Greeks Report Great Victory.

Capture 8,000 Turks and Much War Material--Turkey will Not Surrender Smyrna -- Individual Outrages in County Cork-- Yale-Harvard Boat Race Won by Former.

GREEKS SURROUND TURKS.

LONDON, June 26. The Legation here has received official information that the Greeks campaigning against the Turkish Nationalists in the Smyrna District, surrounded a Turkish Army Corps in Philadelphia Alashehr, 83 miles east of Smyrna taking 8,000 prisoners with guns and booty.

ATTACKS ON SINN FEINERS.

BANTRY, County Cork, June 26. What was apparently a concerted series of outrages against Sinn Feiners occurred here last night, one death and the burning of several homes and shops resulting. Cornelius Crowley, 20 years of age, was shot dead in bed by a group of masked men, who later set fire to the shop and dwelling of a local merchant. Both Crowley and the merchant in question were reputed to be prominent in Sinn Fein circles. Three other houses were broken into and threats of shooting made against occupants. One of these houses was destroyed and two others were damaged by fire. An attempt was made to burn the stores on the quay where the residences are all Sinn Feiners. The residence of the recently elected Chairman of Guardians of Sinn Fein was also destroyed by fire.

SHAREHOLDERS RATIFY MERGER.

NEW GLASGOW, N.S., June 26. The shareholders of the Nova Scotia Steel company to-day ratified the agreement made between the directors and the British Empire Steel Corporation with respect to the proposed merger.

WILL NOT URGE ANY IRISH RESOLUTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26. The friends of Irish freedom, whose representative came to San Francisco to urge a plank in the Democratic platform pertaining to Ireland, announced last night that because of the activity of Irish sympathisers under the direct guidance of President DeValera, of the Irish Insurgent Government, they would not propose any declaration to the Convention Resolutions Committee.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.

HAMILTON, Ohio, June 26. Riot calls for police, sheriff and deputies have been received to a house two miles north of here on a seven mile pike, where shooting by Kentuckians is said to have resulted in the death of one and the wounding of another. The house is now reported surrounded.

TURKEY WANTS SMYRNA.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 26. (By Associated Press.)—The Turkish Peace Delegation in Paris has been instructed from Constantinople that the Turkish Government will uncompromisingly refuse to sign any Treaty which deprives Turkey of Smyrna District, Adrianople or Eastern Thrace. In the main, it is indicated the Government agrees with the other territory limitations fixed by the Entente.

AT THE HAGUE.

THE HAGUE, June 26. The Commission of Jurists in session here for the formation of a permanent Court of International Justice, as provided for in the League of Nations Covenant, has unanimously decided that this court shall be located at the Hague.

YALE DEFEATS HARVARD.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 26. Yale captured the honors in the Annual Regatta with Harvard over the historic course this morning, by winning the two mile freshman race by one length. Yale also took the second race, the Junior Varsity eight-oared race, defeating Harvard by 1 1/4 lengths.

TROOPS FOR DERRY.

BELFAST, June 25. Six motor lorries filled with fully armed troops left Belfast last night for Londonderry. Two lorries filled with equipment for the troops and an armoured car also were despatched to Londonderry.

FOOD RIOTS CONTINUE.

LONDON, June 25. A state of siege has been proclaimed in Ulm, Germany, where numerous persons were killed during Tuesday's food riots, says a Berlin despatch to the London Times. In Heidenheim, Wurtemberg, a citizen's defense corps was attacked by Communists, who seized all their rifles. The Municipal offices there are being supervised by Communists.

Grenfell Party for Newfoundland.

North Sydney, June 21.—An expedition left by the Kyle on Saturday evening and comprised a party of nineteen who go down to St. Anthony the Grenfell headquarters, in the extreme north east of Newfoundland. This party was composed of both sexes, and their duties for the summer will lie along the lines of hospital efforts and the conducting of schools among the sparse and scattered population of northern Newfoundland and Labrador and a portion of the Quebec coast from below the Strait of Belle Isle for two or three hundred miles.

