The Bryant crossing of the C. P. R was the scene of a terrible tragedy on Sat-tirday evening by which Wesley R. Warner and his two daughters were hurled into eternity. The victims of the tragedy had been in the city attending the market and were crossing the railway track when they were struck by the eastern-bound tassenger train, which is due in this city at 5:25 p. m. leavored to cross in front of the train will never be known. The engine struck the tragon fairly on the whifletrees and MILLED THE THREE OCCUPANTS OUTRIGHT. The collision threw the unfortunate victims against the smoke box of the engine, which in turn pitched them a distance of twenty yards upon the bank at the right hand side of the track. The horses were also killed instantaneously, being thrown on the opposite side of the track, while the wagon was reduced to splinters. The engine was reversed and the air brakes applied, but

him but a few hours before on the market.

THE ENGINE DRIVER'S STORY.

The train which struck the Warner family's wagon with such fearful results was in charge of Conductor Thompson, with Thomas Rutledge, of this city, as driver. To a reporter Mr. Rutledge said: "I cannot understand how it happened. Even the second whistle should have saved him. I had the first signal sounded at about the resual distance of 400 yards, and again just efore we came upon the crossing. There is a little rise in the ground at the crossing and when I first saw the danger Warner's lorses were just at the side of the track, a unother instant the engine was upon hem and all was over. When we had run ack the body of the father was found on the hillside, the older girl's body was in se ditch, while the younger child lay close the rails."

THE CORONER NOTIFIED.
On the arrival of the train the railway othorities immediately notified Coroner Smith. As an inquest was deemed necessary he empaneled the following jury: Messrs. Walter Bartlett (foreman). Harry Bapty, Michael Donoine, John Goble, Thomas Whittaker, William Mason, William McGuffin, P. A. O'Dell, William awkins, William Wyatt, James Perkins, L. Yerex, James Liddell, C. D. Johnson, Mitcheltree, G. W. Pitt and Alfred Davis. The jurors met at the morgue on Sunday morning, and after viewing the bodies adjourned until Wednesday evening.

THE MEDICAL EXAMINATION was made by Dr. W. J. Mitchell after the deliberations of the jury, who prepared herefrom the following report:

Maggie L. Warner, 9 years old. Injuries-Fracture of the skull; injury over the right portion of the frontal bone; compound fracture of the humerus; injury of the left elbow joint. Cause of death, injury to the brain.

Hundreds of citizens made their way to the fatal crossing yesterday and carried off portions of the smashed wagon, bits of the harness and other memonics of the disaster. The C. P. St. officials placed a special train at the disposal of the coroner's jury at 3 o'clock Sunday afternon, and the jurymen, accompanied the railway officials went out to the crossing. The first objects that met the gaze of the dead horses which lay against the carcasses cance on the left side, where they and been thrown by the locomotive. Just at the other side of the crossing is a twenty-foot cutting. The bank on either side is steep, and would prevent any one from seeing an approaching train until within twenty feet of the rails. The approach to the crossing is of a rising nature, the highest point being reached about a wagon's length from the track. The fence guarding the approach to the track, which was demolished by the flying horses, had been rebuilt and its presence puzzled many to account for the position of the animals inside of it. To give the jurors an idea of the crossing the train was backed up the grade for several yards, and after a warning whistle was run over the crossing. A brief inspection of the surroundings comploted the afternoon's work, and the jury again boarded the train and were conveyed back to the city. At the depot Foreman Bartlett moved a vote of thanks to the C. P. R. officials for their kindness in placing the train at the disposal of the jury as well as for their cheerful assistance in helping the jurors to arrive at a proper conclusion with respect to the accident.

Mr. Warner was an expect weeken of twenty yards upon the bank at the horses were also killed instantaneously, being thrown on the opposite side of the track, while the wagon was reduced to splinters. The engine was reversed and the air brakes applied, but too LATE.

All that remained of the home-returning trio was the three dead bodies, which, in view of the terror-stricken passengers, were picked up, placed side by stide in the aggage car, and covered with blankets and iffalo robes. The news of the calamity traveled almost as fast as the speeding train, so that when it backed into the siding 4-bit city depot, the number of spectators was swelled by a large crowd who visited to satisfy their morbid curiosity by azing at the bruised and mangled remains of the victims. They occasioned the rail asy officials no end of trouble until the rpses were conveyed to Ferguson's lorgue.

