

THAMES CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM
CHAS. LEAH DROWNED LAST NIGHTWas Paddling in North
Branch and Stepped Into a Hole.DROWNED IN SIGHT OF CHUMBody Recovered—Inquest Not Necessary—Drowning Fifty Years Ago Recalled.

Charles Chester Leah, aged 13, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leah, of 933 Elias street, East London, was drowned in the Thames yesterday afternoon by falling in a deep hole a short distance east of Adelaide street bridge.

The only witness of the accident was Gordon Young a chum of Chester Leah and he was so shocked by what had occurred that he could only give an incoherent account of it.

The boys started from home about half past three in the afternoon, and went to the river.

According to the neighbors, both lads were paddling in the shallow water on the north side of the river for some time.

Later, it would seem, that the Young boy dressed and sat on the bank, watching Leah.

The Accident.

He states that Leah started to go across the river to the south bank.

Young, who was watching him, says Leah suddenly called for help and immediately afterwards sank.

A few seconds later he came up again and then disappeared.

Gordon Young ran over and told a farmer who was working in a field that his chum was drowned.

Then he ran all the way to his home on Elias street and told his father.

Mr. Young telephoned at once to High Constable Hughes, who got grappling irons and went to the scene of the accident.

Assistant Chief Aitken and Fireman Frank Sheffield went from the Central Fire Station with a boat hired from Lancaster's.

Search for the Body.

A number of people from the neighborhood spent some time in diving, and it was ascertained that near the spot where young Leah had last been seen were several holes in the river bed going down abruptly for ten or twelve feet.

It was evident that the boy had unsuspectingly stepped into one of these.

After searching for nearly three hours, Mr. Thomas Leah, father of the drowned boy, who was on the scene as soon as possible after being notified, found the body in one of these holes.

The water was at least twelve feet deep.

Coroner MacLaren decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Rectory Street Pupils.

The late Charles Leah was a pupil at Rectory street school, and was a general favorite with all who knew him.

His mother has been in delicate health for some time and the news of the sad affair proved a very severe shock to her.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon.

This is the third drowning that has occurred in the Thames during the month, Clement Irwin, of Toronto, having been drowned near Woodland Cemetery on July 1, and Willie Davis, on Wednesday last, only a short distance from where Monday night's accident took place.

Little Harry Baker was also drowned in the Thames in the early spring.

Singular Coincidence.

A rather singular coincidence is the fact that today The Advertiser received a letter from a subscriber in Michigan, Mr. John J. Sleeman, telling of the drowning of a boy which occurred near the Adelaide street bridge fifty years ago. The letter is as follows:

"The Advertiser, London, Ont.:

"Since receiving The Advertiser, it becomes more welcome every day. In looking over the various reading matter it tends to recall half-forgotten memories of the past fifty years or more.

Woodstock Ex-Jailer Says Successor
Must Pay for Garden.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Woodstock, July 14.—An interesting situation has developed in connection with the appointment of Charles Wilson to the Oxford jail governorship, which was made last week. John Cameron, governor for the past 40 years resigned, but now refuses to leave the governor's house until Mr. Wilson settles for a garden Mr. Cameron planted this year. Mr. Wilson made him an offer which was refused, and there seems little prospect of the two men reaching an agreement unless they decide to leave it to arbitration. Wilson wanted to enter upon his duties yesterday, but Cameron refused to give up the keys. He says that he will stay in the house until legally evicted by the sheriff, or until he gets paid for his potatoes, corn and other fruit and vegetables. The citizens are following the affair with much interest and amusement.

COL. WILKINSON DEAD

He Organized Essex Fusiliers to Fight the Fenians.

Windsor, July 13.—The death occurred at Leamington on Saturday of Lieut.-Col. Wilkinson at the age of 71 years. Col. Wilkinson was instrumental in organizing the Twenty-First Regiment, Essex Fusiliers, at the time of the Riel rebellion, and was its first commanding officer, serving in that capacity for seven years. He obtained considerable fame as a poet, being the author of "Canadian Battlefields and Other Poems" which ran into a second edition. The funeral will be held in Leamington tomorrow and will be attended by a deputation of officers from the regiment in this city as well as a firing party.

MISSION HOUSE BURNED

Two Priests Drowned in the Wilds of The Northwest.

Athabasca Landing, Alta., July 14.—From word received here yesterday by special messenger it is learned that the large Roman Catholic mission house at Chippewyan, on Lake Athabasca, was totally destroyed by fire, together with all the supplies for the year, which had just been received a short time before the fire. Some twenty or more train dogs belonging to the mission were also burned, together with all their large stock of fishing nets and other necessities. The priests' house had a narrow escape, as it caught fire, but by hard work the men of the place succeeded in getting the fire out before much damage was done.

It is also learned by the same messenger that two priests were drowned at Smith's Landing, about 550 miles down the Athabasca River from here, while out in a small boat in a bay or eddy formed by a bend in the river at that place. The bodies were not recovered when the messenger left. The two priests were the father in charge of the mission and a young priest who went down there this summer.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER DIE

The death occurred at Victoria Hospital yesterday afternoon of Miss Lida M. Wilson, general secretary of the Young Woman's Christian Association.

Miss Wilson had been ill for many weeks, but was thought to be recovering, and the news of her death will come as a sad shock to a host of her friends in the city.

She came to this city from St. Catharines about a year ago, and by her genial and kindly disposition won the esteem of all with whom she came in contact.

Death was due to an affection of the stomach.

Miss Wilson's aged father was so ill in St. Catharines at the time she died that he could not be informed of his daughter's death, and just three hours afterwards he too passed away.

Miss Wilson is survived by her mother, two sisters, Mrs. William Wilson, of St. Catharines, Miss Florence, at home, and two brothers, Harry, of St. Catharines, and Norman, of Ottawa. The remains will be taken to St. Catharines today, and the funeral will be held in that city.

LONDON BOY IS A WALKER
HAS BILL WESTON BEATENBut Is Now Being Sent Home by the Police of Windsor—Had a Good Hard-Luck Story to Tell—Out on the Tramp
Since January Last.

The Detroit News says: "Please let me out tonight, Mr. Chief, 'cause I can get a good start by tomorrow."

This was the request made by 15-year-old Henry Morden, of Chief of Police Wills in the Windsor station Monday afternoon, and his "good start" meant several miles of road covered on his way back to London, from whence during the past six months he has wandered, performing Western feats that put that aged walker somewhat on the defensive.

Early in January last young Morden left his home in London because he would not obey his mother's command to be in the house by 8 o'clock every evening, much preferring to sell papers and carry hand baggage at the depot until 11 o'clock at night. He was threatened with a whipping if he stayed away later, and so he decided to stay away altogether.

From London he rode to St. Thomas by train, and then started for Port Huron on foot, a distance of over 70 miles. He reached the tunnel city not much the worse for wear, and after a short career as a newsboy was shipped back to St. Thomas by the police, who did not like the manner in which his income permitted him to live.

Another Start.

Nothing daunted by a setback of a hundred miles or so, Henry accumulated a little capital and started again. This time he started east, going to Brantford. There he lived for a week of an uncle living in Detroit lured him west again, and after three days and a half of trudging that he admitted tired him somewhat, he landed in Detroit.

The Detroit officers of the peace didn't think much more of his mode of living than the Port Huron force had, and Monday he was brought over to Windsor. About the first thing that he assured the chief that he was not broke and that he had lots of money. "How much?" Chief Wills asked him. "Forty-five cents," was the exultant reply.

The lad will be sent back to his mother by the first train this morning, and Chief Wills has assured him that he is far from likely to get the whipping, the fear of which drove him from home.

Hooks and Boat to Aid Drowning
Fire Dep't to Have Equipment

The aldermen indulged in quite a discussion at the special meeting of the council today regarding the advisability of having a rowboat and grappling hooks at the central fire station for use in case of drowning.

Ald. Booth favored the purchase of the hooks, but he saw no reason for going to the expense of buying a boat.

Ald. Parsons stated that he was the second man on the scene after the drowning of the Leah boy yesterday afternoon in the north branch, and that when he secured a boat from a neighbor it leaked so badly that he could not bail it out with a bucket. His argument was that the city should have a good boat for use in an emergency, as boats owned by other people cannot be relied upon.

Ald. Saunders said that if the city firemen had had a boat the day that young Blackwell was drowned at the foot of Richmond street they could have saved him. While they went for a boat the lad drowned.

Several of the other aldermen indulged in the debate, and finally it was decided to get the hooks and the boat.

DUMA CHEERS THE CZAR

Solemn Closing Exercises—Budget of $1,250,000,000 Adopted.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—The Duma was adjourned yesterday morning by Imperial ukase until Oct. 28. The usual closing exercises were gone through previous to adjournment, and the deputies cheered the name of the Emperor Nicholas with gusto.

Following the adjournment the deputies attended divine service in the jobby of the palace, led by two bishops who are deputies. The last important act of the Duma was the approval of the budget of revenue, amounting to $1,250,000,000.

The joint commission of the Duma and the council of empire failed to agree upon the naval budget, and therefore, last year's budget of $18,000,000 remains in force.

HOLD-UP GANG
SCARES MONTREALCriminals En Route for Quebec
Terrorize Citizens of the Metropolis.

Montreal, Que., July 14.—The flow of criminals to Quebec for the tercentenary is proving an awkward thing for Montreal, and operations en route seem to be the proper thing in criminal lines. The murder in an opium dive recently broke up one gang of thieves and pickpockets, but another has been landing hard on Montrealers.

For the past week citizens have been held up in broad daylight by the gang in quiet localities, and people are terrorized. The latest case reported to the police is that of a lady visitor from London, England, who was going up Cedar avenue, off Pine avenue, with her little boy, yesterday afternoon, when she was set upon and throttled, and her hand-bag, containing about $100 taken. Hold-ups occurred last Tuesday, Friday and Saturday, and the police are convinced they are the work of the same gang.

The city council, at its special meeting today decided to contribute the sum of $200 to the Quebec battlefield fund.

The usual circus license was remitted in the case of the Hatch shows which the Old Boys are bringing to London.

Kenneth avenue people asked for an electric light, No. 3.

The people of Grosvenor street from Waterloo to Colborne, asked for a curb and gutter on both sides of the street.

No. 2. London Concrete Machinery Company asked for a sewer on Marymora street, No. 2.

The London and Middlesex Historical Society asked for a grant, No. 2.

The Old Boys asked permission to hold a band concert and take up collections in Victoria Park in aid of the Old Boys.

BIGAMIST PLEADS GUILTY
ADMITS HE HAS TWO WIVESRobert Henderson Wedded in Edinburgh and London—His First Wife Laid the Charge—Is Now Residing in Scotland—
The World Is Small After All.

Robert Henderson, of 60 Cavendish street, West London, was arrested at his home last night by Detectives Egerton and Nickle on a charge of bigamy, laid by Crown Attorney McKillop.

Henderson is a young Scotchman, and came here from Edinburgh in December, 1906.

He was married in 1901, and has a wife and two children living in Edinburgh.

Shortly after his arrival in this city he secured a position as fireman at the London street railway powerhouse on Thames street, and has held it ever since.

For many months he continued sending money regularly to his wife and children in Scotland, but in May of last year wrote to his wife that he was out of work, and had no money, and that he was going to St. Thomas to look for work.

He sent her a letter dated St. Thomas, in which he said that he was sick of the country and had no money, that he was going to the States and that she need not expect to hear any more from him or to get any more money from him.

Shortly afterwards he was married here to a highly respectable young lady, who had been working as a maid in the home of a local family.

