Socialists Active.

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—The Socialist executive committee has decided to arrange for imposing demonstrations in Russia during the session of the Diet with the view of obtaining direct suffrage in elections for members of the Landtag the same as for members for the Reichstag.

A Fierce Campaign.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Cecil Rhodes is reported to be confident that Lobengula will be wholly smashed within a month. Sir Frederick Carrington and other skilled Zulu campaigners here take a different view, and evidently think it an even chance that a British invading force will be exterminated instead. The local optimism seems to be based on the theory that the Matabele will come out and fight at long range in the open where naked savages with assegais stand no chance. Carrington, however, says they are far too cunning for that, and at best it will be a long, bloody and costly bush campaign.

Jailers and Burglars Conspire.

CALCUTTA, Oct. 19.—Two warders in the Baraset jail, near here, have been convicted of a conspiracy which has probably no parallel in the history of criminal prisons. These unfaithful guardians of the cells conceived the idea of establishing a profitable partnership with certain burglars under their charge. To this end they selected three convicts, took them to the warders' quarters, exchanged their jail apparel for everyday clothing, and told them to go forth and break into the houses in the locality. The plunder was to be brought "home" in the morning for equal distribution among the parties concerned, and the convicts were then to resume their peaceful daily work. Fortunately for the interest of society, the burglars became discontented with their share of the spoils and were overheard discussing their grievances by another warder, who gave information to the prison authorities. The warders with whom this audiciously ingenious scheme originated were sentenced to two years' rigorous imprisonment, but on appeal their case was committed to the criminal sessions to be dealt with by a jury.

Destruction of a $500,000 Cotton Mill

SHANGHAI, Oct. 19.—The great Chinese cotton mill in this city has been burned. Loss $500,000.

TOULON, Oct. 19.—The authorities propose to change the name of the Boulevard Leygoutier to the Boulevard Avellan. It is also suggested to change the name of the new ironclad which is to be launched on the 27th instant either to Tsar or Russe.

There will be a huge picnic at Hyres tomorrow at which many of the seamen of the Russian fleet will be present.

Austria Politically Troubled.

VIENNA, Oct. 19.—The political situation in Austria is greatly strained. All parties are estranged from the Government on account of the franchise bill. The journeying of Count von Taafe, President of the Council and Minister of the Interior, and Count von Kalnoky, Minister of Foreign Affairs, to Buda-Pesth, where they are to consult with Emperor Francis Joseph, may mean a dissolution of Parliament in the near future.

Squire Abington's Cousin Weds.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The marriage took place Tuesday of Millicent, second daughter of Col. Stanley Clarke, equerry to the Prince of Wales, to Capt. Edward William Baird, cousin of the late Douglas Baird, better known as "Squire Abington." The ceremony took place in St. James' Church, Piccadilly, Rev. Frederick Hervey, domestic chaplain to the Prince of Wales, officiating. The Prince of Wales and many members of the highest aristocracy were present. The Prince and Princess of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York and the Duke and Duchess of Fife sent gifts of diamonds to the bride.

ELGIN ASSIZES.

The Young Murder Trial in Progress—The Fatal Bullet Produced in Court.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 19.—The trial of the actions by Ashton & Pinnes against the county of Elgin and the townships of Yarmouth and Malahide was concluded yesterday. A number of questions were submitted to the jury, but up to a late hour they had not agreed.

At 5 o'clock the Young murder trial was commenced. The prisoner, George Edward Young, is charged with having murdered Frederick Glover on Feb. 8 last at the township of Southwold. Mr. Henry Carscallen, Q.C., is conducting the case for the crown; Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., and Messrs. Grant and Crothers are defending the prisoner.

Mr. Carscallen opened the case to the jury, which is briefly as follows: On Feb. 8 Frederick Glover and three other men were engaged cutting ice on a pond near the prisoner's house. Prisoner and deceased, Glover, had some words, prisoner complaining about a dog killing his turkeys. They were about to fight, when Mr. Manson got between them and prevented a fight. Prisoner went to his house and Glover and Manson proceeded to drive their loads of ice up the hill. Shortly after the prisoner came running from his house with a revolver and fired a couple of shots at deceased, one of which caused his death.

Witnesses were called to prove that the prisoner was seen with the fatal weapon in his hand. The pistol was identified.

Robert Miller, Lawrence Station saw prisoner about 4:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Feb. 8 at the house of his brother Hugh Young. He came walking out of the house and said "Good day, Bob," and shook hands with me. He said "I killed him and I suppose I'll have to die for it." I replied "Yes, and it took four shots to do it." He said "No, it was only three." I took him to St. Thomas.

William T. Fairbrother, county constable—I identify the revolver produced, box of cartridges and empty shells as having been delivered to me by Hercules Burwell from his safe. They have been in my possession ever since. (Witness here produced a bullet. I obtained the bullet from Dr. Van Buskirk after the post mortem, and have had it in my possession ever since.

John Stacey, hardware merchant, St. Thomas, sold prisoner a revolver about the middle of January. The revolver used is of the same style and make, 38 caliber, imitation Smith & Wesson. Cannot possibly identify it.

Drs. Quackenbush and Van Buskirk testified to the fatal character of the wounds inflicted on the deceased.

Dr. Bucke, superintendent of London Asylum, is here to give evidence for the defense. It is said the plea of insanity will be set up.

A BOLD AND BRUTAL THIEF.

Captured and Lodged in the Simcoe Lockup.

SIMCOE, Oct. 19.—Yesterday a scoundrel entered the house of Mr. Jas. Burgess, in the north ward. Mrs. Burgess was alone in the kitchen and on going into the front part of the house was surprised to see a tall well-dressed man there. On demanding who he was she was struck a severe blow on the head; the brute then kicked her, breaking her jaw in two places. He then locked her up in a small room and attempted to make his escape. The old lady recovered consciousness and gave the alarm. After an exciting race of half a mile the fellow was captured and lodged in jail, where he gave his name as J. W. Ross and said he came from Toronto. When searched there was found on his person a pawn ticket for a watch, an outfit of skeleton keys and several burglar's tools. It is supposed he had entered the residence of Rev. Mr. Dey and taken a number of articles and also went to the house of Mr. Lemon and secured a quantity of jewelry, as these articles were all found in his possession and were identified.

MRS. LUCY STONE DEAD.

One of the Ablest of the Woman Suffrage Leaders.

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—Lucy Stone, the eminent leader of the woman suffragists, died here last night. Mrs. Stone was born in West Brookfield, Mass., in 1818. While she was still a girl her mind became concentrated on the subject of women's rights, and she resolved to have a collegiate education. She graduated from Oberlin in 1847 and the following year began her lectures for female suffrage.

In 1855 she was married to Henry B. Blackwell, but as a matter of principle insisted on retaining her own family name. Some years later her property was seized for taxation. As a protest she published a book, "Taxation Without Representation." She organized the American Women's Suffrage Association in 1869. She had for several years been editor-in-chief of the Women's Journal in Boston, with her husband and daughter as associate editors. She published several books, and was recognized as one of the ablest of the leaders in the woman suffrage movement.

Check to the Dreibund.

PARIS, Oct. 19.—The Libre Parole says that an alliance has been concluded between Servia, Greece and Montenegro, and that this alliance is directed chiefly against Bulgaria and Bulgarian influence. The understanding arrived at between the three countries mentioned is understood to be the work of Russia. It is looked upon as being a great triumph for Russian diplomacy and as a decided check upon the triumphant onward march of the dreibund.

Drank and Died.

HAMILTON, Oct. 19.—A man named Isaiah Weaver came to Hamilton and sold some produce Tuesday. He had a man to bring in the produce and accompanied him. On returning home they picked up Arthur Kitchen. Weaver hitched up a horse and buggy and said he would drive Kitchen to his home. Instead of doing that he drove him to Lynden, where they spent some hours in drinking. On starting for home, about 3 o'clock in the morning, Weaver fell off the tavern steps, striking his head against some hard substance on the ground. Weaver was placed in the buggy and driven to Kitchen's house, sleeping nearly all the distance. He refused to go into Kitchen's house, and the horse and buggy were left at the gate with Weaver until 5:30 a.m. Kitchen meantime had gone to bed and slept. When he woke up he sent his man to take charge of Weaver, who drove him home. He was covered up on the floor and he died immediately.

Millionaire Rathgate Leaves Fortunes to Education and Charity.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Charles Rathgate Beck, the West Farm's millionaire, who died a week ago, it is said left an estate which will foot up over $5,000,000. Nearly $1,000,000 is set apart to endow four law scholarships in Columbia College to establish prizes and for the benefit of the institution proper. The Board of Presbyterian Missions is remembered by a gift of many thousands of dollars. The Peabody Home for Old Women, the New York Hospital, the Home for Incurables and Dr. Parkhurst's Society for the Suppression of Vice completes the list of seven beneficiaries to whom shares of the $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 are either given outright or left as an endowment. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals also comes in for a big slice of the estate.

MONTREAL'S BIG FIRE.

The Canada Bank Note Company Burned Out—Loss $150,000.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 19.—Fire broke out in the building occupied by the Canada Bank Note Company on Craig street at 1:30 this morning, in the second story. The caretaker gave the alarm immediately, but before the brigade reached the scene the whole upper portion of the building was in flames. The fire, however, made great headway. In spite of the efforts of the firemen the flames spread to the roof of the building occupied by Wm. Clendinan & Sons, founders and stove manufacturers. The Bijou, a saloon to the west of the Canada Bank Note Company, was completely gutted. The loss of the building, stock, etc., is estimated at about $150,000. The insurance on the Bank Note Company's stock is $40,000. The building belonged to Jesse Joseph. It was insured for $9,000.

An Excursion Train at Hamilton Run Into—Trainmen Hurt, Passengers Escape.

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 19.—An accident occurred on the main line of the Grand Trunk about a quarter of a mile east of the station here, about noon to-day, but as far as can be learned none of the passengers or trainmen were fatally injured. A special excursion train from the east, bound for Chicago, was coming into the city, when a switch engine of the N. and N. W. division, which was shunting cars, backed a number of cars into the excursion train. The special was derailed and one of the coaches caught on fire, but the fire was soon extinguished. Two trainmen had their legs injured, but the passengers escaped with only a bad shaking up. The special was again made up at Hamilton and proceeded on its way westward some few hours late.

Last Days of the Fair

The Gates Will Remain Open During Fine Weather

Though the Official Closing Takes Place Oct. 30.

Nearly 300,000 Paid Admissions Wednesday—Gala Day for Newsboys and Bootblacks—Gothamites Invade Chicago—Canadian Prize-Winners.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, Oct. 19—Paid admissions to the fair yesterday, 299,121.

Two train loads of newsboys and bootblacks came into the fair this morning. They gathered down town at the Art Institute, and the committee having the matter in charge marched the youngsters to the two special trains, and they were carried to the fair. There was a car load of provisions which had been provided by charitably inclined people, and the boys were entertained royally. It was a splendid day for sight-seeing, and the horde of street urchins quickly overran the grounds.

