N.B. MAN SOUGHT IN NEW HAMPSHIRE HILLS

MAX ENGLEHART MISSING SINCE LAST SATURDAY

Searchers Fear He Has Perished In Snow Storms

TRACKS FOUND

Evidence is that He Attempted to Negotiate Perilous Trail

GORHAM, N. H., Oct. 14—A searching party, hurriedly organized, left on snowshoes early this morning from Glen House in Pinkham Notch to search for Max Englehart, a native of New Brunswick, who is believed lost in the mountains. The party set out for Tuckerman's Ravine on Mount Washington to conduct the search, but little hope is held that the Canadian who has survived the storms which have raged for the past few days.

Englehart had worked all summer in the kitchen at the Glen House, after coming here from New Brunswick. Two weeks ago he went to the summit of Mount Washington to serve as cameraman for the old stage office, where he was to give shelter and food to automobile parties until the close of the automobile season late this week.

SNOW COMES EARLY

Snow came early, as it usually does on the mountain, but in greater quantity than is customary at this season. Last Saturday there was a heavy fall accompanied by a terrific gale. A note found in the building where Englehart had been staying alone, said that he "left for Tuckerman's Ravine at 12 o'clock" on that day.

Searching parties yesterday found footprints in the snow a few hundred feet below the summit, near the head-wall of the precipice over which leads the perilous trail to the ravine.

E. C. Libby, manager of the Glen House, who accompanied the searchers, said that it was the general opinion that although Englehart had spent winters in the woods in New Brunswick and British Columbia, as a trapper, he must have lost his senses in the mountain blizzard.

"He must have gone crazy," said Libby, "to attempt the ravine trail when he could have made his way down the road without much trouble. He had enough food in the cabin to last him two weeks, and a plenty of wood for fuel to keep him warm."

Joe Dodge, manager of the Appalachian Mountain Club camp in Pinkham Notch, is in charge of today's searching party. It appears as though Englehart had been heading for that camp. The snow is 10 feet deep in some places on the mountain, and four feet deep on the slopes leading up to the ravine.

Many Resignations, Dismissals and Appointments Announced at Capital

RECORD LONDON CROWD WILL GREET PRINCE

$257,359,567 in Canadian Goods Exported Through U. S.

BY A. M. BELDING

Statement of the Canadian traffic going through American ports. A statement for the year ending July last shows the value of exports of Canadian products through United States ports to have been $257,359,567, and of the imports through the same channel $11,615,674; or a total value of exports and imports, of almost $269,000,000.

It is impossible to get a detailed statement regarding the imports via U. S. ports, but they really make but a small fraction of our total import trade. Turning to the exports it is found that grain and flour make up most of the shipments, as is shown by the following table:

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Value. Wheat: $113,291,332; Flour: 38,396,333; Barley: 16,561,317; Oats: 5,782,782; Rye: 3,779,148. Total: $177,810,112

TO this may be added nearly $10,000,000 for packing house products and over $1,000,000 for cheese, bringing the total up to about $188,000,000 of the total of $257,359,567 passing out through American ports. Of this outward and inward business, which totals about $269,000,000, there is still about $81,000,000 to be accounted for. I am unable to get any record of the classes of goods it represents.

So far as grain is concerned, it has been clearly pointed out that since the business is so complicated and done on so fine a margin nothing short of an export duty or embargo would prevent the shippers from taking advantage of the lowest ocean rate, from whatever port it might be secured, from Baltimore to Montreal or Saint John. Regarding flour, the millers say, as do the packing houses, that the demand for quick service forces them to use American ports to a considerable extent. Then there are exports to and imports from South America, Mediterranean and Far East ports where there is no Canadian steamship service—or only an infrequent one.

It is fair to make these explanations, and also to point out that our exports through Canadian ports but there is no room for doubt that when our importers and exporters get a clearer knowledge of what the building up of our own railway and port traffic means to Canada there will be a diversion of considerable traffic now thoughtlessly routed through American ports to our own, including Saint John and Halifax. Both these ports are gaining ground this year, and determined efforts must be made to have them so equipped that as the business grows the accommodation will be there.

SOCIETY PLANS A GALA NIGHT FOR HIS RETURN

Official Reception Will Begin Off Spithead in Morning

CITY DECORATED

"Empire Ambassador" Promised Big Welcome No Matter What Weather

LONDON, Oct. 14—London is preparing a rousing welcome for the Prince of Wales when he returns home Friday after his 25,000-mile voyage to South Africa and South America. Regardless of the state of the weather, it is expected that the crowds lining the route from the Victoria Station to Buckingham Palace will be a record one.

Society is planning a gala night. Most of the smart hotels have booked gay dancing, dinner and supper parties, featuring topical novelties in the shape of miniature models of the battle cruiser, the decorations of Prince Wales' feathers, and other souvenirs, the nature of which is left secret.

Official receptions will begin off Spithead Friday morning, where decorations and salutes will meet the prince and escort her toward Portsmouth. As soon as the Repulse reaches her berth in the harbor, she will be boarded by the Duke of York, who will greet his brother and give him his hand news of home affairs.

Those members of the Prince's suite next to greet him, will be the Duke of York, High officers of the army and navy will add their welcome and, as soon as the Prince steps ashore, there will be various ceremonies, including an address by the Lord Mayor of Portsmouth, after which the two princes will board the royal train for London.

Arriving at the Victoria Station, at 8 p.m., the Prince will find his parents, and other members of the royal family, with distinguished statesmen, including foreign representatives, waiting to receive him. The first greetings will be from his father and mother, who have come from their castle at Sandringham, specially for the occasion. After the official reception, which will be held in the nearest route to Buckingham Palace, to await the arrival of her son there.

Then will come the time for "the people," who have already decorated the streets with bunting, and who, according to all indications, plan to cheer their "ambassador of the empire," as he never neered before.

Dealing With LIFE

TO BE AS "KIM," a friend to all the world. That is the ambition of Mrs. Elizabeth Gilmer, "Dorothy Dix," whose daily articles and answers to correspondents are now appearing exclusively in "The Evening Times-Star." To her come each day, bits of the world, from large cities and obscure hamlets, wherever English language newspapers are published. Of this voluminous correspondence, "Dorothy Dix" says:

"These letters are the most amazing human documents that were ever written, and as they flow across my desk in an endless stream, I am given such a glimpse of the human heart as perhaps no other human being has ever been privileged to see. It is a cross section of life, raw and bleeding, with nothing covered up, nothing hidden. Some of the letters are written by boys on which they have imagined men and women getting up from beds on which they have tossed sleepless to try to ease their over-burdened hearts by writing me of temptations they are fighting, of crimes they have committed, of sins they are contemplating, or dark secrets that they can bear alone no more."

A little fat-fetched, you say. No; it's just life, baring its everyday ups-and-downs and puzzling cross-currents. "Dorothy Dix" touches with rare understanding on the little problems that make the great things of life.

"Dorothy Dix" is not exclusively a woman's feature. Men, too, should not fail to read her articles, for they are worth-while as a study of human nature as well as for their entertaining and common-sense qualities. If you have not started reading this splendid feature, do so at once. You will find it daily on the Feature Page.

WANT YOUNG TO BE INTERESTED

Emphasis on This is Laid at Meeting of the W. C. T. U.

Veteran Members of Order are Welcomed at Provincial Session Here Today.

Emphasis on the need of arousing the interest of the young people in temperance work was a leading theme in this morning session of the W. C. T. U. in provincial convention in Central Baptist Church. Mrs. M. D. Austin led a devotional period on "In-ter-est-ry Prayer."

MANY YEARS IN WORK.

Two aged members of the provincial union were introduced in the persons of Mrs. Ariana Hunt, aged 82 and Mrs. J. Colter, of Fredericton, still very active in Christian work. She is the widow of a former prominent Methodist clergyman. Mrs. Hunt, who now resides in Hampton, said that she was a charter member of the Saint John Union, joining in October 1877. Mrs. Hunt was the first financial secretary and led the first junior union. This was attended regularly by more than 100 children.

URGES WORK FOR YOUNG.

Mrs. C. O. Mutch, treasurer, reported as a young people's society secretary and gave several reasons why the young people should be encouraged to join the Y. Among many things it could do for the young Canadians was to develop their knowledge of Christian citizenship and social welfare. She said the W. C. T. U. work needed the impetus of the young life of the nation to make it go forward to victory. To some extent she said that the four fold programme of the Canadian Girls in Training and C. G. I. T. among the boys, was taking the place of the society for the young in the W. C. T. U.

MISS AMY PATTERSON GAVE A REPORT OF THE WORK FOR CHILDREN IN THE LOYAL LEGION OF TEMPERANCE.

Mrs. George Wilson, secretary treasurer, reported she had introduced into the society with a balance of $88.25 in the treasury. She was given a special vote of thanks, because she had carried on her work without charge upon the union.

