Recruiting For New Battalion Starts Thursday Twelve People Killed in Air Raid On England Cruiser Moewe Returns to Some German Port

AIR IN VERDUN WAS TREMBLING WITH SOUND OF GREAT BATTLE

80,000 Shells Fell in a Piece of Ground 1000 Yards by 500 Yards, All in Six Hours—After First Day or Two Germans Made No Advance—They Have Retaken Ground Already Lost.

BY SPECIAL WIRE TO THE COURIER.

LONDON, March 6.—The authorized representative of the British press with the French armies, writing from Verdun on Saturday last, says:

"As we came into the town—the first civilians to reach Verdun since its evacuation, the Associated Press, the representative of the Russian press and myself—the air was trembling with the battle raging around Douaumont. Even five miles away the noise of the German artillery was deafening. The storm of projectiles rained upon the French lines here exceeds anything ever before known in warfare. Practically no small-calibre guns were used by the Germans, and the main artillery preparation was made with eight-inch and twelve-inch guns. They used their heavy guns exactly as the French use their 75's, which fire twenty shots a minute.

"In one place on a front of 1,000 yards, with a depth of 500 yards, 80,000 big shells fell in six hours. The trenches were literally swept out of existence. Throughout the assault here the Germans followed the plan of concentrating their guns first on the French left and then gradually moving the direction of their fire toward the French right."

The Germans appear to have planned their attack on the same general lines as that of the French in Champagne, except that within an hour after the bombardment opened at 7 a. m., February 21, an infantry attack in force was made on Haumont, which was taken on the next day. The next day the French retired from Brabant. They captured it the same evening, but gave up Samogneux, Beaumont and Ornes and evacuated the marsh of Polve.

LITTLE CHANGE SINCE. Since then there has been little change in the situation. Bits of the line like the village of Douaumont, a mere group of cottages have been taken and retaken, the French artillery in the meantime having come up in great force. The ground taken by the Germans is almost the same as that won by the French between January and April of last year. The commander at Verdun thought, as he put it, that the place did not have enough lungs and that it was difficult to breathe, and decided that he would enlarge the line and did so in a series of local actions lasting three months, taking a piece here and a piece there.

The Germans have now won back this terrain and the lines on both sides rest where they did at the end of 1914. Those in the group went over the regional maps with markings of the

THE NEW BATTALION

The old Y. M. C. A. building acquired as headquarters for the 215th Battalion, is being put in shape, and active recruiting will start on Thursday. Lt.-Col. Harry Cockshutt is determined to have the finest brass and bugle bands procurable. In this regard Mr. R. H. Reville has accepted the task of assembling both organizations.

A Toronto soldier in a German soldier's uniform, drew a crowd through the streets to a recruiting meeting.

IMPORTANT MOVEMENTS

LONDON, March 6.—Important movements of German troops in Belgium are reported in a Central News despatch from The Hague. It is said information has reached The Hague from Maestricht, Holland, that 40,000 German cavalrymen of the landsturm are on their way to the front near Ypres.

TREBIZOND BOMBARDED

PETROGRAD, via London, March 6.—Russian torpedo boat destroyers have bombarded Trebizond, the Turkish seaport on the eastern part of the coast of the Black Sea, 120 miles northwest of Erzerum, and have sunk several vessels. The Turkish batteries, it is announced, replied, but without success.

HEAVY FIGHTING

LONDON, March 6.—An Amsterdam despatch to the Central News says that since February 21 heavy fighting has been in progress between the relief forces of General Aymer on the Tigris and the Turkish troops, according to advices from Constantinople. Especially severe fighting has been taking place near the town of Nasrie. The British have recently moved up a large new force to proceed to the relief of General Townshend at Kut-el-Ara.

TWELVE KILLED, THIRTY-THREE HURT LAST NIGHT IN AIR RAID ON ENGLAND

NOT SURPRISING THAT MOEWE GOT BACK TO PORT

London Not Disturbed at Feat of the Enemy Cruiser.

PRaise FOR HER EXPLOIT Germany, of Course, Greatly Elated Over the Matter.

London, March 6.—Most of the London newspapers this morning give the news of the escape of the German raider Moewe without comment. The naval correspondent of The Times, however, publishes an article in the course of which he says: "Having managed to elude the British cruisers in making her escape from a German port it is not a matter of surprise if the Moewe has been able to repeat the exploit and to return. The possibility of an enterprise of this kind is a very serious one, and it is a matter of course that the British navy should be on the alert to meet it. It is extremely unlikely to say the least, but apart from this, the captain of the Moewe certainly carried out a desperate adventure with skill and courage."

GERMANS HAPPY

Amsterdam, via London, March 6.—The Berlin newspapers declare the Moewe's adventure to have been one of the great events of the war, and urge the government to permit other ships to go out on similar missions, from Kiel. "We are deeply proud of the Moewe. Her daring has written her glorious name in every German heart." The Berliner Tageblatt says: "The Moewe's return shows that the Emden spirit ever lives in the German navy, her commander and crew are sure of the eternal gratitude of Germany."

NEW SECRETARY.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Newton D. Baker, former mayor of Cleveland, has been selected by President Wilson for Secretary of War.

A motorman of the Norfolk City (Md.) Railway killed himself by firing a bullet into his brain while his car, with 50 passengers, was speeding along the street.

The Courier is in receipt of the following despatch from Pittsburg: "Answering message. Mayor Bowby still under doctor's care and not able to be out. He expects to be able to leave here Friday, arriving home on Saturday this week. R. R. Harris."

