

IS STUDYING IMMIGRATION CONDITIONS

National Immigration Secretary of Y.M.C.A. Visiting St. John—Entertained by the Local Organization

An interesting visitor to the city yesterday was Will W. Lee, National Immigration Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who arrived here yesterday morning and spent some time looking into the immigration conditions at this port.

Although he has not yet had an opportunity of sizing up the situation at this port, the National Immigration Secretary will investigate conditions thoroughly before his departure, and will go back only conversant with the immigration problem in St. John.

At six o'clock the national immigration secretary was guest at supper in the dining room of the Y. M. C. A. at which were present the directors of the association and others officially associated with the Young Men's Christian Association.

After lunch was served Mr. Lee briefly addressed those gathered in the room, touching on the conditions with respect to immigration in the various centres under his jurisdiction and made particular reference to the cities of western Canada.

Today Mr. Lee will be shown about the city and West St. John, and on Sunday will make a tour of inspection at Courtney Bay, where he is interested in the Bulgarian workmen.

WRESTLING TONIGHT.

A large crowd of the wrestling fans are looking forward to a great bout tonight when Sam Anderson, the champion of the world, will try to make good his statement that he can throw Dan McDonald twice within an hour.

McDonald is in good condition and states that he is satisfied that Anderson will lose. Anderson won the championship five years ago, and having been steadily at the game ever since claims to be just as good as ever.

McDonald has been finishing his training in the Y. M. C. A. gym, where he will teach a class and feels better than ever.

Slaughter House Commission. The regular monthly meeting of the Slaughter House Commission was held yesterday afternoon when routine business was transacted.

The amount contributed to the mission fund for the year ending June 30th, 1914, was $67,246.30, an increase over the previous year of $4,072.84. From this amount there was granted to the mission fields of the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Islands, a sum of $12,760.00, which was apportioned on the basis of the following salaries: Married ordained, $825, single ordained $750, unordained, $575, exclusive of a furnished parsonage.

These grants to missions are paid in quarterly installments, a method adopted in recent years. The amount of the missions generally give reason for great satisfaction.

At the Zion Methodist church parsonage, on November 4th, Rev. Wm. Lawson united in marriage Walter Percy Jones of Hillsboro, Albert county, and Margaret Cameron of Buche, Kent Co.

An interesting event took place at the Zion Methodist church parsonage on November 7th, when William Bolton and Harriet W. Fawcett, both of St. John, were united in marriage, Rev. Wm. Lawson performing the ceremony. Among the many useful and handsome wedding presents was a beautiful dining room table, the gift of the employees of the St. John Vulcan Iron Works, of which the groom is a capable and respected employe.

The young couple have many friends in the city who will wish them a long and happy life together.

THE PAROCHIAL MISSION OF CHURCH OF ENGLAND AT SYDNEY SUCCESSFUL

Initial Services Attended by Thousands of People—Gifted Speakers Deliver Addresses.

Sydney, N. S., Nov. 7.—The initial services of the Church of England parochial mission in Cape Breton were held in this city and North Sydney this evening and the very large congregations present in each instance indicates a widespread interest in the purpose and aim of the mission.

Rev. Canon Howitt, of Hamilton, Ont., Rev. A. A. Moore, of St. John's, Que., in St. George's and Christ Churches this city and Ven. Archbishop Davidson of Quebec, Ont., at North Sydney, delivered eloquent, learned and earnest addresses at this evening's services and at this moment their reputations as finished pulpit speakers have become known to practically the entire community.

Special preparations are being made in the several parishes to provide seating accommodations for the very large number of citizens who it is certain will attend these services on Sunday morning, afternoon and evening.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT DOUGLAS AVE. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The Douglas Avenue and Coburg street Christian churches have been holding union meetings to prepare for an evangelistic meeting to begin Sunday next, conducted by Lowell C. McPherson, of New York.

Mr. McPherson has had much experience, and is an inspiring speaker. He was for seven years in Cuba, laboring under the Foreign Christian Missionary Society. Mr. McPherson has held meetings in many cities in the United States. Recently he held successful meetings at Digby, Milbro and Halifax, N. S. He is now on Prince Edward Island.

Evangelist McPherson presents the Gospel in a loving, logical and powerful manner, and is well worthy of an attentive hearing by all who are interested in bringing men to repentance and renewed life.

What it Means When You Feel "All Out of Sorts"

You know what it means to feel "all out of sorts." Most people have felt this way at some time. Nerves out of order, irritable, impatient, depressed, aching head, a fagged brain, appetite bad and digestion weak.

Half speed people have lost that abundant natural vitality which enables others to go "full-speed-ahead" through life. Their energy and nerve power have evaporated—they cannot work long without breaking down.

LIFE'S STRUGGLE WITH ILLNESS

Mrs. Stewart Tells How Suffered from 16 to 45 years old—How Finally Cured

Euphemia, Ohio.—"Because of ignorance of how to care for my when verging into womanhood, and taking cold when going to school, I suffered from a displacement, and a month I had severe pains and nervousness which always meant a lay-off from work for two to four days from the time I was 16 years old."

"I went to Kansas to live with my mother and while there a doctor told me the Pinkham remedy but I did not know then as my faith in patent medicines was limited. After my sister I came home to Ohio to live and has been my home for the last 18 years."

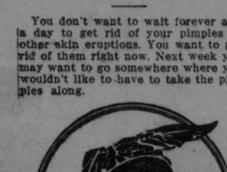

"The Change of Life came when I 47 years old and about this time I found my physical condition plainly described in one of your advertisements. I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound and I cannot tell you or any one the relief it gave me in just three months. It put me where I needed not lay off every month and during the last 18 years I have paid out two dollars to a doctor, and been best with excellent health for woman of my age and I can thank Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

"Since the Change of Life I have been a maternity nurse and I wholly self-supporting. I cannot estimate the value of good health; I have now earned a comfortable home just by sewing and nursing. I was 25 years old. I have recommended the Compound to many with good results, as it is excellent to take before and after childbirth.—Miss E. ADELA STEWART, Euphemia, Ohio."

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Circular) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be answered and a copy of the Compound will be sent to you.

The Charm of Comely Skin Stuart's New Calcium Sulphide Treatment Quickly Vanishes All Skin Eruptions and Restores Color to the Face.

Everybody Likes My Complexion Since Stuart's Calcium Wafers Quickly Cleared it of Eruptions."

You can get rid of them just in time by taking Stuart's Calcium Wafers. These wonderful little workers have cured bad boils in three days, and some cases of skin diseases in a week.

Remember this, too, that most plume treatments reek with poison. And they are miserably slow besides.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers have not a particle of poison in them. They are free from mercury, biting drugs or venomous opiates. This is absolutely guaranteed. They cannot do any harm, but they always do good—good that you can see in the mirror before your own eyes a few days after.

Don't be any longer humiliated by having a spicily face. Don't have strangers stare at you, or allow your friends to be ashamed of you because of your face.

Your blood makes you what you are. The men and women who forge ahead are those with pure blood and pure faces.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers will make you happy because your face will be a welcome sight not only to yourself when you look into the glass, but to everybody else who knows you and talks to you.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers are sold by all first class Druggists at 50 cents a box. They are very pleasant to the taste and in results are truly remarkable.

DR. PUGSEY'S POSITION.

As The Standard expected would be the case, the Times, last evening, waxed highly indignant that there should be even the suggestion that Dr. Pugsley's remarks at the meeting of the Board of Trade, the other evening, savored of an attempt to utilize the present situation in St. John as a means to possible political advantage. Despite the frenzied disclaimer of the Pugsley organ, however, this newspaper is still of the opinion that the possibility of a political coup was uppermost in Dr. Pugsley's mind when he suggested that Hon. Mr. Hazen should resign his seat. It must be remembered that this suggestion was made at a largely attended gathering of business men of St. John, and on an occasion such as a politician might easily consider almost the psychical moment for his purpose. Had the audience and the opportunity for publicity been absent, Dr. Pugsley might not have spoken as he did. When Dr. Pugsley and Recorder Baxter got together yesterday to discuss the situation from a business standpoint they did not begin by asking Mr. Hazen to resign or even by the suggestion that Dr. Pugsley should vacate the seat he won by 61 votes at the last election. Instead, they dealt with the matter in a purely business point of view of business men. They decided upon what would be necessary to best present St. John's case before the Railway Commission and sent to the Minister of Railways and the Secretary of the Railway Commission the telegrams which are published elsewhere in this issue. That was just what would have been done by any sane business men, where the existing condition is similar to the one with which we have to deal. Why, then, did it appear necessary to Dr. Pugsley to make the suggestion he did make, on Wednesday evening, in making it, he did not hope to gain some advantage for himself and the Liberal party and to embarrass Mr. Hazen and the Government?

Since the Board of Trade has been advised that the matter of the I. C. R. C. P. R. agreement had been referred to the Railway Commission there has been nothing the Government should have done that it has not done. The situation has been entirely up to the Board of Trade and City Council to arrange for the proper presentation of St. John's case, and this they are doing.

Before the meeting of the Board of Trade, on Wednesday evening, when Dr. Pugsley made his political speech, it was generally known that the Government had referred the whole question to the Railway Commission for its report. There has been, and there is, no new factor. What then, aside from the most contemptible mere politics, is the new howl that should cause Mr. Hazen to resign before St. John's case has been heard by the independent and competent tribunal that the city desired should deal with it?

We shall now look forward with great interest to the presentation of the city's case before the Railway Commission, particularly by the "lead counsel," Dr. Pugsley, whose connection with the Central Railway, of blessed memory, has undoubtedly constituted him a railway expert. In the meantime, perhaps, it is unnecessary to discuss either politics or resignations, and fair-minded people will be content to assume, with confidence, that the Government will respect the findings of the Railway Commission and act in accordance therewith.

KEEP POLITICS OUT.

Says the Times:—"It is most unfortunate that there is today in St. John a newspaper which at this critical stage in the city's affairs, endeavors to play the political game and convey the impression to the people of Halifax, Ottawa, Montreal and all Canada that St. John is not a unit in its demand for fair play in the matter of the mail steamships."

The Times is correct in its general statement, but unfair when it takes to itself all the responsibility for attempting to play the political game. Why exclude the Telegraph? Surely that is most unkind. The people of St. John are united in their demand for fair play in the steamship matter, and they are also well of one mind in opposing all efforts to make political capital out of the situation. The people of St. John are decidedly not in favor of the attitude of the Telegraph and the Times in abusing St. John's representative in the cabinet when he has done all any man could do in the interests of his constituency. And again, the people of St. John are not particularly enthusiastic over the brand of materialism Dr. Pugsley can offer them, if his utterance at the Board of Trade on Wednesday evening may be taken as a fair sample. Again to quote the Times: "The game will not work."

SELF-CONVICTED

It is not necessary to go outside of its own columns to convict the Telegraph of an entire lack of desire to treat from any fair business viewpoint matters that from time to time arise affecting the welfare of St. John. Not only does the Pugsley organ view with unseeing eyes the efforts of the government to increase and improve the port facilities, but it descends to a policy of deliberate misrepresentation in its attempts to discredit the Borden administration.

There is a case in point in the Norton-Griffiths' contract in Courtenay Bay. The impression had gone abroad that the work covered by Mr. Norton-Griffiths' contract was not proceeding as rapidly as it should if the facilities are to be completed by the time they are needed. The impression was in line with the fact. Mr. Norton-Griffiths admits there was delay, and is quoted in yesterday's Telegraph as follows:

"Any delay has not been due to any failure of the government to furnish money on contract account, but it has been rather due to the technical necessities of the whole contract. The government has facilitated the work in every possible way."