The main mission and hospital is at St. Anthony, and a number of the party remain there. Others take up work at the various smaller institutions, to tend the sick and suffering. Practically all will be absent about four months, though Miss J. G. Harkon, of Melburn, Quebec, will remain a whole year. Miss Harkon was a member of the Harvard unit, and was on duty overseas for a considerable period at No. 22 General, Canniers, France. The party going down was, on the whole, a jolly one, brimful of youth and energy, going out to the, to them, unknown regions of the north combining a mission of comfort and consolation with the pleasures brought by a new and strange experience.

Representatives were present from many states, presenting types interesting and diverse, from the jolly girl to whom life is almost a lark to the staid and serious lady who has acquired a mannerism unmistakable in those who have had a certain period taken up with driving reluctant wees ones along the flowery but somewhat distasteful paths of knowledge. They bring a breath and a message from the moving, living world to ones whom to us seem almost beyond its pale. Good luck go with them. A pleasant and profitable summer and safe return.

The party was composed of the following members, not all ladies, by any means, for there were a number of gentlemen also: Alvin S. Leland, Jonathan S. Walker, Richard N. Greenwood, Ruth W. Taylor, Margaret A. Kennard, Margaret Hauleine, Alfred N. Westham, Boston; Franklin T. Hammond, Jr., Cambridge; Edith Sloan, Elizabeth Bristol, New York City; Mary Fallon, Rochester, N.Y.; Esther Steele, Pittsburg, N.Y.; Anne V. Vider, Quincy, Mass.; Gertrude Bradley, Chestnut Hill, Mass.; Carroll Bates, Gardiner, Maine; Harris P. Haystalling, Katherine Lanmen, Cambridge, Mass.; Marion R. Mosely, Chicago; Elizabeth D. Fuller, Durham, N.C.; A. H. Cushing, Cleveland, Ohio; Miss J. G. Harkon, Melburn, Quebec. Miss Steele was also overseas on hospital staff at Evereux, Normandy.

The Meaning of Play.

The child has a right to play. Free, "unbossed" play is the most serious business of the child. It is the way in which his faculties are best brought to their highest capabilities. A child, like a kitten, is a play-formed animal. The kitten follows the string or ball because nature has implanted certain instincts which make it necessary for the kitten to learn to follow moving objects with accuracy. Practice in following moving objects, which we call play, is the serious business of a kitten. On the same principle the play of the child develops his muscles, his mentality, and, in the team play of later childhood, his sense of justice and of right social relationships. Practically all the work of a child should be undertaken in the play spirit and should be the result of his inner desire to do this or that thing. To those who feel that this modern principle of education, if strongly emphasized, will result in a lack of principle on the part of the child, it may be said that the child will constantly impose upon himself harder tasks, requiring concentration and attention to detail, exercise of the imagination, and constructive ability, than the severest educator of the old school would dare to impose on him.

"I ended corns forever in this scientific way"

Millions have said that about Blue-jay. Others tried it and told others the same story. So the use has spread, until corn troubles have largely disappeared. If you have a corn you can settle it tonight. And find the way to end every corn. Apply liquid Blue-jay or a Blue-jay plaster. The pain will stop. Soon the whole corn will loosen and come out. Think what folly it is to keep corns, to pare or pad them, or to use the old harsh treatments.

Here is the new-day way, gentle, sure and scientific. It was created by a noted chemist in this world-famed laboratory.

It is ending millions of corns by a touch. The relief is quick, and it ends them completely.

Try it tonight. Corns are utterly needless, and this is the time to prove it. Buy Blue-jay from your druggist.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

THOSE DANGEROUS FIRST IMPRESSIONS.

RUTH CAMERON

What dangerous deceitful things first impressions are! Suppose you had decided everything in your life by first impressions — how differently your life would have shaped up! You certainly wouldn't have the same friends. Very likely you would have taken different turnings in the business road.

His First Impressions of His Wife.

A man who is devoted to his wife, an unusually charming woman, told me once that the first time he met her, she had on an unbecoming gown and had a violent cold in the head, and he was not at all attracted to her, but quite the contrary — yet it took only three or four meetings (at which the cold in the head was not present) for him to fall in love with her. Which shows how rapidly first impressions can be modified.

