe and sound. Just what made Nanny look up she doesn't know to this day. I guess it must have been a good fairy, don't you? Anyway, she did look up, and it was a good thing that she did. For this story that she did. If she hadn't looked up just when she did there would have been nothing left of either Nanny or this story. She looked up to see claws reaching for her. She dodged sideways. Had she jumped straight ahead she would have been caught. But she dodged to the side, and the claws of Billy the Sparrow Hawk missed her. Billy checked himself, and in a moment was up in the air again. Again he missed. This was because Nanny had kept her eyes on him, and was ready for him. She had had experience, and she knew how to dodge. Three times Nanny dodged. Of course, in dodging she couldn't keep track exactly of where she was going, and it just happened that this third time brought her over near Black Pussy. Black Pussy heard Billy's shrill voice,

Three times Nanny dodged.

and looked up just in time to see Billy make the third attempt to catch Nanny. Black Pussy didn't see Nanny. All she saw was Billy drop down into the grass. Now Black Pussy had just as soon have a nice bird dinner as a nice mouse dinner. Billy the Sparrow Hawk was so near that Black Pussy couldn't resist the temptation to run swiftly toward him in hope that she would be quick enough to catch him before he was fairly in the air again. She was a vain hope. Billy saw Black Pussy, and you should have heard him shriek at her. He hovered over her, only a little way up, shrieking and scolding. Black Pussy glared up at him and lashed her tail, and all the time Nanny Meadow Mouse was making her short legs work as they seldom had worked before. Straight she ran for the point where Danny Meadow Mouse had disappeared. She knew that there must be safety there. She knew that there must be a hiding place. Sure enough there was. She darted through the little hole which had meant safety for Danny. "Danny," she squeaked. "Danny, oh Danny!" and raced along inside that hollow limb. "Nanny," squeaked Danny joyously. A moment later two little noses were being rubbed together, when it was the Meadow Mouse way of kissing. "I knew you'd come," cried Danny. "I knew you'd wait," cried Nanny, and then they rubbed noses again. (Copyright, 1925, by T. W. Burgess.)

Ladies Ontario Basketball Association Will Meet In London On November 14

Local Entry Will Likely Be Found In Same Group

Election of Officers and Playing Rules To Form Chief Part of Discussion.

EXPECT MORE TEAMS

London has been chosen as the center for the annual meeting of the Ontario ladies' basketball association. The convocation will be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday, Nov. 14, according to word received from official headquarters at Toronto.

The L. O. B. A. is the largest provincial basketball organization in Canada, either of ladies or men, and the picking of London as a rallying point further to the recognition that the city is receiving in domestic basketball circles.

There were forty clubs in the association last year, and it is expected that that number will be considerably increased this winter. There will be three or four more senior teams in the Toronto group and the number of teams in Ottawa will be increased from eight to fifteen.

Westwell Grads, the only local entry, will in all probability find themselves in the same group as last season with the Toronto Ladies, A. C. and Young Women's Hebrew association. This was the best group in the league last year, and it is not expected that the association will attempt to break it up, except that another club may be added to make it a four-team circuit.

Local officials favor the plan of simple reason that it means a complete schedule of games, with no off-days. A Toronto report claimed that the Tishlers would again be in the running, but the team has disbanded as has the Shamrock organization, and the players will now be found on the new Westwell Grads, which has been working out under coach Jerry Goodman for the past week.

Miss Edith Wynn-Pryce, treasurer of the association, has not yet received word of the convocation, but states that it was decided at last year's meeting that London would be the next center. Miss Pryce has decided to stay out of office this year, as she has accepted the appointment on the advisory board of the Ontario league, and this, along with other duties in local athletics, will not take up her time. Lottie Garrett, member of the Westwell Grads, is prominently mentioned for the post of president, as Fanny Rosenfeldt, the present chieftain, has intimated that she will give up the office.

As in the majority of sports, Toronto has been grabbing off the governing reins, and London is represented on the executive in numbers that well baffle its importance, then friction should be a thing of the past. It looks as if the movement is on foot to make the change.

Last season London was under attack for its failure to O. B. B. A. members were concerned. The Tishlers put up some great games, but were beaten out on breaks. This year it promises to be a different story.

Notices for the L. O. B. A. meeting have been sent out to the various clubs affiliated last season, and any other wishing to enter this year will be asked to get in touch as soon as possible with Miss Alex Gibb, the secretary. Her address is 162 Broadway avenue, Toronto.

WILLIAMSON GLINTS

The first baseball plant outside of the major leagues was thrown open to the public at Los Angeles on Sept. 23. It cost $1,500,000 and is owned by William W. Wrigley, Jr., of Chicago, who is the proprietor of the Los Angeles Coast League club and is also owner of the Chicago Cubs.

Mr. Wrigley, since he has become financially interested in baseball, has been making a study of the game, and he has found that the game is a money-making machine, not excepting Col. Jacob Ruppert of the Yankees.

Los Angeles has been a member of the Coast League for many years. A suburb of the city, Vernon, also has owned a franchise in the same circuit for a long period. Until Mr. Wrigley entered his magnificent park, both operated on a primitive scale. Their grand stands and bleachers were shabby wooden structures, accommodating comparatively small crowds.

Wrigley Field, with the pride of Los Angeles fans, seats 20,000 persons in a double-decked grand stand. It is smaller in capacity than the Polo Grounds, the Yankee stadium and other big league parks, but Mr. Wrigley has provided a playing surface measuring 350 feet on the home plate, right down each foul line to the fence, and 421 feet between the catcher's position and the center field barrier.

The park has a tower 150 feet high, with four huge clocks, and eight floors devoted to executive offices and dressing-rooms reached from the street level by elevators. As the Vernon team probably will use Wrigley Field for its home games, three club houses have been provided.

Mr. Wrigley's Chicago park, the home of the Cubs, is smaller than the Los Angeles plant, but some day the million-dollar sportsman is expected to build a stadium for the use of his National League team that will afford a vast amount of space for the spectators. Mr. Wrigley paid $500,000 for the Cubs and $1,000,000 for the Cardinals for training purposes. He obtained control of the Los Angeles club for something like $300,000, and a year ago he spent $250,000 in renovating and enlarging the Cubs grounds on the north side.

The road of baseball memories—only ahead of Bill Wambams—the only man in the world to make a trip to the transited in a world series. The Boston Red Sox don't want him next season, and unless he backs on with some other club he will drift into the minors—or out of the game.

Those who play have some thing to treasure. Wambams' feat occurred.

SELE MOONSHINE LABORED BY ROBINS

McWeeny, One of Best Hurlers On Coast, Drafted by Brooklyn.

