MONCTON TAKES NO INTEREST IN SESSION

Manufacturers and Business Men Generally But Little Concerned With the Hearings Before Industrial Commission.

LABOR LEADERS WERE ON HAND

Claimed That Increases in Pay Cuts But Little Figure as Prices Take a Boost Accordingly.

Moncton, N. B., June 2.—Lack of interest among manufacturers as well as business men generally may be given as the outstanding feature of the session of the industrial commission held here today. Evidence of the lack of interest in the work of the commission on the part of the manufacturers was seen in the fact that the commission had practically adjourned this afternoon before a representative of an industrial concern appeared on the scene. The representatives of labor unions were the only interest to organize for a hearing before the commission.

Four labor representatives were heard at the morning session, and three manufacturers appeared just in time in the afternoon to present their views.

The consensus of views presented by both labor interests and manufacturers was that there was no evidence of unrest here, except the disturbing factor due to the high cost of living, upon which the labor representatives dwelt very strongly. Labor representatives complained that increases of pay cut little figure in their case, as every time the C. G. R. employees received a general increase, the cost of living went up in proportion. They urged for a four-hour week, principally for the reason that more employment would be provided.

The three manufacturers heard, J. A. Maxwell, biscuit manufacturer; J. L. McDonald, of the Atlantic Underwear Company, and Paul Lea, lumber manufacturer, declared there was no unrest in their factories. They said they were not averse to a forty-four hour week providing it was made interprovincial, and they favored also an interprovincial standard of wages, in order to put competing manufacturers on an even footing. Neither of the manufacturers had any strike trouble and there was no friction with employees in regard to organizing unions.

Replying to members of the Commission, labor representatives declared they had experienced no difficulty in regard to organizing. The management of the C. N. R. or any other concern never interfered in any way with any particular body of employees organizing.

A strong plea was made by one labor man for increased pensions for retiring C. N. R. men, some of whom, he declared, faced the poorhouse when they quit work.

VICTORIA MAKING READY FOR STRIKE

Municipal Authorities Preparing to Maintain Order and Prevent Any Sign of Lawlessness.

Victoria, B. C., June 2.—While the public is preparing itself for a partial strike at least of industry, early in the week, voting on the question of a strike is proceeding.

"If there is a strike," E. E. Woodward, president of the Trades and Labor Council, said, "unquestionably the responsible committee will enjoin everyone to keep the peace."

"The municipal authorities will see that there is a strike, that order is maintained," declared Mayor Porter. "They will do their duty and will not abdicate their authority. The unions are at liberty to urge their members to be orderly, but the municipal authorities will certainly see that order is maintained."

Afghans Tired of Fighting and Now Desire Peace

London, June 2.—(Reuter)—The Indian Office makes the following announcement: "The Viceroy of India reports that a letter has been received from the Amir at Peshawar expressing a desire for peace and asking for the opening of negotiations and stating he has instructed the Afghan commanders to cease hostilities."

Canada Should Have Closer Relations With Washington

London, June 2.—(Reuter)—In the House of Commons today, N. Graham Doyle, member for New Castle, asked the Prime Minister if before the appointment of a new British ambassador at Washington, it had been determined by the Government whether, in view of Canada's geographical position and her natural and vital interest in Washington, and in remembrance of the part Canada played in the war, the time was now opportune for the Dominion to have a special representative at Washington with the status and prestige which the new Canada had developed during the war.

Hon. Cecil Harmsworth replied that he could not say anything further about the matter than what he had already stated was the subject of discussion with the Canadian government.

St. Germain Rich With Memories

The Place Where the Austrians Received the Peace Terms Teemed With Historical Associations Both Ancient and Modern.

St. Germain, June 2.—The palace at St. Germain, where the peace terms were presented to the Austrians, is rich with historical memories, recalling associations with Mary Queen of Scots, Catherine de Medici, Diana of Poitiers and the dethroned James II. of England, among others. Far more ancient history, however, is linked with it, for from the walls of the conference chamber hang the earliest known intelligent records of pre-historic man in the form of rude traceries.

The conference hall was reached over a draw bridge leading into the inner court of the castle where dismounted dragoons were stationed to render military honors to the representatives of the Allied nations. Two narrow flights of stairs were mounted thence to the ceremonial chamber.

The room selected for the ceremony although the largest in the castle, provided scant room to give an effective setting to such a function as that of today. The room, known as the Stone Age or pre-historic Hall, was almost entirely occupied by the conference table, arranged in a hollow rectangle, leaving scant room for the tables of the secretaries crowded against the wall and a cramped space for a limited number of correspondents.

Chairs were placed for Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George and President Wilson at the head of the table, flanked on either hand by places for the other delegations, which ran around three sides of the rectangle as in the ceremonial at Versailles.

When the peace terms were handed to the Germans. The foot of the table was reserved by Chancellor Renner and his six colleagues. A table for the Austrian secretaries was placed behind the Austrian plenipotentiaries and to the rear of these came space for the press. The conference table was draped in red, recalling the gruesome jest of an Austrian at St. Germain that only a headman, an axe and a block were required to complete the stage setting for the dismemberment of Austria-Hungary.

In addition to the conference representatives of the Allied and Associated Powers there were many distinguished persons, including Marshal Foch.

THE DEMANDS OF VANCOUVER WORKERS

Reinstatement of Winnipeg Postal Workers, Collective Bargaining, Higher Pensions and Gratuities, and Limited Six Hour Day.

Vancouver, June 1.—If Vancouver is to suffer a general strike it will take effect at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. The meeting in the Trades hall was an animated one. Such questions as to whether Bolshevism should be deprecated in the public schools, came in for serious discussion and a committee of five prominent labor men was appointed to meet school board to protest against school teachers being allowed to cast any reflections on the motives of Bolshevism here or in Russia.

A resolution was passed outlining

OTTAWA TAKES ON ATMOSPHERE OF UNCERTAINTY

The Week Liven's up as Thursday Approaches and the Budget Promised to Appear on That Date.

