Thrift.

It is pretty hard to preach thrift when there is an abundance of money. There never was a time when money was more plentiful than now. But the purchases money will make are more restricted than ever before, and the sum total of goods which can be purchased and which are needed in every-day life, has not been smaller than it is to-day for some generations. The result is that the purchasing power of the ordinary dollar bill is just about half, if not less than half, what it was before the war. It is estimated that it will fall to the present value of 30 cents, and if conditions are further accentuated it will fall to the present value of 20 cents.

The present situation is only temporary. How long it will take to things to right themselves at the close of the war no one can tell. Some economists look at the price of wheat as the barometer. Wheat, they say, will not remain at the present price. It is bound to go down, if not immediately after the war, certainly after production picks up again. When wheat starts to go back to somewhere around the old price, the purchasing power of the dollar gets a boost. Here arises a downright common-sense incentive for the present day thrift. What is the use of spending a dollar to day, particularly on luxuries and frivolities, when it is only worth 40 cents anyway? Saving that dollar for the future, or lending it to the country which is the same thing, means getting the full benefit out of the dollar, or something approaching full value, instead of 40 cents worth.

Besides the national reason for saving, to strengthen our war effort, there is a real selfish reason, why the ordinary man should these days practice thrift. It is a matter of protection for the day, inevitable after all wars, when reaction sets in. The period when prices of necessary commodities remain the same, but there is no remunerative employment, is the period of reaction. It may be long or short with us in Canada, according to our recuperative powers. Let us suppose it will be short. Present day productivity, however, will not help the shortening process, and an over-hand there is evidence of prodigality on the part of many people. It is a matter for everyone to be thrifty, for the bubble is bound to burst.

Used For Shaving.

Many men are troubled, more particularly in the cold weather, with a sort of roughness of the skin or eczema caused by shaving. The application of Dr. Chase's Ointment after the shave soon cures the trouble and by using it after each shave you keep the skin soft and prevent irritation and soreness. Because of its antiseptic qualities this ointment prevents and cures Barber's Itch.

An Energetic Girl.

Irene Davis, aged 14, of Oxford, Massachusetts, drives a milk wagon and delivers milk to about 100 customers. Before breakfast, which is at 6.30, she helps with the milking, bottles 80 quarts of milk, feeds and harnesses the horse and loads the wagon. She is back at the farm before noon and then does a day's work around the house. During the school year she attends the high school.

Bredenburg Bask.—Christian, Dealer, a young and prosperous farmer, living two miles northeast of here, shot and instantly killed his wife, and then committed suicide. It is said that his mind had become suddenly unsettled worrying over recent German reverses. He leaves two small children.

NOW RAISES 600 CHICKENS

After Being Relieved of Organic Trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oregon, Ill.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for an organic trouble which pulled me down until I could not put my foot to the floor and could scarcely do my work, and as I live on a small farm and raise six hundred chickens every year it made it very hard for me. I saw the Compound advertised in your paper, and tried it to my friends'—E. H. D. M. Oregon, Ill. It has restored my health so I can do all my work and I am so grateful that I am recommending it to my friends."

Only women who have suffered on the terms of such troubles and have dragged along from day to day can realize the relief which this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, brought to Mrs. Allen. Women everywhere in Mrs. Allen's condition should profit by her recommendation, and if there are any complications write Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of their 42 years experience is at your service. Minard's Lincture cures Diphtheria.

Port William's

The school has begun its year with Miss Nann, of Summerville, as principal and Miss Newcombe in the primary department. The Board was fortunate in securing Miss Nann, who comes with high recommendations, as well as in retaining Miss Newcombe, who did excellent work in her department last year. Miss Dorothy Halsey has gone to Sydney to teach, Miss Marion Harvey to Digby and Miss Queenie to St. John's.

Mrs. Constance, of Margreville, is gone to her new Mr. Nest. Captain, Mr. H. K. Hibbert, has moved to Wolfville and rented her house here to R. MacDonald, traveling accountant of D. A. R.

Miss Lwendolyn Fuller, who has been visiting relatives and friends in U.S. for several months, has accepted a position as teacher of languages in the South.

The community was saddened by the death of Pte. Waldo E. Gates which occurred on Aug. 10th, while engaged with his Company (8th Batt.) on second duty. He was the second son of Mr. E. Gates, Esq., of this place and was a boy and young man a general favorite. Before enlisting he took a business course at Acadia and then took charge of his father's business. He went overseas in October, 1916, and was in several of the battles where Canadians have won immortal glory. The sincere sympathy of all is extended to the bereaved family.

