CHANGES IN GERMAN NAVY.

Berlin, August 22.—Admiral von Diederichs has resigned his post as chief of staff of the navy. He has been succeeded by Vice-Admiral Ruechel. Admiral von Diederichs is the officer who as vice-admiral was in command of the German squadron of five cruisers in Manila Bay at the time Commander, now admiral, Dewey was operating against the Spaniards.

BELTS STUDDED WITH MONEY

Suspected Gypsies Held up for Explanations in New York.

Picturesque Servants Detained as Immigrants had More Than $35,000.

New York, August 22.—Elias J. Ivanovich, with his wife and eight children, from Serbia, were held over night by the immigration authorities at Ellis Island and this in spite of the fact that he has with him $25,000 in gold coin and $10,000 worth of jewelry. It was suspected they were gypsies, and until they could prove their good intent in coming to this country it was decided to look into their story. When it was seen that they were possessed of wealth that fairly took the breath from the examiners' apoplexy were in order.

Elias, the head of the family, is about 50 years old. He is more than six feet tall, and with his impressive bearing and picturesque attire could well pass for a picture of the ideal bandit. About his waist, beneath a Persian lamb coat, he wears a belt containing Spanish doubloons three deep. His watch chain is of massive silver studded with turquoises of large size.

No less gaudily attired was his oldest son, who likewise wore Mayan doubloons. His wife's ears held gold earrings nearly two inches long, and in the ears of his pretty daughter were large pearls.

CORNER STONE

Initial Function of the New Library Building Will be in Charge of Mayor.

A special meeting of the Library Board was held last evening with Chairman Thibodeau and Messrs. Scullard, Throby, Sheldrick, Smith, Davis, and Charteris present. The corner stone for the new library, was the principal point of discussion and the meeting was short.

It was moved by Chairman Thibodeau and seconded by Mr. Smith, that the architect's suggestion that there be two corner stones, one on each side of the entrance, be accepted.—Carried.

The north one—the most prominent one—to be inscribed: "Through the munificence of Andrew Carnegie."

Architect Wilson, had also suggested that the names of the present board be inscribed on the other stone, but their modesty would not allow them to do so, and only the date will be put on it. The ceremony will only be for the north stone, at which the Mayor will preside, and it was left with Chairman Thibodeau and Messrs. Scullard and Davis to look after the ceremony.

On motion of Messrs. Sheldrick and Sheldrick the architect was authorized to further engravings at the new building, the cost not to exceed $15.

Meeting adjourned.

IMPORTANT DECISION

Drainage Referee J. B. Rankin has handed down his decision in the drainage suit of Camden vs. Dresden and the Township of Chatham. This was as appeal from the report, plans, assessment and estimate of W. G. McGeorge upon the repair of that part of the Henson drain within the town of Dresden and crossing what is called the River road. The locality was inspected by the drainage referee and representatives of the parties in November last and again in May last.

The contention of Camden was that the washout across the River road was a matter of non-repair of the highway and had nothing whatever to do with the drainage work. The contention of Dresden, on the other hand, was that drainage work rendered necessary the original bridge or culvert over the drain, that there was no creek or watercourse of any kind in the line of the drain so as to make a bridge necessary for the use of the highway and, as the outlet of the drain was covered for about 21 rods from the river, that part across the road could not be considered in any way separate from the drain. The evidence of several engineers was taken and Drainage Referee J. B. Rankin has now made his report, in which he holds that the work to be done is part of the drain and not part of the road. That the town of Dresden has ample power to undertake the work and assess it. That the plan proposed by Mr. McGeorge is a permanent character and should be carried out in order to make the road safe for the travelling public. The appeal of the Township of Camden is dismissed with costs. Mr. Wilson, K. C. and Geo. E. Weir for Camden, J. W. Sharpe for Dresden, and J. S. Fraser for Chatham Township.

The Blenheim lacrosse team drove to Thamesville on Wednesday, and played their last league game with the Thamesville team. The Kegs won out easily, by a score of 4 to 0. They do not speak very highly of the treatment accorded them at Thamesville.

CANADA VS. U. S.

London, Aug. 22.—The Paris Journal says Sir Wilfrid Laurier, being asked why Canada did not join the United States, replied:—

"We should disappear." "French Canada would disappear much more quickly in that gigantic furnace than in the flood of Anglo-Saxon immigration. All who love the French language ought to wish for us to remain Canadians." "Besides," concluded the Canadian Premier, "there is nothing nowadays to foreshadow such a change."

MANY MATTERS

They Were Discussed at the Civic Board of Works Meeting Last Night.

A meeting of the Board of Works was held last evening in Harrison Hall with Chairman McKeough and Aldermen Mounteer and Waddell, City Engineer McNabb and City Solicitor Matthew Wilson present.

Different sections of the contract for the William and Sixth streets pavements were discussed and adjusted. The contract is to be signed to-day by Mr. VanVlack, president of the Dominion Paving Co. When the account of J. & J. Oldershaw, which had been referred, was being passed the engineer said, "we have a lot of trouble with J. & J. Oldershaw; they never have any work and just order it from their firms after we order it from them and sometimes they can get it right away and sometimes they can not. In the meantime the contractors have had the ground ready for the pipe when we order it and in our agreement with them we said we would supply them with the pipe and I have had to go on several occasions to J. & J. Oldershaw for what we want."

Chairman McKeough said he thought the engineer ought to write J. & J. Oldershaw concerning the matter.

The engineer was instructed to get out plans for Hilliard street sewer and have the contractors notified. The engineer brought up the subject of shed for the tools and machines of the city.

Ald. Mounteer said it was a very important matter and a site for it should be obtained.

Chairman McKeough thought the west end of Colborne street would make the best place for it, but the engineer thought it would not be large enough.

Chairman McKeough said they had not money enough to build it this year.

Engineer—Well, the machinery is just losing about 15 per cent. of its value yearly.

Ald. Waddell asked when the sewer was going to be used on Stanley avenue.

Engineer—Just when it's turn comes.

Ald. Waddell—I'd like to see a light steam power to pull the scraper. I think the steam roller damages the crossings too much.

The engineer replied that light steam power could not be had, as all the traction engines were in use in the country and the steam roller does twice as much work as two teams of horses and does it better.

TIE ON TRACK

Woodstock Small boy Arrested on the Serious Charge of Train Wrecking.

Woodstock, Ont., Aug. 22.—(Special.)—Edward Hennecker, a 15-year-old boy whose home is in Bright, is in jail here, charged with attempting to wreck a G. T. R. train last Monday night. That night as a freight train was going west on the Buffalo and Goderich division in the darkness it ran into a railroad tie, which had been placed across the tracks. The force with which the pilot struck the heavy tie broke it in two, and threw the pieces on each side of the track, otherwise there might have been a serious wreck. Chief Detective Day, of the G. T. R., went to Bright to investigate the case, and the result that he came to Woodstock yesterday and swore out a warrant against the lad Hennecker, who was employed by a farmer near Bright. Officers from this city arrested him last night. He denied his guilt, though Detective Day says he had the small for his age, and does not look as if he could lift a railroad tie.

NOTHING DEFINITELY DECIDED.

Montreal, Aug. 22.—A high official of the Allan Line stated this morning that nothing had been definitely decided regarding the ports of call for the South African ships. The ports will probably alternate, Cape Town being always the first stopping place. There will be no sailings to Delagoa Bay, as freight to the interior from there is much higher for outside products than for those of Portuguese East Africa production. Calling stations will be fixed later. The last ship from Montreal will be on Nov. 18. The next boat will be the Furness liner, from St. John or Halifax, Dec. 18.

FOUR MOUNTAIN CLIMBERS KILLED.

Grandevail, Switzerland, Aug. 22.—The bodies of two Londoners named Fearon and these of two guides, who started Aug. 19 to ascend the Wetterhorn, and who did not return, have been found by a search party near the summit of the mountains. Two of the party were apparently killed by lightning and two met their deaths by fall. The two Fearons killed were the Rev. R. B. Fearon and H. C. D. Fearon, and inspector of factories.

CONFUSED AND CONTRADICTORY

Are Telegrams About the Boer Generals—No Dissensions Among the Latter.

Have Been Trying to Avoid Anti-British Demonstrations—Kruger's Prestige lost.

ALL-YEAR PORT

Necessary in Order to Compete With the Morgan Combination—Many Wrecks.

