Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, distinguished Labrador missionary, thus expressed himself in connection with the con-viction of Eskimos charged with the murder of their fellows at Fort Herschel recently. In an interview, he said he thought the carrying out of the punishment ordered by the court would be "unwise and unjust."

"The Eskimos are an extraordi-narily intelligent people." Dr. Gren-fell stated, "but they are totally ig-norant of law and the consequences of its violation. Ethically, the Eski-mo is just like a child of 7 years. You would not hang a child of 7 years, would you?"

Dr. Grenfell added that numerous waitress discoveries of gold veins were said to have been made in Labrador, but he had never seen proof that they existed. He was certain the country was rich in mineral resources, but claimed that anything done to de-velop mining there, so far was for the purpose of securing easy money from the investing public. These tac-tics were to be deplored, he said. Dr. Grenfell speaks in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at 3:30 this afternoon and in Wesley Hall, First Methodist Church, at 8 o'clock to-night

At each of these a money shower will be taken up, the proceeds to go to the local branch of the Labrador Medical Mission. Dr. Grenfell came to the city under the auspices of the London section of the medical mission in Labrador, of which Mrs. A. T. Little is president.

The city council of 1923 may be asked to consider another motorbus way.

The proposal by the motorbus firm would necessitate a vote of the ratepayers, City Clerk Sam Baker stated, in view of the fact that the company in question would insist upon certain stipulations as a precentionery measure. autionary measure.

Mr. McDonald explained to The Advertiser, as an instance, that the company would not enter into business here unless the Street Railway Company was prevented from laying more steel or adding to their rolling more steel or adding to their rolling stock.

"If our company came here and operated a first-class service at a minimum fare," he explained, "it would no doubt be necessary for the street railway authorities to add more cars to their service and lay several more miles of rail. They would have to do this to keep in business, even if that was possible with motor bus competition."

Mr. McDonald questions why the city council declined to send the municipal bus proposal to the people for a mandate, particularly after a majority of them had given their word that they would.

Mayor Wenige pointed out that while it would be too late for a vote this year, the question could be considered at the next meeting of the council after the election. He advised Mr. McDonald to then submit his formal request, on behalf of his company, for a franchise to operate buses here.

oompany, for a franchise to operate buses here.

Mr. McDonald gave assurance that he would consider the matter and has arranged for another conference with the mayor tomorrow. The mayor thought that it would be imperative to secure a special legislation from the Ontario legislature to grant a franchise to another private transportation corporation. He felt, however, that this could be secured within two months or so—soon after the new legislature convened.

The need for new Collegiate accon modation has been emphasized time and again, the present supplementary buildings, used in conjunction with the Central Collegiate, said to with the Central Collegiate, said to be inadequate for secondary school purposes. This is particularly noticeable in the case of the East London Collegiate, where the pupils are housed in the old Princess Avonue School, a building that was condemned and abanded as a public school several years ago, but with the increase in high school students was renovated and overhauled for the purpose.

It has no auditorium and is badly divided inside, as well as being badly ventilated. The heating has also been a problem, something over $2,000 having been spent during the last summer in putting the furnace into shape for the winter. It is the only large school in the city still heated by hot air, and last winter this proved totally unsuitable, as at times the temperature fluctuated from almost freezing point to very warm. The lack of an auditorium is felt, as it is necessary for the stu-dents to march over to the Central Collegiate every time they want to hold a mass meeting, this involving a waste of time and causing a certain amount of confusion. South London Collegiate is - not much better off, old Victoria School being used for this purpose. An auditorium is closer at hand here in the new Victoria School, but the classrooms and space in the Collegiate proper are not entitled for the

The estimated cost of the construction of these three is in the neighborhood of $500,000. Several members of this year's board were outspoken in their opinions that new collegiate accommodation was needed, but nothing definite was done this year. There is no public school program for 1924, and in the opinion of officials and trustees, it should be a secondary school year.

Dispels Popular Idea of Huge Wastes, and Sees Bright Future For Country.

Labrador, so often pictured as a uge stretch of waste land, dismal and bleak, is in reality a country of un-told potential wealth and boundless opportunity, Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, he distinguished head of the Grenell Mission in Labrador, told a great assembly of students in the Central Collegiate auditorium this morning. The noted visitor, who delivered morning address at The Adveriser's invitation, made a distinct impression on his youthful hearers. His message was one of faith in the great country which he himself has done so much to build up. In simple phraseology, Dr. Grenfell unfolded the drama and romance of the sparsely populated north country, and told the oys and girls that on them will est the responsibility of transforming Labrador into a country of re-Durce and prosperity.

The distinguished pioneer deplored the general ignorance of Labrador's history, her achievements and aspirations. Even now it was impossible to tell who owned her, Canada or Newfoundland. And yet some day the immense area where Dr. Grenfell has labored for so many years would become one of the most cherished possessions of the British empire. "I like speaking to you, young people," Dr. Grenfell said, "because our country's future depends so much on you. Just now there is not a person from the Atlantic to the Pa-cific, who can tell who Labrador belongs to, and perhaps you think it is not of great importance. But if you not of great importance. But if you lived in British Columbna, you would always feel regret that Canada had lost Alaska. And if you knew the extent and the possibilities of Lab-rador you would not like Canada

British Government Decides To Accept Suggestion of Lord Crewe.