They had been living happily together until last night, when the detectives walked in and informed Henderson that he was wanted on a bigamy charge.

Henderson took the officers aside so as not to disturb his wife, and after hearing what they had to say went quietly with them.

Pleaded Guilty.

In the police court this morning Henderson pleaded guilty, stating that he had been married in Edinburgh in 1901, and had two children and a wife still living in Edinburgh.

His wife and he had not got along well, he said, and had agreed to separate.

Henderson was remanded until Aug. 7 for sentence.

Crown Attorney McKillop has been working on the case for many weeks. Mrs. Henderson took the matter up first with the Attorney-General's department, and when it was found that the authorities offered to pay the expenses of Mrs. Henderson from Scotland to this country if it was necessary to prosecute Henderson.

Henderson, however, by pleading guilty has saved all this trouble and expense.

Henderson belongs to a number of lodges, and is somewhat of a singer of Scotch songs.

He is about 30 years old.

City Treasurer John Pope Is Ill
J. S. Bell Appointed in PlaceMr. Pope Is Given Two Weeks
Holidays—Is a Very Popular Official.

After serving the city faithfully for thirty years, Mr. John Pope, city treasurer, of London, has become so ill that the city council at its meeting today, was compelled to appoint Mr. James S. Bell, assistant treasurer, to act in Mr. Pope's place for two weeks, when it is hoped that the treasurer will be able to resume his duties.

No more popular official ever served the city than John Pope. In his long service he has had charge of probably somewhere between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000 of city money, and he has been able to show where every cent went.

He is an autocrat in his way, in that civic business must be transacted in accordance with set rules, and no money could leave the treasury except by the route laid down by the auditors.

For some time his health has been failing, and he was frequently advised to take a few holidays, but remained faithful to his duties, and was usually at his office in the city hall.

Now his condition is such that he must take a rest, but his many friends earnestly hope that he will be able to resume his post shortly.

Mr. Bell is well qualified to transact the business of the office while Mr. Pope is away, and he is one of the best-informed men in the city's employ.

Street Railway Granted Extension
Will Operate Two Ways Aug. 10thCity Council in Special Meeting
Grants the Company's Request.

The city council at noon today granted the request of the London Street Railway Company for an extension of time in which to operate the cars both ways on the Ottawa avenue line.

Some of the aldermen were a little afraid that when the 10th of August comes around the company will not be ready to operate the cars both ways, and that there will be another delay, but the city had a letter from Manager King to the effect that on that date he will run cars both ways, and will place three extra cars on the line.

However, Mr. King distinctly stated in his letter that he wrote it without prejudice, and that he did not admit that his company is compelled under the bylaw to operate the cars as the council asked on Monday night.

Ald. Armstrong then moved the resolution granting the company's request, and Ald. Booth seconded.

The latter stated that he supported the motion on the distinct understanding that on the 10th of August, the date named by Mr. King, the cars shall be operated both ways without further parley.

Ald. Moorhead could see no reason for such a delay, and moved in amendment that the company be compelled to operate the cars both ways on the 1st of August.

There was no seconder.

The motion was then put and carried.

Those present were: Mayor Stevely, Ald. Steward, Ald. Armstrong, Ald. Peenlees, Ald. Rose, Ald. Booth, Ald. Saunders, Ald. Parsons, Ald. Moorhead, Ald. Stevenson, Ald. Ferguson, Manager King, of the London Street Railway Company.

Can't Shoot Partridge or Grouse Says Government Order-in-Council

Toronto, July 13.—No partridge or grouse may be legally shot in Ontario this year.

An order-in-council has been passed by the Government prohibiting the shooting or taking of these birds for one year from Sept. 15 next.

As the open season by the game laws extends from Sept. 15 to Dec. 15, this means that no partridge or grouse can be legally shot this year.

The action is taken because of the increasing scarcity of this species in the province.

PRINCE TO SEE HABITANT LIFE

When He Visits Quebec Will Be Taken on Trip to Cap Tormentine.

Quebec, July 13.—The tercentenary is on the eve of its initiation. The whole city, irrespective of age, is going in with a spirit of participation never heretofore entertained in this part of the Dominion of Canada.

The general programme has already been made public, but so far the inside fixtures, which his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales and the distinguished representatives of foreign nations will be the leading factors have not been given out. It is, of course, a matter of royal etiquette that in any programme in which the heir to the crown of the British empire is concerned, nothing can be adopted or given out until every detail is first communicated to his royal highness, and by him sanctioned.

The details are under the control of his excellency the Governor-General, and not yet altogether formulated. However, it is no secret to say that the Prince of Wales, his suite and foreign representatives are to be given a close insight into the realm of the French-Canadian "habitant" life. It is arranged that his royal highness will be taken on a trip over the Quebec Railway to Cap Tormentine, the celebrated mountain over 2,000 feet high, upon which a chapel is built, under the control of the Quebec Seminary. This is one of the highest peaks of the Laurentian Mountains, overlooking the St. Lawrence.

The return trip will be by automobiles which will pass through all the oldest and most picturesque villages and settlements of the French-Canadian habitant. In connection with this return trip the French-Canadians, young and old, are as busy as beavers putting the main road in order, and when their labor is finished, by the end of the present week, one of the best macadamized roads in the province will be built, and the mountain farmers are getting ready to decorate the roadway, some thirty-five miles long, in order to show their loyalty to the sovereign of Great Britain, and at the same time recognize the benefits and prosperity bestowed upon them by a great and generous Government that recognizes their laws, language and religion. This in itself, will be one of the greatest features of the celebration.

DEADLY FEUD RENEWED

Dr. Simpson, a Dentist of New York, Shot by His Mother-in-Law

Northport, L. I., July 13.—Dr. J. W. Simpson, the New York dentist, who was tried for the murder of his father-in-law, Bartley L. Horner, of this village, and who was acquitted of the charge, was shot this afternoon at the home of his wife and mother-in-law here, and is in a critical condition. Mrs. Horner, the doctor's mother-in-law, is under arrest charged with the shooting.

Dr. Simpson resumed practice in New York City after his acquittal, came here today on an afternoon train. He went directly to the home of his wife and mother-in-law and sought admission. No attention was paid to his knocking at the door, and he was forced to enter the house. While he was thus engaged a shot was fired through the door from inside the house. The bullet entered the dentist's side, and penetrated his liver.

The shooting of Dr. Simpson today was the climax in a bitter family feud that has existed in the Horner household for years. At the trial of Dr. Simpson at Riverhead, on a charge of having murdered his father-in-law, both Mrs. Horner and her daughter, who is the wife of Dr. Simpson, went on the stand, and gave damaging evidence against Dr. Simpson.

Simpson admitted that he fired the shot that killed his father-in-law, but declared that the act was wholly accidental. It was the contention of the prosecutor, however, that the killing was done in cold blood, and was actuated by a desire on the part of the doctor to prevent Mr. Horner from making a new will cutting off Simpson from any share in Mr. Horner's large estate.

Edward Sweet & Co., in their market review said: "Now that Dr. Bryan has been nominated it remains to be seen if the country at large will believe as Wall street is making itself believe, that this nomination is harmless and that it will be an easy matter to elect Mr. Taft. We are of the opinion that there will be political agitations and scares of sufficient magnitude to bring about from time to time decided reactions, and on such reactions believe it wise to buy the better class of industrial and railroad securities."

A SMOOTH SWINDLER

Buyers Store With Fake Check, Takes in Cash and Skips Away.

St. Catharines, July 13.—The very newest thing in swindles has been tried here. Friday afternoon, after banking hours, Michael Kane, who runs a flourishing grocery business near the park, was approached by a well-dressed, middle-aged stranger with a prosperous air, who asked him if he wanted to sell out.

"If I get my price, I will," Mr. Kane said.

That was soon arranged, and the man, who said his name was Dingle and that he came from Berlin, Ont., gave Mr. Kane a check for the purchase price.

"Whatever comes in is mine," he observed, and Mr. Kane agreed.

It had been a good afternoon and a big excursion from Toronto was at the park, and the store took in quite a lot of money. Dingle asked for this at closing time, but Kane, perhaps having a little suspicion, said he would hold the money until morning. Next morning, Dingle was around at 6 o'clock and had opened the store when Kane got there.

He seemed to be taking the greatest interest in the business, and as soon as the books opened Kane presented his check.

"No funds," was the answer.

He said nothing to Dingle, but told his clerk to keep a close eye on the man. Dingle left the store about 10:30, saying he was going to lunch. He never came back. It is reported, however, that he bought out a restaurant the same way that afternoon and got out of town, with the money taken in on the 11 o'clock train.

Dingle is described as being a large man, well dressed, and having fair hair.

SAWMILL DESTROYED.

Sombra, Ont., July 13.—Beckler & Co.'s sawmill was burned to the ground Sunday. The cause is unknown. The loss is about $6,000, partly covered by insurance. There is no way of getting water except by a bucket brigade from the river, and that was insufficient on account of the big start the fire had before it was discovered.

In 1907 some 8,925 new books were printed in the United States. A man would have to read 26 books a day to keep up with new American literature.

Mr. Richard Humfray, aged 92, one of the oldest licensed victuallers in Yorkshire, England, is dead. Until years ago he had been for 56 small rosebush. Costs and lawyers' fees already have amounted to several thousand dollars.

Two neighbors living on West Twenty-third street, New York—Leo St. J. Murtha and N. Montague Nieman—have been shining each other for years for four inches of ground and a few dollars.

One of the two women's hats, picked up by Kirwan and Gardner and by them turned over to the police, led later to its identification by William Preis, who stated that the party in the rowboat was made up of Antone, Joseph and Mary Bader, Mary and Emma Weider and Henry Dou-toush, none of whom has since been heard from. None of the bodies have been recovered.

Eleven People Perish From Rowboats

Baltimore, July 13.—The identification of one of the hats found near an overturned rowboat after the storm last night, during which five men are known to have been drowned, leads to the belief that the list of fatalities will total 11.

It developed today that William Kirwan and George Gardner, hearing cries for help, boarded a launch and headed for the rowboat from which the cries came. In it they saw three women and three men. Before they could reach the rowboat they saw it turn over, and when they came along-

EXPECT TO BLOCK FREIGHT ADVANCE

Manufacturers of New York Will Ask I. C. Board to Take Action.

New York, July 14.—The interstate commerce commission will be appealed to by the Manufacturers' Association of New York in its fight to prevent the railroads from making a 10 per cent increase in freight rates. Should the proposed increase be put in effect, as is intimated by W. C. Brown, senior vice-president of the New York Central, in his reply to the protest of the manufacturers, their association will ask the interstate commerce commission to declare the increase discriminating and unjust.

This would be done at once, but the interstate commerce commission has no power to act in such a matter until such a proposed increase really goes into effect.

Members of the manufacturers' association say that Mr. Brown's answer failed to show them any adequate reasons why the shippers should be made to suffer because the railroads are not making as much money as they did in the past.

Secretary James L. Hollie, after a careful perusal of the letter, replying to a number of statements it contains, said:

"For many moons the prayer of the railroad managers, addressed to Washington, D. C., has been: 'Don't bother us and let us alone.' That is now the prayer of the shippers to the railroad managers. It may be a fact that there would be a 10 per cent increase in freight rates. The time, however, for that increase is not now."

WALL STREET SEES BRYAN'S DEFEAT

The New York Financiers Take His Doom as Already Certain.

New York, July 13.—Wall street accepts William J. Bryan's defeat as a foregone conclusion. His nomination therefore, is generally regarded with favor among bankers and brokers, irrespective of their usual political affiliations.

