Stage Is All Set For Sir Henry Thornton's Great Speech Tonight

ENTER IS AGAIN IN GRAVE ANGER

HEAD OF C. N. R. IS WELCOMED; HAS BUSY DAY HERE

Tells Reporter He Has Nothing to Say Before Dinner Speech.

GOES TO GOLF LINKS

Meets Representative Men—Important Conference This Afternoon.

Sir Henry W. Thornton, head of the Canadian National Railways, with a busy day in St. John behind him, is expected to make an important address tonight at a dinner to be given in the Union Club.

He met representative men throughout the day and this afternoon was to have a round-table conference with the Mayor and City Commissioners, Board of Trade representatives and Port Committee members. Then comes the dinner tonight, with all eagerly awaiting what he will have to say on port matters here.

Faces Strenuous Day.

Bracing weather and plenty of sunshine greeted the official head of the Canadian National Railways, Sir Henry W. Thornton, and an almost complete group of central executives when they arose this morning in their several private cars at a St. John depot siding. A strenuous day confronted Sir Henry, but with the new philosophy of busy business men he submitted to the invitation of George McAvity and, dressing for golf, repaired to Riverside for a ramble over scenic course; then lunch; then an important conference with Board of Trade, Commons Council and Port Committee at 3 o'clock; the whole programme to be concluded this evening by a formal banquet with representative citizens in the Union Club.

In fact with slight variation, Sir Henry and his aides are today meeting St. John and its people much the same as other notable transportation chiefs have been greeted and conferred with at various stages of the city's progress, more recently the visit of President E. W. Beatty of the C. P. R. and some years ago a notable occasion when the late General Manager C. M. Hays of the Grand Trunk Pacific came to town with his staff as an inaugural of the development of Courtenay Bay in the great transportation scheme of the country.

Sir Henry Goes Golfing.

The earliest callers at the official train today were A. P. Paterson and Col. A. E. Massie, representing the citizen body on today's conference and this evening's banquet. They sat in with Sir Henry and his party in the breakfast room of the "Balmoral," in which the Prince of Wales traveled during the last western trip, and familiarized the visitors with plans for the day.

George McAvity then called with several cars, and the trip to Riverside was started soon after 10 o'clock. The golfing party included Sir Henry and some of his managers, their secretaries, and, locally, George McAvity, John A. McAvity, president of the Riverside Golf and Country Club, G. Clifford McAvity, Percy D. McAvity, Frank L. Miller and S. Allan Thomas. At the links a short game was played, which Sir Henry remarked was perhaps the most enjoyable round of golf he had ever played so late in November on a course outside a Northern climate.

At Moncton Last Night.

The official train arrived during the night from Moncton, where last evening the executive of the Board of Trade and some additional representative citizens sat at dinner with their guests and discussed the needs, hopes and aspirations of the maritime railway centre quite exhaustively, as told on page 9. Premier Veniot was present at this dinner, and was said to have expressed himself later as impressed with Sir Henry's plan suggesting a complete body of prominent maritime provincialists for a thorough consideration of the transportation problems of this section of Canada, as a basic plan for straightening out all difficulties, and hearty co-operation. Previous to the Moncton visit, Sir Henry and party visited Charlottetown, and after leaving St. John tonight will proceed to the Sydney.

The Visiting Officials.

The official train is made up of six managerial cars and the party in St. John today is as follows: (Continued on page 4, column 4.)

Wine Outlived Six Elections

London, Nov. 26.—Five men sat down to dinner at the Savoy Hotel a few nights ago to drink bottles of 1883 port which had remained unopened in accordance with a strange election vow. The wine was originally reserved for 1906 by six cotton and shipping representatives when they celebrated the great Liberal landslide—which yielded a majority in Parliament of 154. It was then resolved that the wine would be opened when a party returned at an election with a majority of 100. Meanwhile it was found that the wine had passed the stage when it was improving with age, and it was therefore decided to open the wine at the recent election dinner celebration. The port had outlived six elections.

SCHOONER HITS; THEN SINKS OFF BRIER ISLAND

Had Cargo of Alcohol and Some 100 Cases are Saved.

The Halifax schooner Robert and Arthur, commanded by Captain Fred L. Moore struck the rocks back of Grand Passage Light at Brier Island at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and sank last night at 9:30 o'clock in deep water according to a special despatch received here today. The crew were all safely taken off the vessel before she sank according to the report. The schooner, which had approximately 1,900 cases of alcohol on board yesterday, had been lying in rum row for days, it was said. Severe weather forced the captain to seek shelter and after suffering many hardships he endeavored to make Westport Harbor for several hours yesterday before finally was driven on the rocks. Fishermen in the vicinity assisted the crew in taking as much of the cargo as possible ashore and they succeeded in salvaging about 100 cases before the vessel went down in 35 fathoms of water. The word of the loss of the vessel was forwarded to the agent of the Marine and Fisheries Department here by the light house keeper at the Grand Passage Light. The schooner, which is owned by the Thornycroft Shipbuilding Co. Ltd., of Halifax, cleared from Yarmouth for Puerto Cortez, Honduras, on Nov. 1 and sailed three days later. She then had a cargo of 1,600 cases of alcohol and 21 bags of rum.

NEW COMPANIES IN N. B. INCORPORATE

Queens Coal Company and Moncton Business are Authorized.

(Special to The Times-Star.) Fredericton, Nov. 26.—Queen's Coal Company, Ltd., is incorporated with head office at Newcastle Bridge, Queens county, and capital stock of $99,000. Those incorporated are Fred J. Timms, Mrs. Alice J. Timms, and Alex. Forbes, all of Fredericton. The company is authorized to carry on a general mining and development business.

The Davis Packing Company, Ltd., is incorporated with head office at Moncton and capital stock of $49,000 for the purpose of taking over and acquiring the business carried on by William Stanford Davis under the name of the Davis Packing Company and carrying on business as packers and canners. Rev. O. Mandelblatt, Rabbi, St. John, and Rev. William Ferner, St. John, have been registered to solemnize marriages in the Province of New Brunswick.

New Cabinet of China Is Named

Peking, Nov. 26.—Tuan Chi-Jui, "Chief of Executive Power," a title which he selected to designate his position as head of the new central Chinese Government, yesterday named his cabinet. The most outstanding feature of the new government family is the absence of the Chihli influence and the predominance of the Anfu, some times called the pro-Japanese party of China.

Rickard Bans Radio Broadcasting of Bouts

New York, Nov. 26.—Radio broadcasting of boxing bouts is at an end so far as Tex Rickard is concerned, it was learned at Madison Square Garden yesterday. The reason given by one close to the New York promoter is that use of the radio keeps down attendance at bouts.

POLITICAL UPSET IN WEST HASTINGS; LIBERAL IS VICTOR

For Only Second Time Since 1867, Conservative is Defeated.

MAJORITY IS 400

Premier King Sees in Result Approval of Government Policies.

(By Canadian Press.)

Bellefleur, Ont., Nov. 26.—Charles E. Hanna, Liberal, was elected member of parliament for the West Hastings riding in a by-election here yesterday. Final figures are not available, but the majority is expected to exceed 400. Mr. Hanna defeated Edward Gus Porter, K. C., who has represented the riding in the Conservative interest since January 15, 1901, when he was elected in a by-election. The result marks one of the most striking upsets in Canadian political history. The West Hastings riding has returned a Conservative member in every election since Confederation, except that of 1878, when James Brown, who had represented the riding since Confederation as a Conservative, contested the constituency as a Liberal and was elected. The constituency has had only four members since Confederation, Mr. Brown, A. Robertson, H. Corby and Mr. Porter. From the point of view of political organizers West Hastings has always been a "safe" Conservative seat.

Meighen is Blamed.

Toronto, Nov. 26.—Commenting on the West Hastings by-election the Toronto Globe says: "Mr. Meighen showed faulty generalship in ordering Mr. Porter to become a trial balloon in West Hastings. The Murdoch episode was a means to an end, and dropped into secondary place in the Conservative campaign. Mr. Meighen with the knowledge that his own leadership had been challenged, threw all his oratorical weight into the contest and invited a decision on the general policy of his party. He has had his answer. West Hastings does not like pessimism. The party history of the constituencies makes the result a sensational one."

Premier Draws Parallel.

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—"The Liberal victory in West Hastings today presents a singular parallel to the Liberal victory in St. Antoine Division of Montreal two months ago," said Premier King in commenting on the Government victory last night. "St. Antoine was regarded as the stronghold of Conservatives in the province of Quebec, West Hastings as the stronghold of Conservatism in Ontario. In each case of each by-election was occasioned by the resignation of the sitting member to test popular feeling toward the present administration."

ST. JOHN MEN GET DUCKING AT FIRE

Hose Turned on Them During Fredericton Blaze—C. P. R. Train Service.

(Special to The Times-Star.) Fredericton, Nov. 26.—In the course of the fire in a stable used by the Queen Hotel Tuesday night, two St. John men who were at the hotel came in unpleasant contact with a fire stream. They were leaning from a window of the hotel giving directions and encouragement to the firemen when a stream, accidentally it is presumed, was directed their way. The Saturday service of the Fredericton and Grand Lake Railway between Minto and Fredericton is to be restored beginning December 6. J. M. Woodman, Superintendent of the Atlantic Division of the C. P. R., when here Tuesday had the matter placed before him.

Bottle, Tossed Into Sea, Goes 400 Miles

London, Nov. 26.—A bottle, containing his name and address, which was thrown into the sea at Dungeness on the Kentish Coast July 28, was picked up two months later off the Isle of Fanø, on the west coast of Denmark, a distance of 400 miles from Dungeness, the finder being a resident of the island.

Gompers Heads A. F. of L. For 44th Term

This is the first picture of the American Federation of Labor's annual convention in session in El Paso, Texas. President Samuel M. Gompers, who was re-elected president yesterday for the forty-fourth time, is delivering an address of welcome to the delegates. Gompers yesterday completed 63 years of service in the U. S. Labor movement and has held the office of president every year but one since the organization of the federation in 1881.

TWO YOUNG YORK COUNTY GIRLS MURDERED; UNCLE IS ARRESTED, CHARGED WITH CRIME

Enlists in U. S. Army and Deserts Forty-One Times in Fourteen Years

Boston, Nov. 26.—Warning has been sounded to all recruiting officers in New England to be on the lookout for Luther C. Billings, known under the name of Globe. The warning is the result of a report received here from Washington which suggests that Billings might attempt to add to his championship record here. Billings began his somewhat hectic military career in 1910 at Columbus Barracks, Ohio, the next 10 years he enlisted and deserted seven times. In 1920 he went big. Billings as John Quincy Adams, James Monroe or Owen Moore enlisted and deserted 19 times. His record for one month shows seven enlistments and desertions. The report received here shows that in 1923 he added 10 more enlistments and desertions. Ponce de Leon's fountain of youth, it would appear, was discovered by this prize deserter, for in 1910 he gave his age as 18 years, which would now make him 32. Notwithstanding, he got by the recruiting officer again this month when he gave his age as 24.

PLANS FLIGHT TO POLE BY DIRIGIBLE

German Aviator Says Journey Not in Competition With Amundsen.

Christiana, Nov. 26.—Commander Bruns, German aviator, who in 1919 published a plan for a Zeppelin expedition to the North Pole, is here as the guest of Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, who is reported to have agreed to accompany him when he puts the plan into operation, at a date to be announced. Bruns is lecturing today before the Norwegian Geographical Society regarding his scheme. The expedition will be a scientific one and is not intended to compete with that of Roald Amundsen. It is understood the Zeppelin will be constructed for alighting on the openings between the ice instead of on the ice itself.

Famed Composer Has Throat Operation

Brussels, Nov. 26.—The famous Italian composer, Giacomo Puccini, yesterday underwent a three-hour operation of radium for the removal of two small tumors from his throat. The operation, performed in a clinic here, is said to have been successful.

Australia Hopes For Preference Policy

Melbourne, Nov. 26.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters.)—General satisfaction is being expressed here at the prospects regarding British Imperial preference. The Herald states that Premier Bruce never doubted that Great Britain would give a substantial preference to the dominions without radically changing her fiscal policy.

Dr. Beland Heads Geneva Committee

Geneva, Nov. 26.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—Hon. Dr. Beland, Canadian Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, and delegate from the Dominion to the Geneva Opium Conference, yesterday was elected chairman of the committee dealing with manufacture and sale of narcotics.

Rocked The Boat and Lost His Sweetheart

Paris, Nov. 26.—The "movie" never portrayed a more dramatic carrying off of a girl by a rival lover than that which took place on the river Seine in Paris recently. Rubens Naga, a young student, who was celebrating his birthday, took his sweetheart for a row on the river, inviting a college chum to accompany them. Naga took the oars, but he did not like the attention his friend was paying to his sweetheart, and he shook the boat violently to frighten them. The friend, thinking the boat was about to capsize, seized the girl by her waist and swam ashore with her. As he jumped out of the boat it did capsize, and Naga was saved with difficulty by a fisherman. When Naga arrived home he found that his sweetheart and his friend had gone away together.

VICE-PRESIDENT OF C.P.R. CAME TO CITY TODAY

A. D. MacTier, in From Boston, Says Nothing to Report.

A. D. MacTier, vice-president of the C. P. R., arrived in the city this afternoon from Boston in his special car St. Andrews. He was accompanied by J. M. Woodman, general superintendent of the New Brunswick District for the C. P. R. The vice-president will leave tomorrow morning at 8 a. m. by special train for Montreal. It was announced that the trip here was only a regular inspection tour and there was nothing to report.