Mrs. H. H. Colemann, of Moncton, was given a special vote of thanks because she had supplied the year books of the society, making the financial obligation herself.

Rev. A. D. MacLeod, of Carmarthen street United Church, led the non-ideological devotional hour, taking for his subject "The Personality, Presence, Guidance and Leadership of the Holy Spirit." Rev. Mr. MacLeod and Mrs. Austin were both thanked by the president for their helpful addresses. Rev. Mr. MacLeod said that he wished to pay a tribute to Mrs. Colemann as she had been an inspiration to many young people by her godly life and her fine sense of humor.

This afternoon the members were taken for a sight seeing trip. There will be a public meeting in the evening.

CANADIAN PACIFIC MOUNT COMPARTMENT SLEEPERS.

The greatest satisfaction has been expressed by those who have traveled between Saint John and Montreal in the Compartment sleepers, which have been in operation since August last on Canadian Pacific train 15, leaving Saint John at four o'clock in the afternoon and train 16, leaving Montreal at seven o'clock in the evening. This class of sleeper has always been operated on the more important lines of the Canadian Pacific, and its adoption lately on the Montreal route has proved very successful, and growing more popular all the time.

The style of compartment sleeper in service here has three compartments, one drawing-room, while the balance of the car is given to observation purposes. Of course the car is fitted up in Canadian Pacific style and standard, and all the arrangements tend to the complete comfort of the occupant. The accommodations offer every opportunity for rest and relaxation, and at the same time give ample chance to view the scenery en route. Each compartment contains one lower and one upper berth, and all toilet facilities, etc., much the same as the regular drawing-rooms; they are what might be termed Private State-rooms, and are considerably less in price than the ordinary drawing-rooms. Patrons desiring strict privacy with all the comforts and accommodations offered in drawing-rooms, or those who heretofore have been unable to secure drawing-room, will find the compartment of the greatest benefit.

CONFER ON MATTER OF TRINITY CHIMES

English Firm's Representative Discusses With Church Corporation Matter of Bells.

Arthur Henry Townsend, representative of Gillett and Johnston, Croydon, England, bell founders and clock makers, is in the city today conferring with the Corporation of Trinity church in connection with the installation of a new set of chimes and clock. Mr. Townsend has just come from New York where he had charge of the installation, in the Park Avenue Baptist church, of the largest and heaviest carillon in the world. This has 88 bells, ranging in weight from 12 pounds to 9 1/2 tons.

Mr. Townsend has also been in charge of the installation of a set of 28 bells, with automatic player, and clock in the Norfolk War Memorial at Simcoe, Ont. and an addition of 28 bells to the 20 already installed at Cohasset, Mass. He will leave this afternoon for Montreal to sail for home.

TRANSFER LIQUOR

Cases Are Being Taken From Wrecked Schooner Cora Gertie.

According to information received here this morning the schooner Cora Gertie, which was wrecked and sunk near Deer Island in the recent storm, has been raised and the 1,500 cases of liquor which were in her holds are being transferred to another schooner. This work, it is reported, is being conducted under the eagle eye of the officers of the customs and preventive services to see that none of the liquor is landed illegally.

When questioned concerning the matter this morning C. B. Lockhart, local collector of customs said that he had not received any official word of the carrying on of this work but added that it was perfectly legal for the liquor thus to be transferred where the vessel was wrecked on the shore during a storm.

The Best of Advice

—BY CLARK KINNAIRD

LYING SILENCE. AMONG the sayings that have a wide currency in spite of being wholly false, one of the grossest conveys the proposition that it is easy to tell the truth and hard to tell a lie.

Most of us know this is idealism. The truth always is the hardest to tell.

ALL of us tell many little lies every day, most of them unspoken. The cruelest lies often are told in silence.

Stevenson observes that a man may have sat in a room for hours and not opened his teeth, and yet come out of that room a disloyal friend or a vile calumniator.

"A lie may be told by the truth, or a truth conveyed through a lie," he says.

"Truth to facts is not always truth to sentiment; and part of the truth, as often happens in answer to a question, may be the foulest calumny."

A FACT may be an exception; but the feeling is the law, and it is that which must neither be garbled nor belied.

The whole tenor of a conversation is part of the meaning of each separate statement; the beginning and the end define and travesty the intermediate conversation.

To tell the truth, rightly understood, is not to state the true facts, but to convey a true impression; "truth in spirit, not truth to letter," is the true veracity.

"IT TAKES two to speak truth—one to speak and another to hear," rightly opines Thoreau.

Poems That Live

ON THE GRASSHOPPER AND CRICKET.

The poetry of earth is never dead: When all the birds are faint with the hot sun And hide in cooling trees, a voice will run From hedge to hedge about the new-mown mead.

That is the grasshopper—he takes the lead In summer luxury—he has never done With his delight; for, when tired out with fun, He rests at ease beneath some pleasant weed.

The poetry to earth is ceasing never: On a lone winter evening, when the frost Has wrought a silence, from the store there shrills The cricket's song, in warmth increasing ever, And seems, to one in drowsiness half lost, The grasshopper's among some grassy hills.

—John Keats.

FOREIGNERS AT WAR.

(St. Catharines Standard.) The foreigners of Port Weller had a battle royal the other day. Nothing definite is known concerning the row, but from the little that can be learned, it must have been quite a shooting affair.

Bullets were flying around in every direction and knives were brandished.

The miniature war started in the afternoon and lasted far into the night. From what can be learned no one interfered with the foreigners at attempted to learn anything about the row.

Notwithstanding the fact that several dozen shots were fired, the police heard nothing of the matter until a reporter informed them.

Dinner Stories

In a certain town of southwestern Iowa, practical jokes abound.

The undertaker's private consultation room is headquarters—possibly because it's just outside the limelight.

One evening Bill Tallcorn got more refreshment than was good for him—in fact the "corn" put Bill to sleep.

So the boys hoisted Bill, bodily, to the upper story, and disposed him neatly into one of the coffins—then waited to see what happened.

After several hours Bill awoke, sat up, took in the surroundings with a judicial eye, and ejaculated:

"Jeh like I told 'em, by heck! Resurrection Day—an' I'm the first guy out!"

The darky in question had simmered in the heat of St. Augustine all his life, and was decoyed by the report that colored men could make as much as $7 a day in Duluth.

He headed North in a seersucker suit and into a hard winter. At Chicago, while waiting for a train, he shivered in an engine room, and on the way to Duluth sped by miles of snow fields.

On arriving he found the mercury at 18 below and promptly lost the use of his hands. Then his feet stiffened and he lost all sensation.

They picked him up and took him to a crematory for unknown reasons. After he had been in the oven for awhile somebody opened the door for inspection. Rastus came to and shouted:

"Shut dat do' and close dat draft!"

Who's Who

IN THE DAY'S NEWS.

THE wedding of Princess Ileana of Rumania to Principe Amedeo Duca di Puglia, eldest son of Duca d'Aosta, a cousin of the King of Italy, will take place on December 23.

For several years Princess Ileana has been reported as about to be engaged to several European princes.

She is almost as tall as her mother, slender and graceful. Although Russian and Portuguese blood as well as English and Roumanian flows in her veins, the princess is very fond of her mother's country, England, and has spent considerable time there. She has an English governess and speaks English perfectly.

She will not wear a crown as do her sisters, ex-Queen Elizabeth of Greece and Queen Marie of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes. Her fiancé was born in Turin in 1898. He is a senator and a major in the artillery.

Princess Ileana is seventeen years of age.

STATESMEN EMERGING.

(Outlook, London.) An unwritten law of the British Constitution provides that politicians talk continuously eleven months out of the twelve. In the odd month they are presumed, by a convenient fiction, to think; it is therefore called the dead season.

These alleged cogitations being concluded, there are signs that our statesmen are now beginning to stir.

THE MOSUL PROBLEM. (Paris Temps.) (The submission of the League of Nations' report on Mosul to the permanent Court of International Justice is regarded as a blow to the League's prestige.)

Recourse to the permanent Court of International Justice allows some time to be gained, some months, which will no doubt be profitably employed in an attempt to prepare a direct arrangement between London and Ankara.

This saves the situation for the moment, but the question of Mosul returns once more in its entirety, for ground has evidently been lost from the position which appeared to have been gained last year, when Fethi Bey was at Geneva as the accredited representative of the Ankara Government.

Ivory has become so precious that approximately 20,000 elephants are killed annually for their tusks.

BRITAIN'S OVERSEAS TRADE.

(Round Table.) The second cardinal point is that Great Britain is not getting a smaller share of international commerce than before the war. It was recently stated by the president of the Board of Trade and confirmed by the report of the Balfour Committee that so far we have held our own in competition for overseas markets.