So convinced is Wall street that Bryan will be defeated that the platform adopted at Denver aroused little interest or comment. Bankers who were asked to comment on the guaranteed bank deposit clause and railway regulation sections of the platform as a rule declined to be quoted. They said they preferred not to discuss Mr. Bryan or the platform.

It is the general belief in Wall street that there will be several Bryan scares during the campaign and that they will be promoted by the stock gamblers to suit their own purposes; also that the Republican programme will be to inaugurate a bull movement late in the campaign.

Dick Brothers & Co., in a statement issued after the nomination, thus discussed the result of the Denver convention:

"The Bryan party, true to its emblem, the donkey, layed out all the thinking people of the nation see to-day the ass beneath the lion's skin. Is it any wonder that Wall street, that sees and thinks, realized at once that the feeling and thinking citizens, who, after all, rule the nation, would take at its worth the 'charivari' at Denver and in November again refuse to follow one whose rise was due to a sacrilegious presentation of the wildest, most dangerous fallacy ever presented in history to a great nation?"

Carpenter, Baggett & Co., said: "Wall street looks almost without exception for the defeat of Mr. Bryan at the coming election. Politics will reach its climax later on, and all the rule the nation, would take at its worth the 'charivari' at Denver and in November again refuse to follow one whose rise was due to a sacrilegious presentation of the wildest, most dangerous fallacy ever presented in history to a great nation?"

Edward Sweet & Co., in their market review said: "Now that Dr. Bryan has been nominated it remains to be seen if the country at large will believe as Wall street is making itself believe, that this nomination is harmless and that it will be an easy matter to elect Mr. Taft. LONDON, TUESDAY, JULY 14.

THE PROBLEM OF TRANSPORTATION.

The report of the president and chief engineer of the Montreal harbor commission on the result of their investigation of British and continental ports, with a view to bringing about the further development of the port of Montreal, is being circulated by the commissioners in pamphlet form. It contains some valuable information in regard to the transportation problem, which, from a Canadian standpoint, is considered a most vital one, upon the development and efficiency of which depend the future prestige of our commerce. Attention is also called to the fact that within the next few years Canada will have three transcontinental railway lines from ocean to ocean within her own territory. Our canal system has provided a waterway from the great lakes to the head of ocean navigation at Montreal unequalled on this continent, giving a constant canal and river depth of fourteen feet. The only competing water route in the United States from the great lakes to the Atlantic is by way of the Erie Canal, which is but six feet deep, while the United States canal system is 345 miles in length as compared with the Canadian systems of 72 miles. Hence, while the extreme cargo limit of the United States systems is 8,000 bushels, an unbroken cargo of 80,000 bushels can be carried by the Canadian canal route.

Canadian enterprise has established from Montreal to the sea, by way of the St. Lawrence, a channel with an available depth of 30 feet, which is now actually in use by steamships of 12,000 tons, and in the course of about two years the channel will be available to Montreal for steamships of 18,000 tons. These waterways will be materially improved by the deepening of the Welland Canal or the building of a new waterway.

It is predicted that at the present rate of increase Canada during the present century will possess a population exceeding that now occupying the British Isles, and that if this country cultivates only one-quarter of its present wheat areas it will produce 800,000,000 bushels of wheat annually.

Two methods only of handling this new business are considered possible—first, by increasing terminal facilities on Canadian soil; second, United States ports. The report therefore concludes that it is a national duty to equip Canadian sea terminals in keeping with the railway and commercial growth of the country, in order to preserve the national prestige of handling Canadian business through Canadian seaports.

The results of the development of water routes for freight are exhaustively dealt with in the report, which points out that very large expenditures have been made upon British and continental ports. For instance, the city of London has spent $186,700,000, Liverpool $125,000,000, Manchester $90,000,000, Glasgow $40,000,000, Newcastle $30,000,000, Bristol $30,000,000, Cardiff $30,000,000, Antwerp $45,000,000, Hamburg $100,000,000, Rotterdam $33,000,000, Marseilles $29,500,000 and Havre $24,000,000, but the returns have justified the expenditures.

The argument is advanced that in spite of the fact that Montreal is a thousand miles from the sea it is still a seaport, and that with a moderate expenditure it could be made one of the great shipping ports of the world.

TELEPHONES IN SASKATCHEWAN.

The Province of Saskatchewan is going into the telephone business in earnest. A new governmental department, that of railways and telephones, has been established, and the preliminaries for the construction of long-distance lines and aiding the building of rural lines are already under way.

The Government's plan is to build and operate the long-distance lines. A trunk line system for the province has been blocked out and approved by the department. The system will be very comprehensive, and will include the building of lines paralleling all existing railways. The intention is to rush operations as far as possible until winter sets in, and to resume work early next spring. During the winter poles and other material and supplies required for next season's construction, work will be secured and delivered in order that there may be as little delay as possible. When the system is completed practically the entire settled area of the Province will be enveloped in a network of trunk telephone lines.

The policy of the Scott Government also provides for aiding rural communities in establishing telephone lines of their own, and even now preparations are being made for the organization of rural telephone companies. Scarcely a day passes but applications and inquiries are received by the department, and there is reason to believe that rural line-building will keep good pace with long-distance construction.

The assistance which the Government offers these rural telephone companies is very liberal. First of all each company's proposed system must be approved by the Government's experts. Then the company is entitled to the necessary poles free of cost. The Government will make arrangements for the delivery of the poles at the nearest railway station as soon as the company's subscribers put up $20 in cash for each mile of line to be constructed. Farmers will be given every assistance by the Government, free of cost, in the organization of companies.

The new department of railways and telephones is now one of the busiest, and its work is steadily increasing. An official has been appointed who will give his entire time to the organization of rural companies and investigate and report upon the plant and equipment of companies that were previously incorporated, with a view to bringing them under the new rural telephone act.

The Regina Leader says that, comprehensive in its scope, the proposed system demonstrates the wisdom of the Scott Government in first instituting a careful inquiry into the requirements of the province as a whole, and how best to meet public needs under prevailing conditions.

The working out of the Saskatchewan Government's telephone policy will be watched with interest all over the Dominion.

THE JOYS OF THE ROAD.

[Bliss Carman, in "Songs from Vagabondia"]

Now the joys of the road are chiefly these:

A crimson touch on the hardwood trees;

A vagrant's morning wide and blue;

In early fall, when the wind whisks, too;

A shadowy highway cool and brown,

Aluring up and enticing down;

From rippled water to dappled swamp,

From purple glory to scarlet pomp;

The outward eye, the quiet will,

And the striding heart from hill to hill;

The templer apple over the fence,

The cobweb bloom on the yellow quince;

The palish asters along the wood—

A lyric touch in the solitude.

An open hand, an easy shoe,

And a hope to make the day go through,

Another to sleep with, and a third

To wake me up at the voice of a bird;

A hunger fit for the kings of the sea,

And a loaf of bread for Dickson and me.

A thirst like that of the Thirsty Sword,

And a log of cedar upon the board;

An idle noon, a bubbling spring,

The sea in the pine-tops murmuring;

And O the joy that is never won,

But follows and follows the journeying sun,

By marsh and tide, by meadow and stream,

A will-o'-the-wind, a light-o'-dream,

Delusion afar, delight afar,

From tomorrow to tomorrow, from year to year.

These are the joys of the open road—

For him who travels without a load.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL.

CANADA'S CENTURY.

[Montreal Star.]

The alarm into which New York has fallen over the transfer of the grain trade to the Montreal route, need not have excited it so seriously if it had studied the map. Geography fights on the side of Montreal in this business of shipping the grain of the west to the markets of Europe; and geography can never be finally conquered. Artificial advantages have given New York her position in the past, but it is as inevitable as that the sun rises in the morning that these artificial advantages come nearer to equality, the casting vote of nature will give the trade to Montreal.

If one will study a map on Mercator's projection, which shows the relative positions of the countries, and not with the curvature of the ordinary map, he will see that Canada lies literally between the wheat-growing district of the American west and Europe. For the wheat from the American west to go by way of New York, is to go out of its road, and no cargo can afford to do this when the cost of carriage goes down to anything like a level rate per mile by the water.

Competing routes. Eventually the waterway from Chicago, Duluth and Port Arthur to the port of Montreal—whether by way of Lake Erie or Georgian Bay—will be the commanding route for western grain.

SOMEWHAT REJUVENATED.

Port Stanley, July 13.—Summerholm, on New Orchard Beach, is now in full swing. Over Sunday 28 of London's Misses graced the beautiful grounds of the Y. W. C. A.'s ideal place of rest. The girls all report having a jolly time. On Friday they were all taken out on the fish tug, and the fishermen explained all the interesting details connected with fishing. Among the guests there this week are the Misses Highway, Little, Osborne, Crawford, Kynner, Nugent, Shipley, Florence Borden, Gladys Jones, Hayman, Mrs. (Dr.) Borden, Mrs. S. C. Rae and others.

Mrs. Rae, of Summerholm, turned out some fine home-made bread and a batch of buns for the young ladies of the institute. They were so much appreciated that the girls are going to take lessons in "domestic science" from Mrs. Rae.

The open-air service on the beach last night conducted by Rev. Canon Downie was very largely attended. These Sunday evening services are becoming very popular with the summer people.

Expressions of approval of this new departure were heard on every hand from the well-pleased patrons. This dinner is to be continued daily throughout the season by the management, and should prove a decided boon to those spending an evening by the lakeside. "SAW THE UNDERGROUNDS"

New York Commissioner Says They Have Straphangers, Too.

New York, July 13.—Public Service Commissioner McCarroll and the commission's chief engineer, Henry B. Seaman, have returned from a trip to Europe, during which they inspected the rapid transit systems of several cities. Of the London underground roads the commissioner said:

"This system does not have the same great rush that we have in our subway, but it does have a large and constant haul all day. This is no doubt due to the fact that the underground system is so widely distributed that there is no congestion at any one point."

"The passengers go to and from the lower tubes in elevators. The elevators to the lower tubes carry 50 to 75 passengers and some carry a hundred or more. At the surface all of the passengers leave at one side, while others enter on the other side."

"The London subways have strap hangers, but not as many as here. There are no express tracks, the trains stopping at all stations. The trains run faster here, even on the local tracks. The fare averages about one cent a mile."

CROP CONDITIONS MORE FAVORABLE

Everything Points to Abundant Harvest in Each of the Provinces.

Ottawa, July 12.—The Department of Agriculture has arranged for publication of a monthly bulletin, giving accurate and comprehensive reports on the crops and live stock of Canada as summarized from information received from a special staff of correspondents, including practical farmers in every part of the Dominion. The bulletin will also give the review of work done each month by various branches of the department covering dairying and cold storage, experimental farms, the seed commission, live-stock and census and statistics. The bulletin will be known as the Census and Statistics Monthly, and the first number has just been issued. It contains a full report on the general crop conditions at the end of June.

A summary of the report, given by the corresponding today by Mr. Archibald Blue, chief of the census and statistics office, shows that the crop conditions generally are of a most favorable character, and with the largely increased acreage in wheat and oats the prospects all point to an abundant harvest in every province.

Live stock correspondents were instructed to compare the present with last year, measured on a per cent basis for their several localities. As regards the crop conditions, the correspondents were instructed to make a basis of comparison that of a standard which as applied to crops means the condition for a full crop, and as applied to live stock it means a healthy and sturdy stock.