OBJECT TO UNIONS' AID TO PARTY FUND

British Conservatives Would Make Compulsory Payments Illegal.

London, Nov. 26.—(British United Press)—An attempt to make compulsory payments to party funds illegal from trades union dues is foreshadowed in speeches by members of the Tory party. At present all members of trades unions are compelled to make these contributions, and Sir Robert Horne and Sir Robert Burton Chadwick have both indicated in recent speeches their intention of doing what they can to put an end to such a practice. They argued that Labor with his gigantic combines is now a dangerous monopoly and that the forced contributions of Labor cause a menace in the political world, and therefore should be stopped in the public interest. In a statement made this morning the Rt. Hon. K. R. Clynes says: "We are ready for the attack if the Tory party desire to bring it on." The Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Colonial Secretary in the Labor administration, denies that union members are forced to pay this levy, saying "trades unionists possess a perfectly legitimate right to abstain from paying and many members exercise that right," but this statement ignores the fact that trades union funds support the candidacy of Labor members and enable them to go to the House of Commons.

BRITISH RESENT FRENCH ATTITUDE IN EGYPT MATTER

Immediate Payment of Debt to England May be Demanded.

CAIRO IS QUIETER

Allenby Wires London That Situation in Africa is Easier Today.

BY HERBERT BAILEY (British United Press.)

London, Nov. 26.—France may be called upon to make an immediate payment on her debt to England if the government press does not change its tone over the British attitude over the Egyptian crisis. This is the warning which is given full prominence in the Daily Express this morning, and it is a true reflection of the resentment generally aroused here by the recent attitude of France in this matter.

Interview Coming Soon. Austen Chamberlain will have a personal interview with Herriot soon when there is bound to be some plain speaking. Britain is anxious to help France to get security, but she wants to effect this without accepting the Geneva protocol which France is preparing to ratify. This is the reason that Britain is making haste to prepare her alternative plan which she intends to place before the League at the earliest possible moment. There is a strong feeling in British official circles that France cannot expect to have everything her own way and that the time has now arrived when she should begin to discuss her indebtedness to Britain. The French attitude in the Egyptian affair has only crystallized this sentiment in Britain which has been a line of thought in Winston Churchill, the new Chancellor of the Exchequer. Situation is Easier.

London, Nov. 26.—Field Marshal Viscount Allenby, British High Commissioner in Egypt, informed the British Government in a message today that the situation in Egypt was much easier as the result of the respite since the resignation of the Egyptian cabinet. The possibility of serious riots in Cairo and other centres he said, was greatly reduced. Lord Allenby, it was said in official quarters, believes the Zivari Pasha cabinet will accept the remaining British demands or open direct negotiations with Great Britain for the settlement of the differences existing between the Governments. Says France Misunderstands. Paris, Nov. 26.—"From news received here, there appears to be complete misunderstanding in France as to the bearing of events in Egypt, and the recent attitude of the Zaglouli cabinet," telegraphs the special correspondent of the Le Matin in Cairo. "For the last three weeks," the correspondent continues, "Zaglouli Pasha, though himself animated by the wisest intentions, was completely overpowered by the elements of disorder. The manifestations were no longer expressions of popular sentiment but were systematically organized by a party whose excesses the government or at least certain of its members, dared not repress. The measures taken by England to re-establish order are evidently not called forth by the isolated murder of the Sirdar; they would have been necessary in any case at an early date. Zaglouli's Government, which included an under-secretary of state, compromised in previous murders of English, could without difficulty carry out a thorough investigation of this fresh assassination."

Protest British Action. Geneva, Nov. 26.—A telegraph of protest against the British action in Egypt, following the assassination of the Sirdar Sir Lee Stack, was received today by the secretary of the League of Nations from the Egyptian parliament under the signature of the president of that body. The text indicates that a similar communication has been forwarded to all the world's parliaments. The telegram does not mention intervention by the League but confined to an exposition of the differences with England from the standpoint of the Egyptian parliamentarians. The League official seems in doubt (Continued on page 4, column 5.)

MANICURIST DENIES
 "BLACKMAIL SUIT"

Says Trading Stamp King
 Talked and Wrote of Marrying Her.

Boston, Nov. 25.—Miss Zoe E. Evans, manicurist at the Touraine, who is suing George Brinton Caldwell, millionaire New York banker and trading stamp king, for $300,000 heart balm, characterized as untrue his statement that he never talked marriage to her. "All talk of his getting married was of marrying me," Miss Evans asserted spiritedly, adding:

"His letters—more damaging letters, even, than have been printed in the Post—show that." Denies "Holdup"

The manicurist, in the presence of her attorney, Robie E. Kempton, notified quickly and explained that the letters which she considers most valuable as evidence in her case against Mr. Caldwell have not been made public. "He has forgotten what he said," she ejaculated, her eyes snapping. "Those letters speak for themselves. They were love letters, and so considered. If they weren't love letters, I don't know what you would call them."

She blazed with indignation as she read Caldwell's statement, printed Saturday, that the case was one of blackmail, a holdup, an attempted robbery in broad daylight.

"That's not so," she said. "It's true that Mr. Caldwell and I met in the Touraine barber shop, when I manicured his fingers." Miss Evans went on, taking the Caldwell statement categorically. "But where Mr. Caldwell says that during one of his trips to Boston following our chance acquaintance I invited him to my apartment, let me say that he called upon my arrival in town. It was a stormy night—heavy snow. When he called up I invited him out."

"When Mr. Caldwell says he and I never were alone in my apartment, he says what is not true. We were alone that evening, and we were alone there on different occasions after that. And he paid more than three visits."

"Where Mr. Caldwell says we were real friends, but 'friends only,' let me say that is not so. I wrote him speaking of our engagement, and he never denied it."

Never Told He Was to Wed

"He never told me he was going to marry anybody but me. I learned of his marriage to Miss Andrews some other way, and after they were married, it is not true that he ever asked me what I thought of his getting married to her. All the talk of his marrying was of his marrying me, as his letters indicate. I wasn't asked to his wedding with Miss Andrews and knew nothing about it from him."

"Where Mr. Caldwell says his letters to me were not love letters, but that they simply contained a few endearing terms in which he meant to 'write me,' he has forgotten what he said. The letters speak for themselves."

"And there are other letters, which have not been seen by the public but which are very damaging to any defence he may try to put up, and they will be used in the courtroom."

"The letters were love letters. If they were not, I don't know what you would call them. My letter to him, calling his attention to the fact that we were of different walks of life and asking if I would fill the bill; and his saying that if there was any shortcoming, it was in himself, and that I would make the sweetest little wife in the world for a man; they tell the story."

"Is 'Going Through With It'?"

"This breach of promise suit is no blackmail, no robbery, no holdup. I am going through with this to get retribution for what I have suffered."

"I had no thought of easy money," as Mr. Caldwell is quoted as saying. He told me I was different from girls he knew in New York in that I never asked him for presents, nor for one thing I wanted him to buy me. I was not that kind, he told me himself."

"Where Mr. Caldwell says I asked for my letters from him, let me say that I never asked him to return my letters, but I have a letter in his handwriting asking for his letter and photograph back."

"None of my letters to him were beseeching affairs or 'anxious requests for life-long friendship,' as he is quoted as saying."

ANNUAL BEAN SUPPER.
 The annual bean supper at the Mission Church, under the auspices of the Holy Cross Guild and the Guild of St. Monica, was held last night and proved one of the most successful and enjoyable yet held. The school room was nicely and most attractively decorated for the occasion, and a large number patronized the supper. Some remarkably pleasing pieces of fancy work were offered for sale and were quickly disposed of, and at the candy table tempting dainties found ready sale. The grab which appeared in a very pretty form as a flower bed proved extremely popular. The general conveners were Mrs. Roland Prith and Mrs. W. D. Foster, and the members of both societies assisted. Miss Portia Mackenzie announced the early presentation of a comedy by the young people.

DIGBY GIVES $100 TO WINDSOR VICTIMS

Digby, Nov. 25.—At the regular meeting of the Town Council last evening, $100 was voted for the relief of sufferers in the Windsor fire. The Mayor, Dr. E. DuVernet, brought the matter to the attention of the Council, and after Councillor Jordan had raised some objections to a donation, thinking that it would be better to make a personal canvass of the town for funds, Councillor Holdsworth moved, seconded by Councillor Peck, that $100 be forwarded to the Mayor of Windsor.

It was decided at the meeting to appoint chartered accountants to audit the town books for the year 1924. The matter was fully discussed by the town fathers, and on motion of Councillor Holdsworth and Aymar, Mayor DuVernet was given power to get in touch with a reliable firm and make arrangements for a complete audit at the end of 1924. Whether the auditors will be given power to go back several years is not known.

STOP PASSES ON JAPAN RAILWAYS

Tokio, Nov. 25.—Passes are soon to be a thing of the past, as far as railroads are concerned. The Department of Railways has looked into the matter and decided that all free rides will be revoked and those who formerly owned passes must pay cash if they want to go any place on a train. It is reported the investigation discovered there were some 1,000,000 passes now in use. It is estimated the Government will save approximately 8,000,000 yen annually by this move. This is desired to be a conservative estimate or it is pointed out that if everybody who owns a pass used it regularly, these passes would have an estimated annual value of 20,000,000 yen.

GALAIS GIRL SAVES LITTLE BOY'S LIFE

Calais, Nov. 25.—Miss Arlene Bradish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Bradish, of this town, has returned from a visit with relatives at West Pembroke. While there Miss Bradish, who is 13 years of age, proved herself a heroine of quick thinking ability and action, when she heard the frantic cries for help from Carleton Frost, aged five years, who with two small companions were playing Indian. Carleton had a long pole in his hand and stepping near the reservoir on the Wilder place, he shoved the stick down into the water thinking that it was not very deep and that the end would reach bottom so he could rest his hand on the end of the stick, but owing to the depth of the water, the stick did not reach as he thought and he fell head foremost into the water. When he arose to the top he shouted but his two companions were too small and too terrified to help him. His cries were heard by Arlene, who ran to his assistance and reaching over the edge of the reservoir she grabbed him by the sweater and pulled him into safety, thereby saving his life.

STEAMER ASHORE NEAR BONA VISTA

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 25.—The Newfoundland coastal boat Prospero, which ran on Green Island, near Cape Bonavista, this morning, was still in the same position tonight. The passengers, numbering 80, were landed. The Sebastopol was dispatched to the scene to render assistance and salvage cargo, some of which has already been jettisoned. It was reported water had made its way into the engine room. The loss of the ship would seriously inconvenience trade just now as the north coast must receive supplies before the harbors are frozen up. A change of wind to the northeast would expose her to the full force of the Atlantic. She is 278 tons gross and is insured for $185,000.

WHAT WILL THE HARVEST BE?

After Sir Henry Thornton has spoken at tonight's banquet, St. John and the Maritime Provinces generally will know where they stand (we must suppose) with respect to questions which are absolutely vital to them.

FASHODA AGAIN?

Unfortunately the Anglo-French Entente, according to this morning's news from Paris is again in danger.

It appears from the representative of Le Matin that although the Egyptian Premier may have thought himself animated by the wisest intentions, within the last three weeks he has been completely overpowered by the elements of disorder.

Despatches from several quarters, if they are founded upon facts, apparently indicate that the good relations between Britain and France, which were so important a factor in the World War, which were practically destroyed while Lloyd George was still Premier, which Ramsay MacDonald was able to restore after conferences with the new French President, are again seriously imperiled.

Unless Britain and France can live together in harmony and with reasonable co-operation the whole fabric of world peace is shaken to its foundation.

WEST HASTINGS. The defeat of E. Gus Porter in West Hastings by Charles E. Hanna, the Liberal candidate, by a majority of 485, will be thought to have considerable significance.

Among Christian nations there would be grave sorrow and a deepening sense of horror because of the thought that we are only six years away from the Armistice and that, in one sense, the graves of their dead in France, in Flanders, and on many another front, are scarcely green.

It may be said that it is inconceivable that Britain and France could go to war. May heaven avert any such world catastrophe. Yet the light of history must not be shut out if any one feels compelled to look the facts in the face.

Winston Churchill, the new Chancellor of the British Exchequer, proposes to make the continental nations of Europe pay their debts to Great Britain. This will be very welcome news to the taxpayers of that country.

Odds and Ends

"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends."—From "Notes by A. Waylens."

WHAT WILL HE SAY TONIGHT?

SIR HENRY THORNTON

"The Diet and the Dross." (From Massey's "Concentration.") The sailor, the stoker of steamers, the man with the clout, The chautauque bent at the halliards putting a tune to the shout.

The Latest in Touring Cars. The special car occupied by Sir Henry and his secretarial staff is named the "Atlantic" and is one of the touring parties designed for special touring parties such as hunters, sight-seers, travelers and others who may organize themselves into "carload lots."

Our Popular Prince. (The Australasian.) A sartorial notice of the Prince which has been noticed is that he wears the brim of his hat turned down—Australian fashion.

A Convenient Neighbor. (Rhodesia Chronicle.) A shortage due to the ravages of drought or locusts exists in the Union of South Africa and accordingly much of the Rhodesian surplus is finding its way south, where it is being sold at remunerative prices.

