NORWEGIANS LOSE MANY BIG CRAFT

Twenty-five Sunk by German Submarines Since Feb. 1—Seven Men on Stegg Lost.

London, April 27—The Norwegian foreign office reports the Norwegian steamer Stegg sunk by a German submarine in the North Sea, says a Central News despatch from Christiania. The captain and six men were lost. Loss of the Norwegian steamer Stegg, sunk in the North Sea, is also announced. The crew of this vessel was saved. The Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Copenhagen, quotes from the Norwegian papers the statement that since February 1, twenty-five Norwegian ships, with food, coal and forage for Norway, have been sunk by the German submarines. A large number of these cargoes belong to the Norwegian government.

FRANCE WANTS FOOD

Washington, April 27—The French war mission has informed the American government that the United States needs most from the United States are many food fertilizers, coal, steel, oil and transportation equipment, especially ships in which to carry goods from the new to the old world.

French Army Again Forces Back Huns

BRITISH NOT ACTIVELY ENGAGED ON THE FRENCH BATTLE FRONT

German Losses Along the Aisne, Including Killed, Wounded and Prisoners Probably 235,000 Men—Twenty Thousand Hun Prisoners Taken

London, April 27.—Field Marshal Haig, in his official statement from British headquarters in France tonight, says there is nothing of special importance to report.

Aerial activity was intense on Thursday, and British aviators brought down seven German airplanes, while six others were driven down out of control. The statement reads: "There is nothing of special interest to report from the battle front. Yesterday the activity in the air was again marked. In the air fighting seven German airplanes were brought down and six others were driven down out of control. One hostile balloon also was destroyed. Six of our airplanes are missing."

French Gain Ground.

From a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press on the French front, French Headquarters, April 27.—Despite the desperate tenacity of the Germans, who are endeavoring to hold their present positions at any cost, French troops today registered more gains of ground in the neighborhood of Cerny and Hurtebise, on the Chemin-Des-Dames, where German attacks in force Thursday and failed completely. The artillery has thundered continuously night and day, the detonations causing echoing rumbles through the ravines and valleys. Most of the slopes have now been shorn of trees. Some prisoners were brought in during the day.

Heavy Hun Losses.

Paris, April 27.—The extent of the German losses in the recent desperate fighting along the Aisne is partially disclosed in the reference in today's official statement to the capture of 130 guns of which a considerable number were of heavy calibre. The German losses in men are estimated at more than 200,000 with the probability that the total reached 235,000. These figures included killed, wounded and prisoners, and constitute one of the most formidable totals of the present war.

The number of German prisoners aggregated approximately 20,000. The usual formula among military experts is to estimate the casualties at five times the number of prisoners, but this five-to-one ratio has not held good in the present case, owing to the exceedingly sanguinary character of the fighting for the mastery of the strategic position on the Chemin-Des-Dames plateau. The Germans held this firmly at the outset and when it was wrested from them by the French at last the Germans repeatedly brought up large reserves in a desperate effort to retake it.

Artillery Activity.

Paris, April 27.—The war office communication issued this evening says: "There has been marked activity on the part of the two artilleries in the region northwest of Rheims. In Champagne no infantry action has taken place, and the day has been comparatively quiet on the rest of the front."

"Aviation: During the day of the 26th instant three airplanes were brought down by our pilots. Six other enemy airplanes were severely damaged and forced to land or fell within our lines."

"During the night of the 26-27 one of our groups of bombing airplanes dropped numerous bombs on the stations and bivouacs in the region of Fismes and Crecy-Sur-Serre (Aisne). "Army of the East: On the 26th instant two violent counterattacks carried out by the Bulgarians against positions captured yesterday (Wednesday) by the British troops were repulsed. In the region of Monastir and the Cerna river artillery fighting is reported."

A Nice Trio.

Three drunks greeted the calls at central police station last night and will be given an opportunity to explain to his honor this morning.

ULTIMATE VICTORY CERTAIN

Lloyd George Not Sure, However, War Will be Over This Year.

GROWING SUPERIORITY OVER THE TEUTONS.

Emphasizes Need of Food Economy—Necessary to Overcome U-Boat Menace.

London, April 27.—(Through Reuters' Ottawa Agency)—It was a distinguished assembly that gathered today at the Guildhall on the occasion of the presentation of the freedom of London to Premier Lloyd George. All the representatives of the overseas dominions and India attending the Imperial War Council were present, as were also Lord Curzon, Lord Milner, Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson. Many peers of the realm and members of the House of Commons. The Premier was given a great reception upon his arrival and was applauded in the echo as he rose to address the audience. He began his speech by emphasizing the growing superiority of the British over the enemy.

British Credit Survived.

"We shall never forget the days of financial panic at the beginning of the war, but British credit survived, despite many contrary predictions," he reminded his hearers.

Referring to the original armistice, he said: "I remember the dark, dreary days, when our gallant fellows, in shattered trenches had night and day, to endure the mockery of the Germans. How they stood. The way in which the British infantry stood the guns of Britain I did in order that they should let us forget the women, who have never broken, and only those who have met and talked with them can realize what they did. The story will never die. Our gratitude is due to the brave little men who led them through all those months and never lost heart—Lord French. When I took the job to organize the resources of Great Britain I did in order that five those brave men a real chance to fight. And thank God they've got it—thanks to the efforts of the workmen—and don't let us forget the women, who by the hundreds of thousands, flocked to the factories and asked what they could do to help their gallant kinsmen in the field. They have done all they could and the story is now a very different one."

Captured 400 Guns.

"In June, 1916, we had lost 34 guns and a considerable number of prisoners, since then we have not lost a single gun. Along the Aisne and in the Champagne the artillery battle is gradually developing greater violence. Infantry engagements on the Chemin-Des-Dames resulted in the capture of ground and of prisoners. "Front of Duke Albrecht: There is nothing to report."

POLICE MAKE TWO RAIDS ON DISORDERLY HOUSES.

Two raids upon disorderly houses situated on City Road were carried out by the police last night. Near Albert and Agnes Higgins charged with keeping a disorderly house, and Eva Higgins, Howard Wright, Vincent White and Charles Bisset charged with being inmates of the house.

They also found it necessary to remove three children of Eva Higgins. They are Oscar, eleven years; Howard, eight years and Eva, five months. These persons are all colored.

This house was raided about one month ago on the same charge and some of the same persons were found there at the time.

Police Constable McAinch, Jones and Gorman at 1230 raided a house at 89 City Road, kept by Mamie Farish a colored woman. Margaret Sullivan and John Connolly found in the house at the time were arrested and charged with being inmates of a disorderly house.

$60,000,000 Surplus to Meet War Expense

In Powerful Address Hon. Arthur Meighen Declares Budget Speech Most Inspiring Ever Given to Canada.

FREE WHEAT AND FLOUR NECESSARY AT PRESENT TIME.

Reduction in British Shipping Created New Condition Which Made Order in Council Advisable—Hon. Mr. Pugsley Attempts to Make Political Capital.

Ottawa, April 27.—The debate on the budget was resumed by the Hon. Arthur Meighen today. He said that the budget of this year was the most inspiring message ever given to the people of Canada by any finance minister. The matter of prime importance was the great financial and industrial strength we had obtained. We were in possession of revenue unheard of in our history and undreamed of by anyone. The advance alone in revenue last year was more than the total revenue of the country fifteen years ago. This great revenue had been obtained without strangling or crippling industries and all classes of people, individually and collectively, were better off than ever before.

Emphatic Retrenchment.

In current expenditure there had been the most pronounced, most emphatic retrenchment in our history. The current expenditure for the past year was only sixteen per cent. more than that of 1909, while the revenue had increased by three hundred per cent. behind in three hundred per cent.

Hon. Mr. Meighen in referring to the surplus of sixty millions available on the year's operations for meeting war expenditures declared that only in four other years since confederation had the country paid its way.

"During the last three years of the old administration the country ran behind in expenditure over revenue a total of $72,000,000, that was the increase in our capital debt in three years, and part of the expenditure we have to make today, which adds to our total outlay is the interest on that $72,000,000 which the country ran behind in 1908, 1909 and 1910," he declared.

Strong Defence.

The solicitor-general then launched upon a defence of the government's financial policy, noting that Great Britain had during the war been compelled to turn to a tariff on imports in order to raise revenue.

"I am as firm in the belief now as I ever was in the principle of a moderate protective system for this Dominion of Canada," he declared. A protective tariff, said Mr. Meighen, must be drafted having regard to the preponderant sentiment of both parts of the country—the east and the west. The sentiment of both must be considered in order to secure that unity which is essential to national life. He pointed out that it was indisputable that the removal of the small duty on prairie provinces favored a lower tariff than does the prevailing sentiment in the east, but it could not be argued from that that the producers of the west should not have regard for the whole of the country, and not merely their own. Nor could it be held that this sentiment of the west should be ignored by the citizens of the east, or by the parliament or government in the framing of the country's policy.

Wheat and Flour.

Mr. Meighen declared that the government in permitting free wheat and flour was not departing from the spirit of its mandate from the people. "This," he said, "is an independent act of our own will and stands man problem, and I do believe this is an exception."

The Food Problem.

Mr. Lloyd George next outlined the steps taken by the government departments to deal with the food problem. He said the farmers were now cultivating ten per cent. more land than before the war. He continued: "I am not going to say that the war will continue through 1918, but we must take no chances. We have taken far too many. If the German knows that by holding out until the end of 1918 he can win by starving us, he will hold out. But he also knows that the longer he holds out the worse it will be for him; hence peace might come much earlier. We are taking steps now for the harvest of 1918, and not a minute too soon. Three million fresh acres of land are being put into cultivation and even without a ton of food being brought from abroad no one

SHIPS GREAT NECESSITY

JUST NOW

Rt. Hon. Mr. Balfour Eager to Make Entire Situation Matter of Popular Knowledge.

MILITARY AND NAVAL PLANS WILL BE AN EXCEPTION

Entente Representatives and United States Officials in Complete Accord.

Washington, April 27.—Conferences between France's war council in the United States and American officials on the part of their against German autocracy today were well under way.

Ships increasingly appear as the great necessity in the war.

Mr. Balfour, it was stated, is eager to make the whole situation a matter of popular knowledge and interest in both countries, and to lay not only before the two governments, but before the two peoples, through the press, all possible details, except, of course, military and naval information.

Rear-Admiral Sir Dudley, R. S. De Chair was today presented by Secretary Daniels, at the navy department, to the heads of all the various bureaus for the intimate discussion with the specialists on each line, as to submarines, patrol, blockade and construction.

Detailed Conference.

This is the beginning of the detailed conferences of experts which will work out the actual lines of co-operation under general principles. Formal conferences of the heads of the commission from which major announcements will be issued are not now expected. On the other hand there will be constant informal conferences of individuals charged with the various aspects of the situation at which no definite decisions may be reached at the moment. Every now and then, however, these conferences will result in an agreement which when approved will be made public as far as possible.

Lord Cunliffe, governor of the Bank of England, went to New York to confer with various bankers.

Lieut. General Bridges had an appointment today to see Marshal Joffre of the French mission. Mr. Balfour devoting the morning to send his regards to England, lunched alone and went out to drive in the afternoon.