The belief that lower wages and longer hours on the Continent are cutting out British goods is not justified by the facts to any substantial degree, though an international standardization of the working week would be a valuable guarantee against unfair competition.

St. Andrew's Kirk Young Men's Club Hears of Growth

Membership Shows Gain—Activities are Outlined and Officers Chosen.

St. Andrew's Kirk Young Men's Club opened its season with banquet last night when 50 to 60 young men were present and L. F. Sewell presided. The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: President, John Y. Murray; vice-president, James Sewell; secretary-treasurer, Harry Roser; and additional members of the executive, Stanley Rankine, Albert Finley, David Tweedie, H. Grice, J. D. Robertson, S. J. Parkhill and Fred Smith. The club will meet on each Tuesday evening and on each Sunday afternoon. The young ladies of the Excelsior class waited upon the table efficiently and the banquet was much enjoyed. A sing song was indulged in and L. W. Bewick sang "On the Road to Mandalay" and was heartily enjoyed.

Mr. Sewell spoke of the success which has attended the club since its organization two years ago when the membership had been about 25. Last year it had climbed to more than 40 and in the present year it would be about 60. He felt the club was filling a long felt want in the city. He referred to the printed programs of activities up to the end of January which had been prepared by the executive and in closing asked for the loyal co-operation of members in the ensuing year.

SPEAKS OF PROGRESS.

Rev. Mr. Bonnell described St. Andrew's as pre-eminently a church of church work for young men and women and referred to the program for the year. He made special mention of the public speaking course and the help it would be for young men in business being a means of improving their salesmanship, and in the business letters and making them more efficient in every way. He said also that the program was well balanced by athletic and social events. With reference to the Sunday afternoon meetings he asked the young men to bring their religious problems to these meetings to have them freely discussed. At the Sunday meeting a study of the life of Christ as portrayed in the four gospels would be taken up. Rev. Mr. Bonnell reminded the members that each was entitled to bring a visitor to any meeting.

Large Audience in Natural History Society Rooms Enjoys Address on China.

A capacity audience in the Natural History rooms yesterday afternoon heard Mrs. Francis Aysough give an illustrated address on Chinese Memorial Temples. Her address was the first of this season's lecture course of the Ladies' Association of the Natural History Society, and was fully illustrated with a marvellously beautiful lantern slides hand colored by Miss Lucille Douglass, noted artist. Mrs. Margaret Lawrence, president of the Ladies' Association, introduced Mrs. Aysough and voiced the appreciation of her audience which had been applause.

SPIRITUAL EXAMPLE.

Mrs. Aysough placed the spiritual example of the great men of China on equal plane with ancestor worship as a cause for the endurance of the Chinese civilization. She explained the Chinese idea of the Creator and His close association with spirits and enlightened men. They held that those who were great transformed others. Their national heroes they made historic types to which they erected Memorial Temples. Mrs. Aysough declared that there was no hint of idolatry in the reverence paid to these great men. They had simply been individuals who had been elevated to prototypes to inspire future generations and hundreds had been so honored. Then she told of her own visit to three of the famous Memorial Temples, each of which had been erected to honor a different type of great man.

Mrs. Aysough closed her address by stating her conviction that the spiritual hero-worship of the Chinese had been to a great degree responsible for the longevity of the race, and meant much for its continuance.

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from indigestion and indigestion, have no discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets after meals with a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because of any good drug more. It instantly neutralizes the stomach acidity, sweetens the stomach, prevents flatulence, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself. Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

Adjutant and Mrs. Wright of Salvation Army to Montreal

Are Engaged in Young People's Work—Will Leave This Month.

Promotion has come to Adjutant and Mrs. J. T. Wright, of the Salvation Army, who came here in September, 1924, with Major and Mrs. Thomas Burton, commanding officers of the Saint John division. Adjutant and Mrs. Wright, who are young people's executives, will leave the last of the month for Montreal, where they will carry on the same work they did here, but of much larger proportions. Adjutant Wright joined the army in England 20 years ago and was an officer for the rest, studying at the International College, London, England, before taking up the work. He is a corps cadet in the junior department of the Army. Besides his ability as a speaker, Adjutant Wright is musician of skill. He was a member of the Salvation Army staff band of Toronto and was booked to sail with that band on the ill-fated Empress of Ireland. By some change in the order from headquarters, there was a misunderstanding and Adjutant Wright was terribly disappointed when he was left behind. He has since felt deeply grateful to the strange circumstances which spared his life when all his associates in the band were drowned, when the Empress of Ireland was sent below in a collision. The farewell meeting here will be held on Tuesday, October 27, in the city, when Major Burton will preside. Adjutant Wright regrets deeply leaving his pleasant associations here, but says that the work is the main thing.

Schofield, president, was in the chair and the meeting was held in the Pythian Castle with a fair attendance of members. Routine reports were received and the charitable committee reported fewer calls for aid during the summer than during the previous quarter. One new member was elected. Concert at St. Philip's Church Enjoyed

St. Philip's church was well filled last evening with an appreciative audience to enjoy a concert of excellence. Rev. C. M. Labor Minister Says Workers

During Event.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 14.—The "inside story" of the postal strike of June, last year, was told by Hon. James Murdock last night, when the Minister of Labor opened his campaign in the riding of High Park, here. Reviewing the events that led up to the calling of the strike, and to occasion for the oft-quoted remark he made at the time as to how long the men would stay out, Mr. Murdock said he had no apologies to make. As a labor minister, he said, and one who had gone through "strikes," "won, lost and drawn," he wanted the postal workers to realize that they could not win when they took the attitude that they "were going to stay out in strike until they compelled the government to accede to their demands." "The postal workers know now," he said, "that I was their best friend right through the piece."

Before Entering Matrimony Every Young Man Should Be Taught That It Takes Two to Make a Happy Home, That a Wife Must Have Outside Amusement, and That a Compliment a Day Keeps the Divorce Lawyer Away.

IT HAS been announced that the University of Chicago is about to establish a course to teach girls the art of making good wives. Praise be, that is a commendable institution of learning, so that doubtless a similar course in husbandry, so to speak, will be open to the male students.

DOROTHY DIX

Heaven knows, they need it, for the average man's idea of being a good husband is to put a wedding ring on a woman's finger, dump her down in a house and leave her to thank God that she has the privilege of cooking and sewing, and scrubbing and washing without wages for him, instead of working in an office for a salary for some other man. Every man who feeds and clothes his wife and doesn't beat her puts himself on the back and pins model-husband medals on his breast and feels that he has done his full duty in the holy estate.

It doesn't occur to him that being a meal ticket and a cash register do not fill the measure of a woman's desire in a husband, and that the reason why there are so many peevish, sour, disgruntled wives in the world is because women are so generally fed on the husks of matrimony that they have acquired a spiritual dyspepsia.

INASMUCH as most men either will marry, or are married, and their happiness and prosperity depend upon their making a success of the venture, it is just as important that they should be taught how to make good husbands as it is that girls should be taught how to make good wives.

Now, the first three principles, the A B C of how to be happy though married, that should be drilled into the heads of these bright-eyed young students should be: Not to get married until they have the price; not to marry until they have arrived at man's estate and know what sort of wives they want, and not to marry until they have sown their wild-oat crops and are ready to settle down.

MOST of the marriages that go to shipwreck founder on one or the other of these rocks. There is no happy home with a wife perpetually howling outside of the door. No man can see his wife and children in want and be comforted by debts and torn with anxiety without repenting his marriage and blaming the woman who was a party to his folly.

First. That making a happy home is a two-handed job, and it takes a man and a woman both to do it. No woman can do it alone, though she cook like a chef, smile like a Cheshire cat and though she has the disposition of an angel and the tact of a diplomat.

Second. The boys should be taught that you can jolly a woman into anything, but you can't drive her an inch. If they want their wives to be good cooks they must put away the hammer and get out the saw. They must not knock the bread when it is heavy and the pie when it is tough, but tell wifey that she has spoiled them by her perfect pastry, and she will break her neck trying to live up to her reputation.

Third. A young man should be taught that women count words more than deeds, and that a wife must be kept continually assured of her husband's love if she is to be happy.

Fourth. Young men should be taught that every wife yearns for a little appreciation. She is willing to work like a slave and to make every sort of sacrifice, but she gets sore and bitter if her husband takes it as no more than his due.

Fifth. Young men should be taught that they must do something to make their wives actively happy, that they must give them some little amusement.

HOUSEWORK and taking care of children is the most nerve-racking and monotonous work on earth, and the woman who has done that all day needs a little diversion in the evening. There ought to be a law compelling every man to take his wife out to some place of amusement at least once a week.

SIXTH. Men should be given a course in bills—food bills, and doctors' bills, and millinery bills, and all the other bills and bills that are the inevitable concomitant of matrimony. Then they would not be so horrified when they found out what it cost to support a family.

