DARDANELLES FORTS ARE REDUCED

LONDON, Feb. 25—(Midnight)—All the forts at the entrance of the Dardanelles have been reduced by the allied fleet. This announcement was made officially by the admiralty, as follows: "The weather moderating, the bombardment of the outer forts of the Dardanelles was renewed at 8 o'clock this morning (Feb. 25). After a period of long range fire the squadron of battleships attacked at close range. All the forts at the entrance to the straits were successfully reduced and the operations are continuing."

In the house of commons today Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, made the important announcement, which was received with cheers, that Great Britain sympathized with Russian aspirations to gain access to the open sea thru Turkey.

Hundred and Fifty Met Last Night and Heard Addresses on Labor.

About 150 unemployed met in the assembly hall of the Labor Temple last night and heard a number of addresses urging them to wake up and form an organization and demand their rights.

James Simpson outlined to them why the unemployed question would never be solved. "It isn't in the power of the city hall or legislative men to solve the question," he said. "For the simple reason that they don't know how."

"When a man who does know talks they call him a haterpring." Married men are working in factories in Toronto on war materials for $8 pe week.

RATEPAYERS DISCUSS NICKEL EXPORTATION

R. R. Gamey, M.L.A., Will Address Ward Seven Association Tonight.

The question of nickel exportation is one which has been of deep interest to many ward seven citizens since its disclosure by The World several weeks ago, and R. R. Gamey, M.L.A., Mayor of the town, will address the regular meeting of the Ward Seven Ratepayers' Association, at the Annex to the School tonight, on the subject.

All ratepayers are cordially invited to be present and hear the matter discussed. His Honor, the Mayor, will also address the meeting on the organization of the Women's Ratepayers' Association for West Toronto. A large attendance of ladies from the district is also expected tonight.

New Golf Club.
Several well-known business and professional men of West Toronto are taking a keen interest in the proposed golf club at Weston, and have expressed a wish to become members of the organization in a few weeks time. The links, which will be made on the Wadsworth farm, are no farther from ward seven than the other Humber valley survey, are now subdivided into building lots, and nearly within the city limits.

Matthew Loree Died Suddenly.
The death occurred last night, suddenly, of Matthew O.S. Loree, at his home, 221 Western avenue. The late Mr. Loree was in excellent health until a few days ago, when he contracted an attack of pneumonia. His condition set in a few hours and he died. He was 48 years of age, and is survived by a grown-up family. The funeral takes place at Prospect Cemetery on Saturday afternoon.

Alarmed by Little.
The Keele street firemen were called out to a useless run last night to Pacific and Humberdale avenues. The alarm had been rung by a panic-stricken passerby who noticed smoke pouring from a chimney in the rear of one of the residences nearby.

TODMORDEN RATEPAYERS.
A public meeting for all ratepayers of the section of York Township east of Yonge street will be held in St. Andrew's Hall, Pape's avenue, on Monday night, under the auspices of the Todmorden Ratepayers' Association.

A number of important matters will be discussed, including the proposal to divide the township at Yonge street. The matter is being considered by the executive committee. A full report will be submitted at the meeting.

YOUNG PEOPLE HELD EXCELLENT CONCERT
The Proceeds Will Be Donated to Charitable Purposes.

The concert held in Oddfellow's Hall, Broadview avenue, last night, under the auspices of the Young People's Society of St. John's Presbyterian Church was an unequalled success.

Church was an unequalled success. It was a "more humor," evoked roars of laughter from the large audience, and Miss Ada Richardson's beautiful soprano voice was heard to advantage in "Piano, Piano, Canto Plo," which she sang in Italian. Miss Gertrude Pinlayson delighted the audience with "Lohr's" "The Merry Widow Has Rested," and Miss Maude Reiley was an excellent eucitonist.

The other numbers on the excellent program were rendered by Miss Vida Coatsworth, pianist; Miss Dora Molr, soprano; Miss Jean Hunt, alto; George Counter, baritone.

The proceeds will be donated to charitable purposes.

QUELPH PROFESSORS.
Professors Day and Zavitz of the Guelph Agricultural College were the speakers at a meeting held at the present time to sacrifice the amount of food necessary to feed him in the present crisis, and he would reap the benefit later.

Mr. B. Roadhouse also addressed the meeting, which was presided over by the Hon. E. J. Davis.

CLUNG TO WRECKAGE.
Among the few members of the crew saved from the wreck of H.M.S. Formidable was Naval Reservist James E. Ellis, a native of Newfoundland, in his eighteenth year, and who was with others called to duty at the early stages of the war.

When the ship was torpedoed last New Year's Day he was fortunate and seized a piece of debris on which he clung for four hours and when picked up by a trawler was in a state of unconsciousness.

After some weeks in a London hospital he was appointed to H.M.S. Queen Elizabeth, one of the latest fighting glants of the navy.

Mr. Ellis is a nephew of Geo. R. Ellis, president of the Newfoundland Society, 399 Crawford street, and grandson of the late William H. Ellis, M.P. attitude of France and Russia is learned from the proposals. This may require several days.

United States as Mediator.
In the meantime, Germany already has manifested a willingness to make concessions, which gives officials here ground for hope that a conciliatory spirit will be adopted by Great Britain.

It can be stated authoritatively that in the American communication made identically to Germany and Great Britain no mention was made by the United States of what course it would pursue in the event of rejection of its proposals. The United States assumed rather the role of mediator in an effort, secret for the present, to reach an agreement without the embarrassments of public discussion in the belligerent countries, where passions were thought likely to stimulate influences that would defeat impartial consideration of questions involved.

There is no doubt that the neutral governments are working in close harmony with the Washington government. Secretary Bryan denied today that an embargo by the United States on exports of foodstuffs was contemplated.

DISCUSSED BY CABINET.
Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Feb. 25, 11:25 a.m.—The American note bearing on the German proposal to suspend the blockade of the civilian population of the belligerent countries, which had already been considered by Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, and Premier Asquith, was discussed at a meeting of the cabinet this afternoon, but no indication of the attitude of the government was disclosed to the public.

It is expected, however, that the British reply will be ready within a day or two.

It is understood that the draft of the note to neutral states, advising them of the attitude of the government, which was decided to adopt in reply to the German submarine blockade, had already been drawn up, but the arrival of the new American note caused a temporary suspension of the matter.

Public Feeling Aroused.
The press and public, however, on the supposed by President Wilson, has suggested that Great Britain should not carry out her threat to place an embargo on foodstuffs for Germany, and that, in return, Germany should not enforce her submarine blockade against the British Isles, have already expressed their disapproval of acceptance of such a proposition.

While eight British ships have been destroyed in the week that the blockade has been in force, it is pointed out that they are for the most part small vessels and that the majority of them, instead of having food for this country, were either in ballast or carrying coal or other freight for neutral countries.

It is believed here, also, that the destruction of neutral ships and cargoes will embroil Germany with neutral countries.

Another Coaster Lost.
Either a torpedo or mine caused the loss of a small British coasting steamer, the Western Coast, in the English Channel off Beachy Head, yesterday. The crew was landed at Portsmouth. Submarine Not Seen.

A Copenhagen despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co., says: "The Norwegian minister at London has reported to his government that the captain and first officer of the Norwegian steamer Regin, recently sunk in the English Channel, believe that their ship was struck by a torpedo, but are unable to supply any proof of this. The captain has stopped his ship in order to escape 'something black' on the starboard side, presumably a mine, when an explosion occurred under the bow.

"The lookout man says he did not see any sign of a submarine."

SHIPPERS MUST PAY

Flotation of Steamships Subsidiary Will Increase Capitalization Burden.