Must Have the Goods. (Johannesburg Times.) If there is to be an agitation on behalf of South African industries, those concerned must endeavor to prove definitely, first of all, that the product they put out is equal in quality to that imported from overseas.

A Life Job. (Natal Advertiser.) Man, by his very nature, cannot achieve perfection in his works. The most he can do is to reduce the measure of imperfection that manifests itself, and this toil will keep him busy till his long day is done.

Freight Rates Reduced. (Freeman's Journal, Dublin.) The railway tribunal has decided that there must be a reduction of freight rates. There is nothing to alarm the companies in the reduction, but the relief will be welcomed by the users of the railways.

Mysteries of the Lowly Anglerworm. Many people think that worms can come down in a rain. They see many of these wrigglers on sidewalks, etc., after a summer shower and jump to this erroneous conclusion.

Tonight's Banquet. In the Union Club this evening the visiting C. N. R. officials will be entertained by the Board of Trade and Civic body.

It knows enough to find food and shelter. Worms do not go deep in the ground in winter. They couldn't if they wanted to. They are coiled up comparatively near the surface and allow themselves to freeze, coming to life again in the spring.

Ernest H. Clarke Explains Object of Movement in Canada

"The Student Christian Movement of Canada is a fellowship of students based on the conviction that in Jesus Christ is found the supreme revelation of God and the means of the real realization of life."

As the host of Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts in his capacity as a private citizen, a group of lay and clerical men in general secretary for Canada of the Student Christian Movement, an organization which has taken deep root in colleges and universities of the Dominion and embraces 40 countries in its scope.

In a sketchy way and yet quite comprehending the Student Christian Movement, Mr. Clarke explained how large educational institutions of Canada are encouraging groups of students who have banded themselves together in local and national organizations to study the life of Christ so that His teachings may be better understood and more closely followed.

In Acadia University, Wolfville, N. S., where the general secretary spent five days, he found the S. C. M. had reached a numerical standing of 20 students who met with him daily in the study of the Master's life and 10 of whom he had seen in person.

At Dalhousie University and Pine Hill College, Halifax, he found the student Christian Movement so resolutely entered into that the groups are disinclined to accept as members any who, having seen the Truth, refused to act upon it.

The student body through Canada as well as other parts of the world, has taken seriously to the study of the life of Christ and His teachings and His doings, so much so that the Dominion has two thousand classes or groups already.

Mr. Clarke enlarged upon the sure and certain benefits to the student youth of the nation and therefore to the nation itself, and the cause of Christianity by this study of Christ's life as independent of the college curriculum.

At the close of Mr. Clarke's informative address the host-chairman invited other guests to speak. Those who responded in appreciative vein were Dr. L. M. Curran, M.L.A.; R. T. Hayes, M.L.A.; Rev. Dr. S. Poole.

His Ambition. Naturally men prize something both useful and ornamental when a gift far more than a personal purchase. Which is why many a man tries to do with makeshift Cuff Links. He leaves himself open to a gift of Good Links so Some One will know exactly what will give Them Both most pleasure.

PLACE STEEL FOR COURT HOUSE ROOF. The steel held the work on the Court House up slightly but the roof trusses are the last part of the steel work required, and they will be put in place during this week and as they are secured the roof-ribs will commence and then the coverings will put on the final covering. It is expected that roofing-in will have commenced in a week's time.

Price Waterhouse Don't Say So!!

"Price Waterhouse audit of the St. John City distribution points out that the rates are adequate as the business grows, to wipe out any initial losses and eventually to bring a further rate reduction." (St. John Globe editorial, Nov. 20, 1924.)

In other words, Price Waterhouse pass on to the public in their report, THE OPINIONS OF THE HYDRO ENGINEERS, which, quite naturally, these engineers make as rosy as possible.

On the contrary, Price Waterhouse distinctly state: "IT MUST BE CLEARLY UNDERSTOOD THAT THE FIGURES SUBMITTED ARE BASED UPON THE INFORMATION AND OPINION" of Hydro engineers and "SHOULD BE ACCEPTED WITH SOME RESERVE."

GIRLS' TIPS PUT BOYS INTO PRISON

Saw Jail Breaker on Street; Told Police and Arrest Follows.

Provincetown, Nov. 26.—After a week of vagabondage on the Cape, John M. O'Brien, 22, of Yarmouth, and Donald Hall Gould, 18, of Chatham, who escaped from Barnstable jail a week ago, after knocking the turnkey senseless, are back in their cells again because two 12-year-old girls of this town refused to keep the secret of their presence here.

Florence Patrick, 17, and her chum, Frances Souza, 17, gave Chief of Police John Williams the clue that led to the capture of the two young desperadoes after a wild automobile chase along the shore road.

O'Brien and Gould have been walking along the Cape, sleeping at night in summer cottages. When captured they had acquired entire new wardrobes in addition to stolen jewelry and other valuables.

Miss Patrick and Miss Souza were walking along Commercial street when they were accosted by Donald Gould. They had seen him once before at a dance in Wellfleet.

"Hello, girls," Gould called to them. "Can you tell me where Katherine Souza lives?"

Katherine Souza is Frances' older sister and they immediately remembered that Gould had danced with her last summer at Wellfleet.

"Who are you?" they challenged, hoping to detain Gould until the police came. Gould was dressed in a long, ill-fitting coat and had a slouch hat pulled over his eyes.

"I'm Don Gould," he replied. "Don't you remember me?"

"They are looking all over the Cape for you," Florence told Gould.

"How long since?" Gould asked. "All fixed up," says Gould.

When the girls told him that the police had been seeking to arrest Gould and his companion all the week, Gould swaggered and said: "Oh, don't try to kid me. That's all fixed up. They let us go. You'd better not tell that you saw us here, though."

The girls walked along, fearing to try to detain Gould any longer. They sought for Chief Williams, but failed to find him. A few minutes later they met Gould again and he was accompanied by O'Brien.

"We're going to tell," the girls called to the two youths, and then ran away to seek the police again. Both men were laden with bundles of food. They had pies and canned food and had apparently been preparing for a long hideout in a summer cottage.

When the two girls located Chief Williams and Frank Williams, a special officer, they told of meeting the much wanted men.

An automobile was commandeered by the police. Dr. George P. Corea and his wife were in the car and Dr. Corea drove during the chase. They raced along the shore road and passed the two youths as they were trudging along. Then the automobile was swung broadside in the road and the two boys were handcuffed after a short struggle.

CHAPLIN MARRIES HIS LEADING LADY

Mexico City, Nov. 25.—At 5 o'clock this morning in the little town of Espanola, near Guaymas, on the Gulf of California, Charlie Chaplin was married to Lita Grey, his leading lady, by Civil Justice Antonio Haro, according to dispatches received here from Guaymas.

WEDDINGS

Cole-Donkin.

A pretty wedding was solemnized this morning in St. Peter's church at 8:30 when Rev. James Cloran, C. S. S. T., officiated, and Miss Grace M. Donkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Donkin of Main street, Fairville, was united in marriage to James C. Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams (Chatham, N. B.). The bride was becomingly attired in a navy ensemble suit with rust colored hat and wore an Isabelle Fox fur attractively decorated with Ophelia roses. She carried a white prayer book. The bride was attended by Miss Winnifred Kean, who was dressed in a navy blue suit with hat to match and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of golden Ophelias and white narcissus.

After the ceremony the bridal party motored to the home of the bride's parents, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The room was very attractively arranged with potted plants and cut flowers. Red and white streamers hung from the chandeliers to artistically arranged tables which were centered with yellow chrysanthemums. The groom is an employee of the C. P. R. and the bride was formerly a member of the staff of the millinery department of Manchester, Robertson, Allison, Ltd. The popularity of the bride and groom were evidenced by the numerous and beautiful gifts of cut glass, linen and silver which they received. The best wishes of a host of friends are extended to them for their future happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Cole left on the 7:25 train from Fairville for a wedding trip to Montreal and Quebec and on their return they will reside at 111 Main street, Fairville.

Harvey-Yeomans.

In the Portland Methodist church this morning at 8:45, Rev. H. A. Goodwin, the pastor, united in marriage Miss Fay Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Yeomans to William Barnes Harvey of this city. The church had been very attractively decorated with potted plants by the girl friends of the bride. Miss Lillian Bromfield played the wedding march. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was unattended. She wore a navy blue polka dot tulle suit, coco fox fur and Mexican brown hat trimmed with French flowers and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Harvey left for a short honeymoon trip and on their return they will reside at 164 Broad street. They received many very handsome gifts, included among them being a mahogany library table from the Dominion Rubber System, maritime division, with which the bride was employed.

Craine-Dunphy.

A wedding of much interest to their many friends took place at St. Thomas' Catholic church, Dover-Foxcroft, when Thomas George Craine of Johnville, Carleton county, N. B., and Miss Maude Edna Dunphy of Dover-Foxcroft were united in marriage. Nuptial mass was solemnized at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, Nov. 20, Rev. Father P. A. Hayes officiating.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dunphy. Mr. Craine is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Craine of Johnville, N. B. After a brief honeymoon they will reside with the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Craine's many friends in both Sebastic and Dover-Foxcroft unite in wishing them a long life together of happiness and prosperity.

Newman-Buckley.

DEATHS

Edward King.

Newcastle, Nov. 25.—The death of Edward King, one of the oldest residents of the Miramichi, occurred at his home, Chaplin Road, Newcastle, early Friday morning at the age of 90 years, after a short illness. He suffered an attack of apoplexy which caused his death.

HOLD CRUSADE MEETING.

An excellent programme was given at the crusade meeting of the Young Ladies' Missionary Society of the Main street Baptist church, held last night in the school room with a large attendance. Rev. Dr. David Hutchison presided. The programme included the following numbers: Reading, Miss Alice Estabrook; exercise, "How not to have a Missionary meeting," by 14 young ladies; duet, Mrs. Lee Hunter and Miss Hazel Flewelling; dialogue, "Aunt Tilley learns to 'Thine,'" by nine young ladies; solo, Mrs. Isaac Murray; reading, Miss Iris Morse, and exercise, "The Christ's call to conquest" by seven young ladies.

REPAIRS TO LIBRARY.

Repairs are being made to the mosaic floor of the central hall in the Public Library, and while the process is at times noisy enough to be a bit distracting, there is a certain fascination to be found in watching the tiny pieces of tiling being put into place. The fence around the library has also been receiving some attention and is now being dressed out in a new garb of green paint.

The teacher had been giving the children a lesson on botany. "Now," she said, "can anyone tell me what makes the leaves turn red in the autumn?"

"Please, miss, I can," replied the bright boy of the class. "They're all blushing to think how green they've been all the summer."

Painful rheumatic joints

This reduces the swelling—relieves the pain

The oldest and most obstinate cases of rheumatic joints are relieved by Sloan's when all other remedies have failed. No tiresome rubbing. Just pat it on lightly. Instantly you feel a warm glow of comfort as fresh, new blood is sent tingling through the painful tissues.

The enriched blood supply not only relieves the pain, but drives out the infection that is causing the pain. Get a bottle today and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the swelling, inflammation and pain in enlarged, creaky joints. All druggists—35 cents.

Sloan's Liniment kills pain!

Generous Reductions On Party Frocks For Children

This is your opportunity to buy a beautiful and becoming model in silk, crepe-de-chine or velvet at a greatly reduced price. Styles are thoroughly up-to-the-minute and there are all sizes from 2 to 14 years in the assortment. Many lovely shades to choose from. (Children's shop, 2nd floor.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Bertha

ON TOP OF A MOUNTAIN PEAK.

When they looked out of the window the cloud was disappearing in the distance.

"Now then," said Daddy Gander seated on the magic dust-pan, "take us to the House-That-Jack-Built."

Instantly the dust-pan started away again in the direction of the big cloud, where the house had settled, after floating up to the sky.

But to their surprise the dough no longer stuck out of the windows. Instead, delicious smells greeted their noses. Smells of bread baking.

"What can it be?" cried Daddy Gander. "It's the very queerest thing I ever heard of in all my life!"

"The best way to find out," said Nick wisely, "is to go inside."

"Certainly!" said Daddy Gander. "What a wise child you are!"

So they all stepped off the magic dust-pan onto the cute little front porch and tapped three times on the door.

And who should open it but the cook himself. The cook of the King of Yum Yum Land.

But he sniffed and sniffed and sniffed—the tears running down his

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about 75%.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, or clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is 16 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made and saves easily 75%. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and leads the irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

checks like Tom Tom after he had stolen the pig and got a beating.

"Oh, goodness!" he said with another sniffle. "Come in."

"Have you been skinning onions?" asked Nancy.

"No-o-o! It isn't onions," said the cook. "It's sorrow. I'm crying because I'm sad."

"I'm sad because I baked up some dough I found here in the house all ready for the oven and it's so delicious and I've nobody to serve it to! I can't go back to the palace because the king's gone and the peddler who took his place ordered my head chopped off."

"Why, yes you can," said Nancy. "The king got his throne back. He put on his crown and his robe and went back to the castle just a little while ago."

"Oh, then, if you'll please excuse me, I'll be taking my baking and leave at once," said the cook. "And I don't even want the magic fork. All I want is my job back and someone who appreciates good food."

"But how are you going to get there?" asked Nick.

"Well," said the cook thoughtfully looking down at the earth, "I could jump."