AND, above all, and in this lies all the law and the prophets concerning the art of being a good husband, young men should be taught to show the women they marry that they love them and to make pretty speeches to them.

For a compliment a day keeps the divorce lawyer away. DOROTHY DIX.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON MISTER BUNNY'S TROUBLES.

"Yes, Mister Bunny," said the little squirrel boy up in the tree, "you needn't be frightened. Your car made that sound and you weren't shot at all." "Well, I am certainly glad to hear it," said Mister Bunny fanning himself with his tail. "I guess I am extra nervous today. I jumped about a mile a little while ago when someone opened a bottle and it went 'pop'."

"What makes you so nervous?" asked Scramble Squirrel curiously. "My conscience, I suppose, mostly," said Mister Bunny. "You see I just couldn't help slipping into the sausage-patch garden this summer to nibble the green things growing there."

"Just me cracking a nut," laughed Scramble. "Did you think you were shot again, Mister Bunny?" "Yes, I certainly did," said poor Mister Bunny. "I am nervous, I tell you."

"Don't say that word—please," shivered Mister Bunny. "I didn't stop, and neither did my children, and Mister Farmer didn't like us. Now whenever I hear a loud noise I shiver. Oh! What was that!"

"Come and help me fix it, will you, Markie?" said Mister Bunny, getting his spare tire off the back of the car in a hurry. He seemed very happy for a person having so much trouble, thought Markie, but he only said, "Sure!"

"He meant that it is foolish to worry over things that don't happen." To Be Continued.

A Story of Real Friendship

By RUSSELL J. BIRDWELL. HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Nell Craig was once a big-timer in the film world. Her husband, Gene Wright, years ago was as high-powered a director as James Cruze or Cecil De Mille are today.

But fateful gods shifted the cards and Nell became an "extra" and Gene was an outcast in places where once he had been lauded as the greatest of them all.

To keep the home fires from simmering out Nell worked or various film lots that once paid her in the thousands. But this time she worked by the day at $7.50.

And at best there was always only a few days' work. When curious ones asked what "the husband was doing?" Nell told them that "he's writing a book."

The querying ones thought that Nell's reply was merely a shield for her husband's pride and past reputation. During the weary months while Gene was writing and Nell was sometimes working, bread was scarce.

Leah Baird, a star in western pictures, knew the wants of the part. For old time's sake she bought Gene's book before it was ever finished. She paid them $1,500.

Not long afterwards Gene sent the book to a publisher and Lippincott asked for two more. A picture company, First National, offered Gene $15,000 cash for his book—"Pondora La Croix"—a story of the South Seas.

Leah Baird heard of the offer and gave up her rights to the book. When

Longest Country In The World Is Visited By Prince

By DAVID DIETZ

CHILE, where the Prince of Wales recently spent a "long" week-end, is the longest and narrowest country in the world. It runs about 2,900 miles down the west coast of South America, while its breadth is on an average between 40 and 100 miles only.

The capital, Santiago—meaning St. James—and the chief port, Valparaiso, are both situated almost exactly in the middle of this long stretch of territory. Santiago is connected by railway with Argentina through a tunnel nearly seven miles long, which pierces the Andes.

Chile was discovered by the Spaniards in 1520, the first European to land being the Portuguese mariner, Magellan, who had discovered and sailed through the strait named after him.

The white inhabitants are of Spanish stock, and Spanish is the language of the country.

Chile is a republic, but as the government is mainly in the hands of a few leading families, it is described as the most aristocratic republic in America.

Many of the peaks of the Andes are volcanic, and in consequence is subject to earthquakes. But being mountainous, the country is rich in various minerals, which contribute largely to her wealth.

Agriculture is the main industry, and all European fruit trees, including the vine, flourish, while Chile pepper is known all over the world.

Chile is a land of literature and learning, and some of the Prince's suite may be surprised at the culture to be found in the capital of this queer-shaped South American republic.

Birds Fly From Pole To Equator Each Year

By DAVID DIETZ

AN ANNUAL flight from the north or south pole to the equator—a distance of more than 6,000 miles—is a mere trifle for many species of birds. This is one of the amazing discoveries made by the Whitney South Sea Expedition of the American Museum of Natural History.

Under the leadership of Rollis H. Beck, veteran naturalist, an intensive study of the islands of the tropical Pacific is being made.

Beck and his associates have found bird in these islands whose nesting places are in the Arctic tundras. Yet other birds whose home is in the Antarctic region and who fly toward the equator as the long night settles upon the south pole have been discovered in the islands.

The expedition seeks to obtain accurate and scientific data concerning the islands and particularly the bird life. So far, many species of birds never before caught or shot have been collected by the expedition.

This is the first time that a comprehensive survey of these islands has ever been undertaken from a scientific point of view.

Many scientists feel that the survey was undertaken just in time. For the arrival of the white man and civilization has upset the delicate balance of natural life upon these islands. They feel that in another 25 years, it may be too late to seek traces of the natural life which had previously endured upon these islands for centuries.

SOME of the islands are only jutting rocks rising out of the depths of the ocean. Others are low-lying atolls. Still others, like Tahiti, are great volcanic peaks, lofty and forest-clad, surrounded by sandy beaches and coral reefs.

But all have the fascination so well expressed by Robert Louis Stevenson: "Few men who come to the islands leave them," he wrote. "They grow gray where they alighted. The palm shades and the trade-winds fan them till they die."

But the islands have suffered from freebooters, slavers, whalers and copra gatherers upon small islands has completely changed the original plant and animal life of many of them. Whole tribes of natives have disappeared from the face of the earth.

That is why scientists regard the Whitney expedition as being so important. The survey of the islands had to be made at once or it would have been impossible forever.

Among the unusual birds gathered by the expedition is the fairy tern. It is probably the most delicate and ethereal of all sea birds. It is pure white with unusually large eyes.

The bones are only thinly covered and when seen against the tropical sun, the bird looks as though it were being X-rayed, for the bones of the plumage become visible through the plumage.

George Carvill Requests Council to Have Police Take It Up

Retaining Walls in Prince Edward Street to be Built—Exhibition Conference.

The City Council yesterday afternoon decided to build three retaining walls in Prince Edward street at a cost of $2,168, payable from a bond issue when all the members of the council were present to vote it, in order to save possible legal action for damages, and heard an echo of the burglary of the C. N. R. ticket office in 1917 in the way of a request from George Carvill that the city police take up the matter.

The commissioner of finance and public affairs reported payments for the month of September of $126,554.47. The report was adopted.

E. J. Henneberry, solicitor for Leesa Zed, wrote asking that the city make good the damage already done to the property of Mr. Zed in Prince Edward street by the failure of the city retaining wall and rebuild the wall to stop further encroachment or, failing this, legal action would have to be taken by Mr. Zed.

Waldo & McLean wrote that before word had been received from the council that the bond of George T. Kane had been returned to him a writ had been issued and asked the city to pay the cost of this writ. The communication was ordered filed.

Commissioner Harding was given authority to pool the accounts of the safety department.

The application of S. J. Holder for appointment to the Board of School Trustees was laid on the table to be considered when an appointment was to be made.

NO ACTION.

Belyea & Gilbert wrote asking if the city would refund any part of the license fee paid by the Imperial Oil Company on a motor truck which had only been operated for three weeks in the city. The common clerk was instructed to advise them that the city would not take any action in the matter.

George Carvill wrote that he had in 1917 placed before the city police certain facts in connection with a burglary in the C. N. R. ticket office. That at that time the police had allowed the matter to be taken out of their hands by the railway department. Since then he had been informed by a then police officer that when the railway department had taken over the case the city police had sufficient evidence for an arrest. He asked that the city police

The Vicomtesse de Frise discusses the proper cleansing and the protection of the skin

THE Vicomtesse de Frise is a young woman whose charm depends as much upon the exquisite taste with which she surrounds her life as upon her beauty. Believing that charm and loveliness depend largely upon an exquisite complexion, she set herself the task of finding out the best way to keep this exquisiteness. Every woman, she found, may possess a lovely skin. "But," says the Vicomtesse, "she must give it the right care. . . a delicate cleansing . . . and a safe protection. These in my judgment can best be had by the use of Pond's Two Creams. I use them constantly . . . and find them indispensable to the freshness of my complexion." Thousands of other lovely women in every land have been learning just what the Vicomtesse de Frise discovered for herself—that loveliness of skin follows, as the night the day, upon the faithful use of Pond's Two pure Creams.

Several times during the day give your skin this same thorough cleansing with Pond's Cold Cream, particularly after exposure to wind, dust or cold. It softens the tissues, keeps them supple and fresh. After Each Daytime Cleansing, finish with a light coating of Pond's Vanishing Cream. This gives your skin a soft even tone and a smooth surface over which your powder goes with a new and velvet touch. And stays so well, too! And by using Pond's Vanishing Cream before an outing you give your skin, so fresh and soft, a delicate protection against the inclemency of the weather.

