Blazed Trail Stories Stories of the Wild Life

THE SAVING GRACE

Once upon a time there was an editor of a magazine who had certain ideas concerning short stories. This is not wonderful, for editors have such ideas; and when they find a story which corresponds, they accept it with joy and pay good sums for it. This particular editor believed that a short story should be realistic. "Let us have things as they are!" he was accustomed to cry to his best friend, or the printer's devil, or the office cat, whichever happened to be the handiest. "Life is great enough to say things for itself, without having to be helped out by the marvellous sentimentality of an artist! Permit us to see actual people, living actual lives, in actual houses, and I should hope we have common-sense enough to draw our own morals!" He usually made these chaotic exhortations after reading through several pages of very past manuscript, in which the sentences were long and involved, and in which were employed poly-syllabic adjectives of a poetic connotation. This editor liked short, crisp sentences. He wanted his adjectives to be plain and to have a direct connotation. Being only an editor, his name was Brown. He had been a writer, he would have had three names, beginning with successive letters of the alphabet.

Now, one day, it happened that there appeared before this editor, Brown, a young man bearing a roll of manuscript. How he had gotten by the office boy Brown could not conceive, and rolled manuscript usually gave him a headache. However, he opened the letter of introduction from Brown's best friend. He said he had a story to submit, and he would like to have a certain appearance of healthiness at the end of the sentence, which showed Brown that it was his friend's story. Brown turned inwardly, and smiled outwardly. He begged the youth to take a seat. As he had been a writer, he would have had three names, beginning with successive letters of the alphabet.

SICK HEADACHE

Many varieties of headache exist, those most prevalent being sick or bilious headache, nervous headache, headache from constipation, etc. Headache is an effect of disease, the cry of the suffering body for relief from some depressing disorder. Undoubtedly the cause must be removed in order to cure the headache permanently. Wrong action of the stomach, liver or bowels is responsible for nine out of ten cases of headache. In sick headache (a very common form) there is sometimes nausea and vomiting and usually constipation. In nearly all forms of headache Burdock Blood Bitters has proved itself a specific—a medicine that has cured where all others failed. Keep the stomach, liver and bowels in perfect working order by the use of Nature's regulator and tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters, which cures all forms of headache by removing the cause. Miss L. Smith, Morrisburg, Ont., writes: "I desire to let you know how much good Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I was troubled with headaches all the time, and could get no relief, until I found out me of your Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking two bottles of it, I can say that I am completely cured." B.B.B. is for sale at all druggists and general stores. Do not accept something just as good."

"Money Back" means merit. No house would offer to refund money, unless they were sure you would not want to have it refunded. When a house with a well earned reputation says, "your money back if you are not satisfied with our goods," you may be sure the goods are right. We have such implicit confidence in the virtues of GIN PILLS that we authorize druggists to refund the money if they fail to cure. WE KNOW THEY WILL CURE all kidney troubles—strengthen weak kidneys, and relieve pain in the back, dull headaches and all other distressing symptoms of kidney disease. That's why we make this emphatic offer. It's worth you to be relieved of the agonizing pain—its worth $2 or even $50 to be completely cured. And we refund the price if they fail. You certainly get your money's worth either way. Get a box of 4 big 25¢ pills at druggists or direct from THE SOLE DRUG CO., WINNIPEG, MAN.

Two of the party chased it in the small boat, blowing away when they got within gunshot, but it escaped by fast swimming. The sportsmen were so eager in the chase that they hauled their boat across Leston Island in pursuit and embarked on the waters of the outer bay, but they broke an oar and had to abandon the chase.