The crowd of children at the fair to-day is probably larger than on any previous day of the exposition. Yesterday there were 65,000 children present.

Announcement made by the council of administration last night that the fair would continue as long as the weather permitted and the people wanted to come, does not mean exactly what it says. Nobody expected that the gates would be abandoned the moment the curtain dropped on the White City, and it certainly will drop Oct. 30, and nobody expected that people who wished to enter the grounds to watch the building being torn down and exhibits moved away would be denied the privilege if they were willing to pay to pass through the gates. That is all the resolution adopted by the council of administration means. The fair has no official recognition by Congress after Oct. 30, and the exhibits will, many of them, be on their way out of the grounds as early as 5 o'clock the morning of the 31st instant.

Manhattan day is now an assured success. The arrangements have been about completed and the crowds are coming. The down-town hotels are even now taxed to their limits and accommodations are arriving by the thousands and the State building is being filled from morning to night.

While attempting to climb out of an intramural train at the Mt. Vernon station in Jackson Park, Mr. Duncan Campbell, a wealthy resident of Rodney, Ont., slipped and fell to the ground, a distance of some 25 feet. The physicians who examined him say that his recovery is impossible.

Mrs. Wells is also about 65 years of age. He was immediately arrested.

$2 76 Per Word.

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.—The Commercial Cable Company announces that telegraph communication has been established with New Caledonia, the rate from Toronto being $2 76 per word.

THE postoffice department at Washington has ruled that the writer has a right to regain possession of a letter provided that he can prove to the satisfaction of the postmaster at the office from which it was sent that he was the writer of it. Even if the letter has arrived at its destination, and before it had been delivered to the person to whom it was addressed, it may be recalled by the writer by a telegram through the mailing office. The reason assigned is that the United States is only the agent of the writer while the letter is in transit. This decision is important to business men and to private individuals. In Canada the rule is that once a letter is posted it becomes the property of the Government.

Grand Trunk People Said to Have Bettered Their Offer.

They May Yet Lease the London and Port Stanley Road—A Detroit Coal Man Wants to Make a Bid.

The Port Stanley Railway Board met last night, and after the meeting was over the question—"Where are we at?" might have been asked of any of the members who were present and none could have stated definitely where they were drifting, or what corporation will be likely to get the road. The same old stereotyped reply was received from several of the members when asked what had been accomplished. "Nothing definite had been done," they answered, but something would shortly be accomplished and then they might not be so averse to talking. Before the board met a prominent representative of No. 4 ward, who is on the Board of Works, said he had it on good authority that the Grand Trunk would yet rent the road. He would not give his reasons, but a well-defined rumor that was passing among Grand Trunk officials during the day might have been sufficient ground for the statement. The rumor had it that the Grand Trunk had bettered its offer and that the amended proposals would come up for discussion at the meeting of the board at night.

It may be stated just here that the offer was bettered at last night's meeting, to what extent will no doubt be learned later on. Meantime the board has received word from Detroit—from a prominent coal man there—asking, it is said, that the deal with the Walkerville people be not closed until they heard from him.

There was a Detroit man who, when the road was first let to the Clevelanders, telegraphed at the last moment that he would better the offer, but he apparently thought he had better not, as he was not heard from again. He may be once more seeking to delay the action of the board. One member of the board stated last night that the sub-committee appointed to promote the deal with the Lake Erie and Detroit River people had reported progress.

The meeting did not last long, and was adjourned to meet on Tuesday night. The situation grows daily more interesting and the outcome of the many silent (?) meetings of the board will be awaited with interest.

There were present: The president, Mayor Essery; Ald. Coo, secretary; F. A. Fitzgerald, Ald. James Fitzgerald, ex-Ald. Judd, Ald. Chas. Taylor and F. E. Leonard.

MANGLED HER MATE.

Princess, the Tigress, Kills Prince, the Tiger.

Prince was the aggressor and Princess, infuriated by the attack, flew at her mate, and in the terrific contest that ensued tore his throat and head into pieces.

Good for the Governor.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 19.—Gov. Foster last night was asked if he would take any steps to prevent the Mitchell-Corbett fight taking place here. He replied: "That fight will not take place in the State of Louisana. I do not think there is much likelihood of the principals coming here, but if they do I shall certainly take steps to prevent it."

DYNAMITE is simply nitroglycerine mixed with various ingredients. Nitroglycerine is made by mixing sulphuric and nitric acid with sweet glycerine, the same that is used by the ladies to prevent chapped hands. Mixing the acids and glycerine is where the great danger lies in the making of nitroglycerine. The other ingredients for making dynamite are nitrate of soda, which is found only in Chili, carbonate of magnesia and wood pulp.

THE DEADLY COAL OIL

Creates an Explosion and May Cause a Death.

Mrs. John Smith Seriously Injured While Lighting a Fire with Kerosene—Mr. William Slater Also Badly Burned.

A five-gallon can of coal oil, a slumbering fire, a loud explosion and heartrending shrieks of a horribly burned woman told again at an early hour yesterday the oft-repeated story of the person who places his or her life in jeopardy by pouring kerosene oil into a lighted stove to hurry the fire.

The victim, Mrs. John Smith, lives on Centre street, London West, and yesterday morning she was working at Mr. William Slater's residence, on the "V," at the intersection of Richmond street and Park avenue. The stove in the summer kitchen was not burning as well as Mrs. Smith would have liked, so she adopted the usual means to help it along. The oil can was a five gallon one and pretty well filled. She tipped it over the fire and in an instant an explosion occurred that was heard at a great distance. An ominous silence followed the noise, but it was succeeded immediately by terrible shrieks and calls for help, as the poor woman realized that she was on fire. Her cries brought Mr. Slater to the room, and without stopping to cover his hands he carried the blazing woman to the lawn at the rear. Luckily some rag carpets were lying there, and into one of these Mr. Slater placed the woman and rolled her over, completely smothering the flames. The firemen had been summoned by this time, but the fire had not communicated to the woodwork. The whole contents of the can appeared to have scattered over the unfortunate woman, and when the fire was put out hardly a vestige of clothing remained. A doctor was called and her injuries attended to. Mrs. Smith protested against being taken to the hospital, saying that she had enough money to pay for a doctor, and insisting on being removed to her home. There she was accordingly taken, and a critical examination made of her condition. Her burns are terrible, covering almost the whole extent of her body, and more particularly the front, and one side from the face to her knee. The medical men who attended her do not think that she inhaled any flame but consider that her condition is very serious and will result fatally. Mrs. Smith, though of a robust constitution, is about 60 years old, and it is the shock that the doctors fear more than her injuries. She resides with her husband, an elderly man. They have a grown-up family, all the members of which are married.

Mr. Wm. Slater is in bed as a result of the part he played in putting out the flames. His hands are badly burned, as is his face. His injuries are exceedingly painful, and it will be some time before he recovers the use of his hands. Mr. Luke Jeffries was also burnt on the hand, but not seriously.

IN NEED OF REPAIR.

Defective Drains Attract the Attention of the Board of Works—A Good Offer.

Considerable trouble has arisen for some time past over the drain on the Wortley road between Byron avenue and Stanley street. At the meeting of the Board of Works last night Messrs. John Siddons, N. F. Yoe and Chas. Morton appeared against being assessed for a drain laid down by the city. All that was necessary had been laid down at the expense of the residents in that locality. The drain constructed by the city was not used, although it had been ordered by the Board of Health. The residents were willing to run the drain in question over some private property, and this would reduce the sewage emptying into the river at York street, which has during the entire summer, on account of low water, caused a very offensive smell.

Ald. Jones said that the matter would have to come before the council as the drain had been ordered by the Board of Health.

Mr. Morton was present to oppose the city drain and sent in an offer in writing to deed the city 25 feet or as much of his property as might be necessary should the corporation make the change requested. The committee will report progress.

The petition of T. H. Luscombe on behalf of Mrs. Nicholson, objecting to the condition of a drain on Talbot street, between York street and the Grand Trunk track, was read. It was stated that several cellars were filled with water and an outbreak of fever might result. On motion of Ald. Taylor the matter was referred to the Board of Health.

Contractor Beckett requested that the orders for street sweeping be given regularly. Under the present method sweeping is done at a loss. The matter will be attended to by the chairman and engineer.

After the usual accounts had been passed the chairman announced that there was yet to the credit of the committee $3,663 80.

There were present Ald. Garratt (chairman), Thos. Jones, Shaw, Taylor, Coo, Mayor Essery, Engineer Graydon, Secretary Bell and Commissioner Owens.

Transformers.

To no other class of apparatus can the axiom that "the best is the cheapest" be more truly applied than to electrical machinery and appliances. To transformers does this especially apply. It will pay you to buy the best in the market, and we now offer you the very best at such a reduced price that the essentials of quality and efficiency are combined with extremely low prices, which is rendered possible only by the introduction of improved labor-saving machinery, added to a large increase in our output.

The Transformer we offer is the improved type F. Thomson-Houston design, celebrated for its high efficiency and perfect regulation.

The following points in a Transformer are all essential: (1) Perfect safety; (2) high efficiency; (3) good regulation; (4) small core loss; (5) convenience in installation.

These are attained in the New Type F. Oil Insulated Transformers (which we are now manufacturing at our works at Peterborough, Ont.), in a greater degree than any other upon the market.

The London Mayoralty.

Speculations as to the Chief Magistracy for 1894.

Several Citizens Already Asked to Enter the Contest.

"Considering It" Seems to be the Attitude of the Majority, With One Exception.

There has been a good deal of quiet speculation in the last few days, with regard to the prospects of a contest for the mayoralty of London at the coming municipal elections, and ADVERTISER young men have interested themselves sufficiently to obtain for the public the following interviews with citizens whose names have been mentioned:

THE PRESENT MAYOR,

"Well, it's hardly necessary to ask me that," said Mayor Essery in reply to the reporter's question. "It's a well known fact about town that I am in the field against all comers—white, black or red; no matter who comes or how many."

ALD. JOHN MOULE

Was seen in regard to his reported intentions to enter the contest.

"The course I will pursue is as yet uncertain. It is very early yet to think of it, but when the time comes I will give the matter my careful consideration. The subject has been mentioned to me several times, but two or three weeks previous to nomination day is early enough. Should a person announce his intentions so soon, there would be no end of questioning in regard thereto."

ALD. GARRATT

emphatically disclaimed the remotest idea of running for the mayoralty.

ALD. J. W. JONES.

"Yes," said Ald. J. W. Jones, of the second ward, "I have been frequently asked by representative citizens as to whether or not I would accept a nomination for the mayor's chair if tendered me. You can see that I am kept busy, and you know that city business requires considerable attention. It is therefore not an easy thing for a man to answer a question of so great importance right off. I can tell you, of course, that to me it would be an honor and a privilege some day to act as chief magistrate of this fair and progressive city. Whether or not I could find it convenient to accept a nomination at this time, if tendered me by my fellow-citizens, it seems to me hardly time yet to definitely say."