"No such a thing!" said Daddy Gander. "Put your baking into a basket and I'll take you down myself. I know Mrs. John won't care about you using up her bread dough, she will only be too glad to get her house back." So the cook did as the old gentleman said, and put the baking into a basket and they got onto the magic carpet far below.

Nancy and Nick started to look over the House-That-Jack-Built. They poked into all the corners and all the cupboards and opened and shut all the drawers and had a grand time waiting for Daddy Gander to come back to take them and Jack's house back to Mother Gore Land.

They never noticed that a wind had sprung up and started to blow the cloud very rapidly through the sky.

When they looked out of the window the cloud was disappearing in the distance having left the House-That-Jack-Built sticking on top of the highest mountain in the world. Yum Yum Land had disappeared altogether.

One Wheat Berry A Tale of Health

Romance lies within that golden slice of Whole Wheat Bread that excites both eye and appetite around the supper table. This year of grace Whole Wheat Bread came as a welcome stranger from the Robinson Bakery—a messenger of health. For years Robinson's had hoped to manage a Whole Wheat Bread that would please the public as much as the doctors. At long last a Whole Wheat flour was found of a flavor and fineness that would rise well and keep well. A recipe was developed finally and the Robinson Loaf introduced. From the first it has won a permanent place at the table and is growing in favor all the time. Thus the little Wheat berry whose kernel, life giving minerals and bran were so long lost to popular baking now comes into its own with its extra food values and flavoriness. Greater health and strength for all in Robinson's.

Fashion Freaks In 5th Avenue

By HEDDA HOYT

(Fashion Editor of the United Press) New York, Nov. 26.—There is a type of woman in every town whom other women refer to as "upstarts."

At 42nd street and Fifth avenue a young woman wore a purple frock with stockings. She was a picture in purple with no relief. Her frock was a simple tunic model of davyside and followed the mode in line and color.

Another miss wore a tan cloth frock with a circular flare at the hem. She also chose the Parisian short skirt and the wide brimmed affairs cut short in back and was made of the popular fashia toned purple velvet.

felt and was cut so short in back that the newest bob—the V-shaped hair-line at the nape of the neck—looked grotesque, for it formed a long, black wisp on her neck.

An elderly Flapper. An elderly lady with bobbed hair had chosen the hair-do that looks as though the hair were pasted over the cheeks at the sides.

Then came the woman who thought she'd show Fifth avenue something about waistlines. She was probably young sweet little married woman who cooks her own meals and walks to save carfare, etc.

Drowning Reveals Domestic Tragedy

New York, Nov. 26.—Julius Block of 1604 Madison Avenue, Manhattan, has identified the body of a woman found in the East River at the foot of Broadway, Astoria, N. J., that of his wife, Sarah Block, 34 years old, of Brooklyn.

Statements by Block and the neighbors of Mrs. Block revealed a sad domestic story. Block said that he and his wife had three children. She left him about five years ago, taking with her the oldest child, a girl of 7 years, and settled in Brooklyn.

WIDOW OF BANDIT GIVEN FREEDOM

Montreal, Nov. 25.—Mary Serafini, widow of Giuseppe Serafini, hanged recently at Bordeaux jail with three others for the murder of Henry Cleroux, Hochelaga Bank chauffeur was acquitted this morning by a jury in the Court of King's Bench, after a deliberation lasting only four minutes.

After her dismissal, Mrs. Serafini, dressed in widow's weeds, left the court accompanied by her counsel, C. G. Ogden. She had been in jail for eight months, during which period her husband was executed for his part in the sensational Hochelaga bank murder and hold-up.

Let's Get Together To Better Maritimes, Says Thornton

FORGET PAST, LOOK TO THE FUTURE, SAYS C. N. R. PRESIDENT

Sir Henry Thornton Promises Close Consideration of Maritime Case.

UNITY IS URGED

Railway Chief Would Have Round Table Discussion of All Problems.

Moncton, Nov. 25.—A clear and definite enunciation of the sentiments and the policy of The Canadian National Railways towards the three Maritime Provinces was made by Sir Henry W. Thornton, chairman and president of the National system, in an address which he delivered to the executive of the Board of Trade of Moncton tonight.

Sir Henry's visit to Moncton was made for the purpose of giving the Board of Trade an opportunity to present to him whatever matters of importance concerning the railway they had in mind, but that purpose being rendered abortive owing to important engagements of a majority of the board on civic matters requiring immediate attention, Sir Henry promised the executive that he would return to Moncton for 24 hours within the next 90 days to permit the board to discuss their problems with him. It was in making this promise that Sir Henry took advantage of the opportunity to make apparent the attitude of the Canadian National Railways towards the Maritimes.

"I have suggested before," said Sir Henry, "and I repeat it again that it is my opinion that if the Maritime Provinces would get together and form a small committee of business men to confer with me on problems which affect us, it would be to our immediate mutual advantage. It would be a good thing if we could sit down with some of your representative citizens and see if we can't get something done instead of just talking about it?"

Defines Position.

"I do not believe that the Maritime Provinces have reached a condition where no further progress can be expected. That is all rot and nonsense. There is no legitimate reason why we can't see the future of the Maritime Provinces should not be as big as that of any other part of Canada."

"This is my pledge to the people of the Maritime Provinces: I will do anything or follow up any suggestion any of you can make. But let us sit down in an orderly fashion in tranquility, without prejudice and without thinking of the past, and do what we can to improve conditions that will work for the betterment of the Maritime Provinces."

"So far as the Canadian National Railways are concerned, I am sure you will appreciate that my first duty is to put that railway on a paying basis, or at least to endeavor to relieve the taxpayers of Canada as much as possible of the financial burden the railways place upon them. To do that we must do two things, increase our business and decrease our expenses. In doing that we desire at the same time to assist as far as is humanly possible every part of Canada in its legitimate development and this desire is sincere in respect to the Maritime Provinces as it is to any other portion of the Dominion."

Results From Radio.

Sir Henry also dealt for a few minutes with the establishment of the new radio station of the company at Moncton. "There may be," he said, "those who cannot see the connection between radio and the railway system. When I tell you that already C. N. R. A has been heard in Bourneouth, England, and in all of the states on the Atlantic seaboard of the United States as well as in other states much further west, and that from our first broadcasting we received more than 200 letters from the United States, all of which were answered with a letter which also contained information calculated to attract attention to these provinces, you may agree with me that radio is not a toy, not a fad, not a plaything, but of distinct commercial value. It was thought in the early days of its history that the telephone was a fad. I venture to believe that the history of radio will be that of the telephone."

In concluding his address, Sir Henry spoke upon the rising conditions in business generally and referred to the new first class passenger steamship service to be inaugurated by the Canadian National Railways in co-operation with the White Star Line system. He said that this winter and the approval of the construction of a large grain elevator at Halifax as two instances of things likely to add business conditions in the Maritimes.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE.

Members of the staff of Manchester Robertson Allison Limited, met at the home of Mrs. Thomas Keam, Manawagonish road, on Monday night and tendered a surprise shower to Miss Grace Donkin, whose marriage took place this morning. When the bride-to-be entered the residence the hall, which had been dimly lighted, was suddenly brightly illuminated and a beautifully decorated basket full of gifts was displayed. Red and white streamers from the basket to all corners of the room added attractiveness to the decoration scheme. The evening was pleasantly spent with games and music and refreshments were served.

Maritimes' Case Is Stated To President of the C. N. R.

SIR HENRY W. THORNTON

SIR HENRY:—

The Maritime Provinces wish to be recognized by the rest of Canada as a part of Canada.

We have assumed our share of the public liabilities which made possible the construction of our two great railway systems, the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National.

We feel that, if as a partner with the rest of Canada, we have to assume our full share of losses and liabilities, as well as our share of the original cost of the Canadian National Railways, we should be counted in as full participants in the assets and benefits accruing from the operation of such a property.

Today we are bearing our percentage of whatever loss in operation the Canadian National Railway may incur, amounting in some years to our total federal income tax.

Portland, Maine, cannot be taxed for Canadian National Railway deficits, but St. John and Halifax can be and are.

Whether such deficits originate in Canada, in Portland or in connection with the administration of the other United States branches of the Canadian National Railways, it is St. John, Halifax and the rest of Canada which pay.

It is unthinkable that the Maritime Provinces should be taxed to build up a foreign port; yet that is what is being done.

Not being a manufacturing section, we are, through our tariff, being called upon to assist in the upbuilding of the rest of Canada, particularly Ontario and Quebec, a duty which we have been uncompromisingly performing since 1867.

The Maritime Provinces have also cheerfully paid their quota of the cost of the construction and operation of the free canal system of Canada.

Without going into details of the Confederation Pact, we wish the principles of that pact realized by the people of Canada, and the greatest of our public servants.

We ask no charity or special privileges as against any other part of Canada, but we do demand a realization that we are partners in the Canadian National Railways, and we emphasize the fact that as between Portland and Halifax and St. John, there can be no question as to which ports should receive recognition.

If the Maritimes are to stay in Confederation, we must be classed as a part of Confederation, when benefits are being considered as well as when taxes are being levied.

SEARCH FOR BODY OF KING HAROLD

Ruins of English Church Will be Scanned as It is Demolished.

London, Nov. 26.—The headless body of Harold the First—"Harold Harefoot"—King of England from 1035 to 1040, is to be sought for during the demolition of St. Olave's church, Southwark. Other relics, too, of the same and later periods, are expected to be found, and the most careful scrutiny is to be made.

TERRORISTS TAKE HAND IN GERMAN ELECTION FIGHT

Hardest Elements in Red Party Organize Big Shock Troop Groups

By CARL D. GROAT. (United Press Staff Correspondent.) Berlin, Nov. 25.—Terror is to play a role in the German elections, Dec. 7, if the Communists have their way. They have just completed organization of a big shock troop group known as the "Rote Frontkampfbund," composed of the hardest elements in the red party. Most of the members of this organization have seen service in the trenches and many of them were formerly incorporated in the so-called "Hundertschaften" or "Companies of one hundred" dissolved a year ago by government orders. A sub-division of the "R. F. B.," as the organization is known for short, is "Der Rote Jungsturm" or "Red Youth Storm."

The terror activity of this new organization will be directed chiefly against the new republican organization "Reichsbanner der Arbeiter," but some attention will also be paid to the fascist storm troops of Hitler and Luedendorfer.

Organization of the red group is in line with open instruction of Sinowjew and others in Moscow for organization of workers' troops to be used against "the enslavement of the German proletariat through the slave chains of the Dawes regime."

The police and Reichswehr are keeping a specially sharp eye on the red organizations, fearing that they will attempt labor uprisings in Saxony, Prussia and other industrial centers. The police everywhere are under special alarm measures which require re-doubled watchfulness until the campaign is over. This is also true of the Reichswehr, which in many garrisons is constructing "Spanish riders," as dubbed by the press, and which are to be known. All garrisons are now at full strength, all detached groups having been recalled to home stations.

Leaders of the police and army do not exactly anticipate any push, as a result of the election campaign, but are known to have shaped their plans for the campaign accordingly. The programme hence includes preparations for a possible outbreak directly after the elections on the part of some disappointed group. Since the nationalists and fascists are the most likely to suffer reverses, it is assumed that this calculation is directed against the leaders of a fascist or pan-German party.

The fascists at the moment, however, are suffering from internal dissension. They have always been more or less discordant amongst themselves, but the breach now appears to be broader than ever. Big industrialists are hesitating to throw any more money into the fascist cause and this is taking some of the fight out of the fight of the fascists. The Communist coffers appear to be completely empty. Moscow, hitherto credited with pouring golden floods into the hands of the fascists, is apparently not so lavish as heretofore. Moscow, however, keeps a hand on the red movement here and gives it such direction as it has.

The reds, except for their new terror organization, are badly adrift. Their leaders are hunted and hounded by the police, who start immediately after dissolution of the Reichstag to make a clean-up of the leading red deputies, including the stormy Ruth Fischer.

This police search has succeeded so far in keeping the Communist campaigners on the stump and confined solely to words of mouth campaigning in the factories and in the columns of the Communist paper, "Rote Fahne."

The Communists are destined to considerable losses to the Socialists in the elections. However, they still muster a surprisingly large number of voters, despite the fact that the movement itself has lost "punch" since as long ago as 1921.

Meantime, the middle parties express confidence in the outcome of the campaign. They think that the radical parties on the right and left will lose, to the advantage of the middle group.

SHOW SEA SHELLS.

The display of sea shells, chiefly of the "pearly" variety is attracting much attention to the window of the Natural History Museum on Union street.

The museum has a very fine collection of shells and some of the most beautiful specimens are on display in the window.

T. P. Stevens of Southwark Cathedral, that Harold the First was buried in St. Olave's.

The first church on the site of St. Olave's was built in 1030 A. D., on or near an old Danish burial ground. And the story of Harold's burial there—based on an old record—is most interesting.

"Harold died at Oxford, and was buried in Westminster Abbey. But later the body was disinterred by order of Hardeknute, beheaded, and flung contemptuously into the Thames.

The headless body was swept down the river, and discovered by a fisherman near the spot where St. Olave's now stands, and given decent but secret burial.

A meeting of the teachers' committee of the Board of School Trustees was held last night with Dr. L. St. Curran, chairman, presiding. Matters of routine were dealt with.

