LACE CURTAIN DEP'T.

The Season's On The Goods Are Here.

Someone has said "the brightness of New Lace Curtains is a kind of a Home Sunshine." The remark is suggestive of the wonderful effect new curtains have in brightening up things.

Now that the season is here our Curtain Department merits a visit.

On Sale To-Day and All Next Week:
Fine Nottingham Lace Curtains,

50 in. wide by 3 1-2 yards long,

Smart Dressers

Young men are as a general thing the smartest dressers. They know what's what and get it. But good fit, the newest colors, patterns, etc., aren't enough; for unless the snappy, jaunty appearance—characteristics of our clothing—is there, it's not what the young man wants.

Our success in pleasing young men is not just "luck." It's due to our knowledge of what the young men want and our

Ability to provide it for them

Then again our prices are always reasonable. Suits at $5.00, $7.50, $10.00 $12.00 and $15.00 that would at once appeal to the taste of the smart young dresser.

OCEAN YACHT RACE

German Boat Seen Leading
Four of The Competitors

New York, May 27—The German yacht Hamburg was leading the Ailsa by thirteen miles, with the Atlantic, Fleur de Lis and the English clipper ship Valhalla strung out in that order far astern when these yachts were sighted on May 23 and 24 by the St. Paul. The Endymion also was sighted by the St. Paul on a course well to the north of that taken by the Hamburg and the Ailsa. The despatch which came to the Associated Press by Marconi wireless from the St. Paul to-day, is as follows:

"S. S. St. Paul, via Marconi Station, Siasconset, Mass., May 27—Hamburg leading Ailsa by thirteen miles, then came Atlantic, Fleur de Lis and Valhalla, a long distance astern. Hamburg's position May 23rd 6.32 a. m. latitude 40.6 north, longitude 50.85 west, May 24th, 6.50 p. m., G. M. T. Endymion, latitude 42.20 north, longitude 43.35 west, May 20th, 5-30 p. m., Atlantic latitude 41.49 north, longitude 45.02 west. All well. Endymion, 1,385; Atlantic, 1,825 from Sandy Hook lightship.

London, May 27—The American liner St. Louis, from New York May 20 which passed the Lizard at 8.05 a. m. to-day, reported to the Associated Press by a Marconi wireless despatch that she passed successively Monday, May 22, the schooner yacht Endymion, the yawl Ailsa and the schooner Hamburg between 12.38 p. m. and 7.50 p. m. The Hamburg was then 880 miles of Sandy Hook lightship. The Endymion and Ailsa were 843 and 845 miles respectively east of the same lightship when passed by the St. Louis.

The above is substantially the same report received by the Associated Press yesterday from the St. Louis.

CONDOLENCE.

At a regular meeting of Branch 130 C. M. B. A., of Bathurst, the following resolutions of condolence were passed:

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God to visit the home of our esteemed brother John J. S. Hachey, and remove therefrom by death, a loving wife and kind mother;

Be it resolved that we, the members of branch 130, C. M. B. A., Bathurst, tender to our worthy brother, J. J. S. Hachey, husband, and Donald and Bennett, sons of deceased, our most heartfelt sympathy and condolence in their great affliction, and recommend them to God, who does all things for the best.

Be it further resolved that copies of this resolution be sent to our afflicted brothers and published in our official organ.

DALHOUSIE

Signs of Progress and Improvements

TREE PLANTING

Delegates to Attend Convention of Acadians at Tracadie

DALHOUSIE, N. B., May 30—If it is true that the progress of a town is shown in the character of its mercantile establishments, no town in Canada of equal population can boast of handsomer stores, or more up-to-date stocks and brisker trade than the town of Campbellton. For one who has visited Campbellton a quarter of a century ago and sees it now will be convinced what energy and a progressive spirit will do. Some very fine residences are also being erected on pretty grounds.

The new Post office that is being erected on Main Street will be a monument that will beautify the business portion of the town, and the addition of wharfing accommodation will make Campbellton's harbor a very convenient one for shipping as well as easy for passenger traffic.

A good second to Campbellton in progress during recent years is the little town of Dalhousie, which notwithstanding that it has not the advantage of being traversed by a through line of railway is forging ahead. With the Dalhousie Lumber Co.'s two large mills, the Chapin mill and the large factory under erection by the Restigouche Woodworking Co., our town can boast of four manufactures of which it can well be proud; especially under a modern system of regular cash payment to the working men.

Dalhousie, since the last two or three years has made a great change in its stores. They are not large, but they are neat and tasty, and suit the wants of the place. New stores that have improved in appearance are occupied by James Wallace, Wm. C. Arseneau & Co., Daniel McDonald, Scheffer Bros., J. E. Martin, Ben Windsor, Miss Stewart, Miss Haquail and The Dalhousie Mercantile Co., Ltd. The latter occupies the stand held during many years by George Haddow, ex-M.P. This business is now practically controlled by Mr. George E. Mercier, and Hon. C. H. LaBilloy. The present owners are improving their place and intend giving the town an up-to-date store in every way.

Considerable improvements have been made in Murphy's Hotel and the Baker and Quebec hotels are planning for new additions.

A large quantity of ornamental trees have been planted by several citizens and our town commissioners have commenced adding to the appearance of our wide streets by planting shade trees thereon. Sixty beautiful trees have been planted on Brunswick and Adelaide Streets, and it is the intention of the town commissioners to spend a small sum every year towards beautifying our streets.

The topic of conversation here in town matters is the resignation of Dr. A. G. Ferguson as one of the town commissioners. The Dr. was Chairman of the board and will be missed as he took a very active interest in advancing the best interest of the town. It is said that he did not agree with some of his friends re the water works system proposed, hence his resignation. A public meeting to elect a new commissioner will be held shortly and the water question will be then fully discussed.