London, Aug. 22.—The Brussels correspondent of the Times says that the telegrams from Holland have been confused and contradictory, but that it is plain that the Boer generals have done everything in their power to avoid arousing anti-British demonstrations, and that all reports regarding their future so-called "political programme" are premature. The rumors that Kruger reproached the generals are not credited in Brussels, and the reports of dissensions between the generals and their colleagues are unconfirmed.

The loss of prestige by Kruger and his party, says the correspondent, is shown by their lack of interest in their doing on the part of the Belgian press. Serious opinion does not assign to Leyds any status in the future political developments of South Africa.

CHAMBERLAIN TO SPEAK.

London, Aug. 22.—The Times Paris correspondent says that The Times returns to London immediately shows that they expect from Chamberlain a positive statement as to when autonomy will be granted.

GIGANTIC TRUST

Movement on Foot to Organize One With a Capital Some $25,000,000.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 22.—The Times to-day says: "Chas. D. Gates, president and general manager of the Turner, Day and Woolworth Hardware Company, has just returned from New York, where he conferred with capitalists who are promoting a $25,000,000 trust to take in all the axe manufacturing, handle manufacturing and grindstone manufacturing in this country and Canada, the plans to be operated under one management. Plans for the formation of the trust have been perfected and arrangements have already been made to take over the larger plants, though the deal may not be finally consummated for several months. Men of great wealth are interested in the project, which is to be financed by a big New York Trust Company. An offer of $1,000,000 has been made for the Turner, Day & Woolworth plant, but Mr. Gates refused to discuss the matter further than to state:—'Yours truly, I deal in axes.'"

A proposition has been made to this company, but as for discussing the matter in detail or its probable outcome, I cannot do so."

Despite the unwillingness of Mr. Gates to talk, it is stated on good authority that matters have so far progressed that options have been given on most of the plants desired."

BOATING TRIP

Aldermen Waddell reports making his initial trip in his new steel launch, sailing Tuesday morning for St. Clair River ports, and arriving safely at Port Lambton the same afternoon, being about eight hours on the way. The passage on the lake was rough, as the wind and sea were against the launch, yet she behaved well. He found the dredge, Ontario, at the mouth of the river tied up, the captain stating the weather was too rough to work in the channel. However, this did not deter him going out.

From Frank Martin's at the mouth of the St. Clair, and up that pretty stream through to Port Lambton, the trip was smooth and pleasant. Mitchell's Bay and the streams entering into it. Ald. Waddell thinks are ideal waters for cruising about. An electric railway to Mitchell's Bay from Chatham is wanted the worst way on account of both commerce and pleasure, and when the two places are thus connected the bay will become a most popular summer resort. It is more delightful there than at the Eau, and better fishing.

Mrs. Waddell and their sons, Howard, Jerrald and Tracy were of the party. The launch will return to Chatham the first of next week.

MAKES MILLIONS

In one Turnover Schwab Clears an Immense Pile—Some Big Figures.

Pittsburg, Aug. 22.—According to stories in banking circles, for the payment of $7,500,000 in cash to J. P. Morgan & Co., Schwab secured control of the Bethlehem Steel Co., and turned it over to the shipbuilding company for $10,000,000 of the latter company, $8,000,000 of its preferred stock and $2,000,000 of its common stock.

In other words, the United States Shipbuilding Company is reported to have paid to Schwab securities having a par value of $25,000,000 for a property for which Schwab paid $7,500,000 in cash.

FROM HUGH JOHN

Geo. G. Martin is in receipt of a letter from his old friend the Hon. Hugh John Macdonald, K. C., Winnipeg. Mr. Macdonald leaves this week for Kingussie, Badenoch, Scotland, where his mother and Mr. Martin were born. Mr. Martin's and Hugh John's mother played and romped together as young girls. The narrow river Spey divided Kinross and Ballyliff the latter estate being that of Capt. Clark the father of Hugh John's mother, and now the property of the family of Sir David Brewster, who are near kinsmen of Hugh John. Hugh John writes that he had the pleasure of meeting ex-Mayor T. A. Smith at Winnipeg, and that he was greatly impressed with the wide and enlightened grasp held by the ex-mayor on commercial and political questions, and that West Kent made a great mistake in not sending Mr. Smith to Dominion parliament, and hopes this error will be rectified next time. The ex-mayor also wrote Mr. Martin from Brandon.

REDUCED MAJORITY

London, Aug. 22.—H. W. Forster (Conservative) has been re-elected to the parliamentary vacancy in the Sevenoaks division of Kent, caused by his appointment to the Lord Commissionership of the Treasury. His majority was 891 votes over the Liberal candidate, Beaumont Morice. The contest centered on the Education Bill.

(At the last election in the west, or Sevenoaks, division of Kent, Mr. Forster defeated his Liberal opponent by 4,812 votes.)

ALL-YEAR PORT

Necessary in Order to Compete With the Morgan Combination—Many Wrecks.

London, Aug. 22.—A correspondent's letter in the Times agrees with the sentiments on the fast Atlantic line expressed by Robt. Redford, of Montreal. This correspondent says that the Canadian line must use an Atlantic port all the year round in order to compete with the Morgan combination.

In support of the argument against the use of the St. Lawrence River route, the correspondent gives a lengthy list, showing the important casualties to steamers on the St. Lawrence during the seasons from 1896 to 1902. There was a total of forty-four, ten of these being totally lost. The total tonnage of the forty-four steamers stranded was 150,527 gross, of which 31,282 tons were totally lost.

The correspondent says that, the St. Lawrence being only open about half of the year, these very serious losses have occurred during the course of about forty months.

LARGELY MATTER OF SUBSIDIES

London, Aug. 22.—Sir Robert Bodd, Premier of Newfoundland, sailed for New York yesterday. He thinks that if St. John's made a terminal port the passage from Liverpool will be shortened by 52 hours. The new service will be largely a matter of subsidies.

TWO FIRES IN A BUILDING AT SALT.

Galt, Ont., Aug. 22.—The fire brigade was called out last night about 11 o'clock to put out a fire in the shoe store of Wm. Hall, in the McTague Block, on Main street. A coal oil lamp carried by Mrs. John Boyd, who occupied the two upper flats as a dwelling, exploded, setting fire to some empty paper boxes, which threatened a serious conflagration, but was put out before much damage was done. Mrs. Boyd's clothing caught fire, and one of her hands was badly blistered. About two o'clock this morning large volumes of smoke were seen issuing from the upper story of the same building, and the firemen found a more serious fire making headway in the building. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd were aroused from sleep in a stupefied condition from fumes of smoke in their bedroom, and rescued with ladders. The building did not suffer much from the fire, and is fully insured in the Gore District Mutual. Hall's stock will be completely ruined by smoke and water. Insurance $3,000, divided among the Waterloo Mutual and Canadian and Ottawa.

LEGACY FROM CECIL RHODES

London, Aug. 22.—The Essex County Cricket says it hears that Cecil Rhodes bequeathed to the Countess of Warwick lands in South Africa which have been sold for $1,000,000.

The Earl and Countess of Warwick have an estate in Essex (Easton Lodge, Dunmow), which may account for local paper obtaining this item of news. The Countess, who years ago was referred to as "Babbling Brooks," and who was well known as Lady Brooks, the famous beauty, founded Brooke House, at Reading, for the training of women, and some time ago added to it a colonial department, in which women are taught cooking, housewifery, laundry work and dress-making. Some time before the death of Cecil Rhodes the Countess published an article on "Training girls for the Transvaal" in which she directly appealed to Andrew Carnegie for aid in the work. At the time the provisions of Mr. Rhodes' will were made public it was reported that he left a large sum of money to the Earl and Countess of Warwick, because the Countess, more than all other English women, best personified British imperialism from a feminine point of view; but the report was denied by an intimate friend of Mr. Rhodes, who was familiar with the contents of the will.

A BIG CAPTURE

William Leacock, John Milner and Detective McGregor went to the mouth of the river fishing yesterday. While Leacock and Milner were trolling they hooked a huge something. They thought at first it was Charlie Williams' sea serpent. When they got it in the boat, they discovered that it was a big fish. They got it into the rowboat. John Milner sat on the head and William Leacock sat on the tail. The fish made a violent effort with its tail and swished William overboard. Detective McGregor was called to admire the wonder, but he made the pair feel bad when he told them their capture was only a big dent fish. It was a large one, and weighed 40 pounds.

MAN ESCAPED

The man Ephraim Adair, of Blenheim, wanted on the charge of attempted rape, is still at large. Constable Grant and another constable went to arrest the fellow. A constable went to each door, but Adair left these houses by the window. He had proved before that he was a good runner, when he escaped at the Eau, and he again eluded the constable by fleetness of foot.