Wheat is reported with a high average standard of 83 for all the provinces. It is 75 in Quebec, 81 in Ontario and New Brunswick, 81 in Alberta it is 93, in Saskatchewan 96, and in Manitoba 97. The increase of area in wheat over last year is 468,906 acres for Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, but in Ontario Quebec and Prince Edward Island there is a decrease of 18,321 acres. Oats show an increase of area sown of 537,434 acres, and a standard condition at the end of June of 90. Ontario's increase is the largest for any province, being 175,951 acres; but for the three Northwest Provinces the increase is 282,047 acres. The area for all the provinces is 7,942,943 acres, which is 1,429,978 acres more than wheat.

Barley's area is 1,746,911 acres. This is only 10,122 acres more than last year, and while there is an increase of 29,207 acres in Alberta there is a drop of 23,007 acres in Ontario. The per cent of standard condition is 83.

The areas in rye and beans are relatively small, and both show a decrease. The former is reported with a standard condition of 80 and the latter with 74.

The standard condition of peas is 82 per cent, and the area is 413,082 acres, which is 9,582 acres more than last year.

Mixed grains have fallen off in area by 20,621 acres, but they still occupy the large area of 583,225 acres. Quebec alone has 132,213 acres, and Ontario 420,945 acres. The standard condition is 84.

The crop of hay and clover shows a larger area than any other field crop in the Dominion. The extent of it is 8,209,562 acres, which is 483,227 acres more than last year. Ontario has 3,172,716 acres, Quebec 2,894,834 acres, and the Maritime Provinces 1,573,009. In the Northwest Provinces the farmers depend largely on the native or prairie hay. The per cent of a standard condition for the Dominion is 86, and that of pasture is 93.

The average standard of condition of live stock is high for all kinds of stock, in particular for horses and milch cows, and for each kind, except swine, there is an increase of number.

The Arncliffe Puzzle

By GORDON HOLMES, Author "A Mysterious Disappearance."

CHAPTER X.

Edith Holt's Tribulation.

Harry Warren followed the advice of the poacher so faithfully that when he left the "Fisherman's Rest" late that night he had ceased to speculate as to whether Angier was alive or dead. In fact, he told himself in a maudlin self-confidence that he did not care much one way or the other. It was in this spirit of bravado that he lurched into Lester's room at the Inn, and hiccupped himself out again. The old solicitor was not dead, but his condition was extremely critical. He was found by Simpson about an hour after he was struck down, still insensible, but breathing stertorously like a man with apoplexy. This new evidence of an assassin's hand caused something akin to a panic at the Hall. One mounted messenger clattered in hot haste for Dr. Smalley, and another was dispatched in search of Lester by Edith, who had small faith in the pompous village doctor.

Perhaps the only two people who remained outwardly calm were Mrs. Warren and Inspector Hobson, both of whom had returned to the house together some little time before the discovery of the crime. Mrs. Warren had no doubt as to the would-be murderer's identity. She was in an agony of anxiety to question her son and learn the exact circumstances of the crime from his lips. She dreaded lest Angier might have recognized his assailant. Had there been a quarrel, open threats? If the solicitor regained consciousness, he might make disclosures that would bring disaster upon Harry, whose absence served to intensify her anxiety.

Had he fled, or was he skulking in the park in the fancied security of Angier's death? If so, it was utter madness not to make sure of his work. The most timid of animals will become a vengeful fury in maternal defense, and Mrs. Warren was no exception to the law which governs nature.

Lester arrived shortly after Dr. Smalley, but this was an instant in which the village doctor was glad to welcome his distinguished colleague, realizing that the case was somewhat beyond his own powers, and what was more important, that rivalry was no longer to be feared. In any event, Lester would not have permitted considerations of etiquette to interfere with his determination to take charge of the patient. If much junior to Dr. Smalley in years, he was as greatly his senior in qualifications, and he let the local practitioner understand plainly that he was to act as helper and obey orders. An immediate operation offered the only hope of saving Mr. Angier's life, and that operation Lester performed, with only Dr. Smalley and Simpson, the valet, in the bedroom to which the elderly solicitor was carried at the first alarm.

Detective Hobson was in no way surprised that a fresh crime should follow on the heels of Lord Arncliffe's murder. The suspicion he had entertained against Edith was strengthened rather than weakened by the attack on her husband. Of course, this was no woman's work, but the all-important question of motive was, to his thinking, as clear in the one case as in the other. He saw, however, that matters had scarcely yet reached the point where open measures were justifiable, she, he obliging enough, to confess.

But now that Angier's authority was no longer available, the detective asserted himself more than ever. Unobtrusively, yet more the less effectively, he took over the superintendence of affairs at the Hall. One of his first acts was to exercise a strict personal censorship on everybody and everything that entered Mr. Angier's room. It seemed that a search for the murderer of Lord Arncliffe and for the elderly lawyer's assailant would involve only a single quest, and Hobson resolved that no combination of beef tea and misapplied science should interfere with the latter's chance of recovery. With the exception of Mrs. Angier and the medical attendants, no one, in fact, was admitted to the sickroom pending the arrival of trained nurses.

This was a sore disappointment to the detective, who, however, hinted strongly to inquirers that Mr. Angier had given an important clue bearing on his theory, and, of course, that he would be able to judge by demeanor if any of the household were concerned in the crime. This notion was shrewd enough under certain conditions; but the fact was that he did not allow for the possibility of a master mind being opposed to his own.

Harry Warren, or, indeed, any ordinary assassin, would probably have made flight in the direction of the nearest seaport. But Mrs. Warren was of a different order, and she paid the detective the compliment of supposing that he was not such a novice in his profession as to take all and sundry into his confidence if he had, indeed, discovered anything.

Happily for himself, Warren arrived home in a condition that exempted him from any questioning on the night of the crime. If, next day, he was pale and a little nervous about things, it was excusable in a man who was pursuing a course of study likely to lead him to remarkable discoveries in natural history, studies which, if continued, involved acquaintance with hell-trope boa-constrictors and yellow rats bearing pink stripes.

To his mother Warren confessed that it was he who had attacked Angier, but it was characterized by the fact that he said nothing of his encounter with the poacher. Presently, when Leigh began to press too hardly upon also, but he was cursed with the last moment. Thus, his mother, the one person who would help him at all hazards, was likely to learn of his new danger only when it would be too late to save him.

Probably no one suffered more than Edith Holt at this period. She was not blind to the fact that popular suspicion, coupled her name with the murder of Lord Arncliffe. But she had been cheered by her trust in her fatherly benevolence and the motherly kindness of his wife, Mr. Angier, as a man learned in the law, knew perfectly well that although malicious minds might prompt a slander and innuendo, there was no shred of evidence to support a charge of murder against her, and, although he deplored her reticence over certain matters, he had little doubt that an income of forty thousand a year would carry her triumphantly through all minor disabilities.

Now, however, she was not merely deprived of his support and advice, but a marked change took place in Mrs. Angier's attitude towards her. On one pretext or another, the lawyer's wife left Edith to take her meals alone. When they met, by accident, the older woman treated the younger with a pointed coldness which could not be misunderstood.

Edith was not, indeed, wholly without friends. George Lester did not abate one jot of his devoted service, nor was Angier's attitude towards her generally held that a woman with a pretty face can befool a man to the top of his bent; but it may also be said that man, with his blunter knowledge of life, by every reason of his passion-blinded judgment, it may be weighed character in the opposite sex by crude instinct rather than by delicate analysis. And crude instinct is often right.

Edith at first accepted Mrs. Angier's attitude in proud silence. She could make many excuses for a sorrowing wife during a time of such suspense. She even endeavored to fall in with Mrs. Angier's evident wish to avoid her, leaving all explanations until such time as the invalid was no longer in danger. But when, with the passing of the crisis, Mrs. Angier's avoidance became even more marked, and her manner almost offensive to her hostess, Edith decided that there must be some clearing of this minor mystery.

For herself, she cared nothing, but she would, at least, be treated with ordinary courtesy before her servants. Up to this time Edith had in no way asserted her position as mistress of Arncliffe. It was natural that a young girl of good breeding should leave matters in the hands of her chaperon; and Mrs. Angier had practically come to Arncliffe to act in that capacity. Nevertheless, the existing state of affairs was intolerable. What between Mrs. Angier's hauteur, the detective's prying eyes, Mrs. Warren's too marked civility and the agent's covert ill-will, Edith's life was a misery.

It is a melancholy fact that the majority of professional men tell their wives a great deal more of their business than is compatible with the dictates of strict prudence. Of those who do not, some preserve a silence which entails severe suffering on either their wives or themselves, while a more diplomatic few rely upon imagination, and so render all parties happy without risk. Mr. Angier, unfortunately, belonged to the more numerous category, and it was owing to his indiscretion in repeating to his wife Inspector Hobson's suggestions against Edith that the unpleasantness of the last few days had arisen.

Having made up her mind, Edith did not delay. She sent a servant to request the presence of Mrs. Angier, who made her appearance looking almost as though she had borrowed some of Mrs. Warren's austerity.

"You wish to see me, Miss Holt?" she said stiffly.

"Yes," returned Edith, quietly. "Now that Mr. Angier is practically convalescent I think the time has come for an explanation of the extraordinary attitude you have thought fit to adopt toward me since he was attacked."

"I think my husband's condition should be a sufficient answer to you," rejoined Mrs. Angier, with a scorn as she could throw into voice and manner.

"I am trying to make every allowance for your terrible anxiety. But I really need not fence with each other, Mrs. Angier. I suggest that you have deliberately behaved in a most unfriendly manner toward me, and under the circumstances, I think I am entitled to know your grievance."

"I have already given you an adequate reason."

"What am I to suppose from such an answer?" cried Edith, losing all patience. "You cannot suggest that it was I who hurtled at you, and that if you think me capable of committing so wicked a crime or inflicting so terrible an injury, you must surely remember that I was actually in your company at the time of the assault upon Mr. Angier."

The older woman pursed her lips into something approaching a sneer. She had all the mulish obstinacy of the exemplary matron.

"It is possible to be morally guilty of a crime, without having actually committed it," she retorted. "You must not think all people are fools, Miss Holt. Young girls, who have everything provided for them, even their dress accounts paid, and who never leave their homes, do not require three hundred pounds for nothing. And, in view of the suppressed letters, your fainting fit, when the arrival of Lord Arncliffe was announced, did not appear to be very creditable toward you."

"So that is what my one-time friends think of me," cried Edith, bitterly. "I am beginning now to discover that an open enemy is less to be feared."

Mrs. Angier was an honest, motherly soul at heart. Secretly she felt somewhat ashamed of herself. "Oh, well," she answered, the more harshly because of an uneasy consciousness that her behavior was not altogether generous, "after all, you have only yourself to blame. People see nothing strange in Lord Arncliffe giving three hundred pounds to his intended heiress; but, in view of your professed ignorance of the contents of his will, they do think it strange that you should ask for such a sum. I tell you frankly there are very strong hints that you did not obtain that money from Lord Arncliffe's bankers legitimately."

"So, Mrs. Angier, I am already suspected of forgery; I presume I shall be charged with murder next."

"There are more unlikely things!" snapped Mrs. Angier. The mention of murder brought to mind the attack on her husband, and with it all her bitter suspicions. I know well enough that you did not strike the actual blow at my husband; but it simply comes to this, Miss Holt, that since you could not reasonably want three hundred pounds for yourself, you must have wanted it for somebody else. And," she concluded with a sneer, "not been a solicitor's wife for nearly forty years without being aware that the 'somebody else' is always a man where a woman is concerned."

PIUS RANKS WITH REFORMING POPES

He Has Brought About Radical Changes in Administration of the Church.