Official Statement Given Out Giving Losses—Three Zeppelins in Raiding Party—Forty Bombs Dropped—Men, Women and Children Included in the Casualty List.

BY SPECIAL WIRE TO THE COURIER.

LONDON, March 6, 1.45 p.m.—Twelve persons were killed and thirty-three injured in last night's Zeppelin raid. Three Zeppelins took part in the attack.

This information was given out officially to-day. The statement follows: "The number of Zeppelins which took part in last night's raid is now believed to have been three.

"After crossing the coast the airships took various courses, and from the devious nature of their flight apparently were uncertain as to their bearings. "The area visited included Yorkshire, Lincolnfolk, Essex and Kent.

"As far as is known, about forty bombs were dropped altogether. The casualties so far as known amount to:

"Killed—3 men, 4 women, 5 children. Injured—33.

"The material damage was: "Two terrace houses practically destroyed; one office, public house, a cafe and a shop partly destroyed, and a block of houses badly damaged."

An official statement issued in London last night said two hostile airships had crossed over the northeast coast of England. At that time their movements had not been defined clearly.

The number of casualties reported is much less than that of the previous Zeppelin raid, in which 57 persons were killed and 117 injured. This raid, made on January 31, was over the middle eastern counties.

The censor permits publication of a few incidents in connection with the Zeppelin raid. In one of the principal areas visited, a block of workmen's dwellings was demolished. A woman and her four children, all under nine years, were killed. The woman's husband was taken to a hospital in a serious condition, so grave indeed, that the news of the fate of his family was withheld from him.

In another locality a doctor's house was destroyed, but the doctor and his family had left the building before it was struck. In another case a pensioner 90 years of age, was burned to death in his bed.

The bombs dropped by the air craft were some of them incendiary and some explosive. In one instance a fall of snow had just preceded an attack and the Zeppelin overhead was seen to remain stationary above the spot for several minutes.

Whether more than three Zeppelins took part in the raid is still unknown. Unofficial reports relate that two of the dirigibles were seen passing over Lincolnshire from inland towards the coast. They dropped bombs, but it is believed they did little damage. It is also reported that bombs were dropped in the east riding of Yorkshire, the only damage being the breakage of windows. In view of the large areas visited it is thought there may be more than three Zeppelins.

Raiders had a narrow escape from being caught in a snow storm in a northern country. The inhabitants of this district knew so little of the visitation that many of the people were surprised to read in their papers this morning that their county had been raided.

Many trains from the north of England were late in reaching London, having remained stationary while the raid was in progress. In some counties official warning of the approach of the Zeppelins was given and the usual precautions were taken. A correspondent on the east coast says that approach of the dirigibles from the northeast was heralded from ships and that immediately afterwards the sky was lighted by incendiary bombs.

Verdun Fight Still Continues

Germans Making Great Efforts to Capture Fort Tavannee.

London, March 6.—The Central News correspondent at The Hague says despatches received there from the front, show that the Germans are making vigorous efforts to capture Fort Tavannee, four miles northeast of Verdun, but that the French are resisting them resolutely, inflicting heavy losses on the attackers.

Stubborn fighting continues and Verdun, the correspondent continues. The village of Vaux no longer exists. More than 10,000 Germans carried out an assault upon the French positions at Vaux, but the correspondent says were repulsed with large losses, several German lines being swept away by the famous French 75's.

It is also said that 27 trainloads of German wounded have left the Verdun battlefields for Germany.

Berlin and Paris View

Berlin, March 6, via London 3.20 p. m.—The capture of nearly 1,000 French near Verdun on Saturday and Sunday, was announced to-day by the War Office. The number of prisoners, who were captured east of the Meuse, is 14 officers and 934 men.

NO INFANTRY FIGHTING. Paris, March 6.—There was no infantry fighting north of Verdun last night, the War Office this afternoon announced. The statement follows:

"There is no competition in this matter," he said. "All are working for the same object." He urged that the 125th should be completed, as, until it was, the 215th would not start. As far as tangible results go, last night's meeting was not overwhelming, only five recruits were secured. The speakers were Corporal Bethune, a returned soldier and Dr. James L. Hughes, late inpector of Toronto Public Schools, and brother of the Minister of Militia. Though obviously tired, Dr. Hughes delivered a splendid address, with enough of the typical "Hughes" (Continued on Page 2)

MYSTERIOUS RAIDER "MOEW" HAS AVOIDED BRITISH SHIPS AND RETURNED TO HUN PORT

After Sinking 15 Ships and Laying Mines, One of Which, Says Berlin, Sank the Battleship King Edward VII, the Boat Has Got in "Some" German Port.

Berlin, March 6.—Official announcement was made here today that the German cruiser Moewe arrived Sunday in "some" German port. She had on board a large number of British prisoners and $200,000 in gold bars.

The vessel brought up the following enemy steamers, the greater part of which were sent as prizes to neutral ports: The British steamships Corbridge, 3,687 tons; Author, 3,496 tons; Trader, 3,568 tons; Ariadne, 3,025 tons; Dromonby, 3,627 tons; Farrington, 3,146 tons; Clan MacFayish, 5,628 tons; ...

IRON CROSSES FOR WHOLE OUTFIT. London, March 6.—An Exchange Telegraph Company despatch from Amsterdam says the Moewe reached Wilhelmshaven Saturday.

Count von Dohna, the Moewe's commander, has been awarded the Iron Cross of the first class and the members of the crew have received the Iron Cross of the second class.

