Thursday Morning.
The annual convention of the W. C. T. U. opened Thursday morning in their new rooms, 240 Dundas street, with a goodly representation of the unions of Oxford, Elgin, Lambton and Middlesex, besides the city members. Mrs. (Rev.) McCutcheon was in the chair, and led the devotions, which were followed by an address of welcome, read by Mrs. (Rev.) H. C. Speller. The address gave emphasis to the welcome which every stranger must have already felt.

In response Mrs. Ballantyne, of Strathroy, referred to the W. C. T. U. as the most potent force arrayed against intemperance—a force that will make no compromise and yield to no discouragement till alcohol is banished from the land. After roll call the minutes of the first annual convention of Middlesex, held in Strathroy last April, were read and adopted, followed by minutes of the previous evening's executive meeting. The various recommendations made by the latter meeting were adopted. These recommendations were that Messrs. Dunlop, Gordon and Murphy be the committee on credentials; that Messrs. Brown and Sage be the committee on courtesies; that Misses Trebilcock and Tanton act as pages. The ladies appointed on the Plan of Work Committee are Mrs. Cameron (con- venter), Messdames Robinson, French, Cal- vert and Miss McColl. On the Resolution Committee Mrs. Allen is convener; Mes- dames Sanders, Wright, Bowley, Riggs and Bryan.

The reports read by the county cor- responding secretary (Mrs. Dunlop) were adopted. The treasurer's report was read and adopted.

Fraternizing greetings were read from the main at Glencoe. Reports from superintendents of departments were next in order. Mrs. Williams, superintendent of literature, reported that during the last year $39,000 worth of books had been distributed by the London Union, 35,000 by Strathroy, 325 by Napier and 200 by Oshawa, besides a large number of papers in each of these places.

The superintendents of juvenile work and of the lower mission being absent, no reports were read of these departments. Mrs. Middlemas, superintendent of evangelistic work, reported that the county gave a good account of the visits made and prayer meetings held by this department in the various unions.

On the subject of scientific temperance Mrs. Thornley, president of the local union, explained that this department was adopted by the Provincial W. C. T. U. to further the training of children in the public schools in the study of the science of temperance, and to teach that alcohol is not a food, that it is rarely a judicious medicine, and that it is never a means of innocent good cheer. Six out of the eight unions corresponded with have adopted the department and appointed superintendents. In the opinion of all the unions the text book on temperance in use in the schools is pronounced most unsatisfactory. At the annual meeting of the London W. C. T. U., held Sept. 8, the following resolutions were presented, adopted and forwarded to the Provincial Convention: "Whereas, the book now in use in our schools as a temperance text book has been tried in several of the states and proved so ill adapted to school purposes as to bring about its withdrawal; and "Whereas, our experience of the results of its use in Ontario would lead to similar conclusions; and "Whereas, all experience points to the poor results obtainable from ungraded books in graded schools; therefore, "Resolved, that we as a union do all in our power to remedy this defect in our Scientific Temperance Law by the substitution for the present text book of a series of books, and that we do suggest the Barnes series, now in use in the schools of Quebec, as eminently suitable to carry out the designs of the law."

Thursday Afternoon.
A full attendance of members was present at 2 p.m. The opening minutes were read and adopted. Miss Tanton and Miss Moore were appointed as pages. The president's address was read and accepted with thanks. In the absence of Miss Bradshaw the report on press work was read by Mrs. Allen.

RESULTS OF THE WORK AT THE FAIR.
The report on the fair, read by Miss Slaght, was very encouraging. This year the receipts from this source were $1,675 and the disbursements $848. The society now has a cash balance of $811. Rev. Mr. McCutcheon was introduced to the meeting and made a two-minute speech, which was applauded. Rev. Mr. Boyd and Mr. John Cameron were also presented, and made brief appreciative speeches.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.
Most of the afternoon was taken up with the county election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President—Mrs. McCutcheon.
Vice-President—Mrs. Brown.
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Dunlop.
Recording Secretary—Miss Slaght.
Treasurer—Mrs. Darch.
MIDDLESEX THE BANNER COUNTY.
The Provincial Banner, given to the county which can boast the largest num- ber of members in proportion to the popu- lation, was presented to the president, Mrs. McCutcheon, by Mrs. Gregoire.

Mrs. Allen, convener of the Resolution Committee, read the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, it is a well known fact that in this country the use of tobacco by minors is on the rapid increase; and whereas, the overwhelming testimony of phy- sicians and teachers is to the effect that this habit, practiced by the young, is ruin- ous to the health and deleterious to the mind; and whereas, the only legislation that now exists to curb the evil is wholly in- adequate to deal with it; therefore, resolved, that we call upon our Provincial Legisla- ture to amend the present law in the fol- lowing particulars: 1. That the age of pro- tection be raised from 14 to 18. 2. That all licensed liquor places be included in the provisions of the act. 3. That the smoker be punished as well as the seller. 4. That suitable penalties be attached to the violation of this law. 5. That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to at least three of the prominent politicians on each side of the House."

INTERPRETATION OF CHINESE GIRLS.
"Whereas, it is confidently affirmed that Chinese girls are imported into British Columbia and sold there for immoral pur- poses; and whereas, there is under the present law no means of preventing this dreadful state of affairs; resolved, that this W. C. T. U. Convention of the county of Middlesex do memorialize the Dominion Government to take such steps as shall effectively prevent a repetition of these out- rages, which now disgrace our country; and resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Dominion Government through the proper channel."

WOMEN SHOULD VOTE.
"Whereas, we believe that the ballot in the hands of Canadian women would con- tribute to the moral progress of our coun- try and bring the ten commandments back into place; and "Resolved, that we recommend to all local unions the immediate appointment of superintendents of franchise, who shall be supplied with suitable helps and given full opportunity to bring their department before the members of the union."

"Resolved, that we urge all women who in municipal matters have the legal right to vote, to exercise their franchise, and by their intelligent interest in the good govern- ment of their own town or city, prove the falsity of the statement that Canadian women do not want the ballot."

REPLYING TO QUERIES.
"Whereas, county superintendents of departments have frequently great difficulty in securing replies from local unions con- cerning the work. "Resolved, that secretaries of local unions be requested to grant at least the courtesy of an answer to all such commu- nications."

THE "Y" WORK.
"Resolved, that whereas we feel the necessity of reaching young women to greater zeal in the cause of temperance, at the formal 'Y' conference held in London on Wednesday, the 18th of November it was recommended that steps be taken to form a department of young women's work in connection with Women's Christian Tem- perance Unions where they are not strong enough to have both a 'W' and a 'Y'."