C. N. R. Chiefs In St. John Today

Above are the pictures of three members of Sir Henry W. Thornton's party to whom the City of St. John today extends a cordial welcome. Mathew Lodge, for many years a prominent business man in the Maritime Provinces, at present residing in Moncton, is New Brunswick's representative on the board of directors of the Canadian National Railways. Robert H. Mackay, of New Glasgow, N. S., was appointed recently to the directorate of the C. N. R. He is a member of the firm of Mackay & Fraser, Ltd., manufacturers of marine gasoline engines. He was a member of the Nova Scotia Legislature in 1909 and was first administrator for Nova Scotia in 1917-1918. W. U. Appleton is the general manager of the Atlantic Region of the C. N. R., with headquarters at Moncton. He succeeded to this position on the death of the late L. S. Brown.

AWARD CONTINUES EXISTING WAGES

Board of Conciliation in Canadian Press Case Gives Decision

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Toronto, Nov. 25.—The board of conciliation appointed by the Minister of Labor to inquire into the dispute between the Canadian Press and its telegraphers, and consisting of Judge Colin G. Smeiter, chairman, J. G. O'Donoghue, K. C., for the employees, and E. Norman Smith, for the company, made its award today after a number of sittings. The award continues the existing wage and overtime scale unchanged except that in points east of Winnipeg of under 50,000 population there is a reduction in wages of five dollars a week. Recommendations are made in regard to seniority and arbitration of future disputes.

The findings of the board are unanimous except that Mr. O'Donoghue, representing the employees dissents in a minority report from the reduction in wage for the smaller points or week.

The dispute originated last July when the men made a demand for a considerable wage increase and the company in turn asked for a wage reduction based on the fall in the cost of living since the then existing agreement was made in 1920. The company refused such a board and on Sept. 11 went out on strike but after ten days returned to work, accepting the offer of the Minister of Labor of a board of conciliation which has now completed its task.

LORD BYNG PAYS OFFICIAL VISIT

Places Wreath on Soldiers' Cross in Napanee, Ontario

Napanee, Ont., Nov. 25.—Lord Byng, Governor-General of Canada, and Lady Byng paid an official visit to this town today and were given a warm welcome by the citizens.

A deputation met the vice-regal party at the train and escorted them to the armories where a large crowd had gathered with "B" company of the Frontenac Regiment and a band in attendance.

In reply to a formal address of welcome, Lord Byng made a pleasing speech. Lady Byng was presented with flowers. After making a tour around the town Lord Byng placed a floral cross at the foot of the soldiers' monument.

PRISONER KILLS 3, THEN FIRES ALL

Discovery of Murder Instrument Outside Window Leads to Detection.

Berlin, Nov. 25.—A fire broke out a little while ago at the court house at Halbau, a little Silesian town of 2,000 inhabitants.

At 2 a.m. a watchman saw tongues of fire starting from several places in a high-pitched room. Firemen, unable to get a reply to their knocking, broke into the building and found the mutilated bodies of the gaoler, his wife, and their daughter, aged 18, the latter buried beneath a heap of potatoes.

"Terrified cries from a room in the top of the building came from the only prisoner at the place, a man of 25. He was saved, but the fire was not extinguished until the upper story of the building was destroyed.

KORETZ, TAKEN IN HALIFAX, OWNS N. Y. BOOKSTORE

Alleged Swindler to Tune of $2,000,000 Seen in a New Role.

MODEL PRISONER

Halifax Has Story of a Necklace Gift in Restaurant.

New York, Nov. 26.—It was disclosed yesterday that Leo Koretz of Chicago, who awaits extradition in Halifax as a $2,000,000 swindler, purchased, while a fugitive from justice, and still owns the Neighborhood Book Shop, Inc., on the exclusive end of Madison avenue. Temple Scott, a well-to-do publisher's reader, author and lecturer at New York City College, is supervisor of the shop.

Soon after Koretz fled from Chicago last February, Scott said, a cultured-looking man with a heavy, dark beard appeared at one of the Scott lectures, introduced himself as "Lou Keyte, a lover of books," and expressed a desire to purchase a bookstore in this city.

Scott thought he was talking to a man with a passing whim. But when he told "Keyte" the Neighborhood Store was for sale $10,000 was immediately forthcoming and the deal was closed, with "Keyte" sole owner, and for a time, manager. There were several clerks. Scott was supervisor.

"About the time it appears the Chicago police were scenting Koretz's trail, he whom I know as Keyte announced his health was failing and he must return to his home at Halifax, Scott's story continued. "I remained in charge."

"During my vacation in New Hampshire I ran up to Halifax and visited Keyte. Everything was as he had described it. A beautiful estate, comfortable home, luxurious appointments, servants, money—and plenty of books. I found myself in the environment with which a cultured gentleman means surrounds himself."

Keyte's health continued to keep him at Halifax, so Scott continued as supervisor of the book shop. Although Scott has had no previous appointments, servants, money—and plenty of books. I found myself in the environment with which a cultured gentleman means surrounds himself."

SAYS MUSIC IS NO AID TO DIGESTION

British Organist, on Other Hand, Says it is Really Dangerous.

Berlin, Nov. 25.—(United Press)—Does music with meals give the listener indigestion?

A. T. Akeroyd, a Harrogate organist, thinks so and said as much in lecturing before a recent meeting of the Harrogate Rotarians on "Music and Life."

"The café band and the restaurant orchestra are direct incentives to indigestion," he said, "and far more dangerous than bad cooking."

"If people listen to music they cannot give the necessary attention to the food to secure the full favor of it. If a person during a meal suddenly says 'Listen! the diner at once stops eating to listen.'"

Buchanan Taylor, one of the heads of the biggest chain restaurant systems in the British Isles, disputes the suggestion as "nothing short of absurd."

"Music," he adds, "is a distinct aid to digestion. People digest food better when they are cheerful, and music makes them so."

Mr. Taylor is confident that not even the saxophone, most harmful of all instruments to the 100-per cent. Britisher, disturbs the digestion of his company's customers.

CHRISTMAS SEALS SALE

The members of the St. John Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis will commence its campaign of public sale of the tuberculosis Christmas seals and members of the association will be stationed at the four corners from which the sale will be conducted. Those in charge will be as follows: F. W. Daniel and Co. Ltd., Mrs. J. H. Doody and Mrs. Bruce Burpee; Manchester Robertson Allison Limited, Mrs. Arthur Bowman and Mrs. M. B. Edwards; Imperial Theatre, Mrs. George Ewing and Opera House, Miss Eileen Keefe and Miss Hilda Morrell.

AT TABERNACLE CHURCH

A mission was conducted in the Tabernacle Baptist church last evening by Rev. G. F. Bolster of Hartland, N. B. Many attended. The speaker said that the quest of salvation was a personal matter which had to be settled by each individual. A special appeal for those who wished to lead a better life was responded to in a very encouraging manner. Rev. A. L. Treford, pastor of the church, led the song service.

BEOACON LIGHT CLASS

The Beacon Light Class of Pleasant Point Sunday school met at the home of Mrs. Richard Gould last evening with the president, Mrs. W. E. Hamlin in the chair and with a good attendance. A profitable evening was spent. Much regret was expressed at the loss of one of their members for the winter, Mrs. J. H. Ryder, who will spend the winter with her children in Maine. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. King.

MANY ATTEND

One of the largest gatherings yet attended the revival services in Ludlow street Baptist church, West End, last evening when Rev. Arthur J. Vincent spoke on "The Last Call of God to Man." The address made a deep impression. Miss Vincent sang a solo very effectively at the close of her father's address. The spiritual life of the church is being greatly strengthened through these services which will conclude this week.

Woman Cleans Up Cruel Prisons

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 26.—This is the story of a woman who cleaned up one of the worst prison systems in the country.

It is due, in great measure, to the fact that 34 years ago a Texas ranch girl wanted to be a doctor and couldn't. Her father did not think medicine a modest calling for his daughter. So they compromised on pharmacy, and the girl, now Mrs. J. E. King, went to study it at the San Houston Normal School in Huntsville.

Now Huntsville is the seat of the Texas State Penitentiary—"the walls," they call it, to distinguish it from the 24 prison farms scattered over eastern and southern Texas.

And it was there that Mrs. King, who today is chairman of the Texas Prison Surveyors Board, got her first glimpse of a prison and of prison life.

"The first thing I saw in Huntsville," she says, "was the walls. And they are the last thing I ever shall forget."

"Then I went to Galveston to finish my course. In 1895, Governor Tom Campbell appointed me state pharmacist. And my life was full and busy."

"After a time I married. My husband's chief delight was in spoiling me with attention. For 18 years I led a life of ease. But always in the back of my mind was that prison in Huntsville and those poor men."

"Governor Pat Neff was a warm friend of ours. In September, 1921, when he created the prison advisory board, he put me on it. I wanted to refuse, but my husband said: 'The Lord hasn't given us any children, so we ought to do some service.'"

Needed a Housekeeper.

The other members named Mrs. King—she is "Mother" King to the convicts—the board's chairman. From then on, her life of ease was over.

"I cannot express my feelings on my first inspection trip," she recalls. "The men were sleeping in wooden bunks—there was not an iron bed in the whole prison system. And they had only old dirty and torn mattresses of straw, hay and corn-shucks. I believe there were not 20 pillows in the system."

"In each cell house was an open barrel of water and a common drinking cup. The bunk houses were filled with bedbugs. Flies and mosquitoes swarmed about, for there wasn't a screen or a mosquito bar in sight."

"I saw right there what the prisons needed was a housekeeper. Men can't keep house. And 'Mother' King jumped right in. She bought iron beds from the army surplus for 95 cents apiece, and tore out every wooden bunk. She got new mattresses and pillows.

No More Chains.

Then she abolished the dark cell. Locked in one, a man had no light whatever, and no air except what came in through a small pipe in the floor. Fifteen years ago eight negroes were thrown in a dark cell at Revere Farm, and in that little black

"MOTHER" KING

Hole of Calcutta they smothered to death. This is a matter of record recalled by Mrs. King.

"But you can't find any dark cells in Texas prisons now," she declares. And next came the passing of the chains—great log chains that used to be hung from the beams in every prison house; those chains with which men were strung up by the wrists until they fainted.

Now "Mother" King has tackled the whipping problem. She has declared herself against the use of the lash. "But as long as a provision remains in the statutes, the board cannot prevent its use," she says. "We can only recommend the law be changed."

PART OF STANLEY TO PAY FULL TAXES

City Raises Valuation on Portion of Ward Getting All Services.

The City Council yesterday decided to assess a part of Stanley ward at full valuation as the services enjoyed by other parts of the city, water, fire and police protection and street lights, were given the residents of that section. A communication from the county secretary asking that the city arrange to pay the face of the 1924 warrant to the General Public Hospital was laid on the table and a number of matters of routine were disposed of.

Mayor Potts presided and Commissioners Wignome, Frink, Bullock and Harding were present.

The committee of the whole recommended that the railway siding at the east of Broad street be repaired at an estimated cost of $250 and that the invitation of the Board of Trade to attend the dinner to Sir Henry Thornton be accepted. The report was adopted. On motion of Commissioner Bullock it was decided to inform D. C. Clark that he would be expected to hold lots now under lease to him until the expiry date. Mr. Clark had applied for leave to surrender the leases from Nov. 1.

The county secretary wrote asking that the city pay the full cost of the warrant to the General Public Hospital. Mayor Potts reported that the matter had been taken up with the city solicitor, who advised that the city was bound by the legislation to pay 90 per cent of the warrant in monthly payments and the other 10 per cent when available. In view of the advice of the city solicitor it was decided to let the communication lie on the table.

Full Assessment.

The chairman of the Board of Assessors recommended that that portion of Stanley ward from the boundaries of Lorne and Lansdowne wards to and including the property of Mrs. Alice G. Trearlin on the west side and Lucy, wife of Frank Craft, on the east side, be assessed at full valuation, as they were enjoying all the services provided by the city. Carried.

A communication from H. C. Page asking that the sum of $300 paid by him under protest as a special business tax when he conducted his auction sale in 1923 be returned, was ordered filed.

On motion of Commissioner Wignome the tenders of William Lewis & Son for iron work, J. S. Gregory for piling and R. Roberts Sons for diving piling for the Carleton mill pond sewer, being the lowest in each case, were accepted.

The price quoted for piling was 110 cents per foot and for driving the piles $2.40 per stick.

Bills for street lighting from the New Brunswick Power Company of $4,651.16 and the Civic Power Commission of $2,908.46 were ordered paid. The first mentioned had been held up for some time, Commissioner Harding said, and the latter were for the month of October.

ENTERTAINS SEWING CIRCLE

Mrs. Charles Dykeman, of Harding street, Fairville, was hostess Monday evening for the Baptist Sewing Circle members, when embroidery, as well as plain sewing was accomplished. The ladies planned for a tea and sale to be held in December, while busying themselves over their needlework. Miss Ida Wayne assisted the hostess in serving a dainty supper after work was laid aside. Those present were Mrs. C. B. Black, Mrs. George Fowler, Mrs. Harry Relcker, Mrs. Hiram Allabee, Mrs. Carl Cunningham, Mrs. Thomas Alchon, Mrs. J. W. Stevens, Mrs. C. H. Beveridge, Mrs. William Fox, Mrs.

LAST DIAMOND GANGSTER TAKEN

George de Sarro, Sought in Murder, Arrested in Italy.

New York, Nov. 26.—George De Sarro, the last of the band that held up and killed two West End bank messengers in Brooklyn a year ago, is in the hands of justice. But, unlike the Diamond brothers and his other associates, De Sarro will escape the chair.

