CHAPTER X.

Engaged.

It was not her fault: she had been driven, swept away by the force of his love. And she loved him. If an punishment were lacking, that fac supplied it; and it was this fact that was a source of her weakness; for though at intervals she resolved t write to him and make full confes sion, she felt that her resolution would not hold, that she would not be able to do it. And through all the gamut of emotions ran the one, predominant chord: "It is me he loves: it is me, myself."

She went next morning to the spot where the farce which had turned to tragedy had been enacted, and, closing her eyes, called up his face and listened to his words, impressing the reality of it all upon her; and holding tightly in her palm the ring he had given her, the ring which she had slipped on to her finger again when she had locked the door of her room; but for the ring she could almost have believed that she had been living in a dream.

As the days passed, the whole place became almost unendurable to her; there was nothing in its quietude, in its solitude to divert her mind; she grew restless under the strain of always thinking, thinking of her great secret and its terrible import; and yet she gained strength, for at times the fact that he had made love to her that he had not known the difference between her and Miss Lyndhurst thrilled her with a glow of joy and happiness.

The bore the torture of the place another week, then she told Mrs Bickers that she must go. The old lady's heart was wrung at the thought of parting from the girl, and she begged for another day; Kittle yielded the farewell was spoken with tears been doing." on both sides, and Mrs. Bickers, mop-

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the checked print I had before I took new years. the aches and pains I had before I took your won-derful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. Margaret Grass-Man, 759 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it."—Mrs. George A. Dunbar, 17 Roundy St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. Kissling, 931 East

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

So far, we have considered a few hints gathered from an eminent physician, a leading psychologist, and a woman of literary genius,—just a sketchy summing up in the nursery—the inner nursery and the necessity of the personal su-pervision of it by the mother.

Now just as the father should be epresented in the little inner nursery of the home—so motherhood should be represented in that outer nursery which surges to our very rs. It is only a short while ago that the motherhood of St. John's acknowledged herself sensible of this responsibility. With that keen eye of hers she gazed out over the thresh-

Frank A. Winsor.

Friends and acquaintances of the late T. A. Winsor, Esq., will read with profound regret the report of his death. The grim visitor having claimed him yesterday morning, at the General Hospital. By his death we lose one of our most respected citizens.

His death, although not unexpected

by those who followed him in his last months of suffering, will be felt by his many friends not only in the city but in some of the outports as well. For to know him was to respect him. Deceased, after completing his studies at Bishop Feild College, entered the teaching profession and did good and notable work for several years. He then entered the office of the N. S. S.

& C. Co., at Bell Island and served that firm as accountant. He resumed his teaching duties, however, in 1914

and was placed in charge of Clarke's

Head School, Gander Bay, by the C. of E. Board of Education. It was there that the writer met him and had the pleasure of his company all through the long winter months. His work at Gander Bay was indeed a succes. One has only to view the beautiful seats in the school there and other work of his undertaking and also to notice his hard and strenuous work in connection with the religious and patriotic affairs of the place which speak of his untiring endeavours to feel proud of him and sorry for his passing. A truly promising life cut off in its prime of manhood,

His was a life well worth copying and by his death our country loses one of her most worthy and trusted sons. May his soul rest in peace.

Tea is Still Advancing

But We Intend to Protect Our Customers as Long as Possible

We notice the Canadian Press expresses the opin ion that good tea may soon be a dollar a pound. This may appear rather pessimistic but it is not impossible as at the moment there are a variety of reasons which contribute towards considerable advances in the price

We are to-day offering a MAGNIFICENT TEA in 1 lb. packets only, at

50c. per lb.

This is better than many teas offering at 60c. per pound, and on to-day's market quotations should be selling at 70c. per pound. This tea is being used by many of the best families in the city and has gained many encomiums.

We are also offering a SPLENDID TEA at

45c. per lb.

Both of these teas are specially put up by ourselves and are better value than can be obtained anywhere. We shall be forced to advance our prices later or reduce the quality and we would sooner advance the price than reduce the quality. A word to the wise is
