Experts Say Onward March of Enemy In Poland Is Checked

View of Military Men in London—Country Turned Into Desert Before German Advance—Airmen Blow up German Trains and Destroy 30,000 Shells

London, July 6—Military experts here, apparently drawing their inspiration from Petrograd, declare that the Austro-German advance in Poland is practically checked. As they put it: After drawing on the invading armies between Bug and the Vistula, to a more favorable battle ground, the Russians have been making a very determined stand in the last few days.

All southern Russia between the Vistula and the Bug is being turned into a desert before the German advance, says the Petrograd correspondent of the Morning Post. The Russians, retreating before the German advance, are systematically aiding the escape of the country people and then laying waste the land behind them.

London, July 6—In a cable from Petrograd, Frederick Rennel, correspondent of the London Daily News, says:—General Von Mackensen's march toward Cholm and the operations of the Archduke Joseph between the Vistula and the Bug are being greatly impeded by the successful defensive tactics adopted by the Russians. The country is cut up by many river courses and hilly ridges and is remote from railroads and modern communication. The enemy is losing heavily every day.

A giant Russian aeroplane flew along the river San and threw bombs on the enemy's train, setting them afire. With one train filled with artillery shells 30,000 shells were destroyed, many men killed and a long stretch of railway rendered useless.

Lt. Basko, who commanded the operations, declares the marksmanship exceeded anything known in the world of aviation.

BRIDE AND GROOM BOUND TO STATES BUT OFFICIAL SAYS "NO"
There arrived in the city on the Point du Chene express last evening a happy young man and woman from Prince Edward Island. It was at once apparent that they were bride and groom. She clung tightly to his arm; he gazed devotedly up into his face, and he looked into her eyes with rapturous admiration. But their honeymoon was disappointingly short. The immigration regulations prevented their entrance to the United States because of their being short of the required funds and the officers were compelled to turn them back.

London, July 6—Premier Asquith paid a remarkable tribute to Viscount Haldane, former lord high chancellor and former secretary for war, in a letter regretting his absence from a National Liberal Club meeting at which Viscount Haldane was to speak.

"After describing Viscount Haldane as 'the oldest person and political friend I have in the world,' the premier referred to their unbroken intimacy of thirty-five years, adding: 'I can never adequately express the debt I owe to the width of his outlook, the large range of his knowledge, his acute perception, political perspective, and, above all, his selfless loyalty and devotion. I should wish that my countrymen realize that it was more due to him than to any other man that our army was found in readiness.'

"The lamentable fact, which is covering itself with fame in every theatre of the war, is his creation of the magnificent work which is being done by the staff is largely the result of his initiative and inspiration. Long years of patient, unobtrusive effort conducted under his guidance and stimulus are bearing fruit, adding every day fresh chapters to the 'lost annals of the British army.'

Premier Asquith concluded by saying that Viscount Haldane at the outbreak of our military, took possession of the post office, and said that from the first Vis-

The attempt was unsuccessful. Holt, lying on his side in a cell in the jail at Minerva, was seen by an attendant to writhe with pain. The attendant found blood flowing from the wound, summoned the warden and bound up the wrist.

Notwithstanding the promptness with which Holt's attempt was discovered, he lost a considerable quantity of blood. The condition of Mr. Morgan, who is recovering from the two wounds in his left hip, continued to improve. It was said that he felt so much better that he wanted to get up, but that was not approved by his physicians.

The physicians feel so encouraged by his progress that they have practically reached a decision to issue no more bulletins on his condition.

GALLANT ACT OF ALPINE SOLDIER

Swing Down Precipice to Escape With News

Udine, Italy, July 6—The Italian troops operating against Val Piccolo near Monte Croce Pass, being exposed recently to fire from a hidden battery, which they were unable to locate, an Alpine soldier asked to be allowed to discover the battery.

Dressed in the uniform of a dead Austrian officer, he crept up the mountain side, and entered within a few yards of the battery, which was hidden in a natural grotto, the path to which was reached by the slope of the mountain. Having taken all his observations the Italian retired in the early morning. His uniform was seen by a sentry who fired at him, supposing him to be a deserter. The Italian, however, escaped by swinging himself down the precipice. He returned to his headquarters and made his report, which enabled the Italian artillery to silence the Austrian battery that day.