Rome, July 13.—The Pope's decree issued recently makes the most sweeping reform of modern times in the administrative machinery of the Roman Catholic Church. Much of the complicated and obsolete bureaucracy which has grown up in the last two or three centuries is simplified or swept away.

It is a melancholy fact that the majority of professional men tell their wives a great deal more of their business than is compatible with the dictates of strict prudence. Of those who do not, some preserve a silence which entails severe suffering on either their wives or themselves, while a more diplomatic few rely upon imagination, and so render all parties happy without risk. FAST RUN TO SAVE LIFE

Doctor's C. P. R. Special Does 112 Miles in 114 Minutes.

Montreal July 13.—Dr. James Bell, of Montreal, formerly of Ottawa, rushing to the bedside of a sick child in order to save her life, made a record run between Montreal and Ottawa yesterday. Dr. Bell has a large practice in Montreal, and is living here, while his wife and family are residing in the capital during the summer. Yesterday Dr. Bell received a wire from his wife saying the little daughter of a friend was very ill, and that the Ottawa doctors had despaired of her life. As there was no train within several hours, the doctor hired a special and within fifteen minutes was in a car attached to one of the company's best locomotives, and with one of their best engineers at the throttle. The special was given a clear line and made the run of 112 miles in 114 minutes.

sections, as witness Three Rivers, St. Hyacinth, Victoria, B. C., New Westminster, San Francisco, and many other instances.

Who, then, can say all are not alike directly interested? And my conception of Billie Brown and the general wage earner is, that he is not such a pig as some people picture him, nor yet such a fool as to stand in his own light and vote down a necessity when the question is plainly stated to him.

I am glad Mr. Saunders writes his views. The general public need light on this question. We are not all educated in hydraulics. I am not attacking Mr. Saunders. It is his plan and principle, while my whole aim (and I think Mr. Saunders has similar views) is to get the people educated through the press, so that in the end a united voice will provide London with a domestic supply and fire-fighting system that will not have an equal in America.

Nature has done her share for London; let us be as wise and simple as nature, leaving graft, self and ignorance to the foolish, then much of our troubles will disappear. Faithfully yours,

JOHN M. PARSONS.

BABY HAD DIARRHOEA FOR SEVEN WEEKS

Thousands of infants die annually who could be saved by the timely use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

There can be no doubt about it. Sixty-three years experience has proved this sterling remedy to be the best for Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Cramps, Cholera Infantum, Cholera Morbus, Summer Complaint, and all bowel troubles in both children and adults.

Many of the imitations sold are positively dangerous, as they often check the diarrhoea too suddenly and cause inflammation.

Always insist on the genuine Dr. Fowler's. Sold at all medicine dealers at 35 cents a bottle.

Mrs. A. B. De Marchand, Bath, N.B., writes: "My baby was troubled with Diarrhoea for nearly seven weeks. I tried three different doctors, but none of them could do her any good. I was advised to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and less than half a bottle cured her."

MANY NOTABLES FOR THE PAGEANT

Prince of Wales, "Bobs," Vice-President Fairbanks, Marquis de Levis, Strathcona.

Quebec, July 13.—So many celebrities of world-wide fame have probably never gathered together in any Canadian city as will meet within the walls of the Ancient City during the centenary celebration, which begins on Saturday next.

No visitor will approach in rank or general interest the son of King Edward VII, representative of the British crown and himself the heir. The Prince of Wales is affectionately remembered in Canada for the impression he made upon its citizens years ago, and for the famous speech afterward at Guildhall, in which he drew the attention of the British public to new problems of empire.

Next in interest, though not in rank to the Prince of Wales, in the Canadian eyes at least, will be the famous "Bobs," probably the best known and best loved military commander in the world at the present time. Lord Roberts' reputation has been well known to Canadians for many years, but probably it was not until the part which he took in the South African war, that struggle which so peculiarly thrilled the hearts of the British Dominion beyond the seas, that Canada began to take an intimate personal interest in him. The Canadians who fought under his command in that conflict revered him, and communicated their enthusiasm to the Dominion, which was already on fire with pride in his successes.

The Quebec festivities will also be graced by the presence of the Governor-General of Australia, who, however, will be here less as the representative of Canada's next sister among the Overseas Dominions than as the head of one of the greatest and most ancient of English noble houses. The United States will be represented by one of its most distinguished citizens and rulers, Vice-President Fairbanks, who made a good campaign for the Republican presidential nomination at the recent convention.

The Right Hon. Sir John Henry de Villiers, member of the judicial committee of the Imperial privy council, is chief justice of the Cape of Good Hope. He owns 35,000 acres in the Cape Colony, and is married to the daughter of an old Dutch family. He is a K. C. M. G., and pronounces his name "Villiers."

Simon Joseph Fraser, sixteenth Earl of Lovat of Scotland, is descended from the General Fraser, who was one of General Wolfe's staff at the taking of Quebec.

The Marquis of Levis, of the French nobility, and George Wolf, of Kent, are chiefly notable for being the nearest blood relatives of great wealth and high social position, who have long enjoyed the honor of being chief patron of the French-Canadians in Paris, Monsieur Herbet.

No detailed mention need be made here of Lord Strathcona, who is too good at home in the province of Quebec to be described as a "guest," even "distinguished," at any function in which Canada is the host. The same may be said of a number of other prominent men who will be in attendance.

FOREST NURSERIES

Govt. to Establish Them at Various Points in the Province.

Toronto, July 13.—The Government has taken steps in their reforestation scheme, which was foreshadowed in the estimates passed by the Legislature last session. The outlines of the scheme are the establishment of farm forest nurseries throughout the province in the neighborhood of lands which are not suitable for agricultural purposes. These nurseries are to be made the centers of reforestation for the particular areas in which they are situated.

The Government have decided to establish the first of these new forest nurseries in Norfolk County. With this object in view they have purchased 100 acres of land in the south half, lot 24, concession 3, of the township of Walsingham, from Mr. Melvin Horton, of St. Williams.

The plot of land which has been acquired is believed to be particularly suited for forestry purposes, and it adjoins an area of several thousand acres which has already been declared unfit for agricultural purposes. It is understood that in connection with its forestry policy the Government are arranging to utilize the services of students of the university who are taking courses in forestry should they prove competent.

MISSIONARY TRAINING

Helpful Sessions of the Methodist Summer School at St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, July 14.—The sessions of the school at Alma College were especially helpful on Saturday. After devotional exercises, which were conducted by Rev. F. W. Hollinrake, the "Life Talk" was taken up by Dr. Elliott, of Winnipeg. He gave a clear, lucid and heart-searching address on "Prayer."

At the close of Dr. Elliott's address the school divided into four classes, and spent an hour in the study of the mission text book, "The Uplift of China."

The school reassembled at 10 o'clock and listened to a most touching and helpful address from Miss Munro, who spent a number of years in the girls' school in Tokio, Japan. Her subject was "Mission Work in the Sunday School," and she drew her illustrations from her experience in Japan.

This address was followed by Rev. Dr. Sutherland, of Toronto, on "Foreign Missions." The doctor put his accustomed vigor into his address, and the result was an inspiring and vigorous appeal was made for the foreign field. He took a rapid survey of the field in China, West China, which has been given over into the hands of the Methodist Church of Canada, and showed the needs of the work. The great necessity at present is for united believing prayer.

God would send forth laborers into his harvest. Men and money are the special need today for this vast field.

Saturday evening Dr. Elliott conducted an exceedingly helpful Bible studies on "The Teaching of Jesus." Rev. R. W. Woodworth, of Toronto, then gave his second address on "Christian Stewardship," dealing in a careful and practical way with some questions that had been asked him during the past few months, regarding the tithe system.

On Sunday the Methodist pulpits of the city were occupied by members of the school, and a very helpful consecration service was held in the chapel of the college in the afternoon. The evening sessions this week are all open to the public, when attractive services will be held.

The meeting tonight will be addressed by Rev. W. W. Prudden, of Japan, and Rev. J. E. Hughson, of Ingersoll.

Dear Sirs,—I have great pleasure in stating that Zam-Buk cured my husband of barber's rash with twice rubbing. It also cured my little boy of a dreadfully bad arm after vaccination. I know of several other cures it has effected, and I cannot speak too highly of it. I am sure if people once try it they will always use it. Yours truly, R. SAVILLE.

CANADA'S CROPS AND LIVE STOCK

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, July 11.—The Census and Statistics Monthly is a publication of the census and statistics office, and its chief aim is to issue reports on the crops and live stock of Canada. The first number gives some account of the work of the department of agriculture for the month of June as conducted by the commissioner of dairy- and cold storage, the director of experimental farms, the seed commissioner, the veterinary director-general of live stock, and the chief officer of census and statistics.

The leading article of the July monthly is a report on the condition of field crops and live stock at the end of June, based on information received from a large staff of practical farmers throughout the Dominion, together with estimates of the areas of crops and numbers of live stock computed from data of per cent comparisons with the statistics of last year. British Columbia is the only province for which reports are not made, for although a staff of correspondents has been secured there, no data of agricultural statistics are available for comparison in that province later than those of the census of 1901.

The following summary of the report on crops and live stock at the end of June is given out today by Mr. Archibald Blue, chief officer of the census and statistics office.

In reporting upon areas and live stock, correspondents were instructed to compare the present with last year, measured on a per cent basis for their several localities. If there was 10 per cent more of oats in crop, for example, it would be denoted by 110, but if 5 per cent less it would be 95, and so if the number of milch cows was 15 per cent more it would be denoted by 115, but if 10 per cent less it would be denoted by 90. As regards condition, correspondents were instructed to make the basis of comparison that of a standard, which as applied to crops means the condition for a full crop, and as applied to live stock it means a healthy and thrifty state. "In each case," correspondents were told, "100 represents a standard condition, and any number above or below 100 will show a condition better than or not as good as a standard."

Excepting in a few localities in the eastern provinces the seeding season opened early and fine growing weather has prevailed in the months of May and June. But in a country of such wide extent as Canada it was inevitable that a low rainfall would be reported for some parts. The highest average per cent of standard condition, however, is proof of a rainfall fairly adequate.

Wheat is reported with a high average standard of 83 for all the provinces. It is 75 in Quebec and in Ontario and New Brunswick, but in Alberta it is 92, in Saskatchewan 96 and in Manitoba 97. The increase of area in wheat over last year is 468,000 acres for Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, but in Ontario, Quebec, and Prince Edward Island there is a decrease of 18,831 acres.

Oats shows an increase of area sown of 537,434 acres and a standard condition at the end of June of 90. Ontario's increase is the largest for any province, being 175,951 acres; but for the three Northwest provinces the increase is 282,947 acres. The area for all the provinces is 7,942,943 acres, which is 1,429,978 acres more than wheat.

Barley's area is 1,746,911 acres. This is only 10,122 acres more than last year, and while there is an increase of 29,207 acres in Alberta there is a drop of 23,077 in Ontario. The per cent of a standard condition is 85. The areas in rye and beans are relatively small, and both show a decrease. The former is reported with a standard condition of 80 and the latter with 74.

The standard condition of peas is 82 per cent, and the area is 413,082 acres, which is 9,582 acres more than last year. Mixed grains have fallen off in area by 20,621 acres, but they still occupy the large area of 583,225 acres. Quebec alone has 133,213 acres, and Ontario 420,945 acres. The standard condition is 84.

The crop of hay and clover shows a larger area than any other field crop in the Dominion. The extent of it is 8,209,582 acres, which is 483,227 acres more than last year. Ontario has 3,552,716 acres, Quebec 2,893,838 acres and the Maritime Provinces, 1,573,909. In the Northwest provinces the farmers depend largely on the native, or prairie hay. The per cent of a standard condition for the Dominion is 86, and that of pasture is 99.

