Will Have Nothing To Do But Inspect Public Buildings, Judge Advises.

The grand jury sworn in at the fall assizes, which commenced at the court house this afternoon, will have nothing to do except inspect public buildings, such as the court, jail. Ontario Hospital and Victoria and St. Joseph's Hospital.
Mr. Justice Wright told the jurors that their duties on this occasio were light.

"Ordinarily this would signify no criminal cases, but on this occasion there are some," said the judge. "They were attended to, however, by a previous grand jury.

"The grand jury system has existed hundreds of years. Its usefulness has been proven on many occasions. Now and then there have been agitations to abolish it, yet the great mass of public opinion is to continue the grand jury system.
"It is a beneficial thing in any community to have men not lawyers or court officials to take part in the or court officials to take part in the administration of justice.

"Another reason is that from time immemorial the grand jury has shown independence of spirit.

"It will be your duty to inspect the jail and other public buildings and to make any comments or recommendations you may see fit. There are government inspectors who visit the jail, but that does not deprive you of your right to see that no person is improperly confined. It is also your duty to comment on any matter of public interest outside of politics."

Bible Students Is Bearing Fruit.

"Japan and the Earthquake" was the subject of Rev. Bruce Hunter's sermon for the morning service at First Methodist Church yesterday. He based his remarks on Ellijah's speech from the book of Kings, where the prophet spoke of experiencing first an earthquake, then a wind, lastly a fire, and after these things, a still, small voice.

In introducing his subject, Mr. Hunter reviewed the great disasters of history, and stated that in every case, although the disaster had been accompained by a lamentable loss of life and property, it had always been the precursor to greater and better things. As in the life of the individual, so in the life of nations, trials and tribulations always tended toward a higher standard of excellence, both in the reconstruction of the ruined property and also in the better and bigger outlook of the citizens of the afflicted country. That the people of Japan are able to face their calamity squarely, and reconstruct a finer Japan from the ashes of the old, he has not the slightest doubt.

Another side of the question which Rev. Hunter stressed when he made an appeal for funds for the relief of Japan, was the question as to why this affliction had been visited on that country. For years, he stated, the western nations have looked with the gravest suspicion and distrust on the actions and aims of the Japanese. The war was supposed to have drawn all nations nearer together into a closer bond of union. In the case of Japan and Canada and the United States the reverse seems to have been the case, and in his own mind, Mr. Hunter is convinced that one of the reasons for the recent upheaval in Japan was the needed opportunity for Canada and the States to show that they were big enough and human eniough to cast aside all the past foolish talk about "yellow peril" and the aspirations of Japan, and to replace this mallicious meanness with a spirit of generous giving which would enable Japan to recover more quickly from the devastation which fell on Nippon.

TRIAL OF MURRELL AND SLIM WILLIAMS OPENS AT ASSIZES

Courtroom Crowded as Opposing Counsel Prepare For Battle With Human Lives as the Stake-Sixty-One Jurors Summoned From Which to Pick Trial Jury.

JUSTICE WRIGHT'S FIRST MURDER CASE

Sid Murrell and Slim Williams were brought into the prisoners' box at 2:45.

Sidney Ernest (Curly) Murrell and Henry Jack (Slim) Williams, alias William Henry Baughan, are on trial for their lives at the court house this afternoon, facing charges of murdering Russell Campbell Melbourne war veteran, at Melbourne, on April 16, 1921.
Although it was expected at first

Although it was expected at first there might be some delay, Crown Prosecutor T. J. Rigney, K.C., of Kingston, was willing the case should proceed at once.

When court opened at 2:04, two provincial policemen stood guard at the prisoner's box. Sid Murrell and Slim Williams had not appeared.

The grand jury list was called, and the grand jury instructed to retire to pick a foreman.

Murrell showed no sign of the tried separately first. Several city men a he entered the prisoner's box he glanced about the room. After being legs, and attempted to rold his arms. Handcuffs prevented him from doing Refuses Jury Lists.

This morning Sheriff Donald A. Graham refused to allow the press to copy the jury lists. Even the grand jury list was denied the papers, the sheriff stating: "You can get the names when they are called in the courtroom." It has always been cus-tomary for the papers to obtain the lists on the day the court opens. All morning telephone calls were being received at the various courthouse offices, lawvers and other citizens inquiring as to the time Murrell

From all the back concession county constables flocked to the courthouse to guard its portals against the invasion of a curious crowd. At noon, when they discovered that the crowd did not arrive as early as was expected, they dispersed for lunch, returning at 1 o'clock.

Murder Trial

On Trial-Sidney E. (Curly) Murrell and Henry Jack (Slim) Villiams. Trial Judge—Hon. Mr. Justice

C., Kingston.

Defense Counsel—J. M. Donahue, London.

Sixty-one jurymen, including thirteen grand jurymen summoned. Forty witness expected. Court opened at 2 p.m. Murder of Russell Campbell alleged to have been committed at 11:45 a.m., Monday, April 10, 1921.

The grand jury list was called, and the grand jury instructed to retire to pick a foreman.

During their absence, a civil jury cases was added and two jury cases adjourned to the next court.

J. M. Curry was chosen foreman of the grand jury. Edmund Weld, clerk of court, cautioned the foreman of the jury as to his duties.

The following grand jury were then sworn: Alex. Armstrong, William Bawden, George Brooks, James A. Carruthers, Hugh McNeil, George Slade, Arthur W. White, Dougall W. Gillies, William E. Lee, Byron Marsh, Ben. F. Nolan, Edwin Powell. The judge then addressed the jury. Practically all the witnesses for the crown and defence are seated in a special section of the court reserved for them. They will be excluded as soon as the case gets under way. Hon. Mr. Justice Wright is on the bench. This is the first murder case he has been assigned to since his recent appointment.

Murrell and Williams were calm when they were brought into the box. They came up the stairway which leads from the jail directly to the courtroom. Williams glanced nervously about the room, but did not seem to recognize anyone in the room, with the exception of a few of the reporters seated directly in front of him at the press table.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1923.

The Highest Court.

It does seem, after looking over the Home Bank investments and the manner of their making, that one of the big steps in advance must be that a bank shall function as a bank and not as a private mint for the favored few. The Barnard loan, which is receiving so much noticeand which, we hope, will receive still more—is a case in point. Mr. Barnard was president of the Davie Shipbuilding Company, and also a director of the Home Bank. The shipbuilding company's start coincides with a loan of $100,000 made to it by the Home Bank. Its chief work during its short existence was building ships for the French government, and at one time these operations made an overdraft on the Home Bank of $3,500,000.

The bank's one chance was to get its money out when the French government paid for the ships. But instead of paying for them the French government refused to accept them at all. They were thrown back, not on the Davie Company, but on the Home Bank.

The proposition was made that the ships be put out on a rum-running project, but of course a bank could not touch such a trade. So they formed a "holding company," and through the holding company got into a final big loss.