There is some talk of contractor McMenus transferring his contract for the building of the Dalhousie Ballast Wharf to Roland Moffat, son of Geo. Moffat, ex-M.P. The amount of contract is $42,000 and the size of new wharf is 300x30.

At meetings held this week to select delegates to attend the convention of Acadians to be held at Caraquet, N. B., on the 15, 16 and 17 of August next, the following were elected from Restigouche County: Campbellton—J. T. Vautour, J. A. Stevin, John L. LeBlanc, Francis LeBlanc; Balmoral—Rev. Wheaton D. A. Arseneault, Ed. Bernard, Joseph Dappeau, and Thomas Savoy, Jr. Dalhousie—Hon. C. H. LaBilloy, Dr. N. Doucet, A. J. LeBlanc, Augustin Thibodeau, J. E. Gaudet.

The Convention will deal especially with educational and agricultural question.

Two of our carpenters are getting tired of town life notwithstanding that the town comfortable homes and are busy men. They have both purchased good farms at Lilly Lake and claim that if they work as hard on their farms as they work for others at their trade, with a good market as they will have

Four Meetings held in a Week. Much Business

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Gov't to be Asked to Complete Dredging Commenced Some Years Ago

Thursday evening May 25—Council called to order at 8.00. Present His Worship Mayor Murray, Councillors Blair, Ferguson, Taylor and Vautour. Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed.

His Worship read report of examiners appointed to examine the livery stables. Report adopted and licenses granted.

Coun Taylor chairman of the Water and Sewerage Committee, submitted report if this committee recommending the payment of a number of accounts.

Couns Blair of the Police and License Committee also submitted report which was adopted.

Coun Taylor read a report of the work done last year by the Water and Sewerage Committee, as follows:—

We beg to submit the following report of Water and Sewerage Department for the fiscal year of 1904.

Heavy and important work due to the exceedingly rapid growth of the town had to be contended with. The Sugar Loaf Street sewerage extension was of itself by the nature of the soil and its excep-at Campbellton, they will ultimately greatly benefit by the change.

News has reached here from Mr. Pottinger that repairs will be made at once to the I. C. R. Wharf. It is now dangerous and railway men fear that a heavy engine might go through it.

Our local members intend having the Road Superintendent of the lower and centre parishes in Restigouche County meet them at Henderson's Hotel, Charlottetown, in a few days to complete all arrangements about road and bridge repairs. On Monday at Campbellton, Superintendents M. G. Mann, Charles B. Gray, and James S. Cooling, discussed the new road act with Messrs LaBilloy and McLatchey and received full instructions for the repair of roads and bridges in Addington and Eldon.

Mr. Aiken of Halifax, N. S., has accepted a position here with the firm of Messrs A. & R. Loggie.

Miss Ida Campbell left here last week for Montreal where she will join her niece, Emma Campbell, and return to England.

Miss Ida DeBoo spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lambie.

Miss Jessop has returned to her home in Newport to spend a few weeks.

L. T. Jones of St. John is now the principal of the Dalhousie Superior School. He replaces Mr. McLean who has taken charge of the Grammar School at Richibucto.

Mr. Reginald Chaytor and his daughter Miss Chaytor have returned to their home at Point LaNim after spending a few months at their old home in England. They have received a hearty welcome from their many Restigouche friends.

INTERNATIONAL R.Y.

Work to be Resumed at Once.

(Special to Events)

FREDRICKTON, June 1—News has reached here that Thomas Malcolm has been successful in his railway demands at Ottawa and that work will be resumed on the International shortly under very favorable circumstances.

tion depth of eighteen feet in certain sections, quite an undertaking. The Dufferin Street Water and Sewerage extension, 1050 feet in length was completed by the end of November. Forty-eight new water services and thirty-one sewer services were laid last year. A public drinking fountain was also connected with the system.

The exceptional severity of the last two winters combined with an unusual scarcity of snow has occasioned a great deal of expense and inconvenience. We would strongly advise securing a transformer as a far less expensive way of thawing out some of our water services than that at present in use.

The large increase in water consumption due to sanitary fittings within the last three years combined with the requirements for fire protection has made it advisable to increase our reservoir capacity. Hydraulic Engineer Holt's services were secured and plans and reports for the erection of either a stone or concrete core dam were submitted. After a thorough investigation of the merits of this proposal the erection of a concrete core dam was decided upon. Work of clearing the land that would be submerged by the increased storage was immediately proceeded with. A depth of some six feet had to be excavated across the bed of the brook to reach suitable foundation bottom.

The exceedingly wet fall of last year combined with the scarcity of labor and the early heavy frost were disadvantages we had constantly to face. However, the work was carried through until a height of sixteen feet of a wall was reached, thereby providing a reserve far in excess of the old reservoir. It is with satisfaction that a recent examination disclosed the fact that although last winter was exceedingly severe and water low in all wells and brooks, the water has overflowed our spillway to this date.

Fully realizing the fact that most all figures concerning future requirements are always more or less of a speculative nature we feel quite safe in assuming as a basis the average yearly increase of services within last four years. Granting then an increase of fifty services a year for the next four or five years with all modern sanitary fittings as are commonly found in the average home we would strong-

ADMIRAL TOGO DEFEATS ROJESTVENSKY

Russia's Great Pacific Squadron Almost Annihilated.

Japs Sank Eleven Russian Vessels and Captured Seven Others; Besides Over Two Thousand Prisoners.

LONDON, May 29.—The Tokyo correspondent of the Daily Mail says that the Russian Fleet has been dispersed, that several Russian ships have been disabled, and that the remainder are in flight with the Japanese pursuing.

TIENTSIN, May 29.—There is a running naval engagement between the Russian and Japanese fleets in the Straits of Korea, near the Islands of Oki.—It is reported the whole Russian fleet is not participating, all the slower vessels having steamed around Japan. The Japanese losses so far are stated to be one cruiser and ten torpedo boats.