By JOHN B. FOSTER.

New York, Nov. 4.—By playing canny hands, both the Brooklyn and San Francisco teams have done well in the recent McWeeny, one of the best pitchers on the coast, came to the Brooklyn club, and he was drafted by Brooklyn.

McWeeny's work was watched closely by three or four scouts all the season, and all of them were on the point of recommending him to an eastern club, but none of them did, although many letters and telegrams changed hands.

Brooklyn was interested, and Manager Robinson had been keeping an eye on the coast players through more than one source. It is said that when the San Francisco club was approached to let McWeeny go, the price was quite as high as it was for the release of Waner and Rhyme to Pittsburgh. That is, as high in proportion, for Waner and Rhyme have been quoted all the way to $250,000, and nobody knows just how much, or whether or not there is really a deal at all, for details and conditions cross each other every day in the papers.

But if Dreyfus really paid self as when he bought Hartly O'Toole years ago for $22,000, and never got 22 cents worth of value out of him, at any rate, when the draft came along this autumn, McWeeny was still with San Francisco. More than one manager was surprised, as almost all of them figured that one of the other players would be a grip on the player in some way. When it came time for Brooklyn to draft a player, Robinson, who had been keeping an eye on McWeeny, took him, and when informed that he was, took him, that others had been led to believe would stand them at least $25,000. If McWeeny turns out to be worth it, the Brooklyn manager, on the other hand, San Francisco, while not other hand, much as she might have wanted for the twirler, did not lose anything.

McWeeny, one player could be taken from her team by the draft, and the others were safe.

GRID FAIS TO INVADE HAMILTON SATURDAY

Eyes of Canadian Football World Will Be Centered On Jungle Town.

SEE GREAT BATTLE

Special To The Advertiser.

Hamilton, Nov. 4.—It looks as though Ottawa football fans are going to make a real invasion of Hamilton on Saturday. The Tigers received a request for fifty tickets for the visitors from the capital, and the request was granted, the tickets being on a block basis, so that the faithful will be able to make themselves heard when the opportunity comes. It is also known that the Hamilton fans have also sent requests for seats, so that it looks as though the eyes of the Canadian football world will be centered on Hamilton this week-end. The seats for both the Saturday and holiday games went on sale this morning at the C. P. R. city ticket office, and there was a great demand.

The Ottawa have played four games this season in the Interprovincial series without sending out advance stories about their team being weakened by casualties, but reports of that nature are being sent out from the publicity bureau this week. It is claimed that Charlie Conwell will not play in the game this morning at the C. P. R. city ticket office, and there was a great demand.

Two Strong Squads.

The Tigers lined up two strong teams last evening, without calling on the intermediaries for help, which shows that the team is in good shape. The team was one of the most beneficial works of the season. What pleased the Tiger fans was that the team was in good shape. The team was one of the most beneficial works of the season. What pleased the Tiger fans was that the team was in good shape.

Joe Tubman has been heralded as one of the best punters in the "four" and Ottawa papers are looking forward to a great duel when he tries to exchange kicks with Rayner, but they are evidently over-optimistic. Bert Gibb wields a great hoof and that he is also a great kicker.

Early weather predictions point to a favorable day with a dry field.

There will be plenty of interesting games in the season ends.

University of Toronto and Balm Beach will meet twice, while Hamilton, Rowanville and the Montreal-Arrested will meet Saturday will finish the Tiger schedule. In the intercollegiate series, McGill will play against University of Toronto twice, Montreal and Thompson will play against McGill twice, and McGill will play against McGill twice.

Crop of Californian Grain Grown by Lambton Farmer

Special To The Advertiser.

Sarnia, Nov. 4.—Proof that Lambton can grow the same crops as those of Southern California was provided here this summer in a field of maize grown by Daniel Senecle, second concession of Plympton, a short distance from Wyoming. A year ago Mr. Senecle, while in the agriculture office, procured from W. P. MacDonald, the district representative, a small quantity of maize seed, which was imported from Kern county, Bakersfield, California. A few grains were placed in the rich sandy loam found in the Wyoming area, and as a result Mr. Senecle brought to Mr. MacDonald's office several stalks of maize about four feet in height, and each bearing a well-developed top.

It was said that only two winning stalks had been sold on High Star and one of them was the one which was sold around the paddock, was held by a stable-boy who had been exercising the stock of late.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Nov. 4.—Five large furniture vans were required today to move the possessions of the Duke and Duchess of York from White Lodge, Richmond Park, to Curzon House, Curzon street, Mayfair, which will be the winter home of the king and daughter-in-law of the king and queen.

Associated Press Despatch
London, Nov. 5.—The situation in Syria still is tense and apparently fraught with grave possibilities. Reports reaching London assert that there has been renewed fighting in the eastern outskirts of Damascus between the French and rebels, and that the French are using all efforts to prevent the entry into the country of tribesmen on the outside. Barricades, including wire entanglements, have been erected in the streets of the city. The French troops who are declared to be short are being replaced by Kurds.

To the north of Damascus it is reported that 4,000 rebels have concentrated, and from various sectors come advices that the situation is growing worse.

No improvement seems possible until reinforcements arrive. Even the defenses of Aleppo are being resisted a strong organized attack."

The Frenchmen are using artillery and aeroplanes against the tribesmen. Twenty miles west of Damascus, the Mount Lebanon French exchanged rifle shots with a band of rebels, and south of Dan-

BUS THIEF STEALS PARIS TRUCK, SAFE, ESCAPES OFFICERS

Frank Stewart Blamed For Series of Thefts in Western Ontario.

VISITS THAMESFORD

Thom Garage Looted in Early Morning—Tires, Tubes, Chains Taken.

Police of the city and district are seeking a man who is believed to be responsible for a series of thefts within the past few days. It is alleged that the man is using the name Frank Stewart.

A quantity of goods alleged to have been stolen from travellers' sample cases in Listowel have been recovered in Ingersoll, where they had been sold to a dealer by a man claiming to represent a bankrupt Montreal firm.

On Tuesday night police in Woodstock intercepted a man in an auto stolen in Guelph. Despite a lengthy chase, in which the police used their revolvers, the man escaped, and breaking into the garage of the Woodstock-Ingersoll bus line made away with a new 20-passenger bus, which had been placed in service from the day before. The bus was found early Wednesday morning in Paris, where it had been abandoned, undamaged.

At Paris the wanted man is alleged to have stolen a service truck and a safe from the Bosworth-Clarke garage. The truck was reported as seen in the vicinity of Princeton early on Wednesday morning and the safe was found about midway between Brantford and Paris.