The VICTIMS IDENTIFIED.

While the dead bodies were lying on the saggage truck soveral farmers identified them. Warner was a well-to-do farmer, about 51 years of age. He was well known in the city, and many of those who looked with sorrow on his mangled remains had seen him but a few hours before on the market.

DETROIT, March 21.—Joseph Perrien, the widely known citizen who was kidnapped from his home, Catharine street, at 10 o'clock Thursday evening, has got back. He states he was handcuffed and blindfolded by his captors, and has no idea where he was taken. Last night his captors drove him a long distance in a vehicle, still blindfolded, and set him down in an unfamiliar part of the city whence he ultimately found his way home.

MANISTEE, Mich., March 21.—Sheriff Tomlin had been suspicious that John Salmonsen, sentenced on Monday to state prison for life, would attempt to commit suicide. The closest watch of him was found that be had torn his handkerchief into four pieces and knotted them together with a slip-noose at the end. Yesterday morning when his cell was opened and he was ordered to arise and prepare for his ride to Jackson, he passed out of the cell, walked to the end of the corridor, ran as fast as he could and dashed his head against the stone wall, stunning himself and badly bruising his head. He was handcuffed and carried to the train, crying aloud the entire distance—nearly a mile.

BEATEN TO DEATH!

Fatal Fight Between Neighbors at Strathroy.

William Rowe Charged with the Murder

STRATHROY, Ont., March 23.—Saturday afternoon a most melancholy affair occurred on the town line between Caradoc and Metcalfe, about six miles from this town, by which a young man lost his life at the hands of a neighbor and relative. As far as can be learned at present an old feud had existed between Robert Murray of lot 1, con. 13, Metcalfe, and Wm. O. Rowe, of lot 2, on the same concession, over some Government drain that runs through their joint properties. Saturday afternoon, as Mr. Rowe was talking to Mr. Herrington at the corner of the townline and the 13th concession of Metcalfe, Robt. Murray and his wife drove up on their way home from Strathroy, and with an oath Murray said to Rowe that if he did not get out of the way he would ride him down. This he did, running over Rowe and throwing him in the ditch. Blows followed, in which it is said that both used clubs, Rowe apparently getting the worst of it, and had to be helped to his home, some half a mile distant.

Word was subsequently brought to

as an old standing quarrel.

The melancholy affair has cast a gloom over Strathroy and the entire neighborhood, as both deceased and accused were highly respected by their friends and neighbors.

A MUSICAL STROLL.

Recent Events Canvassed by a Musical Correspondent.

The Latest Popular Melodies at the Stores.

My last "stroll" dealt largely with the "Canadian Society of Musicians," endoavoring to explain its object and extend its influence. There has lately arisen a point of discussion which I think it well to mention. Many members are of opinion that the chief point of attraction at the annual conventions should be the music. By this I mean really good music—nusic that can be appreciated by the members and also by the general public. The concerts of the convention are like any other concerts, convention are like any other concerts, inasmuch as the public can pay the usual prices and attend them; therefore it is undoubtedly the best policy musically and financially to secure the very best attractions that can be afforded. It is, I believe, conceded by all who have belonged to the C. S. M. from its inauguration, that we in London, at the third convention, gave the best musical programmes. All who took part in them naturally feel honcred, although we do not hesitate to admit that the Detroit Philharmonic Club was the chief attraction. I think all who may be inclined to become members of the C. S. M. may be pretty certain that a programme of really fine music will be provided at the next (December) convention in Toronto.

vided at the next (December) convention in Toronto.

The concert season is growing brisker and more brisk. The first appearance of Mrs. Agnes Thomson in this city was greeted with a very good audience, as all know. Many were charmed, and some were disappointed. When a flourish of trumpets precedes an artist, expectation is generally beyond realization, at least with those who know anything and have heard much.

NEW MUSIC.

The following has been received from the Anglo-Canadian Music Publishing Association, Toronto:

1. "Thoughts and Tears," by Hope Temple (compass E flat to F)—This is one of the most charming songs I have seen for some time. The composer has most effectually entered into the spirit of the sweet sad verses by Clifton Biugham.