Financial and Commercial SCATHING ARRANGMENT OF THE SPECULATORS

It is Easy to Start a Conflagration But Hard to Put it Out --Business Interests Jeopardized--Warning to Investors. (New York Herald, Monday). While speculative stocks unquestionably offered remarkable resistance to the adverse development of the week, there is no assurance that the test of stability is final and conclusive. To the contrary there is every indication that a still more severe test will be made. Speculative executive officers of certain speculative financial institutions have up to the present time permitted the stock to move in the normal direction, or practically none, since June. In their effort to prevent the normal correction and check speculators during the last week banking funds have been placed at the disposal of speculative pools and cliques to such an extent that the large amount of money has been withdrawn from the market. This withdrawal of money has been accomplished by the creation of a reserve fund in the name of the reserve fund, which has been created for the purpose of maintaining the speculative market of their own nursing and maintaining the speculative market. This fund has been created by the speculative market of their own nursing and maintaining the speculative market. A number of predictions were given away at the close of the performance as advertised.

made Cake with Royal Household Flour and it proved a failure. She tried once more with the result that the family said it was the best cake they ever had in the house. She made the discovery on the second baking that she only needed 14 ounces of Royal Household where she had always used a pound of other kinds. She used the same quantity of water and shortening, however, and the cake was a great success.

WORK FOR ST. JOHN

"St. John will become great as a manufacturing centre, or it will not become great at all." The above remark, made by a leading local manufacturer yesterday to the Times, states the case exactly. The speaker is interested in several industries, and his opinion on the question of St. John's ability to compete in manufacturing is therefore of special value. He stated, and proved the statement by producing copies of invoices, that goods made here can be sold to advantage in Winnipeg and farther west. He agreed entirely with the statement made in the Times that more industries could be successfully conducted in this city. It is merely a question of capital and management.

Of what value are factories? One manufacturing concern in this city pays out nearly $2,000 per week in wages to work people all the year round. Two thousand dollars per week would give 200 families $10 each per week; or 150 families over $13 per week; or 100 families $20 per week. Of what value is winter sport trade, from the wage-earning standpoint, compared with a few large manufacturing industries? Figure it out.

But why have some factories failed in St. John? This question was answered yesterday by another citizen, who paid some thousands of dollars for his experience in a factory that did not succeed. He said the only reason for lack of success was that there was not the head of the enterprise as practical a man who knew all about it, and who had enough of his own money invested in it to make him vitally interested in its success.

"Get your capital," said this citizen, "and then get the right man, and you can carry on manufacturing successfully in St. John."

In further evidence he told of another industry that was carried on without yielding adequate returns until it did get the right man, who was also an investor, and who made it a success.

Here, then, are the facts—Given the capital and the managerial skill and interest in the enterprise, St. John can largely increase the number of skilled workmen earning a good living within its bounds. Obviously, it is to the interest of all to endeavor to attract the capital and the skill. What are we going to do about it? The interview with Mr. J. A. Lohely, which the Times prints today, should be read carefully and thoughtfully by every citizen. It is full of valuable suggestions.

MANUAL TRAINING

Should St. John have manual training? In Owen Sound, Ont., a town of about eleven thousand people, the town council has granted $10,000 to enlarge the high school building so that manual training including domestic science, may be added to the school course.

This action was taken after a committee of the school board—not the board of trade—had visited Berlin, Toronto, Stratford and Guelph, where manual training and domestic science classes are conducted. The school board thought it worth while to get the information, and to act on it. The Times to-morrow will publish this report in full, but it may be remarked here that the Owen Sound board estimate the cost of equipment for a 24 bench class room at $480, with perhaps $250 more for cupboards, tool racks, etc. The teacher's salary would be additional.

It towns like Owen Sound, Berlin, Stratford and Guelph, in Ontario, as well as St. Stephen and other towns in New Brunswick can afford manual training—why not St. John? The Owen Sound report in the Times to-morrow will be worth a careful reading.

THE HEALERS

As long as the human body is subject to disease, and the deeper problems of mind and matter remain unsolved, there will be marvellous tales of healing, and new organizations founded on the teachings of some man or woman who claims to have got into closer relations with God than the rank and file of humanity have been able to do.

This observation is suggested by two rival organizations, which submit in printed form the proof of their claims to superiority over each other and over all other healers of the human frame. One is the Christian Science organization, and the other is that of "John Alexander Dowie, First Apostle of the Lord Jesus the Christ, in the Christian Catholic Apostolic Church in Zion, who is also Elijah, the Prophet of the Restoration, the mighty Herald of the Times to 'Ead."