A JUVENILE PAPER.
"Resolved, that whereas a need is felt for a Canadian juvenile paper dealing pre- eminently with temperance, and whereas Mrs. Pratt, of Hamilton, has prepared a sample copy of one of this nature, which may be shown to the convention, if desired, the co-operation of the convention is asked in establishing it, the guarantee of a large number of subscribers being necessary to its publication."

TEMPERANCE LITERATURE.
"That whereas the evil effects of im- pure literature, presented, as it is, in the varied and specious guise of book, paper, and poster, is such as to be posi- tively alarming, it is currently hoped that every union represented in this convention will take early and vigorous measures to lessen the evil; and we recommend that a department of pure literature and art be instituted in each union."

PLAN OF WORK.
Mrs. John Cameron, convener of the Plan of Work Committee, read the follow- ing recommendations, which, after some discussion, were adopted: "At the Toronto Provincial Convention a resolution asking for the following changes in the Ontario Scientific Temperance Law was passed: 1. That the present text-book be set aside and a graded series of books be substituted. 2. That the law include the teaching of the effects upon the human system of narcotics. 3. That as common sense would show, and experience has always proved, the study of these twin evils (alcohol and narcotics) is best conducted in connection with phys- iology; therefore that the text books chosen be temperance physiologies, with not less than one fourth of their space de- voted to the consideration of the nature and effects of alcoholic drinks and nar- cotics. 4. That scientific temperance be taught as a regular subject with regular ex- aminations."

"In view of this proposed legislation, your committee would recommend that as this, in their estimation, was the most im- portant resolution passed by the Provin- cial Convention, every union in this county pledge itself to do its utmost to place the legislation it indicates upon our statute books. To this end, that the services of Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, of Hyde Park, Boston, Mass., be secured, and that mass meetings be held in all the prominent towns in our country. 2. That there be superintendents appointed in all unions that have not yet done so. 3. That Mrs. Hunt's standard for the en- forcement of a temperance educational law be obtained and placed in the hands of each minister and all prominent teachers in the vicinity of our district in connection with the work of the law."

"In view of the tobacco legislation asked for, your committee would recommend: 1. That the W. C. T. U. unions of this county begin immediately to collect facts as to the use of pipes in young people and in the adult population. 2. That such facts after careful investigation be forwarded to the county superintendent of narcotics to be appointed at this meeting. 3. That wherever possible a local superin- tendent of narcotics shall be appointed. 4. That a public narcotic meeting be held in connection with each union at the proposed amendments shall be discussed and the opinions of ministers, physicians, teachers and parents be elicited. 5. That literature bearing upon the ques- tion be freely circulated in all the churches of each town or through any other chan- nel by which the more intelligent public can be reached. 6. That when the matter comes up for legislation a strongly worded resolu- tion be each union, signed by the five general officers, and a copy forwarded to the Middlesex M.P.P.s, Mr. Mowat and Mr. Meredith."

FACTORY ACT AMENDMENT.
The late Provincial Convention held in Toronto resolved, in view of the evils brought recently to light, to ask for an amendment to the Factory Act, which should put mercantile establishments under the supervision of the factory inspectors in the particulars that follow: "Mercantile establishments" to mean any place where goods, wares or mer- chandise are offered for sale, and where not less than five persons are employed. 1. Suitable and proper wash-rooms and closets shall be provided, and where both sexes are employed the closets assigned to the women and girls shall be wholly separate and apart from those assigned to the men. 2. It shall be the duty of all em- ployers of women in any mercantile estab- lishment to provide and maintain suitable seats for the use of such women em- ployes and to permit the use of such seats by such employes to such extent as may be reasonable for the preservation of their health. 3. That no woman or child shall be employed in the basement of any mercantile establishment the floor of which is damp or the air of which is impure and unhealthful."

The Provincial superintendent of the de- partment to which this belongs (Health and Sanitation) was this year appointed but the appeal made by the Conservatives against the decision of Revising Officer James H. Fraser in permitting the Liberal notices of objection against names on the Dominion voters' lists to be amended came before Judge Elliot in his chambers at the Court House yesterday morning.

The appellants were represented by Lawyers L. F. Hellmuth, A. B. Cox and E. L. Essery. Among the Liberals present were Charles S. Hyman, M.P., Talbot Macbeth, James Magee, J. B. McKillop and A. O. Jeffery.

Mr. Hellmuth presented his side of the question. He reviewed the circumstances leading up to the appeal which he based on the ground that the act did not contain any provision that authorized the amend- ment. He produced the first notice that came before the Court of Revision—an ob- jection to one Louis Allen—and asked the judge to sustain the appeal.

Judge Elliot—I can rule as to whether the notice is sufficient or insufficient, and I will have no hesitation in saying it is entirely insufficient; but when you ask me and appeal to me as to whether the revising officer had the right to amend or adjourn that court I want you to point out to me where I have the authority to do so.

Mr. Hellmuth—I think you have the authority. The revising officer simply held that it was not sufficient, which is precisely what the notice is good, but capable of amendment. Judge Elliot—Although it might strictly be not amendable, I have no right that I see to interfere.

Mr. Hellmuth—If the revising officer had ruled the notice to be null and void I should not have come to you. But he holds that it is not null and void, but only in- sufficient and a good notice for the purposes of amendment. He must rule one way or the other.

Judge Elliot—I don't care whether it is insufficient, invalid or null and void; I say that when he ruled he could amend it and adjourn the court, I am beyond the power to interfere.

Mr. Magee—Supposing he had said the notice was good—could we not come to you? Supposing he had ruled it bad—could not the other side come to you and hold it was a good notice?

Judge Elliot—That is what we are doing. Mr. Hellmuth—That is what we are doing. Judge Elliot—Supposing I should say the notice is invalid?

Mr. Hellmuth—If you will give your decision upon that point we will take our chances. If the revising officer attempts to amend it we shall take action to amend it. We shall ask your Honor to say this notice is bad and void, after which if the revising officer acts we have our proper course of remedy. If the revising officer should have pronounced the notice invalid, and we have the right to ask you to pronounce the notice of objection good or bad, and we think you have the power to say so.

Judge Elliot—I should say that the notice is invalid. Mr. James Magee—We object that the matter is still before the revising officer and that your Honor has nothing to do with any appeal until the revising officer has finally disposed of the matter before him. It is still before him. He has made no decision. There might be some ground of appeal if the revising officer had finished his work.

Judge Elliot—I have no hesitation in saying that the notice is invalid under the act. The revising officer has great power regarding proceedings, but in the 33rd section of the act, which is the one in question, it is simply about admitting proceedings, excluding them from that list. That is all the powers of appeal I have.

