STOCK EXCHANGE MEMBER HOUTED.

Sir Patteson Joseph Detlaff, a member of the stock exchange, presided

last night at a pro-Boer meeting held at Maidstone, Kent. Several hundred occupied the gallery for the express purpose of creating a disturbance. mediately after Sir Patteson Nickalls, Hunte, in his annual report on British New Guinea, tells a curious story of native superstition songs. Mr. Patteson managed to say it was an unnecessary and an unjust war. It was a war of false pretenses, and a war against civilization. A lot of persons finally stormed the plat-form and the meeting broke up in great disorder.

On the stock exchange the brokers were much stirred up by the utter-ances of Mr. Patteson Nickalls, and, in the absence of business, they passed the time in singing "God Save the King" and making various other demonstrations against the unpopular

SPECULATORS CHECKMATED. London, Nov. 20 .- King Edward has checkmated the thrifty British nobles and others who proposed to line their pockets with gold by the sale of their seats in Westminster Abbey for the coronation ceremony, by decreeing that except in an official capacity only British subjects are to be present. He has decided that the mere fact of any seat being sold dispossesses both the holder and the nominee from the right of occupying it. It is understood that large sums have been offered, both in America and Europe, for seats on the occasion of the coronation. QUEEN DRAGA SHOT AT. Vienna, Nov. 20.-An unconfirmed rumor has reached Vienna that Queen Draga has been shot at in the streets ious rumors, one declaring that the Servian gueen was assassinated, an-other that she was wounded, and a third that she committed suicide. Rumors from other sources deny the statement that Queen Draga was killed and assert that the rumor of her death was caused by an hysterical scene with King Alexander. There is no reliable information on the subject here, but it is generally believed that a serious crisis exists.

Paris, Nov. 21.—According to a dispatch from Vienna to the Echo de Paris an attempt has been made to Paris, an attempt has been made to assassinate the Queen of Servia, three shots having been fired at her while she was driving near Semlin.

A dispatch to the same paper from Belgrade gives a rumor that the queen attempted suicide at Semlin. Draga Maschen, King Alexander's consort, has been the cause of many sensations in Belgrade since she came into the public eye. She was born September 23, 1867, and was the widow of an army surgeon, when the king married her. She had formerly been a lady-in-waiting to Queen Natalie. His announcement of his intention to make her his wife caused great dissatisfaction at first in Servia. The king's father resigned as commander in-chief of the army. The cabinet also resigned. The defection of most of his most influential supporters led the young king to seek friends among the Radicals, to whom his choice of a queen from the people was not dis-

GHASTLY FIND.

Winnipeg, Nov. 21.-A gruesome discovery of the remains of a man's body was made yesterday by a young man employed on Arch. Wright's farm in Et. James, five miles from here. The young man was at work in a hay meadow, when he came across the remains. There is nothing but bones and clothes remaining, and it is supposed that the body is that of some unfortunate who lost his way and was frozen to death last winter, as the body was clothed in a fur coat and gards the Hay-Pauncefote treaty as a cap, besides undergarments and two signal victory for Washington and pairs of socks. The body has not yet

RECIPROCITY CONVENTION!

American Trade Interests Should Consider Canada's Future.

Reciprocity Commission Proposed-Hon. John Charlton Urged Better Treatment of the Dominion.

Washington, Nov. 20 .- The national reciprocity convention, which began here yesterday, finished its work tonight and adjourned sine die. Several important resolution embodying the views of the convention on reciprocity and other matters were adopted. They provide as follows:

"Resolved: That this convention recommends to congress the maintenance of the principle of protection to the home market, and to open up by reciprocity opportunities for increas-ed foreign trade by special modifications of tariff, in special cases, but only when it can be done without injury to any of the home interests on manufacturing, commerce.

"That in order to ascertain the influence of any proposed treaty on our home interests this convention recommends to congress the establishment of a reciprocity commission, which shall be charged with the duty of in-vestigating the condition of any industry and reporting the same to the executive and to congress for guidance in negotiating reciprocal trade agreements. "This convention recommends to the requests of congress that a new department be created, to be called 'the department of commerce and industries,' the head of which shall be a member of the president's cabinet. "That a reciprocity created as a bureau of this new department.

A BOSTON VIEW. The views of the Boston Chamber of Commerce on the subject of reci-procity with Canada were presented in a paper by George H. Coppins. There was, he said, from the clusion that Canada should be included in any general scheme for reciprocal treaties, no logical escape. Our interests were more nearly touched by the future of that country than the future of the South American states. Canadians last year had bought from us at the unparalleled rate of $20 per capita. If an impassable trade barrier was raised between the two countries Canada would face the changed condition with comparative ease, for her foreign markets are new established elsewhere, but with us the stoppage of trade would mean the closing down for want of orders of thousands of American factories and workshops. We should cultivate such a good customer, and not incur his hostimy. HON. JOHN CHARLTON. Hon. John Charlton, a member of Canadian Parliament, spoke earnestly in favor of some reasonable concessions in trade relations to meet the liberal treatment accorded United States by Canada. Canada, wanted reciprocity and free trade in the natural products of both countries. If the United States wanted to retain the trade with Canada it now holds she must give Canada some adequate and fair concessions for the privilege she now enjoys. Canada could not permit existing conditions to LUMBERMEN'S STAND. Wm. Irvine, of Chippewa Falls, Wis., largely identified with the lum-ber interests, discussed the situation of the lumber interest on the question of reciprocity with Canada. He believed the lumbermen of the United States would voluntarily agree to the same concession proposed by the Canadian high joint commissioners, provided those who are engaged in the manufacture of things consumed by the lumbermen in the manufacture of lumber would agree to similar reduction of duty on their products. also discussed the preferential duty given by Canada on goods imported from Great Britain, and in conclusion

"Before any negotiations for a reciprocal trade agreement with Canada Mr. Arbour's, and which has received be considered, the government of that country should take steps through its legislative body to place the products of the United States and of Great Britain, whether imported under the provisions of their tariff laws or under the provision of a treaty, upon an equality in its domestic market." George J. Seabury, of Philadelphia, offered resolutions favoring subsidies to American shipping and construction of the isthmian canal, but convention was not disposed to take up the question, and Mr. Seabury, in the interests of peace and harmony, withdrew the resolutions. This action met with the cordial acknowledgment of President Search, who said he felt the meeting had accomplished the object for which it gathered, and that to have added anything to that would have been a mistake.

CHILD ATE STRYCHNINE TAB-LETS

New York, Nov. 21.-The police Hoboken, N. J., are investigating the mystery of the death of 5-year-old Emeline Dal, who died on Tuesday of strychnine poisoning in a room of Busch's hotel, Hoboken. The child was the daughter of Harvey S. Dale, manager of a life insurance agency in Chicago. Mrs. Dale said she had not been feeling well, and had been taking strychnine tablets; that she accidentally left some of them lying on a dressing table, and the child ate three, thinking due to a disregared order by the crew of the west-bound train. It would seem that the crew of the east-bound train had orders to take the siding at Franconia and await the passage of the west-bound flyer, which was running two hours late and trying to make up time. The east-bound train failed to reach the siding, and as the west-bound train did not wait for it, the two trains came together without warning and with

AN AWFUL CRASH. boiler of the west-bound engine is said to have exploded immediately after the erash, scalding to death those of the engine crews who had not been killed outright. A scene of awful confusion followed crash. The massive engine piled up in an indescribable mass of broken and twisted steel, while the scalding steam hung in a dense, suffocating cloud over the debris from which the agonizing cries of the injured and dying enginemen could be heard. The heavy Pullmans and composite cars jammed the dining and baggage cars upon the heated pile of debris, carrying death to the dining-car crews and setting the cars afire. ONLY THREE PASSENGERS BAD-LY HURT. From meager details gathered from the passengers, it is learned that the sleeping cars, with one or two exceptions, suffered slightly. So far as learned, only three passengers suffered injuries of a severe character, the awful results of the wreck being confined mostly to the train crews and employes of the dining car service. At the Santa Fe headquarters, at Los Angeles, it was stated that from all appearances the blame rests with the crew of the westbound train. The westbound limited carried a full passenger list from eastern cities, but it appears none were injured.

