“Y” CAMPAIGN TEAMS
IN $25,000 RACE
CONTINUE TODAY

Announce Free Medical Treatment For All Y. M. C. A. Members in Future.

Featuring the meeting of the canvassers taking part in the Y. M. C. A. campaign to secure $25,000, was the announcement made by C. C. Markle that hereafter all “Y” members will be given free medical examinations.

The directors have been working to secure this for some time. Arrangements have been made with Western University to have the faculty of the medical school take charge of the examinations to be made on each Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

The last supper and formal meeting of the campaign was held last night, but the canvassing will continue today and perhaps tomorrow, because the rain interfered with the work yesterday. Many of the canvassers did not send in their reports as they were not expected, when complete returns of the day are in, the amounts will be greatly increased. The collection for Thursday and the total up to last night are as follows:

Grand total to date.....$17,642 Has $3,000 to collect. Rev. F. S. Roy, the new pastor of the Talbot Street Baptist Church, addressing the meeting, said that he thought London beautiful, and that he was interested in the work of the “Y.” In his opinion it is the greatest asset that the business world has.

W. H. Wendall, on behalf of the association, thanked all who helped to make the campaign a success. W. G. Young, in seconding a vote of thanks to the ladies who gave the supper, suggested that something more be done to show their appreciation. “Why not get up a supper and give them a good time?” he suggested. Someone asked if the money were to do the cooking. “I said a good time,” retorted Mr. Young. The matter was left in his hands.

The teams captained by W. G. Young, G. T. Glass, A. A. Langford and T. H. Yull won the kettle prizes for leading their respective divisions in amounts turned in during the campaign. Mrs. C. E. Wheeler, with Mr. Wheeler at the piano, delighted the assembly by her singing. Everyone joined in singing several songs.

HEAR GOOD PROGRAM AT CONVENTION OF MIDDLESEX TEACHERS

Large Audience Entertained at Evening Session in Normal School.

Mrs. J. R. Armstrong of Thorncliffe and Mrs. Harrison Munroe of Lucas gave a most entertaining program in the Normal School, coming for the rural teachers of East Middlesex. Mrs. Armstrong was particularly good as a reader, giving addresses from popular writers of the day. She showed great dramatic ability, and in her comic selections kept the audience in laughter. Mrs. Munroe of Lucas possesses an excellent soprano voice of wide range. Her program included several classical numbers and also some old-time songs. Miss Park and Miss Frost, the president of the Middlesex Teachers’ Institute, assisted on the program.

CAPT. GEORGE A. RAMSAY
HOME FROM OVERSEAS
AFTER LONG SERVICE

Capt. George A. Ramsay, who practiced medicine here prior to going overseas about three and a half years ago, returned to this city on Wednesday, having crossed the Atlantic on the Empress of France, which arrived at Quebec on Sunday.

Dr. Ramsay spent two years in France with the Field Ambulance, Casualty Clearing Station, and Canadian Cavalry Brigade, and British Cavalry. He will resume practice here in the near future.

BROWER ON FIRST APPEARANCE HERE
DELIGHTS AUDIENCE

Excellent Singing Wins Applause at Auditorium.

London may well toss her head with pride that she has permanently within her gates such an artist as Herman Brower, who sang in recital at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium last evening. With a rich baritone voice of unusual range, beauty and power, Brower almost immediately captured the interest of his audience but his heart was not completely in the final number, “When the Boys Come Home,” sung with intense fervor and vigor.

In the matter of clear enunciation, Mr. Brower almost goes to the extreme, but still within the bounds of art. He doesn’t believe in taking the prevailing sloppiness of even the most correct speech into song. When he sings an “I” it is an “I,” and just a sur. His stage presence is all modest and imposing and immediately he makes friends with his audience. Beginning with the prologue from Pagliacci (Leoncavallo), he sang through an intensely interesting program with a group of tragic songs from Schubert, a French group, and finally, perhaps the favorite group of the evening, ending with Oley Speaks “When the Boys Come Home.”

This final group opened with MacFadden’s intensely religious song, “Inter Nos,” sung with almost fanatical abandon, and emphasizing to a remarkable degree the dramatic ability of the artist. This was followed by “The Voice” (Droz), a vigorous and powerful song in which the unquenchable spirit of the Allies against the most terrible odds is the note struck, and again he displayed to advantage his dramatic power. The Schubert numbers were also characterized by dramatic intensity, the “Death of the Maiden,” “My Phantom Double,” and “The Erlking,” keeping the same dominant note of pathos throughout, and in the first and last numbers contrasting the fear of death with the voice of the comforter. Obstinata (Fontaines), the first of the French group, showed the powerful, rich voice of the singer subdued to the softest pianissimo. The Conservatory String Ensemble, making its first appearance this year, was another attractive feature of last night’s program. All instruments responded to the heart, producing harmonies which delighted the hearers. Miss Florence Dwyer, as leader of the first violins, did excellent work supported by Miss Rowena Weld and Master Walter Rennie.

In the “Sous le Balcon” number by Wuerat, the cello speaks some beautiful passages by itself. This part was admirably executed by the Rev. Quintin Warner. Other ensemble numbers were “Bella” and Beethoven’s “Minuet,” which met with such applause that it was repeated.

The personnel of the ensemble was as follows: First violins, Miss Florence Dwyer; second violins, Stanley Byfield, Master Leigh Taylor, Misses Pauline and Mary; third violins, L. Wilkerson, Miss Edith Rosier; cello, Rev. Quintin Warner, Mr. Lewin, and Master Rennie.

Charles Percy made an excellent accompanist. The recital was under the direction of the Rev. Quintin Warner, the managing directorship of which Mr. Brower has undertaken. He is also here in the capacity of a vocal teacher.

Squirrels are to be protected for next three years. No Shooting or Hunting in Middlesex County.

Hunting, shooting, taking or selling black or grey squirrels in the County of Middlesex is forbidden from September 1 this year until September 1, 1922.

This fact will come as a surprise to many sportsmen of London and surrounding country who have read the game laws for the season and have failed to find any such ruling. Nevertheless, the fact is that the order-in-council was not approved in time to be included in the game laws schedule, but, having been approved, it is just as binding as if it had been printed in the little booklet.

The official notification of the order is as follows: The deputy minister of game and fisheries, Toronto, has advised the president of the Middlesex Bird and Game Association that an order-in-council was approved by his honor the lieutenant-governor on the 23rd August, 1919, on the request of the Municipal Council of the County of Middlesex, forbidding the hunting and shooting of birds in the County of Middlesex for a period of three years from the 1st day of September, 1919.

THIN PEOPLE NEED BITRO-
PHOSPHATE

Increases Weight, Strength and Nerve Force in Two Weeks’ Time in Many Instances.

The average person is beginning to realize more and more that the lack of physical strength and nerve exhaustion (frequently evidenced by excessive thinness) are the direct cause not only of the failure to succeed in life’s struggle for the necessities of existence, but also for the handicap in one’s social aspirations. Compare the thin, sickly, angular frame with the well-rounded form which is usually accompanied by the bloom of health and attractiveness. That millions of people are conscious of this handicap is evident from the continued appearance in newspapers and magazines of different suggestions, re-proposed various remedies in food or medicine or exercises, either of which might or might not be appropriate for a given case.

Authorities, however, agree that healthy nerve tissue is absolutely essential to a strong, robust body and mind. Weak nerves, while indicated by a multitude of different symptoms, more immediately and generally result in the lack of energy, sleeplessness, irritability, depression, etc., which conditions gradually consume the healthy flesh, leaving ugly hollows, a flat chest, bony neck and scrawny arms and legs.

Our bodies need more phosphate than most of them are able to extract from the foods we eat nowadays, and many opinions affirm that there is nothing which may be taken into the human system that so effectively supplies this deficiency as the pure organic phosphate known as bitro-phosphate and sold by good druggists everywhere. The essential phosphoric food elements in bitro-phosphate assimilated by the nerve cells should soon produce a pleasing change in nerve energy and health, increased vitality and strength. With the burdens of business, sleeplessness, lack of energy, etc., lifted, normal weight with its attractive fullness and ruddy glow of health replaces the former picture of skin and bones. Miss George, Miss Hamilton, and once thin and frail, reporting her own experience, writes: “Bitro-Phosphate has brought a magic transformation with me. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so well.”

New Hats for the Holiday

Interesting new millinery will be seen in this shop tomorrow—and many will be on parade in the autumn fashion show on Thanksgiving Day. The history of our hats, though short, is full of incident. The upward tilt of a brim may be the clever work of a New York designer. The deft curl of an ostrich plume may be the idea of a Parisian milliner. The ensemble is beautiful. Every hat has been carefully selected by our buyers, who were quick to recognize their charms.

The new Velvet Shapes are rather large, with a clever turn of brim that adds dash. Trimmings are mainly of feather variety—usually glycerine ostrich with flowers and ribbons equally effective. This is truly a season when all may be becomingly hatted, so great is the variety of new millinery modes, and we are particularly proud of the collection assembled for the Thanksgiving holiday—a special grouping at $5.00 to $12.50

ELLIOTT DROPS OUT OF RACE IN W. MIDDLESEX

Liberal Member For Eleven Years Will Not Be Candidate.

LEAVES TWO IN RACE

Farmers' Champion Believes It Unwise To Run Against Many Friends Supporting U. F. O. Move't.

J. C. Elliott, M. P. P. for West Middlesex for the last eleven years, and recognized as one of the ablest men in Ontario politics, yesterday tendered his resignation to the Liberal Association of that constituency and will not be a candidate in the provincial election, Oct. 20.

This leaves a U. F. O. candidate of Liberal leaning, J. G. Lettbridge, and a straight Tory, D. C. McKenzie, in the field.

Speaking to the meeting yesterday Mr. Elliott referred to the fact that since accepting the nomination of the Liberal Association he has been in the midst of a campaign for the Liberal executive of the riding in that it would be unwise to proceed further and therefore tendered his resignation as his candidate.

Mr. Elliott, who has stood alone time and again in his fight for the rights of the farmer in the Provincial Legislature, referred with feeling to the friendship he had made in his political career and expressed his appreciation and thanks to the Liberals who had stood by him so staunchly in past campaigns, and declared that there was not one word of truth in the statements published recently in the Toronto Globe that he would probably identify himself with politics in Western Canada.

FLAVELLE REPLIES TO CHARGES MADE BY LIBERAL LEADER

Chairman of License Board Asks Publication of His Statement.

J. D. Flavelle, chairman of the Ontario Board of License Commissioners, has requested publication of the following statement in reply to the charges made by H. H. Dewar, K.C., M.P.P., at Toronto on Wednesday.

In view of the allegations and charges made by Mr. Hartley Dewar at a meeting at Toronto last evening regarding the sale of wine to members of the Jewish community for communion purposes, I have to say that by the provisions of the Ontario Temperance Act the board of license commissioners, of which I am chairman, are authorized to appoint such persons as may appear desirable for the purpose of importing into this province under the provisions of any statute of Canada, or any order-in-council passed thereunder, wine for use in divine service.

On the 30th of September, at a regular meeting of the board, the chief rabbi of the Jewish community of Toronto waited upon the board and after hearing his application the following resolution was passed:

"Whereas representatives have been made to the board of license com-

DON'T SPOIL A GOOD MEAL WITH A BAD STOMACH

If a physician, a specialist in stomach diseases, came to you and said: "I will fix up that miserable, worn out stomach for you or money back."

"I will make it as good as new so you will not suffer from any distress and can eat what you want without fear of suffering or money back."

Would you turn down his offer? And when you are offered Mi-o-na stomach tablets, made from a prescription better than many of the stomach specialists know how to write, are you going to be narrow minded and continue to suffer from indigestion, or are you going to be fair to yourself and try Mi-o-na on the money back agreement?

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are offered to you on this basis, that if they do not put your stomach into such good shape that there is no dizziness, sour stomach, biliousness, sick headache, and stomach distress, your money will be returned. For sale by all leading druggists.

If your druggist cannot supply you, write, inclosing 50 cents, to Booth's Hygienic Company, London, Ont.

MRS. MAY COULD NOT WORK

Made Well and Strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbia, Pa.—"I was very weak and run down and had dragging-down pains and pains in my back. I could not get around to do my work and had to sit down and rest often during the day. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the papers and read the testimonials, so I thought I would try it. Now I am healthier than I ever was in my life, and can recommend it to any woman who suffers as I did."

—Mrs. ELIZABETH MAY, R.F.D. No. 1, Columbia, Pa.

The reason Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and the letters which we are constantly publishing from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of this famous root and herb medicine.

missioners by the chief rabbi of the Jewish religion in Toronto, that it is necessary that suitable wine should be provided for the use of members of the Jewish community in Toronto, during the feast of the tabernacles for the year 1919, under the direction of the rabbi of each congregation, and an application has been made to the board of license commissioners for the purpose of obtaining such wine as may be necessary for that purpose during the said feast, being a religious observance extending from Tuesday, the 7th day of October, until noon of Thursday, the 10th day of October, 1919, and it appearing desirable that such application be granted, therefore, resolved that Gar-Net Stone, residing at 423 Euclid Avenue, in the city of Toronto, be appointed a special vendor under the provisions of section 6A of the Ontario Temperance Act, for the period aforesaid, it being understood that the said wine shall be obtained through the Government dispensary at Toronto, by the said vendor, who shall distribute the same under the directions of the rabbi of each such congregation as aforesaid. (Signed), J. D. Flavelle, chairman.

It was reported to the board by the rabbi that the wine referred to was for use by the Jewish community in religious observances for the purpose of celebrating the feast of the tabernacles, as required by the Hebrew ritual, and that the festival would last for eight days, commencing on Tuesday, October 7th, and ending on Thursday, October 10th.