How One's Opinions of Places Change

To judge a place by one's first impressions would also be dangerous. The mood in which one came into it might make such a difference, or the weather, or one's own physical condition. One summer we went for our vacation to a place which we had never visited but had heard praised by friends. We arrived tired out from the hurry of getting off in the middle of a quiet summer afternoon; there seemed to be no one around; we disliked the looks of the farmhouse where we were to stay and altogether were smitten with a deadly homesickness. In two hours we began frantically looking for trains that would take us out of there at once. Unfortunately, as we then viewed it, but fortunately as it turned out, there was no train which would conduct with the place we wanted to go to before the next afternoon. With difficulty we resigned ourselves to wait until then. You know the rest, substantially. We met some pleasant people that evening, waked the next morning rested and in a happier mood, found that the bathing was wonderful and that there were some excellent tennis courts, decided to stay a few days before we moved on, and finally spent all our time there and had one of our nicest vacations.

Some People Go Back to First Impressions.

Of course, there are people who say that their first impressions are almost always correct, and that if they depart from them they are sure to go back. But I have a feeling there are fewer of these than of us common place mortals who have to wait and take all factors into consideration before we form a judgment that will last. In my own case, I have certainly found that I get better results if I try to suspend judgment when things and people are new to me. I thus avoid the forming of prejudice and leave my mind open for a gradual crystallization of opinion. I don't mean that I always succeed in doing this. Far from it. But that's my ideal.

Fashions and Fads.

Jet is much used with tulle. Coats are chiefly self-trimmed. Wide girdles tie at the left side. Capes fit the figure rather closely. Organdie sashes are wide and long. Suits are still very much embroidered. Most suit-coats blouse only at the back. Coats are rather long and semi-fitted. Loop panels are shown on the new skirts. The new Paris suit-coats are unbelted. Buttons are much in the background. Pleated panels may drop below the hem. Entire pieces of lingerie are made of ribbons. All of the new dancing frocks are very short. Deep-gathered ruffles are seen on cape-wraps. Navy tricotine is favored for street wear. Even the bathing suit features side-fullness. Pippings of satin are popular for trimmings. The dip-back skirt has been introduced for fall.

WINE MARCH

Some people say that they have talked with ghosts across the river, and with the shadows they have walked — which rather makes me shiver. I've seen a weary waste of words, to bolster this contention, and "facts and figures" thrown at birds, too numerous to mention. I do not wish to pierce the veil my ignorance throws over me, or see or hear the phantoms pale of dear ones gone before me. My point of view may be a sin, a sign I'm callous-hearted, but I will wait till I cash in to greet the dear departed. Then we can sit around in space, in glowing fields Elysian, and speak our pieces face to face, with naught to blur our vision. Perhaps some distant ghost may weep to hear my accents quiver, but what I have to say will keep till I have crossed the river. The men who think and talk of ghosts where hustlers are embattled, by all the busy, buoyant hosts are looked upon as rattled. I do not wish to talk with shades in spectral, vague dominions, till this old world behind me fades and I am wearing pinions.

Sports coats and capes of camel-hair are much worn. One sees many metallic effects in evening headresses. Coat sleeves are often kimono style, wide and long.

Just Folks

BEAUTY. The beauty of a lily and the beauty of a face. Make bright a gloomy corner and exalt the common place. But there's nothing shines so brightly in this world of human need as the beauty and glory of a kind and thoughtful deed.

There are lovely things to look at — there's the blue sky and the sun and the hill tops in the distance, and the works that men have done, but the best of God's creations, in this world of joy and smart. Are the helping hand of service and the big and generous heart.

Not on canvas or in marble, or in flowers which bloom to fade, Or in lovely skies which vanish, are the lasting beauties made; They make bright the dismal places, but the kind and cheery voice, And the heart that is unselfish, make the weary to rejoice.

There is beauty in a lily, and there's beauty in the hills, There is beauty in the blossoms wet with dew the morning spills, But the richer lasting beauty which this world forever needs, Through its days of tribulation, is the beauty of our deeds.

Side belts are more popular than any other type. The pleated apron tunic is a favorite of Paris. Black embroidery is popular on colored materials.

Famous Bull Fighter Gored to Death.