He was feeling very discouraged-Dyspepsia always makes a man feel blue-until one day a local druggist it for stiffness and soreness of the recommended Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, on the strength of what they had done for some of his customers. Mr. Arbour resolved to use them, and now he is very glad that he did. He says: "I suffered from Dyspepsia for six months. The pains were so great that I would be obliged to go without taking anything except a drink of milk, for days at a time. "Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets were recommended to me, and I determined to try them. I used one box and was much relieved and bought another. "Before the second box was all used I was well again. They completely cured me. I can eat anything, and feel better than I have for years.

"I can highly recommend Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets as a sure remedy for dyspepsia.' A remedy that can cure a case like the very high indorsation of the druggists and physicians, is surely one worth trying.

Do you still doubt? Doubt and fear are symptoms of stomach trouble. Be assured Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets

GONE UP IN SMOKE

The Gerrie Homestead at Whitby Burned-A $150,000 Blaze at St. Pauls, Minn.

Limited trains east and westbound crashed together, while running at full speed. The eastbound train was drawn by two engines, while the westbound train had but one locomotive.

THREE ENGINES WRECKED.

The three engines were crushed and blown to pieces by an explosion which followed the collision. Both trains were made up of vestibule cars of the heaviest kind, and while they stood the terrific shock well and protected the passengers to a great extent, several of the cars took fire at once and burned up. The dining cars, one on each train, one Pullman and two composite cars were destroyed.

THE DEAD.

Following is a list of the casualties:

Dead—H. M. Elligott, engineer; P. P. Goldsmith, fireman; E. F. Barnhardt, barber; Walter Davorage, waiter; W. L. Case, fireman; A. H. Armitage, fireman; Sam Brown, waiter. The bodies of the latter three are missing.

ORDERS DISREGARDED, The collision is said to have been the total district tonight. A gasoline explosion seriously injured several firemen, two perhaps fatally. The loss is about $155,000; partially covered by insurance. The building was owned by Caroline E. Boardman, of Troy, N. Y. The damage to adjoining property amounted to about $10,000.

"Skunk of Civilization."

Mrs. P. I. Frey, Williamsport, who occasionally filis her husband's pulpit, last night delivered a sermon on "Popular Sins," and during her remarks said: "One of the popular sins of the day is theater-going. Many an old deacon will sit and snore in the house of God, while the pastor is preaching the Word, but that same deacon will go to the theater, sit with his eyes wide open and split his sides laughing over some silly, nonsensical performance, on the stage. Our young girls care more for their pretty ball gowns and the flowers that some dude has sent them than they do for the robe of righteousness or the approval of God

Almighty.
"The drink evil has also crept inte the church. Some of the best paying members of our churches have made their money through beer and whisky, and plenty of church members have wine and beer in their cellars. Tobacco using is a curse that should be wiped out. Tobacco smoking on the street is the skunk of civilization, and no Christian can honor God and in-dulge in it. The saddest sight that the angels have to look upon is the theater-going, dancing, wine-drinking, eard-playing, church member."-Philadelphia Public Ledger.

A Lake Captain's Experience.

Capt. McDonald, one of Kingston's most prominent mariners, writes: "For years I have battled with the agonies of Bronchitic Asthma, oftentimes so bad that I could not sleep for nights at a time. I spent hundreds of dollars on that I could not sleep for nights at a time. I spent hundreds of dollars on doctors and quacks without getting relief, but one dollar's worth of Catarrhozone perfectly cured me." The above testimonial was given two years ago, and as the Captain lately stated he was still quite free from Bronchitis. It proves Catarrhozone a veritable specific. Herman Stewart Shot by Dr. Harbottie.

BURFORD'S

The Doctor Arrested for Shooting With Intent to Kill-Details of the Affair.

Burford, Ont., Nov. 21.-Burford was yesterday the scene of a sensational

It appears Dr. Harbottle and Herman Stewart, who live about a mile from Burford, met at the village postoffice, but did not speak, as they have that most cases of deafness are caused been on bad terms. They walked away together, still without speaking. When at the corner of Ludlow's grocery Stewart brushed against Har--it is claimed, accidentally. The doctor did not utter a word, but pulling a revolver fired right in the face of Stewart. There was a blinding flash, and the victim was seen to stagger. Witnesses of the affair rushed to Stewart's assistance, fully ex-pecting to find that he had been killed, but by a lucky chance this was not the case. The bullet struck just above one eye, but became deflected, and tearing through the top of the head lodged in the casing of Ludlow's

NOT DANGEROUSLY HURT. Stewart was at once assisted to the office of Dr. Johnston, where it was found that the wound was not of a dangerous nature. It was at once dressed, and Stewart was removed to his home. He was able to walk to his buggy with assistance. After the shooting Dr. Harbottle walked quietly back to his store. On reaching home the doctor drew a chair onto his stoop and commenced to read a paper. Here he was found by Constable Dunn, and to him he spoke of his deed in a seemingly un-concerned manner. Dunn told the doctor that he was UNDER ARREST, but would be left in his house until wanted. Dunn then left and a crowd commenced to gather around the residence of the doctor. He threatened to shoot the first one who attempted to enter, and no one seemed very anxious to put him to the test, as after the shooting he had put the revolver in his pocket.

Chief of Police Vaughan was notified of the position of affairs and at once arranged to send out three members of the local force. Before they started, however, word was received that Dunn' had Harbottle under arrest in his home, with a man on guard walking up and down outside.

DR. HARBOTTLE. Dr. Harbottle has long been the butt of certain residents in and around the village. He is a brilliant scholar, and took the medical and arts course at the same time, securing a silver medal at Toronto University in the latter, and also standing exceedingly high in medicine. He is the possessor of a somewhat peculiar manner, and this somewhat peculiar manner, and this fact has led him to be subjected to and annoyance.

A PRO-BOER. He is a hearty sympathizer with the Boers, and has openly expressed himself in their favor. As an outcome his house and druggist's shop has twice been bespattered with rotten eggs, and firecrackers have thrown into his store, and other attacks perpetrated. Rightly or wrongly he considered Stewart a ringleader in these affairs, and there can be no doubt that it was this feeling which culminated in the attack. Dr. Harbottle has a wife, a son and a daughter. He was formerly medical health officer of the township, and has frequently spoken on political platforms as an independent Conservative.

THE VICTIM. Stewart is also a married man with It is alleged that Harbottle pulled a revolver on a man eight months ago, but this is unconfirmed. Justices of the Peace Rutherford and Rutledge left for Stewart's house to take his deposition. Dr. Harbottle will be arraigned for shooting with roads. intent to kill, and he will be committed and brought to Brantford fail.

A RAILWAY TRUST

Governors of Northwestern States Urged to Fight It-Lord Strathcona's Holdings.

The Ontario department of public works has been notified that the suryey of the proposed government Temiscaming Railway has been completed over the first 40 miles from North Bay northwards. The total distance to be covered is 105 miles. Lord Strathcona holds 160,000 shares of Great Northern preferred stock, 32,500 Northern Pacific, 13,750 Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic and 7,500 Canadian Pacific.

It is said there is every likelihood of through trains being run from the Canadian Northern station in Winnipeg to the Atlantic seaboard within the next eighteen months. The partners in the deal are, it is said, the Grand Trunk, the Wisconsin Central, the Duluth, Missabe and Northern and the Canadian Northern railways. D. D. Mann, of Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann, the railway men, says that the Canadian Northern Railway has carried 3,000,000 bushels of grain so far, and has another million in store. The road expects to handle between nine and ten million bushels altogether this season. The C. P. R. so far has handled about thirteen million bushels of the Canadian crop.