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, Feb. 25.—House bill No. 17 may become law as well known at this session as regulation No. 17 of the educational department has become well known in Ontario. The bill was before the railway committee this morning and went over until next Tuesday, although many members present urged its immediate adoption.

The bill as it stands authorizes the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to divide itself into two corporations. One is to retain the name and operate under Canadian law, while the other is to incorporate in England and be known as the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, Limited. The latter company is to take over the ocean shipping of the Canadian Pacific, paying for the same with securities which the Canadian Pacific is to own, control and do with what it likes.

Means Stock Melon. Section four of the proposed bill authorizes the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to sell or charter any of its vessels engaged in coast or ocean service to the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, Limited, or any other corporation with authority to acquire the same. The public is to have no control over the amount for which these ships are to be disposed of, and to have no control or authority over the proceeds of such sale.

What of Proceeds? W. F. Maclean (South York) at the committee meeting today, asked Mr. Beattie, chief counsel of the company, what was to be done with proceeds arising from the sale of the ocean vessels.

Mr. Beattie suggested that they would remain in the treasury of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. Mr. Maclean: "Will they not be divided among the stockholders?"

Mr. Bennett (Calgary) took the same position, asking Mr. Beattie if the Canadian Pacific Railway Company had the same right to dispose of its property for the benefit of the stockholders as any other private corporation.

Under British Registry. Replying to a question by Mr. Maclean, Mr. Beattie stated that the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, Limited, was being incorporated in England with a capital stock of $10,000,000, and that the company would all be of British registry.

Public Must Pay. This, however, brought A. E. Fripp of Ottawa to his feet with a strong protest. The bill, he said, was a most important one. It should be thoroughly discussed if Mr. Maclean's plan is in thinking that the scheme was to create fresh capital issues and add to the cost of the transportation company, we might be sure that the public would pay in the end through higher freight rates.

Another German Lie. LONDON, Feb. 25.—The Chronicle says the steamer "Jervaux" Abbey reached Hull yesterday and the captain and crew totally deny the statement in German wireless that they saw floating wreckage in the channel from a British troop ship.

Wonderful Skin and Wrinkle Removers. The method of removing bad complexions by absorption seems to have come into general use in this country. Ordinary results were attained by night cream and erasing morning with warm water, gradually absorbs the coarse, most invisible outer film skin in all brand-new complexion, formed by the sun, heat, and other under-skin. No cosmetic or artificial treatment can possibly produce a complexion of such radiant youthful loveliness.

MARCH WILL SEE FINISH OF SALE

But a Month More to Clear Semi-ready Store.

Several Merchants Have Made Offers for Balance of Stock—Store Has Not Yet Been Leased to Anyone.

"Good things cannot last forever, and we can never replace the present stock for the price we are selling it at retail," said the manager of the Semi-ready Store "we have several enquiries from merchants who want to buy the stock en bloc, but the size of the stock staggers them. We have a bona fide offer to the balance of the stock if we can reduce it to $15,000 within a month. A merchant in Western Ontario says he will take the stock at a figure if it is reduced so that his capital will be sufficient to handle it. He will move it to his home town.

"So that we can definitely state now that a month's selling will so reduce this stock that he can handle it. We have carte blanche to reduce it in any way we see fit, for he knows that spring and summer suits cannot be sold now at any price. We have been offering $20 and $25 suits in summer weight worsteds, pure British fabric, for $8 and $12.50, and still they don't go—it's the winter weights that sell.

"We are going to sell for $12 some all-the-year-round fabrics, beautifully tailored, in dark grays, browns and steel gray shades—suits that are worth up to $25—the very latest styles, long with peak lapels and soft rolls, smart and attractive suits.

"English serge suits, too, for $10—marks a new era in bargains, and I may tell you that these suits, under the new tariff and the advanced cost of woollens, will now cost us $13.50 at wholesale. We have these in both navy blue and black fast indigo dyes.

The Semi-ready Store at 143 Yonge street, four stories in height, will be offered for lease on a six-and-a-half year term. For the lease the company were offered $20,000 bonus a few years ago. They will let it go now at the net rental on the lease which figures about $1000 a month for the store, warehouses and factory building in the rear.

One of the directors of the Semi-ready Company is in the city today to interview several who have enquired.

Shaghnessy's Statement. Sir Thomas Shaghnessy yesterday issued a statement which foretold many more changes of interest to the Canadian people. First, the steamships are to be a separate company, then probably the lands and telegraph and express companies will be separate organizations. Bill No. 17 is merely a curtain-raiser to what is to follow.

Segregation Scheme. "Heretofore, all expenditures for the acquisition and construction of these ocean steamships were made by the railway company and included amongst the liabilities in its balance sheet. Heretofore, it is proposed that the steamship company shall itself secure the requisite amounts for these purposes by the issue of its own securities. The ownership and control of the steamship company will remain with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, but the management and operation of the steamship lines will be vested in the board of directors of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, Limited. It is only another step in the direction of eliminating from the direct operation of the railway company items that do not relate to the railway property itself."

High Level Bridge Blocked. ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Feb. 25.—So excessive are the prices asked for the owners of the property required for the right of way for approaches for the new high level bridge across the Welland Canal that the city council is considering the changing of the route. Work has been stopped on the construction of the sub-structure and will not be resumed until the owners decide to reduce their prices, or some other course is adopted.

Repington, Warrior Author. Now Acknowledged to Be One of Authors of "London Times War History." There was a revelation the other day of the long-hidden identity of the "eye-witness" who has been sending despatches from exceedingly readable and gripping accounts of the campaigns of the French, commander of the British forces in France. "Eye-witness" turned out to be a distinguished member of General French's personal staff, Col. E. D. Swinton.

STUDENT SOLDIERS RECEIVED DEGREES

Forty-Four Varisty Men With Second Contingent Given Graduation Standing.

IMPRESSIVE SCENE

Members of All Faculties Cheered Graduates and Meds Given Watches.

For the first time since the university company in the Queen's Own Rifles in 1889, to assist in quelling the Northwest rebellion, Varisty students were given their degrees clad in the King's uniform. The ceremony was witnessed in Convocation Hall yesterday afternoon, when forty-four students of the graduating year were given their degrees prior to their departure for the front. Every available seat in Convocation Hall was occupied long before the ceremony began. Students of all faculties gathered to pay their respects to the men who had left the college halls to don a uniform for the front.

Powerful Motives. President Falconer stated that he would depart from precedent in making an address to the graduates. Quoting from Earl Kitchener's advice to the British soldiers, he said that he assumed the same university men would be animated by the most powerful motives, and would maintain the high tradition of service of the university. The students are urged to maintain a deepened sense of duty and of love of country. Dr. Falconer referred to Kitchener's words, that the operations would be largely confined to France and Belgium, and prophesied amid cheers that the sphere of these operations would be enlarged.

List of Graduates. The students who received their degrees were: Bachelor of Arts—Arthur Stuart Bleakney, Gordon Smith Melles Gault, Cecil Coppen, Harold, John Anderson, Hill, Ernest Dryden, Hosken, Thomas D'Arcy Leonard, George Alexander McLean, Hubert Eric MacNeil, Clifford A. What to Do to Get Fat and Increase Weight. The Real Cause of Thinness. A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE. Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one ounce while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It is all a matter of the nature of the food they eat. Nature's way at all.

Danger Signals Warn You of Approaching Paralysis

Slowly and Surely Exhaustion Goes on Until Collapse of the Nerves is the Natural Result.

