

THE ACADIAN

WOLFVILLE, N. S., JUNE 10, 1892.

Farming.

Dr. Talmage says there are only two conditions in which farming pays. The first when a man makes agriculture a life time business, not yielding to the fatal itch for town, which is de-populating the country and crowding the city with a multitude of men standing idle with their hands in their pockets. The other condition is when a citizen with surplus means and weary of the excitement and confinements of city life goes to the country not expecting a return of dollars equal to the amount disbursed, but expects in health and recreation and communion with nature to find a wealth compared with which all bundles of scrip and packages of government securities are worthless as the shreds of paper under the counting room desk in the waste basket. Only those who come out of the heat of the town know the full enchantment of country life. When we had a place in the country the banquet lasted all summer, beginning with cups of orange and ending with glowing tankards of autumnal leaf. At Bolebazar's feast he knes trembled for the finger that wrote doom, but the handwriting on our wall was of honeysuckle and trumpet creeper.

Ordination.

Mr. Joshua B. Ganong, of class '92 of Acadia College, was ordained to the gospel ministry at Upper Aylesford on the 7th inst.—preparatory to settling over a Baptist interest in the North West, at Rapid City. The following churches were represented in Council at the Ordination, viz. 21, 34 and 4th, Cornwallis Baptist churches, Kentville, Cambridge, Upper Aylesford, Lower Aylesford, Melvern Square, Pine Grove, Lawrencetown and Wilnot. Rev. J. H. Jenner preached the Ordination Sermon. The hand of welcome was given by Rev. A. Vincent, charge to the candidate by Rev. J. L. Eaton, charge to the church by R. B. Kinley. Messrs C. T. Hiley, W. B. Wallace, O. T. Goucher and Byron Bentley, recent College graduates, were present and participated in the exercises.

The Lessons of Arbor Day.

The influence of interest in trees and flowers is a happy influence which will not be lost upon multitudes of pupils. Many of them will trace their pleasure in trees, and it is one of the purest pleasures, to their early training of their taste and observation.

The day affords the teacher a golden opportunity of pointing out the relation between the landscape and literature, and they may wisely discourse upon reasons that in the ancient and most objective literature there is the least allusion to what we call nature. Not the least valuable of the lessons of the day is the tenderness of feeling toward trees which it encourages.

If the children of to-day would once more people the woods and hills with drays and oreads, they would less ruthlessly mutilate the shrubs and saplings, and look upon a shaved hillside as on a ravaged village. It is a beautiful holiday in the loveliest season, and we trust its observance will become more and more general.—Ex.

A Big Deal.

$250,000 PAID FOR A HALF INTEREST IN THE TRADE MARK OF DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR THE UNITED STATES.

The brilliant reputation achieved by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in Canada has not only extended to the United States, but has led to an important business transaction. One of the best known American proprietary medicine houses, the head of which is the president of a leading National Bank in New York state, has recently purchased a half interest in the trade mark of the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. for the United States only, for which, we understand, the consideration was $250,000. This sale is probably the first instance in which an American institution has purchased an interest in a Canadian remedy, and offers the very best proof of the sterling merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as we may be sure that the American capitalists, before venturing so large a sum in the half interest of the trade mark, fully investigated and verified the claims made for the remedy. It is a tribute, too, to Canadian medicine science, which has brought to perfection this remarkable medicine.

Since its formation the Firemen's Band has had the benefit of gratuitous instruction from Rev. W. H. Young, Ph.D., and have made splendid progress. Mr. Young's engagement at the College having terminated, he is about to leave Wolfville. At the regular practice on Friday evening the band presented Mr. Young with a handsome watch, and an appropriate address. The watch is a "Greenest" watch movement in a plain but well-made silver case, which bears the following inscription, "To Rev. W. H. Young, from the Firemen's Band, Wolfville, June 3d, 1892." The band, as well as the people of Wolfville, are under deep obligation to Mr. Young.

The annual meeting of the Advent Christian Conference will convene with the church at Scott's Bay commencing on Thursday evening, June 10th, and continue in session over the following Sunday.

A Thing of Beauty and a Joy for Ever.

To spread the fame of Evangeline's Land and reap more business for their road, the Windsor and Annapolis Railroad have just issued a lovely booklet which they describe as an "Illustrated Guide to the Land of Evangeline Route." The colored cover at once draws the eye by the chasteness and brightness of its design. From first to last the volume is full of delicate engravings interspersed between every few pages; and the letter-press holds up the mirror to Evangeline's "charmed land" in fascinating style, charming the reader's attention by its picturesque, pointed phrases and happy transcripts of Nature's beauties.