The first project of the Davie Ship building Company was never a good one. But when the bank officials touched a scheme to form a holding company they were taking even a worse step for this reason: Under the Banking Act they could not put boats in a rum-running business, but under a holding company they could pass out from under the ruling of the Banking Act, so the holding company was apparently brought into existence to get away from the law that is there for the protection of the public and the guidance of the bankers. It is doubtful if government in spection could be well established, ause a bank failure would mean that the voters at the next election would take out their grievance on Then, too, there is the suspicion that things could be so manipulated that a smash could take place just as well after inspection as before.

A perusal of Home Bank and other similar occurrences in the past brings out something lacking that is higher than law, viz., a positive and honorable recognition on the part of bank officials and directors that the people of the country have conadence in them. There is something radically wrong with men who do not respond to that knowledge. It would be very hard to pass a law that would keep a tight rein on a man who, seeing the workers of the country passing in and leaving their small amounts in the care of the bank, would dare take that hardearned trust and put it to a use through some holding company, that he knows would not measure up to the Banking Act.

There is no higher court of appeal than the recognition of trust and the expectation of honorable dealing. If there is no response to the appeal of that court, it will be a hard matter to produce laws that are iron-clad enough to insure safety.

None Too Soon.

Mr. R. P. Gough has resigned as a director of the National Railways. It is unfortunate, indeed, that his retirement cannot be accepted with feelings of regret.

Mr. Gough's plain duty was to have retired as soon as he started using his position as a Home Bank director to solicit business from the National Railways of which he was also a director.

Keeping in Shape.

In the spring he used to work in the garden; he dug up a big lot, manured it, raked it, put in row after row of seeds, bulbs and roots.

Dangerous Fiction.

The Toronto Telegram's boasted interest in the success of public ownership is a frail thing. It gives way at every opportunity it can create to say something destined to hurt Sir Henry Thornton.

In a recent issue it said: "If the leadership of Hon. W.
L. M. King and Sir Henry Thornton cannot carry the next federal elections for the Conservative party, no other leaders need attempt the impossible."

We never heard that Sir Henry Thornton was particularly interested in the success or failure of the Liberal party in Canada. He was not brought here for that purpose.

The Liberal party has never asked him to be interested in its rise or fall. It has made known its intention of leaving him alone to run the National Railways. It has quarreled with members of its own party who wished to bring political influence to bear in securing appointments to the directorate and other positions. There is no such thing as a leadership of Hon. W. L. M. King and Sir Henry Thornton.

Any paragraph that seeks to create that impression is doing an injustice to the head of the National Railways, and can only be interpreted as an attempt to place the fortunes of the Conservative party above the success of the National Railways.

Peace in the West.

The chairman of Hon. Arthur Meighen's meeting at Weyburn, Sask., told his audience that the expremier was not out to better the chances of the Conservative party.

Mr. Meighen returned to Ottawa after making thirty of these "non-political" speeches.

The staff reporter of the Mail and Empire hastened to interview him, and the very first thing he talked about was:

MUSIC AS A DEFENCE.

Thou wilt compass me about with songs of deliverance.-Ps. xxxii., 7. The counterpart to this psalm of repentance and joy is the gospel y of the prodigal son. And in both there is "music and dancing.

This verse carries with it a picture and an idea. It suggests a company of friends joining hands and singing around son that was lost and is found.

Their songs are his guard; they surround him like a wall. Pure music is a protection to the soul. If anyone is merry, let him sing; and the little devils who are always waiting to spoil every pleasure by perverting it to evil, will fly away, like bats from a cavern where a torch is kindled. Good music is a defence against bad thoughts.

But the time for joyful music is not when the prodigal is in the far country wasting his substance in riotous living or feeding on husks among the swine, but when he comes to himself and goes home. Yet in some churches the doleful music is enough to discourage any eturning wanderer.

I have never sung, and will never sing, a hymn about hell. If you believe in it, surely it's nothing to sing about. (Copyright, 1923, by The Republic Syndicate.)

It may indicate a relatively unimportant trouble, called glycosuria. The cause of this passing disturbance may be an un-distanced diet. Perhaps the food has been overrich in sugars and starch. In diabetes, as in every form of sickness, it is necessary, first of all, to keep the patient free from worry. It makes no difference whether he be suffering from acute or chronic diabetes, the prospect of cure or control should be kept before him.

If lawful, what is to prevent them giving away other tens of thousands to sport or other organizations? Kindly inform, yours, Answer—The amount for the Western Fair was included in the estimates for the year, and provision made for it that way because it was considered advisable to have a lower admission price. It is doubtful if, in a strict interpretation of the provisions of the municipal act, the grant gould be passed were any person determined to stop it.

Sir, —Will you please aflow me space in your paper to criticize those who say that God Almighty, the Creator, was the cause of our last great war, and then after starting it He could not stop it. Nor all the aad things that have befallen humanity. He who made the universe and who counts the earth as but a grain of dust, then has not the power to prevent puny man from engaging in war and doing evil. Such a thought is rather purile. Well, then, you say, why does God permit evil in the earth? The Bible gives the only true answer. God created man perfect, with the right to choose good or evil. Choose you today whom you will serve, the world or your creator, and with the warning that disobedience would bring death. St. Paul says in Romans v, 12-19, the disobedience of Adam brought sin and death into the world, but God in His mercy gave His only begotten Son to redeem man from destruction. The past 1900 years the Lord has been selecting His church, not the 600 or more sects that call themselves churches, but only those who are true Christians.

A WORD FOR THE PIG. Editor of The Advertiser: Sir.—The person who started that saying that "he eats like a pig" did saying that "he eats like a pig" did not have a very wide experience. I suppose the meaning is that a pig is the hardest and fastest eater in the business. Of course, a pig is a great eater, and he never seems to know when he has enough. When the swill goes in the trough he is there along with his brothers and sisters, and he does persist in putting both feet right up in the trough. All that is admitted.

All that is admitted But to my mind the very much domesticated hen is just as much a hog when it gets a chance as any pig ever hoped to be. Were you ever around when the scraps from ever around when the scraps from the table were taken out to the chicken yard? Why, the average hen will grab off a piece of meat or potato or pie crust three or four times as big as it can swallow and then proceed to choke it down. How she does it has always puzzled me. I have seen some of them with a piece of meat stuck in their neck five or ten minutes, just gulping and piece of meat stuck in their neck five or ten minutes, just gulping and gulping to try and make it go down.

They will chase other chickens all over the yard trying to take away a morsel that has fallen to their lot, and I never remember yet seeing a chicken that had eaten so much that it would quit. Sometimes at night when I pick them up to put them on other roosts their crop will be swollen and so full that it is away off to the side of the neck. I have fed both pigs and chickens for a number of years, and believe that the hen is every bit as greedy as the pig, if not more so.