London—(By the Associated Press) —The hackneyed argument against bullfights, that the bull has not a sporting chance, is refuted by the death in Madrid of the idolized Jose-lito, who was gored to death in the eighth year of his career, according to a correspondent writing to the London Times on "The Psychology of the Bull-Ring." He says: "True that of the 1,430 bulls that Joselito disposed of in his brief career as a matador, only seven succeeded in wounding his body and one taking his life. "Yet, even if we accept these figures as an average though they result from the experience of the most skillful bull-dodger that the Spanish ring ever knew, they are amply sufficient to prove that the bull has a sporting chance considerably higher than that of the fox or deer. "The opinion seems to be general in England that bull-fights satisfy a craving for cruelty and sanguinary scenes. Nothing is farther from the truth. It is not because bull-fights are sanguinary, but in spite of their being so, the Spaniards like them. "It is seldom that the foreigner can appreciate a bull-fight as something more complex and dramatic than a picture. Once he has taken in the graceful curve of the ring, the movement, the color, and the merry hubbub of thousands of voices, and the blue sky overhead; once he has seen the despojo, the glistening costumes of the toreros, the quaint ceremony of the throwing of the key; once he has felt the first bull rush out from his dark cell, and suddenly stop, dazzled by the sun, cutting out on the yellow sand its beautiful profile — nothing remains in store for him save monotony, broken now and then by the outbreaks of disgust. But it is then that the true 'adicionado' begins to enjoy himself. "He is going to behold a spectacle where men are playing light-footed on the edge of the abyss. There is no forgetting that. A bull is the most dangerous animal, one whose handling requires a cool head and a stout heart. And this is the fundamental fact about bull-fights. They are above all dramas of courage."

Calgary Paper. RAISES SUBSCRIPTION RATE TO EIGHT DOLLARS A YEAR. Calgary, June 18.—Announcement has been made by the Calgary Albertan, one of the city's dailies, that it is raising its subscription rate to eight dollars a year. The action has been made necessary, the paper says, chiefly by the enormous advance in the cost of newsprint. Since 1917 the price for newsprint to Alberta papers has been increased by 200 per cent. Other production costs have also increased greatly.

Sixteen Years for Looting Chateaux.

Sixteen years in a French prison, was the sentence pronounced May 31 by a French military Judge at Ludwigshaven in the occupied zone, upon Capt. Imhof, a German officer accused of looting French chateaux during the war. Capt. Imhof, it is stated, was arrested by the French during their occupancy of Frankfurt. Imhof's house was found to be full of furniture, pictures and tapestries stolen from French chateaux during the German occupation. In defense Imhof pleaded that thousands of officers, from the former Crown Prince downward, did the same as he. The French Judge said he regretted he was unable to treat the prisoner as an ordinary burglar and inflict a heavier sentence.

"Telegram" Reporter

JOINS "HALIFAX HERALD" STAFF.

Mr. J. R. Smallwood, of the Telegram staff, severs his connection with this paper to-day and leaves by express to-morrow for Nova Scotia, where he will work as a reporter on the "Halifax Herald." Mr. Smallwood has been for two years connected with this city's leading paper, the many interesting articles from his versatile pen always finding favor with our readers. "J.R." as he is familiarly known to his friends, though scarcely in his majority, has displayed marked journalistic and literary abilities. Among his scoops were the Ricketts, V.C., interview, obtained on board the Corsican, every other reporter having failed to get aboard her; The Transatlantic Flight, Stories from Trepassy and Harbor Grace, and the famous Flat Island raid, when he was the only newspaper man to be on the H.M.S. Cornwall during the trip. In the broader field to which he is going, he will no doubt reach the top rung in his chosen profession. His numerous friends will be sorry that he is leaving, and his fellow-subscribers will miss him from their ranks, but feel confident that he will reach the goal of his ambition where a more perfect training can be obtained. Before leaving Mr. Smallwood expressed the wish that all Newfoundlanders who are in Halifax, will look him up at the Herald Office, and also that anybody from the old town wishing to have anything done in Halifax be not backward in communicating with him.

Franchise in Newfoundland.

Though an Opposition bill to grant the franchise to the women of Newfoundland has been given the six months' hoist in the House of Assembly at St. John's, it may probably be taken for granted that a similar measure will be passed before the next general election. As the last general election was held only a few months ago, and another is not to be expected for several years, there is no immediate urgency for enfranchising the women, and the Squire Government, as is not unusual with governments, probably desired that when the legislation should be put upon the statute books, the ministers should be the ones to have drafted it—and be the ones to get the credit. Approval of the principle of this year's bill was expressed on both sides of the House, by ministers as well as private members. This makes it reasonably certain that another bill will meet a happier fate. Newfoundland would scarcely be expected to lag behind other British countries in regard to woman's suffrage.—Sydney Record,

As the North Sees It.