The following statement was given out from Governor Van Zant's office at Minneapolis, Minn., on Wednesday: "Owing to the great interest of the people of the states west of us and the great desire to see the attempt to consolidate the Great Northern and the N. P. Railway lines resisted, Governor Van Zant has concluded to in-vite the governors of the states having anti-consolidation laws similar to those of Minnesota to join in an effort to fight the great railway trust." It is understood that a conference of the governors is to be planned to consitions in the courts and by new legislation if necessary.

CAUSE OF DEAFNESS

The Most Common Cause Only Recently Discovered.

It has been stated on good medical authority that nine-tenths of cases of deafness are caused from catarrh or from sore throat trouble.

The little tube which leads to the ear from the throat is lined with a sort of velvety structure called mucous membrane. This membrane is simply a continuation of the mucous membrane lining the throat. When disease of any sort attacks the mucous membrane of the throat it is very liable to extend into the Eustachian tube and up

The history of nearly all cases of deafness is like this: A cold is contracted and neglected, other colds are taken, the throat becomes sore and inflamed, which is aggravated by particles of dust and germs from the air. This condition causes the disease to spread into the tube that leads to the

It seems a little far-fetched to say from catarrh, but it is certainly true, and anyone who has had a severe catarrhal cold must have noticed how the hearing was affected while the cold

With catarrh sufferers this impairment of hearing becomes chronic and grows worse the longer the catarrh is neglected. You can cure catarrh and deafness by the regular use of an excellent new preparation called Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, composed of antiseptic remedies which act both on the mucous membranes but principally and most effectually on the blood, eliminating the catarrhal poison from the system. People whose hearing is defective may think it a little remarkable that a simple and harmless tablet would very often remove all traces of deafness, but when it is remembered that catarrh causes the deafness and that the catarrh is easily cured by the regular use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets there is no mystery about it. If you are subject to nasal catarrh or catarrh of throat, bronchial tubes, or catarrh of stomach and liver, the safest and most effective treatment is the new catarrh specific, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, sold by all druggists at 50 cents for full sized package.

SUGAR BEET TESTS.

Toronto, Nov. 21.-Supplementary information regarding the sugar beet tests being conducted by the Ontario department of agriculture give results at two points-Simcoe and Watford, Norfolk county-not included in the first report issued by the department. At Simcoe the beets produced 14.5 per At Simcoe the beets produced 14.0 per cent of sugar, of 86.4 purity, and yielded 14 tons per 610 pounds to the acre. At Watford the percentage of sugar was 15.3, of 86.5 purity, and the yield 17 tons, 317 pounds, to the acre. These figures are slightly below the average of the other points at which experiments were made. As late as 1770 the journey from Liverpool to London was dangerous on account of the bad condition of the

RESULTS OF THE ANALYSIS

Ontario Agricultural College Gives Statistics.

Regarding Average of Sugar Beets Grown in London District and Elsewhere.

The chemical department of the Ontario Agricultural College has issued the results of the analysis of beets from London and the average of the results from the other places in the experiments. In every case where there is no yield given, and an analysis has been made, the beets were pulled before the inspector arrived; consequently, no calculation of the yield could be made. The college is, however, communicating with each of these men, and is trying, if possible, to get an estimated yield of their plot. Following are the Toronto now wants to elect its alderen by the city as a whole, instead of y wards. That is the system in Lonon. It works well, and the citizens fould not go back to the old way.

Mr. R. L. Borden, the Dominion opposition leader, is reported to have aid, after his recent visit to Teronto: I had a warm reception, but that does ot add to the voting power behind me n the House."

Mayor Prefontaine, of Montreal, is offering for the mayoralty there for a ifth term. His Worship may find a lisposition on the part of the electors hold that these civic honors should to round. If they do not, the Montealers are unlike other people.

Montreal Street Railway Company has prohibited smoking on the cars during the winter months. Why not all the time? There is no good reason hy men should smoke to the discomfort of their fellow passengers anywhere. It is not a gentlemanly act.

The centenary of the New York Evening Post has been the occasion of neat tributes from all over the land. St. Clair McKelway is the author of the following:

"If the editor is a schoolmaster, the Evening Post has been a schoolmaster of schoolmasters. If a newspaper is a college, the Evening Post has been the instructor in post-graduate journalism of its century. It may be even anathematized in the offices of many organs, but it is unread in none. It may be abused, scorned and hated by every opportunist, trimmer or plunderer in public life, but he fears its censure and he is rebuked by its conscience in the very marrow of his soul and in the thoughts and intents of his heart."

Ninety-nine and a half miles an hour was the high rate of speed recently attained by the German committee appointed to study high speed electric traction. The experimentation ook place on an almost level track The cars are fourteen miles long. pointed at both ends to minimize resistance. There is seating accommodation for about 50 passengers. The intention is, if practicable, to increase the speed to 125 or 150 miles an hour It is felt that faster means of transi are required in Germany to meet the requirement of commerce and industry. The electric motors have been found preferable to steam, owing to the absence of pistons and dividing rods, which naturally interfere with smoothness of motion. The results of the German experiments are being watched with interest throughout the scientific world.

Wants the Taxes Increased.

The Toronto Mall and Empire urges that the Dominion taxes on imports should be raised to the Dingley tariff of the United States. It is surely about time that the new leader of the Conservatives called a convention of the party leaders to decide just what their policy is. The other day we had Mr. Monk, the Quebec leader of the Conservatives in the House of Commens, asserting that it was a disadvantage to the Province of Quebec to have Sir Wilfrid Laurier as Premier, and that the Liberal leader had deemed it the best policy to give more benefits to the other Provinces than to Quebec. This was the exact opposite no of what the Opposition politicians have factories. Last year they workbeen dinning into the ears of the people of Ontarie. In this Province, the 28,476,310 cigars, and paid a total duty chief cry of the Conservative leaders of $115,600 44. More than one-fourth has been that Quebec has been so favored at the expense of Ontario, ed in the Dominion are the work of and that she has been so the cigarmakers of London. The refavored because of Sir Wilfrid's nationality. Now, the Toronto organ Dominion, except Montreal, has as favors very high taxes on imports. But the other day, Hon. Hugh John Macdonald, the accepted colleague of Sir Charles Tupper, made his campaign in the Northwest on the express ground that the present tariff was much too high, and that the duty should be entirely blotted out on some manufactured articles. A similar camnow being waged paign is by the Opposition press of Manitoba, as a start to the campaign in the bye-election in Manitoba. Thus we have it demonstrated that the Opposition from being a united found the Dominion. The discomfited ones really are the Opposition managers, who, having no common principle on which they are united, strive to cause trouble by raising sectional issues. Fortunately, these are easily exposed.

The New Hay-Paunceforte Treaty.

The new treaty between Great Britain and the United States, which has just been signed, will not become law until it has received a two-thirds vote of the United States Senate, which meets next month. The expectation is that it will receive the necessary vote.

It is understood that the new treaty proves (1) that the Clayton-Bulwer treaty is superseded by the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, (2) that the provisions in the treaty that the canal shall never be blockaded, nor shall any fortifications be erected commanding the canal and the adjacent waters, shall not prevent the United States from taking such measures as it may find necessary to secure by its own forces the defense of the United States and the maintenance of public order, and (3) that the clause is omitted calling he attention of other powers to the treaty and inviting their adherence to Substantially, these amendments are incorporated in the new treaty, which, if it be accepted, will supersede the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, guarantee the neutrality of the canal, and give to the United States, not as has been reported, the right to fortify the canal, which would impose upon it an obligation to do so, but the right to take what measures may be necessary for the maintenance of public order and for the defense of the United States. The full term of the new treaty cannot be reported until officially presented to the Senate.

London as an Inland Revenue Center.