This would almost look like a tardy realization on the part of the Telegraph that the government is actually alive to the importance of a quickly as possible developing harbor facilities in Courtenay Bay, but it must be remembered that the statement comes from Mr. Norton-Griffiths and he tells the truth. The Telegraph's insinuations that there has been a lack of money for Courtenay Bay are, like many other things found in the Telegraph's columns, without foundation.

This fact is now becoming generally known and the public refuse to be deceived. The people realize that in matters affecting the government and St. John development the Telegraph is anything but a reliable authority.

CONDITIONS IN DUBLIN.

Referring to the Dublin strike which culminated in the sending to jail, on a charge of sedition, of the strike leaders, the Toronto Mail and Empire takes occasion to point to the fact that the workers must have had great fuel to feed the movement headed by the Syndicalist Larkin.

"It is no ordinary unionism," says the Mail and Empire, "that sustains such a desperate fight by starving workers. Loyalty to a cold idea never led contented or well-treated masses into such a 'last ditch' fight as the Dublin strikers have been conducting. There must have been years of silent suffering, of brooding, of repressed mutiny, to prepare the soil for the Larkin seed. Carlyle's pen, which found so vivid a subject in the swelling unrest of the French peasantry in the last days of Louis XVI, and Marie Antoinette, might easily have found in the Dublin struggle material for another such masterpiece of humanistic literature. Some little idea of what thousands of Dublin families have had to bear can be gathered from the Dublin health report of 1912. There are in the city more than 21,000 single-room tenements. In 3,000 cases there were four occupants to a room; in 2,000 cases five occupants; in 1,500 cases six occupants; in 854 cases seven occupants, and in 71 cases ten or eleven occupants."

And yet there is talk of slums and overcrowding in the cities of Canada. Compared with such old world centres as Dublin, the most densely populated district in almost any Canadian city is a paradise.

NEW ZEALAND'S STYLE.

(Montreal Herald.) New Zealand has done something. She has not only talked but she has made good. Every man, woman and child in the country has assumed an obligation of something over ten dollars a head toward imperial naval defence. No doubt political leaders in Canada will interpret her latest action in any light which will suit the needs of the moment. But the fact remains that Canada, with seven times the population, and with resources vastly more great, has done—nothing. Until we have done something, have we much right to talk?

A POLITICAL ART

(Winnipeg Telegram.) Nobody can manufacture veracity, and the paste that looks like it requires expert fabricators. But the lack lay not in will, but in capacity. This desire to be crooked without the ability to successfully carry out a job must be one of the most acute forms of torture.

DIARY OF EVENTS

HISTORIC DAYS IN CANADA

The "Trent affair" which was largely responsible for the abrogation by the United States of its reciprocity treaty with Canada, and which has hastened Canadian confederation, had its beginning fifty-two years ago today, when Mason and Sillid, Confederate commissioners, were taken from the British steamer Trent, en route from Havana to England, by Captain Wilkes, of the United States frigate San Jacinto. This action was bitterly resented by England, and for a time a declaration of war seemed imminent. Secretary Seward, however, perceiving that the object was warranted, released the prisoners, who sailed for England the first of the following year. The Trent affair resulted in a further strengthening of the ties of anti-British sentiment which then prevailed in the United States, based on the support of the Confederate cause. This spirit made the abrogation of the reciprocity treaty inevitable, even though it was the means of "opening of the nose to spite the face." In Canada, the hostility of the United States, as manifested in the Trent affair, caused a widespread alarm for the future, and to the far-seeing minds of the fathers of confederation, it appeared the adoption of a federal form of government had become imperative. There were many cases which forced the confederation movement to a head, but the Trent affair was not the least of them.

November 9th is the birthday of Major William Baxiss, famous American architect, at Pictou, N. S., 1848. The Hon. J. M. Johnson, of New Brunswick, a father of confederation, died on this date in 1888.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

BARON ROTHCHILD'S BIRTHDAY. Baron Nathan Mayer Rothschild, head of the English branch of the world's only billionaire dynasty, was born in Piccadilly, London, seventy-three years ago today.

The great-grandfather of the baron, holding that title in the peerages of both the United Kingdom and Austria. He was educated at Cambridge, and for twenty years was a member of the House of Commons. He has a magnificent city mansion in Piccadilly, and a vast country estate, Tring Park, in Hertfordshire, England. Lord Rothschild is noted as a live stock breeder, as well as a money king, and for nearly a score of years he has been stock breeding short-horn cattle at Tring Park, with a view to developing their milking qualities. One cow of his herd has produced 100,000 lbs. of milk in four weeks. When his herd becomes too large he auctions the surplus, and many of these prize animals have been sent to the United States and Canada. Lord Rothschild formerly made it a rule never to give interviews to newspapers, but he has lately changed his attitude, and now often receives the representatives of the press. On a recent occasion he expressed the view that Mexico would benefit from annexation by the United States.

Lord Rothschild is now the foremost member of a family which is in possession of wealth to the amount of over $2,000,000,000. All of the other financial dynasties of the world, such as the Rockefellers, the Astors, the Bishops, the Morgans, the Warburgs, and the Horts, shrink into insignificance when compared with Rothschild. Lord Rothschild, like most of the other members of the family, married the daughter of Baron Charles de Rothschild, of Frankfurt. His mother was a daughter of Baron Charles de Rothschild, of the Naples branch of the family.

THE PASSING DAY

LONDON INSTALLS LORD MAYOR. London's new Lord Mayor, Sir Thomas Cantarow, a wealthy paper dealer, will be sworn into office today.

The pageantry of the Lord Mayor's show, an annual affair in which all Londoners fond of pomp and display and quaint ceremonies look forward with eagerness, is usually held on the night of November, but as that date falls this year on a Sunday, the program will be carried out today and Monday.

The Lord Mayor of London, who rules over the circumscribed business section called "the city," is the recipient of a salary of $50,000 for the single year of his reign. This is a considerable sum, but the holder of the office is expected to spend at least twice that much on banquets, receptions and displays, or be forever disgraced as a "Highwayman."

The office of Lord Mayor of London dates from the year 1189, and the first incumbent was Henry Fitzlaur, who held the job for twenty-four years. In 1214 a new charter directed that the mayor be chosen annually, which has ever since been done. Sir David Bury, who was elected in 1912, was the 700th Lord Mayor of London. In ancient times the Lord Mayor was entitled to a tithe of all the fruit brought into the city for sale, and an annual tribute of fruit is still paid.

The Lord Mayor's banquet is one of the lavish and costly features of the installation program. Many mayors have spent their entire year's salary on this one "feast," and it is recorded that in 1814 the Guildhall feast, which was graced by the presence of the Prince Regent, afterward George IV, and the Emperor of Russia, and the King of Prussia, cost the incumbent $125,000. In return for the lavish hospitality the Prince made the mayor a baronet on the spot.

Mr. Forry in his diary tells of a Lord Mayor's banquet where "there were ten good dishes to a mess, and plenty of wine of all sorts; but I saw no napkins, no change of trenchers, and drank out of earthen pitchers or wooden dishes." So long as he stays in "the city" proper the Lord Mayor has a rank next to that of the King, and even the monarch can't enter the city without his consent. Technically the Lord Mayor takes precedence of the Lord Chancellor, and in "the city" such dignitaries as the Prime Minister, the Lord Chancellor and the Archbishop of Canterbury are inferior in rank to His Worship the Lord Mayor. The principal official duty of the Lord Mayor, besides being a lavish entertainer and a "good fellow" is to preside over the court of justice in the Mansion House, where the cases that come before him are principally of the "d. and c." and "drunk and disorderly" class.

HOWARD WATCHES

Are known the world over for their never failing time-keeping qualities and for their general excellence as high-grade watches.

They are made in two sizes only, — twelve and sixteen, and the lowest grade is a seventeen jeweled adjusted movement, more finely finished and more closely rated than many more expensive watches of other makes. This particular movement costs in a gold filled case $40. Finer grades run up to $150, and you will find a good assortment to select from in our stock.

The Howard is the watch for the man who appreciates a particularly fine watch.

OBJECTS TO MR. BAXTER AS COUNSEL

Commissioner McLellan Makes Vigorous Protest to His Representing City Before Railway Commission.

J. B. M. Baxter, K.C., recorder for the city, and Hon. William Pugsley are to be the authorized representatives of the city to present its case before the Railway Commission. This was the decision arrived at by the city commissioners at a special meeting yesterday morning. Commissioner McLellan objected to the Recorder having charge of the case on account of his political leaning, and he suggested that Hon. William Pugsley be given control of the case for the city, in spite of Commissioner McLellan's objections, however the Recorder was selected to present the case and Dr. Pugsley will act with him, and they will decide whether an expert will be necessary or not. The I. C. R. was granted permission to use the southern end of Charlotte street for track extension at an annual rental of $1. Captain Barker of No. 1 hook and ladder company was granted $70 in consideration of the fact that he was entitled to promotion to the office of district engineer but could not be spared from his present position. Mayor Frink presided and the other members present were Commissioners McLellan, Wigmore and Agar with the common clerk.

The meeting was called to order at 11:30 and Mayor Frink reported concerning the action taken at the meeting of the Board of Trade, Wednesday evening, when it was decided that the Recorder be instructed to act for the Railway Commission and assisted by Hon. William Pugsley present the case of the city in regard to the I. C. R. P. R. agreement, which is said to be discriminatory against St. John. The Mayor then read the resolution of the Board of Trade advising that Mr. Baxter represent the city before the commission.

Commissioner Agar moved that the Recorder be instructed to act for the city before the commission.

Commissioner McLellan wished to know what parts Mr. Baxter and Mr. Pugsley would take.

Mayor Frink thought that could be arranged between the two gentlemen concerned.

"While I am glad to see the recorder go," said Commissioner McLellan, "and while I know he will do his share, we all know his political leanings, and I feel that the laboring man will be Dr. Pugsley's."

Mayor Frink—"Dr. Pugsley himself asked that the Recorder should be the city's counsel."

Commissioner McLellan—"For my part I would like to see Dr. Pugsley paid by the city and regarded as its leading counsel."

Mayor Frink—"I think that the Recorder as city solicitor should be regarded as the city's counsel."

The motion, however, was carried. The Mayor thought that the city should bear the expense.

Commissioner McLellan was opposed to voting money for an expert unless he knew who the expert was to be. He believed it would be difficult to secure a capable man who was not tied up to some of the railways.

MR. BAXTER AS COUNSEL

Commissioner McLellan Makes Vigorous Protest to His Representing City Before Railway Commission.

J. B. M. Baxter, K.C., recorder for the city, and Hon. William Pugsley, are to be the authorized representatives of the city to present its case in regard to the I.C.R.-C.P.R. agreement before the Railway Commission. This was the decision arrived at by the city commissioners at a special meeting yesterday morning.

Commissioner McLellan objected to the Recorder having charge of the case on account of his political leaning, and he suggested that Hon. William Pugsley be given control of the case for the city. In spite of Commissioner McLellan's objections, however, the Recorder was selected to present the case and Dr. Pugsley will act with him, and they will decide whether an expert will be necessary or not.

The I. C. R. was granted permission to use the southern end of Charlotte street for track extension at an annual rental of $1.

