ROME LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent).

Rome, May 11th, 1912.

For the space of five weeks the desire of the French Government for the Protectorate in Morocco has been aired pretty freely in the press of Europe. The aim of R. Denis Cochis, Catholic deputy of the French Chamber, in his visit to Rome a month ago was, according to the press, to win over the Vatican to concede to France full protection over all foundations and residents in that country which is now to bow to a new regime. Spanish influence would be a thing of the past, as far as the Protectorate was concerned. French influence would obtain an immense impetus.

Regarding the situation the writer has been informed that M. Cochis's visit was, at least officially, quite unconnected with the ambition of the French Government. He may, as a patriotic Frenchman, have introduced the question into his conversation with the various cardinals whom he privately met; but all this was as a simple visitor and nothing more.

But M. Cochis is, the press tells us, coming from Paris to Rome one of those days. It also tells us he comes on an official mission to treat with the Holy See on the transfer of the Protectorate in Morocco from Spain to France. At the present stage it is uncertain how far this is true. But it is quite certain Rome will never grant the transference except Spain gives the fullest consent to such a change.

In these days when the "Roman Question" stands so prominently before men's eyes in all Europe as well as in Italy, it is of interest to recall the reply of Leo XIII. to an address read to him by the Roman nobles and petitioners who were gathered round his throne. "We are moved and consoled," said the great Pontiff "at the sight of so many of our Roman petitioners, who, in the midst of fetters, temptations and wiles of every kind, remain firm and unshaken in spite of the attractions of the present day, are constant in love and obedience to the Vicar of Jesus Christ, and rally still closer round us, as soon around their Father, as subjects around their sovereign. This public and noble example of fidelity which those elite of our Rome has given to the world for many years luminously and eloquently demonstrates that Rome holds it to be her glory to be and to remain a Papal city. Never was a eulogy better deserved. The most powerful of the princely Roman families has given an example of staunchness to the Old Man of the Vatican which the world will never forget. Since 1870 Prince Aldobrandini has not opened the front door of his palace in sign of mourning for the fall of Papal rule. And other great families have shown equal signs of earnest attachment. With such evidences of fidelity the interests of the future are safe.

In two months time one of the important academic events of the Roman year will take up the attention of the representatives of many nations here, for the annual concourse of the Levites belonging to the national colleges will be in progress. In the vast halls of the Propaganda, Gregorian and Apollinare Universities we shall see crowded together the students of the American, Canadian, Irish, French, South American, Spanish, Portuguese, English, Scotch, Bohemian, German, Belgian, Maronite, Armenian, Ruthenian, Greek, and the various Italian Colleges of the city will be writing away for dear life to head the prize list of the year. And then there will be the clearing that deprives Rome of one of its most characteristic sights. To the various summer villas on the Alban, the Sabine and Cimbrina hills, or here and there on the coast of the Mediterranean, the cossack groups disperse for the vacation; while those of them who have finished their course return to their respective dioceses to labor as priests of God in the vineyard. From the Irish College, which Father Luke Wadding, clarum et venerabile nomen, founded, the following young priests return to their dioceses:

- Rev M Fitzpatrick, Limerick.
- Rev T Brown, Cloyne.
- Rev J Synott, Ferga.
- Rev F Kerr, Down and Connor.
- Rev D Blackburn, Cahel.
- Rev T O'Callaghan, Dublin.
- Rev J Johnson, Meath.
- Rev W McNulty, Raphoe.
- Rev M Moore, Meath.
- Rev J Dunworth, Limerick.
- Rev R O'Reilly, Kerry.
- Rev W O'Brien, Cork.
- Rev W Haggerty, Cork.

A good deal of angry comment has been made for the past two weeks

CATHOLIC OR ROMAN CATHOLIC?

The Rev. Dr. O'Donnell, Professor of Theology in Maynooth College, writes thus strongly in favor of the name 'Catholic' instead of 'Roman Catholic.'