WATER COMMISSIONER JONES,

having been frequently mentioned as a prospective candidate, was interviewed.

"It is difficult to say what may yet transpire, he answered; "but I have not yet been thinking of the elections."

"Should you be requested by the citizens at large, would you enter the contest?"

"Now, the election talk has not yet begun, but should such be the case it is likely I would accept it. Of course another thing has to be taken into consideration. Should I enter again as water commissioner it would look very much as though I were trying to make a monopoly of that and it is very likely that I will not offer myself for re-election to the board. As yet I am very undecided as to what position I will take. You may call on me later on and then I can tell you definitely."

ALD. PARNELL.

"I have been approached on the matter by a large number of ratepayers," said Ald. Parnell, "but I have refused to give any answer whatever just at present. I am not seeking the position. There are affairs of vital importance needing the attention of the council at the present time, and the introduction of a mayoralty contest at this early date might cause dissention among the members just when harmony is required. I don't know what the position of affairs might be later on, and it is just as well to proceed carefully. It is a matter requiring calm and deliberate consideration; there are very important responsibilities connected with the mayoralty, and the question is not one to be answered in a hurry."

ALD. COO.

"No; I am not a candidate for the mayoralty," said the representative of No. 2 ward, in reply to a reporter's query. "I know Mayor Essery is going to run and I would not take the field against him. I will be in the field on the aldermanic slate just the same."

ALD. JAMES FITZGERALD.

"I have not had the least thought of running for mayor," Ald. James Fitzgerald (No. 4 ward) told a reporter yesterday. "Ten years from now will be time enough for me to aspire to such a position." It was too early in the season for even him to know for certain whether he would seek re-election in an aldermanic capacity.

EX-MAYOR GEORGE TAYLOR.

"No; I hardly think so," was Mr. Taylor's reply to the reporter's query. "Of course numbers have approached me on the subject, asking me to run, but I have so far declined. I occupied the chair for some time, and I think it is the right of other citizens to have their turn. I have not given the matter any thought at all, and it is very unlikely that I shall re-enter the lists."

Life is Misery

To many people who have the taint of Scrofula in their blood. The agonies caused by the dreadful running sores and other manifestations of this disease are beyond description. There is no other remedy equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, salt rheum and every form of blood disease. It is reasonably sure to benefit all who give it a fair trial. b

IMPORTANT!

"Win a Crown and wear it," is a very good motto. HEINTZMAN & CO. having worked for and obtained a reputation as first-class piano manufacturers, do not feel that they are called upon to share it with any other firm, who by fallacious argument try to make the public believe that the Piano they [illegible] or sell is "just like THE HEINTZMAN," or that it is THE "Heintzman." The public and intending purchasers especially, are asked to bear in mind that there is only one HEINTZMAN & CO. Piano. Our trade mark is registered, therefore do not be induced to buy a piano unless it bears the good old name of "Heintzman & Co." It is a safe guarantee that the piano bearing it is reliable in every particular. We have some new and beautiful designs in stock at our London Warerooms, "C. P. M. H." 189 Dundas street. Also some excellent bargains in second-hand Pianos and Organs by other makers. Inspection invited, terms easy.

Close of the Convention at Chicago.

Formal Statement of the Organization's Sentiments.

Miss Anthony Says the Ballot Only Will Bring the Desired Results—Officers Re-elected.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—With Tuesday night's session the World's Convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union came to a close. Lady Henry Somerset again presided at the morning session. Mrs. Mary A. Woodbridge, secretary, read the report of the executive committee. The most important item was the nomination of officers for the coming year. There was no change in the old list, and the adoption of the report carried with it the re-election of the ladies named:

Honorary President—Mrs. Mary Clement Leavitt, Boston.

President—Miss Francis E. Willard, Evanston.

Vice-President-at-Large — Lady Henry Somerset, London.

Secretary—Mrs. Mary A. Woodbridge, Ravenna, Ohio.

Assistant Secretary—Miss Anna A. Gordon, Evanston.

Treasurer—Mrs. Ella F. M. Williams, Montreal.

The report of Mrs. Edholm, press reporter, showed that there are about 500 temperance papers published in the world, 40 of which are owned and controlled by the W. C. T. U. About 3,000 columns of temperance matter are also published annually in the daily and weekly press.

Miss Lucia F. E. Kimball, superintendent of Sunday school work, presented a report on the work of her department, with encouraging returns from all parts of the world.

Memorial services for Mary Allen West, who died in Japan during the year, were opened with an address by Mrs. Chaka Sakurai, of Japan, who told of Miss West's travels and labors in Japan and paid a tribute to her character.

Susan B. Anthony was introduced in a graceful speech by Lady Henry Somerset, and was received with enthusiasm and applause. Among other things she said:

WOMEN MUST VOTE.

"Archbishop Ireland and Bishop Fallows and a whole train of ministers and philanthropists may come here and speak eloquently for temperance and everybody is glad to hear them. But where are the mayor of the city of Chicago, the governor of the State of Illinois and the President of the United States. The secretary informs me that they all received a special invitation to come, but not one of them is here. Why? Not because they feel the women have no right to an opinion or that their cause is not just. It is simply because the people who are here wear bonnets and bonnet means that you can't vote. Every great reform must pass its 40 years in the wilderness. The temperance women of this country have traveled in the wilderness more than 40 years, and what they need to take them into the promised land is that women's sentiment shall be coined into law and that never can be done until the word 'male' is stricken out of our State constitutions."

"There is not the ghost of a show for the suppression of whisky saloons, houses of ill-fame, gambling houses or other sinks of iniquity until the women of this nation and of the world have the ballot. Then we could speak with power, and every officeholder, from President to mayor, would know that when political demands of women are disobeyed off go their political heads.

"That is the only way to talk about it. You can sentimentalize about woman's moral influence until the crack of doom and what good will it do, it is not worth a snap of the fingers. You may pray, but until you pray with ballots God can never put down these evil places. I am glad to see that this great organization has come to see that women must have material as well as spiritual weapons in their battle."

Miss Anthony was frequently applauded, and when she had finished speaking she was given a rising vote of thanks for her remarks and for the work she had done on behalf of women in the various world's congresses during the summer.

MESSAGE FROM MISS WILLARD.

The chairman read a cable message from Miss Willard in response to the message forwarded to her yesterday. The message was:

"Proverbs xx., 25—As cold waters to a thirsty soul, so is good news from a foreign country. Love never faileth."

FORMAL SENTIMENTS OF THE CONVENTION.

The report of the committee on resolutions was then adopted, the resolutions embodying these sentiments:

"Reiterating the principles of total abstinence and prohibition; enjoining that special effort be made to extend the membership of the Women's Christian Temperance Union; urging the members to wear the white ribbon constantly, not only as a badge of loyalty but as a means of influence, and that efforts be made to induce church members everywhere to sign the pledge that the whole influence of the church may be thrown on the side of total abstinence; declaring that woman's equal right is the most effectual means of promoting the growth and success of all moral reforms, appealing to Christian women that whenever wars shall threaten they will pray that the curse of war may be averted, and that they will also endeavor to promote peace by petitioning their several governments; approving a proposal for the celebration of the 1900th birthday of Christ by a series of 'world-around' Christian conventions, including a great world's convention of Christian reforms, regretting that the decennial missionary conference of India withdrew the public morals resolution, including resolutions against the opium trade, the liquor traffic and the legalized vice; recognizing the significance and importance of the work of the world-around missionaries; expressing sympathy for Miss Willard in her impaired strength and faith in her recovery; extending thanks to Lady Henry Somerset for her self-sacrificing interest manifested by her coming to the United States and serving the convention as its president and for her manifold kindnesses to Miss Willard and her private secretary, Miss Anna Gordon."

The county is swarming with quail hunters, and if the slaughter keeps up at the same ratio for the next two weeks very few birds will be left. Four Windsorites on Tuesday killed 77, besides a couple of brace of partridge and some rabbits.

The citizens of Ridgetown are much annoyed at the statement that the natural gas there is failing. They claim the facts are exactly the reverse, and that there is ten times as much gas as there was a year ago. Those who know most about it say there is no immediate danger, for an unlimited supply can be had by boring deeper. Wells near the town, varying from 60 to 200 feet deep, have been used for years, and are as good now as the first day they spouted.

ELGIN.

A Vienna correspondent writes: In the second concession of Houghton there died a few days ago an old lady, Mrs. Malinda Sharp, who had reached the great age of 101 years. For over half a century she was a resident of Houghton. Undertaker Foy says this is the third person whom he has buried within a period of about four years who had passed the century line. The other two were Mrs. Metcalf, 100, and Mrs. Warner, 105, both of Bayham.

A probably fatal accident occurred on the intramural road, World's Fair, Wednesday. O, woman, despairing and wretched,
Dreading, yet longing, to die,
Hear the glad chorus that rises,
Filling the dome of the sky:

"Sisters, be glad, there's help to be had;
No longer be miserable, gloomy and sad;
Lost health regain,' rings out the refrain,
"Poor creatures, be healthy and happy again.'

THE CAR SHOPS.

On the advice of the city solicitor, the London aldermen refused to let the original Grand Trunk agreement for the concentration of the car shops in this city go to a vote of the people, and now there is reason to fear that, unless speedy and effective action is taken by the citizens, the shops already located here will be taken elsewhere.

The chief features of the original G. T. R. propositions may here be briefly enumerated. For a bonus of $100,000, the company agreed to place their car shops west of Toronto, for the construction and repair of cars for the company's purposes, in this city. The whole cost of the work, including machinery was to be at least $150,000.

For this money, the company covenanted to keep at work, at car building and repairing, on an average during the year, at least 500 men. The shutting down of the works, through slackness of work or any other reason, for a period not exceeding six weeks in a year, was not to be considered as a breach of the agreement. The company further pledged itself to rebuild the works if they were burned down. If the works were abandoned or if the company ended the agreement the $100,000 was to be repaid. If the company broke the agreement in any substantial way, it was to be liable for actual damages only.

The reason why the city solicitor objected to the agreement was because it did not provide definitely that if the company did not "employ at least 400 men for six months at any time the city shall have the option of demanding the $100,000." The corporation also asked that the company should pay $5 a year for each man short of the stipulated 500.

This was how the matter stood when Sir Henry Tyler came along a few weeks ago. The company meanwhile had been approached by the Sarnia Council, and the management of the line was disposed to accept the proposition from that corporation, which practically was that the corporations of Sarnia and Point Edward should give the company a bonus of $100,000, without the conditions asked by the London aldermen, and that the shops should be built on the company's land at Point Edward, while the necessary roundhouses should be erected in the east end of Sarnia.