Word of his arrest in Palermo, Sicily, reached police headquarters this week, and under the laws of Italy, which do not permit extradition, he will be tried in the Italian courts. No death penalty is provided for in the Italian code, but De Sarro, if convicted, will face imprisonment, perhaps solitary confinement.

His capture ended a world hunt. When the police net closed on Morris B. Diamond, his brother, Joseph G. Diamond, young Anthony Pantano, bank clerk, who turned criminal, and John Farina—all since tried and condemned to death—De Sarro slipped through. De Sarro and Farina, according to the evidence at the trials, were the actual slayers of William H. McLaughlin and William S. Barlow on the New Utrecht avenue station of the B. M. T.

The man's record and his description were known to the police within a few days after the killing, but he seemed to have vanished. Morris Diamond, former football player, and "brains" of the gang, was caught. Then his brother fell into the snare. Pantano, a nervous, erratic youngster, came next and then Farina.

Farina Caught in Hoboken.

When detectives burst into a furnished room in Hoboken they expected to find De Sarro as well as Farina. According to the police both were dangerous men and the raiding detectives entered the room with fingers on triggers. Under the covering of a bathroom overcoat they found only Farina deep in sleep on a cot. He was a prisoner, emphatically saying it was all a mistake, before he could get to the revolver in the pocket of the overcoat. Grilling him failed to give any clue to the missing De Sarro. The Diamonds and Pantano, before and after their trial, could or would say nothing about De Sarro. So the police took up their search by circular. A particularly minute description of the man, coupled with a photograph, was broadcast. Especially numerous were the circulars supplied to the Italian authorities, because it was thought that De Sarro eventually would return to his old haunts in Palermo.

Yesterday, through the Italian Consul, came word to Inspector John D. Coughlin that the Italian Minister of the Interior had been advised of De Sarro's apprehension in Sicily. All of the necessary evidence in the case will be forwarded to Italy for use at the trial. Witnesses may be sent over to testify when the tribunal begins its sessions. The police say they expect to prove that De Sarro was responsible for the wanton murder of the two bank employees.

De Sarro's Police Record.

At police headquarters detectives who combed De Sarro's record said he was arrested for disorderly conduct on Feb. 25, 1911, and discharged. On March 14, 1918, he was arraigned in General Sessions on a murder charge, but was freed by the late Judge James T. Malone. He was next in court on Dec. 2, 1920, when he appeared before Magistrate Max S. Levine on a charge of burglary. He was discharged.

On June 26, 1921, said the police, De Sarro managed the hold-up of the jewelry store of Morris Sapo at Sixth

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

The board of management of the Portland Methodist Sunday school met last night with S. A. Kirk, superintendent, presiding. The opening prayer was offered by Rev. H. A. Goodwin, pastor. Miss Marjorie Trotter, Maritime girls' work secretary, gave a fine address, telling of the G. I. T. programme. The meeting appointed A. W. Lingley chairman of the young people's council and Miss Lillian Bromfield, secretary of the council as a committee to secure information regarding the work of the M. R. E. C., and report back to the next meeting. Mrs. A. W. Lingley, who was a delegate at the fifth annual convention of the M. R. E. C., held in Truro recently, gave an interesting and comprehensive report of the proceedings and the report was discussed by various members.

ATTENDS MEETING.

Mrs. G. Wilford Campbell, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., was able to be out yesterday to attend the regular meeting and was heartily welcomed by the members. The auxiliary voted to send $75 for the foreign work of the Y. M. C. A. and made plans for the supper for the foreigners of the association, which will take place on Dec. 4. Mrs. Leonard Lingley was appointed convener. The auxiliary undertook to have charge of the refreshments for the New Year's Day reception and of the annual treat to be given to the newboys.

He laughed at Kellogg's Bran!

Now read this letter of thanks from Mr. Kane. It speaks for itself. Remember, it is because Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran that it was so effective in his case—just as it has been in thousands of others. Only ALL bran can produce 100 per cent results.

My dear friends: Imagine a young man weighing 165 pounds in the course of a few months parked in bed, a weakling weighing 94 pounds. An elderly lady whom I knew since I was a kid paid me what she thought was a last visit. Upon being told of my plight she immediately mentioned your product for such an ailment. Maybe some of you didn't look upon her views very lightly. . . . It was to laugh! . . . not at your product, but because I am able to. I am telling you and the world at large, "Eat Kellogg's Krumble Bran!" It should be called "Constipation's worst enemy." I owe you my heartfelt gratitude. I can talk and whenever the opportunity presents itself, my mouth is always full of bran-Kellogg's Krumble. Wishing you countless days of progress, I am,

Yours for success,
John M. Kane,
(Address on Request)

Eat Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, regularly to relieve constipation permanently. Two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money. You will like the delicious nut-like flavor. Sold by all grocers.

PURITY FLOUR

HAS GREAT FAITH IN FUTURE OF N.B. HYDRO PROJECTS

Chief Engineer of Commission Visions Great Things for Industry.

Fredericton, Nov. 25.—The Board of Trade office was filled tonight by an attentive audience, the occasion being the address upon Hydro Electric development in the province, and its relation to the City of Fredericton by S. R. Weston, chief engineer of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission.

Brunswick Electric Power Commission The Board of Trade had been desirous of hearing Mr. Weston for some time, and tonight was the first opportunity. A. Murray, vice-president of the board, was in the chair, and among those present, the chief business men of the city were represented. Mr. Weston proved a fluent and interesting talker. The latter portion of his address was illustrated by lantern views. Mr. Weston outlined the proposal to develop several power sites in the province, and to link them all up with the greatest of them all at Grand Falls, to form one system. He predicted a much wider use of electricity if the energy were developed and declared that the introduction of hydro electricity would mean the erection of many new power plants in New Brunswick, thus enormously increasing the value of New Brunswick's forest products and providing work for a great number of men in the manufacture.

REGAL A Very High Grade Manitoba FLOUR Milled Especially for Particular People.

public standpoint can be better carried out as public enterprises, and I maintain that this power project is one. If this New Brunswick scheme is being undertaken as a public project it is not because the principle of public ownership is generally sounder as compared with private ownership, but because this particular proposition can be best conducted by the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission.

ST. STEPHEN BOY IS DROWNING VICTIM

St. Stephen, Nov. 25.—All effort to revive the life of the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duplisa, who was found on the beach at noon today, was without success.

BISTO —for Soups—Stews—Meat Pies BISTO adds immeasurably to their richness and flavour. Just you try it. It takes away the flat and insipid taste of any dish.

A Weak Stomach with gasiness, sour risings, belching, heartburn and heaviness after eating may be nothing but the demand of the stomach for the alkaline effect in STUART'S Dyspepsia Tablets

Text of Address. Mr. Weston's address, in part, follows: That such a representative body as the Fredericton Board of Trade is interested in this subject is one more evidence of awakening upon the part of our people to the resources of this province, so far undeveloped. For at least a generation, while the great western areas of Canada have been drawing upon our population and capital, those who were left in the east have fallen into a state of mind bordering upon a thought of finality with reference to the development of the Maritime Provinces.

great undeveloped sources of wealth in New Brunswick; that it is one of the finest provinces of Canada to dwell in; and is still a young man's country. Not the least among its resources are the water powers, and thanks to the operation of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission there is available today fairly comprehensive data pertaining to these. Now, while our water power sites are not so numerous nor so large as those of some of the other provinces, we have some 200,000 horse power of commercially feasible stream development, or more than enough to place us in the present average class of Canada. The fact that we have not utilized this resource is only one more evidence of the need of awakening to our own possibilities.

In addition to these power sites on the fresh water streams there are vast possibilities in the tidal waters of the Bay of Fundy, and it may be possible to evolve a scheme to produce power economically from this source, for that it is physically possible to do so there is no doubt. The map of the province shows how well distributed the power sites are. In the north you have Grand Falls, Telagouche and Nepisiguit and some possibilities on the Restigouche River. In the south there is Musquash, Magaquahic and Lepreau. In central New Brunswick there is the Shogomoc and Piskok and Meductic Rapids.

From study of the problem by the commission it has been established that our smaller water powers are too small taken separately to attract a single large industry—say of the magnitude of a 50-ton newspaper mill which would require about 2,000 continuous horse power. Again, if these small powers were developed first a considerable portion of the immediate market for power would be absorbed and Grand Falls could then be used only upon condition that one or two very large industrial loads became available.

In all probability Grand Falls will be used to produce such power as is required continuously throughout the 24 hours of the day, and the smaller plants operated only when the maximum or peak demand occurs on the system. The physical features of these small power sites are favorable for just such use. They are all storage propositions and will have large head ponds as compared to the flow of water. Hence they can be shut down for long daily periods without losing the water. While separately developed, these are of little commercial importance, they are of great importance in the plans of the commission.

And when we talk of hydro we do not stop at Grand Falls, or Musquash, or Piskok, or Petitcodiac, but think of this comparatively great province-wide power network and each of these power sites are, while integral parts of that system, individually but factors in that greater scheme. Whether this site or that site shall be developed first depends altogether upon whether this site or that will supply the anticipated requirements of the scheme for a reasonable future period at the lowest capital expenditure per horse power.

A glance at the map will show how well the area of the province is adapted to this scheme. A single high voltage line will encircle the whole province and the maximum transmission distance from Grand Falls will not exceed 275 miles. Network of Lines. You will notice that from a few step down transformer stations on the high voltage lines low tension lines can be extended to practically every inhabited section of the province. Again the smaller power sites are located so near the route of the high tension line that every one of them can be used as required to supplement the power supply from Grand Falls.

One natural advantage of no mean importance in connection with the linking up of these various sites is the diversity of climatic conditions between the north and south of New Brunswick. In one month recently more than three inches of rain fell at Grand Falls and only one inch in St. John. There was during the month a good flow of water in the Green River tributary to the St. John at Edmundston, and the municipal plant there was operating without any artificial storage. The same was true on the Nipisiguit River where the rainfall was the heaviest in the province during July. There was for that season of the year a high run of water over Grand Falls, while the Nashwanik River reached a record low water pitch. This diversity of precipitation, which is of frequent occurrence, will permit the production of a great deal more total power from all sites combined in one system than the sum total of the output of all the sites segregated, for in the latter case it would be useless to install capacity greater

Toyland Queen Awaits Your Pleasure

Don't Wait Any Longer To Get in The Great "Carrie Joy" Game

These dolls are going to be given ABSOLUTELY FREE OF CHARGE to little girls and any person who may wish to win ideal Christmas presents for "little sisters."

In a toy store "Carrie Joy" would cost you at least $8, but The Telegraph-Journal won't sell her. She is to be given to anybody who secures five new six-months subscriptions in St. John or three new yearly subscriptions outside St. John. Forty-five little girls completed this task the first day. If these girls can win so easily so can you.

Here Is How You Do It

First of all you cut out the coupon at the bottom of this advertisement and then write your own name and address at the bottom.

The very next thing to do is get your first subscription. If your father is not already a subscriber, no doubt he will start the coupon for you. If your folks are already subscribers, then surely your aunt or your uncle will be number one to subscribe.

After you get number one the rest will come easy. It will take you less than a few hours or so if you keep on plugging until you have the required number of new subscriptions. Your neighbors will gladly help you. Just try and see.

See these dolls on display in the window of the Macaulay building, King street; in the Imperial Theatre window, or call at The Doll Room on the second floor of The Telegraph-Journal building, Canterbury street.

The Telegraph-Journal will give a beautiful "Carrie Joy" doll to every girl who sends in three NEW yearly mail subscriptions to The Telegraph-Journal at $5.00 each. Keep in mind that these must be new subscriptions—renewals subscriptions do not count—that they must be for a period of one year, and that it is necessary to collect $5.00 from each of these subscribers.

THE TELEGRAPH-JOURNAL

In consideration of your offer to give a "CARRIE JOY" Mama doll to the girl whose name appears below, I agree to take THE TELEGRAPH-JOURNAL for at least six months, for which I agree to pay the regular carrier at the regular rate of eighteen cents per week. I am not at present a subscriber.

Read This If You Live in St. John

Remember you don't have to collect a cent. THE TELEGRAPH-JOURNAL carrier will take care of that. All you have to do is get the five new subscribers. Tell your neighbors and friends that they do not have to pay one penny more for THE TELEGRAPH-JOURNAL because you are getting a Mama Doll. They pay only the regular rate of eighteen cents a week—it will be easy. But, of course, you will have to go out and get them, since they will never come to you.

IMPRISONED ALL NIGHT IN AUTOS

Hundreds Forced to Stay Outside Yale Bowl as Cars Jam.

New Haven, Nov. 26.—A bedraggled array of men and women, youths and girls drifted slowly back towards Boston on Sunday, scores of them having spent the night in automobiles outside the Bowl or along the road, and some of the others still holding what had been coveted pastebored good for admission to the Harvard-Yale football game.

Near Game, Didn't See It. Hundreds of women and many men, too, who reached the Yale Bowl in plenty of time to have been present at the opening kickoff of the game, never even saw a play. They stayed right in the automobiles, they came in, waiting in vain for the rain to "let up a bit" as the game progressed. And then, though they were dry, when the thousands that did brave of pneumonia and saw part or all of the game, poured out wet and cold, many of the hundreds that spent the game time in their cars found they were worse off than those who were wet.