The Moewe, previously made famous by her exploits, has performed one of the most spectacular feats of the war on the seas by reaching a home port in safety.

Part of the gold captured by the Moewe, at least, was taken from the Appan, which put in at Newport News several weeks ago under command of Lieut. Berg, with a German prize crew.

He advocated much greater organization, reorganization as he stated it, for recruits, for production and for the retired farmers and old men and boys should work on the farms, and women too, as well as in store and shop and factory.

On the platform were Mr. Joseph H. Ham, M.P., Rev. Mr. McClellan, Mr. Andrew, Ex-Mayor Spence, Acting Mayor Dowling.

We had been holding back waiting for others to go, but we should dismiss from a mind all such thoughts, said Mr. McClellan. The British Empire had believed truth and honor of more value than commerce or money or even life.

The Situation.

The French military authorities describe Douaumont as a small collection of houses, and they do not seem to attach so much importance to events there as the outside world. As regards the general attack, with Verdun as the objective, they still express absolute confidence that the German offensive will not succeed, and point out that since the fierce onslaught was launched they have had plenty of time to strengthen their forces.

Lord Northcliffe, the newspaper king, who controls the London Times and many other sheets, has sent a despatch to his papers from Verdun. The most significant portion of it consists of the statement that some of the finest German regiments now include under-sized and small-chested men, clear evidence of the fact that the terrible drain on the manhood of the Fatherland is commencing to tell.

All the indications tend to the belief that Turkey is becoming heartily sick of the struggle, and that there is a growing desire in Constantinople and elsewhere for a separate peace. The Russians still continue to sorely harass the Moslems in the Caucasus. The return of the German cruiser Moeve to a home port after recording a successful foraging expedition, reads like a romance. How she eluded the British patrols in the North Sea is a mystery.

Some Farm Statistics for County Readers.

A bulletin issued by the Census and Statistics Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture summarizes the results of reports made by crop reporting correspondents respecting the values of farm land, of farm help and of farm live stock in the year 1915.

For the whole of Canada the average value of farm land held for agricultural purposes, whether improved or unimproved, and including the value of dwelling houses, farms, stables and other farm buildings, is returned as $38.90 per acre. Last year the average value was returned as $38.41. By provinces the average per acre range from $22.48 in New Brunswick to about $65 in British Columbia.

Paris, March 6.—About 9 o'clock on Saturday morning a fire that had broken out in one of the large freight cars used by some Italians engaged on the Lake Erie and Northern Railroad, way as sleeping quarters. It seemed that the fire was occasioned by the overturning of a stove. The fire brigade could not use much water as the stream would come in contact with the highly charged electric wires of L. E. and N. About all that was left of the car was the trucks.

Several Paris people were at the patriotic entertainment given by members of the Falkland Women's Institute at Etonia Church on Friday evening. In addition to the play and musical programme, Mrs. (Dr.) Lovett of Paris, gave a very interesting talk on Red Cross work and its needs.

wan, $42.22 and $23.81: in Alberta $44.02 and $24.95, and in British Columbia $49.37 and $31.21.

The value of horses is somewhat less than that of last year, but the prices of cattle show an increase, especially for milch cows. Swine are appreciably dearer except in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, where they are about the same as last year. Sheep, too, have risen in price, and there is a notable increase in the value of wool, the average for Canada being 28 cents per lb. for unwashed and 28 cents per lb. for washed wool, as compared with 19 and 23 cents respectively in 1914.

Notes and Comments. March will kindly do just that as speedily as possible. Many people pronounce the name of that cruiser Meaw. To them, no doubt, it will look like a case of the cat coming back.

The Crown Prince has been heard from. He told the troops operating in front of Verdun that after the bombardment all they would have to do was to occupy the French trenches on a "parade march." He knows a hanged sight better now.

GUNNER VANSICKLE

Is Tendered a Welcome Service at the First Baptist Church.

There was a very large attendance at the First Baptist church last evening, where a welcome-home church service was held for Gunner Sheldon Vansickle, who has recently come home from the front. Mr. Vansickle sat with the pastor on the platform, but did not say anything, as he was not physically fit to speak.

The situation as a result of the second phase of the German offensive is regarded as altogether different from that of the first days of the battle. The only progress made by the Germans was during the first two days of the second attack. For the last forty-eight hours they have not advanced.

Notes and Comments. March will kindly do just that as speedily as possible. Many people pronounce the name of that cruiser Meaw. To them, no doubt, it will look like a case of the cat coming back.

Paris, March 6.—It is stated semi-officially that the battle at Verdun continued yesterday throughout the day with the same intensity and without causing any change in the respective positions of the opposing armies. Fighting is still going on for definite possession of the village of Douaumont.

positions then and those of this morning. They are almost identical. HOW GUNS WERE KEPT WORKING. Some mention was made of the Caures wood and the artillery officer told how a battery was in continuous action there for 48 hours and how the men cooled the guns by slowly dropping their drinking water on them, enduring intense thirst rather than drink the water. They retired slowly, saving their pieces.

Confidence at headquarters is absolute. The small progress made during the first three days attack enabled every disposition to be made to meet it, if occasion arises, to counter attack. Nothing, of course, may be said concerning what these preparations and dispositions are, except that they are on an enormous scale and as the commanders seem certain, more than adequate.

Notes and Comments. March will kindly do just that as speedily as possible. Many people pronounce the name of that cruiser Meaw. To them, no doubt, it will look like a case of the cat coming back.