The statistics of crops for the Dominion, exclusive of British Columbia, are given in the following table for per cent of standard condition and acres for 1908 and 1907:

II. With great ease water is placed in water-pan, drafts opened and coal fire started. Fire soon burns up brightly, drafts are closed and check-draft opened. Immediately heat-power begins to penetrate dome and radiator surrounding dome. The incoming cold air immediately receives the energy of this heat-power, and by natural law ascends up the hot-air pipes, thence to rooms. No gas escapes into cellar or rooms because there is an automatic gas damper providing for its escape up the chimney.

III. In the morning a gentle rocking of the lever removes all ashes from grates. No dust in operator's face, for the first opened damper into dust-pipe leading from ash-pit, then direct draft at smoke-pipe entrance, and all dust passed up dust-pipe to dome, then out chimney.

IV. No need to shovel any ashes away. All nicely settled in ash-pan ready to be quickly and easily removed from pit. On coming upstairs operator finds that he requires no whisking off, and his wife don't scold him for "making everything white."

V. Operator is delighted. When asked the name of his furnace, he proudly said,

HEARKEN TO CALL

McFarland and Welsh To Meet Again in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 14.—Arrangements have been perfected by telegram for Mackie McFarland to meet Freddie Welsh, the clever English champion, again in this city on Labor Day to decide the question of supremacy between the two.

McFarland was much disappointed by Jeffries' decision in the Fourth of July bout, and stated to newspapermen at the time he had been robbed, and that he would never fight him or before Jeffries again. But he has been persuaded to take a more sensible view of the matter and take on the little Welsh boy again.

COAST FANS AWAIT KELLY

Ketchel Not Likely To Be Top-Heavy Favorite Over Chicagoan.

San Francisco, Cal., July 14.—San Francisco fight fans are eagerly awaiting the arrival of Hugo Kelly, who is to fight Stanley Ketchel on July 31. Although Ketchel is locally well known, he will not be a top-heavy favorite, as the fans will be cautious since the collapse of Glass.

Promoter Marisch will endeavor to have Kelly train either at Ocean Beach or at Alameda, so the fans may go out to see him at work. Ketchel has fought here often, but every time he presents new angles, so there is always pleasure in watching him. He has picked up weight since he last appeared in the ring, and the question of whether he can make 150 pounds may enter into the doping of the fight.

Ketchel has ambitions of some day meeting Tommy Burns for the heavy weight championship, and this fight he hopes will be the stepping-stone for him.

THE FIRST DAY
OF THE OLYMPICSome Fast Time Made in the Preliminary Heats of the 1,500-Metre Race.

London, July 13.—Despite the rain of the early day, a number of the Olympic events were run off. The Stadium seats 70,000 people, and there were many vacant spaces when the first pistol was fired.

In some of the events, too, the contestants appeared affected by the adverse weather conditions, but in other events, particularly the 1,500-metre race, in which the greatest interest centered, the men were up to their form, and twice during the afternoon the record for the distance was smashed.

Sheppard First.

Melvin W. Sheppard, of the Irish-American Athletic Club of New York, was the first to accomplish the trick, when, in the second heat, pressed hard by his teammate, J. P. Halstead, of the New York A. C., he ran the distance in the second time of 4:05, just 2-5 of a second faster than that made by J. D. Lightbody, of the University of Chicago, at the Olympic games at St. Louis in 1904.

The two Americans in this heat beat a number of good men, including G. Butterfield, the English four-mile champion, who finished a bad third. J. P. Sullivan, of the Irish-American A. C., and Lightbody, who were first and second respectively in the first heat of this event, took longer to cover the distance, but they were not pressed, and doubtless could have done better if it had been necessary.

Meadows, of Canada, set out to make the pace in this event, but Lightbody went to the front in the stretch and seemed a likely winner until Sullivan, with a fine burst of speed, passed him a few yards from the tape.

Hallows Good.

The best performance of the day, however, was that of M. F. Hallows, an Oxford Blue, who cut a full two seconds off the record, much to the surprise of everybody, as Hallows always has been at his best at the three miles, and 1,500 metres was considered too short for him. He is now thought to be the most serious rival of the Americans in the final of this event, which will be run tomorrow.

Through their defeat by Sheppard and Sullivan, Halstead and Lightbody failed to qualify. H. L. Coe, of the University of Michigan, made a strong bid for victory in the fourth heat, but was unable to keep up with E. V. Loney, of England, although the time was particularly brilliant. Coe finished second.

The only other American in the race, F. H. Miles, of the Irish-American A. C., ran unplaced in his heat, the third, which was that in which Hallows made the record.

Protest Longboat.

The Americans have decided formally to protest against the eligibility of Tom Longboat, the Canadian Indian runner, but if the committee should decide to allow him to run, they will abide by that decision, and not to interfere in any way with the success of the sports.

The members of the Canadian team who competed in the Olympic shoot last week intend to do little shooting for the next three days as they found last week's work somewhat strenuous. Today competitors in the Waldgrave open team competition won gold prize with scores of 49 and 50, using the Ross 280 match rifle. Another competitor in the Waldgrave, using the rifle for the first time, made 34.

OWEN SOUND WINS
FROM DUNDAS KICKERS

Owen Sound, July 14.—Dundas met defeat here last night in a sudden-death game in the semi-finals of the W. F. A. series, by a score of 1 to 0. The result leaves Owen Sound and Berlin the contenders for the intermediate championship.

The teams lined up as follows: Owen Sound—Campbell, Beckett, Gilliland, Batty, Brown, Carr, Hermon, McDonald, Hill, Campbell, McDonald. Dundas—Clark, Jones, Graham, Mac-McCordie, Chastell, Thombs, Lowe, Mallett, Robertson, Thomson. Referee—Dr. H. G. Murray, Owen Sound.

MATTHEWSON MAKES VERY BAD PLAY

Pittsburg, Pa., July 14.—Christy Matthewson, star twirler of the Giants' staff, was mysteriously missing many hours last night, and not until early this morning did he show up at the hotel.

McGraw was mad as a wet hen. Matthewson was scheduled to pitch one of the games in a doubleheader tomorrow, and McGraw wanted him to be in good condition.

No sooner was Matthewson in town than the members of the checker club took him in charge, and the star player, whose weakness is checkers, spent most of last night at the game in the checker clubhouse in Lower Allegheny.

McGraw declares it is a scheme to make Matthewson ineffective against the Pirates, which the checker players indignantly deny. They think Matthewson is ruining his checker game by baseball.

LONDON SHOOTERS
MADE GOOD SHOWING

Ingersoll, July 14.—F. Galbraith, of the London Gun Club, made the best average at the second annual tournament of the Ingersoll Gun Club here yesterday. Bert Glover, of London, and K. C. Turnbull, Stratford, were tied for second honors, with 141, two points below Galbraith. Day, of London, was third, with 140. Horning, of Hamilton, was fourth, with 138.

It is computed that the dew falling in England is equal to five inches of rain each year.

CURRENT SPORTING GOSSIP

BY SOUTHPAW

WHEN QUESTIONED last evening by a number of the East End League baseball players expressing a willingness to give the London pro team a lift by playing them an exhibition benefit game here Saturday. The league management will be interviewed on the subject today.

SKIP GERMAN'S gallant four worked hard to stem the tide of defeat yesterday on the London Bowling Club greens, but it was no use. As Billy Lashbrook says, "Jim McDougall simply won't be denied."

IT HAS BEEN SUGGESTED THAT the purses for the running races at Queen's Park be made a trifle larger in order that a better class of bangtails be entered. The purses here, though, are a trifle better than at some tracks, where horse blankets and bridge bits serve as booking magnets.

IF THAT ST. THOMAS proposition goes through, interest in the matinee races should be stimulated tenfold. There has been no cause for complaint about the London matinees, but inter-city competition always proves of interest.

J. TALBOT, Capt. Robson, Ralph Erington, Dr. Wyckoff, with other local crack local quitters, are busy each night preparing for the tournament to be held here during Old Boys' week. When one thinks it over it can be said that the quitters have a little something.

SEVEN L. B. C. rinks will visit St. Thomas tomorrow.

EXCHANGE VISITS
WITH ST. THOMASIs Proposed Matinee Drivers
Exchange Visits Semi-Monthly.

Mr. George McCormick, president of the London Amateur Road Drivers' Association, is sponsor for the suggestion that London and St. Thomas matinee drivers exchange visits semi-monthly next summer, and that a special car be built for taking the horses to and from the two cities.

Before such an arrangement can be made, however, it will be necessary for the St. Thomas horsemen to adopt rules similar to those in vogue at the local matinees in reference to the vehicles to be used.

Carts Vs. Wagons.
In St. Thomas carts are used, while the London matinee drivers drive wagons.

At the present time the St. Thomas horsemen are making use of a track at Farmouth Centre, but it is proposed to build a new track in St. Thomas shortly.

The St. Thomas Journal says: "The horsemen of Elgin County will in all probability have a new track next year that will be as good as any in Western Ontario."

"It is understood that the chief movers in the Elgin Driving Association have secured a site of 50 acres in the vicinity of St. Thomas, where a half-mile track will be built that will make horse-racing thrive as it never has prospered before in the county of Elgin."

"The track will be within a very short distance of the city, the site being east of First avenue, and stock will shortly be sold to finance the project."

Highly Successful.
"This action is the result of the immediate success that has attended the holding of matinee races at Farmouth Centre. It is in the opinion of the horsemen that if it is possible to get such a large attendance several miles from the city, it would be much more easy to get crowds of many times the size if the track were within reasonable distance from all citizens, whether drivers or not."

Well Attended.
"Ever since the season opened, the races have been attended by many people, and all are most enthusiastic over the bi-monthly meets, which promise to increase in favor as the summer goes on. Already, as mentioned in the Journal's report of last Wednesday's matinee, the drivers are beginning to come from outside points and it is claimed that if a new track were built by the Elgin Driving Association men near the city, the races would draw big crowds from various centres."

LAWN BOWLING.
After putting up one of the prettiest up-hill digits of the season, Skip C. E. German's rink was compelled yesterday afternoon to acknowledge defeat at the hands of the four skipped by James S. McDougall, in the rink of the London Bowling Club rink competition, the final score being 15 to 13.

At the fifteenth end Skip German's rink was eight down, but in the last three ends it gained six points, finishing but two in the rear.

The game was a pretty one to witness, although McDougall's rink was never headed after the sixth end.

The rinks and scores by ends were as follows:
Alex. Gillen, Kenneth Casselman, Wm. Lind, George McHattie, Barney Vining, W. J. Snelgrove, J. S. McDougall, 15 C. E. German, 13.

CUT A WHALE IN TWO
Incarnadined the Multitudinous Seas—Oh, Yes, It's Strictly True.

New York, July 13.—The sea was smooth as oil almost, the air could not be finer, when like a Vanderdecken ghost the flying Yankee liner slipped past the Banks half polar climate, where bergs are often sighted. If they had been around this time all would have been delighted aboard the gallant twin screw craft—(doubt not that this yarn is true—some words were tax the rhymer's craft)—you've guessed her, the St. Louis.

Bergs, no storm, a duckpond sea, the passengers were grilling, they prayed for some variety, to hear a cry from howling would not have been unpleasant to bored veteran ocean crossers. A big sea snake might even do, "with eyes as big as saucers." And while the veterans longed for swells there was a great commotion; twas half-past six p.m., five bells a and geyers filled the ocean! The folks on deck all went to port. "Whales! whales!" the lookout shouted, and all came up to see the sport and then the whole school spouted. The pursers murmured with a smile, "This is the campaign season and spouting seems to be in style, with little rhyme or reason."