Try the method which for the Vicomtesse de Frise has proven the most effective. Buy your Pond's Creams in any chemist's shop or department store and try them. Ask for the Cold Cream in the new large jar. Both come in two smaller sizes of jars and in the tubes. The Pond's Extract Company, 146 Brock Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

GIVES WARNING ON LEGISLATION

Dr. F. R. Taylor Sees Trend is Towards Socialism

Address Given at Law School Opening—Chief Justice and Magistrate Speak

Declaring that the trend of modern legislation was more towards socialism than that of the duties of the lawyer was to see that this tendency was kept within proper bounds, Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., gave an address on "The Influence of the Lawyer on the Community," last evening at the formal opening of the Saint John Law School.

Sir J. Douglas Hazen, Chief Justice of the New Brunswick Supreme Court and dean of the Law School, presided at the opening.

In a short address, he said that the school this year had an enrollment larger than ever before. The attitude of the students would count much towards the success of the school, he said. They would find the members of the faculty always ready to assist them.

There had been a great change since the day in which he studied law, he said. Then there had been no law schools except at the large colleges and the average student was forced to acquire his learning in the office of some lawyer. He thought the old system had had its advantages in the way of giving the young lawyers experience in the practical work of the profession and he advised his hearers to spend their spare time in the offices of lawyers or in court, listening to the arguments and conduct of cases there.

Dr. Taylor commenced his address by pointing out the two branches of law, common law, which had grown naturally as the result of the needs of community life, and statute law which was imposed on the people by the various legislative bodies.

While the former grew to a certain extent, there had been a much greater increase in the quantity of statute law with which a student must be familiar to properly serve his client. In 1877 the Consolidated Statutes of New Brunswick had contained 1,187 pages. Twenty-six years later the statutes had included 2,666 pages and there was now a revision being made which would add to this all the laws passed since that time.

STATUTE LAWS INCREASE

This increase of statute laws, which had about tripled since 1877, added greatly to the difficulties of getting a proper appreciation of the law, he said. One of a lawyer's duties was to see that the increase of the statute laws should be based on sound discretion and for the betterment of the community.

A great deal of the recent legislation, Dr. Taylor went on, had been passed with the purpose of improving society by forbidding people to do things which they had done for years. If a lawyer, during his career at the bar or in any other capacity in which he was called to serve, could see to it that legislation was along sane and sound lines and was not "freak" legislation, he would have gone a long way towards fulfilling a useful purpose in his sphere of life.

TREND IS SOCIALISTIC

The general trend of legislation today was toward socialism, he said. Education had cost England 11 times as much this year as it had 25 years ago. This was a tendency towards socialism in taking the control of the children from the parents as far as their education was concerned. Vocational training, he said, was about parallel to the old system of apprenticeship, the difference being that the children were taught in schools instead of by some master tradesman.

Another tendency in the same direction was in the appointing of various administrative boards, such as the Workmen's Compensation Board, the Public Utilities Board, health boards and others.

COURT FUNCTIONS LESS

These bodies were given jurisdiction over affairs that had formerly been settled in the courts. A further step was in the Arbitration Act. He thought that the legislatures should not take the powers away from the courts of the land and put them in the hands of administrative boards. He believed that the administration cost of the Workmen's Compensation Board was greater than that of all the courts in the land. The lawyer should help to keep the trend towards socialistic legislation within bounds.

The lawyer owed a duty to his clients and a duty to his fellow practitioners, he declared. He should act so that his deeds would not cause the reputation of the profession to suffer. His duty to his fellow barristers should preclude his taking advantage of technical mistakes.

It was the duty of a lawyer, as an officer of the court, and in the interest of justice, which he should always seek, to assist the bench in every way possible.

JUDGE RECALLS OLD DAYS

Judge George A. Henderson made a few remarks, mostly reminiscences of older times in Saint John. He was glad to be connected with such an institution as the Saint John Law School, he said, and to have an opportunity to speak on the same occasion with Mr. Justice Hazen and Dr. Taylor.

Fercy Steeves moved and Whittman A. Haines seconded a vote of thanks to the speakers of the evening. Mr. Steeves suggested the students of the Law School were eligible for places on the University of New Brunswick debating team that was to meet the team of English debaters coming to the province.

MISSION CIRCLE MEETS

The Ich Dien Mission Circle of the Carlton United Church at its first meeting of the season held last night at the home of the president, Miss Marguerite Barrett, planned for the work of the coming year. There was a large attendance of members. Miss W. Adams led the devotions. Mrs. G. Barrett introduced the new study book. Plans were made for holding a tea in the near future and committees were appointed to take charge.

GIRL INJURED.

Margaret McCordick, nine years old, of 190 Prince Edward street, was slightly injured last evening about 9:30 o'clock when she was struck by a bicycle in the street near her home. She was taken in the ambulance to the General Public Hospital for treatment and then was taken to her home.

Home-made Supply of Fine Cough Syrup

Better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $2. Easily prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is 16 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made and saves easily $2. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really soothing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary coughs due to bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma. There is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont."

LOCAL G. W. V. A. IS ARRANGING FAIR

Poppy Day Also is Being Planned For—Monthly Meeting is Held.

The monthly meeting of the city branch of the G. W. V. A. was held in the association hall last evening with President J. G. Dryden in the chair. The various committee reports showed a general resumption of activity in all lines of the association's work. The sports committee reported respecting the bowling alleys which have been reopened and the association team re-entered in the Inter-Association League, of which the G. W. V. A. have won the championship in the last two seasons. The committee also proposed the formation of a "two-man" league for their alleys in the near future.

Preparations for "Poppy Day" were discussed and it was decided to hold the public sale of poppies on Saturday, Nov. 7, and the annual Memorial Decoration Day on Sunday, Nov. 8.

The invitation of Rev. J. E. Bonnell to attend the memorial service at St. Andrew's church was accepted by the branch.

The most interesting feature of the meeting, however, was the report of the committee appointed last month to arrange for the association's annual fair, Oct. 28 to Nov. 7 were the dates selected by the committee which reported St. Andrew's Rink as engaged for that period. The committee reported that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor had again this year granted his patronage to the fair and would attend in person if possible.

INTRODUCING SAINT JOHN'S NEW FIRM KENNETH C. IRVING FORD DEALER

300 UNION STREET

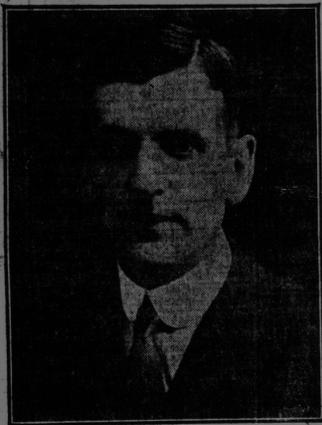

OPEN EVENINGS

Main 4500

OPEN EVENINGS

We are pleased to announce that we have been appointed authorized Ford Dealers for the City and District of Saint John. We have acquired the premises lately occupied by Royden Foley, the former dealer. Our Parts Department has been enlarged and contains a complete assortment of parts and accessories. An efficient, courteous staff is here to serve you. Our spacious show room has been newly renovated and furnished. Here you will find a courteous staff who will gladly show and explain the new features of the Improved Models.

MR. E. S. COTTINGHAM
Sales Manager

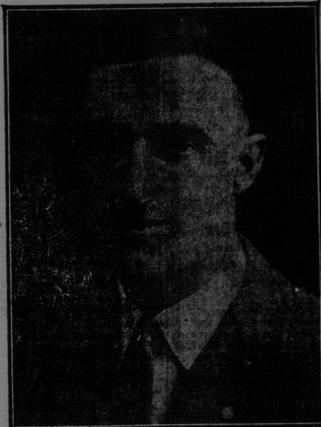

Mr. Cottingham joins our organization enjoying an enviable record in Sales work. From 1912 to 1917 Mr. Cottingham was connected with the Ford Company in organization and sales work; since 1917 with F. C. Manning, Ford Dealer, Halifax, as Sales Representative.

Mr. Cottingham's success can be attributed to his sincere and fair dealing.

WE REPRESENT the most thorough and up-to-date motor car factory in the world, turning out the best all-round car on the market today—the most adaptable to every need of every class of people.

THE FORD Service organization, of which we are a branch, is the most intensive organization of its kind in existence.

IT IS OUR DUTY to uphold the high ideals of the Ford organization in this territory, by giving quick and thorough repair service and courteous treatment to all customers.

MR. KENNETH C. IRVING

Mr. Irving is a son of J. D. Irving of the well known firm—J. D. Irving, Ltd., Buctouche.