You may be restless, nervous, irritable and sleepless, but you think there is nothing to be alarmed at. You have no appetite, digestion is impaired, and there is weakness and irregularity of other bodily organs. You feel tired in body and mind, and find that you lack the energy to attend to the daily task.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the most successful restorative for the nerves that has ever been offered to the public. It has been proven in many thousands of cases similar to the one described in this letter. Mrs. Thos. Allan, R.F.D., 3, Somers, Ont., writes:—"Five years ago I suffered a complete breakdown, and frequently had palpitation of the heart. Since that illness I have had dizzy spells, had no power over my limbs (locomotor ataxia) and could not walk straight. At night I would have severe nervous spells, with heart palpitation, and would shake as though I had the ague. I felt improvement after using the first box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after continuing the treatment can now walk, eat and sleep well, have no nervous spells and do not require heart medicine. I have told several of my neighbors of the splendid results obtained from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

F. O. G. Wood Brings Back Splendid News From Mechanical Section.

An all-day technical inspection of the 19th Battalion of Infantry, which includes the mechanical section, was held by Major-Gen. F. O. G. Wood yesterday. It started at 8:30 in the morning, in the transportation building and it was not over until 4 p.m. The examination by the general was most thorough, and in addition to seeing each platoon of the unit, he inspected the men of the machine gun section of the battalion. They have four rapid-fire guns and are able to assemble the different parts together and load the guns ready for firing in a little over five seconds.

The first parade with bivouacs of the members of the cyclist corps was held yesterday by the members of the Vancouver section, who were under command of Capt. A. E. Humphrey of "B" Co. The corps paraded first to West Toronto and from there to Rosedale. They returned by way of Sherbourne and King. A distance of about 15 miles was covered. Similar excursions thru the city are now to be a regular part of the training of this corps. The bicycles are painted green and the shining parts are also painted over.

Gun Practice Went On. Although there was a mist thick enough to make the targets out in the lake almost invisible, both the 13th and 15th Batteries held live-shell practice yesterday. The range was 2500 yards and eight 12-pounders were used. The marksmanship was good and men stationed at the island signaled the result of each shot to a signaler on the top of the "Chute the Chutes." Ten more Belgian reservists are now at the camp.

It was announced at camp headquarters yesterday afternoon that at the recent examinations for captains' certificates the following officers were successful: Lieut. W. H. Hodges, E. J. Mackay, W. H. McLaren, F. L. Henderson, S. C. S. Kerr (all of 18th Battalion), Lieut. C. A. Thompson, J. F. White, H. J. Price, W. W. Proctor and H. W. A. Foster. Lieut. Foster also obtained a field officer's certificate.

F. O. G. Wood, who was with the mechanical transport section of the City Ammunition Park of the first contingent, has just returned from Salisbury Plain on special service. He stated to The World that every member of his unit had gained from ten to forty pounds in weight since leaving Canada and were all in high spirits and looked well.

No fresh cases of meningitis were reported at Exhibition camp yesterday. Pte. J. Houghton was reported as not so well and Pte. Peter Isaacs, who was in a serious condition on Wednesday, is now somewhat better. Only two cases of meningitis have been found among the 150 men isolated in the John Inglis building on Strachan avenue. Pte. Ed. Spring of "C" Co., 20th Battalion, was taken to the General Hospital yesterday. His case is uncertain, as it is not known definitely whether he has the spinal trouble or not.

RULES WERE ADOPTED.

Rules for the conducting of the Toronto Home Guard Sharpshooters' Association were passed at a meeting of its members, held in Victoria Hall, last night. L. Rawlinson presided. Under the new bylaws there will be an executive committee, consisting of the commanding officer, who will be appointed by the executive; staff officers, together with one officer and a representative elected from each company rank and file. They shall have full control of finance and business. The committee will elect from its members a chairman, secretary and treasurer. Two auditors shall be appointed by the executive, who are not members thereof.

An advisory committee of prominent and influential citizens will be elected by the executive. The question of whether or not there should be an age limit set caused quite a lengthy discussion. Several of the members held out for a minimum age of 25 or 40, thus barring young men from joining, and declared the young men "would be a millstone around their necks" and "would turn the association into a feeding ground for the other regiments." Major Gillis thought there should be no age limit. "Don't do anything that will stop a man from serving his country," he said. It was decided to admit to the association all men above the age of 18, "if not aliens or enemies of His Majesty the King."

The 19th Regiment is using the old McGregor building, 65-79 Pearl street for drill purposes. Col. Stewart stated it will in all likelihood be turned into their permanent quarters.

GERMANS STEADILY FORCED BACKWARD

Special Cable to The Toronto World. PARIS, Feb. 25.—The French forward movement in the Champagne district is slowly forging its way northward in the teeth of serious German opposition. Further success was recorded today in two spheres—the region of Reims and Beaumont, and north of Mezier. North of the last-named post, a German field work was captured and a German column which was on the march to the south-east of Tahure was surprised and scattered by artillery volleys. A hostile battery was put out of action, and several caissons of ammunition for the guns were blown up by some well-directed shots.

CANADIAN BRIGADES NOT YET ENGAGED

Section of Infantry Soon, However, to Take Position in Trenches. Canadian Associated Press Cable. LONDON, Feb. 25.—The Canadian Associated Press have official authority for stating that no message has been received at Salisbury base of two Canadian brigades having been in action on Sunday. It was permitted to make known the real disposition of the Canadian forces at the present time the inaccuracy of any such information as the foregoing would be apparent. It may be stated, also, that a few days ago certain portions of the Canadian infantry were expected to move into the trenches within a short time. Any statements that Canadian artillery have yet been engaged are pure imagination.

WORKS ESTIMATES FURTHER REDUCED

Board of Control Chops Off Forty-Five Thousand Dollars More.

OFFICIALS ACCUSED

Written Charges Against Some City Employees Will Be Investigated.

The works department estimates were again cut $45,000 by the controllers yesterday. The original works estimates were $3,384,081, and the committee reduced them to $2,939,306, before they went to the controllers. Mayor Church moved, before the board of control yesterday, that the marine section of the works department be placed under the harbor board. He said he had received charges in writing that certain members of the staff are not competent. Commissioner Harris stated that Chas. Margison, one of those accused, who has charge of the six city tugs, and the under water condition of the intake pipes, is a capable man. The charges will be investigated.

Wants More Car Lines. Ald. Ryding wants the civic car line on Bloor street extended to Jane street and on Jane to St. Clair avenue, and the Lake Shore road. He wants the cars to run from Lansdowne and Bloor to Dundas street, thus giving connection from the Bloor street city cars to the civic line.

The Toronto-Hamilton Roadway Commission may issue debentures to the amount of $600,000, according to the bill introduced in the legislature, and forwarded to City Solicitor Johnston. In five years Toronto is to pay over $150,000. Hamilton, $100,000, while $400,000 is the charge to the other municipalities interested. Mayor Church has received a telegram from Mrs. Chief Thomas Davis of Victoria, B.C., making application for the position as chief here. Davis was a fireman in Toronto for twenty years.

To date, snow removed from the streets has cost the city $68,493.76. The transportation committee on the radial entrances for Toronto did not meet yesterday on account of the inability of Sir Adam Beck to be present. The meeting will take place today at 10.30 at the city hall.

