There had been some report that a demonstration against German music was to be expected, but fortunately good sense prevailed over any movement of this kind, and nobody's loyalty suffered thru Bach or Schumann or Strauss. The Strauss was the least worthy of the selections stren, but the audience took no German or Austrian taint from the music. As an antidote the nine-fold flag trophy which had been erected for the National Chorus still decorated the back of the orchestra, while other national colors were tra, while other national colors were tra, while other national colors were draped about the galleries and boxes and on the platform appeared, behind the masses of evergreens and palms, the flags of France, Russia, Belgium and Ireland along with many Union

A Modest Performer.

Mr. Seitz impressed his audience ith the versatility and the breadth Mr. Seitz impressed his audience with the versatility and the breadth of his playing. He is a modest performer and introduces no physical culture into his piano attitude. One's attention is left free for the music, and the puts his whole soul into his interpretations. The concert opened with the national anthem, quqietly but impressively played, and almost immediately Mr. Seitz went on with his first number. Bach's organ prelude and Fugue in A minor, transcribed by Lisst.

The prelude furnished an insight to to the quiet power with which Mr. Seitz does his work. The even tone, the facility and the clear definition were a pleasure to hear. The fugue followed, and its technical intricacies followed, and its technical intricacies were unravelled with just that right emphasis which renders a fugue interesting to the merest amateur. The powerful but but well-governed left hand of the performer was in evidence, and the number left an impression of masterly skill in technical matters.

The next number, was Chopin's Sonata in E minor, opus 58, a work characteristic of the composer and characteristic of the composer and calculated to bring out the characteristic qualities of the performer. There are four movements and the delicate and poetic treatment of the allegro massive was a delight which was not forgotten in the rank and graceful characteristic of the composer and forgotten in the rapid and graceful forgotten in the rapid and graceful facility of the scherzo. The exquisite largo was beautifully played with broad and flowing freedom, and the brilliant rendering of the finale, presto non tanto, elicited tremendous approach to the school of the school plause, and three recalls were ac-knowledged with a dainty encore

Gave Five Renditions.

A similar reception was accorded the fine rendering of Schumann's Etudes Symphoniques, op. 13: These are in variation form and gave ample opportunity for the display of the performer's powers. The rhythmic hrasing of the first movement was in keeping with a fine lyric strain in of the succeeding movements, and the performer was in full sympathy with this mood, the lyric quality being finely interpreted. The showy and dynamic finale again selavished special pains upon the ex-quisite little composition, the singing tenderness of the first passages con-trasting wit hthe plunging left hand chords, which never broke into harsh ness for all their strength. The caressing sweetness of the Berceuse showed another side of an artistic nature, and the charming Grieg number was given with perfect sym-pathy. The "Beautiful Blue Danube" waltz closed the program, but an en-Rarely has a young planist had a finer opening to a more promising

GERRARD STREET BRIDGE REPEATEDLY CONDEMNED

Bylaw Passed Two Years Ago for New One, But Nothing Has Been Done.

The question of a new bridge over the Don at Gerrard street is one of the main topics of discussion in the Riverdale district at present. Two years ago $200,000 was voted for this work, but altho the old bridge has been declared unsafe two or three times since them, nothing has been done towards building a new one. In an interview with The World last night, Alderman A. E. Walton said that in his opinion the bridge should be left as it is until the completion of the Bloor-Danforth viaduct, provided it, will be safe for traffc until then. "Recently 'he works department made a recommendation that a bridge estimated to cost about $335,000 should be built on a level from River street to Hamilton street and the full width of Gerrard, incidentally cutting out the bend in Gerrard street at that point," said Mr. Walton. "I think that as it would be next year before the bylaw would be carried it would be just as well to wait a few months until the Bloor street viaduct is completed." The alderman also referred to the congestion that would occur on Wilton avenue with the Carlton, Parliament, Broadview and Winchester cars all running on that street.

Canadian Fraternal Societies Urge Attorney-General to Legislate for Valuation.

Advance Suggestions for Triennial Inspection to Ensure Sound Financial Condition

The friendly societies of Ontario desire to have their organizations placed on the same basis as that prevailing in New York. They want to ensure the fact that every society must be on a sound financial footing, and seek the co-operation of the government in employing means of publicity and variation towards the attainment of these ends. To lay these suggestions before the cabilitet prior to the assembly of the legislature, when a general insurance bill will be brought in, a large deputation waited upon Hon. I. B. Lucas vesterday and received a favorable hearing. It is likely that their requests will be seen embodied in legislation to some extent.