The author seemingly appreciated the fact that a traveler by the route of the "charmed land" is the soul of wit." We culd from the pretty volume the following interesting introduction:—"To paint the lily is, in Shakespeare's words, wasteful and ridiculous excess. To sketch the land of poetry and romance made immortal in Longfellow's 'Evangeline' is, similarly, but a vain attempt to gild refined gold.

Yet this little book has its excuse. The American poet, who transmuted into an exquisite idyll the story that Hawthorne cast aside never visited the Land of Acadia, 'home of the happy.' He was content to draw all the familiar Cypripediums, whose mellow radiance is so well-known to us in the pages of the poem, from his imagination. They are pictures of a poetic land.

"It will be well at once to say that the reality outstrips the picture. Who that has looked upon its vistas of apple orchards, a very ocean of white blossom, or has enjoyed the beauties of landscape and seascape visible from Blomidon's brow, can parallel its glories elsewhere? "There is a life-giving vigor in the air. Sunshine does not bring languor. Italian skies and temperate days make of the Nova Scotian summer a time of rest and refreshing. The land is redolent of romantic times, and wandering through its highways and by-ways the traveller finds comfort wedded to health-restoring relaxation.

"These pages are made as short as possible. 'The Land of Evangeline' needs no guide. Familiarity only freshens its beauties, which are halcyon for ever by the land."

Manitoba.

According to official reports, the products of the three principal cereal crops in Manitoba last year were 41,152,080 bushels. Of wheat 23,101,899 bushels were raised; of oats 14,762,605, and of barley 3,197,876. This represents the returns to about 19,000 farmers in that province. As prices ranged last season, this grain would sell for about $20,000,000, giving these 19,000 farmers over $1,000 each from this source. If you add to this the income from the various root crops, the dairy, the animals and live stock, you would have a very generous allowance for each. Another item should not be omitted, viz., the increase in the value of the farms during the year, as a result of the general development of the country. Manitoba farmers would seem to have no excuse or occasion to grumble.

Nearly all these 19,000 farmers are the proprietors and owners of their own farms. They control their own hours of toil. They are citizens. They have an influence in their various communities. They are interested in building up their own province, their own country. They are free men. Most of them have entered that country within ten years, and the majority of them went there as poor men and for a brief space worked as hired laborers. But soon they rose to the condition of proprietors, and to-day their fine farms cover whole townships! You can ride past miles upon miles of these continuous homesteads in various parts of Manitoba, every one of which gives evidence of comfort and thrift.

More than 19,000 persons have gone from Nova Scotia during the past ten years to the United States. Many have gone over there to engage as fishermen, many to drive teams, some to work on the farms, some to toil in factories or stand behind counters—all as hired laborer. How many have risen to the status of proprietors? Did these toilers on the sea, the driveway, in the workshop, and on the farms, receive last year over $1,000 each for their service? Probably not. How many of them can look upon their real estate that is their own, that is yearly increasing in value with no effort of their own? Very few, if any. All these people never for one hour last year felt the pleasure, the dignity that comes with the consciousness of being citizens. The sense of being hirelings ever weighed down their spirits. Not for one hour did they enjoy the satisfaction of feeling that they were co-workers in building up their own great country. The condition of a hireling in a foreign land is depressing to all generous feeling and high aspiration. One needs the touch of fellow citizens—and to be a participator in their hopes, aims and ambitions in order to be stimulated to high purpose and generous action.

Manitoba or New England, which offer superior advantages in every way. It is our own country, under our own flag, under British institutions, associated with fellow citizens, developing a land abounding in natural riches, living amid associations which, responsive to the human soul, will exalt, enrich their character and improve their manhood. Young men of Nova Scotia intending to leave your native province, go to the Canadian North-West.—Annapolis Spectator.

The Church and the Liquor Traffic.

It is too much to say that the church (by this word I mean the great body of so-called Christian men and women) has influence and power to accomplish the immediate suppression of the saloon if it would enter earnestly and honestly into the crusade against it with half the zeal and energy displayed by the lay and the vic in its defence! It is true to say that now this influence and this power are on the side of the liquor traffic as it was on the wrong side in the old slavery days? In this warfare there is and can be no neutrality. He who stands aloof from it lending no aid of head or hand or purse is practically on the side of the grog-shop and is always so counted.