Captain Barker of No. 1 hook and ladder company was granted $70 in consideration of the fact that he was entitled to promotion to the office of district engineer but could not be spared from his present position.

Mayor Frink presided and the other present were Commissioners McLellan, Wigmore and Agar with the common clerk.

The meeting was called to order at 11:30 and Mayor Frink reported concerning the action taken at the meetings of the Board of Trade, Wednesday evening, when it was decided that the Recorder be instructed to act for the Railway Commission and assisted by Hon. William Pugsley present.

Commissioner McLellan wished to know what parts Mr. Baxter and Mr. Pugsley would take.

Mayor Frink thought that could be arranged between the two gentlemen concerned.

"While I am glad to see the Recorder go," said Commissioner McLellan, "and while I know he will do his share, we all know his political leanings, and I feel that the laboring man will be Dr. Pugsley's."

Commissioner McLellan—"For my part I would like to see Dr. Pugsley paid by the city and regarded as the leading counsel."

Richard D. Polly, of Upper Cape, Westmorland County, Takes His Own Life—A Sad Case.

Special to The Standard. Sackville, N. B., Nov. 7.—Telephone messages today bore the sad news of the death of Richard D. Polly, Upper Cape, under rather sad circumstances. Polly, who is 52 years of age, had been drinking quite heavily of late and last night about 9 o'clock while sitting in his home with his family reached up on the wall for a gun which he recently purchased, saying that he purposed shooting himself.

His family became alarmed and fled from the house to seek help, but when neighbors arrived they found Polly lying on the floor unconscious. Dr. Allen of Port Elgin was at once summoned and rendered necessary medical aid but without avail. He passed away about 11 o'clock last night.

An inquest was held today and a verdict of death as a result of a shot from a rifle in his own hands was returned. Elias Hayward of Port Elgin conducted the inquest. The tragedy has cast a gloom over the whole community.

Do Not Disturb Your Savings

Perhaps you have been putting your money in a savings bank. You should not disturb it. A "nest egg" is a very handy thing to have for an emergency.

Our method is designed only to afford you an opportunity to make safe and profitable investments out of your INCOME. At the end of a year you will no doubt be surprised to find that under the Partial Payment Plan you have saved probably twice as much as in any preceding year.

The securities you purchase will earn and pay you dividends up to 7 1/4 p. c. Aside from this, you will be in a position to take advantage of any increase in value of the securities while you are paying for them—especially as prices are now at the lowest ebb they have been for some years past.

We are willing and anxious to answer all questions regarding this unique system of saving and investment.

WEEKLY LETTER CLOSING STOCK MARKET ON MONTREAL LETTER FROM RANDOLPH

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
Montreal, Nov. 7.—There has been considerable depression in the local stock market during the past week. This depression was as much of a sentimental nature as of a practical character inasmuch as prices of stocks did not for the most part decline to any marked degree.

In the case of C. P. R. there was at times considerable weakness and Brazilian and Dominion Steel Corporation all had their weak turns. C. P. R. of course was weak on the general outlook while Brazilian was weak for a similar reason and also because of conditions existing or feared in the republic itself.

The monetary situation in Brazil has been very much depressed for some time. Rubber plantations were greatly damaged by the increase in the rubber production of the world and by the consequent drop in the price of the rubber product. A somewhat similar condition developed in respect to the coffee plantations, the scheme whereby the price of coffee was maintained at an artificial level having in large part failed owing to the world's production. Altogether, the situation in Brazil has been very bad of late and as is frequently the case with countries of this general character, there may have also been added a fear of what might develop among the populace in case the hardships should continue to long.

During the past few days however, has been reported that a great improvement has taken place and that the financial crisis is now past. Another factor which no doubt contributed to the rise of late to the effect that Brazilian would require new financing and that of proposal of some character would shortly be put forward. This would naturally have the effect of preventing many who might otherwise have become purchasers from contributing to the buying side. It is now announced however that a definite and official denial has been given to this story, there being no intention whatever of carrying out any new financing scheme.

Matters in connection with Dominion Iron and Steel Company have come in for a great deal of attention during the week. For the most part the market feels very much better than it did a week ago, this improvement being due both to the publication of the financial statement for the second quarter of the present year and to the belief, that within the course of a day or two an announcement concerning the new financing will come over from England. The financial statement was better than that for the first quarter and brought the total net earnings of the first half year to about half a million dollars more than for the first half year of 1912. It is further predicted that the last half of the present year will be quite as good as the first half has been, which would mean that the company has experienced a very successful year.

It is believed that Mr. Plummer has made good progress on the new financing and the prediction is made that the announcement will be of a satisfactory character. On the strength of this the stock is again selling slightly above 40. During the past week or ten days there has been announced the incorporation of the Ottawa Traction Company with capital of $10,000,000.

While no details of the business of the company can be learned, it is assumed that it is the intention to amalgamate the two large public corporations of the City of Ottawa, viz., the Ottawa Light, Heat and Power Co. and the Ottawa Electric Railway. No definite proposals however, have been placed before the directors as yet and the stock of the power company is still holding around where it was previous to the announcement.

The local money market shows a slight improvement but the actual rate being charged is in no way affected.

Mrs. Wm Coburn was taken to Fredericton hospital last week and operated on for appendicitis.

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
New York, Nov. 7.—The liquidation which was in progress yesterday ceased entirely this morning and the market opened higher all around. It rallied farther in the first hour, but there was no buying of an aggressive character anywhere in evidence, and before long the market lapsed into extreme dullness, from which condition it did not emerge during the balance of the day. The news from Mexico was considered more favorable but merely because Wall Street expected that a crisis had been reached, and nothing further developed to prove that Wall Street was right. As a matter of fact, no news on the situation was allowed to leak from Washington. London was a moderate buyer at the opening here, and traders generally took the long side on the theory that in such a narrow market, the decline of yesterday should be followed by an advance today. Money rates remained unchanged, both for time and call funds. There was some shading in prices in the afternoon, but stocks maintained a fairly firm tone and closed with fractional net gains as a result of the day's dealings. United States Rubber was unfavorably affected by the announcement of an issue of new stock, and all the Rubber securities were weak. Total sales 218,000; bonds $1,369,000.

THE CLOSING DAY

Not Much Time Left, But Plenty for Hustlers

$1310.00 --- IN PRIZES --- $1310.00

Add Up the Figures and Send in Your Answer at Once

This Contest Will Close Today. Anyone Who Enters During the Present Week Will Have Just As Good a Chance to Win As Those Who Have Already Submitted Their Solutions.

You May Win Anywhere From $250.00 Down to $3.00 by Correctly Solving the Puzzle Offered in This Contest. Get Busy Now. Only Today Left, But it is Time Enough for Those Who Really Try.

There are no double numbers. Nine is the highest—the figure nine has a straight tail, while the tail of the figure six is curved

The Standard offers 120 prizes amounting to $1310.00 and ranging from $250.00 to $3.00 for correct solutions to this puzzle. You add up the figures and send your answer to The Standard along with any amount from one dollar to six dollars which will apply on new or renewal subscription to the Daily or Semi-Weekly Standard.

If there are more than 120 correct solutions a second puzzle will be offered for the purpose of deciding ties. This will be open only to those who send in correct solutions to the first puzzle, and it will not be compulsory to send any money on the second solution.

The More Money You Send With Your Solution the Larger Will Be the Prize Which You May Win

Here is the Prize List

- 120 prizes are offered which together form a total of $1,310.00. The amount of each individual prize will to some extent depend upon the amount of money sent in by the individual winners. The prizes are as follows:

AROUND THE CITY

Federation of Labor. A meeting of the Provincial Federation of Labor will be held shortly to draw up a legislative programme and deal with other matters.

Gave Exhibition. Dan McDonald, instructor in wrestling at the Y. M. C. A., gave a private exhibition before members of the association in the gymnasium last evening.

New Zealand Service. The New Zealand-St. John service will be inaugurated December 20th, the first sailing being that of the Jersey. Thereafter there will be a sailing every month at regular intervals.

Street Detective. There was a rumor about the city last evening to the effect that the private detective from the States had caught the firebugs. The report however appears to have originated in street gossip.

Country Market. The supply in the country market today is on the whole well up to the average. Fowl is among the most plentiful in the meat line and this will be about the best week for this line of meat. The game season is proving successful and there is a fairly good quantity of moose meat, venison and wild fowl to be had. Venison is up to the market. The following will be about the retail quotations for today: Roast beef, 12 to 22c; lamb, 14 to 20c; pork, 16 to 20c; turkey, 35c a lb.; ducks, $1.50 to $2 a pair; chicken, 25c per lb.; fowl, 20 to 22c; geese, $1.50 to $2; venison, 16 to 20c; moose meat, 18-20c; black duck, 90c-11c; ham and bacon, 25c.

Joseph A. Chisholm, K. C. of Halifax, who is to deliver the first address of the season before the Canadian Club next week on the subject, "Joseph Howe," was formerly a partner of Hon. R. L. Borden. He has practiced his profession in Halifax since 1889, is a native of Antigonish and was educated at St. Francis Xavier and Dalhousie. He is the author of a biography of Joseph Howe which was published in 1909 as well as of "The Speeches and Letters of Joseph Howe." He has lately prepared for the Canadian Club of Halifax a history of the memorial tower and copies of this work are to be sent to the libraries throughout Canada. He has been president of the Canadian Club in Halifax for several years for a term mayor of the city. He is connected with a number of benevolent organizations and a member of the executive of the British Empire League in Halifax.

GEORGE McDADÉ MAKES MOVING SPEECH. At the opening session of the mock parliament, conducted by the law students at Dalhousie University, George M. McDade, formerly public commissioner for Fredericton, moved the adoption of the speech from the throne. The Halifax Herald, speaking of Mr. McDade's address, has the following: "The honorable member from St. John, Mr. McDade, moved the adoption of the speech from the throne in a short but very effective maiden address." The papers also state that the mock parliament is the best in years.

LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE IN OPERA HOUSE TOMORROW. As announced in the local papers, Vibel O. Strickler, C. S., a member of the board of trustees of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., will lecture on Christian Science in the Opera House tomorrow commencing at 8 o'clock.

These annual lectures on this subject are always well attended, and judging from the interest manifested this year's will be no exception to the rule. Mr. Strickler comes to St. John after a successful lecture tour of the continent, and has strong endorsement as a fluent and forceful speaker. This together with the brilliancy of his subject should make the attendance tomorrow a tax on the capacity of the Opera House. Seats are free, no admission charge, and no collection will be taken.

PLAYGROUNDS TO REOPEN SOON FROM REGEN KIRMESS

Mrs. G. L. Wetmore Makes this Announcement at Meeting of Association — Will Proceed at Once with Preparation of Rockwood Athletic Field — Noted Irish Poet to Appear Here by Association.

At the monthly meeting of the executive of the Playgrounds Association, held in the Board of Trade rooms last evening several matters of unusual interest came up for discussion. It was announced that the association would profit to the extent of about $800 from the recent performances of the Kirmess. The drainage of the Rockwood athletic field will be proceeded with in the near future. A unanimous resolution favored making Fort Howe into a public park. The matter will be brought to the attention of the ministers who will visit this city next week. It was also decided to bring this matter to the attention of the Irish poet-story-teller, here for two entertainments, probably next April.