"We all know in Ireland what certain classes of Protestants mean when they call us 'Roman Catholics.' We have met many Catholics, notwithstanding, who, for the sake of peace take no very strong objection to it, but never, till now, have we met a Catholic theologian who insists that the title is the 'only true' one. What were the authors of the Apostles and the Nicene Creed thinking about when they settled the formulae? Were they aware that they were rejecting the 'only' title that was 'true'? Were the Fathers hopelessly wrong when they gloried in the name of 'Catholic,' and refused to employ any prefix, however technically correct, that might even seem to limit its extension? Was Cardinal Gousset's belittling about mere words when, as delegate of the Pope at the Congress of Vienna, in 1815, he admitted the titles 'Roman' and 'Catholic' separately, but objected to the joint combination? Were the Fathers of the Vatican Council oblivious of the claims of divine truth when, by a practically unanimous vote they rejected the name 'Roman Catholic' as favoring the heresy that divides the Catholic world into three parts—Greek, Anglican and Roman? (Coul. Lac. vii., 246.) At best, the name 'Roman Catholic' is a theological error, for it suggests, as some Anglicans do, the possibility of a Church that is Catholic without being Roman. It emphasizes, some may say, the doctrine of the Roman supremacy. Yes; but at the expense of limiting the Pope's jurisdiction to a mere fraction of the Catholic world. 'Some of our catchwords use the title,' Undoubtedly, true; but what right has any private compiler to run counter to the Catechism of Trent, ignore the decree of the Vatican, and re-baptize the Church with the very name her enemies are anxious to give her? * * * The title 'Catholic' is good enough for the Father. It is still good enough for us. Why give up the name by which we are known to history, and borrow in its stead a dangerous, sectarian title, born of the brain of a jeering reformer?"

One Fold, One Shepherd.

In a sermon recently preached in Birmingham, England, Bishop Hadley, of Newport, speaking on the text: 'One Fold and One Shepherd,' said:

In the Catholic Church was a universal devotion to Jesus Christ such as was found in no other religious body. The masses of the people regarded Christ because their instructors, not being certain what He is, did not preach Him with that fervor which alone could attract a flock. The non-Catholic pulpit gave Bible history instead of devotion. Their books gave the archaeology and the geography of the Holy Land and maps of Palestine, and left Jesus out. Catholics were all taught alike, and the result was that their Church had built up the great system of the Blessed Sacrament, the Mass, Holy Communion, and sacramental confession.

This system had a profound and far-reaching effect. God could, and did, confer the grace of Christ, as He pleased. But when they believed that, as a rule, sanctifying grace was bestowed under certain conditions of time and place, and external human administrators (although not without their own cooperation, then they had the germ idea of the whole of that great external religion which at once stirred the attention, softened the will, humbled the heart and deepened the emotions. And the opposite picture was held in the non-Catholic world.

There were some who had churches, but could only use them for meeting houses; who had elegancies, but asserted that they differed only in the cut of their clothes; who only met together either to sing hymns or be preached at; who had baptism, but disputed as to what it effected. And there were others who rejoiced churches, ceremonies and ministers, and affected to worship God in complete idolatry—a mode of worship which would leave the world's millions as completely without worship as if there were neither Christ nor God. Without the uplifting voice of the chair of St. Peter Christ's voice would long since have died out in ashes.

Burdock Blood Bitters CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES

Any one troubled with any itching, burning, irritating skin disease can place full reliance on Burdock Blood Bitters to effect a cure, no matter what other remedies have failed. It always builds up the health and strength on the foundation of pure, rich blood, and in consequence the cure it makes are of a permanent and lasting nature.

Mrs. Richard Costin, White Head, Ont., writes: "I have been bothered with all kinds of skin diseases for two years, and it itched so I did not know what to do. I tried three doctors and even went to Montreal to the hospital without getting any relief. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, so I got three bottles, and before I had the second one I found a big change; now to-day I am cured. Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

A priest, in making up the forms in a hurry, got a marriage notice and a grocer's advertisement mixed up, so that it read as follows: John Brown and Ida Gray were united in the altar by the quarter of the barrel. Mr. Brown is a well known coffee at 8 cents per lb., while the bride, Miss Gray, has some nice pig's feet which will be sold cheaper than at any shop in town.

