Let's Start Anew With Easter

Everything is new now. There is in Fredericton a new Premier, a new Governor; there is a new inspiration in industry; there is a new tingle in the air—

The face of the earth is new; Spring has come in with balmy breezes and kindlier sunshine; in the homes "spring house-cleaning" and general rejuvenation have created a cheerful sense of brightness and newness.

Best of all, from almost all parts of the country comes the new note of optimism. The winter is over and gone. Mishaps and dullness in business are in the past. What has been cannot be helped. What is to come shall be as we make it—and the inspiring spirit of citizenship says that it shall be made better and better with every day.

Let's start anew with Easter. It is the time when we welcome the revival of Nature. It is the time when we lay aside the garments of the dark days of winter, and greet the world in new array.

NELSON W. A. OF ST. MARKS' CHURCH

The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mark's, Nelson, was held on March 15th at Miss A. Flett's. The President, Mrs. Sargeant, gave her address, after which the various officers read their reports. Miss M. Hubbard, recording secretary, said there were at present thirteen members. During the year eight business and devotional meetings had been held besides several sewing meetings. The Auxiliary had met its financial pledges and had helped with the expenses of the parish.

Mrs. R. MacKenzie read the treasurer's report showing that during the year $133.97 had been received and $125.55 paid out. The Thankoffering amounted to $6.80 and mite boxes $15.27.

Officers elected for ensuing year: Hon. President—Mrs. Bate
President—Mrs. Sargeant
1st Vice Pres.—Mrs. T. Drillen
2nd Vice Pres.—Mrs. G. Hubbard
Recording Sec'y—Miss M. Hubbard
E.C.D. Treasurer—Miss F. MacKenzie
Corresponding sec'y—Mrs. K. McLaughlin
Dorcas Sec'y—Miss A. Flett
Treasurer—Mrs. R. MacKenzie

Delegates to Diocesan meeting at Fredericton in May, Mrs. Sargeant, Miss A. Flett, Miss M. Hubbard.

After the business of the last year was over the presentation of a life membership to the President, Mrs. C. Sargeant took place. The rector made a few appropriate remarks in presenting the certificate, saying that Mrs. Sargeant had been president of St. Mark's branch of the W. A. since its beginning and how the members had planned this for some time, and, speaking for the Auxiliary he asked the President to accept this token of their esteem and affection. After Mrs. R. McLaughlin had pinned the gold badge on Mrs. Sargeant the recipient said she was overwhelmed by this loving action of the members and the honor they had bestowed upon her—they all should be life members—they deserved it more than she did—it gave her much joy to accept the life membership in the Church's Woman's Auxiliary.

Upon the conclusion of the afternoon's business Miss Flett provided a very substantial luncheon for all present.

AN EXODUS

It is reported that within the past six months more than 300 new arrivals from the Maritime Provinces have arrived in Gardner, Mass., with double that number in Fitchburg and similar quotas making Lawrence, Lowell and other mill cities their headquarters. The majority of the new arrivals in Gardner are from the vicinity of Moncton, who have left the province because of their inability to secure work.

A GREAT SUCCESS

The St. Patrick's Concert given in Nelson by the members of the St. Patrick's Glee Club was a decided success in every way.

$70.00 per month and Edward Walsh $100.00 per month.

It was moved by Aid. Sargeant and seconded by Aid. McGrath that this report be received and adopted.

On a division the vote stood as follows:—
Yeas—Aid. McGrath, Dalton, Sargeant, Atkinson.
Nays—Aid. Doyle, Ritchie, Mackay
The Mayor therefore declared the motion carried.

N. B. BRANCH OF THE RED CROSS SOCIETY

The Bulletin issued by the New Brunswick branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society for March is a valuable number inasmuch as it contains an admirably condensed report of the work of this Division for the past year. The statistics printed regarding the Military Hospitals, the Relief Work undertaken by the Division of the Junior R. Cross, Recreation Hut, Sewing Committee, Public Health Nursing Service, and Clinics gave a comprehensive idea of the support given by the Red Cross toward the care of the disabled soldier and in aid of public health. In addition to this information there is also a detailed account of some of the activities carried on throughout the Province by individual branches under which comes also a description of the work of the Red Cross workshops situated in St. John and operated under the auspices of the St. John branch of the Red Cross. This issue of the Bulletin should have a place on all files where health and welfare pamphlets are recorded as it is an excellent account of this kind distributed over a large area. The Bulletin also expresses in permanent form the deep sympathy the Provincial Red Cross workers feel for Mrs. Gustave Kuhring in the loss she has sustained through the death of her husband, the Rev. Canon Kuhring.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

At a special meeting of the Newcastle Board of Trade held last Wednesday evening in the Town Hall, with Mayor C.E. Fish in the chair and Mr. T.H. Whalen, acting as Secretary, the matter of the Newcastle-Caracquet Railway was discussed. Mr. P.P. Morais of Caracquet was present and after some discussion it was finally agreed that the Secretary be authorized to get in touch with the delegates who went to Ottawa, some few years ago, and arrange a date to meet here with the board of Trade to go into details of the matter. It was also decided to have the Secretary call the attention of the federal members for Northumberland and Gloucester, to the fact that an amount had been placed in the estimates two years ago for a survey of this line, and to request the members to bring the matter before the Acting Minister of Railways and Canals, with a view to having a revote made for this survey, and a diversion of the present line from Caracquet proper to Lower Caracquet.

