The Athletics will play the St. Ann's club on Saturday afternoon.

The college students declare that the nine, which played the game at St. Ann's last night, was not the University nine.

A Draw Game.

Although yesterday afternoon's match between the Shamrocks and the University nine resulted in a draw, it was by no means an uninteresting game. The play on either side was anything but good, as may be seen from the score. The Shamrocks did all their own work until their pitcher gave out, when the position of things was reversed and the college boys did all the scoring.

The pitcher, whom the Shamrocks substituted, was evidently out of practice, and, if one failed to knock him out for a time, he got his first on balls every time. Only five innings were played, and the last two were something wretched. At about 10 o'clock the University boys made 22 of their score of 15 in the last two innings.

The Maine Central Institute has secured a second victory from the Nationals at St. John's Tuesday, the score being 7 to 6.

The students reported that the society's gold medal had been awarded to Mr. H. W. Hamilton, of the graduating class.

A lengthy discussion took place on the abolition of degrees. Dr. McLaren, of St. John's, moved the society appoint a committee to urge upon the senate the advisability of re-establishing degrees in the college. It was moved in amendment that the matter be referred to a committee of five, two of whom should be the representatives of the society in the senate.

A correct opinion, and report a future meeting of the society. The amendments were carried and Dr. McLaren, Dr. Currie, Rev. Mr. Roberts, Dr. Pughley and Hon. Jas. Mitchell appeared on the platform.

Before Going to Sleep.

He who would reap the greatest benefit from sleep should cultivate the habit of excluding all worry and vexatious ponderings for a considerable time before retiring. The attainment of this end is far easier than might at first be imagined. It is simply a matter of habit, and the individual who exerts himself systematically will soon find that he shall be able to direct the mind of thought at the proper time very much as he would a horse.

Where, as in certain nervous and irritable persons, it is impossible to acquire this habit by a mere list of the will, the individual should begin by laying hold of the law of the mind, and by the use of a depressing and irritating train of reflection.

And just here we find the true cause of nervousness. Light reading, light play, light opera, light games, light friends, these are the things which serve to excite the spirit of compromise.

—J. Leonard Corning.

Curious Case of Deafness.

Some time ago an engine driver on the Little Miami railroad was suspended because, after having been examined by Dr. Clark, he was found to be quite deaf.

Dr. Clark, however, made a mistake. He could hear everything while running his engine, but the doctor found that in a still room he could not hear ordinary conversation a foot away. The engineer was not in that city for his disease, but without any special benefit. After being suspended eight months the engineer again came to Dr. Clark and insisted that he could hear about one foot and ten inches.

The doctor thought he was deceiving him, and, accompanying him to the engine, he made a number of experiments with him on engines. The engineer was not only telling the truth in regard to the matter, but also that the deafness could not be cured by any means.

Whispering on a morning engine that even Dr. Clark heard him, and the engineer was reinstated in his former place. —Columbus Journal.

BEAUTIES OF BRAZIL.

Wonderful Physical Charms and Incomparable Ignorance and Bad Temper.

Bahia is a city of 117,000 population, and to an American, especially a young American, it seems that about 100,000 of that number is composed of pretty girls, beauties of wonderful physical charms and an agreeable lack of mental initiative and assertive opinionism.

The climate is made for love, laziness and cigarette smoking. In spite of the enervating influences so prevalent, lots of business is transacted in Bahia, mostly after the Philadelphia plan of conservatism, slowness, and consequent safety. Big Spanish houses are beginning to employ an army of young Americans to transact their business, and these young fellows, generally, are enterprising and of the "right class." Many boys of excellent family and antecedents have matrimonial "open" to them which would make the heart of a real Italian count throb wildly in an ecstasy of joy.

The scorching, daughter of Italy, wealthy, influential, often noble, parents, are anxious, collectively and individually, to seize upon these transplanted sons of freedom, rush them before a priest, and get them for their own property forever and aye.

The scorching are as beautiful as hours in youth, and can love like a housewife. Their figures are universally models of beauty, and their feet are like the rainbows, and Cinderella in situ. Their glorious eyes can set any well constituted man's blood going like a revolution pump at a single glance, and that is the difference between the scorching and the "right class." Many boys of excellent family and antecedents have matrimonial "open" to them which would make the heart of a real Italian count throb wildly in an ecstasy of joy.