The gentleman who submits proof of the power of Christian Science is W. S. W. Wilking, M. R. C. S., L. R. C. P. D., of Wilking says:

"Under the very best that medicine and surgery had to offer, my daughter, suffering from tubercular disease (joints and lungs) was slowly and steadily dying five years ago, losing weight and strength daily, and it is due to nothing else than Christian Science that I am able to say she lives today a healthy, strong girl. This case would have been a failure under medicine, but has proved a success under Christian Science.

"Again, under medicine a patient of mine was certainly, and in much suffering, going down to her grave, with valvular disease of the heart, and complications. This case also—a would-have-been failure in medicine—became a complete success under Christian Science. Surgery had not done better to offer a young man, who had disease of the bones of the knee joint, than excision of the diseased bones and joints thereafter, as best, a stiff, shortened limb. Naturally we would have accepted this measure of success as a very good thing. Yet under Christian Science treatment this man retains the whole joint in a perfect, healthy and active condition."

This appears to be almost conclusive, but when we turn to Dowie's Leaves of Healing, and read the story written by General John A. Lewis, who resigned the vice-presidency of the Mississippi Oil Co. to throw in his lot with Dowie, a doubt arises, and one is compelled to make a choice between the two, or perhaps reject the claims of both. For Gen. Lewis says:

"In December, 1902, I was in a most miserable and critical state of health. For years I had been a great sufferer from nervous indigestion. At times I suffered excruciatingly, and, in fact, was never free from the keenest agony and pain. I had been a sufferer for years from kidney disease, and at that time was passing into an acute attack of Bright's disease. I had physician after physician, and none of them could do anything for me, or even hold out the slightest hope for the future. I was so desperately ill January 1, 1903, that I prepared to give up all business, and realized that I had but a short while to live. I had been a member of the Methodist church, or rather a bench-warmer in that church, for thirty-five years, but my thoughts went to Dr. Dowie, and to some of the reports I had heard of him and of remarkable healings in answers to his prayers. It came to my knowledge through so many undoubted sources that so many persons had been healed in answer to the prayers of Dr. Dowie that I determined to seek those prayers for myself, and began to believe that those prayers would cure me and prolong the life that is so dear to me. To get those prayers I resolved to cast in my lot with him and Zion.

"My application for membership in the church was made January 2, 1903; arrived in Chicago on Saturday, January 9, 1903; and at that time, as I said before, I was in great physical suffering and pain. On January 17, 1903, I was admitted into the church and baptized by Triane Immersion, the same as in the Greek church, plainly laid down by Matthew—'Into the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost.' January 21st, I was taken into Dr. Dowie's parlor. He told me there were some things I had to make right, which I resolved and promised to do immediately. On the 14th he prayed earnestly that God would relieve and heal me of my sufferings. I felt my pain disappear, and I was instantly healed. The sufferings of years disappeared at the call of the man so near to God, and from that day to this I have never felt an ache or pain, and have about forgotten what pain and suffering are. After the prayer and my restoration to health, which had been instantaneously effected, Dr. Dowie's secretary invited me to lunch with the First Apostle—Dr. Dowie's title in Zion—and I accepted with alacrity, eager and anxious to know personally the man who had so much power in prayer. At the luncheon I ate a hearty meal, my first in many months, and enjoyed every morsel of it—my first enjoyment of food for a long while.

"My healing was not all that Dr. Dowie's prayers accomplished for me and for mine. My wife, my married daughter and her husband, and my unmarried daughter, are with me in Zion, because they know the power and willingness of God to heal His children. My wife and daughters had been ill many times, and the periods were short when the doctor was not a visitor at our house. Since our healing and membership in the Christian Catholic Apostolic Church in Zion the doctor has never visited our house professionally, because he was never needed, and for the same reason our medicine bottles have been discarded."