The liner whistled as the throng of whales came close 'longside her. A big bull fifteen fathoms long rushed forward and defied her. He spouted twice as high as the liner, but he got in wrong, as you'll see by the sequel. He ran before the liner's bows, unmindful of collision, stopped, lifted up his massive brows and hunched in deep derision. That was his last abysmal laugh; the liner's sharp prow caught him; he did not look so well by half as first the skipper thought him.

The ship got quite a jolt but kept right on her course serenely, the miserable cow whales wept, they felt the bull's death keenly. The pursers said: "He lost the race, and not once did I doubt it. He did not take defeat with grace; he's all cut up about it." Perhaps the cow whales of his school will be a little shyer and never, like the big bull, fool with sharp-bowed Yankee flyer.

KAISER FEARS BATTLE

Wilhelm Dreads War Because of Old Prophecy.

Paris, July 13.—The Echo de Paris quotes an anonymous member of Emperor Francis Joseph's immediate entourage to the effect that it is well known in Austrian court circles that the German Emperor, despite his bellicose talk, has a superstitious dread of war because of two old prophecies, according to which he is destined to be the last Hohenzollern ruler.

The first prophecy is not completely known, but it was made by an old monk of Reims. The other which is well known in several European courts, originated in an ancient monastery in the neighborhood of Mayence. This also foretells the end of the Hohenz

Saved By the Instinct of a Horse

Instinct on the part of a lively horse last night prevented serious injury, or loss of life, to four prominent young London people, who were out driving on the fifth concession line road, and in the darkness almost drove over the embankment which formerly supported the old Guest bridge, which went down with the spring freshets.

The party numbered four, and included two young ladies, whose names could not be learned, and Messrs. R. Whetter and G. B. Snell, of the Bank of British North America. They left London about 9 p.m. to take a drive in the country, and as none of the four had been out as far as the Guest bridge for some time, they were not aware that the structure had not been replaced. The road was almost in pitch darkness, and this made the pitfall the more dangerous.

The young people were enjoying themselves by singing, and all unaware of their approaching danger were driving at a fairly rapid rate of speed. Suddenly the horse shied so as to almost throw the occupants of the wagon.

into the road. The driver attempted to force the animal ahead, but in vain. The young men then got out of the rig and discovered to their horror that the horse's feet were within a yard of the edge of an embankment about 25 feet high, with an almost sheer drop to the Thames River below.

The embankment was unguarded by lights or barriers of any description, and that the party escaped serious injury or death in the darkness can be laid alone to the instinct of the horse.

County Engineer Talbot is ill at his home, but stated over the phone that so far as he knew the embankment at the point mentioned was guarded by a pile of old timbers from the ruins of the old Guest bridge.

It is thought possible that mischievous boys toppled the timbers into the river, and that they drifted away. The contractors for the new structure have been let, but work has not yet begun on the bridge. It is understood that the matter of properly guarding the bridge will be attended to at once.

What Has Become of Money for Moir?

What has become of the money which was being subscribed at Arthur, Ont., for Moir, the accused murderer, now awaiting trial for his life in the Middlesex County jail?

The day that Moir left Arthur over $30 had been subscribed, and plenty more had been promised.

A few days ago Moir wrote the Arthur bank regarding the subscription, and was informed that no money had been placed to his credit at Arthur.

It is supposed that a reaction followed the wave of sympathy which swept Arthur at the time of Moir's capture, and that those who had subscribed later decided that they would not contribute.

Runaway Horse Distributes Lumber

Mr. J. Macurdy, of Westminster Township, has a horse which doesn't like automobiles, and what is more it isn't a bit averse to displaying this aversion to the ill-smelling rubber-tired steel whenever an opportunity presents itself.

This morning Mr. Macurdy had occasion to drop into a store near the corner of Dundas and Ridout streets. When he came out a few minutes later it was to perceive his faithful, but somewhat erratic steed hitting nothing but the high spots down the Dundas street hill, while an automobile leisurely climbed upward to Ridout street.

Having taken in the cause and effect at a glance Mr. Macurdy busied himself with the result, and a second later he was in full pursuit of the runaway, which was looking straight ahead and going along at a rate which suggested at once that all he wanted was the right-of-way. The light wagon behind the frightened horse was loaded down with light lumber, and this was being distributed impartially along the street until the Dundas street bridge was reached, when some of the lumberware fell into the river.

Midway of the bridge the runaway met another horse and wagon, and for a moment it looked as though an exciting smashup were imminent. Fortunately, however, the wheel of the rig drawn by the runaway became tangled up with some rods along the side of the bridge, bringing it almost to a standstill. The man in the other rig at this juncture ran out and after a little difficulty succeeded in stopping the horse.

The rig was slightly damaged, and some lumber is probably on its way by this time to Springbank, but otherwise no damage resulted.

Seventh Manoeuvred on the March

The Seventh Regiment held a route march last night, during which they were put through company movements while on the march. Last night's parade was one of the last before the regiment goes to Quebec, and the names of those present were called by the officers and taken in the regimental books. Nobody absent last night will be allowed to go to Quebec.

The officers who will be in charge of the companies at the celebration are as follows:

A Company—Captain Taylor, Lieut. Westland and Color-Serg. Newton.

B Company—Captain Becher, Lieut. Howard Ingram and Color-Serg. Footitt.

C Company—Captain Bentley, Lieuts. Andrews and Dillon, and Color-Serg. Penwarden.

D Company—Captain Little, Lieut. Brown and Color-Serg. Hayes.

E Company—Capt. Gregory, Lieut. Gordon Hunt, and Color-Serg. Kemp.

F Company—Capt. Spittal, Lieut. Miller, and Color-Serg. Cooper.

G Company—Capt. Murphy, Lieuts. Ware and Tait, and Color-Sergs. Fleming and Galbraith.

H Company—Capt. Ingram, Lieuts. Carling and Mortimer, and Color-Serg. Gardiner.

Bearer Company—Capts. Campbell and Kingsmill, and Hospital-Serg. Adkins.

The regiment is considerably over strength, and some of the later recruits will be unable to go to Quebec. The band will be taken at full strength. Only 20 men are allowed to go with the band at the Government's expense, but it is understood that the full band will be taken, and the extra expense paid for out of the company funds.

Col. Reid and the officers of the Seventh are confident that the regiment will, if anything, surpass itself on this occasion, as the men, one and all, have taken the keenest interest in the drills, and have worked hard and earnestly.

The final parade before the departure will be held on Friday evening.

IN THE COPPER TRADE

Gilbert Pritchard Charged With Making a Crooked Deal.

Gilbert Pritchard, a young London Township man, appears before Judge Elliott this afternoon to answer to a charge of having stolen over a hundred pounds of copper from the Wilcox Manufacturing Company plant, at Chelsea Green, lately.

Pritchard, when arrested by the county constabulary, stated that he had merely sold the copper on behalf of the company, and that he intended to make good the value of the stolen property.

It is possible that a settlement will be reached.

BOATMEN WITH VIGOROUS KICK

Object to the Removal of the Extra Board at the Springbank Dam.

London boatmen are up in arms against the action of the province in taking down the extra board which had been placed on the Springbank dam at the time of the London Rowing Club regatta.

The boatmen lay some of the blame on Contractor Howe, whom they state entered a protest against the maintenance of the board on the grounds that it interfered with his taking gravel from the river bed north of Dundas street.

"I paid $600 for my launch," said one boatman today, "and I think it rank injustice that the only means we had of keeping enough water for navigation in the river should be taken away because one man kicked about it."

There are at least fifteen launches anchored along the river, which cannot at present be used owing to lack of sufficient water, and the owners are not stinting themselves in saying what they think of those responsible for the removing of the board from the dam.

The owners of the boathouses are complaining too, and state that every means, seemingly, has been taken this season to make the river un navigable. A suggestion that people living up the north branch of the river might object to the board on the grounds that it caused the river to back up on their property was laughed at, "the boatmen stating that a tail race of sand near Albert street prevented water from going back further than that."

The board which was removed is a 12-inch one, but allowing for the joint, would not raise the water more than eleven inches.

"There is scarcely enough water in the river now to float a toy sail boat," remarked an irate aquatic expert, when discussing the matter today, "and I think that we should have some rights as well as contractors and others."

The board which was removed is a 12-inch one, but allowing for the joint, would not raise the water more than eleven inches.

NO TROUBLE IN HANDLING CROP

The Canadian Pacific Is Prepared to Supply Sufficient Cars.

Montreal, July 13.—"The Canadian Pacific Railway knows the crop prospects of the west as well and probably better than anybody else, and there is not the slightest doubt that they will be in a position to handle the business as far as their resources go when the time comes." This was the reply of Mr. G. M. Bosworth, fourth vice-president of the C. P. R., this afternoon to the dispatches that have been repeatedly sent out from the west of late accusing the Canadian railroads of supineness in connection with the anticipated big crop of wheat to be hauled out this fall.

Reports have been pouring into Montreal of a probable car shortage this fall when the wheat commences to move, and it is feared in the west that the railroads do not seem to appreciate the imminence of the harvest and are not making proper preparations to handle it. Asked as to this, Mr. Bosworth, who is in charge of the C. P. R. freight department, remarked: "The C. P. R. is always making preparations for the harvest, and is, in addition, taking every precaution to see that it is likely to offer in the future, so as to be able to get ready for anything that may turn up. So far as the western crop is concerned, I think that we understand the crop position in the northwest at least as well as anybody else, since we are constantly securing reports from every section in order that our estimates may be carefully prepared. We know pretty well what is to be expected, and are making every necessary preparation to handle it."

In connection with this, Mr. Bosworth pointed out that the Canadian Pacific had largely increased their rolling stock, both of engines and cars, since last year. In addition to this, the double-tracking operations between Port William and Winnipeg had been greatly advanced, to a point where the double tracks would prove very useful in forwarding traffic over this "spout," where the great congestion of the grain, and in forwarding the grain collected at Winnipeg from all over the west to the lake ports. Under these circumstances,

Sweethearts, Parted By Her Mother, Carry Out a Suicide Pact

New York, July 14.—Sweethearts from childhood, Veronica Meehan, 18 years old, and Wm. Wild, 22, lying today in Bellevue Hospital, as the result of a suicide pact. The girl, a pretty stenographer, was shot twice in the head by Wild, who then turned the revolver on himself. He fell unconscious ten feet from his dying sweetheart. Struggling to her feet the girl reached Wild's side, and with her handkerchief began to wipe the blood from his face, when she, too, fell unconscious.

conscious. A policeman, attracted by the shots, summoned an ambulance, in which the dying lovers were hurried to Bellevue Hospital, where they remained unconscious today. A letter found in Wild's pockets addressed to Mrs. Meehan told how the two had decided to die together. Wild blamed the girl's mother in the letter for trying to part them, and said they had tried to die twice before, and that they had resolved that this, the third attempt, would be successful.

THIS LIVERYMAN DESERVES A MEDAL

Punched the Head of a Fresh Aleck Who Abused a Horse.

The cruelty with which some young men treat horses which they have hired from livery stables is incomprehensible.

A few days ago a horse was hired to a young fellow by an east end liveryman.

When the animal came in it was heated and exhausted. The young fellow did not appear to regret that he had given the horse such bad usage, and when asked why he had done it replied that he had "driven the devil out of it" because that was what he had had to do.