Associated Press Despatch

Paris, Nov. 21.-Lord Crewe, the British ambassador, received instructions from London this morning, regarding the note the allies are to send to Germany. It was then an-nounced that the council of ambas-Sadors would meet this afternoon.
One little word—the word "consult"
—is what has been delaying final action by the council on the note since Monday, it appears from to-day's developments. day's developments. reached by the ambassadors' decision on that day was that the decision would set forth the allied demand that the military clauses of the peace treaty be complied with, and that if Germany failed to satisfy that de-mand, the allies would "consult" as to what action the situation called in the French cabinet meeting Monday afternoon. It was declared that the necessity thus imposed upon France to "consult" her allies every time action was required was just what Germany was relying upon— that no step forward would be made if after making the concession to the British government on the elimination of any reference to penalties, the hands of the French government should still remain tied.

After consultation between Jules Cambon and Lord Crewe on that point the British ambassador suggested another word to s govern-ment, which he thought might satis-fy London, and at the same time would remove the objections of French cabinet. It is understood the British accepted the modification, which amounts to tacit acceptance of the French reservation of the right to act separately if Germany's attitude should make action necessary

Judgment has been sought on this issue by this particular firm as a test case and the decision of the judge applies to all manufacturers in the area mentioned. J. C. Elliott, K. C., and R. Ivey appeared for the company, and the city solicitor, T. G. Meredith, for the city. The case lasted all through the morning session until 4:30 in the afternoon. In the process of questioning City Clerk Baker, Mr. Elliott elicited the information that the cierk had approached mation that the cierk had approached several ratepayers in the annexed district with a view to adding their names to the petition for annexa-tion in 1912 and that he had used the argument of a fixed period of assess-ment at 15 mills on the dollar as part of his statement to them on the ques-

Mr. Baker said he did this on the advice and at the request of several members of the special committee of the city council formed in 1912 to deal with the matter. Not Legally Possible.

Mr. Meredith, quoting the public schools act, stated that it was not legally possible for any municipality in Ontario to exempt any part of itself from payment of school taxes, and added that according to this rule and to several decisions of the privy council the agreement made by the city in 1912 as to the annexation of Pottersburg and Ealing in regard to this exemption was illegal and that the residents out there had been granted exemption at the expense of granted exemption at the expense of the ratepayers in the rest of the city. In reserving judgement, Justice Kelly, with a large array of exhibits before him, said he needed some time in which to consult the authorities on cases cited. There was a question raised at the opening of the case by Mr. Elliott as to the authority of the supreme court in trying this case, as supreme court in trying this case, as he held that only the Ontario Rail-way Board had the necessary authority being responsible for the original agreement. Justice Kelly leaned to the belief that his court had power to deal with this appeal, though he reserved his decision on this as in the settlement of the case itself.

MEN OF ST. MARK'S PARISH. A pleasant re-union of the men of the parish of St. Mark's Church, East London, was held in the schoolroom last evening, when a splendid supper was provided and the tables waited on by the members of the Ladies' Guild. Between sixty and seventy were in attendance. The toast to the king was proposed by the chair-man, Mr. M. Garrett, the president of the association; the country by Mr. Langford, the church by the rector, the Rev. A. L. Beverly, and the ladies by Mr. Webb. The address of the occasion was delivered by Dr. Alfred Grant, president of the Men's Association of St. Paul's Cathedral, who spoke admirably on "Our duty to the church and the country.' An enjoyable musical program was provided, including songs by Mr. Wright and violin numbers by Bruce Wills. A brief outline of the program for the winter's work was given by MEMORIAL METHODIST BAZAAR. Members of the Ladies' Aid of the Robinson Memorial Methodist Church used the Clarence street rooms of bazaar they staged yesterday after-noon. The various booths were prettily decked in pastel shades and charmingly offset the dainty wares. In charge of the numerous departments were the following: Handkerchiefs, Mrs. C. Zeigler, Miss M. Kennedy; novelties, Mrs. L. Smith; knitting, Mrs. E. Goldsmith, Mrs. H. Wilson; baby booth, Mrs. W. J. Wray Mrs. F. Earl Johnston; aprons, Mrs Charles Cattermole, Mrs R. G. Howe Mrs. J. Scandrett; towels, Miss Haw-kins, Mrs. W. J. Lince, Mrs. Hiles, Mrs. Powell and Miss Russell: hom cooking, Mrs. A. N. Southen, Mrs. John Francis, Mrs. R. Trowhead and Mrs. Leonard. During the afterno tea was served under the direction of a committee composed of Mrs. Ernest Tremeer (convener), Mrs. Roy Cunningham and Mrs Glovne. These ladies were also in charge at the noor hour, when nearly 100 persons were served with luncheon. In the even-ing a splendid musical program was furnished by Mrs, Grant Harris' orchestra. Final reports are not yet completed, but it is expected that at least $250 will have been realized. KNOX CHURCH BAZAAR. The holding of the Ladies' Aid annual bazaar on Friday, Nov. 23, will at the same time be the formal opening of the new gymnasium the Knox Presbyterian Church, Various departments of the church have been engaged in preparations for the bazaar for weeks past and the results this year are considered a bet-ter display of articles than the ladies have ever had to offer. The erec-tion of booths and the arranging of the decorations are being looked after by the men of the congrega-tion, led by A. M. McDonald and W. H. Downing. Afternoon tea will be served and the musical program which is being prepared should prove of exceptional interest. Entrance will be from 2 to 10:30 by the Bruce