Mary Orington, Jasper, Ont., writes: "My mother had a badly sprained arm. Nothing we used did her any good. Then father got Haggarty's Yellow Oil and it cured mother's arm in a few days. Price 25 cents."

Farmer—I see you're painting these old trees.

W. H. Wilkinson, Stratford, Ont., says: "It affords me much pleasure to say that I experienced great relief from Muscular Rheumatism by using two boxes of Milburn's Rheumatic Pills. Price a box 50c."

Don't let worms gnaw at the vital of your children. Give them Dr. Lee's Pleasant Worm Syrup and they'll soon be rid of these parasites. Price 50c.

Stranger—Not one. I'm the dog ancestor.

They stimulate the sluggish liver, clean the coated tongue, sweeten the breath, cleanse away all waste and poison from the system, and prevent as well as cure all sickness arising from a diseased condition of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Mrs. Matthew Sullivan, Pine Ridge, N.B., writes: "I had been troubled with liver complaint for a long time. I tried most everything I could think of, but none of them seemed to do me any good. But when I at last tried Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills I soon began to get well again. Thanks to the T. Milburn Co. I would not be without them if they cost twice as much."

According to a statement in a New York paper, fifteen out of the thirty valuable blooded dogs belonging to first cabin passengers on the Titanic were saved. Maybe some of the folks in the steerage were not so "blooded" as those canines. Yet, in the workings of everlasting justice it may be a time will come when inquiry will be made as to why first cabin dogs were given places in the boats and steerage passengers were consigned to the deep.—Chicago Journal.

R. F. Green, Conservative, was elected to the House of Commons by acclamation in the Kootenay district, British Columbia, on Friday last. The vacancy was caused by the appointment of the sitting member, Mr. Goodeve, to the Railway commission.

As for the Liberal party and the tariff, it will take some time for the party to rehabilitate itself in the confidence of the people, and as a party it might as well take time to consider carefully in which direction it will move next. It has plenty of time for consideration, rest assured.—London Free Press.

Every time a wage agreement expires new demands are made and a dispute results, which eventually ends in a new schedule of wages. The miners make the operators pay, and they of course regulate the price of their commodity to meet the conditions forced upon them. They are not in the business for fun. So at the last it is the public that is hardest hit.—Montreal Gazette.

The stoppage of a train on the Gatineau line by caterpillars, draws attention to the fact that these pests are unusually numerous in this part of the country this year. The trees and bushes along the country roads are festooned with their nests, and the caterpillars are already playing havoc with the fruit trees. Spraying is little use, the most effective way of dealing with them being to burn their nests during the middle of the day, when Mr. Caterpillar is at home enjoying a siesta during the heat of the day.—Ottawa Citizen.

Farmers' Dark Outlook.

Montreal advises of May 31st, say Tremendously heavy rains throughout the province causing a backward season with little or no growth except grass in old meadows, is the report of agricultural conditions given by Prof. E. Barton, stationed at the experimental farm in connection with Macdonald College at St. Anne de Bellevue. The Outlook is far from bright owing to cold, damp weather. Many farms are literally under water and great damage has been caused, while farmers who had not completed all their fall work, have suffered heavily owing to the impossibility of getting at the land. Seeding will not be completed until the last of June, many farmers not having commenced, even the seeding of oats in many cases being very far from complete. Live stock is reported as being generally in poor shape, owing to entering the stalls in poor condition on account of dry pasturage last fall. It is expected that the corn crop may solve some difficulties, it being suggested that many meadows showing no growth be ploughed under and sown to green corn. The horticultural department reports that the setting out of crops is nine days late. The orchards in bloom have suffered from heavy rains which have interfered with pollination and shortness of crop is feared.

Important Art Discovery.