The president, Miss Mabel Peters, was in the chair and the members of the executive also present were Miss Grace Leavitt, Dr. Margaret Parks, Mrs. L. A. Currey, Miss Hegan, Mrs. J. H. Doody, Mrs. G. Wetmore, M. E. Agar, R. J. Walsh, E. B. Jones, R. E. Walker and A. M. Belding, secretary. The minutes and the treasurer's report were read and adopted. The president then submitted a report to the effect that it was not possible to take any further step at present with regard to securing a neighborhood playground near the Y. M. C. A. building. Mr. Agar referring to the proposed draining of the Rockwood athletic field, stated that the City Council was only awaiting the arrival of an I. C. R. engineer from Moncton to look over the situation. The work of putting the concrete pipe under the I. C. R. tracks and down to the Marsh Creek, as a beginning of draining the athletic field, would then be proceeded with at once. He believed that considerable progress would be made in the near future.

The president expressed the hope that the school gardens would be established at the Rockwood playgrounds next spring and looking into the future strongly urged that the overflow of water from the lake should be utilized for public baths which were much needed in St. John. Kirmess Nets $800 Profit. Mrs. G. L. Wetmore, chairman of the general committee, reported that judging by the latest returns to hand she hoped to have about $800 as net result of the Kirmess performances at the York Theatre. Mrs. Wetmore added that she would submit a full and detailed report at the executive's next meeting. The members present expressed the hearty approval of the treasurer's report and the success which had resulted in the entertainments being a success. A vote of thanks to Mrs. Wetmore was moved and carried unanimously.

The president, submitting a report on the proposal to make Fort Howe into a park, told of her correspondence with the Commissioner of Dominion Parks and of his request for information regarding historic battle grounds in New Brunswick. Subsequently she had mentioned the matter to Archdeacon Raymond who in turn had requested "W. C. MacManus" to supply the required information. Dr. Raymond, the president, then adjourned.

MAY REOPEN THE TECHNICAL EDUCATION SCHOOL IN CITY

If Satisfactory Arrangements Can be Made and Teachers Secured, Good Work will be Continued — Dr. Bridges Optimistic of Results.

The evening classes in technical education, the first of which were held last year in St. John may be continued this winter if satisfactory arrangements can be made. The chief difficulty at present is in securing a teacher to carry on the work. Speaking of the matter last night, Dr. Bridges said that if the services of a teacher can be secured the classes will be carried on this year. It is a difficult proposition to find a teacher to do the work and conditions in this city are not the same as in Calgary and Halifax where the technical schools are carried on, on an extensive scale. In both these places there is a superintendent of technical education who has charge of this branch of the educational work and has his whole time to devote to the schools. This phase of the department of education work is entirely outside the jurisdiction of the superintendent of education being left to the superintendent of technical education who makes arrangements for the services of teachers and other matters in connection with the work, and who is an expert in this branch of instruction. Moreover, the financial assistance for carrying on the work in other places makes this possible as well as giving an opportunity to carry on the work on a more extensive scale.

In St. John the Board of School Trustees made a grant of $2,000 for this work, which grant was supplemented by an additional $200 by the government, the latter on condition that at least twenty pupils be found to take advantage of the classes. The condition as to the required number of pupils was fulfilled last year, twenty-four young men entering as pupils in the evening classes. Instruction was given in mechanical drawing and house construction. The classes were attended with gratifying regularity by the twenty-four pupils and were quite successful. With considerable aid to content with such as instruction, messes, etc., the first attempt was quite satisfactory on the whole. As regards the prospects for continuing the classes this year, Dr. Bridges said that one of the principal obstacles is the difficulty in securing a teacher

THIS VAGRANT POLICE ARREST CHARACTER FOR ATTACKING HORSES ON CHARLOTTE STREET.

A PECULIAR CASE MADE BY OFFICERS. Delinquent Terror to Teamsters not Vagrant of Usual Type—At Home at Headquarters.

The police have at present a problem on their hands to solve; not that the charge against the offender is an old one, but there are peculiar phases about the case that may complicate matters in disposing of the offender. It is a case of vagrancy and the vagrant came within the pale of the law yesterday. Unlike ordinary cases of the kind, however, assault is added to the vagrancy charge. According to the police and to reports on the police books, the offender has been a transgressor for some time, but yesterday his career was brought to a close and he was placed behind the bars to await punishment. Unable to give a satisfactory account of himself, without any known fixed place of abode, the offender presented a sorry spectacle when brought into the guard room at police headquarters. He has been on large on the streets for some days and in addition to vagrancy is charged with being a menace to horses. Teamsters who drove through Charlotte street have been given so small warty notices of removal of the nuisance will give them much satisfaction.

While the ordinary vagrant who finds his way to the cell in a police station is generally an inoffensive creature, this particular one has a malicious strain, and more than one horse has felt his teeth. The dog, for the vagrant in question is a bull terrier, seemed to have a weakness for horse-dish, has been on the rampage on Charlotte street for the past few days. Disreputable in appearance, without a license or tag to indicate that he is the property of anyone in particular, he has tried the patience of teamsters to the limit, so the police yesterday took a hand in the matter and as a result the outcast spent the night in central police station. The lodgings seemingly proved to his liking, as he treated the situation as if before in jail were an ordinary occurrence and gave his officers a cent or two little trouble.

What disposition will be made of the case had not been decided last night. The vagrant can't be kept in the almshouse, and as St. John does not boast of a home for outcast canines, besides there is the assault phase of the matter to be considered further complicating the matter. It is thought, however, that someone will take charge of the delinquent and in the event of the adopted owner giving assurances as to the delinquent's future good conduct he may be let go on suspended sentence.

REUBEN WEYLER OF WORK

Popular Actor Wanted To Be a Poet, but Chances Were Poor.

A DIGNIFIED VIEW OF HIS PROFESSION

Believes it is not impossible to be Good Actor and Clean Man, and Conduct Himself Accordingly.

If Reuben Weyler had followed nature's bent he might have been a poet; if he had pursued the career for which he was intended by family and his education, he would have been a prominent actor. Not that he is not a poet, for he is, but he has not decided upon the stage as a career he could have become a star in the football field—or as a while hoping for he is heavy enough to shine either profession. However, he has done very well as it is, and the heads who have admired his working the five weeks he has been a student of St. John are convinced he made no mistake in his choice of profession.

Mr. Weyler did not hear any call that seemed to indicate that would rise to heights as an interpreter of the best in dramatic art, he did seek his profession because he believed it would lead him through life on a "primrose path." Not that he simply went on the stage because he realized that the quotations for poetry were below in America, and that he could not in the profession of versifying, might eventually end as a writer "boots" for breakfast foods or perpetrating a catastrophe in a stone factory. Consequently he took the written for the spoken word and turned his young feet footwards.

An Actor and a Man. Joking aside, Reuben Weyler is a serious minded man, who regards his profession as a serious business, not an actor and a gentleman at the same time. He himself affords little proof that his belief is well founded. He has never been in a position to report this week he reluctantly consented to talk about himself. He not, however, keep his work, he talked little of himself, and much of his profession, which he considers far greater importance. "What are does not count, what we should be is of more importance," was his way he put it.

Mr. Weyler was educated in eastern Massachusetts, but he does hold it against the town. After graduation he decided he was intended a poet, indeed he had a powerful opinion to this effect before that, but he did not always succeed in getting other people agree with him. He wanted to write poetry, he said, I did manage to write some which was accepted by magazines, but it did come fast enough and I decided there was no future for me as a poet in the United States. Only two cases opened for a writer of verse one was to write eulogies of the dead, and the other was to write eulogies for tombstones. I didn't hanker either, so I decided that I could be a poet. However, because of the fact he had had experience on the stage he harbored a very strong preference against it, and it was with difficulty that I secured my first engagement. I was with a company playing in center before I was of age, and I sent a deputy sheriff to the theatre and had me taken out by force. However, I went back and have at it ever since.

Mr. Weyler during his career played all sorts of roles but has held preference for clerical. "Possibly because they appear to be more serious," he said, "but the part is that of the clergyman in White Slier, the role, by the which I play next week.

A Dignified Calling. "I have always been impressed by the fact that the stage is a dignified calling. There was a time when actors were regarded as gentlemen, I believe it will return. At the present time I believe the line of exploitation in Canada and England that is in the United States. Across the line most attractions, to be successful, must be the line of exploitation. Evelyn Thwaite or Nan Patton or else tinged with vice. In Canada and I believe also in England, I do not believe in the line of exploitation for even since I have been in the profession I have met many people who pressed their preference for the stage of play. I think it must finally come to that and that that

REUBEN WEYLER TELLS OF HIS BOOK AND AMBITION

Popular Actor Wanted To Be a Poet, but Chances Were Poor.

A DIGNIFIED VIEW OF HIS PROFESSION

Believes it is not Impossible to be Good Actor and Clean Man, and Conducts Himself Accordingly.

If Reuben Weyler had followed his natural bent he might have been a poet; if he had pursued the career for which he was intended by his family and his education, he would have been a clergyman. Instead, however, he was diverted from both the pulpit and the pursuit of the poetic muse and became an actor. Mr. Weyler told the "heavy man" with the Thompson-Woods Company in the Opera House, and he looks the part. Nature has been generous with him, with the result that if he had not decided upon the stage as a career he could have become a star in the football field—or as a wide hope for he is heavy enough to shine in either profession. However, he has done very well as it is, and the hundreds who have witnessed his work during the five weeks he has been a resident of St. John are convinced that he made no mistake in his choice of profession.

Mr. Weyler did not hear any cell call that seemed to indicate that he would rise to heights as an interpreter of the best in dramatic art. In conversation with a Standard reporter this week he reluctantly consented to talk about himself. He did not, however, keep his word, for he talked a little of himself and much of his profession, which he considers of far greater importance. "What we are does not count what we do," he said. "Importance," was the way he put it.

Indeed he had a powerful opinion to this effect before that date, but he did not always succeed in making other people agree with him. "I wanted to write poetry," he said, "and I did manage to write some which was accepted by magazines, but it didn't come fast enough and I decided that there was no future for me as a poet in the United States. Only two careers seemed open for a writer of verse, one was to write eulogies of Sent-Cléud or some other of the gods, and the other was to design epitaphs and tombstones. I didn't hanker after either, so I decided that I could not be a poet. Had I received encouragement I might have made poetry my life's work, but I didn't. Then the idea of my family was that I should become a clergyman, but I couldn't reconcile some of the things I was told with my own ideas on the subject, so I did not study for the ministry. Then I turned to the stage.

Father Was With Booth. "I suppose this was natural, too, for my father had been with Booth for years, and he retired and studied medicine, becoming eventually a medical doctor. In spite of the fact, or perhaps, because of the fact that he had had experience on the stage he harbored a very strong prejudice against it, and it was with difficulty that I secured my first engagement. I was with a company playing in Worcester before I was of age, and father sent a deputy sheriff to the theatre for Evelyn. He was taken out by the ear. ACQUITTED OF MURDER, IS MARRIED

Roland B. Molineux and Miss Margaret Connell Wed in New York City Hall.

New York, Nov. 7.—Roland B. Molineux, twice tried twelve years ago for the murder of Mrs. Akatherine J. Adams, and acquitted, was married at the city hall today to Miss Margaret Connell, of this city. When the couple applied early this afternoon for a license it was not granted because Molineux had forgotten to bring with him a copy of the decree of divorce which his former wife, Blanche Chesborough, obtained against him in the South Dakota courts. Molineux and his fiancée gave the same address in their application for the license. Miss Connell said that she was twenty-eight years old, and a secretary. Molineux is forty-seven. When he was told that a copy of the divorce decree would have to be filed with the application, Molineux pleaded with the clerk to waive this procedure, saying that his mother was very ill and that he and Miss Connell wanted to be married at her bedside as quickly as possible. He was told that if he could not get a copy of the decree quickly he might return to the license bureau and that his affidavit that he was divorced probably would be accepted instead. When in the afternoon Molineux and Miss Connell returned to the city hall with a copy of his decree of divorce. The license was obtained, and an altar was called in, and they were married on the spot. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Molineux hurried to the home of Molineux's mother in Brooklyn.