The latest word from Dr. Dowie himself is that he is very ill, with little hope of recovery, having asked for the prayers of Zion; but Gen. Lewis appears to be still in good health. Dr. Dowie says that the press is "wrong-headed, degenerate, full of devilish hate, diabolically furious and murderous, spreading falsehood and planning assassination." Possibly other healers hold the same views, but there is always a temptation for the unregenerate to ask questions and make comparisons, which do not always produce the effect the healers desire. Indeed an unfeeling public occasionally sends a self-styled healer to jail. Not, perhaps, that his or her sincerity is questioned, but because it is not considered wise in the public interest to have them at large.

There are, of course, healers and healers, from the "doctor" who holds forth from a wagon on Market Square to the individual who professes to have discovered a means of electrifying a higher power into sudden and startling activity for the special benefit of some other individual. Until man learns more of the laws that govern human life these manifestations may be expected. Possibly they reveal glimpses of a higher truth in the realm of the mind, that may some day be made plain.

Since the above was written, the following despatch from Shelburne (Ont.) has come to hand:

"County Crown Attorney McKay, of Orangeville, has set the law in motion against Harry Scace, of Menanethon township, 'Church of God' faith cultist, whose two-year-old daughter, Sarah Adeline, died from diphtheria in July last from lack of medical attention. Today Scace was committed for trial by Magistrate Rutherford of Shelburne, on a charge of manslaughter."

As many as possible of those interested in education should attend the meeting in the high school assembly room this evening, to hear Inspector Hughes, of Toronto; Supt. Inch and the other speakers, and to learn from those who can speak with authority concerning the value of kindergarten work.

Men of Saint John. Lt.-Colonel Alfred Markham.

Lt.-Colonel Alfred Markham, managing director of the Sun Printing Company, Ltd., was born in Lincolnshire, England, on February 26, 1841, and is therefore in his 64th year. He is a son of John and Elizabeth (Bailey) Markham. He received a practical training in the public grammar school, and was subsequently employed in the railway and dock services in England until 1864, when he determined to try his fortune in the United States. Accordingly he took passage in the steamship "Bohemian." On the passage the "Bohemian" was wrecked near Portland (Me.), on February 22, 1864, and forty-two of the passengers were drowned. Col. Markham's first employment in America was on the Grand Trunk Railway of Portland and Boston; and after that, for about one year, he was engaged as purser on the International Company's steamer "New Brunswick," plying between Boston and this city.

In April, 1866, he came to New Brunswick to locate, and took charge for an American company of the manganese mine at Hammond Vale, Kings county. There he remained for twenty-five years, and in that quarter of a century succeeded in making the mine the most famous producer of manganese on the continent. The mining village which he established is still called in his honor, Markhamville.

In 1891 he bought out the St. John Daily Sun newspaper, and was also a proprietor of the Sun Printing Company, which was chosen managing director. In 1900 the company established the St. John Star, and has since successfully published both papers.

Colonel Markham was warden of Kings county when the Marquis de Lorne and the Princess Louise visited New Brunswick, and on behalf of the county of Kings he presented an address to them at Sussex. In 1880 he was appointed Senior Major of the Eighth Princess Louise Hussars, and in 1890 was gazetted Lieutenant-Colonel in the militia. He has been vice-president of the Provincial Rifle Association and president of the Canadian Cavalry Association. He was also commander of the Rifle team in 1896. In masonry he is a Knight Templar. He is also a past president of the George's Society, and is prominent in Independent Forestry, having held many court offices and been an accredited delegate to the Supreme Court.

He is now vice-president of the Keystone Fire Insurance Company, and has been a director of the Picot Charcoal Iron Company. Col. Markham has never entered civic politics, but has been prominent in the Exhibition Association as a member of the executive and other committees, and is a member of the Board of Trade. He is a good public speaker, and during the years he has lived in St. John has been actively interested in all matters affecting the city's welfare. In politics he is an active Conservative, and in religion a member of the Church of England. He is a member of the United Club, and was for two years its president.

He was married in November, 1866, to Nellie, daughter of the late John E. Turnbull. His family consists of two sons and four daughters. Col. Markham's sons have followed their father's military bent. His oldest son, Alfred J. Markham, is a major in the 8th Hussars, while his second son, Ralph P. Markham, holds a captain's commission, and is as well a veteran of the South African war.