The Rev. Q. N. Chipman, who will become pastor of New Minas and Port Williams Baptist churches, will arrive with his family next week and preach the following Sunday Evening, 22nd. Special music will be prepared for the occasion.

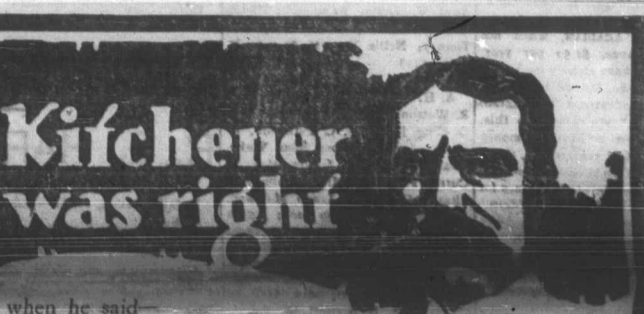

The Lawn Party and Fancy Sale held on the grounds of H. K. Hibbert on August 2nd, was a glad success. Much credit is due to the girls (nourishers) who did the fancy work during their school vacation, their interest in it all and their excellent work would have done credit to much of our teachers. Mrs. J. W. Harvey and superintended it all, extending the children with their own interest in all that concerns the comfort of our men overseas. Friends donated the tea and cut flowers that helped raise the neat sum of $78.30 for the "Field Comforts" fund.

In England the war has relegated the automobile to the garage and brought the horse back to life. Owing to the gasoline restrictions, taxicabs are becoming extremely scarce in London and the handsome cars of the old days have been restored to popularity. Dealers in dog carts, traps, carriages and all other kinds of horse drawn conveyances are reaping a big profit. For six months prices have been going up steadily, until vehicles, which were for disposal at firewood prices owing to the vogue of the motor car, are now fetching more than they cost when they were new. Members of the royal family use horse-drawn conveyances, and the millionaire, desiring a motor car for work, is investing in a carriage and pair.

Word has come from Seattle that a public being experiment led by the State Fish Commissioner's Office in Washington as a means of increasing seals to their destruction. Fishermen have found that the seal is very curious and has a sense of hearing. When the animal hears a strange sound it immediately investigates. This characteristic has long been known to the Indians, who have trapped seals within striking distance by using a specially made whistle.

St. Joseph, Lewis, July 14, 1918—Minard's Lincture Co. L'Infer. Gentlemen,—I was badly kicked by my horse last May, and after using several preparations on my leg nothing would do. My leg was black and swollen and could not walk. After using three bottles of your MINARD'S LINCTURE I was perfectly cured, so that I could start on the road. JOS. DUBES, Commercial Traveller.

Hereafter no gold lace, gold embroidery, or gold thread can be worn by any citizen in England. This is by order of the London Board of Trade, which announces that such gold embellishments can only be worn on the uniform of His Majesty's service, or on the dress of an officer in the mercantile service. Life is getting to be just one good thing after another.

Kitchener was right

when he said—
"Either the civilian population must go short of many things to which it is accustomed in times of peace or our armies must go short of munitions and other things indispensable to them."

NOW the only way we can possibly live up to that obligation is by going without in order that our soldiers may have. For the money we waste is not money at all—it is equipment, clothing, shot and shell that are urgently needed in France. By denying ourselves, therefore, we enable Canada to procure to the fullest extent the materials and labor which she and our Allies need for the successful prosecution of the war.

What happens when we fail to save? A pull on labor by the Government in one direction and a pull on labor by the people in the opposite direction.

Hundreds of millions of dollars are of no use to the country if goods and services can be secured only to the extent of eighty millions of dollars. So we must do everything in our power to release both goods and labor for the purposes for which Canada needs them.

WHETHER it be food, coal, wool, steel, leather, labor or transportation, the result in all cases is the same. Whoever competes with the nation by freely satisfying his own desires, selfishly appropriates to his own use that which is so urgently required for our fighting men in France.

For the sake of your country and the boys "over there," spend cautiously. Think of what Lord Kitchener has said, "Is this something I really need or can I do without it?"

Nova Scotia's Stake in Forest Protection.