Early yesterday morning the Thom garage at Thamesford was burglarized and a large quantity of tires, tubes and chains taken. It is believed the same man was responsible for this theft as for the others. It is reported that two confederates are working with him, but only one trace of them was found, and that at Paris.

SAFE STOLEN.

Special to The Advertiser. Woodstock, Nov. 4.—Paris police were in Woodstock today in search of the truck taken by the man who stole Bosworth and Clarke's garage at Paris early this morning. A safe and service truck were taken. The truck was reported near Princeton about a week ago. A search for it in this district proved fruitless. A puzzling feature was the fact that the safe, containing nothing but a number of accounts, was found in Brantford and Paris, which is miles away in the opposite direction to that in which the truck is reported to have been seen.

GARAGE ROBBERED.

Special to The Advertiser. Thamesford, Nov. 4.—Some time during last night thieves forced an entrance into the garage operated by A. Thom and departed with 29 tires, eight inner tubes and ten sets of chains, valued at about $400.

Mr. Thom, who lives across the street from the garage, reports that he thought he heard an auto stop near the garage this morning, but he did not see it. He did not pay any attention, as cars frequently stop near the corner. When he went to open the garage this morning he discovered that the place had been entered and goods taken. The thieves did not leave any trace, and it is believed they escaped in a touring car.

WONDERFUL RECORD FOR RADIO IN ARCTIC CIRCLE

A wonderful radio record is noted in a letter from Dewey Soper, Bathurst, which has been received by officials of the Canadian Westinghouse Company. This point is slightly north of the Arctic Circle. Mr. Dewey Soper is a government naturalist, and mineralogist sent by the Canadian government to make a survey of the interior of southern Bathurst. He was not able to this point in 1921 and is therefore continuing on during the whole of 1923. Pangnirtung, referred to in his letter, is the Hudson Bay post off Cumberland Gulf, exactly on the Arctic Circle, where there is in addition to the Hudson Bay posts a post of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Outside of this there is nothing but Eskimo. The Hudson Bay post is equipped with a Canadian Westinghouse receiving set.

"Fortunately," says the letter, "the H. B. C. post at Pangnirtung received a small Westinghouse outfit from the Nascole in September. It is now in use and has given some fine results. With my three earphones extra we used to sit around over there and have some of the most wonderful experiences. Some of the music and singing was as clear and loud as though coming from the next room. We got every imaginable kind of entertainment, from jazz to solemn classics, lectures, political speeches, plays, etc. One night we got a girl singer (I think from Hastings, Neb.) whose voice was so clear that she seemed standing among us; even her breathing could be detected. How is that for Arctic Circle?" Among other things received from the following stations: Schenectady, N.Y.; Brunswick Hotel, Boston, Hastings, Neb.; Denver, Col.; and Los Angeles, Cal.; Regina, Cal.; and Edmonton. For some reason the latter three were seldom secured and were invariably weak when we did.

ELECTED TO PROVINCIAL BOARD.

The official representatives of the Western Ontario women's institutes on the provincial board of federated women's institutes includes Mrs. George Edwards of Komoka, president of the Western Ontario federation (left), Mrs. David Chisholm of Harrow (center) and Mrs. W. J. Simpson of Tottenham (right). These representatives to the board were elected at the convention now in session in the Masonic Temple, this city.

PROSPERITY FORESEEN BY DEPUTY MINISTER

W. Bert Roadhouse Tells Women's Institute Convention Canada Can Now Look Forward to More Stable Conditions.

That Canada has rounded the corner and can look forward to better times and more stable conditions as far as crop production is concerned, was the welcome statement made by W. Bert Roadhouse, deputy minister of agriculture, of Toronto, before the federation of Western Ontario women's institutes in the Masonic Temple, last night.

He spoke with regret of the serious injury to the Northern crop during the past few weeks, however.

"It is a source of deep regret that this phase of agriculture has suffered such a serious blow," he declared. "From reports which have come to me, I am informed that practically all of the Northern crop of corn in commercial sections of Ontario have been ruined by the serious frost of the past two weeks. It is the first time in 60 years that such an event has taken place in this province, and it is a great disappointment."

"However, this is but one unfortunate phase in what is an exceptionally good year as a whole," he said. The speaker in his address referred to the extraordinary influence which radio and broadcasting has had on the country, especially in rural communities. He spoke of radio as one of the marvels of the age, and an instance of one of those titanic forces which revolutionize the world in a few years.

"I believe," he declared, "that it will not be long before this great contribution of science will become a useful part of every home, particularly every farm home of the country."

"This is one thing that must be linked up with our farm life, for it will be an important factor in promoting education in rural communities as they come and enlarge our rural life. And I know that the women's institutes will be the first to take up such an idea. I hope that the time is not far distant when a radio program will be a feature of many of our institute meetings."

The speaker paid a big tribute to the women's institutes. Their organization was one which maintained a high educational and spiritual interest in the community. They have furnished that influence in the rural districts which have brought together the people in bonds of friendship.

"Nothing so closely records the rural life of the province than the records of the women's institutes," he declared.

Mrs. H. Aitken of Beeton delivered the second address of the evening, dealing with "Ontario Women in the Future." There were three classes of these women, she said: the wives who helped with the work on a farm and shared the profits with their husbands; daughters who specialized in some small line of their own; and women who farmed on their own small acreages.

The speaker pointed out the importance of production, but cautioned that the producer must give back in the form of education and culture. Stress was laid on the grading of eggs for best results. Lack of graduates was losing the market for dairy butter.

The report of agriculture given by Mrs. J. W. Macdonald of Appleton was interesting throughout. It showed that the women of the institutes were occupied in dairying, poultry raising, market gardening, beekeeping, small fruit, flower cultivation, in fact were contributing in every way to make agriculture a successful profession. They had shown splendid interest in the school fairs.

She suggested co-operation in the purchase of seed, bulbs and shrubs in a community.

A movement to have a women's institute exhibit and speakers at the Western Fair next year found expression at yesterday's meeting. The institutes are delighted with the idea, and voted to support such an exhibit similar to the exhibit held annually at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Also proposed, and will probably form a feature of the fair next year.

Mrs. Bolton Fitzgerald of Thornhill presided over the session.

About Politics. "We feel sorry sometimes that we have only one woman at Ottawa," declared Mrs. C. Field Robertson of London, provincial president of institutes, in a very fine address given before the afternoon session. "Our only representative is Agnes MacPherson."

With this as a leading statement, the speaker urged the women of the institutes not to be partisan in their politics, but to cast their vote for the man who has the best and highest ideals.