This offer undoubtedly puts London in the position of either accepting the modified proposition of the Grand Trunk president or of seeing the shops concentrated in Sarnia. Sir Henry Tyler plainly told the aldermanic delegation that went before him in this city that the company was willing to concentrate its shops here; that it was willing to spend every cent of the $100,000 voted on the shops, but that it would not bind itself not to use any portion of the money to buy machinery or guarantee to employ any stated number of men. The Grand Trunk management held that, in view of the fact that it binds itself to do all its car repairing and construction at this point, and that several hundred men are generally employed now, with but a portion of the work executed here, the attempt to bind it down to an exact number of employes is unnecessary and vexatious.

On the other hand, the mayor and majority of the council refuse to let the citizens vote on the agreement unless the stipulations here recited are set forth in it. 'Without these safeguards," says the mayor, in a letter to General Manager Seargeant, of the Grand Trunk, "there is no use asking the electors to grant the $100,000."

Seeing that we have Sir Henry Tyler's declaration as the Grand Trunk ultimatum, we are among those who believe that the question should not be finally settled by the aldermen. The taxpayers of London should have the right to decide whether or not they are willing to vote for the concentration here of the Grand Trunk shops at Stratford and Brantford and for the retention of the car shops now in operation in London. If the electors vote to pay $100,000 for this purpose, and are prepared to take their chances as to the employment of labor—always provided all the work necessary for the great system of lines controlled by the company in Western Ontario must be done here—then that is their affair. It would be most regrettable if the people should not have placed before them, either to adopt or to reject, the best possible bargain that can be arranged with the Grand Trunk authorities. In their wisdom the mayor and aldermen declined to let the press know the result of their deliberations at the meeting where it was agreed that General Manager Seargeant should be told that the agreement had to be amended to meet the views of those few citizens, or there was "no use" in putting it before the electors. We are therefore without the details, but enough has been revealed to show the danger that there is of the people of London being deprived of their right to pronounce upon this vital question as they deem best for the interests of the city. It would be a blow to London if by any hitch that might be averted so fine a class of workmen as the G. T. R. car shops men should be moved to another city at a time when there are prospects of the Grand Trunk making important new connections that will add to its traffic and necessitate an increase rather than a decrease of employes. And an important addition to our industrial interests would certainly be made if the entire car constructing and repairing works of the company can be established here. Whether or not this shall be brought about must be left to the people, whether or not the special conditions insisted on by the present city authorities are conceded by the Grand Trunk management. The ADVERTISER therefore demands that this question shall be settled, not by the council, but by the people themselves, through an early vote of the entire electorate.

—Talking of the mayor's chair occupant for 1894, it seems that several aldermen are inclined to write upon their apple cart, "Barkis is willin'." But what will be the ultimate result he would be a good prophet who would undertake to foretell at the present time.

OUR WASTE OF WEALTH.

In a recent able and timely pamphlet on "The Crisis" the Rev. Dr. McKay, of Woodstock, makes the following estimate of the costs of the liquors now annually drank in Canada to the consumers:

	Gallons.	Per gallon.	Total amount.
Canadian spirits....	3,521,194	$5 00	$17,605,970
Imported spirits...	1,043,501	6 00	6,261,006
Canadian beer....	17,052,077	60	10,231,246
Imported beer.....	384,662	3 00	1,153,986
Imported wine	546,610	5 00	2,633,050
Totals.....	22,548,044		$37,885,258

It looks like an enormous calculation that the less than five millions of people in Canada are paying nearly $38,000,000 a year for tipple alone, and more especially when it is a well-known fact that a large number of the people are total abstainers. The estimate is no mere guess-work, however. As to the quantities consumed, the figures are based on the Government reports, which certainly do not give an over-estimate of the quantities. They are the figures on which the manufacturers and importers have paid heavy duties, and the temptations were to make them as small as possible. As to the retail prices per gallon, they are those given by the Honorable Finance Minister in a speech in Parliament a few years ago, and they are about the same as have been given by several other good authorities.

What such an unnecessary expenditure represents to Canada can hardly be accurately estimated. A number of years ago Dr. Young, an eminent statistician, and for some years an officer of the Bureau of Statistics, Washington, came to Ottawa at the request of the then Dominion Government and assisted in the revision of the tariff. While there he made an important speech in which he estimated that the retail drink bill of Canada, was, at that time (1878), $30,000,000. He then went on to make this estimate:

"If the $30,000,000 were expended in flour it would purchase at least 5,000,000 barrels, or a barrel and a half of good flour for every man, woman and child in the Dominion, and if conveyed in wagons, carrying ten barrels each, it would require 500,000 teams, and extend 2,727 miles, or from Ottawa to the Pacific ocean. In the Dominion there were, in 1871, twenty distilleries, of which eighteen are in Ontario, one in Quebec and one in Nova Scotia, but not a single one in New Brunswick. That in the Province of Quebec operates in Montreal, has 45 men, whom it pays $16,000 for wages, and for raw material $60,000, making $76,000. Its product is $210,000, leaving an apparent profit of $134,000. The eighteen in this Province employ 418 men and three boys, at a cost of $190,590, an average of $405 each, being higher than paid elsewhere. The raw material costs $1,141,071 and wages $170,500, making a total cost of $1,311,661. The value of the product is $3,875,759, deducting from which the cost of production would leave an apparent profit of $2,564,096, or an average of $142,450 for each distillery."

Enormous as these figures were they are nearly all exceeded to a considerable extent now, except as to the number of distilleries. None now exists in Quebec and the number in Ontario have been reduced to twelve, but they are carried on on a much larger scale and their profits are, no doubt, still more enormous. Some of these distilling companies are now among the most wealthy corporations in all the Dominion.

The value of the liquors consumed by the drinkers seems to have increased over $7,000,000 since 1878, and now that flour has fallen very much in value, while the prices of liquors have raised, the money squandered by tipplers each year would purchase nearly two barrels per head each year for our entire population. Surely any law that will tend to put an end to such a frightful waste of our public wealth ought to receive the sanction and support of every patriotic Canadian.

SELLING AND BUYING.

A special commissioner of the Montreal Herald set out last week to find out an answer to this question: Does the Canadian farmer get as much for the products he has to sell, and does he pay more for what he has to buy, than his neighbors in the United States? He found that Lacolle, Quebec, and Champlain, New York, formed fair representative market towns for the respective sections. He therefore reproduces a set of carefully collected tables of the value of farm products in these two markets, the cost of agricultural implements, the cost of common articles of hardware, and the cost of groceries and drygoods. The following are the prices of farm products in the two markets:

FARM PRODUCTS.

	Lacolle, Que.	Champlain, N. Y.

Turkeys	08 to 09 lb	10 to 11 lb
Geese...	08 to 00 lb	09 to 10 lb
Straw...	No sale	3 00 to 00 ton

As to agricultural implements, the reporter obtained the prices, which he furnishes from Mr. W. G. Grave, of the Champlain agricultural works, as being the retail "time" price at which any farmer can purchase, and from Mr. James O'Connor, of Lacolle, agent for the Massey-Harris, Frost & Wood, and other firms. Subjoined are his figures:

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

	Lacolle, Que.	Champlain, N. Y.

Disk harrows..	30	20
Cultivators....	Not yet made in Canada, but imported by Massey-Harris Company and sold at $7	$5

The following comparative statements of the respective prices of hardware, groceries and drygoods have been prepared from figures submitted by storekeepers in Champlain and Lacolle:

An inquiry into the value of farm property has revealed to the commissioner the fact that on the Canadian side of the border in the neighborhood of St. Chrysostome, Hemmingford and Lacolle farm lands averaged from $20 to $30 an acre, and the best land sold at $40 an acre, while in the States in the neighborhood of Champlain $60, $70 or $80 an acre was considered a fair valuation, and within a year there has been made one purchase of 150 acres of farm land at $100 an acre.

These contrasts are worthy of study by every Canadian. Farmers especially will be interested in them. We leave our readers to draw their own conclusions.

Blood Poisoning

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. Her hair all came out. Her husband spent hundreds of dollars without any benefit. She weighed but 78 pounds, and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says, "I became perfectly cured by

Mrs. M. E. O'Fallon.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

and am now a well woman. I weigh 128 pounds, eat well and do the work for a large family. My case seems a wonderful recovery and physicians look at me in astonishment, as almost like one raised from the dead."

HOOD'S PILLS should be in every family medicine chest. Once used, always preferred.

LAND SHARKS

Succeed in Floating Bonds for $1,000,000 That Are No Better Than Waste Paper—Detective Work of a New York Newspaper.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The New York World exposes the operations of a gang of land sharks who have duped some of the shrewdest bankers and financiers of this city and Philadelphia to the amount of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

These operations are still under way, and, were it not for this exposure to-day, they might soon carry through all their plans and pocket, at the very least, a round million of dollars.

With false and forged title deeds to more than 200,000 acres of coal and timber lands in West Virginia, these men organized the Standard Coal and Timber Company of West Virginia, with a capital stock on paper of $2,000,000, issued bonds for $1,000,000, which they deposited with the Commonwealth Title Insurance and Trust Company of Philadelphia, a reputable concern, as trustee, and for the past year and a half have been victimizing banks, bankers and capitalists in New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Danbury, Conn., and Plainfield, N. J., until they admit themselves that they have raised about a quarter of a million on beautifully engraved green paper, worth about 3 cents a pound.

Among the victims is the president of the Bowery Bank to the extent of $50,000. The St. Nicholas Bank of New York, National Park Bank, People's Bank of Brooklyn, and other institutions, have also lent money on the worthless paper of the concern.

THE RAILWAYS.

A. H. Reed, commercial agent of the Wabash Railroad Company in Kansas City, Mo., writes to a paper: "Perhaps you would like to know that at a time when the scheme for the Canadian Pacific Railway was about to fail it was placed in the hands of a man who had come up from a messenger boy to be an agent, superintendent of telegraph division, superintendent, superintendent-manager, general manager, to become president of this great system, and making it an unqualified success, managing the biggest railroad in the world, and drawing the biggest salary of any railroad man in America. Thirty years ago W. C. Van Horne, the president and general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, was an errand boy at Joliet, Ill.

The "Soo" road announces sweeping reductions in passenger rates to the coast to go into effect at once. The cut has been threatened for some time and has been made possible by the connection of the "Soo" and Canadian Pacific on coast business. A rate of $65 to San Francisco and return being the one way rate, and $50 to Puget Sound points, a reduction from $80, is announced. It is probable the other roads will follow.

DAUGHTERS OF THE KING.

Encouraging Reports Presented at the Convention.

Conditions of Membership in the Order—Unitarians Not to be Excluded.

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—The annual convention for Ontario of the King's Daughters and Sons resumed its session yesterday morning in the Y. M. C. Guild Building, McGill street.

Mrs. Gibbs read her report as provincial secretary. There has been an increase of 40 new circles in the Province this year, with 600 members, a total increase in the membership of 700, bringing up the membership roll to 2,500 in Ontario alone.

Mr. Daniel Scott, Toronto, presented the treasurer's report, which showed a balance of 80 cents to the good after an expenditure of $751 55.