SETTLE IRISH ISSUE, SAYS LLOYD-GEORGE

Wants Ireland Peaceful—Rejoices United States With Entente—Must Economize on Shipping Until Way Found to Overcome Submarine Scourge.

shall be getting four million tons of ore, in addition to what we are getting now, out of this country by August next, and our blast furnaces will be adapted for that purpose. You know what ten million tons of pig-iron means. If this had been saved a year ago, there would now have been a year's supply of wheat in the stores of this country.

Canada's Wheat

"There are eighty-five million bushels of wheat in Canada; I would not say for the asking, but for the fetching," continued the Premier. "It ought to have been here. I believe that about twenty or thirty million bushels of this wheat had to go to the United States for lack of another market."

"We must cut down our food until we discover a method of destroying this ocean bacillus. That is one thing that has got to be done; but it is not all. We are building ships. The shipping controller has already made arrangements whereby we are to get three times, possibly four times as many new ships in 1917 as last year. He has also brought practically the whole of the shipping of this country, for the first time, under complete control and requisition. That means that ships of this country are going to be concentrated hithertho upon the essential and vital trade of the country. The shipping controller has so concentrated and arranged traffic that although we are losing heavily in ships and assuming that we still continue to lose at the same rate, in July we shall bring more cargo tonnage into our ports than in March last."

"The Germans, though, we were done, but they did not know the race they were dealing with," continued Mr. Lloyd George. "I have no hesitation in saying that the German submarine reports, and looking at the whole thing in its worst as well as its best aspects, in saying that if the programme is carried out, that that everybody in the country does his duty, the German submarine campaign is beaten."

"But the public must stick to rationing, farmers and laborers must cultivate the land, workmen in shipyards must do their best to increase the supply of shipping. If we carry out all these things faithfully we can defy the very worst."
Mr. Lloyd George proceeded to say that he had dealt at length with the submarine question because it has undoubtedly attracted a great deal of attention, and the figures were alarming; but the government published them all because they wanted the public to know. The present government conceals nothing from the public. Great Britain was one country that you don't get the best out of until it knows the worst. That was true of any country with grit.

Were Five Parties

Before the war there were five absolutely independent parties in this country. That none of these had a monopoly of wisdom, or was the sole repository of political sagacity—no, even if the five were put together, the people are realizing that there are more things in heaven and earth than the political philosophy of any of these parties. That is one illusion that we have seen disappear in the lurid fires of war.

"When after the war reconstruction begins I hope, trust and pray that we are not going to give in to the pigeon-holes of party for dust-laden precedents and programme. Let us think out the best methods for ourselves in the face of searching facts, of which we know nothing before the war. We are a thousand years older, and wiser, since the war. The experience of generations has been crowded into just a few winters, and we should be unworthy of the great destiny to which Providence has called this generation if we threw away all that for the sake of formulas framed before the flood."

British Commonwealth

"There is no sphere of statesmanship," he continued, "in which there is greater need for revised ideas than our attitude towards that great Commonwealth of the nations of the British Empire. In the past we have treated it as an abstraction, a glorious abstraction, but still an abstraction. The war has shown us all that the empire is a fact, nay, a factor, the most potent factor today in the struggle for human liberty. We sent 1,000,000 men to France in August, 1914. They turned the tide of history. The dominions and India contributed a million men. That has transformed

NEW HAVEN SYSTEM FACE TO FACE WITH RECEIVERSHIP

Vast Railroad Monopoly, Once Controlled by Late J. P. Morgan, Owes $257,000,000 and Is On Verge of Bankruptcy—Once Controlled Eastern Steamship Corporation and Maine Railroads.

Boston, April 27.—Unless the Pennsylvania railroad takes over by lease or otherwise the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad system it is probable that the latter will be placed in the hands of receivers. President Arthur Twining Hadley of Yale University, a director of the New Haven system, announces that the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad system is on the verge of bankruptcy. The system is on the verge of bankruptcy, and it is probable that the Pennsylvania railroad will take over by lease or otherwise the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad system. Have Real Share

A great war is not the best tie for conflict from different peaks. Minds running in the same course for a long time are apt to get rusty. You require fresh minds to lift the cart out, and we have had such minds. We have had war decisions of the most far-reaching character, in which our overseas colleagues assisted us. Great problems regarding submarines, shipping and food, as well as military decisions, have all been reviewed at the councils in which they have participated.

Navigation Opens

Navigation opens in Strait to P. E. I. Special to The Standard. Moncton, April 27.—Navigation is now open between Summerside, P. E. I. and Point du Cheno. The steamer Northumberland will make her trip Monday and continue leaving Summerside at 9:30 a. m. The train leaving Point du Cheno connecting with the Ocean Limited for Montreal and the afternoon train for St. John. Returning the Northumberland will leave Point du Cheno after the arrival of the afternoon train from St. John.

Controlled Boston and Maine

Next the New Haven obtained control of the Boston and Maine system, and with it the New Brunswick, Washington County (Calais, Eastport, etc.), and other lines, thereby extending its ramifications to St. John, N. B., by water to the New Brunswick, Rhode Island and the Northern Pacific road to run it. The New Haven to cut off competition, instead of the Morgan monopoly the late Charles N. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk, who was lost on the Titanic, endeavored to build a line from his Central Vermont railroad, a Grand Trunk subsidiary, at Palmer, Mass., to Providence. After a bitter fight the new proposed road was actually built, but was abandoned after Mr. Hays' tragic death.

Then the legislature of various states and the United States government took up the case of the Morgan monopoly. The New Haven system was forced to part with many of its trolley and steamship holdings and even the every man to sink everything for the purpose of solving this problem. We must concentrate upon the task of subsiding, suppressing and defeating the worst enemy we have ever encountered." he said.

THE BATTLE OF THE CENTURIES

FROM beginning of time, armies of women have waged that unequal and always losing struggle against the Demons of Dust and Dirt. With sublime courage in the face of continual defeat, they renewed the conflict every morning to go through their daily ritual of home cleaning.

Armed with the crudest weapons, but spurred on by love of home, with undying patience, they have never wavered before the attack.

Sweep and dust. Dust and sweep. It satisfied her conscience. She had done her best. But every woman knew in her heart that her house was not really clean, never had been clean, never, in fact, could be clean. She had with all her efforts merely moved the dust around—stirred it up. She had not, could not get rid of it. While she was chasing it out of one corner, it gathered in another. It was still in the house, lurking under the furniture, on the walls and ceilings, behind the piano. To remove it was humanly impossible. From the day it was built until the day the first vacuum cleaner went into it, no home has ever been perfectly clean.

This is no discredit to the woman. She has done all that anyone could do under the circumstances. Unaided, single-handed, she has fought an enemy too great for her physical strength, too cunning for her generalship.

But now the age-long fight is over. The twin giants ELECTRICITY and AIR have done what woman's frail strength could never do. Imagine, if you can, the fierce joy that fills a woman's soul when for the first time she takes an Electric-Sweeper-Vac in her own hands and sees hereditary foes, Dust and Dirt, licked up into that hungry nozzle without the slightest effort on her part. Can anyone blame her? What a delight it must be to know that rug shaking is gone, never to return; that the broom is out of fashion; that house-cleaning week is a thing of the past. How she must glory in the thought that the daily drill with the dust-cloth is but a memory. In its place have come hours of leisure. Instead of a life spent in one continual round of dust pan, scrub brush, soap and mop, there are hours for her sewing or fancy work; hours for her book or magazines; hours for her club or church; hours for her children; hours she never could spare before for her own personal appearance.

Now she turns a button, and what was once gruelling, back-breaking, labor is done for her by a tireless electrical servant.

As that voracious nozzle goes feeling over the floor and walls, under the beds, on top of the bookcase, in dark closets, over the mattresses, in and out of the radiators, over every surface within the four walls of your home, every speck of dust and dirt, lint, threads, soot and germs are relentlessly sucked into the Electric-suction Cleaner (never to be seen again.)

PRETTY GIRL KILLS SELF AT LUBEC

Seventeen Year Old, Miss Fires Bullet Into Temple, During Absence of Her Mother—Cause Unknown.

Campobello, April 27.—The town of Lubec is in mourning as the result of the suicide of Miss Hattie Daggett, the pretty seventeen year old daughter of Mrs. Hattie Mahan. Miss Daggett shot herself in the temple with a .38 calibre revolver, death being practically instantaneous. Mrs. Mahan, at whose home her daughter by a former marriage lived, arose early and finished her household work, calling to the girl to ask her if she was going to work in one of the herring shops. She replied that she did not know whether she would or not, and Mrs. Mahan went to work, leaving her at home.

PLOT TO SEIZE THE PRESIDENT

Serious Charge Against Max Lynar, Known As "Count" Lynar—London—Alleged Plan to Invade Canada.

New York, April 27.—Charges that Max Lynar, also known as "Count" Lynar-Loudon, had plotted to "seize the person of the President and raise an army of 150,000 German reservists in this country for an invasion of Canada," were made today when he applied for release on parole from the prison where he is serving a sentence for bigamy.

During his trial agents of the department of justice made the allegation that Lynar was a notorious international crook, Max Schismank by name, who had operated in France and Germany prior to serving a prison term in Germany under the alias of Count Marcel Depassy.

RAMSGATE IS SHELLED ONCE MORE

London, April 27.—German destroyers attacked Ramsgate last night, according to an official announcement issued by the war office. A large number of shells were fired but the destroyers were driven off by the fire from the land batteries.

A statement of losses and the damage was contained in an official announcement embodying a report from Field Marshal Viscount French. The statement reads: "Lord French states that the damage and casualties occasioned by the enemy during the bombardment of the east Kentish coast last night are: Killed, one man and one woman; injured, one man and two women. Damage was done to twenty-one dwelling houses and two stables. One horse was killed. The larger number of projectiles fell in the open country."

SENATOR HARRY CORBY DEAD

The death of Senator Harry Corby of Belleville, Ont., has occurred at Hamilton, following an operation for appendicitis. The son of the late Henry Corby, founder of the Corby distillery business, Senator Corby was born in Belleville on May 2, 1851. In his hands the business left to him by his father grew to large dimensions, incorporation as a company taking place in 1905. From that time Mr. Corby gradually dropped his active connection with the business. For several years, commencing in 1878, the Corby Company did business in Dock street, St. John.

INTERNED TARIFF FOR THE EMPIRE

London, April 27.—Preferential trade tariffs between the various parts of the British empire have been endorsed by the imperial war conference, ac-ording to a statement made in the House of Commons today by Chancellor of the Exchequer A. Bonar Law. Mr. Law said that the conference had unanimously accepted the principle that each part of the empire, "having due regard to the interests of our allies, shall give especially favorable terms and facilities to the produce and manufactures of other parts of the empire." He added that as Australia was not represented at the conference the resolution did not at present include that colony, further, that there was no intention of making any change during the war and that the resolution left the question of foodstuffs open as it did not involve taxation on food.

BRITISH AND FRENCH ARE AGAIN WINNERS

King George's Men Take Important Positions Between Roeux and Gravelle and Near Arras-Cambrai Road — French Capture Several Trenches.

London, April 27.—Important positions between Roeux and Gravelle and near the Arras-Cambrai road have been captured by the British. The war office so announced today.

French Win Ground
Paris, April 27.—(Noon).—The French have captured several trenches on the heights around Moronvillers and have also gained ground in the region of Hurtebise and Gerny.

According to an official statement issued by the war office. The total number of cannon captured since April 16 is placed at 138.

