[Special to The Advertiser.] WOODSTOCK. June 7.—Geo. Gard-ner, 14 years old, and John Dewar, a youth of 18, both giving their home address as London, Ont., were arrested here by Chief Killing this evening they were about to board the train for Stratford, following the theft of an eighteen-dollar silver mesh purse containing two dollars from the home of Wellington street resident.

It appears that the younger of the dences on Wellington street this afternoon and when a neighbor, who had oticed the youths' actions, was notifled of the theft, immediately connected the boys with the affair and tipped off the police, with the result of their subsequent capture. The purse, minus contents, which had gone to purchase the railway tickets, and which had been thrown away, was afterwards re-covered. They will appear in court

A Great List of Morning Sales for Tomorrow

Last Wednesday was the busiest morning in this store since the December Christmas rush, and a full day's business was done easily in the forenoon. A greater list has been prepared for tomorrow, and a still busier morning should result. In many instances the merchandise is half price, in some cases less. We have set out to make new records every Wednesday morning, and the reductions are set accordingly. Some are fresh, new goods right from the manufacturer's stock clearings, specially procured for Wednesday morning sales. The ladies' neckwear is a fair example of this, which we are able to offer at 19c and 29c for 50c and 75c collars. Make your plans to spend your Wednesday mornings at this store. It will be the most profitable day in the week for you, and you will be free in the afternoon to enjoy the half-holiday.

Plaintiff Tells Judge She Has Given Up Hope of Reconciliation.

In the supreme court, before Chan-cellor Sir John Boyd, Mrs. Flora Mc-Ilwain of Glencoe is suing her husband, William George McIlwain, for alimony. She claims that his cruelty has made it impossible to live with him. In the witness box Mrs. McIlwain declared that during the eighteen years of her married life her husband continually abused her, and on several oc casions subjected her to actual physical assault. His ill-treatment, she said, culminated in June of last year, when he beat her over the back of the head with such violence that she was confined to her bed for two days, and was compelled to call in a doctor. Artillery Road Laid On Bodies of Killed

[Canadian Press.] don, June 8.—The flercest London, June 8.—The fiercest fighting of the war, as far as the Baltic provinces of Russia are concerned, occurred a few days ago in a battle for the mastery of the Dubysa River, according to the Post's Petrograd correspondent. The river changed hands five times in one day, and at nightfall the stream was completely choked with the

that a plank road for artillery was laid by the victorious Russians across a solid bridge of bodies, the correspondent says.

The Dubysa, although wide, is so shallow it can be crossed on foot at some places. The Russians and Germans met at a ford half a mile wide, north of Rosijeny, where they fought all day in the water. There were several bayonet charges in mid-stream, and all who fell, even though they were only slightly wounded, were drowned. Troops on both sides in their attacks and counter-attacks late in the day advanced over the bodies of the dead.

News of Men In Training For Great War

DECLARES "WAR EFFICIENCY" MUST BECOME BRITAIN'S ONLY SLOGAN

Old Party Systems, Ministers, "Business as Usual," Privileged Class and, in Fact, Almost Everything That Has Value in Peace Times, Must Give Way, If Necessary, to Win, Says Mr. Arnold White.

Mr. Arnold White, in a recent issue of the London Daily Express, writes:

At the battle of Trafalgar the casualty list contained 1,587 names. Trafalgar gave us peace at sea for one hundred and nine years. The Crimean campaign and the great Boer war were episodes of outpost affairs. For the first time since the Black Death, England is faced with menace of catastrophic magnitude. To avoid the destruction of civilization British efficiency must increase, We have fought the German Trafalgar. All reflections on the wickedness of the British Empire.

Wholesome changes having now been fected, national efficiency will increase a hundredfold, not because the party spirit at home is stunted in the poisoned atmosphere of the great war. but because party spirit in these days tible with national existence. In order to beat the Germans it is essential that those who formerly be-longed to the Unionist and Liberal parties should both recognize the truth about their erstwhile opponents. After nine and a half years of office, Liberals had, not unnaturally, come to regard permanent office as an appanage of what they were wont to call the "progressive party." The Unionist party had leaned unduly toward the rell-to-do, the comfortable, the privileged and the wealthy classes, and had wrongly arrived at the conclusion that they and they only were the ause it is a war for the survival of If there be in the shelter of a strong navy that fact is due to geography, not to original sin. "Y" Tent Blows Up. During the presentation of the nightly reels of moving pictures in the Y. M. C. A. tent one of the rear walls and part of the roof blew into ribbons with the force of the wind. Immediately there was a hurried rush for the doors and sides, for it seemed as if the whole marquee would be brought tumbling low down about the ears of those inside. the The tent was crowded because of the rainy weather. However, beyond ripping the rear of the top and loosening the walls, no further damage was done and the "Y" is still "doing business as usual." Part of the headquarters tent of th Field Ambulance blew away, and the majority of the A. M. C. men were forced to stand by and hold down the hospital tents to protect the patients. Many of the tent pegs were pulled out by the force of the storm, and they all had to be repegged this morning.