BUDGET AWAITED WITH GREAT INTEREST

A Gap of $100,000,000 to be Bridged Between Estimated Revenue and the Contracted Expenditures of Year.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, June 2.—With the budget coming down on Thursday, the parliamentary week begins today in an atmosphere of tense interest and uncertainty. No budget statement of recent years has evoked such tremendous interests and none, unquestionably, has within its provisions economic and political possibilities of such a far-reaching character. With a gap of at least $100,000,000 to be bridged between estimated revenue and contracted expenditure, the government's financial proposals are bound to be an extra-normal character, while, because of the revival of the tariff question as the predominant issue in Dominion politics, these changes may, conceivably, materially affect political currents.

Following traditional procedure, the government's proposals are a rigidly protected secret. There is reason to believe, however, that they will probably include restoration of the tariff, general and preferential, to its pre-war basis, that is to say, that the five and one-half per cent interest in the general tariff made in 1915, as a war taxation measure, will be repealed, a further slight increase granted in the British preference, moderate reduction of duties on certain agricultural implements, and an increase of the rate of taxation on larger incomes.

Coupled with these proposals, and any others of a temporary character that may accompany them, will be an announcement, already forecasted by the Finance Minister, of the government's decision to have a ministerial inquiry into the economic conditions of the country generally, a scientific fiscal policy to be based upon its conclusions.

It is not expected that proposals of this character will satisfy low tariff Western Liberal unionists, Mr. Crear, minister of Agriculture, universally recognized as an able man and an honest one, has made no secret of his uncompromising adherence to low tariff doctrine, and it appears that his resignation from the ministry will follow almost immediately upon the Finance Minister's statement. He is expected to take with him from the Unionist ranks—on the tariff issue, at least—about ten or a dozen western votes. It is stated, in some quarters, that the number may reach as high as twenty and that these strengthened by Mr. Pardoe, and possibly by Mr. Fielding, may be sufficient to turn the scale against the government, and possibly, force the Prime Minister to the country.

A close canvass of the situation, however, would appear to reveal that this is a remote possibility. In the first place, most of the western Unionists, while sincerely in favor of tariff reductions, are not in a mood to put the present government out of office, and, in the second place, the opposition, without permanent leadership, organization or platform, are in anything but a position to face a general election, and would not defeat the government in a division even if it could.

The minimum demands on which the local workers' committee is based are:

- 1.—Reinstatement of postal workers in Winnipeg when a settlement is effected.
- 2.—Immediate settlement of the postal workers' grievances.
- 3.—Recognition of collective bargaining through any organization that the workers may choose to present their needs.
- 4.—Pensions for soldiers and their dependents on the basis laid down by the soldiers' organization.
- 5.—Minimum remuneration for overseas service to be a gratuity of two thousand dollars.
- 6.—Nationalization of all gold storage plants, sanctuaries and gold elevators with the view to remove the evil of hoarding foodstuffs.
- 7.—Legislation enacting a six-hour day in all industries where unemployment is prevalent.

All the civilized world joins in extending best wishes to a monarch who has so courageously performed his duty, and holds a bright and tender spot in the affections of his people.

THE ITALIAN QUESTION NOT YET SETTLED

Reports from Paris Are to the Effect That Fiume and Dalmatian Islands Are Still Subjects of Discussion.

New York, June 2.—The Associated Press tonight issues the following:

"A peace of right and justice, and assistance to tide over present troubles," are desired by the Allied and Associated Powers over the peace table.

Thus Dr. Karl Renner set forth Austria's needs, Monday, at St. Germain when a portion of the peace terms of the Allies were presented to the Austrians.

"Our state now rests in your hands, and we hope before the conclusion of the world that the Allies will not abuse this power," Dr. Renner declared.

Under the terms of the treaty, Austria is to renounce possession of large tracts of territory, including Hungary and her colonial possessions. Her navy is to be entirely surrendered. Her former Austro-Hungary territory in order that she may have access to the Adriatic. As to the future of the army, the demand for indemnities and reparations is reserved for future presentation.

Fifteen days are allowed the Austrians to reply to the demands of the Allies, the same period of time that was accorded to the Germans, although in the case of the Germans this was slightly extended when appeal was made that it would be impossible to formulate the counter-proposals on the specified date.

Reports from Paris are to the effect that the issue over Fiume and the Dalmatian Islands is still the subject of discussion between the Italians and Premier Lloyd George, Premier Clemenceau and President Wilson.

The expectation is that the reply of the Allied and Associated Government to the German counter-proposals will be delivered next Friday. Whether there are to be any concessions made to the Germans in view of their plea that the peace terms as originally formulated would mean the ruin of Germany, has not developed.

Following the lead taken by Switzerland, Norway has declined to join in a blockade against Germany in case the German peace delegation should refuse to sign the peace treaty.

The new Rhenish republic, which has been put under the leadership of Dr. Dordien, is declared to be not a separatist, but an anti-Prussian movement. A proclamation printed in the various Rhine cities declared that Coblenz is to be the capital of the new

Strikers Becoming Insistent

Strikers and Strike Sympathizers Took Possession of Manitoba Legislative Chamber Yesterday—Demand Resignation of Cabinet.

Winnipeg, Man., June 2.—Premier Norris of Manitoba, and his cabinet were requested to resign by speakers of the delegation of returned soldiers, strikers and strike sympathizers, who took possession of the provincial legislative chamber for the third time. Premier Norris told the crowd that he would not give up his office but that he would use every effort to obtain legislation which might tend to improve industrial conditions in Manitoba.

After speakers in the crowd demanded Premier Norris' resignation "on the ground of incompetency to deal with the strike situation," other speakers demanded that Norris and his cabinet arrange for a special session of the provincial legislature to pass laws making collective bargaining compulsory. The crowd told the Premier that they "would be back tomorrow for his answer."

The paraders then marched across the Red river to St. Boniface to interview the Mayor and City Council. Some of the city employees of St. Boniface have been on strike.