FUNERAL MISS AGNES RUSSELL

The funeral of the late Miss Agnes Russell was held from her residence on King's Highway last Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. F. E. Bishop conducted the services at the home and grave. Many floral tributes were received, showing the high esteem in which deceased was held.

The pall-bearers were: Mayor C. E. Fish, Aid. D. P. Doyle, John McCormack, Wm. McMaster, G. G. Stothart, and Wm. Ferguson. Interment in St. James Cemetery.

gaining the right to play Windsor, the Nova Scotia champions, for the Morton Thompson trophy. The game, while not as fast as some witnessed here, was most exciting, especially in the final period when Chatham players were endeavoring to overcome the four-goal lead held by Charlottetown.

The ice was in excellent condition and during the early part of the first period some terrific outbursts of speed were shown. Immediately after the face-off, McEachern netted one for the Abbies. Keoughan and Milton were sent to the box, and with Chatham playing but four men the Abbies made desperate efforts to score, with but one minute to play.

R. Prowse tallied Charlottetown's second goal. Just before the bell sounded, McEachern was penalized, and he had to "do time" at the opening of the second period. In the second period Chatham suffered three penalties, Duncan being off for two and a three minute penalty, and Keoughan for three minutes. The Abbies escaped with but one penalty this period. Moore decorated the box for three minutes. McEachern and Gordon worked several combination plays this period, but "Stonewall" Carvell was impregnable. In fact both goal tenders played wonderful games, Carvell, perhaps, being called upon to block more than Morgan. Near the end of the second period Campbell beat out Carvell with a wicked wing shot, and with but fifteen seconds to go Gordon followed suit.

The Final Period

In the final period Chatham played like demons, but the combination of the Charlottetown forwards proved too much for them. "Joe" Currie made several sensational rushes and finally succeeded in putting one behind Morgan, Keoughan tallied Chatham's second about the middle of the period, and despite the entreaties of the 1,200 spectators gathered in the rink, the boys in red and white were unable to score further.

Milton was penalized twice in this period, and just a second before the final gong Keoughan was ordered off. Jack Twaddle refereed and though a couple of his penalties were rather raw, he by no means deserved the treatment he received at the hands of some of the spectators.

Referee Is Attacked

At the end of the game as Twaddle came off the ice a crowd of soreheads rushed at him and it was with difficulty that he escaped into the dressing room and from there out of the rink. It was a disgraceful incident and it is to be greatly regretted that anything like this should happen to mar Chatham's name for good sportsmanship. The best of selling, however, prevailed between the players, and after the game they were entertained at a supper.

Miss Miramichi, Miss Annie Robertson, of Newcastle, was present at the game and faced off the puck. She was given an ovation by spectators and players alike.

C.N.R. SERVICE INTERRUPTED

The service on the Fredericton-Newcastle subdivision of the C.N.R. was interrupted Tuesday by a wreck near Lawlor's Crossing. The locomotive of a train bound for Newcastle lost two wheels and the line was 10-4 broken.

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

Here and There

It is announced that a new cave, the extent of which can only be surmised, has been discovered seven miles from Glacier House, Glacier, B.C.

The Yukon Territory is rapidly losing its inhabitants. In 1911 the population was 27,217, and in 1921 it had dwindled down to 4,157.

In an address to the Rotarians in Montreal last week, E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, made a pointed statement to the effect that Canada needs more capital for its development and more men for the same purpose.

An old-time stampede will be held in Calgary, Alta., between July 5th and July 14th, 1923. The programme will, as usual, include calf roping, cowboys, broncho busting, and fancy riding and roping, etc.

Resumption of direct steamship service this spring between Montreal and the principal Norwegian ports, with the object of furthering the expansion of trade between Canada and Norway, is announced by the Canadian Pacific traffic agents for the Norwegian-American Line.

The Canadian Pacific steamship "Metagama" recently brought over to Canada 400 men and women of the Hebrides—the first migration of young Hebrides farmers to Canada under the Ontario immigration scheme.

A bill has been introduced into the Chamber of Commons, authorizing the Government to expend $750,000 francs on the Canadian travelling exhibition. At least thirty French towns will be visited by the train this summer.

As guests of President Beatty of the Canadian Pacific Railway, four boy members of the young farmers clubs of Great Britain will cross the Atlantic and tour the Eastern and Western provinces of Canada.

Canada's exports to the United Kingdom in 1922 were more than $34,000,000 higher in value than exports of Canadian goods to the United States. To the United Kingdom, Canada sold goods to the value of $374,751,894, and to the United States $340,156,247.

Before the war India imported $600,000,000 worth of commodities a year, of which Canada sent not more than $30,000 worth. Last year her imports were $980,000,000, of which Canada sent $1,125,000, and it is now expected that there will be a further increase to between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000 this year.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has arranged with a number of European countries for the emigration of farmers and domestics who are willing to come to Canada for employment on Canadian farms. The immigrants will be brought to Canada at the joint expense of their home governments and the railway company.