Judge Houston says that unless some way is found to pay constables sufficient to make them anxious to keep their prisoners, such escapes will be frequent. This is the second man who has escaped the constables this week and strange to say the men were wanted on similar charges.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 23.

MUNICIPAL UNION.

The second annual convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities will be held in Montreal about the middle of next month. Among the questions that are slated for discussion are:

- Provincial rights in municipal legislation.
- Municipal home rule.
- Proposal for a financial union, to facilitate loans at lower rates.
- The new telephone bill, as it concerns municipalities.
- Public ownership.
- Compulsory arbitration for corporations and employees operating public services.
- Power to appropriate property outside limits.
- Level railway crossings.
- Sinking fund investment.
- There are many important subjects "on the list" and the deliberations of the union cannot be otherwise than helpful in the solution of the many complex problems with which municipalities are called upon to deal.

CANADA TO THE FRONT.

A Canadian has been appointed the head of the Royal Commission to inquire into the conduct of the South African war. The chairman of the South African Commission, which is to investigate the whole conduct of the war and probe to the bottom the claims for losses by loyalists and Boers alike, is the Earl of Elgin, who was born at Monklands in 1849. It is perhaps one of the coincidences of history that the son of the man who governed Canada during the troublous times of 1849, and who was largely instrumental in founding the system of constitutional government under which we now live, should be elected to preside over the real work of the pacification of South Africa. Lord Elgin was educated at Eton and Oxford and succeeded his father as Earl of Elgin and Kincardine in 1893. His Lordship is a man of great learning and attainments, being especially facile in languages. His first public appointment was in 1886, when he became Treasurer of the Household and First Commissioner of Works. In the same year he was appointed Lord Lieutenant of Fifehire. From 1884 to 1889 he was Viceroy of India, and won much commendation for his conduct in that difficult post. A Liberal of the Liberals, his selection by the Conservative Government is a personal tribute of no small worth, and has been greeted with a chorus of approval on all sides of England, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, publicly congratulating the Government upon its choice.

THE DUSKY GEMS.

St. Thomas Times.

Unexpectedly the sporting reporter had been called upon to write up a wedding. "The bride," he wrote, "was enveloped in a dense fog, but moved down the aisle at a leisurely canter and looked every inch a winner."

THE UNFORTUNATE PREMIERS.

Truth, London.

"I greatly pity the colonial premiers. They are the lions of the moment, and as they come over here for the coronation, there is a competition for them at all society functions, whilst all those who have posed as imperialists invite them to dinners in order to parade their acquaintance with them. One premier is not enough at these festivities; consequently, all are generally invited, like a troupe of performing dogs."

What are Humors?

They are vitiated or morbid fluids coursing the veins and affecting the tissues. They are commonly due to defective digestion but are sometimes inherited.

How do they manifest themselves? In many forms of cutaneous eruption, salt rheum or eczema, pimples and boils, and in weakness, languor, general debility. How are they expelled? By which also builds up the system that has suffered from them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It is the best medicine for all humors.

OPEN TO ANYONE.

Commercial Tribune.
Rather than kill a king an anarchist has jumped overboard from an Atlantic liner. The example is not patented, and may be followed, not regarding whether the anarchist is reaching for kings, queens or bob-tail flushes.

CONSENSUOUS UNIONS.

St. Louis Republic.
Mental and physical unsoundness is a likely result of consanguineous unions, and this penalty has been visited upon nearly every reigning house in Europe. Insanity, idiosyncrasy and deformity are common in these families. Nature has no more regard for the wearing of a crown than for a bare-headed peasant. The violator of her rules must pay the price of such sin.

WORKS BOTH WAYS.

Hamilton Spectator.
The corn crop in the United States this year is unprecedentedly large. That will be a bad thing for Canada. The cheap American corn is admitted free to this country to pull down the price of Canadian corn and all manner of coarse grains. And American corn is admitted into Great Britain at a lower duty than Canadian grains, which will handicap Canada in the British market.

HUMAN PERVERSITY.

Stratford Herald.
In the high and far-off times, as Kipling would say, it was very hot. So men cursed the heat. Then someone discovered that it was possible to escape the heat by going to a summer resort. So everybody went. The year 1902 came along, and there was no heat, consequently men could not go to the summer resorts. So everybody cursed the cold. Moral—Heat and cold are only excuses.

WHERE TIME IS MONEY.

Hamilton Herald.
According to the cable reports, the American millionaire, Charles Fair, and his wife were killed at the same moment in that automobile disaster in France. But it is not unlikely that there will be litigation over this point. It will be to the interests of Fair's heirs to prove that the wife died first, for in that case all his vast wealth would go to them; but if Mrs. Fair survived her husband by the fraction of a minute, then a third of the estate would revert to her relatives.

MISS A BIG FREE AD.

Hamilton Spectator.
The Dominion Agricultural Department is going to send a lot of Canadian fruit, just picked, for free distribution at the Cork and Wolverhampton fairs. That is a good idea. It will cost money, but the advertisement is worth the cost. But is it not amazing that the government which is willing to go to such expense to advertise the fruit of Canada did not think it worth while taking the British journalists to Hamilton and the Niagara peninsula to see Canadian fruit at its best? That would have cost very little, and would have been worth, as an advertisement, more than a hundred hand-outs at agricultural fairs.

SALISBURY'S LITTLE JOKE.

London Chronicle.
Lord Salisbury has often been accused of cynicism. This is due to his many cutting expressions. In regard to a bill in parliament to establish parish councils, he said: "If your desire is to interest the people I should recommend a parish circus."

"You cannot send your ironclads up Mount Ararat," was his objection to intervention at the time of the Armenian atrocities. One time he was talking with Sir Hiram Maxim, the inventor of the famous gun which

CAMBRIDGE NOW RULES ENGLAND.

London Free-Lance.

For some years past Oxford has been practically "running" the British empire. It is now Cambridge's turn. The premier and leader of the House of Commons, Mr. Arthur Balfour, is a Cambridge man, and so is the Duke of Devonshire, the Government chief in the Upper House. Mr. Gerald Balfour and Mr. Austen Chamberlain are likewise Cambridge men, and the list might be extended both on the Government and the Opposition side. Cambridge claims as alumni Mr. Labouchere and Sir Chas. Dilke. By a remarkable coincidence, this sudden revival of Cantabrigian prestige coincides with the revival of her prestige in the world of athletics.

Laura Bridgman.

Laura Bridgman was the first deaf blind person ever educated.

Decanters.

Decanters and carafes may be cleaned easily on the inside by using a mixture of salt and vinegar. Rock salt is best for this purpose. To a small glass of vinegar allow a handful of salt. Shake until stains disappear.

The Eyeball.

The eyeball is white because its blood vessels are too small to admit of the red corpuscles of the blood passing through them.

The Stamped Wrapper.

The stamped newspaper wrapper was first adopted in 1861, and the department sold 1,000,000 of these during the first three months following their issue. They were first made bearing a 2 cent stamp, and in October, 1870, penny stamp wrappers were added.

The growth of the carpet industry in Philadelphia owes its origin to the enterprise of Peter Sprague, who manufactured the first carpet in the United States there in 1791.

The Money of Babylon.

The great and ancient empires of Assyria and Babylonia adhered to ages to primitive blocks of copper and ingots of gold and silver and did not, therefore, have an imperial coinage. They possessed a system of banking, however, which was complete and well developed.

International Bible Lesson for Tomorrow—Report of the Spies—Num. 13, 26; 14, 4.

Golden Text—"Blessed is the man that maketh the Lord his trust."

The spies went, and returned with fruits, and reported the land very productive, but in strong hands. Only two men out of twelve spies with faith to take God at His word. The ten report unfavorably, and the people weep murmur and rebel—not tears of penitence, but of abject despair. From Deut. 1, 22, we find Israel would not take God's word that the land was good and He would put them in possession of it; they would not trust His pillar of cloud and fire to guide them into it, but had a better opinion of their own political judgment, as if His wisdom and love had not spied it out for them already. They would march by sight and not by faith in God—a common experience—and so we have a great national backslide to Egypt, in heart, insulting to God and Moses, who intercedes for Israel—Num. 14, 18-19—and the Lord pardoned. "We were as grasshoppers," God did and does use grasshoppers with a vengeance, but He will not use men and women who will not trust Him and His word, but who will lean on their own understanding. Without faith it is impossible to serve God or to serve Him.