Shortly after executives of the railway Brotherhoods attempted to meet into some of the questions involved in the Winnipeg strike this morning, a crowd of returned soldiers, and other strike sympathizers, numbering several hundred, gathered in front of the City Hall. They told Mayor Charles F. Gray they were going to visit parliament for the third time and that they "would visit the Board of Trade and newspaper offices on their way."

MONCTON GIVES COMMISSION SOME POINTERS

Supt. of Canadian Employment Service Tells Industrial Commission Soldiers Refuse to Take Work Offered.

Moncton, June 2.—Refusal by out of work soldiers to take work offered them in Moncton was reported by David Cochrane, Superintendent of the Canadian Employment service of this district, to the Industrial Relations Commission this afternoon. Mr. Cochrane said he had 235 returned soldiers on his books who wanted work but these men refused laboring jobs, which only paid thirty to thirty-five cents an hour. The soldiers wanted to work for the C. N. R. and they complained that farmers were employed by the C. N. R. while their eastern farmers were raised by the C. N. R. at the high cost of living. The soldiers were also willing to learn a trade, but were too old to be taken in as apprentices. Some of the soldiers were willing to work in the offices of the C. N. R., but the reported jobs there were filled with girls whose fathers were also employed by the government railway and were paid good salaries. He himself had three married women discharged from the offices.

Mr. Cochrane said he could place many of the soldiers on farms but they wanted to stop in town. He had sent some men to the west for farm work but complaints were raised by eastern farmers that the transfer was raising the price of help. The western farmers also objected, because the help sent was untrained. The out of work soldiers were in receipt of past discharge pay, and most of them lived at home.

J. A. Robinson, representative of the American Federation of Labor, said a cause of the industrial unrest in Moncton was the great disparity between the employees in the government railway shops and the mechanics outside.

J. L. MacDonald, of the Atlantic Underwear Company, said some classes of textile work in his concern paid higher wages than Ontario firms. Paul Lee, shoe and door manufacturer, pointed out that he had to pay his carpenters more than was paid for the same class of work done in St. John and Amherst. He would strongly favor the appointment of a body to set the price to be paid for certain classes of work.

This with the report of an explosion at the home of Justice Albert F. Hayden in Boston, and Mayor Harry L. Newtown, Mass., June 2.—The house of Leland W. Powers, a son of a Congressman, Samuel L. Powers, was partly wrecked by a bomb soon after midnight this morning. Mr. Powers, with his family, was on the second floor, and no one was injured as far as is known.

Winnipeg Man Had Stomach Trouble for Twenty-five Years—Tanlac Makes Him Well and Strong Again.

"When a man has had a stomach trouble for years, so bad he couldn't eat anything without suffering afterwards, and then finds a medicine that fixes him up in a few weeks' time so he can eat any and everything I think he should be willing to talk for the benefit of others."

"Up to the time I got Tanlac," he continued, "my stomach had been troubling me for twenty-five years and I don't believe there was ever a medicine advertised during that time that I didn't try."

"I was constantly belching up sour gas and could hardly eat anything without just suffering agony, the gas acted so on my heart that I was afraid to lay on my left side and my misery was so great that I could hardly sleep."

"But thanks to Tanlac, things are quite different with me now. I first bought Tanlac down in the city and I have since then bought it in every town I have visited."

WETS HOPE WILSON WILL BE ABLE TO ACT BY JULY 1ST

Congressmen Who Oppose Prohibition Think He Will Relieve the Thirsty—The Only Hope the Antis Have in Saving the Day is in the President.

Washington, May 31.—Anti-Prohibitionists will stand pat in Congress but will try to get President Wilson to declare the army demobilization before July 1, so as to stay the War-Time Prohibition Act.

"There is a widespread feeling that the President will act if Congress fails to act," said a representative of the House and Senate who are in the White House in the staff books under false pretences.

"The only hope the opponents of nationwide prohibition have of saving the country from the War-Time Prohibition Act," said Representative Fitzgerald of Massachusetts, "is in President Wilson. Congress will not repeal the law although it should do so."

"Having talked with army officers about the progress of demobilization, and knowing the attitude of the President toward legislation, I predict that it will not become operative. The President, I think will declare the army demobilized in time to kill it."

Senators Simmons of North Carolina has followed President Wilson in all his recommendations to Congress except as to Woman's Suffrage. He announced recently that he would support his proposition for the repeal of the wartime Prohibition Act.

That Mysterious Million Dollars

Mr. Hornbeam Saw the Hon. Provincial Treasurer and Could Not Get Any Information That Was at All Satisfactory.

"I saw the Hon. the Provincial Treasurer," said Mr. Hornbeam, "and I told him I was looking for information about that mysterious million dollars."

"What million?" said the Hon. Robert.

"Is there more than one mysterious million?" said I.

"A million or two, it's all one to me," said he. "The debt is piling up so fast I can't keep account of it. There's one consolation, however—the credit of the province is good."

"But what I want to know is: why are you making that million dollar loan?" said I.

"Well, the Hon. Governor-in-Council said we needed it, and I don't see how anybody can expect us to carry on the business of this province the way we are doing without plenty of money," said he.

"Will Hon. Mr. Veniot get this money to spend or will it meet your bank overdraft of practically a million?" said I.

"I reckon if we pay the debts Mr. Veniot's department has already contracted, he would have much to spend," said he. "As for any bank overdraft, I should worry. We enjoy the entire confidence of the bank, it is not of the public."

"That when a public body raises a loan is it not customary to specify the express purpose for which it is raised?" said I.

"Quite so. They're specified in the act—temporary purposes," said he.

"Then what are these temporary purposes?" said I.

"Well, I have that to the permanent officials," said he. "Being only here temporarily myself, and not very often at that, I can't go into details of a little matter like a million."

"That what, then, are your duties?" said I.

"Well," said he, "I used to sign checks with a rubber stamp, but Mr. Veniot is such an energetic spender and bills came in so thick and fast, that I couldn't keep up with the job, and had to turn it over to another chap."