In practically all parts of Canada, the immediate incentive to forest protection reforms has been a series of disastrous forest fires. Nova Scotia's unfortunate experience this summer will probably bring about a provincial system of fire prevention such as Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and British Columbia have already put into effect with splendid results. There was last this year probably one hundred fires in Nova Scotia, which made provincial forestry work could not separate the work of the municipal guardians and carry on valuable educational work at the same time. Nova Scotia is now the only Canadian province having control of forest resources which has not inaugurated modern methods of forest protection. New Brunswick introduced a new and thorough system last year, which all classes of citizens already hail as a considerable advance in the public interest.

Public feeling in Nova Scotia has been so aroused over the forest fire losses this summer that any Government action securing the appointment of a skilled Provincial Forester having authority to organize and direct the present fire machinery along more effective lines would be certain of generous support.

Cake Without Sugar.

Here is the way to conserve sugar and make a delicious cake at the same time. Take: 2 cups of white corn syrup, 1 quart cup shortening, 3 eggs, 3 cups of flour, 1 1/2 tablespoons baking powder, 1 cup of milk, 1 teaspoon of salt. Cream the shortening, add the syrup and the eggs and mix well. Add the milk. Sift the baking powder and flour together, add it slowly to the mixture and beat. Bake in a moderate oven as a loaf for layer cake or small drop cakes. One quarter of a cup of raisins added to the batter gives more flavors and sweetness.

The next Victory loan will undoubtedly be the last Tax-exempt loan.

The French Farmers Saved the Day.

The saving farmer in a national set. Canadian progress today in all respects attests magnificently to the splendid qualities of thrift that have marked the farmers in all the provinces. The total returns from field crops and animal produce have been only possible because of the disposition to make use in an economical way of all the wonderful gifts of Providence in this good land of ours. The same was abundantly true after 1870 in France when the frugal thrifty farmers of that fair land made it possible for the Republic to pay off that hated German war indemnity of two billion francs levied against them. The same spirit of national thrift built up France for the extreme test today—a test that is being tried by fire.

Thanks be, French heroism is proving true. The line is holding. The blood of the farmer is flowing equally as well through the veins of France's daughters of the soil and so the national strength bends but does not break.

Keep the Foul Weeds.

The sheep is the most effective dog to noxious weeds. They turn the "stinking Willie" into luscious mutton. Sheep are the best grain feeders we have and weed seeds consumed by them are never known to grow afterward. In Scotland many farmers own a large and keep a flock of sheep enclosed with the other stock on the same ground. Hence, in addition to their self-own economy in the protection of most sheep, our bit farm acres.

YOUR CUP OF TEA

Your cup of Tea means much to you. It is more than an item in the daily fare. It is the one thing that "rounds out" or spoils—an enjoyable repast. Tea is fortunately so cheap in this country that there are few who cannot afford Choice Tea. The cost per pound is only slightly higher than ordinary Tea, while the increased pleasure you get from every cup you make is worth many times the difference. Dawson-Coldwell.

A very pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized on Friday afternoon by the Rev. D. G. Milburn, of Gasperau, when Aiden Benjamin Dawson, of Wigg, P. E. I., was united in marriage to Evelyn youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Coldwell, of Wallbrook. The bride, who was unattended, looked particularly charming in a tailored suit of serge, with a smart hat to match. She is a graduate of Acadia Seminary in piano, and will be much missed in musical circles.

Dr. Dawson, who graduated from Acadia in 1915, receiving his Ph. D. at Harvard this year, has recently been appointed Professor of Biology at Mt. Allison University. Wedding Anniversary.

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. McKenna celebrated the twenty fifth anniversary of their marriage on Friday evening last. They were married on Wednesday, Sept. 13th, 1893, by Rev. S. B. Kempton, at the Baptist church at Upper Canada. Notwithstanding the disagreeable state of the weather on Friday evening a goodly number of their friends, including several from Canada, assembled at their pretty home on Acadia street to tender congratulations and best wishes. On behalf of those present, and of some who were unavoidably absent, Rev. G. W. Miller, in a neat address, presented Dr. and Mrs. McKenna with a handsome silver pudding dish and a silver spoon, as a tangible token of esteem. Although taken wholly by surprise Dr. McKenna made a most appropriate acknowledgment and expressed the pleasure of Mrs. McKenna and himself in meeting so many friends on such an occasion. Refreshments were served and a most pleasant evening was spent.