The flag pole in front of the camp headquarters was struck and part of the Union Jack was burned. Large chunks were ripped out of the pole, and the ground in front looked as if a plough had been run through it. The pole is in line with the beat patrolled by the sentry on guard before the headquarters, but he was at the far end when the bolt struck. Bride Carry Prayer Book.

Dear Miss Grey,—Wish to take up a moment of your valuable time. In a quiet church wedding, where the bride prefers to carry a white prayer book, instead of flowers, will it be in keeping for the maid of honor to carry a prayer book also, as it is the wish of the bride, if proper. Also will you kindly state what would be pretty for a dainty but not elaborate dress for the bride at a quiet church wedding. Also menu for luncheon. Thanking you in advance. Yours sincerely, STAR.

P. S.—The time-worn question, What do you think of my writing?

Ans.—1. It will be quite proper for each to carry a prayer book.

Nothing could be nicer than an embroidered muslin or voile dress in all white. This may be made simply, and would be suitable for wear on many occasions during the summer. A crepe weave in soft grey or blue would be lovely if you wished a color, but I think the whitep referable.

3. Many brides are having their wedding luncheons very simple this summer. Would advise a buffet luncheon, with dainty sandwiches, cake, ice cream or jellies, tea and lemonade, or punch.

The fact is, smoking never added to the attractiveness of any room. There is a certain amount of litter from matches and ashes, a pungent odor, and a grime that work havoce with a neat room, and a good housewife, even one, too, who loves her husband and wants to further his happiness in every way, is uneasy when smoking is going on in a room not designed for the purpose.

It is a good plan to have a nook some place in the house for the man's own, where he may go and enjoy his or cigar, or cigarette. You know a man has as much right in his own house as anybody ean deniony his or considered when comfort is being or room, that is a fair provision.

Dear Miss Grey.—Please give me your opinion of a man smoking in the house when his wife objects to the smell of PHOEBE. WAIT A BIT.
When Johnny came a-courting
I thought him over bold
For I was but a young thing
And he no' very old.
And though I liked him well enough
I sent him on his way,
With "wait a bit, bide a bit;
Wait a week and a day."

When Johnny passed me And pleaded for a kiss, And vowed he'd love me evermore For granting of that bliss, For granting of that biss.

Although I liked it ower well,
I ran from him away,
With "Wait a bit, bide a bit,
Wait a week and a day."

When Johnny fell a-ranting,
With "Jenny be my wife."
And vowed I never should regret,
However long my life;
Although I liked it best o' all,
I turned from him away,
With "Wait a bit, bide a bit;
Wait a week and a day."

Oh, Johnny was a ninny.
He took me at my word,
And he was courting another
The next thing that I heard.
Oh, what a ninny was Johnny.
To mind me when I'd say,
"Wait a bit, bide a bit;
Wait a week and a day."

Heigh-ho, I've met my Johnny;
I gave him a blink o' my eye;
And then he fell a-raving,
For want o' my love he'd die.
I ne'er could be so cruel.
So I set the wedding-day.
With "Haste a bit, nor waste and the so danger in delay."

UP IN THE RACE

Donie Bush, Detroit's grand little shortstop, is largely responsible for the excellent showing of the Tigers this spring. The little veteran is the leavening influence on a broken infield and is playing great ball in defence and, as usual, helping the run-getting by getting to first as often even as Cobb. He is regarded as Eddie Collins' closest rival in worrying pitchers into giving bases on balls.

The central commission may mean much, but your committee calls attention to the fact that the Metholist Church did not ask for a centra ommission or for another dry holiday but 'a dry Ontario every day.' Until the central commission spells prohibi-tion we will cry mightily unto God and a book of remembrance will be written and in that cry the iniquitious threefifths clause will be remembered, but until that cry is heard we will inforce the law where we have one. It is the duty of our ministry to lead in law nforcement all those who helped to make the law.

A Test for the Drinker. "There cannot be policemen to see every staggering man in local option towns. Those who drink through weakness should be put on the restricted list. Those who get drunk through perversity should bear the penalty of the law; the willingness to go or not to go on the restricted list should be the test of weakness or perversity, a sure test. We therefore contend that patriotism and loyalty demand as the duty of every citizen private and representative, both personally and officially, to stand up with our army and navy commanders under the moral leadership sovereign, King George, to crush our Empire's cruelest foe.