Canon Wilberforce, in a speech at Exeter Hall, characterized the attitude of the present church toward the temperance movement as one of "abominable indifference." No one who knows what is the general drift of the teachings on this subject of the pulpit as a whole, and of the clerical press as a whole, can doubt that Canon Wilberforce's comment upon it is so moderate and mild that he must have found difficulty in restraining his earnest and impulsive temperament. I do not think we can win in our warfare against the most efficient agent and emissary of the devil while the Church is practically on that side. How can we bring it face to face with its responsibility to God, to our country and our people? How can we bring home to it the undoubted truth that its present attitude in this question of vital importance to men's happiness and welfare for eternity as well as for time, to the progress of the Gospel through the world, is absolutely inconsistent with a true and honest faith in God, an eternal world, and in Christ and His Gospel!

Meroz was not charged with active and aggressive warfare against God but only with neutrality. "Curse ye Meroz (said the angel of the Lord), curse bitterly the inhabitants thereof; because they came not to the help of the Lord, to the help of the Lord against the mighty." The great work now needed is to arouse the church from its apathy and to a sense of its duty. Who is he with courage enough to undertake it, and with force enough to accomplish it?—Hon. Neal Dow.

QUESTIONS CONTAINING FOOD FOR THOUGHT.—Have we, as a people, strong Temperance principles? Yes? Then why not be true to them on every occasion? Do we live in an age when a "Beer Song" should receive, (by a highly civilized and educated audience,) hearty applause and an encore? Is such sentiment elevating or degrading? Was the preceding right, or was it wrong? Will you answer these questions for yourself. COM.

The True News is responsible for the following:—A Horse Story. The biggest horse story of the season concerns a horse that Robert McLeod of this town bought in Pictou and shipped on Monday for Truro at Pictou. The animal was put into a car the door of which was securely fastened and before reaching Westville some passengers noticed what seemed to be the same horse running alongside and trying to keep up with the train. Further investigation proved it to be the same animal and that the car was empty and the door still fastened. It appears that the horse had jumped through a small window in the end of the car only 2 ft. 9 inches high by 2 feet wide. As the car was in the middle of the train it seems almost incredible that the horse could have got out in this way without being killed but strange to say only a few slight scratches were found on the animal.

Weston Notes.

Our school, under the efficient management of Miss Ella Phinney, is well underway for the summer. Arbor Day was observed by the school and others with considerable enthusiasm in the planting of trees and flowering plants on school grounds and side-walks. C. E. Sanford, Esq., opened his cheese factory on Monday with the prospect of doing a good summer's work. Mrs Benjamin Ward, jr., died of pneumonia on the 21st ult., deeply regretted by the entire community.

Letter from Mr Young. To the Editor of the ACADIAN. Permit me through your paper to publicly thank all those kind people who gave me that beautiful watch. At the last Band Rehearsal, when it was presented to me, I was too surprised to take a look at my gift. I find it to be like the Band, an ideal. It had long been a day-dream to possess such a luxury, namely a first-class movement in a strong, light, plain case. The movement given to me is the finest made, with every improvement, and accurately adjusted, while the case is strong, and made with a screw-bezel very suggestive of the Dominion Government because it is hard for any Grit to get in.

I ought to say something to the public about the Band. Music, being a matter of taste, is open to unnecessary criticism. It is possible that this Band may still follow my instructions and perhaps cause remark. People are so accustomed to noisy Bands that they take it as a matter of course. But noise is not music. The best musicians invariably play or sing softer and calmer than the ordinary. "Grit let us quit get in a muddle." It is quality, not quantity that makes music. Consequently I have trained this Band to play softly and sweetly, without any of that harsh brassy noise characteristic of ordinary bands. If they are criticised for this I wish to take all the blame, which shall be to me a compliment. Band instruments are unlike others in that the music is not due to accurate manipulation, but to sensitivity of nerves. This nerve training is a result of long practice, and its absence no evidence of ignorance in the player. Another difficulty is the perfect union of effect. A person who can play alone may not be able to blend with others. To keep seventeen players in perfect accord is no easy problem, although when accomplished it seems to be natural. It takes years often to acquire, so that I bespeak sympathy and encouragement for the Wolfville Band while they are climbing the rugged path to success. The instruments, so generously donated, are excellent; the players are industrious, faithful and musical; nothing is needed but patience and encouragement to make the music a matter of satisfaction, and pride to the citizens.

WM. H. YOUNG.

A TRENTON MIRACLE. A Remarkable Cure in a Case Pronounced Hopeless.

AN ESTIMABLE YOUNG LADY RAISED FROM A DEATH-BED AFTER BEING GIVEN UP BY SEVERAL DOCTORS—A SIMPLE STATEMENT OF FACTS.