The rabbi recommended Mr. Stone, who is a member of the Jewish community, for the appointment in question, and vouched for his reliability, and thereupon the appointment was made.

If any irregularity such as charged by Mr. Dewar has taken place, there is nothing to stop whoever is guilty thereof from being dealt with pursuant to the act, and until some evidence is forthcoming, proving that the act has been contravened, the board feels justified in assuming that the authorities of the Jewish Church have acted in perfect good faith.

Whatever responsibility attaches to the action of the board is assumed in full by the board. Neither the prime minister nor any member of the Government or the Legislature have been consulted, or so far as the board is aware, had the slightest knowledge of the rabbi's application, which was dealt with the same as all other matters of business coming before the board. It will be noticed that the law is applicable to the churches of the Christian community as well as the Jews, and I presume that not even Mr. Dewar would contend that wine for communion purposes should not be available. All proper precautions have been taken by the board in connection with this application, and if there has been any impropriety or irregularity it will be dealt with according to law, irrespective of who the guilty parties may be.

HOUSING COMMISSION HAS 7 HOUSES BUILDING, AND 4 MORE ARE READY

R. D. McDonald, newly appointed a member of the housing commission, attended for the first time a meeting of that body last night. This brings the commission up to its full strength of four members. A vacancy was caused by the resignation of J. G. Richter. The chairmanship of the commission is yet to be decided. J. W. Cunliffe has been acting in that position since Mr. Richter's resignation. On the motion of the new member, the matter was laid over until the next meeting.

Building Inspector A. M. Piper reported that sixteen applicants were ready to sign contracts, that seven houses were in course of construction, and four ready to erect.

Dymont-Baker's tender for lumber, including sashes, doors, sheeting and joists, for two frame houses, two brick veneer and one plaster stucco house at $3,950, was accepted.

PURITY - QUALITY - ECONOMY

With the increased cost of labor and materials due to war conditions, it is not reasonable to suppose that a really first class baking powder can be made and sold at the old prices. Rather than sacrifice the quality of

we found it necessary to make slight increases in price during the war period. Even though Magic Baking Powder may cost a few cents more than the ordinary kinds it is still by far the most economical baking powder on the market to-day when purity, strength and leavening qualities are taken into consideration.

CANADA'S PROSPERITY RESTS WITH YOU

Depend on Canada's New Victory Loan

DURING the past four years Canada's prosperity has been due largely to orders from Great Britain and our Allies.

Canada was able to obtain these orders because she advanced credit to these countries.

Canada was able to give this credit only because you bought Victory Bonds.

Great Britain, with France, Belgium, and other Allies, are now prepared to place large orders with us for the products of our factories, farms, forests and fisheries—provided Canada again gives them credit.

Credit must be given if we are to have any guarantee of good times and good wages. But our workers on these orders must be paid their wages in cash; so, much of the money that you invest in Victory Bonds will go out in wages to Canadians.

You will be absolutely protected—you will get a good rate of interest and all of your money will be paid back at the time stated in the Bond.

Every cent will be spent in Canada, and ultimately circulate to the benefit of all.

Canada can give this credit only if you again buy Victory Bonds.

If Canada is not able to give this credit, other countries will.

Therefore Canada's continued prosperity rests with you.

MR. KING'S WAR RECORD.

A section of the Unionist press, apparently unable to attack the Liberal leader at any vital point, is attempting to belittle him with sneers at his war record. In his campaign Mr. King, however, is vigorously hitting back at this mean business, and proving to the satisfaction of the fair-minded and unbiased that he has contributed in a very real manner towards the Allied triumph. At the opening of the war many of the great American industries, essential to the Allies' successful conduct of the struggle, had become badly demoralized through strikes and lockouts. Those directly interested in these concerns convinced Mr. King that as he was past the military age he could do much greater service in the cause of the Allies by securing and maintaining peace in these industries, the efficient operation of which meant so much to the Entente armies. He accepted the commission, which, if not as spectacular as a military one, was quite as necessary, and without fuss or publicity brought out of a chaotic industrial condition peace and a steady and stupendous production of war munitions that poured into the Allied camps in vast quantities. It was this as much as anything else that enabled Great Britain to stand off the Hun until her own munitions plants were organized on an adequate scale. Than this service was there any "bit" more essential to success?

THE UNITED FARMERS.

As the United Farmers of Ontario have already nominated sixty-eight candidates for the Legislature, it would be unwise not to face the fact that this new political movement is one of great strength and possibilities. The public, rural and urban, should know just what this organization, which has so disrupted the two older parties, stands for. Here is the platform adopted last summer:

1. The limitation of expenditures to those absolutely essential.
2. The abolition of the system of party patronage.
3. Legislation promoting and facilitating the co-operative effort, insuring the accuracy of records, and general education along co-operative lines.
4. Equal educational opportunities for all children, not neglecting the rural districts.
5. Good roads for all, rather than high grade roads for a few, the cost being equitably distributed between city and county.
6. An adequate system of reforestation throughout the whole province.
7. The development of the hydro-electric system.
8. The enforcement of such prohibitory legislation against the liquor traffic as is demanded by the people in the referendum, and as is within the jurisdiction of the province.
9. Direct legislation through the initiative and referendum.
10. The application of the system of proportional representation to our electoral methods.

This is a good broad platform that would appeal to Liberals, but a resolution passed at the convention does not show the United Farmers in quite as favorable a light. It says:

Whereas the rural population of Ontario has been declining for many years, being now 130,000 less than it was in 1881, and this in spite of natural increase in population, immigration, and the extension of settlement; and whereas rural life has been rendered difficult and trying, and farm production has been checked; and whereas the present condition in the rural districts is justly attributable to the unequal rewards of farm and town industry, owing to the dominance in Parliament and Legislature of privileged urban interests; and whereas the provincial public debt has increased at an alarming rate, now exceeding $100,000,000, and the annual expenditure of the province has increased almost five fold in the last fifteen years; and whereas both of the old parties are responsible for this state of affairs; we, therefore, the United Farmers of Ontario, deem it our duty, to ourselves and the province, to seek independent representation in the Legislature.

No other meaning can be taken from this declaration of policy than that the United Farmers propose, if they secure the dominance of the Legislature, to consider first of all the rural interests, all others being secondary. But how is the province to advance if the dominating party does not recognize that the welfare of the public as a whole is the first consideration? If we are to have the happiest and healthiest social and industrial life in Ontario it can only be secured and maintained by heartiest co-operation between the agricultural and urban populations. Each is too dependent upon the other to permit of one section being ignored at the expense of the other. The electors desire that the farmers shall have a representation in the Legislature that is equal to that of any other class of the community. That is right and fair, as agriculture is the basic industry of the province, but the rural voter who carefully considers the question must be convinced that any one party which puts the interests and affairs of one class above others must bring suffering to the favored class in the long run.

TO BOARDS OF TRADE.

Nearly every small city and town in Western Ontario has a body equivalent to the boards of trade or chambers of commerce of large cities, designed to serve as a clearing-house of community opinion. The efforts of the municipal council to improve living conditions in the place usually have the support of this unofficial official body, and the decisions of the executive generally appeal to the judgment of the businessmen.

For that reason these organizations hold a position of leadership which could be used to advantage in promoting the success of the Victory Loan. All intelligent businessmen know full well that the prosperity of Canada in the coming year will depend in large measure on the ability of the country to fund its military outlays, and finance Great Britain's purchases of Canadian surplus products.

Every financier and trader should have a complete understanding of the obligations which must be met by the people of the Dominion, and should be ready to support the national prosperity by buying bonds to the very edge of his resources. During the period of the war the executive of the trade board or its equivalent in every community was alive to the pressing needs of the day. Valuable support was given by these bodies to the work of recruiting, and to the mobilization of money for patriotic services.

One more call has come. A financial obligation faces every citizen. The country has a right to look to all organized bodies of citizens for support of the national effort, which, if successful, will avert once more the menace of hard times.

HONOR, DUTY, PATRIOTISM.

The peroration of a great speech delivered by Lloyd George, then chancellor of the exchequer, at the Queen's Hall, London, on September 19, 1914, is well worth reproducing during our Provincial campaign. It points the way this province should go, the principles that should guide it:

"The people will gain more by this struggle in all hands than they could at the present moment. It is true they will be free of the greatest menace to their freedom. That is not all. There is something infinitely greater and more enduring which is emerging already out of this great conflict—a new patriotism richer, nobler and more exalted than the old. I see amongst all classes, high and low, shedding themselves of selfishness, a new recognition that the honor of the country does not depend merely on the maintenance of its glory in the stricken field, but also in protecting its homes from distress. It is bringing a new outlook for all classes. The great flood of luxury and sloth, which has submerged the land is receding, and a new Britain is appearing. We can see for the first time the fundamental things that matter in life, and that have been obscured from our vision by the tropical growth of prosperity."

"May I tell you in a simple parable what I think this war is doing for us? I know a valley in North Wales, between the mountains and the sea. It is a beautiful valley, snug, comfortable, sheltered by the mountains from the bitter blasts. But it is very enervating, and I remember how the boys were in the habit of climbing the hill above the village to have a glimpse of the great mountains in the distance, and to be stimulated and freshened by the breezes which came from the hills, and by the great spectacle of their grandeur. We have been living in a sheltered valley for generations. We have been too comfortable and too indulgent. Many, perhaps, too selfish, and the stern hand of fate has scourged us to an elevation where we see the great everlasting things that matter for a nation—the great peaks we had forgotten, of honor, duty, patriotism, and clad in glittering white, the great pinnacle of sacrifice, pointing like a rugged finger to heaven. We shall descend into the valleys again; but as long as the men and women of this generation last, they will carry in their hearts the image of those great mountain peaks, whose foundations are not shaken, though Europe rock and away in the convulsions of a great war."

Honor, duty and patriotism should guide the voters, and with them is the opportunity to see that honor, duty and patriotism will guide the next Legislature of the province. Delivered in the early part of the war, Lloyd George's appeal has even more meaning now.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The war appears to be over, over there.

Clean up, or the fire chief will get you.

Those Reds have turned the White Sox very blue.

An American newspaper notes that the Prince of Wales has not yet selected a Canadian girl as a wife. But then he has yet to visit this city.

Now that three of the Allied nations have ratified the peace treaty, the war is officially over, but it is still raging officiously in the United States Senate.

The official records of the Ontario Legislature show that on the question of votes for women the Conservatives voted practically unanimously in opposition to the bill when it was presented by the Liberals. Premier Whitney and sixty-eight of his followers turned down the just demand of the women of this province. Premier Hearst was one of the heartiest supporters of this piece of injustice.

OUR INFLEXIBLE BRAINS.

The size of a muscle may be increased by exercise, or even by temporary use. The bony structure of our limbs is inside of and controls their size only to a certain extent. But in the case of the head, the bony structure is outside, and incloses the soft tissues like a box. There is absolutely no opportunity for increase of size, permanent or temporary, after the growth of the skull ceases with the natural growth of the body. Recent studies of the brain, we are told by an editorial writer in the Journal of the American Medical Association (Chicago), have, indeed, shown that slight changes in its bulk may be brought about, but only by altering the volume and pressure of the other occupants of the skull—the blood and the cerebrospinal fluid. We read:

"The physical conditions that determine the character of the circulation in the brain have long been regarded to be considerably different from those that obtain in other parts of the body. In most vascular areas . . . changes in the blood vessels are followed by corresponding alterations in the volume of the parts affected. A limb swells or shrinks as its blood vessels become dilated or constricted. The brain is inclosed in a rigid cranium, which cannot alter its size in such elastic fashion. Consequently, the trend of present-day opinion is that the total volume of blood in the brain must be constant at all times."

"As a logical consequence, alteration of blood supply to the brain must depend on the change in volume with which the cerebrospinal fluid traverses that organ. . . . When more blood is required in the brain for . . . heightened mental activity, it is not supplied as in other parts of the body, by an increase in the capacity of the vessels, . . . but by an acceleration of the circulation through vessels whose calibre remains unaltered."

"Quite recently other possibilities have been indicated through the researches of Weed and McKibben of the army neuro-surgical laboratory at the Johns Hopkins Medical School. Their researches suggest that the brain should no longer be regarded as incompressible and of fixed volume in accord with the earlier doctrine, but rather as capable of some variation in size. . . . These experimental variations are dependent essentially on the factor of osmotic pressure essentially on the factor of how the change . . . affects the brain tissue and alters its volume. The discoverers add, can only be speculated on at the present time. For the purpose of future consideration, we must, therefore, now assume that the cranial cavity is relatively fixed in volume, and is completely filled by brain, cerebrospinal fluid and blood; variations in any one of the three elements may occur, compensation being afforded by alteration in the volume of one or both of the remaining elements."

From Here and There

ON GROWING OLD.

[John Masfield.]

(Pathos marks John Masfield's latest contribution to the Atlantic Monthly. Withal there is a fine note of resolution sounded in the full and sonorous close of the poem. The advance of age has always been a subject fertile in melancholy reflections, though also possessed of points of compensation, as we know from Browning's "Rabbi Ben Ezra." But many men and women, who, with the lapse of five years of peace, might still be considered young, became prematurely old in the long stress of war days. This thought occurs to one in reading Mr. Masfield's lines.)

Be with me, Beauty, for the fire is dying.
 My dog and I are old, too old for roving;
 Man, whose young passion sets the spirit flitting,
 Is soon too lame to march, too cold for loving.
 I take the book and gather to the fire.
 Turning old yellow leaves, minute by minute
 The clock ticks to my heart; a withered wire
 Moves a thin ghost of music in the spinet.
 I cannot sail your seas, I cannot wander
 Your mountains, nor your downlands, nor your valleys.
 Ever again, nor share the battle yonder
 Where your young knight the broken squadron rallies;
 Only stay quiet while my mind remembers
 The beauty of fire from the beauty of embers.