French headquarters on the front, April 27.—The renewed German efforts twice last night to loosen the French grip on the Chemin-des-Dames around Cerny westward of Craonne, wilted then died away under the stubborn resistance of the French. Strong German forces were thrown toward the French positions about nightfall along a 2,000 yard front, where the French, as a result of their forward push last week, virtually dominate the valley through which the Ailette stream runs.

Farther along towards Craonne, which sits on the road and commands the main road from Rheims to Laon on the plain spreading eastward lies Hurtebise Farm, which share with Cerny constant German attention, in consequence of its situation near Craonne, the continued possession of which is of great importance to the Germans. The opposing artilleries fight an incessant duel in this sector and the Germans are doing their utmost by holding Craonne to threaten the French advance across the flatlands towards Laon.

Mrs. Geo. B. Stackhouse. Many will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. George B. Stackhouse, which occurred at her residence in Kitchener street yesterday morning, after a lingering illness. George E. and Sterling B., all of this city; three brothers, Charles Stackhouse of this city and Thomas and Benjamin of California; three sisters, Mrs. B. Garey of South Boston; Mrs. James Logan and Mrs. P. Pace, both of this city. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they cut and trim at these painful pests which merely makes the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called frezone applied directly upon a sore corn gives quick relief and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of frezone, which costs very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This drug is an ether compound and dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Clip this out and pin on your wife's dresser.

What President Wilson Expects of Each Citizen

Personal responsibility for the outcome of the war is brought home to every man and woman of the United States by President Wilson's appeal to enlist in the great civilian army, without whose whole-hearted services, "mere fighting would be useless."

"This plea to the American people," declares the Washington Evening Star, "is the most important stroke yet delivered in the battle of preparedness," and the Philadelphia North American remarks that "never before in history has a nation received so sobering a summons at the beginning of a War."

IN THE LITERARY DIGEST for April 28, the leading article gives a complete description of how the great army of industry is being mobilized throughout the country. It shows the movements that are under way to increase the cultivation of the land, the proposals to solve the problem of a scarcity of farm labor, and numerous other activities. While Germany hails with delight the President's appeal, seeing in it a declaration of weakness because of a lack of supply of foodstuffs, no red-blooded American who reads this article will for one moment be convinced that there is any truth in Professor Wygodzinski's statement in the Dusseldorf General Anzeiger, that "on the American wheat-field the war will be decided in our (Germany's) favor."

"The Digest"—For People Who Are Not Afraid of the Truth

Never before perhaps in the history of the world has it been more difficult to arrive at the actual truth regarding the tremendous events that are occurring from week to week. Empires are falling, huge tracts of territory are changing hands, and the political complexion of States is being completely altered overnight. To know the real facts regarding these epoch-making occurrences is a vital necessity for every one of us, yet there are innumerable influences, both domestic and foreign, that tend to keep the issues clouded and the exact developments in doubt. To obtain the truth you must find a news-magazine that gives you the facts impartially, from whatever source they may be derived, that has no policy but to state conditions as they are, without gloss or concealment, and that leaves your judgment absolutely unfettered. Such a magazine is THE LITERARY DIGEST. You need it. You may now obtain copies of "The Literary Digest" from our local agent in their town or where there is no agent, direct from the Publishers.

A sensible test

WHAT do you demand from a motor car? How would you test a car—for ease of control, for motor agility, for economy, for general soundness of construction. Wouldn't a hard run through city traffic put the car to a sensible test? The many stops, the slowing down, the jumping from low to high speed. That tries a motor. Tries it for flexibility, gives it a real fuel test. Here then is a sane test of the Chalmers. It's official from the American Automobile Association. A Chalmers 7-passenger taken from stock ran for 24 hours on high gear through Chicago's dense traffic. The engine never stopped. Four passengers were carried. The driver was an amateur. A total mileage of 586.8 was piled up, breaking every previous test by 228 miles. This gives some idea of the amazing flexibility of the car. Its perfect cooling. Its ease of control. But note. This run was made on 14 miles to the gallon of gasoline. *

There is a surprise awaiting you when you step in behind the wheel of this smart car.

Come in and put this Chalmers to the test.

NEWS AND COMMENT FROM THE FINANCIAL WORLD

OPERATIONS IN WALL STREET DIMINISH

United States Steel Heavily Traded In, But Price Remained Unchanged at Close of Market.

New York, April 27.—A pronounced falling off in the volume of operations, dealings diminishing by one-quarter to one-half from their large totals of the two preceding sessions, was almost the only significant feature of today's professional market. Less than half a score of leading stocks made up the great bulk of the business, chief among these again being United States Steel and related equipments and shipments, and a few specialties controlled by speculative interests. The heavy covering movement which followed the large "extra" dividend on steel common seemed to have expended its force with little or no fresh buying power, while further profit-taking was indulged in at every favorable opportunity.

Market Wobbly.

Trading was marked by a succession of irregular advances and declines, final quotations in the prominent issues showing no change, or a slight net loss.

Rails and coppers were the only stable stocks, but business in transportation issues, apart from Union Pacific, Reading and minor coalers, was too light to overcome pressure in other quarters. Metals were one to two points higher at their best, but sagged later.

Temporary improvement occurred in shippings, and the shares of companies making war supplies rose in sympathy. Fertilizers were more specious than recently at gains of one to two points, but their activity failed to enlist outside interest.

U. S. Steel Unchanged.

Fluctuations in United States Steel, which ranged between 115 1/2 and 117 1/2, closed at 116 1/2, unchanged on the day, were characteristic of the general movement, aside from metals, which were increasingly heavy. General Motors making an extreme decline of three points, with two each for Studebaker and Maxwell.

Total sales amounted to 610,000 shares.

Further weakness of rubles was the only outward reminder of the international situation, sterling remaining steady and francs hardening. Bonds were irregular; betterment in domestic issues, especially rails, being neutralized by concessions in foreign foreign war issues. Total sales, par value, aggregated $3,850,000.

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT PLACES STEEL ORDERS

Dominion Bridge Co. Will Get 2,500 Tons of Steel From Bethlehem Co.

Special to The Standard. New York, April 27.—At a meeting of heads of the United States Steel Corporation, Republic Steel and Midvale steel yesterday it was decided to fill the government's orders for bars at $2.50 base per 100 pounds; for plates at $2.50. Today's Pittsburgh prices for these materials are $2.75 for bars, $3 for plates and $4 for shapes. This puts the rate on bars 24 1/2 per cent. below the market, plates 5 1/2 per cent. below, and shapes 87 1/2 per cent. below.

IMMENSE IMPORTANCE IN-COMING WAR COUNCIL

One Central Purchasing Agency Looked for—Manufacturers Hope for Reasonable Profits.

Special to The Standard. New York, April 27.—In the banking community the greatest importance is attached to the war council in Washington between this country and the Allies, particularly as it is believed that financial outcome of the daily conferences will be reflected in reasonable profits for our manufacturers of war goods in one central purchasing agency for Great Britain and her European Allies, and for the United States.

LARGE INTERESTS ARE SAID TO BE IN MARKET

Large Interests Stimulating War Financing and Aiding Situation.

(McDOUGALL & COWANS). New York, April 27.—Large interests are reported to be co-operating in the market for stocks. They are vitally concerned in the great war bond issue. It is a war financing market, and as such requires stimulation from the large interests, in the way the present situation is put to use.

NEWS SUMMARY.

New York, April 27.—Southern Railway lines East and West, 3rd week April inc. $190,522. From July 1, inc. $9,445,558. Minneapolis and St. Louis, third week April increase $37,929. January 1, dec. $221,718.

MONTREAL IN MORE HOPEFUL MOOD

Special to The Standard. Montreal, April 27.—The Star's report: "While the average onlooker cannot see anything in the local market situation to arouse a thought of commutation there was nevertheless something in the week's action of a hopeful character, according to the scrutiny of many people in the street. At any rate it might have been worse."

If the market had failed to show any response to the rally in Wall Street, which came in the train of the steel statement and extra dividend, it could be then said to have done its worst possible. But it did rally about as much as could be expected, which served to show that a limited amount of buying would do. The fact that the street regards the local price range as in first class shape now to respond to anything like a decent volume of buying. No one knows how soon circumstances may warrant the development of this long looked for buying.

SILENCE

The perfection of Studebaker manufacture is responsible for the smooth running silence of Studebaker gears and moving parts.

Correctness of design and the correct material for each vital part, together with the exactness of manufacturing methods, has made it possible to secure even greater standards of accuracy than ever before.

In the Series 18 Studebaker Cars noticeable vibration has been eliminated, and this because the Studebaker Motor has been improved, refined, perfected into one of the best automobile motors on the market today. (The Studebaker is the most powerful car on the market within hundreds of dollars of its price.

THROUGH GERMAN SPECTACLES

The revolt of China has greatly perturbed the Germans. Who could have believed, asks the "Vossische Zeitung" gloomily, that a country "steeped in such unparalleled decay" could be "so important to the German Empire?" But, it continues—

The case of China is symptomatic. It shows us that our political credit has not yet reached the lofty heights to which our military might should have entitled it.

It proves even more—namely, that real military might and political prestige do not always depend on one another. Were it otherwise, how could the British Empire, with a military system that has hitherto produced merely parlor-game soldiers, have basked so long in the now fast-fading glamor of prestige that once caused the average Oriental to talk with bated breath of the "Angles?"

Snails and a Dagger
The Berlin "Post" offers its readers a charming little idyll of German meanness—

"Do you think I have come to Dortmund to eat up your vermin for you?" Uttering these words, Hermann Kollerermann made a furious attack with a dagger on George, the grey-haired old waiter at the Dortmund Hof.

Kollerermann, who was on a visit to the town, had, it appears, asked to be served with "a dainty repast," something that was no longer obtainable in his native town of Elberfeld. Thereupon the waiter, remarking that dainties other than these could not be procured, set before him a dish filled with snails, frogs' legs, and pickled grasshoppers.

At this Herr Kollerermann, unable to contain his wrath, vented it on the partly disabled old waiter.

He was yesterday sentenced by the Assessor's Court to imprisonment for three months, and to the payment of medical and surgical fees on behalf of George, who is still in hospital and in imminent danger of death.

The Perils of Percy
Are there two "Karl Wichmanns"? For Birmingham's sake it may be hoped that there are, but there is certainly a "Karl Wichmann" who is writing in the "Tägliche Rundschau," of Berlin. Here are some extracts from one of his latest and windiest effusions:—

The grey-haired Percy W., a very active adherent of the English peace movement, was quietly passing through the dismal east-wind swept streets of London on his way home when he felt himself swept off his feet as by a sudden vortex, and dragged along in the wake of an enormous millipede-headed procession towards Trafalgar-square.

It was a procession of be-winged City grandees of red-faced, green-robed alderman and mayors, with the Lord Mayor of London at their head, and followed by an endless tail of male and female riflemen gathered together from the slums of White-chapel and the Borough.

Percy's breath was clean taken away by this strange, uncouth pageant, and when suddenly there broke on his astonished ears the strains of military bands blared forth from the queerest collection of tin instruments, and he beheld flags and banners fluttering from every housetop, the poor soul for the moment felt convinced that the war had ended at last.

Do not blame Percy for his rash conclusions. What would any of you dear Berliners think were your streets suddenly to become alive with cheering and shouting, with the blare of trumpets, with the color riot of flags and banners? Would you not imagine that the enemy had been beaten to his knees?

