

BOARD OF CONTROL WILL INVESTIGATE CITY ASSESSMENT

With Assessment Commissioner Controllers Will Thresh Out Proposed Increase.

MEETING TO BE PRIVATE

Press and Public Will Be Barred From Conference Over Departments' Work.

London's assessment, the proposed increase in land and property valuations, the appointment of independent valuers to work in conjunction with the city assessors, and the appointment of the temporary assessors' clerks, will be considered at a private meeting of the board of control tomorrow evening.

With Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant, the controllers will thresh out the assessment problem that is one of the most important phases of municipal work before the 1914 council. The request for additional assistance, requested by Commissioner Grant, will also be taken up in all its details, as well as a general discussion on all phases of the department work.

The appointments of the temporary assessment clerks will be one of the smaller items of the evening's program. Applications for appointments on the temporary staff have been received from A. B. Cox, A. Black, W. A. Eastwood, F. H. Wright and A. E. Burwell.

Tomorrow's meeting will be "strictly private," according to the controllers, the press and public being barred from hearing the discussions.

WORKMEN'S APPEAL IN BEHALF OF ACT IS A UNIQUE ONE

Over 3,000 Personal Letters Being Sent to Local Representative.

MANUFACTURERS INTEREST

abor Man Declares Proposed Scheme Is Far Cheaper Than Present Insurance.

Three thousand letters will be sent to Hon. Adam Beck, M. L. A., asking that the workmen's compensation act be passed by Sir William Ralph Meredith be passed by the Provincial Legislature.

The appeal will be unique in the history of London labor circles, every union man being requested to direct a personal appeal to the local member. John W. Jacobs stated this morning that the manufacturers were fighting their own heat interests in attempting to prevent the passage of the act in its present form.

"At the present time it costs manufacturers 50 cents per $1,000 of insurance when they want to insure their workmen from accident," said Mr. Jacobs. "Under the act it would cost them less than one cent per $1,000."

"The reason that some of the manufacturers are against the act is that they have an insurance company of their own at the present time, out of which they are making money at the expense of their employees. They fear that the act will cut off this revenue. But there is little doubt but that this act, which is framed on the Lloyd George and Washington acts, will be carried. If it is not, organized labor all over the province will be heard from."

STILL NO SIGNS OF THAT ELUSIVE CAR AGREEMENT

No One Seems to Know Where Official Authority For Sunday Cars Has Gone.

MAY NOT RUN NEXT WEEK

Unless Missing Document is Discovered Another Sunday May Pass Without Cars.

Unless certain persons "get a hustle on," another Sunday is likely to pass without Sunday car service. At noon today neither Manager C. B. King or C. H. Ivey, solicitor for the London Street Railway Company, had received a copy of the agreement, although the bylaw authorizing the operation of Sunday cars was put through at the meeting of the city council last Monday night.

T. G. Meredith, city solicitor, who is supposed to have the proposed agreement in hand, is out of the city today, and consequently could not be seen in order that his explanation of the delay might be secured. City Clerk Samuel Baker states that he has not seen a copy of the agreement. The document will, of course, be satisfactory to the city as its conditions are fully contained in the bylaw.

Until its solicitor has had an opportunity of going over the various clauses of the agreement and approving of them the street railway company will not commence the operation of the seven-day service.

Last evening a number of citizens rubbed their eyes and wondered if they were seeing correctly when they beheld street cars running up and down several of the main thoroughfares. The first impression was that the London Street Railway Company had commenced the seven-day service despite the fact that the Sunday car agreement had not been presented. However, it was nothing of the kind, several cars having been sent out simply for the purpose of clearing the ice from the tracks in order that there might be no obstructions for the Monday morning service.

TRUE BILL FOUND AGAINST OFFICIALS OF UNION LIFE CO.

Bench Warrants Issued for the President and Three Directors.

CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD

Second True Bill Found Against Henry Symons, K. C., and President H. P. Evans.

[Canadian Press.]
Toronto, Jan. 26.—The grand jury today found a true bill against the following charged with conspiracy to defraud in connection with the Union Life Insurance Company: H. Pollman Evans, president; Henry Symons, K. C., George McChamper and F. G. Hughes, directors.

A second true bill was found against Evans and Symons under a similar charge.

The charge specified that from 1902-7 they had conspired to defraud, by misrepresenting the value of shares in the national agency and its connection with the Union Life.

The names were called in court three times and no reply, being made, H. P. Evans, asked Judge Lathford to issue a bench warrant which was done.

The charge was laid following the inquiry recently concluded into the affairs of the Union Life and its allied companies.

Mr. Henry Symons, K. C., is at present in England.

'WANTED' IN OWEN SOUND HE WALKS INTO STATION
Samuel Green Applies For a Night's Lodging and Gets Free Transportation as Well.

Officer Carson, of the Owen Sound police force, arrived in London this afternoon to take back Samuel Green, arrested by Detective Robert Egelton on Sunday night, and who is wanted in the northern city for fraud.

Green applied at police headquarters for a night's lodging. He got it. Free transportation to Owen Sound was thrown in by the obliging officers, for in the would-be "lodger" the detective recognized a man for whom the Owen Sound police were looking.

OIL DRILLING STOPS
Accident Temporarily Causes Shutdown of Delaware Well.

Oil drilling operations at Delaware, where it was reported natural gas had been discovered, have been at a standstill for some time. The men in charge of the work have been absent for several weeks, but residents of the village do not think it likely that they have abandoned the field. An accident to the drill after a depth of over 2,000 feet had been reached, resulted in its becoming wedged in the bore, effectually stopping drilling operations for the time being. After several unsuccessful attempts to withdraw the drill, the work was discontinued.

Dr. J. G. Rice, of Delaware, informed The Advertiser this morning that he expected another effort would be made to clean out the hole, before starting to bore another one.

THE "NAPOLEON" OF MEXICO—WHO WILL HE BE?

ONLY MONOPOLIES WILL BE RESTRICTED

President Wilson Says New Legislation Will Not Affect Legitimate Business.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, Jan. 26.—Nothing in President Wilson's trust legislation program against holding companies will be intended to bar anything "that is not in nature and spirit a monopoly." President Wilson today indicated this, when discussing the situation. It was pointed out that a sweeping prohibition of holding companies would naturally affect concerns which had been required to organize subsidiary companies to comply with certain state laws. The President let it be known that where such a business was being carried on by practically the same corporation there would be no restriction on it. He emphasized as the governing principle in the whole question, that corporations organized "and merged with others for purposes of monopoly or restraint of trade would be clearly barred, and that those which obviously did not interfere with interstate commerce would be let alone."

The purpose of the administration would be, the President declared, to let things grow that grew naturally and legitimately. With respect to the proposed interstate trade commission, the President cleared up various impressions of it by saying it would not be an administrative body, but one of publicity and information. He said it would have no possible conflict with any other department of the Government, because it would not have the right to act in the field of any other constituted authority.

The President does not believe the commission should give publicity to the legitimate methods of business of any concern of which rivals might take advantage.

City Must Comply With Regulations
Factory Inspector Warns Controllers That Fire Escape Must Be Provided at City Hall.

In a letter to the board of control, read at this morning's session, Factory Inspector Harry Clark gave warning that the city would have to place a fire escape on the temporary city hall, and also provide cloakrooms and toilet accommodation for the women employees of the building. At the present time no such accommodation is provided.

The communication was referred to Building Inspector A. M. Piper for a report.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, Jan. 26.—Another member is to be added to the cost of living commission. A French representative has been appointed, in the person of J. U. Vincent, assistant deputy minister of the department of inland revenue. The commission is about to travel, and wants to take a French member along to the province of Quebec.

BRANTFORD HAS GAS PURIFIER COMPLETED
No More Unpurified To Be Used After Tuesday If Filter Is Satisfactory.

[Canadian Press.]
Brantford, Jan. 26.—The installation of the gas purifier here is now complete. The work was finished on Saturday, and this afternoon it will be tested out to see that all component parts are working well together.

If, as is expected, the filtering beds are satisfactory, they will be started at work on Tuesday morning, and by that evening the gas in use in Brantford will be all purified.

The purification of the gas, if it works out satisfactorily, will be a great relief to the citizens. The unpurified gas has been a great nuisance, and has caused a good deal of illness.

A WARNING
For some time numerous complaints regarding the delivery of The Morning Advertiser have been received. Not only was the failure of delivery a reflection on the honest carrier boys, but a source of great inconvenience to this office and to readers.

It has been discovered that carrier boys for other morning newspapers have been stealing The Morning Advertiser from doorsteps, and even from letter boxes. Two boys have been caught red-handed, and have not been prosecuted for the reason that it was thought advisable to give them another chance.

Magistrate Finds Grocers Guilty of Breach of Bylaw

Fines Those Who Did Not Comply With New Early-Closing Regulations.

The first of the test cases against grocers who refused to comply with the terms of the recent early closing bylaw, were decided against the defendants by Police Magistrate J. C. Judd this morning. Mary Bird, William Ginsburg and George Henley, the three grocers charged, were all found guilty and fined the minimum—$1 and costs.

The magistrate's judgment was a comprehensive one and covered the contention raised by the accused dealers that they were not, in the true sense of the word, grocery stores. In determining the definition of a "grocery store," the magistrate holds that it is any store or building where goods, commonly and usually sold, are offered for sale.

On the question of the "side lines," the magistrate's ruling is that in the instance of meats and fruits being sold as well as groceries in the same building, and where the groceries are the principal trade, then all must close. Where the principal trade is that of a butcher or fruit vendor then that portion of the store where the grocery department is handled will have to be closed during the restricted hours.

In passing on the three test cases the magistrate found that grocery was the principal trade in each instance, and, therefore, found the defendants guilty.

Five days was granted in which to pay the fines, the grocers declaring that the magistrate's judgment would be appealed.

PREPARES ESTIMATES FOR LARGER GARBAGE "ZONE"
Superintendent Working Out Schedules For Service in Annexed District

Walter C. Dodd, superintendent of the garbage collection system, is preparing an estimate for the board of control of the probable cost of extending the system to the annexed districts in East London. The superintendent will present figures showing the probable number of householders to be served, and the expense of giving them the service. Collecting garbage in the annexed territory will mean considerably more work for the department, and Superintendent Dodd states that owing to the large area to be covered and the comparatively small number of householders, it is likely that the proposition will not be a paying one. However, as the district fills up and more houses are erected, this difficulty will probably be solved.

The controllers are expected to take some action on the proposal at an early date.

SHIP PERS TO PROTEST BEFORE COMMISSION
Against Increased Freight Rates on Eastern Railroads.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, Jan. 26.—Scores of shippers and their lawyers prepared to protest against any increase of freight rates by the eastern railroads were present here today at the first hearing of a series, which will continue more than a month, before the interstate commerce commission.

Today's hearing was devoted to shipments of petroleum, and with the exception of some of the greater classes such as iron and steel, lumber and coal, each principal subject will have one day.

MICHIGAN WRECK KILLED FOUR AND INJURED A DOZEN

Passenger and Freight Trains in Head-On Collision Near Jackson.

THE SMOKER TELESCOPED

Rescuers Spurred On By Cries of Mangled and Helpless Victims Within Car.

[Canadian Press.]
Jackson, Mich., Jan. 26.—Four persons are dead and a dozen injured, some perhaps fatally, as the result of the head-on collision last night between a passenger train and a freight train, on the Saginaw division of the Michigan Central Railroad, three miles north of here. A misunderstanding of orders is believed to have been responsible for the accident.

The dead are: Cal Johnson, Jackson, engineer on the passenger train, and the following passengers: E. S. Cochrane, Lansing, Mich.; Thomas J. Scroggie, Owosso, Mich.; J. R. Beck, of this city.