WINTER IN ALGONQUIN PARK.

The Canadian National Railways have decided to keep open the "Highland Inn" during the coming winter from December 15th, 1923, to March 15th, 1924. This announcement will be received with much interest by those who have enjoyed the wonderful experience of visiting the Algonquin Park in winter. The park is just the out-of-the-way sort of a place for a holiday or rest and recuperation for those who are rundown and need a change. At an altitude of 2,000 feet the air is pure and bracting. All winter sports are indulged in at the Highland Inn, which is situated 200 miles north of Toronto and 170 miles west of Ottawa. As the accommodation is limited reservations should be made early. A Problem Solved

When you are at a loss what to serve for lunch or when you want to give your guests something different-your problem is solved.

Serve Porto Rico Sandwiches. They are novel and tasty, a delightful combination of fragrant bacon, piquant cheese, spicy cucumber pickles and a garnishing of crisp green lettuce leaves. An appetizing, inexpensive sandwich, ideal for any occasion.

PORTO RICO SANDWICHES

2 square slices Neal's Bread

1 ounce Canadian cheese

1 small cucumber pickle 2 lettuce leaves

Cook bacon until crisp and brown. Remove crusts from bread and spread lightly with fat left from cooking bacon. Cover with very thin slices of cheese, then with thin round slices of cucumber pickle. On the other slice of bread place the bacon. Put the two slices together, cut once diagonally, and toast first on one side, then on the other.

When making this sandwich assure yourself of getting the best results by using perfect bread. Use

LLOYD GEORGE PREDICTS GERMAN DICTATORSHIP

FIREMEN OUTLINE VARIOUS BENEFITS FROM THEIR UNION

Claim There Would Be No Possibility of Men Going On Strike.

REVIEW REPORTS

With some of the views in the Brittain report the members of the London Fire Fighters' Association agree, and with other parts they disagree. Nor are they in accord with a number of statements that have appeared in print tending to show that their union interferes in any way with the management or discipline of the department. Their answer to any or all of these charges is that they would like the names and dates pro duced.

national would not sanction such a thing.

"A strike is one thing that we have never considered, and do not want to consider," said one of the officers of the department. "We are all London men, and all we have is light here in this city. Through our nion we have been able to bring about a better feeling among the men. To a large extent we have been able to do away with political or any other kind of influence in getting on the department or in getting promotion after men were there."

"What would you say have been the things accomplished by your union?" asked The Advertiser.

Benefits of Union.

Benefits of Union. "We got the platoon, or two-shift system in operation. We think citisystem in operation. We think citizens recognize this as the only fair way to run a department. We have succeeded in getting a holiday schedule that runs from May to October instead of from February to December as it used to be. In the old days some of the men got holidays at a time of the year when they were of no use or no pleasure and the present plan makes it much better for all and does not interfere with the working of the department.

working of the department.
"We also took up the question of winter and summer uniforms. We get no more suits than formerly, but we alternate between a winter suit and a lighter one for summer, whereas we used to have to wear the heavy winter suits all the year. This does not cost the city as much, because the summer suit has no vest. We have taken up the matter of wages at different times, and No. 1 committee of the council has looked into our case, and we have received increases

"We want to make this point very plain, and that is that our union has no desire to interfere with the work-ing or the discipline of the depart-ment. It stands to reason that we do not want to have a shirker or an incompetent man around the place. We believe we have a body of men in the fire department, everyone of whom is ready and anxious all the time to do his bit to the limit, and we want to keep it that way. If the chief thinks he has any man or men in the stations who is laying down on the job, or who is not discharging his full duty, then we want him to go ahead and take action. In the matter of promotions we hold that senior men on the department should have an opportunity to make good in any advancement that comes up. There is no desire on the part of any member of the union to use any outside influence to try and gain advancement or preference over any other man on the

The stage is set, the performers ready. Your mood this evening ealls for the inspiring strains of Verdi. Suddenly you hear Caruso singing "Celeste Aida" - (Heavenly Aida) - clear, sweet, vibrant, real as life itself. For the moment you sit in an orchestra seat at the opera-with all its pomp and pageantry.

Then perhaps you long for the sweet strains of "The Last Rose of Summer"-and as the soft clear notes of Elman's violin sound in your ears, you can all but see him draw his bow across the magic strings.

But whether it be Caruso, or Elman, or the boom of Sousa's band, or the latest happy-go-lucky dance hit, - "HIS MASTER'S VOICE" Victrola and "HIS MASTER'S VOICE"-VICTOR Records prove their superiority by making you forget the man-made reproduction and remember only the sensation of having living artists and real musical instruments-a few feet beyond the chair in which you sit.

And by virtue of such masterly performance "HIS MASTER'S VOICE" Victrola is the standard by which all instruments are judged. Often this causes many to refer to all instruments as Victrolas but for your own best interests as well as ours, remember there is only one real genuine Victrola—and that bears our famous trade - mark "HIS MASTER'S VOICE" under the lid. Be very careful to see that it is on the instrument you buy.

We hold that the men have as much right to belong to the International Fire Fighters' Union as the chief of the department has to belong to the Fire Chiefs' organization. There are places where the chief is asked to come in at meetings of the union and address the men, or talk matters over with them, and in this way a great organization has been built up. We simply want fair treatment, and wish, above all else, that the citizens should have a thorough understanding of our position. Condemns Criminal Carelessness Dorothy Dix Think"
Is No Excuse

The Best Intentions in the World Won't Keep You From Hurting Those You Love Most-Unless You Think Before You Act or Speak.

Five boys who rocked a boat and overturned it, thereby drowning two ther boys who couldn't swim, have been indicted for involuntary manslaughter.

And here's hoping that they willbe convicted and get a good stiffsentence in prison as a just punishment for their criminal carelessness, and as a warning to the multitudes of people who consider that they excuse all their sins of omission, and commission, by saying that they "didn't think."

"I didn't think!" "I didn't think!" It is the justification of an idiot, yet we are forced to accept it every day from intelligent individuals as an' explanation of why they failed in the common courtesies and decencies of life, or for their having done things so cruel that they might have been inspired by malice itself.

After all, the motive matter's little. It is the deed that counts. The victim of at him that he "didn't think" was loaded is just as dead as if he had been intentionally murdered. It doesn't console the wife or mother who weeps above the coffin of her husband, or only son, to know that he was slain through carelessness and not by design. The office boy who unthinkingly throws a lighted cigarette in a wastepaper basket can start just as big a fire, and wreck a factory just as completely as the most accomplished arsonist could. It doesn't save the nanufacturer from loss and, perhaps, bankruptcy to know that when the office boy flung away his half-smoked cigarette he was thinking about the baseball score and nothing else, and had not the faintest desire to ruin Very few of us have enemies who openly revile us, and seek to do us harm. Most of us go through life without anybody ever concocting any deep, dark, sinister plot against us. But none of us escape being foiled in our ambitions and checkmated in our plans, and hurt, and wounded in a thousand ways that destroy our peace and happiness

And nine times out of ten, the unconscious villain who upsets our applecart is some member of our own family, or some friend, some one who loves us and who would not willingly do us an evil turn, but who, through criminal carelessness, does us more harm minute than our deadliest foe could do in a week.