Mr. Magee—I hold that while the mat- ter is still upon the ruling before the re- vising officer your Honor has no power and the appeal can only be after it is finally disposed of by the revising officer. An appeal from an interim ruling is not a final ruling. If it had been decided against us we could have appealed.

A WOMAN'S LIFE.

Its Seven Stages, From the Cradle to the Grave.
A wee mother is carefully putting her favorite doll to bed. With tender solici- tude she carefully removes each dainty garment and fastens on the tiny nightgown. Then, with a fond kiss, she hugs her treasure to her and places it in its little cradle. After patting it gently she tips out of the room as the twilight peeps curiously in.

A fair maiden stands before her looking glass adding the finishing touches to her evening toilet. Her lover will soon be here! Her eyes are full of innocent love-light! She looks eagerly at her reflection in the glass! How glad she is that she is pretty! She frowns a little at a wrinkle that will not just as it should. A ring comes to the door and she hastens away to meet her be- loved.

A young wife sits anxiously watching for her husband. At each approaching foot- step her heart beats rapturously and then grows heavy with disappointment! She will not go indoors, it is so sweet out there! The creeping shadows cheer her trembling soul—so she waits and wishes, and the shadows lengthen into darkened night.

A mother is rocking her baby to sleep. He looks at her gravely while they move to and fro, as if asking how the bright sun- shine must leave and the ugly shadows hide her dear face from him. There is a wealth of wisdom in his great sweet eyes! He holds tightly to her dress, as if to keep her near him!

When at last his eyes are closed she dis- engages the lovely hand, kisses him lightly—as he must not be awakened—and arises to put him to his crib. Then she sinks back into her chair and begins to rock again. It is so pleasant to rest in the twilight, and it is so sweet to nurse!

A woman kneels by a fresh made grave. The headboard stares coldly at her and seems to say over and over again the words inscribed upon it: "He was her only child and she was a widow." With tear- laden eyes she bends down lower and lower, till her lips rest upon the earth. She longs so to kiss the quiet form it is hiding from her! And the twilight seems to hurry past and lose itself in the dark- ness.

A careworn old woman sits watching the shadows come—they are friends to her— friends that she welcomes—they are always singing the same song to her. "One day nearer home." And she smiles to them her thanks. She, too, repeats, "One day nearer home." And so life goes on—on in the twilight till rest comes to her weary body and joy to her aching heart— till her spirit reaches its home, where never a shadow can fall upon it.—(New C.

DEBT, INTEREST, PRICES.

Mr. Foster says the rate of interest has fallen, therefore Canadians should not object to the increase of the public debt of Canada by nearly $100,000,000 within the last twelve years. No thanks to the high tax men for the fall of the rate of interest. The rate of interest has fallen because in Great Britain, the great money market of the world, money has become cheaper. The argument of the quibbling Finance Minister is on a par with that of the Canadian monopolists who point to the price of some articles that have been cheapened since 1875 as a proof that high taxation is beneficial. The only fair test is whether or not an article would be lower in price if it were not taxed. On this point we have a recent confession of the London Free Press, which has told us that in the case of necessities the consumer always pays the duty. Sir Henry Tyler, president of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, bore out this view in his recent protest against the coal duties. Said he:

"As regards any future decrease of working expenses, the only great item which we have to look to is the duty on coal. It costs us twice as much to place coal on our tenders as it does some of the American lines, and that does enormously to our cost of working."

I hope that that meeting to arrange a reciprocity treaty will shortly come off. I believe one of the first articles to be dealt with will be that of coal, and it will be beneficial not only to us but to the whole of Canada, because that coal duty is placed upon coal entering into Canada to benefit one little corner of Canada in Nova Scotia, to the detriment of the whole of the rest of Canada."

The Grand Trunk shareholders favor freedom of trade between Canada and the States, and so does the workpeople. Anything that improves the earnings of the company adds to their ability to employ labor and to pay it fair wages.

AN "OLD MAN OF THE SEA."

"Such a man should no longer insult the moral sense of the community by remaining an adviser of the Queen. If he does not retire it will be ill for the Cabinet."

These were the words of warning which Rev. Principal Grant, himself a Conservative, applied to "Hon." John Haggart, Postmaster-General, a few weeks ago, when a Parliamentary majority in committee and in the House of Commons voted to prevent inquiry into two remarkable allegations regarding his conduct.

Principal Grant's view is generally shared in the Dominion. Dr. Grant has assumed that there is something seriously wrong in an accused statesman who is assailed as Mr. Haggart has been if he takes no action to demand the most searching inquiry into his conduct, but on the other hand obtains the aid of political allies to suppress inquiry, and prevent a revelation of the truth.

Not so Mr. Haggart's Ministerial colleagues. We know not what great secret the discredited man possesses, but it is evident that despite public opinion, despite the protests of friends like Principal Grant, it is the intention of Mr. Abbott and his associates to retain Mr. Haggart in his position in defiance of the best sentiment of the country in both political parties.

Mr. Haggart organized a demonstration in his favor at Perth yesterday, and had apparently no difficulty in prevailing upon Sir John Thompson, Messrs. Haggart, Smith, Carling, Bowell, Foster, Chapleau, Costigan and Tupper to appear and join in piping his praises. One of the most noteworthy features of the gathering was the attack of Sir John Thompson, Mr. Tupper, Mr. Frank Smith and other members of the Ottawa combination upon the preachers of the Dominion who have objected to the retention of a man of Mr. Haggart's character in the Cabinet, and have denounced the reign of corruption. Sir John Thompson answered at the men who had revealed the corruption at Ottawa as "scandal mongers," and endeavored to make it appear that the members of Parliament who had been the means of exposing the rascalities were the culprits, and were far more worthy of condemnation than the incapable or corrupt Ministers who had charge of the departments. He advised the electors of Lunenburg to "re-elect Jack Haggart and make no fuss about it." We cannot believe that any self-respecting constituency will adopt this advice while Mr. Haggart's Parliamentary friends refuse to grant a full inquiry into the charges that have been made against him by a responsible member of Parliament. The excuse of Sir John Thompson—that the inquiry would be a disgrace to the good name of those who are dead—is no excuse at all. It is the living against whom the charges are made.

Haggart may be carried by Mr. Abbott; but he will be a heavy load.

HON. WILFRID LAURIER AT BOSTON.

It is not the fault of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, the leader in the Canadian movement for freedom of trade, that so many of his fellow-countrymen have been compelled to seek a home and a living in the United States. The honorable gentleman and his followers desire to so equalize the industrial conditions of Canada, through emancipation from international taxation, that Canadians shall have even better opportunities to earn a living in this Dominion than they now possess over the border. While he holds this view he does not hesitate to tell this, that freedom to trade would pay both parties to the transaction, and that the closer relations would be permanently beneficial to the two great branches of the race.