A great stir has been caused in artistic circles in Paris by the announcement of the discovery at La Rochelle of a forgotten masterpiece by Raphael—a portrait of Elizabeth Gonzaga, Dutchess of Urbino. It is stated that there is no doubt of the genuineness of the picture, which bears the signature and the date 1505, both of which were at the time of finding covered over with a coat of paint and a false signature subscribed by a later painter. The long lost Raphael which was bought for a mere trifle from the owner, will now be put up at auction in Paris and some sensational bidding is expected.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster, minister of trade and commerce left Ottawa, Friday afternoon for England to be present at the meetings of the Imperial trade commission of which he is a member. He sails from Montreal on the Tantalus. The minister of the Interior, Robert Rogers, has gone west to attend the Conservative banquet at Regina, June 19.

Intra-Empire Tariffs.

The Vancouver News-Advertiser has been reviewing the activities of Hon. G. E. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in the direction of better intra-Empire trade relations through a system of preferential tariffs and concludes that not only will the Conservative party of Canada endorse Mr. Foster's programme but the Liberal party as well will be forced to recognize the value of these preferential schedules. Mr. Foster has effected a preferential arrangement with the West Indies and is now negotiating with both Australia and New Zealand with the object of adjusting a similar tariff with them. That is to say, there is under way among the Overseas Dominions a movement which is certain to culminate in an intra-Empire tariff system.

It is pointed out that the British people are making rapid advance in economic and fiscal problems affecting themselves as well as the Empire at large. No longer are they invoked, as they were even as late as Mr. Chamberlain's campaign, to impose a tariff for the purpose of differentiating between Empire and foreign imports, not because it would aid their own industries or promote their own welfare, but from the paternal point of view that it would be a tremendous stimulus to the Daughter Nations and States of the Empire; and serving to draw them closer to Great Britain, if the project involved a sacrifice it would be "a sacrifice worthy of the cause."

Through the growing greatness of Canada and the other Overseas States of the Empire, and with the aid of the lucid eloquence of such men as Mr. Foster, who all ways resented this idea of "sacrifice," the British people are apprehending more and more clearly day by day that an intra-Empire tariff means the augmentation and steady of British trade greater demand for their home manufactures, with more constant and better remunerated employment for their workmen.—St. John Standard.

Large Revenues.

According to Ottawa advice the month of May just closing will establish a new record for customs receipts. To date the official returns received at the department of customs show collections of $8,659,444 as compared with $6,547,572 for the corresponding period last year. When the final returns are in for the present month it is confidently expected the figures will turn the $9,000,000 mark or an increase over the corresponding month of 1911 of $2,500,000. At the present rate of progress the revenue for the fiscal year from customs alone will be well over $100,000,000. Allowing for the influence of favorable trade conditions there is still a large measure of credit for the increased revenue to be given to the institution of more up-to-date methods of departmental administration. Hence the change of government there has been a steady clearing away of the deadwood which for years hampered the efficient work of the service. There has been a great increase in the number of new custom officers all over the Dominion. No less than 24 new ports have been opened as against an average yearly increase of four under the former administration.

Off to England.

It is announced from Ottawa that Premier Borden will go to England this summer accompanied by Hon. J. D. Hanson minister of marine and fisheries, for the promised conference with the Imperial government. It has been decided that a third member of the cabinet will go along with the premier and Mr. Hanson. Who this will be has not yet been decided, but that three members of the government will go may be stated authoritatively. It is expected that they will call on the 20th of this month reaching London about July 3 or 5. Many subjects of interest and importance both to Canada and the Empire will be taken up with the Imperial government by the Canadian ministers. It may be safely assumed that Canada's part in the naval defence of the Empire will figure prominently in the discussion despite Liberal announcements that the government was not prepared to make good its promise to take that question up with the Imperial authorities. The early departure of the ministers shows that the Canadian government is quite prepared to deal at once with such a conference.

LOCAL & OTHER ITEMS.

We are pleased to know that Mrs. R. F. Maddigan, who underwent an operation for appendicitis in the Charlottetown Hospital on Friday evening last, is making excellent progress towards recovery.