"I know that while in the small things women have their differences, in the big issues of life they will be one," she declared.

The speaker paid tribute to the late Sir Adam Beck, not only as a citizen of London, but as a citizen claimed by the whole of Ontario.

She referred to the vast army of institute women, 35,000 in Ontario alone. Ontario, she said, was the banner province in institute work, and she hoped that it would remain

N. Y. Diamond Dealer Trusts Bogus Fellow Merchant and Loses Fortune.

Associated Press Despatch. New York, Nov. 5.—While Louis Steinberg, a dealer in diamonds in the United Jewelers' Exchange building on the Bowery, was engaged in a telephone conversation yesterday, a young man who had posed as the owner of a Long Island jewelry store, walked out of his office with $50,000 worth of unset stones.

The man whose description was given to the police had gained the dealer's confidence during three previous visits, on each of which he had bought about $50 worth of jewelry.

Yesterday the young man had said he wanted to purchase a large amount of jewelry and had been timed by Steinberg to call today. He had been invited behind the counter, when the telephone rang. Steinberg expressed the opinion that the thief had timed his visit today to coincide with the absence of the office assistant, and that the telephone call was made by an accomplice. He had been invited to the booth, and while the dealer was in it, the thief walked out of the building with a wallet full of stones.

Conveners Named. The appointment of the conveners of the standing committees took place during the noon hour, just prior to the afternoon session. They are as follows:

Education, Mrs. S. Shrier of Arkona; health, Mrs. J. B. Ferguson of West Lorne; home economics, Mrs. Norman Anderson of Wilton Grove; immigration, Mrs. W. T. Meade of Brantford; agriculture, Mrs. J. W. Macdonald of Appleton; legislation, Mrs. Fred Hagman of Aylmer; publicity, Mrs. B. McCann of Rodney; community activities, Mrs. Malcolm McBeth of Milverton; relief, Miss L. Jeckell of Exeter; historical research and current events, Mrs. R. J. Graham of Ripley.

On Girls' Work. The afternoon session was given up entirely to girls' work. Interestingly, addresses on different phases of the work which is being carried on by the junior branches were supplemented by reports of the branches.

Miss Marion Campbell of Appleton came with the suggestion that a judging competition be held in connection with the Western Fair similar to the competitions which are now conducted at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto. Miss Campbell has been in communication with Roscoe Finn, the district agricultural representative, and the Western Fair board. To back up her suggestion she got an expression of approval from the assembled institutes' delegates, and hopes to be able to secure a judging competition at the Western Fair next year.

Hold Garden Contest. Miss Muriel Styles of Shelden gave an interesting account of a garden contest held in Elgin by the junior branch. The seeds were procured by the government and given out to 25 of the girls.

During the summer the girls tended their gardens, which made an excellent showing in the fall. The garden contest was followed up in the fall by a canning exhibit, the result of the gardens, and an exhibition of raw products from the gardens.

Miss Baddington of Tara pointed out how short courses had brought to rural districts the advantages which had hitherto belonged only to the towns.

Girls Are Not Bad. Mrs. Stilson Swales of Komoka presided over the girls' session. In a brief chairman's address, she stressed the point that girls were not so bad as they were sometimes painted.

"Our girls," she said, "are the cream of our country, and I'm going to make girls my hobby."

Mrs. Swales is a young woman herself, not far removed from girlhood, and she believes that it is the duty of such women, whom she terms "junior women," to reach back to the girls and so close up the breach which often exists between the girls and senior women of a community.

Miss Ethel M. Chapman, assistant superintendent of women's institutes of Ontario, opened the afternoon session with an inspiring address on "Institute Work."

Several interesting exhibits were in place in the convention hall. These included canned fruit and vegetables, hats and food charts, all the work of the institute girls.

Captain Orr was present at the session and explained to the members the workings of the amusement tax.

BLUE HERON VISITS CITY IN FLIGHT TO SOUTHLAND

Apparently stopping for rest in its southward flight, a blue heron spent some hours yesterday in London. It alighted on the flat opposite the Horton street hydro substation, and approached quite closely to some men who were working there. Herons are an unusual sight in this vicinity at this time of year.

TEACHING OF SHOE SHINING IS OPPOSED BY TRUSTEE

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Strong opposition to the principle of teaching occupations with a low standing in the auxiliary technical schools, was voiced yesterday by Trustee Thomas in connection with a scheme to provide for the teaching of shoe-shining at the Jarvis street auxiliary school, which will be presented for the approval of the board of education at their meeting tonight.

Because a child was below the average standard required in the other technical schools, he was thought, for dubbing him as a half-wit, good for nothing but polishing footwear.

W. C. McBrien, chairman of the board of education, pointed out on the other hand that the function of these schools was to provide for all grades of mentality. Many of the students were in the unfortunate position that they were unable to take up more advanced trades and their needs must be considered. He advocated teaching shoe-shining, scrubbing or anything else, rather than turning them out as absolutely useless citizens.

Her Face Was Covered With Large, Red Pimples Miss Greta Carlisle, 23 Leonard St., Brantford, Ont., writes:—"A short while ago, my face was completely covered with large red pimples, and it seemed that it was almost impossible for me to get rid of them, as nothing I took seemed to do me any good. SIXTEEN THOUGHT TO BE DEATH TOLL Bodies of Eight Persons Are Already Covered at Scene of Welsh Disaster.

Associated Press Despatch. Conway, Wales, Nov. 5.—It is estimated that not more than sixteen persons met death on Tuesday when the dam on Lake Eglwys burst and loosed some three million tons of water down the mountainside. Eight bodies have been found and eight persons are missing. It is estimated that more persons were killed by falling houses and swiftly rolling boulders than from drowning. But for the fact that the population in the valley is sparse and scattered the fatalities would undoubtedly have been greater. The material damage was relatively light.

COMMISSION WOULD LESSEN INTERFERENCE

Presence of Hydro Wires Is Blamed For Radio Reception Trouble.

Consideration is being given by the public utilities commission at its regular meeting this afternoon to the question of radio interference and to the question of heating the public utilities building by electricity.

Manager E. V. Buchanan has had several complaints as to radio interference being caused by hydro wires bringing up the question to secure a ruling from the commission as to how far the utilities staff may go in correcting matters.

Use of electricity for heating the utilities building during off peak hours also has been given some consideration by Mr. Buchanan, and he has a practical plan to be placed before the commission for its consideration.

TYPEWRITER BUSINESS BOOMS DURING OCTOBER

Fred J. Walker, London manager of the Underwood Typewriter company, received word from J. J. Seitz, general manager for Canada, this morning, stating that October business had been the largest in the history of the company in Canada.