"And what do you do now?" said I.

"Oh, I draw my salary, and draft plans for winning elections," said he.

"And so it is useless to pursue my investigation here into the why and whereof of that mysterious million?" said I.

"I should say so," said he. "I must confess it is a mystery to me where all the money goes. All I know is that it isn't all spent in Northumberland. If you run across Mr. Veniot, he might tell you. Or maybe the New Times reporter will tell his information about what this government is doing often astonishes me."

COMMON COUNCIL MET IN COMMITTEE

Clear Thinking and Clean-Living

Where Booze Has Vanished, Narcotics of All Kinds Must Go—Many Are Ruination of Health and Morals.

"In the brilliant era of reconstruction upon which we have now entered with bands playing and colors flying it is imperative that everybody should have clear heads and clean hands and stout stomachs," said a well known prohibitionist yesterday.

"We are going to make the world better worth living in, it is necessary to make the people better worth living. To change conditions we must first have a change of heart and habits—this is an axiom that some Utopians overlook."

"Therefore the prohibitionists are preparing a vigorous propaganda against everything that is not conducive to clear thinking and clean living. Into the oblivion wherein booze has vanished we must send narcotics of all kinds. John Barlowen slew his thousands, but narcotics have slaughtered their tens of thousands. They must be prohibited along with everything else that contributes to the ruination of the health and morals of the people."

"Tobacco must be taboo, whether in the form of plugs, shag, cigars or cigarettes, which are now being affected by ladies who are ignorant of the laws of good taste. It contains the deadly poison nicotine, which has been known to kill millions of people before they reached the psalmist's span of life. Coffee and tea have also to be considered. The great danger in this climate is that most people use them as an excuse to mix sugar and milk in their stomachs. Now our obligation since we secured the prohibition of the liquor traffic have led us to take stock of the warnings which were issued against sweets when we were kids. We have observed that the older people deprived of their drinks turn readily to sweets of all sorts. And science tells us that this is because candy causes a fermentation in his interior, and gives him much the same sensation of fullness that liquor does. Now it is obviously wrong for us to lose the distilleries and breweries, and yet allow men to make a distillery or brewery 'vat' of their insides. This fermentation set up by sugar is all the more active if the sweets are mixed with fruit juices, which may explain the popularity of the soft drink companies, as men and women are natural born sinners, and prone to run after temptation. We see the effects of our young girls making distilleries of themselves by the rapid increase in the use of artificial complexions, the natural effect of any body turning themselves into a distillery being to dry up their complexion, so that they no longer exhibit the freshness and bloom of youth, which has been the glory of women in all ages till the present. All kinds of food which cause fermentation in the stomach must be eschewed."

"And how will people live, you ask. Well, people have been known to live for forty days on a diet of water, and when we have our full programme in force nobody will want to live more than forty days. Everybody will by that time be purified, and fit and ready to move on to a better world."

Board of Health Monthly Meeting

Mrs. Richard Hooper Addressed Members Yesterday on "Child Welfare Work"—Considerable Business Was Transacted.

A feature of the monthly meeting of the Board of Health held yesterday afternoon was an address by Mrs. Richard Hooper on "Child Welfare Work," the result of her expert handling of the situation being the appointment of herself as a committee of one to arrange for the establishment of a free baby clinic in connection with the board's activities.

In this work it will be necessary, it was pointed out, to permanently employ a trained nurse for baby welfare work, and there will be many other features of the new activity which can be taken up only after Mr. Hooper's investigation into the matters of finances and conditions.

A resolution was passed by the board to the chief department of health urging a free clinic for children at the public hospitals, where dental and optical work can be attended to as well as the ordinary disorders.

The following men were appointed sanitary inspectors and registers of vital statistics for the various sub-districts: Thomas Nugent, Salmon River, is the new appointee for the Parish of St. Martin; LeBaron Jordan, St. Peter's, is the executive for St. Peter's, and Thomas O'Rourke, Fairville, is the new appointee for Fairville and the Parishes of Musquash and Lancaster and deputy register for the Parishes of Lancaster and Musquash.

There will be a special meeting of the board within a few days to follow up the work of the committee on appointments as the matter of salaries and duties have to be definitely outlined.

The names of twenty defaulters who have neglected to clean their privies, to make further arrangements for their houses with the public sewer or have violated the milk regulations, were handed to the board's attorney for prosecution.

The matter of a medical inspector for the public schools was referred back to Dr. John Kelley, chairman of the committee, before the board acts.

There was a good attendance at the board meeting yesterday and much enthusiasm was shown in the important problems were disposed.

ALMOST BLIND FROM HEADACHES

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time. Headache seems habitual with many people, indeed some are so afflicted, if ever, free from it, suffering continually, and wondering why they can get no relief.

In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some arrangement of the stomach, liver or bowels.

The reason Burdock Blood Bitters makes permanent cures of all these headaches, is because it starts the organs of elimination acting freely, and the poisons and impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells, and instead of pains and aches there is revived mentality and bodily vigor.

Dr. Geo. Menzies, Arden, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled a great deal with sick headaches, and at times would almost go blind, and have tried many different kinds of medicine without any benefit until I was advised to use Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking it, I have not been troubled since."

Il Trovatore Grand Success

Boston Grand Opera Company Made Decided Impression With Large Audience at Imperial Last Night—Start of Week's Engagement.

The sustained applause greeting each popular number of Verdi's Il Trovatore (The Troubadour) which opened the engagement of the Boston Grand Opera Company at the Imperial theatre last night proved that the famous Italian masterpiece has lost none of its popularity.

Scenes from the play are laid in Biscaya and Arragon during the beginning of the fifteenth century. The story is framed around the old Italian legend.