One-fifth of the Canadian people now live in the United States. Nearly one-third of the number are to be found in the Eastern States. It was no small mark of the esteem in which the Reciprocity leader is held by his fellow-Canadians over the border that they requested him to address them on the great question of the day. And Mr. Laurier's address at Boston was not a disappointment. It was that of a statesman and diplomat, if possible, to convince the other side to the bargain that trade freedom was mutually advantageous. Here is the concluding portion of the address:

"In so far as the economic conditions of my country are concerned, I say that they are identical with the interests of the United States—(applause)—and it is upon the broad basis of continental freedom of trade that I place the question, and that I ask this consideration for it from the people of the United States. (Applause.)"

But I have no such fear, nor do I believe that this great nation, because they are 60,000,000 people, and because we are less than 5,000,000, would be disposed to be arrogant and overbearing toward a weaker neighbor approaching them with a due sense of their own dignity. (Applause.)

Therefore, what I say now is that we are prepared, notwithstanding all the objections which we have to meet in our own country, to approach our American neighbors with fair offers of reciprocity, extending all over the new land, for all of our own productions and their own productions, as such as a Liberal Administration has been placed at Ottawa. (Great applause.)

With those who say that reciprocity would be an obstacle to annexation or would lead to annexation I entirely refuse to argue. Both arguments are unfair and unjust to the Canadian people. If we cannot discuss it simply as an economic subject, I would say at once let us go no further, and let us part each our own way. But it seems to me that it would be childish to be prevented from adopting a course which we acknowledge would be beneficial to both countries because it would lead to conclusions which might be intolerable to either country. Let us consider the matter simply upon the ground of political economy and mutual advantage.

There are men in my own country who say that an imperial federation, that is a federation of England and her colonies, would be the best course for Canada. As far as the Monroe doctrine could apply to Canada I am in favor of the Monroe doctrine. I do not want the intervention of Europe in our affairs, and it would be suicidal for the people of Canada to ally themselves with a federation which would force them to take part in all the wars which Britain from her position has to wage upon the different parts of the world. This consideration alone is enough to deter the Canadian people from such a course. Again we are told that we should have a league between England and her possessions, whereby we should trade amongst ourselves, the British Empire, to the exclusion of the rest of the world. I have only this to say in regard to that idea—that it is absolutely suicidal. I prefer the Yankee dollar to the British shilling when the Yankee dollar is near at hand and the British shilling is far away. (Laughter and applause.) If trade can be British and be profitable at the same time I have no objection, but if trade in order to be profitable has to be American I am in favor of the American trade. (Great and prolonged applause.)

No genuine Canadians can cavil at this declaration of principles. What this country needs is an opportunity to make the most of its advantages. It does not now possess that opportunity and never will till the Government of Canada is in charge of men who do not owe their allegiance to monopolies and holders of class privileges.

ALL IN ONE.

The gigantic new implement company, formed by the process of swallowing up the smaller industries by one big organization, shows that the N. P. has done for that one flourishing industry. First, Massey absorbed the Sawyers, of Hamilton; then Massey-Sawyer took in Harris, of Brantford; next, Patterson, of Woodstock, and Wismer, of Brantford, amalgamated, and now we have the whole of these firms united as Massey-Harris-Patterson-Wisner, practically controlling the industry in the country from Toronto.

The high tax policy never was intended to nurture the smaller industries that were thriving in London and elsewhere long before the policy of making the few rich at the expense of the many was thought of as an expedient for bamboozling the electors.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

MAYOR CLARKE, of Toronto, has definitely announced that he will not again be a candidate for the chair.

MR. LAURIER spoke before the Chamber of Commerce and Business Men's Association of Boston yesterday. His theme was reciprocity and the cultivation of harmony between the two great sections of the Anglo-Saxon race.

THERE was but one Liberal in the firm of Larkin, Connolly & Co., sons of the members of which were when the run of the Public Works Department while Sir Hector Langevin held sway. The charge against him has been virtually dismissed.

A JOB FOR THEM.

(Dundas Banner.)

There are writers on one or two Canadian newspapers who are seeking to blacken the reputation of Charles Smith for loyalty who would be doing much more appropriate work if they were blacking his boots.

A LESSON ON "ADDRESSES."

Rev. Dr. Cochran, whose name is attached to the address from the Presbyterian General Assembly to Lord Lore, which is now adorning a second-hand store in Ottawa, says he will not be sorry the document has occurred. It will put an end to the address nuisance. It is probable the Presbyterians will take steps to rescue the Ottawa address from its present undignified position.

AWFUL SKIN DISEASE

Child a Mass of Raw, Bleeding Sores. Miraculous Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

A face, from the hair to the neck on both sides, a raw mass of bleeding sores, a body, hands and arms in the same condition, a body, around the waist of which was a broad band of bleeding eruptions, and from the hips to the tips of her toes the skin was so raw as to be absolutely sickening to the sight. Mrs. H. A. Stout to me: "I have tried everything suggested to me on my little daughter, who has been so afflicted almost from birth. I have had three doctors experiment on her, but they seemed to be setting worse every day. I was almost distracted. Every night I had to bandage her all over, and the litters on her hands to prevent her from digging the raw flesh into her fingers. Mr. Faulkner said he believed that CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. He offered to bear the expense of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair, from infancy to age, from pimples to scrofula."

The new Blood and Skin Purifier, internally, CUTICURA, the great Skin Beautifier, externally, instantly relieve and speedily cure every disease and humor of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair, from infancy to age, from pimples to scrofula.

to be offered from half-price to the closest prices on Saturday and Saturday night.

We cannot enumerate the hundreds and hundreds of desperate bargains we will give you on Saturday and Saturday night.

Wholesale men and good judges of dry-goods value, whom we have shown some lines of these goods we are to offer you on Saturday and Saturday night, are amazed how we can buy such goods to sell them at the prices we offer them at.

We have no excuse to offer for selling goods so cheap.

Our aim is to please the people of London and the people within trading distance of London, and then the greatest value they ever saw in any drygoods store in London.

Buyers of Drygoods and Millinery, don't forget you can buy hundreds and hundreds of dollars worth of drygoods from us at half price.

We could not give you such value if it were not for the fact we are always looking out for goods at half regular wholesale prices, and buying bankrupt stocks puts us in a position to give you piles and piles of drygoods at about half price.

The goods we buy in a regular way we sell at desperately close prices because we buy for cash, getting the biggest discounts we can off them, and sell them for cash, turning them into money as quick as possible.

Thus we keep the prices for you away down, and do a red hot business on the smallest possible profits.