What does it profit a woman if she gain the whole world of knowledge and lose her own health? Young women students, and school teachers, eager, ambitious, and full of energy, very often neglect their health in the struggle to gain education. They eat insufficient food, and at irregular hours, they allow irregularity of the womanly functions to be established, and the result is that they become chronic invalids with all their education practically worthless. There is a plain road back to health for such as these, marked by the feet of thousands. It is the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for diseases of the stomach and digestive and nutritive organs, and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for diseases of the delicate organs of womanhood. A cure so certainly follows the use of these remedies that out of hundreds of thousands who have tried the treatment, ninety-eight in every hundred have been perfectly and permanently cured. Constipation with its calamitous consequences, which is a common ailment of students, can be entirely cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

There is no duty we so much undertake as the duty of being happy.

Ronald McVean, of Dresden, called on his friend Percy K. Morley yesterday. Mr. McVean is putting a new team in Dresden. They will probably enter the county league next year.

Miss Baxter, daughter of James Baxter, of Dresden, formerly of this city, was entertained the other evening at 14 St. John, by her numerous friends, prior to her leaving for the South for the benefit of her health.

Mrs. Joseph Smith, of London, paid a short visit to her brother, C. E. Lister, yesterday. Mrs. Smith is a former resident in Chatham and has noticed the wonderful improvement in Chatham during the last eight years.

The Wabash and G. T. R. employees excursion from the east went through to Detroit this morning in about eight sections, all crowded to standing room. Many stopped off in the city to visit friends and fellow railroad men.

Mrs. Thos. Stephenson, Joseph St., left for Detroit to-day to attend the funeral of her cousin, the late George Merriam. The immediate cause of death was lung trouble, contracted while fighting for the stars and stripes in the Philippines.

A motion was made to-day before Judge Bell for speedy judgment in the case of Ward vs. Porter, an action over a promissory note. An application was also made to continue an injunction in the above action. W. E. Gundy appeared for Mr. Campbell, of Ridgetown, solicitor for the plaintiff.

The printers made a mistake in the figures of our ad, but there is no reason why you should make a mistake and not get one or a dozen of our fine colored shirts when you can get them for 80c each. This is for to-night only; we have plenty of help and can wait on you all. Remember the price—80c for the choice of any shirt in the store; remember 80c, not 90c; do not make a mistake yourselves. The 2 T's, Trudell & Tobey.

The I. O. F. lodge at Fletcher gave a very pleasant lawn social at the residence of Mr. Mancell, R. A. Harrington, H. V. C. R., occupied the chair gave a number of solos during the evening. There were a number of visitors present from Chatham. This lodge has a good membership and is an active, enthusiastic court.

George Merriam died in Detroit yesterday morning from consumption. He was once a resident of Chatham. His father, Cyrus Merriam, an old resident of Chatham, refitted the boat house and built boats at the foot of Fifth street bridge. From Chatham they moved to Detroit, where he is still a boat builder. His son George was 30 years of age and he contracted the disease in the Philippine war. Mrs. Stephenson, of Joseph street, this city, is a cousin, and James Davidson a nephew.

Perce Kemp, an old Chatham boy, now of New York, is visiting at his home here.

Wilson Taylor, of this city, received word yesterday that his brother-in-law, in Tillsonburg, had fallen 14 feet from a scaffold, lighting on his head and shoulders, and paralyzing his lower extremities. Mr. Taylor left for Tillsonburg yesterday, and will probably return to-morrow or Monday.

The hog cholera is very bad in Harwich township. A. K. Patterson, up the river, had 40 hogs shot on account of the plague. Three or four of the farmers in Harwich have had their hogs shot. Inspector Kime was out in Harwich this week and is doing all in his power to check the spreading of the disease.

WORLD OF SPORT

BASEBALL

Pete Mooney has two games on for his last aggregation next week—on Wednesday his team will go to Leamington and on Friday to Tilbury.

Jack Austin, manager of the Aberdeens, took a team of so-called baseball players to Tilbury yesterday, but he wants it distinctly understood that it was not the Aberdeens, as there were only three or four belonging to that team out. Bob Campbell, the Aberdeen catcher, went in to pitch but was hit hard in the second innings, and through the inexcusable errors of Wheeler in centre field nine runs came in. Bob Wilson, the Braden's pitcher, then went in to pitch and did pretty well but was backed by very bad support. The Tilbury pitcher was hit hard at times, but received the best of support. Chatham's line-up was as follows: Campbell, c. and p.; Rankin, c. and r.; Taylor, 1st; Wheeler, m.; McGarry, ss.; McKie, 1. and 3rd; Prichard, 3rd and l. A game has been arranged with Tilbury here on Labor Day afternoon at 2 o'clock and the game with London called off.

BOUGHT THE HOUSE

"It was just a quarter to four when I left the C. P. R. station yesterday afternoon on my way to the Prince Edward House," said Chas. Mount, to The Planet to-day. "and at half past past four I was in possession of the Prince Edward, having paid Martin Carlyle $5,500 for it. Henceforth it will be known as the Klondyke."

WORK STOPPED

The schooner Cataract, of Sarnia, Capt. Sutherland, arrived in port to-day, from Spanish River with a cargo of lumber for William Drader's box factory. The schooner began unloading the lumber at the Rankin dock. The attention of Officer Tom Groves was called to the matter, and, after interviewing the captain, he notified Mayor Sulman. The Mayor went down and stopped the unloading.

EMPLOYEES OUTING

Wm. Gray & Sons' employees will have a week's holidays, starting a week from Monday, Labor Day. On Tuesday the steamer City of Chatham has been chartered and an excursion will be run to Tashmoor Park, taking all the employees and their families for a fine free trip. A band or orchestra will be engaged for the occasion.

It had been the intention of Mr. Bobb, Gray to take all the employees to Port Lambton, where a regular Grimsby Camp, but was unable to get the canvas.

PRICE OF COAL

"I noticed an article in The Planet a couple of weeks ago," said John Gilbert, of J. Gilbert & Co., Coal and wood dealers, "to the effect that Scott and Couzens were the only coal dealers in the city who had coal on hand. Well, I just wish you'd contradict that statement, as we have between 400 and 500 tons on hand at present and we will be able to supply all our customers up till about January, but will only deliver in one ton lots at 50c. We have heard from our firm in Buffalo, who say that even if the strike is ended in a few days, they will not be able to supply coal until the latter part of November or the first of January."

SOLDIERS OF THE KING

Two Wounded Veterans of the War Got Back on the Teller of the Alhambra Theatre.

There is a touching and true little story of two brave soldiers of the King which has not yet been told, says The London Daily Mail. Both belonged to the Reserves, and in the middle period of the war both were engaged as supernumeraries in the ballet of "The Soldiers of the Queen" at the Alhambra Theatre. In course of time each received a summons to rejoin, and in the same week the men left England and went with their respective regiments to South Africa, where they lost sight of each other. One of them, a Northumberland Fusilier, received a terrible gunshot wound in the throat, and for months he lay in hospital upon the point of death. In a far distant quarter of South Africa the other ex-super was dangerously wounded in the thigh, and to each as time went on came the news that the other had died of his wound and had been buried with the comrades upon the field of battle. Many months later the man of the "Fighting Fifth" returned to England on sick leave. Wandering one day through the streets of London the old soldier's eye was caught by a poster announcing "The Soldiers of the King" at the Alhambra Theatre. The prospect of a re-engagement, and the modest salary attaching, led him to the stage door, he presently met Mr. Charles Wilson, his old chief, and the prospect became a reality.

Cherished by his good fortune, the man passed again into the street. As he left the narrow passage leading to the stage door, he all but collided with one who, limping painfully, was making his way along the crowded thoroughfare.

As the men met they stopped, and for a moment or so looked silently into each other's face. As last the man with the wounded throat managed to gurgle out, "Well, I'm hanged! Why, Jack, I thought you were dead of the plague! You told me you died of the plague you got at Klipdam."

"An' as Heaven's me judge I thought you was a first-class casual, too," replied the other in a breathless way. "Heard you was hit in the throat and planted a week after."

Then the first told of the story of his good fortune, and the other, looking ruefully at an imperfect left leg, said: "I could do with a few bob, too. I wonder if they'd take me back, limp and all. I could march on the inside, and nobody would't notice."

"Come and try," whispered the Fusilier. "You see, I can do the marchin' for both of us, and you can do enough singin' for two. I'll be man five minutes they were back to the stage again, and for more than a month those two well-trained soldiers of the King filled their old places in the ballet."

Field of the Cloth of Gold.