Although a relief train was promptly rushed from this city to the scene of the accident, it was three hours and fifty minutes after the crash when the first victim was removed from the wreckage. So great was the force of the collision that the smoking car was telescoped over the baggage car, one car enveloping the other. The cries of the mangled and helpless victims within the car were plainly heard by the rescuers long before the relief corps was able to penetrate the twisted and jammed wreckage and render assistance.

COUNCIL TO REVISE TRADERS' REGULATIONS

Transient Merchants Will Now Have to Pay Full Year's Fee.

A bylaw will be presented to the city council at that body's regular meeting next Monday night, for a revision of transient traders' licenses. Under the present bylaw a fee of $250 is charged, but the regulations are so worded that a six-months' license may be secured for half that amount.

Last December ex-Alld William Spittal introduced a notice of motion to have the bylaw changed, to make the fee $250 whether for six months or the full year. Ald. Spittal argued that transient traders were backing the regular merchants who paid a large share of the taxes and were doing the most for the rebuilding of the city.

The 1914 board of control has taken up the work commenced by Ald. Spittal, and the matter was discussed at a meeting this morning. Controller W. G. Coles wished to make the license fee absolutely prohibitive, and named $1,000 as a possible figure.

City Clerk Samuel Baker advised, however, that the council had no power to impose a higher fee than $250.

Controller Coles thought that the transient traders were a curse to London, and Controller G. E. Rose went so far as to suggest that special legislation be secured to allow the council authority to charge anything it saw fit for such licenses.

The other members of the board were in accord with the idea and no opposition is anticipated for the revised bylaw. The change will mean that the transient trader will have to pay the $250 fee for the privilege of doing business for a day, a week or a year.

TOM TERRIS PLAYERS IN FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES
Small Houses Responsible For Shortage in Company's Treasury.

The Tom Terris Players who appeared here last week in a repertoire of Dickens' plays, are in financial difficulties. Although the company was a capable one, the audiences were deplorably small, on one or two occasions there being not more than a score of persons in the theatre, Saturday did not bring the houses that were expected, the paid admissions being not more than 150.

The theatre in which the company appeared has a claim against it, as well as several members of the cast, who have not received their full remuneration.

The company has a number of bookings in Ontario, but it is not known whether or not it will be able to fill them.

Mr. Terris is trying to straighten out the difficulties before leaving the city.

---and the Worst Is Yet to Come

PRESIDENT HUERTA
DECLINES TO YIELD

Friends and Church Officials
Are Unable to Move Him—
Is Fighting Against Odds.

[Canadian Press.]

Mexico City, Jan. 25.—President Huerta betrays no sign of yielding, although he is cognizant of the increase in the strength of his enemies intriguing with capital, and those in the hands of the United States, who are being handicapped by inability to procure money and is confronted with Washington's determination that he must retire from Mexico's affairs.

Personal and political friends and the highest officials of the Catholic Church in Mexico, who have been endeavoring by methods, for the most part discreetly indirect, to bring about his elimination, are seemingly convinced tonight that they have failed.

General Huerta talks optimistically of the outlook, displays pride in the size of his army, which he estimates at considerably more than 100,000, and appears to believe that in spite of all obstacles and reverses, he will be able to dominate the situation within three months. It is conceded here that ex-Minister Flores Magón has failed in his mission to Mr. Lind at Vera Cruz, and that the United States will listen to no proposition short of the unconditional elimination of Huerta.

Treasury Is Empty.
No one—not even President Huerta—attempts to disguise the fact that the Mexican treasury is practically empty. In the capital, the Government payrolls are being liquidated with reasonable promptness, but it is no secret that the diplomatic representatives and consuls abroad in many cases have not been paid for weeks, and that the troops outside the capital often receive their pay long after it is due. In most cases these funds are derived from local sources; sometimes they are from forced loans levied on the inhabitants where the troops happen to be stationed.

Extraordinary taxes have been levied in the capital, as well as outside points, and there are rumors that other decrees are soon to be issued that will exact still greater tribute from the people.

Another Rebel Uprising.
There is little change of importance since last week in the military situation, and the residents of the capital are expecting that the rebel chief, General Villa, who has appeared outside Torreon, will reach here at an early date. One of the disquieting developments has been the increased number of rebel bands between Orizaba and Vera Cruz, and south as far as the Isthmus of Tehuantepec.

There are some who believe that General Felix Diaz and General Mondragon, his chief lieutenant in the uprising in the capital almost a year ago, are behind this latest rising. The rebels in this region have not been called upon so far to test the strength

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Are the Original Pill For The Cure Of Backache, Lame Back, Weak Back Or Any Other Kidney Trouble.

The fact that Doan's Kidney Pills are the original Kidney Pills has not prevented the placing of other preparations in pill form upon the market under the name Kidney Pills. It is necessary, therefore, that all wishing to secure the curative effects which have made Doan's Kidney Pills so popular everywhere, should see that the trade mark, the Maple Leaf, appears on the wrapper. Without this trade mark you are not getting the genuine Kidney Pills as originally placed before the people by Mr. James Doan, as shown by the following declaration.

DOMINION OF CANADA, PROVINCES OF ONTARIO, TO WIT:

In the matter of Doan's Kidney Pills. I, James Doan, of Kingsville, in the County of Essex, Druggist, do solemnly declare that Doan's Kidney Pills were first manufactured and sold by me on the 14th day of February, A.D. 1885. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and knowing it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act, 1893."

Consumption Takes

every day in the year and the deadly germs claim more victims in cities than in rural districts, due no doubt to the increased number of indoor workers in confining quarters and their lack of sunshine.

Tubercular germs always attack when the system is weakened from colds or sickness, overwork, overstrain, confining duties or any drain which has reduced the resistive forces of the body. But nature always provides a corrector and the best physicians emphasize that during changing climate our blood should be kept rich and pure and active by taking Scott's Emulsion after meals; the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion warms the body by enriching the blood—it peculiarly strengthens the lungs and upbuilds the resistive forces of the body to avoid colds and prevent consumption.

If you work indoors, tire easily, feel languid or nervous, Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known; it builds energy and strength and is totally free from alcohol or any stupefying drug—every druggist has it. 12-10c Scott & Bowne, Toronto, Ont.

EARNEST PRAYERS FOR ABOLISHING THE BAR

Huron County Roused As Never Before—Preachers Made
Temperance Their Theme.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Goderich, Jan. 25.—Earnest prayers for the abolition of the bars all through Huron and the stamping out of the entire liquor traffic, were offered up in the churches all through the county today.

Temperance workers are roused as never before, and the greatest victory ever won in Ontario, if not in Canada, is expected when the returns are in next Thursday night.

Practically every pastor in Goderich made the temperance issue his theme today, and many splendid sermons dealing with the question in all its various phases were given. Every church where the big question was to be discussed was crowded to its capacity.

Record Vote Expected.

A record vote is predicted on polling day. The temperance forces are thoroughly organized and expect a sweeping victory. Notwithstanding all that has been done the present week will be the most strenuous of the campaign. A splendid series of meetings has been arranged, and dozens of the speakers of the temperance forces will travel over Huron urging that all bars be wiped out.

FOSTER SUMMONED TO AID OF PARTY

Called Back To Help Argument
In Behalf of Tariff—Will Be In House Today.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—Hon. George E. Foster will be in the House of Commons tomorrow. He was summoned to return from England to take part in the discussion of the high cost of living which developed in importance last week and promises to continue the most complete and quiet before parliament throughout the session.

It is understood that the demand for Mr. Foster's presence in parliament came from the protected interests, who feared that the members of the Government now here would not be able to efficiently present their case. Though Premier Borden, Finance Minister White and Hon. Mr. Loughheed last week stated that there was no inclination on the part of the Government to remedy the high cost of living by tariff readjustment they gave few reasons to justify a stand-pat tariff policy during hard times. The high protectionists want their case supported by capable arguments. Hence the hurried recall of Hon. Mr. Foster.

It is understood that a French member is to be added to the commission recently named to inquire into the reasons for the high cost of living. Reaches Ottawa at Midnight.

Hon. George E. Foster returned to Ottawa at midnight. He left the day after Christmas and has been in London for a fortnight attending sittings of the Dominion's royal trade commission. The commission has gone to South Africa, where they will sit without Mr. Foster, who had to return to Canada to appear in Parliament. In South Africa the commission will take its first evidence on the question of ocean freight rates. As soon as the African sittings are concluded, the commission will come to Canada, where Mr. Foster will join them. The commission will spend three months in Canada, and, among other matters relating to trade, will look into ocean freight rates on both the Atlantic and the Pacific.

Waterford, Ireland, Jan. 25.—"Every sane man knows that, bar accidents, the home rule bill will be the law of the land this year," said John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists, speaking before an immense gathering here this afternoon.

"If any change is made in the home rule bill," continued Mr. Redmond, "it will only be to buy the goodwill of our opponents. But I say frankly that I see no prospects of their goodwill being purchased at any price whatever. That goodwill is worth purchasing at a big price, but any change in the bill should be consistent with the unity of Ireland. There are no lengths short of abandonment of the principles you and I hold to which I would not go to gain the confidence of the men of Ulster."

Opposes Fight in Cork.
Referring to William O'Brien's resignation from his seat in Cork, Mr. Redmond asked his supporters to refrain from contesting the seat declaring that a fight between two professing Nationalists at the present moment would be a scandal and an injury to the cause.

Mr. O'Brien resigned his seat in Parliament a week ago in answer to a challenge issued by Augustine Rooke, M. P. for North Louth, to test the strength of his following. He declared his readiness to meet any member of the Irish party from John Redmond down, as the opposing candidate, to decide whether the home rule bill as it now stands is acceptable to the Irish people.

Madrid, Jan. 25.—Announcement is made in several of the Madrid newspapers of King Alfonso's projected trip to Argentina.

Premier Dato is given as authority for the report. It was said tonight that the cabinet has made no definite arrangements for the trip.

MAD DOG BIT THREE AND IS STILL AT LARGE

St. Jacobs, Jan. 25.—Residents of this district are in a panic as a result of a mad dog being at large. Last evening a savage, wild-eyed dog having every symptom of hydrophobia, rushed through the village.

Roy Miller, Jacob Hurst and Adam Amiel were bitten, as well as two horses that Mr. Hurst was driving. The dog escaped and fled to the country, where every effort to locate it has proven unsuccessful.

LITTLE CHURCHES OF LONDON

—No. 1—

Cathedral chimes and white-robed choirs
Call men to marbled halls of prayer;
Somewhere I love the little church,
A sacred quiet lingers there.

And not for me the spacious aisles
Where thronging feet have trod,
But where in soft, sequestered light,
A few souls wait on God.

Christain Church, Dundas and Elizabeth streets.

Organized in 1891.
The Christian Church, Dundas and Elizabeth streets, was organized in 1891. Following a series of meetings held by Rev. Robert Moffatt, superintendent of home missions of the Church of Christ (Disciples), for United States and Canada, the church was organized with 23 charter members on December 2, of that year. H. J. Leonard, then United States consul in London, was the prime mover in securing a church building and conducted services himself until T. L. Fowler, now of West Lorne, was called as the first pastor.

The congregation grew until in May, 1894, a little more than three years after organization, the membership was 128, with an enrollment in the Sunday School of 130. The present membership is 114.

New Pastor Starts.
A week ago Sunday, the present pastor, Rev. G. F. Assiter, formerly of Grand Valley, entered upon his pastorate, succeeding Rev. Bela H. Hayden, who last July left to accept a professorship in a Christian college in Tennessee.

Previous pastors succeeding T. L. Fowler, the first minister, were George Bowch, Colin Sten, J. T. LeFavor, S. B. Culp, and E. R. Black. Yesterday morning, Rev. Mr. Assiter preached on the subject, "The Woman at the Well." It was not an accident, according to Mr. Assiter that made Jesus meet the woman of Samaria.