OFFICERS ELECTED. The election of officers was a feature of particular interest at the regular meeting yesterday afternoon of the Willing Workers' Mission Band of the Wellington Street Methodist Church. Those chosen were the following: President, Miss Helen Mitchell; first vice-president, Jack Aldis; second vice-president, Austin Davies;

Bent, Donald Sullivan and Grace Stillson. Mrs. Brice, leader of the Chalmers Presbyterian Church Mission Band, was a visitor at the meet-ing and gave the Willing Workers an interesting insight into what is eing accomplished by other bands. Instructive missionary readings were given by Irene Burnett and Helen Mitchell. The Bible lesson was read

FERGUSON SAYS OTTAWA

A Guaranteed First Mortgage Investment

MONEY invested in Guaranteed Mortgage Certificates of The Canada Trust Company is surrounded with security of the highest type. For every hundred dollars you invest, securities of equal value are definitely set aside. Without exception those securities are authorized by the Government as proper investments for trust funds. First Mortgages, which form the bulk of security Certificate-owners are authorized investments. The Directors of The Canada Trust Company limit Mortgage Loans to 50 per cent. of the values fixed by the Company's own salaried inspectors.

Sworn, audited reports showing amounts invested in Mortgage Certificates together with detailed lists of securities actually set aside for the protection of certificate-owners are sent to the Government of the Province of Ontario in January, April, June and October of each year. Government Officials periodically confirm those reports and inspect the Company's books, securities and accounts.

In addition to that unassailable security and strict safe-guards, the Company's Paid-up Capital and Reserve Fund totalling $1,700,000 is pledged to guarantee payment to investors of their principal and interest when due.

The money you have for investment should be surrounded with Canada Trust security. You are relieved of all the worry and inconvenience so frequently encountered by investors who lend upon the security of mortgages and promissory notes.

Your money begins to earn interest from the day your cheque for $100 or more is received. The rate is:—

Special Radio to The Advertiser. Refuge Harbor, Greenland, Nov. 20 The big night is coming on rapidly. The sun is seven degrees below the southern horizon at midday and the stars are constantly visible over us, adding to their numbers and moving in great circles above our heads like illuminated hands of a giant clock. The North Star is almost and companionship which the native loves, for above all he is a social animal. It hardly seems possible that we occupy here the center of a region that has been so extremely hostile to every British, American and Norwesian expedition, while we ourselves are so well and comfortable in our winter quarters. We are near the place where the Franklin party made its last stand. On the hill above our little harbor we can look up the coast a few miles to their winter quarters.

Mrs. Lawrence Quick, Sandwich, Ont., writes: "My little boy, 6 years old, had a bad cold which turned to bronchitis. I tried everything I thought would be best for it, but did not see him getting any better. I was told to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after giving him two bottles he got wonderful relief. I cannot praise it enough."

Martin Urges More Co-operative Marketing For Farmers in Province.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Nov. 19. - Premier G. Howard Ferguson of Toronto does not aspire to go to Ottawa, he told the convention of Ontario Conservatives in annual session here this afternoon. Ontario has always and will

The convention by resolution declared that it had no objection to a Dominion Conservative convention provided it be understood that Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen was to be undisputed as party leader. It was in associating himself with this resolution that the premier of Ontario made it clear that he had no designs on the federal leadership of the Conservative party, but remained content to "dominate Ontario." The convention "dominate Ontario." The convention was attended by over 600 delegates, representing every riding in the pro-

Applaud Meighen.

When Hon. Mr. Meighen rose to speak shortly following the passage of this resolution, he was greeted by applause.

The Conservative leader referred to the halibut treaty which a Canadian minister had signed instead of the British ambassador at Washington. The treaty was to be the means of "repairing our shattered autonomy," he said. It had been conceived by Premier King and his colleagues that if the British ambassador could be elbowed from the scene a new era would be inaugurated in Canadian diplomacy. A hitch, however, had occurred in the treaty, and although the Canadian signatures had been appended for many months, it had not yet been retified by the and although the Canadian signatures had been appended for many months, it had not yet been ratified by the United States. None the less, Premier King had proclaimed as one of the important results of the imperial conference that Britain was willing to accord Canada power to sign treaties alone, if she preferred to adopt that course in securing results.

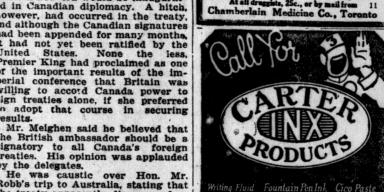

Mr. Meighen said he believed that further investigation into the possi-bility of bringing coal from Alberto John R. MacNichol of Toronto, the expectations, local dealers claim. Each customer, too, is reported to be perfectly satisfied with the western fuel and it is expected that thousands of tons will be ordered again after the first of January.

Although Sir Henry Thornton an Although Sir Henry Thornton announced that a temporary reduced freight rate would be allowed for a month or so, local dealers received all consignments at $7 to $9 a ton cost for transportation. This, of course, is substantially lower than the rate which existed in the summer, but it is still $2 to $3 higher than consumers are generally willing Representatives of the Wm. Bu Fanny S. Stinchcombe Contests chanan Coal Company declared they received 59 carloads, every pound of which was seld as fast as it arriv-ed. They anticipate that by the first of the new year a permanent rate of about $6 will be fixed. This will mean that the retail price will be from $11 to $13.