A Paralyzing Pall
Why, of course, the "dear Berliners" would think so, but then, as "Karl Wichmann" goes on to explain, they do not know the English character:—

You do not know how susceptible is this people, in matters of business so rapacious and grasping, to superficial impressions which cause them for the time to efface from their shallow minds all thought of anything except that folk are cheering, and that they must cheer too.

Percy discovered to his dismay that all these festive displays had been beautifully engineered to rush the people into parting with their hard-earned money in order to place it in the very speculative investment of the new War Loan.

The whole thing gave one the impression of a formidable demonstration born out of the universal Urban terror that lies like a hideous paralysing pall over English life.

Smile the Face of the Tiger
A rhapsody on the mission of the Zeppelins "scatters a frightful death, an immeasurable destruction," which occupies a prominent place in the Berlin "Lokal-anzeiger," may appropriately be read in conjunction with the story of L-39 and the abortive raid on the green fields of Kent.

When in the blue sky of summer we beheld a small white cloud sailing near the sun our breathing is suspended by the joy that fills our whole being, because we are aware that it is a Zeppelin that is passing on its way to scatter a frightful death, an immeasurable destruction, among our enemies on the other side of the channel.

A smile of infinite happiness will hover on our lips at the thought of the terror and boundless panic that the arrival of this most glorious product of German skill and science will create among that godless population of the monstrous Babylon of the Thames.

Our armies swarm over the land, our ships again shall swarm over the seas, but in the meantime the Zeppelins, soaring majestically in the heavens, will continue to provide the blood-thirsting English with all the blood their nature craved for, but it will be the tiger blood of their own false-hearted compatriots.

Well, L-39 is the forthright of these "glorious products of German skill and science" to be brought down in flames or otherwise tragically destroyed, with their ill-starred crews. The "Lokal-anzeiger" rhapsodist may smile, but it is the tiger that smiles last.

Admiral von Graepoff, to whose modest proposals for the domination by Germany of the whole of the world's waterways reference was made in this column last week, was a frequent visitor to Eastbourne and London under the unassuming title of Admiral Crapow. A correspondent in the former town who met him several times writes as follows:—

He came to England for the ostensible purpose of studying English, but was no doubt acquiring information for naval purposes about this section of the south coast. During the course of a conversation he informed me that the Germans would, if military or naval necessity demanded, seize the Danish islands and fortify them to prevent the entrance of the British Fleet into the Baltic.

Admiral "Crapow" visited the Territorial camp here and also the aerodrome. His son, as well as the admiral himself, took lessons in English from me, and I had no suspicion at the time of their real motive.

Other pupils I have received here included Major von Dommes. He was sent by Major von Osterlag, Military Attaché at the German Embassy, who has since proved to be the head of the German "spy system" in England, Von Dommes was an official at the War Office in Berlin. Another interesting pupil was a German officer calling himself "Hasenjaeger," whose real name was von Wensser, who afterwards admitted he was a member of the German Secret Service.

He made several attempts to get a commission in the British Regular Army. The last I heard of him was Another interesting pupil was a German officer calling himself "Hasenjaeger," whose real name was von Wensser, who afterwards admitted he was a member of the German Secret Service.

He made several attempts to get a commission in the British Regular Army. The last I heard of him was that he was wounded in a duel and went to the Pyrenees to recuperate. He had maps marking the landing places of a German army of invasion with the routes marked to London. The intention of the Germans was not to land at one place, but at four or five places on the east coast and two or three on the south coast simultaneously. The armies were to unite on their way to London, and one rendezvous was at Walton-on-Thames.

The moral leprosy of the German people does not seem to render them any the less fearful of the suspicion of a disease-taint in others. Physicians have found that at rare intervals such a phenomenon arises as a human germ-carrier, a person who is apparently in a normal state of health and suffers from no infirmity, but who nevertheless perpetually spreads disease among others.

Such a person or rather an unfortunate German woman suspected of wholly inadequate grounds of being a germ-carrier, has just been the victim of some experiences at the hands of her countrymen which are only comparable to the tortures inflicted in olden times on a woman suspected of witchcraft.

Overland

Back of this season's new Overland Big Fours and Light Sixes are a direct line of nine preceding models from which they were developed.

They directly continue the line of models that made the Overland name stand in the public mind for integrity of value.

Overland policy has steadfastly sustained that integrity of value in the car throughout its entire service in the hands of owners.

Over three hundred thousand of these cars are now in use and the helpful suggestions of their owners and of the more than four thousand dealer and factory-branch organizations that sold and served them, are largely responsible for the balanced greatness of this season's Big Fours and Light Sixes.

Their new beauty, their perfected easy riding qualities, their proven sturdiness and mechanical excellence, their admitted tire, fuel and oil economy make them worthy of the confidence we enjoy, that they will still further enhance Overland prestige.

They embody the wisdom of the unmatched Overland experience in building cars of this type.

They are dominant values, cars of proven dependability and sterling worth.

As long as we have them for delivery before May 1st, the prices are $1190 for the Big Four, $1380 for the Light Six—thereafter $1250 and $1435.

ASK COUNTY COUNCIL TO PAY COMMISSIONER OF CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

Delegation Ask That Two Thousand Dollars Be Provided for That Purpose.

The finance committee of the Municipal Council met yesterday afternoon and passed the budget for the coming season of the council in May. A number of bills were passed for payment and it was decided to recommend that the offices formerly occupied by Inches and Hazen be secured and the county treasurer and auditor be located in them and thus place the county officials all in the one building as well as providing a place for committee meetings.

A delegation appeared before the committee on behalf of the St. John branch of the Red Cross Society and asked that the amount of $5,000 which was voted by the Municipal Council to the provincial branch be given to the local branch. The committee decided to recommend to the council that the original grant be amended and the amount be paid, $4,500 to the St. John branch and $1,500 to the Lancaster branch.

A delegation composed of A. M. Belding, T. H. Estabrook, M. E. Arar, Rev. J. C. D. Appel and Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, appeared on behalf of the Children's Aid Society and asked that the municipality provide $2,000 to pay the salary of Rev. W. H. Robinson as commissioner or judge for the society. The committee decided that as they had no money available it would be impossible to grant the request. The committee for next year would provide a sufficient sum to pay the salary of an agent for the society.

The committee feels that if the government appointed a commissioner with provincial powers the province rather than the municipality of St. John should pay his salary, but was willing to recommend the payment of a salary of a local agent.

ASK COUNTY COUNCIL TO COMPENSATION ACT COMMISSIONER HEARD LUMBER OPERATORS

Only Suggestion Offered Was That Employees Pay Part of the Assessment.

The commission appointed to frame a new Workman's Compensation Act met last night and heard evidence from the lumber mill operators as to the working of the present act and any suggestions they had to offer for the framing of the new act.

The only suggestion offered was that the employees should pay a part of the assessment, as it was felt this would have a tendency to reduce accidents due to carelessness among the men themselves.

The testimony showed that the practice of the lumbermen was to pay the doctor bills in addition to the compensation required under the law and in some instances the hospital bill was also paid. In one concern the men themselves paid twenty-five cents per month into a fund which was used to pay the hospital expenses.

Those who testified were: F. C. Beatty, of Station Cutler and Co.; A. H. Randolph, of Randolph and Baker; G. A. Schryer, of the Bathurst Lumber Co., and W. Matheson of the Fraser Lumber Co. W. Gunter of Murray and Gregory was present but did not have anything to add to what the others had said.

Another meeting of the commission will be held on either Wednesday or Thursday when Mr. Wegnest, representing the Canadian Manufacturers' Association will present their side of the case.

McAuley of Lower Millstream, who after two years in the service of his country, has returned home on a short furlough bearing with him evidences of painful injuries, from which he has recovered, and a hero's comparative fit, and eager to again enter the fray.

The enthusiastic and appreciative number of friends and relatives met in the C. H. C. ST. STEPHEN St. Stephen, April 28.—On Friday evening last the Women's Canadian Club held its regular monthly meeting in the Methodist vestry, which was filled to capacity with an enthusiastic audience to greet the Baroness Howard, who was the speaker of the evening. After the business of the meeting, which was disposed of with ease and grace, the president, Mrs. Cameron, graciously introduced the Baroness Howard, who held her audience enraptured for two hours. Uncle Dick's Chat With the Children

My Dear Kiddies:— Isn't it a treat to be awakened the morning by the bright sunlight streaming in through the window, then to lie listening to the birds they burst forth in song. Each spring in our bodies and after the long winter slotted feeling of winter came us to be filled with vitality and joy. To live in all the enjoyment of life, even as many of you young people, who without a thought of care or worry, gaily romp and play the sunshine of youth.

Make the most of your days school and play. Kiddies, as the springtime of your lives; it is a period in which you make preparation for the years to come, when you leave school behind and take your place in the business and social activity. Let me remind you, boys and girls, of that which I spoke last week to your mind upon something ahead never be swayed from your purpose. And think of the future that is very best. Don't be half-hearted in your work, be thorough; a life may depend upon what you do.

To illustrate let me tell you a story. At the time of the Zulu War, a certain officer his aide-de-camp were almost rounded when seeing an opportunity seized the afternoon tea, in an aprang into the saddles. Unfortunately the left stirrup strap of officer's outfit snapped, and the aide to the ground. Before regular his feet, the Zulus were upon him put him to death.

It was afterwards found out that workman in making the saddle, had failed to attach the stirrup strap securely. The result, months afterwards, and in a distant land, the death of a gallant young officer.

Moral—Perform all the duties have to the best of your ability. The new contest this week is out of the ordinary, and as the price are of particular value. I am sure will all have a hard try to capture of them.

Next week I hope to be able to announce as to a debating contest, as referred to in a recent issue.

The Allies' Aid Society are holding their Japanese afternoon tea, in Women's Exchange Rooms today, aid of comforts for soldiers, and hoped to realize a fair sum of money that those interested will do cake, etc.

The girls have been working and I am sure you will all wish every success.

With best wishes and heaps of love to thousands of nephews, nieces.

My Dear Kiddies— I'm glad to be awakened in the morning by the bright sunshine streaming in through the windows, and then to be listening to the birds as they bustle forth in song. Each appearing to rival the other in supremacy and sweetness of tone. Spring even if it late in arriving such as in our case, is always a welcome visitor, for it is not she who renews every fibre in our bodies and after the long wearied stolid feeling of winter causes us to be filled with vitality and joyfulness. To live in all the enjoyment of life, even as many of you young boys and girls, who without a thought of care or worry, gaily romp and play in the sunshiny of youth.

To illustrate the motto of the Zulu rising in Africa, a certain ancestor and his aide-de-camp were once surrounded when seeing an opportunity they seized the reins of two horses and sprang into the saddles. THE CARE OF YOUR DOG. A number of kiddies having often asked if we could not have a column in the corner, devoted to giving information, etc. I have arranged to add such as a feature and shall therefore be pleased to receive any the readers may come across. This week I am publishing some splendid hints as to looking after your dog. The article was clipped from a paper devoted to animals and sent in to me by a member of the Corner.

Raw meat is condemned by some dog owners and highly recommended by others. Dogs that get a great deal of exercise, like hunters, do well with some raw beef, but most of the meat allowed should be well boiled. The best way to feed raw meat is to give the dog a big bone. Working with it keeps his teeth in good condition, and the small particles scraped off are of value to his system. Liver can be given occasionally, but it is not very nutritious. Many times it will avert a threatened spell of constipation, but the danger of making the bowels too loose must be remembered. Liver is more agreeable in the winter.