We want our store crowded with customers. This gives us the cash to keep business moving at the highest possible pressure. Bring your friends with you. Every week rolls up the number of our new customers. If you buy one parcel from us you will come back to get your next parcel from us. Remember the Saturday and Saturday night's sale.

Remember what we offer you, hundreds and hundreds of lines of goods at half price in some of the following lines, viz.

Peculiar

To itself in many important particulars, Hood's Sarsaparilla is different from and superior to any other medicine.

Peculiar in combination, proportion and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.

Peculiar in its medicinal merit, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown.

Peculiar in strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "100 doses one dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is none of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers.

Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time. Do not be induced to take any other preparation. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Sold at all druggists, $1.50 per bottle. Prepared only by C. L. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

AN UNLUCKY SLAP

Results in the Death of $2,800 Filly.

Jumping at the New York Horse Show.

General Sporting News.

THE TORY. The New York horse show attracted large attendance yesterday. S. S. Hay, Jr., of Ontario took the rain, scoring 5 feet 11 inches. Brisbane went over at 5 feet 10 inches.

Frank Van Noy, who used to drive Harry Wilkes and other fast trotters and was ruled out of the trotting turf, owns a Gloucester stable, which operates at Rubber, Raymond and others.

Mr. P. P. Parish, of Midway, Ky., lost valuable filly in a singular way last week. He slipped the filly on the back while it was in the stall, and she jumped against the side of the stall and broke her neck. M. Parish valued her at $2,800.

It is said that an offer of $10,000 has been refused for the 4-year-old stallion Kentucky Bird, by Jay Bird.

A new trotting association is to be organized at Mansfield, Ohio, with a capital of $10,000. A new mile kite-shaped track will probably be constructed for use next season.

The Independence Driving Park Association has announced for its next year's meeting all entrance money to be at 3 per cent of the purse. This is a decided innovation on the 10 per cent. of two seasons ago and the 5 per cent. of last year. The program will consist of twelve stakes at $10,000 an event, classes at $1,500. The meeting will be held the last two weeks of August next.

THURSDAY'S WINNERS.

At Gloucester—Lizette, Manahasset, Howie, Linda Rubber, Censor and Raccoon.

At Guttenberg—Odette, Glenloch, Uncle Sam, Banquet, Busteed and Glenmound.

At Chicago—Forest Belle, Bon Air, Tom Sterns and J. J.

ATHLETICS.

At New Orleans on Wednesday night, James F. Larkin, of Jersey City, and John T. Griffin, of Braintree, Mass., contested for the feather weight championship and purse of $2,500. Both men weighed about 125 pounds each. In the fourth round Larkin was knocked down twice, and the last time failed to regain his feet in the allotted ten seconds.

THE KENNEL.

The Derby in the eastern field trials at High Point, N.C., was won by Wun Lung, with Bob Cooper second and Camille third. Twenty-nine dogs were drawn in the third stage.

AQUATIC.

The Californians are of the opinion that Henry Peterson can defeat Ed. Hanlan in a five-mile sculling match, and are not talking of matching their man. Teamsters want to row the Californian for $500 to $1,000, and a match may be arranged.

CURLING.

The Guelph Curling Club held a meeting Wednesday night and appointed skips for fourteen rinks, six on a rink, as follows: G. R. Bruce vs. J. Kennedy, J. Anderson vs. Jan. Hewer, A. H. Macdonald vs. J. Ryan, W. A. Knowles vs. Geo. Slemmer, W. W. MacLellan vs. A. Menzies, W. Macdonald vs. H. Macdonald, F. R. Macdonald vs. H. Lockwood. Mayor Goldie presented a medal for competition between the Union and Royal City clubs.

BASEBALL.

George Weidman, the old Toronto pitcher, says he will re-throw a baseball next season and will play in Chicago, but on which team he does not state.

The new Louisville Baseball Company have elected the following officers: Dr. F. Hunt Stucky, president; J. George Runk, vice-president; T. J. Battman, secretary; treasurer. There, together with Lawrence Gatto and Fred J. Drexel, constitute the Board of Directors. The amount of authorized capital stock is $50,000.

ELECTION CASES.

The petition in the Lewis, Que., contested election case failed to bring forward any proof, the petition for the unseating of Dr. Quay (Lib.), the sitting member, and the case was dismissed with costs on the petitioner.

John Hargrave (Lib.), M.P. for West Northumberland, was examined for discovery at Coburn Thursday.

Judges Ritchie and Townsend filed judgment in Patch vs. Forbes—the Queen's county election case—as follows: The particulars in the case were served ten clear days before the trial, but inasmuch as they were served on Saturday afternoon at 2:55 it is contended that under the Supreme Court rules the service must be held to have been made on the following Monday, which would be too late. Without admitting this is the proper time to apply, we are of opinion that rule No. 1, should be applied to this case, and the service held good, particularly as it is admitted that the respondent had the particulars served on him ten days before the trial. The petition must pay the costs of this application.

ST. ANDREW'S REVIVED.

A Worthy Benevolent Association Resuscitated.

Arrangements for Celebrating the Day of the Patron Saint.

Native Scotchmen and sons of Scotchmen resident in London assembled in large numbers in a temporary apartment in J. W. Jones' auction rooms Thursday evening. Their object was to reorganize the St. Andrew's Society. Robert Reid was in the chair and J. G. Jones acted as secretary.

The constitution of the old society will remain in force. The name was changed from the St. Andrew's and Caledonian to the St. Andrew's Society. The following officers were then elected:

President—Robert Reid.

First Vice-President—J. D. Clarke.

Second Vice-President—A. R. Cooper.

Treasurer—James McQueen.

A relief committee was next chosen. James Shannon, Wm. Howie, Arch. McPherson, Alex. Tytler and J. L. Anderson are the members.

Rev. J. A. Murray, Rev. W. J. Clark, Rev. Geo. Boyd, Rev. James Balmaitre, Rev. W. M. Roger, Rev. M. P. Talling and Rev. Chas. E. McIntyre were appointed as chaplains.

Doctors Waugh, Wishart and Logie will be the society's physicians.

The president stated that he would like a permanent entertainment committee to be appointed. This would also help towards holding musical and literary meetings. Dr. Gardiner, John Fairgrieve, T. H. Pardon, Walter Fairbairn, Walter Simpson and Mary Sheriff will look after the interests of this committee. Others named were J. L. Anderson, Tom Brown and Frank Love.

George Angus and Alex. Milne were chosen as pipers. Mr. Pardon says they must play nothing but classical music.

T. Pardon and J. L. Anderson were then appointed auditors and Donald McDonald collector. Over 30 of those present became members last evening.