Street Estimates Slashed. The estimates of Street Commissioner Wilson suffered at the hands of the board of control yesterday, when $70,850 was deducted from the total of $1,122,200. Of the reduction $29,245 will be taken care of by special bonds, as it is composed of war pay for members of the staff gone to the front, and for horses contributed for war purposes. The property committee yesterday considered the estimates of the fire department, including street, park and island lighting. No change was made in the estimates of the fire department, which total $888,000. The exclusive of salaries, which amount to $409,233, making a total of $796,217.55 against an expenditure of $717,200 for 1914. Only one change was made in the lighting estimates, 60 new lights for the Humber boulevard being eliminated, the cost of same being $10-20 each.

Fifteen new lights will be provided for Waterworks Park, North Toronto, at the same price. The total estimates for lighting are $402,157, against $367,791 in 1914.

FAIRS WILL GET PROVINCIAL GRANT

Hon. James Duff Made Announcement in House Yesterday.

WOULD HIT POOR MAN Bruce Member Claims Expenses Could Be Cut in License System.

One of the few incidents which brightened another monotonous round of the budget debate was the intimation from Hon. James Duff that the provincial grants to fall fairs will be paid in full if conditions warrant. The statement came in answer to a query from William McDonald (Lib.) of West Bruce as to why this action was taken. Mr. McDonald expressed general approval of the fair system in a way to make inspectors earn their money. At present they avoided local option districts.

More convictions for drunkenness in Ontario municipalities have been registered during the last year than for any other offence, according to the annual report of the license department which shows a steady increase. The World's Greatest Automobile Trade-Mark

The Hudson Triangle has become great because of the car behind it. From the "Triangle on the Radiator" to the electric tail light, every atom of the car has been through the crucible of the Hudson Engineering Board. Only accident or misuse can prevent a Hudson owner getting 100 per cent. pleasure and service from his car. In the hands of tens of thousands of users, the world over, its supremacy is demonstrated daily.

The Company Behind the Trade-Mark

The Hudson Motor Car Company is as famous as the Hudson Car. Its marvelous success has come from giving the public what it wants at the price it wants. The "Triangle on the Radiator" is the signature of the Hudson Motor Car Company. Buyers accept it as a bond guaranteeing in their car everything needed to make it as good an automobile as the world's best engineering skill can produce.

ARRANGING PLANS FOR CONVENTION

Hon. J. S. Hendrie to Formally Open Good Roads Congress. INVITATIONS ARE OUT Premiers of Every Province Asked to Attend Sessions in March.

With the lieutenant-governors of Vermont and Ontario, sitting side by side on the platform, the Canadian and International Good Roads Convention assembling in Toronto in March, will be launched under happy auspices. Provincial highway engineer McLean received word yesterday from Hon. J. S. Hendrie that he would be delighted to formally open the convention, and would be glad to attend it frequently during the sessions.

Invitations have gone to the premiers of every province in Canada, and the leading road states of the union, and a gathering of notable persons is assured. Quebec is planning to make a further expenditure of several millions on highways and a large delegation will come to Toronto to hear of Ontario policy. In the legislature in the afternoon N. W. Rowell, K.C., of East York, will deliver an address on dealing with the new road program, but was told that it was yet under consideration. The excellent administration of the Ontario County road system will be discussed at length in the convention, and Geo. S. Henry, M.L.A., of East York, will speak briefly on the part of the city will play in future good road work.

NOT OPPOSED TO BILL'S PRINCIPLE

N. W. Rowell, K.C., Suggested Amendment to Measure in Second Reading. EXCEPTIONAL CASE Toronto-Hamilton Road Not to Be Guide for Other Undertakings.

Fearing that the government bill to validate expenditures of municipalities for patriotic purposes was "giving them a blank cheque without any check as to spending," Mr. Rowell, K.C., yesterday suggested the amendment of the measure when it appeared for second reading. He made it clear that he was not opposed to the principle of the bill, but claimed that it tended to grant to us power to incur obligations without the consent of ratepayers.

Hon. I. B. Lucas acknowledged that the point was a good one, but that it was a very difficult matter to limit municipal authority in this regard. Committee consideration would mold the clause into shape. Explained Project. Hon. Philip Macdormid explained in detail the projection of the Toronto-Hamilton concrete road, showing that it was promulgated at first because of obvious necessity and in the hope of somewhat relieving unemployment. It was an exceptional case in which the commission had been clothed with legislative authority. Mr. Rowell was anxious to know if

Canadian Press Despatch. LISBON, N.H., Feb. 25.—Four men were killed and ten others badly injured in a rush of ice and water in the Ammonoosuc River today. The accident occurred while a wrecking crew was trying to remove ice from the flooded track of the White Mountain division of the Boston and Maine Railroad, in the meadows a mile above this town.

FRIDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 26.

Desirable to Refine Nickel in Canada.

While the vote was fairly divided on the nickel resolution adopted by the Associated Boards of Trade, the tone of the discussion showed that there was little division on the main point of the debate. In view of the action proposed by the Ontario Government, both the resolutions submitted by Owen Sound and Belleville were withdrawn, and Mr. William Taylor of Owen Sound moved a substitute recognizing the action of the government, but desiring that the commission to be appointed be of men non-political, practical, and thoroughly impartial, and also that it is in the interests of the Dominion of Canada that nickel be refined in this country.

An amendment moved by Mr. D. M. Brodie would have expressed the view that there should be no opinion formed until the government commission had reported. The form of the amendment would have left it possible for either friends or opponents of the idea of nickel refining in Canada to support it, and there was perhaps more than a little political feeling in the desire to favor the government plan without criticism or comment. The discussion, which occupied about an hour and a half, diminished in interest towards the close and many left before the vote was taken, evidently feeling satisfied that the new motion would carry.

Mr. J. F. Black made a clear-cut statement of the case for those who think that Ontario should have a greater share in the nickel products and manufacturers. He saw no reason why the refining of nickel could not be carried on as well here as the hydro-electric system. Government reports showed that none of the European nickel deposits were of sufficient size or high enough grade to be serious rivals of Ontario. France had shown the way in taking over all the nickel deposits of New Caledonia. Yet Ontario, with the richest deposits in the world, did not refine a pound of the metal except as a by-product at Cobalt. He attributed the fact to the influence of the nickel trust and the $120 per ton protection in the United States. Ontario should collect $250,000 from the nickel industry. A three per cent. tax on the output would give over $500,000.

The Toronto Board of Trade had appointed a committee two weeks previously to report on the resolutions, and the president, Mr. J. W. Woods, presented the report. It showed that the Canada Copper Co. spent $4,646,000 at Sudbury, and the Mond Company $3,788,000. A six cents per pound bounty had been offered for the refining of nickel in Ontario, and this had been renewed by Premier Hearst, but it had not been claimed. They should hesitate, thought the committee, before recommending anything which would interfere with the present activity at Copper Cliff. To refine two tons it would be necessary to transport three tons of material to the mines. Mr. Woods himself voted for the Owen Sound resolution.

Mr. Brodie and Mr. L. H. O'Connor, who seconded his amendment, both dwelt on the economic advantage to Sudbury of having the nickel industry in its present form. The greatest outlay in mining was in wages, the least outlay in refining was in wages. They had the best of the situation at present. This economic rather than the patriotic argument was generally dwelt upon, the figures were given showing that from 1888 till 1902, out of $4,000 tons of nickel mined, $6,000 had come from New Caledonia. In the period from 1902 till 1912, out of 210,000 tons, 115,000 had come from Canada and 75,000 from New Caledonia. One delegate elicited a good deal of enthusiasm by a spirited enquiry why there appeared to be so much objection to a declaration that nickel should be refined in Canada, but the greater part of the opposition was directed rather to the attempt to prejudice the case before the government commission than had his say. Probably the true swiftness of this position lay in the belief, as Mr. Brodie stated, that it would be nine months or a year before the commission could bring in a report. All parties agreed to accept the statement of the prime minister, that no Canadian nickel was now going to Germany. But the resolution stands—that it is in the interests of Canada that nickel be refined in the Dominion.