Regarding the proper amount to feed, experience is the only guide. Most affectionate owners are inclined to overfeed. Do not feed at irregular times; save the scraps till the regular time. As to number of meals, I suggest four for young puppies; three between the ages of three and six months; two thereafter, with the heavier one at night—except in case of watch-dogs, whose supper should be a light meal. Some owners feed only once a day, but this is apt to cause a dog to gorge his stomach. Some dogs fatten very easily, and you must guard against the accumulation of too much flesh. It spoils your pet's appearance and makes him ill. On the other hand, in cases where the animal is run down from sickness or is chronically too thin, it is well to feed liberally. A fine tonic, in the latter case, is cod liver oil, mixed with the food. Raw eggs, too, are splendid. For loss of appetite in the dog, there is nothing equal to "work-out" of five or six miles on the road.

You cannot be too careful about this entire matter of feeding. Many valuable dogs are lost through carelessness and ignorance. Croxton Smith, the English dog expert, lost a valuable bloodhound by giving him soup that was just a trifle too "sour" for table use. The dog died in twelve hours, from ptomaine poisoning. The fact that a dog is careless about his eating when thrown on his own resources means nothing in the matter. It is the purpose of education to improve the crude places in nature when possible. Keep all the dog's dishes and cooking utensils clean from these parasites have a can of cool fresh drinking water where he can find it.

A CONTEST FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN GEOMETRICAL DRAWING, V.

Here is a chance to secure a splendid camera. A set of drawing instruments, or a story book! Above are twenty geometrical drawings, and all you are asked to do is to make a copy of each. Get a nice piece of white paper, a pencil, straight-edge and pair of compasses. And you will be ready for work. Now get busy and make a copy of each, just as you see the drawings, and to the boy or girl who makes the most number correctly, and neatly, will be awarded the valuable camera, the other two prizes going to the next two competitors in order of merit. Each entry must have the coupon as printed on this page attached, and reach this office not later than May 8th, addressed to Uncle Dick, The Standard, St. John, N. B. A good plan would be to cut the above drawings out, take them to your teacher at school, and then she may let every one in the room try. Just ask her.

ARE YOU ENTERING THE DRAWING CONTESTS

In grooming a dog, regularity is essential. Just as it is with a horse. Brush him every day, and go at the work thoroughly. If your pet has long hair, like a collie, you must use a comb on him, one with teeth long enough to reach the skin. Comb out all dirt and foreign matter, then use a stiff brush. On every part of the body brush the hair in the direction nature has given it. For short-haired dogs like a fox-terrier, nothing is better than a hair glove. Finish the job with a brisk bare-hand rub-down. This gives a beautiful polish to his coat.

One of the best treatments for a dog's coat is to rub in wood ashes, then comb them out well. Flour is nearly as good, ordinary cooking flour; but it must be thoroughly dried in an oven before it is used. The treatment just outlined will make the bath seldom necessary. About once in two weeks you might employ the tepid bath. Never use hot water; it disagrees with dogs, decidedly; they frequently suffer under its effects. Do not put carbolic acid in the bath; it may poison your pet by absorption through the skin. Avoid carbolic soaps; they are dangerous, and make the skin too dry. Use toilet soap, and never forget that dogs are very susceptible to skin diseases. Benzine is a simple remedy for fleas or lice; but daily attention and a clean kennel will prevent much trouble from these parasites. Be very particular to dry the dog well after his bath, and if he seems cold, blanket him for a while. Ordinarily, a brisk run or some practice or tricks will restore the bodily warmth.

WILLING HELPERS. By Bessie Starratt, Children's Corner Member. There were four little children who had every kind of toys anyone ever heard tell of. The children's names were Elsie, Helen, Jack, and Ralph White. The children were very, very happy and never knew what sorrow was.

Mr. and Mrs. White were wealthy people and the children were always dressed nice. One day Helen said "Let's have a concert for some evening this week and invite a lot of people to come." "Yes," said Jack, "Let's have all the people pay 5 or 10 cents to get in and have the money go to Uncle Dick for Allie's Aid Society."

Elsie thought this a great plan and said "Well, I have all ladies and gentlemen pay 10 cents and children 5 cents. A placard was placed on one of the post offices which read NOTICE

On Tuesday, May 12th, at the home of Mr. William White a small concert will take place. Those taking part will be Mr. White's children and eight little friends. Admission adults 10 cents, children 5 cents. Proceeds for the Allie's Aid Society. Everybody come and have some fun. Sale of candy, cakes and ice cream. Mrs. White, 228 Union St., St. Elmo, N. B.

Mrs. White was much interested in it and helped them a lot making all the things for sale. They built a small platform at one end of the parlor, at the side was placed the piano. Chairs were placed in the room. There was a small room behind the platform where the children were to stay.

The day before the concert the room was decorated with floral and paper decorations. Their mother came and helped them out with their songs and recitations, etc. The names of the other children were: Pearl, Lillian and Roy Hamilton and their sister, Ruth, also Kenneth Gray. They each wore and take part. The girls were to wear white dresses with pink sashes and ribbons. The boys were to wear their scout uniforms.

SORRY SHE SPOKE. "I is—" began Tommy, when his teacher interrupted him. "That is wrong; you should say 'I am.'"

"All right," said Tommy. "I am the ninth letter of the alphabet." SOMETHING WRONG. School Teacher—"Now, Bobby, spell 'needle.'"

METHODIST

At St. John's, N.B., the Easter services were of an inspiring character both in address and in music. The sermons of Revs. Hemmison and Bond in Cochrane Centennial church are reported to have been of a high order and listened to with rapt attention. The sacramental service in the evening was the largest in number of communicants on record. Dr. Bond was assisted by Revs. Dr. Curtis, James Wilson and T. W. Atkinson. The annual tea and concert of the Wesley church Ladies Aid was very largely attended and programme much enjoyed. On Easter Monday, evening Rev. John Anile delivered a very interesting illustrated lecture on "Logging in Western Canada." At Indian Island the anniversary meeting was addressed by Rev. H. Scott, from Pogo, and Rev. H. Moore, the pastor, in inspiring address. The proceeds exceeded expectations.

Rev. J. Hale, pastor, Louisburg, N. S., had a good day Easter Sunday. The congregation, large and musical, were admitted to the membership of the church, five of whom were baptized at the morning service. These with others to follow have been brought in by the regular services.

Rev. F. J. Bertram, of Westfield, N. B., has accepted an invitation to Campbellton, and Rev. E. E. Styles, of Souris, P. E. I., to Alberta to succeed Rev. G. T. Dawson, M. A., who goes to Knochwood street, St. John.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Hearty hope to celebrate their golden wedding on May the 8th in Amherst, N. S.

The Hon. S. W. W. Pickup, of Grandville Ferry, N. P., received the sad intelligence that his youngest son, Lieut. W. Pickup was killed in action somewhere in France. He was born April 15th, 1893. In 1914 he graduated at Mt. Allison. The next year he offered himself for overseas service, crossed to France, was wounded in the summer of 1915, and returned to England returned to the front last November. He was greatly beloved by all who knew him.

Last Sunday evening Nursing Sister Eleanor Black, of Amherst, spoke in our church on her work in England and France. The audience filled every available space. The address was admirable and was intensely interesting. A collection of $23.00 was taken, and at Miss Black's request placed as her contribution to the New Church Fund at New Glasgow, N. S.

On Sunday the 15th, the Rev. J. W. McConnell, A. B., of Amherst, preached the anniversary sermons of the Windsor, N. S. church. Fine audiences greatly appreciated the services.

The Rev. J. J. Pinkerton was unanimously invited by Rev. O. B. Chatham, N. B., for a third year, and the salary raised $100 per year. Easter Sunday was an inspiring day in St. Luke's. The church was tastefully decorated with flowers by Geo. Fisher, of Woodburn Farm. The music was especially good. At the evening service seventeen persons were received into the membership of the church, also one by letter.

The pastor of Wesley Memorial church, Moncton, Rev. P. A. Fitzpatrick, is pushing the work vigorously. The Missionary Offering was received in the Sunday school on Easter Sunday, and great interest was manifested. The enthusiastic manner in which all the scholars and classes participated was most marked. For over a month the day had been eagerly looked forward to. Mr. R. N. Wye led the movement into its successful leadership great credit must be given. In 1914 the school gave $65, and the most ardent expectations were exceeded when the giving from the various classes were totalled to find that this year it amounted to $263.12. It speaks volumes for the generosity of this congregation towards the missionary cause.

On the Whitehead circuit, N. S., the work under Rev. Francis J. S. Coates is progressing very satisfactorily. There are evidences everywhere of deeper spiritual life, and the finances are well in hand, and all interests are advancing.

The Methodist and Literary World mourns the loss of a man of remarkable ability and attainments, Rev. John Shaw Banks, D. D. He was a distinguished missionary, a pastor of influential churches, loyal to Methodist doctrine and faith, a veteran theologian of our church, and it is doubtful whether we have ever had a teacher who ranged so widely over the whole field of Divinity, both ancient and modern, who read so much and commanded his reading so easily, and who judged so soberly and fairly in matters of religious thought.

Dr. J. Hope Moulton's passing took place under tragic circumstances. He was returning from India, whether he had gone to deliver a series of lectures under the world wide evangelistic campaign of the Y. M. C. A., and his addresses had been attended with intense interest by multitudes of the educated classes. The ship on which he was returning was torpedoed by a German submarine, and although rescued by perilous means, Dr. Moulton was the most noted Greek scholar of the world. He was Greenwood professor of Hellenistic Greek and Indo-European philology at Macmaster University. His death will be greatly mourned by the world-wide Methodist and by an admiring public. British Methodism will be made the poorer by the loss.

Dr. Vere clement under the pastorate of Rev. Hugh Miller, is not only becoming independent this year, but it is doubling its missionary income. It is likely to raise $120, and already has sent forward $100.00.

The Christian Guardian says: "Rev. J. C. Berry, one of the supernumerary ministers of New Brunswick and P. E. I. conference, still retains much of his old time vigor. Though he has three-quarters of a century behind him he continues to lead prayer meetings and to preach in the largest churches in St. John. He has filled many important positions, including that of chairman and president of conferences. His friends hope that many more years will be added to his life. His old-time cheerfulness still continues. Twenty-five miles north of Mandala in the Bulacan Province, the increase in Sunday school membership has gone from 2,800 to 4,000 in two years. In the past year 2,500 conversions have taken place, and this is duplicated in two or three other parts of the Philippine Islands.

Rev. F. M. Milligan of Glenholm, N. S., supplied the pulpit of St. David's church, St. John, last Sabbath in the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. A. MacKeigan, who attended a meeting of the Foreign Mission Board in Toronto last week and visited New York before returning this week to St. John.

Rev. W. J. Clark, D. D., of St. Andrew's church, Westmount, Que., was the special preacher in St. Andrew's church, St. John, last Sabbath, in the observance of the 133rd anniversary of the founding of the congregation. Dr. Clark also addressed an afternoon service in St. Matthew's church, which was observing its twenty-first anniversary. At St. Matthew's Dr. J. A. Morison was the special preacher at the morning service, and the pastor, Rev. John Hardwick, in the evening.