"Jesus must needs go through Samaria," quoted the speaker. "Usually the pious Jews crossed the Jordan and followed the east side of the river, recrossing into Galilee rather than pass through Samaria. It was a 34-mile journey to Galilee but Jesus must needs go there that he might meet the woman at the well."

Nothing is more common, said the speaker, than for Christian people, even Christian ministers, to break appointments with the king of kings. Promise Not To Multitudes.

"I wonder what modern preachers would say to the woman at the well," said Rev. Mr. Assiter. "How often when only a few attend, church meetings are adjourned. We forget that the promise is not to the multitude but to two or three."

When he came to the woman, Jesus first of all sat down. He always put people at their ease. That was his way of gaining their confidence and hearts. His text was water, his audience one forlorn and fallen woman.

The Double Work of the Blood

The circulation of the blood is one of the most perfect pieces of mechanism in the universe. Besides carrying nourishment to every part of the body, the blood collects the waste products and passes through the kidneys in order that these poisons may be eliminated.

Hence you see the tremendous importance of keeping the kidneys in healthful working order so that they free the blood from these impurities before they find lodgment in some weak spot and set up serious disease. Aching back and aching head, troubles with the digestion, deposits in the urine, constipation and biliousness—such are the symptoms which indicate the need of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The liver is awakened to action, the bowels regulated, and the kidneys made vigorous in their work of purifying the blood.

In the great majority of homes Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are kept at hand for use in just such cases. They save many doctor bills, and by keeping the digestive and excretory systems in health do much to prolong life and bring comfort in old age.

MAN IS SUPERIOR THROUGH THE WILL

Foundation of Knowledge Subject of Strong Sermon By Rev. W. J. Knox.

THINK FOR YOURSELF

Salvation Depends on Something Higher Than Intellectual Discipline or Education.

"The Foundation of Knowledge," was the theme of an interesting and forceful sermon by Rev. W. J. Knox, M.A., in the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning.

Taking as his text, the seventeenth verse of the seventh chapter of St. John's gospel, particularly those words, "If any man do his will he shall know of the doctrine," the pastor showed how the will in man makes him superior to other forms of education and development. It is possible to produce that dominance that will make him master over himself and his every action. "God does not judge us by our visible attainments," he asserted, "but estimates our value by our inward selves. We are often prejudiced in our judgment of a man. We see only the exterior and are apt to base our opinions on his outward appearance. Judgment should be made according to ultimate motives. We are not able to tell what a man may have to contend with and often judgment is passed too hastily."

Will the Basis.
The pastor emphatically asserted that the will in man is the very basis of his nature. It is the control of the will that ultimately brings about complete mastery over self. It was given man to develop and here lay the vast difference between man and beast. The beast had feeling and power and instinct; but not that gift of vital necessity—will.

Discussing the types of men who are different because of their varying powers of control and their individual convictions, the pastor asserted that his preference was expended to the man who does right because through his will power he has brought himself to that stage where he becomes master of his impulses, rather than to the man who follows the church through traditional custom only. "Give me the unitarian in preference to your conventional, orthodox, properly-blessed respectable Christian," he said. "It is the man who does right, whatever his feelings, who is following the straight path. The man who follows conventions dictated merely because others are doing the same, is not exercising that power that was given him to think for himself and make the world better for that thinking."

Think For Yourself.
"We are realizing," he continued, "that I belong to a certain party and I am inclined to be partisan, as too many are, then if, for example, the Government asserts itself in favor of the navy bill, should I follow blindly in the wake of its supporters, merely because of my party feelings, or should I think and consider the question logically for myself and abide by my own judgment?"

"Our salvation is dependent on something higher than education or intellectual discipline. We are not responsible for weak intellects, cold natures or lack of knowledge. But we are responsible for the direction of the will. So long as we cling to certain traditions that are handed down through the ages, we cannot advance. We must cast aside our cherished traditions and illusions. We must think for ourselves. It is our will and that only, that will bring about our ultimate salvation."

Annual Meeting Wednesday.
The annual church meeting of the Christian church will be held on Wednesday night. Special prayer meetings will be held on Thursday and Friday nights in preparation for a series of revival meetings to commence next Sunday night.

PLACES ARE NEEDED FOR YOUNG FOLK

Rev. Thos. Mitchell Points Out Grave Social Lack of The City.

"To overcome the evil in our hearts, forget about it," advised the Rev. T. H. Mitchell at New St. James' Presbyterian Church Sunday morning.

The speaker chose his text from the parable of the tares, "Nay, lest while ye gather up the tares ye root up also the wheat with them. . . . Let them both grow together until the harvest."

"There are two methods of overcoming evil," said Mr. Mitchell. "The human way is to root out the evil. The Divine way is to let it grow with the good, and cultivate the good."

"Now the divine way is to my mind the only way. If we ignore the bad and carefully cultivate the good, we shall soon have only the good left." "I remember the case of an idle boy, who, being troubled, went to a minister. The minister prayed earnestly for the boy. Soon the boy was back again, more troubled than ever. 'Look here, I want you to get a steady job,' the minister told him. 'The boy got the job and was troubled no more, and that method was the right one,' asserted the speaker.

"If you want to get the evil out of the home, make it a happy, attractive place, and wear a smile. Don't gather the tares, but cultivate the good. There are husbands who are addicted to drink. In one home the wife is continually nagging her husband, and seems always to displease him, and not care whether she does or not. When he wants to go home, she wants to go. 'I hate the man who goes to the saloon,' said Mr. Mitchell vehemently. 'But striking at it directly will not vanquish it. The little good there is in it—the fellowship—is what makes the saloon attractive. It is a good fellow,' declared the speaker. 'He loves comradeship, and if he does not get it in the home he seeks it some place else. It is the same with the boys and girls whom I see walking the streets night after night. Most of them have no place to go, except four blank walls, and so they walk the streets.'

"London's greatest need is a place where our boys and girls can meet in the right place, and in the right way."

mystery of suffering and its place in the world. Jesus, who was a veritable prince in the realm of suffering, a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief—by the patience with which he bore his sufferings, gave a new meaning to what before was a mystery.

Another astounding fact about his life is that while he was sinless, he attracted the sinful, not only of his own race and time, but of all races and in all ages. Sinners realized his power to forgive sin. Other teachers such as Confucius, Mahomet and others could only wash away the stain of sin and set the sinner free. Finally, Jesus brought definite teaching about the doctrine of immortality. Previous to His coming, at it, after studying the parables of nature, but it remained for Jesus to give to the world, definite assurance of an everlasting life to come. Even the Jewish people had only the vaguest ideas of immortality, and a person going through the catacombs of Rome even at the present day, will see written above the sepulchres of many of the pagan Romans, the words, "Farewell, farewell, but over the graves of the martyred Christians are seen the words "He died in hope."

It was this hope, this power to forgive sin and to glorify suffering, that made Christ so universally attractive to the world today, the speaker concluded. Reading the story of his life in the gospels we are forced to the same conclusion that St. Peter came to in a moment of special revelation, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the Living God."

GO TO HELL THROUGH THEIR CARELESSNESS
Millions of God's Creatures There Because of Neglect, Says Father Phelan.

"There are millions of God's creatures who neglected the warning that you hear tonight, and who are now in the abode of despair and misery shall ring through hell forever."

In such emphatic and forcible words did Rev. Father Phelan, in St. Peter's Cathedral last night, urge his congregation to give diligent attention to their souls' salvation. The great mass of mankind, he said, were entirely engaged in business, pleasure and other affairs of the earthly life, and gave little attention to God and eternal things. But death comes at last, and they must face the terrible judgment of God.

"Why do so many of our Catholic people come to that unfortunate place? Because they fail to meditate on the great and fundamental truths of their faith. 'We come from God, we belong to God, we shall go to God. It is not necessary that we attain name and distinction or acquire fortune, but it is absolutely necessary that we love and know and fear God. Let us look upon the salvation of our souls as the all-important thing in life. Let us have set up for ourselves the goal of Jesus, 'What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?'"

Must Do It Themselves.
Men must attend themselves to their souls' salvation, said Father Phelan. They could get the lawyer to transact their business, the doctor to heal their physical ailments, but there was no substitute for saving their souls. They must keep the commandments, and confessing their sins. No priest, nor the Pope, nor God himself, could save them unless they chose salvation of their own free-will.

"It is our own fault if our souls burn forever in the flames of hell. It is our own fault if we are damned. It is our own fault if we are saved. Let us be careful of our souls, and let us be different toward our souls, created by God for himself and destined to live forever."

Rev. Father Nolan announced the mission to be held this week and next. He said that the next mission would be the commandments of God. "What shall I do that I shall enter into the life everlasting?" the young man asked Jesus. "Keep the commandments," was the answer.

Commandments the Standard.
"The standard of our moral life must be the Ten Commandments," said Rev. Father Nolan. "We hear a lot about humanitarianism and brotherly love, but we are not sure that we have taken away these commandments."

"He has never rescinded his commandments," continued Father Nolan. "The ten commandments given by Moses in vain that there is one day on which he must be especially honored; He has never told us that he would take away these commandments that forbid us unchaste thoughts and lewd actions."

The evil of reading improper literature, and of indulging in immoral thoughts and actions was pointed out. God's commandments are still against such evil, but we have set up for ourselves a law of convenience, saying that it is all right as long as it doesn't injure anyone.

"God has given us not one, but ten commandments," continued Father Nolan. "The ten commandments given by Moses in vain that there is one day on which he must be especially honored; He has never told us that he would take away these commandments that forbid us unchaste thoughts and lewd actions."

It is true, said Father Nolan, that by committing venial sin, men did not forfeit God's forgiveness, but venial sin dulls the moral sense and tends to the committing of mortal sin. It is difficult often to see the line of demarcation between venial and mortal sin. The greatest evil in the world is mortal sin. The next greatest evil is venial sin. If men avoid venial sin, there is no danger of falling into mortal sin.

"CHARACTER IS GLORY" SAYS REV. J. E. HAWKINGS

Declares That God's Way Is To Import Indwelling Christ in Hearts of Men.

"Christ in you, the hope of glory." These words from the 27th verse of the first chapter of Colossians, formed the subject of a discourse by Rev. J. E. Hawkins, D.D., at Maitland Street Baptist Church Sunday evening. The indwelling Christ, he declared to be the secret of a glorious life, bringing with it the glory of character, the glory of peace, the glory of service and the glory of beauty of action and thought.

With his subject under each of these four heads, Rev. Hawkins developed the thought that in them was contained the glory spoken of in the text.

"Character is glory," he declared. "Men realize the glory of character, and they strive to attain it by making resolves within themselves that they will follow such a certain action and refrain from certain other things. That is man's way of attaining the glory of character. God's way is to impart within the human heart the indwelling Christ."

at the calm of Abraham Lincoln when he addressed the great throng in the White House. But his calmness came from the possession of perfect peace with God. So it was with every true believer. None have so much assurance at death as those who have the in-dwelling Christ.

This in-dwelling of Christ also inspired to the glory of service. If he were asked to write down a list of those he considered to be earth's greatest personages, the preacher said, he would put Florence Nightingale first, because her ideal was one of service, and Christ in the heart should inspire service for him and for humanity.

Finally, the assurance of immortality resulted from the in-dwelling of Christ. "Try as you will you can't argue yourself into belief in immortal life," he said. "That assurance comes only with the in-dwelling Christ implanted in the heart."

A splendid anthem by the choir was a feature of the service.

PASTOR DENOUNCES ALL CARD-PLAYING

Rev. D. N. McCamus Declares It Is Gamblers' Kindergarten.