JENNINGS FOR BROOKLYN

New York, Nov. 7.—A deal involving three baseball managers in the two major leagues and the International League got under way today. Should all the details of the most extensive transfer recorded in recent seasons be carried out as outlined in Newark tonight, the managerial list of next season would read like this:

For Brooklyn, Hugh Jennings, president manager of the Detroit American League club.

For Newark, William Dahlen, now manager of the Brooklyn Nationals.

For Jersey City, Harry Smith, now manager of the Newark club in the International League.

THE HON. ROBERT ROGERS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE REGARDING PORT NEEDS

Minister of Public Works and Hon. Mr. Hazen Here Tuesday.

INSPECT PUBLIC WORKS WEDNESDAY

Ministers will Discuss Situation with Board of Trade—Arrange Busy Programme for Visitors.

The forthcoming visit to St. John of Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of public works, and Hon. J. D. Hazen, will, it is expected, have an important bearing upon the plans for developing the traffic possibilities of the port, and the Board of Trade is making arrangements to place before the ministers their views as to the immediate needs of the port and also its future requirements. A meeting of the council of the Board of Trade will be held on Monday to give definite shape to the propositions which it is proposed to place before the ministers. At the last meeting of the full board various proposals were agreed to, and the council of the board will welcome any further suggestions as to matters affecting the interests of the port which it may be desirable to discuss at the conference. The ministers will come to St. John over the I. C. R., arriving here at 6.30 Tuesday evening. On Wednesday morning at 9.30 they will start on a trip round the harbor by water, and after viewing the docks and wharves will be in progress on the West Side will sail up Courtney Bay. When they return to the city the ministers

THE NEWS OF THE DAY ON THE "GREAT WHITE WAY"

The Standard's Bright and Interesting Theatrical Letter Fresh from New York—News of the Amusement Attractions In the "Big Town."

New York, Nov. 7.—Make 'em blush to their ears and bathe 'em in tears, make 'em grin, make 'em sigh, make 'em laugh, make 'em cry; make 'em squeal with delight, and turn white with fright; feed 'em on gold, and give 'em love and shock 'em and thrill 'em some more. Such, poetically expressed, seems to be the purpose of the "Theatre of Thrills," the playhouse of mingled—and mangled—emotions. "There has been a most delightful revolution in feminine dress," remarks Robert Henri, the painter, "born from Europe. Change the first "o" to "e" and the "u" to "a" and the average masculine Broadwayite will agree with him, abso-lutely. In addition to Mile, Fatima, who has full assortment of neither limbs and does not give a cream puff who knows it, Hammerstein's bill includes "the only legless lady" whose paucity of limbs is "the result of birth, not accident." Mr. Anthony Comstock is said to be particularly pleased at the innovation. "See America's first" seems to be the cry of visitors to New York, which suggests the following as an appropriate yell for the tourists and buyers: "Rah! Rah! Rah! Who are we? Folks from Joplin, and Kan-ka-kee, Medicine Hat and Troy and Rome, and we're all going to the Hippodrome!" Miss Maude Adams, who will be forty-one next Tuesday and who has got permission to live forty-one years longer will be seen in one play by J. M. Barrie, entitled "Rosalind," the gift of author to actress, during her New York season, beginning next month. At Madison Square Garden, large force of men are engaged in polishing the base of glory and tuning up the blare of trumpets, which, in accordance with reportorial traditions, will open the annual horse show at Sarah Bernhardt's first American appearance took place thirty-three years ago tomorrow, at Booth's Theatre in New York. She played "Adrienne Lecouvreur" in an overflowing and enthusiastic house. Booth's has vanished from the theatrical map, and in all probability, that is even so, they have paid the debt to nature, but Sarah the Divine goes on forever. "It was reported even," says the New York American, "that he Duke of the Abruzzi proposed marriage to her" (Miss Katherine Elkins). Yes, one remembers that, even so, they have paid the debt to nature, but Sarah the Divine goes on forever. EMPRESS WITHDRAWAL MAY HAVE GOOD EFFECT

Is Opinion of Young Man who Resigned from R. L. Borden Club—Stirs Citizens Up.

"I believe this row over the Empress boats is going to be a good thing for St. John," said one of the young men who resigned from the R. L. Borden Club, last evening. "It has stirred up everybody to the need of hastening harbor developments and from now on there will be, I believe, such an agitation that the government will be impelled to rush the work as much as possible, and make it possible for St. John to handle a fair share of the incoming traffic. Five or six years ago Mr. Pugsley told us that in three years thereafter we would see ships sailing up Courtney Bay. If Mr. Pugsley had only been as good at doing things as at making promises, St. John would be today in a position to handle a great deal more traffic, and the C. P. R. would not have any reason to make one of the excuses it has for withdrawing the Empress boats. Mr. Pugsley, I admit, had big plans, but unfortunately he did not have the courage or the influence to make a start when he should have."

WHAT LYNCH SAYS.

New York, Nov. 7.—When President Thomas J. Lynch was questioned regarding the report that Governor Tener, of Pennsylvania, would be a candidate for the position of chief executive of the National League, he said: "I know nothing about the campaign being made against me, except what I read in the newspapers. If it is true that Governor Tener is a candidate for the office of president of the National League, then I shall consider it an honor to run against him."

FACTS OF THE PORT QUESTION

MILITANTS BELIEVE IN UNIONISTS

Mrs. Emiline Pankhurst Says Policy is to Defeat Present Administration—Encouraged by Ulster.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 7.—Mrs. Emiline Pankhurst when shown the London cable despatch here today relating to the efforts being made to induce the British government to come to an agreement with the suffragettes, said she was familiar with the question.

"I believe," said Mrs. Pankhurst, "the statement of the policy which has been formulated, not to be put into operation immediately, but to induce the Liberals and Unionists to declare themselves in regard to their intentions after the general election. With this policy the women of the Social and Political Union does not agree. We have been forced to the conclusion that the present leaders of the Liberal party are determined not to give women the right to vote. In the last ten days the Chancellor of the Exchequer has confirmed our opinion of the Liberal administration by a declaration that the present parliament would not enfranchise women. Our policy therefore is to force a general election at the earliest possible moment and to secure a new parliament and a new administration. "The recent action of the Unionist party in Ulster where women have been elected to all offices in the provisional government, satisfies me that it is almost certain women will gain their enfranchisement from the Unionists. At any rate the militant suffragettes of Great Britain mean to end the political life of the so-called Liberal government."

SHOULD CO-OPERATE

In addition to urging the more rapid development of harbor and mail facilities, the people of St. John and Halifax should forget their squabbles and organize a demand for a preferential customs duty on traffic entering Canada by Canadian ports. "If the boats are induced to come to Canadian ports to land cargoes, it is reasonable to suppose they will take away a great deal of the export traffic that now goes to Boston. It may be mentioned that a leading official of the I. C. R., stationed at Halifax, recently told a representative of The Standard that if the people of the Maritime Provinces got together and induced the government to grant a preferential tariff rate on goods entering by Canadian ports, both Halifax and St. John could increase their port business as fast as they could provide facilities. Years ago the Canadian government did grant for a short time a custom's rebate on raw sugar landed at Canadian ports, and in the first year this rebate was in operation, more sugar was landed at Halifax than in the whole seven or eight years before.

APPEALS CASE

Matter of Power to Issue Bonds to be Tried on November 17.

Boston, Nov. 7.—The appeal of former Governor Morgan G. Bulkeley, Connecticut and other stockholders of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company from a decree of the Public Service Commission authorizing the railroad company to issue $67,552,000 of convertible bonds, came up in the Supreme Court today on the question of ordering a temporary injunction to restrain the company from issuing the bonds. Counsel agreed that the matter might be heard on November 11, when will be given preference over all other cases. A. M. Lyman, counsel for Clarence Yenner, who yesterday filed a petition for leave to intervene in the suit of Mr. Bulkeley said he had been assured that the suit of former Governor Bulkeley would not be withdrawn. Matthews informed the court that his clients had no intention of making a settlement and proposed to press the matter in order to settle important questions involved. On motion of Charles F. Chote, counsel for the railroad, Judge Shelton set Nov. 17 as the time for hearing the case on its merits.

A BARGAIN OFFER

Assortment of Embroidery Designs Supplied by Standard.

Nearly every woman knows a bargain when she sees it, which is perhaps a sufficient reason why nearly every woman within reach of The Standard is applying for an Imperial Embroidery Pattern Outfit. This wonderful packet of 160 beautiful designs is the last word concerning stylish embroidery work and may be accepted as the best assortment of its kind. Every woman knows that embroidery patterns cost no less than 10 cents each when bought singly in the regular way; therefore, when she is offered 160 such designs for the nominal sum of 70 cents and six coupons clipped for The Standard she naturally recognizes the offer as an opportunity that is not to be neglected.

When she considers the many ways that she can beautifully her clothes and her home by the application of embroidery at scarcely any cost for the most up-to-date patterns she naturally secures a packet of the Imperial design, either by calling for them at The Standard or by mail, which latter way costs only 10 cents extra for postage.

Views of Labor Man on The Present Situation.

MUCH TRADE GOES TO THE AMERICAN PORTS

Co-operation and Broader View would do Much Toward Increasing Business—Value of Freight.

"Here is a fact of importance in connection with the winter port question. The export trade of Canada to Europe last year showed an increase of $28,145,625, over the previous year. That looks good, but how does Canadian ports profit from this expanding trade? Of the increase only $9,179,637 was carried through Canadian ports, while $16,968,988 was carried through United States ports. And yet some real estate men have sneered at Commissioner Agar's statement that St. John needed the co-operation of Halifax and Nova Scotia if it wanted to get a fair share of the rapidly expanding trade."

"These remarks were made to a reporter of The Standard by a trade union workman of the city, and may be of interest as showing the worker's point of view regarding the question of co-operation of the business men of the city. "St. John business men should follow Com. Agar's advice, and take a broad view of the matter," added the labor man. "The outstanding fact of the situation is that the great bulk of the increase of Canadian trade is going to American ports, and it will continue to go there if the people of these provinces continue to play at parochial politics. Tens of millions are now being spent in Boston to enlarge the harbor facilities, and the city is making a strong bid for increased traffic. New York, Providence and other American ports are also making vigorous efforts to capture new trade. In the face of the competition of American ports, which will grow keener every year, it will be folly for St. John to maintain the position of splendid isolation which appears to have been favored by the local Board of Trade ever since it withdrew from the Maritime Board. St. John will need the co-operation not only of Halifax, but of Quebec and Montreal, and the people of Eastern Canada generally."