The Gypsy's vengeance, which tells how the noble Count di Luna had two sons who were taken ill at a time an old gypsy was found prowling about the castle grounds. The Count's household believed the gypsy had bewitched the children and had her seized and burned at the stake. The old woman's daughter, Azucena, witnessed the death of her mother and for revenge alone one of the Count's little children and, as she thought, threw it into the fire and buried her parent. But it was her own babe she killed by mistake. Broken-hearted over this fatal error the young gypsy tries to make atonement by rearing the noble child tenderly, naming him Manrico, the Troubadour. In later years the two brothers, the young Count and the Troubadour, unknown to one another, become rivals for the hand of the beautiful Princess Leonora.

The outstanding musical gem of the opera is the "Miserere" scene and the opera is in act four, the other popular gems being the arioso chorus by the gypsy band in the second act, the aria "Her Rivalled Smile" by the Count di Luna, the aria "Tosca Wings of Love," by Leonora in the fourth act.

Leonora, the duchess for whom both Manrico the troubadour (Joseph Sheehan) and the Count di Luna (Stanley Deacon), are striving, is ably impersonated by Hazel Eden, who possesses voice of rare charm and culture. Azucena, the gypsy mother of the troubadour, is a splendid character to portray the marvellous range and the golden quality of Elaine de Selles' voice, which charmed whenever it was heard. Harold Gice, as Ferrando, follower of the Count, had a good bass production, and Ruiz and Lee, followers of Manrico and Leonora, were brought to life through the art of Thomas Curran, as the troubadour's friend, the music of the opera, under the direction of H. S. Linné, was a treat in itself, and the scenic effects were splendid, embracing in all some seven changes of scenery last night.

The opinion that if the company could do so remarkably well with an opera not native to their tongue, a truly wonderful presentation would be made of "Martha" and "The Bohemian Girl," which were originally written in English.

Business authorities are agreeing, in effect, that today's bad luck is not so much in our stars as in ourselves. The statement that the record of failures during 1918 shows that never before has there been a higher percentage of personal liability, "sixty-six per cent of all the failures reported last year were classed as due to the individual, while only 14 per cent were referred to outside causes," this is sufficient to "make the average man and woman in the world of work stop, look and listen—make a mental inventory and get down to brass tacks," comments Charles W. Duke, in the Kansas City Star. It is his idea that one result of the war has been "to reduce the proportion of success or failure in individual life to the personal equation. Unacceptable as his sweeping assertion might be to any political economist, the survey of figures—of which men have said both that they never lie and that you can prove anything by them—is impressive. He begins:

The business statisticians figure that in 1918 74.4 per cent of the failures were due to short-comings of the business man himself and 25.6 per cent to uncontrollable factors. In 1916 the proportions were 81.5 per cent in a class of non-personal, and 18.5 per cent in personal failures. In 1917 the failures chargeable to the individual were 81 per cent, and only 19 per cent to outside causes. In 1915 the total of personal failures was 94 per cent, as against 14 per cent non-personal.

How? Why? What's the trouble? These who make up these figures tabulate the following faults grouped as follows:

Incompetence—irrespective of other causes. Inexperience—without other incompetence. Lack of capital. Unwise credit—without other incompetence. Speculation—outside regular business. Neglect of business—due to doubtful habits. Personal extravagance. Fraudulent disposition of property.

Here are the figures for the years 1917 and 1918, which speak for themselves:

Table with 2 columns: 1918, 1917. Failures due to: Per cent. Per cent. Incompetence, 25.6, 18.5. Inexperience, 6.7, 6.3. Lack of capital, 33.2, 31.9. Unwise credit, 1.3, 1.4. Failure of others, 9.9, 10.0. Extravagance, 6.6, 6.5. Neglect, 1.5, 2.2. Speculation, 4.4, 4.7. Fraud, 5.8, 4.7.

United States Wheat Crop

One Billion Bushels Expected in the States This Year—Increase of 100,000,000 Over Greatest Crop Ever Known.

"The United States expects to have a wheat crop this year of over one billion bushels, which will be an increase of nearly 100,000,000 over the greatest crop ever known," said Arthur Moulton of Maine who is in the produce line.

"American farmers have made extraordinary efforts to increase production during the last few years, and the exceptional weather for planting last fall was taken advantage of everywhere. Taking all kinds of farm products the department of agriculture estimates that the area under cultivation is about 50 million acres, which is 10 per cent more than in the year 1917. In 1918 the value of our field crops was more than two and a quarter billion dollars. Our farmers do not calculate to go hungry, and they expect to have large quantities of farm produce for export to feed the hungry peoples of Europe. The United States requires about 600,000,000 bushels of wheat for flour and seed at home, which will leave a big quantity for export compared with last year. On February 1st of this year we had available for export 170,000,000 bushels of which the great bulk had already been contracted for by the allies or earmarked for European relief."

Asked if in these circumstances there would be a market for Canadian wheat in the States Mr. Moulton said there was always a market for some kinds of Canadian wheat which was used for mixing with the home product and making special brands of flour.

"Other grains than wheat form a great part of the farm product of the United States. Last year there passed through the American elevators a total of over two and a half billion bushels of all grains. In 1915-1916 American ports shipped a total of 85,000,000 bushels of bulk grains, including Canadian grain."

Within The Law At Opera House

Local Artists Delighted Two Large Audiences Yesterday—Was Under Auspices of I. L. and B. S. Dramatic Club.

"Within the Law," by a local cast under the auspices of the I. L. and B. S. Dramatic Club drew crowded houses at two performances in the Opera House yesterday. Every member of the club gave an interpretation seldom squallied by professionals.

The melodrama is in four acts, and pictures the struggles of men and women who do not break the laws but "bend" them in places. The critical points were brought out in a most convincing manner and the large audience thoroughly enjoyed the performance from start to finish.