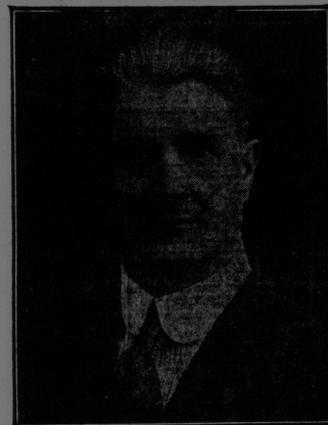

For a number of years Mr. Irving has been associated with J. D. Irving, Ltd., as Secretary-Treasurer, besides successfully conducting the Ford Agency in Buctouche.

Mr. Irving's reputation as a successful Ford Dealer and for business integrity has preceded him.

OUR POLICY IS BETTER AND MORE SATISFACTORY SERVICE, TO BE HONEST IN OUR RELATIONS WITH OUR CUSTOMERS.

Because we want the confidence of Ford owners we have not spared expense in equipping our Service Department so that service can be rendered promptly and efficiently.

In building our organization we have chosen our staff from among those who have attained success in their respective departments.

MR. C. T. STANWOOD
Service Superintendent

Mr. Stanwood comes to our organization backed by fifteen years of practical experience in Ford Service.

Mr. Stanwood was Shop Foreman for Bates Motor Sales, Boston, for twelve years, going from there to J. M. Trefry, Yarmouth.

Mr. Stanwood's staff is thoroughly efficient and his motto is: "Service First and Last."

MECHANICAL EXAMINATION

If you bring your car to our premises, we will gladly look it over and tell what repairs, if any, are required to remedy, and will do so without charge.

FLAT RATE CHARGES PROTECT OWNERS

When you require a repair job ask us what it will cost. We can tell you in advance exactly what the labor charge will be. This charge, added to the cost of the necessary repair parts—also at standard rates—will be the total cost of the job.

This protects the Ford owner against excessive labor charges caused by lack of equipment and inexperienced Mechanics.

BRAZILIAN AGAIN IS AT NEW HIGH IN MONTREAL

OIL SHARES STRONG IN WALL STREET MARKET

Motors and Other Industrials Advance as Selling Pressure Eases.

Canadian Press.

MONTREAL, Oct. 14.—Brazilian traction continued to give an active display at the opening of the Montreal Stock Exchange this morning. This issue came out with an overnight gain of 1.84 points, to the new high of 83.1-3, on a turnover of about 5,000 shares. The strength of Brazilian in these last few days is attributed to the firmness of the milreals and the prospect of the company securing better terms from the Brazilian government.

Consolidated Smelters was up a point at 164 1/2. National Breweries firmed up 1/4 at 63. The balance of the market was quiet but firm.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Revival of strength and activity of the oil shares, based on speculative expectations of favorable earnings statements in the last half of the year, featured the firm opening of today's stock market. Marland was the early leader of that group, opening at 50, a new 1925 high, with a subsequent sale of 4,700 shares at the same price.

Motors and other industrials crept forward on an apparent subsidence of the selling pressure which characterized yesterday's late trading.

Morning Stock Letter

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The action of some stocks at the close yesterday indicated that selling was commencing.

We look for either a reaction or for another period of irregularity in which stocks may correct their position.

If this period of correction occurs, however, we look upon it as only temporary and we believe that the upward move will be resumed.

Expectations are substantially above present levels for the leading issues in this group.

Hornblower and Weeks—"In spite of technical conditions, the market should be borne in mind that fundamental conditions are still sound. Key Clark Childs—"It looks as though the market in the next week or so is certain to see a wonderful record of net earnings for September. One may also fancy the copper stocks which are very much behind the general market."

ROTHESAY BRANCH RED CROSS MEETS

Mrs. A. W. McMackin Chosen President at Annual Session—Reports for Year.

Mrs. A. W. McMackin was elected president of the Rothersey Red Cross at the annual meeting held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Heber Vroom when reports of a year of great activity and great success were presented.

Mrs. Walter C. Allison, retiring president, was in the chair. The treasurer's statement showed receipts of $706.99, expenditures of $269.29 and a balance on hand amounting to $106.70.

Amongst the disbursements were the following: For Windsor fire sufferers, $25; Christmas gifts for soldiers in hospital, $25; to buy groceries, milk and coal for a soldier's family, for which members of the society had also provided clothing, $27.83; dinner for soldiers, $5; dressing gown as soldiers' Easter gift, $10, and milk for the Lady Byng camp for two months, $19.28.

The society also provided the curtains and decorated the walls and ceilings for the third cottage of the Lady Byng camp and received $400 which it passed on to the camp funds. Members also donated ice cream, fruit and vegetables for the children at the camp.

39 MEMBERS.

Last October the Rothersey Red Cross conducted an active membership campaign and enrolled 139 members. The members made 118 garments for the Provincial Red Cross depot supplies and Mrs. William S. Allison made six dental coats which were sold to the dental clinic. Each week during the four summer months the members sent flowers to the East Saint John hospital. On Sept. 4 the branch entertained the soldier patients from East Saint John and Lunenburg at the Rothersey Boat Club, giving them a motor boat trip, providing indoor enjoyment at cards and a supper of chicken and ice cream with gifts of cigarettes also. Members of the branch kindly loaned the automobiles to convey the soldiers to and from Rothersey.

An interesting report of the provincial division latest meeting received from Miss Ethel Hazen Jarvis was read.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. A. W. McMackin; vice-presidents, first, Mrs. Walter C. Allison; second, Mrs. Joseph Henderson; secretary, Mrs. P. R. L. Fairweather; treasurer, Mrs. J. Royden Thomson.

one of the leading scoutmasters of the city.

He took an active part in the campaign against Church Union, and has been a staunch supporter of the Presbyterian Church of Canada. At present he is the clerk of the Saint John Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, and it was attributed to his leadership that Knox church gave so very large a majority against Church Union in the recent congregational vote.

Mrs. Legate will also be very greatly missed in Saint John, where she has made many warm friends. Her ability as an organizer in the production of the Oriental Fair by the ladies of Knox church won for her a place of special honor.

formerly the W. C. Purvis wholesale grocery store and lately used as a storehouse and offices for the coal and wood business Mr. Purvis carried on.

The coal and wood sheds were a prey to the flames but the stores of wood and coal in the rear were expected to escape. The fire was still burning at 1.40 but it was believed that it would be confined to the one building and that the adjoining buildings, Colbert's taxi station and McAllister Brothers' feed store would escape with only water damage. The fire was burning brightly. The Purvis building is an old wooden structure.

REV. MR. LEGATE TO LEAVE THIS MONTH

Knox Church Minister Announces Retirement—Will go to Upper Canada.

Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, for the last six years minister of Knox church, will leave the city on Oct. 28, it was announced yesterday. Mr. Legate's health has not been good, and the church granted him two months' leave of absence, but he has decided not to remain in Saint John as the climate does not agree with him. He will go to Upper Canada for some time.

HERE SIX YEARS.

Mr. Legate came here six years ago at the close of his service as chaplain for the 9th Australian Light Horse, "The Galloping Ninth," which took part in the first great operation of Allenby's push in the capture of Beersheba. Mr. Legate had been stationed in Australia previously and had been naval and military chaplain to the Commonwealth forces. During his tenure in Australia he occupied pastorates of two of the largest churches, Chalmers church in Sydney, and St. Paul's, in Brisbane. He was for a time secretary of Emmanuel Theological College of Queensland.

Many Saint John audiences have been greatly interested in hearing Mr. Legate tell of his experiences in the Fiji Islands where he spent three years as minister of St. Andrew's Church of Scotland in Suva.

Mr. Legate was born in Belfast, Ireland, and is a graduate of the Royal University of Ireland. During his stay in Saint John he has kept up his military associations, being chaplain to the 8th Princess Louise's Hussars. He has been an enthusiastic supporter of the Boy Scout movement, and his son has

THUNBURG CABLES ACCEPTANCE OF INVITATION TO SKATE HERE

FINNISH FLASH EXPECTED HERE END OF JANUARY

Organization Now For Schoolboy Races Is Strongly Urged

THE great Thunburg is to skate in Saint John. The flashing blades of the skating wonder of 1924 will be seen this winter as this marvel of the cold weather pastime tests his speed and stamina on Lily Lake against the best that the whole continent of North America has to offer.

That's the story in a cablegram received from him by the Saint John Skating Association. He has accepted the invitation of the Saint John Association to come here and race.

Saint John's fame in winter sport made it possible to have the European wonder come here to skate.

WANT OUR SYSTEM. Correspondence has been carried on during the summer months and Thunburg has been informed as to the conditions here, the style of racing, etc. His cable announced that he was writing on the detail of terms. This may mean some matter relating to the method of competition. It is the desire here that the European plan, which is only a race against time, give way to the system followed here, which is competition against the field. This correspondence has been carried on between the I. S. U. of America and the I. S. U. of Europe in hope that the European style would be abandoned. It has been pointed out that in no other branch of sport is the European method followed.