SHOULD CO-OPERATE

In addition to urging the more rapid development of harbor and mail facilities, the people of St. John and Halifax should forget their squabbles and organize a demand for a preferential customs duty on traffic entering Canada by Canadian ports. "If the boats are induced to come to Canadian ports to land cargoes, it is reasonable to suppose they will take away a great deal of the export traffic that now goes to Boston. It may be mentioned that a leading official of the I. C. R., stationed at Halifax, recently told a representative of The Standard that if the people of the Maritime Provinces got together and induced the government to grant a preferential tariff rate on goods entering by Canadian ports, both Halifax and St. John could increase their port business as fast as they could provide facilities. Years ago the Canadian government did grant for a short time a custom's rebate on raw sugar landed at Canadian ports, and in the first year this rebate was in operation, more sugar was landed at Halifax than in the whole seven or eight years before.

"The trouble with business men is that they do not study the laws of economic and social development," continued the trade unionist. "Anything that appears likely to menace their immediate profits is apt to stampede them into a narrow view of things; they leap at the smaller opportunity and overlook the great opportunity. Notice that it is the real estate men who are most excited over the withdrawal of the Empresses. You can't blame them. Naturally they fear that anything which is likely to affect the prestige of the port will affect their speculative enterprises. They have already forced up land values and rents higher than conditions warrant, and fear there will be a slump. That would be a calamity to them, but I don't know what the small business man and the wage-earner would regard it as an unmitigated evil.

"The speculative element in a community always makes the most clamor, but it is not always good policy for the people to allow themselves to be hypnotized into the belief that whatever favors the interests of land-lords and big speculators helps them. Some of the members of the Board of Trade have stated that they would sooner have the Empress boats come here than freight boats. Ask any longshoreman if he agrees with that. Many longshoremen have told me they would sooner have one freight boat than three Empresses. Some business concerns make money out of the Empresses, which do not get any direct benefit from freight boats. But in some cases the heads of these business concerns are spending the profits in high living in other cities, while the employees are getting the barest living wage—a wage that a longshoreman would consider a pittance.

"The small business men and the workers are not excited, and have no reason to be. If more business is done here, more small business men will set up shop. If there is more employment, more workers will come in from other places to compete for jobs."

Appointments of the Week

pointed tea table was a large beautiful decorated birthday cake on the top of which was a miniature tower which exploded sending forth a number of pretty silver souvenirs; large white roses surrounded the cake. During the afternoon a very new and interesting feature was carried out called "a flower garden." At the end of which each guest was presented with a beautiful rose as favors. SHOOTING COURT

German Institution Scene of Bloody Affrays — Defendant Draws Revolver to Shoot Adverse Witnesses.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—The slaying of Captain von Westernhagen by Professor Hirsch Mass, the painter, during court of honor proceedings on September 18th, has now been followed by two more shooting affairs in a court room, one of these also before a court of honor. No one was injured in the latter case, but in the other referred to, two persons were wounded and the shooter killed himself.

Dr. Arndt, of Paderborn had been engaged by a brother physician to represent him during his vacation. At the last minute, Arndt demanded more money for his services than had been agreed upon, and the other doctor had to accede. During his absence, Arndt severely criticized his absent colleague before the latter's patients, and advised one to sue the absent physician for mal-practice. Arndt was called before a court of honor by his profession, a peculiarly German institution and fined $75 for false and unprofessional conduct. He thereupon drew a revolver and opened fire. The presiding judge ducked beneath his desk, an example followed by every one else in the room, and Arndt's six shots went wild. He was overpowered and an investigation into his sanity will be made.

The other courtroom shooting took place during a suit of trifling importance at Hamburg. The defendant, a hotel keeper, opened fire from a revolver without warning, severely wounding two adverse witnesses and then blew out his own brains.

NEWS FROM CODY'S. Cody's, Nov. 6.—The weather has been very cold for the past few days, but has moderated somewhat today, and the farmers are taking advantage of the rise in temperature by getting out their root crops. Mr. and Mrs. Bliss Perry left on Saturday for Truro, N. B., where they intend spending the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Perry arrived home after spending the summer in Hantsport, N. S. Despite the inclemency of the weather, a goodly congregation assembled to Sunday evening service in Thorn-ton Baptist church. Rev. Mr. Currie gave a fine address, which much interested his audience. The Kincaid called on Miss Cassie Perry on Thursday last. Miss Lottie Moore returned to the

GETTING RICH

Said to be Richest Country in Europe—Noted Savant Now Studying Situation—Striking Feature.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—Germany is now the richest country in Europe, with an aggregate wealth of about $74,000,000,000, and an annual income for its people of about $3,240,000,000. Such are the conclusions of Dr. Karl Helfferich, a director of the Deutsche Bank and one of the most eminent financial authorities of Germany. He finds that the national wealth of Germany is greater than that of Great Britain or France, as estimated by the economists of those countries, although the latter have a greater wealth per head, owing to their smaller populations. He estimates the wealth of the average German at between $1,074 and $1,190, compared with an English estimate of $1,214 for England, and a French estimate for France of $1,405, and with the estimate of the Census Bureau for the United States of $1,129.

In earning or income capacity, however, the average German lies between the Englishman and the Frenchman, the German income being estimated at $127, the French (by the French authority) at $122, while the British far in the lead with an income of $154.

One of the most striking features of Dr. Helfferich's calculations, however, is the tremendous growth in the earning capacity of the German people, which may soon bring the nation to the same position of financial pre-eminence in Europe as it now possesses in military power. He estimates the annual income of the German nation about 1895 at between $2,250,000,000 to $2,600,000,000; at present, eighteen years later, it has grown, he estimates, to $3,240,000,000, and he claims that if the annual savings of the people and the latent growth of land and other values be combined, a total addition to the national wealth of about $2,800,000,000,000 is registered every year.

The many friends of Miss Julia Perry will be glad to learn that she is recovering from her long and serious illness. The young people of Cody's took advantage of the mystic relations of Halloween, and, obeying the witches' command, assembled at the appointed meeting-place. After a parade through the village they repaired to the home of E. L. Perry, where games and a general good time were enjoyed by all.

On Easy Street. "Easy street just be a nice street to live on," remarked the first hobnob. "That's nothing to me," replied the second wayfarer. "I never found that the alley back of it proved anything extra in the way of pickings."

Germans Declare Game Commercialized by American Influences—Some Historic Matches Told of.

Berlin Nov. 7.—Chess editors in Germany declare that the game of chess has been commercialized and they claim a striking illustration of this in the match for the championship of the world that has just been arranged between Dr. Emanuel Lasker, who lived some years in New York, and Akiba Rubinstein, the foremost player of Russia.

According to the financial plans for the match it is expected that the two players will divide nearly $10,000 between them. Dr. Lasker is now corresponding with some of the principal German chess clubs, three games played in the rooms of any club that will contribute about $1,500 in return for this honor.

German writers contrast the Lasker-Rubinstein match with the one played at Paris in 1858 between Paul Murphy and Adolf Anderssen, the German champion of that day. Anderssen, who was professor in a preparatory school at Breslau, was willing to rush to Paris during his brief Christmas holidays to play eleven games with Murphy, although there was no money staked on either side. On the other hand, Lasker and Rubinstein will have nearly a year to prepare for their great struggle, and it will last for three months.

"Eat More Bread"

Of course you should "eat more bread"—and less meat—but be sure your "bread" contains all the body-building material in the whole wheat prepared in digestible form. The only "bread" that fulfils all these requirements is

SHREDDED WHEAT

It is made in Canada of Canadian whole wheat steam-cooked, shredded and baked. It is a natural, elemental food and is not treated or compounded with anything. Its purity, cleanliness and food value stand unchallenged, being endorsed by the highest health and dietetic authorities in Canada and the United States.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with hot milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Try Toned Triscuit, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon, with butter, cheese or marmalade.

Your Oven Gains by Our Oven Test

Your oven becomes a certain producer of more bread and better bread.

We can promise that. For from each shipment of wheat delivered at our mills we take a ten pound sample. We grind it into flour. We bake the flour into bread.

If this bread is high in quality and large in quantity, we use the shipment. Otherwise we sell it.

There is no guess-work about our promise of more bread and better bread from flour bearing this name.

MISS LAURA McDONALD STALLO ABROAD FOR TROUSSEAU

Few engagements of the autumn have been of wider interest than that of Miss Laura McDonald Stallo, daughter of Mr. Edmund K. Stallo and sister of Princess Michel Murat, to Mr. Jefferson Patterson Crane, of New York. Miss Stallo and Prince and Princess Murat left for France, where Miss Stallo will obtain her trousseau. Her stay there will be short and upon her return she will complete the arrangements for her marriage.

Since their introduction to society Princess Murat and Miss Stallo have won admiration here and in Paris by their beauty and charm. Since the death of Alexander McDonald, an official of the Standard Oil Company, with whom they made their home in Cincinnati, Ohio, they have divided their time between New York and Paris, and there Miss Helena Stallo was married to Prince Murat early in the year. Mr. McDonald left his fortune to his granddaughter.

Milady Dressing Table

(Abigail Moore.)
GRACE expresses itself in curves, not in angles, and if movements are to be graceful, angles must be eliminated. Begin with the arm. The natural inclination is to make an angle of the elbow and another at the wrist, when it is as easy to make every movement suggest a curve.

So with the lower limbs. Many persons walk with the toes pointed upward, the knees bent, affecting angles at the knees and ankles, when if the leg is swung from the hip there is, instead of a break at the knee, a full curve at the ankle and the general effect in walking is of a serpentine movement generated from the top of the head, continuing to the tips of the toes.

The idea of curves is something that is felt, rather than actually noticed or expressed, but it is a fundamental of grace. Fancy dancing may be practiced freely and frequently to great advantage by anyone who is desirous of converting her angles and angular movements into curves and movements that suggest harmony.

Stand in position, head up, chest out, heels together, toes at an angle of 45 degrees. Inhale rhythmically, count to three, then when you feel yourself in the swing of one-two-three, slowly swing into position. The left foot is pointed ahead at right angles to the right and in line with the top of the right, while the upper part of the body is swung rather than twisted forward and bent to the right, one arm curved up over the head and the other curved in front of the waist. Every part of the body is in perfect harmony with every other part.

To Whiten the Skin. Anyone may have a good skin, but not without infinite care. Cleanliness is the first essential. A good soap and plenty of warm water will work wonders and there is not the slightest danger of indulging in them too frequently. Not all soaps, however, are good and not all water is suited to every skin.

The soap that contains the most vegetable oil is to be preferred, and the white ones are better than the brown. Highly perfumed soap should be avoided as a general thing, because there is always a suspicion that the scent is designed to conceal the odor of rancid oils or fats. There are, of course, many honorable exceptions, but the following formula is the following formula for a toilet water that she heartily recommends: One and one-half pints rectified spirits of wine, dried French rose-water, seven drops of oil of lavender, and one-half ounce of oil of rosemary.

Some toilet waters have magic virtues, not only in keeping the skin soft and white but in keeping away wrinkles. Mrs. T. Irwin Chapman, a famous beauty, says she uses the following formula for a toilet water that she heartily recommends: One and one-half pints rectified spirits of wine, dried French rose-water, seven drops of oil of lavender, and one-half ounce of oil of rosemary.

Special Care Of The Hair
THE condition of the scalp and hair depends first upon the general health. Attention having been given to the minor details of this fundamental requisite, the effort should then be devoted to the local treatment of the hair and of the scalp.

Allow the hair to hang loose ten or fifteen minutes, while you are dressing in the morning. Did it ever occur to you that perhaps your hair needs a rest? Change at once the device for arranging the hair. While you are writing a letter, or reading, or perhaps mending, take the pins out of your hair, and let the hair lie flat. The scalp is itchy or irritated, the sun will help to heal it and will give life to the scalp. An hour once a week, where the sun and a mild wind will reach the head, will keep the hair odorless and the hair fluffy.