NORTH END MYSTERY

Some One Cuts Off Helen Waters' Hair as She Sleeps

Child's Long Tresses Gone and None So Far Found Who Knows Where or Why

The identity of the person who cut the pretty tresses of little ten-year-old Helen Waters as she slept at her home in Indiantown late Saturday, or early Sunday morning, still remains undisclosed. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Waters of 69 Victoria street, the only girl in the family. There are several boys. Her hair was beautiful and long, reaching more than half way down her back. On Saturday night the child braved her hair, before going to bed, so that it hung in a thick roll beside her.

Early on Sunday morning she awakened her parents sleeping in another room, and tearfully informed them that someone had cut her hair. Astounded at the news, they rushed into her bedroom, but aside from a few stray strands on the floor near the bed, there was nothing to indicate what had happened. Her two young brothers had been sleeping in a screened portion of the room, but had heard nothing. They were still slumbering soundly despite the noise made by those already up in the household.

A pair of scissors in the room was examined, but through a slight strand of hair was found upon them, it was believed that they had not been used. The belief was that whoever cut the hair did so with other scissors.

The rear door of the house had not been locked on Saturday night. The screen door had been closed a few days previous, because the hinges had squeaked, and the door of the child's bedroom was open. Little Helen is a very sound sleeper, her mother said today, and so her brothers heard that anyone could have easily entered the chamber without being heard.

Mr. and Mrs. Waters searched all through the house, but could find no traces of the missing hair. It had been cut off, obviously because of being braided near the neck, and shorter on one side than on the other. They are absolutely at a loss to explain what became of it, or what the reason was for its being cut, but are firmly convinced that it was no member of the household who did the miserable act.

SAY THERE IS UNREST IN CEYLON
Story of Troubles Brought to Manila By Steamer

Manila, July 6—Serious unrest in Ceylon, is reported by officers and passengers of the Spanish mail steamer Irtigante, here. The official explanation is that the troubles are due to the present international differences, but it is said they are in reality the result of animosity felt by the natives against the white population.

Martial law has been declared, all Europeans have been armed and all British subjects, physically fit, have been mustered into the militia service. Arrangements are said to have been made to transport all white women and children either to Australia or their home countries.

MORGAN FILLS FATHER'S SHOES

Big and Powerful Physically, Blunt and Frank in Talk—Has Surpassed Expectations (Boston Globe)

When two years ago J. Pierpont Morgan, Sr., died, predictions were common in Wall street and in financial circles generally that no one would fill his place, and that the world famous Morgan firm of international bankers was due for a decline from its proud position as dictator in big business.

Even the elder Morgan's associates in finance, or at least some of them, did not believe that J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., could fill his father's shoes. This was not so derogatory to the son's abilities as it was appreciation of the father's tremendous strong character. It is apparent that the father, with his usual foresight, had trained his son to take his position when his father died. It is certain that J. P. Morgan Jr. plunged into the banking field very soon after his graduation from Harvard in 1889, and that at the time of his father's death he had a very thorough knowledge of the business of the Morgan firm.

Without coming in for much attention, the son worked hard for many years under his parent.

HINTS FOR THE COOK

Apple Cake. Two cups flour, one cup sifted apples, one cup butter, one cup sugar, one cup milk, one egg, one teaspoon baking powder, a dash or two of cinnamon, three tablespoons sugar, tablespoons butter, one egg. Mix dry ingredients, add gradually one scant cup milk and the beaten egg. Work all well and then roll out and spread in well greased tin. Toast the apples out and mix in dough, sprinkle with the sugar and the cinnamon. Bake in medium oven.

Sour Milk Biscuit. Two cups flour, a teaspoon salt, 1 level teaspoon soda, same of cream of tartar. Sift all together 4 times and rub in 1 tablespoon of shortening. Mix with about 6 cups sour milk.

Don't have uncured meat or fish lying on a dish or in paper. Paper will absorb the juice of the meat and waste it. Meat and fish should be hung up.