From the annual report of the Minister of Inland Revenue for the Dominion, some important facts are gleaned with regard to the sources of revenue in this district. The total

The higher revenue accruing at Toronto was made up from the duties on spirits, malt and tobacco. Of the total revenue in the Guelph district, fully two-thirds was collected from the products of the distillery at Waterloo. Hamilton collected its duties chiefly from tobacco and spirits, and Windsor from spirits at the big distillery there.

London contributes more inland revenue than either New Brunswick. Nova Scotia or Prince Edward Island. The Northwest and British Columbia because of increased population and greater prosperity this year again show largely increased collections.

London is the headquarters for petroleum inspection, and last year 11,-197,314.80 gallons of that commodity and 1,477,662.77 were passed upon by the inland revenue staff of this port. London continues to advance as a center for the manufacture of cigars. There are under the supervision of officials of this port now the fewer than twenty cigar ed up 464,124 pounds of tobacco into of the total quantity of cigars producturns show that no other city in the large a cigar manufacturing industry as London.

What Is Slang?

"Do not talk slang" is the injunction which we extend to one another. It is sometimes difficult to draw the line between slang and correct language Use and went has much to do with it. For example, when the case of Captain Boycott first came up in Ireland, to say that a man was boycotted was to use slang. It is not yet thirty years since the boycott incident, yet party, with an intelligent, if mistaken, "to boycott" is now a recognized Engprogramme which it was in the days lish term. There are many other of Sir John Macdonald and Sir John words that have come into use in a Thompson-has degenerated into a colsimilar manner. "Pluck," for example, lection of fragments, each pulling its as late as 1827 was a slang word, and own way, and pandering as best it Sir Walter Scott, in his "journal" can to these sectional influences which wrote of the "want of that article may adv nce the fortunes of those who have assumed the leadership. The blackguardly called pluck." With restrong probability is that both as re- gard to many words, therefore, there gards the question of patronage and is an evolution from slang to a recogthe arranging of the tariff, the Gov- nition as a word fitted to be inserted ernment of today has struck the happy in standard dictionaries. The safest medium, pleasing the extremists in no plan for the speaker, or writer, howparticular, but satisfying the great ever, is to keep to recognized and mass of the population that it is doing plain English terms as far as possible, about as well for them as experienced and avoid the use of new-fangled exstatesmen can be expected to do under pressions that may never receive the circumstances in which they have recognition.

A German Dingley Tariff.

The New York World says: "As the German people are, next to the British, the largest buyers of our surplus grain, the following table of the old and the proposed new German tariffs on grain contains unpleasant news:

on Stam comme
	Present	Ne
	rate.	rat
Wheat, per ton	$8 30	$15
Rye, per ton	8 30	14
Oats, per ton	6 70	14
Barley, per ton	4 70	9
Corn, per ton	3 80	9
Flour, per ton	17 40 .	32
Flour, per commit

"It thus appears that the present German duties on all cereals will be about doubled. On pork and other visions about the same increase will his be made. Moreover, the new tariff provides that no reciprocity treaty hereafter to be made shall reduce the duty on wheat below $13 per ton, on rye and oats below $11 90 per ton, nor on barley below $7 10 per ton. On bicycles, machinery and shoes-all of which we export largely to Germanythe duties are also raised by from 100 to 300 per cent."

Apparently, the protectionists of the go under.

A Mayor Disqualified for Drinking After Hours.

An unusual occurrence has taken place in Ottawa which may have more than a passing interest in other municialities. They had a mayor down there who has been inclined to trade upon the profession that the condition of municipal affairs was very bad, and that he and he alone could set them straight and keep them straight. It was a laudable object on the part of anyone to desire to improve the conditions of his fellow citizens, but it sometimes occurs that a man wrecks his prospects as a reformer by failing to be consistent in his own doings. revenue for the Province of Ontario And it so happened to Mayor Morris, of Ottawa, at a time when he was boasting that he was so invulnerable as a municipal ruler that there was no man in the city that could beat him. But, like Samson of old, he was destined to fall by the way when he most relied on his own strength. He has indeed been shorn of his locks. Two weeks ago, we learn from the local press, His Worship of Ottawa was having a tiff with the chief of police and calling for his scalp beeause he was not keeping himself and those under him up to the high standard of conduct which he set before them. Today Mr. Morris is a private citizen, having been disqualified through the faithful discharge of duty by a member of the force which but ten days before he was contending was not doing its duty. The pother at the capital is almost good enough to supply the groundwork for a comic opera, albeit it contains a moral that may well be laid to heart by municipal rulers everywhere. According to the Citizen, which has championed the cause of the Ottawa mayor, he was invited to Rideau Hall to dinner on Saturday week, and having dined well, he returned to the city and entered the Russell House, where he met some friends. It was long past the hour of closing, but by virtue of his power as a municipal soion he managed to get admission into the place where liquids are kept, and he stood treat. Then on Monday last-it is not stated where the mayor's dryness developed on that evening, but probably in the windy council chamber-his worship hied him to the place of drinks once more, and again after hours. One of the policemen, who no doubt had lately been seized of the mayor's desires that right should be done in Ottawa, though the heavens should fali, was moved to accept the mayor at his own estimate, and at once proceeded to lay charges against him of having set the bad example of breaking the law which enacts that no one shall enter a barroom to get intoxicants after the hours fixed by law. As the case was a clear one, the mayor had to plead guilty when accused of the offense before the police magistrate. He paid the fine and costs, but his offense carries with it a greater punishment-and probably rightly so, seeing he was chief magistrate of the ity, and ought to have set a good example, as well as preached precepts, to his fellows-for by the revised statutes of the province it is enacted that where a member of any municipal council is convicted of having knowingly committed any offense under the law, he shall not only pay the penalty enacted, but shall be ineligible to be elected or to sit or vote in any municipal council for two years thereafter, under a penalty of $40 for each day that he sits and votes. Mayor Morris' habit of going into barrooms after hours to treat therefore costs him his seat-a fact which will no doubt be duly pondered on by municipal mauagers everywhere. We observe that the Ottawa Citizet endeavors to make a martyr of the discomfited mayor; but really he has no one but himself to blame. A stickler for everyone else doing his whole duty; a preacher of the idea that he alone was the one person called to raise the capital out of the slough of despond; he must have known that it was not part of his duty to break the law with regard to the sale of intoxicants, and that his example was one that if generally followed, would lead to no end of lawlessness. If we read the argument of the Citizen aright, it believes that the policeman had no right to summon the mayor because he was the mayor, lest it might be thought that to do so would be to show spite because the mayor was at loggerheads with the police force That would certainly be a novel excuse for lawbreaking in high places, and might, if agreed to, be extended in course of time to embrace exemptions for other breakages of law.

Mayor Morris' sudden flop should be a warning to others in like authority to restrain abnormal thirst after the public houses are closed, lest by similar temptation a like fate should befail

The Funk of the New Century.

Will some one stick a pin into the editor of the St. John, N.B., Sun and meats, butter, cheese and other pro- see if he is awake? He is instructing readers on past events as if he had been playing the part of Rip Van Winkle for the past two years, and had heard of none of the happenings in the interval. Here, for example, we have the Sun stating that a judicial investigation was promised by the Dominion Government into charges of wrongdoing committed in the byeelections prior to last general election, United States do not relish taking and asserting that the promised intheir own medicine. Were Great vestigation was never held. To make Britain to adopt a tariff similar to such a statement, in view of the facts, that proposed by the Germans, half is either willful perversion of the the cities of the United States would truth or ignorance that can hardly be regarded as excusable.

Everyone knows that the Judicia Commission to investigate into all charges that might be lodged, with regard to any and every act, was duly appointed, as promised. It was composed of Sir John Boyd, Chancellor of Ontario, Chief Justice Falconbridge and Judge McTavish. The commission sat again and again. It advertised far and wide that it was ready to receive any complaint whatsoever regarding the conduct of the elections. The Opposition leaders and the Opposition newspaper editors, who were so ready when no responsibility was attached to their declarations, to charge their political opponents with wrong doing, were earnestly requested to go forward and make their statements where they could be judicially investigated. Not one of them did so. They funked when brought to the test, and the judges had to so report.