"I am feeling stronger than when I left England and hope soon to be myself again," said Mrs. Charles Tupper on his arrival at Vancouver yesterday. "We had good weather on the coast trip and I found the railway journey exceedingly well," he said.

News of the drowning of six respected residents of the Township of Preston Quebec has filtered down to civilization from this centre of the "back camp," which is not connected with the outer world excepting by a semi-weekly stage line. The accident in which six persons lost their lives occurred while they were crossing "La Grande Poudre Blanche"—Great White Fish Lake, on Tuesday afternoon of last week.

Mr. McCready, for many years editor of the Guardian, has been appointed Publicity Agent for Prince Edward Island. This is the information contained in the Guardian of yesterday. We understand the emoluments are $1,800 salary and expenses, to be paid by the Federal Government. That looks like a pretty fair job for a life-long Liberal to secure from the party he has strenuously opposed. Mr. McCready is surely to be congratulated on receiving this appointment from his political opponents.

It is announced in New York that the new $5,000 ton White Star liner which will take the place of the Titanic in the fall, 1912, is to be named Britannic. The All Canadian Route To Montreal.

Via the Intercolonial Railway Maritime Express is the only All Canadian Route to Quebec and Montreal from the Maritime provinces. The Maritime Express is generally admitted by experienced travellers to be the most comfortable train in America. This is especially true in regard to the dining and sleeping car services. The diners of the I. C. R. are roomy and well ventilated and furnished in the best of taste. The most excellent meals are served Table d'hote at a price away below the a la carte rates prevailing on the company owned lines. The sleeping coaches are up to date in every particular, and the smoothness of the road bed makes the long journey easy and pleasant. Being popular with a class of travellers who are generally found to be the acme of good company, the through journey is never found dull, and even during the winter months there is much of scenic interest in the day's ride through the Province of Quebec. Montreal is reached at the convenient hour at 6.30 p. m. and connections are made at Bonaventure Union Station with the through trains of the Grand Trunk Railway for Toronto, Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago and other points in Western Canada and the United States. Connecting train for the Maritime leaves Pictou at 14.30—14.

Ocean Limited Early On Route.

SUMMER TIME CHANGE OF INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY JUNE 2ND.

The summer change of time on the Intercolonial Railway will go into effect on June 2nd when the famous Ocean Limited will be placed on the route between Montreal, St. John, N. B. and Halifax N. S. with connections for and from the By-ways, and Prince Edward Island, in anticipation of an early rush of summer travel. The time schedule is expected to be practically the same as last year which means that the "Lambton" will leave Montreal at 7.30 p. m. reaching Lewis at midnight, and giving through passengers the opportunity of seeing the famous Malapelite Valley during the earlier hours of the morning and a view of the Restigouche River and the blue waters of the Bas de Chaleurs. The beautiful Valley of Westworth, N. B. will be seen in the more southern light of early evening, and the train will reach Truro at 8.00 o'clock connecting with the through night express for the Shubenubet and arriving at Halifax at 10.00 p. m.

The Maritime Express under the summer schedule will leave Montreal at 8.15 a. m. and through passengers will have the daylight journey through Quebec, and a view of the majestic St. Lawrence as it widens in its course to the sea. Making connection at Moncton with morning express for St. John the Maritime continuing outward will reach Halifax at 12.30.

The Ocean Limited will leave Halifax on Monday at 8.00 a. m. and the Maritime Express will leave at 12.10 thus there will be a through week day service by two trains equal to the best on the continent—12.

Terrible Drama of The Sea

Oh, there are many things that divert even those who care little for the social whirl of land life on a big ship.

And those who were tired went to bed. Few if any, were asleep. It was early yet; dark, but calm; windless and keen with stars.

The pulse of the great ship had scarcely so much as slackened, but way gradually through the dark. Fish-gazers on the way up to bed glanced again at the light of the moon on the staircase.

In a smoking-room the President and General Manager of a great Canadian system of railways had been talking to another American about modern coast travel.

The captain, however, knew the general manager, James. He knew as well as James what the Titanic cost, how she was built and equipped, what her appointments were, what she was expected to do in any sea or weather.