(Twillingate Sun, June 19.)
WOMAN SUFFRAGE DEFEATED.

In the House of Assembly last week Mr. Jennings moved and Mr. Guppy seconded that the Women's Suffrage Bill be read again six months later, which is a polite way of killing a bill. The motion was carried by the Government, and the Bill was defeated on straight party vote, some of the Government members absenting themselves.

While those ladies who engineered the bill may feel a bit disappointed, we believe that it was really the best thing for their cause. People don't appreciate what they get without effort, and had Newfoundland's women got the suffrage with so little effort, and so little propaganda work as had been done up till last week, it is safe to say that over seventy-five per cent. of Newfoundland's women would have known or cared little about the vote.

Now there is the stimulus of something to work for, and if those women who have been doing the agitating believe in their demand for the vote they should put in some twelve months of steady propaganda and effort.

They may take it from us, however, that the outport women has yet to be convinced that she wants to vote.

PREACHING AND PRACTICE.

When Premier Squires issued his manifesto it was accepted as a promise, a loyal promise and not mere words, that a definite attempt would be made to reduce unnecessary expenditure in government departments, to check profiteering, and to make a bona fide attempt to reduce the high cost of living.

It is now a matter of history as to how well the cost of living has been reduced while the Profiteering Act is admitted to be pure bluff; but it will come as a severe shock to most of the electorate to know that it is the intention to increase the salaries of M.H.A.'s from $200 to one thousand dollars a year.

We wonder what the average man thinks of that, and the other increases? Nova Scotia, a much wealthier country, and with twice our population, pays its M.H.A.'s $750, while New Brunswick, with one and a half times our population thinks its M.H.A.'s well paid at $500.

Premier Squires talked largely of graft during his election campaign.

Is it graft, or only what he is worth that he draws a salary of only about nine thousand a year himself, as Colonial Secretary, Premier and the rest of it?

With the Rod.

(Western Star.)

Recent rains have tended to raise the waters of River of Ponds, and river is now said to be in fairly good condition. A number of sportmen are expected there this week.

We were informed to-day that although so few fish have been secured of late the warden, Mr. Pike, reports a considerable number of salmon running in the river at the present time, and that Paymaster who is camped in the vicinity of the White Cliff Pool, hooked but lost several within the last few days.

To our knowledge but two salmon have been taken with the rod from Crabbes River the past week and these two fish were captured by the Roberts party, of Halifax, the last of which joined Friday's express for their home city. This poor showing, however, was due wholly to the low condition of the stream during the period in question. June 19th, the welcome rain is pouring down in good old-fashioned style, and a fair supply of water is absolutely essential to good fish-fishing, the coming week should show first class results for the ardent and steadfast disciple of Isaac Walton.

Corn Duty Diminished.

On Friday, June 26, 1916, Queen Victoria gave her royal assent to a bill which had been introduced by Sir Robert Peel, the Prime Minister from September, 1841, till July of that year, and which had passed through the House of Commons and Lords, by which the duty charged on all corn imported into the United Kingdom had been greatly reduced. So deeply was the Government in debt through the long war against France that in 1815, when the victory of Waterloo ended the strife, £4 had to be paid for every quarter of corn imported, and even in 1828 a duty of £1 5s. 8d. had to be paid on every quarter if the average price at which it was sold in England was less than 52s., a quarter being equal to 28 lbs. weight. By Sir Robert Peel's Act this tax was reduced if the price of corn was up to 53s., and after Feb. 1, 1849, the duty was to be only one shilling; on June 24, 1869, even this was abolished. In 1892 duty was again put on imported corn of threepence per hundredweight and on flour of sixpence per cwt, but again on June 22, 1909, these were remitted. Thus the staff of life was rendered far cheaper, for in 1801 a quarter of wheat in England and Wales averaged £5 19s. 6d., in 1810 its price was £5 6s. 6d.; in 1825 it had been reduced to £3 8s. 6d. It gradually fell lower till in 1904 it was only £1 2s. 10d., though in 1909 it had

"Babbies" and "Peelers." But the freedom and facility that he thus obtained for importing corn seems to have been carelessly and idly abused by the British people, and of this we have been reminded by the late long European war which made the former great importing of it difficult and deficient, so that, for example, the small loaf, that previously had been sold for twopenny, could not longer be purchased for less than four pence halfpenny. It is to be hoped that, although the price of flour is now sinking back into what it was before the war, by a lesson thus learned the British people will be led to grow far more wheat for themselves instead of allowing their land to be wasted.