Beauty, have pity; for the young have power.
 The rich their wealth, the beautiful their grace,
 Summer of man its fruit and its flower,
 Spring-time of man all April in a face.
 Only, as in the jostling in the Strand,
 Where the mob thrusts, or loiters, or is loud,
 The beggar with the saucer in his hand,
 Asks only a penny from the passing crowd.
 So, from this glittering world with all its fashion,
 Its fire and play of men, its stir, its march,
 Let me have wisdom, Beauty, wisdom and passion,
 Bread to the soul, rain where the summers parch.
 Give me but these, and though the darkness close,
 Even the night will blossom as the rose.

WHY CHICKENS GO WRONG.

[Detroit News.]

Our personal poultry dealer said it was a good chicken, but it seems nobody has ever told our personal poultry dealer that the good die young.

TIT FOR TAT.

The Maid—Truly, am I the first girl you ever kissed?
 The Man—You are, my darling, and it makes me happy to hear you say that I am the first man who ever kissed you.
 The Maid—If I am the first, how does it happen you do it so expertly?
 The Man—And if I am the first, how do you know whether I do it expertly or not?

A SHEEPLIKE VEGETABLE.

A curious plant growing in Peru is known to the natives as "yareta" or "vegetable sheep." It grows abundantly among rocks at high altitudes along the Andes of Bolivia and Peru, where it is so common a conspicuous feature in the landscape because of its peculiar manner of developing the so-called "bolster" or cushion formation.

The yareta forms hillocks or small mounds often three feet high and sometimes several feet in diameter. Moreover, the entire mound is made up of a single plant, not of a colony of individuals and it attains this enormous size and extreme compactness by a process of incessant growth so that the ultimate branches are closely crowded and the outer surface is continuous.

The flowers of the yareta are very thin, only about one-eighth of an inch long, and are like small clusters near the tips of the branches. The fruit resembles a miniature caraway seed. The natives use the plant as fuel.

SON'S LOOKS.

[Blighty, London.]

Father—Well, now that you've seen my son, which side of the house do you think he more closely resembles?
 Genial Friend—It—of course his full beauty is not yet developed, but surely you should not suggest that he looks like the side of a house!

WHERE THE WORLD HAS ALWAYS BEEN "BONE DRY."

The nation-wide "dryness" brings to mind localities where almost perpetual drought is the rule. Among these is included a part of the United States, which has been "bone dry" since time immemorial, and where depression is at its lowest.

Death Valley, 276 feet below sea level, is an alkaline desert region in California, on the Arizona border. It is 70 miles long, 10 to 20 miles wide, and is situated between high foothills. Only 75 miles away Mount Whitney rises at 14,500 feet into the air, and with other nearby elevations is a barrier to any moisture reaching this parched region.

In summer the temperature reaches 130 degrees in the shade, where there is shade enough to cover the thermometer, and even the nights are too hot to sleep. Terrible whirlwinds of heated sand sweep up and down the valley and render it a barren waste, except a few stunted cacti and greasewood. In the autumn tourists may venture into its confines, but they must carry drink for both man and beast, as the lone streams that enter this dreary region are bitter alkaline and soon disappears in the sand while springs are miles and miles apart. Looking for a drink here would stand about as much chance of fulfillment as ordering a Martini at a W. C. T. U. meeting. However, a few slinking coyotes, rattlesnakes, horned toads, buzzards and half-starved jack-rabbits manage to exist in some mysterious manner.

An almost bottomless salt marsh occupies the centre of the valley practically from end to end. About midway it gets very shallow and narrows down to about two miles in width. At this point a road crossing has been constructed. Many are the men and beasts that have lost their lives endeavoring to cross this barren, bone-dry waste, which gets its name from the fact that in the California gold rush of 1849 so many prospectors were lost in its sandy maw.

The great Sahara Desert covers the major part of Northern Africa, consisting of 3,500,000 square miles—an arid region as large as the whole of Europe. From 500 feet below sea level it rises in one instance to 8,000 feet above, and some of its elevations are covered with snow for three months of the year. Most of it, however, is a dry, sandy waste, dotted here and there with an oasis where drink may be secured. The winds are all very hot and dry, while rain is almost unknown.

The ostrich, camel, jackal, horned viper and numerous lizards are the principal animals of the region. Several varieties of hardy birds are also found, while in such a bone-dry territory it may be expected that the human population is at a low ebb. Arabs, Moors, Jews and negroes jostle each other on the caravan routes, and the fierce-looking Arabs who bring their produce to the Egyptian markets are probably the robbers and cut-throats in their desert home.

It is impossible for travelers to get off the road, as the caravan routes are bordered with the bones of countless camels which have fallen by the wayside during the thousands of years these trails have been traveled. However, it is possible that the clamor of these dry people will some day cause the introduction of irrigation systems to make "wet" territory of this vast scene of desolation, as it is very productive where moisture is obtainable.

The Desert of Gobi, Central Asia, where bone-dryness has been the fashion for thousands of years, is also a difficult place to obtain a drink. Its longest streams either vanish in the sand or empty into salty lakes. Caravan routes from China to Russia are still important trade channels, for the Russians insist that a sea voyage destroys the flavor of tea. This great arid waste is 1,800 miles wide and 400 miles deep, and the almost rainless years since antiquity have parched its sands to its core, so that drifts in gyrating sand waves and snuffs out vegetation with its hot breath.

You will know Arabia is a dry country upon looking at the map and reading the almost all the interior is labeled "Arabian Desert." Here the temperature goes up to 135, and most of the people wear scarf-like draperies on their heads as advanced protection from the broiling hot sun. Many of the rivers never reach an ocean outlet, but lose their moisture in the burning sand and dwindle down to nothingness.

The desolate dry regions of Central Australia are bone dry to the limit. One section of the coast does not boast of even a rivulet to empty into the ocean. The lowest parts are occupied by saline mud lakes, baked and cracked with excessive sun heat. Rainfall is practically nil, and scrubby bushes are about all the plant life seen in these regions. Though not a native of Australia, the camel has been introduced as a pack animal in these stretches of waste, for he can go without a drink for a week.

THE REDS ARE NEW WORLD'S CHAMPIONS

MUTT AND JEFF—Mutt's Superstitious Hunch Wasn't a Fizzle by Any Means

WORLD'S BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP GOES TO CINCINNATI REDS IN WEIRD AND FINAL CLASH OF THE BIG SERIES

Invading National Leaguers Pounce On Williams and James at Onset and Wilkinson, Last Sox Hope, Hangs On While Reds Bring Total Hits To 16—Sox Gather Ten Hits, But Were Not So Abandoned On the Bases.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The world's series baseball championship pennant for 1919 will fly from Redland Field, Cincinnati, next season. The Sox's athletes invaded hostile territory today and annexed the eighth and deciding game against the Chicago White Sox by a score of 10 to 5.

As expert baseball it was as funny as a sack race. Nearly everything possible happened, including a comic four-run rally by the athletes in the pale hosiery. It never would have happened just as it did if the sun had not entered the hits and blinded the visiting fielders. It was all the funnier for the reason that the Sox were nine runs behind at the time.

The Reds, after dropping two games on their own grounds, on the banks of the Ohio, permitting the Sox to get back in the running for the big emblem, started after the deciding game at the onset. They descended on Claude Williams' left-handed offerings with a determination which sent him into seclusion before the third man was out, and Bill James, who hurls from the other side, was trotted out. Three runs were scored off Williams, and one of them was a somewhat wild and walked two men, but no runs were scored by the leg-weary champions-to-be. In the eighth they annexed another and let it go at that. Their position was so secure that they appeared stretching the contest out into the longest of the series, namely two hours and twenty-seven minutes.

The remarkably good weather of the series was again in evidence, and 32,930 persons paid to see the inauspicious of the local idols. The attendance for the series was 226,928, and the receipts, exclusive of war tax, $722,414. Of this, the players receive $260,349.70 of the amount taken in during the first five games. The winners' share is $117,157.68, which will give $5,207.01 to the participating athletes. This is more than the salaries of most of the men it is said. The Sox players will distribute 24 shares of $3,254.36 each.

The Slaughter Starts. Rath started the first inning for the Reds by popping to Rieberg, Daubert took a trip swing at the spheroid and singled to centre. It was the beginning of the end. Groh picked out another stable offering and sent it also into the right garden, Daubert swinging to third. The mighty Rousch declared himself in on the onslaught with a double to right, scoring Daubert with the first run of the game. Groh on the next play went to third. Duncan, observing that left field had been discriminated against in the matter of drives, singled against in that direction, scoring Groh and Rousch. This series of wallpops ended Williams' career as a major league pitcher for this season. He retired to the bench, and the towering James strode into the fray. He was well steadied when he faced Neale, and the Red right-fielder struck out. Hardened sent a single to centre, sending Duncan home. Eller was the final out on a fly to Felsch in right.

The Sox started out as if they had solved Eller's delivery and intended to do what they did in Cincinnati the other day, overcome a four-run lead for a victory. The hope was short-lived, however. Liebold singled to left and went to third on Eddie Collins' double to left centre. Weaver struck at two and missed, and was informed by the umpire that he also should have struck at the third one. The runners in second and third looked weary when Weaver was called out, but perked up when Jackson grasped his trusty bat and faced Eller. The best the slugger could do on this occasion was to pop up to short. Felsch was even less able, for he struck out and those who had so often in this series seen the Sox die on bases for lack of hits at the right time lost hope right there. The Reds started the second inning with a whiff by Rath. Daubert sent a fly to Jackson. Groh started trouble by heading out a grounder to centre and scored on Rousch's double to centre field. Rousch overran second and was run down between bases.

In their half Gandil lined to Daubert and Rieberg stroked. Hardened dropped Schulz's foul, and for a moment it looked as if that might mark a change in the game, for on his next at-bat, Schulz singled to left. Rieberg going to second. James, however, fouled to Groh and Liebold, fanned and again there were no runs for the locals.

Reds in Rotation. In the next inning the Reds were retired in rotation, but in their half the Sox produced the first and only home run of the series. Jackson was the hero. He caught a breast-high fast one and dropped it cleanly into the distant right field bleachers. It counted for one run, for there were none on bases ahead of him. Felsch was retired, short to first, and for four more innings Jackson's tally alone remained in picture the fact that the Sox were contending. Neither side scored in the fourth, but the inning was signalled by a wonderful fly throw by Liebold from centre which nailed Eller. The inning started by Rath hitting to Gandil, and Eller got on by taking one of James' wild ones in his anatomy. Rath beat out a hit toward Collins. Eller reaching second. Daubert singled to left centre, and Liebold singled to left centre. Collins played that Liebold had his accurate return to the plate. Groh popped to Collins. In the fifth inning the Reds added another tally to their string and did it after two had retired harmless to the coop. Kopf bounced one past Gandil and way down on the safe side of the foul line for a triple. Neale came to the emergency with a single to left, Kopf scoring. Neale stole second and Rieberg threw Hardened out at first.

Eller Gets Single. The Reds started the sixth with Eller up, and he singled through the pitcher's box. Rath walked, and as James seemed to be weakening fast he was sent to the clubhouse. Daubert greeted Wilkinson, the new hurler, with a punt in front of the plate. Schulz had plenty of time to force Eller at third, but threw wide and the bases were filled.

Groh in the pinch struck out. Rousch singled to centre, scoring Eller and Rath. Duncan joined in the melee by singling. Daubert, who had been walking and Neale hit to Weaver, who threw Rousch out at the plate. The Sox had plenty of time to force Eller at third, but threw wide and the bases were filled.

Rathen at bat, Kopf took too long a lead off second and was caught by Schulz's throw.

In the eighth Rousch got a life when hit by a pitched ball and it eventuated into a tally. He was advanced to second.

THEY COULDN'T STOP 'EM

Sox boasted inner defence did not fall down, but looked bad at times. Eddie Collins, keystone of this crew, veteran of five world's series, came through this one with great credit.

Daubert singled to left centre, and Liebold singled to left centre. Collins played that Liebold had his accurate return to the plate. Groh popped to Collins. Jackson, but he went out easily, Rath to Daubert.

All told, the Reds accumulated six hits, every player getting his one or more. The Sox made ten.

Kopf made a great stop of Leibold's grass cutter and got the ball over to first ahead of the runner. E. Collins up. Kopf also took E. Collins' grounder and threw to first for the putout. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning. First Half—Ellier singled through the box. Rath up. Every Cincinnati fan now made at least one hit. James got Rath in the three and two hole and then walked him by pitching one wide. This finished James, and he was ordered from the box by Manager Gleason. Wilkinson relieved Rath. Wilkinson's first offering to Daubert was extremely high, but Schalk held on to it. Daubert attempted to sacrifice but fouled it. Daubert bunted in front of the plate and Schalk threw wild to catch Ellier at third. Ellier reaching third safely. Rath taking second and Daubert first. Groh fanned, striking at the final one. Rousch struck so hard that the bat flew out of his hands and went almost to first base. Rousch singled over E. Collins' head, bringing home Ellier and Rath, and putting Daubert and putting Rousch at third. Duncan took second on the throw in. Kopf walked, filling the bases again. Neale fouled off the first one into the grandstand. Neale forced Rousch at the plate when Weaver grabbed his drive and threw to Schalk. Rariden up. Kopf was caught off second by a snap throw from Schalk to Risberg. Three runs, three hits, one error.