It was moved by John W. Jones, seconded by A. Tytler, and resolved, "that this meeting of the members of St. Andrew's Society of the city of London, before closing, desire to express their deep regret at the absence of their old associate and fellow-countryman, Mr. Thomas Brock, who for over 30 years has been one of its most active workers, never sparing himself or grudging the expenditure of his means in relieving the wants of the poor, whenever he found them, and it is the sincere prayer of every member of this society that he may be again soon restored to health to further the benevolence which he loved so well to do, and that the president of the society is hereby instructed to carry in person this expression of their sympathy."

John A. McFarlane thought the society should hold annual and monthly, if not weekly, meetings. Societies that held monthly yearly meetings went to pieces. Mr. Jones generously offered the use of his rooms for meetings at all times. St. Andrew's day comes on Nov. 30, and John Ferguson suggested that an outdoor supper be held, and that the society, with their wives, daughters and sweethearts spend a social evening. It was left with the Entertainment Committee to arrange for the celebration. It is expected that every native of Caledonia or offspring of a Northern man will join. The worthy chairman infected all present with his enthusiastic nature. Among those present last night were the following: Messrs. Reid, Jones, Dr. Logie, J. W. Jones, John McHarg, A. McPherson, A. R. Cooper, A. Sharp, T. H. Pardon, J. Milne, W. Fairbairn, W. Howie, Dr. Gardiner, Alex. Tytler, J. Sheriff, D. McDonald, J. D. Clarke, J. McQueen, John Ferguson, J. G. Jones (secretary pro tem.) and A. Hammond.

FRATERNAL ASSOCIATION.

Organization of a New Society—The Constitution and Officers.

Representatives of the various fraternal benefit societies met Thursday afternoon at Toronto for the purpose of receiving the report of the Committee on Permanent Constitution, election of officers, etc., of the Fraternal Association.

Among the societies represented were the A. O. U. W., John Milne, Col. M. D. Dawson, London, H. B. Ferguson, J. G. Totten and M. D. Carver; Independent Foresters, Dr. Oronhyatekha, J. A. MacGillivray, Dr. Thos. Millman, Rev. A. MacGillivray and David Miller-Oddfellows, J. R. King; A. O. U. W. Relief, J. R. Miller and H. M. Wilkinson; Canadian Home Circle, Rev. John Kay and A. J. Pattison; Select Knights, J. B. Leubsdorf and James Watt; Oddfellows' Relief, Capt. Thos. Donnelly; Royal Templars, Rev. A. M. Phillips, Dr. B. E. McKenzie; Fraternal Mystics, J. A. McMurtry; Chosen Friends, W. F. Montague, W. F. Campbell, jun.; Macacubes, Henry E. Trent; Ancient Foresters, Wm. Williams and D. F. McWatt; Royal Arcanum, Jas. Brande; and others.

The proposed constitution was adopted. The features of the fraternal society are declared to be: "1. The lodge system. 2. Representative government. 3. Ritualistic work. 4. Fraternal assistance to living members in sickness, disability or old age. 5. The payment of benefits to living members for total and physical disability or old age. 6. The payments of benefits to members, and at the death of the members to the families, blood relatives, or dependent orphans of such deceased members. 7. That such fraternal beneficiary societies shall, where practicable, be duly incorporated under Provincial or Dominion laws. No society whose distinctive features do not conform hereto, is eligible to membership in the association, or entitled to be classified a fraternal benefit society."

The first regular annual meeting of the Fraternal Association will be held in Toronto on the second Thursday in January, 1892. Dr. Oronhyatekha was unanimously elected president; John Milne, of Essex Center, was unanimously elected vice-president; J. B. King secretary-treasurer; J. R. Miller counselor, and Dr. B. E. McKenzie medical adviser. The association, it is said, will act as advisory to not less than 150,000 members in Canada.

The Same Old World Over.

PANAMA, Nov. 20.—In the Senate yesterday M. Challeme la Cour made a strong attack on the new tariff. He said $0,000,000 Frenchmen would suffer from the over-protection afforded by the law, and that prosperous France would be brought to ruin and isolated from the rest of the world. It would be better, he declared, for France to renounce her treaties of commerce with foreign nations.

Many women suffer in silence from the troubles peculiar to their sex rather than consult a physician. Let them try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they will no longer feel like a burden.

Is your dyspepsia chronic? Is it severe? Is it a mild form? Try K. D. C. It is guaranteed to cure any form of money refunded.

INCIDENTS OF INTEREST.

The News of the Day, Culled and Condensed.

The Canoe mackerel fleet have secured a great catch.

Two Chinamen were smuggled from Windsor into Detroit on Wednesday evening dressed in military uniforms.

The Car, it is said, is only waiting for a chance to choose a successor to M. Vishnegradski as Minister of Finance.

The steamer Charente has arrived at Buenos Ayres with three cases of yellow fever aboard. The news has caused great alarm.

A stockholder of the Chicago Cold Storage Exchange declares that the concern is insolvent, and owes $250,000 now overdue.

Five cents for wheat and 25 cents for corn was asked yesterday in Chicago for lake cargoes to Buffalo, but as far as a breeze was taken at these figures.

Mr. Mercier has sworn out criminal information for libel in the Police Court against Mr. J. P. Whelan, and the news paper men who published his charges.

An Ottawa telegram says: It is now maintained that Joseph Lyne, who was named guardian of the Connollys' books, and who disappeared with them, is in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Nixon, of the Western University, lately, responded to the toast of "Western at Trinity Medical College annual dinner at the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, last night.

J. A. Oblinger, owner of the Bank of Arlington, Arlington, Minn., and postmaster of the village, declared in the amount of $15,000 to $20,000. The depositors will lose everything, as the bank was a private one.

A dispatch from Shanghai says the Government has greatly increased the severity of its measures against rioters, and at present seems determined to exert all its power to protect the foreign residents of the empire.

The owners of the British yacht Beagle, Messrs. Bloom and Douglas, and a young man named Joseph Lyne, were recently arrested at Honolulu on the charge of smuggling. It was supposed that they had $0,000 sovereigns on board that had been stolen from a Sydney bank. They spent money lavishly, but had to be released for lack of evidence.

R. S. Bingham, a Methodist minister, who lives near Emory and Henry College, surrendered himself at Abingdon, W. Va., yesterday saying he had shot Frank Queenberry, who had quarreled over the depredations of some hens and Queenberry assaulted the minister, who shot him in self-defense. Another report is that the minister shot Queenberry because he had mistreated one of his daughters.

WORLD'S W. C. T. U.

The Executive Committee Settling Up.

BOSTON, Nov. 20.—The Executive Committee of the World's W. C. T. U. has been settling up the convention affairs. Mrs. Emmens, secretary of the lecture bureau, reported, noting the lack of interest in the speakers appointed by the bureau and requesting that the W. C. T. U. be more faithful to its own lecturers instead of supplying outside.