This includes the war years when business was running on a very unusual scale," said Mr. Walker, "and we take it to mean that there must be a good volume of business moving in Canada, because business houses do not buy typewriters when they have no use for them. Reports all over Canada are such as to bear out the same idea that we have more than rounded the corner toward better times. We are right upon them."

POLICE HERE ON LOOKOUT FOR FAKE CHECK ARTIST

London police and bank officials have been asked to be on the lookout for a man, under the name of Gustave M. Nelson, or Nelson, is accused of issuing fraudulent checks and obtaining money under false pretences.

Although in Niagara Falls, Cornwall and Hamilton Nelson passed the time for the last few months, money, he has not included London in his tour of forgery, according to local police. A description of the wanted man was received at police headquarters today.

A Joy Glass

To Start the Day Right. To Eliminate the Waste.

When you rise in the morning feeling dull, it is probably because the system is clogged with poison and waste.

Eliminate that poison as quickly as you can. This is the easy, pleasant way.

Drink a glass of water, hot or cold. Add a Little Jad Salts. That will make a sparkling drink. The result is to flush the intestines. Don't wait. Don't say: "Tonight I will correct the conditions." A day will be lost. Correct them in an hour.

Then remember that the same results can come any hour of the day. Any hour you need them. They come in a quick, pleasant, gentle way. They come from acids of lemon and grape, combined with lithia, etc.

Let a test show you what Jad Salts mean. It will be a revelation. Ask your druggist for Jad Salts today.—Advt.

—suggests a Change—a Winter Holiday

A winter-time crossing to the Old Country, by the southerly route, is generally a most pleasant experience. Within the magnificent CUNARD and ANCHOR-DONALDSON Liners there is always warmth, comfort and enjoyment. Music, dancing and other amusements. Outside, on spacious, sheltered decks you enjoy the crisp, bracing sea air. At meal times you have a ravenous appetite for the good things which the chefs prepare. Where economy is desired, one will find the Third Cabin accommodation excellent.

FADA Radio

A Symphony of Tone and Design

I was Fada's early vision of radio that made possible the Fada "Standard of Reception" by which today all radio performance is being judged.

Fada Radio gives you a clear, sweet rich quality of tone such as you never thought possible—softly or with full volume, as you may prefer. A command of real distance, for those who measure radio in miles—and the ability to tune in with precision the stations you want just as easily as you tune out those you do not want.

Equally pleasing is the variety and beauty of cabinet designs. From the simple table cabinets to the more elaborate furniture models, they are all masterpieces of craftsmanship, worthy a place in any home.

Call up the nearest Authorized Fada Dealer. Ask for a demonstration. Then for the first time, prepare to fully appreciate radio.

NO WINTER PARCEL POST SERVICE OES TO YUKON

Citizens are reminded that there is no parcel post service to Dawson, Yukon, in the winter. From Oct. 31 to May 1, only mail matter is handled. White Horse, Carcross and Champagne are the only three points to which winter parcel post service is established. This morning at the postoffice there was a pile of parcels all addressed to Dawson City.

EXAMINATIONS TO BE HELD FOR OFFICERS NEXT WEEK

A written examination for certificates "A" and "B" of the Canadian officers training course will be held at the University of Western Ontario and Ontario Agricultural college at Guelph on Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 10 and 11, it was announced at military headquarters this morning.

ROAD COMMITTEE TO MEET.

The advisory road committee of the county council, composed of Warden Allan McPherson, Glenoe; Reeve W. Ross, Hastings; and County Clerk John Stuart will meet with County Engineer Charles Talbot on Tuesday next at 1:30 at the county buildings.

ST. MARK'S S. S. SUPPER.

The members of the Sunday school of St. Mark's Anglican church enjoyed a delightful supper, which was served by the ladies' guild of the church, last night. The evening was spent in games in charge of Edmond Webb and Mark Garrett.

FORTY STEAMERS BLOCKED IN CANAL

Shipping Men Disgusted at Failure To Stop Chicago Water Diversion.

NO RELIEF IN SIGHT

Special to The Advertiser.
Port Colborne, Nov. 4.—The worst blockade in the history of the Welland canal threatens as the water on the Welland viaduct continues to drop. A total of 40 steamers were tied up in the canal today, due to low water, and the grounding of two steamers, Pine Bay and Corunna, hard and fast on the aqueduct.

Every bit of water available was turned into the Welland canal yesterday, and industrial plants in the St. Catharines section depending on canal power were forced to close, but there was still insufficient water to float the stranded vessels. The water is at present only 12 feet 9 inches deep. Shipping companies have become thoroughly disgusted with this condition of affairs, which has become almost a weekly occurrence, and it is likely a formal protest to Ottawa against the Chicago water diversion will be made by the shippers. Since the opening of navigation there has been an alarming drop of the water level of the lake and canal, and the resultant delay slows up the grain rush at its peak, and plays havoc with shipping and elevator schedules, causing the loss of thousands of dollars. Vessel owners and marine men declare that with the prevailing easterly wind there is little hope of any appreciable relief in the condition today.

Plans Control of Gas Stations

Chatham To Lead Province in Regulating Station's Location.

Special to The Advertiser.
Chatham, Nov. 4.—Members of the Chatham city council are considering the terms of a proposed bylaw designed to regulate and control the location of gasoline and oil filling stations in the city. The bylaw will likely be dealt with at the next regular meeting of the council. If adopted, Chatham will be the first city in Ontario to enforce such a measure. The bylaw prohibits the installation of any more curb pumps, defines the district in which gas stations cannot be built, insists upon a motorist stopping his engine while filling the tank of his car, and prohibits smoking in or near the gas station.

P. M. DEPOT AT HIGHGATE ENDANGERED BY FIRE

Special to The Advertiser.
Highgate, Nov. 4.—About 3:30 this afternoon a large strawstack near the Pere Marquette depot was burned. Prompt work of local firefighters saved the depot from damage, but it was a hard fight. The straw was used for bedding in livestock cars. The new fire engine did good work.

Sarnia, Nov. 4.—If there is any justice in this country, the time must come when Roman Catholic high schools shall receive public support," declared Bishop Michael Fallon tonight at a meeting of the Catholic women's league of the London diocese.

PEACEFUL FUTURE SEEN FOR ARMENIA

Rev. John Pierce of Armenian Relief Gives Optimistic Viewpoint.

Armenia has for the last time suffered from the menacing hand of the "Bad Man of Europe." For a score of years chaos has reigned supreme in the Near East, but with the advent of a world court and the establishment of Near-East relief committees a new ray of hope has been injected into the situation until today little and over-trodden Armenia stands on the threshold of the peaceful future for which she has clamored so long.