2. "Remember," by Stanley Forbes (published in three keys)—Very melodious, and with a specially beautiful refrain, not in the conventional waltz measure.

3. "Gladsome Tidings," by Frederick Bevan (in two keys)—A good descriptive song of the "Storm at Sea" species; with some very tender touches introduced. A sure road to popularity lies in the fact that both voice part and accompaniment are simple.

4. "In Sylvan Glade," by Walter W. Hedgeeck—A remarkably quaint soprane song, both verses and music being of the most "taking" kind. Specially good as an most "taking" kind. Speciarly governer song.

5. "The Stars of June," by F. Allitsen, a mezzo-soprano or baritone song with a pretty undulating accompaniment, which well depites beating on the river.

6. "Ah! Well-a-Day!" by Mrs. Arthur Goodeve (in three keys)—Will doubtless be as popular as the same composer's "Fiddle and I," to which it is, in my opinion, very superior, having a far sweeter melody.

STRENGTH VITALITY

Gentlemen: I now wish to bear my testimony to the magic powers of Histogenetic Medicines in the cure of Lung disease. Three yearsago I had a severe attack of intermittent fever, which shook my constitution very seriously, especially my lungs, liver and bronchial tubes. A year ago I took la grippe, which left me in a bad condition. I had a very bad cough and profuse expectoration. Could not sleep for coughing and pain in my lungs. I had night sweats and other evidences of a destructive process going on in my system. All I took and did, including cod liver oil and other consumptive remedies, did me no permanent good. I finally became 'discouraged, and realized that consumption would soon carry me off unless some unusual treatment was brought into use inmy case. Igot worse, and still worse, until about the middle of December last, when I noticed an advertisement the Toronto worse, until about the middle of December las when I noticed an advertisement the Toron-papers giving the testimonials of a man name Hoperoft having been cured of consumption also the testimony of another Toronto citize papers giving the testimonials of a man named Hopcroft having been cured of consumption, also the testimony of another Toronto citizen named Sinclair cured of bronchitis with Histogenetic Medicines. I consulted Dr. Rear, the medical dxaminer of the Association. He was positive after a careful examination of my condition that Histogenetic Medicines perseveringly taken would effect at least anarrest of the disease, and very probably a radical cure. I commenced treatment at once and began to gain rapidly, when unfortunately I took a severe cold, but persevered with the treatment, and was soon better than usual again. I have rapidly improved till my cough, expectoration, pain and night sweats are entirely gone. I have gamed more since commencing the treatment than I had cet during my filness (fifteen pounds). In fact, I weigh five pounds more than I have for years. I am able now to follow my usual employment all day and feel splendid. The action of thege beautifully prepared, tasteless medicines is miraculous and permanent, and they leave no injurious effects. I wish in this testimony to tender my hearty thanks and also chose of my now happy wife to the Histogenetic Association for the deep interest they took in my case, which has resulted, through God, in my life being saved when all else failed. I shall gladly answer any inquiries concerning the facts in my case.

Yours truly.

The Hospital Trust Will bake Out Its Own Estimates $9,000 Required. The Hospital Trust will same out its Own Estimates—$9.000 Required.

The communication from the Finance Committee to the Board of Hospital Trustees, requesting that an itemized estimate of the year's expenses be submitted to them, caused quite a ripple of oxcitement at Friday's meeting of the Trust.

Chairman Lewis was the first to, assert the independence of the Trust. "It is absurd," he said, "to ask us to comply with such a request. Are we not expable of making out our own estimates? We hold ourselves responsible to the citizens and not to the aldermen for our actions."

Trustee Complin spoke in the same strain: "The estimates had been referred to a committee," he explained, "and the committee considered that $9,000 was necessary."

committee considered that $9,000 was necessary."
Trustee Gilmour supported the finding of the committee. He had no objection to having the work of the Trust inspected, but he had a decided objection to allowing anybody to play with the figures arrived at by the committee, and thus go all over the work. Such a procedure, he maintained, would not be business-like.

Chairman Lewis replied that if the committee saw fit it might reduce the estimates from $5,000 to $4,000, but that would not lessen the cost of maintaining the institution.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

As Seen by Bradstreet's Special Correspondents.