The offering was personally supervised by John H. McCloskey. The cast was as follows: Sarah, (Edward Glider's private secretary)—Miss Edna O'Leary. Smithson, (floorwalker at the "Emporium")—P. A. Colahan. Richard Glider—Mansell O'Neill. Edward Glider, (proprietor of the "Emporium")—F. J. Joyce. George Demarest—W. J. O'Leary. Helen Morris, (a salesgirl in the Emporium)—Miss Vera George. Detective Sergeant Cassidy (of the New York Police)—F. Morris. Mary Turner, (a saleswoman)—Miss Vera King. James Lynch, (a confidence man)—Miss Loyola Duffy. Joe Garson, (a forger)—O. C. Hansen. Fannie, (a maid)—Miss Evelyn George. William Irwin, (a lawyer)—A. Cedre. Eddie Griggs, (a crook known as English Eddie)—J. W. E. Gale. Police Inspector Burke—J. R. McCloskey. Chicago Red, (a crook)—A. Dolan. Tom Dacey, (a crook)—F. E. O'Donnell. Dan, (assistant at police headquarters)—George Stafford. The choruses were: Mrs. M. T. Mrs. J. R. TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time. Headache seems habitual with many people, indeed some are so afflicted, if ever, free from it, suffering continually, and wondering why they can get no relief.

In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some arrangement of the stomach, liver or bowels.

The reason Burdock Blood Bitters makes permanent cures of all these headaches, is because it starts the organs of elimination acting freely, and the poisons and impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells, and instead of pains and aches there is revived mentality and bodily vigor.

Dr. Geo. Menzies, Arden, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled a great deal with sick headaches, and at times would almost go blind, and have tried many different kinds of medicine without any benefit until I was advised to use Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking it, I have not been troubled since."

B. B. is a purely vegetable remedy, it has been manufactured for the last forty years by The T. Milburn

ATTEMPT MADE ON LIFE OF THE U. S. ATTORNEY GENERAL

A Bomb Wrecked the Lower Part of His Home, But None of the Family Were Injured.

Washington, June 2.—Attempts on the life of Attorney General Palmer were made tonight, through the planting of a bomb which wrecked the lower portion of the Palmer residence in the fashionable northwest section of Washington. Mr. Palmer and all members of the family escaped without injury, being on the second floor at the time of the explosion. One man, thought to be the person who planted the bomb, was blown to bits by the force of the explosion. Police believed that the bomb exploded prematurely before it could be placed under the house. The bomb, the police said, was contained in a suitcase filled with clothing. Portions of the clothing of the man killed, indicated that he was roughly cut.

They afterwards burst into scales and when they fell off they left big marks until my face was disfigured. They itched and burned so that I scarcely slept at all. "I had been bothered for nearly two months before I started using Cuticura, and after I had used three boxes of Cuticura Ointment with the Cuticura Soap I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss L. GENEVA, SWITZERLAND, FUTURE CAPITAL OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Known as Haven of Refuge for the Homeless and Sisters of Mercy for All War Sufferers—Its History and Literary Associations—Cradle of Red Cross.

(By Marie Widner.) Right in the heart of bleeding Europe there remained through all the terrible years of war-tragedy one sacred spot, which as the months and years slipped by since that tragic August day in 1914, has become known as a haven of refuge for the homeless and a sister of mercy for all war sufferers of all nationalities and all creeds—Switzerland. Switzerland is the one happy land in Europe where different races and different nations live harmoniously together. Germanic, French, Italian and Romanic are the languages spoken in the little mountain Republic, who has spent millions to safeguard her absolute neutrality which has proven an undestroyable tie between her people during the long perished years of the war.

And this most conscientious of neutrals, who, when making known its desire to become a member of the League of Nations, laid particular stress on the fact that it wishes even then to remain perpetually neutral, has now been chosen to become the future home of the League. This has inspired, noble creation of the peace conference, with the radiant beautiful Lake City of Geneva as its permanent abode.

While France and Belgium, as actual martyrs of the great war, were presenting their special claims for honor on behalf of the League, President Wilson is quoted as having told the delegates in his counter argument that he would not date the League of Nations from the day of the League of Nations which incurs the unjust distinction then made between the aristocracy and the poorer classes and as champion of the latter he exposed his convictions in the "Contract Social" which, together with his "Emile," were committed to the public execution. But the very descendants of his fierce opponents erected a statue in his honor on the tiny island of the lake, in a place devoted to nature-loved so much and which is now known as Rousseau's Isle.

Rousseau gave the first impulse to modern mountain worship. He especially loved wild and gloomy scenes and tells us in his "Confessions" that the rugged mountains in science and literature. Voltaire, Mme. de Staël, Goethe, Schopenhauer, Dumas, Balzac, Byron, Gibbon, Dickens, Ruskin, and many others have found in the Alps a veritable paradise of illustrious poets, novelists, essayists, philosophers and scientists whose intellectual contributions and their environs are forever interwoven in its history.

Geneva in the 19th and 20th Century. After the French Revolution, Geneva was the capital of a French department, but in 1814, the 22nd Canton of the Swiss Confederation. Since that time, the history of this city, as regards its foreign policy, has been identical with that of the Confederation.

Geneva, Cradle of the Red Cross. The actual founder of the Red Cross Society was Jean Henri Dunant, a philanthropic citizen of Geneva. On June 14, 1864, he was present at the battle of Solferino and was an eyewitness to the vast amount of unnecessary suffering that resulted from the inability of the army to provide for the aid of the wounded. He returned to Geneva with a book on his way out, which advocated an international convention to provide for the aiding of the wounded. This convention, which took place at Geneva in 1864, was concluded and signed on August 22, 1864, centralizing the surgical corps of the warring nations. It was adopted universally and worn arm bands by all members of the neutral staffs.

COMFORT RATHER THAN STYLE IS CHOSEN TODAY

The Main Desire is Convenience—Sensible Straight Lines or Wicker Used—Sales Better Now Than for Some Years.

Fashions in house furnishings are not changing so rapidly as they did in other years. Nowadays the main object of the homemaker is comfort with convenience and the dealer is "striving to please," says the Ottawa Evening Journal. This accounts for the popularity of great easy-chairs, stuffed and padded and covered with gay hints or lovely plain shades. With these go the straight-lined, short curtains, finished by plain or figured materials at the sides. Knitite a fire on the hearth, add shaded lights a few books, padded "easy" sofas, and the most wandering husband will have no desire to roam. The floor may have a plain rug, or several small ones which can be easily taken up.