Rev. D. N. McCamus strongly denounced all forms of Chance, and especially card-playing, and buying, and the lottery at Colborne Street Methodist Church last night. He used as his text: "For we walk by faith, not by sight."

The speaker explained just what he meant by "Chance." "Chance is the cardinal principle of the Devil for the government of men, and their ruin," he said. "Chance is essentially dishonest; what is one man's gain is another man's loss. Chance is the prettification of a holy principle."

A certain line of steamships several years ago announced that they had never lost a single passenger, because they never took chances, said the pastor, who contrasted this with the captain who took a chance on a short-cut and lost his ship and crew.

"This man threw aside his knowledge and took a risk," asserted the speaker. "Faith is intelligent; Chance is blind."

Mr. McCamus cited numerous instances where ruin had resulted from chance-taking.

"The money exchanged in gambling exceeds $50,000,000 in 24 hours. This represents a terrible lot of immorality, dishonesty and degradation of human beings," said the speaker.

"I think playing cards even 'just for fun' is gambling. The gambling is in the chance. 'Card playing is the gamblers' kindergarten, and leads to the vilest corruptions. It is the violation of a holy principle."

The speaker asserted that it was just as holy to use the Lord's supper to make money as it is to take chances.

"I knew personally a young physician, who knew nothing of cards, and was making a reputation as a doctor," said Mr.

McCamus. He learned the game and became an expert, going from place to place playing for huge stakes. Today he is a moral and physical wreck, living on a back street in squalor and pauper.

"I know I am not alone in my judgment of Chance. If this evil has been the cause of leading so many astray, surely we can do without it. Let us follow the example of Christ, and in a doubtful position say: 'Him I shall follow.'"

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time. Letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

Many Letters at Hand.

A great many letters have been received in the last week, and it is impossible to find room to publish all as quickly as I would like. I can only ask those who are waiting to please be patient—answers will appear as soon as possible.

He's 20; She's 25.

Dear Miss Grey—Do you think it is advisable for a boy of 20 to keep company with a young lady of 25. I am deeply in love with her—at least, I think I am. Kindly tell me if you think she is too old for me. Thanking you in advance, "JOE."

A.—Yes, frankly, "Joe." I think it would be better for you to find a girl more your own age, or even a bit younger. But, of course, you need not act on my advice. If the young lady appears to meet your advances halfway, there have been very happy couples in the world's history with even a greater difference in age than in your case.

Current Events.

Dear Miss Grey—As you have so kindly assisted others, I, too, come for help. Please answer the following:

1. Two or three of the latest current events?
2. What would you suggest for a suitable, inexpensive present for a china wedding?
3. Give two or three hints why children should be taught to love plants and animals?
4. What do you think of my penmanship?

Hoping to see this in print in due time, I am, yours, X. Y. Z.

A.—1. Goodness, gracious, dear woman, why don't you read the news columns of this up-to-date daily paper? Among the thousand and one events happening recently, I suppose one might mention the war in Mexico; the opening of Dominion Parliament; the death of Lord Strathcona, and completion of the Panama Canal. There is a magazine entitled "Current Events"—I believe they subscribe for it at the public library—this might be of interest to you.

2. One of the pretty dishes with three compartments for holding salted nuts, radishes or olives, etc.; one of the new style sauce tureens; a couple of bouillon cups; a hand-painted plate, vase or cup and saucer.

3. For one thing, the love of plants, flowers and animals, takes a child out into the great outdoor world, where he breathes the fresh air, and in running about, strengthens and develops the muscles of the body.

Any nature study quickens the perceptions of a child. His ear is quicker, because of being attuned to catch the song of the early bird in spring, his eye is eager as he looks for the first blossom growing in a sheltered nook. No child trained to look for these things can be as dull as the child never encouraged to love growing things whether plants or animals.

The love of flowers, and the study of them, implants into the child's heart a love of the beautiful in life. Take poetry, for instance, roses, and violets, and lilies, and daffodils, and many others, are woven into the lines penned by the immortal writers of all ages. If a child loves these in the field or garden, he will also love them in poetry. It will be like meeting with old friends.

The study and love of animals and birds exercises the sympathies of a child. If encouraged in neglect or unkindness towards the house dog or cat, the first seeds of neglect and unkindness towards his own species will have been sown. On the other hand, if a child is taught to love the dumb animals of the house or field, to understand something of their life and their way of living, to sympathize with them in their woes, he is not apt to rob the birds' nest in the spring, or to be cruel to his pony, the chickens, or the nibbling little bunny.

4. It is very good.

She Weighs 126.

Dear Miss Grey—I am a steady reader of your large, favorite London newspaper, and would be pleased to have some information. I have never written to you before. Others have received help, and I hope I will get some help from you.

1. I am 5 feet 4½ inches tall; I weigh 126 pounds, and 19 years old. I am 36 inches bust, 24 inches waist, and 39 inches hip. I have light hair and blue eyes. What colors are most becoming to me?

2. What will take inkstains out of a dresser cloth that has been washed?

3. What do you think of my writing? DUTCH.

A.—1. I must confess that I don't quite see what the fact of your weighing 126 pounds, and all the rest of the figures you give, have to do with becoming colors! As you are a blonde, I should think that pale and bright blues, tans, pale green, and pink, would look well on you.

2. To moisten the spot, sprinkle with salt of lemon; let remain for a few minutes, then wash the article in clear water, and hang in the sun. This should remove it.

3. It is at least neat and fairly legible.

No Home Remedy.

Dear Miss Grey—Kindly tell me what will make the fur of an old electric or near-seal coat lie smooth as when new, as mine has become shabby? The gloss seems to have left the fur in places. Thanking you in advance, Yours, HELEN.

A.—No, Helen, I fear the only way to remedy it with a new coat entirely. At least, I do not see that you could do anything with it at home. A professional renovator might do something with it.

Help For Housekeeper.

Dear Miss Grey—Please answer the following:

1. A nice salad dressing, not too expensive?
2. How to make potato salad?
3. A nice lunch for children's dinner? Thanking you in advance, HOUSEKEEPER.

A.—1. Here is a dressing you are sure to like: One tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon brown sugar, pepper, and one-half teaspoon mustard; wet all with a little cold milk, and add more milk until two-thirds of a cup has been used; place over the fire, adding a generous lump of butter, and a half-teaspoon of vinegar, a very little at a time, beating steadily, so that the dressing does not curdle. If desired, a beaten egg may be included in this dressing, but for potato or cabbage salad, the whiter the dressing is, the better.

2. Cook potatoes (preferably with the skins on) peel, and mash or cut into small cubes; mix with some of the above dressing, turn into the salad bowl, garnish with shreds of lettuce or sprigs of parsley and rings of hard-boiled egg, and serve. Some like to mix it with the potato.

3. I suppose you want suggestions for a school lunch, and hope that you may find the following practicable. A fork or spoon could easily be kept by the child in his desk, and washed at the school pump after the noon meal. Salad or jams or some of the cold puddings can nicely be carried in a sealed jar, small enough to stand in a corner of the lunch basket, and help wonderfully in relieving the monotony of daily lunches. Most of the things are found in honor-marie candy: (2) small meat pie, buttered bun, orange marmalade, piece of light cake, apple; (3) brown bread, with butter; two stuffed eggs; piece of mince pie, orange; (4) cheese sandwiches, buttered biscuits, strawberry jam, cake, banana; (5) bread and butter, potato salad, baked apple with sugar, drop cakes.

Seeks Advice.

Dear Miss Grey—You have been so helpful to so many I thought I would seek your good advice also. I am rather stout, so wear a bust support. Do you think them harmful? M. B. W.

A.—Some claim that those made of rubber are harmful. A simple support of cotton or muslin can do no harm if not worn too tightly.

Progressive Games.

Dear Miss Grey: I. We intend having a party the last week in January could you suggest any progressive games other than progress a euchre and progressive peanuts that would be interesting?

2. Do you know of a suitable costume for a gypsy or weaver?

3. Also what the different euche cards represent when used for telling fortunes? Thanking you in advance, sincerely, A. W. W.

A.—1. You could arrange a progressive evening without a great deal of trouble by having odd games at each table. No doubt you will have some yourself, and could borrow others from personal friends. For one table you could have the contest printed below, if you desired a change; instruct the players to work in couples, just the same as with any other game. For one table an amusing contest would be to provide each player with a small dish, and two toothpicks, and have a large plate of dry beans in the centre of the table. The scheme is to lift the beans out of the plate one at a time with the toothpicks, and the winners are the couple having the most beans in their little dishes when "time" is called.

Flower contest—1. An amiable man (Sweet William). 2. The pulse of the business world (Stocks). 3. A title for the day (Morning Glory). 4. A bird and a riding accessory (Larkspur). 5. A pillar of a building and a syllable that rhymes with "dine" (Columbine). 6. A flower between mountains (Lily of the valley). 7. A farewell sentiment (Forget-me-not). 8. A duke and an animal (Dandelion). 9. A part of the day (Four o'clock). 10. The result of cupid's arrow (Bleeding heart). 11. The place for a kiss (Tulips). 12. A yellow stick (Golden rod). 13. A product of the dairy and a drinking utensil (Buttercup). 14. One of the 400 (Antler). 15. What Cinderella should have advertised for (Lily of the slipper). 16. A wild animal and a bit of outdoor wearing apparel (Foxglove).

2. I must confess that the gypsies that I have seen are not particularly picturesque, but I offer the best suggestion I have: Grey gown may be velvet, woolen or cotton, made with plain waist sewed onto a gathered skirt; sleeves are short, and collar low; bright shawl or handkerchief should be worn around the shoulders and another on the head; hair should be parted in the middle, combed back plain and necklaces of gray beads or bright colors that you can secure, the better. If you could secure a tambourine, and use it as a part of your character costume, it would be effective.

3. I have not got this, nor do I know where to get it. If any reader cares to supply the information, I shall gladly mail it to you, as I have your address.

The planets will Both good and ill.

Good and bad contend today in the planetary influence, but Venus, Mercury and Jupiter are in strongly benefic aspects. Saturn is in decline, changing from evil to friendly sway. Women should make the most of today's opportunities, which promise much to all in artistic professions or commercial vocations.

Writers, actresses and singers may benefit greatly from efforts put forth while this configuration prevails.

The sign is favorable for making a lasting impression by means of personality, since the planets are said to inspire the mind so that it is alert, vivacious and able to command its best capabilities.

Theatres and all places of amusement are more or less subject to favorable guidance, according to the interpreters of the stars, but many men who own them will not recover severe losses. Strangers in many cases will reap the gains from public patronage.

Hotelkeepers, managers of restaurants, nurses, collectors, milliners, modistes and clothiers should prosper today.

Owing to Saturn's uncertainty dealers in leather goods, farmers, gardeners, miners, masons, builders, and repairers will be governed by the planet. Collectors and messengers have a lucky omen, so have wrestlers and athletes.

Stock raisers in the west are warned against unprecedented losses of cattle. Epidemics of great violence among the Mexicans are foretold. Smallpox will cause many deaths, the stars announce. Pneumonia will be prevalent in America. Collectors will ally themselves with a new reform movement, this year announces.

Persons whose birthdate it is will have a busy year, in which many anxieties will vex. They should not make any changes in their work or dwelling places.

Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly hard to satisfy. Great individuality and originality are read in the stars. Boys have the omen of rapid rise in life, but girls should be guarded against vicissitudes.

The stars incline, but do not compel.

The Woes of Mrs. Newlywed

"The steel on my kitchen range gets rusty. How can I clean it?" questioned Mrs. Newlywed.

"Moisten a piece of soap," answered Mrs. Neighbor, "and rub it well over the steel. Then powder the range with some bath brick, and with a dry rag rub the steel well with it. Then polish the steel for the last time with another clean, dry rag, and you will be surprised at the change this makes."

