VIRTUOUS MR. CHARLTON.

HE DELIVERS A PANEGYRIC ON THE LADIES.

His Soduction Bill Read a Second Time— Mr. Ouimet's Anti-Dual, Representa-tion Bill Defeated — The Northwest

Special Despatch to The World. OTTAWA, Feb. 7. -The house is beginning to get down to business and night

Mr. Charlton moved the second reading of his act to provide for the punishment of seduction and like offences. He supported it by a speech, in which he reiterated arguments brought out at former sessions. He represented women as naturally much purer than men, and on them depended the existence and purity of society. It was universally recognized that the well-being of society depended on the purity of its females. He cited a number of cases of unpardonable and deliberate seduction, and said the equatorial regions of inferno were too cold for such sinners. The object sought in the act was to hold up the terror of punishment to those given to sin in that way. He made a strong appeal to fathers and mothers, all of whom he hoped would support the bill. He justified the shooting of deliberate seducers. His bill did not go to the extreme advocated by Horace Greeley, who advocated death as a penalty for seduction, nor was it framed to suit the views of the flagilator of bull pups and sluggers (meaning the editor of the not go to the extreme advocated by Horsuit the views of the flagilator of bull pups and sluggers (meaning the editor of the Mail), but it was a happy medium.

The bill was read a second time.

Mr. Ouimet moved the second reading of the act to repeal the act to render members of legislative assemblies in the province ineligible for sitting or voting in the commons. He made a speech supporting it, but on a division the bill was thrown out, 59 voting for it and 102 against. All members of the government except Mr. Pope voted against it. The lower province members opposed it.

The act for the better prevention of fraud in the sale of patent rights was read a second time; also the act further to amend the consolidated railway act by Mr. Mulock.

Cameron moved for orders in Mr. Cameron moved for orders in council or departmental orders, and all communications and correspondence respecting the appointment of Samuel J. St. Onge Chapleau as sheriff in the Northwest territories. He made a vigorous speech attacking the government for appointing Mr. Chapleau, who, he proved by reading the evidence, while in the employ of the department of public works as confidential clerk had used his knowledge to block a firm from securing a section contract and had been the means of securing a contract for Manning, McDonald securing a contract for Manning, McDonald and Shields at an extra cost to the country of $200,000. For this service to Manning, McDonald and Shields evidence showed that Mr. Chapleau was to receive $5000, a portion of which was known to have been paid. Notwithstanding all this the government instead of handing him over to justice appointed him to a responsible position

Sir John Macdonald in his blandest manner justified the appointment as an example from our Saviour, who said to the woman taken in adultery, go and sin whom he closed. They went west on the

which he had moved for particulars. He charged the minister of finance with most improper conduct in connection with the affairs of the bank. Many people would not have put their money in jeopardy but for the action of the minister of finance. The action enabled the bank to keep its doors open much longer than the affairs warranted, and thus allowed the officials of the bank to squander large sums of money. Sir Leonard Tilley was only a trustee of the country's funds and should church cathedral this afternoon to Mr exercise the same care in dealing with them as if they were his own. Sir Leonard Tilley replied giving a resume of the particulars in connection with the case. The motion was lost on a division

To throw the ballot into the hands of people who tell you frankly beforehand that they will employ it for the purpose of wrecking the legislature and dismembering the nation is the act of the highest political wisdom or of something very much the reverse.

as does that of a state in a federal union. All the colleges will combine their resources for the purpose of professional instruction, and of examinations for degrees. There will be a university government to regulate these and other objects of the federation. But each college while it is a member of the academical union will be, as in England, a corporation in itself, holdits own estates, and with its own board of recents, whose inrisdiction will be supreme within its own walls. No charter will be cancelled; no association, no memory, no bond of affection will be disturbed. More is heard of college friendship than of university friendships, and the college, rather than the university, is the real alma mater. Within the college religious training will be carried on according to the principles of any church to which the college may belong.