Jingo Hysterics Unseemly.

Lord Milner, the British High Commissioner in South Africa, declares that "in the subsidence of every great conflagration you may see flames first at one point and then at another Some of these spurts look very fierce, and look very alarming. Still they come to nothing, because there is nothing left for them to feed upon." That is to say, the war in South Africa i virtually over. The simile is not very happy one, but it is borne cut by the declaration of Mr. Brodrick, the British Secretary for War, who asserts that only about 10,000 Boers all told are now under arms, and these are faced by over 150,000 British troops. It is true that these forces are spread over a wide territory, and that their task is rendered difficult by the disaffection of the Boer population. But enough is now known to warrant the statement made by the Montreal Gazette that there is justification for saying that the war is in its last stage, and that the stage will not last long. The clamor made in some quarters in Canada, therefore, that another contingent should be equipped by our government and sent to the aid of the British forces does not seem to be one dictated by common sense, the more especially as the British authorities have already sent word that they do not require further help from Canada, and will be ready to let our government know if they do. It is not a matter upon which we should go into jingoistic hysterics to please either mouth warriors or politicians scheming to make-believe that they and their associates are the only true blue loyalists in the Dominion.

Canada stands ready to go, shoulder to shoulder with the Motherland, against the enemies of the Empire, when such co-operation is required and desired, but it cannot too well be emphasized that the normal condition of our people is that of peaceful workers, not of warriors spoiling at all times to go fighting. With fair pay, Britain's standing army can take good care of law and order in South Africa henceforth. But again we say, if at any time the aid of Canada is required to combat those who would assail the integrity of the Empire, or the rights and freedom of her sons, Canada will be ready to do her share.

Sparks From Other Anvils.

nearly ready to talk of peace. War is a terrible thing. While we are so friendly with England, couldn't it be fixed up-for a consideration, of course -that the Boers make another long trek and take off our hands the Philippine Islands, with its bolomen, friendly natives, hemp trust scandal and other attachments?

St. Thomas Journal: The London Advertiser, after pointing out that the observance of Thanksgiving Day has become a mere farce, that but a handful of people assemble at the churches, and that the day is spent in hunting, shooting, etc., suggests that hereafter Thanksgiving Day should be on a Sunday. Bobcaygeon Independent: Toronto is to have an apartment house, in which a bachelor's modest suite of two rooms and a bath will cost him about $30 a month. Goldwin Smith, in Weekly Sun: If, as some think, the race of poets is extinet, fancy is not, but can still play remarkable tricks, as these royal receptions show, If the greatest benefactor of his kind, the author of the most important discovery or the most useful invention, of the grandest work of genius, without birth or rank, were to come among us, his presence would scarcely be noticed, he would mingle with the crowd in our streets, and if hospitality was shown him it would probably be shown, not by officials or leaders of fashionable society, but by people of the same pursuits. But when a youth, who has nothing but birth and rank, who has not done, and is not likely ever to have the opportunity of doing, anything but live in luxury and splendor, deigns to come among us, we receive and worship him as a god. Great sums are voted for his entertainment. He moves amidst adoring crowds, under triumphal arches of welcome, streets decorated in his honor, and lined with guards of honor. Crowds stand patiently in the rain to catch a sight of him. To be noticed by him is bliss. His commonest words are eagerly repeated, his commonest actions are reported with applause. The richest banquets, the most costly gifts, are offered to him as an idol. The reign of cold and prosaic reason can hardly be said to be formidably near.

Andiers kindem frausion FOR BRONCHITIS

Many persons think that they have merely a stubborn cough, when they really have Bronchitis, which, if neglected, always results in Chronic Bronchitis. The most effective remedy known to medical science for Throat and Lung Troubles is Angier's Petroleum Emulsion. It stops the cough, makes breathing easy, relieves congestion and irritation, soothes and heals the bronchial tubes, changes the character of expectoration and effects a general and rapid improvement in all the symptoms. It is pleasant to take and agrees with the weakest stomach. It is not a patent medicine, but has been prescribed by physicians everywhere since 1880.

I have been treating a very severe bronchial cough of long standing with Angier's Petroleum Emulsion, and have been so benefited by it that I gladly recommend it to anyone suffering as I did. Last year I took several bottles of emulsion of cod liver oil, but it failed to have the desired effect. I consider Angier's Petroleum Emulsion far superior to any other. Miss M. MR. CANN'S LETTER

An Exeter Man Who Expresses His Opinions Freely in the Local

Exeter, Nov. 18 .- (Special) .- Lorne Cann, a laundry man of this town, has sent a letter to the Advocate stating that Dodd's Kidney Pills have changed him from a sickly, delicate, run-down man to a strong, hearty and rebust one.

Nothing could be plainer than the statement made by Mr. Cann. says he was in such a terribly rundown condition that the least exertion would leave him tired and breathless. He tried many medicines, and was under physicians' treatment for over three months, but got no better. Finally he tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and the results of the first box were so encouraging that he continued the treatment, and in the end was completely restored to good health and stronger than he has been for years.

Montreal, Nov. 20.—John Redmond, Thos. O'Donnell and Patrick MeHugh, the Irish envoys, addressed a big meeting at the Windsor Hall here this evening, and received a splendid welcome from a vast audience that had assembled to hear them. Their addresses were confined to the mands of the Irish party for home rule. Redmond, in an eloquent address, referred to the plan of campaign that was now being waged in Ireland, and said that the efforts of the Irish party would be continued until their demands were met and until Ireland enjoyed the same measure of freedom that Canada now enjoyed. Messrs. O'Donnell and McHugh also spoke. Mr. O'Donnell, after speaking in Eng-

PURSUIT WAS HOT!

Boers Were Glad to Surrender-Enemy in Wretched Plight-Were Without Food for Days.

Bloemfontein, Nov. 20.-Gen. Hamilton's column, which is operating in the district around Reddersburg, located some of Ackermann's commando on Nov. 11 in a strong position on a farm, with kopjes in their rear. The Boers were 250 strong. After a stubborn fight, the burghers retreated, leaving one man killed on the field. Six prisoners were taken, including Gen. Zolbe. Thirty rifles, thirty horses and 1,500 rounds of ammunition were captured. The Boers bolted across the Riet River. The British continued the chase for 28 miles, when their horses were galloped to a standstill. Most of the Boers had two horses, and they changed them and abandoned one during the pursuit.

The chase was taken up by Lowry and Cole on the 12th, and they captured 35 more prisoners. The remainder were driven off towards the camp of the Bedfordshires. The British loss was two wounded.

Twelve of Commandant Ackerman's men deserted their commando, which has been severely handled in the past few days by the Bedfordshires and other British columns. Five of the twelve surrendered to the outposts of Bloemfontein yesterday. The other seven were too exhausted to reach the British camp, and a cart was sent to bring them in. They were in a ter-rible plight, having been three days without food.

PUT TO FLIGHT. [Special Cable to Mail and Empire.] Bloemfontein, Nov. 20. — Col. Holand, with 200 men of the 55th Mounted Infantry and Scottish Yeomanry, were atacked last week 30 miles south of Lenburg by Brand's commando. On the following night Col. Holland en-camped on the top of a kopje, and at dawn discovered that Brand was posted a thousand yards below him. Holland opened fire with a pom-pom, killing one Boer and wounding two. ANOTHER SWEEP BY NOVA SCOTIA LIBERALS

Liberal Majority is Sixteen Out of the Eightteen Counties-Elections on Party Lines.

Halifax, Nov. 20 .- The Liberals of Nova Scotia won another notable triumph in the municipal elections, which took place throughout the province yesterday. This victory, while tive, or county councilor, from each Conservatives. This victory, while giving the Liberal party control of municipal as well as federal and local affairs, will make that party invulnerable in Nova Scotia. This is the first municipal election here in which party politics played a prominent part.