The real plea that they advanced was that measures should be taken to prevent companies from becoming insolvent; or from operating under conditions pproaching dangerously near to insolvency. It was suggested that many were now working away in the

To condition this the deputation wished to substitute a clause of their own in the proposed bill. This provides that where the valuation of the government inspector shows that the present value of future net contributions with admitted assets is less than the present value of promised benefits and accrued liabilities, a triennial inspection is to take place. If improvement does not follow, two years are given for the company to pick up. On the sixth year the registrar may cancel the license.

It is an ill wind, turns none to good."

You see, to our women, this ill wind brought an opportunity to prove their solidarity, their patriotism, and their quick good sense. They saw what to do, and they did it. The cotton campaign was on. The women, thinkers, writers, talkers, workers and lookers turned thimselves into glorified drummars.

Many of the leaders in this crusade have a considerable power to thank you. The membership of these women's clubs can doubtless be counted, so can a cloud of locusts; but, counted or uncounted, when these leaders can by command, or advice, line up a few hundred thousand women—not necessarily all club members—before the counters of the country, money in hand, something is going to move. This time it was cotton.

We read, "I set my bow in the clouds as a token." Divine promise, divinely kept. Then in our newspapers we read, "Women helping men over a business crisis," and we saw—perhaps it's only a mirage—woman taken on her merits with justice, equality. Say, even a mirage is a mighty pretty thing to look at!

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am I7 years old. I have a cousin, not married, of whom I think a great deal. Some time ago, on a hat afternoon, while visiting there, we were sitting on the lawn with other members of the family, and my hand was in a fist-like position at my side on the ground. He tried to put his hand into mine, but as I held tight he did not until my hand gave way, and he did put his hand into mine. For his part I know he meant nothing wrong, for he is a perfect gentleman, although I probably should not have allowed him to do!
Did I do wrong? Remember, Miss Laurie I would never allow another man to do the same, but as he was my cousin I did not say anything.
Should a girl my age or a few years younger say "Hello," "Good Morning" or "How d'ye do?" to a boy of the same age or older? A boy, I mean, who is in a way a stranger.

CANADIAN-AMERICAN SOLDIERS.

Editor World: In yesterday's issue of your paper a question was asked by J. P. T., who said it would be interesting to know how many Americans have joined and will join the British trenches during the present war—seeing that 40,000 Canadians fought with the Union army during the American civil war.

I think the Canadians residing in the United States (and I believe there are nearly 2,000,000) should set an example and furnish us with at least a corporal's guard. It would not be a breach of neutrality to return to their country in units. Where is all the boasted loyalty of the Canadian oliubs in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and other American cities? BLUE SHIRTS AGAIN DOWN SAHMROCKS

Another One Goal Victory for Torontos Over Their Local N.H.A. Rivals.

Torontos have the edge on Shamrocks. The Blue Shirts came back with another 4-to-3 victory last night, and it was just what everybody expected—the most stir- Barric.... Brantford. ring muss of the season. The feeling ran over the head, and for the rest of the first nevicid it was one long procession to the penalty cage. They taid it on too thies.

Torontos had the sign on Shamrocks close in an the net, and this won for them. The Blue Shirts passed perfectly at close quarters, while the Shamrocks had many chances, but tossed them was the rest man on the loe, and he tried from bell to bell, and his work in close was Inply wonderful.

Ronan lost his usefulness by serving half his time on the fence. He was the heaviest offender. No blows were struck, but the bud. Perhaps the meanest piece of work was in the final round, when Iromany Smith had passed everybody, and had only Holmes to beat. Mcdiffin threw his stick across the loe and upset the Shamrock forward and spoiled the goal.

The club scored p goal in the first two periods, and it was tied right up to one minute from the final gong, when walker batted in the winning goal. It was a sensational finish to a thrilling game. More attention to the puck and a little less to the man would have made it more enjoyable for the fens. It might be remarked here that Jack Walker was himself again, and his sweeping check was very much on the job. Wilson went well, but spoiled his work by that crack he hended Skinner. The latter handed out some pretty stiff jolts, and elso paid the penalty timer a few visits. Harry Cameron worked harder than at any time this season, and in the first two periods and in the first two periods and a structure of the season of times. The Monamaras had the hardest kind of work to do, but did it well, and only made one really bad mistake. They allowed Walker to pull them into the corner in the first round, and it resulted in the Torontos' first goal. Smith was busy thruout, and Denneny and Bawlf were called upon many times owing to the penalties. The Toronto forward line had a shade on their local rivals.

Handed it Out.

They started right in to play the man, and after Wilson had got Skinner, the players handed it out freely. This stopped the fast hockey, and it was ragged for fifteen minutes. Walker carried it down and drew the Shamrock defence into the corner, and passed over to Foyston at centre, who was not checked, and Lesueur was beaten. It was just two minutes later that Tommy Smith wiggled his way thru the whole works and beat Holmes nicely. There was no further scoring in the first period.