Rev. P. S. Dowling preached in St. Andrew's church, Westmount, last Sunday, and from thence went to visit friends in Ontario before returning to St. John.

Dr. Stewart, of Halifax, conducted morning and evening worship in Knox church, St. John last Sunday. The death occurred at Pictouche, N. B., April 2, of Dr. W. G. King, an elder of the Presbyterian church, and a highly esteemed member of the community. Rev. Lewis J. King, of Escumac, P. Q., is a son, and Mrs. King is a daughter of the late Rev. Lewis Jack, formerly of Springfield, N. B.

Rev. George S. Mitchell was recently inducted to the pastoral charge of the Presbyterian church, Summerside, P. E. I. Mr. Mitchell spent more than a year overseas with the Dalhousie University Medical Corp. He is a brother of Rev. T. A. Mitchell, of Sussex, N. B.

Thirty new communicants were received into membership with St. Andrew's church, Chatham, N. B., on Easter Sunday.

Rev. Kenneth C. MacLennan, who has been pastor at Waverley, N. B., has accepted appointment to the Halifax Presbytery to labor at Waverley and Woodside, N. S.

ANGLICAN

The many friends of Rev. Frederick Ellis, formerly of this city and Musquash, will be glad to know that he is doing an excellent work in the parish of Shediac.

The Massachusetts diocesan convention held in Boston this week declared unanimously in favor of national prohibition. The convention voted against women being seated in the convention as delegates. With seven New England bishops of the church taking part, a notable service of thanksgiving for the completion of the church pension fund was held in Trinity church, Boston this week. Later there was an informal reception and tea at the Copley-Plaza. The bishops formed the reception line and several hundred persons, chiefly clergy and their wives, filed past to shake the hand of Bishop Lawrence and congratulate him upon his success in raising $1,500,000.

Gov. McCall was among those who attended the service in Trinity, which was one of the most remarkable ever held in the famous church. The body of the edifice was filled with clergymen, members of their families and prominent laymen of the diocese.

More than 170 clergymen participated in the procession between the church and parish house. A handsome American flag had a place of honor in the line and the surpluses and vestments, as well as the bright colored hoods denoting collegiate degrees, worn by many of the priests, added to the brilliancy of the scene.

The seven bishops who marched around the altar during the service were, in addition to Bishop Lawrence, Bishop Parker of New York, and Bishop Thomas F. Davis of Western Massachusetts and Suffragan Bishop Samuel G. Babcock of Massachusetts.

Roman Catholic

The Archbishops of the United States have addressed a letter to President Wilson, pledging the loyalty of the Catholic hierarchy, the clergy and people of that faith in this country to the President and the Government, and accepting "whole-heartedly and unreservedly" the decree of Congress "proclaiming the country to be in a state of war."

The letter which was adopted by the Archbishops at their annual meeting in the Catholic University at Washington, is signed by all the Archbishops who were present, eight in number. It was sent to the President today by Cardinal Gibbons, chairman of the meeting.

Very Rev. Mgr. A. S. Barnes, Llandaff House, chaplain to Catholic students of Cambridge and Oxford, England, who is now on a visit to the United States and has been announced to speak at Antigonish, N. S., will pay a visit to St. John within a short time.

On Sunday afternoon a very impressive ceremony took place at the Monastery of the Good Shepherd, Waterville street, when two of the young sisters, Reverend Sr. Mary Jean of the Cross and Reverend Sr. Mary Edward, pronounced their perpetual vows. His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc assisted by Reverend Father Doyle of Havre-au-Boche, Antigonish, pres-ther of Sr. Mary Edward, and Rev. Father Howland, chaplain of the Institution, gave solemn benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament which had been exposed during the day. Then a very eloquent sermon was preached by the Reverend Dr. O'Reilly of this city.

The silver jubilee of the consecration of Bishop Charles E. McDonnell of Brooklyn, was observed on April 22. A great parade of Catholic societies was held and there were Masses in all of the parishes. Bishop McDonnell was presented with a purse of $125,000.

The following extract from a letter from Rev. Harold McCausland, who was front was read in St. Augustine's church, Toronto, recently.

"We had confirmation a few weeks ago. Bishop De Penner came, and was struck by the fact that a Franciscan monk made all the plans for his visit, while on the day itself he was taken around the area by a Presbyterian. The waters also struck me through a series of options continued to star her in more and more important productions until she stands today one of the foremost of the younger stars in the movie picture art. Among her most noteworthy screen successes are "To Have and to Hold," "The Plover Girl," and "On Record" in all of which she has been hailed as a remarkably good and an exceedingly delightful young actress.

MAE MURRAY SIGNS NEW CONTRACT.

Just before departing for California recently, Mae Murray signed a new contract with the terms of which she will appear in Lasky-Paramount pictures for the next two years. The arrangement was concluded between the popular star and Mr. Lasky just before the producer left for the coast.

Miss Murray has just completed "The Princess King," an adaptation of Saxton's delightful story. Though well known on the stage prior to her appearance in motion pictures, Miss Murray had not been associated with dramatic productions, and her remarkably rapid rise to fame remains a monumental tribute to her native genius and delightful personality. Her earlier productions immediately attracted exceptionally favorable attention, and her new picture art through a series of options continued to star her in more and more important productions until she stands today one of the foremost of the younger stars in the movie picture art. Among her most noteworthy screen successes are "To Have and to Hold," "The Plover Girl," and "On Record" in all of which she has been hailed as a remarkably good and an exceedingly delightful young actress.

NERVOUS DISEASES IN THE SPRING

Cured by Toning the Blood and Strengthening the Nerves.

It is the opinion of the best medical authorities, after long observation, that nervous diseases are more common and more serious in the spring than at any other time of the year. Vital changes in the system, after long winter months, may cause much more trouble than the familiar spring weakness and weariness from which most people suffer as the result of indoor life, in poorly ventilated and often overheated buildings. Official records prove that in April and May neuritis, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy and other forms of nerve troubles are at their worst, and that then, more than any other time, a blood-making, nerve-strengthening tonic is needed.

The ancient custom of taking purgatives in the spring is useless, for the system really needs strengthening, while purgatives only gallop through the bowels, leaving you weaker. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best medicine, for they actually make the new, rich, red blood that feeds the starved nerves, and thus cure the many forms of nervous disorders, such as dizziness, headache, poor appetite, weakness in the limbs, as well as remove unsightly pimples and eruptions. In fact, they unflinchingly bring new vigor and strength to weak, tired and depressed men, women and children.

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by Dr. J. C. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WOMEN'S AILMENTS

Come From The Heart And Nerves.

Young girls budding into womanhood who suffer with pains and headaches, and whose face is pale and watery, will find Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills build them up.

Women, between the ages of 40 and 50, who are nervous, subject to hot flashes, feeling of pins and needles, smothering feeling, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, etc., are tired over this trying time of their life by the use of this remedy.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have a wonderful effect on a woman's system, making pains and aches vanish, bringing color to the pale cheek and sparkle to the eye.

The old worn out, tired out, languid feelings give place to strength and vitality, and life again seems like living.

Mrs. Alfred Winter, Castor, Alta., writes: "I would like every woman who is suffering from nerves or heart trouble to know how much Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have helped me. For two years I kept a hired girl, and was doctoring all the time. After having taken four boxes of your pills I am able to do all my own work. I would especially recommend them to women between 40 and 50, as at that time they are more liable to be far from well. One of my neighbors knows how they helped me, and she is now using them."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c or three boxes for $1.35, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by THE T. MILBURN CO., LIMITED, Toronto, Ont.

W. C. T. U. MEETING. At a recent meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union held in Orange Hall, an expression of thanks was received from Mr. W. D. Wilson, Dominion Inspector for the assistance given him by the W.C.T.U. during his campaign.

SATURDAY'S POEM The Post "But it isn't playing the game," he said, "And he slammed his books away; 'The Latin and Greek I've got in my head' Will do for a duller day."

The Dominion government is paying the highest pensions in the world. Justice will be done that the man who sacrificed everything for honor and duty shall be looked after and his dependents provided for, but there shall be if possible, no pensions for those who have not earned them.

Hampden, April 27.—Under the auspices of the recently organized Hampton Court Chapter of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, Mrs. R. P. Warren delivered an address in the Assembly Hall of the school building, last evening, which was largely attended.

And I called him a fool—oh, blind was I! And the cup of my grief's abrim; Will this our empty ever be? So long as we've fond and fearless souls,

At the close Mayor Hayes made a few suitable remarks. Mrs. H. A. Powell was also on the platform. The meeting opened with the National Anthem, played by Captain Kubring. Mrs. Kubring introduced the speaker and referred to his military career.

The feature of the evening was the presence of two of Hampton's heroes of the war, who have returned during the past few days: Pte. Walter Pearson of the 26th and Corporal Joe Keohan, late of the 6th Mounted Rifles. Pte. Pearson is suffering from shell shock, and Corp. Keohan from wounds in the hip, which will make him unfit for further military service.

And I called him a fool—oh, blind was I! His was the proudest part; He dies with the glory of faith in his eyes. And the glory of love in his heart, And though there's never a grave to tell,

Major Buchanan spoke of the Doukobors who, though not permitted by their religion to fight, offered to send jam to the soldiers, which offer was gratefully accepted. He suggested that an appeal should be made to those far-away dwellers in our land, that they should be asked to contribute to the Doukobors.

Three cheers were given for Major G. Roland Baras, who was decorated by the King on the 25th instant, for bravery on the field. Mrs. Warren then gave her very interesting address, which was listened to with perfect attention.

It was regretted that a much larger number of club members did not attend yesterday afternoon at Stone church schoolroom when Major Buchanan gave a talk on his new work. A returned soldier (as all officials on the board must be, one who went over at the very first, he is qualified to judge what a soldier has been through and from real sympathy to do justice and deal fairly with each claim.

Hull, Que., (April 27)—(Special).—Fred of copious indignation, sick headache and rheumatism, from which she had suffered for six months, Miss E. Demers, of 190 Maisonneuve St., here, gives all the credit for her cure to Dodd's Kidney Pills. She is recommending them to all her friends who suffer from kidney troubles of any kind.

drawing (we were marked by the system of Excellent, Good, Fair, Poor, and capital B, alleged by teachers to find what a bad neck, and would get in expression? I do. And I have a letter friend who feels the same. It was his experience that prompted me to write this reminder. Here it is.

JUST FOR A SMILE. Violence in the Kitchen. The butter had refused to come. And, with an angry gleam In both her eyes she dalgymaid Got mad and whipped the cream. —Schenectady Star.

And when she found the punished cream Would neither scream nor beg Elsewhere she turned her cruelty And beat a feeble egg. —Scranton Tribune.

Her cruelty it knew no bounds; The day we'll say was murky; And after she had done the hen She basted a poor turkey. —Yonkers Statesman.

DOG'S TOMBSTONES. Probably Parisians are too much occupied at present to pay much heed to La Necropole Zoologique de Paris. Yet there it lies, on an island in the Seine, the dog's burial ground of Paris. The visitor pays fifty cent or admission, unless it is cheaper in war time and the entrance is by an ornate gate and a fine avenue which leads to an array of heinous and desolate life.

As may be supposed there is a lot of gush and drivel on the stones. Princess Pignatelli avers that her deceased dog, "Emma," was "the sole friend of a wandering and desolate life," and the text upon another says, "Too affectionate to live!"