ONE'S FRIENDS

About Two Types.

A Friend Who Is Very Near and Dear May in Time Become as Useless as a Relative."

Once there was a Married Man who had two Friends whom he had not given up, even to oblige the Missus. They were two Men whom he had known since Boyhood's Happy Days away back in a webfoot Village. Once in a while the Man would have the Two around to the House for Dinner.
Of these two Friends, one was a Gusher

The item is from the pen of Frederic Edward McKay, one of the editors of the Dramatic News, the organ of the theatrical syndicate:

"In reference to the rumored retirement of Marguerita Sylva from Kirk Las Shelle's 'Pidness Chie' Opera Company, Mr. La Shelle said to me yesterday: 'At Miss Sylva's urgent solicitation I placed Mr. W. D. Mann in the position of acting manager with my company. For reasons sufficient unto myself I gave Mr. Mann two weeks' notice of dismissal. Miss Sylva then told me that if Mr. Mann was dismissed she would give me two weeks' notice. I accepted this condihis Coat.

"I know it's Guff," the man would say after the Gusher had passed on, "but my Stars! He can ladle out the Soothing Syrup and never spill a Drop."

The Grouch, on the other Hand, gave a correct Imitation of a Bear with a Sore Toe. His Conversation was largely made up of Grunts. He carried a Facial Expression that frightened little Children in Street Cars and took all the Starch out of sentimental Young Ladies. He seemed perpetually to carry the Hoof Marks of a horrible Nightmare. Some said that he had been Blighted in Love and had soured on the Universe. Others imagined that his Liver was out of Whack. At any rate, he was shy on Sweetness and Light. His Dial suggested a Map of the Bad Lands, and he was just out of Kind Words. He could Knock better than he could Boost.

When the Gusher would arise at the Dinner Table to blow Bubbles and distribute Candy, the Grouch would slide down in his Chair until he was resting on his Shoulder Blades. He seemed to have a Calomel Taste his Mouth as he listened to the musical drip of the Mushand-Milk. That kind of Language went with some People, but nix for Sweeney! The Wile of the Married Man liked the Gusher and tolerated the Grouch.

Every time the Gusher came into the Flat, he held her Hand a little longer than necessary and looked into her Hazel Eyes and told her she was becoming Younger and more Charming every Day. After a Woman turns the 30 Corner, those Speeches are worth a Dollar a Word, because she finds herself Guessing at times. Husband never was jealous. He knew the Gusher told every Woman the same thing, playing no Favorites.

When the Grouch came to see them, he said "How are you?" and then began to kick on the Weather and tell about his Rheumatism. One thing was certain. The Grouch never would break up any Happy Homes. And it was predicted that he would never get a Wife unless he took her on a Mortgage.

The Gusher distened with Tears in his Eyes. In a Voice all choked with Sobs he tendered his Sympathy and the Sincere Hope that all would yet be Well. He told him it grieved him to see a Friend go under the Rollers. It tore his Heart. It did, for sure. In fact, it had so upset him that he would have to go out into

THE BATTLES OF LIFE

Demand Nerve Force, Energy Vitality-The Weaklings Go of fruits. to the Wall - Dr. Chase' of Health.

What use has the world for men and women who have not courage enough to face the battles of life? Every day men are failing and women are growing discouraged and despondent because they lack the nerve force which is absolutely necessary to health and strength, and which supplies energy and ambition to body and mind. It is not too much to attribute nine-tenths of the sufferings of humanity to wan-ing nerve power, the vital principle of that the insect had its native habiof the sufferings of humanity to wandigestion poor, the liver and kidneys sluggish and inactive, when the vital force stored up in the nerves is consumed or wasted by disease, worry or over-exertion of the mental and physical powers? We are living too far from nature's rules, burning the candle at both ends and wasting nerve force without thought of how it is to be replenished. The effects are carefully overlooked until prostration, nervous collapse or insanity overcomes us and renders restoration next to impossible. In his immense practice in the United States, the very home of nervous diseases, Dr. A. W. Chase studied the cause of these ailments which are sllowly sapping millions of young men and women of the vital spark of life jaro, the highest of African mountains, and energy. The result of his tireless some 45 years ago, he said that its top investigation and experiment was the was covered with snow. LADYBIRD BEETLE

To Be imported to Eat the San Jeso Scale.

A "counter irritant" for the farfamed San Jose scale has been discov-ered by the agricultural department shorter, but the other glaciers are qui e in China, and is to be imported for the purpose of ridding American fruit growers of a predative and damaging pest. The imported commodity is a "ladybird" beetle, which eats the scale so ravenously as to completely prevent it from doing any injury. An abundant supply of these beetles both sexes is now on its way to the United States, where the department will propagate and develop them for free distribution among growers

Except for an expensive and troublesome chemical treatment, the de-Nerve Food a True Fountain partment has been unable previously to devise any offset to the San Jose scale. Several years ago the entomological experts of the department located in Australia a parasite which lives on an insect similar to the scale. A number of these bugs were imported and placed in various orchards. Their taste was found to be capricious, however; the San Jose scale was refused, and the insects imported at so much trouble and expense pined away and died. Further study of the scale led Dr. C. L. Howard, chief of life itself.

Is it any wonder that the heart's action grows weak and irregular, the liver and kidneys.

Is it any wonder that the heart's Dr. C. L. Marlett, was thereupon sent to Japan to make investigations. After a five months' stay Dr. Marlett located the scale in Japan, but came to the opinion that it had immigrated thither from the United States. going to China the scale was found in the fruit-producing districts south of the "great wall," but with it was the scale-destroying ladybird, rendered the pest wholly indestructive.-Washington Star.

The glaciers in that hot latitude, of course, do not deness Gumption as a Belgian Hare, and a Chump who would walk into Debt with his Eyes open deserved to get it right in the Collar.

"If you're looking for Sympathy, you've barked up the wrong Tree," said the Grouch. tion, and the sun pours its beams vertically upon the snow mass. Melting is therefore very rapid, and few of the glaciers from their place of origin to their terminal faces are more than a mile in length. The larger part of the snow on the upper slopes of Kilimanjaro falls on the south glacier and west side, so the glaciers on the dry east and north sides are few in number and shorter than the others, though an unbroken wall of ice circles these sides of the mountains. great ice rivers, however, slowly move down the slopes of the south and east sides, and Meyer has given to them the names of the leading German authorities on glacial phenomena. The glaciers on Mount Kenia, directly under the equator, are more numerous than those on Kilimanjaro, but most of them are of little importance compared with those of the taller mountain. Mr. Mackinder, in his difficult journey around the upper part of Kenia, counted fifteen ice rivers. The Lewis glacier is a mile in length small and short. The intelligence contained in the telegram is all the more cheering from the fact that the crucial forty-eight hours had passed since the operation. As septice poisoning had not set in, the prospects are brighter for young Wilson's ultimate recovery. The doctors found two severe fractures of the skull, one behind the left ear and the other on the top of the head.

The Dominion Government do not expect a reply to their cable of last night to imperial auth-rities offering a mounted corps for South Africa before Saturday. It will be received by Lord Minto, who will forward it to the premier. The militia department is ready to go ahead the moment Britain wants the corps.

LUNCHEON FOR O'GRADY-HALY

Officers of No. 1 Company Entertain Commander-in-Chief.

Many Prominent Militiamen Were Among the Company—Standing of No. 1 Depot.

Major-General O'Grady-Haly is in London making his regular inspection of Wolseley Barracks and No. 1 Company, R. C. R. I. The commander of the Canadian forces is a welcome visitor at the barracks, where his known admiration for the company is naturally appreciated. On more than one occasion, he has given No. 1 Company and the officers at the depot very high praise, and his opinion of the men may be judged from a remark he once made that they were the finest body of soldiers he had seen since he left England. His inspection of the barracks which in the matter of managemen has no superior in Canada, was quite satisfactory. The company was being inspected this afternoon.