Whatever diplomatic policy may have been the famous meeting, between Henry VIII. and Francis I. in 1520, it came to no effect. The invitation sent by the French King was believed to be due to the desire to secure the help of England in a dispute which had arisen with Charles V. of Spain, as to who was to succeed Maximilian on the throne of Germany. Guisnes was the chosen meeting place, and there some thousands of workmen were engaged, for months in the erection of a palace of wood. The decorations were gorgeous in the extreme, certain of the most extravagant features being due to the inventive genius of Cardinal Wolsey. Cellings were richly painted, or adorned with cloth of gold and velvet, while silken ropes were lavishly used. Henry, with his Queen and Court, entered at Dover, and on the morning of the 29th, the English King rode on to Guisnes, where Francis awaited his coming. A treaty for the marriage of the Dauphin with Henry's daughter Mary being arranged, the two monarchs then appeared, arm-in-arm, and festivities and tournaments began. King Henry with Charles Brandon and other courtiers were champions of England, while King Francis and his nobles entered the lists to maintain the honor of France. Each side tried to outdo the other in expense and magnificence, and many nobles ruined themselves by the cost of their equipment and the gorgeousness of their armor. At length Francis made an effort to put matters on a more easy and hearty footing. Accompanied only by two knights and a page he rode over one morning to Henry's quarters, before the English King had risen, and appearing at his bedside, told him he took him prisoner. Henry entered into the jest, and appreciating the frankness which induced Francis thus to place himself unreservedly in his power, threw a costly collar of pearls over his captor's neck, asking him to wear that for the sake of his prisoner. The French King responded by the gift of a magnificent bracelet. Confidence was thus established and Francis carried on the courteous game by insisting on acting as the attendant of his brother of England, and assisting him to dress. In spite of all the professions of amity these international spectacles were of so little account that Henry afterwards espoused the cause of Charles V., the great rival of Francis.

The Bishop's Amendment.

Once when dining quite by chance with Dr. Creighton, the late Bishop of London, at a certain club, Lord Rosebery remarked: "Ah! my Lord Bishop, what a nuisance this dining is! Two things I absolutely dread—a long dinner and a long sermon! I think that a sermon and a dinner, however good either may be, ought never to last more than a quarter of an hour, or 20 minutes at the most." "Well, well," said Dr. Creighton, musingly, "could we not arrange matters this way, my lord? Knock, say ten minutes off the sermon, and put it on to the dinner."—From Men of the Moment.

A HEAVY FINE

This morning a young farmer, of Kent, was tried before Judge Bell on the charge of using threatening language. The prosecution alleged that he had made threats against his neighbor and had displayed a large knife as if he intended to do what he said he would do. Deft. claimed that he had a plug of tobacco in his hand and the sun glistening on the stamp made those who saw it think that he had a knife. Deft. was found guilty of using the language and assessed $20 and costs.

YE OLDEN TIMES

John Boydell of the Detroit White Lead Co., and Mrs. Boydell, are visiting the latter's cousin, Mrs. William Rennie, William Street.

Mr. Boydell stayed in Chatham two years about the year 1859. He boarded at and attended the grammar school which was taught by Mr. Jamieson. The building is still standing and is occupied by the principal as a residence. He went to school with Chief of Police Holmes, and Postmaster Genl. Barfoot. Mr. Barfoot still carries a scar on his temple inflicted by Mr. Boydell in a game of old fashioned "shanny." Although Mr. Barfoot still has the scar he had forgotten the man who gave it to him, and didn't remember Mr. Boydell, when he introduced himself this morning. It is 25 years since Mr. Boydell was in Chatham, but he enjoyed his visit this week splendidly.

THE GARDENER.

The gardener in his old brown hands Turns over the brown earth. As if he loves and understands it. The flowers before their birth. The fragile, childish little strands He buries in the earth.

Like pious children, one by one, He sets them head by head, And draws the clothes, when all is done.

Closely about each bed, And leaves his children to sleep on In the one quiet bed.

ONLY A MASK.

Many are not being benefited by the summer vacation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles, and they do not eat nor sleep well. What they need is what tones the nerves, perfects digestion, creates appetite, and makes sleep refreshing, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Pupils and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation best subserved by this great medicine which, as we know, "builds up the whole system."

A Special Bargain in

Colored Waists

A genuine surprise and one you least expected, at any rate you didn't expect to buy such beautiful waists, so late in the season at 50c Each.

Most of them high priced waists, a few were $1.00 and $1.25. The waists are made of fine material of print and gingham, very pretty styles, all this year's make.

But why continue the descriptions,—there are scores of styles that we have gathered in one group for you, a good few of them shown in the window to-day and until Monday.

The first glance establishes the importance of the offering—now we don't promise every size in all the styles, but there's a very generous assortment nevertheless.

Regular prices, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, all on sale for 50c.

Every Home Needs Furniture

Perhaps it is only the purchase of a chair, a table, a pair of lace curtains or a rug, yet it may be that an entire home is to be outfitted with Furniture, Carpets, Linoleums, Draperies and the like.

The money earner and the housekeeper have been saving the "necessary" wherewith to make the early fall purchase. There have been many wishes that the sum saved would be greater, but let that pass. By saving to the utmost the spending should be done to buy the utmost possible with the savings whether they be large or small.

COME IN AND SEE
if we cannot help you
during warm weather.
We have meats that are ready cooked and we slice them as you wish.

Canned meats we keep in the ice box so you get them just right to use.
Besides these we have a large variety of canned fish—and they are all good too.

In breakfast foods, you
can get most anything
you think of, and you can depend on it, they're fresh.

No matter what you
want, if it's something good to eat, you will find it best here.

This Case in Hand

Is a case of repair work. A watch that could go but wouldn't go was made to go, the owner thought it was a case of no good, but I diagnosed the case at a cost of $1.50 and put it right, and it has gone ever since. If yours is a stop watch bring it in and when I am through with it, it will be a go watch. All kinds of repairing and best workmanship.

in Chatham and vicinity before returning home.

Our friend says he has more shirts than any three stores in the city together; we do not wonder at that.
We sell our shirts—do not keep them till they get old. Look at our styles and patterns and you will not wonder why 80c to-night for any shirt in the store; all up-to-date and sized to fit. The 2 T's, Trudell & Tobey.

Some people do not seem to realize that there is a law which protects doves, robins and cat birds. Very near every evening young men congregate near Brundage's ice house on the river bank and shoot these feathered songsters. The police should look into this matter and make an example of the offenders. They will have just as much right to their lives as the man who shoots them has to his.

MARTHA'S FAREWELL
When Martha Browning and Bill
Wilson were walking over Tuesmeh Park yesterday in the direction of "Jail" street, accompanied by P. C.
Tom Groves, with M. O'Mara as a safe guard, Martha was very mournful and expressed herself thusly:—
"Good bye dear old park, its gwan to be a long time before I see you again but I'll be back, don't you all fret, I'll be back."

NEW PAVEMENT
Mr. VanVleet, president of the Dominion Paving Co., Toronto, and John Keenan, superintendent, were in the city to-day and signed the contract for the Sixth and William streets pavements at 11:45 this morning. They were both much struck with Chatham on Saturday and characterized it as a live town. They will begin work in about a week and will require a large number of men. They will mix all their cement by machinery.

I've tried a hundred different remedies for insomnia, but without avail, complained Hojick.
Have you ever tried to keep awake?

WRITES HOME FROM WEST

A Young Chathamite Gives a Most Interesting Account of His Trip.

Description of the Snow-Clad Mountains and Other Picturesque Splendor.

W. S. Verrall writing to a friend in Chatham, gives a highly interesting account of his trip west. The letter is here reproduced.

Your delightfully interesting effort of August 7th reached me on Saturday night on my arrival here from Edmonton, and my pleasure at receiving the same may be measured by my promptness of response. To-day, of course, is an ideal day for letter writing—raining so hard it's impossible to go out after business. Otherwise, I suppose I would be as dilatory in writing as yourself—frank, isn't it? So give credit to the weather clerk for this very early letter.

As you will observe, I am now on my way east, and am looking forward with great pleasure to the completion of my trip, which, owing to the conditions of the weather and the fact that it is my first one, has been particularly arduous. To say, however, that the trip has not been enjoyable would be a great mistake. An opportunity to visit all parts of Manitoba, the Territories and British Columbia is something to which I have looked forward ever since I began my road life,
and it has been enjoyed to the limit.