As a general system may safely be pronounced a failure. For reasons of prudence and delicacy, which no one not bewitched by a theory can fail at least to understand, parents in general have decisively declined to let their daughters mingle in a university with male students. The Hudson Bay Route.

Replying to a question put by Dr. Orton Sir Hector Langevin said on Wednesday that the estimates would contain an appropriation for an exploratory expedition to Hudson's bay and straits, with the object of ascertaining whether that route is feasible or not. This is satisfactory, but it might be wished that we had also been informed, on authority, whether it was expected that the expedition would go out the ensuing summer. We have heard that an exploring expedition by land through to James' bay is being organized, and should be glad to find the report confirmed.

Mr. Stephen has stated, and his words have been published, that the Canadian Pacific company will certainly do all they can to help the Hudson's Bay railway enterprise to the extent of conveying over their own line at the lowest rates material intended for it. They can take no stock in it, however, for the reason that all the money they have is needed for their own

If we can put a railway around the north shore of Lake Superior, we can surely put one through to deep water on the Nelson to settle the question as to whether the great bay and the straits connecting it with the ocean can be navigated at a profit, and in competition with other routes. That point once determined, the question as to the best plan for getting through to Hudson's Bay need not be very difficult to answer.

Grant's generalship consisted in this: through cold-blooded reckessness and unlimited supplies and men he was willing to lose 10,000 soldiers if he could thereby kill off 1000 of Lee's, and by the "mere attrition" of this "continual hammering," he at at last wore the south erners out. "We have outlined Grant's system. It was original. It was suited to the times. It was successful. There is one weak point in it, however, and it should not be forgotten—and that is, it can only be used by a general who has overwhelming odds at his disposal, and resources without limit."

know what good flour can be bought for, and what bread made of it can be sold for, leaving a fair profit. It has been stated that one reason for the comparative cheapness of bread in the old country is the fact that the bakers are at no expense for delivering it, their customers mostly taking the raids and let the presiding justices livering it, their customers mostly taking it from the shop. To the rich man the price of bread mat ters little or nothing, because bread counts the merest fractional part of the whole cost of furnishing his table. But with the poor man the cost of it counts a, consider able proportion of the whole, and therefore to him it makes a good deal of difference whether bread be cheap or dear. The workingmen of Toronto ought to see the nterest they have in getting the co-operative bakery started, and they should give it their whole custom when it does start, But we hope to see it turn out bread of such quality and at such a price as will draw custom from all classes.

The twenty-first annual meeting of this ompany was held on Wednesday last. simultaneously with the attainment of its majority the company has accumulated the maximum "rest" which it set out to obtain. viz., a reserve fund of $600,000 on a paid up capital of $1,200,000, or a ratio of fifty per cent. In addition to this fund, which will now stand at above figure, the president announced that the probable policy of the directors would be to back up the reserve account by the formation of a sufficient contingent fund from surplus profits, the remainder to be divided by way of bonus among the shareholders. The net profits, after paying the usual ten per cent. dividend and all expenses, were $37,152, out of which $30,000 was added to reserve, and the balance to contingent account. The assets of the company now foot up to the people of Dakota are taking a lively $4,525,000, as against a liability to the interest in it. And no wonder, either, for public of $2,658,415. Altogether the by all accounts their complaints against manager, Mr. Walter S. As President Arthur is not married. Mrs. Speaker Carlisle claims to be the first lady in the land, but the trouble is that Mrs. Secretary Frelinghuysen also lays claim to the position. If the unhappy president takes one of these down to dinner the other makes things mighty unpleasant for the president. It is terrible to think that the two first ladies in the United States should be turning up their aristocratic noses and speaking of one another as "that person," and that "horrid creachaw." The eyes of the whole world are upon the struggle, and until it is decided which has the right of precedence in in the land a feeling of uneasiness will pervade the diplomatic circles of both continents.