One should never retire at night without brushing and combing the hair—to remove the day's dust. A thorough brushing serves to stimulate the scalp, distributes the natural oil, and cleanses the hair. The old rule was to brush the hair a hundred times at night. If you would have a beautiful "crown of glory," perhaps you will not have to bind yourself to so strict a rule, but certainly you should not allow the hair to remain overnight, just as it was during the day. The habit of allowing the hair to fall loose over the pillow at night, is a good one, if your hair is not too long or thick.

If your hair is falling out badly, a scalp massage will do wonders to stimulate the circulation and loosen the scalp from the head. Each hair receives its nourishment through a tiny tube which extends from the scalp to the end of the hair. Therefore, the more vigorously the scalp is massaged, the greater are the benefits derived from the increased circulation. A good hair tonic can also be applied with the tips of the fingers, while the massage is being given.—Miss Jeanne La Place in Woman's World for November.

While You Wait
The States in which the greatest number of women are working for wages outside their homes are the states in which women do not vote.

Mitsunata paper made from the leaves and stem of a small shrub thrives in some mountainous portions of the United States is found to make the most imperious and serviceable raincoats.

In Germany there are 166,000 women in the post office department, 10,000 women and girls in the department of public instruction, 25,000 in that of public works, besides 14,000 in the agricultural department, and 4,000 in the ministry of war.

Brown and white is a much-favored combination. Belts of all kinds are used on the auto and sporting coats. One of fashion's latest caprices is the jet robe for day wear.

There is a strong revival of empire styles in evening gowns. A street dress of dark blue has a nasturtium in evening gowns.

Home Hints
Clean a Handbag. The handbag or satchel, of undressed kid when soiled by usage, need not be turned over to the professional cleaner. The secret of restoration is a piece of sandpaper rubbed over the surface. A very fine grade of sandpaper is required. When this is used with care the effect is magical, and no injury to the material accrues. Many kinds of leathers without polished surfaces—for example, suede, undressed kid and oose calf-skin—can be cleaned thus.

Lamp Glasses. To clean lamp glasses hold them over a jug of boiling water until well steamed, then polish with a dry dust-er. It is far less trouble than washing and the glasses very rarely break. Saves Chipping. When washing valuable china or cut glass it is a good plan to place a heavy Turkish towel at the bottom of the basin. This prevents all danger of the china and glass getting chipped.

Relief for Catarrh Sufferers Now FREE

You Can Now Treat This Trouble in Your Own Home and Get Relief at Once.

How the Remedy for Catarrh Was Discovered.

This terrible disease has raged unchecked for years simply because symptoms have been treated while the vicious germs that cause the trouble have been left to circulate in the blood, and bring the disease back as fast as local treatment could relieve it.

C. E. Gauss, who experimented for years on a treatment for Catarrh, found that after perfecting a balm that relieved the nose and throat troubles quickly, he could not prevent the trouble beginning all over again.

On test cases, he could completely remove all signs of Catarrh from nose and throat, but in a few weeks they were back.

Careful experiments and investigations have shown that as the troubles were expelled from the nose and throat, the real cause of the disease was overlooked and in a short time the Catarrh would return stronger than ever. Mr. Gauss has gone way ahead of the ordinary methods of treatment and has provided a remedy that Kills the Germs in the Blood and immediately gives relief to the nose and throat.

He perfected the New Combined Treatment, since admitted to be the logical, scientific method. Every Jones, of Scotland, Tenn., says that after trying many other treatments, he used this new method and "My nose is now entirely clear and free and I am not bothered by the disease any more. The New Combined Treatment is worth its weight in gold."

Temporary relief from catarrh may be obtained in other ways, but the New Combined Treatment must inevitably be accepted for permanent results.

Sarah J. Cape, Mount Peila, Tenn., says, "I suffered the pains and distress of catarrh for thirteen years and needless to state, tried nearly every other method. But by your new method I was completely cured and you cannot imagine the joy that has come over me."

A large trial treatment, with complete directions, will be sent free to any catarrh sufferer. Send no money, take no risks, make no promises. Simply clip, sign and mail the coupon and the best package of the New Combined Treatment will be sent fully prepaid, together with the valuable book on Catarrh.

On the morning of the 11th, the British army was broken by the slippery rocks, over which they stumbled they charged, and by the fire which scattered them from the summit of the wall on their left. But they reached the breach, swept up it without pause, and gained the narrow crest. They found themselves on the edge of a gulf, barred at its further end by a frowning rampart, from which flashed incessantly the flames of the French muskets; while from every side a storm of bullets swept over them. The flow of the eager soldiers up the breach was constant, but there was no living in the deadly fire that raged on the crest. The attack on the half bastion of St. John was equally obstinate and bloody, and equally ineffective. The breach was flanked by a traverse held by French grenadiers; it was scoured by guns from every angle. The British could not force their way; they would not yield and they fell fast and thick. Still the attack was fed by fresh troops, but both breaches were barred as by a sword of flame.

The volunteers from the other divisions and been held back, but they cut so far, and were now calling out to know "why they had been brought there if they were not to lead the assault." They were not to be deterred, to quote Napier, "went like a whirlwind to the breaches, and again the crowded masses swarmed up the face of the rampart; but reaching the crest line they came down again like a falling wall. Crowd after crowd were soon to mount to follow, and to sink. The deadly French fire was unabated. The smoke floated away on the crest of the breach bore no living man."

This dreadful struggle, with its tumult and bloodshed, the passionate heroism of the attack, the unyielding valour of defence, continued for two hours. The lesser breach had been assailed by the Portuguese, under Soudras, with no better fortune. Graham had watched the long struggle from a battery on the farther side of the Urumes. He saw that valour could accomplish no more on the blood-stained breaches, and he restored an expedient of singular daring. He turned fifty heavy pieces on the parapet of the high curtain, and he barred the breach. The British soldiers clung to the slope of the breach only a few feet below the level at which the British guns were directed, but the British gunners, after five days' continuous firing, knew the range precisely, and the practice was perfect. A tempo about about about about the edge of the high curtain, broke down its traverses, and slew the British Grenadier Infantry that lined its crest. For thirty minutes with this whirling flame, the ramparts of the curtain were scoured; then, suddenly, a series of explosions ran over the crest of the parapet. All the stores of powder-barrels, live shells, hand-grenades, etc., piled there took fire. The curtain was lost for the moment, and a cloud of smoke through which ran the shock, and the wavering flame of the explosion. Three hundred French grenadiers were destroyed in a moment; then through the smoke, on the staggering French came the British stormers, mad with the passion of combat, and the rage of the long slaughter they had suffered. The French colors on the horizon were plucked down by Lieutenant Gathin of the 11th. The French clung to their broken defenses with amazing valor, but were thrust back fiercely and triumphantly by the British; and, after five hours of dreadful combat at the walls, the whirling battle swept into the town.

Praser, who watched the assault from a battery across the river, describes the spectacle of the assault as "awful." He took pencil notes of the assault, from moment to moment, of which the great struggle, so to speak, is in the present tense.

Minutes taken during the assault on San Sebastian, August 31:—

FIGHTS FOR THE FLAG

The Siege of San Sebastian

 On the morning of the 7th their array was broken by the slippery rocks, over which they stumbled as they charged, and by the fire which scoured them from the summit of the wall on their left. But they reached the breach, swept up it without a pause, and gained its narrow crest. They found themselves on the edge of a gulf, barred at its further edge by a towering rampart, from which flashed incessantly the flame of the French muskets; while from every side a storm of bullets swept over them. The flow of the eager soldiers up the breach was constant, but there was no living in the deadly fire that rained on the crest. The attack on the half bastion of St. John was equally obstinate and bloody, and equally ineffective. The breach was flanked by a traverse held by French grenadiers; it was scourged by guns from every angle. The British could not force their way; they would not yield, and they fell fast and thick. Still the attack was fed by fresh troops; but both breaches were barred as by a sword of flame.

The volunteers from the other divisions had been held back with difficulty so far, and were now called out to know "why they had been brought there if they were not to lead the assault." They were being let loose, and, to quote Napier, "went like a whirlwind to the breaches, and again the crowded masses swarmed up the face of the ruins; but reaching the crest lines they came down again like a falling wall. Crowd after crowd were seen to mount, to totter, and to sink. The deadly French fire was unabated. The smoke floated away, and the crest of the breach bore no living man."

This dreadful struggle, with its tumult and bloodshed, the passionate heroism of the attack, the unyielding valour of the defence, lasted for two hours. The lesser breach had been assailed by the Portuguese, under Soudras, with no better fortune. Graham had watched the long struggle from a battery on the farther side of the Trunnes. He saw that valor could accomplish no more on the blood-stained breaches, and he restored to an expedition of singular daring. He turned fifty heavy pieces on the parapet of the high curtain, which he barred the breach. The British soldiers clung to the slope of the breach only a few feet below the level at which the British guns were firing; but the British gunners, after five days' continuous firing, knew the ranges precisely, and the practice was perfect. A tempest of shot, which broke the edge of the high curtain, broke down its traverses, and slew the exultant French infantry that lined it. For thirty minutes the whirlwind of flame, the ramparts of the curtain were scoured; then, suddenly, a series of explosions ran along the crest of the parapet. All the stores of powder-barrels, live shells, hand-grenades, &c., piled there took fire. The curtain was lost for a moment to sight in a cloud of smoke through which ran the shock, and the wavering flame of the explosion. Three hundred French grenadiers were destroyed in a moment; then through the smoke, on the staggering French came the British stormers, mad with the passion of combat, and the rage bred of the long slaughter they had suffered. The French colors on the horn-work were plucked down by Lieutenant Gathin of the 11th. The French clung to their broken defences with amazing valor, but were thrust back fiercely and triumphantly by the British; and, after five hours of dreadful combat at the walls, the whirlwind of battle swept into the town.