"Alberta fuel has been exceptionally satisfactory," a member of the Buchanan Company said. "Not a single complaint has been recorded. The prevailing price, while the coal lasted, was $15 a ton. When the western grain crop has been shipped, which will be by the first of the new year, dealers will doubtless order more Alberta coal. The main thing s for Ontario to register a demand sufficient to warrant the lowering of freight rates.

He added that small quantities of the fuel cost $9 a ton to ship, but consignments in 12 to 24 carload lots were reduced to $7. Ultimately it is expected this rate will be further reduced to $5 or $6.

The fuel situation in London satisfactory in every respect. J. D. Hunt, of the Hunt Coal Company, said. Demand is not as brisk as anticipated, and there is positively no possibility of a shortage. Provided citizens can pay $18 a ton for American anthracite they can get all they desire. Coke is bringing $15 a ton.

St. Peter's Cathedral Is Scene of Pretty Wedding

Miss Angela McPhillips Became the Bride of Mr. Louis Pocock This Morning.

One of the loveliest weddings of the season took place this morning at St. Peter's Cathedral, when Angela McPhillips, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McPhillips, was married to Louis Owen Pocock, son of Mrs. John Pocock of Toronto and the late John Pocock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. Dignan of Chatham, cousin of the bride.

Promptly at 10:30 o'clock the bride party entered the church, which was effectively decorated. Masses of yellow and white mums with tall palms were banked in the sanctuary and along the altar rail, and were elbow length, also graceful clusters of white pomposs tied with chiffon streamers were used on the pews in the center aisle. Tall standards of shaggy yellow and white mums were arranged in the main aisle, joined with garlands of smilax. The pre dieu, where the pretty young bride took her place in the sanctuary, was decked with pink and white pom-poms.

The bride was preceded down the aisle by a charming trio of attendants. Little Miss Rosamund Pocock, daughter of Dr. Hubert Pocock and Mrs. Pocock of Toronto, made a dainty flower-girl, wearing a frock of pale green georgette over pink, trimmed with French flowers. A green band was arranged in her fair hair, caught at the side with a cluster of flowers, and she carried; a colonial bouquet of Butterfly roses and lily of the valley. She also wore pink slippers and green socks.

Mrs. A. M. McConnell of Boone, lowa, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and wore a rich gown of French blue cut velvet with a clever side-drape caught with French flowers. Miss Moya Flannigan black satin with a black hat. A buf-lock stain w

Mr. and Mrs. Pocock left later on a honeymoon which will be spent in Montreal and Quebec. For traveling the bride donned a smart suit of fog color, with fox trimmings and a becoming hat of navy blue with a feather ornament. Upon their return they will reside in London.

Among the guests, numbering 150, were many from out of town, including Dr. Hubert Pocock and Mrs. Pocock of Toronto; Mrs. Sharpe of Toronto; Miss McPhillips of Toronto; Dr. and Mrs. Quinlan of Stratford and Mrs. George Laing, Senior, of Kitchener.

Healthy Mother Merry Children Happy Home

TO maintain a happy home the housewife must keep in good health. Her duties are many and various, and it seems as if every other member of the family depended very much on her.

Stress the "Love, Honor" Part of the Marriage Ceremony and Soft-Pedal "Obey"

If You Would Have Marital Happiness.

A man asks me how he can make his wife obey him. He says that he has forbidden her to use rouge and powder, and she continues to adorn herself with a hand-painted complexion. He also has forbidden her to go to the movies, and she goes right along, putting in

There is no charge against the lady, you understand. She doesn't neglect her home or her family. She is a splendid wife and mother. There is nothing the matter with her except that she won't mind her husband, and he wants to know how he can make her obey him.

The old English law granted a man the right to control his wife by beating her, provided he did not use a stick bigger around than his thumb. But in these emancipated days the man who undertook to discipline a lady with a rod, even if she was married to him, would find himself in the police court, and subsequently in the divorce court also. Likewise public opinion does not countenance the chastisement of dis-obedient wives, for the conventions of polite society do not permit a man to raise his hand against a woman no matter how much he would like to do so. There remains, then, only moral suasion. This is generally effective if indirectly applied, for it is easiest thing in the world to work a woman if you go about it the right away, and there are mighty few things that a husband can't jolly his wife into doing.

All that a husband has to do to make his wife eat out of his hand is just to tell her how much he loves her, and admires her, and appreciates everything she does for him, and how happy it would make him if she would do a certain thing, or how doing some other thing is a blemish on her otherwise perfect character, or looks. She will gulp it all down, and be so obedient to his wishes that she will outdo Patient Griselda herself.

But to order a woman to do anything! To tell her where she gets on and where she gets off! To come right out flat-footed, and assert his marital authority! To forbid her to do this, and to do that! And especially for a mere husband to dictate to a woman about her clothes, and her makeup! To treat her as if she were an idiot child! Oh, la la! How does any man ever get that way? And where's the fool-killer, that he doesn't get the poor simp!

Any woman in the world with a spark of spirit in her would rebe against such treatment. Any woman with a grain of pep in her system would put on another daub of paint, and a fresh coat of kalsemine, and would put on another daub of paint, and a fresh coat of kalsomine, and pluck a few more hairs out of her eyebrows, just to prove that she could do as she darned pleased if she was forbidden by her husband to help nature out a little in the matter of looks. Any woman who has the backbone of a fishing worm would haunt the movies, if her husband arbitrarily told her that she shouldn't go, just to show him that the days when a wife was a slave and had to have her master's permission to go off the place are ended, and that this is 1923 instead of 1723.