At dawn Sunday more than 200 automobiles were still parked in the vicinity of the Yale Bowl, many of them holding sleeping women, whose escorts had found the wiring of their automobiles soaked through and useless when the game was over, and after they had telephoned and walked about in the rain for hours, learned that it was impossible for service stations and emergency garages to get help to them before noon.

Many Hunt Cars. Somewhere in the vicinity of 1,000 folks who motored to the game, with tickets in their pockets, never left their machines at all. On one of the parking fields along during the time the game was in progress, a reporter counted 43 machines, most of them loaded to capacity, but all with at least two persons aboard, with the occupants fuming and fusing, but not caring to brave the danger of illness, serious or otherwise, by venturing out in the dreary drizzle.

Offer as High as $50 for Tow. One autoist, who through the good Samaritan acts of one of the Yale trainers did succeed in getting a towing truck out to the bowl just before 8 o'clock had literally to defend his price with his fists. Wild-eyed men and pleading women crowded about the towing truck and waving all sorts of money offered as high as $50 for a tow from the Bowl in the foggy darkness, wandered about for hours, calling in vain for chauffeurs or friends.

Costs $100 for Tow Home. Automobile service station proprietors all along the road from here to Springfield and New London were awakened during the early morning hours by frantic voices on telephones seeking aid. One enthusiast who did see the game and then found his car stalled and soaked through in its working parts, paid $100 for a towing truck to come from Hartford to this city and to him to Hartford where repairs were made and he started for Newburyport and home.

Those who came on trains and went home that way were much better off. But many of the thousands who came in automobiles and the hundreds among them who never even left their cars had a tough time and no mistake about it.

One garage man who worked all night said that he had cleaned up more than $100 in profits. And practically all of his work, he said, was drying out, or installing "new ignition wires."

This was Mr. Leeds' first hunting trip in Canada and he made the most of it.

of others, their trouble had just commenced. Those who stayed in their automobiles during the game made merry by jesting about the rain, waving their tickets to one another and commenting on "the darned fools" inside the bowl. But what the pelting rain did to those parked cars was a shame. It just seeped in around places in what appeared to be water-tight radiators, and the whirr of self-starters that weren't doing anything but whirring, was terrific after the game was over.

Offer as High as $50 for Tow. One autoist, who through the good Samaritan acts of one of the Yale trainers did succeed in getting a towing truck out to the bowl just before 8 o'clock had literally to defend his price with his fists. Wild-eyed men and pleading women crowded about the towing truck and waving all sorts of money offered as high as $50 for a tow from the Bowl in the foggy darkness, wandered about for hours, calling in vain for chauffeurs or friends.

Costs $100 for Tow Home. Automobile service station proprietors all along the road from here to Springfield and New London were awakened during the early morning hours by frantic voices on telephones seeking aid. One enthusiast who did see the game and then found his car stalled and soaked through in its working parts, paid $100 for a towing truck to come from Hartford to this city and to him to Hartford where repairs were made and he started for Newburyport and home.

FOOTBALL SEASON DRAWING TO CLOSE

Most of Big Teams Have Packed Away Their Togs.

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor). New York, Nov. 26.—(United Press)—Most of the big football teams packed away their togs and broke training after last week's games, but a number of them will swing into action and finish their year's work tomorrow or Saturday.

Thanksgiving Day used to be the official closing of the football season and the holiday games were the features of the year, but in the last two years most of the big colleges have gotten away from the idea and only a few of them schedule games for that day.

Three established classics engaging teams that have opposed each other on Thanksgiving Day for years will brighten up the Eastern schedule. Cornell and Pennsylvania play their annual game at Philadelphia. Pittsburgh and Penn State play at Pittsburgh and West Virginia and Washington and Jefferson meet at Morgantown.

Columbia and Syracuse play in New York in a game that is an addition to the schedule. It is the last game that Syracuse will play in the East before leaving for California. Pennsylvania also plays its farewell bow to Berkeley, to play the University of California at New Year's Day.

Brown and Colgate have an interesting game at Providence, but few other With Notre Dame taking a rest and the Western Conference teams through for the season, the smaller conferences will offer the interesting games in the Middle-west.

Cincinnati and Miami play at Cincinnati. Loyola and St. Viator play at Chicago. Marquette plays an inter-sectional game against Vermont at Milwaukee. Western Reserve has another inter-sectional game against Tufts at Alabama.

Missouri and Kansas play their annual game at Columbia and provide the most interesting contest in the Missouri Valley Conference. The Army-Navy game at Baltimore is the most important game on next Saturday's schedule.

Notre Dame makes its third appearance in the East with an annual game against Carnegie Tech. at Pittsburgh. Centre and Georgia feature the Southern card with a game at Danville. Boston College and Holy Cross engage in an annual game at Boston. Fordham and Georgetown clash in another annual game at New York. Nebraska and the Oregon Aggies play an inter-sectional game at Lincoln.

There are a few games on the schedule for Saturday, December 6. The most interesting game for the official season's finale will be played at Los Angeles between Syracuse and the University of Southern California. Syracuse is one of the strongest Eastern teams this season and for once a good comparison between Eastern and Far Western football may be obtained. Florida and Washington and Lee meet at Jacksonville and Atlanta and Morehouse play at Atlanta.

The Haskell Indians and the Oklahoma Baptists play at Muskogee. About 600 years ago a man was beheaded in England for burning coal. At one time Japan was a part of Asia.

MORE INTEREST IS SHOWN IN HOCKEY

Expect Game to Boom Here This Season—A Tag Day.

Hockey seems to be taking a firmer hold on the interest of fans this season than it did for many years. There is a strong movement to hand together a representative team, and, if success attends the efforts of those engineering the scheme, there is no reason why St. John boys should not be contenders for premier honors. There is no denying that hockey is to Canada what baseball is to the United States and cricket is to England, but St. John has heretofore proven an exception. At one time hockey was a popular winter pastime, but lack of facilities to practice and become proficient in this sport resulted in weak teams and a falling off in popularity. Today conditions are more favorable and, due to the untiring efforts of some, there is every reason to believe that the coming season will see a reawakening of interest on the part of the fans.

The attractive features of the game are its speed and continuity. It is a real sport and calls for the last ounce of stamina that a player possesses.

The St. John A. A. A., an organization composed of local devotees of Canada's national sport, have decided to put St. John definitely on the hockey map. They have in training a team of first-class players for the Western section of the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association League, and, in addition, propose to develop the game among the school boys and working boys. It costs money to start a hockey team, and, with the exception of the All St. John team, gate receipts are too small to pay for necessary equipment. The members of the St. John A. A. A. have expressed a willingness to unlock their treasury, but they realize that they have not sufficient funds to put over their scheme and as a result are going to ask for assistance from the sporting public. The way they plan to reach all is to hold a tag day on Saturday, November 29. It is hoped that all interested in the revival of this great winter pastime will assist by procuring a tag.

YALE DISCARDED HEAVY UNIFORMS

Regulation Outfits a Handicap on Saturday's Wet and Muddy Field.

Detailed accounts of the Yale-Harvard football game on Saturday show that the Bulldogs clearly earned the verdict, thus vindicating the predictions of the experts. However, Harvard put up a desperate fight and at half time was leading 6 to 0. The Yale team, however, shed their heavy football clothes during the intermission and went back on the field without the heavy padded football uniforms, which absorbed the moisture like blotting paper and soon became like lead weights attached to the body. The wearers of the blue appeared in the third period clad in little more than baseball clothes. This strategy worked as it appeared to speed up the Yale backs who tore through the crimson line throughout the balance of the game. Three separate marbles down the field for touchdowns tell the story of the change. One player's uniform, which was weighed before the game started, was thrown on the scales when he discarded it at half time and it was found to have gathered 14 lbs. and 10 oz. in weight from the mud and water, which covered the field.

Arctic Has It All Over Africa In Thrills, Says Man Who Chased Giraffes In Flivver

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—If you're looking for thrills, don't think altogether of chasing big game through the African Veldt, where it's a long way between water holes.

Just cruise around the Alaskan coast in a small schooner, and you'll get all sorts of them dodging whales and lassoing polar bears, according to Sidney Snow. And as Sidney chased giraffes all over Africa in his dad's flivver, he ought to know.

Young Snow, son of H. A. Snow, curator of the Oakland Museum of Natural History, is just back after breaking through polar ice, filming and bagging big game specimens.

And in addition to the sport of the chase, his trip included a narrow escape from death in the fies, when the vessel caught fire; discovery of the bodies of Stefansson expedition victims; breakage of a crankshaft while the ship was in the Arctic wilderness, and several close calls from having the little schooner ground to bits by polar ice.

They Got the Bear.

Snow's jaunt to the Arctic was made on the fur trading schooner Herman, commanded by Captain Louis L. Lane, veteran of northern waters. The broken crankshaft forced the Herman into St. Michael for repairs, and it was two months before the trip could be resumed.

"Don't tackle it," warned Alaskans when the Herman's crew announced it was going on north. The year's ice was the worst in a decade.

Skeletons of four men gave mute testimony to their fate. They had frozen to death, for there was food in their supplies, and their guns had ammunition.

It was a thrill to clear the mystery. It was a thrill for Snow to take possession of the island for the United States. And it was a thrill, as the filming of his game continued, when a whale Snow was filming from a smaller boat, suddenly attacked the small craft. Captain Lane harpooned the monster just as it was about to crush the boat with its tail.

NEW RULE AWAKENS INTEREST IN RING

Pacific Coast Fans Eager for Resumption of Boxing Bouts.

By M. D. TRACY

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) San Francisco, Nov. 25.—They're dusting off the boxing gloves and sweeping out the old arenas here in California, for the prize fight game, once flourishing, is coming back.

For several years four round bouts with "medals" instead of purses for the winners have been the rule.

But while the rest of the country elected a President Nov. 4, California voted into being a law legalizing ten round fights with a decision or 12 round no-decision bouts, under control of a boxing commission.

Already the promoters are busy, getting ready for the revival of the game. Offers of fights have been made to Benny Leonard and Jack Dempsey.

One San Francisco was almost the country's prize fight capital. Jimmy Britt, Battling Nelson, Jim Jeffries, Stanley Ketchell, Willie Ritchie and a host of others made this their headquarters or did much of their fighting here.

Then the sport came into disrepute and the four round game eked out a precarious existence. Then interest in the short fights began to grow. Old fans were forgotten by the public and now the ten round route is legalized again.

In the years that have gone by many of the old timers have remained in the west.

Jim Jeffries lives on his farm at Burbank—much of his health gone. The last time the writer saw him he was big, overweight and flabby. Jim Corbett spends much time in Los Angeles, around the movies. Jess Willard is there too off and on.

Ad Wolgast, his mind deranged, lives at one of the Los Angeles beaches, always training for a fight that never takes place. Battling Nelson occasionally visits San Francisco—usually living at the Y. M. C. A.

Spider Kelly is in Arizona, fighting off the "White Man's Plague." And the old familiar places where fighters trained—they are largely memories.

Rowardson, where Jim Jeffries liked to work, is now a place of summer cottages.

Billy Shannon's, across the Bay still has its old sign painted on the building's side—but that is all. But Sol Levison is still in San Francisco and through the "years between" he has continued to be the man who makes the gloves for the champions. He looks for business to boom.

CARBONE ISSUES CHALLENGE.

Joe Carbone, a well-known welter-weight boxer in Sydney, N. S., has issued a challenge to meet Joe Irvine, Johnny McIntyre or Jimmy Fruzzetti. He is willing to box them here or in any part of the Maritime Provinces. It will be recalled that Joe Irvine met Carbone twice within the last two months and on each occasion was said to have outpointed him. A bout between Carbone and Irvine in this city should prove interesting.

Attaches Itself to Shark.

The shark sucker, a defenceless and retiring fish, fastens itself to the surface of the voracious shark, but it is not harmed by the shark, and the shark sucker does no harm to the shark except possibly to retard its motion. Shark suckers are carried about by sharks often to great distances. They attach themselves by a large sucking disk on the top of the head, which is a modified spinous dorsal fin. If the shark is caught and drawn out of the water, these fishes often let go and plunge into the sea, swimming away with great celerity. This fish is found in Europe, on

FIFTH AVENUE CORNER IS SOLD

Astor Estate Disposes of Property—Netherland May be Let Go.

New York, Nov. 25.—The estate of the late Baron William Waldorf Astor, which has been liquidating its extensive real estate holdings in Manhattan and other boroughs for many months, sold the northeast corner of Fifty-sixth street and Fifth avenue this week and it is reported to be disposing of the Hotel Netherland, on the north corner of Fifty-ninth street and Fifth avenue.

The City Investing Company, of which Robert E. Dowling is president, was the buyer of the Fifty-sixth street parcel, which is said to be one of the largest and best corners on the avenue between Forty-second and Fifty-seventh streets available for improvement. The property, which adjoins the massive granite Huntington mansion on the southeast corner of Fifty-seventh street, has a frontage of 115 feet on the avenue and 150 feet on Fifty-sixth street.

It is improved with three five-story altered buildings on Fifth avenue and one five-story building on Fifty-sixth street.

According to reports in realty circles, the property was held at about $3,000,000 by the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, which represented the Astor estate in the transaction, the broker being James Mortimer Montgomery.

Mr. Dowling declined to mention any figures in connection with the purchase and had nothing to say regarding the future of the property.

According to the 1924 tax lists, this Astor property has an assessed valuation of $2,175,000 without the building and a valuation of $2,450,000 with the buildings.