The Crown Prince has been heard from. He told the troops operating in front of Verdun that after the bombardment all they would have to do was to occupy the French trenches on a "parade march." He knows a hanged sight better now.

At a conference between the Women's Emergency Corps of Toronto and manufacturers of that place the need of women taking the place of men in order to spruce up clothing was shown. The same thing will have to be recognized in Brantford, and the sooner the better.

The guest of honor answered a number of questions from the audience in a very interesting and amusing way. Dr. E. Hart sang "The Trumpet." J. F. LINDSAY, ON BAIL, DIES OF HEART FAILURE

He Was Arrested in Connection With Charges of Fraud.

Regina, Sask., March 6.—John F. Lindsay, an implement manager, who was arrested a few days ago at Moose Jaw in connection with alleged frauds in the Highways Department of the Provincial Government, and was released on bail, dropped dead this morning at the breakfast table at his home, Swift Current.

Lindsay was a man who weighed 280 pounds, and under stress of great excitement at times had serious heart attacks. He had seemed to worry a good deal since his arrest and release. The coroner decided that a quest unnecessary, as the cause of death was obvious.

Lindsay was an old-timer of this part. His arrest was made on Wednesday, the charge being that he fraudulently converted $6,000 belonging to the Highways Department to his own use. It is alleged that he was concerned in the defalcations of J. P. Brown, the missing head of the department, in connection with road contracts.

A mass meeting of citizens was held in Chesterton, Md., at which resolutions were adopted pledging loyalty and support to President Wilson.

ENGINEER JONES RETURNS FROM PITTSBURG VISIT

Mayor Bowley Spoke Up For Brantford and Its Enterprises.

INTERESTING SESSIONS

Notable Building, Inception of Former Brantford Boy.

City Engineer Jones returned, on Saturday, from Pittsburg, where he and Mayor Bowley had been attending the American Good Roads Congress, held in that city from Feb. 29 to March 3, under the auspices of the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce. Although suffering from a bad attack of grippe, the Mayor insisted on attending the earlier sessions of the convention, and during that time spoke many good words, extolling Brantford and its industries, to visitors from other parts of the States. Before the regular meeting of one of the sessions, the mayor was one of a group in which figured Mayor Armstrong of Pittsburg, Governor Major of Missouri, (a future candidate for Vice-president of the United States) W. A. McLean, Deputy Minister of Good Roads, for Ontario and other prominent men. Photographs of the Mayor with a description of Brantford and its industries, appeared in two of the Pittsburg papers. The City Engineer Jones, who was in charge of the convention, and during that time spoke many good words, extolling Brantford and its industries, to visitors from other parts of the States. Before the regular meeting of one of the sessions, the mayor was one of a group in which figured Mayor Armstrong of Pittsburg, Governor Major of Missouri, (a future candidate for Vice-president of the United States) W. A. McLean, Deputy Minister of Good Roads, for Ontario and other prominent men.

FINE CONGRESS

Mr. Jones expressed himself well pleased with the congress. Over 500 delegates were present from all parts of the United States and Canada. Among the latter were the City Engineer, in some cases the aldermen or controllers from Toronto, Kingston, Hamilton and London. The technical papers and general discussions were held at the Assembly Hall at the Exhibition Building in the afternoon. Mechanical engineering exhibited all kinds of road making machinery and materials. The papers read were prepared by experts in their respective fields. A general discussion followed the reading of each paper.

Not only the papers but the discussions were of the highest quality. In addition to the benefit obtainable from the reading of the papers, the opportunity of meeting the different members socially and being able to discuss at greater length other problems arising in their respective fields was a very valuable feature of the congress. On Monday evening a public meeting was held in Memorial Hall, and addresses on Good Roads were given by the Hon. D. C. Cook, Mr. J. W. Widdup and Mr. J. F. Schultz. Mr. Widdup and Mr. J. F. Schultz contributed brief congratulatory remarks during the program. Mr. Willis, of the ambulance company, sang in splendid voice, "Canada," while Mr. Darwen, with his Edison Diamond Disc graph provided delightful music at intervals during the evening.

Among the papers read and discussed at the different sessions of the congress were the following: "Railway Trunk Construction on Paved Streets" by the chairman of the Paving Commission of Baltimore. "The Control of Openings in Pavements" by the Chief Engineer of the Bureau of Engineering, Pittsburg. "Recent Developments in the Building of Concrete Roads" by the Chief Engineer of Pennsylvania State Highway Department. "Different Conditions and Localities" by the Engineer of the Massachusetts Highways Commission. "Roads at Low Cost for Moderate Traffic" by the State Highway Commissioner of New Hampshire. "Streets by the First Deputy Commissioner of the Pennsylvania Highway Department."

AN AUTO RIDE

Among the other courtesies to the visitors by the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce, was an auto ride through the city on Thursday afternoon. Informed of joining this party however, Mr. Jones, together with the City Engineers of London and Kingston, was the guest of the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce, and was shown the different city pavements, and the two asphalt plants, one having a capacity of 2,000 and the other 3,000 square yards per day, after which a visit was made to Allegheny City and the Schenley Park District, where the Pittsburg University Buildings and many beautiful residences are located. The Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers join the Pittsburg and former rivers, while in the low lands, along their banks, the steel works are situated, and on the high hills surrounding the valleys are located many of the parks and fine residences of the city. Many of the business blocks are from 20 to 30 stories in height.