WASHINGTON, D. C. May 28.—The American Consul at Nagasaki cables state department that the Japanese have sunk one Russian battleship, four other warships and a repair ship in the Straits of Korea.

LONDON, May 29.—The correspondent of the morning Post at Shanghai says that a telegram has been received there from Peking announcing that Rojestvensky's fleet has been defeated off the Tsu Islands and is fleeing northward, and that four Russian ships, including the battleship Borodino, have been sunk.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—From information received in Washington today it is believed that two of the Russian ships, reported to have been sunk in the Korean Straits by the Japanese, and the Orel and her sister ship, the Borodino. They are battleships of 13,000 tons. Three other vessels reported sunk are believed to have been cruisers, the remaining one being a repair ship.

TOKYO, May 25, 2.15 p. m.—It is officially announced that Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet has been practically annihilated. Twelve warships have been sunk or captured and two transports and two torpedo boat destroyers have been sunk.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—A cablegram received here from America Minister Griscom at Tokio, dated this morning says that Admiral Togo is claiming a great victory. It says that Admiral Togo reports that the results of the fighting of the fleets Saturday afternoon and evening were one battleship of the Borodino class sunk and four other large vessels captured. All the large vessels of the Japanese fleet escaped injury.

TOKYO, May 29, 2.50 p. m.—In the battle fought Saturday in the Straits of Korea, the Russian battleship Borodino and Alexander III, the armored cruisers Admiral Kakhoff, Dmitri, Denskoï and Vladimir Monomach, the coast defence ironclad Admiral Oushakoff, the protected cruisers Sviatolana and Jemchug, the repairship Kamoshatka and the cruiser Irtssin were sunk. The battleships Orel and Nicolai I. and the coast defence ironclads Admiral Seniavin and General Admiral Apraxine were captured.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—An official telegram from Tokio states that Admiral Togo reports to his government that the total losses sustained by the Russian fleet Saturday and Sunday were: Two battleships, one coast defence armor clad, five cruisers, two special service ships and three destroyers, all sunk. In addition there were captured two battleships, two coast defence armor clads, one special service ship, one destroyer and over two thousand prisoners. Admiral Togo adds that the Japanese squadron was undamaged.

LONDON, May 29.—A despatch to the London Evening News says eight captains of Russian Warships were drowned during the naval battle of Saturday in the Straits of Korea.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Official announcement of the result of the naval engagement between the Japanese and Russian fleets was received at the state department today from Minister Griscom.

TOKYO, May 29.—Admiral Togo has informed his government concerning the fight which took place on Saturday afternoon and Saturday evening. According to his report the Japanese fleet under his command destroyed and sunk one battleship of the Borodino class and four other large warships. The other warships were captured. None of the Japanese men-of-war received serious injury. The battle was still in progress on Sunday. A great Japanese victory is announced here as the general result of the engagement, but few details have been received.

TOKYO, May 29, 3 p. m.—Rear Admiral Nebogatoff, former commander of the fourth division of the Pacific fleet and recently commander of the information squadron, composed of scouts and merchantmen, with 3,000 other Russians, is among the prisoners captured by the Japanese. Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky appears to have escaped. The battle began Saturday morning, and the Japanese are still in pursuit of the Russians.

New York, May 29.—Advices received from London and other leading continental financial centres by local bankers were all of the opinion that Japan's decisive victory would hasten peace.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—According to advices received by the navy department from Tokio the Japanese, in addition to the ships already named, captured the Russian battleships Sissoi Veliky and the Russian flag ship was seriously damaged.

St. Petersburg, May 29, 1.55 p. m.—At the admiralty this morning absolutely nothing was known of the naval battle in the Far East except the news contained in the despatches of the Associated Press. The general impression produced by the cable messages was undoubtedly extremely gloomy. While Admiral Rojostvensky was expected to pay the price for reaching his haven at Vladivostok the complete loss of two of his four best battleships besides several other warships with heavy damage to other ships which such havoc indicates is admitted to spell disaster unless the Russian fleet will be established is awaited with intense anxiety. The admiralty calculates that wireless communication with Vladivostok might be established so early as this afternoon or tonight, but as all despatches must first go to the Emperor the news is not likely to reach the public until tomorrow.

It is a matter of general comment that the most definite and most reliable information received up to the time the official announcement was sent out from Tokio by way of Washington. Some of the foreign press despatches were very confusing, but everything seems to indicate that Togo delivered a serious of desperate torpedo attacks during Saturday night with the support of his heavy ships. The reported sinking of so many ships it is believed, might also be partially due to mines sewn ahead of the advancing Russian columns. The belief is also strengthened that Rojostvensky was forced in order to secure homogeneity in speed fighting power to divide his fleet, only a single division passing the Straits of Korea, the other going around Japan, but the division probably included the pick of the Russian fleet, the Borodino and Orel being two of the four best battleships.

It is impossible that Admiral Rojostvensky transferred his flag from the battleship Kniaz Soursaoff to the Borodino to prevent concentration of the Japanese fire on his own ship. Captain Irebekinnikoff, of the Borodino, and Capt. Ignatieff, of the Orel, are regarded as extremely capable officers. Owing to the decision of the newspapers to suspend Monday publications, only telegrams are being printed on fly sheets. The Novoe Vremya alone comments editorially on the battle under the caption "The hour of fate has struck." The paper says: Russia has been reproached with putting too much trust in God, sending too many troops to the war and not enough men. The result is now, in the language of the Americans, "in the hands of the men behind the guns." We Russians will be patient until the full results are known. Black pessimism reigns among the public.