In the afternoon, among others, Mrs. E. Tilley, Dominion secretary, London, who occupied the chair, gave an interesting address on "The Congress of King's Daughters at the World's Fair and some of the meritorious achievements of the order." The address was heartily appreciated and applauded.

A resolution was passed on a standing vote for the prohibition of the liquor traffic, also one of gratification at the defeat of the Sunday street car movement in Toronto in August.

In answer to questions just before the close of the meeting, Mrs. Davis, corresponding secretary of the International Order, stated that the order could make no conditions of membership to those who sought fellowship that were not made by the King. The order did not promulgate or demand adherence to creeds; that right belonged to the church of God. They did not inquire the denomination of anyone who united with the order, which was created as a place where they might forget their differences and remember only those things that united them, and for all those who acknowledged the Lord as their Saviour and their King, and who wanted to know him more and love him better. This was the basis of their union.

Mrs. M. L. Dickinson further said, in dealing with the subject of the denominations represented in the order, and particularly with the Unitarians, that they were heartily welcome, and although their numbers were few in the order, yet they were among the best and most self-sacrificing workers. The day would never come when the order would rise up and exclude them. The order did not stand in judgment on any applicant for membership. When a Unitarian applied for membership, she was shown the conditions and recommended to consult with her minister as to whether she should join the order.

At the evening session Mrs. Davis announced that Lady Aberdeen would be in Toronto on the 27th inst. and would endeavor to form a national council of women in Canada. Interesting addresses were given by Mrs. Frank Gibbs, Mrs. Davis and Mr. R. W. Dillon.

MIDDLESEX SABBATH SCHOOLS.

Annual County Convention at Strathroy—Election of Officers.

STRATHROY, Oct. 19.—The county of Middlesex Sunday school convention met in the Baptist Church here this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. P. K. Dayfoot, M.A., pastor of the church and president of the convention, opened the session, speaking on the essentials of a successful convention, and welcoming the delegates to the church, the town and the homes. After the usual routine business Mr. C. E. German, of Strathroy, delivered an admirable address on "Superintendents' Methods." A brisk discussion followed, which brought out many valuable points. At the evening session Rev. P. K. Dayfoot and a company of boys illustrated the principles and methods of the Boys' Brigade. Then came an address on "Band of Hope Work" by Rev. W. G. Jordan, B.A., Presbyterian pastor of the town.

Mr. Loudon, of Parkhill, took charge of a question drawer, entertaining and instructing the large audience.

The nominating committee suggested and the convention elected the following list of officers for the coming year:

President—Mr. C. E. German, Strathroy.

Vice-President—Mr. J. H. McKay, Ailsa Craig.

Secretary—Miss E. MacLeod, Parkhill.

Treasurer—Mr. E. B. Smith, Ailsa Craig.

Executive Committee—Messrs. J. K. Geddes, Strathroy; Philip Hansford, Adelaide; Rev. W. W. Sheppherd, Caradoc township; Wm. Matheson, Lucan; Rev. W. D. Hueston, Delaware; Thos. Alder, Ferguson; Hardy Johnston, Kerwood; A. Smith, McGillivray; Dr. W. Murray, Thorndale; Rev. T. W. Blatchford, Lambeth; Rev. J. McKinnon, Springbank; Thos. Wyatt, East Williams; Rev. W. A. Cook, Dorchester.

Delegates to the provincial convention in Toronto—Messrs. Loudon and German.

London city is not included in this report, as it has its own separate convention. The sessions will continue throughout Friday.

FEMALE BURGLARS.

Mother and Daughter Caught in Male Attire Robbing a House.

ADRIAN, Mich., Oct. 19.—The unusual spectacle of a pair of female burglars ornamented a city justice court here yesterday. They waived examination, were bound over, and went to jail. The twain were Mrs. Alice Church and Miss Bessie Church, mother and daughter, of Tecumseh. Both were well dressed, the mother still good looking, and the daughter, aged 20, decidedly comely. They admit their guilt. Mrs. Church is a widow, who, with her daughter, moved in good society. Tecumseh is dumb with astonishment. On Friday night the home of the late Judge Stacey, occupied by his widow and daughter, was entered during the absence of the family and a large quantity of bedding, wearing apparel and groceries were taken. Next night a watch was set, and the female burglars, dressed in men's clothing, were caught. The women acknowledged that most of the wholesale thefts and burglaries committed in Tecumseh recently were their work.

Caught in a Thresher.

BURK'S FALLS, Oct. 19.—Mr. John A. Crawford, of Berridale, a farmer, near here, while assisting a neighbor to thresh got caught in a shaft of the machine and was sent whirling around. He is lying in dying condition.

Salvationists Buy Valuable Property.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The Salvation Army has bought the property occupied now by it as a barracks on Fourteenth street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues. It has a frontage of 75 feet on Fourteenth street, and cost $200,000. A large building, to be occupied as a headquarters for the general offices and the printing and publishing departments of the army will be erected on it.

THE OPEN FORUM.

Ex-Mayor Anderson on the Railway and Car Shops Crisis.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

The council and board of directors not understanding the position of the L. and P. S. Railway in connection with the interests of the city make mistakes in attempting to deal with it.

The intention of the promoters of this road was to connect London with navigation and was originated, constructed and managed as a commercial rather than a financial enterprise for the purpose of protecting and developing the trade of this city and this part of the country, which it did do most effectually when managed by an independent company. It can yet be made a splendid interest to the city if properly managed.

The question for the company to consider is what is best to be done with it in its present condition. If the city does not wish to manage it themselves, then it should be disposed of so that the city would receive an equivalent for its interests in it. There can be no two opinions but that the G. T. R. is the only party in the position to meet the city's view, and in a way—by the car shops deal—that would be beneficial to both, it having six lines centering in the city, which makes this the most convenient place to locate their works, and would add at least 5,000 to our population, and largely compensate for the loss of the L. and P. S. R. interests.

The proposed arrangement by the directors will completely side-track London, and make St. Thomas the railway center in Western Ontario. The G. T. R. will undoubtedly remove their work shops. Then where will London be? Yours, etc.,

M. ANDERSON.

THE METHODIST ELECTORS.

Called Upon to Cast a Solid Vote for Total Prohibition.

The standing committee on temperance of the Methodist Church held a meeting in Hamilton last Thursday, in connection with the General Board of Missions, and passed a series of resolutions in regard to the forthcoming plebiscite vote on prohibition. The committee found that no less than 199 petitions from the Methodist churches of Ontario had been sent to the Provincial Legislature asking for the plebiscite. During the intervals between the meetings of the General Conference this committee will have charge of the temperance question.

A SERIES OF RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were passed:

To the Ministry, Membership, and Adherents of the Methodist Church, Ontario.

"Your General Conference standing committee on temperance would respectfully submit the following deliverance on the prohibition plebiscite to be taken Jan. 1, 1894:

"Whereas, the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, in response to a large number of petitions from churches, temperance societies and municipal bodies, has decided that a vote be taken on the prohibition of the 'importation, manufacture and sale as a beverage of intoxicating liquors'; and whereas, it has been repeatedly stated that the country is not ready for prohibition, thereby making it desirable that we accept the opportunity now given to the people of Ontario to vote apart from all political entanglements upon the questions involved; and, whereas, the great union prohibition convention held in Toronto on Oct. 3 and 4, 1893, passed resolutions strongly urging the united action of all citizens of the Province in the endeavor to poll the largest possible vote in favor of said measure; and, whereas, the importance of the issue is so great that we should be willing to lay aside our personal opinions and predilections and unite as an electorate in one solid body at the ballot box in favor of prohibition on Jan. 1, 1894; and, whereas, our church has been always abreast of public opinion on the restriction and prohibition of the liquor traffic, and has not hesitated to declare, on all suitable occasions, her profound convictions of the evils entailed upon society in its civil, political, educational, moral and religious life and activities by this licensed trade in alcoholic liquor,

"Therefore, be it resolved,

"That we, the members of the western section of the General Conference standing committee on temperance, assembled in the city of Hamilton on this 12th day of October, 1893, call upon the Methodist electorate to unite their efforts to carry to a triumphant issue the question of prohibition as now before the Province. And we would further emphasize this call by reminding our people of the legislative enactments of our general conferences, and also of the recommendations of our annual conferences touching this question.

"That, in the opinion of your committee, the supreme moment has arrived for such action as will leave no room in the minds of our legislators concerning the ripeness of public opinion for the total suppression of the liquor traffic.

"That your committee would further call attention to the importance of such action being taken by the ministers and official boards in their approaching November meetings, as will, in their judgment, best secure the end sought. Also that each minister be requested to devote at least one Sabbath service, as early a date as practicable, to the presentation of this important matter to our people.

"And we would further declare the great desirability of our people co-operating actively in public meetings, conventions, the circulation of literature and in such other ways and methods as are suitable to the respective localities.

"And we wound further request the Rev. Dr. Carman, general superintendant, to issue a pastoral letter on this subject, addressed to the churches in this Province, with a view to its being read by the ministers to their congregations."

THE RECENT C. P. R. ACCIDENT.

The Victims' Bodies Taken to Fort Arthur—[illegible] of the Damage.

PORT ARTHUR, Oct. 19.—The bodies of Brakeman Wallbridge and Fireman Elliot, killed in Tuesday's accident, were brought to town on the wrecking train. Wallbridge was a married man. His family live at Fort William west. Elliot is said to be from Winnipeg and related to some of the C. P. R. officials in that city. It was his first trip over the eastern division as a fireman. Wallbridge was instantly killed. Elliot lived some little time, but died principally from loss of blood and the shock to his nervous system, as both his legs were cut off.

The damage done to the locomotive, cars and contents, it is said, will reach $75,000.

SAM'L OF POSEN'S JURY.

His Lawyer Says They Were Not Bribed, and Scores the Police.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Mr. W. W. Foote, of San Francisco, leading counsel for the defense in the trial of M. B. Curtis, "Sam'l of Posen," for murder, is stopping at the Holland House. He was seen by a reporter and spoke unhesitatingly and with considerable warmth of the charges of jury bribing that have been made in connection with the Curtis acquittal.

"During the last trial," said Mr. Foote—"you know Curtis was tried three times—Mr. Wilson, my associate, informed me that one McManus and a party named Dunn called upon him and said they could secure four jurors for $20,000. They mentioned Coy and McFarlane as two of the jurors who could be bribed, but when Mr. Wilson suggested sending for them or for Detective Marsh they hurriedly left the office.

"I told Mr. Wilson that it was probably attempted blackmail, and that we should have nothing to do with it. An attempt was made to blackmail Mrs. Curtis at Fresno, Cal., and after Mr. Curtis was acquitted he informed me for the first time that the same parties Mr. Wilson saw had visited him in the jail.

"It was a very general remark that at the last trial the jury was as respectable and intelligent body of men as was ever empaneled for a trial in the San Francisco courts. I know, however, that the police did resort to subornation of perjury."