WORK OF A BRANTFORD BOY.

A visit was made by Mr. Jones to a building which should have a special interest for the people of Brantford. This is the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, in hall American flags only were displayed, but on the protest of the Canadians present the good old Union Jack was finally given the central position.

UNION JACK DISPLAYED.

Unless one introduced the subject the war was never discussed, and occupied only a small space in the columns of the newspapers. While the news given covered both sides of the question, the headings rather favored the central powers. In the assembly hall the American flags only were displayed, but on the protest of the Canadians present the good old Union Jack was finally given the central position.

STODDING NEWS

Refuse to Abide by League Ruling

Owen Sound, March 6.—At a meeting of the executive of the Owen Sound Greys Saturday night it was decided not to meet the Hamilton Rowing Club juniors at Stratford Monday night. The stand taken was that the Rowing Club had defaulted to the Greys when they left the ice at Owen Sound last Monday night, and, according to information here, did not enter a protest in the stated time and are, therefore, according to Northern League rulings, debarred from further competition.

The Hamilton team were off the ice in Owen Sound for almost three-quarters of an hour, and when the game was resumed it was clearly understood it was being finished as an exhibition game. It is the opinion here that the Hamilton club having left the ice are, therefore, not running and that the Greys are qualified to meet the London Ontarions in the finals.

NEW PRO LEAGUE NOW UNDER WAY

Better Basis for Hockey on Both Sides of the Line.

New York, March 6.—Delegates to the meeting of the International Skating Union of America, met here Saturday and organized the American National Hockey Association, with Roy D. Schooley of Pittsburgh as President and Julius T. Fitzgerald of Chicago as Secretary. It was explained that the new association planned to conduct a league along the lines of organized baseball, with teams in New York, Chicago, St. Paul, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Detroit and Milwaukee, the winner of the championship to play the winner of the Canadian championship for all-American honors. A meeting of the new association will be held in Pittsburgh on March 17.

The formation of an association to conduct professional hockey on an organized business basis instead of the haphazard methods under which it has been carried on in Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Boston and other American cities was indicated some time ago. The new league was originally intended to be international in scope, and its composition will not be definitely decided for some time. The professional game has no great strength in the Eastern States as yet, though it is very popular at some western and northwestern points. The preliminary work of securing suitable rinks has been under way this winter, and the decision of New York, as was announced in January, to provide a home and backing for a team, made the element of endeavoring to confine the membership of the new league to the cities of the States is not in harmony with the chief support of the eastern end. New York has no idea of entering a league that includes St. Paul, but favors a compact international circuit, with Toronto and Montreal as the Canadian members. Manager of the Toronto Arena has already declared himself as also impressed with such a project, no doubt influenced in that view by the progressive failure of the hockey offered by the N. H. A. to hold the interest of the public. Each season that has become more pronounced, both in Toronto and in Montreal. The reasons for the sagging appear to be inherent in the N.H.A., with its unprogressive and short-sighted methods, totally out of line with its pretensions to exploit and encourage the professional game. Players and public alike dissatisfied with the conditions, and the former will welcome the change which puts their affairs on something like a basis of permanent businesslike management. Many developments will occur before next winter, but the paid players feel that the new order of things will inure to their benefit.

TORONTOS WIN CLEAN GAME FROM QUEBEC

Toronto, March 6.—Quebec were eliminated from the N.H.A. championship running on Saturday night at the Arena, when they were defeated 7 to 5 by Toronto. The game was a peculiar one, inasmuch that at times the hockey was brilliant and at other times bad. However, in contrast to the majority of games here this season in the N.H.A., it was free from rough play, and, therefore, enjoyed by the spectators. Not one player was hurt, although Ritchie, of the visitors, had a lucky escape. One of Keats' shots hit him on the back of the head, but although temporarily stunned he was able to continue. Cameron and Keats were the stars of the game for Toronto. Each scored three goals, while Toronto's other tally was by Corbett Denenny. Cameron, whose play for some time has been away below form, played his most brilliant game of the season. His shooting was dangerous, so much so that the veteran Paddy Moran in the Quebec goal took no chances and ducked a number of shots. Crawford, Crawshaw and McDonald were the best.

O.B.A. Senior Honors to Hamilton Climbers

Hamilton, March 6.—On Saturday night the Y. M. C. A. Climbers defeated Toronto Playgrounds Basketball team and won the O. B. A. senior championship. A week ago the teams played in a tie in Toronto, and Saturday's game here was to break the tie and Hamilton notched 56 baskets against the visitor's 32.

Rules Don't Count Against M.A.A.A. Wants

Toronto, March 6.—Trustee Cecil M. Hart of Montreal, one of the managers of the Art Ross Cup, one of those independent hockey trophies which represent nothing and which is not sanctioned by any authoritative body, has resigned that post. The reason given is the curious one that the other trustee ignored the conditions of the cup competition, and allowed the Montreal A. A. team to use a player who is not eligible. The other trustee is Eddie St. Pere, a well known lacrosse official. The player objected to had played on the Stars team for the cup a few weeks ago against the St. Nicholas Club of New York. Rule No. 7 of the regulations signed by the trustees says: "No player shall be permitted to play for either a challenging or defending club if he has, during the same season, played for another team in a Cup match."

However the M.A.A.A. wanted to play him against Lachine for the cup and that cancels all rules around Montreal. They even threatened to withdraw their challenge if the trustees insisted on adhering to the regulations. Mr. Hart was willing to have catastrophe occur rather than jump through the hoop at the bidding of the M. A. A. A. It was too much, though, for Mr. St. Pere to contemplate, and he said "Go to it!" The judgment of the court of common opinion is that the wrong trustee resigned.