An irate father, impatient with the follies of youth, proclaims to all who will listen to him that John is a young fool and a loafer and waster. and the boy has to go away from home to get a start because his father has prejudiced the community against him. A garrulous wife, who tells that her husband's business is in a bad shape, and that he doesn't know where he is going to get the money to meet his obligations, kills a man's credit at the bank and throws him into bankruptcy.

A babbling mother complains that Janie was out till all hours of the night; that she will run with that fast crowd, and that she doesn't know what the world's coming to-and Janie's reputation is hopelessly smirched. An indiscreet friend happens to find out about some property you are thinking of buying and casually mentions the fact—and the deal on which you stood to make a neat little turnover goes blooey.

None of these people set out with malice aforethought to do a deadly injury to anyone, least of all to their families. Nothing was further from the father's thoughts than to kill his son's prospects. The wife would have been horrified at the mere suggestion that she was ruining her husband. The mother would have died sooner than blacken her daughter's name. Nothing would have bribed the friend to have betrayed your business secret, yet they all committed these crimes through want of thought. They never stopped to consider the consequences of what they said, and the results were just the same as if they had been inspired by malignity. And it's the results that matter.

enjoy deliberately torturing a fellow creature, but there are legions of people who could qualify as chief inquisitor through the criminal carelessness of what they say. These are they who tell a sick person how their ple in the world who are cruel enough to grandmother died of the same disease he has, after she had spent a fortune going to the best physicians. They imitate the stumbling gait of cripples in the presence of a lame man. They have an unceasing fund of humorous inecdotes about old maids' efforts to capture a husband that they tell to spinsters, and they delight to tease the wife of a philanderer about her jusband's affairs with other women

Let anybody have a skeleton within their closet and such a one is dead sure to rattle its bones, not on purpose but simply because he "doesn't think" how his words open a closed door on a bitter memory, or tear apart an old wound, or stab anew a pride that always bleeds.

And if we are criminally careless in doing the things we should not do, we are equally guilty th not doing the things we should do. The letters we meant to write; the visits we meant to pay to the old and lonely; the word of praise we meant to say; the appreciation we meant to voice, and that we never do.

doctor told me once that the most heartrending scene he ever wit-A doctor told me once that the most heartrending scene he ever witnessed was at the deathbed of a woman who had literally perished of heart hunger. Her husband was a hard, cold, stern man who had never said one affectionate word to her in the whole of their married life. But when he knew that his wife was dying, on bended knee he sobbed out to her the devotion and admiration he had always felt for her.

"Why did you not tell me this before?" asked the wife. "I could have ved and been so happy if I had only known that you cared for me." "I never thought," said the man.

"It is too late now," the woman replied, and turned her face to the wall

An old colored woman I once knew used to punish her children severely whenever they made the excuse that they didn't think. "Didn't think, didn't think!" she would exclaim. "What did God give you a thinker for if you don't use it?" So say we all.

God help us to use our thinker and not be guilty of criminal care-DOROTHY DIX.

great quantities and introduced into shoe stores all over the country, especially in the smaller towns and rural communities. The origin of the coppet-toed shoe is as follows:

George, A. Mitchell was a poor farmer residing in the village of Turner Me., 60 years ago. His children kicked the toes out of their shoes faster than he could afford to buy new ones. It occurred to him to cut out pieces from a sheet of copper that happened to be handy and fasten them over the toes. Thus fortified, one pair of shoes, he found, would last three times the ordinary length of time. He patented the idea, making his his his length of the country special parts of the contract of of time. He patented the idea, making his claim cover shoe-tips of silver or other metals (with preference, however, for copper), and it brought him more money than a lifetime of farm work could have yielded.

Yankees Maul McGraw's Pitchers' Parade For 14 Solid, Effective Hits

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Oct. 14.—Sweeping forward with pressistible power on the high tide of triumph, the New York Yankees battered the world's champion Giants into subjection today for the second successive time, and took a formidable lead of three games to two in the 1923 struggle for diamond supremacy.

Bafiled at every turn by the marvelous, almost flawless mound work of "Bullet Joe" Bush, reeling under the terrific force of the Yankee bombardment, the Giants were submerged by a score of 8 to 1, put to a rout as complete as it was devastating.

Bush—he of the red flannel shirt and puzzling fork bail—held the Giants at bay with three hits, all of which were made by "Irish" Meusel, whose triple in the second inning led to his team's only score. Except for this brief flurry, Bush was invincible, dominating the game with his masterful flinging, while Yankees, swinging their big guns into action without delay, won the battle with a barrage of seven runs in the first two innings. Two of McGraw's aces, Jack Bentley and Jack Scott, were shelled into retirement in less than three innings, and two others were called into the fray before the echoes of the last fusillade died away.

Another record crowd, a mighty gathering of 62,000 that filled the Yankee Stadium to overflowing, while 50,000 more fought in vain to gain entrance, witnessed the Giant debacle and the Yankee star at its greatest point of scendancy.

The paid attendance of 62,817 eclipsed by nearly 400 the previous record

But even if Nehf is returned victorious in his second appearance, the odds will be all in favor of the American League chempions. McGraw will have no resources left, granting he wins with his ace, while Huggins is strongly entrenched with Sam Jones, who lost to Nehl, although he outpitched his rival; Herb Pennock, southpaw star, who won the second game and saved yesterday's when Shawkey weakened, and Walte Hoyt, victim of the Giants in the first game, who is confident he can come back and win. Bush's performance today stood out in high relief against the ineffective-hombarded from the hill almost as quickly as they went in. "Bullet" Joe had everything, blinding speed, deceptive curves and marvelous control of his forbball. Only 32 men faced him, and, except Meusel, none got the semi-bance of a hit. He walked two, struck out three, and turned back his opposition in rapid-fire order in six of the nine innings.

velous fielding record for the series and Bob Meusel, the Yanks concentrated their attack in the first two innings. Thereafter, with a formidable lead behind Bush, they let down in their offensive.

Including a Homer.

Dugan gathered four hits, including a home run inside the park in the second inning, and scored three runs, while Meusel slugged out three safe blows, including a triple. Fourteen safe hits in all were collected off the Glants' moundsmen, and every player except Pipp added to his batting record.

Jack Bentley. $65,000 southpaw, started the game for the Glants, but was driven to cover under a fusillade in the second inning. Jack Scott, who had been knocked out in less than two innings yesterday, attempted a comeback, but lasted only until the fourth, when he was replaced by Virgil Barnes Barnes stopped further scoring, but was relieved for a pinch-hitter in the eighth, and Claude Jonnard retired the Yankees in order in their last time at bat. Including a Homer.