No, my friend, there is no way to make your wife mind you unless she wants to. If she isn't willing to do your way because she wants to please you, and thinks your way is a good way, there's no help for you. The wife who can be made to obey is just as extinct

But why do you want your wife to obey you? I know that a lot of husbands suffer from this "wife-obedience" complex, but, believe me, it is a mental affliction of which they should try to cure themselves.

For, stripped to the bone, it is nothing but a mean and ignoble desire to tyrannize over the one human being that is in a man's desires on her, and to make her do what he wants instead of granting her the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, in

A man can't excuse himself for trying to dominate his wife by saying that he is wiser than she is, and a better judge of what is proper, for, as a general thing, a man's wife has got just as much sense as he has about things in particular, and a thousand times more sense about women things. The only husband, for instance, who has got a right to chirp about his wife's clothes is a man dressmaker. What is a banker, or a manufacturer, or a greengrocer that he should set himself up as an authority on hats and tell his wife that she may or may not wear such a shape headgear

And, aside from the folly of a man's trying to make his wife obey him, there is the crime of the thing, because it kills so much happiness unnecessarily. Half of the joy of living comes in being able to gratify little personal tastes and whims, and to do as we please to gratify title personal tastes and whiths, and to do as we please in simple matters without having anybody interfere with us. Free-dom. Personal liberty. These are the eternal passions of the human heart that are stronger than any human love, and those who try to deprive us of them do so at their peril.

Why, half the trouble with matrimony is that husbands and wives make of it a struggle for mastery. Each wants to rule the other. Each wants to force the other to do his or her way. Each wants to make the

More homes have been wrecked by domestic tyranny than by any other one thing. So don't try to make your wife obey you, Mr. Man. You can't do it without breaking her heart, and her spirit, and making her hate you, and it isn't worth the price.

Your Vote.

In one way it is regrettable that there is to be no mayoralty election in London this year. Practice has not take the trouble to vote for anything else.

This is a mistake and a serious blunder

All the spending bodies are going to be elected, and the men placed in office who can vote away the money of the ratepayers or conserve their cash resources.

Your vote for an alderman has just as much power in influencing the action of the 1924 council as your vote cast for a mayor.

Your vote can determine who shall represent you on the board of education, and the board of education is the biggest individual spending body in the city of London.

Your vote can have its voice in the spending of this amount, or in the election of trustees who will lend their energy to the bringing down of this amount to a point where i will meet the ability of the ratepayers to pay a bill that has gone from a little over a quarter of a million in 1914 to over an estimated million for 1924.

Your vote is challenged by the board of education appeal, despite the fact that there is no vote for mayoralty.

Mayor Wenige.

Mayor Wenige saw nine o'clock will vote for a mayor when they will The mayor would not have objected to a fight for it; he had his artillery pretty well in place; the printers' ink was all ready to talk and the billboards had spoken.

Apparently there were a large number of false motions engaged in by those who were cantering around the ring previous to the calling of time for the actual business.

While there was not a candidate n sight who could have taken Mayor Wenige's measure, it must be a matter of some satisfaction to him to have secured the office without a contest. There is always the human element present, and it must have been some little satisfaction to receive the office without a contest. Mayor Wenige should take this tribute not only as a personal matter, but in the greater degree as a responsibility that he cannot elude or depart from.

He can go into 1924 with the added strength that none came up at the contest to try and unseat him.

G. A. Wenige is mayor for 1924. The citizens put up no candidate against him. Having put him there. he merits support and sympathy in a larger measure than he received it

He was too ruthlessly disillusioned for anger until he saw Katy watching. He shoved the letter to her. "What does it mean?"

"That she didn't know I wore overalls and couldn't buy orchids until she saw me at the building yesterday."

"And now she doesn't want you to take her to the dance? Then she's too mean to bother about. I'd write back and say I was mighty glad unforeseen circumstances were seen in time to

Katy had not gone from class to class alone; she had not found herself always on the edge and never in the midst of happy groups as Denny had for the last two weeks; nor had Katy strutted with bonny self-satisfaction because of Lou's smile.

Denny crumpled the letter in his pocket, tearing to bits the envelope with the "rear" written under the address. He felt like a thief tracked to his haunt.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results.

Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ counces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 counces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and pleasant—children like it.

"There is a proper way of doing everything, even to the boiling of an egg." was the keynote of a delightful talk given yesterday before the Nicholas Wilson Chapter, I. O. D. E., by Mrs. J. W. Russell. The talk was entitled "Housework—Is It An Art Or a Drudgery?" and was the second of a series given by Mrs. Russell on the subject.

Mrs. Russell, who by the way is a poet of distinction, contends that housework can be made into an art. She believes that all women would go crazy if it were not for this saving fact.