But the acme of sentimentality seems to be reached by a famous inscription, which says, "I cannot accompany the dear and noble animal I do not wish for heaven. Quite a number of the gravestones are the form of kennels, evidently with the idea of making the dog feel at home. It's a pity somebody didn't think of putting a marble bone or two around.

Other animals besides dogs are admitted—after death, and "on the lead" if alive. Birds, even, are buried here. A pet peacock reposes beneath a lovely marble effigy of himself, minus the glowing colors, and very handsome it looks.

There he stands, with his little barrel of wine round his neck, and a child clinging to his good neck. Standing on a pedestal, against a background of rough hewn stone representing his native mountains, he is a noble figure. He met his death in attempting to save the forty-first life. (St. Rita.)

Who's Who and What's What in the Picture World and on the Stage—Favorites and What They Say and Do.

LITTLE SCREEN STAR GETS KITCHEN EXPERIENCE IN THE STUDIO.

Another phase of the educational value of motion pictures is offered in the avowal of Gladys Hulette that she is learning how to cook in productions in the Thauhouster studios. "When I first came here I didn't know if water turned brown over boiling," confessed Miss Hulette.

There is real life in real stoves in most realistic kitchens in the Thauhouster-Pathe productions starring Miss Hulette. Real chickens are prepared, stuffed, roasted, baked, broiled and eaten. Real food is given to real canary birds. Real milk tickets are put out on the back stoop. Real loaves of bread are baked in the kitchen, oven by mistake.

GLADYS IS LEARNING ALL. Each of her productions adds some kitchen instruction. In "The Shine Girl" she was able to study a kitchen sink. In "Her New York" she was mistress of her first kitchen.

IMPERIAL. Kitty Mackay—The Secret Kingdom. Yes, it was Scotch all right, and as on the screen will be the only place we will be able to get Scotch, (I state that joke from a man), we might as well get used to it. Screen-Scotch does no harm however and one will get only good from this pretty story of Bonnie (not "honey" as it is sometimes called) Kitty Mackay, as played by Lillian Walker at the Imperial yesterday and today.

With wild men on an island, clothed in skins and nose-rings, with hair-braids escaping from drooping and from death at the hands of the savages, whose chief however was equipped with a modern revolver, there are no dull moments in "The Secret Kingdom." The scene opens on board the schooner which is attacked by hordes of savages. Philip, after severely punishing several black men in a great fray, (a melee would describe it, I think), jumps overboard and swims ashore. Julia and her companion are taken and imprisoned on the island from whence Phillip helps them to escape. Phillip's methods of dealing with the natives might be called not gentle but firm. It is "huff" and down they go. To smash one on the head with a huge boulder is a favorite method of persuasion. But they were forced and not the kind to be convinced by such methods. The ship is afterwards blown up in an explosion. This Vitagraph serial is keeping up to its promise very well.

There was, as well, a Hugala Mack ridiculous comedy, where brooms and carving knives sailed through the air and Huggle and the count show physical of wonderful agility. Famous Player Manager Home From Montreal. M. S. Bernstein has recently returned from Montreal, where he saw Joan The Woman, in which Geraldine Farrar stars. When asked about the production, Mr. Bernstein was very enthusiastic and hopes that we have it in St. John in the fall. It is drawing big crowds at the Majesty Theatre. He also saw some of the new Paramount features which are booked for the Imperial, Montreal, and says just to wait till we see them here, and we will be as pleased as he was.

In the case where two soldiers are charged with stabbing John Williams in the leg, Williams testified that he was in the boarding house, 35 Long Wharf and retired about ten o'clock. A half hour later there was a disturbance in the hall, he saw two soldiers and told them to go to barracks. One of them stabbed him on the leg. Dr. Baxter attended the wound and sent witness to the hospital. The case was further adjourned.

Detective Briggs gave evidence in a case where two boys are charged with stealing from a grocery store, and the case was adjourned until Monday.

WELL-KNOWN SHEDIAC YOUNG LADY MARRIED

Miss Lena Tait, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Tait, and Mr. William Frank Fraser, of New Glasgow, Wed.

Special to The Standard.
Shediac, April 27.—Flags flying to the breeze yesterday afternoon were in honor of a society event of much interest which took place at three o'clock in the Methodist church of the seaside town, when Miss Lena Tait, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Tait, was united in marriage with Mr. William Frank Fraser, of New Glasgow, N. S. Friends of the bride had beautifully decorated the church for the occasion. Portable arches, festooned with evergreen, basswood flowers and potted plants formed a most effective setting. The bride, entering the church on the arm of her father, while the choir sang, "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden," looked very charming in a gown of white silk, with bridal veil, and shower bouquet of cream roses. She had as bridesmaid her sister, Miss Hilga Tait who was attired in a costume of tawn silk, with hat of tawn and blue, and carried as her bouquet pink carnations. Kathleen Tait, niece of the bride, dressed in dainty white, with pink ribbons, made a pretty little flower girl. Dr. F. Woodbury of Halifax, N. S. acted as best man. Rev. Dr. Steel, of St. John, assisted by Rev. Edwin Turner, of Shediac, tied the nuptial knot. Mr. Allen Tait, brother of the bride, of the Composite Battalion, Halifax, and Sergeant Frank Fraser of St. Stephen, who has done his "bit" overseas, did the honors as ushers. Very special music was rendered by the choir. Miss Beattie Laverton presided at the organ and was ably assisted by Mr. Louis Anderson with the violin. The latter's rendition of "Oh Promise Me," being very effectively given. The church was filled with spectators to witness the pleasing event. After the ceremony motors, decked for the occasion, conveyed the bridal party and guests to "Elm Bank" where luncheon was served and a pleasant time spent socially. The guests from out of town included Lieut-Gov. and Mrs. Wood and the Misses Gordon, Sackville; Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Steel and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Powell, St. John; Mr. and Mrs. J. Fraser and Mr. F. Hoyt, New Glasgow; Dr. and Mrs. Eaton, Truro; Dr. Woodbury and Mr. E. O'Brien, Halifax; Mrs. Armstrong, Miss Russell and Mrs. Hamilton, Newcastle; Miss Fisher, Chatham; Miss N. Clarke, Bear River, N. S.; and Sgt. Fraser of St. Stephen. Others present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tait, Kathleen and Alec Tait, F. Robidoux, M. P. and Mrs. Robidoux, Mrs. Russell, the Misses Evans, the Misses Lawton, Mrs. S. Harper, the Misses Harper, Miss Jardine and Miss Bray. The happy young couple had hosts of friends at the depot to bid them good-bye, where amidst showers of confetti and good wishes they boarded the 5.30 train for Halifax, N. S. Mrs. Fraser wore as a travelling costume a becoming suit of dark blue cloth, tawn hat with trimmings of blue. She was one of the most popular young ladies to ever leave the town and will be missed as a citizen, being prominent in society, in church work, in the Red Cross, and all matters patriotic. Many beautiful gifts fell to the bride, among them a number of pieces in china, from the staff in the employ of R. C. Tait and Co. The very best wishes of all are extended Mr. and Mrs. Fraser for a very happy future.

New Orleans, La., March 15.—[The text continues with various news items, including reports on the situation in Mexico, the activities of Carranza, and local events in St. John, N.B.]

Soldiers Grow Milder in Mexico
I found that the Custom House at New Laredo had been rebuilt under other signs there of a return to normal conditions. The soldiers were dressed and armed in a more orderly manner than when I last saw them. New stations were set up along the line.

The Fenelon Mining Company, dominated by German capital—being a smelter and a large number of laborers' houses at its mines Monterey, which fact impressed me more, as I knew that the mining companies have shut down all improvements and are miserably to hold their property from them from going to ruin.

Incidentally I was told by men I know to be trustworthy that Carranza literally is pouring into the state and is being used in buying plants, smelters and mines all over the interior. The Germans are leading money right and left in an evidently profitable business there in large numbers. The money they have done wonder.

More here.

When I was in Monterey last week as dead as could be seen on the streets and poverty appeared everywhere. Not so now. I found the people packed with happy dressed crowd, which baraded at me there or at any place along the way in Tampico, when I visited there. I found conditions much better than they were six months ago. There was a flood deal of money in circulation and indications of great prosperity everywhere, and everybody saw Germans and heard of German investments.

Carranza Angers Generalists
I found them at Queretaro, the Mexicans have been put through their new constitution which I will have something to say later on. At Queretaro I heard inside facts which may throw upon the not over-cordial relationship between First Chief Carranza and his military chieftains, General Obregon and Pedro Gonzalez. The story as I heard it from me.

During the Constitutional Convention recently Carranza sided with Mexican orator Pallavicini, who one of the delegates, to the effect, and against Obregon and Carranza. Immediately these two were packed up their belongings, their men and guns on trains and to Mexico City. Carranza was made to make amends, he gave to the newspapers that he had been General Gonzalez with a commission to go north to "ret Villal" and that Carranza had left for the campaign.

When the reporters asked Gonzalez about the matter he explained that he had not accepted the position and did not intend to do so, but that he wished to recommend General Carranza send Pallavicini a brigade of the other silver to restore from the convention to the Villa.

I went from city to city, really surprised at the changes that have occurred in Mexico in five or six months; for while far from quiet yet, there are unmistakable signs of reconstruction. Finance, the feeling of restlessness and uncertainty has very largely passed in nearly all parts of the country where I travelled. Even the days of bandits are now accepted as pretty much a matter of course.

WARRIORS IN MEXICO

New Orleans, La., March 25—I am back from Mexico safe and sound.
which is a cause of personal congratulation. When I first entered the "Mexican zone," which naturally begins at San Antonio, Texas, I heard in the local lobbies stories which gave me an impression that any one who enters Mexico verily is taking his life in his own hands. The tales of what was taking place in that country were wild and blood-curdling, but I had business in the country and so was not deterred.

In San Antonio I had a talk with a representative of a large agricultural element concerned with the sale of large tractors are now being sent to Mexico to cultivate the farms, because it is much better to use machinery than to be relying on the farm animals which are being killed by the bandits and soldiers.
At Laredo I was initiated into the life of the "falsifiable" papers which Carranza issued as ten-cents, United States currency. For some, and forced on the people at rate, was no longer legal tender having dropped to about 400 cents for one American dollar. I found that I had to exchange my American money into silver, receiving 1.70 Mexican for one dollar. American at the border. I also discovered that prices for everything were excessively high, partly because there is very little fractional currency in circulation and the difficulty of making change and partly because as people have lost all sense of value because of the long use of paper money.

Soldiers Grow Milder in Manner

I found that the Custom House in New Laredo had been rebuilt and I saw other signs there of a return to normal conditions. The soldiers were better dressed and, generally speaking, well-mannered than when I last had seen them. New stations were being put up along the line.

The Peoples Mining Company—now dominated by German capital—is build- ing a smelter and a large number of workers' houses at its mines near Monterrey, which fact impressed me the more, as I knew that American mining companies have shut down on all improvements and are content merely to hold their properties and keep them from going to absolute ruin.

Incidentally I was told by men whom I know to be trustworthy that German capital literally is pouring into Mexico and is being used in buying up plants, smelters and mines all through the interior. The Germans are investing money right and left in Mexico and evidently prefer to settle there in large numbers. The influx of their money has done wonders for Monterrey.