Songs of Ye Olden-Tyme

Someone asked for words of "Just a Song at twilight," and we have pleasure in printing them today from a copy sent in by "Chirper," Emery street, London. "A Reader," who says that she enjoys the corner very much, and "H. J. R." also send us the words, to all of whom we are grateful:

Once in the dead, dear days beyond recall, When on the world the mist begins to fall, Out of the dreams that rose in happy throng, Low to our hearts love sang an old, sweet song.

And in the dusk, where fell the fire-light gleam, Softly it wove itself into our dream. Even today we hear love's song of yore, Deep in our hearts it dwells forever more; Footsteps may falter, weary grow the way, Still we can hear it at the close of day.

So till the end and when life's dim shadows fall, Love will be found the sweetest song of all.

Refrain: Just a song at twilight, when the lights are low, The "ring shadows" softly come and go; Tho' the heart be weary, sad the day, Still to us at twilight comes love's old song, comes love's old, sweet song.

SONGS ASKED FOR.

A constant reader, ("L. M."), sends copy of the verse, "The Ship That Never Returned," but these had already been printed. Schoolgirl, Wallacetown, sends words of "Down by the Old Abbey," and music of "The Ship That Never Returned." Schoolgirl, Wallacetown, sends words of "Down by the Old Abbey," and music of "The Ship That Never Returned." Schoolgirl, Wallacetown, sends words of "Down by the Old Abbey," and music of "The Ship That Never Returned."

"Why don't you go home to your mother," said they, And this was the maiden's reply: "Mamma's in heaven, they took her away."

"W. O. C." asks for the song of the Wainwarder, beginning:

"Twas a cold, stormy night in December, In the year nineteen hundred and two, I also for a song containing the lines,

"The girl I call my sweetheart Must have eyes of Irish blue, Her cheeks must be morning dew, As kissed by morning dew."

Another "Constant Reader" would be pleased to obtain words of the following: "Believe Me, of All Those Endearing Young Charms," "The Lass Who's Given in the Evening Young Widow I Met On the Train."

"A. B." requests the words of "Only a Pansy Blossom," sends words of the song, "A Letter Edged in Black," asked for the other day, and asks in return that the words of "The Blind Girl" and "The Lass Who's Given in the Evening Young Widow I Met On the Train" be published.

Mrs. M. L. S. also sends the words of "A Letter Edged in Black," and asks that they be printed as soon as possible.

THE CUP THAT CHEERS.

In every woman the hospitable instinct is developed in a greater or lesser degree, but many would-be hostesses feel that they are not able to entertain in the way they would like to because of lack of funds or the limited amount of space which the average apartment affords.

There is one very simple form of entertainment, however, which almost every woman can afford and one which can be given in even the smallest flat. That is the afternoon tea. To the woman who receives many invitations and is able to offer but little hospitality in the way of the afternoon tea is a boon. She gives throughout the winter a series of at home days in which she receives her friends and in this simple and inexpensive way squares all her social accounts.

Some years ago "at home" days were much in vogue, so much so, in fact, that they became somewhat of a nuisance, as almost every hostess had her day at home. Nowadays, the at home day takes the form of a tea, and instead of calling cards, with a date written in the corner being used indiscriminately to one's friends, the hostess writes a note to the woman she really wants to see, inviting them to come and call at a certain hour.

The other way of doing things made the success of one's tea uncertain. There was no way of ascertaining how many friends would call, and sometimes elaborate preparations were made and only a few would call.

I am convinced that we make a great mistake in depriving one sex of voice in public matters, and that we could in no way so increase the attention, the intelligence, and the devotion which may be brought to the solution of social problems as by enfranchising our women. Even if in a ruder state of society the intelligence of one sex suffices for the management of common interests, the vastly more intricate, more delicate, and more important questions which the progress of civilization makes of public moment, require the intelligence of women as of men, and

We Will Open Our Spring Season In Our New Store

Undoubtedly, London and Western Ontario have long felt the need of just such a store, with just such a merchandising policy, as our new building will hold. While we have always endeavored in the past to give you the best of service, and while always insisting on quality and being noted for our comparatively low prices, we have for some years been badly handicapped by the lack of space, being not only unable to stock as large an assortment or as many varieties as we wished, but also have been unable to display our goods to the best advantage.

"Always the Best"

We have found that to insist on quality in all cases, even at the cost of a percentage of our legitimate profit, is our best policy.

Always we stand behind our merchandise. For every dollar's worth which you buy here you will get a dollar's worth of satisfaction, or we will gladly refund your money.

If for any reason any of our goods do not come up to the letter of our guarantee, you can be assured of a quick and satisfactory adjustment.

In our new building we will not only have the advantage of a greatly increased floor space, but we have been able to personally plan every detail and to facilitate the better display and arrangement of all departments. Every convenience for quickness of service and the easy handling of goods is at hand.

Everything is planned to enable us to handle the greatest possible amount of business with the least possible expenditure. In this way we will be able to better serve our customers, while decreasing the cost of goods to them.

"For the Least Money"

"Low Prices" and "Quality Always" is our motto.

By buying in the best and biggest markets, we get the best in quality at the lowest possible prices.

We take every possible cash discount, saving in this way many thousands of dollars every year. You get the benefit in our low prices.

In a store such as this, by careful adjusting of departments we are able to greatly reduce the percentage of expenses. This means low prices again.

ALWAYS THE BEST OF EVERYTHING FOR THE LEAST MONEY.

that we never can obtain until we interest them in public affairs. And I have come to believe that very much of the inattention, the flippancy, the want of conscience, which we see manifested in regard to public matters of the greatest moment, arises from the fact that we deprive our women from taking their proper part in these matters. Nothing will fully interest men unless it also interests women. There are those who say that women are less intelligent than men, but who will say that they are less influential?—"Social Problems" (chapter xxii.), by Henry George.

The Home Realm

Pillows should be washed once a year. The best way is to have slips of plain, thin cotton for the purpose, almost twice the size of the pillow ticks. Open a small place in the end of the tick, first pushing all the feathers away from that end, then baste this closely to a similar opening in the cotton slip and carefully work all the feathers from one slip to the other. Then sew up the opening in the cotton slip and wash in warm soapsuds by "sudsing" up and down. Rinse thoroughly. Squeeze out the water and hang on the line where there is plenty of air and sunshine. Then wash the ticks. When the feathers are thoroughly dry, being shaken often during the drying, and the ticks are also dry, refill in the same manner you emptied them.

Scalloped Ham and Potatoes.

Put through the chopper enough cold boiled ham to give one cupful and a half. Cut six large boiled potatoes in thin slices. In a saucepan mix together two tablespoonsful each of butter and flour, a scant teaspoonful of salt and one-third of a teaspoonful of white pepper. When bubbling, stir in gradually one pint of hot milk and cook until smoothly thickened. In a buttered dish put alternate layers of potato, ham and sauce until all are used. With a half cupful of stale bread crumbs, mix one tablespoonful of melted butter, spread this over the top and bake in a quick oven until browned.

Toby Pudding.

Use stale bread and two cupfuls of lemon or other jelly. Cut the bread into small dice. Fill a buttered mold nearly full of the dice, pour over it the jelly, hot, and leave it until it has set. Turn out when firm and serve with cream.

Hungarian Barley Dish.

Take one cupful of barley and wash it thoroughly. Pour over it three cupfuls of boiling water, soak three hours, and turn both water and barley into a casserole. Cut one pound of lean beef or veal into small pieces and chop fine one good-sized onion and one carrot; season with salt and a quarter of a teaspoonful of paprika. Place enough water in the dish to cover all the ingredients, place the cover on the casserole.

LONDON O.H.A. TEAMS HAVE BIG WEEK AHEAD OF THEM

Juniors Meet Woodstock College and Ingersoll While Intermediates Meet Paris, St. Thomas and Ingersoll.

[BY JINX.]

This will be a busy week for the London O. H. A. hockey teams. The Juniors will meet the fast Woodstock College at the Princess Rink this evening, and the Intermediates will go to St. Thomas to play the return game with the Saints. On Wednesday night the Intermediates will go to Paris, in what will undoubtedly be the most crucial game of the season. The Juniors will play in Ingersoll that evening, and this game will also be an important one for London. On Friday night the Intermediates play the fast and heavy Ingersoll Intermediates in London in the final game of the district.

Thus it will be seen by the end of the week it will be known whether the London teams will be group winners or not. The Intermediates have not yet lost a game, and they stand a better show for the district title than the Juniors, who have to win from Woodstock College here tonight and also from Ingersoll on Wednesday night to tie up the playoffs.

Can They Beat Paris? On hard ice it is believed London can trim Paris on its own rink. Although the locals made a poor showing against the Green Shirts here, their playing in Ingersoll on hard ice was a revelation, and the team has mightily improved since Paris met them. The players are confident of beating Paris, and although the underdog town aggregation is a hockey team of no mean ability on its own stamping ground, it is the opinion of many local fans that London will turn the trick in Paris on Wednesday night. The game against St. Thomas tonight is not taken seriously, it is just a question of how many goals London will get. The Saints are a nice little bunch of players, but they are not in London's class, although it is likely they will make the game interesting for the local players.

Ingersoll a Hard Team to Beat The game against Ingersoll here on Friday night is not so certain. The Ingersoll team is a hard one to beat at any stage, and on a fast sheet of ice it will give London a hard battle. After going through two strenuous games with St. Thomas and Paris, Ingersoll is liable to come here on Friday night and catch the locals all tagged out from the previous two contests. In such a case the visitors would have an even chance of winning.

The Junior team is going good just now, and a win in Ingersoll would only get a 4-to-2 win against Woodstock College in Woodstock, while London has a chance to win on their own ice.

If this does counts for anything, London looks good to beat Ingersoll in the playoffs, and they will be a hard team to beat on a big rink.

CANADIENS EASILY
BEAT THE WANDERERS

Montreal, Jan. 25.—Canadiens defeated Wanderers Saturday night by a score of 9 to 1, in a match that developed into a painful burlesque. The Wanderers' collective efforts would hardly have earned them a decision in the city league, and the individual play of some of the team would almost create the impression that they were seeing their release rather than championship honors. The heavy condition of the ice did not offer any advantage to either team.

The teams: Canadiens—Verina, goal; Dubouché, defence; Laviolette, defence; Smith, centre; Lalonde, wing; Gardner, wing.

Wanderers—Warwick, goal; Ross, defence; Cleghorn, defence; Russell, centre; Roberts, wing; Hyland, wing.

San Francisco, Jan. 24.—Inquiries are being made here for Catcher "Tub" Spencer, released from the San Francisco Pacific Coast League club last season, and who has fallen heir to a large estate.

SCHEDULE DRAWN UP FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE

Football Union Took No Action
in Joe Donnelly's Case—
New Rules Likely.

[Canadian Press.]
Montreal, Jan. 26.—Accepting the explanation of the McGill Club that no substantial charges of professionalism had been proved against Joe Donnelly, said to have played baseball for money in the Maritime Provinces, the Intercollegiate Football Union at its annual meeting on Saturday took no action in the matter. A committee was appointed to redraft the playing rules. The most important changes suggested are the reduction of teams to twelve men and the introduction of a ten-yard setback for a team for offside work, instead of losing the ball.

The following schedule was drawn up:
Oct. 10—Toronto at McGill; R. M. C. at Queen's.

Oct. 17—McGill at R. M. C.; Queen's at Toronto.

Oct. 24—McGill at Queen's; R. M. C. at Toronto.

Nov. 7—McGill at Toronto; Queen's at R. M. C.

Nov. 14—Queen's at McGill; Toronto at R. M. C.