It was voted that $50 be paid monthly to the Central Agency for the purpose of the superintendency of Mrs. Grubb through the national treasury.

The department of purity has been under the direction of Miss Frances Willard, president of the national W. C. T. U., who has resigned in consequence of overwork, and Dr. Louise C. Purinton was appointed to all the place.

Hereafter the sessions of conventions will not continue later than 9:30 p.m., it being considered advisable that W. C. T. U. women be temperate in the matter of discussion. The traveling expenses of fraternal delegates will be paid in the future by the organization represented by the delegates.

Lavished Her Affections on a Pug.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20.—Minnie Schaefer sent her husband, Frederick, for divorce on Nov. 9. She alleged cruelty and neglect. Now the husband has filed a cross-petition, in which he said that Minnie had never loved him, but lavished her affections upon a homely pug dog. For over a year, he alleges, she has insisted upon taking the dog to bed with her, and that drove him out into the cold. In addition to her fondness for this pug the once attacked him with a butcher knife, and he thinks the balance of argument is sufficient to grant him an absolute divorce.

Rev. Jacob Primmer to the Queen.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Rev. Jacob Primmer, minister of a Presbyterian church at Dundee, has written a long letter to the Queen in which he undertakes to give her Majesty a religious lecture. He approves of the Queen attending the Kirk while she is in Scotland in preference to the "corrupt Popish Episcopal worship." He asks for stronger support of the Kirk, and incloses for her Majesty's reading a number of tracts against the Church of Rome. The Queen's private secretary has returned the letter and contents to Rev. Mr. Primmer, saying her Majesty is unable to accept such works.

Love vs. a Crown.

VIENNA, Nov. 20.—An imposing ceremony took place at the Hofburg yesterday in the presence of the royal family, the ministers and cardinals and archbishop, the occasion being the formal renunciation by the Archduchess Louise, of Tuscany, and Prince Frederick Augustus of Saxony, of their titles to the throne prior to their marriage. In the evening a state banquet was given at the palace.

Whisperings of War.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 20.—The Department of Imperial Control reports that the present state of affairs in Europe fully warrants the large extra credits asked by the Minister of Marine.

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—The German War Office has ordered a large number of portable tents for the use of the Eastern army corps, with the view to the protection of the troops from inclement weather in the event of war with Russia.

THE WRECK AT PORT STANLEY.

Brave Conduct of a Life-Saving Crew.

Five Men and a Woman Rescued from Drowning—The Disaster at Goderich.

PORT STANLEY, Nov. 20.—Following are details of the disaster that occurred here Thursday morning: The schooner E. G. Benedict, which went ashore here, was consigned to J. C. Anthony, Erie Basin, Buffalo, and had a load of elm logs which she loaded at Smith's dock, west of Rondeau. After the schooner had laid under Rondeau Point during the gale of Tuesday night, she set sail for Buffalo, with the wind from the northwest. The captain expected the wind to go farther north and have smooth water rounding Long Point. However, at 12 o'clock Wednesday night the wind backed into the south-west and began to blow a gale, and he decided to run into Port Stanley. He made the light at 1 o'clock, shortened sail and headed for the light. At 2 a.m. on Thursday the sea had made so heavy, the schooner having been damaged while lying at Smith's dock was taking in water, so the pumps could scarcely keep her free, that by the time she reached the Port she would settle three feet in the trough. Just as she was about to enter the pier she struck the bottom, and losing her headway, broached and went to the star of the harbor, and now lies buried in the sand.

Capt. Wm. Berry, of the life saving station, at daylight saw a flag of distress flying on the schooner. The crew were up in the rigging, while the sea was breaking over the deck half way up the mast. He immediately got his crew together and successfully brought five men and a woman ashore. The names of the crew were: Capt. Thomas Lucas, owner and master, of Windsor, Ont.; Lewis Mercer, of Sombra, Ont.; George Franklin, of Detroit, Mich.; George Franklin, of River, Lake St. Clair, seaman, and Jessie Franklin, cook, same place.

The whole village and those who were rescued are loud in their praises of the hazardous undertaking of the life-saving crew. The schooner will, likely, prove a total loss. No insurance.

GOVERNMENT, Nov. 20.—The lifeboat has succeeded in reaching the large schooner at anchor off here. Its name is the Ed Kelly, bound from Keanan, Mich., to Cleveland, with a cargo of iron. The vessel is leaking and her forecastle is gone. Extra men have been sent out to assist the crew and also a supply of provisions.

The damaged vessel that was at anchor cannot be sighted this morning. A tug from here is now out searching for her.

MANIPULATING THE AIR.

Prof. Blake, of Kansas, Has a New Rain-Making Scheme.

LAWRENCE, Kan., Nov. 20.—Prof. Blake, of the electrical engineers' department of Kansas State University, is the author of a theory for the artificial production of rain that is exciting great interest, and steps are being taken to give it a thorough test. Prof. Blake has perfected several experiments showing that clouds of vapor can be produced by the cooling of air dust particles in the air. They must be free from them. The result of the experiments tends to show that certain elements are more favorable for condensing rain-drops than others, such as Carbon, sulphur and fine dust. They must be thrown with some force into the upper layer of air and in not too great quantity.

IN CHILL.

Rebellious Deputies Imprisoned—The Outrage on American Sailors.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A Valparaiso special says it is reported that Fonseca has imprisoned all of the deputies from the State of Rio Grande do Sul with the exception of four, who safely got away.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A Valparaiso, Chile, dispatch says the Chilean Government has descended from the lofty pedestal long occupied in dealing with the outrages committed on the sailors of the war ship Baltimore. Judge Foster granted the request made some time ago by Capt. Schley that the American representatives here be furnished by the Court of Inquiry with copies of all depositions made before it in the Baltimore investigation.

SANTIAGO DE CHILE, Nov. 20.—Baron Lucena, president of Da Fonseca's Cabinet, sent a dispatch to the Junta of Rio Grande do Sul offering on the part of the Dictator to recognize any local Government that the people of Rio Grande do Sul might prefer, on the sole condition that peace and tranquillity be first restored. The Junta replied that the forces would only disarm when Fonseca resigned and the National Congress again assembled.

Fate of Sir Hugh.