Gen. O'Grady-Haly had lunch at the barracks, and Mr. Charles S. Hyman, M. P., Col. Leys, M. P. P., Sir John Carling, Lieut.-Col. Smith, Lieut.-Col. McEwen, Major Little, Major Cronyn, Capt. Hobbs and other officers were invited to meet him there. The lunch was served by Mess Caterer Sergt. She did not blush or simper, as nine girls out of ten might have done—at least, nine out of ten would certainly have blushed. Elsie's heart was too heavy for vanity. She did not know any of the ladies present. Lady Rosewood was not of the party. She sat apart, and she saw Captain Bracegirdle bending over Miss Stanly's chair, and smiling like a lover into her eyes, while Rosa laughed and chattered. Pauline stood by Lord Gretna, and entered into conversation, or, rather, into Shall talk. The buzz became general, the card-players at the other tables continued their games. Above the other volces rose the languid drawl of Lord Gretna:

"As sure to be hung as his name is

"As sure to be hung as his name is Hammond; not a shred of evidence in his favor. I heard it from Shylock, the nephew of the attorney-general; all the nepnew of the attorney-general, all the legal men are of one opinion. You see, he did shoot him—that's the point!"

A dead silence followed this assertion for an instant; then again there was the hum and buzz of voices.

It seemed to be Elsie's fate to stand uline's way.

in Pauline's way.

When supper was announced the daughter of the host had expected that Lord Gretna would have offered her his arm; but pale Elsie, in her black dress and yellow daffodils, had attracted the conyellow daffodils, had attracted the consumptive nobleman's attention. He ignorsed Pauline and came to offer to conduct Elsie to the supper room, and the guests trooped down.

Surely things must have been prospering more with the captain in London than they had in Paris. The supper was excellent and abundant, and champagne flowed freely. There was game, fish and pastry; there was fruit, and there were flowers; there was also silver and crystal.

Rosa ate heartily and chattered volubly.
Elsie asked only one question of Lord
Gretna during supper.

"Where is Mrs. Bracegirdle" she inquired. "I knew her in Paris."

CHAPTER XXXVI. "Mrs. Bracegirdle is dead," said Lord Gretna, in reply to Elsie; "died of ty-phoid or something; so the old scamp came to London. I knew them all in phoid or something; so the old scaling came to London. I knew them all in Faris long ago; did you?"

"Yes." said Elste, shortly.
She did not express any regret at the poor lady's death; she only thought to herself that she must now be at peace.
"The girl," said Lord Gretna, "is gone back to her mother's friends. I wonder what they'll think of her? She's ugly, you know."
Elste was silent. Elsie was silent.

"And now the game of the old sinner and of mademoiselle his daughter is a deeper one. Do you guess it?"
"Oh, dear, no!" replied Elsie, with a tinge of contempt in her tone.
"Well, then, I'll tell you," said the nobleman. "He means to marry your friend the heiress, Miss Stanly Pichahem! I know she is enormously rich. If you have any influence with those good people, tell them, with my compliments, that old Bracegirdle is a scamp. He has talked of the fortune he is expecting for the last six weeks. We couldn't make it out, but I can read it by the light of the gas tonight."

Certainly Lord Gretna was not a very refined man; but Elsie felt that, though he might seek distraction in various queer ways—such as losing gold by handfuls at "And now the game of the old sinner, rapid progress. he might seek distraction in various queer ways—such as losing gold by handfuls at nap—that he was honest, and there did not seem, so her girlish instincts told her, to be any harm in him.

"If I knew the Pic—I mean the Stan—lys," said Lord Gretna, "I would often call upon them if I thought I might see you sometimes. They are good sort of people I have heard."

Once more at home in Kensington, Rosa in bounding spirits.

"Fancy that girl telling me that her father is in love with me!" cried Rosa.

"Oh, Elsie, how thankful I am that my heart is in safe keeping; but I did not tell them that! Do you know, when I told them that, for the assizes, we mean to go to Guildford next week, because my father thinks, if he is there, he might do something for poor Owen, they both said something for poor Owen, they both said they were going too, and intended to put up at County Town Hotel, in the High street; that's where we are going." It will be fearful," sobbed Elsie, "to have them there then!" But Elsie did not know what was about

Such a hot August day! Elsie sat at he open window of the County Town lotel, and watched the judges start forth all the pemp of circumstance in their arriage and four. There was a crowd in the quaint street, with its time-honored picturesque buildings. Men and boys threw up their hats, and cried hurrah! Carrlages filled with fine ladies drove Carriages filled with fine ladies drove swiftly along. The bells rang joyous peals, the flowers on the balcony sent out sweet perfumes. What a festival nature and men seem to be making of the trial of Owen Hammond for murder! It was the cause celebre of the day; nearly all the county would flock to the town on the next day, when his trial began, Pauline Bracegirdle and her father occupied rooms on the same floor as the Stanlys. Captain Bracegirdle was following Resa Captain Bracegirdle was following Rosa up with assiduity. Good-natured Mr. Stanly suspected nothing; and Rosa, who had never played a game of coquetry be-fore in her life, entered into the spirit of the affair with a relish that astonished t was only to be near the Stanlys that

It was only to be near the Stanlys that the Bracegirdles came to these assizes. Pauline looked so pale that she was absolutely ghastly under her rouge. She had been unable to eat or to sleep for nearly a week. Her father hoped that the sweet country air would revive her; but while Elsie sat wrapped in gloom, in the window, looking into the sunny street, the door burst open and Captain Bracegirdle rushed in street, the door burst open and Captain Bracegirdle rushed in.

"Miss Carew, you are kind I know! Pauline is in a fit. I almost think she is dead! She fell down after breakfast. I can't rouse her."
Elsie ran swiftly into the sitting-room of the captain. Pauline lay on the floor white and rigid, with glassy, staring eyes, It was some sort of fit. Elsie went and put strong ammonia to Pauline's

"Send for a doctor," said Elste. "Send for a doctor," said Elsie, Captain Bracegirdle was like a madman; he broke the bell as he rang it, and, when the servants appeared, he could hardly speak.
"A doctor!" said Elsie, "a doctor! the

There are many good doctors in the chief town of Surrey.

A white-haired gentleman soon arrived.

Pauline was lifted on the couch, and her feet plunged into hot water. Then, after awhile, a shiver passed over her; the

she was only the wreck of her former self.

"Perfect quiet, complete rest of body and mind," said the doctor.

"Rest!" said Pauline, gasping. "My heart, it is agony! Do relieve my pain, eise I would rather die."

The doctor looked grave. Other medical assistance was called in. An examination was made, and the sentence was pronounced. Pauline Bracegirdie was suffering from the acutest form of heart dissase. She had not more than twenty-four hours to live. Immediately Captain Bracegirdie telephoned to London, offering the fee of one hundred guineas to Sir Peter Pattison, the heart doctor, if he would come to see his daughter; and Sir Peter came, but his verdict was the same—death within twenty-four hours—and there Pauline lay, gasping in anguish, begging for that relief which no mortal power could give. And the great doctor, who was a feeling man and a religious man; when he heard who the Bracegirdles were, and that they were poor, took a small fee in lieu of his hundred pounds.

"But you must tell your daughter." he said, "it strikes me she has something on her mind."

ran into his own room and locked the door.

The Guildford doctor and Sir Peter then undertook to tell Pauline Bracegirdle that she must die. Elste and Rosa Stanly stood by her side, and sympathetic tears were in their eyes. Elste now forgave To this suggestion the captain at once were in their eyes. Eisie now forgave from her heart all the wrong that Pauline had done her.

THE FIGHTING IN THE PHILIPPINES

Americans Wiped Out Three Camps-Captured 40 Bamboo Guns.