Yankee Stadium, N. Y., Oct. 14.—I've been around in baseball quite a spell of years, but I never saw such a whooping, laughing bunch of ball players as swarmed into that Yankee clubhouse after Sunday's game. Joe Bush, happier than anybody else, must have made those twenty steps under the stadium in two long leaps. Right after him, in a rushing football formation was Dugan, Meusel, Ward, and even Wally Pippwith his twisted ankle was trying to buck the line. Right in the center of the revolving wedge was Miller Huggins, absolutely shaking with happiness. He was dripping wet and grabbing every player by the hand.

Long before they got up the long flight of steps you could hear the voices, "Great work, Joe: great work boys." Congratulations."

I couldn't distinguish any particular voice because I was shouting like the rest. I didn't have much to spout about on my account today, but the Yankees and wally were out there working and perspiring as though each Giant batter was the only batter left in the world. And working with them at every turn of the game was the solid membership of the Yankee Bail Club, manager, logy. The lower was a sensation at the bat and in the field, or that I was the weakest batter in the Yankee line-up, were only small items in the final result.

Bigger Than Dreamed.

The "Big Day" prayer for Joe and Wally were out there cheering, with the Yankee line-up, and were breaking in as 2 young world series battery with Connie Mack. As each ball was jitched and received, the little women who have rooted year after year for Joe and Wally were for the Athletics. Joe and Wally were traded to the Red Sox and every time they worked together the same little boosters were out there cheering, win or lose. Then all through those two lough years with the Yankees against the Giants they kept on telling Joe and Wally the big day would surely come. But today, Oct. 14. was a particular was the only batter left in the world. And working with them at every turn of the game was the solid me race on Saturday afternoon, when they triumphed over the Montrealers at Varsity stadium by 17 to 0, while Ottawa was staging an unexpected return to pre-season form against Hamilton Tigers, and as a result of the day's games the Scullers are in a good position to make it four successive interprovincial championships. Saturday marked the half-way mark in the Big Four schedule, and the Argos appear to have the easiest journey to the finish line. They should repeat in Montreal against the Wing Wheelers, as they show a decided superiority here, and although Ottawa looks good on Saturday's showing, they should bow to the Scullers here. On the performances to date, the Double Blueshardest game in the remainder of the league season is that in Hamilton on November 10.

Despite the decisive victory of the state of the league season is that in Hamilton on November 10.

Blue and Whites Look Like District Champs-Petrolia's Poor Condition Costly.

Petrolia, Oct. 14.—Before a crowd of 1,500 fans the Hard Oils lost their chances for the district title here this afternoon, when the fast Sarnia squad romped away with a 20-1 score. How-ever, the score does not indicate the play, as the teams battled right through the whole game.

ever, the score does not indicate the play, as the teams battled right through the whole game.

Lack of condition and inability to stop the plunges of the visitors proved the locals' undoing. The bucking of Wilson and Smith of Sarnia, coupled with the open running of Perry and Karn, defeated the Green and Whites.

The Blue and White squad are a well-trained team, and Coach Newton is to be congratulated on his success in turning out such a fine crew. Sarnia looks like the district winners and will likely go far into the intermediate finals. Mandeville and Scharf on the line were the best for the locals, while Hopper played a good game at quarter. Misselbrokke, the Hard Oils center half, out-punted his opponent by far, and his ability to hold the ball for several minutes on the kirk formation was a valuable asset to his team.

Sarnia's Huge Defeat of Hard Oils Worries Locals Into Big Week's Effort

Hard Oils Defeat Puts New Pep Into Local Grid Squad

The local rugby squad's reaction to the report of the Sarnia massacre of the Hard Oils was shown today, when without any paging, the players vol-untarily informed rugby headquarters that they'd all be out Monday afternoon and for each succeeding afternoon of the week. It will be line work that the locals will nade. Punting played a very little part in Sarnia's victory. Formations on the line that plunged through the Hard Oil first wall did the trick for Sarnia, and it will do the trick for them again, unless the locals tighten up in every department. Lack of condition also told against the Hard Oils, and that error won't be repeated by the locals. Right now, they are in condition also told against the Hard Oils, and that error won't be repeated by the locals. Right now, they are in condition that can easily be shoved up to more than par for the big test Saturday.

Last week, the squad conned over a brand new bunch of signals; they've also got some new plays and formations on the line, which should discourage the low-running, high-handed planging of the Blue and White and a few others, which should batter the Newton line into a reasonable state of mind and subjection.

Heustis will help in the coaching this week in the absence of McEvenue.

CANADIAN HOCKEY TEAM

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, Oct. 13 .- The Canadian ockey team will this year train at

WILL TRAIN AT GRIMSBY

Grimsby, Ontario, and Manager Leo Dandurand hopes to have his men there around November 25. The team will be practically the same as last years line-up, with a number of new additions, notably Morenz of Stratford, Ontario, and Quenneville of Chicoutimi, Quebec. The opening game of the hockey season takes place at Toronto on December, 13, when Canadiens meet St. Patricks.

CHATHAM BRISCOS GET JEWELRY.

Special to The Advertiser.

Chatham, Oct. 14. — Jewelry to the value of $500 will be presented to the players of the Chatham Briscos, winners of the Kent County Baseball League this season, by the Chatham Amateur Athletic Association, with which the ball team was affiliated. Profits of the season were $1.100. A money grant will be made to the newly organized Chatham rugby team.

Saturday's British Soccer Games Are Marked by General Scoring.

London, Cct. 14. — Saturday's fotball produced no change in the league leadership. The continued success of the teams which began well is a notable feature of the season's play. In this respect four teams stand out conspiculously—Cardiff City and Notts County, in the first league; South Shields, in the second, and Swansea, in the southern-section of the third league. Cardiff City is now the only unbeaten team, as the Tranmere Rovers lost to New Brighton at home yesterday. Cardiff, however, suffered a check yesterday, for Chelsea held the leaders down to a draw.

Liverpool has deteriorated, which is not surprising after the strain of winning the championship two years

Bolton, the cup holders, are showing consistent form, while Preston North End are the outstanding fallure. Four goals were scored against them yesterday by Sheffield United. Manchester, United made a successful experiment in Vanguard Bain, the young centre forward who was brought from the reserves to lead an attack. He scored both goals for his team against the Oldham Athletics.

There was an unpleasant game Luton, where Exeter City were e visitors. When these teams met on the previous Saturday seven players were injured, and yesterday three were hurt and two others were ordered off the field. The result appears to be a consistent with the seven beauty and the seven beauty and the seven beauty are the seven beauty and the seve pears to be an argument against return games being played on a suc-ceeding Saturday, when any bad blood has not had time to cool. General scoring was again heavy yesterday, the 44 matches yielding 106 goals, of which the home teams secured 64. Twenty games were won on home grounds—eleven away and thirteen were drawn. The highest score by any team was four.