New York, March 21.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's do not point to a more active distribution of staples throughout the country than provailed in the preceding week or in a corresponding period a year ago. The volume of general business at most points is generally favorable, moderately active or fairly satisfactory. Some clothing manufacturers find their spring trade not up to earlier expectations. Lumber is in better demand in the East. Snow in the Northwest will fill the streams and help the logging industry. Iron is in slightly better demand. Anthracite coal is no firmer, efforts at restricted production being a failure. Frices will probably be lower next month. Hog products are firmer and higher in price. Hog and cattle receipts at Western markets have not equaled the demand, and prices are up 10 cents to 15 cents. Sugar inclines lower.

Money markets very generally remain easy and rates unchanged. In regions where the crops are short discounts are extended with special caution. Mercantile collections generally are not fully satisfactory. Foreign exchange tends upwards, pointing to gold exports, which are not unusual at this season. Share speculation at New York is depressed and dull on $2,375,000 gold shipments this week and the absence of interest or support.

Drygoods are in fair demand, but do not move freely. Prices of cottons are firm, but print cloths are again selling below $3 cents. Brown and bleached cottons move slowly. Cheap worsteds sell well. Wool has been quiet, with prices unchanged. The outlook for foreign wool is for lower prices, as the offerings at London will be heavy.

Indian corn has shown surprising strength, advancing 3 cents on increased home and foreign demand, low stocks in and out of farmers' hands and increased demand reacted on freer receipts from farmers and a small decrease in available stocks, but closed firm and higher on good demand, reacted on freer receipts from farmers and a small decrease in ava of which is improving mercantile collec-tions. Drygoods sales are more active and the demand for Manitoba wheat for export is noticeable. The Dominion reports 26 business failures this week against 37 last week, and 37 this week last year. The total number, Jan. 1 to date, is 519, against 616 last year.

number, Jan. 1 to date, is 519, against old last year.

ASSIGNMENTS IN ONTARIO.

The Bradstreet Mercantile Agency reports the following assignments in Ontario: Brantiord, Thomas Cox, grocer; Brockville, F. T. Betts, grocer; Millbank, W. F. Thomson, general store, assigned to C. B. Armstrong, London; Toronto, James Park & Son, wholesale and retail provisions.

An expression of gratitude, volunteered from a sense of duty, is to be found in the following statement: "18 Hill street, San Francisco, Cal., U. S. A., April 23, 1890. Gentlemen: Having been sorely afflicted with rheumatism myself, my mother predisposed to bronchitis and my daughter to chronic sore throat, by the external use of St. Jacobs Oil they immediately found relief, and are at present cured by your wonderful remedy. I am constrained to say it gave me almost immediate relief, and I have not felt the slightest twinge of the disease since adopting its use. Louis Imhars, with the Equitable Life Assurance Company.

WHERE RESPONSIBILITY RESTS. The Canadian high tax leaders have for a long period been blackguarding the United States, its political methods, and its people. Now that they find their conduct resented by our neighbors, they are casting around for some one to blame instead of themselves. With characteristic assurance they credit the disfavor in which they find the Liberals of Canada.

The Liberals have always advocated contrary policy, and they cannot fairly be joke! charged with responsibility for the insane attacks made on the United States by high tax politicians and newspapers in Canada. We want the trade of our neighbors, not their political institutions, and the only who are anxious to mix the two up persons who are annexationists pure and are those who are annexationists pure and simple—as, for example, Mr. Meredith's lieutenant, Sol. White, M.P.P.—and trade restrictionists who desire to throw obstacles in the way of reciprocity in every

We decline to be responsible for the ta tics of either crowd. The pity is that, jointly, they are likely to delay the procurtrade that, under better management, would soon be ours. But it will come

The Bersin News says:

"Canada must be saved by its own young men. It is their country. Theirs to live and work for. It may never need the lives of any of its children. It needs their votes now."

That is all very well as a sentiment; but where was the good Tory editor of the News when the party now in power at Ottawa was depriving the young men of Canada, to the number of over 100,000, of votes at the general election? Unfortunately, for all practical purposes, the votes of these many thousands of young men are not available now, and will not be for years to come. If for no other reason than inflict-ing this grave injustice on the young men, to serve their own political ends, the present Administration at Ottawa should be execrated by all fair-minded citizens.