Fine Program For Year. The Nicholas Wilson Chapter has a very fine program before it for the where the meeting was held. The chapter expects to secure outside speakers, and such subjects will be discussed as Art, the City of Longuery of the chapter expects with the city of Longuery of the company of the comp don, and so on. Some of the mothers were in favor of doing away with Christmas gifts for friends and putting in their place the distribution of Christmas cheer. They believed that the true spirit of Christmas was being lost in the multitude of Christmas presents given each year. People were going to the extreme in the gift end of Christmas. Children, and grown-ups as well, should be taught that it is more blessed to give than receive. An interesting feature of the program was a paper entitled "When Mother Looks At Me," given by Mrs. V. Box. Another paper on "The Environment of a Child's Life at Home and at School," by Miss Helen Barbor, was read by Mrs. F. G. Wade. The program also included a vocal solo by Mrs. Harry Morton and Mrs. Granger, and an instrumental duet by Mrs. Yakes (mouthorgan) and Miss Mildred Yakes (guitar). The club has accepted an invitation to be present at Tuesday's meeting of the Chesley avenue club and give part of the program. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Gibson and the Misses Vining, the meeting being held at the home of Mrs. Gibson, Adelaide street.

MEET AT DUFFERIN HALL.

At the meeting of the London Life Club held last evening plans were made for a treat and a Christmas tree to be taken to one of the local homes for children. A number of the garments being made for the Day Nursery were brought in last evening. The girls are making 65 petticoats and night dresses for the children at the nursery. Groceries and clothes were sent to a family in distress this week by the club. The girls also planned to make towels or whatever is most needed for the Shelter. An interesting number of the meeting was the review of a French story, Maria Chatdelaine, translated by W. H. Black. This interesting talk was given by Mrs. Frieda Stevens. Archie McKishnie To Address Kiwanis Club Luncheon This Week.

Archie McKishnie, who speaks to the London Kiwanis Club at their regular meeting next Friday, in con-nection with the national book week nection with the national book week, is one of the best-known writers on Canadian natural life. In this department of Canadian literature, his several books rank among the finest. Born in New Scotland, Ontario, he has traveled the length and breadth of Canada by night and by day in the intimate study of the creatures of which he writes with inimitable charm. Mr. McKishnje is a veteran newspaperman, and a brother of newspaperman, and a brother of Jean Blewett, the well-beloved Canadian authoress. Not a few of Mr. McKishnie's articles and books deal with a country which is familiar to Londoners, Rondeau and other places in this district.

FUNERAL OF WELL-KNOWN ENGINEER IS HELD TODAY

The funeral of Wilfrid B. Weller, well known C. P. R. engineer who died in this icty on Monday, was held this afternoon from the residence of his father-in-law, William Shortfill, 884 Elias street, at 3 o'clock.

Interment was made at Woodland Cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. Mr. McIntosh of King Street Presbyterian Church, and Worship-ful Master Herbert McNabb of St. John's Masonic Lodge 209A. Mem-bers of the lodge attended in a body. Mr. Weller is survived by his wife and father, Dr. Weller of Welland.

Lively Session Over the Fox Assault Case in Police Court.

CASE IS DISMISSED

The assault charge against James Fox caused more than the usual excitement in police court today, proceedings warming up to such an extent that Mr. Fox, wife of the defendant, had to be removed from the court by order of the magistrate. Mrs. Fox insisted upon speaking out of her turn and questioning evidence of constables and after being warned several times was finally escorted from the court until she was asked to give evidence.

Magistrate Graydon finally missed the charge as well as one of intoxication preferred against Fox, who was defended by J. M. Donahu Things did ont look any too bright for Fox when the court observed he had been in the toils again and again before his case got under way.

The complainant said Fox had been pestering her around the house. She didn't want to lay a charge against the prisoner, but wanted police protection from him. She stated Fox came to the door of her house last night and she went out and Fox tried to kick her.

"threw a little piece of iron I had at him," she said.
"Was he intoxicated?" asked Chief Birrell.

"Was he intoxicated?" asked Chief Birrell.
"Yes, he had drink in him," said witness. "He struck me last Friday night. He has been at the house every night."
"Why does he come to your house? Does he get liquor there?" asked Mr. Graydon.

"I didn't say any such thing," de-nied Mr. Fox. "I have a right to

D. J. TALLANT THINKS

Believe Citizens Want Harmony Between Utilities and Council.

Mayor George Wenige does no sign the public utilities checks. He signs all other municipal checks, it was explained by city hall authorities today.

This is one reason why D. J. Tallant, chairman of the London Housing Commission, and Labor nominee, is seeking election to that body, he statseeking election to that body, he stat-ed today. "I think that the people desire a change," he explained. "That they are satisfied there has not been sufficient co-operation during the past year between the utilities comnission and the city council."

The "pay list scrap" is still fresh in The 'pay list scrap' is still fresh in the memory of city councillors and the public alike, but since that time it develops that the mayor has not been asked to sign the checks from that department, after his refusal when the fight was on last spring to publish city hall salaries.

council fights. It is the first time in several years that a real fight is promised for the former offices.

Brigadier McAmmond, head of the local division of the Salvation Army, returned from Walkerville last night where he conducted special week-end services. Brigadier McAmmond also paid a visit to Chatham and Ridgetown, where he inspected the new officers' dwellings, which are being built by the Salvation Army.

Remuneration of the City Employees Will Not Be Left Until Closing Days.

It is proposed that the city council of 1924 establish a precedent by dealing with the civic wage and salary question early in the year.

Just how unsatisfactory has been the old method is exemplified by the mere fact that the 1923 salary question awaits the final consideration of the council after the election. What will happen now is problematical, but the councillors saw fit to leave the issue in abeyance until their next session. The division was created when certain members question whether the proposed increases should be retroactive to April 1 or the first of the year.