Seventh Inning. First Half—Weaver singled over first, the ball taking a nasty bound and hitting Daubert on the shins. Jackson hoisted a long fly that Rath got. Rousch was playing extremely deep. Rousch also took care of Felch's high fly. Gandil up. Neale camped under Gandil's fly and captured it. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Half—Rariden up. Felch took Rariden's fly, the latter hitting at the first ball struck out. Rath struck out striking at the third one. Rath walked. Rath stole second, getting off to a good lead and beating the throw. Daubert also walked. Wilkinson was wild at this juncture. Groh hoisted a long fly that Rath got. Rousch was playing extremely deep. Rousch also took care of Felch's high fly. Gandil up. Neale camped under Gandil's fly and captured it. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Half—Risberg hoisted one to Rath in short right center. Schalk hit a high foul that Rath got under and captured. Wilkinson struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning. First Half—Rousch was hit by the second ball pitched, and walked to first. Wilkinson claimed he was not hit, but the claim was disallowed. Duncan sacrificed. Wilkinson to Gandil. Kopf hoisted a foul to Weaver. Neale walked, after getting Wilkinson in the three and two hole. Head on another had on the walk. Rariden singled to left, and Rousch scored. Neale reaching third and Rariden second. Jackson's throw to the plate. Ellier up. Risberg threw out Ellier at first, making a pretty throw from deep short. One run, one hit, no errors.

Second Half—Leibold up. Strike one, two ball, one foul; ball two, foul; ball three, foul. Neale flied in deep right. E. Collins singled through the pitcher's box. Rousch retrieved the ball. Weaver up. Strike one. Weaver doubled to the right field box seats, putting Collins on third. Jackson fouled out. Right, scoring E. Collins and Weaver. It was a hard line drive. Felch popped an easy one to Daubert, and Jackson held second. Gandil tripled to right field, Jackson scoring. Neale lost the ball in the sun, and it landed fully 30 feet away from him. He did not locate it until it hit the ground. Risberg up. Gandil scored. Rousch tumbled. Risberg's fly, Gandil trotting across the plate. Rousch wavered when the ball got into the sun, but finally got to it, and then made a fumble. Schalk up. Rath tossed out Schalk at first. Four runs, one hit, one error.

Ninth Inning. First Half—Rath singled over second, Risberg managing to knock down the grounder, but could not get it to first in time. Daubert sacrificed. Wilkinson to Gandil. Rath took second. Groh popped to Leibold. Rath holding second. Rousch up. Weaver threw out Rousch, Gandil taking the throw. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Half—Murphy batted for Wilkinson. Ball one, two, Murphy was hit by the third pitched ball, and walked to first in the crowd was in the crowd. Leibold up. Ball one, two; strike one. Rousch made a wonderful catch of Leibold's fly, nearly dropping it. Jackson fouled out. Murphy holding the ball. Murphy held at first. Collins up. Ball one, two; foul; strike one. Murphy singled to center. Murphy going to second. Weaver up. (The umpire again examined the ball and tossed it back to Ellier.) Neale grabbed Weaver's fly, but Murphy made third after the catch. E. Collins held on first. Jackson up. Collins stole second. Strike one, two; ball one; foul. Rath threw out Jackson at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Collegiate Field Day Prelims. Are Staged at Park

Enthusiasm High This Year Among Collegians and Crack Performances in Events Looked For.

This morning the preliminaries of the annual Collegiate sports will be run off at Tecumseh Park. Never in the history of the institution has the interest in sports been at a higher pitch than at present, and some very creditable performances may be looked for from the entrants in the various track events. This year a new method has been followed in planning the events, and the school is now divided into eight series, running through the high, middle and lower schools, and this plan has produced the proper competitive spirit and has already shown results in the unusually large number of entries in all events that are being staged this year.

The parade this year prior to the start of the games in the afternoon was a most novel event, and the most novel ever held by the Collegiate. The rugby squad, though still feeling the effects of the game in St. Thomas, has been out steadily each night this week, and is confident that it will be able to reverse the decision of the last clash between the two teams. The line-holding has been improved upon, and this was the main weakness shown at St. Thomas.

LATEST TYPE OF TOURIST CARS

One of the Features in Canadian National Railways' Daily Service Toronto-Winnipeg-Vancouver.

The Canadian National daily transcontinental train, Toronto-Winnipeg-Vancouver, made its initial trip to Toronto, with one of the very latest type of steel tourist cars as part of its equipment, the first of an order of twenty such cars in whose construction every point has been considered for the safety and comfort of passengers. This modern type of tourist car, with anti-scope device is of similar design to the standard sleeping coach, the exception being they are upholstered in leather instead of plush.

Electrically lighted throughout, all berths, upper and lower, are provided with berth lamps. A new feature for this class of car is that lamps have been installed under the seats in the aisles of the car, so that when the ceiling lamps are turned out for the night light may be provided under berth curtains.

A safety feature introduced is a device for holding down the upper berth seats in the dark, should the upper berth closing when in use. Separate berths are provided so that passengers in the upper berths will not disturb passengers in the lower.

The kitchen has the latest steel range, facilities for washing dishes, and lockers enable passengers to store their food. Lavatories have received special attention, the latest type of toilet and shower, the older type. An electric thermostatic heating control can be so adjusted as to regulate the temperature of the car, thus preventing overheating. Thus with the introduction of the daily service of the Canadian National lines between Toronto-Winnipeg-Vancouver, is the added convenience of the latest type of tourist cars for second-class passengers who can enjoy a transcontinental trip in every comfort at minimum expense.

BREAK IN RANKS OF S. OXFORD TORIES RAPIDLY WIDENING

Prohibition and Farmers' Votes Expected to Swamp Conservative.

TILLSONBURG, Oct. 9.—The break and disintegration in the South Oxford Conservative ranks is rapidly widening, and Mr. Sinclair's closest workers are making a heart-breaking effort to stem the apparent disaster.

In accepting the nomination last Monday, he told those present that he personally, he was against accepting the nomination, and stated that he would follow the lead of the majority. It is claimed that he promised him a 500 majority in Ingersoll, but a promise of materialization are two different projects. Mr. Sinclair wanted one condition to be thoroughly understood, and that was that he should use his own discretion in all matters, especially in the matter of resigning his nomination.

Well-known Conservatives state that the farmers' movement, and the prohibition workers will swamp Mr. Sinclair on October 20. Five years ago Mr. Sinclair was elected on the Conservative platform backed by liquor interests, it is alleged, when Mr. Rowell was fathering the abolition of the liquor trade.

J. H. Mayberry, his Liberal opponent, was elected on the temperance platform, but demanding a recount by Mr. Sinclair was declared elected by a majority of one. Although five years have passed, and with double the prohibition vote, the temperance people have not forgotten, but only waited for Mr. Sinclair to come before them in another election, and meet his Waterloo.

Strange things may happen ere nomination day in the ranks of the South Oxford Conservatives. The fact that while Mr. Sinclair is talking on public platforms many of his most ardent supporters are out diligently working night and day against the prohibition issue is regarded as peculiar.

CLEVELAND PARTY
TOURS ST. THOMAS

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 9.—Mayor Horton welcomed the visiting representatives of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce here this morning, and conducted the party around the city.

A reception by civic officials and a tour of St. Thomas' industrial plants and other places of interest comprised the program. The Cleveland visitors enjoyed their visit, although rain poured down during the time they were here.

No American can return to Cleveland with the impression that St. Thomas is a "dry" town, one of the Cleveland men remarked as he shook the raindrops from his clothes.

VISIT TO DRAW
CLEVELAND AND LONDON CLOSER

Say Visitors From Ohio City,
After Admiring Beauties of This City.

TOUR ST. THOMAS ALSO
Manufacturers and Merchants of U. S. Chamber of Commerce Guests of Canadian Bodies.

That the closer the bonds of friendship and commercialism between the United States and Canada, the better it will be for both countries; that Canadian hospitality is of the truest and best type; and that London is a beautiful, thoroughly live and prosperous city, were a few of the opinions expressed by the 27 members of the manufacturers' and wholesale merchants' board of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, who visited London yesterday.

After spending a day in Toronto and a day in Hamilton, the party arrived in this city at 8 o'clock this morning, at the invitation of the chamber of commerce. A welcome was extended at the Hamilton Pacific Railway station, and a fleet of automobiles carried the visitors to the Tecumseh House, where breakfast was served. There the reception was not formal, because the official visit of the Cleveland party was not made until the afternoon, after the completion of the party's visit to St. Thomas.

Therefore no addresses were made after the breakfast, and the visitors left on a London and Port Stanley car for St. Thomas at 2:30 o'clock, accompanied by George M. Reid and John Bridge, president and vice-president of the London Chamber of Commerce.

Return to London.

Following their return to London luncheon was served at the Hunt Club about 2 o'clock. It was decided there that the addresses be given after the evening meal, instead of the proposed visit to the Grand Theatre. The change of program was necessitated because the whole of the afternoon was required for visiting the city's larger factories.

This tour, made in automobiles, was originally planned to include parks and other civic places of interest to the visitors, but the inclemency of the weather limited the program to the factories.

Despite the fact that only a small portion of the city had been seen, most favorable comments were made by the Clevelanders.

A dinner at the Tecumseh House was next. It started at 7 o'clock, and with the addresses, lasted for almost three hours. Then at 10 o'clock the visitors left in their special car for Windsor, where they will spend today.

Advantages of City.

After dinner Dr. A. E. Meldrum, pastor of the Cleveland First Presbyterian Church, proposed a toast to the President Wilson, proposed by George M. Reid, the president of the local chamber of commerce, who presided. Then Mr. Reid made an introductory address, briefly explaining the advantages of this city and the splendid opportunities awaiting it in the future.

Frank H. Clark, president of the board which the visitors represented, was the next speaker. He explained that his party had made 47 trade extension excursions to many parts of the world, going to England, France and Belgium during the months of March and April of this year. The finest visit, he said, was the present one, for the absolutely cordial and brotherly spirit encountered in Ontario made one feel entirely "at home."

Growth of London.

Mr. Clark commented upon the apparent growth of this city, and the fact that so many streets and places have been given the same names that are borne by streets and sections of London, England, where he was born. Mayor C. R. Somerville expressed regret that the United States and Canada have not trade relations as strong as they should be, the two countries being shoulder to shoulder from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and hoped that the present visit would assist in improving the trade conditions.

Bond Is Firm.

"I believe that the bond of relationship between the two countries is firm, as it should be for we are virtually of one blood," said T. P. Cagwin, manager of the Statler Hotel. "The border-line is quickly becoming obliterated by the footprints of the people passing over it on missions of business and friendship."

During the year of the war the difficulty of securing supplies from the United States was great and the Canadian merchants have learned to appreciate to a greater extent the splendid treatment of the American wholesalers and jobbers, thought A. T. Little, the next speaker.

He was followed by A. E. Brown, of the Cleveland Carey Company. "It is only four and a half or five-hour trip to Cleveland," he said, "and strongly advised that publicity be made, so that people, especially of Cleveland, would realize that fact. The barrier of tariff between the two countries is a great mistake. We are one in arms, are we two in commercialism?" He also explained that workmen should be educated to work hard and save their money at the present serious time, which could be called a strike time. It is the duty of the businessmen here and in the States to be cool and level-headed, so that German-made goods will not be allowed to creep into any part of the continent.

John Bridge, the vice-president of the London Chamber of Commerce, spoke on the benefits to be acquired from the visit of the Clevelanders. He also explained this city's industrial facilities.

Still a Canadian.

Dr. A. E. Meldrum, the Pastor of the First Presbyterian of Cleveland, and who spent his boyhood in Canada, on a farm about 50 miles from London, declared the last and longest address. "I was born under the grand old Union Jack," he said, "and I shall always love it. The first time I visited London, I believe, was in 1899. I still find in my memory. The day I came into the town, the Provincial Exhibition, from which I have now grown your Western Fair, was here. It was a great day for me, because I saw Prince Arthur, now Duke of Connaught, in the procession, and I was an aristocrat then, not a democrat."

A dinner at the hospitality of the Canadian people," Dr. Meldrum continued, "is unsurpassed anywhere. I came with the knowledge that I would enjoy myself, and I most certainly have. The beautiful, grand old Union Jack and Old Glory are the two glorious flags, which are the symbols of all that is best and truest in international life."

"London is an ideal, beautiful home city, blessed through with industrial energy and shrewd commercial sense and backed up and surrounded by one of the best agricultural districts, not only in Canada, but in the continent. There is no camouflage in what I have been saying. The more closely the two countries come together, the better it will be for each. I don't mean that Canada should annex the United States, or vice-versa, or that either country should lose its individuality and entity, but that there should be a firm and close co-operation."

BUSINESS GIRLS TO HAVE AN IMPORTANT
PLACE AT RECEPTION
FOR PRINCE EDWARD

Three Hundred To Stand Near Bandstand.

ONE WILL HOLD TREE

As Young Prince Plants It For Position in Women's Park.

The democratic spirit which prevails in London is shown by the fact that the mayor and other members of the reception committee for the Prince of Wales' visit are giving the business girls of the city a prominent share in the program which is to take place in Victoria Park on October 22. Arrangements for the placing of 300 girls close to the bandstand on that day are being made by Mrs. John Crawford, extension secretary of the Y. W. C. A. And every business firm in the city, whether their employees are Y. W. C. A. members or not, is invited to send a delegation.

To Plant Tree.

During the afternoon program, the girls will come down from the plat, plant a tree, behind which the great body of girls will stand, this tree to be later transferred to the new Women's Park at the foot of Talbot street, which has long been known as Hunt's Flats. The names of all the girls who have been forwarded to the Y. W. C. A. will be inscribed in a book, and the girls who will draw one will have the honor of holding the tree as the prince passes.

First Time.

This is the first time during the history of the city that a delegation of business girls has been given so prominent a place in the program. A succession of rallies is now being held at the Y. W. C. A. for the purpose of gathering the girls together. Another one is to take place Tuesday night, the 14th. The Y. W. C. A. asks that business firms in the city will send a delegation of girls to the rally, who will see the prince at close quarters than they otherwise would be able to do.