The first successful radio experiment on a moving long-distance railway train was recently carried out on a Canadian Pacific Railway train from Winnipeg to Vancouver. Mr. Raymond Wylie installed a receiving set in the drawing room of the through sleeping car, and the aerial was installed by the railway electrical department. The results were all that could be desired.

Seeing the train swaying as it passed her while she was picking berries was the reason why Mrs. Fred Moulter, of Brannon, Ont., would not take a ride on a train, but after she had returned to West Hamilton from Brannon she told C. C. Gordon, the Canadian Pacific agent at the former station, that she would like to see the train again. He arranged for the first time in a train, which did not go fast enough for her.

SHADE TREES ON THE FARM

Though trees are planted around the house for the purpose of providing shade, some attention should be paid to their pruning as it enhances their beauty and at the same time increases their vigor and health. This pruning should be given early in the life of the tree. It is easy to direct the growth of a tree if the work is begun early enough, it is almost impossible though, to change the shape of an old tree materially.

In mature trees, or trees nearing maturity, pruning should be limited to thinning out where necessary, and the removal of dead or dying branches. Mature trees should never be debarked to lower the head.

When the tree is young, branches necessarily removed to direct the growth of the tree are small, and the wounds will readily heal over. There will be little danger of infection. Remember that the heart wood of the tree is dead, and is readily attacked by decay organisms. This explains the chief reasons why a large wound which is slow to heal on an old tree may begin to decay, and permit the decay to enter even the heart wood of the main branch or trunk through the wound. If the heart becomes infected, there is danger that decay organisms will get into the body of the tree. The sap wood is still living and is resistant to the entrance of decay organisms, and smaller branches usually have plenty of time to heal over perfectly before there is any danger.

In any case, leave no stubs. Make the wound as near as possible to the remaining branch. In any case of large wounds, if such are necessary, paint with asphalt, as soon as the wound has been smoothed off. When a small branch is taken off, and none of the heart wood is exposed, do not paint the wound. It is neither necessary, nor desirable.

Always use particular care to avoid splitting the trunk from the breaking of the branch. Saw part way through the branch from the underside and then saw through from the upper side at a point some distance from the tree, to avoid all danger in the case of larger limbs which must come off. Then the stub may be smoothly removed close to the main trunk. But always remember that these large severe amputations are hard on the tree, and dangerous. To avoid them, take care of the trees when they are young.

Mr. Hanson Inquisitive

Details of the engagement of Hon. William Pugsley, former Lieutenant Governor of New Brunswick as a commissioner to investigate Canadian claims against Germany and other former enemy countries, are asked for by a question placed on the Commons, order paper by R. B. Hanson, Conservative member for York-Sunbury, N. B. Mr. Hanson asks that the Government state the terms financial or otherwise on which Mr. Pugsley takes over his new commission.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Food is specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. ### Eczema Covered Arms of This Healthy Child

Mrs. Alex. Marshall, Sprucedale, Ont., writes:—

"When my little son was three months old he broke out in sores on his chest and arms. We did all we could to heal those terrible sores, but nothing did him much good. Finally I ventured on a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and kept on using it. At last we were rewarded by the steady healing of the sores, and finally he was completely relieved of them. THE STREET
CALLED STRAIGHT

Enlightened Selfishness is so vast an improvement over the other kind, that it deserves respectful recognition. But, after all, enlightenment tacked on selfishness is only a pair of spectacles that can but slightly improve hopelessly blurred and short vision. If the world wants to see any farther than just in front of its toes, it needs better vision than that. Enlightenment and selfishness can't go far together. They don't match. "The Street Called Straight" is straight and wide, but it isn't straight enough or wide enough for those two. Yet, down that street the world must go, sooner or later, for it is the only thoroughfare that leads anywhere except to swamps or deserts. There is one chart for it and its name is Enlightened Unselfishness.

Enlightened Unselfishness doesn't imply the enthusiastic surrender of purse, watch and laundry to the other fellow. It doesn't even demand that we should turn the other cheek to an individual who has already stung us good and plenty on one. It means simply the realization that all human transactions include at least two parties and that no arrangement can be permanent or even of reasonably long endurance if it is only for the selfish interest of one side or the other.

Enlightened Unselfishness means that "putting something over" on somebody isn't smart but blind stupidity; what is bad for one side to a bargain is bound in the long run to be bad for both. Enlightened Unselfishness knows that Honor is the keystone of every human relation and that magnanimity is not a luxury but a necessary part of the business of life.

THE WAIL OF THE SNOW SHOVELLER

(Suggested by the photograph of a Newcastle Home)

Come, Spring, and let they breezes blow

Across the fragrant hills,
And radio from purple slopes,
The litany of rills.

And loose the secret we would learn

From vales where pansies grow,
I'm fed up on this wintry stuff,
This everlasting snow.