OUR ASSESSMENT

At the meeting of the council held last night the assessment for the present year was fixed. The amount to be raised this year is $18,000 or $2000 more than last year. The increase will go to most worthy purposes and we do not think that citizens will object to paying a little more in the way of taxes when they consider that many improvements are to be made and a sinking fund, for the purpose of redeeming debentures when due provided for.

The assessment was thoroughly discussed. Mr. Joudry chairman of the Public Property and streets committee had some difficulty in getting his full amount through but by a free use of the English language and an appeal to the council to "give him a chance" to have our streets and sidewalks put in better repair, the amount passed as recommended.

For the past fortnight or more the world has been anxiously watching the movement of the Russian fleet. Togo was somewhere. But that he was well informed as to the movements of the oncoming fleet is plainly seen. He knew when and where to strike, and he has been heard from. Once more the superiority of the Japanese navy has been demonstrated and Russia's hope of defeating Togo and getting the control of the sea has been destroyed.

DREADFUL DISASTER

French Fishing Vessel Missing, one Hundred and Ninety Men Perished

Sydney, N. S., May 30.—News of what is probably the worst fishing disaster of the year in which nearly two hundred lives have been lost, has been brought here by the French Cruiser Truade, which arrived yesterday. For the past week the Truade has been cruising about the Grand Banks in a vain search for the French fishing schooner Cousins Rennis which left France six weeks ago with a large quantity of supplies and one hundred and sixty men to replenish the St. Pierre fishing fleet. Failing to arrive at St. Pierre within the usual time occupied in such a passage, about three weeks, the authorities both at St. Pierre and in France became uneasy concerning the vessel's safety, and the government sent instructions to the Truade to commence a search for her. After cruising about the Grand Banks and the Newfoundland coast for a week, the cruiser could find no trace of the missing vessel and her officers decided that she had been sunk by iceberg or collision with some other vessel and went to the bottom with all hands—about one hundred and ninety men. The Cousins Rennis was a three-masted vessel of 128 tons net and was built at Advocate N. S., by A. C. Elberton in 1893.

Be it therefore resolved that the said office of assessors be and the same is hereby declared vacant and that appointments to fill vacancies be made forthwith.—Carried.

The mayor declared the office of Assessors for the town vacant.

The following were the appointed—From Ward One, Jas D Murray; Ward Two, D. C. Firih; Ward Three, Alex McLennan.

Moved by Coun Blair seconded by Coun Joudry and resolved that the Council memorialize the Dom Govt in conjunction with the Board of Trade asking that the dredge now in this port be authorized to complete all necessary dredging in the harbor of C'ton, between Camp ton and Pt. LeGarde before said dredge leaves this port. Carried.

Mayor Murray, chairman of Bye law Committee submitted the following—

To the Town Council of the Town of Campbellton,

Gentlemen—Your Committee on By-laws and Ordinances, of its own motion beg leave to propose the following By-Law, the object of which is to establish greater uniformity in the manner of issuing Town Licenses, and would recommend that the same do now pass and become law viz—

"A By-Law relating to the issuing of Licenses."

Be it enacted by the Town Council of the Town of Campbellton as follows—

All Licenses issued under the authority of the Act of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of New Brunswick, 51 Victoria, Chapter 81 and any and all Acts in amendment thereof, or in any way relating to the Town of Campbellton, or by virtue of any By-Law or By-Laws of the said Town shall be signed by the Mayor and Town Clerk, and shall bear the Corporate seal of the said Town, and a copy thereof be filed in the office of the said Town Clerk.

Anything inconsistent with or repugnant to this By-Law is hereby repealed.

Provided however that nothing herein contained shall interfere with or invalidate any licenses heretofore issued, or any contract or action at law now pending or that may hereafter be taken affecting said licenses or any Act or By-Law under which the same were issued

Moved by Coun Blackhall seconded by Coun Blair that the report be adopted and the above become law. Carried.

Council adjourned to meet Wednesday, May 31st

Wednesday Evening—Council called to order at 8.30. There were present His Worship Mayor Murray, Couns. Blair, Blackhall, Joudry, Miller, Taylor and Vautour.

Clerk read communication from Solicitor General and was instructed to reply to same.

Coun Taylor, chairman of Water and Sewerage committee submitted application of Wm W. Borden for refund of $2.67 water tax. Report received and adopted.

Moved by Coun Taylor, seconded by Coun. Blair that the Council go into a committee of the whole to consider the assessment. Coun. Miller was named chairman of committee of the whole and took the chair.

If Your Liver is Wrong You are Wrong all Over

A torpid, inactive liver goes hand in hand with constipation. Such a chronic condition requires a systematic effort to overcome it and establish good health and perfect body drainage. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills, containing the two needed elements to increase liver activity and muscular action go accurately to the sluggish liver and bowels, restoring them completely.

Suppose your bowels failed to move for a week or ten days. Don't you know you would be quickly "practised"? It is just the same, differing in degree, when your bowels do not move at least once a day. You know you soon become languid and tired, your blood gets bad and you feel mean and sick all over. You should have a full, healthy passage daily. Don't let serious conditions develop. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills will drive bowel poison out of your system and establish regularity. They are purely vegetable, and cure in one night. We will send you a generous sample of these pills absolutely free, sealed and postpaid, that will convince you beyond doubt of their wonderful curative properties. Address, W. F. The Gentleman From Indiana

By BOOTH TARKINGTON

Copyright, 1899, by Doubleday & McClure Co.
Copyright, 1902, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

The voice went on rapidly, not heeding him. "Ah, you needn't howl! Well, laugh away, you Indiana! If it hadn't been for this ankle—but it seems to be my chest that's hurt—and side—not that it matters, you know. The sophomore's just as good or better. It's only my egotism. Yes, it must be the side—and chest—and head—all over, I believe. I'll try again next year—next year I'll make it a daily. Helen said, not that I should call you Helen—I mean Miss-Miss-Flabbe-no, Sherwood—but I've always thought Helen was the prettiest name in the world—you'll forgive me—and please tell Parker there's no more copy and won't be—I wouldn't grind out another stick to save his immortal—she said—ah, I never made a good trade—no—unless— they can't come seven miles—but I'll finish you, Skillet, first; I know you! I know nearly all of you. Now let's sing 'Annie Lisle'— He lifted his hand as if to beat the time for a chorus.