As Margaret's voice died away, Raby turned his slight face to her. "You may give it back to me, Margaret, but stay, there is the copy of your answer; I think I would like to hear that once again; and Margaret obediently opened the thin, folded paper. "My dear Raby—At last we have heard from you—at last you have yielded to my urgent request for some news of your daily life. God bless you for lifting a little of the weight off my mind; but something about yourself and your work. I could not help crying bitterly over your letter, to think that a humble roof sheltered our child; that you are compelled to work for your living; you, Crystal, who have never known what it is to want anything; upon whom a rough wind was not suffered to blow. My child, come home. What need is there of penance and expiation when all has been forgiven? The evil spirit that tormented our child has been cast out, and you are clothed afresh and in your right mind now; come home, for dear Raby's sake, and for the sake of old times. Do you know how long for you? Daily he asks 'Any news of her, Margaret?' and last night, as I was passing his study door, he called me in and bade me give you this message. 'Tell my mother, Margaret, that I will follow her to the world's end.' And tell her, Margaret, that if she do not soon come back to me that I, Raby—blind, helpless, useless as I am, will seek her through all the earth till I find her and bring her back. Ah, surely you must weep as you read this, Crystal. I pray that every tear may be God's own dew to melt and break up the hardness of your heart. Your ever loving, "MARGARET."

"That was written nearly two months ago, Madge, and she has not come yet." "No dear, we must have patience." Raby sighed impatiently. "So you always say; but it is hard to be patient under such circumstances—to know that the woman you love has made herself an exile from all she holds dear. Margaret, I was wrong not to tell her what I felt. I sometimes fear that she has misjudged my silence. But she was so young."

"You meant it for the best, Raby?" "Yes, I meant it for the best," he answered, slowly. "I did not wish to take advantage of her youth; it did not seem right or honorable. Let her go into the world a little and see other men, that is what I said to myself. Even now, I hardly think I was wrong."

"No, you were quite right; but you need not have dreaded the result of such an ordeal; Crystal would never have loved anyone but you, Raby. I sometimes think—but here she hesitated. "Why on earth do you think that?" "That she was jealous of Mona—that she misinterpreted you there?" "Good heavens! Mrs. Grey?" "Crystal was so young, and she did not know that poor Mona's life was doomed. I have seen her look at Mona so strangely when you were talking to her; and once she asked me if you admired fair women, and if you did not think Mrs. Grey very beautiful; and when I said yes, I remember she turned very pale, and did not answer."

"I never thought of this," he had been one of her sick fancies, poor thing; and though my heart had ever swayed from her for an instant. What do you think, Margaret, could she care for the blind man still?" "More than ever, dear. If I know Crystal, her heart has belonged to you from a child."

events do not always cast their shadow before; that day he down to rest in happy ignorance of what the next day may bring forth. As Margaret looked out on the moonlight that evening, she little thought that Sunday was the last day of her happy girlhood—that the morrow held a bitter trial in store for her.

She was sitting alone in the morning-room, the next afternoon, when Sir Wilfred was announced, and the next moment the old man entered the room.

A faint blush came to Margaret's cheeks as she rose to greet him. This visit meant recognition of her as his son's fiancée; and yet, why did he come alone—why was not Hugh with him? Hugh's father was almost a stranger to her. He was a man of reserved habits, who had never been very sociable with his neighbors, and Margaret had seen little of him in her girlish days.

"It is very good of you to come so soon, Sir Wilfred," she said, blushing still more rosily under his penetrating glance. "I am sorry my brother is out; he has gone over to Pierpoint."

"I came here to see you and not your brother," returned Sir Wilfred; but he did not look at her as he spoke, and Margaret noticed that he seemed rather nervous. "My business is with you, Miss Ferrers; I have just heard strange news—that you and my son are engaged; is that true?"

Margaret bowed her head. She thought Sir Wilfred's manner rather singular—he had met her with coldness, there was certainly no trace of warmth, no cordiality in the loose grasp of her hand. She wondered what made him speak in that dry, measured voice, and why, after his first glance at her, he had averted his eyes.

He looked older than he had done yesterday, and there was a harassed expression in his face. "It is rather strange," he went on, "that Hugh should have left me in ignorance all these months, but that—as Margaret seemed about to speak—"is between me and him, I do not include you in the blame. On the contrary,"—speaking now with some degree of feeling—"I am sorry for you, Miss Ferrers, for I have come to tell you, what Hugh refuses to do, that I can not consent to my son's marrying you."

Margaret started, and the proud, indignant color rose to her face; but she restrained herself. "May I ask your reason, Sir Wilfred?" "I have a very good, sufficient reason," returned the old man, sadly; "Hugh is my only son."

"I do not understand—" "Perhaps not, and it is my painful task to enlighten you, Miss Ferrers," he hesitated a little. "I do not wonder at my son's choice, now I see you; I am quite sure that you are all he represents you to be; that in all respects you are fitted to be the wife of a wealthier man than Hugh."

HE WAS PREPARING FOR DEATH! Thought There Was No Hope—A Friend in Need—An Ottawa Man Saved! Five minutes walk from the corner of Sparks and Bank streets, brought the writer to a comfortable and cozy brick house, the residence of a gentleman well known to hundreds in Ottawa. He had just finished tea, and was about to read the evening paper, when the writer introduced himself. "I am informed that you recently passed through a very serious illness; would you kindly give me the particulars, as I am somewhat interested in the remedy which cured you?"

"With all my heart, my dear fellow. I am glad to meet you and welcome you as one interested in that most famous medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. To be brief, I will just say that the doctor declared I was an incurable case of Bright's disease. I was also a dyspeptic, and my condition from suffering, sleeplessness and prostration was so dangerous that I recognized the fact that I was nearing the grave. I arranged my affairs—that is, I made my will and prepared for my end. Providence, in his infinite mercy, sent me a messenger of peace—a friend who urged me to use your Celery Compound. I did so without consulting my doctor, and to-day I am a living proof of its wonderful and recuperative powers. I sleep well, eat heartily, and feel myself stronger than I have been for five years. As long as life remains to me I am an advocate of your great remedy, and will ever speak in its favor. It is only on account of my daughter's wish that I do not allow my name to appear in public."

FUN, FACTS AND FICTION. The organ-grinder is a "tony" man. Fishery statistics give the net result of calculations. Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intensely. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured me made a new man of me so much that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

Sister Euphrasia

Of the St. Vincent de Paul Asylum, Chicago.

Says that the new preparations, Curative Fluid and Curative Absorbent, have been used with great success in that institution, some twenty children having been treated. Among them was a boy 4 years old who three weeks ago had an affection of the scalp that had taken off all the hair from the crown of his head, and the scalp was covered with sores; now there is hair nearly all over the head and the sores are completely healed.—(Chicago Tribune, Sept. 20.) Curative Fluid and Curative Absorbent remove the cause that produces disease. For Ulcers, Sores, Eczema, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Rheumatism, these preparations act like a charm. For sale by druggists. Prepared only by W. Y. Brinton, London.