Such was the interesting and optimistic viewpoint of Rev. John Pierce, of Toronto, provincial chairman of the Armenian relief committee, who addressed a meeting of London workers at the home of Mrs. W. W. Gamgane Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Pierce, together with 25 young Armenian boys, had been a guest in the city for the past two days and before leaving London yesterday expressed his appreciation at the welcome which had been accorded his youthful charges. He feels certain that their visit to the city will serve as an added impetus to the great work which they are carrying on.

Mr. Pierce is quite intimate with the Near East situation, having spent several years as a Christian missionary in Armenia. He was engaged in this work at the outbreak of the Great War and for several months was interned as a prisoner by the Turks. During this time he witnessed the wholesale massacre of thousands of helpless Armenians, who were taken out and slaughtered by the ruthless Turk in what became known as the veritable valley of blood. With the dawn of each day, conditions became more unbearable until the arrival of Allenby in 1915, when the fact that two years ago the league was successful in a drive for funds for a monastery for Sisters of the Precious Blood, and he felt the organization could be as successful in this proposed drive. He pointed out that the amount asked meant about $400 for each of the subdivisions of the league.

Mrs. J. P. Dunn of Chatham, convener of the league in the London diocese, presided at the sessions today and this evening. It was reported that in five years the league has formed 43 subdivisions, with a membership of 4,616. Tonight addresses were given by Mrs. B. C. McCann, national president, Mons. Aylward of Sarnia, Rev. Father McCarthy, Mayor James Barr and others.

Sessions of the gathering will continue tomorrow.

Loses Fingers; Brother Is Hurt

Special to The Advertiser.
Wallaceburg, Nov. 4.—While working at the Dominion Sugar Company plant on Wednesday morning, Frank Armstrong fell out of one of the windows of the building, and alighting on some glass sustained a severe cut on his arm. Medical attention was rendered by Dr. H. A. Taylor.

Earl Armstrong, brother of Frank, lost most of one hand on his arm while operating a lathe in the Fisher body plant in Detroit. Both the injured men are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Armstrong of the Montreal Hotel.

Turks were forced to retreat across the Armenian border. Mr. Pierce devoted his time to the welfare of the hundreds of Armenian orphans, who are so anxious to develop a real Christian citizenship. Two years ago fifty of these boys were brought out to Canada and placed on a farm near Georgetown. With the advent of greater facilities and better conditions, fifty more boys arrived at the Georgetown institution this spring and are rapidly developing into fine all-round Canadian boys. It is the wish of Mr. Pierce to bring out more of these underprivileged boys next year, to benefit them and to give them a new chance in life, that some day they may themselves go back and help to straighten out the chaos which prevails in their native land today.

The boys left the city yesterday with a warm spot in their hearts for London and were truly elated over the wonderful reception which they received. Several prominent workers were on hand to bid them farewell. These included Mr. Duncan McDermid, chairman of the London Armenian relief association, Mr. W. H. Spearman, boy's secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and Mrs. A. T. Edwards and Mrs. Tom Yull, representing the local women's institutes.

PRICE OF TURNIPS HIGHEST IN YEARS

Potato Prices in States Reflected in Woodstock Turnip Market.

NOT ALL HARVESTED

Special to The Advertiser.
Woodstock, Nov. 4.—The price of turnips for shipping purposes has reached twenty cents a bushel, the highest price received by the farmers in some years. A considerable portion of the turnip crop has yet to be harvested, and as these vegetables are shipped almost exclusively to the U. S., it is expected that the shortage of potatoes there will have the effect of still further increasing the price of turnips.

Election Results.
The official count of the vote in North Oxford, made by the returning officer, gives Dr. D. M. Sutherland, Conservative, a majority of 583 over Dr. Sinclair, Liberal, his opponent. The vote for Dr. Sutherland was: Woodstock, 3,513; 1,504; Blenheim, 822; 991; Blandford, 371, 287; East Zorra, 556, 782; West Zorra, 317, 701; East Nissemont, 1,684; 1,270; 1,264; Tavistock, 36, 145; totals, 6,248, 5,660.

LABOR REQUESTS FAIR-WAGE CLAUSE

Deputation To Ask Pay For Men Be Stated in Collegiate Contract.

The London trades and labor council decided last night to send a deputation to the board of education, asking that a fair wage clause be inserted in the contract for the new collegiate to be built in the east end. The public utilities commission, the board of education and the city council will also be asked to furnish lists to the council with the names of all firms doing work or supplying materials for municipal work. Some of the members thought that city firms were not being given the preference they deserved.

The council also passed a resolution condemning H. G. Foster, William Hevey and all other Labor men who insert platform strength to the regular parties during the last election campaign. They were branded by some delegates as being "traitors to the Labor movement." Similar resolutions have been passed by the Toronto and by the Hamilton trades and labor councils.

J. F. Thomson, secretary of the council, was appointed representative to the children's aid commission. Donald Wright, William Rite and John Colbert will represent the council on the committee which is arranging London's centennial celebration, which is to be held next August. The council reiterated its endorsement of the plan to construct a cenotaph in memory of those who fell in the great war, and J. F. Thomson was appointed a delegate to the committee which is to be formed to decide on plans for the cenotaph.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Galt, Nov. 4.—J. M. Jamieson, returning officer for South Waterloo, announced today that the official count of the votes cast in South Waterloo on October 29 reduced the majority of A. M. Edwards, successful Conservative, by 14 votes to 2,931. The vote was: Edwards, Conservative, 8,089; Elliott, Liberal, 5,158.

BOTHWELL MAN DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Special to The Advertiser.
Bothwell, Nov. 4.—Joseph Randall, a highly-respected resident of Bothwell, died yesterday after an illness of several weeks with heart trouble. Mr. Randall was 75 years old, and before moving to Bothwell about five years ago he resided in Euphemia township. He is survived by one brother, David, and one sister, Mrs. Hubert, both of Bothwell. The funeral will take place from Grace church on Thursday, Nov. 5, and interment in the St. Matthew's cemetery, Florence.

VIENNA IS BREADLESS AS BAKERS GO ON STRIKE

Special to The Advertiser and the Chicago Daily News.
Vienna, Nov. 4.—Vienna is breadless today. Bakers are on strike demanding higher wages, and cracker and sweet-cake companies are doing a thriving business among tardy ones who had not provided themselves with bread. Peasants are preparing to bring in bread, but strikers are seeking to prevent them by means of pickets. Many Viennese took trains, automobiles and wagons to nearby towns today to secure bread. The situation is not yet serious, however.