When I was in Monterrey last fall it was as dead as could be—no one on the streets and poverty apparent on every hand. Not so now. I saw the streets packed with a happy, well-dressed crowd, which harassed and listened to the band, and I did not see there or at any place along the line.
Even in Tampico, which I visited last fall, I found conditions much better than they were six months ago. There was a good deal of activity in circulation of great quantities of silver everywhere, and everywhere
I saw Germans and heard of German investments.

Carranza Angers Generals

I found them at Queretaro, where the Mexicans have been putting through their new constitution, of which I will have something to say later on. At Queretaro I heard of inside facts which may throw light upon the not over-ideal relations existing between First Chief Carranza and his military chiefs, Generals Obregon and Pedro Gonzalez. This is the story as I heard it from men who knew:

During the Constitutional Convention recently Carranza sided with the Mexican orator Pallavicini, who was one of the delegates to the convention, and against Obregon and Gonzalez. Immediately these two generals were packed up their belongings, loaded their men and guns on trains and went to Mexico City. Carranza was worried and to make amends, he gave it out to the newspapers that he had honored General Gonzalez with a commission to go north to "set Villa" and that Gonzalez had left for the campaign.

When the reporters asked General Gonzalez about the matter he explained that he had not accepted the commission and did not intend to do so, but that he wished to recommend that General Carranza send Pallavicini and a brigade of the other silver-toned generals from the convention to subdue Villa.

As I went from city to city I was reality surprised at the changes which have occurred in Mexico in the last six or six months. For, while it is far from quiet yet, there are unmistakable signs of reconstruction. For instance, the feeling of restlessness and uncertainty has very largely disappeared in nearly all parts of the country where I travelled. Even the forays of bandits are now accepted as pretty much a matter of course and Feverish Activity at Tampico

There seemed to be a feverish activity at Tampico and shipments of oil were on the increase. New vessels were coming there, loading with oil and getting away as quickly as possible. Drilling operations in the oil fields were going forward at a greater rate than ever before—at least for the last three years.

The country between Tampico and San Luis Potosi was controlled by the Cedillo brothers' bandits when I was in that section, and doubtless is still.
They had been joined by one of the Carrea Torres brothers and his band.
One of the Carrea brothers had arranged with Carranza to surrender and a pardon was issued to him. He went to Ciudad Victoria to give himself up and was arrested by General
Caballero, in command there.

General Caballero said he respected the pardon, but arrested the man for stealing some benches from a school, which sentenced him to death, and then saw that the sentence was immediately carried out. Naturally, the surviving brother swore vengeance, called on his friends, the Cedillo brothers, to help him, and they immediately began operating between Tampico, San Luis Potosi and Monterrey.
They blew up bridges, tore up tracks and attacked trains, so that service on the railroad was somewhat irregular for a while. I was delayed several days because of their activity.

ROTHESAY

Rothsay, April 27.—At the Red Cross meeting on Tuesday, Mrs. John McLure and Mrs. Harold Brock were hostesses at afternoon tea. Appreciation was expressed in regard to the receipt of a donation of $10.00 toward the societies work from three young ladies, Messrs. James and Neil Mc-Laughlin and Robert Johnston of Quispamsis, being part proceeds of an entertainment and pie social gotten up by them for patriotic purposes. It was most welcome.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs.
Donville celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day, and many friends in various ways tendered to them congratulations and best wishes. Members of the Woman's Auxiliary sent golden daffodils, and besides these were quantities of beau-not necessarily representing the positions of a successful revolution.

"Business conditions were anything but ideal when I was there, but but had in Tampico when I was there, although I was told that practically no new oil deals were being consummated.
The town was full of Americans and and foreigners, and I noticed many Germans there, many of whom I should judge. The big oil companies were adding fifty new wells—oil mainly—to their forces and were getting out all the oil they could find ships for.

Rebels Pay As They Go

When I arrived there a small rebel band was in possession of Panuco, up the river. They were about three hundred or thereabouts when they took possession of the town; their leader made a speech in which he explained that they belonged to a new party called "socialistas," and that he would put to death any of his men who committed robberies. They remained in Pan-uco three or four days, paying as they went, and left when a Carranzista force was sent from Tampico to oust them. They succeeded in being operating under Manuel Palao, who is giving protection to the British oil properties in the Tampico district. It is from the wells in that district that most of the fuel oil for the British navy is obtained in Mexico.

Manuel Palao is in full possession of the southern field and is reported to have about eight thousand men. He does not hold the town of Turpan, however. It is explained that he does not want it for any other big town at this time, but that he can take it whenever he wishes to do so, which proba-ly is correct. The proof of this is that not long ago, having become informed at something that happened in the town of Tamiahua, he went in there, killed practically all of the Car-ranzistas and then burned to the ground every building in the place, including the old church. The former town of about five thousand inhabitants is now a mass of ruins.

It seems probable, however, that Palao is short of ammunition, for when I was in Panuco I learned from an absolutely trustworthy source—from a man who had been with Palao's men that morning—that there were about five hundred of his followers less than two miles from the plaza where we stood, but that their cartridge belts were empty. Had they had ammunition they easily could have taken Panuco, as it was garrisoned by only about sixty Carranzistas.

British Ready to Aid

Should the British oil wells near Turpan be threatened, however, I have no doubt that Palao could defend them against any force likely to be sent to molest them. The Englishmen who are getting the oil from those wells would undoubtedly see that Palao had all the ammunition he needed for the protection of the property. It is to the interest of Palao to see that no harm comes to those wells, for he owns the ground on which they are situated and receives a certain percentage of the value of all the oil taken from them, by the Aquila company, the name of the British company supplying the British navy. I talked to men from that district and they told me that the wells were fully protected. No Germans are permitted to go anywhere near those wells.

A great many Germans were coming to the country around Tampico, however, when I was there, and I was told most emphatically by a man who assured me that he personally knew it to be the fact, that it has all been arranged that in the event of a war between the United States and Germany all oil wells and properties will be fired immediately by the Germans. It sounded somewhat wild to me at the time, although the man who told me is not one who is known to be specu-lational in his statements. I did not know then what I know now of the German intention in Mexico, or probably I would have been more impressed. In the light of knowledge I have obtained since then I can see why the big oil companies were adding so many Americans to their pay-rolls when I was in Tampico. They presumably were doing a little preparation on their own account.

Of the proceeds of the concert $100 was donated to the council for patriotic work, and $40 of this sum has been voted to Major Birks' military Y. M. C. A. The corresponding secretary, Miss Amelia L. Haley, presented the following report from the concert:

LIQUOR STOCKS ARE VERY LIGHT IN ST. JOHN NOW

Citizens Have Been "Stocking Up" in Preparation for the Coming of Prohibition. Not since that bright day in June, when Samuel de Champlain sailed up the St. John river, and drank to the health of his sovereign, has there been such a scarcity of liquor in St. John. Practically every liquor dealer, with the possible exception of the wholesale men, have hardly enough to carry them over until the clock strikes one every Monday night. Yesterday, and in fact for the past week, or month, many citizens have been laying in a supply of liquor, in some cases for medicinal purposes, and in more cases because they think they cannot get along without it.

The Standard reporter visited several saloons, (on an official mission of course), and in nearly every case the shelves looked as though a rush business had been done for the day. Extra help could be seen behind the bar parcelling out the demands of the purchasing public.

Among the local liquor dealers in the retail business, are men who have been connected with the dispensing of drinks for the past forty-five and fifty years. Notwithstanding the fact that on Monday the saloon doors close, the Standard did not hear one complaint from any of the dealers. Even men who are in the habit of taking a drink regularly seem to be treating the affair as a matter of fact.

According to the Prohibition Act, placed on the statute books by the Murray government, any liquor found on the premises of any person or dealer, other than that for personal use may be seized by the inspector so no more than what can be sold today and on Monday, will be stored by the dealers. Should there be any left over it is the intention of the dealers to ship the balance to dealers in the province of Quebec.

It was suggested by a prominent doctor yesterday that it would be a good thing if the dealers would donate the balance of their stock for medical purposes. As the majority of dealers are not in a position to state just how much they will have left, if any, it was impossible to ascertain if they would consider the idea of donating the balance to the army for this purpose.

Although modern physicians are endeavoring to eliminate the use of liquor from their practice, yet in many cases, it is still useful. As a heart stimulant, medical men claim that brandy is most efficient. Likewise in the case of a patient who suffers from the effects of a weakened nervous condition. In cases of indigestion, pneumonia, and lung trouble. Alcohol in its pure state is used externally where there are abrasions, for bathing the patient.

RECORD PRICE PAID FOR SARDINE HERRING

Connors Brothers, of Black's Harbor, Give $53 a Hog-head, According to Word Received Here. A record price for sardine herring in twenty years has been attained. Word was received here last night that Connors Brothers of Black's Harbor, Charlotte County, had paid $53 a hog-head. The Eastport and Lunenburg fishery do not feel inclined to meet this figure, which indicates a big jump in the price of packed goods and a strong demand.

C. P. R. OFFICIALS LEAVE FOR MONTREAL

Season at St. John Has Practically Closed—Lumber Shipments Likely to Be Handled Here This Summer. The winter port season at this port is now drawing to a close. Yesterday a large number of members of the C. P. R. staff at West St. John left the city for Montreal to make preparations for the opening of the summer season there next month. The remaining members of the staff will proceed to Montreal next week.

While there is yet one steamer with a large freight coming to the city, the present week practically witnesses the close of the winter season here. The year has been a record one from the standpoint of the volume of export and port business handled through this port, all previous records being surpassed.

RECRUITING WAS SLACK YESTERDAY

General Turner's Order. General Turner, the officer commanding the Canadian troops in England, has promulgated through Ottawa, an order, which is of importance to returned men. It is not permissible for soldiers, who have received their discharge to wear the regimental distinguishing patch on their tunic. Only those who are on furlough, and are to return to the front in those on active service are entitled to wear these patches.

New Troops to Arrive. It is reported that St. John may have the privilege of welcoming another battalion within the next few days. This will likely be the last unit to make its stay in the city this year, for any length of time, as nearly all the Canadian units have left for England.

C. A. S. C. Office to Close. The Canadian Army Service Corps recruiting office will be closed in St. John on Monday week next. Lieut. A. R. Leung and Sergt. R. F. Jones, who have been stationed here in connection with recruiting, will leave for Toronto, from there they will proceed overseas with the next draft. Both officers since arriving in the city have made many friends who will deeply regret to see them leave.

Returned to City. Brigadier General McLean and Lieut.-Col. Mersereau, returned to the city yesterday, after inspecting the Forestry Unit at Sussex, and the Ammunition Column at Sackville. General McLean expressed himself as highly pleased with both units. Lieut.-Col. Mersereau will proceed to Fredericton for instruction purposes with the 236th Kilties.

Back From the Front. R. Layton Colborne a member of a local battalion, returned to the city last night on the Halifax train, after spending many months in the trenches in France. The returned man was obliged to use crutches, having been wounded in the ankle. He was met at the depot by the Returned Soldiers' Reception Committee, and a host of friends, who tendered the young soldier a hearty welcome. He was accompanied by his mother who went to Halifax to meet him. The Standard was unable to interview the heroic young man, on account of his many wounds. He is accompanied by Mr. Gillicuddy, who surrounded him as he stepped from the train. It was learned, however, that he received his wounds in "No Man's Land," in an attempt to reach a shell hole.