The Future of the War

That is an inherent weakness of human nature which seeks to gain some insight into the future. The past has gone with all that it has wrought, whether for good or evil—the present is with us, but too nearby to judge with what its events are laden. The future with its unknown contents holds results that are vital, and anyone who thinks he holds the key to its secrets is sure of attentive hearing. In the presence of so vast an upheaval as that occasioned by the war that convulses Europe and covers every continent, the man on the street is not so interested in estimating the past or in discussing the present as he is in the endeavor to forecast what is yet to come. He may possess abundant faith in the outcome, but still astiduously seeks for tangible support that his faith is well based.

Is there good ground for the assurance that possesses the allies that their arms will be successful against Germany and her satellites and Dupes, Austria-Hungary and Turkey? That was substantially the theme of a recent address by Mr. Hilarie Belloc at the Queen's Hall, London. His articles in Land and Water have been regarded by competent judges in England as among the very best of current comment on the dual campaign that is being waged. As Mr. Belloc has given special study to its progress and apparently exhausted all available sources of information, his views on coming events cannot but command keen interest.

In the address referred to, Mr. Belloc's only fear was that not despair but moral fatigue might handicap the allies in their determination to destroy this grisly spectre of Prussian militarism that seeks to impose itself on Europe and on the world. This war calls not only for patience and endurance, but for the determination never to permit of an inconclusive peace that does not end but will only postpone the decision of this vital struggle. Germany entered upon this war fully prepared and looking for victory swift and secure. She did so, Mr. Belloc believes, with a fair margin of certainty provided her scheme of swift victory over the French armies had not gone astray at the moment it seemed well within her grasp.

In the early stages of the western campaign Germany started out with a great preponderance in numbers—at least three to one and at certain points much more than that proportion. Even yet, after eight months of war, German and Austrian troops still possess a numerical advantage, but by April, in Mr. Belloc's view, the opposing forces will be relatively equal. By June the balance will have shifted in favor of the allies, and the decisive phase of the war will have begun with a greater certainty of victory than attended the German armies of invasion. Lord Kitchener announced months ago that the war would only start in May. No doubt he knew that only then would numerical preponderance pass to the allies at a time when Germany will be compelled to shorten her western line of defence. Whenever that occurs it will mark the beginning of the end.

Patriotism and Production

We have no quarrel with the socialist opinions held by the Dominion Grange; but when credit for a desire to do good is withheld from others, then we fall foul of each other. Mr. W. C. Good, president of the Dominion Grange, in his opening address at the annual meeting, said the Patriotism and Production campaign being carried on under the direction of Dr. C. C. James and by the authority of the department of agriculture of the Dominion, of which he is commissioner, is irrelevant. He thinks the counsel to the farmer to improve production and thus obtain a firm hold upon markets that war had declared vacant, is unnecessary. The farmer who is this without being told, and in his own interests, is what he says.

Mr. Good is evidently one of that good old sturdy stock who think no one can teach them. He believes in progressive ideas, and yet when they emanate from other sources than those in which he plays a part, he has no faith in them. He would condemn them unheard. If he had not prepared his address before hand, but had waited to look around him, he would have abundant proof of the interest that has been awakened by the character and size of the attendance that was before him—110 delegates from the 100 branches being present, as compared with 60 at the annual gathering in 1914.

Mr. Good appears to have unmitigated contempt for the Patriotism and Production campaign. He says that sudden prominence has been thrust upon the "rural problem." As long as money could be borrowed, according to the president of the Dominion Grange, the problem was ignored or treated with "hypocritical benevolence." Surely the latter is a harsh term to apply to the experimental farms and agricultural colleges and to the efforts of Hon. Sydney Fisher, who resigned over agriculture at Ottawa from 1896 to 1911. Mr. Good concludes with an attack on the government's war budget, but prior to that in the concise and exact terms of a royal speech, he sets forth that his aim, and presumably the aim of the Grange, is: (1) Better farming, (2) Better business, and (3) Bigger profits. Mr. Good, who apparently has neither thought nor compassion for the consumer or the refugees, places Belgium and northern France, places particular stress upon the last of his three keynotes of principle. But, seeing that better business must follow better farming, and better profits accompany both, while deploring his lack of sympathy with the Patriotism and Production campaign, he must be forgiven, as after all it is apparent that the aim of both parties is the same, the real and only difference being in the manner of getting there.

SUSSEX MINERAL SPRINGS HAVE VALUABLE PROPERTIES.

Sulphur Baths May Now Be Enjoyed in the Maplehurst Hotel.

Because of the beneficial effects of their mineral waters to humanity, many places have become famous. From time immemorial there have been waters to bathe in that have their special virtues, and to waters to drink that possess valuable health-giving properties. To have mineral springs that will annually attract many thousands to partake of their benefits is nature's great boon to the community, especially if that community be delightfully situated and a place of natural beauty. It is just beginning to be generally known that the Town of Sussex, N.B., has mineral springs whose waters are just as desirable as those of many health resorts that have long-established fame. The Sussex Springs flow from an artesian well hundreds of feet deep. So copious is the flow that right in the heart of the town there is a bubbling fountain for public use, while the water is piped to a factory where aerated beverages are made from it, and the water also bottled in its natural state. It is also piped for some distance to the Maplehurst Hotel, where patrons may enjoy the rare luxury and hot and cold mineral water, baths, and undergo a treatment that physicians declare to be most beneficial.

Sussex is a most healthfully situated on the line of the Canadian Government Railways, 44 miles from St. John, the capital of the most picturesque Sussex Vale, which is drained by the headwaters of the lovely Kennebecasis River. For the location of a large sanitarium, or a first-class hotel, no finer site could be secured, as the surroundings are beautiful and the climate most agreeable. So conveniently situated in the midst of the fine agricultural and dairying country, there is every facility for producing the finest of fruits and garden produce and an abundance of fresh butter and eggs and cream. Its nearness to the St. John market, which is so amply provided with the best meats and fresh fish, is also of great advantage. The town has a fine water supply, sewerage and electric lighting.

CONVOY SCHEME IS NOT FAVORED

Proposal Made by Scandinavian Conference Opposed by British.

PLAN TO BE MODIFIED

Final Decision Will Be Given After Opinions Are Received.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. COPENHAGEN, Feb. 25.—One of the main proposals before the Scandinavian North Sea conference was a scheme of naval convoys for Scandinavian merchantmen. Since then the delegates, who will resume deliberations at a later date, have been informed that the British Government does not favor the proposals. This plan and other proposals, therefore, have been modified and they will be placed before the British and German Governments simultaneously for an expression of opinion. The conference will realize the usefulness of any measure which satisfies only one of the warring powers. No spirit of disunion has been shown at the meetings. All delegates are agreed on the modified schemes and are only awaiting a coming to a final decision at the next meeting.

WARRANT ISSUED FOR HARRY LASHER

Charged With Keeping Gambling House and Skipped Bail.

CHRISTIE SENTENCED

Two Hundred Dollar Fine and Six Months in Jail Imposed.

Magistrate Denison issued a bench warrant for the arrest of Harry Lasher, Fred Christie $200 and costs and six months in jail and fined Charles Clark $50 and costs or thirty days when the last two appeared before him in the police court yesterday morning on a charge of running a gambling house at 48 Victoria street. Lasher had been out on $2000 bail, and a few days ago he called up Sergeant McKinney of the morally department, telling him he was on his way to Buffalo. If Christie's fine is not paid by the time the six months is up he will have to serve another six months.