FORCING A STERN ISSUE. Some curiosity has been expressed to know how Sir John Macdonald came into ion of the Farrar pamphlet, upon which he founded and fulminated the charge of "veiled treason" against majority of the voting population of Ontario. The plan appears to have been to get hold of two journeymen printers in the United States, who should seek to obtain employment in two of the principal printing offices in Toronto-offices known to be patronized by the Provincial Liberal organization when printing for election purposes was required-and whose particular business should be to supply friends of the Government with proofs or copies of any circular or pamphlet of a political character which might be issued at any time. One of these sneaks was cleve enough to steal proofs of part or the whole "The Advertiser" looks forward with hope to Canada's future as that of an Independent Canadian John has had the courage to say that this hired thief was a "loyal" man, and that as "loyal" Canadian he deemed it to be his duty to purloin the proofs of a private pamphlet written by a private citizen from the office of his employers. Our inormation is that the fellow was not a Canadian at all but a Yankee, and that his real master was the party who procured his service as a spy. Our further information for is that he did not even wait to collect the portion of wages due him at the printing office, but cleared out like any other thief, not daring to trust the protection of the right honorable First Minister, in whose hands he placed the goods. Lord Stanley of Preston, who represents Her Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria in Canada, must be a proud man to think that one of the

Several months ago a well-known journalist became a marked man with the Tory "The Advertiser" advocates Obligatory Voting as both necessary and practicable. Nothing would so much purify electoral contests. Nothing did in any case it was found that they had been tampered with. As a last resort he procured a letter to be registered by the officer of a foreign Government and a receipt for it to be taken, and he wired the party to whom the letter had been addressed concerning it. With the customary promptness of her Majesty's mails, it ought to have But we believe they will both have to get been delivered within 24 hours; but it was actually sixteen days on the way, and the cover showed that somebody had meantim been curious enough to explore the contents. With this evidence the writer felt justified in making a complaint to an out ide officer of the Postoffice Department and that urbane gentleman told him that he ought to be hanged! But of course he could afford to be rude and offensive, knowing that he had the Canadian Government at his back. Our other illustration is of more recor date, and was referred to more than once during the recent campaign. A gentleman in Belleville wrote a letter to Mr. Preston, organizer of the Liberal party, at Toront on some matter concerning a contest in West Hastings, asking for his advice. The letter was duly received and promptly answered; but in-stead of the reply going to the party to whom it was plainly addressed it was forwarded to the dead letter office at Ottawa Did not the friends of continental free trade warn Sir John Macdonald when he of being returned to Mr. Preston or rewas publicly attacking the people of the mailed to the party at Belleville for whom United States, as made up of the dregs of it was intended it was addressed to the the old world and as perpetually on the Tory candidate in West Hastings and was verge of a revolution, that he was cutting a by that gentleman read at a public meeting

There is hope for an independent Canada, for with it will come pride of country and a growing sense of personal and public honor. But in its position as a dependency, with jingo rulers on Parliament Hill, played-out aristocrats at Rideau Hall, and hastens to decay and dissolution which can only be averted by the force of an aroused public opinion. Happily the public is becoming stirred as never before, and we do not believe the present Ottawa Government will live through the coming session of Parliament. the Red Parlor dominating all, everything

Afterwards the refiners joined with the any wholessler who was not a member of their organization. Against such powerful odds, the independent trader was unable to stand, and he had reluctantly to capitulate. We are afraid that for the time being a similar fate awaits the Toronto wholesalers who are grappling with the combination. Still the spirit of the Canadian people is aroused, and we cannot believe that they will much longer submit to combine rule. The wholesale grocers have a perfect right to unite for their mutual benefit, and so for that matter have the refiners, but the Dostances be justified in formulating the law of the land so as to enable combines to squeeze the life-blood from men of independ ence, whether they are sellers or buyers. Colossal Cattle Deal.