Liberal Tariff Platform.

We, the Liberal party of Canada, in convention assembled declare:

That the customs tariff of the Dominion should be based, not as it now is, upon the protective principle, but upon the requirements of the public service.

That the existing tariff, founded upon an unsound principle and used as it has been by the Government as a corrupting agency, wherewith to keep themselves in office, has developed monopolies, trusts and combinations;

It has decreased the value of farm and other landed property;

It has oppressed the masses to the enrichment of the few;

It has checked immigration;

It has caused great loss of population;

It has impeded commerce;

It has discriminated against Great Britain.

In these, and in many other ways, it has occasioned great public and private injury, all of which evils must continue to grow in intensity so long as the present tariff system remains in force.

That the highest interests of Canada demand a removal of this obstacle to our country's progress, by the adoption of a sound fiscal policy, which, while not doing injustice to any class, will promote domestic and foreign trade and hasten the return of prosperity to our people.

That to that end, the tariff should be reduced to the needs of honest, economical and efficient government.

That it should be so adjusted as to make free, or to bear as lightly as possible upon the necessaries of life and should be so arranged as to promote freer trade with the whole world, more particularly Great Britain and the United States.

We believe that the results of the protective system have grievously disappointed thousands of persons who honestly supported it, and that the country in the light of experience is now prepared to declare for a sound fiscal policy.

The issue between the two political parties on this great question is now clearly defined.

The Government themselves admit the failure of their fiscal policy, and now profess their willingness to make some changes, but they say that such changes must be based only on the principle of protection.

We denounce the principle of protection as radically unsound and unjust to the masses of the people, and we declare our conviction that any tariff changes based on that principle must fail to afford any substantial relief from the burdens under which the country labors.

This issue we unhesitatingly accept, and upon it we await with the fullest confidence the verdict of the electors of Canada.

EAST BUFFALO.

EAST BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Cattle—Offerings 4 cars; about all were cows and heifers and ranged at $2 10 to $2 75 for common to good cows, and $2 45 to $2 85 for cows and heifers. The supply was fully equal to the demand, and the outlook is only fair at present values. Good to choice veal calves bring $6 50 to $7; common, $4 to $5; grassers and fed calves, $2 to $3 50.

Hogs—Receipts about 8 cars, but the supply was apparently equal to the demand. Prices were again 10c to 15c lower and the York demand very light while packers also bought sparingly. Yorkers good to choice brought $6 75 to $6 80; some light to fair lots went at $6 65 to $6 70; good mixed packers, $6 75 to $6 80, and good 250 to 300 lbs mediums, $6 80 to $6 90. No very good heavy were on sale. Pigs slow at $6 40 to $6 60.

Sheep and Lambs—Market slow; receipts about 6 cars of Canada lambs and 2 cars to come and 12 cars of native sheep and lambs. Regular order buyers were not on the market, and only a limited demand was the rule with the buyers for the eastern butchers, while speculative buying was light, and the city slaughterers were taking only a fair number. A few of the tops of the lambs were selected at strong prices. A deck of choice 77 lbs sold at $4 65 and a very prime deck of 80 lbs at $4 85. Fair lambs of 70 lbs sold at $4 30 and fat, but only the course order. 74 lbs brought $4 ⅝c higher grades sold at easier values, from 10c to 15c lower; cull stock, while in fair inquiry by butchers', went at easy prices with early in the week. Nothing was done with the Canada lambs. Sheep were also slow and as a rule sold at prices shaded from the earlier sales of the week. One load of stall lots, picked up for an eastern butcher, averaging 109 lbs, cost $3 35. A bunch of 119 lb wethers, $3 50, and a bunch of 81 lb yearlings brought $3 90, while fair sheep sold at $2 50 to $3; culls and common, $2 to $2 25.

—Burglars entered the office of J. D. Le Bel at his Sarnia lumber yard the other night by breaking a couple of panes in the window. The thieves ransacked the office, but obtained no plunder.

—The defaulting of Hamilton's senior football club will not interfere with the junior match on Tecumseh Park on Saturday afternoon. On the 28th, London and St. Catharines will play at Hamilton.

—Notice has been recived by about 50 G. T. R. men—chiefly engineers and firemen—ordering them to make Niagara Falls their headquarters after Nov. 1. This means the removal from the city of well-known families which have many interests here.

—London's City Council is waiting for an answer from L. J. Seargeant about the car-shops. Sarnia Town Council is in a similar state of expectancy. The latter shows more faith in securing the shops than the former, for it has read its bonus by-law the first time.—[Sarnia Canadian.

—Rev. F. A. Cassidy, M.D., seven years a missionary in Japan, lectured in the Grove Methodist Church Wednesday to a large audience who listened intently to a vivid portrayal of life in the flowery kingdom. In the afternoon a ladies' meeting was addressed by Mr. Cassidy on missionary topics. Mrs. Cassidy was present, but on account of a severe cold was obliged to omit her intended address. Mr. Cassidy leaves to-morrow for England to take a post-graduate course in Oxford University.

—Sheriff's Officer Graham has returned from his trip to Kingston with the Freemans. Kingston was reached at 6 a.m. Tuesday. Throughout the entire journey the officers were repeatedly requested to remove their handcuffs, which was promptly refused. George was in a very pleasant mood, while William Henry and Alexander were both sullen. On arrival at the prison all three were given the usual bath, had their hair cut, were presented with prison garb and set to work.

—A very pleasant event took place Tuesday noon at the residence of John Walter, near Byron, being the occasion of the marriage of his daughter Edith to Herbert S. Wilcox, of London. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Garbutt, after which the company sat down to the table, which was well supplied with the most delicious viands. A number of very costly gifts were presented to the bride. The young couple left on their honeymoon trip at 2 p.m. The bride was handsomely dressed.

—Many improvement have been made in the passenger accommodation on the C. P. R. The company has now trains running from London resembling luxuriantly-furnished hotels or private residences, and following its accustomed policy has taken another step to the fore by running a dining car on their No. 9, a train leaving London at 6:45 p.m. daily, except Sunday. It is not surprising that the C. P. R. retains its popularity as a highway to Chicago and the World's Fair with the accommodation thus offered.

Death of Charles Mole.

A prominent Freemason passed away at Sarnia on Wednesday afternoon in the person of Mr. Charles Mole. Deceased expired suddenly from epilepsy. He was a past Grand Lodge officer and also held high rank in the Grand Chapter of Canada, having been superintendent for this district a year or two since. His remains will be interred with Masonic honors.

Western Ontario Rifle Association.

This association will hold their eighteenth annual matches on Thursday, Oct. 26, at the Cove ranges, this city. A change has been inaugurated this year in that the matches are restricted to residents of the district. The executive are trying this as an experiment to see if it will induce the young shots of the city and district to attend. A large prize list is in course of preparation, and should call forth the patronage of riflemen and make the meeting one to be remembered.

London Art in Toronto.

The Women's Art Association of Canada is now holding its second exhibition in Toronto. It opened on Wednesday and will extend till Oct. 28. A large number of people viewed the exhibits on the opening day, among them being Lieutenant-Governor Kirkpatrick. The exhibitors number 28, and among them are Mrs. Macbeth, Mrs. Leonard, Miss C. Farncomb, Miss L. Graeme Ware and Miss Minhinnick, of this city. As it is a fall exhibition the sketches are chiefly of out-door study, and in this an oil sketch of a harvest field by Mrs. Macbeth is greatly admired. Mrs. Leonard also has similar sketches which attract considerable attention. There are, besides the London display, exhibits from England, California, Indiana, Paris, New York, Cleveland, Buffalo, Cobourg and Simcoe, and the association is to be congratulated on the success which has been attained.

Discussing the Terminal Facilities.

The four Walkerville men who were in in town Wednesday in connection with the lease of the London and Port Stanley road to the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railroad have retured home.

"Has anything been done definitely with regard to the lease?" was asked of Mayor Essery yesterday morning.

"We are on the way to a settlement," he replied, and then he went on to tell of what had been done yesterday by the party. They had gone over the London and Port Stanley property, the London and Southeastern property and that which the G. T. R. have a 99 years lease of. The later lies immediately to the east of the Grand Trunk round-house and is used by the G. T. R. at present as an engine shed. By this 99 years lease the Grand Trunk bind themselves to give terminal facilities for the road at their station here. The London and Port Stanley have a right of way through the leased property. What had been discussed yesterday was chiefly terminal facilities, and if the Grand Trunk objected to giving the Lake Erie and Detroit River people the use of the city station the lessees of the road would be obliged to use the London and Southeastern station in conjunction with the M. C. R.

"Is there a likelihood of a hitch arising over terminal facilities?" was asked.

"There will be no hitch," was the answer.

Carrying Weapons.

Harry Grant, who was arrested by P. C. Walter Smith on Oct. 1, was arraigned at the Police Court yesterday Grant was charged with carrying unlawful weapons. There was found on his person at the time of his arrest two large revolvers and a long sheath knife. The latter was deposited in his boot, while the revolvers were inclosed in cases and fastened to a belt around his waist. He had also in his possession a bottle of chloroform, a combination cork screw, pincers and glass cutter, over $7 in money and a railroad ticket.

On being examined Grant said that he had intended to go to Niagara Falls, but as it was 2 o'clock in the morning when the train from Port Huron arrived in the city he got off and went to sleep in an empty house on York street. He had never been in jail before and the weapons were merely for the purpose of hunting.

To Mr. McKillop the prisoner told a very contradictory story as to his whereabouts previous to coming here and refused to tell where his parents lived.

Mr. McPhillips for the defense said that as Grant was traveling from one State to another, having to pass through Canada, his case did not come under the statutes.

The magistrate found him guilty and fined him $20 or 25 days for carrying the loaded weapons and $5 or 15 days on the second charge—that of carrying the dirk.

Wm. Burriss was charged with vagrancy and was remanded till Tuesday to permit of the attendance of a witness.

A Brilliant Success.

The chamber concert last night in Victoria Hall was a brilliant success in all respects. The programme opened with a quartet by the Haydn String Quartet Club, which was executed in a manner almost faultless. The shading was well marked. This and the zerzetto which closed the concert were a treat to all present. A 'cello solo by M. H. Saunders was given in his usual artistic manner. Mr. Fred Soper sang three songs, probably better than he ever sang before, which is saying much in his favor. Miss Lorena Hartson is the possessor of a sweet and powerful soprano voice, and sang her numbers in a very expressive manner. The duets by her and Miss Edith Hartson, who has a good mezzo-soprano voice, were much appreciated. A piano trio (by Gade) was a beautifully-rendered number. Of course the chief interest of the evening centered in Miss Lotta Fetherston, who certainly is a violiniste of the first rank, and delighted the audience by her playing of the "Fantansie." It is a long and difficult solo, but was given with a power and breadth of tone that was a pleasure to the most critical. Her second numbers were also beautiful. The concert was under the management of Mr. J. W. Fetherson, and it is to be hoped that he will continue to put before the public such enjoyable illustrations of high art. Following is the programme:

LUCK, OR PLUCK?