People remembered this was the Titanic; and never as yet had she made a port.

The wireless operator in his sparrows' nest was now almost captain. Somebody in a forward state-room felt his bunk getting an uneasy list.

Higher and still higher—till at last they were unable further to climb up—the beammen felt the stern of the great ship rising as the head went down.

The machinery roared down through the vessel with a rattle and a growling that could be heard for miles. To our amazement she remained in that upright position for a time, which estimated five minutes, others in the boat say less, but it was certainly some minutes, while we watched at least 150 feet of the Titanic towering up above the level of the sea and looming back against the sky.

Somewhere up in the new rigging by the rudder, music inspired as ever was any orchestra, a bandman passed now and again to feel if his life-belt was still on. Only the band shivering in the far off boats heard the hymn from the topmost peak of the awful fantastic upheaval the same old simple and godly hymn that but for the awe and the fright must have fetched tears from that scattered congregation.

As though the great Genie of the sea himself were playing it! Soon the water would be up into the instruments. One more verse—

When the drifters in the boats looked again—though by some conviction of the world's civilization itself had suddenly been snuffed out there on the sea—the hymn was done.

There was no longer any Titanic. But the great shrouded ships of the ice were round and about the lifeboats; and the people in those seemed to themselves like lost souls adrift on a sea that might have been, not the old Atlantic, but some sea that began with the beginning of time and ended with eternity.

And the Titanic with her hundreds of dead in and about her submarine tangle of wreckage; with her hundred-ton rudder heaved alongside one of the boilers; with compass and chart, wireless and log-book and the instruments that played the hymn to the God of the sea—all gone below and beneath; she, the unsinkable conqueror of the sea, the making port of the foundations of the iceberg; being her awful contingent, such as no ship ever had done, to the army of the dead ships in the deep.

A Peerless Leader. Hon. Thomas Stillington, of Belfast, replying to the toast: 'The Chairman of the Irish Parliamentary Party' said in part:

Mr. Redmond as Chairman of the Irish Party, stands upon an eminence rarely attained by any statesman in any land. From every distant land where an Irish colony is found come oft-repeated messages of confidence in his leadership. He has established a reputation as a Parliamentarian almost, if not altogether, unrivalled. The position of the Irish question today is the most convincing proof that could be afforded of the qualifications of leadership that were found in Mr. Redmond. In the face of unparalleled difficulties, amidst the uncertainties and pitfalls created by the rise and fall of British Parties and of Ministries, and of grave constitutional changes, the Irish Party, led and guided by Mr. Redmond, had pressed forward the claims of the Irish Nation with resolute and unshaken consistency. Where else did history recall a similar triumph of patient and faithful service in a great cause, persevered with unswerving fidelity for so many years to a finally successful issue?

A Sensible Merchant. Milburn's Sterling Headache Powders give women prompt relief from monthly pains, and leave no bad after effects whatever. Be sure you get Milburn's. Price 25 and 50 cts.

Minard's Liniment cures Dandruff. No Mr. Rogerson, I cannot be your wife. (Quickly recovering himself.) Well, that ends it. May I ask you, Miss Lodonia, if you are carrying all the life insurance you want?

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited. GENTS.—I have used your Minard's Liniment in my family and also in my stables for years, and consider it the best medicine obtainable. Yours truly, ALFRED BOCHAV, Proprietor Roxton Pond Hotel and Livery Stables.

Little Bessie and her mother were doing the right of the town. Soon they came to a show where tickets announced. Children, half price. Oh do let us go in mammy, said the little one, and buy a baby, now they're so cheap!

Minard's Liniment cures Neuralgia. Sugar has its champions as well as its opponents. Its advocates have declared that, aside from its nourishing value, it carries with it a quick stimulation that is without perceptible reaction. On the other side, says the Bakers Weekly, we have had radical utterances connecting sugar with some of the most inconvertible of organic diseases.

There is nothing harsh about Lee-Liver Pills. They cure Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, and Bilious Spells with just gripping, purging or sickness. Price 50c.