Reinstating Players Who Join the Colors

Toronto March 6.—Several new rules which have been drafted by the directors of the Toronto and District Football Association will be submitted to the delegates from the various clubs for consideration at the monthly meeting. Any player who is under suspension by the D. F. A. and has joined the army must, according to rule, send in an application for reinstatement to the D. F. A. Secretary before he will be eligible to play in organized football. The rules of the D. F. A. state that applications for reinstatement can only be considered at the annual meeting, but, as President Campbell says, the D. F. A. is broadminded enough to stretch a point under exceptional circumstances. It must not be taken for granted that the D. F. A. Council are going to consider wholesale reinstatements. Fred Herbert Signs to Pitch For Leafs

Toronto, March 6.—Before departing on Saturday night for his home in La Grange, Ill., Pitcher Fred Herbert signed a contract with the Toronto International League team. The acquisition of the big Illinois farmer is a long stride toward the solution of the pitching problem which has confronted Manager Birbigliam. Herbert was bought by the New York Nationals last fall and turned back after a brief trial. It is felt by those who have watched the young pitcher closely during the past couple of seasons that he is more capable than some of the men now regarded as regulars on the Giant twirling corps for 1916. On Saturday afternoon Herbert was treated to the thrills accompanying a trip in an ice boat on the bay in a gale. Manager Birmingham went to his home in Elmira, N. Y., Sunday morning well pleased with the progress of the club to date. He will return to Toronto again before the Leafs go into training on April 3rd.

Collins and Maisel to Help Baltimore

Baltimore, Md., March 6.—Jack Dunn has agreed to pay less than one-third the amount Terrapin Park cost the stockholders, but the Diamond Backs hope to get their money back in damages in the suit which will be immediately entered against organizer Harry Watson, captain of the locals, scored six of his team's seven goals.

BERLIN SOLDIERS TAKE MINISTER OUT OF HOUSE

Force Lutheran Pastor to Go With Them to the Barracks.

Berlin, Ont., March 6.—About fifty soldiers of the 18th Battalion caused considerable excitement along King St. about 11 o'clock Saturday night when they escorted Rev. C. K. Tappert, pastor of a Lutheran church here, from his house to the barracks, singing patriotic airs, and cheering lustily along the route. The soldiers called at the rev. gentleman's house shortly after 10 o'clock and were refused admission. They forced an entrance and requested Mr. Tappert to put on his coat and hat and come along with them. These orders were resented, and the preacher made a strenuous effort to push the men in shakki out of the house. The soldiers then pulled him out of the house without his hat and overcoat, and the procession proceeded to King street and from there to the barracks. Here the officers interferred and the men were dispersed. Captains Fraser and Routley accompanied Rev. Mr. Tappert back to his home.

HE DEFIED THE AUTHORITY

The affair was a surprise to the officers, and was organized quietly. Rev. Mr. Tappert, it was understood, had been given until March 1 to leave the city, and the soldiers claimed that he was defying the authorities. Outside of being bruised from falling down the steps in front of his house, Rev. Tappert was not seriously injured. Rev. Tappert, who submitted his resignation to his congregation last Wednesday night, deferred his leaving the city until after the confirmation services were held, which

LORD NORTHCLIFFE AT VERDUN SENDS HOME HIS IMPRESSIONS

French General and His Staff Perfectly Cool and Undisturbed by the Attack—German Soldiers' Small Physique—Two Enemy Corps Entirely Used Up.

London, March 6.—The Times has received a special despatch from Lord Northcliffe, who has been at Verdun since Friday morning. After giving a general description of the fighting Lord Northcliffe said: "I lunched at the simple headquarters with General Petain, who drank tea with his brief case. He discussed the battle as though only an interested spectator. He looks like Lord Roberts, though larger built. He spoke with great interest of the Canadians and Australians and the growth of the British army. Both he and his staff are remarkable by the complete lack of excitement. "After another gathering of officers the talk touched on the question whether the British should attack now to relieve the Verdun pressure. The opinion was mostly adverse, but the French evidently feel that our army has reached the point of being able to bear Britain's full share in the future operations. French officers agree that Verdun's value is the moral and that they are confident the line would hold if the fortress fell.

PUNY GERMAN SOLDIERS

"But if the neutrals could see the poor quality of the Teuton soldiers they would be more impressed than they are by the fall of Verdun. What a pity our Highlanders can't meet them in a fair fight; it would end the war in a month," said a French Captain as we passed a group of wretched, puny prisoners. Germany must be near the end of her tether when five-foot-four, narrow-chested youths are members of the elite corps like the 3rd or 5th Berlin Army Corps. "It is known that the Germans intended an attack here, but premature spring seemed to dry the ground sufficiently and accelerated their plans by six weeks. Deserters gain more than usually valuable information, and the French were fully prepared. So far the Germans have been effectively checked, with losses heavy to aggregate, while the French losses are really trifling. In interrogating scores of prisoners belonging to every corps everywhere the losses are beyond anything known before.