Ald. Leonard Douglass, chairman of the board of works, who oppose what he termed "wholesale increase due to departmental rivalry," stated that the present system of dealing at the end of the year with the salary question was ill-advised and objec-tionable.

As an illustration of this, the majority of the several recommenda-tions just approved were submitted as long ago as November of last year, and then sent on by the present council by the council of 1922.

SERVICE OF PRAISE

St. Andrew's Choir and Assisting Artists Score Distinct Success.

Among the outstanding musical events of the season was the recital given in St. Andrew's Church by Fredericka Alden of Detroit and the Hausch Quartet. The voice of the singer who came to assist the choir in their service of praise was the voice of an artist soprano capable of lovely inflections, it charmed those who had gathered in the church. Fredericka Alden is also possessed of temperament, and sings with dramatic feeling.

SLASHING BATTLE

Associated Press Despatch. New York, P.v. 20.—Kid Norfolk, arlem negro, tonight received the idges' decision over Battling Siki, Senegalese conqueror of Georges Carpentier, in a slashing, spectacular fifteen-round bout at Madison Square Garden for the negro light-heavy-weight championship. Siki proved a wild, free-swinging battler, but was badly punished by Norfolk's relent-less attack.

Norfolk drew blood from the Battler's nose, but took a shower of rights and lefts to the head.

Siki set a fast pace in the third, ocking Norfolk with two terrific swings to the jaw. Norfolk's jabs kept blood flowing from Siki's nose. Norfolk opened a cut over Siki's left eye in the fourth, and battered the legalese about the head. Siki's face was a crimson smear as the hell rang. Siki connected with two wild swings in the fifth that sent Norfolk staggering back, but during the most of the round the Kid beat a steady tattoo on his opponent's

The name of Spalding is known to every boy in the country. But probably as head of one of the large sporting goods houses; not for the many things for which he is known to baseball history. He was one of the veterans of the game—a brilliant pitcher in his younger days, an ardent reformer of the game at periods when dishonesty came near swamp-ing it. Consult the records, and you will find that A. G. Spalding, from 1872-1876, while playing on Boston and Chicago teams, was the idol of the pitcher's box. The small town usually holds the big player. Scouts have to be looking in unexpected corners. Had such a scout appeared at Rockford, Ill., he would have sent a telegram to his boss saying, "The Forest City Base-ball Club has a wonder here pitch-ing." Spalding thus put his team on the map in 1865-66. But he did so at great expense of time, which meant that his salary in a grocery store was docked. He finally went over to

Canadian Rugby Next Year.

Windsor, Nov. 20 .- With the physical training and recreation committee of the board of education favoring dropping American football from the sport curriculum of the collegiate, the Windsor secondary school may be a contender in the W. O. S. S. A. Canadian rugby series in 1924. Principal A. E. Hooper this afternoon was instructed by the committee to arrange a conference with principals of the technical and Walkerville schools, with a view to creating sentiment for the Canadian code. "The American game is not a good school sport," said Frank W. Begley, chairman of the committee, "in that only a chosen few can take part, and, in addition, the uniforms are very much more expensive than those rewired for the Canadian game.'

Everything the Farmer Trades In

Local Market

The Tuesday market was a remarkably small one, considering the mild weather. Only half a dozen vendors took up positions on the local square, and shoppers seemed about as scarce as growers. and shoppers seemed about as scarce as growers.

On the square this morning apples were the largest offering, with potatoes a close second.

In the hay and grain section there were 15 loads of hay sold, with $13.50 as a top price, although the bulk of the sales fell well below that figure.

Oats arrived in moderate quantities, with a slight softening in price, the top quotation being $1.42 per cwt.

clared taboo. This drastic action on the part of managers, who apparently have forgotten the romance of their own youth, is the result of too much youth, is the result of too much "mashing" in London film houses. They claim that something radical had to be done. Flirting in theatres was becoming too common and the unsullied reputation of moving picturedom was beginning to show spots.

The foundation on which the managers base their arguments is the susceptibility of the feminine gender to giggling. Whenever the bold and to giggling. Whenever the bold and naughty swains give them a fond caress they are prone to chortle with unbecoming laughter. This distracts the attention of other movie enthus iasts and has been the subject of much adverse comment.

Unfortunately these giggling periods are said to be more pronounced in the tense dramatic moments when the hero is returning to his gray-haired mother or the milk-fed heroine is in the act of pinning Old Glory to the mast. Just at these gripping moments a lady in the nce giggles. Then she often follows it up with a tender reprimand such as "Ah, quit it, will yuh?" Altogether such behavior has a singularly de-pressing effect on the remainder of the audience.

"When a patron tries that sort of thing in my theatre he is speedily evicted," William Stewart, manager of the Patricia, said. "We don't have much of it, however, because there are no flark places."

Groh Pays Boss Sincere Tribute

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 19.—"I always thought," said Heinie Groh, leaning back on his little white cot at the Bethesda ricspital, "that John McGraw was a game sport. I don't think it any more; I know it. I've just been operated on. My knee is all right, and has been functioning nicely for many moons.

"When the big series was over I was all in. I could hardly stand up. But I went to John McGraw and told John just what ailed nie. Said John McGraw: 'You go nome. Then you go to a good hospital, get the best surgeon you can find and have an operation on your groins. Spare no expense, and send the bills to me. The surgeons say that when I come out of this hospital I'll be better than I've been for five years."