Montreal, March 21.—Cattle dealers are talking over the deal which they believe is now being consummated in Toronto, which will result in the solling of all the distillery cattle in Canada to American buyers. Messrs. Goldsmith, of New York, and Nelson Morris, of Chicago, have been for some time bargaining with the holders of Canadian distillery cattle. Mr. Goldsmith some time ago purchased a Toronto lot of 700 at 5½ cents per pound for steers, and the same figure was offered for all the distillery cattle, some 10,000 in number. It is understood, however, that 5½ cents per pound was offered for the remaining distillers' lots. Mr. Goldsmith and Mr. Morris are said to have completed the purchase of the remaining cattle. This is a transaction involving $800,000, and if carried through successfully will be the largest deal ever made in Canada. If they purchase these cattle they will be exported to Great Britain in the spring via one of the American ports. strong communication to the Canada Presbyterian on the subject of "Presbyterian and Congregational Union." The two deations, he points out, hold and preach the same doctrine. They are alike, too in their forms of worship; they differ only on the question of church polity and government, and even this difference has come to be more a matter of theory than of prac tice. This being so, he wonders why so little has been said and done with a view to bringing the Presbyterian and Congregation Churches together in an organic unity throughout the world. There is a distinct movement for unity of effort on the part of the Protestant Churches, and this writer, whose views we have summarized, after pointing out the strength given to Presbyterian and Methodist Churches in Canada by the joining together of their several spiritual wellbeing of the world, asks: "If this union is beneficial in these cases, why not in others?" He reasons that great practical results would flow from the outward unificatio of Protestantism in all countries. There would be an immense saving of men, money and effort in the tical suggestion of this writer is that the unity of Protestants can at present be best

Reduction of Licenses.

To the Editor of the Advertiser:

When ex-Mayor Howland visited our city he gave us some advice on the subject of licensing taverns. He recommended the placing them as close together as possible. We thought then and do so now that it would be a wise course to pursue. Where are these places of accommodation most needed? We think nearly all will say in the business part of the city. When the farmer comes to market he will put up at the nearest hotel; so with the traveler. It would be a saving to our city financially if our hotels were within say a distance of half a mile or less of the market. All parties would be well served as they are at present if this plan were adopted. There would be little or no use for the drunkards wagon. Likely we could do without the

would be little or no use for the drunkards' wagon. Likely we could do without the carriage altogether. Then there might be a reduction in the number of our police, for all know that the more drink the more work for the police. There are many reasons why we might ask that the license should be refused to houses in the outlying districts of our city, but I fear that further trespass will not do.

The Toronto Empire gives forth that a strike is impending among the operatives

The Toronto Empire gives forth that a strike is impending among the operatives in the boot and shoe factories of Hamilton. Toronto and London. It says: "A different classification of work is demanded by the men so that some of the lower grades will be more remunerative than at present, and a raise of wages; and secondly, shorter hours for the cutters, who now work 55 hours a week, and want 49 to be considered as deserving a weekly pay of $12, every man to receive the same wages. Against this last demand the bosses urge that some men are not worth as much as others, and they do not consider the present state of trade will allow of the granting of the rest. These demands were made by the men a couple of weeks age, and the bosses were to have given them a definite answer last Monday. This was not done, however, and committees representing the manufacturers and men are holding daily meetings, endeavoring to reach a satisfactory basis of agreement." As for as 14 pp.

CREAM Great Bankrupt Sale

Has just been running one week. During that time thousands of dollars worth of goods have been sold at Powell's old stand. The crowds of purchasers, if possible, increase day by day. Saturday's business was a marvelous rush for the wonderful bargains. Everybody who has bought a parcel from us seems to be doing the wise thing, that is, telling friends and neighbors about the greatest of all sales for bargains ever held in London. Let the citizens of London remember it is not old rubbish of goods citizens of London remember it is not old rubbish of goods that are offered for sale, but the finest of German, French,

English and Canadian goods that are offered to purchasers.