From morn to night I'm bucking drifts

With aching back and low,
With wooden shovel on the job

Of humping up the snow;
And only stop between the humps

To heave a weary sigh,
A puffing silhouette of toll
— Marooned against the sky.

he night but brings a short respite

To mock me with her dreams,
The good old summer's here again,
I'm wading in her streams.

And back at Pine Cliff's haunting pools

I watch the rapids sweep;
I hear the tocsin of the reel,
And see the salmon leap.

I wander through the scented woods,
And feel a welcome there

From wags of sunlight 'neath the trees
And answer with a prayer.

I roam the vespere silences
Where brooding Nature weaves

Her undertone of lasting peace
Amid the whispering leaves.

And down along the silvery glades
When evening shadows fall

I catch the tom-tit's plaintive song
And near the moose-bird call.

And then a moan, a torturing shriek!
I wake; Oh cruel blow!

The North wind's holl'ring down the flue:

"Turn out and shovel snow!"

I rush toward the window's light,
And wipe the frosted pane,
And blast my bulging blooming eyes

The same thing over again.
For where I shovelled yesterday,
A struggling lump of woe,
Packed high and hard by Boreal blasts
There's five feet more snow.

Oh, Sisyphus, your comeback job
Has nothing much on this,
I envy you your rolling stone,
Though far away from bliss

At least your hands and feet are warm
While striving there below.
I'll shove your rock at any time
If you will shovel snow.

How sad and drear the uplands lift
Their brows where birches grow
The everlasting hills beneath
The everlasting snow.

They seem apart from Nature's fold
So alien and alone;
Amid the waste of patchless white
And weary monotone.

But one small speck of cheering hope
Comes hurtling through the glow
The first born of reluctant spring
A solitary crow.

I watch his black wing cleave the blue
And scroll its ambling flight;
Like sable imp from darkened spheres
Doomed to a world of white.

Oh, cruel fate! Why was I placed
In this nivicolous clime,
With naught but wooden shovelling
To pass away the time;

With aching limbs and chilblained feet
And lashed by northern wind;
With Crocker ointment on in front,
And anodyne behind.

I do not seek the comfort now
The Sunday Sermon brings,
Nor want to sit in cushioned pew
And list to heavenly things,

I wouldn't be an angel now;
Just send me down below,
Where there are no wooden shovels
And no shovelling snow.

THE TOWN COUNCIL
a crown." Such can be said of the town fathers since incorporation. Any public office is a thankless job, and any public servant, who makes even a poor, but honest attempt at carrying out his duty, earns a salary even if he does no more than bear the brunt of the criticism that is levelled at him.

The present Town Council and all preceding councils comprise as good and true men as could be chosen among any other men of the town. These men have all been worthy and earnest, yet they must expect criticism from time to time. Criticism has been offered, but in spite of that they have acted for the town in the manner in which, they as a Board of Councillors deemed most wise.

Some of the present Board's term of office expires next month and possibly others will be obliged to take some of the vacated seats. The new councillors as well as the older ones will be given a great deal of advice, but by far the best thing for them to do is to follow their own advice and not be guided to too great an extent by any critic. It is well to listen to advice and criticism, but some one has said that "a fool's advice is the only advice there is—that it is a fool who gives and a fool who takes it." Because members of a public body such as the Town Council are subject to advice and criticism, it should not be a reason for our citizens not taking a live interest in our town affairs and refusing to assist others in bearing the burden.

Newcastle wants the very best men she has to sit at the Council table and the small, indifferent matter of criticism should not deter them from taking on the responsibility attached to the office. These men owe it to themselves and also to the community in which they live. The problems facing our town require men of courage and wisdom. We have such men in our midst and it is their duty to take up the work.

"It takes all kinds of people to make a world." It takes all kinds of people to make a town, but we want the very best men we have on our Town Council, so that the different classes, creeds, industries, and all the varying interests of the people of Newcastle, shall be treated in a manner unbiased and unprejudiced.

Discretion is the perfection of reason and a guide to us in all the duties of life.

Learning without thought is labor lost—thought without learning is sometimes perilous.

Says Whales May Soon Be Extinct

If the killing of whales continues at the present rate they will be exterminated before another decade is the warning of Sir Sidney F. Harmer F.R.S. director of the national history department of the British Museum. His statement is based on recent investigations in the whaling areas, he says. In a recent address he urged legislation limiting the hunting of whales. The Greenland whale is thought to be already extinct. The whaling of the last few years has been almost entirely in the southern seas. Whaling profits are enormous and then increase yearly as the retail price of the oil and bone increases. A fair sized whale has a ton of whalebone in its mouth which alone is worth $10,000. It also produced about thirty tons of oil worth about $100 a ton. In the season of 1915 and 1916 the oil production was 654,000 barrels or about 94,000 tons.

During the war this oil was recognized as of vital importance in the manufacture of nitroglycerine. It is usually used in the making of soap the principal species caught today the fin whales, blue whales and sperm whales. The latter the hunting of which is principally by Americans not only give sperm oil but often contain ambergris which is sold at $20 an ounce to the perfume trade. The oil for lubricating the wheels of watches comes from the dolphin and is the finest oil known.