IN POLICE COURT

Because the desk sergeant on duty made a mistake in entering the case against C. Catalano for passing a standing street car with his auto, the city is $2 out at the present time. Mr. Catalano's summons read for October 6, while the offence was committed several days previously, according to Inspector Robert Birrell.

Too Fast.

James S. Lovell drove his car over the Kidout street bridge at a considerable more than the prescribed rate of five miles per hour, and paid over $5 to Police Court Clerk Moule for "driving with death," as the bridge is condemned by the city engineer.

Ball Game—$5.

John Sullivan got "het up" over the world's series on Sunday last while in conversation on the Traction bridge, and used much sulphurous language in arguing the pros and cons of Saturday's game. It cost John $5 in police court today for using such bad language.

Warned Again.

Joseph Morkin and Inspector James Luttman staged their usual weekly racket in police court this morning. Mr. Luttman has been on the trail of Morkin for some little time in an endeavor to get him to repair some out-buildings that need bolstering up. Magistrate Graydon warned Morkin that he must attend to the matter immediately, and Messrs. Morkin and Luttman started in on the details, only to be told to air the matter in some other place than the police court, where the air is polluted enough as it is.

Allowed to Go.

James Woonch, Stanley Addley and Victor Bryan were allowed to go on suspended sentence in police court today for having stolen a bottle of milk off a doorstep some weeks ago.

More Revenue.

The M. V. A. garnered in more money for the city in police court today, four speeders, W. R. Brown, R. J. Wilson, E. P. H. and A. P. Wilson, paying $5 and costs, while Emerson Nichol, Norman Frost, John Connor and Robert Haskett each paid $2 for minor breaches of the act.

All Pay Up.

The police, working on the maxim that "every little bit helps," gathered in numerous citizens for breaches of by-laws which call for $1 fines. This morning in police court the following Londoners paid over four quarters to Police Court Clerk Moule: D. Dawson, Frank Brooks, Charles Thorne, William Goodwin, Ernest Plaster, F. Foxworthy, James Newman, Clayton Howie, Reg. Wilkinson and Robert Sheppard. Clifford Elston and James Burton paid $3 each.

MINERS CLAIM THAT ALL WOULD BENEFIT
BY NATIONALIZATION

British Cabinet Has Difficult
Problem To Solve.

MEN ARE DISCONTENTED

Fight, If Precipitated, Promises To Be Long and Bitter.

London, Oct. 10.—From one labor difficulty the Government passes to another. No sooner was the railwaymen's wage crisis surmounted, or deferred, than the miners' demand for the nationalization of mines confronts the cabinet.

Premier Lloyd George informed a deputation yesterday that the Government was unable to adopt the proposals made by the coal commission headed by Sir John Sankey, and the miners are greatly dissatisfied. Frank Hodges, secretary of the Miners' Federation, said after the premier's statement at yesterday's conference that "the Government's attitude had created a very grave situation" and the utterances of other labor men show they universally share this view.

A feature of the addresses made by members of the deputation to Mr. Lloyd George was, according to unofficial reports, a complete absence of bluster or violent language. Their statements were intended to show by reasoned arguments that nationalization of the mines was entirely in the interests of the community, and also that the mines were supported in their demand by the whole body of trade unionists throughout the country. From quoted statements of prominent labor leaders it is apparent they not only believe nationalization desirable, but are convinced that there will be a constant unrest in the labor world until it is granted.

Miners Are Aroused.

It appears to be their impression that if extreme action is necessary to enforce the demand, it will not only be the miners who will strike, but trade unionists generally.

It is becoming increasingly evident that, apart from arguments claiming that nationalization would be a benefit to the community, there is a strong feeling among workers that the present system of private ownership carries with it indefensible injustice to the miners. This feeling clearly rankles in the minds of workers. It is not concealed, notwithstanding the present agitation, if it secures its immediate aim, will not stop at mines.

Will Be Bitter Fight.

On neither side is there doubt that the fight will be stern. The Herald, recognizing this, says: "The possessing class, the class which lives on labor of others, has everything at stake and will shrink from nothing in an attempt to frustrate the movement."

Representing the anti-nationalization view, the Telegraph does not expect the miners to be converted from their present opinion, although it sees some little hope in the appeal to other trade unionists. It adds:

"The prospect is the reverse of attractive. It means renewed trouble, anxiety and unrest, and that at a time when the nation can least afford it."

It is understood the special trades union congress which will consider Premier Lloyd George's reply to the deputation yesterday will convene on October 22.

Annual Statement of Company

Montreal, Oct. 10.—Moderate recessions from the record profit levels established by the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, Limited, for the year ending August 31, 1918, were disclosed in the annual statement submitted to the shareholders of the big milling enterprise at yesterday's general meeting. Profits from flour milling for the 1918-19 period were $649,777, compared with $832,310 in the previous twelve months, while those from other sources were $822,728 against $1,122,504 a year ago. The total for 1918-19 amounted to $1,472,505, compared with $1,954,814 in the preceding period, a decrease of $482,309, or equal to slightly less than 12 per cent.

The year's showing while not up to the record level of 1917-18 was, however, better by a considerable margin than the display in 1915 which up to last year was the banner one in the history of the company. In the latter period net profits were $1,519,504, compared with the $1,632,516 shown in the statement submitted at yesterday's annual meeting of the shareholders.

The year's figures show that earnings on the common stock of the com-

Peeler Works Wonders

To keep the face, neck, arms and hands truly beautiful and young in appearance, the treatment which seems most sensible is one which will actually remove the skin itself from only it begins to age, fade, coarsen or discolor. The only known treatment which will do this aside from a painful, expensive surgical operation, is the application of ordinary mercurized wax, which is as harmless as it is effective.

The wax is put on at night, just as you apply cold cream, and washed off in the morning. It absorbs the dirt and half-dried surface skin in almost invisible flaky particles, a little each day, no discomfort being experienced, and the disappearance of the old cuticle, the newer, healthier skin underneath gradually appears, richly beautiful with the flush of youth. This mercurized wax, which you can get at any drug store in original packages, is indeed a veritable wonder-worker.—Adv.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Why Dampness Really Ought Not To Affect Your Body

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSBERG,
A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University).

What is an element? The ordinary man, when asked this question, will promptly answer in the words of wisdom of six thousand years ago, "Why?" He will say, "water is one of the elements. Air, earth and fire are also elements."

To speak of "the elements" and to mean wind, water and fire is to state an antiquated and false truth in the distant days of the ancient wise man of old.

There are actually known today something like ninety elementary substances, almost all of which can be obtained by hammering, smashing, tearing and breaking up the earth, air, fire and water. By no stretch of the modern imagination dare any sane persons say that these four courses, gross things in nature be called "elements."

Thus it is with "madness," "tallness," "biliousness," "indigestion," "colds," "teething," "growing pains," and all other antiquated and long since dynamited truths. You find it impossible to rid language of these ancient mistakes, and you stick to the language usually remaining glued to most people's thoughts and beliefs.

Thus the curious notion about damp weather and "rheumatism" sticks over from a brother Dorian and his "rheumatism," unless you wish to consider the word synonymous with "illness," "pain" and "discomfort." In this way it will like the church clocks, cover a multitude of sins.

That the changes of weather irritate and get on the nerves of some individuals need not be denied. Human creatures are not adaptable to changing conditions of animals are.

You become "soft" in your ways. Your body becomes habituated to sunshine or to storm, to rain or snow, no matter how sound of limb and healthful of mind you may be.

Therefore do not blame the weather for your kinks and cricks, but blame your own inability to adjust yourself to conditions as they change.

Dr. Frank E. Lutz of the American Museum of Natural History has investigated the relation of humidity and its effects upon certain animals.

If the temperature is constant and the moisture in the atmosphere is varied, there occur changes in the markings of butterflies—the adults which emerge from the larvae differ according to the wetness of the surrounding air. unanimous in pointing to the definite, tangible and distinct influence of humidity upon animals. Some medical men, however, have passed this matter up. It is true they arch their eyebrows and smile in derision at the very idea that rainy, wintry days make you blue, and sultry, summer days make you sized. Yet if the human tissues are fundamentally the same as other animal structures there is reason for the humid effects.

Good Night Stories

BOBBY AND HIS PETS.
Bobby was a dear little fellow, but, oh, my, he had one dreadful fault! Bobby was forever teasing his pets.

If it wasn't a can tied to Towser's tail it was paper sacks fastened to his feet so he could hardly walk. He didn't really mean to be rough with his pets, but he did love to watch their funny antics trying to get away. It was fun for Bobby, but for Bobby's pets such pranks were a terrible hardship, and even the bones and bread and milk that always followed couldn't seem to smooth their ruffled feelings.

"It's only a matter of time and then some day they'll turn on you," said Bobby's mamma, who wanted to see her little boy so unkind to his pets. But Bobby always laughed and paid no attention to her warning.

One day, having been told there was a circus coming to town, Bobby decided to have a circus of his own. He gathered up poor Pussy Cat and put her in a berry box, over the front of which he had stuck a sign that said "Pussy Cat Circus." Bobby was his fiercest, and like a caged beast, he pranced up and down her prison, meowing and clawing at the bars.

Bobby laughed and laughed—he'd never seen anything quite so funny. He sat down in front of the box to see just what Pussy Cat would do, and a strange thing happened.

He heard the patter of soft feet behind him, and turning around, Bobby saw cats of every description coming from every direction, and in the lead trotted Pussy Cat.

"Well, of all things!" exclaimed Bobby, when he spied his own cat. "How did you get out of that box?" "If I had listened to you I'd never be out!" replied Pussy Cat.

And before Bobby could get over his surprise at hearing Pussy Cat talk he was grabbed, and quick as a wink, he was in the very box that he had held his pet a few seconds before, and the bars were let down and fastened tight.

"What do you mean?" he cried, looking over the sea of cats that swarmed around his cage. "How dare you treat me this way?"

"Just be still and we'll not harm you," laughed Pussy Cat. "We're having a circus. And she nailed up a sign at the side of the box.

Cats came from every direction. Some wheeled their bodies in doll carriages, some pulling them in darning baskets, but each and every one carrying a live mouse in his pocket, for one mouse was their admission fee.

When the crowd was quite thick around the cage, and Bobby was crying bitterly, Pussy Cat turned all the mice into the box with Bobby, and Bobby, being dreadfully afraid of mice and cats, tried to squeeze between the bars of the box, much to the amusement of the cats. Poor Bobby, he was so frightened he crunched in one corner of the box just like he'd seen Pussy Cat. He began to cry, and there's no telling what might have happened if Towser hadn't rushed in just then and licked Bobby's face, and Bobby opened his eyes.

Dear me, Bobby was glad to see Towser, and, sure enough, right there before him in the box sat Pussy Cat looking very sad.

Bobby jumped up and lifted the lid of the box and gulped poor Pussy Cat out and hugged her tight.

"You poor, poor Pussy Cat!" he cried, smoothing her fur. "I'll never play tricks with you again, indeed, I won't. Of course, I only did it for fun, but I guess, after all, it's not very funny for you."

And from that day to this Bobby has treated his pets with kindness, and never again tried to have fun at their expense.

NO NEED OF ROSE-COLORED GLASSES

Concerning an article in the current issue of the "American Magazine" under the title, "Why I Always Wear Rose-Colored Glasses," Gene Stratton-Porter, says:

One thing I have decided surely never again shall I hesitate to make one of my characters as self-sacrificing and as heroic as my rose-colored spectacles can see him. For, wearing my most highly colored pair, I could not match in imagination the facts of the present. I'd like Elizabeth to try on this model," Mrs. Glendinning said.

TO PUT ON FLESH AND INCREASE WEIGHT A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good, solid, fat-making food every day, and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all a matter of the nature of the food they eat. It's the nature of the food that counts.

This folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Staying thin won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition I always recommend eating a SALTOLIN tablet with every meal. SALTOLIN is not, as some believe, a drug, but is a scientific combination of the most effective and powerful flesh-building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective, and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds each week. SALTOLIN is sold by good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.—ADVT.

LONG CAUCUS HELD

Railway Policy and Proposed
Prohibition Measures Discussed.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—Something in the nature of a miniature crisis has precipitated itself upon the House in the dying days of the session. The calling of a caucus to discuss a question of policy which has already been announced to Parliament and the people is, to say the least, out of the ordinary. But this morning at 10:30 Government supporters held a caucus for that very purpose, namely to pass in review the Government's new prohibition legislation which was introduced in the House two days ago, but upon which further progress was deferred yesterday for the very reason that private members desired to discuss it.

Opposition to the new legislation is based not so much on principle as on political expediency. The nature of that legislation was not divulged in any former caucus, though it was intimated that whatever form new prohibition legislation might take would not be subversive of provincial rights.

Reasons for Protests.

The chief reason for the protests which have resulted in the hanging up of the legislation until it has been threshed out in the caucus is the fact that it has been introduced at a time when the Hearst Government in Onario is about to do battle at the polls. The members who raised the protest yesterday, and who waited upon the Government before the House met, were limited to the straight Conservative element in the House. They declared that the introduction of the new bills would have a very prejudicial effect upon the Hearst Government's campaign and upon the referendum which is to take place on the day of polling. They contended that many men who would vote for the Ontario temperance act in ordinary circumstances would not do so if they believed that its approval by the electorate would be the thin edge of the wedge in the direction of further and more drastic bone-dry measures along the lines laid down in the federal bills.

As a matter of fact, it is stated that the charge was made by a member of the deputation that the new measures were deliberately designed to wreck the Hearst Government.

It is rumored here that the protest is not confined to federal Conservative members, but that representations have been made from Queen's Park pointing out the danger of the Government's action. The Government's position is a delicate one. To amend or shelve the legislation for the present would not only constitute a severe blow to the Government's prestige in the country, but would open sharp charges of insincerity, which undoubtedly would have a reflex effect upon the Hearst Government in Ontario. On the other hand, should the Government decide to go ahead with the legislation it will just under the threat of heavy defection from that element which has in the past manifested its most loyal support. The dilemma is a real one.