FOE CORPS "USED UP"

"The German 3rd and 18th Corps were entirely used up, the 7th Reserve lost one-half, and the 15th three-quarters of their strength. The 113th Division and the 5th Reserve Corps all used up, while later reinforcements suffered equally. The most conservative total estimate surpasses over one hundred thousand of Germany's picked troops. "The sudden change in the weather damaged the German plans. Never did the wounded suffer so terribly. Imagine the French horror when their lookouts trying to save the living amongst the German masses covering the plateau and slopes found that all had been frozen stiff by the icy wind. As I approached the battle two things struck me. First,

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

A feud has existed between Colonel Arthur Stanley and his cousin, Judge Lammie Stanley, ever a heartless, the diamond found in a fallen meteor by the girl, Mrs. Stanley, she came to Stanley, certain in England and to the colonel and the mother die the same day. Three years later the gypsy mother, having had no part in this secret, leaves her son undetected as the heir. The gypsy has obtained possession of the diamond. Stanley, years later, Hagar, Arthur Stanley returns to his home, Dr. Lee, the late Colonel Stanley's friend, adopts Esther. Arthur Stanley, son of Hagar, falls in love with Esther, and does his companion and cousin, Blair Stanley, rightful male heir of Stanley, steals the diamond. Blair causes the death of the doctor and tries later to put the blame on Arthur, who takes the gem. Arthur Stanley studies his pursuers and upbraids him for his wild life. Seeking the diamond in Richmond, he wears the borrowed gem, Vivian Marston, Hagar's gypsy granddaughter, Lake Lovell, Hagar's gypsy grandchild, steals the diamond, and to avoid detection drops it into a mail bag, picked up by Quabba, an organ grinder. Quabba's money seeks the diamond. Hagar takes Arthur Stanley to his home. Tom Blake, a detective of Richmond, is hired by Hagar, produces prints convicting Blair. Hagar promises to Mrs. Stanley the price of the diamond and the estate of the Fairfax family. Blair, being received in the world, and sends the first prints, the gypsy queen demoted. Marmaduke Smythe, lawyer, arranges to marry Blair, but Blair, in a fit of passion, seeks Blair himself in a fugitive life. Blair, in a fit of passion, seeks Blair himself in a fugitive life. Blair, in a fit of passion, seeks Blair himself in a fugitive life.

William, the billposter, roused himself and wiped the blood that ran into his eyes from a deep cut in his forehead, held a handkerchief to the aching wound and limped off into the night, but still holding fast to the diamond from the sky.

Marmaduke Smythe also fled from the burning fallen tree and the dead man beneath it and ran, forgetting his own fears and misery at the haunting memory of this phantom of the night. The moon came from behind a cloud and dimly revealed the gray roof and dull white walls of the ranch house by the bee yard. Toward it Smythe ran wildly, and reaching its door, he hammered furiously with both fists and, forgetting the stolid composure of a lifetime, screamed loudly he knew not what.

The rancher, roused, came down to the door in answer to the clamorous summons in the night. Behind him he frightened wife, holding high a lamp. Frighted and rattled, more like a tramp than a prim man of the law, the half-hysterical Englishman told his broken story of a dead man lying beneath a burning tree, and then, as though he would pit the horrid occurrence behind him, the strange messenger turned and fled again. And yet for all his fright and all his panic the Englishman had clung insistently to the diamond, beloved and cherished, since the sale at Stanley hall. How long ago that was, whether days or weeks or months, Marmaduke Smythe could not have told.

"It was all a horrid nightmare," he afterward would say. "America is all right for the Americans," he would add, "but it is deucedly weird, wild and mysterious for a British subject to retain any desire to sojourn there. Had it not been my bounden duty as legal representative of the estate of Stanley to find the American heir, I would never have visited or loitered in such utterly impossible wildernesses and crude communities, I heartily assure you."

him again and crossed the sidewalk, carrying his deer head trophy, also dusty and trampled. The day clerk, loitering at the doorway, saluted at the eccentric looking figure before him.

"I have been lost in the wilderness and suffered untold hardships for a fortnight," stammered Smythe. "Could I secure a room and bath?" "Sure," said the matter of fact hotel clerk. "You can have two rooms and two baths if you pay for them."

Marmaduke Smythe took of his hat, pressed it in a reverential manner to his breast, gazed at the sign at the doorway of the hotel and cried fervently, "God save the king!"

Then a dizziness overcame him, his eyes closed, and he swooned back stiffly on his heels. Hozen, the head porter, passing by with his hand truck deftly followed the quick gesture of the clerk and ran the truck under the heels of the swooning Smythe as he fell stiffly back, still holding, however, to the deer head with a strong, tenacious grip.

Thus was Lawyer Marmaduke Smythe, out of the wilderness at last delivered safely to a room and "bath," while the day clerk signed the register for him as "Lord Stevens, London, England."

Meanwhile in Los Angeles Esther resolutely stayed on, determined to see Arthur, despite the efforts she was being made by those who surrounded the injured man to prevent it. She did not trust to Vivian's promise that she should see Arthur when he was conscious or recovered. Day by day she called at the Powell mansion as Arthur's beautiful residence was word from the impassive faced man servant that Mr. Powell could see at once.

Then one day she was coldly told that Mr. Powell had been taken early that morning to a sanitarium and that his condition was critical, so far as the results of his mental injuries were concerned, but that physically he had improved.

This statement was true only in so far that it was had been taken early that morning to a sanitarium and that his condition was critical, so far as the results of his mental injuries were concerned, but that physically he had improved.

questions concerning her, for since his physical and mental weakness had been augmented by the drugs which he used, as he thought in secret, the deep head of Durand, De Vaux, Vivian and even Blair had been to convince him that his recollections of having seen Esther were but the manifestations of periodic insanity, caused by his injuries.