"Oh, John, John!" cried Tom Meredith, and sobbed outright. "My boy, my boy—old friend!" The cry of the classmate was like that of a mother, for it was his old friend and hero who lay helpless and broken before him.

Two pairs of carriage lamps sparkled in front of the hospital in the earliest of the small hours, these subjoined to two deep hooded phaetons, from each of which quickly descended a gentleman with a beard, an air of eminence and a small, ominous black box, and the air of eminence was justified by the haste with which Meredith had sent for them and by their wide reputations. They arrived almost simultaneously and hastily shook hands as they made their way to the ward down the long hall and up the narrow corridor. They had a short conversation with the surgeon and a word with the nurse, then turned the others out of the room by a practiced intimation of manner. They stayed a long time in the room without opening the door.

Meredith went out on the steps and breathed the cool night air. A slender tint of drugs hung everywhere about the building, and the almost imperceptible permeation sickened him. It was deadly, he thought. To him it was infused with a hideous portent of suffering. The lights in the little ward were turned up, and they seemed to shine from a chamber of horrors, while he waited as a brother might have waited outside the incineration, if indeed a brother would have been allowed to wait outside the incineration.

Alas, he had found John Harkless. He had lost track of him as men sometimes do lose track of their best beloved, but it had always been a comfort to know that Harkless was somewhere, a comfort without which he could hardly have got along. Like others, he had been waiting for John to turn up—on top, of course—he had such ability, ability for anything, and people would always care for him and believe in him so that he would be shored up no matter how much he hung back himself; but Meredith had not expected him to turn up in Indiana.

He remembered now hearing a man who had spent the day in Plattville on business speak of him: "They've got a young fellow down there who'll be governor in a few years. He's a sort of dictator. Runs the party all over that part of the state to suit his own sweet will just by sheer personality. And there isn't a man in the district who wouldn't cheerfully lie down to be trampled to let him pass over dry. It's that young Harkless, you know. Owns the Herald, the paper that owned McCune and smashed those 'White Caps' in Carlow county. He had been struck by the coincidence of the case, but he had not dreamed of the Carlow Harkless was his friend until Helen's telegram had reached him that evening.

He shivered. His name was spoken from within, and Horner came out on the steps with the two eminent surgeons, and the latter favored him with a few words which he did not understand. He did understand, however, what Horner told him. Somehow the look of the sheriff's Sunday coat, wringing forcibly from his broad, bent shoulders, was both touching and solemn. He said simply: "He's conscious and not out of his head. They're gone in to get his antemortem statement."

And they re-entered the ward.

Harkless' eyes were bandaged. The lawyer was speaking to him, and as Horner went awkwardly toward the cot Warren said something indicative of the sheriff's presence, and the hand on the sheet made a formless motion which Horner understood, and he took the pale fingers in his own very gently and set them back. Smith turned toward Meredith, but the latter made a gesture which forbade the attorney to speak to him and went to a corner and sat down, with his head in his hands.

"John, it is you!"

A sleepy young man had been brought in, and he opened a notebook and shook a stylographic pen so that the ink might flow freely. The lawyer, briefly and with unalloyed agitation, administered an oath, and then there was silence.

"Now, Mr. Harkless, if you please," said Barrett indignantly, "if you feel like telling us as much as you can about it."

He answered in a low, rather indistinct voice very deliberately, pausing before almost every word. It was easy work for the sleepy stenographer.

"I understand. I don't want to go off my head again before I finish. If it were only for myself I should tell you nothing, because I am the lawyer, briefly and with unalloyed agitation, administered an oath, and then there was silence.

"Now, Mr. Harkless, if you please," said Barrett indignantly, "if you feel like telling us as much as you can about it."

on parole it was over, and I can swear to quite a number besides those I told you."

He named the men slowly and carefully. Then he went on: "I think they gave up the notion of whipping. We all got into a bunch, and they couldn't get clear to shoot without hitting some of their own, and there was a lot of gouging and kicking. One fellow nearly got my left eye, and I tried to tear him apart, and he screamed a good deal. Once or twice I thought I might get away, but somebody hammered me over the head and face again, and I got dizzy, and then they all jumped away from me suddenly, and Bob Skillet stepped up and—and shot me. He waited for a flurry of lightning, and I was slow tumbling down. Some one else fired a shotgun. I think I can't be sure, about the same time from the side. I tried to get up, but I couldn't, and then they got together for a consultation. The man I had hurt—I didn't recognize him—came and looked at me. He was nursing himself all over and groaned, and I laughed, I think; at any rate my arm was lying stretched out on the grass, and he stamped his heel into my hand, and after a little of that I quit feeling.

"I'm not quite clear about what happened afterward. They went away—not far, I think. There's an old shed, a cattle shelter, near there, and I think the storm drove them under it to wait for a slack. It seemed a long time. Sometimes I was conscious, sometimes I wasn't. I thought I might be drowned, but I suppose the rain was good for me. Then I remember being in a dazed and carried a long way. They carried me up a steep, short slope and set me down near the top. I knew that was the railroad embankment, and I thought they meant to lay me across the track, but it didn't occur to them—they are not, familiar with melodrama—and a long time after that I felt and heard a great banging and rattling under me and all about me, and it came to me that they had disposed of me by hoisting me into an empty freight car. The odd part of it was that the car wasn't empty, for I already knew that it was there. I knew them by what they said to me.