Such things as smoked fish, onions, chutney or apples should not be left near other provisions. Butter, milk or eggs are especially apt to absorb any strong flavor, and this spoils them at once.

A GOOD CATCH.
 John Vermer of Lilly Brook farm, Lake Latimere, and Samuel J. Johnson of Boston, returned home on Sunday after having spent the week end at Barnesville and Upham on a fishing trip. They were successful in landing twenty-five dozen brook trout. On their way home they saw two beautiful deer.

You can make your skin what you would love to have it!

Your skin, like the rest of your body, is continually changing. As the old skin dies new forms. Every day, in washing you rub off the old, dead skin.

This is your opportunity—you can make this new skin what you would love to have it by using the following treatment regularly.

Make this treatment a daily habit
 Just before retiring, work up a warm wather of Woodbury's Facial Soap in your hands. Apply it to your face and rub it into the pores thoroughly—always with an upward and outward motion. Rinse with warm water then with cold—the colder the better. If possible rub your face for a few minutes with a piece of ice and dry carefully.

This treatment with Woodbury's will make your skin fresher and clearer the first time you use it. Make it a nightly habit and before long you will see a decided improvement—a promise of that lovelier complexion which the steady use of Woodbury's always brings.

If you start this treatment today—you will satisfy so much the sooner that longing of yours for the charm of "a skin you love to touch." A 25c cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap is sufficient for a month or six weeks of this treatment. Get a cake today. Begin at once to get its benefits for your skin. It is for sale by Canadian druggists from coast to coast including Newfoundland.

A GROWING PROTEST

The protest against the inaction of the Canadian government in regard to the war becomes more widespread and more insistent. The Canadian Courier gives its voice in a striking article which The Times reprints today.

of Heaven, and as such performed his duties as regent and as ruler. "Your duty (that of regent for the army), is not easy. It demands of you self-control and self-denial—the two highest qualities of the Christian—also unlimited obedience, and submission to your superiors.

"We are the salt of the earth. I lead you to glorious times. "I shall not rest until I have brought my feet to the same standard as my army. The trident ought to be in our hands."

The impression prevails that the Germans will make another determined drive against the Allies in the west, but opinions differ as to whether it will be against the French or the British lines.

Admiral Von Trapp warns Germany to think twice before quarrelling with the United States. He is not so sure as Admiral Von Tirpitz appears to be that Germany can whip the world.

The Standard, which at the beginning of the Winnipeg enquiry wanted everybody to suspend judgment until the facts were brought out, seizes today upon the wholly unsupported evidence of one Tory witness, gives it a meaning it does not sustain, and makes it an excuse for the most violent attack upon the Liberal party in Manitoba.

Mr. Howden, who was attorney-general in the Roblin cabinet, tells an extraordinary story about getting $50,000 of party funds and negotiating with it, through one Newson, with a Liberal named Chambers, to call off the election protests.

Rev. J. J. McCallum does well to exhort the Canadian people to turn their eyes away from what was done at the outbreak of the war, and what our soldiers in France have done, long enough to ask themselves what this country is now doing to uphold the Empire in this crisis.

Another patriot has disgraced. Mr. Bickett, who sold $10 and $25 binoculars to the government at a level price of $88, has deposited with the Royal Commission a check for $1,000 and will make such restitution as the commission may decide.

Some of the witnesses to be summoned in the inquiry into the charges made by Mr. Veniot reside at the extreme eastern end of Gloucester county. The number of witnesses is large. Commissioner Chandler was asked to hold the enquiry in that county instead of at Fredericton. He has declined to do so.

The Standard wants to know what The Times thinks of the National Transcontinental Railway. It is the best constructed railway in America, and in the words of Major Leonard, Sir Robert Borden's chairman of the N. T. Commission, it "is an asset, not a burden, to the people of Canada."

Letter From Louis McMenamin, Who is With Signallers - Tells of St. John Soldiers

A letter received yesterday by Thomas McMenamin, of Spar Cove Road, from his son, Corp. Louis McMenamin, from France, tells of his being still in good health and gives an interesting description of recent events with his unit, No. 2 Signal Section, 1st Infantry Brigade. "All the boys in the section came out of action the other day without being hurt," he wrote home, "except young Ketter, who had a slight wound in the shoulder. I understand Appleby is getting well again. Our brigade has been in the trenches for eight days, and we are now taking a well earned rest, some say it will be quite a long one, because of the boys having come through so much heavy fighting of late.