"THE DICTATOR" IS REAL DRAMA

Richard Harding Davis' Story of Lively Revolution in Latin America Is Famous

The internal disturbances of certain romantic and ebullient South American republics, which have for years furnished the American press and humorous writers with material for exciting dispatches or clever, humorous discussions, were placed in the hall of fame by the plays of the late Richard Harding Davis, who was virtually their literary spokesman. "The Dictator," which comes to the EMPRESS theatre Wednesday and Thursday is a Paramount offering with Wallace Reid in the star role, is one of this type by this author. It is the play which Willie Collier made famous on the stage and one in which Mr. Davis paints an exciting picture of volcanic life in the Latin-American continent.

Walter Woods, an experienced scenic artist, translated the play to screen terms, which meant modifying it somewhat, bringing certain incidents down to date and generally applying the modern brush to the canvas, which is, however, still fresh and alluring.

Lila Lee, leading woman, has the role of Juanita, dainty daughter of Dr. Rivas, a self-styled "liberator," played by Theodore Kosloff. Mr. Reid, as Brooke Traers, falls in love with her, and then the trouble begins. From Los Angeles the scene shifts to a tiny Latin-American republic where a bitter war between rebels and regulars is waged. James Cruze, a veteran Paramount director, handled the megaphone.

Comment Not Needed.
I see that Dr. Schussler, who has had access to documents relating to the quarrel between Bismarck and the ex-kaiser, has published in Germany a new political study entitled "The Fall of Bismarck," writes a correspondent. But surely no addition is needed to Bismarck's own words to Dr. Moritz Busch, on the day of his resignation: "I thought he would be thankful if I were to remain with him for a few years, but I find that on the contrary, he is simply longing with his whole heart to be rid of me. In order that he may govern alone—with his own genius—and be able to cover himself with glory. He does not want the old Mentor any longer, but only docile tools. But I cannot make genuflexions, nor crouch under the table like a dog."

New Anesthetic.

A coal tar chemical for the elimination of all pain in dental surgery is announced. This new chemical is liquid in form, is applied on a pellet of cotton to the gum or mucous membrane surrounding the tooth to be anesthetized or into a cavity prior to excavation where a tooth is to be filled or treated. It produces complete local anesthesia in from two to eight minutes, and eliminates all feeling for from one to six hours. Dr. Klein has extracted teeth and pulps painlessly by the use of this chemical. Its effect is entirely local, so it may be applied with perfect safety, regardless of the patient's age or general physical condition. It leaves no disagreeable after-effect.

FAVOR ENDINGS
The big steamship companies usually favor a particular style of name for their yessels, or else a particular ending. The White Star line, for instance, always chose names ending with "ic"—the Celtic, the Majestic, etc. The Cunard line is equally faithful to the termination "ia," and give us the Mauretania, Laetitia, Carmania, and so on.

Restoring the Intercolonial

In the autumn of 1921 and during the federal general election campaign, Harold Putman gave the Halifax Herald a statement as to his position with respect to the Intercolonial Railway. This is the statement he made:

"Just arrived home and found your inquiry awaiting me. I have always deplored the absorption of the Intercolonial with the general railways scheme of Premier Meighen, believing that it violates the spirit of Confederation and that it will prove ruinous to business in the Maritime Provinces. I see no logical way out of this national blunder but to restore the Intercolonial to what Confederation intended it to be. This will, of course, involve advantages of which we have been robbed."

It is more than a year since Mr. Putman made that statement. He has been the federal representative of this county for over a twelve-month.

What has he done to have that statement of policy realized? The Intercolonial is still a part of the C.N.R. system and it, apparently, is a long way from being restored to what Confederation intended it to be.

The people of the Maritime Provinces want to see some action toward securing this restoration. The people of Colchester are particularly interested in it, especially the many who gain their living by railway work. Mr. Putman will be expected to raise his voice in the House in strong demand that the terms of Confederation be carried out. It is no time for soft speech or political side-stepping. The rights of the Maritimes must be asserted.—Ex.

Baby's Health In The Spring

The Spring is a time of anxiety to mothers who have little ones in the home. Conditions make it necessary to keep the baby indoors. He is often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catches colds which rack his whole system. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. This will prevent colds, constipation or colic and keep baby well.

The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Advertising The Churches

Advertising pays the churches, says a report of the Chicago Church Federation, and adds that "the most effective way to reach the crowd is through the newspapers." "On this point Dr. L.M. McCreary, secretary of the Baltimore Federation of Churches, says: "I believe the whole status of the Church, financial or otherwise can be lifted by advertising—not only by the kind that is paid for, according to space, but by the kind that is gladly given in newspaper columns.

Asking why the churches should not show their faith in their message by special efforts to disseminate it, the Baltimore News adds: "Even if newspaper publicity brought in, as well as more adherents and more financial assistance, a good deal of criticism, it would be a wholesome experience for religion. No form of belief which deserved to survive was ever exterminated by hostile criticism. This is only one minor aspect of the question. A more important and more obvious one is that every other form of human activity now seeks to make itself known by intelligent advertising and come up to the preaching."