OTHER CLUBS INTERESTED. In addition to Saint John, it is assumed that Newburg, N. Y., and Madison Square, New York, will be in the circuit that will be traveled by the speeding Finn. Lake Placid and Chicago are considering joining in on the project. At all events, there are sufficient clubs co-operating to make it possible to swing the proposition.

It is regarded as likely that Thunburg and those coming with him would land at New York and skate in the U. S. first. This is looked on as an advantage to Saint John, for he would have become accustomed and accustomed to racing conditions in America and would probably be at top notch form by the time he reached here. Dates are as yet undetermined and the cable states he must be back in Helsinki by Feb. 14. Newburg wants him about January 1. It is considered probable that his appearance in Saint John would be toward the last of January.

SCUTTINAB COMING. Scuttinab, another speedy Finnish skater, will likely come along with him and there may be others, for the associations interested are in touch with other speeders relative to making the trip.

The meet here will be a world championship one and is expected to draw the cream of the skating speeders from two continents. The Saint John Skating Association will be busy from now on preparing for the great sport event of next winter. Meantime, it is suggested that it is not too early for the association to be planning for school boy meets and other skating events here.

ORPHANS' FAIR WILL END TONIGHT. C. Brown Led Last Night in Postmen's Contest—Prize Winners.

This is the last night of the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage Fair in St. Andrew's Rink. The door prize is to be a load of coal and all of the goods at the fair will be disposed of and all of the smaller drawings will take place. It is expected that tonight will be the bumper night of the whole fair. Last night there was a crowd of about 1,100 attending and Hon. Dr. W. E. Foster, Secretary of State, and Mrs. Foster spent some time at the fair. The Carleton Cornet Band furnished a fine concert programme. Prizes last night were won as follows: Door prize, framed picture, won by doctor 9888, unclaimed; ladies' and men's bean tosses won by Miss McCormack; bagatelle, W. H. Price. The air gun prize was won by a lady whose name was not known. Tonight the Pipe Band will provide the music.

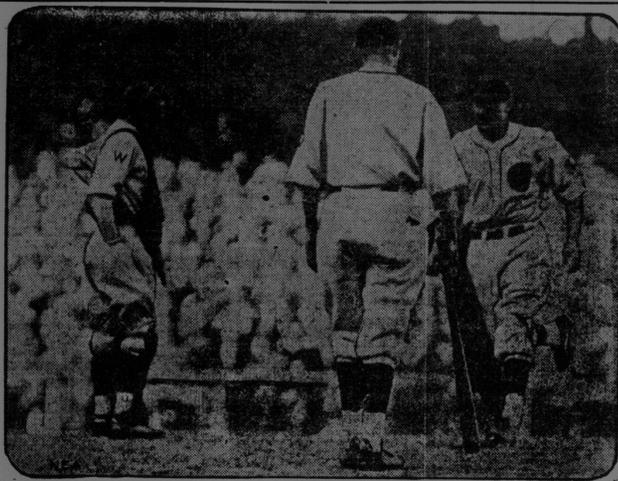

The standing in the popular letter carrier's contest last night was as follows: C. Brown, 2,740; Hatfield, 2,440; and J. K. MacDonald, 2,300, leaders.

OFFICERS ELECTED. Henry Morrissy was re-elected president of the Saint John (Stone) Church Badminton Club last evening at the annual meeting of that organization in the church hall. The meeting decided to send a delegate to the Badminton Association. The matter of tournaments with other city clubs was left for a later decision.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Honorary president, Rev. A. L. Fleming; president, Henry Morrissy; vice-president, Richard Gorham; secretary, Shirley B. Ellis; treasurer, Douglas McKean; refreshment committee, Miss Jean Desbarn, Miss Helen Skinner, Miss Blanche Tapley and Miss Margaret Anderson.

Walter Johnson Is Confident He Will Pitch Washington To Victory

Pittsburgh fans didn't have much chance to cheer in the opening game of the world series, but Pie Traynor gave them one good excuse for exercising their vocal cords in the fifth inning when he plastered one of Walter Johnson's fast ones into the right field bleachers for a home run. He is shown finishing his tour of the bases, with his teammate Glen Wright waiting to greet him and Catcher "Muddy" Ruel of Washington watching it all.

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN J. DUNLOP.

THE AMHERST NEWS must have a bridge enthusiast writing its baseball heads—here is the way Saturday's and Sunday's games in the World's Series were summed up:—

WASHINGTON GETS TWO QUICK GAMES

He might have gone a little farther with the metaphor. For instance, it would not be amiss to say that "Goose" Goslin and Joe Harris each got a grand slam and that Traynor got a little slam; that Johnson tried to finesse through Peckinpah, but failed; that "Bucky" Harris made his clubs good early in the game, and that Cuyler lost the rubber (when he tried to steal home).

A bid on one diamond brought all this about, Pittsburgh's hearts being weak. Why not?

ODIE CLEGHORN, for many years one of the outstanding players in the Canadian hockey world, has been appointed manager of the Pittsburgh team. Cleghorn's experience should prove invaluable to the Smoky City team.

UPPER CANADIAN rugby showed a few surprises last Saturday when Queens, Dominion champions, barely nosed out 'Varsity by 8 to 5 and Montreal defeated the Hamilton Tigers, 11 to 7. Argonauts triumphed over Ottawa, 13 to 5. According to newspaper reports, Queens were rather lucky to pull out on the winning end.

As the game was played at Queens, it makes it all the more outstanding. Next Saturday, McGill swings into action in the intercollegiate circle by entertaining Queens. Argos go to Ottawa and Montreal pays a return visit to Hamilton. The games are being largely attended.

EVEN IN THE world series, they sometimes go to sleep. Fred Marberry batted out of his turn in Saturday's game but no one noticed it until his turn had been completed. Marberry sacrificed Ruel to second with one out but as Wright threw out Ruel, it did not make much difference. McNeely should have batted.

THERE HAS BEEN a deal of talk about town regarding that catch made by Sam Rice in the eighth inning of Saturday's game of a fly from Earl Smith's bat. Had it gone for a homerun it would have tied the score. Manager McKechnie, in a statement, later announced that he would not make any protest over the matter following a conference with Commissioner Landis. The Pirates claimed that Rice did not make the catch and McKechnie secured affidavits from fans present that the Washington outfielder had the ball in his hands but dropped it and that a boy threw it to him. Umpire Rigler declares that Rice caught the ball, took two steps and then crashed into the bleachers. It was a case, therefore, of taking the umpire's judgment or that of the fans and Landis followed the only course possible—he backed his umpire. That hit is going to cause a lot of talk for some time yet.

McINNIS TO RESCUE. This was the situation when a veteran lieutenant, "Stuffy" McInnis, came forth in the ranks of the Pirates. He led a renewed fight with Washington and waged the contest so fiercely that today finds them on even terms after two straight victories. Each side has won three triumphs. Sound, steady counsel came from the lips of McInnis and the tide was turned.

But again Johnson has been summoned and today handles the guns for the Harris men, after only two days' rest.

"I am ready," he said, after yesterday's 8 to 2 victory for the Pirates at Forbes Field. "I should have at least another day, but I can assure the Pirates that I will pitch my arm off to win."

Twice Johnson has turned them back, relying more on a fast breaking curve and change of pace, than on his terrific speed. He won last Wednesday, 4 to 1, and he repeated Sunday in Washington, 4 to 0. In 18 innings, the Pirates have made 11 hits and one run, from his delivery, a homer by Traynor in the first game.

MOORE'S SMASH DECIDING BLOW OF 6TH CONTEST

"Stuffy" McInnis Gives Much Credit For Pirates' Rally

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 14.—Washington once again has something to cross, a turbulent stream of base hits, seething with dangerous passages. But in the case at hand, Washington is the city, not the man who mastered the Delaware on key days more than a century and a half ago. It is a far cry, yet perhaps Stanley Harris has viewed many times the scene of the white-haired general standing in the prow of his boat, seeing not the ice floes, but only the goal ahead.

But in the baseball war of today, there is a further danger. The stream that Washington now must cross, is infested with Pirates—a baseball-mad horde pushed to fury by thousands upon the banks, their leader, a grim, fighting veteran, Bill McKechnie. Only within the last few days, have the Corsairs shown a return to their warlike manoeuvres. Licked to a nicety by that man-mountain from Kansas, Walter Percy Johnson, a week ago, they came from the hiding places to gain an advantage the next day, only to sail away in disorder later, with the guns of Ferguson, Marberry and Johnson pouring hot shot upon them.