Denneny shot right up from the face-off and closed in fast and beat Holmes from the side. The goal umpire failed to allow it, but the referee overruled him and it was counted. The play was back and forward and the checking hard, with the honors even until Cameron netted one I minutes later. Walker was the puckcarrier and went well thru before giving Harry the pass. The second period ended with the score two all.

The last round was the most thrilling of the night. They paid a little more attention to the game and Shamrocks tallied a minute after the start. Denneny rushed it down and gave Smith a pass. Wilson supplied the nicest piece of salckhandling of the night a couple of minutes later when he went right up to the net alone and scored. Rush after rush was opened up, but the goalers were in superty form and turned them aside. With only a minute to go a scramble took place-in front of the Shamrock net and Lesueur cleared three in quick succession, and then Walker batted it in with the Shamrock Lesueur, goal; H. The O.H.A. sub-committee yesterday considered the protest of the Owen Sound club against Markdale and the counterprotest of Markdale against the Owen Sound club.

The committee decided that the Markdale club shall be suspended for playing Herold Mercer under the certificate of his brother, Kendall Morden Mercer. That J. E. Mercer, secretary of the Markdale club, be permanently suspended from the O.H.A. for furnishing misleading information to the O.H.A. in the matter of birth certificate. That the Owen Sound club be suspended for the O.H.A. season for violation of the residence rule by playing Truman A. Bell, who did not qualify under the residence rule.

Markdale and Owen Sound were the only clubs in Group No. 12, Junior O.H.A., and that district will, therefore, not have a representative in the semi-finals.

St. Josephs of the Beaches League will practice this evening on the Broadview Y.M.C.A. rink at 7 p.m. in preparation for their game with Kew Beach Saturday.

FOR THE SENATORS Counsel for Feds Presents Argument Against the National Commission, Etc.

> CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—The powers that control organized baseball, or at least are said to control it, were described as oppressors of minor leagues and ball players by Keene Addington, chief of counsel for the Federal League, in ms opening address today in the anti-trust suit against pressors of minor leagues and ball players by Keene Addington, chief of counsel for the Federal League, in ms opening address today in the anti-trust suit against the National Commission, the American League and the National League.

Addington cited features of the National agreement, decisions of the National Commission and general practices of baseball authorities to show that the game is governed by a group, having all most absolute power, with authority to make laws, judge of infractions of the laws and impose penalties for infractions.

Addington had not finished his opening address tonight when court adjourned.

At the afternoon session Addington devoted a large portion of his address to an attack on the waiver and draft rules and practices. He declared the former vested control of the players, not alone in the club he serves, but also in other clubs. His chance of becoming a free agent is slight, according to Addington, since it requires action of many different entities. Addington charges that the waiver method is used as a means of humiliating or disciplining a player, and then brought in the charge made in an affidavit by Mordecai Brown that when President Murphy of the Chicago Nationals sold him to Louisville it was with the agreement that Brown never would be allowed again to join the majors.

Here Attorney George Miller, for the defendants, called Addington's attention to the fact that Brown later played with Cincinnati, in a major league, but Addington and Louisville was what he wished to show was possible.

"Even if it kept a player out of major league ball only for a time, the harm of the system is apparent," he argued.

The fact that a player is without choice as to the club or league in which he plays was cited by the Federal's counsel as a case of oppression.

Changes in the players' contract which were made last year at the behest of the Players' Fraternity. were declared by Addington not to have materially modified it. He called it remarkable that such close associates as Chairman Herrmann showed a knowledge of the national game by noting—which counsel had not done—that a petition purporting to be from the Players' Fraternity to the National Commission was signed by players from only one club. It was explained that the players had petitioned by teams.

Leaders of organized ball expressed themselves not surprised at anything the Federal League presented today, "We have nothing to fear from what was brought up today," said President Tener of the National League, and others were of similar opinion.

BERLIN'S GROUP.

of 8 to 2.

Three thousand hockey fans from Berlin, Waterloo, Preston and district were present and cheered lustily thruout the game. In the first period Preston had the better of the play, Freemand and Butterfield each scoring a goal in the first ten minutes, but their success was their undoing, Berlin waking up to the sitnotian and Laroux planting one between the nets. In the second period Laroux and Kurscinski for Berlin each able money was wagered, and a large percentage remains in Berlin tonight.

The line-up:

Referee—Gren Caldwell.

Maritime Committee of Union Great Significance Attached Life Expressed Hope President Would Do So.

HAD DEBT AGREEMENT

National Agency and Insurance Companies Contracted for Mutual Payment.

Only one witness was called by the crown yesterday in the case of Dr. F. G. Hughes and Harry K. Symons, K.C., who are charged with conspiring to lefraud the public in connection with the Union-Life Assurance Company and National Agency.