DEMPSEY'S TRIAL.
San Francisco, June 17.—William Harrison (Jack) Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion, testifying on his own behalf in his trial on charges of evading the United States Selective Draft Act, yesterday denied charges of non-support and cruelty made by his former wife, Mrs. Maxine Dempsey.

Dempsey described himself as having been the principal support of his family from the time he was fourteen years old. He detailed experiences as a farm-hand, miner, carpenter, and boxer, including reverses when "the boxing game was dull," and toward the end, his life as a budding champion. Dempsey said he never had struck his wife, and that the jaw fracture she sustained was caused by a fall. Dempsey said he had supported his wife until she left him in 1917. Mrs. Dempsey's testimony earlier in the trial alleged that her husband struck her on the jaw because "she had not earned any money for him."

Dempsey told of his work as a Government recruiting agent for the shipyards in 1918, saying he "guessed he got three or four hundred men" to work in the Philadelphia shipyards. Cross-examination failed to alter or confuse his testimony. The defense announced that only one or two more witnesses would be called.

W. H. Stolorow, a travelling salesman, of St. Paul, testified he wrote most of the answers to Dempsey's questionnaire at a Chicago hotel. He had done it in a spirit of friendly co-operation.

CARPENTIER-LEVINSKY MATCH POSTPONED.

New York, June 18.—The proposed Carpentier-Levinsky match has been postponed until October. The motion picture company which is featuring the Frenchman in a five-reel thriller is supposed to have a contract with Carpentier which prohibits him from entering the ring until October. It seems to be a rather late date to make this discovery, but no doubt the publicity all hands obtained by the announcement of the match did them no harm.

Carpentier has announced that he is going back to France on July 15, but will return in October. Perhaps he will then meet Levinsky. Manager Descamps is said to have asserted that his protege will not fight Jack Dempsey until next year, possibly on July 4.

"JACK" HURLS DEFIANCE AT CARPENTIER.

San Francisco, June 17.—Jack Kearns, manager for Jack Dempsey, heavyweight pugilist of the world, announced to-day that Dempsey would be ready within two weeks to meet Georges Carpentier, the French heavyweight. Labour Day was suggested as the date of the proposed contest.

Kearns issued a statement asserting that Dempsey's acquittal yesterday of a draft evasion charge in the United States District Court here, left his war record clear. Kearns' statement in part said:

"Now, Georges Carpentier, we're ready. If you have come to America to fight, here's your chance. Jack Dempsey is free and ready to meet you anywhere in the world. The chance you have been asking for a crack at the title is yours. The next move is also yours."

DEMPSEY NOT GUILTY.

San Francisco, June 18.—William Harrison (Jack) Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion was found not guilty on a selective draft evasion indictment by a jury in the United States District Court here to-day.

Both sides waived argument in the trial to-day and immediately thereafter Judge Dooling immediately began instructing the jury. The defence, contrary to its announcement, failed to put on two concluding witnesses.

BECKETT-BURNS FIGHT A SET-UP.

New York, June 18.—Sporting men in this country were shocked the other day when they learned that Joe Beckett, who still holds the heavyweight championship of Great Britain had been matched to fight Tommy Burns—the same Burns who lost the world's title to Jack Johnson in Australia on December 20, 1908. Burns will celebrate his thirty-ninth birthday on Thursday of this week, and has been out of the game for nearly ten years. Yet the British boxing authorities so far have displayed no opposition to this one-sided affair, and Burns, therefore, will be permitted to play the role of "set up."

Beckett, since Georges Carpentier flattened him in less than a round last winter, has been trying to regain some of his lost prestige. In agreeing to meet Burns, however, Beckett will gain nothing, and in the event of a poor showing against the world's champion he will be pronounced the biggest false alarm in the heavyweight division.