This great rush must be kept up every day this week. Fresh inducements will be offered in the way of extra cuts. Let all remember the finest Black and Colored Henrietta goods are being sold at the bankrupt price; also all Cottons, Sheetings, etc. Remember, please, the doors swing open every morning sharp at 10 o'clock, not one moment earlier nor later. We close at 6 sharp, except Saturday, when we keep open until 10:30 p.m. sharp. As we have three hours less to do our business than any of the other stores, we have got to rush business while we are at it. No books kept. Every article sold must be spot cash. This Great Bankrupt Sale is at

Mrs. Lane had no spare bedroom, but hade her regimental friends who had, to fill them up with members of the court. "Georgia and I will board the whole array, if you will only let us," she declared. "Pill set a lunch for the court at noon, and dine the entire party at seven every day they are here, if someone will only agree to take Colonel Lawler."

Nobody wanted Lawler, and so he was one of the three relegated to the gloomy precincts of old Kenyon's quarters and compelled to rough it at bachelor mess. It was arranged that eight members of the court should be quartered among the cavalry homesteads and otherwise be entertained at the Lanes'. Of such are the expedients to which garrisons are subject.

It was not until Monday afternoon that the court began its session. Two officers had telegraphed that they could not

Another long table was provided for the swarm of newspaper correspondents, and then, for the general public, the mess-rooms of the cavalry had been ransacked, and the benches and chairs to accommodate several hundred people ranged about the room. It was Saturday night when Lawler arrived and was met by Major Kenyon and escorted to his quarters.

In you seem to forget. Major Kenyon, "You seem to forget. Major Kenyon, that it was a matter of very grave import, and to the army as well as to the public, and to the colonel, with much dignity, and the feeling aroused throughout the entire North."

"True," said Kenyon, with sarcastic emphasis. "It's one of the singular traits of some fellows in that army that, instead of meekly knuckling under to what they know to be an outrageous misrepresentation of themselves and their profession, they should have the consummate effrontery to reseat even newspaper attacks. Now, you can hardly coaccive it possible, Colonel, Lawler, but, do you know, there are actually officers who think Hearn a thousand ally officers who think Hearn a thousand ally officers who think Hearn at thousand at the that that being their conviction, they are so blind to their own interest as to be are so blind to their own interest as to be willing to fight for it. It is incomprehensible—to some people: but it's a fact.

And—will it be believed?—when Colonel Lawler sent his orderly to say that he would receive Hearn at Major Kenyon's quarters in case he desired to see him, the orderly came back with the lieutenant's compliments and the singular response that the lieuenant knew of no reason whatever why he should want to see the colonel at any time.

Lawler had conceived it his duty then to case.

Not ten feet from where Mr. Hearn sat at his little table, whereon were his memoranda and a few books, Georgia Marshall, with sparkling eyes and flushed cheeks, bent and whispered to Mrs. Lane—
"One for our side."

And Mrs. Wharton, catching the eye of some friends across the room, very improperly tapped the back of her kid-covered thumb-nails together in mute applause.

The press and the populace might be with the press and the populace might be with the prosecution, but it was easy to see that there were loyal and lavish hearts there stanch for the defense.

Must be carefully considered by the great majority of people in buying even necessities of life. Hood's Sarsaparlla commends itself with special force to the great middle classes, because it combines positive economy with great medicinal power. It is the only medicine of which can truly be said "100 Doses One Dollar," and a bottle taken according to directions will average to last a month.

experiment, showing that grain feeding on pasture did not pay.

Mr. John Dearness, of London, public school inspector for East Middlesex, gave an admirable address on "Corn and Other Pollens," describing clearly the important function of pollen in plant life. He referred to the abundance of pollens; as far as the necessities of fertilization went there seemed almost a prodigal waste, but though nature scattered, with a lavish hand she was not supposed to waste anything. Falling upon the earth the apparent excess of pollen might, for example, have a manurial effect. The production of pollen meant a severe drain upon the powers of the plant, and taking advantage of that idea the director of the Cornell University Experiment Station caused the tassels to be removed as fast as they appeared, four times during the summer, from every other row in a corn patch. Individually, and in the aggregate, those rows produced 50 per eent. more ears, and 60 per cent more ears, and 60 per cent merehantable corn without any appreciable diminution in stalks than the others. He suggested that farmers in this locality try it and further experiment by removing the tassels from more rows, leaving only every third, fourth or fifth row with tassels on in order to see how far the idea could be carried. To a questioner he said the corn for the tows from which tassels had been removed would grow just as well as the others. The wind had carried the pollen to them from the other rows.