When opening the court for the hird day of the trial Mr. Justice Clute lelivered a sharp criticism of some of the newspapers with regard to this asc. He said: "I have had a number of complaints of reports which have assumed the guilt of the prisoners. Such expressions of opinion during the progress of the trial are unfair to the risoners and embarrassing to the

The second agreement set forth that the capital stock of the insurance company issued and subscribed was $1.-000,000-10,000 shares at $100 each. of which $100,000 was paid up. The agency company held 9825 shares and had paid $720,000 which was to be applied by the recipient company on its establishment and extension. The agreement also set out that a bill to provide for an immediate issue of $1,-000,000 in stock was awaiting royal assent. Under new agreement, that of 1902 was really surrendered and the Union Liticipapany consented to pay the agency an annual amount of $40,000 in half-yearly instalments, and agreed to cover all expenses without the agency's assistance.

A. C. Masten, K.C., then proceeded to read lengthy extracts from the official report taken while Harry Symons was undergoing examination. This quoted the original agreement between the two companies, whereby the National Agency agreed to guarantee the bonds of the Union Life for three years at 6 per cent. The agreement was signed by H. Pollman Evans as agent of the Union Life and other representatives of both companies.

The income of the agency was to be $40,000, which was to be the only revenue of the agency for paying the dividends of the Union Life, who were to pay the income. Witness stated that invariably there was a loss, so the agency had to take over the money paid by the Union Life and paying the dividends to the British shareholders.

paying the dividends to the shareholders.

The report showed that the prospectus had been submitted to the directors before being sent to England for use in raising capital. Mr. Symons declared that he was personally not anxious to extend the business, but had been more inclined to strengthen the old company.

Remunerating Advisory Board.

Concerning the arrangements to remunerate the advisory board in London Mr. Symons stated that each received a retainer of $500, with additional fee of $100 per annum, the Counsel Masten then proceeded to deemed advisable to secure funds by selling shares and to enter into an agreement with the National Agency. It was agreed to raise the capital of the importance of the board develops. It was agreed to raise the capital of the company from $1,000,000 to $2,-000,000, the agency to have the ex-clusive right to buy the shares at

At the quarterly meeting of the maritime committee of the Union Life, held on Dec. 27, 1909, the hope was expressed that the president be successful in "selling shares so that cash dividends might be paid to the long-suffering sharcholders, and which was so much desired."

The court adjourned until today, the accused being again remanded in custody.

Opposition at Ottawa Fails to Secure Agreement With Government.

Special to The Toronto World.

OTTAWA, Jan. '20—Press reports received from Calgary confirm the rumors current here respecting Senator Lougheed's speech at the annual meeting of the Calgary Conservative Association. Hon. Mr. Lougheed is a member of the government, and great significance therefore attaches to his declaration that a Dominion general election may be expected at any time. Indeed, the senator, who is reported as having made a fighting speech, told the Calgary Conservatives that the election might come "like a thief in the night." His colleagues now in the city, however, decline to comment upon the Calgary speech, and the expectation here is that parliament will convene on Feb. 4, notwithstanding rumors as to a possible dissolution or a probable postponement of the opening to a later date.

The government, it is understood, has absolutely destined to make a make a second to the content of the opening to a later date.

The government, it is understood, has absolutely declined to make any contract or agreement with the opposition respecting the date of the election. The Liberals, it is understood, have proposed to make the coming session a short and non-contentious one, to be closed by Easter, provided they are assured another session will be held before dissolution. These proposals, however, are not likely to be accepted, but the opposition will be given to understand that any obstruction or factious opposition to the policy of the government will be answered by an appeal to the country. The government is not courting an election, would prefer not to have one until the war is over, but is quite prepared to go to the people at any time.

In connection with the above despatch, we reproduce a leading editorial in yesterday's issue of The Toronto Daily News. Bracketed with Senator Lougheed's speech, it will be not without interest and may not be without significance: PARLIAMENT AND PEOPLE.

PARLIAMENT AND PEOPLE. Editorial Toronto News, Jan. 19. In The Canadian War, a weekly publication in which a group of Canadian journalists express various opinions with freedom and vigor, it is declared that the British Government has entered into a solemn agreement with the Unionist party not to have an election until the war is over. We have not seen any evidence that would justify this statement. It was suggested by the opposition that parliament should not be dissolved during the war, but our unthat parliament should not be dissolved during the war, but our understanding was that the government had not pledged itself. Manifestly, however, it would be difficult just now to have an election in Great Britain. It was not so difficult in New Zealand or Australia. It would not be so difficult in Canada. Indeed, at any time reasons for dissolution of the Canadian Parliament may appear. We are spending many millions of money for war purposes and new phases of the imperial relation have developed. How far may the government go without consulting the people? The Daily News does not advocate an election. It does not understand that tion. It does not understand that an election is contemplated. It merely suggests that no one can safely forecast the future.