Easy Choosing Today. It is not difficult to choose furnishings today on account of the great variety to be had. In wicker and mission or other woods, the styles are with the individual tastes. Neroid furniture naturally remains a favorite, particularly for the older and more pretentious houses. The modern bungalow seems to demand rickety and chaise, but the work of the old masters will never die.

It is comforting to know that the modern bungalow can produce furniture which compares very favorably with that made in other countries. The war cut off all supplies from England and France. If there had been shipping room, the insurance risks were too heavy to allow profitable buying. Even since the armistice very few shipments have come across.

Prices have increased anywhere from 20 to 50 per cent, owing to the rising cost of labor. The shiny woods are not so greatly favored now as they used to be. Possibly it is because scratches would appear on the polished surface and showed even more plainly than the dust which settled over it no matter how clean the room might be.

The great demand for plain shades is not so much a matter of taste as it is a matter of necessity. Old Geneva prides itself of St. Peter's Cathedral, that dignified memorial to its spiritual leader Calvin. The construction of this edifice was started in the tenth century, on the site of an ancient pagan temple, and completed in the 15th century. Begun at a time when the round arches of Romanesque architecture was at its height, the structure was finished when the Gothic period had attained its full glory. The interior, with fine stained-glass choir windows, is of rare, dignified beauty and the most perfect of its kind in the province.

Hilbert's mother has avoided match-making for her son. She has secretly thought him too capable of match-making for himself. It has now become a national duty.

According to medical opinion, upon the mothers will largely depend the fitness of the future generation! The best of the manhood has been sacrificed during the war. It is therefore essential that the men should marry the best women. Of course they will not do so to suit the convenience of the nation. The mother, however, can use her match-making propensity so skillfully that the son will not know that he is serving the country.

She must begin at his cradle. From his babyhood she must remember that it is her duty to give him a taste in women. She must invite the kind of little girls whose qualities she likes to his tea parties. As he grows up she must surround him with feminine society. She must be altogether different from the average mother who keeps girls away from her son. She must give him plenty of variety—a wide choice—but always of the right kind.

Unconsciously, then, her son will form his ideal woman, and presently he will choose her for his wife. Thus it is worth while for mothers to match-make for their sons. If they do so, they will be following eugenics pure and simple. "The problem of race culture, crudely," according to Miss March, the editor of National Health, and an authority, "is to ensure that the eugenically fit man and woman should fall in love with one another. This is a question of emotional culture—ready of match-making on the part of the mother. This culture cannot be produced in adult life, if the boy has acquired a taste for the wrong kind of girl by the time he is grown up, so amount of match-making will turn him from his devotion.

Of course, it requires careful, constant thought on the part of the mother. She may find it difficult even in childhood's years always to guide her son to the ideal little girl. Children have very democratic views—and who knows but that their instinctive choice of friends has not always been right?

This idea, which is eugenically sound, looks out great hope to the mother. At last she may have some say in the choice of her son's wife. It has always been a sore point that sons seek no advice in choosing a wife. The future may even see mothers-in-law and daughters-in-law who love one another!

"TIMBER CRUISER" TO EXPLORE CANADA

Airplane Will Spot Fine Woods and Minerals—Also to Transport Pelts.

Atlantic City, May 31.—The aerial "timber cruiser" is the newest commercial development of the airplane and the flying boat. Vast tracts in the Northwest, rich in mineral deposits and fine timber, are shortly to be placed under the scrutiny of experts through the use of aircraft. Contracts for such surveys have been awarded to the pioneer commercial air line formed for the purpose, according to Lieut.-Col. R. B. Grooms, I. A. Canadian engineer flyer, speaking today before the session of the second Pan-American Aeronautic Congress.

"The possibilities of the flying boat and hydro-airplane as a means of transportation into the interior of Canada are becoming more apparent every day," he said. "It gives a unique opportunity for the hundreds of trained flyers who received their schooling during the war. The owners of big timber and mineral tracts are recognizing now that the flying machine offers the quickest, easiest and cheapest means of securing the information that will lead to the development of the richest kind of territory."

Therefore it has been necessary to send out experts and guides to make the prospecting trips. It was arduous work that entailed great expense and months of travel. But now aircraft are preparing to change all this. The flying boat and the hydro-airplane are the logical means of mapping out and investigating the resources of this country, because more than 25 per cent of the area is water, and there is good landing always in sight on the rivers and lakes, to which the flyer could drop at any time.

"The plan is to divide the areas into blocks that are numbered. The cruiser flies to the particular block he wishes to prospect, secures samples of the mineral or timber, and, in addition to laying out maps, also secures aerial photographs, so that when he returns to the headquarters of the projecting company he is able to show not only the projects but also to point out how the staff is located and the best means of transportation."

"The prospects not only hold good for the timber and minerals but in the transportation of valuable cargoes of furs and fish. You read only the other day of a Canadian aviator making a trip from the interior of Canada to New Jersey, with an airplane full of fine pelts."

AIRPLANES COLLIDE 1,000 FEET IN AIR

One Plunges to Earth, Killing Two Army Aviators from Mineola.

New Haven, June 1.—Lieutenant Melvin B. Kelleher, 23, and Corporal Joseph Katzman, 21, army aviators from Mineola, Long Island, were killed this afternoon when their airplane collided with another machine while flying at a height of 1,000 feet near the Yale Bowl.

The machine in which Kelleher and Katzman were flying plunged to the ground after the collision, burying the two men in the wreckage and killing them outright. The other airplane managed to get clear toward the earth, finally striking a baseball backstop at Pratt Field. Its occupants were shaken up and the wings and propeller of the machine were damaged.