I reached the Coast Province about July 1st, just at a time when everything there was to be seen at its best.
To the uninitiated easterner, or "tenderfoot" as he is frequently called here, the first view of the snow-clad mountains of the Rockies is awe-inspiring, so massive are they; and to quote the expression of a fellow triveller telling of his first trip through the Rockies—"It stood on the rear platform with my mouth wide open and unable to speak a word." It recalled to my mind the story of the Irishman who, having visited Canada and the Rockies, was telling a brother Irish man of the country. "Begorra," says
he, "tis a great country, indeed. There's so much of it that they piled it up on the side." The scenery is truly wonderful and words cannot begin to describe its grandeur.

I went through to the coast via the main line, stopping off at Golden Revelstoke and Kamloops, and a few tri-vellers telling of their first trip through the Rockies, was telling a brother Irish man of the country. "Begorra," says
he, "tis a great country, indeed. There's
up on the side." The scenery is

I have not been out, half of the night, to confess all to some clergyman or some priest, who would give me comfort. And Sintra has always been determined that I should not do that. So I have had to do it myself. Last night I walked in my room and have once or twice before. I had a dream of more than usual horror, and I woke up, out of my room—how far away, I don't know. Sintra found me there, and he has been so kind that he does not wish for a repentance of such an experience—though it is the first time that it has happened. He will come to me early in the morning, but I can't wait for that. I believe

TIRED SALESWOMEN.

Employers Should be More Considerate. Mrs. Pinkham Asks Tired Women to Write Her for Advice.

In the vast retail establishments of large cities, many women are employed as saleswomen.

Men formerly held the positions that women now hold, and while women's organism is less strong than men's, they are expected to do the same work. Their duties compel them to be on their feet from morning to night, and many of them, in a short time, contract those distressing complaints called "female diseases."

Then occur irregularities, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, indigestion, leucorrhoea, general debility, and nervous prostration.

They are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness. In such cases there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. The following letters prove this. They also prove the value of Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

"I Can Work Every Day in the Week Now."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write this letter for you to publish for the benefit of poor, suffering women. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me a great deal of good. I have taken three bottles and feel like a new woman. When I began the use of your medicine I was hardly able to be up; could not do half a day's work. I ached from head to foot, was almost crazy, had those bearing-down pains, and stomach was out of order. Now all of these troubles have left me and I can work every day in the week and not feel tired."—Mrs. JENNIE PARKER, 402 Pennsylvania Ave., Lima, Ohio.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I have read with interest your advice to others so much that I thought I would write you for I have been suffering for a long time. This I did some time ago.

"Now I can hardly find words to thank you for your wonderful Vegetable Compound and advice.

"I was in a terrible state, every part of my body ached, was very nervous, had hysterical spells. I think I would have become insane had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Your medicine has cured me and I cannot express my thanks."—Miss HATTIE DEGRAAT, Succasunna, N.J. (March 8, 1901.)

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

No other person can give such helping advice to women who are sick as can Mrs. Pinkham, for none have had such a great experience—her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice free—if you are sick write her—you are foolish if you don't.

WHEN THE DOMINIE WAS A SCHOOL BOY

Early Literary Efforts of Arthur Stringer and J. W. Plowes—A Capital Collegiate Journal—Mr. Stringer's Career Inaugurated.

Now that Arthur Stringer, the literary worker, has purchased the Douglas property at Erie Beach and intends to become a resident of Kent County for eight months in the year, the remaining four months he will spend with his wife while she is filling theatrical engagements—it may be a master of more than ordinary ability, and a short biography of Mr. Stringer and how he came to choose the art of writing stories and sketches as a means of livelihood. Mr. Stringer may possibly not recognize himself as the subject of this biography or the facts in it, but the writer cannot be blamed for that—neither can Mr. Stringer.

All discrepancies must be taken as a proof that he was really great. As nearly as can be learned, without consulting the official records, Mr. Stringer first saw darkness of night about the year 1878. He was a Chatham boy by nativity, his father being in business here with Arthur's aunt's husband, George Stephens. Mr. P. Mr. Stringer, Sr., moved to London and it fell to Arthur's lot to attend the collegiate institute in the Forest City. While there he was a big dreamy boy in the highest form, who used to sit near the back of the room out of reach of the teacher's eye. His chief occupation was telling the boys how much he admired the girls. That may tell us something about the lady he married and a report says that Arthur got what he always wanted.

It happened one day that there was a football match between the collegiate institute eleven and the men of the military school. The match broke up in a row and Mr. Stringer then a lad of 16, wrote up the match in a humorous vein and, strange that such little things guide the destinies of great men, this was the beginning of Mr. Stringer's literary career. The story written by the now Bard of Erie Beach—now with a fast record, then only a 16 year old and unmarked—was type-written and circulated throughout the school.

J. W. Plowes, his chum and classmate, now principal of the Central school in this city, recognized possibilities in Stringer's literary career. Stringer was not of J. W. told his chum of his discovery and putting their heads together, they decided to publish a magazine, conducted by the pupils of the school. The name of the paper was the first difficulty and Mr. Stringer settled that. One day, while splitting wood in his father's back yard, a silver flew up and hit him in the head. The paper was then and there decided upon. It was called "Chips." It is still recorded in the form of a letter that J. W. smiled like a whole basket of them when he heard it but gave his consent.

The paper was published at Christmas, 1890, and sold for 15 cents. The mechanics took to the idea and advertised liberally. Thus the paper was a financial success. The literary work in the paper is excellent. It has been the number and we calmly and warmly endorse it as an excellent and splendid production. The apology for the appearance of the paper is in real clever and you will endorse our sentiments when you read it. Here it is:

Apology.
"Cedite Romani scriptores, cedite Graeci."

We have the presumption to present this paper without the usual apology, and why it was written remains to be discovered; certainly it was not written to amuse or instruct a diseased relative of the editor's wife, neither was it written for the purpose of supplying amusement during an idle hour. Let it be sufficient to say that this paper consists chiefly of the initial productions of young and budding literary blossoms, upon whom, gentle and most beautiful reader, kindly shed a warning ray of encouragement, that you may, in time to come, say, with justifiable pride, that you were the means of our literary greatness, which, we are confident, is not far distant. We would like to make a suggestion to those degraded and inequitable mortals, the critics, whose lack of aesthetic taste prevents them from appreciating the fruits of our labour, and which they would gladly place in the elder press of criticism, and crush the very life out of it. To these we would mention the fact, that we expect, and do not object to, honest criticism, nor do we expect the learned critic to read the volume before he produces his criticism. Our object is to encourage literary attempts and the circulation of small change, not to mention the minor consideration of supplying an outlet for our superfluous genius. The articles appearing in this paper are original; but while we aim at the original, we endeavor to avoid the eccentric. All philosophical and metaphysical speculations will be developed in words containing the necessary seven syllables. All rhetorical devices will be used with due consideration of the resisting power of the general public. But for finer language and more gorgeous construction, see the twenty-five-cent edition, which we intend publishing in the course of a few months. We would also suggest to the gentle, lamb-like reader, that the poetry can be distinguished from the prose by the capital letters at the beginning of each line. We have no transplanted any of the good old jokes from the funny column of the papers. They would not thrive in our arid and unwatered garden of literature. For those, see the Echo, which blooms weekly. We regret to say that the beautiful engravings to be used to illustrate our paper, arrived from men, have defeated all our enemies, even unto the greatest thereof, therefore let us partake of the prizes won thereby. And the Scribe and Treasurer of the League took forth from the Treasury the three shekels given therein by each tribe, and purchased therewith medals of gold and of silver, and these he gave unto the Collegites. And the fame of the Collegites spread throughout London, and also throughout the whole land.

And images were made of the warriors of the Collegites, and placed in their Temple, and their children, and unto the third and fourth generation, might know of the great works of their forefathers.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Cure All the Ills of Little Babies and Big Children.

This medicine is good for all children, from the feeblest infant, whose life seems to hang by a thread, to the sturdy boy whose digestive apparatus occasionally gets out of order. There is no stomach or bowel trouble that Baby's Own Tablets will not speedily relieve and promptly cure, and do it in a natural way, as the medicine is guaranteed to contain no opiate or harmful drug. Experienced mothers everywhere praise Baby's Own Tablets above all medicines. Mrs. James A. Wilson, Wyoming, Ont., says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for both my children, and consider them indispensable in any home where there are young children. One of my children was very fretful, and I always found the Tablets comforting, and a splendid regulator of the stomach and bowels. I think the Tablets have been the means of promoting many a sound night's rest for both myself and children."