He did not hear the splinter from wireless. Bells were scurrying by. Roaring from wireless splintered if he had about for Apper—was it the Holy Ghost?

It was still dark. He had a notion of dress and gown dark—

All Stuffed Up

The condition of many sufferers from catarrh, especially in the morning, is that difficulty is experienced in clearing the head and throat.

The wonder cures catarrh, loosens the breath, deranges the stomach, and affects the appetite.

To cure catarrh, loosen the bowels, and clear the head and throat. Use Wood's Sarsaparilla.

Wood's Sarsaparilla. Causes catarrh to loosen and strengthen the stomach mechanism and builds up the whole system.

It was too cold. Just in front of his window he heard a man say as he looked up at the mountain of fog that the Titanic had probably made a bad guess in the foggy morning; speaking of fog that had stepped on the duck.

The speaker turned in and went to dream.

A baby somewhere was fast asleep as a baby sometimes sleeps in its carriage on a noisy street. And there was nothing in the dreams of the child to answer the thrill of that wireless report.

The captain came down from the bridge. Officers went about to say: 'There's no danger.'

Somebody in a forward state-room felt his bunk getting an uneasy list. He sat up.

'Humb! I wonder—?' One rapped at his door.

'All passengers on deck with life belts on—courteously requested, as though the steward was calling breakfast.

But somebody was shouting the order. A mere precaution.

Most of the passengers were up now. The band was still playing. On the hurricane deck men were lifting covers from the boats, bobbing against the stars.

The Titanic was dead still. Perhaps one above heard wireless splinter and snap again.

Some smoke was rising; wiped away by the wind.

Here and there a voice rippled out a senarian command: 'All men stand back away from the boats. All ladies to the next deck below.'

The voice may have come from dress uniform.

Wireless was no longer speaking. The instrument had sent out: 'We are sinking by the head! Then she rattled and stopped.

In perfect order the men obeyed. They were as quiet as people in a church; as though the voice might have been from on High. They were in the care of a great system seen at its best on this the world's greatest boat. Merely to obey was to be safe.

All a matter of management. Never yet had the Titanic reached a port; never felt a gale; never a wave had gone over her top deck as high as a six-story building from the waterline.

Slowly now as the boats went creaking down in the new ropes in the pulleys never used before, some brave, big-nosed woman said: 'No—no I shan't go in a boat. Please don't make me—'

Her husband, a gray-headed philanthropist, much beloved for his good works, tried to persuade her. But she refused to leave him: 'He—by the law of human nature' could not go.

It was women and children first. Besides, the Titanic was a warm, splendid thing; blazing with light, lavished with luxury, spangled with diamonds, brava with men and women that had helped conquer the world.

The railway president called from the deck to one of the boats: 'It will take hours to sink this ship—if that's possible. Help will arrive first.'

Now a wave had gone over her. But now as the boats went down to the dark, the top deck was lowering by the head; inch by inch with the ease of a great elevator, accommodating herself to the sea she was built to conquer.

Down and down went the banks in the dark below; thousands of tons of the coal and hundreds of grimy men—they alone perhaps besides the Almighty, knew just what had been done to the Titanic by the terrible impact of the iceberg on the walls of that black iceberg; how many hundreds under the starboard bow crashed in.

Now and still the boats were lowering.

But the band kept on playing by order of the captain.

SEVERE COLD DEVELOPED INTO PNEUMONIA

DOCTOR SAID HE WOULD NOT LIVE.

Next to consumption there are more deaths from pneumonia than from any other lung trouble.

There is only one way to prevent pneumonia, and that is to cure the cold just as soon as it appears. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will do this quickly and effectively.

Mr. Hugh McLeod, Estabrook, St. John's, writes: "My little boy took a very severe cold, and it developed into pneumonia. The doctor said he would not live. I got some of your Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and he began to improve right away. He is now a strong, healthy child, and shows no signs of his coming back."

Do not be talked into buying any other Norway Pine Syrup, but insist on getting the original "Dr. Wood's." It is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pins trace the trade mark; price, 25 cents.