And so the soul stragglers had achieved their dreadful purpose. Between their concentrated suggestion and the use of drugs Arthur had become convinced that his obsession regarding Esther was a manifestation of madness, and he grew terrified at the thought of it and endeavored to keep Esther from his mind.

"How is Arthur?" asked Blair upon one of the few occasions they were alone. "I mean, how is he really?" Blair asked. "For I don't believe a word that cursed Durand says in his smug, fake doctor phraseology."

"Arthur grows stronger bodily every day," said Vivian, "but his hope taking makes him a mental weakling. He wishes continually, and sometimes he cries like a little child, this is how he thinks of Esther."

But as Blair was there was something in his blood that made such a slow working, soul wrecking conspiracy revolving to him. He spent from his seat, his face working convulsively with rage.

"I'll have no more of this," he cried. "Whether Arthur Stanley is the actual heir to the Stanley estate in England and the diamond from the sky, or whether he is a gypsy changeling, as Luke Lovell hints, I do not care. I have hated him since boyhood, and I hate him now!" He stands in my way, but he always fought fair. This way of dragging his manhood out of him with drugs is not mine!"

CHAPTER XL.

EVER before him in the darkness the contorted face of a dead man and ever jaunting in his brain the crystal and metal trumpets that cost his comrades' life! A cold sweat was on the forehead of William, the billposter, as he saw these things and felt these things and ever brutally fastidiously he would have sought to maintain road in the stifling darkness.

Once he did this just as the front wheels struck a stump or boulder. The rickety wheel crashed the wagon west over the road and the man was flung out head first on the road. With the collapse of the wheel the flickering lantern tilted out and the glass broke and tinkled on the road as the wagon tumbled over and the frenzied horse, reeled off with dragging burden, sprang with a flash of renewed strength and galloped on until, entangled in the sundereed harness, it tripped and fell heavily and lay heaving and helpless on the mountain road.

Then, cursing the deed he had done and the trumpery he had done it for,

Mr. Powell Could See No One, She Was Told.

As were over. By dawn he reached a distant ranch and encountered a bewhiskered farmer driving to the nearest town. Smythe and his precious deer head rode twenty miles in more or less comfort and arrived, dusty, tattered and torn, at a fair sized city. At the straggling outskirts he plucked up courage again and then when they drove up a business street the sign "King George Hotel" above a somewhat middle class hostelry to have so high standing a name made Smythe clutch the old rancher hastily by the arm.

"If you will stop here I will alight, thank you," he said. The farmer stopped his horse at the curb. Smythe paid him and thanked

Twenty Krupp Guns

CAPTURED AT BITLIS
Russians Make Big Haul in Occupying Important Armenian City.
Petrograd, March 6.—The following official communication regarding the capture of Bitlis was issued by the War Office:
"Details of the capture of Bitlis show that our troops attacked the position without firing a shot. The attack was made at night during a snowstorm. About three o'clock in the morning a bayonet charge was ordered, and the Turks after a desperate resistance were dislodged. The Turkish artillery position was stormed after hand-to-hand fighting, as the result of which the defenders, who fought with the greatest desperation, were all killed.
"On the position and in pursuit of the enemy we captured twenty guns of the latest Krupp type, all of which were in good condition. We also captured on the position a huge quantity of gun and rifle cartridges, artillery munitions. During the pursuit numerous Turks were captured, the number of prisoners has increased, and includes forty officers.
"Occupied the town of Bitlis, in Persia, about fifty miles northwest of Hamadan, after an engagement."

ONTARIO BUDGET

DUE ON WEDNESDAY

Hon. Mr. McGarry Expected to Announce Fair Surplus.

Toronto, March 6.—Having in record time disposed of the preliminary debate of the session, that following the Speech from the Throne, the Legislature will this week settle down to business. The absence of any bills or other business on the order paper will make to-day's sitting a brief one, but on Tuesday Hon. T. W. McGarry will probably bring down the budget, and the balance of the week will be taken up with the budget debate.

The Provincial Treasurer will on Tuesday lay before the House the public accounts and the supplementary estimates for 1915 as a prelude to his speech. What the accounts will show on the year's administration has been closely guarded, but there is ground for believing that Hon. Mr. McGarry will not have to report a deficit this year. The budget that the Treasurer laid before the House a year ago covered only three months of war, but this year's financial statement will show the results of a full year of careful economy in all directions. Against this there has been some reduction in revenue from a few sources, but on the whole provincial income has been well maintained.

The temporary question will hardly be taken up in the House this week, although the arrival in force of the signatories to the petitions of the committee of One Hundred will give the members a good dose of it. The government's proposals will hardly be in bill form in time to allow consideration before next week. Upon the important points the Ministers know clearly what they want, but in such legislation there must necessarily be a large amount of detail to be carefully gone over. Even the acceptance of the Manitoba Act as the basis of the new legislation does not make the task of drafting the bill a light one. The Manitoba Act was drafted 16 years ago, and in many respects it is open to improvement, particularly in the clauses making for straight enforcement. In this respect it is considered likely that the government will strengthen the legislation by incorporating some of the excellent machinery that has done so much toward making local option a success.

The government, it is said, fully recognizes the fact that if prohibition in Ontario, once passed, is to avoid failure, due care must be taken now to see that the provisions of the legislation bar the way to the fullest extent against all illegal traffic in liquor, either by "blind piggers" or by the abuse of the sections permitting sale for scientific, mechanical or medicinal use.