Children take these Tablets as readily as candy, and crushed to a powder, they can be given with absolute safety to the youngest, weakest infant. You can get the Tablets from any dealer in medicines, or post paid at 25 cents a box, by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

New York's Sky Line.

Verechagin, the artist who is painting a large picture of the battle of San Juan Hill, with President Roosevelt as the central figure, was very much depressed over New York's sky line when he visited the metropolis fifteen years ago. He said that the occasional skyscraper was a painful blot on the landscape, that it made the sky line one terrible thing to behold. The other day after long contemplation of it and the scores of big buildings which load down the island of Manhattan he is said to have turned to a friend and remarked, "Really [a pause] it begins to be grand."

'FOOT ELM' MADE MARCHING EASY

Many Canadian Soldiers in the Late South African Campaign tested "Foot Elm" and Speak Enthusiastically of Its Merits.

The first Canadian Contingent that went to South Africa was supplied with "Foot Elm." So helpful did it prove in preventing chafing, scalding and blistering of the feet on the long marches over the hot sands of the South African veldt, that from Col. Otter, Capt. Barker, as well as from dozens of privates, have come words of the highest praise for this splendid remedy for the foot.

Mr. A. MacGregor, Color Sergeant, 48th Highlanders, Toronto, Ont., who was through the campaign, has this to say:

"Foot Elm was thoroughly appreciated by everyone who used it, as it prevented chafing, eased and rested the feet and robbed marching of a great deal of misery."

People who suffer in any way with their feet should not fail to try "Foot Elm." It makes walking easy. Price 25c a box at all druggists, or by mail. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont., Do not accept substitutes.

A man named Young was tried before Squire Shaw, at Thorncliffe Monday on the charge with threatening to use a knife on a neighbor named Gilbert. Young went to the house of Gilbert and invited the latter to come out and have his heart removed. Young, while he was talking, brandished a huge knife. The man with the big knife and a desire to perform surgical operations was committed for trial. Crown Attorney Smith prosecuted.—Dresden Standard.

SILK COATS AND HATS.

Dust Coats Have Become Very Elegant and Elaborate.

Dust coats are now so elegant and elaborate that they form quite a smart toilet. To show the prevalence of gray colors a pink alpaca cloak seen at the races was trimmed with tinted lace and black satin and had large enamel buttons in black and pink touched with gold. A pale blue dust cloak seen on the same occasion had quaint trimmings of bronze silk edged with floral embroideries in blue and yellow.

Another smart dust cloak of biscuit colored mohair was decorated with Russian embroidery in shades of red and pink, and the tucked collar was edged with an applique of embroidered poppies cut out in taffeta and shaded with crevel silk.

Many of the newer summer hats are trimmed with fruit and foliage. One shape seen recently had for sole trimming a big wreath of red and white currants which fell over the brim, while the foliage formed a wreath around the crown. They peeped out in folds of blue tulle, and their foliage is almost exact to nature.

The pretty little garden party dress shown is of tucked white silk mull trimmed with wide bands of black chintilly lace. The waist has a bolero of the lace, with three narrow velvet ribbons for shoulder straps. The front is of the white mull softly draped. The sleeve ruffles are also of the mull. The sleeves as well as the skirt are tucked perpendicularly. There is a full gathered ruffle around the bottom of the skirt.

The hat is of velvet leaves and black velvet.

FASHION NOTES.

Length of Skirts, Picture Hats, Long Vests.

Two items are indispensable to the up to date toilet, the cape ruffle and corsage bouquet.

Parasols are in delicate coloring or in white decorated with black or ecru lace. The chine sunshade has a Dresden china ball for a handle and gold wires. The fluffy type of parasol, on the other hand, is lined with puffed or drawn chiffon and rows of soft lace.

Skirts for country wear should be quite short. In Paris they are wearing

WHITE VEILING CHILD'S GOWN.

Their morning gowns to clear the ground. All the dressy gowns, however, are unusually long and trailing. Picture hats are being worn to a large extent, particularly black ones trimmed with a single large ostrich feather.

Vests are being worn even longer than ever, the ends in some cases reaching to the waist line. Du Barry vests of black net trimmed with a wide lace edge are very popular. A pretty child's gown for cool summer days is here shown. The material is white veiling made over taffeta and trimmed with narrow insertion. The belt ribbon is of pale blue lousine.

Paine's Celery Compound

Nature's Summer Medicine Used by The Wealthy and Humble is The One Great Health Builder.

Paine's Celery Compound supplies the needs of the weak, sickly and diseased in a way that no other medicine can do. It never fails to brace and strengthen the weakened nerves; it forms new tissues and quickly purifies the food and stagnant blood, allowing it to course with freedom and life to every part of the body. Paine's Celery Compound is the great furnisher of nutriment for the weak and rundown nervous system.

The use of a few bottles of Paine's Celery Compound produces results that are astonishing and happy to the sick. The thin, emaciated body soon takes on solid flesh, the skin is clear, the eyes bright and sparkling, pain in the back is banished, the liver and kidneys work healthily, the digestive organs do duty with unfailing regularity, feelings of new energy and well-being take the place of nervousness, despondency and melancholia.

Nourishing the nerves, the formation of fresh tissue and cleansing of the blood by Paine's Celery Compound means a new, vigorous and happy life. There can be no failures when Paine's Celery Compound is used; it truly "makes sick people well."

The Chaperon in the West.

All unmarried females of means and position are chaperoned here. Age doesn't matter. They are splinters—that's enough. No tender maid of thirty goes unattended in California. No single woman of any age goes to the theater alone with a man, and, as for "buggy riding," the custom is unknown. No girl goes to a restaurant for lunch with a youth she has known from the cradle. It would not be correct, either, for her to get another girl. No; she must have the chaperon—the tried and seasoned veteran of matrimony—or else the proprieties will be split up the back.

The ardor with which the cult of the chaperon has been taken up in the west would make the thoughtful pause. At the rate we're going at we'll soon be where they are in France, and it will be hopelessly compromising for any of us to walk two blocks on the public street with a man of our acquaintance.—Geraldine Bonner in San Francisco Argonaut.

"THE LAND OF THE SUNSET"

Some Impressions of a Chatham Citizen who is Touring in Southern California.

Memo Park, Cal., Aug. 12, 1902.
To the Editor of The Planet.

I was saying that two of the most important productions of California are fruit and climate. There is another of recent discovery which promises to be most important of all, namely oil. The fuel question has always been an important one, with high freight rates and coal at $10 a ton. The discovery of oil in large quantities in different parts of the state—millions of dollars' worth have been taken out in the last few years—has put a new phase on the industrial situation. Fuel bills for house heating are not large, but the discovery of oil is an important item for the railways and manufacturers. Now nearly all the furnaces are being changed so as to burn the cheap oil instead of the dear coal and oil-furnaces are looking forward to a period of great industrial expansion and prosperity.

Los Angeles, the first city I visited is the second city of the state. Twelve years ago it had a population of 30,000. Now it has a population of 120,000, and is growing rapidly. It is beautifully situated in the midst of a delightful climate on hills about 30 miles from the sea. It is the only city I know of which is both a summer and winter resort. In the summer people come there from the north, Arizona, New Mexico, and Old Mexico, to escape the heat, and in the winter they come from the east to escape the cold. To accommodate the large number of visitors at all seasons, they have many large hotels. One—"The Angels," recently opened, is said to be as large and well equipped as any on the continent. There is no poverty quarter in the city; all the houses, stores, and public buildings are well built and of modern design, manifesting in a high degree the refinement of the people. Within thirty miles are three seaside resorts, Long Beach, San Pedro and Santa Monica, which are much frequented on Sundays and holidays by the city people. At San Pedro the government is constructing extensive harbor works and intends to make it the naval and commercial seaport of Southern California. In the country round about Los Angeles is a wide area of the choicest agricultural, dairying and fruit growing lands. I visited one dairy farm of six hundred acres, watered by artesian wells, and several fruit farms and orchards. The climate is so good, although this is not the full season.

Before leaving Los Angeles I went to see Mr. Joe Taylor, an old Chathamite who is doing well there, but was unfortunate in not finding him at home.

The last week I spent in San Francisco, the cosmopolitan city where people from every clime and ships from every port are to be found. It is more entitled than Chicago to be called the Windy City, because of the chiding and ungente zephyrs that beset you at all hours. Straw hats are seldom seen and ladies do the summer shopping in their seakins coats—and they all seem to have them. Californians do not boast of San Francisco weather. I saw my cousins, Alfred Baxter and John Baxter, who lived in Chatham twenty years ago. They are engaged in the lumber and shipping business and like most Canadians out here, are getting rich and prosperous. Another Canadian who was a familiar figure to many Chathamites, and whose name is prominent in baseball circles here, is Pete Lohman formerly catcher of the London league team. He is now the manager of the Oakland team, who are called the Lohmannites and it is owing to his efforts that his team is leading the California League.