"Bless your sentimental heart!" said the merchant. "He doesn't, eh? Well, it does you credit to think so, and it doesn't make me jealous in the least."

"If the company succeeds," continued Mrs. Tramlay, "Mr. Marge will be as much the gainer as you or young Hayn, won't he?"

"Certainly."

"Then he'll be that much better off than this young man you're so fond of?"

"Yes, if he does nothing foolish in the meantime; but I have my doubts of the financial stability of any man who can't pass a stock ticker without looking at it. Wall street exists solely for the purpose of absorbing such men's money."

"Mr. Marge is no fool," said Mrs. Tramlay.

"He's no wiser than some veterans who have had to leave their millions in the street and live on their children forever after."

"The Improvement Company has only about 40 acres, I believe you said?"

"Just 40."

"And $2,000 an acre is the most you hope for?"

"Yes."

"That would be $80,000; 4 into 80 goes 20 times, and——"

"If I'd known you'd such a head for business I would have asked you to put a housekeeper in charge of the family, so I could have your services at the office," said Tramlay.

"Twenty thousand dollars would be very little for a young man to marry on in New York—and in our set."

"Twenty thousand, and a salary which I must soon increase in simple justice; also, expectations from his father's estate in the course of time. I don't remember to have told you, though, that the young man was long headed enough to suggest that his father should buy options on the continuation of the ridge—there are several hundred acres in all, distributed among different farms—and the old fellow has worked it so skillfully that we have the refusal of it all, for a year, at a trifling outlay in money. There's genuine business capacity in that young man's head—eh?"

"It appears so," Mrs. Tramlay admitted.

"This admission might have been of great comfort to Phil could he have heard it, but as he never received any information, except through his alternating hopes and suspicions, he was obliged to remain in doubt.

His principal hope, aside from that based on Lucia's willingness to devote any amount of time to him, was obtained through the manner of the head of the family. Tramlay was communicative as wise merchants usually are to their employes; he was also confidential; evidently he trusted Phil implicitly, for he told the new clerk all his business expectations and hopes, instructed him carefully regarding everyone whom the young man was to see for business purposes, and threw much important work upon him; it seemed impossible to misconstrue the purpose of all this; at the very least, it implied a high order of respect; and the respect of a possible father-in-law was not an ally to be underrated. Besides, Tramlay frequently put Lucia in his charge when she was out for an evening; and this implied a still higher order of trust.

But, after all, the hopes that were strongest and most abiding were formed in the Tramlay parlor, while Lucia was apparently only acting the part of a listener. The young man occasionally found himself expressing his own opinion freely, and to great extent, on subjects that interested him, and the flow of language was interrupted only by badly concealed yawns from Mrs. Tramlay and Margie. Where to them could be the interest in the latest campaign against the Indians, or methods of ventilating school rooms, or the supposed moral purposes underlying England's continued occupation of Egypt? Such questions were fit only for men, thought Mrs. Tramlay and her second daughter; the mother sometimes said, after excusing herself from impromptu lectures on these or kindred topics, that the young man from the country loved to hear himself talk, and Margie half believed that Phil only began what she denominated "harangues" in order to clear the room, so that he might have Lucia to himself.

But to all that Phil said, no matter how heavy the subject, Lucia listened patiently, attentively, and often with an air of interest. Sometimes she attained sufficient grasp of a statement to reconstruct it, in words, though not in facts, and return it to the original maker, who in the blindness of bliss immediately attributed it to Lucia's mental superiority to the remainder of the family. Had he seen her afterward perplexedly pinching her brow as she appealed to cyclopedia or dictionary to make his meaning clearer, he might have revised his opinion as to her intellect, yet he would have been the surer of what to him just then was more desirable than the collective intellect of the world.

CHAPTER XX.

Mr. Marge had breathed a gentle sigh of relief when he heard of Philip Hayn's sudden departure from the metropolis; had he known the cause of the young man's exit he would in gratitude have given a fine dinner to the male gossip who had said in Phil's hearing that Marge was to marry Lucia. Not knowing of this rumor, he called at the Tramlay abode, ostensibly to invite Lucia and her mother to the theater, and from the manner of the ladies he assumed that Phil, with the over confidence of youth, had proposed and been rejected. Marge's curiosity as to what the head of the family could want of the young man was allayed by Mrs. Tramlay's statement that the visit was due wholly to her husband's ridiculous manner of inviting each country acquaintance to come and see him if he ever reached New York; his subsequent hospitality to Philip was only for the purpose of keeping on good terms with some old-fashioned people who might some day again be useful as hosts, and who could not be managed exactly as professional keepers of boarding houses.

But Marge's curiosity was rearoused the very day after he received this quieting information, for he chanced to meet the merchant with the young man's father, and was introduced to the latter.

Instantly the old question returned to his lips, "What can Tramlay want of that fellow?" Again his curiosity subsided, when he learned of the cottage city project, and, while agreeing to assume a quarter of the expense of the enterprise, he complimented Tramlay on his ability to find something to profit by, even while ostensibly enjoying an occasional day's rest in the country. But when, a day or two later, Phil reappeared and was presented to him as the old farmer's representative—as the real holder, in fact, of a full quarter of the company's stock—Marge looked suspiciously at the merchant, and asked himself:

"What can Tramlay want of that fellow?"

Reasoning according to the principles on which many small real estate companies or corporations developing a patent are formed, Marge soon informed himself that Tramlay, whose shrewdness he had always held in high respect, preferred the son to the father, as being the easier victim of the two. The process of frightening out or "freezing out" an inventor or farmer who had put his property in the hands of a stock company were not entirely unknown to Marge, and he naturally assumed that they would be easier of application to a green young man like Philip than to a clear headed old man as Farmer Hayn seemed to be. But if the rural element of the company was to be despoiled of its own, Marge proposed to see that not all the spoils should go to the merchant. How better could he improve his own position with Tramlay than by making himself the merchant's superior in finesse?

He would have the advantage of being able to watch Phil closely, and of knowing first when he might be inclined to sell out at a sacrifice; should the young man, like most of his age and extraction, develop an insatiable appetite for city joys that cost money, he, Marge, would cheerfully supply him with money from time to time, taking his stock as security, and some day the merchant would suddenly find himself beaten at his own game. The mere thought of such a triumph impelled the deliberate Marge to take a small bottle of champagne with his midday luncheon—a luxury which he usually reserved until evening at the club.

But again he was startled when a light-headed friend complained that, although the said friend's father had been promised a place for his son in Tramlay's office when the iron trade should look up, Tramlay had taken in a countryman instead. His own eyes soon confirmed the intelligence, and, as Tramlay made no explanation or even mention of the fact, Marge again found himself asking:

"What can Tramlay want of that fellow?"

Evidently it meant either business or Lucia. Perhaps the merchant during the long depression of the iron trade had borrowed money of the young man's father, or was now borrowing of him, to avail himself of his increasing opportunities. (Marge had the city man's customary but erroneous impression as to the bank surplus of the average "well-to-do" farmer.) If Tramlay were merely a borrower, except against notes and bills receivable, iron had not looked up enough to justify a prudent man in becoming the merchant's son-in-law. If there had been such transactions, perhaps a share of the business was to pay for them. Inquiries of his banking acquaintances did not make the matter clearer to Marge; so he resolved to devote himself to the new clerk, as he could safely do in his capacity of co-director of the Improvement Company. The young man had considerable self-possession, Marge admitted to himself; but what would it avail against the fine methods of a man of twice his years, all spent among men who considered it legitimate business to pry into the business affairs of others?

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's," and no other.

It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

Untold Misery—What a Well-Known Commercial Traveler Suffered, and How He Was Cured.—Gentlemen,—About five years ago I began to be troubled with dyspepsia, and for three years suffered untold misery, from this terrible complaint. I was at that time traveling for Messrs. Walter Woods & Co., Hamilton, and was treated by some of the best physicians in the country, but all to no purpose. I continued to grow worse, one day I was induced to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, and to my great surprise and joy, I soon began to improve. I continued using this medicine, and when the third bottle was finished I found I was entirely cured; and as a year has elapsed since then, I feel confident that the cure is complete and permanent. To all afflicted with this distressing complaint I heartily recommend Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, believing that the persistent use of it will cure any case of dyspepsia. (Signed.) T. S. Encouraging Reports Presented at the Convention

From the Publication Department and the Grand Ligne Mission.

WATERFORD, Oct. 19.—Yesterday morning's meeting of the Baptist Association of Ontario and Quebec was practically devoted to prayer for French-Canadian evangelization. In the afternoon the report of the board of publication was read by Prof. Goodspeed.

The book-room report stated that the total stock is valued at $5,050 66; cash sales, $5,626 24; credit sales, $7,832 94, showing gains of $288,27 and $108 68 respectively. The liabilities are $309 23, the unpaid accounts of the present month. The management feel hopeful of a moderate profit in the future. The showing of the Canadian Baptist is still better, being a net profit of $1,165 38, which, added to the proceeds from investments, less the book-room loss, makes a total profit of $1,858 59. Under these circumstances a dividend of $1,200 was declared, of which $360 goes to home missions, $90 to Manitoba and Northwest missions, $450 to foreign missions and $300 to the superannuated ministers' fund. This is the largest dividend and largest profit yet on record. The report was adopted unanimously. Mr. W. K. McNaught, Rev. E. W. Dadson and Rev. D. Spencer were elected members of the board.

Rev. S. S. Bates at this point announced that the foreign mission board's estimate for the coming year for the Indian work is $311 70 in all. To cover this the deficit, home expenses and other contingencies the sum total of $365 is needed. The convention authorized the board to call for this amount.

GRAND LIGNE MISSION.

The Grand Ligne mission report, presented by Mr. George Richardson, referred to the Maskinonge and Sorel openings, and reported 37 baptisms, while the Feller Institute at Grand Ligne has had 132 pupils through the year. The total receipts were $18,175 50, the expenses, including a slight previous deficit, $17,865 07, and the balance would have been $310 43 but for a loan to the Maskinonge fund of $295 50, leaving a balance forward of $14 93.

Rev. Ira Smith moved the adoption of the report. He maintained the political importance of striving to gain Quebec to Protestantism, and spoke in the highest terms of the personnel of the workers and of the results achieved in many districts. He advised the McMaster students to study French and fit themselves for Grand Ligne work.

Rev. E. J. Stobo, of Quebec, seconded the adoption of the report. He spoke in high terms of the character of the French-Canadians, saying, indeed, that they show more courtesy to him than many Protestants show to them. Report adopted.