The earlier part of the caucus was devoted to the railway question, upon which a wide diversity of opinion was expressed. It was agreed that, while the Government has embarked on an extensive program of state ownership, there is within its ranks in both Houses a considerable element against the acquisition of further lines. The opinion, for instance, was expressed by some this morning that a working agreement with the Grand Trunk at the present time was all that was necessary.

VIII Prepare Legislation.

In spite, however, of the difference of opinion, it is believed that as a result of the caucus the Government will go ahead with the preparation of enabling legislation to be submitted before the session closes. This legislation will, it is understood, express the Government's intention to carry on its negotiations with the Grand Trunk, even to the extent, if necessary, of providing for arbitration.

On the prohibition question many protests were voiced against the Government's new legislation, both from the standpoint of political expediency and from the constitutional standpoint. It is stated that the latter point was raised by Senator Claude Macdonnell of Toronto, who questioned the power of the Federal authorities to vest federal prerogatives in the provinces. Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, took up the caucus on behalf of the legislation, and spoke at some length in rebuttal of Senator Macdonnell.

While it is not at all possible that the Government will take back-water in connection with its prohibition legislation, the opinion is expressed that in view of the constitutional question raised the upper chamber may take a hand again, as it did last session.

Generally speaking, members contended that the legislation is much more drastic in form than was intimated at the last caucus. The Scott act has never been very popular in the country, Ontario and New Brunswick being about the only two provinces which have ever invoked it to any extent. In its amended form it does not appear to be any more popular than in its original.

The caucus was one of the lengthiest held this session.

BIG POINT RESIDENT FINED IN CHATHAM ON LIQUOR CHARGE

CHATHAM, Oct. 8.—Edward Barnier of Big Point in the county police court was fined $200 and costs on a charge of having liquor on unauthorized premises. The charge was laid as a result of the discovery in a raid of a 40-gallon keg of wine.

Ray Simmonds, taxicab driver, was charged with selling liquor, but was dismissed, the seven witnesses for the prosecution averring that they had never purchased liquor from the defendant, as alleged.

Owing to inclement weather, fire prevention and clean-up day has been postponed until Tuesday next, October 14, with the approval of the Ontario fire marshal.

ARREST WINDSOR MAN, SUSPECTED BANDIT, BELIEVED DROWNED

WINDSOR, Oct. 9.—(Detroit authorities) started an examination of Harold Fontaine of Windsor, arrested here early today and turned over to the United States authorities, on a charge of smuggling Chinese into the United States from Canada.

Detroit police suspect that Fontaine is one of a party which attacked Inspector McCabe in a motor-boat at night in July, and who jumped into the river, and was believed to have been drowned, when the inspector died at him.

Fontaine was armed with two revolvers when he was arrested here. He is believed by Detroit police of having taken a part in the hold-up in Detroit of a gasoline station collector on August 18, when the collector was robbed of $5,000.

DELAY PROROGATION UNTIL AFTER DATE OF PROV. ELECTIONS

Unionists Do Not Want To Be Involved in Campaign.

REALIZE UNPOPULARITY

And Attendance in House Will Provide Excuse For Standing Aloof.

[Special to The Advertiser.] OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—Every effort is being made by the Government to spin out the present session of Parliament until after the date of the provincial elections. It had been anticipated that the force would end with the present week, but it is now announced that there will be railway legislation, and that the Government, in spite of the protests made in caucus this morning, will go ahead with its prohibition measures. It is scarcely possible that these can be disposed of in less than a fortnight, and by that time the result of the contest now being waged in Ontario will be known.

There are reasons for desiring that the session shall last until after the 20th: in the first place very few of the Government members have any desire to participate in the campaign. Supporters of Union Government are none too popular anywhere in the Dominion, and most of them realize that they would be better off out of the campaign altogether. Attendance at the House here will give them an excuse for remaining aloof.

A further reason, however, is that George Foster announced in the House this afternoon that the special committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment could not report for some time yet. There is a strong feeling in the House that the Government has made it pretty plain that it does not intend to comply with the demands of either the Gratiot Association or of the Great War Veterans in the matter of further cash grants. The committee will likely report against such proposals, and may recommend instead a federal fund, upon which needy men during the winter can draw. But the Government would rather such a report should not go forward to the public until the election. So the committee may dwindle along a while longer, and the report will probably be delayed.

Legislation to enable the Government to arbitrate in connection with the Grand Trunk will be brought down, and it is liable to take up much time. Members of the majority talked plainly on the prohibition bills, and contended that they would have a prejudicial effect upon the House's character in Ontario. They declared that the referendum was quite complicated enough, without confusing the minds of the electorate further by new federal proposals.

Plenty of Time. A large number contended that such legislation had never been demanded. The Government, however, contended that Sir Robert Borden had promised it, and that his promise must be fulfilled. In an attempt to placate the rebellious spirits, they pointed out that before the time of the expiration of the existing war-time orders-in-council and the investigation by any province of the amended Scott act a very considerable space would elapse, in the course of which interprovincial traffic and mail facture could go merrily ahead again and depleted cellars refilled.

In any case, the Government contended that to withdraw the legislation now would be most humiliating, and would be wrong in construction. Members departed from the caucus in a gloomy mood, comforting themselves, however, with the reflection that the Senate might do something to take the sting out of the tail of the new legislation.

Some idea of the temper of the gathering may be gained from the fact that it took the Government just about four hours to secure a sufficient support among the members for its new measures in order to insure their passing the House.

"War" Expenditure Higher Last Month Than in Sept., 1918

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—A disappointing situation in regard to the Dominion finances is revealed in the monthly balance sheet of the finance department. During last month the net debt of the Dominion increased by nearly sixty-five million dollars, as compared with an increase of a little under twenty-eight millions for the month of September last year. The net debt now stands at $1,750,000,000. Before the war the net debt was $335,000,000.

Last month's increase in the net debt was chiefly due to war expenditure and expenditure arising out of the war. Expenditure under the heading of "War" in fact, was about twenty-three million dollars higher than in September of last year.

Woman's Hair Reaches to Knee

A Year Ago Was Threatened With Baldness—Tells How She Made Her Hair Grow.

Mrs. Esther Emery, now visiting friends in the city, is the fortunate possessor of marvellously beautiful hair, which, when loosened from its coils, falls to her knees. Moreover it is of soft, silky and fluffy texture and in color a glorious, glossy gold. Just one year ago she was threatened with baldness. Urged to tell how she had obtained this wonderful growth in so short a time, she said:

"Twelve months ago my hair, which then reached barely to my shoulders, was falling out at an alarming rate and growing very thin, actually exposing the bald scalp in several spots. It was dull and lifeless in color, turning grey in patches, and very dry and brittle. My head was covered with dandruff and itched like mad all the time. I tried fully a dozen different hair tonics, but they never did me a bit of good. One day I chanced to read in my home paper of a simple home prescription to make the hair grow that was recommended by a well-known physician. It said that by taking ordinary Lavona de Composee and mixing with Bay Rum and Monchou Crystals and applying to the scalp each night with the finger tips that new hair would grow very rapidly. I decided to try it and had my drugist mix 2 ounces of the Lavona de Composee with 6 oz. of Bay Rum and 1/2 dr. of Monchou Crystals, and started to use it. My hair stopped falling, the itching ceased and the dandruff disappeared. Then tiny little hairs appeared all over my scalp. These grew and grew as though nothing would ever stop them. They are growing yet and, while, of course, I have used the treatment steadily and expect to continue it, at least until my hair reaches the floor. I might have stopped and been perfectly satisfied at the end of three months. I think that any woman can get long, thick, beautiful hair by using this prescription as I have recommended it to several friends and all are delighted with the result. The prescription is very inexpensive and any druggist can fill it." Those who use it should be careful not to get it on the face or where the hair is not desired.—Adv.

If you send more than one solution at one time send a separate blank with each one and state in each blank the amount you are paying with that solution.

This contest is open to both men and women. You may order the paper sent to someone else if you wish, names and addresses being subject to any changes that later may be desired.

DECIDING TIES

In the event of ties those tying will be required to solve a second puzzle in order to determine who shall receive the prizes. This second puzzle, if one should be required, will be equally as attractive and practical as the first. Under this plan those who win will be assured of receiving the full value of their prizes without having to divide them with other contestants. Should still further ties ensue, a third problem of the same order as the second will be submitted to those again tied to solve. This plan will be continued until all have been eliminated except the actual prize-winners. Should there be no ties on the first puzzle, only the one, of course, will be presented. In the event that a second puzzle is required, one week will be allowed in which to solve it. This will prevent the contest being prolonged for any unusual length of time.

THE PROBLEM

The problem is to count the circles. Every circle is complete, and intersects or touches one or more circles. There are no parts of circles, or shams or deceptions of any sort in the puzzle. In the event that no one counts the exact number, the prizes will be awarded for the nearest correct solutions. Accuracy and patience are the main requisites to arriving at the correct, or nearest correct count. Those who display these qualifications to the best advantage will solve the puzzle best.

Important Features

The attention of contestants is called to two important features in connection with the prizes.

1. While the amount you pay for subscription to The Advertiser has no effect on your winning a prize, it does affect the value of the first five prizes should you win one of them. For instance, each of the first five prizes has a fixed value, to which is added from five to fifty times what the winner pays when they register their solutions. This is explained further in the prize list.
2. The first five prizes may also be increased ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS each by your interesting five persons who are not now regular subscribers to become subscribers. You will receive twenty dollars for each one, whether you secure one or five. Each one of these new subscribers must pay not less than the minimum amount ($2) required of contestants. They may pay up to the maximum ($12.48) if they desire, and they may also become competitors for the prizes if they wish to submit one or more solutions of the puzzle. That is, they may enter the contest under the same conditions exactly as any other contestant, the payments they make entitling them to entry.

The name of each one of these new subscribers must be sent in on one of the accompanying blanks, whether he becomes a contestant or not. The fact that he was secured by you must also be indicated in the proper place provided in the blank, so you will receive credit. You may send in any or all of these five names whenever you wish, either when you send in your own solution or later. Just use one of the blanks for each one, and then there will be no mistake made in regard to your getting due credit.

The Road to Health is Smooth and Clear If You Use Nujol

THE real Road to Health is an intestinal highway 30 feet long. When Constipation clogs this road, it's the same as when a landslide blocks a mountain pass. There is a difference, however. Constipation not only blocks the way, but breeds poisons which menace health.

The obstruction in the mountain pass can be blown out with dynamite, and the obstruction in the intestinal tract can be blown out with powerful drugs—but any drug powerful enough to do this is bound to harm the body.

There is only one way to relieve Constipation without in the least measure endangering the delicate mechanism of the human system.

That is the NUJOL way. NUJOL is absolutely harmless. It is NOT a drug. Not a particle of it is assimilated by the body. All it does is soften the mass impacted in the colon and lubricate the way to normal expulsion. NUJOL does this without causing any pain or discomfort. It does not in any way interfere with the digestive processes. It has no more effect on the delicate membranes and tissues than to smooth and soothe them.

It is a healing force which gently but effectively removes the intestinal obstruction, and permits this great service to health without in any way lessening Nature's provisions for protection. Its sole province is to help Nature help herself.

Nearly everyone is subject to Constipation at some time or other. Nearly everyone has proved the worthlessness of ordinary "remedies" as to lasting results. Now try Nujol—and learn that there is a lasting relief for this curse.

For valuable health booklet—"Thirty Feet of Danger"—free, write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) 50 B'way, N.Y.

Warning: Nujol is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. All other imitations are not Nujol. You may suffer from substitutes.

EXPEDITION WILL SEEK POLYNESIAN ORIGIN

HONOLULU, Oct. 4.—Largely financed by the trustees of the Bernice Pauahi Bishop estate and the Bernice Pauahi Bishop Museum, a scientific expedition will leave Hawaii next spring to spend two years in the South Seas in an effort to determine the origin of the Polynesian race, and to trace its various migrations into Hawaii, the northeastern outpost of Polynesia, was reached. Bernice Pauahi was a Hawaiian princess, who married Charles R. Bishop, pioneer Honolulu banker. She once declined an offer of the throne of Hawaii. Her estate, valued at many millions, provides revenue for a number of institutions designed to promote the interests of the native Hawaiians.

OLD FOLKS' RECIPE FOR WEAK KIDNEYS

While people well along in years are more subject to work, kidneys and bladder than younger folks, their trouble need not necessarily be serious, and can often be easily corrected by a safe, simple home kidney regulator that acts promptly. A good plan is to stop eating meat, sugar and sweets for a few days, and to take a few doses of Solvax, which any local druggist can easily supply; you at little expense. Solvax is harmless and acts safely but quickly on the kidneys and bladder to strengthen them for their natural work and drain out all the impurities from the blood that cause the kidneys to get slow and sluggish. Twenty-four hours generally show results and make the kidneys act fine. Back Pains and weakness soon are forgotten, and sufferers are enabled to get a good eight hours sleep without getting in and out of bed several times during the night. Do not suffer another day, but see at once if Solvax will not relieve you. If you find it does not, tell the druggist so, and he will cheerfully return the money you paid him for it. We know no stronger argument for any medicine than the willingness of those who sell it to stand back of it in this way. If your druggist cannot supply you, write, enclosing 50 cents, to Booth's Hygienic Company, Postoffice Box 358, London, Ont.

VETERANS MAKE GOOD WORKMEN SAY EMPLOYERS

Vocationally-Trained Soldiers Are Giving Excellent Satisfaction.