McINNIS TO RESCUE. This was the situation when a veteran lieutenant, "Stuffy" McInnis, came forth in the ranks of the Pirates. He led a renewed fight with Washington and waged the contest so fiercely that today finds them on even terms after two straight victories. Each side has won three triumphs. Sound, steady counsel came from the lips of McInnis and the tide was turned.

But again Johnson has been summoned and today handles the guns for the Harris men, after only two days' rest.

"I am ready," he said, after yesterday's 8 to 2 victory for the Pirates at Forbes Field. "I should have at least another day, but I can assure the Pirates that I will pitch my arm off to win."

Twice Johnson has turned them back, relying more on a fast breaking curve and change of pace, than on his terrific speed. He won last Wednesday, 4 to 1, and he repeated Sunday in Washington, 4 to 0. MOORE'S SMASH DECIDING BLOW

Continued from preceding page. Today he goes to the mound in what may prove his last world series struggle, pitted against a baseball combination that hits often and in every direction, when in proper tune. That hitting has been going on to some extent in the last two games, and has brought the world's series of 1925 to even terms, after the Pirate hopes seemed vanished. The final struggle will be one of mighty bats against a remarkable right arm.

ALDRIDGE MAY PITCH. "Vic" Aldridge, hero of two triumphs, has volunteered to lead the Pirates in the last battle, and may be the choice, although McKechnie announced yesterday's contest that either Johnny Morrison or "Red" Oldham, a left-hander, would go to the mound at the start.

It was the consensus, however, that McKechnie would rely on a right-hander, either Morrison or Aldridge. From the south came a hero in yesterday's struggle, a lad known as a capable hitter, but whose fielding was expected to be no better than mediocre. It was "Memphis" Eddie Moore's long smash in the fifth which carried over the left field screen, that gave Pittsburgh its winning run. Moore had been far from a "threat" previously, but yesterday he occupied the sac's every time there was an opportunity, scored the first run, as well as the last, besides fielding well. Alex. Ferguson might well have repeated his Washington success, but for Moore's four-base shot.

DO YOUR CHILDREN GROW FAST ENOUGH?

Are They Sturdy, Healthy, and Strong, or Pale, Weak and Run Down?

Growing children need a great deal of food, and sometimes they will not eat the kind of food that they need for strength—then they become thin, pale, and run down.

This condition of undernourishment can be corrected by taking Father John's Medicine which does contain just the food elements such children need, and that is why so many children gain weight regularly while they are taking this old-fashioned family medicine.

Father John's Medicine is an expertly blended preparation of cod liver oil with other ingredients in such a way that its food elements can be easily taken up by those who are weakened and run down. Your friends and neighbors know its value. Thousands of mothers depend upon it to keep their children well and strong.

JOE HARRIS STILL LEADING HITTERS

Senators' Outfielder Followed by Ruel, Smith Carey and Traynor.

By cracking out a double yesterday, Joe Harris retained his position at the top of the batting heap in the world series but his mark drops from 400 to 354. Even at that he has a lead of over 50 points on his nearest rival, his teammate, "Muddy" Ruel, who remains in second place with 400. Ruel did not come to bat yesterday. Earl Smith is third with 375. Max Carey, of the Pirates, is in fourth place and by smashing out two safeties in four times up, "Pie" Traynor rests in undisputed possession of fifth place with a mark of 363, just 5 points behind Carey. Today's battle will decide it all although just now it looks as though Joe Harris will walk off with the honors. The standing of the regulars, including yesterday's game is as follows:

OPERATIONS FOR FEMALE TROUBLES In Many Cases Unnecessary These Women Gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Trial First

Alberta Woman's Experience. Provost, Alberta.—"Perhaps you will remember sending me one of your books a year ago. I was in a bad condition and would suffer awful pains at times and could not do anything. The doctor said I could not have children unless I went under an operation. I read testimonials of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the papers and a friend recommended me to take it. After taking three bottles I became much better and now I have a bonny baby girl four months old. I do my housework and help a little with the chores. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and am willing for you to use this testimonial letter."—Mrs. A. A. ADAMS, Box 54, Provost, Alberta.

So I was advised by my husband to try it after I told him about it. I am very thankful to say that I was soon able to do my housework and a little washing and also to take a few boarders for a while as rooms were scarce at that time. My baby is 17 months old now and I have not yet had an operation, thanks to your medicine. I have recommended the Compound to a few people I know and have told them the good it has done me. I know I feel and look a different woman these last few months and I certainly would not be without a bottle of your medicine in the house. You can use this letter as you see fit as I should be only too glad for those suffering as I have done, to know what it has done for me."—Mrs. ROBERT G. MACGREGOR, R. R. No. 2, Sarnia, Ontario.

Through neglect, some female troubles may reach a stage where an operation is necessary, but most of the common ailments are not surgical ones. Many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised. In a recent canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over 220,000 replies were received and 98 out of every 100 said they had been helped by its use.

MASS. STARTER. Nearly every heat was with a thrilling finish.

Berney Hayt, 2:06 1/2, old Grand Circuit pacer, now of the McLaughlin Bros' stable, and handled by Chapple, former Canadian driver, of Stockton Springs, upset the talent in the feature event, the 2:14 class, by taking two heats after Joe Johnson had the race apparently tied up with Main Shot, who has been a consistent winner this season. The two will race it off tomorrow morning, and both are being heavily backed to win. "Billy" Keyes, the St. Stephen, N. B., driver, takes third money with War Dance. The Aroostook campaigner, Alfred King, driven by Harry Nevers, of Houlton, and John Willard's Miss Simmsis, somewhat favored by the talent, were outside the stable. Joe Johnson drove Jack Grattan a winner in straight heats in the 2:20 pace. John Willard landed second money with Alice Forbes, the entry of R. W. Carey, of Houlton, in the 2:25 class in a tough race with a field of eight starters.

DECLARES JURY RIGHT ON AUTO LIGHT DIMMING

T. P. Regan, Head of Auto Association, Says Law Should be Changed

ASSOCIATION IS TO CONSIDER THIS

Makes Suggestions in Keeping of Lenses and Windshields Clean.

Expressing hearty agreement with the recommendation of the jury in the Hayter inquest on Monday evening that automobile drivers be not required to dim their lights and that the law in this respect should be amended, T. P. Regan, K. C., president of the New Brunswick Automobile Association, in an interview with The Times-Star this morning said the matter would be considered at the next meeting of the executive of the association.

NEED SOMETHING BETTER. "Our association," Mr. Regan said this morning, "was largely instrumental in having this regulation incorporated into the Motor Vehicles Act in 1917 for we believed at the time that it was a good thing and so did most of the motorists. But experience has taught us that it is rather a dangerous practice and we certainly intend to consider this matter carefully at our next meeting. So far I have been able to learn in talking this matter over with some of our local members, I find an almost unanimous feeling that dimming should be abolished and some more effective and less dangerous method established."

J. A. Tilton, chairman of the publicity committee of the N. B. A., was present at the interview and heartily agreed with the opinions expressed by Mr. Regan.

WHAT LAW SAYS.

The section dealing with dimming as passed in 1917 and became law on January 1, 1918, is as follows:

"Whenever a person operating a motor vehicle which is equipped with a device or means for dimming the headlights of said motor vehicle, shall meet on a public highway any other person riding or driving a horse or horses or other draft animal or any automobile or other vehicle, the person operating said motor vehicle shall seasonally make use of such dimmer or means to dim the said lights on said motor vehicle so that the beams of said headlights may not dazzle or otherwise interfere with said other person approaching and said person so operating said motor vehicle shall keep said lights dimmed until said motor vehicle shall be within sight of said person so approaching."

KEEP LENSES CLEAN.

"Another method of combatting headlight glare," Mr. Regan said, "is to keep the headlights clean. Much glare is the direct result of the diffusing effect of hundreds of particles of dust collecting on the lens and acting as miniature lenses. Proper headlight adjustments and the use of lens lenses is not the whole story in minimizing headlight glare. Few car owners appreciate the fact that the headlight lenses must be kept in condition. Dust on the hood of the average car is an illustration of what gathers on the lenses. Clean headlights would materially help in the work of safeguarding our highways at night."

CLEAR WINDSHIELD.

"Much of the glare in night driving can also be traced to failure to clean the windshield clean. The existence of what the N. B. A. calls 'windshield glare' is evidence of the existence of unnecessary lens glare as dust is the factor to be considered in either case. Many drivers have acted on the advice of our association and have made it a practice to clean the windshield before night driving but safety is not complete without the co-operation of fellow motorists. So long as headlights are coated with dust, there will be glare no matter how effectively legal lenses and lamps are adjusted.

"The first rule in night driving," Mr. Regan added, "is for every car owner first to clean off windshield and lenses. Drivers who do not do this are just as much public nuisances as drivers who operate with brakes out of adjustment."