A Word for the Under-Privileged Boy

THE Rotary Club of Montreal, like its sister organizations throughout the continent, is an efficient and effective organization working for the good of the community in which it exists. It has particularly devoted its attention to work among the class of boys that fall under the term "under-privileged."

In every great city there are thousands of such lads facing life under grievous handicaps imposed by poverty, or by the more dreadful combination of poverty and such physical or moral surroundings as would be a menace to the strongest. The task of brightening the lives of these lads and of giving them a fair chance to become good citizens is a grateful one, and the Rotary Club of Montreal has done a splendid work in this connection. It has interested itself in a very practical way in the Boys Home at Shawbridge in the Laurentian Mountains, and has done a great deal for boys throughout the city and district.

The Shawbridge Boys Home is the particular care of E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who is also president of the Home. He has always taken a great interest in the under-privileged boy, and it was natural, when the Rotary Clubs held their convention in Montreal recently, that he should be asked to address them on that phase of their work. "Perhaps the saddest thing in the world," said Mr. Beatty, "is the subnormal boy, or one whose standard of health is low, and no work is greater or more inspiring than that which helps to place the handicapped boy where he can face the world on fairly equal terms with the more fortunate." Mr. Beatty went on to quote an eminent English educationalist who, although not prejudiced against parents as a class, stated with truth that many parents are not appreciative of the problems of their children, and, not being capable of grappling with their difficulties, do not supply the inspiration that tends to make them the kind of citizens they should grow up to be. No Longer Fears Whooping Cough

Toronto Mother Tells of New Vaporizing Salve

The quick direct treatment for colds of children and grown-ups, too, is an application of Vicks over throat and chest at bedtime.

Not only is Vicks absorbed thru the skin, but its healing vapors of Champhor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Turpentine, etc., are breathed all night directly into the affected air passages.

Relief usually comes by morning. Just as good, too, for cuts, burns, bruises and itching skin troubles.

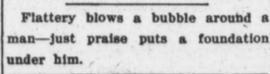

Mrs. William Morrison of 114 Sheridan Ave., Toronto, says: "Last fall our baby had whooping cough so bad that we were afraid of losing her. I heard about Vicks Vapo-Rub from my neighbors and decided to try it. Every morning and night I applied it, as directed on the pamphlet inside of the package, and it worked wonders. It seemed to break up the cough and ease her, especially through the night when it was most troublesome. I have also used it for colds with good results and would not be without it."

At all drug stores 50c a jar. For a free test size package, write Vicks Chemical Co., 344 St. Paul St., W. Montreal, P. Q.

PREMIER VENIOT TO BE JUDGE OF METHODS

Premier Veniot, in rising to reply, assured the representatives of the Alliance that he was speaking on behalf of all members of the legislature in stating that the members of the Alliance were always welcome to the House. Thanking the various speakers for their kind reference to his recent elevation to the position of Premier of the Province, Premier Veniot stated most emphatically, so long as he maintained that position he would carry out the duties of that office fearlessly and without looking for favors from anyone.

He would undertake no arguments, he continued, but would call attention to the statements of Mr. Fraser and Bishop Richardson, who had during their addresses declared respectively, that the prohibition law had been a great success already in the province and that it was the rarest possible thing to observe a drunken person. This, he claimed, was an indication that the law had been previously enforced to reasonable ex-

Crippling Leg Ulcers

"After the way Zam-Buk saved my leg, I consider it a duty to let others know of its wonderful healing," writes Mr. Edward Bingham, of 118, Brant Avenue, Brantford. "Ulcers broke out on my right ankle, after typhoid, and the limb got so terribly inflamed and the pains were so intense that I was too disabled to move in any way. After using lotions, salves and ointments, without avail, I decided to see what Zam-Buk could do. The first application of this herb-balm relieved swelling and soreness in a surprising way and as I continued with Zam-Buk discharge ceased, and the ulcers began to be 'healthier looking' and far less painful. In a week or two, thanks to Zam-Buk, the last of the inflammation had gone and the ankle was thoroughly healed with firm new skin."

In the face of these assertions, only one conclusion could be drawn by the speaker and that was that his predecessor must have exerted some influence in the enforcement of the Act. The Premier then stated his belief that the temperance people of the province would accord him the right to be the judge of the methods to be employed in the enforcement of the Act, unless he should fall down in his methods, in which event they could expect that he should then consult with their representatives.

Drawing attention to the difficulties confronting him in the enforcement of the Act, Premier Veniot stated that the bootlegger was the greatest obstacle to be met. The bootlegger had existed years before the adoption of the act. In this he was speaking from personal experience as a former secret-service agent operating against smugglers. Smuggling, declared Premier Veniot, existed then, it exists to-day and will exist for all times to come while large returns are to be secured. The dual authority existing between the federal and provincial governments in the field of prohibition was an other of the serious handicaps to the officers of the Government. Prohibition inspectors have no jurisdiction in themselves operating against illicit stills. Appointment of inspectors as inland revenue officials had to be secured in order to operate against such, in conjunction with the regularly appointed officials. In this connection, the Premier urged the Alliance to exert their influence at Ottawa.