Parents Bankrupt

During the hearing of the evidence it was found out that the parents of George Staats, a paying teller in the corner of Bloor and Yonge streets, were practically bankrupt owing to their having to pay a bond of $3000 to cover the money their son had taken from the bank to back the gambling house. Staats had been arrested as a material witness and turned King's evidence. The money was supposed to have been lost during six or seven weeks.

Defer Transfer

The license commissioners, at their meeting yesterday afternoon, decided in regard to the transferring of the license of the Hotel Krausmann to Robert McKinney, to defer action till Tuesday afternoon, when a special meeting will be held to consider the matter. The cause of the delay in dealing with the application was that there is an injunction pending in the high courts to restrain McKinney from taking over the license.

Were Rejected Once

William Kerr, Aloys Knetzker and Acting Detective Thompson arrested Abraham Pazner, 121 Agnes street, yesterday on a charge of stealing a large quantity of potatoes and onions from H. Paul of Strathroy, Ontario. According to the police Pazner had been purchasing large quantities of vegetables through the province and had them stored at 147 Elizabeth street. Pazner was employed to act as his storekeeper and was given the keys to the premises. He is alleged to have sold quantities of vegetables and appropriated the money to his own use. Frank R. Quirk was brought back from Hamilton yesterday afternoon on three charges of fraud and forgery by Detective Croome.

Hockey Varsity 12 Lindsay 7

VARSITY JUNIORS READY FOR FINAL

Lindsay Made Them Move to Win Semi-Final—Played
Six Men a Side.

Varsity juniors earned the right to meet the winner of the Berlin Union Jacks-Collingwood semi-final in the O.H.A. final when they defeated Lindsay 12 to 7 at the Arena last night, winning the round by four goals to one. It was the hardest battle the students have had this season. It developed into six-man hockey soon after the start, when Haugh retired with a cut on his forehead, and the good U. of C. combination was broken up, as Gouinlock was dropped to even it up. Lindsay checked like fiends and Varsity never looked safe until they opened up a link in the final round and drew away.

It was 2 to 2 for Varsity at the end of the first period and 6 to 4 at the second rest. Varsity were waiting every inch of the way and with Lindsay refusing to stop it was nip and tuck for three-quarters of the way. The blue and white locals were hardly up to form and missed Gouinlock on the plays close in to the net. Varsity shot too hard when close in and their passing was not up to the usual standard. Smythe was hardly as good as in former games and Straton went in again. Saunders was the bright shining light of the forward line and Ramsay opened up some grand rushes in the final round. Lindsay were beaten, but they gave a mighty good account of themselves.

Varsity had it over Lindsay in the speed line but not in the checking. It was the Varsity defence that had a lot to do with the victory. They were head and shoulders over their opponent at the other end and they stopped many a rush.

Varsity showed signs of staleness at the start, but got into their stride in the third period, and finished much better than their opponents. They either overdid or failed to show enough of the combination in the first two periods. The Varsity squad carried the puck well enough, but skated too far in before they passed it. Their shooting was too strong, and it generally ended at the end of the rink. With Gouinlock on the ice it would have made a lot of difference.

They were away flying until Haugh got hit on the head with the puck and retired. How Mack Made Ball
Player Out of Baker
Home Run Baker, who has announced his retirement, but who will likely be at the third corner for the Athletics when the umpire calls play ball, was always lord of the lands in Maryland he possessed 1200 acres. He went to Philadelphia in the fall of 1908 & poor, benighted busher took him in hand. He worked with him, drilled him and tutored him. Anything that Mack knew about baseball he strove to transmit to this awkward Maryland farmer boy. Baker had inherent ability and Mack drew it out quickly where a less astute manager might have ruined him.

Baker, who might have been a dub under the leadership of a less competent manager, became a star under Mack. Baker was a component part of a great machine, but he was not the whole machine. He was the wrong way, you would make him as useful to a ball club as a bottle of muck. The wise Mack knew his limitations, and he was not the right way, instructed him and made a ball player out of him.

Baseball Gossip.
Big Bill James, who helped to pitch the Boston Nationals to the world's baseball championship last year, announced in San Francisco that he had no intention of joining the Boston club this year unless he is granted an increase of salary of $2000 a year. James told his friends there that he felt that he was entitled to more than the $4000 annually which he said his three-year contract with the Braves called for.

Frank Gilhooley of Toledo is the first to sign a Buffalo International League contract. He affixed his signature to the 1915 scrap of paper on Tuesday according to President Stein. Gilhooley is one of the fastest men on the bases in baseball. He covers a world of ground in an outfield, and his fleetness enables him to turn many a bunt or short grounder into a base hit. He is only 20 years old, and President Stein is much gratified to think the boy kept his promise made last season to play for the Bisons again this year. He was several times approached by the Feds, but declined to stick with the O. C. club. Gilhooley went to Buffalo early last season from the New York Highlanders in exchange for Frank Truesdale.

Miller Huggins, manager of the St. Louis Nationals, has signed a three-year contract to continue in that position.

Quebec Players Missed Bottle of Doped Booze

It now appears, says The Montreal Star, that President Quinn had been warned by some Ottawa hockey authorities that a conspiracy for a big killing was brewing in Toronto on Thursday last, and that his trip to Toronto was made on purpose to investigate these charges.

When he got there he fell right into the midst of it. Saturday morning the chief conspirator had been warning the arrival of the Quebec team.

When Belland, the trainer, went into the bar to have a drink he found the man there, and then told the manager, Mr. Quinn, about it. The same man had told him about all the other things that happened in connection with the case.

The only regret of the officials of the N.H.A. now is that the "booze" was not reserved so that it could have undergone an analytical examination for "dope." Mummy's affidavit only gives a mere skeleton of his experience. The boss conspirator who is said to be a well-known contractor and occupying a room in a well-known Toronto hotel, his partner being a hotel man in one of Toronto's suburbs and a bookmaker at the half-mile tracks, approached him several times, and finally took him up to his room, where he made the proposition to Mummy to throw the game and get a couple of other players to help him do so.

Mummy was to get a thousand dollars for himself and the two others, and the boss conspirator peeled off one ten-dollar bill from a roll which he had with him, and handed it to Mummy.

He even went into details as to how to prevent suspicion. His plan was to give Mummy the key to his room, leave the thousand dollars there, and permit Mummy and the two players to sneak up there and divide the money before the match.

This was not all. The boss conspirator who had the money was an engine driver by trade, wherever he got that information, and promised Mummy a job as engineer during the entire summer on a section of road which he had the contract for.

There are other facts in the hands of the N.H.A. officials, which, if it is said, will make the case of conspiracy complete.

The third important figure in the case is a well-known Toronto gambler, who for some time has been suspected.

PRINCE OF WALES ON FIRING LINE

Was Within Five Hundred Yards of the German Trenches.

KEEN YOUNG OFFICER

Defences Were Explained in Detail by Other Staff Officers.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, Feb. 25.—The Daily News special correspondent, writing somewhere from France, describes the visit of the Prince of Wales to the firing line. A major led the way, and immediately behind was a short, slight figure, clad in the regulation khaki. He was wearing a "British war" with the collar turned up, and a Sam Brown belt, revolver, etc., outside the coat. His boots were covered with familiar mud and he looked a keen young officer. Following were two or three staff officers. The major explained the nature of the defences at this point, and then from a spy hole pointed out the German lines, about 500 yards distant, with our front line trenches between. At midday, occasional bullets cracked overhead. The Prince of Wales was actually on the firing line. He listened eagerly to explanations by various officers, and after a stay of a few minutes the party returned.