In a discussion on corn growing, the following varieties were highly snoken of as a rule by several speakers for this locality: The wind had carried the pollen to them from the other rows.

was desirable in the butter business, and the farmers ought to get at least 25 cents per pound the year round for butter of good quality.

Mr. Drarness gave as the second part of his address a talk on "Black Knot and Other Fungi." Plum and cherry knot spread by means of spores which are seattered through the sir in millions. At this season every particle of black knot visible on the trees should be cut off and burned—not left in brush piles from which the spores will spread. In that way trees may be saved and crops of fruit secured. The damage to crops in America by rust and smut amounted annually to millions of dollars. Probably the best suggestion yet made for killing smut spores in seed grain was to immerse the latter say five minutes in water heated up to 130 or 135 degrees. Crop rotation was also suggested. Rust was more destructive than smut and harder to combat, no direct remedy being known, though more thorough drainage and burning the stubble were recommended as probable helps. Warm, moist weather aided the development of rust, but was not the cause. If, as some contended, rust came from the barberry tree, then the solution would be easy—destroy all the barberry trees.

Mr. Dearness illustrated his addresses with sketches, and by means of a couple of small microscopes handed round the audience gave a closer view of the objects he was discussing.

Mr. W. E. Saunders, of London, at the evening session spread to view a valies full of stuffed hawks, etc., his address being "Birds on the Farm." It was most interesting, and related chiefly to hawks and owls, commonly set down as foes of the farmer, owing to the number of mice they consume, a pair of them being able to dispose of about 1,200 in one summer, compared with which their poultry depredations are but trifling. Systematic investigation by the ornithological branch of the Washington Agricultural Department carried on largely in New York and Pennsylvania proved that, and this country would make a more favorable showing. Of the falcon hawks the Cooper w harbor them will some day serious) to gret it.

Mr. F. Shore introduced a paper on "Grain Growing," one of the most important and essential branches of farming in the Province. As a fundamental requisite he set down drainage, fall plowing, thorough surface cultivation in spring but not deep, and the greatest possible care in seed selection. Unfortunately Mr. Shore was compelled to leave on the train before half completing his paper, which gave evidence of being an able and exhaustive treatment of his theme. It is hoped that some future in stitute meeting will have the benefit of this valuable address under more favorable circumstances.

Mr. Wm. Thompson gave an amusing reading on "The good farmer and the poor farmer—a contrast," and Mr. John Robertson concluded the evening session (during which Mr. Baty presided) with an excellent speech on the educative value of farmers institutes, making farm life more attractive institutes, man and boys, lightening the institutes, making farm life more attractive to young men and boys, lightening the labor of mothers and daughters on the farm, and the cultivation of happy homes. On closing, Mr. Robertson was warmly applauded.

resulted in degeneration, loss of vigor and vitality.

Mr. Thompson said heifers differed so much in development and vigor, dependent upon how they were raised, that when to breed became largely a question of individual study.

Mr. Shore spoke of the early maturity idea, and cited the practice of breeders of Holsteins and Shorthorns, animals of larger frame than the Ayrshires. The largest and most successful handlers of Holsteins practiced and advocated early breeding. But the successful handlers of Holsteins practiced and advocated early breeding. Mr. Shore mentioned a case showing the danger from excessive feeding of dairy cows.

Mr. Robertson quoted a Cornell Station experiment, showing that grain feeding on experiment, showing the feeding of dairy to show the feeding of the following symptions:

Honored by His Congregation.

The congregation of the Grosvenor Street Baptist Church, to the number of about 100, surprised their pastor, Rev. M. E. Siple, the other evening by invading and taking possession of his residence. When they had made themselves quite at home, a short impromptu programme was presented, to the enjoyment of all. The concluding the enjoyment of all. The concluding number was a pleasant little colloquy, which was opened by Miss Eva Clayton by reading a kindly worded address from the congregation to the pastor; Miss Mabel Clayton on behalf of the church, added a few congratulatory words and handed Mr. Slple a well-filled purse. Mr. Slple thanked the eongregation for their kind words and substantial remembrance and commended them to the care of the Reavenly Father during his absence. Much regret is felt by the congregation over the approaching removal of their pastor.