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—Vocationally trained soldiers are giving splendid satisfaction to their employers in Canada, in the opinion of several employers heard by the special committee on soldiers' re-establishment today. There were eight witnesses who had employed disabled men in various lines of work, and all of them were delighted with the industry of the men. Many of these employers had trained the men and kept them right on as employees of their industries. There had been failures, but they were the exception. Men were not always proficient when their six or eight months' term was complete, and some of the witnesses favored extending the term, but they said a man was well grounded in his trade and would soon improve in his new work. Organized labor was sympathetic to the returned men, the witnesses stated. In the evening T. A. Stevenson, Labor representative on the D. C. R., voiced the idea that Canada had the best vocational training system of any of the Allied countries. He thought also that labor conditions here were not such as to justify pessimism. He suggested that Canada should have all employment bureaus under centralized control, and that every private employment office should be abolished. A Woman's Appeal. Another witness during the evening was the wife of a returned soldier who made a plea for all dependents of veterans. She praised the Great War Veterans' Association plan and declared "the Government ought to do something to help the returned soldiers, as they really need aid."

R. W. Breadner, commissioner of taxation, giving evidence in the evening, said that the idea of increasing the income tax to boost the revenue would be a serious mistake. He thought it would be better if the income tax rates were made lower in Canada than in the United States, because capital

"SYRUP OF FIGS" IS LAXATIVE FOR CHILD

and immigration are essential to this country.

Mr. Breadner stated his belief that if the income tax had been in effect from the beginning of the war the revenue would not have been increased by twenty million dollars. Mr. Breadner stated that a wrong impression exists as to the number of really wealthy men in Canada, there being fewer than most people supposed.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash poisons and toxins from system before putting food into stomach.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do. For every ounce of food taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins, which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream through the lymph ducts, which should only nourishment. A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water, with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the alimentary canal before eating more food. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing.

COMMITTEE IS NOT LIKELY TO ADVISE FURTHER GRATUITY

May Recommend Fund To Assist Men in Actual Need of Help.

[Special to The Advertiser.] OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—The special committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment is expected to report in a few days. What its recommendations will be is not at present known, but it is fairly certain that neither of the bonus schemes proposed by the gratuity association and the great war veterans will find favor in the report. The committee, generally speaking, does not favor any scheme which proposes to bonus members of the expeditionary force regardless of need or length of service. The proposal, which is most likely to be adopted, is one which was mooted before the committee was formed. That constitutes the formation of a fund to be administered by committees at various centres, and which will be available in needy cases to tide men over the winter. This will be a federal fund, but otherwise similar in its application to the patriotic funds. It may run as high as fifty millions, but will be distributed only in case of unemployment and actual need. Unemployment insurance has also been mooted, while steps may be taken to enable disabled men to secure life insurance. Apart from this the committee will make certain recommendations in regard to civil re-establishment proper. But it may safely be predicted that further cash bonus of any sort will be discouraged as impracticable.

France Making Progress With Reconstruction

Interesting Figures Showing What Has Been Accomplished Are Given.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—Havas Agency. —Capt. Andre Tardieu, member of the French peace commission, speaking at a meeting of the French-American Club, gave interesting figures on the reconstruction work accomplished since the armistice. Sixty thousand of the 550,000 houses in the battle area, wrecked by shell fire, have been rebuilt; 2,014 kilometres of the 3,346 kilometres of railway destroyed have been repaired, and 700 of the 1,675 kilometres of canals rendered unusable in the course of hostilities are again in commission. Of the 1,150 plants destroyed by the enemy, 588 have been repaired. Equally remarkable progress is being made in restoring to cultivation the vast areas in the devastated regions, which the end of the war left with their rich surface soil plowed under by artillery fire, sown with dangerous unexploded shells and cut by trenches and barbed wire. The devastated area embraced 4,500,000 acres. Of this approximately 1,000,000 acres have been returned to the farmers, and 500,000 acres of it are ready for the seed. Ten million metres—over 6,000 miles of barbed wire have been dismantled and carried away in the operation. The yield of taxes, which was five billion francs in 1913, has been raised to twelve billion francs in 1919. Commissioner Tardieu added that a country which had lost nearly 2,000,000 workers killed or incapactated by the war, which had been deprived by invasion of one-fifth of its productive capital and which nevertheless of its own efforts had accomplished such a showing as that recited above, has a right to rely for the effective help of its allies to restore completely its economical and financial status.

Canada Can Supply a Tenth of World Demand For Zinc

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Important developments are foreshadowed in the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at Trail, B. C., in the statement made by the president, J. J. Warren, who is negotiating the sale of the company's zinc output here. Mr. Warren says the market possibilities for the company's product in Europe, South Africa and India are unlimited as regards the disposal of zinc and allied metals. He adds that his doubts regarding the possibility of expanding the industry have been entirely transformed to optimism since his arrival in England two weeks ago. Canada can supply 10 per cent of the world's demands, equal to 780,000 tons of zinc, and is only producing 25,000 tons. The impression he has gained is that the condition of the market warrants expansion to supply these 780,000 tons. Mr. Warren foresees no difficulty in arranging for increasing smelting facilities.

SMOKERS FORM LEAGUE TO FIGHT W. C. T. U.

New York, Oct. 9.—With the avowed purpose of carrying on "a militant fight against the W. C. T. It was announced here tonight by the association opposed to national prohibition.

TORONTO COUPLE BOTH GRATEFUL

Holman Says He Believes Tanlac Saved His Wife's Life, and Wife Joins in Praising It.

"I actually don't believe I would be alive today if it hadn't been for Tanlac," said John Holman of 165 Chestnut street, Toronto, Ont. "I had suffered from nervousness and stomach trouble for about two years," he continued. "I had no desire to eat and was wasting away to nothing. I suffered terribly from indigestion, my nerves went all to pieces and I became so weak that I couldn't do a job of work. Many a night I would be unable to sleep a wink and would get up feeling so weak and nervous I could hardly drag myself around. I tried all kinds of medicines, but got no better. Finally my wife induced me to try Tanlac, so I got a bottle, and it has certainly done me a world of good. My appetite is great, and I can now eat anything without having indigestion afterwards. My nerves are stronger and I sleep fine all night and feel better and stronger than I have in a long time. I have gained some in weight, too, and my wife and I both feel so grateful for what Tanlac has done for me that we want everybody to try this wonderful medicine. Why, I simply wouldn't be without it for anything."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

GINGERING UP THE SAVINGS DEPARTMENT

BY D. McEACHERN.

An address delivered at the fourth annual convention of the Financial Advertisers Association, New Orleans, September 26, 1919.

Having been asked to address this convention as a representative of the association from Canada, I shall chiefly confine my remarks to conditions and methods prevailing in my country.

It is my hope that the suggestions herein—if not found new—will at least prove helpful to some of the audience by reminding them of available and perhaps hitherto untried methods of building a savings department.

For many months past, signs have not been lacking to show that unusual careful attention is being given by officials of savings departments.

North of the border, the casual newspaper reader cannot but notice the distinct change that has taken place in the advertising of this Department.

Judging from newspaper space and from the frequency of insertions many important financial advertising appropriations have of late been heavily increased, while the tone of the appeal is noticeably warm, positive and full of good argument.

Coupled with this awakening to the possibilities of good advertising is to be seen the opening of new savings branches in all parts of the country—wherever a foothold for such business can be secured.

A general all-round recognition of the savings department has taken place in Canada. The focus of the successful Victory loan campaigns was of necessity upon the saver, and the vigorous, although belated, government campaign on behalf of thrift stamps has undoubtedly made a deep impression upon the Canadian public.

Canadian financial institutions have not been slow to realize the need on their part of an energetic follow-up in order that the educative effect on these campaigns might be conserved and broadened.

Savings deposits in Canada totalled

In July last over $1,170,000,000. In July, 1914, the total was but $671,000,000, an increase of over 75 per cent having been recorded during the past five years.

This showing is noteworthy in view of the magnificent support given by the Canadian public to five internal loans during that period.

Several of the more useful methods by which new vigor, energy and enthusiasm is being instilled into the savings departments of Canadian institutions may be of interest.

The Problem of the Dormant Account. Advertising—like charity—should begin at home. In every savings ledger there are numerous accounts which for many months, perhaps for years, have been undisturbed by the addition of a deposit.

The owner of the account may now be unable to save or he may have fallen into extravagant habits, and it is also quite possible that for some reason he now deposits in a rival institution around the corner.

The first step in winning back this customer is to make certain of his correct address. This question of depositors' addresses in these days of changes is of prime importance, and it is worth time and expense to keep them up to date.

Good results in winning back old customers have been obtained by:

(1) Securing correct address; (2) Mailing a well-worded letter of invitation to revive the account; (3) Mailing more well-ordered letters containing "reasons why" until the end is gained or some good cause for ceasing the follow-up presents itself.

One letter that pulled told the depositor that his balance on the date of last deposit was $187.53 and if $20 each month had since been added he would now be the possessor of $460.22, including compound interest.

The Joint Account. Wherever the joint account system has been used it has been found a success. It is a convenience to depositors and causes but little additional work to the savings department staff.

Institutions which extensively advertise the joint account find they are combining a much appreciated service with a business-getting and a business-holding force.

Women are no longer content to allow the family purse or the family savings account to wholly remain in the possession of the nominal head of the household. The joint account steps into the breach and amicably solves this financial problem in many households. By its adoption funds on deposit may be added to or withdrawn at any time by either of the two parties. In the event of death of one the money automatically belongs to the survivor or survivors without recourse to any form of legal procedure.

A joint account is opened in this fashion: "John Jones or Mary Jones or either or the survivor, and for the purposes of protection to all concerned the signatures of both are secured on a card on which appears a declaration reading as follows: 'We hereby declare that all moneys which are, or may hereafter be deposited in above savings account are held by us on a joint tenancy, and we are payable in the event of death of either of us to the survivor and we hereby agree and direct that all such moneys may be legally paid to and received by either of us on a check or receipt signed only by such individual and that such payment shall discharge the (institution's name) from all liability whatsoever in connection with the moneys paid."

The above wording is widely used, but of course it may be varied if thought advisable.

A growing tendency has been noticed to use this joint savings account privilege to dispose of funds after death—in this way saving much inconvenience, together with the delay and expense attendant upon the probating of a will.

Women Depositors. Speaking of women depositors, have you ever analyzed the new accounts opened in your savings department during say a twelve-month period? If so you will have noted the large and growing proportion of female depositors. This is, I believe, a general condition and it is leading financial advertisers into broader fields of endeavor.

The majority of the urban male population cannot call at the savings wicket during office hours. The mechanic's wife is therefore not only responsible for the household expenditure, but is also intrusted with the maintenance of the family savings account. Likewise to a large extent this is true in the case of the farmer's wife. A goodly portion of the farm income is actually earned by her in the dairy, poultry yard, garden and field.

Why then should the bulk of financial advertising be aimed at the male population? Should not a substantial portion be expressed in the language that would best appeal to the good sense and thriftiness of women?

Attractive Pass Book. A somewhat neglected feature of savings department operation is the pass book. It is the connecting link between the depositor and the department, and a neat and well-printed book will repay an extra price per thousand. A badly soiled or torn pass book should be replaced by a new one after the ledger-keeper has secured the depositor's permission.

Closed Accounts. When a savings account is wholly withdrawn, what does your ledger keeper do with the pass book? The wide-spread practice of retaining the book at the wicket because of some musty regulation is open to criticism. If the depositor is allowed to surrender his pass book simply because he is temporarily in need of funds, his connection with the savings department is completely severed. He should be told to keep the book, as doubtless it would be found of use at a future date when he has further funds to deposit.

Departmental Co-operation. It has been truly said that the savings department is the nursery for other departments of a financial institution. Since, therefore, this department furnishes prospects who may be readily persuaded to use other branches of the institution's activities there should be reciprocity.

In the investment, trust, safe deposit box, real estate and other departments will be found hundreds of good customers, who for no particular reason keep their savings account elsewhere.

Oftentimes the mere suggestion that maturing interest coupons, rentals and other income be deposited at the savings wicket secures choice and profitable business, and this form of co-operation supplies in many cases the missing link between general savings advertising and the actual opening of accounts.

Personal enthusiasm on the part of every person connected with the institution is an important consideration when laying plans for a greater savings department. With this aid carefully prepared programs will attain their goal with a minimum of expense and effort.

It has been amply proved that the interest of employees in the forward progress of any business is best secured when a system of reward for well-doing is worked out which will include all on the pay-roll in a fair and equitable manner.

The Question of "Stunts." Freak advertising of any kind has never been very successful in Canada. Financial advertising of a sensational nature in the accepted sense of the term is regarded as a grave error, and seldom has it pulled satisfactorily. The month-in-and-month-out, year-in-and-year-out unrelenting persistence in presenting the savings story, while perhaps irksome at times to the stirring soul of the advertising manager, is nevertheless the safer and less expensive method of securing savers, even any amount of advertisement can be supplied to aid struggling savers should be gladly given. To the Voter

DO YOU KNOW— that the beer sold in Ontario previous to prohibition ranged up to over 7% alcoholic content by weight measure, whilst the "Beer of the Ballot"—the beer for which you are asked to vote October 20th—has a strength of but 2.51%?

DO YOU KNOW— that such well-known beers manufactured in the United States as Blue Ribbon, Budweiser and Schlitz—always spoken of as "very light non-intoxicating beers"—ranged up to 4.19%—sixty per cent. stronger than the "Beer of the Ballot"—the beer for which you are asked to vote October 20th?

DO YOU KNOW— that in Maine, where prohibition has been in force over sixty years, the courts have held that beer of 3% alcoholic strength, was non-intoxicating—and any beer of under 3% strength was permitted to be sold as freely as ginger ale?