This was too much for the owner, and he landed heavily on the fellow's jaw, knocking him down.

When a safe distance off he called that he would never hire a horse there again.

Any person who sees a horse being ill-used should report the matter to the owner. The person who would commit such an offense is worthy of no consideration.

EAST ENDERS RIDE BICYCLES ON WALKS

P. C. Fowler is busy issuing invitations for a Levee on Carling Street.

P. C. Fowler was kept busy in East London yesterday afternoon serving summonses on persons who had ridden on the sidewalks.

The offenders are chiefly those who wheeled across the footpath on the York street bridge walk a few days ago when the new roadway was being put in.

They are very much disgruntled over the affair, and do not see the seriousness of their offense under the circumstances.

As the fine for riding on walks has been increased to $2 the trip of a few yards will prove costly.

A NEW CITADEL FOR THE EAST END

The Salvation Army of this city is making definite preparations for the erection of a new citadel on the east side of Rectory street, south of Dundas street.

The lot for the purpose was purchased some time ago.

Plans for the new citadel are being prepared by the staff architect, Major Miller, of Toronto, and it is expected that the building will be completed before fall.

It is not known as yet what the building will be constructed of, but it will be a costly one, and a credit to the east end.

There are now many army members residing in that section of the city, and the new citadel will be much more convenient to them.

MCCLEARY EMPLOYEES NOW ON FULL TIME

Men Secure Old Places Again and All Are Happy.

The employees of the McCleary Manufacturing Company have been placed on full time again, and all those who were forced out of their positions during the recent stringency have been given their old places.

Business is picking up very fast, and the company is now being rushed with work. The company has the largest stove plant in the British empire, and employs many hundreds of people.

The order went into effect on the sixth of the month. Previous to that the men had been off a full week, while some improvements were being made.

An up-to-date plant of hot and cold spray baths and dust conveyors has been installed, and the establishment is now the most modern in this part of the province.

WORK WILL BE RUSHED ON CHAPEL

In the Seventh Day Adventists in East London.

The officials of the Seventh Day Adventists Church who are building a new chapel on the corner of York and Rectory streets, announce that work in the building will be rushed through as quickly as possible, and that their aim is to have it ready for occupation within eight weeks.

The edifice will be of brick and will be beautifully decorated. The reasons given for changing the location of the chapel are that the old building was not modern and that the east end is a new field.

The aim of the architect has been to make the chapel as beautiful as any of its size in the city and it will therefore be a handsome addition to the eastern section.

A STUBBORN FIRE RESULTED FROM A SPARK

Canning Company and Roundhouse People Put It Out.

A small fire started by a spark from a locomotive caused some trouble on Sunday afternoon, near Rectory street on the Grand Trunk.

A number of poles are piled along the track between the big roundhouse and the London Canning Company's plant, and when the grass caught fire they were on a fair way to being consumed.

A Sincere street man noticed the blaze, and the fire hose of the canning company and the roundhouse were brought out.

The fire was a stubborn one and was not easily put out.

Had not the fire been discovered the canning plant would have probably gone up in smoke.

HAMILTON ROAD DRAIN WAS BLOCKED

Full of Sand—Fifty Feet of Tile Had To Be Taken Up.

Corporation men today dug out the trench leading from the gully-hole on the Hamilton road and Rectory street and found the tile completely plugged with sand.

For some time past the residents along that block have been complaining that the street was not properly drained, with the result that the men were ordered to remedy conditions.

About 50 feet of tile had to be dug up.

RESIDENTS OBJECT TO A GARBAGE DUMP

People Living on Anderson Avenue Want Nuisance Abated.

The residents of Anderson avenue and that district in the vicinity of the dump on that street are still complaining, but apparently without the desired effect.

A few days ago some person dumped a large quantity of garbage and other refuse on the street, and when the temperature went up the air was anything but healthful.

One gentleman has decided to take the names of all offenders and have them summoned.

PLEASANT GATHERING OF COURT WELCOME

Past Chief Ranger Fessenden a Welcome Guest.

A meeting of the members of Court Welcome, No. 12, of the I. O. F., was held in the lodgerooms at the corner of English and Dundas streets last evening at which Past Chief Ranger Fessenden, of Toronto, was present.

Mr. Fessenden was formerly financial secretary and charter member of Court Dufferin, of this city, and was therefore heartily welcomed by the members.

The meeting was a very enjoyable one, the carball trophy, which was won last winter, having been received.

The Court Welcome team won the highest score in the carball series, and have, therefore, possession of the trophy for the next year.

Addresses on the standing of the order were delivered by Mr. Fessenden and the past chiefs of the city courts.

EAST END GROCER LOSES HIS HARNESS

An East End grocer is reavelling the loss of part of his harness, he having left the door of his barn open last night.

The night being very warm, the merchant left the place unlocked in order to give his horse plenty of fresh air.

The stable is at the rear of the store on Dundas street, and he is at a loss to know how the thief got away unnoticed.

EAST LONDON NOTES.

Mrs. A. J. Denney, of 810 Dundas street, has returned home after spending her vacation in Port Stanley.

One of the cars while being pushed up on the C. P. R. coashouts at English street ran off the track and dropped over the side. It was caught by some timbers and is now hanging in midair.

The street railway company have taken a dip out of the rail at the corner of Hamilton road and Rectory streets. The dip has been causing trouble, several cars having run off there lately.

LAMED THE CORPSE

Cuts Sinews of Foot to Prevent Ghost From Wandering.

London, July 13.—The Pall Mall Gazette's Trieste correspondent sends an account of a strange case illustrative of the superstitions current in Dalmatia. Antonia Iagis, a widow, was accused of mutilating a corpse, and also with disturbing the repose of the dead, by severing the sinews in the foot of Mathe Duda, a deceased land owner, at Sanona, near Spalato.

It seems that in this locality exists a deeply-rooted superstition that any evildoer will after death be compelled to wander about eternally in the shape of a greatly distended spirit, to the terror and discomfort of himself and all beholders. And as Duda's daughter-in-law had reason for fearing that he might become a "Bukodlak," as the Dalmatian vernacular has it, she employed the widow to cut the ligaments in one foot and thus prevent any ghostly ramblings later.

The lower court discharged the prisoner because she was convinced of the truth of the superstitions and had acted from motives of piety, but the court of appeal reversed the decision and sentenced her to three days' imprisonment for mistreatment of a corpse.

RAMPOLLA COLLAPSES

The Celebrated Cardinal Ordered to Switzerland to Recuperate.

Rome, July 13.—Cardinal Rampolla, former secretary of state to Pope Leo XIII, is in a serious condition, owing to overwork. His nervous system has suffered a complete breakdown, and on the orders of his physicians he will go to Switzerland to recuperate.

Cardinal Rampolla was one of the strong candidates for the papacy at the time Pope Pius X. was elected. Only recently have the relations between him and the Pope become really cordial.

Cardinal Rampolla, Marquis del Tiro, is said to have been the dead Pontiff's choice as his successor. He is one of the very few Italian members of the sacred college who are of patriotic birth.

Rampolla has lived in profound retirement since the death of the late Pope. He has a residence in the palace of St. Martha, just behind St. Peter's, a square and unpretentious two-story building, a palace in name only, which for generations has been used as a residence for the Cardinal, holding the office of arch-priest of St. Peter's.

He holds almost absolutely aloof from all discussion and interference with the foreign relations of the holy see, and restricts his actions exclusively to the congregations (as the various departments of the pontifical administration are styled) of which he is either president or vice-president. These departments deal with matters of doctrine, dogma and internal administration of the church.

Though Rampolla holds thus aloof, he has remained a very notable figure. Every evening from sunset to 11 o'clock he receives visitors, and judging from the character of those who seek audience of him night after night, and from their number, it is very evident that they are convinced that he will yet live to play a great role in the history of the church. At Rome, in ecclesiastical and political circles, it is thoroughly believed that the Emperor Francis Joseph, in causing the election of Rampolla to be vetoed at the conclave, acted not on his own initiative, but in compliance with the urgent request of Kaiser William.

LOVE AND ESPIONAGE

Woman Uses Her Beauty To Obtain German Naval Secrets.

London, July 14.—What is believed to have been an attempt to obtain the secret of the composition of the new German smokeless powder for the French Government has been frustrated by the Kiel police, and on Wednesday two suspected persons were brought before a court-martial on a charge of treason.

The prisoners are Fraulein Petersen, of Hamburg, a handsome woman, who gives her age as 44, though she looks no more than 25, and a warrant officer, named Dietrich, connected with the German explosives department.

Petersen, whose parents conduct a humble restaurant in Hamburg, has been living in Kiel for some time as a teacher of languages. She made her home with the widow of a German naval captain, and through her introduction got to know Dietrich.

The young man became infatuated with the handsome teacher, and it is alleged that she deliberately encouraged his advances in order to obtain the secret information she desired. So that she might meet Dietrich untroubled, she left the widow's house, and took apartments on her own account.

Her late landlady, who kept up an acquaintance with Petersen, was struck by the frequent visits of Dietrich, and also by the fact that the woman's dress and mode of living were quite out of proportion to the earnings she was supposed to get as a teacher.

Then the widow, becoming inquisitive, found that Dietrich occasionally brought home a young woman, and papers for his sweetheart: to look over. She therefore conveyed her suspicions to the police.

The latter thereupon watched the

Gets Three Months for Stealing Tools

Edwin St. Onge, for stealing tools from the City Gas Company, was this morning sentenced to three months in the Central Prison by Magistrate Love.

St. Onge said he had stolen the tools while drunk, and begged hard to be given a chance. He says he came here from Montreal and worked for a Mr. Carmichael on the ninth concession of London Township, before coming to this city.

Richard Leslie for acting in a disorderly manner in his father's house was fined $5.

W. C. Leford drove an auto without the necessary lights on it, and was fined $5 and $2 costs.

Abraham Rosenfeld was peddling without a badge on his cap, when an officer saw him. Rosenfeld promised in the future to wear his badge where it could be seen.

A number of men rode bicycles on the sidewalk and contributed $1 each for so doing.

T. Robinson allowed a horse to wander at large and was fined $1.

Sam Levi, for peddling without a license, was given a week in which to take one out.

Two first-time drunks were allowed to go.

A "Peeping Tom" in the South End

The actions of a young man dressed in a grey suit, are arousing the ire of the residents of Grey street, between Colborne and Waterloo streets.

While returning home from Springbank a few nights ago, two young ladies were startled to see the young fellow approach several windows and "peek" in.

They did not scream, but hurried home and told what they saw.

All available firearms and other weapons were gathered together, and the family started out on the hunt.

By the time they arrived he of the grey suit had disappeared and could not be located.

Since then a careful watch is being kept, and if he happens along again he will meet with a warm reception.

It Appears To Be Only Chickenpox

Regarding the alleged outbreak of smallpox in South London, Dr. James D. Wilson, when seen by The Advertiser today, made the following statement:

"I noticed an article in your paper stating that I had said there was smallpox at the Children's Shelter. On the contrary, I stated that more than likely it was chickenpox of a severe type; but I also said this, that no living man can distinguish with any degree of certainty, taking one or two cases, between an aggravated case of chickenpox and some of the discreet cases of smallpox.

"That is the reason mistakes are so often made, and the shelter would be a bad place to make one.

"Much is said about the shabby feel of the skin before the rash makes its appearance, but that is only the contingent form, or nearly so.

"I said that I would isolate the sick children, and vaccinate all. If it is smallpox you will very soon be able to tell. The first patient was taken from a place where most any disease might be contracted."