At intervals during the past year the proprietor of the Courier has been publishing newspaper reports of miraculous cures occurring in various parts of Canada and the United States. Perhaps among the most notable of these were the cases of Mr. J. E. Marshall, of Hamilton, Ont., Mr. C. R. Northrup, of Detroit, Mich., and Mr. Chas. A. Quant of Oswego, N. Y. Mr. Marshall's case was more prominently fixed in the public mind by reason of the fact that after being pronounced incurable by a number of eminent physicians he was paid the $1,000 disability claim allowed by the Revel Temple of Tepeperance, and some months afterward was announced his almost miraculous restoration to health and active life. The case of Mr. Northrup created equally as profound a sensation in Detroit, where he is one of the best known merchants in the city. Mr. Northrup was looked upon as a helpless invalid, and could only give the most desultory attention to his business on days when he could be wheeled to the store in an invalid's chair. In his case the same simple, yet wonderful remedy that had cured Mr. Marshall restored Mr. Northrup to a life of active usefulness. The case of Mr. Chas. Quant is perhaps the most marvelous of all, inasmuch as he was not only perfectly helpless, but had had treatment in one of New York's best hospitals under such eminent medical scientists as Prof. Ward and Dr. Starr, and in Albany by Prof. H. H. Hun, only to be sent out as incurable and a few months before death wheeling out to his sufferings. Again the same remedy which restored Mr. Marshall and Mr. Northrup was resorted to, with the same remarkable results, and to-day Mr. Quant, restored to health, anticipates a long life of usefulness. The remedy which has succeeded, where the best physicians had failed, is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People—a name that is now a familiar household word throughout the continent—and a remedy that apparently stands without a rival in the annals of medical science. Having published among others, the cases above alluded to, the curiosity of the publisher of the Courier was aroused and he determined to ascertain if anyone around Trenton had been benefited by the use of Pink Pills. In conversation with Mr. A. W. Hawley, druggist, he was told that the sale of Pink Pills was remarkably increased. And Mr. Hawley gave the names of a number within his own observation who had been benefited by the use of this remedy. Among others Miss Emma Fleming, granddaughter of Mr. Robt. Young. It was stated that Miss Fleming had been raised from what was supposed to be her death-bed, after all other remedies and physicians had failed, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This statement was so startling that the Courier determined to investigate it further, and if true set the facts before the public for the benefit of other sufferers. Mr. Robt. Young, grandfather of the young lady was first seen, and in a reply to an enquiry said it was a miracle the manner in which these pills had restored his grand-daughter. As a first resort, and with a prayer in his heart, he had purchased a box of Pink Pills at Mr. Spaulbury's drug store, and so-called good resulted that the remedy was continued until his grand-daughter was as well as ever she had been. Miss Fleming's aunt was next seen, and she corroborated what had already been told the Courier, giving as well some additional particulars. Miss Fleming was next seen, and at first somewhat incredulous that this young lady in the bloom of womanhood and health was the person whom we wanted to interview. Miss Fleming, however, soon convinced us that it was she who was so miraculously saved from death, and cheerfully consented to give a statement of her case. Her father, she said, was forty years of age under Mr. Spencer, and afterwards at Gordon's mill, near Trenton, and is now miller at Union. Three years ago Miss Fleming's mother died of consumption. Up to four years ago Miss Fleming stated that she had enjoyed good health, but taking a severe cold then she had not had a well day since, until she began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills last December. She was reduced in weight to 90 pounds, but now weighs 111 pounds; a gain of 21 pounds. She consulted a number of doctors and took three remedies, but never obtained more than temporary relief. A physician at Newark, whom she consulted, said she was going into a decline and that he could do nothing for her. Her Trenton physician said that a sudden cold would go for her lungs and he had no hope of her ever getting better. She felt very miserable, strength continually failing, suffering so much distress from food that she had no desire for it and lost all appetite. She kept continually growing worse until last fall she was not able to stand without support, and gave up all efforts to help herself. In December she was taken with inflammation of the bowels and Dr. Morris was called in. He gave her medicine, she began to feel better and the inflammation, but her strength was gone and she had to be lifted in and out of bed and could not sit in a chair at all. She had taken her bed expecting never to rise again, and this was the opinion of all her friends. It was at this juncture that her grand-father, having read in the Courier of the wonderful cures effected

"You claim that you were insane when you proposed to her?" "Yes sir." "Can you prove it?" "Yes." "How?" "By producing the plaintiff in court and jailing the jury lock at her." "If it but enough for you?" is a silly question; but if you meet a man who complains of suffering from the best to one you will find, on inquiry, that he does not use Ayer's Sarsaparilla to tone up his system and free his blood from irritating humors. "Look here, George, I am positively tired of your talking love to me this way every time you call." "Marry me then, and I'll never speak another word of love to you so long as I live." C. C. ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, which will relieve the poor child in five minutes. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it.