BORDER TEACHERS CONVENTION.
Windsor, Nov. 4.—The annual convention of the Teachers' Institute of the Windsor, Walkerville and Sandwich public schools will open Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in Assumption street school, with J. L. Foster, principal of General Byng school, Sandwich, presiding.

Great Britain Removes Foreign Loans Embargo

Renewed Competition Between London and New York Expected in Matter of Financing Propositions in Foreign Markets.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Nov. 4.—Renewed competition between London and New York for international financing is expected by local bankers, following the removal of Great Britain's embargo on foreign loans, which has been in effect since the restoration of the gold standard last spring.

Immediate effects of yesterday's announcement by Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill were seen in reports that London bankers were considering several important foreign loans, including advances to Cuba, the German potato industry, the city of Warsaw and other prospective borrowers. Some of the rumors were branded merely as "feelers," but bankers conceded that the reopening of the London market would enable other countries to get better terms, and would likely reduce the interest rates on foreign loans floated here, many of which have been on a seven or eight per cent. basis in recent years.

The lifting of the London embargo, it was held, should relieve pressure on the New York money market, tending to lower rates for time and call funds, and at the same time cause a tightening of money conditions in London.

ON UNCHARTED SEAS.
Special Cable to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.
London, Nov. 4.—The British exchequer, announces the removal of the embargo on overseas loans, which has been maintained since early in the year in order to avoid an out-throw of gold. The embargo has meant, in the words of a distinguished banker, "keeping the gold standard in a glass case instead of letting it function freely."

According to the orthodox economic theory a scarcity of money will bring its own remedy by causing prices to fall, thus encouraging foreign buyers to buy goods from this country. But nowadays labor unions won't allow wages to fall, and therefore prices cannot fall. This upsets the old theory, and the results of the outflow of gold become a matter of conjecture. Britain's financial ship is sailing on uncharted seas, but there is confidence that officials of the treasury and the Bank of England are the most skillful navigators in the world.

NO EFFECT IN CANADA.
Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Nov. 4.—The lifting of the British embargo against dominion and colonial loans does not affect the situation here, according to officials. Canadian loans have been placed in New York on favorable terms. The announcement of the British government follows a conference between government officials and representatives of the dominions in London. It was made clear that Canada had no immediate interests in the restoration of the freedom of the British money market.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY
ELECTS 1926 OFFICERS
Complete Arrangements For St. Andrew's Banquet and Social.
A large attendance marked a meeting of the St. Andrew's society, held on Tuesday evening. Arrangements were completed for a St. Andrew's banquet and social to be held on Tuesday, December 1. The concert committee are already laying plans for the annual Scottish concert on Burns' night, January 25.

DEFEATED CONSERVATIVE FILES RECOUNT PETITION

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Nov. 4.—Hon. Rodolphe Monty, defeated Conservative candidate in Laurier's out-movement division, filed through counsel in the superior court office today a petition asking for a recount in his constituency. The petition will be presented to Chief Justice Martin tomorrow morning. The recount is asked on the ground that deputy returning officers throughout the constituency illegally counted votes in favor of Joseph Mercier, K.C., successful Liberal candidate.

Mr. Mercier polled 12,751 votes, while Mr. Monty was given 10,027, being a majority of 2,704 for the Liberal candidate.

Who left the cellar light on?

WHAT difference does it make? Light is the least expensive of all modern comforts. It costs less now than it did before the war.

A 75 watt Edison Mazda Lamp averages less than half a cent an hour for current. If you read your daily newspaper from end to end under the proper light, the paper will have cost you more than the light you read it by.

The price of a cigar given to a guest will more than cover the cost of illuminating your house all evening. In comparison with any other service to the same end, light is an infinitesimal item in the cost of comfort and convenience.

Near you is an Edison Mazda Lamp Agent. There you can obtain real information about good lighting.

Fifty Dollars a Month

(Guaranteed to you by the Canada Life)

How Fifty Dollars a Month looks to the Average Man

Age 20—Happy on Fifty Dollars a Month.

Age 21—Fifty Dollars a month is not enough.

Age 35—Thinks he can easily afford to "spend" Fifty Dollars a month.

Age 50—Things are not going as well as they were.

Age 55—Strange how these assets have depreciated! Fifty Dollars a month is good interest on $10,000, and not to be despised.

Age 60—He finds Fifty Dollars a month brings added to what income is left, brings happiness.

You know of men well up in years who are still "drudging along." They cannot stop if they would, but must go on to the end of their days working for a living. You can avoid that.

Why Not Pension Yourself?

Why not "take stock" of your present financial position—to size up your personal affairs and decide on a plan for the future?

Our New Pension Plan

guarantees that upon reaching a certain age in life you will receive a monthly cheque for $50.00, $100, $200, $250—as you may now decide—and this monthly payment cannot cease as long as you live.

An Income for Life

Think what it may mean to you to be certain of an income right up to the end of life, when you consider that 97% of people in their later years are partially or wholly dependent upon others for support.

When they were younger they did not have the chance now offered you. It was not then possible to secure such a convenient and certain provision as this Monthly Pension Plan.

And This is Not All

Suppose some day before you reach age sixty you meet with a mishap and become totally and permanently disabled through accident, illness or any cause. (Such a thing has happened soon after men have secured this new policy of the Canada Life.) Immediately, the payment of further premiums would be cancelled. The Canada Life would become responsible for sending you $50.00, $100, $200, $250, a month, as arranged, for the rest of your life.

There are many other benefits. An average deposit of only a few dollars a month will return you $50.00 a month later on.

CAHAN IS BOOSTED FOR CABINET JOB

Conservative Who Defeated Marler Is Considered Important Acquisition.

IS LOGICAL ORATOR

Special to The Advertiser by Staff Correspondent.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—One of the most distinguished of the Conservatives elected last Thursday is Charles H. Cahan, K.C., who achieved what was considered the impossible by defeating the Hon. Herbert Marler in St. Lawrence-St. George.

He was one of the defenders of Father Delorme, whom he twice rescued from an adverse verdict. He organized Quebec in 1911 for Henri Bourassa and the Nationalists who defeated Laurier. Another surprising success for Mr. Cahan.

Some years ago, at the age of 60, after a domestic and financial tragedy which swept away a fortune, he again put his sturdy shoulders to fortune's wheel and extricated himself from seemingly insurmountable difficulties. Another conquest over the "impossible."

Still, Mr. Cahan is not, as the English say, an "impossible" man. He is a bluff, hearty and frank as the sea captains whom he has used to watch on the wharves of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia.