"The allies are slowly gaining ground and everything looks favorable, but I think it will take quite a while longer before the Kaiser is beaten. Every few yards we take cost a lot of men, but the boys are well satisfied, for it is another step nearer the victory. We have all had some narrow escapes.

"I saw Guy Day yesterday—he's looking fine. Frank Kane is doing well also. Well, I'll say good-bye now, as there's a ball game going to start nearby, and I want to get a seat on the bleachers."

LOCAL NEWS

A special car attached to the Ocean Limited, leaving the city at 11:30 this morning, carried quite a number of passengers for Ste. Anne de Beaupre, on an annual pilgrimage to the shrine there. The number was not so great as in previous years, though others will join the party at points along the line.

He has held the rank of lieutenant in the infantry from his connection with a regiment while he was residing in Victoria, B. C.

CAUGHT A PORCUPINE

A young porcupine ventured too far from the woods about Seaside Park last night and daylight this morning found him still quite a distance from shelter. The little animal was chased by some of the residents there, and finally caught by being driven into a shed by Mrs. M. Allan and Miss Margaret Allan. Their intention is to have the animal given to Rockwood Park.

ST. JOHN TO HAVE HOME FOR AGED MEN

Incorporators Meet and Choose L. R. Ross President

WILL CONDITIONS WAIVED

Bequest of $5,000 Left by Colonel Tucker Made Available and Now in Bank Earning Interest - The Officers and Directors

At a recent session of the legislature an act was passed incorporating a Home for Aged Men in St. John. At a meeting held yesterday at the office of Judge J. H. Armstrong, the persons incorporated proceeded to organize. They adopted a constitution and by-laws, and elected officers as follows: - Lewden R. Ross, president; Edward L. Rising, vice-president; Frank B. Ellis, treasurer; William C. Jordan, secretary. A finance committee consists of the president, the treasurer, Judge J. H. Armstrong, W. Shires Fisher and Theodore H. Estabrooks. Those, together with the following, were elected directors: - John Sealy, Joseph Allison, Alexander P. Barnhill, Miles E. Agar, William E. Earle, Martin G. Teed, Gershon S. Mays, Percy W. Thomson, Manning W. Doherty and Frank H. Flewelling. It was resolved to make ordinary membership $5 annual fee; life membership, one payment of $100. The annual meeting is to be held on the first Wednesday in February.

Mr. Ross, the executor of the late Colonel Tucker's estate, asks the meeting under Colonel Tucker's will the sum of $5,000 had been left for the Old Men's Home conditionally upon four individuals contributing a like sum within three years from the death of the testator, but that Mr. Ross, desiring not to take advantage of this restriction, had already deposited that sum in a chartered bank on interest, intending to hand it over as soon as the association should be organized.

On motion it was resolved that the hearty thanks of the association be extended to Mr. Ross for his generous waiver of all conditions which might have rendered the legacy void, and that the sum be gratefully accepted. While, in consequence of the war, it is not probable that immediate effort will be made to raise a sum sufficient to proceed with the work, still sums which may be offered will be most thankfully accepted, and it is felt that with this first sum of $5,000 as a nucleus, the fund will soon grow. It is hoped that generous disposed persons may remember this institution, either in the near future or when drawing their testamentary dispositions.

MAY BE POSTHUMOUS HEIR FOR VANDERBILT

Friends of Lusitania Victim's Widow Say Interesting Event Will Occur in the Autumn

New York, July 6.—Among friends of Mrs. Alfred Vanderbilt, it is whispered an interesting event will take place some time in the autumn. At Lenox, where she is spending the season, it is understood preparations are under way for the expected event.

In case of the birth of a posthumous child a re-arrangement of the estate left by one of the victims of the sinking of the Lusitania may be necessary.