The two airplanes were in a group of three which were on an aviation service recruiting campaign. They left Meriden today after having dropped wreaths on the home in Wallingford of Edward Lufbery, father of Major Raoul Lufbery, American ace who was killed in France. On Friday one of the three machines was damaged when it fell at Winsted, but it was repaired. The third machine landed here today but left for Mineola, leaving John T. Roullot, of Saratoga, in charge of the airplanes. He declined to give any information as to the cause of the accident or the names of the aviators. Colonel Eli Mix held an autopsy to-night and Roullot declined to attend until a subpoena had been issued.

INFLAMED GUMS—THE CAUSE OF TOOTH-BASE DECAY

Just as the strength of a building is dependent upon its foundations, so are healthy teeth dependent upon healthy gums.

Permit the gums to become inflamed or tender and you weaken the foundation of the teeth. This condition is called Pyorrhoea (Riggs' Disease). Loosening of the teeth is a direct result. And, spongy, receding gums invite painful tooth-base decay. They act, too, as many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Pyorrhoea (Riggs' Disease) attacks four out of five people who are over forty. And many under that age, also. Its first symptom is tender gums. So you should look to your gums! Use Perhan's, which positively prevents Pyorrhoea if used consistently. It also scientifically cleans the teeth—keeps them white and clean. Brush your teeth with it.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Perhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

Suggestions At Citizens' Meeting

Problem Created by Court House Fire is Still up to Commissioners—Projects Offered Yesterday Were Numerous.

Various suggestions to solve the problem created by the fire in the court house were put forward at a meeting of citizens held in the mayor's office yesterday afternoon, but it apparently will be up to the city commissioners to make a decision as to what to do in the matter. One suggestion was that the city should purchase the whole block on which the courthouse is located, and put up a handsome building there to house all city and county offices, as well as the courts. Such a building would be, it was said, a civic centre of which every body could be proud, and give the city a character for municipal enterprise that would make it famous. Another suggestion was that the court house should be repaired, have another story added to it, and be used for city purposes, turning over the present city hall to the county officials. Included in this suggestion was the proposal that a new court house should be built on the vacant square on Prince William street opposite the Customs House.

Other citizens thought that the city should tear down the old court house and build a new one on the site to erect a modern building. It was said that the Barristers' Society had discussed the question and that there were many views as to what should be done in the society as among the citizens. The city commissioners did not appear to be particularly enamored of the more ambitious projects, having no doubt in their mind a provident concern for the tax rates, which in spite of commission form of government have persisted in going up all the time. Also while it was recognized that St. John could do with some fine new buildings adding to its architectural beauties there are more citizens who would be better satisfied if provided with better homes, instead of public buildings, and there are also many who think that if the city can raise any money for public improvements something ought to be done about the streets.

However, if the city gets paid for its harbor property it will have a few dollars to spend on soft adornment, and the city commissioners do not appear to be likely to make a hurried decision as to what to do about the court house in view of the chance of getting $2,000,000 or so from the Dominion Rupert Wignome, M. P., was present at the meeting.

Grand Opening of Odd Fellows' Fair

Premier Foster, Mayor Hayes and Commissioner Jones Took Part Last Night—All Trails Lead to St. Andrew's Rink This Week.

The grand opening of the Oddfellows' Fair took place last evening in St. Andrew's Rink. Premier Foster, Mayor Hayes and Commissioner Jones took part in the opening exercises and all the attractions got away to a great start. The interior of the old rink was a mass of color and light. The committee in charge of the different booths had everything in full swing and the large crowd in attendance had all sorts of opportunities of passing both a profitable and pleasant evening.

Everyone purchasing an admission ticket had a chance of securing a load of coal and ticket 350 was the lucky draw, but at the time of closing last evening the owner had not claimed his coal. Another load will be available tonight.

The light-fisted Scots loosened up better than either the English or Irish with the result Scotland led the others in the voting contest for the most popular country. It only cost a nickel for a vote. The representative society of the country receiving the most votes during the week will be given a huge flag.

Dainty teas and refreshments were served in the Japanese room where Miss H. A. Smith was in charge. The ice cream department was well patronized. Mrs. William Gibb and her staff were kept busy at all times. A novel feature was the Chinese Laundry, where Miss Garnet and her associate Chinks delivered a variety of laundry parcels. For a dime one could secure about fifty cents worth of goods of the kind usually found in a laundry.

Mrs. C. R. Nelson and her associates sold chances on different fancy goods. The exhibit of fancy work was particularly fine and the arrangement of the decorations was pleasing. At the candy counter there was a great variety of home-made and other sweets. Mrs. Joseph Murdoch was in charge here and her wares were in fine demand. Besides all this there was place for a program of dance numbers and there was a fine floor to try out. Even if one is not lucky, several pleasant hours can be spent any afternoon or evening during this week in St. Andrew's Rink. All the money realized will be spent on the orphans and the homeless. A record attendance is expected this afternoon and evening when all the games will be given full blast as well as a delightful band concert.

Board of Trade Monthly Meeting

After Session Last Night Meeting Adjourned Until First Monday in October—Little Business Was Transacted.

The last monthly meeting of the Board of Trade until October next was held last evening. After the reading of the minutes of the May meeting and the summary of the May council meetings a resolution moved by W. C. Allison and seconded by R. H. Dockrill, that when the meeting adjourns in October until the first Monday in October was passed.

W. C. Allison asked whether anything further had been done in the matter of the minimum charge imposed by the C. P. R. for top wharfage on goods shipped by the steamer Empress. The charge is two cents per hundred pounds, with a minimum of fifteen cents. The merchants do not object so much to the charge as to the amount of the minimum, which they claim is driving business from St. John to other places. Secretary Armstrong explained that the matter was being taken up with the C. P. R. by the chairman of the costal services committee, G. B. Barbour.

The secretary reported having received from the Chambers of Commerce of Windsor and Guelph, invitations for the St. John Board of Trade to pay them a fraternal visit. The meeting then adjourned to meet in October unless sooner called together by the president.