RECRUITING GOOD SAYS GEN. HUGHES

Response to Demand for Third Contingent Has Been Hearty.

DR. SHORTT ATTACKED

Rogers Brants Report as Dishonest, Dishonorable and Untrue.

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, Feb. 25.—Upon the assembling of the house this afternoon, Hon. Geo. F. Graham said that he had been privately assured that recruiting was going on in a satisfactory way, any newspaper reports to the contrary notwithstanding. He thought it might be well for the government to make a statement on the subject to the house and the country. Major-General Hughes said in reply: "So far as my department is concerned, and that is the one to be interested in, I shall reply to the honorable gentleman's question by giving a number of instances. In raising a cavalry regiment a few weeks ago, in six hours 600 enlisted. In some towns in eastern Ontario, in 24 hours for the call for the third contingent we had far more men than the quota desired. In places where the men have not responded it has been due to the fact that the corps have not been encouraged or that we have not very regiment in Canada up to full strength. Edmonton recruited in 12 days. I could raise a regiment in Cape Breton in four hours if I wanted to. In short at the present moment I could raise three more contingents in three weeks according to the returns we have got, if necessary. The minister's statement was received with loud applause.

TORONTO'S OWN "LITTLE MARY"

YOU KNOW, OF COURSE, that Mary Pickford was born in Toronto, that she started her career as an actress here at the age of five, that she is the most popular girl in the silent drama, that she is being paid an enormous salary. But, do you know that Mary Pickford is the highest paid woman in the world, that her income this year will probably be a quarter million dollars, and that it may be a million? All these items of news about Mary Pickford, and many new ones, a really worth-while picture of her, and one of the place where she was born, are in The Sunday World, next Sunday.

minister would accompany one of the Canadian contingents to the front. General Hughes: "I hope my friend will not expect me to deal with every rumor of that kind. Much as I have in my own heart to go there and other duties to which I have to attend, and there are possibly other men who could attend to going with the contingent just as well as I could." Votes for Soldiers? The house then passed after brief discussion the bill preserving the seasonal indemnity for members at the election. The case of Dr. Beland (Beauce) will be covered by special legislation. Judge Doherty stated that there was no reason why any military or naval officer should not be eligible for parliament when the bill was finally passed. W. F. Maclean (South York): "But how about the private soldiers? Will they lose their right to vote by going to the front?" Judge Doherty: "That subject is now under investigation by a special committee of which I am chairman. I have directed the parliamentary council to draft a tentative statute, which I will submit to the committee for their consideration at an early date." The budget debate was then resumed by Mr. Wright (Muskegon), who concluded his speech of yesterday. He was followed by Mr. Kyle (Richmond N.S.). Attack on Dr. Shortt. Dr. Edwards (Frontenac) defended the government against the charge of extravagance. He said in the customs department the percentage of cost of collecting revenue had been reduced since 1911, and in the postoffice department the rural mail service had been greatly extended. Hon. Wm. Pugsley was proceeding to quote from Dr. Shortt's statement that 2000 officials had been dismissed and 10,000 appointed by the present government, when Hon. Robert Rogers interrupted. "I desire to brand that statement—I mean Dr. Shortt's statement, not yours—as the most dishonest, dishonorable and untrue statement I ever heard of." Dr. Pugsley entered upon an elaborate argument to prove that the government could not possibly spend the money asked for in the estimates. The estimates, he said, were practically padded to create an apparent deficit and to justify a tariff increase.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN MATRIMONY

By LEONA DALRYMPLE

Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as judges.

Facing the Facts.

JOAN and I walked on to the wharf to meet Hugh and Mary. And we were all constrained. I remember searching Mary's face with a wild feeling of relief at my heart. Subconsciously I must have expected her to look differently—why I don't know.

"I'm very tired, Peter," she said, her lips were "wider than I ever felt before in my life." "Why?" "I don't know."

Mary's Decided Refusal. How swiftly in a crisis women fly to a lie! Or am I confounding a feminine attack after all with merely a human one? I don't think so. I still believe that men are essentially more truthful than women, though there is a probably truthful type of woman I loathe, not for her truthfulness, but for her prodigious seal in ferreting forth the untruthful lapses of her friends. I've noticed that pretty women are more apt to be careless with the truth than homely ones. I don't pretend to know why.

Mary turned back to the window and said nothing more. But I noticed when she put up her hands and began to take the hairpins from her hair that her shoulders were trembling. When she shook her hair in a glorious cloud about her shoulders I knew what I must say and do. It behooved me to take the bull by the horns and force what was surely due to be a difficult situation and a time of mutual confession and reconciliation.

"Is Hugh worth crying over?" I asked, and Mary, wheeling, read something in my face that made her turn white. But my heart went icy cold when I saw that her eyes were hostile.

"I think so," she said. "I read in it a confession of more than Mary's lips would ever have uttered to me of their own accord."

"Well, Mary," I said quietly, "what is it? What's on your mind?" Her start was quick and nervous.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am engaged to a girl of 22. She lives in a town, and I live far away on a ranch. She loves me dearly, and I love her, but her parents object to our engagement. What would you advise?

Oh, my dear, little girl, if I could give you a sure recipe for holding that elusive thing—a man's fancy—I would be endowed with the wisdom of Solomon.

Why, of course, if the man loves you, and is a nice chap, and you love him, tell him so. Why not, in the name of common sense?

Any man who has to be held by pretending that you don't care for him or by any other pretence isn't worth the holding. Be honest and straight, and real and true with yourself, and then perhaps, I say—will be honest with you. If he's worth anything at all, he'll know what the better of being simple and unaffected.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: Last summer I met a boy living in a distant city, and learned to love him with my whole heart. Since he returned home he writes that he doesn't go with any girls, and he doesn't want me to go with any other boys.

Now what I want to know is shall I let him know I love him, or make him think I would rather go with the other boys?

I have heard that if you want a man to love you never let him know, but make him think you care for some one else.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I have heard that if you want a man to love you never let him know, but make him think you care for some one else.

DURING LENT By Michelson

Other times of the year there may be nothing so disturbingly angelic about her. But during Lent there is always the chance that when you come upon her you will receive the effect of large and completely formed WINGS. Being VERY good for definite periods of time has often been known to threaten such things, and quite trust-

Grandma—Are You Loved as You Ought to Be? By WINIFRED BLACK

Copyright, 1915, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

And how you laughed and imitated them and grow impatient and tried to get away from them?

Why do you think these young people should be so very different from you at their age?

I'd give my right arm at the shoulder to save a little girl I know from some of the heart-aches that make me tremble even to think of them to this day.

I can't—what's the use in trying! The little girl must learn every lesson herself, just as we do all the important things of life, alone.

And then we are not so very superior, we older people, after all. What the young folks lack in discretion we lack in courage. What they lack in wisdom we lack in hope.

Why can't we let them alone and let them let us alone? I'm going to learn to make cookies myself and to knit.

I'm glad I like to read—and oh! how thankful I am that I am fond of flowers and fond of music and fond of pets!

I'm going to have something to do when I get to the "do you remember" period, so that I won't be unhappy when my young people let me see that they'd rather be young people together without me.

And I'm going to make cookies and mend their frocks and help them to mend their hearts, too, when they ask me, and I'm going to try to make my content and querulous ill humor shall never enter.

Come along, Grandma, let's show them that we know one thing that is really important—how to be happy.

What "Grandma" Can Mean.