"They were the two men that cheated Hartley Bowdler, and they weren't vindictive. They even seemed to be trying to help me a little, though perhaps they were only stealing my clothes, and maybe they thought for them to do anything unpleasant would be superfluous. I could see that they thought I was done for and that they had been hiding in the car when I was put there. I asked them to try to call the railroad men for me, but they wouldn't. I don't think I could make myself understood. That's all. The rest is a blur. I haven't known anything more until those surgeons were here. Please tell me how long ago it happened. I shall not die, I think. There are a good many things I want to know about."

He moved restlessly, and the nurse soothed him.

Meredith rose and left the room with a useless step. He went out to the stars again and looked to them to check the storm of rage and sorrow that buffeted his bosom. He understood lynchings, now the thing was home to him, and his feeling was no inspiration of a fear lest the law miscarry. It was the itch to get his own hand on the rope. Horner came out presently and whispered a long, broad, profound curse upon the men of the Crossroads, and Meredith's gratitude to him was keen. Barrett went away soon after, and Meredith had a strange, unreasonable desire to kick Barrett, possibly for his sergeant's sake. Warren Smith sat in the ward with the nurse and Gay, and the room was very quiet. It was a long vigil. They were only waiting.

At 5 o'clock he was still alive—just that, Smith came out to say. Meredith sent a telegram to Helen which would give Plattville the news that Harkless was found and was not yet gone from them. Horner left for the station to catch a train. There were things for him to do in Carlow. At noon Meredith sent a second telegram to Helen as barren of detail as the first. He was alive; was a little improved. But this telegram did not reach her, for she was on the way to Roken, and half of the population of Carlow—at least so it seemed to the unhappy conductor of the accommodation—was with her.

They seemed to feel that they could keep in the hospital and be fed and cared for, and they were an incalculable worry to the authorities. More came on every train, and nearly all brought flowers and jelly and chickens for preparing broth, and they insisted that the two latter delicacies be fed to the patient at once. They were still in ignorance of the truth about the Crossroads and spent the day (it was Sunday) partly in settling in the sun at the attendants and partly in planning an assault upon the Roken jail for the purpose of lynching Skillet in case Harkless' condition did not improve at once. Those who had heard his statement kept close mouths until the story appeared in full in the Roken papers on Monday morning. But by that time every member of the Crossroads White Caps was lodged in the Roken jail with Skillet. Horner and a heavily armed posse rode over to the muddy corners on Sunday night, and the sheriff discovered that he might have taken the Skillet and Johnsons single handed and unarmed. Their nerve was gone. They were shaken and afraid, and, to employ a figure somewhat inappropriate to their sullen, glad surrender, they fell upon his neck in their relief at finding the law touching them. They had no wish to hear "John Brown's Body" again. They wanted to get inside of a strong jail and to throw themselves in. And a strange thing had happened—those whom Harkless had not recognized made no delay in giving themselves up. They did not wish to remain in Six Crossroads. Bob Skillet, Force Johnson and one or two others needed the care of a physician badly, and one man was suffering from a severely wrenched back. Horner had a train stopped at a crossing so that his prisoners need not be taken through Plattville, and he brought them all safely to Roken.

"I set my back to the fence."

It took nearly a week to persuade the people of Plattville that it was better for them to go home, and it was only the confidence inspired by the manner of the two eminent surgeons (they lay in wait at all hours to interview these gentlemen) that did persuade them to return—this and the promise of two daily bulletins.

As many of them said on their return, Plattville didn't "feel like the same place," and a strange thing had happened—for the first time in five years the Carlow County Herald missed fire altogether. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday passed. Mr. Flabbe only sat staring out of the dingy office windows with Parker in a demented silence. There was no Herald; there was no one to get it out.

In the Roken hospital John Harkless feebly moved on the bed of pain. His constant delusion was that the universe was a vast, white heated brass ball and he a point at the center of it, listening, listening for years, to the brazen hum it gave off and burning in hot waves of sound.

Finally he came to what he would have considered a head interval had it not appeared that Helen Sherwood was whispering to Tom Meredith at the foot of his bed. This he knew to be a delicious presentation of his fever, for was she not by this time away and away for foreign lands? And also Tom Meredith was a slim young thing and not a middle aged youth with an undeniable stomach and a baldish head who by the preposterous enormity of fever assumed a grotesque likeness of his old friend. He waved his hand to the figures, and they vanished like figures of a dream; but, all the same, the vision had been realistic enough for the lady to look exquisitely pretty. No one could help wishing to stay in a world which contained as charming a picture as that.

But the next night Meredith waited near his bedside, haggard and disheveled. Harkless had been lying in a long stupor. Suddenly he spoke, quite feebly, and the young surgeon, Gay, who leaned over him, remembered the words and the tone all his life.

"Away—and away—across the water," said John Harkless. "She was here—once—June."

"What is it, John?" whispered Meredith huskily. "You're feeling easier, aren't you?"

And John smiled a little, as if, for the moment, he saw and knew his old friend again.

That same night a friend of Rodney McCune's sent a telegram from Roken: "He is dying. His paper is dead. Your name goes before convention in September."

LINDSAY'S SERMONETTE.

Spiced With Anecdotes from the Wilds of New Brunswick.

(Rochester, N. Y., Post.)

Rochester sportsmen had called in number on Alexander H. Lindsay, of St. John, N. B., and had asked many a question regarding the display of sporting trophies from the hunting grounds and great fishing streams of Eastern Canada. Mr. Lindsay had said many things, and Mr. Barton, his companion, had also talked.

It was all over for the day. The wonders of the Intercolonial Railway, owned by the Dominion of Canada, the speed of its trains, the magnificence of its scenery through Quebec. New Brunswick and Nova Scotia had been extolled, and now Mr. Lindsay with a few friends and a representative of The Post Express sat in the rotunda of the Powers Hotel to chat of Sport in the Muskoka region, Maine, New Brunswick and other places. There were stories told—stories which would have been even better across the campfire.