DO YOU KNOW— that in Sweden, Norway and Denmark—as a result of the findings of Government commissions appointed to determine what was an intoxicating liquor—beer of practically the same strength as asked for in the coming Referendum is regarded as non-intoxicating and is sold everywhere, by anybody, without license, and without paying a Government tax?

METHOD OF HANDLING THE WHEAT CROP IS HARSHLY CRITICISED

Sir George Foster Defends the Plan Adopted.

FIFTY PER CENT SOLD

Says About Half of Surplus Has Already Been Disposed Of.

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—This afternoon's sitting of the House of Commons was devoted to consideration of the bill under which the operations of the grain board will be continued after the proclamation of peace.

D. D. McKenzie was disposed to think the method of handling the Canadian wheat crop adopted by the Government was absurd, while J. A. Robb complained that the price of wheat was lower in Canada than the United States because of the wheat board's control of the importation and exportation of wheat.

Sir George Foster vigorously defended the plan adopted, and it was likewise approved by Hon. T. A. Crerar, former minister of agriculture. Sir George said that approximately fifty per cent of the surplus wheat crop had been disposed of by the grain board.

He said he did not undertake to state the ultimate price the farmer would receive, because the sale of the remainder of the surplus would spread over several months, and prices might vary considerably.

On second reading of the bill to permit the temporary manufacture, transportation and sale of oleomargarine, Donald Sutherland, J. H. Sinclair and other members raised their objections, but oleomargarine found a friend in Dr. Michael Clark, who defended it as food and as a free trader favored its importation.

Frank Glass, Middlesex, moved the six months' hold, and after some further discussion that was declared lost without a division.

Control Necessary. The government, said Sir George Foster, had not been anxious to undertake any controlled system of marketing the country's crops. It had hoped that now the war was over, the shackles might be removed and trade in wheat be allowed to resume its normal course. However, it developed that under normal methods it would be impossible to find a ready sale for Canadian wheat. To begin with, there was a lack of speedy decisions on the part of European powers as to what amount of wheat they required. They were not sure what their own production would be.

There was also the question of financing. Credits had to be arranged between the Canadian government and European powers before they could contract for our wheat. For these and other reasons it was considered advisable to revert to the system of government control in marketing the crop.

In the brief time the Canadian grain exchange was open, said Sir George, there had been a speculative rise in prices. This was not due to legitimate trading, but to speculation. The government feared, however, that the farmer would get the impression that these higher prices were obtainable and also that outside powers would think Canadian grain was selling at an advance. The farmer would thus be deterred from selling and the purchaser from buying our wheat if speculative trading was allowed.

An Erroneous Idea. The minister of trade and commerce said that the price of $2.15 a bushel had been fixed by the government at a certain basic point. The idea that the farmer would receive this price on bringing his grain to the station, no matter how distant from this point was erroneous. Freight and other charges for carrying the grain to the basic point would, of course, have to be deducted.

Reviewing the work of the Canadian wheat board, Sir George Foster said that every particle of the grain trade today was functioning the same as under the open market. There was the exception that speculative profits were cut off and the farmer got the actual return for his grain, minus expenses of marketing.

The present system was not to be permanent. It was probable that the present would be the last year during which the system of government control would be carried out.

Mr. McKenzie remarked that a very clever speech had been substituted for a satisfactory trade. This, he thought, would be regarded by the western farmers as a very poor deal. The method for disposing of Canada's wheat crop appeared almost absurd. We took our good Canadian money, which we had, by the way, to borrow from the United States, sent it across to the mission in London, which loaned it to various European powers who wanted wheat. In return, we accepted bonds of these countries, which might, or might not be redeemed.

Sir George Foster asked whether Mr. McKenzie was opposed to the principle of extending credits to foreign powers.

Favored Honest Trade. The leader of the Opposition replied that he was not dealing with that question. He favored honest, straightforward trade of the kind which Canada might have with the United States under proper conditions. He had received a telegram from a western farmer. It gave him to understand that farmers in western Canada could obtain a higher price for their wheat in the United States than that set by the Canadian government. If the reciprocity agreement had been passed farmers would now be in a position to sell their wheat in the United States.

Dr. Edwards remarked that when it came to a question of removing the duty on coal or steel, Mr. McKenzie was not so enthusiastic. Dr. Edwards strongly favored the export of Canadian wheat to Europe in the form of flour. Bran and shorts were badly needed in this country, and could be retained here if the wheat were milled in Canada. He suggested providing free transportation for Canadian flour from Canada to Liverpool, in order to encourage its export.

Mr. Crerar made passing reference to reciprocity. He thought that throughout Canada the feeling was in favor of reciprocity with the United States. With regard to the sale of Canadian wheat in the United States, he felt there had been some confusion of thought. Canadian wheat was not going into the United States because the United States would not permit it to go in.

As to the Canadian wheat board, Mr. Crerar thought it was desirable to get away from the artificial restrictions on trade and commerce as soon as possible. But he approved the action of the government in appointing the board, although he thought the board should have been appointed six or eight weeks earlier. He also approved the action of the government in closing the Winnipeg wheat exchange.

The bill was read a second time and the house went into committee.

The bill was reported and stands for third reading.

FIVE ARE SENTENCED TO DIE FOR MURDER OF PHILIP YANNOFF

PETERBORO, Ont., Oct. 9.—At tonight's sitting of the assizes here, Chief Justice Sir William Mulock imposed the death sentence on Thomas Konek, Michael Bahri, Samuel Zaluski, Alexander Martynuk and Philip Rotensky. The date of execution was set for January 14 next. The five men were convicted of the murder of Philip Yannoff, who in June last was shot to death while sleeping in a bunkhouse on the property of the Ontario Rock Company near Havelock.

A recommendation for mercy was added in each case. According to the evidence, the plot to visit the Ontario Rock Company's premises was hatched in Toronto, from which city all five of the prisoners came. A dramatic conclusion to the trial came today, when Zaluski, Martynuk and Rotensky went into the witness box and confirmed in detail the evidence presented by the crown.

The evidence offered by the crown was that of the last three named prisoners pointed to Konek as the man who fired the shot that killed Yannoff. Rotensky was the motive for the murder.

After Yannoff was killed the gang made a systematic search of the man in the bunkhouse, and secured a large amount of money, including a belt containing money, from Yannoff as he lay in his bunk.

The last of the witnesses was heard today, and at 8 o'clock this morning sentence was passed on each of the five men.

None of the men had anything to say as to why the sentence of the court should not be imposed. Chief Justice Mulock almost broke down as he imposed the death sentence on the fifth man. His lordship characterized it as the most distressing and painful duty in his judicial life, and as the men were sentenced he left the courtroom without waiting to adjourn the court.

ACTION, THRILLS, IN
"AGE OF THE SADDLE," PATRICIA THEATRE

Wild Scenery, Pretty Girls and Harry Carey, Star, the Features.

Action, action, everywhere and every minute of the action, with any amount of that next-to-impossible horseman-ship without which no western picture is complete. These are some of the features which make "The Age of the Saddle," with Harry Carey starring, shown last night at the Patricia Theatre, one of the best of such pictures and well worth missing another engagement to see.

But they are not the only features of this fine film. Beautiful, wild scenery, typical hardy men of the ranches and a pretty girl who knows how to act are other attractions which help to make the picture notable.

In addition to the main film the Patricia also shows an excellent two-reel comedy and a Mutt and Jeff cartoon good enough to draw the crowd if there was nothing else.

Hank's review, consisting of seven articles, girls and men, is a worth-while vaudeville act. It is described in the advertising as "classy, girly, jazzy musical frolic of songs, dances and instrumental selections." This hardly does it justice since some of the musical numbers are away ahead of the jazzy class and are executed in an artistic manner.

The same program will be repeated today and Saturday.

ILY ELSIE, ENGLISH BEAUTY STAR, PLAYS "COMRADESHIP" LEAD

Majestic Super Film Delights
Crowded Houses—Has Romance, Scenic Beauty.

Lily Elsie, most beautiful star on the English stage, was admired by a crowded house at the Majestic yesterday in the super-production, "Comradeship."

Many other noted English stars, who, with Miss Elsie, have become famous on the legitimate stage and in the movies, comprise the cast. Picture is ideal.

The picture is ideal in every sense. Nothing in its production has been overlooked. There are scenes of London, England, and of its many notable places, including Buckingham Palace. There are war scenes, with the cruel sight of the usual war pictures left out.

The story opens in an English village, when peace and quiet prevailed just before the war. It shows how the war as a great melting pot brought all classes to the same view of life. Just prior to August, 1914, in the days of a prevalent unrest, John Armstrong, proprietor of the village emporium, spends a great portion of his time preaching universal peace. But with these activities he still finds time to

GRAND VAUDEVILLE PLEASES CLEVELAND C. OF C. MEN HERE

Five New Keith Acts in All-Star Bill, With Doug Fairbanks Film.

With a complete change of vaudeville last night, the program at the Grand Theatre, featuring Douglas Fairbanks, in his first "Big Four" film, "One of the Blood," is well balanced and will be repeated today and tomorrow. Members of the Cleveland chamber of commerce, numbering 27, were present at the performance last night as guests of the Grand, and all star attractions which went over with a flourish last night.

Tom Padillo, with his accordion, provided the opening number, his rendition of popular and classic airs on this instrument being very good, while a pleasing feature of his turn was the singing of several selections with his own accompaniment, which forced him to respond to several encores. Lester and Vincent, a black-face comedian and female partner, regaled the audience with humor in their offering entitled "Community Service." Special stage settings added to the charm of this act, and the intricate dancing steps introduced by the comedian were of high order.

Winsome Girl and "Plant." Peggy Vincent, a winsome miss, entertained with songs and stories, and treated those present with a distinctly novel surprise in producing a gentleman "plant" from the audience, who furnished excellent comedy at the expense of himself and Miss Vincent. Accepting her dare to appear on the stage to sing, he provided a real treat with his singing, as this clever artist possesses a wonderful singing voice, which he uses to advantage.

Bert Wilson, Josephine LeCroz and Company, in a comedy sketch entitled "Cold Coffee," present a bright little playlet, which is a skit of married life, satirizing with wit. The ridiculous situations in this number render it exceedingly funny, and the trio playing their respective parts cleverly, bring out the humor involved. Despite the fact that all which equals the Aerial Lavalis outdo their fellow-entertainers in an aerial stunt, entitled, "Looping the Loop on the Trapeze." The ludicrous side comedy in this act kept the house in an uproar and excited favorable comment from everybody.

Doug keeps "Em Guessing." Doug Fairbanks, showing at the Grand all week in "One of the Blood," keeps everyone guessing as to what he will do next. It is a good clean vehicle, with heaps of plot and action, and Doug is in the fun at all stages of the game. The film starts with him in a wild nightmare, a rush to a tenement fire, to a police raid on an underworld diva, then to Mexico and the border, where he cleans up the bandits; then to Europe, where he takes a hand at boxing a revolution—and while the spectators are fagged out and worn to a frazzle by the pace he has set, he does it all over again, calm and smiling, in the next show—and one is tempted to stay and see him do it. Everything that has been claimed for "One of the Blood" is more than borne out in the production. The picture has been splendidly put on, and the cast supporting Fairbanks is exceptional. Marjory Daw, who has been seen before in numerous of Doug's pictures, is with him again, and Frank Campeau, Lillian Langdon, E. H.

Southern's talented brother Sam, Phil Gastrox and many other help Fairbanks in fine shape. The direction of the picture is credited to Joseph Hen-levy.

All in all, this feature film scores, and scores heavily. It is about as much honest, wholesome fun as can possibly be crowded into a film, and will be repeated at the Grand today and tomorrow.

WAR ON RATS RENEWED, NOW "GREAT" WAR ENDED

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—The war on rats, which was suspended while the war was in progress, is being renewed by the ministry of agriculture, which estimates that property to the value of $250,000,000 is destroyed in the United Kingdom every year by rats.

The chief rat inspector of the board of agriculture estimates that each rat destroys property to the value of about $5 every year, while an official of the British Medical Association lays the spread of many deadly diseases, including trench fever, to rats.

Already precautions have been taken at the London docks which will prevent rats from landing from ships, and which, if they do land, speedily ends in their death.

KING WILL PROBABLY SIGN TREATY TODAY

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The King's copy of the German peace treaty will probably be signed by King George tomorrow and forwarded to Paris, it was learned today by the Associated Press. It is expected that the signing by the King will be followed by his peace proclamations. (This would complete Great Britain's ratification of the peace treaty.)

Will Gompers Kill Red Leadership in Labor's Rank

As many observers see it, the calling of the steel strike at this time reveals the purpose of certain revolutionary radicals to wrest control of the American Federation of Labor from the hands of Mr. Gompers and the other moderate-minded leaders and place the Reds in the saddle, thus making it "the first gun of the industrial revolution." Senator Kenyon declares that the strike is "the first skirmish in an industrial war in the United States," and the New York Times agrees that "it is industrial war in which the leaders are radicals, social and industrial revolutionaries, while their followers are chiefly the foreign element among the steel workers, steeped in the doctrines of the class struggle and social overthrow, ignorant and easily misled." "The authority and leadership of Mr. Gompers are at stake in this strike," adds the New York Times; "He has no liking for the revolutionary element in labor; for years he has fought against it; he has known the radicals were all the time seeking to destroy him." On the other hand, Mr. Gompers, himself defends William Z. Foster, who is said to be "the brains of the whole campaign to unionize the steel industry" and a radical.

PERSONAL.
REMINDER TO INCONSIDERATE
husbands. "Charity begins at home."
Don't be going around expressing admiration for the hard lot of some men's wives while your own is at home struggling with a heavy washing, with an equally heavy ironing staring her in the face for next day. Tell her to send it each week in a white wagon to the Forest City Laundry. Better still, phone 3881, and send it yourself.
Whenever you are inclined to forget the fact, remember that "Charity begins at home." (Signed) Women's Health League.