The election of officers for the coming season resulted as follows:
Honorary president, Dr. Elder, McGill; president, Jack Hazlett, Queen's; first vice-president, G. Blackstock, Toronto; second vice-president, S. Flesken, R. M. C.; honorary secretary, Ernie Paisley, McGill.

BOBBY HECK AND OUTFIELDER
SIGN LONDON 1914 CONTRACTS

Leading Pitcher of League Last Year and Fast Youngster Named Rycher Gathered
Into the Fold—Beebe Heard From.

[BY JINX.]

Bobby Heck, the prize twirler of the 1913 Canadian League and the pick of the London club heavers last season, sent his signed contract to the London club this morning. Accompanying the contract was a letter from Bobby in which he stated that he was greatly satisfied with the treatment accorded him by the London club last year and trusted that they would both get on as well this coming season. He is putting in the winter in his home city, Syracuse, New York, and taking good care of himself. He is glad to note that the Canadian League has risen to Class B ball, and he believes he will be able to dish up the same kind of pitching this coming season as he did last year. The London club directors were delighted to receive the southpaw's contract.

New Outfielder Signed.
A new outfielder, who will likely fill the vacancy left by Oleson Neal, has also been signed up. He is a youngster by the name of Rycher. He is a product of the Rochester City Baseball League and he hit over .400 in that organization this past season. He comes well recommended to the London club, and is expected that he will have little trouble in making good. He is said to be a speedy boy both in the field and on the bases.

Beebe Changes His Address.
A letter was also received by Benton B. Beebe this morning. B. B. Beebe wanted to know why he had not received a contract. The truth of the matter is that he has changed his place of residence since last the London club heard from him, so the contract had been mailed to the wrong address. President Stevely will see that a contract is forwarded to the new address as soon as possible.

Beebe states that the Federal League has been after him, but he has not yet signed up. He does not even say he will sign up. This may be a stall or it may not be. This Federal League has provided many a ball player with a nice little stall in which to hold up the owners of the club they are with, so it will not be surprising to find that a good many of the London players who are looking for a boost on their pay sheet will mention the fact that the Federal League is camping on their trail night and day. It's a fine little yarn, anyway.

Nothing more has been heard from Eddie Linneborn, but he will likely be gathered into the fold shortly. The London club will avoid one more trouble of last season, when Linneborn held out right up until the day the season opened. The little Buffalo lad does not like the spring training idea anyway. He thinks he can get just as much training on the Buffalo parks and still hold his job. The players don't get paid for their services until the season opens, so those who hold good positions like to hang onto them just as long as possible.

Rube Deneau has returned a mask and glove to the London club which he borrowed last fall to play a couple of exhibition games. Nothing further has been done toward trading Deneau-for Coose of the Red Sox.

KIRKPATRICK SENDS FEDERAL CHECK BACK

Brooklyn Infielder Decides Not To Accept Offer From Outlaws, But Stay With Majors.

New York, Jan. 25.—The thousand dollars which the Federal League advanced to Enos Kirkpatrick, the Brooklyn infielder, in part payment for his year's salary as a member of the Baltimore team of the outlaw league, Kirkpatrick announced today he would return to Otto Knabe, manager of the Baltimore team, the money, but he would not return to the National League fold after it had been announced that he had quit organized baseball.

Kirkpatrick had been advised not to return the money, not with a view to keeping it permanently, but to give the National League an opportunity to get into the courts as a defendant should the Federal League sue.

Feature of New York Meet To Be International Relay Race

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Jan. 26.—An international race which promises to be the feature of the indoor season has been carded by the New York Athletic Club for its games in Madison Square Garden on February 11. It will be a relay race, with Canada and the United States as competitors.

Four men on a side will figure, with Meredith, the world's 800 metre and mile record holder, Mel Shepard, Homer Baker, and Tom Halpin. Canada will be represented by Jack Tressider, holder of Dominion records; George Brock, Jack Tait, and J. M. Phillips, an Englishman who has shown himself to be a flier. Tressider is the 440 yard and 880 yard champion of Canada.

Beebe Changes His Address.
A letter was also received by Benton B. Beebe this morning. B. B. Beebe wanted to know why he had not received a contract. The truth of the matter is that he has changed his place of residence since last the London club heard from him, so the contract had been mailed to the wrong address. President Stevely will see that a contract is forwarded to the new address as soon as possible.

Receives Offer From Wolgast's Manager for Bout But Has Not Yet Replied to It.

San Francisco, Jan. 25.—Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion, when shown the dispatch from Chicago of an offer to be matched with Ad Wolgast early in March at Milwaukee, said that he had received a letter from Wolgast's manager offering him a ten-round bout, but had not accepted.

The Announcement.
Chicago, Jan. 25.—Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion pugilist, and Ad Wolgast, who bested Joe Rivers last Friday, were matched yesterday to box ten rounds, the first week in March, according to an announcement last night by Wolgast's manager.

The Lambeth M. M. M. hockey team slipped one over on the Anglican church team to the tune of 4-0 at Simcoe rink Saturday night. The game at the start was very fast, but owing to the condition of the ice, it slowed down in a few minutes. Copeland scored three goals in the first half. In the second half, the Anglicans tried hard to pierce the Methodist defence, but were unsuccessful. One-half minute had elapsed when Copeland landed one more for his team with the help of Pack. Brooks and Tiddler starred for the losers. The game was clean, only three penalties being handed out by Referee Myers. A good crowd witnessed the game.

New York, Jan. 26.—Chairman James E. Sullivan, of the National Association, has notified President O'Rourke, of the Eastern Association, that the national board has awarded Fletcher Hancock $87.50 back salary from the Meriden Club. Farrell sent the letter to former owner Whalen, but it never reached Whalen. This salary was from July 29 to Aug. 12, 1913. A claim of salary from Aug. 12 to the end of the season was disallowed. Secretary Farrell has been instructed to send all league communications to President O'Rourke hereafter, so no other letters will go astray.

ARTS MADE RECORD SCORE

IN BASKETBALL GAME

Ran Up 71 Points on Tigers—Y. Juniors Scored 51 Against the Midgets.

Two one-sided games were played in the City Basketball League on Saturday, when the Arts beat the Tigers, and the Y Juniors trimmed the Midgets. The Arts ran up the record score of 71 points, while their opponents only secured 19 in the first game, and the Juniors outclassed the Midgets by the score of 51 to 19.

A Record Count.
Smith, of the Arts, scored 47 of the 71 points secured by his team. He played a great game, his check being completely fooled all the time. His shooting was perfect, as his score will testify.

Arts.
Smith..... Left forward..... Harris Graham..... Right forward..... Hunter Duffield..... Centre..... Marks Stevens..... Left guard..... Boyle Garrett..... Right guard..... Boyle

Half-time score, 28 to 9. Full-time, 51 to 19, in favor of Arts.

Summary: Baskets—Smith 23, Graham 4, Brady 6, Stevens 2, Harris 3, Hunter 1, Boyle 2, Sweeney 2.

Referee—Chester Welch.

Juniors on Top Again.
In the second game the Y Juniors played in their old-time form, and had little trouble winning. The Midgets were outplayed at every stage, and could not cope with the fast combination or deadly checking of their opponents.

As a result of the games, the Y Juniors are on top of the league again. The Midgets and Alphas did not play, owing to some of the players being out of town.

The scores:
2 Juniors..... Midgets.

Ferguson..... Right forward..... G. Weir Pelton..... Left forward..... Gough Outfielder..... Centre..... McKerracher David..... Left guard..... Chadwick Eastwood..... Right guard..... T. Weir

Half-time score, 28 to 9. Full-time, 51 to 19, in favor of Juniors.

Summary: Baskets—Ferguson 6, Duffield 7, David 8, Eastwood 3, G. Weir 2, Gough 1, Chadwick 1, T. Weir 3.

ZEIDER TURNS DOWN
GOOD OFFER FROM YANKS

Wants $5,000, Instead of $4,000, and Chance to Play Third Base.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Rollie Zeider, who is reported to have joined the Chicago Federals, refused an offer of $4,000 salary to sign with the New York Americans. Zeider wanted $5,000 and a chance to play third base, but Arthur Irwin, representing the Yankees, would grant the difference in money, nor, with Malsie's prospects of another good year at third, would he promise Zeider an opening there.

NEW UMPIRE FOR NATIONALS.
Chicago, Jan. 24.—Harry Johnson, of Chicago, has accepted terms as umpire in the National League. Johnson was with the Three-I League last year, and with the Western League in 1912.

ART THROOP SUFFERS
BROKEN COLLAR BONE

Injured in Friday Night's Game, He Is Now in Hospital in New Westminster.

New Westminster, B. C., Jan. 25.—Art Throop, star forward of the Westminster hockey team, was taken to the Royal Columbian Hospital yesterday suffering from a broken collar bone, which he sustained in the game against Victoria. It was at first thought it was only a dislocation. He will not be able to play again this season.

THE HOLLOW OF HER HAND

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON
Author of "Graustark," "Truxton King," Etc.

"I don't care to hear about it," cried the girl. "No need of that. Spare me the silly side of the story."
"Silly, madam? In God's name, do you think it was silly to me? Why—why, I believed him! And, what is more, I believe that he did love me—even now I believe it."

"I have no doubt of it," said Mrs. Wrangell calmly. "You are very pretty—and charming."

"I did not know that he had a wife until—well, until—" She could not go on.

"The night before last," Mrs. Wrangell turned her face away and waited. "There is nothing more I can tell you, unless you permit me to tell all."

The girl resumed, after a moment of hesitation. "Mrs. Wrangell arose."

"I have heard enough. This afternoon I will send my butler with you to the lodging house in Nineteenth street. He will attend to the removal of your personal effects to my home, and you will return with him. It will be testing fate, Miss Castleton, this visit to your former abiding place, but I have decided to give the law its chance. If you are suspected, a watch will be set over the house in which you lived. If you are not suspected, if your association with—"

"Mrs. Wrangell is quite over the time being at least, a companion—or secretary—or whatever we may elect to call it for the benefit of all inquirers. Are you willing to run the risk—this single risk?"

"Perfectly willing," announced the other without hesitation. Indeed, her face brightened. "If they are waiting for me, I shall go with them without a word. I have no means of expressing my gratitude to you."

"There is time enough for that," said Mrs. Wrangell. "I have no means of expressing my gratitude to you."

"Desert you? Why do you put it in that way? I don't understand."

"You will come back to me?" insisted the other.

"Yes. Why—why, it means everything to me. It means life—more than that, most wonderful friend. Life isn't very sweet to me. But the joy of giving it to you for ever is the dearest boon I crave. I do give it to you. It belongs to you. I—I could die for you."

"She dropped to her knees and pressed her lips to Sara Wrangell's hand; her tears fell upon it."

"Mrs. Wrangell laid her free hand on the dark, glossy hair and smiled warmly for the first time in—well, in years she might have said to herself if she had stopped to consider."

"Get up, my dear," she said gently. "I shall not ask you to die for me—if you do come, as I may be sending you to your death, as it is, but it is the chance we must take. A few hours will tell the tale. Now listen to what I am about to say. I propose, I offer you home, I offer you friendship and I trust security from the peril that confronts you. I ask nothing in return, not even a word of gratitude. You may tell the people at your lodgings that I have engaged you as companion and that you are to sail for Europe in a week's time if possible. Now we must prepare to go to my own home. You will see to packing my trunk—that is, our trunk."

"Oh, it—it must be a dream!" cried Hetty Castleton, her eyes swimming. "I can't believe it. Suddenly she caught herself up, and tried to smile. 'I don't see why you do this for me. I don't deserve it.'"

"You have done me a service," said Mrs. Wrangell, her manner so peculiar that the girl again assumed the stare of perplexity and wonder that had been paramount since their meeting; as if she were on the verge of grasping a great truth.