some time ago the Mail, the leading conservative journal of the dominion, actually stated that its political friends had secured copies of telegraphic messages sent by political opponents—secured them, of course, surreptitiously—and meant to make their contents public? If there should be one thing more secred than an should be one thing more sacred than another in all the concerns of life, it is the other in all the concerns of life, it is the sanctity of private correspondence. When a telegram is accepted the most inviolate secresy should be observed. It is one of those things which the public will allow no man, no politician, no government to tamper with. No business could be carried on, in no transaction could the telegraph to used no reputation would be seen in the city (by city, remember, is meant a little district of the metropolis), and on that particular Sunday when a census was taken there were in these churches 6731 persons, of whom nearly half were officials and their families. These churches enjoy the convices of 70topristers who are naid no man, no politician, no government to tamper with. The twenty-first annual meeting of thi ompany was held at their offices, No. 70 nurch street, Toronto, at 12 o'clock noon vesterday, 6th February. A large number of shareholders were present. The president, Hon. G. W. Allan, was in the chair, and the manager, Mr. Walter S. Lee, acted as secretary to the meeting. The annual report of the Directors and the financial statements were read by Mr. Lee as fol-

report, the Directors have the pleasure of aying before their shareholders a statement, showing that since the first year of the company's operations in 1863, the paid-up capital has increased from the sum moved. of $6000 to $1,200,000:- and during the same period the total assets have grown same period the total assets have grown from $12,087 to $4,500,000. Of this latter amount, $4,379,000 is represented by the company's mortgage loans, of which it may safely be said that the securities on which they have been advanced are of the most ample character.

It is gratifying also, to be able to add that the repayments on the part of the company's borrowers, both in Ontario and in the company's new field of operations in Manitoba, have been most satisfactorily met; the total amount paid back on mortgages for the year being $841,270.16.

The amount placed for investment with

The amount placed for investment with the company in debentures and on deposit has now reached $2,620,000, and the total increase under both of these heads, as ncrease under both of these heads, as compared with the previous year is $400,-000. The amount loaned on mortgage during the year is $1,214,813.24.

All expenses for commissions, &c., connected with the company's loans effected during the past year, and with the debentures sold during the same period, have been charged to and paid out of the year's income.

Out of the profits of the year two halfyearly dividends of five per cent. each, making ten per cent. for the year, were declared upon the capital stock; the sum of $30,000 has been added to the reserve fund. which now amounts to $600,000, or fifty per cent. on the paid up capital and $7052

A MODERN RESURRECTION. Miraele that Took Place in our Midst Unknown to the Public-The Details

in Full. (Detroit Free Press.) One of the most remarkable occurren ver given to the public, which took place in our midst, has just come to our knowledge, and will undoubtedly awaken as much surprise and attract as great attention as it has already in newspaper circles. The facts are, briefly, as follows: Mr. Wm. A. Crombie, a young man formerly residing at Birmingham, a suburb of Detroit, and now living at 287 Michigan avenue in this city, can truthfully say that "I had been having most peculiar sen sations for a long while. My head felt dull and heavy; my eyesight did not seem so clear as formerly; my appetite was uncertain and I was unaccountably tired. It was an effort to arise in the morning and yet I could not sleep at night. My mouth tasted badly, I had a faint all-gone sensation in the pit of my stomach that food did not satisfy, while my hands and feet felt cold and clammy. I was nervous and irritable, and lost all enthusiasm. At times my head would seem to whirl and my heart palpitated terribly. I had no energy, no ambition, and I seemed indifferent of the present and thoughtless for the future. I tried to shake the feeling off and persuade myself it was simply a cold or a little malaria. But it would not go. I was determined not to give up, and so time passed along and all the while I was getting worse. It was about this time that I noticed I had begun to bloat fearfully. My limbs were swollen so that by pressing my fingers upon them deep depressions would be made. My face also began to enlarge, and continued to until I could scarcely see out of my eyes. who is said to have been well known throughout London as "the queen of the costermongers," was buried yesterday in Finchley cemetery. She at one time used to have a stall in Somerstown, and of late years had been a vendor of cats' meat. It is stated that she amassed a fortune of £60,000. It was her custom to lend costermongers money on Fridays and Saturdays to go to market with, they paying her for the loan a shilling in the pound. She was a most eccentric woman. She paid 20 years ago to Mr. Sharman of Caledonian road £20 for her funeral expenses. What is Catarrh?