STUDENT INTOLERANCE (Toronto, Globe). The students of Laval University, Montreal, have done themselves serious discredit and have offended against all the finer instincts of their race by their conduct in disturbing a religious service at the Assommoire Hall on Thursday evening of last week. Their conduct is all the more inexcusable because they are students and French-Canadian. If education does anything useful for a man it saves him from conceit in his own inability and makes him tolerant of the views of other people. And if French blood carries in it anything superior it is the instinct of courtesy and civility. The conduct of these students from Laval was at once conceited, intolerant, discourteous, and unchristian. The authorities of the university and the French newspapers of the city do well in denouncing in the direct and strongest words the behavior of the students. For that behavior no excuse can be offered, and no extenuation. The student whose meeting they "raided" is a French-Canadian, like themselves. The fact that he is a Protestant and they are Roman Catholics gives them no standing superior to his, either before the law or before the world. He was exercising the inalienable right of free speech in a free country. His motive or his arguments have nothing to do with the case. He was within his rights as a Canadian. They were wholly and utterly in the wrong. That wrong, the indignity of it and the danger of it, ought to be brought home to these students and to each as sympathize with them.

When home dyeing has to be done, will it pay our women to use weak and adulterated dyes sold in connection with cheap-John jewelry, rough plated ware and common beads, or will they prefer to use the world-famous DIAMOND DYES which sell entirely on their merits and established reputation? Wise and prudent women who place a money value on their faded dresses, skirts, blouses, jackets, capes, ribbons, stockings, curtains, draperies, husbands' and children's clothing, know well that to make the old and dingy things look like new they must, in justice to themselves and the first principles of economy, use the never-fading DIAMOND DYES. In which family, every color is guaranteed to produce perfect results when the simple directions are followed. The temptation to buy cheap, shoddy, should never induce any intelligent woman or girl to use poorly prepared dyes, which ruin good materials and fabrics. The crude dyes referred to, are sold by some retailers for the sake of large profits, a most unwise business for the short-sighted merchants who are losing many valuable customers who find they are disappointed and swindled. At this time, when women are doing home coloring, we say, do like the tens of thousands who are meeting with success and profit, use only the DIAMOND DYES, which are sold at ten cents, same price as the weak and blotchy dyes. See that the name DIAMOND PA-RABLE DYES is on each envelope handed you. Miss Mabel Maxwell, daughter of Robt. Maxwell, M. P., who has been visiting Mrs. James Edge in Fredericton for some weeks, returned to St. John yesterday.

A FIGHT FOR EXISTENCE That is What the Ontario Liquor Men Say They Must Wage. (Toronto World) James Haverson, solicitor of the Licensed Victuallers' Association, will appear before a good many of the municipal councils and the liquor interests generally will be actively at work during the next two months to offset the local option campaign.

BETTER PAY FOR TEACHERS Perhaps the profession which has shared in the least generous degree in the rewards of modern effort is that of the teacher. It is one of the anomalies of our present-day life that those to whom are entrusted the education of the young who will constitute the manhood and womanhood of the future are rewarded with pitifulness of remuneration which may well be characterized as beggarly.

The Wine and Spirit Journal editorially states that the trade must now fight for its existence and declares that "funds must be raised and come from the forcing of increased liquor sales. All incentive to discourage excessive drinking is gone. All inducements to invest capital in improvements for the comfort of the traveling public is scattered to the winds and the liquor traffic falls back to the very standard from which the government backed by the electorate is trying to raise it. Unless very vigorous and well directed local opposition is brought into existence the local option by-law will carry in, perhaps, one-third of the constituencies."

The National Education Association has taken up the cause of a better compensation for teachers, and has published this year the results of a very wide and careful investigation of the conditions of the teacher's life today and of the remuneration that teachers receive. It has pointed out the increasingly exacting nature of the requirements for teachers. These are becoming more and more severe, and the standards of knowledge and efficiency which are being insisted upon for the teachers must be raised to a higher level.