After some remarks Mr. Lindsay regarded the ceiling with speculative eye and smiled gently to himself. "What you say is true," he said at length, "the greatest moose and caribou country of the day is to be found in New Brunswick, my own province, but sometimes other sport than expected is got there by the jolly, happy, easy-tenderfoot. It's an interesting country with a sense of humor and appreciation of a joke.

"Former Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, a democrat, and a thorough sportsman, enjoyed the Canadian province, and indeed died there unexpectedly on one of annual trips. He was short sighted and a little incident of his first visit taught him much and caused his famous assertion that the three greatest liars on earth lived in Fredericton, N. B., and that one of them is Jack E. Edwards, and Fred Coleman was the other two.

"The governor had reason for

INTERESTING LETTER

WRITTEN BY A NOTABLE WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg, of Denver, Color
Bearing of the Women's Better Corps,
Sends Thanks to Mrs. Pinkham.

The following letter was written by Mrs. Kellogg, of 1628 Lincoln Ave., Denver, Colo., to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.:

"For five years I was troubled with a tumor, which kept me in great mental depression. I was unable to attend to my house work, and life became a burden to me. I was confined for days to my bed, lost my appetite, my courage and all hope. I could not bear to think of an operation, and in my distress I tried every remedy which I thought would be of any use to me, and reading of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to sick women decided to give it a trial. I felt so discouraged that I had little hope of recovery and when I began to feel better, after the second week, thought it only meant temporary relief, but to my great surprise I found that I kept gaining, while the tumor lessened in size.

"The Compound continued to build up my general health and the tumor seemed to be absorbed, until, in seven months, the tumor was entirely gone and I a well woman. I am so thankful for my recovery that I ask you to publish my letter in newspapers, so other women may know of the wonderful curative powers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such trouble.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Health is too valuable to risk in experiments with unknown and untried medicines or methods of treatment. Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

this. For two days he had chased a couple of Jersey calves through a back pasture, firing at them occasionally with blank cartridges. He later discovered that this hunt had been arranged in detail for his special benefit by Mr. Coleman. Mr. Russell, however, got all the sport he wanted after that.

"A guide I know has told me time and again of the way the wise ones attempted to play an almost similar joke on a tourist. Everitt, Mass., who found himself delayed for a few hours in Stanley and very naturally thought he would while away the time by killing a moose. He was one of those charming gentlemen who rake everything regarding themselves for granted and the fact that he wanted a moose was pretty nearly sufficient for him. He was listened to seriously, and after a couple of old sports had winked at one another a few times he was directed to a pasture land back of the little town and a sure that there he would get what he wanted.

"The natives held their hands to their sides till he was out of sight and then metaphorically fell into one another's arms and roared. But by some sort of luck the Everitt man struck a mud pond and in it were a fine bull moose, a cow and a calf. The antlers on the bull were fine, and the jokers assisted the proud hunt-men with his kill. They never told the story; it was the boasts of the tourist which gave the thing away. They don't tell this story even now; but it's true.

"Now don't think," said Mr. Lindsay, pointing a finger, "that I suggest that every farmer in New Brunswick has extra heavy fences to keep moose from eating his cabbage and all that sort of thing. I don't mean to give that impression at all. But they are so numerous that it is a fact that a cow moose last summer walked calmly into the city of St. John, right on the streets. It is a great gain country all along the lines of the Intercolonial, but it is the very best moose land in the world, bar none better than Maine.

"Coming through from the East I have found most people of the opinion that Maine is the real home of the moose, but the hunter of 1904 went farther; and the hunter of 1905 and coming years will cross the line also, where there is better chance of getting game, preferring to pay $30 to New Brunswick than the $15 license tax in Maine. Why we get the Maine hunters, men of Bangor, Portland and other parts of the big state. They prefer our grounds to their own.

"Now the shop is closed friends, the dairy blind, at 53 Main street east are down for the night and hide the exhibits of bears, moose, caribou, salmon and trout which a beneficial Canadian government has sent as samples for the eyes of Rochester hunters and fishermen and you can't see the array of magnificent photos which display our scenery. So I am not talking Intercolonial Railway to you—not a word about the People's railroad, longest and best government owned line in the world the Siberian excepted. I'm only whispering in your ear that when you want game and want it big and quick come down and see us.

"That is where the East has the call, A man—as your Chamber of Commerce secretary, Mr. Ives and his friend, C. S. Clark, discovered last year—going there does not have to tramp or canoe away back into the wilds from the railroad to get into the moose lands. He is dropped near them, a few miles from Bathurst or Newcastle and he is on hunting grounds, and while the Maine guide is good, I believe the New Brunswick guide is the best in the world.

"It is these advantages which are giving us Maine sportsmen and others who years ago thought Ontario end Maine the only spots on earth for big game. They find it cheaper to pay the Canadian province $30 than give Maine $15 when the chances of getting a moose are so much better and expenses are so much lighter. Time is always valuable.

"Yes, there are bears. Of course there are bears good, big, black fellows if you want them. Your question reminds me of a story told me by one of our New Brunswick guides who was once out with a Boston man who knew more about horse racing than hunting. They were up in the famous Bald mountain region, and by a tree near a thicket they saw two bear cubs, at play. Just as they got the cubs, old mother bear came crashing through the thicket. Both men ran, the guide in the lead. The Bostonian was a trifle fat. Run man. Run faster, screamed the guide, 'Say, pant-d the Bostonian, do you think I'm trying to throw this race at you?' 'Ah well, you do find the people differing some along the Intercolonial. French in Quebec, English Scotch and Irish in New Brunswick and down through Eastern Nova Scotia and Cape Breton Highland Scotchmen with the Gaelic. If I've laughed once I've laughed a hundred times at the yarn of Rory, who went into a bear hole after cubs, while Donald stood outside. The old bear came and Donald dodged. As she was going inside the hero caught her by the stub tail and planting his feet pulled for dear life. Soon we heard a complaining voice from within. 'Donald, Donald, what are you putting out the light for, whatever? 'Huh, Rory man,' grunted Donald, it's you that'll know what's pitting out the light in a minute—when this tail breaks'.