From the Mail (Canada) Dec. 15.
Catarrh is a maco-purulent discharge caused by the presence and development of the vegetable parasite amedo in the internal lining membrane of the nose. This parasite is only developed under avorable circumstances, and these are: Morbid state of the blood, as the blighted corpusele of tubercle, the germ poison of syphilis, mercury, toxemea, from the retention of the effected matter of the skin, suppressed perspiration; badly ventilated sleeping apartments, and other poisons that are germinated in the blood. These poisons keep the internal lining membrane of the nose in a constant state of irritation, ever ready for the deposit of the seeds of these germs, which spread up the nostrils and down the fauces or back of the throat, causing ulceration of the throat, augusing ulceration of the position and death.

Many attempts have been made to discover a cure for this distressing disease by the use of imhalants and other ingenious devices, but none of these treatments can do a particle of good until the parasites are either destroyed or removed from the mucous tissue.

The united workmen of this city scored a triumph with their concert at Shaftesbury hall last night. The hall was packed to hall last night. The hall was packed to suffocation, and it is estimated that over five hundred people had to be turned away. Dr. King made a capital chairman. His opening address was chiefly devoted to explaining the objects of the A. O. U. W. He said that people had wrong impressions of it, which he wished to dispel. The A. O. U. W. was the best, safest and surest O. U. W. was the best, sarest and surest life insurance association a man could join. The object of the concert was to bring the order before the public, so that they might see what it really was. The order was see what it really was. The order was free from anything censurable, and had nothing to do with trades unions. The concert itself was a great success. The singing of the Misses Corlett, Mrs. Morris and Miss Kent, and the singing and recitations of Messrs. Lye, Corlett, Chapman, Bohner and Morrison were high class. Bro. Miller, G.M.W., and other prominent members of the order delivered addresses luring the evening.

Life Health and Wealth. of life, health and wealth," was listened to by a large audience who received a treat in which pleasure and instruction were happily combined. Prof. Buchan occupied the chair. The lecturer declaimed strongbut especially against the manner in which they were carried out. He held that every municipality should have a medical health officer with wide powers to enforce the sanitary laws. He pointed out the habit of filling up vacant lots and ravines in this city with refuse, thus sowing the seeds of fever and disease. If the sanitary laws were properly planned and effectively carried out the city would be beautifully clean. This waste of refuse was also a waste of wealth as it was a valuable fertilizer if properly applied. The doctor received a vote of thanks at the conclusion of his increased by several thousand. The beautiful suburb of Riverside is to be annexed. The village comes in unconditionally-no stipulations being made—and asks nothing but that it may become a part of the Queen city of the dominion: This is as it should be. The idea that a few residents of Riverside had of erecting the village into a municipality was all nonsense. Brockton did that and was sick of its bargain long ago. The place is in debt and the people are as heavily taxed as if they belonged to the city and they gain nothing by it. Riverside residents have done a gas, police and fire protection, something that they have never had before, and they will have the dignity of being created into a separate ward. Thus Toronto grows

But notwithstanding this vast collection But notwithstanding this vast collection of evil there is much that is truly good and noble among the people of the great capital. There are men here who are wholly devoted to the highest good of mankind, and they are men who shine all the brighter by reason of the insincerity by which they are surrounded. Pre-eminent among these few is Rev. J. E. Rankin, D.D., pastor of the First Congregational church. Dr. Rankin is known to every congregationalist and most of the members of other church denominations throughout this country, while in Washington he is looked up to by the inhabitants of the entire city as well as those in authority.