Washington, Nov. 20 .- The following cablegram has been received from Cav-ite, Nov. 20:

"Waller reports on 17th marines attacked almost impregnable position So-joton, Samar, destroying three camps, killing 30 men, capturing 40 bamboo guns, rice and stores. He reports no casualties and commends Forter, Bearss and other officers."

Major Waller's detailed account of the affair says:
"The rebel stronghold was almost impregnable. The trails leading to it were lined with poisoned spears sticking from the ground, and were filled with hidden pitfalls. Major Waller's command attacked the enemy unexpectedly. To do this they had climbed barefooted over bamboo ladders. At the top they found boulders piled ready to precipitate upon any attacking party. Major Waller says he was personally not present at the action. The major considers the scaling of the cliffs, 200 feet high, as a new feature of warfare, and says such men would be able to do anything any-where. Thirty of the enemy were k'll-ed. THE DARK PHASE OF CHRISTMAS

Homes Into Which No Sunshine Ever Enters.

What School Children of London Might Accomplish.

How the Salvation Army Will Carry Happiness Into Many Homes at Yule-Tide.

Have you thought of how short the time is between today and the 25th of December? and of how very, very quickly that short time will pass by? -A meeting of the board of trade It does not seem long since the Duke and business men generally will be and Duchess of York were here—you held in the board rooms on Wednesday can see the crowds and hear the can see the crowds and hear the cheers as though it was only yesterday--and yet it is five weeks since Church tonight, the second part of then-just as far away as that wonderful December day when Christmas, "fine old Christmas, with the snowy hair and ruddy face," will reawaken thoughts of a humble, glorious birtheyes of a world's Savior.

If you have not yet thought of the Christmas time, we ask you to do so, Bearer Company, Army Medical Corps, and in asking you, we have an object were paid off last evening by Capt. A. in view. For those of us who have a comfortable home and an assured quantity of the necessities-perhaps even some of the luxuries of life- can. Of course, they gave an address on "Echoes from the who have those who love us and those pend upon their friends for help whom we love to share it with us, Christmas is the year's great season of delight. Our best qualities rise to one—indeed, it may be solved quite the surface then, our chiefest pleasure is found in making others happy, and our only sorrow is that usually the pocketbook holds less than is needed for all that one would like so much to

But in this London of ours, where the Christmas time is seldom without its frost and snow and bitter winds, there are more homes than one likes to think of to which the season of joy in giving brings only wistful longo'clock yesterday afternoon, when Miss ing. Such are the homes that George Bertha G. Thorpe, of this city, became | Eliot speaks of-"where the hearth was not very warm, and where the

"I am thankful to say I am not nervous any more, as I was when I was . 2.081 Ogden avenue, Chicago, Ill. The name of this lady can be given by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich. Most bad complexions are caused by some disturbance of the stomach, and coffee is the greatest disturber of London South Missionary Auxiliary digestion known. Almost any woman food had little fragrance; where the human eyes had no sunshine in them, but rather the leaden, blank-eyed gaze of unexpectant want." Surely there can be nothing in all this world more pitiful than such a home, at such a time. And there are hundreds of little children scattered among the cottages of this city who know of Christ-mas only as a day that brings beautiful things to other children, while to them it is a day of ordinary joylessness and extraordinary yearning. How should they know that Santa Claus, the wonderful old fellow whom their mothers have told them of, "has not yet learned the secret of how to bless

It is not the children of the absolutely needy who wonder thus why the reindeer sled never jingles to the chimney-tops of their homes; for very often bluff old St. Nicholas is kind to such as these; and the reason is not hard to find. Cases of real poverty, where widows struggle to keep their families together, or where the bread-finder has been long sick and cruel want is evident-such cases are usually known to those societies or citi-zens whose great privilege it is to have the heart and the means to light up these homes with a new brightness These children do not want-Christmas is to them the year's one time of abundant food and clothing and the playthings that all youngsters should find it. The children to whom Christmas is only another day of cold and hunger and privation live in the homes of men who work when they can, for their dollar or dollar and a quarter a day. Did you ever stop to think gether with a number of other articles, of the anxious care that honest men were stolen. While searching Madi- and brave women see in homes wher children are clothed and fed and educated, and rents paid and fuel bought, all upon six or seven dollars a week? Did you ever stop to think that it is not alone to the Christmas of a person to whom a full meal is welcome that happiness can be added but that it is possible to brighten many homes where the line between No trace of the apples was round.

Mr. McKillop appeared for the crown, and the evidence of Precious dies cannot be bought for the little crown, and the swore that to the best ones, whose letters to Santa Claus are beartaches to their parents? so many heartaches to their parents? It is not an overdrawn picture. There are homes like these-many of them-and if a little thoughtfulness would give the keen edge of delight to their Christmastide, would not the beneficence be like mercy "which blesseth him that gives and him that

Nor are these all who offer the better-to-do a chance to snatch happiness by giving it to others. We have hospitals filled with poor, suffering bodies, to whom the perfume of a sweet-scented flower would be a very benediction; and in the children's wards are little tots who would forget their pain and shout with delight at the sight of one little red toy, such as the shop windows are filled with There are orphanages filled with boys and girls who have no fathers nor mothers to buy them Christmas gifts; and, greatest sorrow of all, there are invalids whose illness will never be cured, and old men and old women nearly friendless, their child-ren dead or forgetful of filial duties. Flowers and gifts of any description would be as sunshine to lives like these; and the city is rich with such opportunities.

There should be no difficulty in getting a great abundance of all that a happy Christmas requires. Hundreds of people are helped each year by the charitable organizations, but there is a class that they do not reach. It is formed of the people who have been spoken of-those who have managed to subsist, but have no money to spend upon the little things that bring delight to more fortunate They are the self-respecting poor, who suffer silently—the fathers and mothers whose children's little stockings hang empty enough on th morning when the bells ring out the nessage, "Peace on earth, good-will toward men.' If these stockings could be filled this year, what a happy, happy Christmas London would have. Would you not like to see it, and better still, to help make it? If everyone who reads this made up his or her mind to learn of one cheerless home that might be made glad next Christmas day, and determined to grasp that chance to make its occupants and themselves happier, would not an unimaginable amount of joy result? Try it this There are five weeks-thirtyfive days-in which to learn and pre

One of the schemes that will be tried this year originated at the Salvation Army Citadel. It is the Salvationists desire to insure a good Christmas meal to one thousand people, and to do it they will open a store, and collect all the eatables and money they The task of getting the food that will be required should not be a difficult easily. Let the school children help They can almost do it, if the mothers and fathers would aid them-and at such little cost that the joy of self-denial will hardly be felt. There are something over six thousand children in the schools, of whom at least five thousand could join in the work. Suppose each child brought a small basket of groceries, and it was collected at each school-why, the total quantity would be beyond comprehension if each one brought 5 or 10 or 15 cents, what a large sum would result how many toys and candles and flowers it would buy! Let all do what they can to make this first Christmas of the new century a memorably happy one; and especial ly let the children do some kind deed, for it will always live in their memories and be an inspiration to them they have their own purses, and children whom they, too, will teach to find happiness by giving it to others.

Best---Walsh.

Superior (Wis.) Evening Telegram

Those who chanced to be present at the 8 o'clock mass in the Chapel of the Sacred Heart Church Saturday morning, witnessed a pretty wedding ceremony, in which Ed H. Best, of Superior, and Miss Emma L. Walsh, of London, Ont., were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Fardy, parish priest, and was very quietly conducted owing to the fact that Mr. Best is only a recent acquisition to Superior circles, having come here three months ago from London, Ont. He is employed in the offices of the Eastern Minnesota Railway, where he has already made for himself a host of friends. Walsh is the daughter of P. Walsh, prominent real estate dealer, and an old and respected citizen of London and is very popular in musical circles in her native city. The regard and esteem in which the young couple are held by their many friends here and in Canada was attested by numerous elegant and costly presents and the workers will take part, among them Mrs. Dickson, who will give a Bible reading, and an address will also be given by Mrs. McKay, field secretary.