A BRIDE'S OWN STORY :: By ISOBEL BRANDS

SELECTING THE MECHANICAL SERVANTS THAT MAKE A MAID UNNECESSARY

I'm really and honestly glad that we can't afford a maid, for I feel that I don't want anybody except Bobs and me in our own little flat. Just the same it's been a problem. Bobs, in the first place, objected to my decision.

"Nobody gets down on their knees on the floor to scrub."

"Do be serious, Bubbles," began Bobs, serious now, himself. "You can't begin all by yourself to do everything in the house. You've got to get worn out and your mother will call me a brute."

"Serve you right if she does," said I mischievously. "Moreover, if you don't let me have my own way I'll tell you you're brutal myself. Do be sensible. We simply can't afford a first-class maid at $25 or $30 monthly, and I'm glad we can't, for if we could we'd engage one without a second thought, and it would spoil the fun of just us two playing kitchen and rising constantly for this and that. So I bought a lovely double-deck serving tray on wheels. The table is set with the hot foods laid, the tray contains the hot foods covered—vegetables, salad, dessert, hot plates—and each course is finished I can place it on the lower tray and serve the next course without having to rise once.

Also I bought a "lady Susan" for the table. It's a lovely one with a glass cover, and as it revolves, Bobs and I can pass things to each other, or help ourselves to the condiments, relishes, bread, etc., on it without awkwardness or having to ask for things.

Then I'll have to scheme out some way of reducing the number of dishes to be washed in the evening, because I know it wouldn't be pleasant for Bobs to be alone after dinner while I spent an hour in the kitchen dishing up

Secrets of Health and Happiness

The Foods You Eat And What They Are

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

THE wisest way to supply our bodies with nourishment would be to go to market and buy pure protein, fat, starch and sugar, and then mix them in the correct quantities. But this is not done because the result would be a mixture devoid of taste and be nauseating. Our digestive machinery needs those food elements which grow naturally in plants and animals.

The most valuable parts of any food are protein, fat, sugar and starch. Sugar and starch may be bought, even in war time, for about 6 cents a pound, and fat for about 12 cents a pound. The cheapest protein costs about 30 cents a pound. The extra price for a food is for its taste and appearance and not for its flesh-forming or fuel value. Grains have the greatest victualary value of all the foods, and they cost the least. They can also be eaten day after day without palling on fastidious or capricious tastes.

The foods in grocery stores and butcher shops may be divided into about 10 groups, namely, cereals, beans, potatoes, garden vegetables, fruits, meats, fish, shellfish, eggs and milk.

Cereals, Breads and Vegetables. There are no great differences in the composition and digestibility of the different kinds of grains, or in the dishes made from them. All the cereals contain protein and a great deal of starch. Oats and corn are the only cereals which contain fat.

Bread, oatmeal and other foods made from grain are the most useful and important of all foods. White flour is made by sifting the indigestible skins and coarse particles from the finer parts. Bread made from the best white flour is a nutritious food, but bread made from whole wheat, and it may be digested with greater ease.

Bread, biscuits, crackers and plain cakes are nearly alike in composition and digestibility. The bubbles in these foods are due to carbon dioxide, which is formed when yeast or baking powder is added to wet flour. When the wet flour is baked, it hardens in the form of thin-walled bubbles, which may be easily masticated. Wheat flour may readily be made into light bread, for its protein becomes sticky when it is wet. The protein of cornmeal does not become sticky, and so cornmeal cannot be made into light bread unless it is mixed with wheat flour or eggs.

Dried beans and peas contain very little fat, but are rich in protein. Peas are a kind of pea whose pods are hard, like thin nutshells. They are like peas in composition, except that they have fat in the place of about half the starch of peas. When eaten between meals they are harmful, as they cannot be digested easily, and thus overtax the stomach.

Potatoes are about four-fifths water, one-sixths protein and one-sevenths starch. They contain almost no fat at all, but if cooked with meat, as in a stew, the mixture becomes a well-balanced diet. When potatoes are dried they have the same food value as the least nourishing of the grains.

Beets, onions, cabbage and celery are mostly water and contain very little protein, starch or sugar, and almost no fat. They have very little flesh-forming or fuel value. Yet they cannot be entirely dispensed with, as they contain iron and other substances which the body needs.

Meats, Fish and Eggs. Dates, bananas and grapes each contain a considerable amount of protein and a large amount of sugar. Almost the only substances in berries, apples, oranges, peaches and most other juicy fruits is sugar.

Meat is about one-sixth protein. Some kinds of meat contain a great deal of fat, and other kinds have very little fat, but no meat contains sugar or starch. The different kinds of meat differ greatly in composition or in ease of digestion.

It is generally supposed that a teaspoonful of beef tea, or of meat juice, or of meat extract contains as much nourishment as a pound of beef. These liquid foods contain almost no nourishment at all, for the substances which have a food value cannot be dissolved from the meat.

The meat of fish is almost like the meat of cattle, but in composition and food value, except that it usually contains more water and is less easy to digest. It only differs from beef in taste.

Three Minute Journeys By Temple Manning

WHERE RELIEF DEPOTS ARE MAINTAINED FOR CASTAWAYS

SOME 70 miles south of New Zealand, on the verge of the great southern ice belt, lie the desolate Antipodes, swept by never ceasing blizzards. These islands—Bounty, Auckland, Enderby, the Campbell Islands and the Macquaries—are totally uninhabited. Many fine ships have crashed to destruction on their desolate rocks, and many fine crews have starved to death on their inhospitable shores.

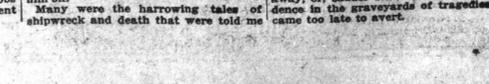

On every one of the islands records may still be found of the shipwrecks and deaths that have taken place there. So fearful are these records that the New Zealand government has erected relief depots for castaways on each of the islands, and sends a relief ship to make the rounds once a year. These relief depots are galvanized iron sheds about 100 feet by 50 feet, and are provided with tinned meats, biscuits, tea, coffee, cocoa, clothing, blankets, axes, guns, fishing tackle, medicines, supplies, everything, in fact, that one could wish to make life bearable after shipwreck.

In addition there is housed a good, seaworthy, double-decked boat fitted with oars, sails, a compass and a chart, so that if there is a navigating officer among those swept ashore the crew can make their way to civilization. The chart is plainly marked with the courses to the Bluff lighthouse, the nearest point on the New Zealand coast.

Although I have never set foot upon these islands, I have seen them, as the ship in which I was a passenger warily skirted the bleak shores. There was a stir among the sailors as we sighted the first of the group, and from that moment until the last slowly sank below the horizon there was always one man at least watching the distant shore line with binoculars. Had any one been sighted we would, of course, have taken him off.

Many were the harrowing tales of shipwreck and death that were told me during the days that followed. To be shipwrecked on the desolate Bounties spelled death it was feared, for there is not a vestige of vegetation or a blade of grass to be found. Even with the depots for castaways on each island, to be shipwrecked there is a terrible fate indeed.

Relief Depot and Graveyard on One of the Antipodes. It is seldom, so fierce are the storms in the waters that wash the Antipodes, that the relief ship makes its yearly rounds, without taking off some castaway, or, sadder still, finding mute evidence in the graveyards of tragedies that came too late to avert.

Today's Fashion

Blue Serge Street Dress.

STREET costumes of dark blue serge will be popular this spring, and this charming model shows an interesting development of the one-piece frock. The jumper bodice has a yoke braided with soutache, and the long, wide-mouthed sleeves are ornamented in the same manner.

The apron tunic, with a braided border, is suspended from the smoothly fitted yoke of the skirt, and is one of the latest offerings of fashion.