The Sun Life Assurance Co. OF CANADA IS CONDUCTED IN THE INTEREST OF ITS POLICY HOLDERS. FOR PROOF OF THIS STATEMENT, SEE List of Fifteen and Twenty Year Dividend Policies Which Have Matured at the New Brunswick Agency During 1905. The Profits Paid on These Policies Exceeded Expectations of Policy Holders. These results are splendid examples of what is being daily accomplished throughout Canada by this prudently managed and prosperous Company. The Sun Life of Canada commenced business in 1871, and its Reserve Fund is largely in excess of the amount required by Government standard. The Company also issues Very Attractive Guaranteed Dividend and Annual Dividend Policies. GILBERT C. JORDAN, Manager for New Brunswick. W. A. McGINLEY, Special Agent

A Timely Business Card From W. Tremaine Gard. I have just completed my purchases of HOLIDAY GOODS for this season, and assure my friends and would-be customers that never before in my 35 years of business in this city have I ever had such a complete line of first class, reliable, up-to-date stock of WATCHES, GLOCKS, JEWELRY, Silverware, Open and Field Glasses, Manicure and Toilet Sets, and such articles, as I have now on hand to show them; while my DIAMONDS and other precious gems in Rings, Brooches and Pins, are incomparable in quality with what is generally found in jewelry stores, and the prices are much below the quotations of the catalogues sent here from other cities. Call and see them and be convinced before purchasing elsewhere. W. TREMAINE GARD, Diamond Dealer and Jeweller, 77 Charlotte Street.

A Question for Women TO SETTLE When home dyeing has to be done, will it pay our women to use weak and adulterated dyes sold in connection with cheap-John jewelry, rough plated ware and common beads, or will they prefer to use the world-famous DIAMOND DYES which sell entirely on their merits and established reputation? HITCH IN TRANSFER OF ISLE OF PINES Washington, Nov. 15—Senator Quesada, the Cuban minister here, called at the state department today and seemed to be considerably agitated over the news of the movement in the Isle of Pines, to oppose the formal transfer of the island to Cuba. He had an interview on the subject with Secretary Root, but declined to make any statement concerning it. The contention of the American residents of the island is that as they own in fee simple five-sixths of the ground and the remaining one-sixth is in the hands of one or two Spanish families, the 1,200 native residents being non-property owners, they have a right to be heard by the government. A suggestion has been made here that is known to have received official consideration, at the effect that in view of the fact that the war department actually did at one time give ground for a belief on the part of some persons that the Isle of Pines was American, it would be only just for this government to pay these settlers for the land.

ANNUAL REPORT President Nicholas Murray Butler submitted his annual report to the board of trustees of Columbia University this week, says the Boston Transcript. The report deals almost entirely with the financial condition of the institution, its educational changes during the last year, and the measures taken by the authorities for the abolition of tuition. The total outstanding debt of Columbia at present is $3,528,212.28. The budget for the present year shows that $1,778,783.94 will be required to pay all running expenses. The income last year amounted to $1,998,399.50 from all sources. The gifts to the university in the last year have been unusually generous, according to President Butler, amounting to nearly $2,000,000, an increase over the previous year of $177,100. The totals do not include gifts promised but not yet paid to the several trustees. The most important gift of the last year was an anonymous donation of a fund of $300,000 for the erection of a new hall, to be known as Hamilton Hall. The disturbance resulting from the suspension of four sophomores last December for attempting to capture and haze Kingdon Gould has provoked the authorities to put themselves on record as opposed to the continuance of the custom. President Butler, voicing their sentiment, makes the following remark: "Hazing is not and will not be permitted in any form at any time or under any circumstances, and any student who undertakes to haze or annoy another, either singly or in concert with his fellows, will be punished as severely as the circumstances in any particular case appear to justify."

THE TWELFTH JUROR. "Where is the twelfth juror?" exclaimed an Idaho judge as court reconvened after a recess, with only eleven good men and true on the box. One jurymen arose. "These, judge," said he, "is the twelfth juror as it goes. He had to go on private business, but he left his verdict with me."