The Great Sells & Downs United Shows will exhibit in Campbellton June 6th giving two performances. From a look at the array of talent that SELLS & DOWNS have engaged for this season it would seem that they have made the effort of their lives to give the public performance superior to any that has ever been given. They will present the famous Pontiac Zouaves, 27 in number, the finest drilled soldiers in the world, and Capt. Winston's educated Seals and Sea Lions. These mild-eyed denizens of the mighty deep are trained to play upon musical instruments—guitars, drums and cymbals—fire off guns, drill like soldiers, ply base ball, and many other astonishing feats, and to cap the climax they are taught to sing solos, all joining in the chorus, "A home in the deep blue sea." To them not a meaningless melody, but a touching ballad, awakening thoughts of home and kindred, that these Seals seem to understand.

Besides these two great acts they have the greatest acrobats and finest riders and funniest clowns. Sells & Downs seem to recognize that the public are demanding a great deal for their money, and they are giving more than the public expect. They have a menagerie made up of the rarest and finest wild beasts from all parts of the world.

A MILLION DOLLARS For Agricultural College in Quebec

Montreal, May 27.—That the government of Quebec is to establish an agricultural college in the near future at a cost of nearly a million dollars was the announcement made in this city by O. Dilaire, who has been engaged by the government to give a series of lectures on agriculture throughout the province. He greatly deplored the apathy existing in the schools towards the teaching of agriculture.

Are You in the Rush and Bustle?

While we join in the rush and bustle of this busy world, overtaxing our energies and making our systems, many of us are morally culpable of reckless disregard of bodily strength and fitness. Then perhaps the health breaks down, and we seem doomed to long periods of pain and depression. Our whole life is darkened.

OCEAN LIMITED

First Train Scheduled for June 4th

In view of the splendid success which attended the initiation last year via the Intercolonial Railway of a fast train service between Halifax, St. John, Prince Edward Island and other Eastern points Montreal and the West, it has been decided that the "Ocean Limited" will again be placed on the summer time table for the tourist season of 1905, and on June 4th, this fine train will make its initial trip for this year.

It may be safely said that no train on the continent of America is a greater favorite with tourists and other travellers than the Ocean Limited. It has proved to be, and as an appreciation of this service and magnificently appointed dining and sleeping cars have, during the past months, been constructed for this service. All modern improvements known to expert car-builders are included in these coaches, and the well known civility and attention on the part of the train men, which is always a noticeable feature on the Intercolonial trains, will be in evidence.

It is proposed that the train will leave Halifax, daily except Sunday at 8.10, and St. John at 11.00 o'clock, arriving at Montreal at 7.15 where, for the benefit of travellers from the Maritime Provinces who are going west, connection is made in Bonaventure Leptot (the same station at which the "Ocean Limited" arrives, thus avoiding transfers), with the Grand Trunk "International Limited", arriving at Toronto 4.80 p. m., which only one night on the road and the most comfortable train service to be found anywhere.

En route most beautiful scenery delights the eye of passengers, such as the lovely Wentworth and Matapedia Valleys, the magnificent rivers of the North Shore of New Brunswick, and the blue waters of the Baie de Chaleur, the charms of which will linger in the traveller's mind.

Just What Everybody should Do

Mr. J. T. Barber of Irwinville, Ga., always keeps a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand ready for instant use. Attacks of colic, cholera morbus and diarrhoea remedy at hand ready for instant use. Attacks of colic, cholera morbus and diarrhoea come on so suddenly that there is no time to hunt a doctor or go to the store for medicine. Mr. Barber says: "I have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which is one of the best medicines I ever saw. I keep a bottle of it in my room as I have had several attacks of colic and it has proved to be the best medicine I ever used." Sold by all druggists.

OBITUARY

The many friends of Mr. M. L. Hutton were sorry to hear of his death on Wednesday evening, April 12th at his home at 305 21st avenue, for while Mr. Hutton had not been well for a long time, none expected the end was so near. "Mike," as he was familiarly known in Seattle, has lived here for the last 16 years, and leaves many friends to bear testimony of his excellent character. He began business with the firm known as Buchanan & Sons, then as Buchanan & Brooks, and later as the Pacific Wagon Co., having control of the painting department for 11 years, after which he entered the employ of the city, where he remained until his illness. Mr. Hutton was born and grew to

How Pneumonia Starts

You catch a little cold today, to-morrow it has reached the throat, next day the lungs are affected and you wish you had used "Catarrhozone" which kills colds in five minutes. In the first place Catarrhozone soothes the irritated membranes and relieves congestion, then it cuts out the phlegm and destroys the germs. It enables the blood to retain a natural supply of oxygen, lung-food and vitality. In any cough, bronchitis or lung affection it's guaranteed to positively cure. Decline any substitute for "Catarrhozone."

His funeral on Sunday last from the immaculate Conception Church on 18th avenue, was under the auspices of Home Camp No 236, W. O. Mr. Hutton leaves to mourn his loss, a wife and three children aged 4, 11, and 13 years.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

As we have no summer vacation do not divide into terms, and the instruction given is mostly individual.

We do not find it convenient to give a summer vacation, as many of our students are far from home, and would be seriously inconvenienced by an interruption of their work.

Besides St. John's summer weather is so cool that a vacation is not necessary.