"To this end we commend the action of the W. C. T. U. in directly requesting the restoration of the dry can-teen among Canadian soldiers whether in training or at the front, that the promise of our Minister of Militia to promise of our Minister of Militia to the mothers of our men may be re-deemed. That the coming generation may be better equipped for this and similar moral conflicts, we recommend to the board of education that temperance and hygiene, which are now on our public school curriculum, be made subjects for examination. We com-mend the work of F. W. Clarke, of our own department, and Mr. C. H. Beal, of the Provincial Government, in their work for the social purity of the hildren, and recommend the extension of this work by a competent staff of teachers organized under the Governto pastors who are preaching in rural communities to give frequent warning to young men and women leaving home for city employment, making clear as possible the dangers that threaten the

PRESIDENT URGES A MAJORITY VOTE IN LOCAL OPTION

Would Do Away With Three-fifthe

ST. MARYS, June 7. - That Methdists should stand by temperance reform, that it was the time to do away with the three-fifths vote clause of local option, and come out for a straight majority vote, was urged by President Manning at this afternoon's session of the conference in the Methodist Church hers. That women should receive the suffrage, and be given the same rights as men in church government circles, was also the opinion of the president, who was backed up by the majority of those in attendance at

That a Victoria Colege day should be held in the various Methodist churches throughout the conference district was the opinion of President Manning, but no de action was taken in this matter. The reports of the laymen had to do mostly with temperance. The missionary committee reported that $909.81 been raised during the last year and that the amount wanted for next year would be $100,000. That Indians should not be deprived of their land, but should be taught how to farm properly, was the conten-tion of several conference members, but when an amendment to the missionary nade, and a vote taken, a tie resulted. No action was consequently taken, the matter being laid over.

Every Married Woman Should Have a Housekeeping Account.

THE woman, who deposits her monthly allowance in this bank and pays all household expenses by cheque, will find household expenses by cheque, will find it both a convenience and economy.

Such an account enables her to settle bills promptly, and each cancelled cheque becomes in itself a receipt.

When the actual money is in the Bank, the odd change is neither lost nor spent on other things than household accounts.

Why not open an account with this bank on your next "allowance day"?

All-Women Staff.

More than 100,000 women have regis-tered themselves at the labor exchanges as willing to engage in war work. Women are going into every branch of life to fill men's places. A new station electric railway is staffed entirely by vomen, who work the elevators, escalators and act as ticket distributors and collectors. Many women are acting as drivers of motor lorries, others drive milk cars some are doing postman's work, and several hundred are taking the places of commissionaires-old soldiers who ejoined the army. In hotels and clubs hey have almost entirely filled vacancies caused by men enlisting. All this goes to show that every class of society is now giving itself up to the war and nothing else. There is scarcely a family which is not personally affected by the struggle and the country is rapidly reaching the point where every person, in some fashion, will be assisting in fighting the Germans. BERLIN ARGUES AGAINST

BUDDHISTS RIO

Outbreak in Ceylon Accompanied by Murder and Looting.

[Canadian Press.] there has been a riotous outbreak in Ceylon by Buddhists against the Moslems, in which numerous Moslem shops were looted and many murders occurred, is told in an official communication made blic here tonight.

The official statement says: "The Governor of Ceylon reports that on the 28th of May, the birthday of Buddha, Moslem shops in Kandy were looted by Buddhists. The outbreak was quelled in Kandy, but was diffused through the central province, where it was repressed by the arrival of a mil-

"On the 31st of May there was a later outbreak at Colombo, which sub-sequently spread south. Martial law has been proclaimed in the western, central, southern, northwestern and Sabara amuwa provinces. "On the 3rd of June the governor left Kandy quiet and proceeded to Colombo, where he found the town quiet, but the district perturbed. He hoped to sup-press the disorder in a few days. "The disorder is due to a sudden outbreak of racial and commercial animosity and is not directed against the European population or the colonial Government. Much Moslem merchandise

ONE BRITISHER IN CRATER PUTS UP A THRILLING FIGHT

LONDON, June 7 .- 7:05 p.m. The exploit of a British soldier who lay in the crater made by a shell and hurled back at the Germans which they tossed into the exca-vation to kill him is related in a dispatch from the front, under date of June 4, from the official observer attached to the British army, as given out in London to-

"After having got into a German trench and finding he was the only survivor of his party, he managed to crawl in a deep shell crater nearby," the observer says, "the Germans knew where he was but could not shoot him and were pre-vented by our rifle fire from approaching.