Graham Staves Off Royals 9th Rally and Galt Wins 8-6

Guelph, Oct. 13.-In a slow and listless game with the exception of the Toronto Royals in the final game for the O. B. A. A. senior championship, winning the pennant for the secon consecutive time.

Eight thousand, believed to be a new ttendance record for amateur baseball, came from all parts of Ontari They were disappointed during the early part of the game, when the Ter riers were piling up runs while holding the Royals almost helpless. At the be-the Royals almost helpless. At the beginning of the ninth inning the score was 8 to 2 in favor of Galt.

Heavy hitting at opportune times and fine pitching by Graham, together with almost perfect work in the field, were the most important factors in the victory of the Terriers. Faulty work in the field and the failure of three of the Royals' pitchers, Morris, Drysdale and Ramsay, to stem the tide of hits, also contributed in no small manner to the win of the Galt team. The Toronto nine were plainly outhit and outplayed until their last inning, when a determined rally which netted four hits and as many runs, brought the thousands to their feet in a frenzy of excitement, and which, had it not been for slow base running on the Royals' part and quick fielding on the part of the Terrier outfield, might have ended in disaster for the Galt nine. When Reburn fiew out to Grove and Spring struck out, with Thorne, who had tripled, on base, a mighty cheer went up from the Galt fans.

THISTLES GIVEN

The official opening of the L. A. A. basketball leagues, men and boys, billed for the armories Saturday night, did not take place, owing to the fact that rugby interfered with the boys game, but Thistles defeated Smallman & In-gram Imps 20 to 10, in an exhibition tilt, which, besides being a good game, save the fans an inkling of what close competition they may expect in this loop once things get under way.

The Imps held the Thistles to a 6 to 6 knot for the first period, 10 to 10 again in the second. In the third session, Rene Curnoe was allowed to roam too freely, with the result that five baskets were slipped in, giving the final score a lop-sided appearance that the rest of the game didn't bear out.

All the teams are working out hard every night. Rugby will perhaps continue to play havec with the men's games for some weeks, but girls games will be staged either as exhibitions or as fixtures.

The line-ups Saturday night were:
Thistles—R. Catalano and R. Curnoe, forwards; A. Hazelgrove, center; B. Graves, M. Stevenson and I. Cottrill, guards.

MAKE SÉVENTEEN HITS IN FIFTH SERIES GAME

Associated Fress Despatch.

New York, Oct. 14—Eactly 248 pitched balls were delivered by the rival Giant and Yankee twirlers in the fifth game of the world's series at the Yankee Stadium today, 51 less than in Saturday's clash at the Polo Grounds.

Ninety-seven of the 248 were called balls, 59 called strikes, 22 foul strikes, 16 fouls, 26 infield outs, 15 outfield outs, two infield errors, and 17 were hit safely. As in the four preceding games, Giant flingers were called upon to deliver many more than the Yankee twirler who opposed them, Bentley, Scott, Barnes and Jonnard piling up a pitched ball total of 141, compared with the 107 of Joe Bush.

Rose Bailey quickly put a damper on any such enthusiasm to save money. And she was successful in persuading her father that he had enough to do with his chickens. The was his hobby, but since his retirement from more strenuous farming and his removal from the old farm to this house that had been left to him by his sister-whom he and his daughter both called "Aunt Til"-i had yielded enough to provide some of the luxuries which he might other wise have regarded as extravagance Mr. Bailey continued his musings anent the painting of the house

And it wouldn't be a whole lot extra work, do you think, Rose?"
> "Why, no," said Rose, a little dubious. "If he'd do it, I suppose it would be all right. Did you speak to him about it?"

"No, but Mrs. Simkins said she would have a talk with him and something might come of it." Rose Bailey went on correcting her English papers and the next interruption was a knock on the front door. Rose looked at her father and gave her hair a little prrective pat or two, and her father brushed away the pipe ashes that had fallen on the front of his waist-coat. And then Rose went to the door.

The young man who presented himself looked a little surprised as he entered the room. "I wonder if this is the right house. Mrs. Simkins said that you were interested in my work. Is this Mr. Bailey?"

"It certainly is," assured Mr. Bailey. "You're the young painter she was speaking about, aren't you?"

"I am, and my name is John Lewis. I don't know whether you've seen any of my work," he was saying, and Mr. Bailey interrupted.

"Oh, that wouldn't hardly be necessary," he said. "I expect one painting job is pretty much like another, so long as you know how to mix the paints and lay it on smooth."

John Lewis looked puzzled and then he laughed. "I guess you are about willing to use an army not merely to exploit a victory of the fleet, but actually if need be to contribute to it on a large scale. All else was unand how he would do, when and how he would do it, remained a secret of the sphinx. But the timely to concentration of whatever forces were available was urged. I did my best to see that this at least should not break down, and I used the success of the fleet at the outer forts as a spur.

On march 10 the twenty-ninth division was ordered to Lemnos and on March 16 the earliest of its transports sailed. The war office, however, did not embark it in the ships in any order or organization to fight on arrival at its destination.

And Aunt Mary, blushing like a bride, shook her head. "Not a thing," she said. "And this is our first Moffat dinner."

'Well, it's a dandy," chimed in Pa. "Tastes like it's cooked on a Moffat all right."

Then quiet little Mrs. Smith piped up:

"Whatever kind of range is a Moffat? And why is it so much better than any other?" Whereupon Ma considered it her turn to speak.

"A Moffat," says Ma, "is the best-constructed electric cooking range made. It is made of Armco Iron and porcelain—all enameled—and is absolutely rust-proof. And it cooks food better than other ranges, because you can regulate the heat and cook at the proper rate of speed for each particular kind of food.

"And its enameled-porcelain oven is a marvel! It roasts and bakes to perfection—and without any trouble. It's properly ventilated, and you regulate its heat by the switch and by the thermometer. And it cleans just like glass!"

The Moffat is a wonder, Sis. It has so many special features that you will not find in other electric ranges, for they are Moffats' own inventions, and are protected by patent. These are, its reciprocating switches, removable drip tray below elements, sliding doors covering all cut-outs, outside terminals fitted in porcelain bases, and protected from moisture and accident.

Really, don't you think it foolish for you to start housekeeping with some other kind of range, when other folks are doing away with the old kinds and are buying Moffat Electric Ranges?

Helen.

P.S.—Just think, Sis, already there are 42,000 women using Moffats! Don't forget to write for the Moffat catalogue. Further information and illustrated literature will be rnished by your local electric shop or write to Moffats,

So the hunter went elsewhere and gave no thought to the Bob Whites on Farmer Brown's land, save to regret that there was no chance to kill some of them. "I hit one of them, anyway," said he to himself, as he and his dog hunted in other fields. And from the way in which he said it you would have known that he was glad he had not missed altogether. Railroads Carrying New Business-Merchandise Traffic Heavy.