Taking up the matter of the export liquor warehouses, Premier Veniot stated that these had been established absolutely in good faith to handle the liquor legally within the province on January 18th, 1922.

The regulations passed controlling the export of liquor had been necessary, not for revenue, but to prevent the spread of this stored liquor to the province, liquor which the courts held had been legally within the province, declared the Premier, adding that the government felt that what had been done was that which was thought best under the circumstances. If these export houses were discovered to be the means of the spread of bootlegging, then they would be wiped out of existence, and steps have already been taken to determine this point, which he was not in a position to reveal publicly, although willing to discuss with the executive of the Alliance.

The Premier then produced a number of documents, including instructions from the Commissioner of Customs at Ottawa to the collector at the port of St. John, which he stated permitted of the importation of liquor into the province by the export houses, irrespective of the Prohibition Act, and claimed that the Liquor Export Tax Act of the province was the only method by which the provincial government exercised any control over these houses. These exporters had sufficient influence at Ottawa to have these changes in the regulations effected which did not place the entire enforcement of the act with the provincial government.

The Premier again urged upon the delegation the necessity of bringing pressure to bear upon the authorities at Ottawa in order to assist the provincial government in their measures for enforcement.

In concluding, Premier Veniot again assured the assembly that as long as he was premier of the province he would make the most earnest attempt of his life to see that this law was earnestly enforced.

YOUR NEWSPAPER

Aside from the number of single-track minds to be found in every community, the people generally appreciate the local newspaper—that intimate medium through which is mirrored each week the collective community activities.

Your home newspaper bridges the gap, its chronicles of local news complete a circuit of information impossible to be obtained through any other medium of human locomotion or mechanical device. It brings the local community as vividly to the fireside as the morning sun reveals the surrounding landscape. It is a human institution, and therefore imperfect, but a courageous and sincere newspaper unalterably stands for what it believes to be the ultimate good of its town and district and province and country.

Your home newspaper endeavors to radiate development in trade, health in the home, progress in civic affairs and goodwill in the intercourse between men. In the performance of its service it is bound to run counter to the views of some—often of many, but if it heeds to the line the chips of respect will not remain uncounted.

Your newspaper, no matter what petty differences may arise, is the good friend and advocate of every good citizen although its paramount aim must obviously be the better destiny of the citizenship as a whole. Men may come and men may go, but your newspaper remains on. It sympathizes in your adversities. It tries to inspire hope and cheerfulness, and is the foe of hate, jealousy and fear. Its mission is co-operation, its function kinesthetic, its service omnifarious. It welcomes suggestions and thrives on constructive criticism.

The more you make use of your newspaper the more its benefits will be revealed and the greater the service it will be able to render for the increased prosperity of the field in which it labors. When you co-operate with your home newspaper you are, but casting bread upon the waters of home progress.

HOW MUCH DOES HE OWE?

A farmer went into a general store in his town and bought a broom for 50 cents, but before paying for it he got talking to a neighbor. Presently he said to the clerk: "Would you mind changing the broom for 50 cents worth of tobacco?" The clerk made the exchange and the farmer slipped the tobacco into his pocket, while he continued to talk. He was reminded that his fence needed fixing so, he asked the clerk to exchange the tobacco for fence staples. When he got the staples he started to walk out.

"Beg your pardon, but you did not pay me for the staples," said the clerk.

"Oh, yes I did, I gave you the tobacco."

"But you didn't pay for the tobacco."

"I gave you the broom for the tobacco," said the farmer as he climbed into his car.

"But you didn't pay for the broom," protested the clerk.

"I didn't take the broom, did I?" answered the farmer as he drove off.

Early Hatching
Of Chicks

In order to secure exceptionally well-matured pullets for early exhibition purposes hatching in February or March is often advantageous, particularly with the heavier American breeds (Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, and Rhode Island Reds) that do not mature so rapidly as the lighter breeds (Leghorns, Anconas, etc.).
Well developed birds of light breeds for exhibiting can be obtained from an early April hatch.
Pullets for egg-production, however, may prove disappointing if hatched too early, by going into moult during the early winter months and thus cutting down egg-yield at a time when prices range highest. For the American breeds, hatching from early April to the middle of May is found most satisfactory in the Maritime Provinces; and for the lighter breeds nearly a month later from the latter part of April to the end of May.

Good eggs for early hatching will be obtained from the mating of early-maturing pullets with a good cock bird, but the best eggs will usually be produced from yearling and two-year-old hens mated to a vigorous cockerel.
These eggs generally are larger and have a higher percentage of fertility.

Eggs selected for hatching should be of medium size, as uniform as possible, with strong shells free from ridges and roughness.
Very large or very small ones should be avoided. Once selected, they should be placed in a cool, well-ventilated room, where the temperature may be kept as even as possible. Between 50 and 90 degrees F. is most satisfactory. If the eggs are not to be used for two or three weeks they should be turned every second or third day. It is not necessary to turn eggs that are to be used within a week.

Ordinarily, where only a limited number of chicks are wanted, broody hens will be found more satisfactory than an incubator.
Troublesome work with a mechanical brooder will be entirely avoided, as early chicks taken care of by hens may be placed almost anywhere under cover, provided the ground or litter in their coop is kept clean.