As a matter of fact, Burns never was a first-class pugilist. Standing only five feet seven inches in his socks and weighing about 170 pounds, he was entirely too small to defend the big title, and when he made the match with Johnson, his defeat was a foregone conclusion. After Burns had surrendered the world's championship to the notorious negro he was supposed to have plenty of money, but his willingness to take a wallop from Beckett would seem to indicate that his pockets are empty.

The British boxing public is hungry for action, no matter how inferior the principals in star bouts may happen to be. The idea of ring followers paying even a small admission to see the discredited Beckett maul the decrepit Burns is draw a corporal's guard in this or any other American city, and probably would be prohibited by the Boxing Commission in

DEMPSEY AND CARPENTIER MAY MEET IN OCTOBER.

Wichita, Wis., June 19.—Georges Carpentier, heavyweight champion of Europe, who is here to-day, issued a challenge to Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, to meet him after October 10, at any time or place Dempsey will name. Carpentier expects to return to France in July and be back in the United States after a few weeks.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.

San Francisco, Cal., June 19.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, accepted the Wichita, Kansas challenge of Georges Carpentier, European champion, for a fight any time after October 10.
"After two weeks we will take on all comers, Carpentier preferred," Kearns said. "We will fight Carpentier on or after October 10, at any place where a decision is possible and where a sufficient number of rounds to satisfy the public can be guaranteed."
"We would like to hear from Billy Miske, Bill Brennan, or anybody under the sun who thinks he has a chance with Dempsey, but of course, Carpentier is the big objective."
Kearns announced he would leave for the east with Dempsey within a week.

L. C. MORRIS.

FURTHER INCIDENTS AT THE PRISON.

In every public building that one visits, there are usually some exhibits which have been made under very peculiar circumstances. Some of the class of work is done in prisons as a pastime, but what we saw at the State Prison of Montana was done for profit, and the proceeds are used to the credit of the prisoners, and at their release they receive the full amount, and also whatever interest it may have earned. The work was accomplished in a very short time of those who have the time, and on visiting days the goods are displayed in splendid style, and the counter is served by several prisoners. At first some of our party thought these men were regular clerks; they looked so neat, and spoke so affably and displayed an ability; but we soon learned our mistake. No doubt, some of them had been clerks, and had filled positions of trust in the great world of commerce; but having forfeited their liberty they became prisoners—hence they must pay the price of years, or a life of imprisonment.

The goods displayed were tastefully and artistically arranged; and as the articles themselves they did credit to the makers. Lace-work and delicate needle-work, and delicate embroidery in wool, silk, and linen, met the eye. Rings, watch-guards and other articles, seemed to challenge the skill of the best artisans, while compositions of song set to music, told us of the higher genius of some of the prisoners, who not only had composed these pieces, but had written the music for them also. Each member of our party bought a few souvenirs. These were parcelled, and seemed greatly pleased at our patronage. On paying for my tin trinkets, the clerk very politely bowed, and thanked me; and then in a matter-of-fact, and yet in a business-like way, said "call again." While pleased with such attention, we could not very well resent to his plan for future patronage; and the readiness with which he uttered these words, conveyed the idea that he had been accustomed so to do.

and that in business he had evidently served behind the counter—though now serving behind the bars. At the time of our visit, the erection of a large stone building was nearing completion. The building presented a very imposing appearance; and it was planned, and is being built, by the inmates of the prison. It is to be used as a church, and as a theatre; and will seat one thousand persons. It is to be hoped that the building will never have a capacity audience; but as the population of the state increases, its criminal list will probably increase also, and perhaps a full house may yet be recorded for the new building.