"What can you mean?" Sara laid her hands on the girl's shoulders and looked steadily into the puzzled eyes for a moment before speaking.

"My girl," she said, ever so gently. "I shall not ask what your life has been. I do not care. I shall not ask for references. You are alone in the world and you need a friend. I am alone, too. If you will come to me I will do everything in my power to make you comfortable and—contented. Perhaps it will be impossible to make you happy. I promise faithfully to help you, to shield you, to repay you for the thing you have done for me. You could not have fallen into gentler hands than mine will prove to be. That much I swear to you on my soul, which is sacred. I have nothing to fill-will. I have nothing to avenge."

"Hetty drew back, completely mystified. 'Who are you?' she murmured, still staring. 'I am Chellis Wrangell's wife.'"

Fatality of Whooping Cough

Many parents think lightly of whooping cough, and treat it as a necessary evil, not giving the child who has it any special attention. The seriousness of whooping cough was emphasized by the Medical Health Officer in Toronto a few months ago, when he reported 14 deaths during the month from whooping cough, and only ten from scarlet fever, typhoid fever and measles combined.

So many people write to us about the relief and cure of whooping cough by the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine that we can recommend it with the greatest confidence.

It loosens the cough, aids expectoration, and by its soothing influence prevents the terrible paroxysms of coughing which are so distressing to witness, and which wear away the strength of the child. By using this treatment the disease is held in check, and cured in a few weeks, instead of months. Look for the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., on the bottle you buy. There are many imitations.

URGE FARMERS TO PULL TOGETHER

Experts Advise Co-operation and Explore Selfish Policy—Too Much Politics.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Stratford, Jan. 24.—At a meeting of the agricultural societies of Huron, Perth, Middlesex and Elgin here this afternoon, J. Lockie Wilson, superintendent of agricultural fairs for Ontario, and T. A. Race, of Mitchell, urged the importance of farmers pulling together.

They were urged not to try to grow 100 or more varieties of oats or any other grain in a district, but to ascertain just what kind of grain the land in the locality is suited for and then grow it.

Co-operation was also urged, and it was pointed out that too many farmers are either working entirely for themselves or against one another. This is especially true politically and, as a result, little is being accomplished; whereas, if all farmers pulled together they could secure much that would advance their mutual welfare.

The importance of dealing with absolute honesty in everything if trade is to be secured and held, was also dwelt upon.

W. A. McKenzie of Mitchell, in his opening address, told of the fine progress being made by all the societies.

High Cost of Living.
The financial statement showed a condition of prosperity. T. A. Race, of Mitchell, gave some excellent reasons why the high cost of living has grown to disturbing proportions.

"I don't think the farmer is getting any too much for what he produces," he said. "But while the manufacturers have joined hands to strengthen their position, and while the workmen are shoulder to shoulder fighting for what is justly theirs, the farmers have made nothing but individual efforts."

"Some wrong views of things also have been taken. While agriculture is the basis of all national prosperity we must not lose sight of the fact that no nation has ever grown to greatness through it alone."

J. Lockie Wilson pressed home the need for more specialization in growing of grain. "What we are trying to do is to have each district grow that variety of grain or vegetable for which it is adapted."

More co-operation in the producing and selling of farm products were also advised.

Speaking of field crop competitions, he said they had done more for agriculture in Ontario than anything yet done.

A motion that goods which are given as prizes by the businessman be put in the account at 50 per cent, and J. A. McKenzie, of Mitchell, and E. Christie, of Exeter, were selected to be recommended as president and vice-president at the association meeting in Toronto. Mr. Wheaton, of Thorncliffe, was elected secretary-treasurer unanimously.

The next annual meeting will be held in Stratford.

Many Attended.
The representatives present were: W. L. Corbett, Craig; John Logan, London Junction; John Swift, Lambeth; J. H. Matthews, James Stewart, Stratford; E. Christie, Exeter; C. W. Hobbs, Dunfield; R. W. McKellar, Glencoe; A. Berryhill, St. Marys; C. C. McQuaid, Seaford; John Jarvis, Dorchester; T. Jackson, Harrietsville; John Broadie, Mount Brydges, and C. H. Copeland, St. Marys.

The agricultural societies which have paid their application fees are McGillivray, Thorncliffe, Delaware, Stratford, Exeter, London Township, Glencoe, Everton, West Huron, Seaford, and Dorchester.

WINDSOR HOTEL GUESTS ENDANGERED BY FIRE

Overturned Candles Start Blaze in Adjoining Store—Brave Rescue By Citizen.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Windsor, Jan. 25.—Fire, which started in Jacob Schwartz's store, Sandwich street east, communicated to the King George Hotel, Saturday night, and cut off the escape of the guests, except through the windows from the second and third story. Several guests, including one sick woman, were carried out.

The fire was caused by candles. The lighting system of the S. W. and A. plant became disabled, and Mr. Schwartz substituted some candles with which to light his store. Two of them fell over upon some woollen goods, and in a minute the place was full of fire and smoke. Before the fire department arrived, one blaze had burst through above into the dining and sleeping rooms of the King George Hotel.

It was finally controlled after it had done $5,000 damages to the Schwartz store, $8,000 to the hotel, and $1,000 to W. Cherney's grocery adjoining.

One of the guests, Mrs. Lake, 69 years old, aunt of G. Hannan, the proprietor of the hotel, was ill in bed, and David Chain, a well-known Windsor resident, plunged into the fire and smoke and dragged the helpless woman to a window and carried her down a ladder. She was removed to the Eureka Hotel, suffering greatly from shock. She is much improved today.

EX-CONGRESSMAN TRIED TO BUY WAY TO BENCH

Former Democratic Leader Was Indicted With Him.
[Canadian Press.]
New York, Jan. 26.—Wm. Willett, jun., former member of Congress, was convicted Saturday night of bribery in attempting to purchase a supreme court nomination in Brooklyn and Queens County in 1911. The jury had the case under consideration for forty minutes.

Willett was remanded to jail for sentence next Friday.
Indicted with Willett were Joseph Cassidy, former Democratic leader of Queens County, and once an important figure in local politics, and Louis T. Walter, jun., as the go-between.

WAS TROUBLED WITH BOILS AND CARBUNCLES.

There is no more frequent source of illness than that arising from bad blood, for when the blood becomes impure, it is only natural that boils, pimples or some other indication of bad blood should break out of the system.

Boils in themselves are not a dangerous trouble, but still at the same time are very painful, and the only way to get rid of them is to cleanse the blood of the impurities. Cleanse it thoroughly by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, that old and reliable blood medicine that has been on the market for nearly forty years.

Mr. James Wilds, Plaster Rock, N.B., writes:—"I was greatly troubled, a few years ago, with boils and carbuncles, and the doctor told me I was in a bad condition. My appetite failed me, I began to lose strength, and was pretty well run down when one of my friends recommended Burdock Blood Bitters. After using three bottles I began to feel like another man. My troubles soon left me, and to-day I can certainly give Burdock Blood Bitters a high recommendation to my friends."

NURSE GIVES POISON; TWO CHILDREN DEAD

Four Others in a Critical Condition at Utica Asylum.

Utica, N. Y., Jan. 25.—As a result of a mistake by a nurse, two children at the Utica Orphan Asylum are dead and four others are in a critical condition. There is an epidemic of measles in the institution. Last night a nurse gave some of the children poison in mistake for a laxative and today Frederick Gilmore, aged four, and Julia Vincent, aged three, both from Rome, died. The other four received similar doses of the poison.

February and March Likely To Be Cold

During the months of February and March we may expect cold weather, accompanied by strong winds and gales. Weather like this makes the heating of the home a difficult problem, as it is almost impossible to maintain an even temperature under these conditions. The consumption of fuel is accordingly large, and anything that tends to increase the general comfort, and at the same time, decrease the fuel bill is doubly welcome.

The Dominion Specialty Manufacturing and Sales Company, 112 Dominion Savings Building, London, offer for your consideration a fuel-saving device that has proved very successful in a number of local homes. Not only is the temperature maintained at an even, comforting degree throughout the entire twenty-four hours, but your fuel bill will be reduced by from 35 to 50 per cent. So much confidence have the company in their device that they will install it in your stove, furnace or boiler on an absolutely free trial basis with no strings attached. You be the judge. A postal card will bring interesting information, or phone 2098, and an expert will be at your service.

TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF LORD STRATHCONA

Prominent Men Join in Mass Meeting
Held at Toronto.

[Canadian Press.]
Toronto, Jan. 25.—The Province of Ontario and the city of Toronto paid tribute to the memory of the late Lord Strathcona this afternoon at Massey Hall, where men prominent in civil, political, and military life gathered.

Several hundred Strathcona Cadets from the Toronto public schools occupied seats in the upper part of the platform.

Words of tribute were uttered by Rev. Dr. John Neil and Right Rev. Bishop W. D. Reeve, who delivered the only addresses at the service. Dr. Neil attributed his success in large measure to his tremendous faith, not only in himself, but also in the future of Canada.

Bishop Reeve, through his long residence in the Canadian north land, had had a more or less intimate acquaintance with the late Lord Strathcona. Knowing him personally, Bishop Reeve spoke with authority of his generous liberality and his many charities.

Large Crowd Attended Demonstration at Belmont.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Belmont, Jan. 25.—The demonstration of a milking machine which took place on Friday at John Ball's farm here, drew a crowd of about two hundred farmers and dairymen from this district and from Ingersoll, London, St. Thomas, Springfield and Tillsonburg. The very satisfactory work of the machine, together with the little attention it required, astonished those who witnessed its work.

About twenty members of Court Belmont, No. 772 C. O. F., drove to London on Thursday evening to pay a fraternal visit to the members of Court Middlesex, No. 118. They enjoyed the evening immensely and were splendidly entertained at a concert and supper.

IMPORTANT FACTS

FROM THE

SIXTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CANADA LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY

A Splendid Year.

Greatest Surplus Earnings.

Interest Rate Increasing.

Assets Over $52,000,000.

Assurances Now Over $153,121,000.

Payments To Policyholders.

All Factors Favorable.

In important respects the Company in 1913 excelled its record for any previous year in its history.

1—THE SURPLUS EARNED in 1913 was $1,709,959.66, exceeding by over $179,000 the earnings of 1912, and by a much larger amount the earnings of any previous year. The present net surplus is $6,183,278.32.

2—THE INCOME of $8,094,885.70 was greater than that of the previous year by $698,125.96, and the greatest in the Company's history. The rate of interest earned, which had been steadily advancing since 1899, was further improved in 1913. This is an important factor in producing surplus.

3—THE ASSETS were increased by $3,860,271.32, and now stand at $52,161,794.81.

4—THE TOTAL ASSURANCES now in force are for $153,121,363.94, an increase of over $8,273,000 in the year.

5—THE PAYMENTS TO POLICYHOLDERS in 1913 totalled $2,878,016.11, an increase of $415,051.31 over those of 1912. In addition to this, LOANS TO POLICYHOLDERS on security of their policy contracts were made for $1,692,248.71.

6—THE MORTALITY of the year was again more favorable than the expectation, and this, with a continued LOW EXPENSE RATIO, contributed to the earning of a record surplus.

The Financial Statement and Report of Directors, together with proceedings at the annual meeting, held 22nd January, 1914, are in the printer's hands and in a few days will be mailed on request.

Said To Be Prime Mover in Krafchenko's Escape.

[Canadian Press.]