The Collis P. Huntington mansion, which adjoins the Astor property on the north, has a frontage of 85 feet on Fifth avenue and 175 feet on the south side of Fifty-seventh street.

It has an assessed valuation of about $2,270,000, land and buildings included. Nothing definite could be learned regarding the transaction involving the Hotel Netherland, although it was reported on good authority that the

IS EXTENDED.

The period of tenure of command of Major Adam Cameron of the U. N. B. Company C. O. T. C. has been extended to Oct. 14, 1925.

The Hotel Netherland was built in the early '90s and was known then as the New Netherland. Its rotunda, with mosaic and marble finish, was known for many years as the finest in America. It stands across from the entrance to Central Park, opposite the Savoy and Plaza Hotels. It is owned by the Astor estate and has been operated, under lease, by the Manger Brothers.

The building is a seventeen-story structure standing on a plot 107 by 125 feet. The property, including the land and building, has an assessed valuation of about $2,100,000.

The Hotel Savoy, on the southeast corner of Fifty-ninth street and Fifth avenue, is to be demolished and replaced with a modern hotel structure covering the entire block front from Fifty-eighth to Fifty-ninth street.

The period of tenure of command of Major Adam Cameron of the U. N. B. Company C. O. T. C. has been extended to Oct. 14, 1925.

MARRIED IN 1865; OBSERVE THE 59TH ANNIVERSARY HERE

Mr. and Mrs. James MacDonald of Grand Manan are Honored.

The close of 59 years of married life was fittingly observed by St. John friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. James MacDonald, Grand Manan, when the young couple were tendered a surprise party on last Monday evening at the home of their granddaughter, Mrs. J. J. Dunlop, 122 Broad street. Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald are spending the winter with another granddaughter, Mrs. Sidney Bishop, and when invited to a party for tea never suspected that a party had been organized until friends and relatives invaded the house and took charge of arrangements.

Following an enjoyable hour or so in games, in which Mr. MacDonald, who is 82 years of age, and Mrs. MacDonald, 77, joined in heartily, a cance was presented to Mr. MacDonald, an old-fashioned bridal bouquet to Mrs. MacDonald. Serving of refreshments by the joint hostesses, Mrs. Dunlop and Mrs. Christie McKendie, another granddaughter, concluded the evening's fun.

The only member of Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald's family present was Mrs. George H. Foster, of Grand Harbor. Others present included Mrs. K. McKendie, Mrs. Hilton Byles, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Christie McKendie, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bishop, Miss Dorothy Bishop, Miss Virginia Bishop, Master Roland Bishop and others. The newest great-grandchild, Baby Rosalie Mae Dunlop, also was present.

Married in 1865. The marriage took place in the home of Mrs. MacDonald's parents at Grand Harbor on November 24, 1865. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. N. Barnes. Of the large company that was present then only two survive, beside Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald. They are Mrs. Rebekah Gardner and Mrs. Barbara Thomas. There were 12 in Mrs. MacDonald's family and eight in Mr. MacDonald's. Six children of the family still are living, all save Mrs. Foster, residing on Grand Manan. They are Mrs. Vernon Johnson, Mrs. F. Small, and Mrs. Arlington Lagrasson, Woodward's Cove; Mrs. Coleman Ingalls, and Frederick MacDonald, Grand Harbor. There are several grandchildren and nearly 20 great-grandchildren. Several telegrams and congratulatory letters were received from members of the family residing on Grand Manan.

Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald are among the few surviving pioneer settlers of Grand Manan, the former being one of the oldest men now living on the island. He was born in 1849 in the Parish of West Isles on Deer Island, Charlotte county. His father was George MacDonald, who was born in Lunenburg, Maine, in 1800. A milliner by trade, George MacDonald soon gave up his following and took up fishing on Deer Island where his son, James, went to school until he was 16 years of age. Mr. MacDonald's keen blue eye still twinkles merrily as he recalls his early schooldays when the simple three R's formed the entire curriculum inside the log hut.

Leaving school, James helped his father but later got a chance to ship on a sailing vessel from Eastport to New York. Returned after that voyage some time later, he discovered his people had moved to Grand Harbor, Grand Manan. This, he still considers a most fortunate circumstance as he went there and in time met Miss Elizabeth Edwards Gardner, a direct descendant of Elizabeth Burk, one of the original grantees of land on the island.

According to records in possession of Mrs. MacDonald, Elizabeth Burk's maiden name was Elizabeth Edwards. She was born in Connecticut, U. S. A. in 1771 and when a mere slip of a girl traveled from Eastport to Andrew's, N. B., where she married William Burk. Later, they settled on Grand Manan, being granted several hundred acres by the crown. The MacDonald homestead at Grand Harbor now sits on a piece of this land and here during all of their married life, this well-mated couple lived.

During that long stretch of much more than half a century, Mr. MacDonald has often been compelled to be away from home when times were bad on the island, to support his family. He spent several years in the Canadian northwest and in his younger days shipped to many distant parts of the earth in sailing vessels. Despite their advancing years, both are in full possession of all their faculties and are greatly enjoying their stay here. This is the first time in 10 years that they have left their home at Grand Harbor for any length of time.

HEAR GOOD REPORTS Annual Meeting of St. John County District Lodge, I. O. G. T.

The St. John County District Lodge, I. O. G. T., met with the members of Dominion Lodge in their hall, Murray street, last evening with District Chief Templar, T. D. Owens, in the chair. CASE CONTINUED. In Chancery Court this morning, the action involving the partition of the estate of the late Sarah Elizabeth Barnes was continued before Mr. Justice White. This is the only matter set for hearing in this court.

TRAFFIC CASE. Fred Martin was fined $10 in the Police Court this morning for operating an automobile without a license. On a request from Provincial Constable Crawford, who made the report, the fine was allowed to stand.

BOUY BROUGHT HERE. The C. G. S. Laurentian located the vagrant buoy yesterday near Quaco and brought it to the marine dock here for repairs. It was found to be the Quaco gas and bell buoy. The report of the straggling buoy was forwarded to the Marine and Fisheries Department here from Quaco early Tuesday.

FIRE LAST EVENING. A still alarm for a small blaze in the basement of the second floor of a house at 79 Hazen street, occupied by Edward Hart and Arthur W. Harvey, called the firemen to the scene about 7 o'clock last evening. The fire was extinguished before any material damage was done.

WORD OF GIRL SOUGHT. Word has been received in the city asking an effort be made to locate Rose Parsons, aged 20 years, formerly of Grand Banks, Newfoundland. Her mother has been in poor health and has been anxious to receive word either from her or about her. She had been working in this city for some months, but the last letter her mother received from her was on August 11.

DIED IN CAMBRIDGE, MASS. Friends here have received word of the death of George P. Keith, which occurred at his home, 6 Douglas street, Cambridge, Mass., on Nov. 25. He is survived by his wife, one sister, Mrs. Elmer Easton, of Kenebecus Island, Kings county; and one brother, Albert Keith of Cambridge, Mass. They will have the sympathy of many friends in this town. Interment will take place at Cambridge.

SIMONDS OPPOSITION. The supporters of the Opposition party for Simonds No. 2 met in Wallace's Hall, Gardner's Creek, on Saturday evening and perfected organization. The meeting was well attended. The following officers were elected: Chairman, Robert Moore, Black River; vice-chairman, John R. Wallace, Gardner's Creek; secretary, Mrs. John R. Wallace; delegates to county convention, William Cunningham and Andrew R. Moore; substitutes, William Thorpe and Stephen Thorpe.

GIRL IS ARRESTED. Nellie Logan appeared in the Police Court this morning charged with larceny. Policeman Gaudet testified that he saw her walking along Main street at 2 o'clock this morning and when she saw him she hurried down Harrison street and hid in an alley. Policeman Hughes came along and they located the girl. She said she was on the way from a dance, but later changed her story. She was placed under arrest. Magistrate Henderson said he would make some enquiries.

EPWORTH LEAGUE HOLDS SUPPER

A very successful supper was held last night in the school room of the Fairview Methodist church under the auspices of the Epworth League. The supper, which was well patronized, was served at three tables that were attractive with red candles in silver candlesticks and were centered with baskets of pine and rowan berries. Red shades on the lights in the room enhanced a pleasing effect. The girls of the league had charge of the decorations.

The appearance of the candy table was much enhanced by the pretty rose colored baskets in petal shape which had been made by Miss Selma Ryan, who had charge of the table. Miss Elsie McColgan assisted Miss Ryan. The committee in charge of the supper consisted of the Misses Edna Shaw, Eva Taylor, Lottie Kelly, Vivian McGowan and Hazel Kelly. Mrs. H. M. Gordon, the table and the tables were in charge of Miss Eva Taylor, Miss Edna Shaw and Miss Hazel Kelly. Those helping to serve were the Misses Stella Kirkpatrick, Edith Cheeseman, Gladys Scott, Margaret Rice, Gertrude Masson, Ruth Kelly, Muriel Kirkpatrick, Florence Kelly, Vivian and Audrey McGowan, Ann Shaw, Hazel Kelly, Addie and Gladys Tippet, Hattie Bogle, Eva Taylor, Lottie Kelly, and Dorothy Kelly.

GOES TO ENGLAND IN FEBRUARY ON FALLS BRIDGE CASE

Hon. W. P. Jones to Represent Province—Consolidation of Statutes.

The recently-announced decision of the judicial committee of the Privy Council in granting leave to appeal in the matter of the famous case of the C. P. R. bridge over the Reversing Falls gives the province a final opportunity to have the matter decided in its favor. Important constitutional questions have been raised by this famous case and it was on this ground that leave to appeal was granted. Sitting with Lord Haldane on the case were Lord Watson, Lord Dunsedin and others. When Hon. Mr. Jones went over 18 years ago to argue a case, Lord Watson was one of the judges in that particular suit.

Lord Haldane, one of the most eminent of British jurists, holds the opinion that the vital constitutional questions have been raised by this famous case and it was on this ground that leave to appeal was granted. Sitting with Lord Haldane on the case were Lord Watson, Lord Dunsedin and others. When Hon. Mr. Jones went over 18 years ago to argue a case, Lord Watson was one of the judges in that particular suit.

London solicitors handled the present case for the province before the Privy Council committee but when the matter comes before the council, Hon. Mr. Jones expects to be present. He has been in communication with the solicitors recently. Consolidating Statutes. Hon. Mr. Jones was in the city yesterday on matters concerning the consolidation of the New Brunswick statutes. He said that the work was progressing satisfactorily. It had been divided among the members of the commission, of which Hon. Mr. Jones is chairman. The contract for printing has not been let yet and probably will not be until after the coming session of the Legislature. Printing is expected to commence after the coming session. The matter of paper is an important one and that question also must be decided soon. Concerning this point, Mr. Jones says he notes that in Nova Scotia consolidation of 1923, a type of paper was used that enabled the committee to turn out three volumes but that those volumes are not so bulky as the present two volumes of the New Brunswick consolidated statutes.

Judicature Act. The matter of the Judicature Act has been engaging the attention of the committee. In the Nova Scotia consolidation, the entire act and the rules are left out and printed separately. Hon. Mr. Jones favors printing the act in the consolidation but leaving the rules for a separate book. It is said there is not so much of the present statutes that can be omitted from the present consolidation and as there is much to add of legislation covering the last 20 years, he expects there will be three volumes of the new issue, which is expected to be ready by the opening of the 1926 Legislature. Hon. Mr. Jones says he has found this to be the most interesting he has undertaken in his career and he is desirous of seeing a consolidation that will commend itself to the Legislature. Hon. Mr. Jones is considering the advisability of sending out questionnaires to the various barristers in the province in regard to the consolidation. He notes, however, that a similar procedure was adopted in the consolidation of about 60 years ago and of the many sent out by the chairman, W. B. Kinneir, only three replies were received.

HON. A. B. COPP, HERE TODAY, SPEAKS OF PORT FACILITIES

Secretary of State Follows Lines of Hon. Mr. King's Interview.

That he believed any application to the government for development in the harbor of St. John would be given more consideration if it was accompanied by a comprehensive plan covering a number of years was the opinion expressed this morning to a reporter for the Times-Star by Hon. A. B. Copp, Secretary of State, who is in the city for the day.

Mr. Copp said also that he believed before any assistance would be given by the Government there would have to be an undertaking by the Canadian National Railway that the terminals would be used to capacity after they were provided. No government, he said, would be justified in spending public money unless the facilities provided by these expenditures were made use of.

He expressed the opinion that the government would give sympathetic consideration to any application from the people of St. John for further harbor facilities provided they were shown the need for them and were given an assurance of co-operation on the part of the railway and citizens. ASSUMPTION CUBS ORGANIZE. The organization of Wolf Cubs at the Church of the Assumption, West St. John was completed last evening when Field Commissioner H. Litter visited St. Patrick's hall. About 30 of the boys of cub age were gathered, as well as several of the scouts of the Assumption Troop No. 25. The Cub leaders will be Lady Cubmaster, Miss A. Collins; lady assistant cubmasters, Miss M. I. Farren and Miss M. G. Gordon. The evening was spent in active cub games and instruction, which was greatly enjoyed by all. This evening Mr. Litter and District Organizer F. Choppin, will visit the Young Judeans Troop, where an investiture will be held, as well as other interesting features. On Thursday, Dec. 4 a meeting of the St. John District Council will be held in the Y. M. C. I. at 7.30 p. m.