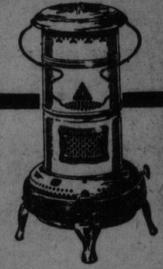

Fraser, who watched the assault from a battery across the river, describes the spectacle of the assault as "awful." He took pencil notes of the assault, from a moment to moment, part of which is reproduced here. It gives the great struggle, so to speak, as in the present tense.
 Minutes taken during the assault of San Sebastian, August 31:
 "It begins (5 minutes before 11) They reach the top of the breach. A mine springs, behind them! All seems well. They reach the top and halt—if they are supported it will do."
 "Mirador of St. Elmo do not fire. Men run too close to old breach—too little to junction of demi-bastion and curtain. 11:35: Much firing. Troops do not advance. Bugles taken back at double quick; fourteen taken back wounded with grape, about fifty more turn back; main body advance. Lieutenant Gathin, 11th Regiment, acting engineer, runs to the Portuguese to storm with them. The Portuguese get across at 11:45, but with great loss. At the breaches all is stationary. Another reinforcement runs from trenches to breach. 11:50: More reinforcements from trenches to breach. Noon: Much grape in all directions from the enemy's batteries. Breaches are filled. . . . 12:10: Fire slackens on all sides. At a quarter-past eleven a letter was brought across the water by Private O'Neil, of the 4th (Portuguese run from the breach), from Lord Wellington, asking Sir Thomas Graham if he can spare Bradford's brigade, as Boule comes on in force. 12:15: Advancing from breach of retired wall; smoke prevents clear view. Lodgement apparently secure. Two more mines blown up on curtain. 12:25: Troops again try the end of curtain; our own shots strike close over their heads. The place will be taken. Our men run from the curtain. . . . 12:40: Men going down from the old breach into the town. Will do, they wave their hats from the terre plane of the curtain. Another reinforcement from trenches. Our men fire from right of right round tower. This bounds our ground to right. 1 p.m.: More reinforcements from trenches. This duty is well performed, whoever may direct it. Men enter the town, principally by the end of old breach next round tower. One man of 1st Guards runs alone to the part of the parapet, twenty yards to the right of the right tower, and a sergeant and a few Portuguese by right breach of all. They gain it by getting on the old foundation of Marshal Berwick's wall. The enemy has the stockade. The enemy runs from the rampart behind that stockade. All goes well. 1:10: Two of our shots go through the stockade; the enemy abandons it. One brave French officer and two men alone remain; they too are gone. 1:15: Enemy still holds end of the curtain next the cav-

aller; he should be forced at that point. The gun at St. Elmo fired. 1:30: And again—it must be silenced. Very heavy fire of musketry in the town. Horse-work decidedly ours. 1:35: The gun at St. Elmo more and more troublesome. Firing in the town continues and increases. Few men comparatively on breaches; chiefly in hollow of retired wall between end of curtain and left tower; they are now entering the town. The flag was struck on the castle when the assault began. 1:35: More reinforcements to breach from trenches. No fire or men to be seen on trenches. Wind very high; sand blows and destroys the view. Many prisoners brought into trenches from the town. Tide has begun to flow. 1:45: Heavy musketry in the town. Our bugles sound the advance in all parts of the town. Our men are pulling prisoners out by the trenches. The enemy retires. 1:50: Fire in town slackens. 2 a.m.: Marshal Beresford and Sir Thomas Graham come to the battery. Town seems to be in our hands. 2:00: Heavy musketry on fire near the right breach. 2:5: News of Sir Richard Fletcher's death! 2:15: Firing in town continues, but is decreasing. Gathin carrying into town from trenches. 2:45: Great fire and smoke in centre of town near the square. Two mines explode in the town. 3 p.m.: Mules with ammunition going from trenches to town. Three fires in the town. Between rain, and smoke, and black sky, it is very dark. 3:30: Great fire in the town; as dark as it is generally at half-past six. Nothing of the town to be seen from excessively smoke. A thunderstorm which had been gathering round the crest of the shaggy summits of the nearest mountains now broke upon the city; and perhaps a wilder scene than that which was now presented has seldom been witnessed. The town was inflamed. The streets were filled with the crash of musketry volleys, the oaths and shouts of contending men; while overhead rolled the deep voice of thunder, and from the black sky the incessant lightning leaped. The French commandant fell back, fighting with sullen valor, to Monte Orgullo, from which he was only to be driven by a new sally; but the town itself had fallen. Yet at what a price had this victory been won! The slaughter at the breaches was dreadful. Of the 700 volunteers who were "to show other troops how to mount a breach" every second man had fallen. The total loss of the assault, in killed and wounded, amounted to 2000 men. Many officers of rank fell. The troops, it may be added, when they broke into the town, got completely out of hand; and a shadow which blazes the fame of the splendid and obstinate valor by which the breaches were carried is cast by the scenes of cruelty and license which followed the assault. The men who swept the streets of the unhappy city as that night fall were drunk with the long madness of the fight, and Graham had no fresh troops at hand which he could march into the town to enforce order.

 Fraser, it may be added, gives a realistic picture of the town as seen after the attack:
 "I have been in the town, and over that part of it which the flames or the enemy will permit to be visited. The scene is dreadful; no words can convey half the horrors which strike the eye at every step. Heaps of dead in every corner; English, French, and Portuguese lying wounded on each other; with such resolution did one side attack and the other defend. The town is not plundered; it is sacked. Rapine has done her work, nothing is left. I had occasion, in going to General Hay, to go into several houses. Some had been elegantly furnished. All was ruin; rich hangings, women's apparel, children's clothes, all scattered in utter confusion. The very few inhabitants I saw said nothing. They were fixed in stupid horror, and seemed to gaze with indifference at all around them, hardly moving when the crash of a fallen house made our men run away. The hospitals present a shocking sight; friends and enemies lying together, all equally neglected. Napier says that "the place was won by accident"—the "accident" being the explosion of the powder-barrels and grenades along the high curtain. But that accident was due to Graham's happy use of the British artillery in the very crisis of the assault. Jones in his "Journal," says that "on inspecting the defences it was found that the tremendous artillery fire on the high curtain, though it lasted only twenty minutes, had dismounted every gun but two. Many of these pieces had their muzzles shot away, and the artillerymen lay mutilated at their stations. The parapet was thickly strewed with headless bodies." But the terrible effects of that cannonade only suggest how gross was the blunder of not making this use of the batteries earlier. It belongs to the alphabet of the engineer's art; that the fire which guards a breach should be mastered before the breach itself is assailed. A great step, however, like a great battle, is usually a catalogue of blunders. In the story of San Sebastian these blunders are thrown into even blacker relief by the dazzling splendor of the course shown by both men and of officers in that great struggle on the blood-stained breach, and through the blackened streets of the city the French had defended with so much skill and courage.

"Did she write her husband's epiphany?"
 "Yes; she was bound to have the last say."

The Curve that Makes the Difference

Looks like just a casual, unimportant bend in the holder, eh?
 In reality it is one of the most important things in razordom—the subject of basic Gillette Patents—and the cause of the wonderful adjustability which is an exclusive Gillette feature.
 Gripping the blade close to its shaving edges, the curved outer plate bends it down close to the toothed guard, and holds it ABSOLUTELY RIGID. This prevents the vibration which makes other razors pull and cut unevenly, and is one of the chief reasons for the velvet smoothness of the Gillette shave.
 Quite as important is the adjustability. Screw the outer plate up tight and it holds the razor edge right against the guard, giving a very light shave. As you loosen it you give the blade more and more "hold", so that it shaves closer and closer. Thus every man can get an adjustment which exactly suits his beard and skin—a thing he cannot do with any other razor in the world.
 Why not get an adjustable Gillette and say good-bye to your shaving troubles? Your Hardware Dealer, Jeweler or Druggist can show you an assortment—Standard Sets at $5.00—Pocket Editions at $5.00 to $6.00—Combination Sets at $6.50 up.

PUBLIC SCHOOL FOOTBALL

In its endeavor to encourage athletics among the younger element of the city and induce the boys to a greater activity in out door sport, The Standard, by donating a handsome cup for competition among the school children on the football field has lent valuable aid in the promotion of sport, and at the same time the boys have been given an early training and a recreation which could not be out-classed in the category of boys' sport.

Early in the season, previous to the formation of the football league among the various schools of the city, when the ideas advanced, and to encourage the youth The Standard offered the silver trophy for competition among the schools and others keenly interested in the welfare of the boys, the matter was brought to a head and a league known as the Inter-School Football League was formed.

Since the opening day of the league games when the St. Malachi's and Dufferin school teams came together, the football games have been marked by the greatest enthusiasm among the members of the contesting teams and untold enjoyment has been afforded the youth, to many of whom football was not previously listed in their line of sport.

In St. John football, comparatively speaking, has not in past years been a live issue, and the arousing of the activities of the boys in this line will naturally tend to increase the interest in this particular line of sport.

When the league was first formed the number of teams entering was so large that in order to simplify matters the teams were divided. League No. 1 was formed with the following teams: King Edward, Alexandria, Victoria, Albert, Aberdeen. League No. 2 comprised teams from St. Malachi's, Dufferin, Centennial, Winter Street, and Grade VIII, High School.

The scheduled games in the two sub-leagues have now been completed and it rests with the leaders to say who will be the winners of the Inter-School Football League.

The result of the postponed game played off yesterday afternoon giving the Grade VIII, H. S. team the win with a score of 3 to 0 over the St. Malachi's determined them leaders in Sub-League No. 2, and the champions will be decided on Wednesday of this week when the Albert school team leaders in sub-league No. 1 will clash with the Grade VIII, H. S., winners of sub-league No. 1.

The following is a complete result of the games played:

MONCTON PLAYS THIS AFTERNOON

The Moncton City and the St. John Athletic Club rugby football teams will clash on the Marathon grounds this afternoon when football of the fast variety should result. The line up of the visitors is not known, but is expected to be the same as on their former appearance here.

As to the local boys the team to go on the field this afternoon will be almost the same as that which played Mount Allison last Saturday. This is probably the best in St. John and followers of the game look for a victory, especially as the weather map points to ideal football conditions.

The game will be called at three o'clock sharp and Sandy Thorne will handle the whistle. During the fall the attendance has not been as large as it should have been and this afternoon the citizens should turn out to give the boys a hand.

It has been hinted that some surprises are in store for the spectators this afternoon when the St. John trots on the field.

KILBANE SUED BY STEPMOTHER

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 7.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, today was sued for $25,000 damages by his stepmother, Mrs. Bridget Kilbane, who charged that he alienated the affections of her husband, John Kilbane, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilbane were separated about a year ago. Kilbane is 40 years old and blind.

GAFFNEY WANTS NEW PRESIDENT

Boston, Nov. 7.—President James E. Gaffney, of the Boston National League Club, today declared himself in favor of the election of Governor John R. Tenney, of Pennsylvania, to succeed Thomas S. Lynch, as president of the National League.

Governor Tenney's election should be for a long term of years and at a generous salary President Gaffney said.

KING'S TEAM WON FROM THE U.N.B.

Windsor, N. S., Nov. 7.—This inter-collegiate game of football here this afternoon between Kings College and University of New Brunswick proved a victory for Kings, who won over the visitors by a score of 3 to 0. Kings won through their scrum work, and Heibert's splendid kicking. Byron on the forward line scored the touch.

NEW BEDFORD BALL CLUB IS FOR SALE

New Bedford, Nov. 7.—Stockholders of the New England League Baseball Club of this city tonight authorized the directors to dispose of the club. A conference will be held tomorrow with Fred Lake, who made a bid for the franchise at the recent annual meeting of the league.

Designs and Borders for Dresses

These new and wonderful Patterns can easily—almost magically—be transferred to any kind of material in a twinkling. The Patterns are made by a secret process, which does away with the old-fashioned perforated smudgy carbons, or hot iron—all you need to do is to moisten the Pattern and the design is instantly transferred, and each Pattern will transfer from three to five times.

Solves the Dress Problem

This is the age of dress. Nothing can ever take the place of the dainty hand embroidered fabrics. The most expensive shirtwaists, collars, lingerie, corset-covers, jabots, etc., can be made at home for a mere trifle of expense. The Imperial Pattern Outfit is a boon to mothers. Everything necessary for the girls and the baby is included.

Solves the Home Decoration Problem

Designs for table linen, guest towels, all sorts of doilies, dresser scarfs, center pieces, pillow cases, picture frames, hand bags, pin cushions, pillow tops; also numerous odd designs for borders, alphabets, rose sprays, butterflies, bowknots, wreaths, etc., etc.

Every Girl Can Become An Expert

The Outfit includes a Booklet of Instructions, with illustrations and complete directions for making all kinds of stitches—Outline stitch, chain stitch, seeding, cat stitch, buttonhole stitch, couching, satin stitch, eyelet stitch, wallchain embroidery, cross stitch, French knots, Fagoting stitch, Solid Kensington, Roman cut work, Bulgarian, etc., etc., etc.