By STUART P. WEST.

Special to The Advertiser. Copyright, 1923. New York, Oct. 13.—The question may well be asked again, after what has happened not only during the last week, but for some months past, whether the stock exchange movement can any longer be looked upon as a trustworthy barometer of business conditions.

can any longer be looked upon as a trustworthy barometer of business conditions.

There were two occasions a year ago. one in September and another in November, where it turned out to be a false prophet. Day after day stocks fell. In November the losses ran 10 to 20 points, yet no adequate explanation appeared in data of outside business or in any other quarter of the news. Wall Street, at a loss how to acqount for the downward movement, accepted the theory that the advance in the early part of 1922 had been based upon hopes of a trade revival, which were destined to be revived.

There are many differences between the present situation and that of last year, and they are not to the advantage of the former. Nevertheless, what happened in November, 1922, may properly be recalled as an instance of how the modern market, under highly speculative influences, can abandon its ordinary functions and completely misrepresent business changes to come.

There are two reasons for the slackness of buying power which has repeatedly exaggerated downward swings on the stock exchange. The first is the absorption of an unusual amount of investment capital by new security offerings; the second is the paralyzing effect of high suxtaxes upon the market activities of people of wealth.

Current Business is Unusually Large.

Current Business is Unusually Large.

The opposing views of the business outlook remain at the close of the week as they have all along. If comparison be made with the feverish activity of last winter and spring, there has been a considerable reaction in many lines. But if the comparison is made with normal situations, the current volume of production and consumption is not only satisfactory, but is unusually large. This, together with the caution against loading up with surplus goods, and the unprecedented credit reserve of the country, are the points dwelt upon by those who express confidence in the future. Those who see things the other way maintain that production Current Business Is Unusually Large

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Oct. 15.—The feature of trading on Montreal exchange this morning, was the activity and strength of Laurentide. This issue opened down ¾ to 91, and sold at this opened down % to 91, and sold at this figure until a few minutes before the noon close, when it rose 1-4, to 92. Laurentide accounted for about three-quarters of the transactions put through this morning, with a turnover of 1,630 shares. National Breweries was the next most active issue, with 375 shares traded in. That issue was easier, being off 1-2, to 53. The balance of the list, although full, was generally firmer. The range of issues was breader than Saturday. Canadian General Electric rallied to 107. Abitibi was not very active and after opening steady at 62, eased one point to 61.

Other price changes included Atlantic Sugar up 3-4, to 157-8. Brazilian up 1-4, to 431-4. Interprovincial Brick up 1-2, to 674-2. Brompton off 1-4 to 401. ton off 1-4, to 40 1-2.

Grain Markets

Associated Press Despatch.
Chicago, Oct. 15.—With less support for prices than has been the rule of late, the wheat market showed a downward tendency today during the early dealings. Notice of Canadian wheat arriving in Minneapolis counted as a bearish factor. Weakness of corn was also a depressing influence on wheat values. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to ¼c to %c lower, was followed by a moderate setback all around.

Favorable weather and progress of husking made the corn market decline. After opening unchanged to it lower, prices underwent a general sag.

Oats were easier with corn, starting unchanged to %c off, and later showing further losses.

Likely To Accept British Offer For Increased Preference on Tobacco.

OUTLINES REASONS

Canadian Press Cable.

London, Oct. 15.—One phase of the British Government's preference offer is causing speculation among the overseas delegates to the imperial economic conference. This is with regard to sugar and tobacco, in both of which Canada is interested. The British Government could not offer an increased preference in sugar, but instead proposed to stabilize the present preference over a period of ten years.

JUNIOR PATHFINDERS' TEA.

To their fund for dressing a little Indian girl on a western reserve; the Junior Pathfinder Girls of St. Andrew's Church have added $10, as the splendid result of a musicale and tea they held last Saturday aftermoon in the church parlors.

A great many of the mothers and friends of the girls attended, and at a table ppettily decorated with marigolds and yellow candles. Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Fraser poured tea.

The program included recitations by Irma McLurg; piano solos by Ruth Martin, Ella Mercer, Betty Clarke and Mary Wright, and a number of selections by the "Kitchen Orchestra," made up of the following girls: Marion Cameron. Mary McPherson. Jean Beemer, Margaret McGregor, Emma Rowley, Ruth Martin, Winnie Haig and Mary Wright.

Of the musical program, Marion Cameron and Mary Boughner were the conveners, and of the social arrangements, Lola Ashplant, the convener.

Wingham yesterday, the occasion being the 65th anniversary.

MISSION SPEAKERS.

Work in Chinese and Japanese missions will be discussed in an able fashion at the district convention of W. M. S., which is being held on the 25th of this month in the Methodist church at Belmont. Miss Sybil Courtice of Japan and Miss Eddith Sparling of China, both home on furlough addresses on the conditions prevailing in the particular mission fields which they represent.

Miss Courtice's address is looked to for particular mission, as the W. M. S. have this year decided upon the raising of a fund for Japan as their objective, this decision being the result of the recent disaster there. Delegates have been appointed from all the local W. M. S., and a large number of visitors are also planning to attend the convention.

MISSION CIRCLE MEETS.

Wingham yesterday, the occasion being the 65th anniversary.

George Burdick, chairman of the city hall committee today challenges Alderman P, J. Watt, who at the last session of the committee announced that he was leaving because the chairman had offered suggestions without the authority of the committee.

Alderman Burdick wants a public answer from Alderman Watt.

"I would like Alderman Watt.

"I would like Alderman watt to tell the people through the press what his real reason was for saying that he was going to resign and then not resigning," he said. "He attended our last meeting. I could tell what his reason is, and I could tell at tonight's session, but I would like to hear from him first," he added.

The letter from the architects follows:

Ald. George Burdick:

Chariman of the city hall committee.

The Catalina expedition was a partial failure owing to clouds, but Professor Kingston related a graphic account of a former eclipse. Lasting a few seconds, the eclipse gives scientists an opportunity of viewing the marvellous spectacle of the sun's corona. Prof. Kingston showed slides of this corona, the substance of which scientists have not yet learned. It is believed that it is composed of gases which have not yet been located upon the earth. Hope is entertained that substances similar to helium, a gas now used extensively in aeroplanes, but first discovered on the sun, may be found in the corona.

WILL FIGHT ATTEMPTS TO BUILD APARTMENTS

Windsor, Oct. 14.—Objecting to the construction of apartment buildings on Victoria avenue, residents of that street threaten to apply for an injunction restraining C. W. Manwell, 133 Heller avenue, from building two flats, for which permits were issued at the building inspector's office last week.

The permit calls for two 2-family flats to be erected on three 36-foot lots at a cost of $14,000.