Note—Through the courtesy of Captain Bell, The Planet is enabled to promise another of his splendid series of tourist letters for Monday's issue. To those who have had the pleasure of visiting the points so graphically described by the writer, his letters will have a peculiar and fascinating interest, while to those of us who have been less fortunate they are both entertaining and instructive. When it comes to showing up the misdeeds of a skilled politician, Tarte proves to be pie for the Conservatives in this work.

One man who wanted to be city engineer came to town and talked so much that he is entirely out of it.—Hamilton Spectator.

Charlie Williams says he doesn't know how long the sea serpent was. He only saw 120 feet of it, but he hopes it will be long enough before he sees it again.

If anybody would like to know why the new William St. pavement will be different from Napoleon I, I will tell them. It will date to cross Wellington and go.

The "Slang sheet" awoke long enough Thursday to spit out some of its gutter talk. It ought to have a better taste in its mouth now but the effect on the public was bad.

Yesterday the Banner-musing-News had a long editorial on curling in which it was stated that men went daff playing the game. Judging merely by appearances, the Banner must have been an exceedingly enthusiastic curler.

I don't know what camp beds have to do with bowling, but a friend of mine suggests that the local club should establish some on the beach line. My father lives on a small farm beautifully situated on a slope of the coast range of hills that commands a view of the Upper Bay and the hills beyond it. About a mile from here is the famous stock farm of Leland Stanford, and what is destined to be the more famous, the Leland Stanford University, at Palo Alto, the richest university in the world. I had the privilege of visiting yesterday. The entrance to the grounds is by an avenue over half a mile long, bordered on either side by stately palms. The material used in the buildings, which were commenced in 1887, and are not yet all completed, is buff sandstone, roofed with red tiles, with continuous arched arcades around the outside, supported by cylindrical columns. The general architectural effect is that of the old California mission style. The central position is occupied by the massive memorial arch, 100 feet in height, much like the Arc de Triomphe, at Paris, embellished with St. Gaudens' frieze, representing the march of civilization in America. One of the finest buildings is the chapel. The dome rests on Cathedral arches 85 feet high. It has allegorical statues, glass windows, chimes, an organ of 2,800 pipes, and it will seat 2,000 people. The pulpit is beautifully carved by a Swiss artist, out of a solid block of sandstone. It is said to be the finest building of the kind in America. The principal feature of the architecture is the inner quadrangle, an open court, 600 feet long 250 wide, containing eight massive circular flower beds, filled with tropical plants, and the whole surrounded by a continuous arcade joining twelve buildings and the chapel. The university gives tuition to students from all countries free of charge. Dr. David Starr Jordan is the president, and under his management, and by the help of the money of Mrs. Stanford, who has recently given 25 millions, in addition to the immense endowment made by her late husband, Stanford University promises to be many bows the place of offensive odors the Board of Health is crippled in getting after them. The civic body that looks after the suppression of bad smells is on the war-path in earnest now and results may be looked for.

There are one or two rowdies who think it fun to secure a bottle of booze, take it to the Eau on the band train in their pocket, and bring it back absorbed in their worthless carousals. The result is general annoyance to a whole carload of passengers and the pollution of the atmosphere of the car with vile epithets. Last Tuesday four of these miserable creatures made life unbearable for all in one of the coaches, except themselves, and had they even been blessed with a moiety of common sense, hardened wretches as they were, they would have jumped to the Eau, first tying a stone to their necks as a precautionary measure for the general good of the public.

Abe Lincoln once told a good story in different parts of the world, looked up in a tree and saw a squirrel. The fellow got his rifle and blazed away all afternoon. He was surprised that he missed every time. A neighbor, hearing the shooting went over. He, seeing nothing in the tree, asked the man what he was shooting at. The man replied "why I am shooting at that squirrel." The neighbor could still see nothing but examining the shooter's eyelid saw a leucine on it. "Why," exclaimed the man from the next farm, "you have been wasting all your ammunition shooting at a leucine on your own eyebrow." The Bummer wasted its whole editorial column on Thursday shooting at a leucine on its own eyebrow. Some kind of leucine should be put on the eye of the Bummer. The aptness is the only apology I can make for the use of Abe Lincoln's coarse simile.

WHAT'S THIS?

They do say that there is a lady in Chatham who declares that the word "hello" is simply too vulgar. When she answers the phone she says "Well!"—Dresden Times.

COLD CURE.

Say, have you got a cold? One of Chatham's charming young maidens says that she can cure any cold by the inhalation of lump sugar. If this is true, our grocery men will soon become millionaires.

A GOOD NAME IS BETTER THAN MUCH RICHES.

A Press Dispatch says: A. Torrey, chief engineer of the Michigan Central, died at Harper's Hospital, Detroit, last night. Judging by name alone A. Torrey must have been a fine man. I think that he will be well looked after in Paradise. Sir John A. as soon as he finds out his name will look him up. Sir John could never put A. Torrey by.

THE DIFFERENCE.

An Englishman, an Irishman and a Scotchman, making a tour around Manchester some time since, were observed looking through a confectioner's window at a beautiful young woman serving in the shop.

"Oh!" exclaimed Mr. Patrick, "do let us be after spending half a crown with the dear creature, that we may look at her contentedly and have a bit of chat wid her."

"You extravagant dog," said Mr. Bull, "I'm sure one-half of the money will be sufficient. But let us go in by all means; she's a charming girl."

"Ah, wait a wee," interposed Mr. McAndrew, "dinna ye ken it'll serve our purpose equally well just to ask the bonnie lassie to gie us two sixpences, she's a shilling, and inquire where Mr. Thompson's house, and sic like? We're no hully, and may as well save the silver."—Tit-Bits.

REGIMENT ORDERS

Headquarters 24th "Kent" Regiment.

Chatham, Ont., Aug. 23.

Regimental orders

Lieut.-Col. J. B. Rankin, commanding.

All staff sergeants and sergeants of the 24th Regiment will parade in drill-order at the Sergeants' Mess Rooms, on Monday evening, Aug. 25, at 8 p. m., sharp.

A Scientific Voice Improver

Because of its strengthening influence upon the vocal chords, Catarrhozone cannot be too highly recommended as a wonderful voice improver. It almost instantly removes huskiness or hoarseness, thus insuring clearness and brilliancy of tone. Catarrhozone keeps the mucous surfaces in perfect condition, and its regular use absolutely prevents colds and throat irritation, thereby removing the singer's greatest source of anxiety, unfittiness of voice. The most eminent speakers and Prima Donas would not be without Catarrhozone, and credit in no small degree to the uniform strength and brilliancy of tone to its influence. The hard rubber inhaler fits quite conveniently into a purse or vest pocket, and may be used in the church, theatre, any place or time. Complete outfit $1. Small size 25c. Getting Ready For Fall . . .

Each season our stocks must be made attractive and the clothing more to your liking or the movement is backward. We therefore challenge our own record and propose to hold against all comers the claim that we produce as fine clothing as any firm in Canada.

In our workrooms we are busy and have been for weeks manufacturing the suits and overcoats that will go to make the best display we have ever known. The results will show themselves in the freshest, brightest, biggest collection of fine clothing for men and boys that will clearly discount everything in the past. We mean to double the trade we have now and constantly reach out for more.

Mrs. S. E. and Miss Edith Oldershaw are visitors at Lingolton.

The wind has blown steadily all day. Oh, if it had blown like this yesterday that did blow were the Blenheimites and the pipers and we were to decide which had the most reason to blow we would fall back on our fellow countrymen—the hardy sons of Scotia.

The other evening a young couple were talking very nicely when he was heard to call her "chickie." The people near are thinking of having him arrested for foul language.

Mrs. Young and Miss Annie Anderson were guests of Mr. J. W. Aitken at The Bothy, Sandy Knowe, yesterday.

Miss Marjorie Gemmill is visiting Miss Bessie Bracken, Happy Days.

Two lads caught a snake to-day and took it into one of the cottages. The ladies with one accord went into hysterics. Why is a woman so afraid of a hissing instrument and so dainty to squelch her Lord and Master?

Miss Mickleborough, of St. Thomas, is the guest of Miss Greening at Oscoda.