In his will Mr. Vanderbilt made these stipulations:—

"In the event that I leave surviving me but one son of my said wife, Margaret Emerson Vanderbilt and myself, then I direct that all my said real-estate be held by the said executors in trust as aforesaid for such surviving son."

"If I leave surviving me daughters or a daughter issue of my said wife Margaret Emerson Vanderbilt and myself, I give and bequeath to my said executors, securities from the personal property which I may own sufficient for the purpose to hold $2,000,000 in cash or in trust for such surviving daughter.

"I give, devise and bequeath all the residue of my estate to the executors to divide the same into as many equal shares as I shall have sons, issue of my said wife, Margaret Emerson Vanderbilt and myself surviving me, and to hold one of such shares in trust for each of our said sons."

BRITISH SUBMARINE LAUNCHED AT QUINCY

New York, July 6.—With little ceremony the Fore River Company at Quincy and intended for Great Britain, was launched. She is the first of ten submarines built for England to be shipped after the war.

President Charles M. Schwab, for whom the launching had been postponed for several days, was on hand. Mrs. Erick N. Ewertz, the sponsor of the ship, officially christened her H-13, breaking a bottle of champagne on the bow.

After the launching Mrs. Ewertz received a diamond ring from the company under whose plans the plunger was built.

TO CALL FOR TENDERS

At the meeting of the common council this afternoon Commissioner Wigmore will ask for permission to call for tenders for terra cotta and cast iron pipes for the water and sewerage work now under way.

FEW LETTERS IN FROM THE 26TH

Hundreds Written But Held Up For Censorship

HAD GOOD VOYAGE ACROSS

First Part Rough and Sea-Sickness Overcame Many - Last Days Ideal and "Water as Smooth as the St. John." - Caribina Picked up by Torpedo Boat Destroyer

Eager mothers and members of the families of the men of the 26th Battalion and the Divisional Ammunition Column, awaiting letters from sons, brothers and husbands, must wait a few days longer.

The English mail brought a few welcome envelopes, but the greater proportion of the letters have been delayed because of the requirements of the censor, and that meant the missing of a mail.

Naturally, with their loved ones at the war, fathers, mothers and all are anxious to learn that they are well and, so far at least, safe in the midst of dangers.

A letter to a friend came from Capt. F. May of C Company, 26th. He wrote that on the first three days of the voyage of the Calcedonia from Halifax, the weather was very rough and nearly all the men of his company, not excluding himself, were more or less seasick. But made up for the earlier portion, for the weather was delightful, so much so that the decks were used by many for sleeping.

The day's routine on board was: Turn out at six o'clock; breakfast at seven; free time till ten; then muster parade and physical drill until a quarter after eleven; dinner at noon; parade from eleven to two o'clock and more physical drill. Supper was served at five o'clock and lights were out at nine.

On the day on which Captain May wrote, the Calcedonia was in the danger zone and a close lookout for submarines was being kept. The weather was perfect. On the previous day, whales, porpoises and sharks had been seen, and a great deal of great interest.

No Other Store in St. John Can Match the OAK HALL $20.00 SUITS For Men and Young Men

Because this clothing store of ours retails at one profit over cost of making, you are able to buy the best clothing obtainable at decidedly less than you'd have to pay in any other store.

Take these $20 suits as a basis of comparison. Examine the fabrics, the linings, the tailoring on the outside. And the materials and workmanship used on the inside. Then compare them with what you'll find in suits sold elsewhere at $25, or, for that matter, you can extend the comparison to other stores' $28 suits.

You will find that our suits at $20 are equal or superior at every point to the suits costing $5 to $8 more at other stores.

Are you going to pay this excess profit, or are you going to investigate for yourself the unmatched opportunities afforded by the Oak Hall Clothing Store?

Today's as good a time as any other to do the investigating, and you can't find a better example for the purpose than these $20 suits.

Of course, the same advantages apply to all our clothing. You are sure of getting the best and paying the least for it, no matter what you choose in Oak Hall clothes.

There never were better values in furniture than we are offering at the present time, and never as large or as well assorted a stock in St. John to choose from. In every department it is most complete, and the person who purchases an outfit without at least visiting our store, is taking a chance of regretting it later on. Call and judge for yourself.