The threatened injunction revives a fight of several years standing between builders and residents of the street, which is considered a fairly desirable residential location.

Mayor Wilson said the city could take no action, nor yet refuse permits.

WILLIAMS IS BROUGHT TO LONDON FOR TRIAL ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Murrell and Former Pal Are Placed in Separate Cells At Jail.

TRIAL OPENED TODAY

Prisoner Arrived in City Saturday Night-Appears Older. Hair Gray.

"Old, so old, yet his years all told re but a score and three." Such is the description of Henry Jack (Slim) Williams, alias William Henry Baughan, who arrived in London at 9 o'clock Saturday night, from Kingston Penitentiary, to answer a charge of murder.

Today he and Sidney Ernest (Curly) Murrell are on trial for their lives, at the old historic Middlesex courthouse, on a charge of murder-ing Russell Campbell at Melbourne during the robbery of the Home Bank on the morning of Monday, April 10, 1921

Melbourne bandit, who, with Sidney Murrell, is now on trial for the mur-der of Russell Campbell. Gray-haired, pale and heavily-

Handcuffed to his guards, County Constable Edward Guest and Head Turnkey Arthur J. Wharton, Williams sat in the smoker of one of the coaches, talking little. As the train drew into London, he peered out of the window, stretched his legs as much as the leg-irons would permit, and sighed.

Two taxis were waiting for him, one near the L. & P. S. R. tracks on Clarence street, and the other at the rear of the C. N. R. station. A little crowd of curious people stood by the taxi on Clarence street. They were disappointed, the prisoner being hurried to the other car.

Special to The Advertiser.

Brantford, Oct. 14.—The commissioners of the municipal railway here, after going carefully into the revenue of the company, have concluded that there should be some slight difference in the car fare for those who use the cars regularly and for infrequent passengers, visitors and transients.

Williams was placed in a separate cell which Murrell occupied while repairs were being made to his own, No. 1. Murrell is now kept in the new steel caged cell which was finished yesterday. At night he is locked in his sleeping cell.

Yesterday Williams re-engaged J. M. Donahue as his counsel. Mr. Donahue is defending Murrell also. All day yesterday Williams moped in slience about his cell. His only smile since his arrival was given his counsel. was placed in a separate been reached that the cash fare should be increased to 6 cents, but that tickets can be purchased at the old rate of five for 25c, with the proviso that the maximum sale will be ten tickets at one time.

For children over five years of age and under 52 inches in height half fare will be charged, and those over 52 inches in height will be required to pay adult fare. School tickets will be issued to school children irrespective of size at ten for 25c, to be used within the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. on school days.

The conductors are being supplied with high-speed changers, which will automatically eject five coppers at a time and other coins in any ratio that the machine is set for. Arrangements have been made for all old-style copper and 5c pieces to be gradually withdrawn and replaced by the new coins so as to make the copper and nickel uniform.

It is felt that these changes will increase the revenue to some extent. The operating margin has already

Canadian Press Despatch.

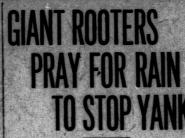

Ralifax, Oct. 14.—Advices here state that the Canadian government steamer Aberdeen is ashore on Black Ledge, Seal Island, that her engine-room is full of water and she is likely to be a total loss. A number of marine officials, including J. C. Chesley, agent of the department at St. John, are said to be on board. The government steamers Laurentian and Arleux and a steam trawler were going to the Aberdeen's assistance.

FINES MAN AT CHATHAM ON RACING POOL CHARGE

Special to The Advertiser.

Chatham, Oct. 14.—For selling racing pools during the progress of speed trials at the Chatham Fall Fair recently, J. N. Massey was Saturday fined $25 and costs by Magistrate Arnold, when he announced judgment on the merits of the case, which was tried some time ago.

The defendant claimed the power to sell the pools by virtue of a special license granted the Chatham Driving Park Association. Magistrate Arnold found that the speed trials in question were held under the auspices of the West Kent Agricultural Society, and not the Chatham Driving Park Association.

The man is Arthur Covell, widelyknown astrologist. He is alleged to have hypnotized Alton Covell, 16, and orced the boy to kill his step-mother Mrs. Fred Covell, by holding a cloth aturated in ammonia over her face.

The astrologist was arrested yesterday and charged with the crime.

Police refer to Cowell as the "astrological murderer," and said the uged man "plotted his crime with the stars."

or McGraw, as it would enable him to give Nehf another day of rest.

Watson is Rested.

John Watsons, the right-hander, who was knocked out of the box by the Yankees in the first game, is the only other pitcher of the Giant starf who has had a good rest. McGraw, who, besides thinking, takes chances, may send. Watson in today, depending upon him to check the Yankees, all of whom have been hitting wildly in the last two games. Yet it is certain that if Watson is started, he will be hauled right away from the pitching mound as soon as an done in the pitching mound as soon as an another of the pitching mound as soon as an another of the pitching mound as soon as an another of the pitching mound as soon as an another of the pitching mound as soon as an another before capetied in his world's series engagements, but he has confidence in his men, and figures that luck creeps in sometimes and helps a man who needs it. "Anything might happen," he says.

Miller Huggins is resting easy. He has both Jones and Hoyt primed for duty, "Sad" Sam, who pitched such a fine game on Friday until Casey Stengel got gay with his home-grun bat, is the most likely choice, with Hoyt in reserve. Should the Yankees lose the sixth game Pernock, the left-hander, who won the second game for the Americans, is still on deck.

Dugan Performs.

As in Saturday's game at the Polo Grounds, when they hit every pitcher McGraw sent to the mound and collected 13 hits and 8 runs, the one out, they collected three runs. In the next inning they continued, and drove Jack Bentley, the heavy-set left-hander, to the showers. John Scott, who felt the sting of their blows on Saturday, fared no better and he, too, was sent along to the club house in the fourth inning. By that time the Yankees had collected eight runs and the game was in.

LARGE POSSE IN MOUNTAINS HUNTS DARING TRAIN BANDITS

Man-Hunters, Led by Western Sheriffs, Are Closing In On Quarry-Indian Trailers Used.

By L. C. OWEN.. Special to The Advertiser. Copyright. Ashland, Ore., Oct. 14.—A trio of bloodthirsty train bandits, who sought to emulate the ago, today are being sought in the rugged Siskicou Mountains along the California-Oregon line, in the greatest man hunt ever staged in the west. A great cordon of fully 1,500 heavily armed men has been thrown about the wooded mountain district, where the bandits are believed to have taken refuge, and is steadily closing in on the quarry. Among the man hunters are a half dozen typically western sheriffs with their posses, government agents, railway detectives, national guardsmen and indian trailers. The trailers were called on when it was discovered that the desperadoes had creosoted the soles of their shoes so that bloodhounds were unable to keep the scent.