Poster-Judging Competition organized for the benefit of the Veterans' Associations-

To help solve the financial problems of the Veterans' Associations this Poster-Judging Campaign is being actively pushed throughout Canada.

It provides a game requiring skill, taste and judgment, one in which all the family can join. BOVRIL LIMITED has given £30,000 (about $138,888), and this provides 2,003 prizes of varying value. The first three are approximately as follows:

> $55.555 1st Prize 2nd Prize 3rd Prize

Every donor of $1.20 is presented a Ticket-folder on which are printed in full colors sixteen famous Bovril Posters.

Which are the 12 best, in order of merit, is what you must decide. The folder shows just how to do it.

It is a fascinating trial of taste and judgment to class these posters in the order which popular fancy will endorse. It is a real game which can be played over and over again, and in which young and old can join and which will interest visitors. And just think of the possible reward? A Prize which is a real fortune-and you help an excellent cause.

You can make as many trials as you like—a ticket-folder is sent for each donation of $1.20, thus donors of 12.00 would be presented with ten ticket-folders—though only one prize will be given to one person.

IMPORTANT-Donations should be made to any of the following organizations or their branches which are actively interested and ask your help:

Cabinet of East Students Legislature Will Decide Date For Event.

Yesterday's session of the legislature of the London East Collegiate was featured by a spirited debate on the question of whether a social even ing should be held.

After the house had convene Campbell Edwards, government minister, introduced the matter, stating that in the interests of good fellowship and friendship a social evening was most desirable and suggested the date of December 7, this being a Friday and near the end of the term. Finances were needed and a small admission should be charged. There would be dancing, games, refreshments, etc.

William Brooks, leader of the opposition, stated that the bill was incomplete in that it had stated no place nor the amount to be charged. He objected to the dancing part of the program and further moved that the date be changed.

Jack Rourke, premier, supported Mr. Edwards and said that social life was the basis of civilization and that therefore a social evening was most desirable. desirable.

Principal O'Neill spoke for the opposition, saying that dates suggested conflicted with examinations. December 14 would be the most satisfactory time to hold it. It was then moved and seconded that the date be moved to December 14.

Cries of question followed, a recount being necessary after the vote count being necessary after the vote was taken. Before the recount, however, Premier Rourke moved an amendment to the motion that it be held on the last day of school, December 21. It was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the cabi-net, who will report at the next ses-

CHOPIN PROGRAM

The Thomas Martin Chopin recital is become a part of London. It is cognized as an important event in the year's musical program. And Mr. Martin needs only announce his date to be assured of a splendid

Last night's recital at St. Andrew's Hall was a typical Martinian recital. The program carried the name of no other composer but Chopin, yet it was as varied as the most fastidious could wish. There were dreamy Nocturnes, breathing of twilight and soft winds and love. There were the lively Mazurkas, drawing up pictures of Polish maids and men dancing away the happy hours. There was the Grand Polonaise in A flat major, the beautiful and majestic dance of Po. nd, which brought the evening to a dignified and brilliant close. There were the whimsical Fantasies and the sturdy Ballade in A flat program carried the name of no and the sturdy Ballade in A flat major, as well as a number of the most attractive Preludes those who listen to him with magnetic chords. With him, it is not possible to sit coldly and watch the technique to sit coldly and watch the technique of a master artist. Technique and the pianist are forgotten as the listener's heart is stirred with the beautiful thoughts, the passions and the loves of the great Chopin, as they are interpreted by one who understands and understanding has been given the power to make them live again for his audience.

The program given last night was as follows: Three Preludes. Nos. 18

as follows: Three Preludes, Nos. 18, 21, 22; Nocturne, No. 7; Mazurka in A Flat Major, Nocturne, No. 8; Ballade in A Flat Major, Etude in C Minor, Nocturne, No. 15; two valses. C Sharp Minor and G Flat Major, Mazurka in C Sharp Minor, Grand Fantasie in F Minor, Etudes in A Flat Major and F Minor, Berceuse. mart Costume Clouses

A decided impetus has been given to the vogue for costume blouses by the variety and beauty of new models which have just arrived. The accepted popularity of the jacquette blouse is challenged by the new Russian tunic or Cossack blouse, which exemplifies the latest trend of continental influence on Fashion.

O YOU prefer the unadorned simplicity of lovely fabrics? Or the added charm of elaborate designs in multi-colored beads, or brilliant metallic embroidery? Attractive blouses of both styles are displayed on the second floor.

In lustrous Canton Crepe comes a long tunic of unrelieved black, heavily bordered with chiffon velvet and outlined at the neck by a simple embroidered design in black, at

Black embroidery as delicate as an etching, or the daintiness of Chantilly lace embellishes a gray canton crepe blouse. The slenderizing effect of the long narrow panels in the sleeve, and the blouse front, as well as the flattering softness of the roll collar enhance its appeal for the well-dressed matron $15.00

In effective contrast to the dark simplicity of these Blouses is the vivid color and elaborate metal embroidery of a tangerine blouse, in heavy canton. The kimono sleeve is daringly slashed to match the original draped treatment of the jacquette band $12.50

Midnight Blue Georgette, combined with a soft brocaded gray canton, has been used to fashion an unusual little blouse, in the becoming jacquette style. The transparent long sleeve of georgette is bound with gray, and finished with a soft little tie $15.00

As a suit blouse, or with your pleated skirt, a costume blouse achieves distinction.-Second Floor.