It was to this natural bonhomie and capacity for popular contacts that, perhaps more than to anything else, he owed his victory over Mr. Marler.

The latter's opponents played a damaging trick on him. They issued an election circular in his behalf which placed first among the reasons why the electors should endorse him: "My social position." Montreal is of the opinion that this was one of the prime factors in his defeat. To be called an aristocrat in the recent popular uprising which overthrew Lord Atholstan's political bastion was as much a death warrant as it was during the French revolution.

WINDSOR RADIAL LINES OPERATE AT BIG PROFIT

Gratifying Surplus of $70,000 Is Contrasted With the Large Deficits of Former Years Under Private Ownership.

Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, Nov. 4.—A profit of about $70,000 for the year ending with October is shown for the radial lines operated in the Border Cities by the provincial hydro. This is in contrast with a deficit shown under private management the year before the hydro took over control.

The figures are not quite complete, but the surplus that is shown exists after paying $11,000 to the fund for pensioning and insuring employees and after meeting all fixed charges. The fares charged by the railways are considered low, as workmen's tickets during certain hours average only one cent per mile. On the city lines passengers can travel eight miles on a five-cent fare and on the interurban line to Amherstburg, a distance of 37 miles, for 50 cents. During the summer on special days a low rate of 30 cents to Amherstburg is given.

On the Border Cities railways the hydro's cost per car mile is down to 25 1-2 cents, as compared with an average of 34.44 cents on the street car lines of the U. S. One reason for the difference is the extensive use of one-man cars by the hydro. An even better showing is made in Guelph, where the cost is down to 20 1-2 cents on the same line in 1920. In Guelph one-man cars alone are used.

Wages and the cost of material have declined appreciably since the peak year. The population in the Border Cities has greatly increased.

THREE PARTIES UNITE TO HONOR KING HODGINS

Conservative Member-Elect For Middlesex East Tendered Reception.

Special to The Advertiser.

Lucan, Nov. 4.—Conservatives, Liberals and Progressives of Lucan and Biddulph forgot their politics on Tuesday evening when they filled the opera house to do honor to A. King Hodgins, newly-elected member for Middlesex east.

G. A. Stanley occupied the chair, and the meeting was opened by J. M. Ross, reeve of Lucan, who in a short address welcomed the people. R. T. Reycraft, reeve of Biddulph, read an appropriate address, which was suitably replied to by Mr. Hodgins. A beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums was presented to Mrs. Hodgins. An excellent program of speeches, songs and instrumental music was provided by talent from Lucan, Lucan and Biddulph.

Five For Mayoralty.

There is likely to be a four or five-cornered fight for the mayoralty this year. There will be a bylaw for $60,000 in connection with the purchase of the gas company's plant and possibly one for money for a comfort station. The vocational school issue creates more interest in the board of education contest. Three men definitely in the mayoralty field are Ald. D. R. Marshall, Ald. S. L. Ireland, and Ald. J. B. Waugh. Ald. W. Newman and Ald. C. E. Moore, and Mayor Brown, may also be candidates. There appears to be little doubt but that all the members of this year's council will again be in the field, either for the council or for mayor.

The liquor law violations in Detroit are conducted under cover and not in the open as in the large eastern cities," he declared. "It is necessary follows that liquor is harder to procure under such conditions and also harder to intercept."

The administrator said conditions were not nearly as bad in Detroit as in the other large cities of the country.

Forest, Nov. 4.—The political war is over for a while, anyway, and now it can be told. The real hit in the speeches of all the political meetings held here during the late campaign was made by George Stritett, a young merchant of Sarnia and a brother of J. R. Stritett, the Liberal candidate in East Lambton.

Mr. Stritett brought down the house with his merchant's explanation of the reason for the depression in the woolen industry. He stated that the tariff was not the reason at all, but that instead the ladies were not wearing as much wool.

He appealed to the ladies for verification of the fact that a few years ago they bought five yards to make a dress and that now they buy two yards and a half. The town hall rocked when he concluded with, "As skirts go higher the woolen industry goes lower." And, everyone said, "Darned if he isn't about right, too."

J. W. KING HAS MAJORITY OF 169 IN NORTH HURON

Special to The Advertiser.

Goderich, Nov. 4.—After the official count of election returns today for the North Huron riding, Charles A. Nairn, returning officer, gave out the official totals as follows: J. W. King, Prog., 5,342; George Spotton, Cons., 5,173, giving King a majority of 169. Unofficial figures previously had given King only 100 majority, and the expectation was for the Conservative candidate demanding a recount. With the addition of 70 to King's majority in the official count, it is improbable that a recount will be asked.

MAN FALLS 40 FEET, BREAKS JAW, BUT STILL LIVES

St. Catharines, Nov. 4.—Steve Sewchuck, employed on lock three, Welland ship canal, fell 40 feet from the lock wall yesterday afternoon and still lives, although he has a broken jaw, broken rib and numerous bruises.

MAN AND TEAM THROWN INTO AIR BY EXPLOSION

Blast Rocks Country Within Ten Mile Radius; Wrecks Factory.

Associated Press Dispatch. Salamanca, N.Y., Nov. 4.—A man and a team of horses were hurled high into the air and killed when an explosion wrecked the nitro-glycerin plant of the Illinois Torpedo Company at Irvine Mills, eight miles east of here, today. The explosion rocked the country within a radius of ten miles, smashing plateglass windows in Salamanca and other towns. The name of the man killed was Skinner, a resident of Irvine Mills. He was employed as a driver of a torpedo company wagon. Parts of the bodies of the two horses were found fully a mile from the scene of the explosion. Only a great hole in the ground remained to mark the place where the factory and magazine had been situated.

To-day I saw

The metallic vogue seems not only to have found favor in the realm of dress trimmings and accessories, but also in the sphere of home furnishings.

Brass, beautiful Chinese hammered brass, fashioned so many things that I saw to-day. A bell with Chinese figures imprinted on its surface was suspended between two black, small uprights, and it was not rung but hammered with a black wooden hammer. They were in different sizes, both small and large.

Fruit bowls, ash stands, card trays and bonbon dishes figured in strange Chinese figures and small paper weights made to resemble Buddhas, lizzards and other oriental characters were all there before my eyes.

Exotic and exquisite, any one article would help to make a room a spot of beauty. Brass easily blends with any furnishings, and brass, when truly oriental and as lovely as these pieces, will be the pride of any owner. Besides, they are very low in price. Why not come in and see them? They are on the Main Floor, at the Silverware Department, or in the Gift Shop, on the Fourth Floor.