Winnipeg, Jan. 25.—Charged with aiding John Krafchenko to break jail, Percy Hagel, the desperado's counsel, and John Westlake were on Saturday committed for trial. Ex-Constable Reid said to have been the prime mover in the plot, and who has pleaded guilty, will be sentenced tomorrow. John Buxton, who "squealed" on his fellow conspirators, and Frank Holl, who helped to shield Krafchenko from the police, are to get off free. R. A. Bonnar, who is defending Hagel, today denounced the freeing of Buxton as an outrage owing to the fact that Buxton had said in his evidence he had induced a boy he knew in a hardware store to steal a revolver.

RESPONSIBLE FOR ONLY BLOT ON WINNIPEG'S POLICE FORCE

Krafchenko, Says William Christie, Had Glib Tongue That Made Him Very Dangerous.

"That chap Krafchenko is the criminal with the glib tongue," said William Christie, one of Winnipeg's foremost financial men, who is visiting with relatives in this city on his way to the south of France. "He is responsible for the one blot that has ever stained the record of the Winnipeg police, and the city has been greatly relieved through his capture," Mr. Christie continued. "The man Reid, that he influenced, must have been a simple-minded sort of fellow, who was hypnotized by the smooth ways of Krafchenko, but that he was able to enlist the aid of J. H. Buxton, former secretary of the Builders' Exchange, has been a surprise to everyone. I knew Buxton quite well, and he has been a man of good reputation."

Glibness Influenced Guard. "Krafchenko can speak four or five languages, and it is not only his knowledge of them but the use of them that made him dangerous. He has that glibness of speech that attracts a certain class, and with his guile he must have exercised his conversational talents to the fullest degree. But the people of Winnipeg were not carried away by his dashing ways. They knew him for the cold-blooded desperado he is, and hoped that he might be captured. It was providential that he injured himself while making his escape, otherwise, armed with an automatic revolver, he would have had not the slightest compunction in slaying whoever crossed his path."

Business Conditions Improving. Mr. Christie stated that business conditions in Winnipeg had been improving greatly, and that as a whole the city, which had learned its lessons in the past, had stood up during the money stringency, and building prospects are bright for an immediate renewal of activity.

PEOPLE OF LONDON PAID TRIBUTE TO LORD STRATHCONA

Crowds Lined Streets and Uncrowded Heads as Funeral Procession Passed.

BURIED BESIDE HIS WIFE

Interment Preceded By Great Service in Westminster Abbey

[Canadian Press.] London, Jan. 26.—The body of the late Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, high commissioner for Canada, was buried today with the most simple ceremonies, in Highgate Cemetery, North London, beside that of his wife, who died only a few months ago.

Before interment, a great funeral service was held in Westminster Abbey, and was attended by a large gathering of state officials and persons prominent in all circles of society.

From the residence of the deceased statesman in Grosvenor Square to the Abbey, the streets were lined with crowds of people, who reverently uncovered as the procession passed.

The pallbearers were: The Duke of Argyll, the keeper of the Great Seal of Scotland; the Earl of Aberdeen and the Marquis of Lansdowne, all of them former governor-generals of Canada; the Earl of Lichfield; Sir Thomas Vansittart Bowater, Lord Mayor of London; the Right Hon. Lewis Harcourt, secretary of state for the colonies; Sir William Osler; Sir Thomas Skinner and Professor George Adam Smith, vice-chancellor of Aberdeen University, of which Lord Strathcona was chancellor up to the time of his death.

King George and Queen Mary, queen mother Alexandra and several other members of the royal family, as well as Premier Asquith, were represented at the service in the Abbey, while most of the members of the Cabinet and the foreign ambassadors, including Walter Hines Page, United States ambassador, attended personally.

FIFTY HYDRO MEN GO OUT ON STRIKE

Claim Weather Should Not Cause Cut in Their Pay.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Brantford, Jan. 25.—Fifty men, employed on outside work on the Brantford hydro-electric system, are out on strike. They claim that they should not be docked for not working on wet days when the work is called off through no fault of their own.

The complaint of the men was laid before Chairman McFarland, of the hydro commission, and they were promised consideration as soon as Chief Engineer L. G. Ireland returns from Toronto on Monday.

Saturday, owing to the unfavorable weather no work was done, and the commission is hopeful that matters will be brought to a satisfactory settlement. The men claim that they are supposed to get straight time on the job, and this, they state they have not received.

The men say the scale of wages in Toronto is 33½ cents an hour for the best, and 34 cents the lowest.

In London and Hamilton the rate is 37½ cents and 34½ cents, and in Brantford 29 cents is the highest, with 20 cents as the lowest.

Some of the linemen get only $2 a day for climbing the poles. Some of the men doing grounding get only $2.75 a day. The Western Counties men here receive 30 cents per hour.

AUDITORIUM EVENING OF READING AND MUSIC

The Emily Waterman Concert Company, under the auspices of the Affiliated Society course, presented an interesting entertainment at the Auditorium Saturday evening. The society has put forth every effort towards making these concerts the success they have proved to be, and Saturday night's entertainment was one of the best put on.

The program was composed of readings and instrumental and vocal selections. Mrs. Blanche Bartlett, as an elocutionist, made a decided hit with her numbers, and was forced to respond again and again. Perhaps her number entitled "Why," was most worthy of mention, while "The Wheatfield" and "The Gossamer," the latter a humorous little sketch by Hans Anderson was extremely clever. Mrs. Bartlett possesses a clear, ringing voice, well adapted to her work, and taken in conjunction with her charming personality won for her hearty applause.

Miss Lillian Whitman, pianist, gave many delightful compositions. As an accompanist she shows perfect sympathy with the voice. She was forced to respond several times.

The vocal selections by Mr. Raymond May, baritone, were acceptably rendered. Particularly deserving of mention were "The Haunts of the Witches" and "Our Old Doctor McGinn," the latter song a delightfully humorous melody, with a sprightly tune.

There was a large turnout of members, and the following high court officers: B. G. Strong, superintendent of organization; Bro. Dr. W. M. Stanley, chairman of medical board; Bro. A. R. Galpin, D. D. H. C. R.; Bro. Ed. Reed. Two bus parties, one from Court Belmont and one from Court Crumlin, attended. Bro. James McCormick acted as chairman. The following program was well rendered:

Opening chorus, Maple Leaf; chairman's address, Bro. Jas. McCormick; song, Mr. McLean; address, Bro. G. Strong; address, Dr. W. M. Stanley; recitations, Alf. Mitchell; address, Geo. Keys, organizer for London; coster songs, Bro. J. Lee; song, W. McCormick; song, Mr. Stein; address, A. R. Galpin.

Following the program the committee in charge of the entertainment served refreshments and cigars, which brought to a close an evening that will long be remembered. The visiting brothers were: Court Belmont—T. W. Strachan, R. J. Reardon, S. Strachan, Thos. Jenkins, L. Groat, G. E. Walker, E. E. Taylor, J. W. Chivers, G. M. Bowley, E. W. Fitchett, G. Bloomfield, E. A. Proxner, Deference—Bro. John Revans; Court Orient—Bro. W. M. Ruddick; Court Eclipse—Bro. J. A. Clive.

The "Heart of London" Store Grows From Small Place to One of Largest Stores in City.

From a modest little store with nominal patronage to one of the largest and best equipped men's furnishing emporiums in the city of London in a little over six years, is the record of the "Heart of London" store, 371 Talbot street, controlled by Mr. Carl P. Wegner, who came to London from Grand Rapids, Michigan, in 1907.

Mr. Wegner, who has two brothers who conduct one of the largest department stores in Michigan, built up by conscientious dealing with the public, which Mr. Wegner is noted for in this city, and which helped him, augmented by his daily hard list, to give Londoners one of the best stores of its kind in Western Ontario.

Not only do the farmers of Western Ontario patronize the "Heart of London," but the young men of the city, who are noted for their stylish dress, purchase their ties, shirts, gloves, clothing, etc., there at lower prices than they can get them elsewhere.

Contentious treatment of patrons and bargains in goods that always give satisfaction have been the keynotes of the success of the store. Mr. Wegner also conducts a wholesale department handling overalls, gloves, mittens, sweater coats and rubber goods. During the past few years the business has grown to such an extent that Mr. Wegner has, for some time, been endeavoring to secure an addition or extra quarters in connection with his present store.

The seats are going rapidly at Malaga's, and it is hoped that the house may this year be sold out.

London Old Boy Injured in Detroit

Camron Currie Struck by Motor Truck While Leaving a Car.

His Recovery Expected

Saved Himself From Probable Fatal Injury By Grasping Radiator of the Motor Truck.

Camron Currie, Detroit broker and native of this city, was seriously injured last Wednesday when struck by a motor truck as he alighted from a car in front of his home, at 675 Jefferson avenue. Although it was at first thought his injuries might be fatal he is now reported to be out of danger.

William Christie, of Winnipeg, who arrived in London last night, saw Mr. Currie, who is a brother-in-law, during the day and to the Advertiser said that while he was still confined to his bed he would be able to be out in a week or two.

Only the fact that Mr. Currie grasped the radiator of the car which struck him, saved him from probable fatal injury. His act prevented the heavy vehicle from running over him. He was thrown with great force, however.

Hope for Recovery.

John R. Russell, of 675 Jefferson avenue, Detroit, saw the accident. Mr. Currie had just alighted from an east-bound car. He did not see the truck until it was upon him. Mr. Russell helped carry him into his home. Mr. Currie has been constantly at his side, and the attending physician, Dr. C. G. Jennings, is now hopeful for recovery.

Mr. Currie is one of the best known of London's successful old boys. He is brother of William Currie, the New York theatrical man, and of Mrs. Francis Love, of Wellington street. Mrs. Love has been notified that her brother is now out of danger, unless internal injuries develop.

Condition is Improving.

Detroit, Jan. 25.—Camron Currie, the Detroit broker who was struck and injured by a motor truck Friday, is somewhat improved today. It was stated at his residence tonight that, while he has suffered a good deal of pain, he is on the road to recovery.

"BOWLING ROOM" SAME AS "BOWLING ALLEY"

Magistrate Settles Disputed Point Today—Dismisses Ladell Action.

According to Magistrate J. C. Judd a "bowling-room" is the same as a "bowling alley" in the eyes of the law.

This morning in police court he found Henry Ladell guilty of allowing minors in his Dundas street bowling alleys. He was fined $2 and costs.

When the case first came before the magistrate last week, E. W. Scatcherd, Safford's attorney, raised the question that the provincial act said nothing about "bowling alleys." It was this that caused the break to take the case under consideration.

Dismissed Charge.

The charge against A. E. Ladell, the Richmond street tobacconist who was charged by the police with selling to minors, was dismissed. Sergeant John Monahan, who laid the information, swore that he had entered Ladell's store and taken the tobacco from a minor. He declared that in so doing he believed he was doing his duty.

A. O. Graydon, who appeared for Ladell, produced an order from the boy's father, asking for tobacco. Upon the presentation of this evidence the magistrate dismissed the case.

May Go To Commission.

It was intimated in court that Ladell would take the case before the police commission. Some time ago he appeared before the board of control and made the charge that he was being persecuted by the police, meaning the action of Sergeant Monahan in seizing the tobacco, and laying a complaint against him in the case that was dismissed this morning.

Richard Haines, according to the police, went on a spree on Saturday night and kicked out several windows in his boarding house. This morning he was asked to kick out $10 in fines and costs. Not having the wherewithal in his "kick," he will spend the next fifteen days in jail.

BLAZE IN SOUTH LONDON

An Overheated Stovepipe Caused Loss of About $500.

The brigades had a run to the residence of Henry N. Abell, 61 Craig street, South London, at 11:20 o'clock last night, when an overheated stovepipe ignited the wall, causing damage estimated at $500, and giving the fire ladders a sharp turn before the blaze was finally extinguished.

The fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered, when an alarm was rung in and part of the central and the sub-division paratus responded. Quick and efficient work brought the blaze under control in short order.