The district secretaries for the Grand Ligne mission will be Rev. Messrs. W. H. Cline, Paris; A. C. Banker, Sawyerville; A. T. Sowerby, Aylmer; F. Tapscott, Hamilton; A. E. De St. Dalmas, Ira Swith, London; S. J. Harris, Binbrook; D. Dack, Simcoe; J. C. Dunlop, Stayner; Jas. McEwen, Vankleek Hill; W. Showell, Owen Sound; Mayor Caswell, Belleville; Prof. J. H. Farmer, Toronto; F. Beattie, Glammis; M. P. Campbell, Essex; R. Hamilton, Port Perry, and H. Shaw, Tilsonburg.

MANITOBA AND NORTHWEST.

Manitoba and Northwest missions came on next, Rev. H. G. Mellick taking the platform. He urged the importance of evangelizing Quebec as allied to the work in Manitoba among the Roman Catholics. His report showed that nine English-speaking and two German pastors have settled in the Northwest and Manitoba this year, while 25 pastors have occupied fields. In all there are 21 settled pastors, one Indian missionary and general superintendent, besides ten students, who have labored there in the summer. Three churches were organized in the year, and there are 42 churches in all, five of them German-speaking—in all about 150 preaching stations. Of these churches 24 now have houses of worship. The givings from the east to help the mission work in the west were last year in round numbers about $4,000, some $2,800 in excess of the year before. Report adopted.

IN THE EVENING.

The Manitoban and Northwestern missions and the Grand Linge enterprise engaged the convention through the evening meeting. The following secretaries of associations were appointed for the Manitoba mission: Rev. Messrs. H. J. Haviland, Ancaster; J. R. Jackson, Westport; Mr. D. Bentley, Montreal; John Trickey, Sparta; P. K. Dayfoot, Strathroy; J. Roney, Dutton; C. W. Cook, Fonthill; T. J. Bennett, Hamilton; T. Luckens, Collingwood; J. W. Mann, Oxley; H. McQuarrie, Vernon; C. H. Phillmore, Listowel; Thos. Watson, Colborne; Prof. Trotter, Toronto; T. Sinclair, Ridgetown; S. J. Farmer, Pembroke; M. Gould, Whitby; and T. C. Robinson, Beachville.

Mr. Mellick's appeal that a collection specially for the Northwest and Manitoba work was acted upon at once, realizing $316 30.

A subscription of $125 25 was taken up to aid the chapel fund of the Maskinonge fund, and Dr. Fulton, who spoke for a few moments, promised to find a bell for the new church.

A Long Face

—very good cause for it. She does her washing and cleaning without Pearline; and her work is like her face—just twice as long as it ought to be. That's not the worst of it, her work isn't as well done. Tires her out, and hurts whatever she washes with the rub, rub, rub that wears and tears. Pretty hard, isn't it? Millions of women think so. They prefer to save time, labor, clothes, and money by washing with Pearline.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled; if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back. 321 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—If Mars is really peopled, as astronomers declare,
There ought to be a means devised for reaching people there.
We might build a bridge or railroad—though it's not an easy grade—
For the holidays are coming and we ought to catch their trade.

—The London Tool Company has purchased the old Phœnix foundry on Bathurst street, and will shortly take possession.

—Messrs. R. H. Climie and Wm. Parson, well-known commercial men, have left on business trips to British Columbia and Calgary respectively.

—Dr. McIntyre has purchased the lot on McKellar street, Glencoe, on which the burned blacksmith shop stood from B. J. Nash, of London, for $250.

—At a late hour last night, Mrs. Smith, who was so badly burned at Mr. Slater's residence through the explosion of a can of kerosene oil, was in a very critical condition.

—Thomas Jamieson, appeared before Squire Lacey on a charge of vagrancy. He was fined $5 and $4 10 costs, but as his funds were low he preferred to spend 21 days in jail.

—Kitty Cheathan, who stars in "Jane," which was played here last night, is believed to possess the last authograph Charles Dickens ever penned. She was a visitor at his house a day or two before he died.

—The stained glass for the windows in the auditorium of the new Anglican Church was all destroyed in the fire at the Hobbs plate glass works, London, last week. The company expects to have the glass ready within a week, however.—[Glencoe Transcript.

—Albert Coles, the young lad who was arrested some time ago on a charge of stealing $51 from Wm. Iles, of Caradoc, was brought before Squire Smyth yesterday, but the evidence was not considered strong enough to convict him, and he was discharged.

—Mrs. Thomas Tracey, together with Master and Miss Love (formerly of this city, but now of British Columbia), passed through this city yesterday afternoon on their way to Albany, N. Y. Mr. Tracey is expected to be in the city shortly, and will then go to Albany to join his family.

—Londoners who had the pleasure of seeing Miss Vokes at the Grand will regret to hear of her illness. The New York World says: "It was stated last night that Rosina Vokes was seriously ill, and that her company had been disbanded. Bad business is said to have caused the trouble."

—Owing to sickness in his family, Rev. Canon Davis will not be present to-night at the opening of the new Sunday school connected with St. James Church, South London. The warden, however, will occupy the chair, and the programme of proceedings will be carried out as previously arranged.

—Mr. J. C. Lockhart was one of the hardest workers for the local team in the rugby football match against Petrolea Tuesday. He received some heavy knocks, but thought nothing of his injuries until they became so painful yesterday that he consulted Dr. Jento, who found two ribs broken. Mr. Lockhart will not be able to play again this season.

—The Plumbers' Trade Journal, of New York, dated Oct. 15, 1893, has the following to say of one of our local firms: "Enterprising Plumbers—At the World's Fair, Chicago, is seen on exhibition, in the main building, an exhibit of sanitary goods by a Canada firm of plumbers, Smith Bros. of London, Ont. The display is attractively arranged, and reflects great credit upon them. Smith Bros. are very prominent plumbers, having under contracts about 25 new buildings to be plumbed and heated by hot water."

—Through an unfortunate transposition in the report of Wednesday's city police court, it was made to appear that Mr. John D. Pigot had been charged with trespassing and damaging the London Cricket Club grounds. The fact is that Mr. Pigot discovered two boys named Wm. Bonser and John Evans damaging the cricket club property and grounds, and in order to put a stop to a very bad practice, took action against them. Mr. Pigot did not get home from Chicago till after the magistrate had disposed of the case. The cricket club authorities have been much annoyed by the malicious destruction of their property, and are determined to put down the lawlessness. It is not probable that future delinquents will get clear with a reprimand.

Miss Freckle's Beau.

Miss Freckle has got a new beau;
She tells me his front name is Jean;
That he lives in St. Paul,
And that late in the faul
To the wild, woolly West she will geau,
When married they'll take a chateau,
And keep twenty servants or seau,
Just as down in Ky.,
Where folks who are Ly,
Of wealth make a glittering sheau.

The Governor-General Coming.

Word was received by City Clerk Kingston last night to the effect that Lord and Lady Aberdeen and suite would arrive in London at 5 o'clock Monday evening and remain over until noon on Tuesday. Arrangements will no doubt be made to-day towards meeting them. The committee of arrangements consists of Mayor Essery and Ald. John Moule.

The Stranded British Tournamenters.

Nearly $1,400 has been subscribed in New York for the relief of the stranded English, Irish and Scotch soldiers of the British Military Tournament. The New York World says: "Through the efforts of George Crouch, of the St. James Hotel, 75 of the destitute soldiers who appeared in the British Military Tournament will sail for home to-day on the Britannic. St. George's Society and J. Pierpont Morgan subscribed $500 each, the total being $1,373."

Clara Coleman Saturday Night.

Henry N. Henderson's scenic production of "Nora Machree" will be seen at the Grand to-morrow night. This great romantic play has been received everywhere with unanimous praise, the press and people with one voice stamping it the success of seasons. Its construction is of the most superb stage-craft, and its subject is, and will always remain, deeply sympathetic to the human heart. The arrangement of the play is exquisite, the dialogue pointed and witty, the situation full of interest and dramatic force, and, above all, nothing is overdone—nothing in questionable taste. An air of refinement pervades the entire work, and it will be a welcome addition to successful Irish drama.

The G. T. R. Smash-Up.

In regard to yesterday's accident on the G. T. R., the Hamilton Times says: The crash occurred right opposite Main's rope walk, and less than 50 yards east of the Mary street bridge. The east-bound a special from Chicago left the Stuart street depot but a few minutes before, and had not attained much speed. Conductor Jones, of London, was in charge and the driver was Engineer Wm. Williamson, of Niagara Falls, who had Alex. Mitchell, also of the Falls, as his fireman. Their train had the right of way and a clear track as far as the eye could see, which at that point is several miles. The train on the Northern, due at the King street station at 11:45 o'clock, was just about on time. Where the Northern runs into the G. T. R. main line there is a switch on the inside of the curve, and on this some cars were standing, so that each train was shut out from the sight of the other until they were within a couple of car lengths from one another. Then there was a hurried reversing of engines, application of air brakes and a scramble for life. The train from the west had crossed the switch points 40 or 50 feet and the one from the mountain had just got the wheels of one side over one rail of the main line when the two came together. The crash was great and confusion reigned in an instant. The engine of the express was badly wrecked. The Northern branch engine was lifted a couple of feet to the south, but was not very badly injured. The baggage and the passenger coaches on the Northern were not derailed or injured. There was no loss of life and not a serious injury to anyone. There were 250 passengers on board the special. The great crash came between the baggage and the smoking cars. The rear end of the former was lifted three or four feet and telescoped into the smoker. Mr. Allan B. Foster, a young man from Sempronius, a small town in New York State, fared the worst. He was sitting in the front seat of the car, facing the engine, and had his left leg wrenched and bruised, but no bones were broken. Of the trainmen, Engineer Williamson was the only one hurt. He had one of his ankles wrenched. * * * * The passengers who remained at the scene of the accident spoke very highly of the way in which the train hands and the officials acted.

"Jane" at the Grand.

Charles Frohman's company of comedians appeared last evening in the farce-comedy of "Jane" at the Grand. It was produced here last season, and many attended last night who witnessed the previous performance. The plot is such a tangle of complications that in the endeavor to unravel it all in the cast are given an equal chance to display their talents. The company is perhaps better than last year, but then the play is one of those comedies that can be enjoyed even if the company producing it is not exactly up to the standard. Miss Kitty Cheatham assumed the character of Jane and completely captivated her audience. She is chic, vivacious, merry and winning. Her acting is pleasing and natural, not forced or constrained, and at no time does one tire of her bright face. Robert Cotton, as William, was an able support. His tall, slim figure was nearly always upon the stage, and as the downcast husband he was ever ready to take back his own wife Jane. The entire company was commendable. "Chums," a one-act comedy, was given as a curtain-raiser, and was also very laughable. The following is the cast of "Jane": Charles Shackelton, Mr. Seymour G. Hess; Mr. Kershaw, Mr. Fer'd Hight; William, Mr. Robert Cotton; Claude, Master Haines; Mr. Pixton, Mr. William Henderson; Lucy Norton, Miss Maud White; Mrs. Chadwick, Miss Lizette Le Baron; Mrs. Pixton, Miss Alexandrienne Ramsey; Jane, Miss Kitty Cheatham.