During our tour of the prison our attention was arrested by one lone man, and the warden told us that he belonged to our country. At the last moment I said to the warden, "you say that man belongs to our country," to which he would very much like to speak to the prisoner if at all allowable. The warden, who was a splendid type of man physically, and was a Norwegian by birth, but was evidently naturalized, consented to my request; but on questioning the prisoner, I learned that the warden had misinformed me; and what he really meant, was that the man was a British subject. The history of the prisoner is as follows. He is a man about seventy years of age, and has been a prisoner for over forty years. He was born in Dublin, and when a young man followed the sea. His name is Foley. He sailed from Liverpool to Barbados, and thence to Montreal, and worked westward, like many others to seek his fortune. In some rash hour he killed a man, and for the crime was sentenced to life imprisonment. He is one of the men who does not work. For his years he looks well, but his mentality is shattered. No doubt, somebody wondered what became of him, and have listed him with the lost. There he is, unknown by his nation, to his friends, and oblivious to the great world around him. Such seems to be the destiny of some lives. They miss the mark, though they try hard not to miss it; but somehow the odds are against them; and in the struggle, or amid the uncertainty, they strike the shoals and lose their chance. The sailor-prisoner had high hopes of fortune in the west. Perhaps he had some fair one in his native land waiting to join him. He must certainly have been a loveable man when he was young. His face and expression both bespeak of mildness and patience, and his natural traits of character are much in his favour. But in vain has it all proved. He lost control of himself—that is of his better-self—and a moment's rashness brought a life of imprisonment, and defeated a life's chance. But it does not matter much to him now, as his day is well nigh spent, and soon for him will the evening shadows deepen. Within the precincts of the prison walls he will sleep. Some of his ship-mates who sailed the seas with him have found a resting place in ocean depths, but to him will fall the privilege of lying in state over his body "ashes to ashes and dust to dust." But this is not the end. Let us hope that the end will be Eternal Life.

Legislative Council.

Friday, June 25.

The session opened at 4:15 p.m. The committee stage of an Act Respecting the Maintenance of certain Public Roads was passed without amendment.

Hon. J. J. Murphy spoke at some length in support of a clause which he wished to have added to the bill. Hon. Mr. Gibbs, opposing, contended that a clause as suggested would impose undue hardships on the commission.

Hon. John Anderson in supporting the recommendation as made by Hon. Mr. Murphy, gave some figures in relation to the expenditure by the commission, and stated that the total revenue for this year would be $27,000 out of which $20,000 would be spent for road making machinery, thus leaving only $7,000 for the actual repairs, unless the voluntary contribution of $13,000 of private citizens materialized. Very little repairs could be done this season. He thought that the Government might help the movement by providing the machinery.

Hon. Mr. Gibbs thought it desirable that the culverts should be of iron or concrete, but as the bill was not a ed without giving the commission funds to expend.

Sir F. T. McGrath suggested a compromise and asked that the bill stand as at present for a year when it would be seen in what manner the present structures would be improved. If they were then not of a permanent character the clause could be added to the bill.

Hon. John Browning, in giving his support to Hon. Mr. Murphy's suggestion, said it should not be left to everybody's discretion to decide what material should be used. Concrete and steel being superior and cheaper than wood, he did not see any objection to it being specified. He would like to give motor owners something tangible for the extra taxes that were being collected.

Hon. W. B. Grier opposed the clause and said that "the gentlemen in charge of the expenditure of the money would see to it that the best possible value would be received."

Hon. Mr. Mews also thought that the matter could well be left to the judgment of the commission.

The Bill entitled "An Act Respecting Local Affairs in Outport Districts" was referred to a committee of the whole House; some alteration in the wording seemed necessary. The committee rose to sit again.

The second reading of "An Act to Confirm a Contract on the subject of the Manufacture of Paper, Pulp and Wood Products," was deferred for a second reading at the next session. "An Act to amend Chapter 127 of the Consolidated Statutes entitled 'Of Companies,'" passed the second reading.

The Council adjourned at 6 p.m. to meet on Tuesday next at 4 o'clock.

OTHER TABLETS NOT ASPIRIN AT ALL

Only Tablets with "Bayer Cross" are Genuine Aspirin

If you don't see the "Bayer Cross" on the tablets, you are not getting Aspirin—Remember this! Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" are now made in America, by an American Company. No German interest whatever, all rights being purchased from the United States Government.

During the war, acid limitations were laid as Aspirin in pill boxes and various other containers. The "Bayer Cross" is your only way of knowing that you are getting genuine Aspirin, proved safe by millions for Headache, Neuralgia, Colds, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis, and for pain generally.

Aspirin is the trade mark (Newfoundland Registration No. 761), of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetate-ester of Salicylic acid. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets—also larger size "Bayer" packages can be had at drug stores. The Bayer Co., Inc., U.S.A.