Broody hens to be used for sitting should be isolated from the laying stock, and carefully dusted to destroy lice. A number may satisfactorily be kept in one pen.
A dust bath, in which sulphur has been mixed, should always be provided, as should plenty of clean water. A good procedure is to feed once a day, in the late morning, removing each hen from the nest so that she will get her share of the food. About an hour later a second visit should be made to see that all nests are covered. Usually the hens will then stay on the nests till feeding time next day.

No food should be given the young chicks till from forty-eight to sixty hours after hatching.
They may then be fed lightly on rolled oats, cracked corn or chopped wheat, scattered dry in the litter. A little stale bread squeezed out of skim milk may also be given, on boards. Commercial scratch feed for chicks is also good. Grit may now be introduced. After the third or fourth day a little green feed may be given; sprouted oats or raw beets are best, and mangels are good.
After two weeks or so curds may be given, as may a mash of cornmeal, shorts and bran. Mix the curds with the mash till the whole is crumbly. About this time the chicks should also be given access to charcoal.

If milk (in stale bread) or curds are not given, some other animal food is necessary after two or three weeks. Eggs are excellent and wholesome. Sweet beef scrap

Values Tanlac Highly, Declaring It Ended Indigestion, Soothed Nerves and Restored Weight.

"I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for the good Tanlac has done me, for I would have given that much before I took this wonderful treatment to feel the way I do now." Mrs. Matilda Lewin, 12 Strange St., Toronto, Ont.

"I suffered with stomach trouble, general run-down condition, and my nerves were so excited they nearly drove me wild. I ate scarcely enough to keep going, was dreadfully thin, and weak, and often had to give up my housework to avoid a breakdown. Gas on my stomach bloated me till I could hardly breathe, I had to rush to the window for air, and seldom got a good night's sleep.

"If I live to be a hundred years old I will always bless the day I started the Tanlac treatment. I have gained nine pounds, am free of indigestion, nervousness and sleeplessness, and my housework is like play. Tanlac is simply grand."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.

LUMBER PRICES
LIKELY TO RISE

Reports received from Boston indicate that the spruce lumber market is buoyant, a very firm tone prevailing. Two adverse factors are hanging over the market at the present time, namely the difficulty of buyers to get deliveries and the inability of the builders and workmen to reach an agreement for the season which will begin on April 2. The embargo at the New Brunswick-Maine border has been lifted, but the Canadian Pacific railroad will not allow its cars to leave its own irons at the border except with the understanding that they are not to leave the lines of the Maine Central, which extends west only so far as Portland. An embargo exists on the Quebec border, and this is delaying lumber from that province intended for the Massachusetts market.

Much provincial random lumber has been purchased, but it has not been delivered. Not only are recent advances retained but further advances in prices are expected by Boston dealers. The general range for scantling is from $38 to 40. Most of the important New Brunswick mills will not shade $39, and some of them are insisting on $40.

Advances in the lath market are also expected. New Brunswick lath men are very optimistic as to prices. For 11-2 inch laths the Boston quotation is $8.50 at $9. For 15-8 in. laths $9.50 at $10 is asked.

on hand at all times, and should be changed three or four times a day at first. If the pen has a wooden floor, it should be covered with dry sand or earth, as otherwise leg-weakness might develop from walking on the hard floor. Young healthy chicks are quite hardy, provided that clean dry quarters, free from excessive draughts, are given them.

After a few weeks, on days when it is sunny and dry, they may be gradually hardened to out-of-doors. A good method is to set four wide boards on edge, forming a small pen. In this they are protected from draughts, while getting the full benefit of sun and air. The pen can gradually be increased in size by moving the boards, and, when the chicks become accustomed to out-of-door weather, can be done away with. From this time they should be well with ordinarily reasonable care.

Ottawa, March 20—A motion to abolish the use of the title "honorable" and "right honorable" and the prefixes indicating those titles by those at present entitled to them, is to come before the Commons at the instance of L. Mr. Martell in his resolution refers to the expression which the house gave in last night's titles debate and asks the House to abolish the title "Honorable" for members of the Privy Council for Canada and also use of the prefix "Honorable" before their names, and also to abolish the title "Right Honorable" for members of His Majesty's Privy Council for Great Britain and prevent the use of the prefix "Right Honorable."

AN ELECTRIC LAUNDRY ABOARD SHIP

(1) A first-class smoking room on the "Empress of France."—(2) A group of the laundry staff of the same liner.—(3) Corner of the finishing department.

IT has been said that the modern ocean liner is a floating hotel, and this is probably the best description that can be given. A modern hotel is a city in itself, and a modern ocean liner of the type of the Canadian Pacific "Empresses" is certainly no less. When a couple of thousand or so of passengers are cut off from land to spend a week or more on the ocean, they must have every convenience and comfort that land can provide. The ship must be self-sustaining in every particular. In this respect Canadian Pacific ships are as complete as modern invention can make them, and whether their trips extend for one week, or six weeks as does the cruise of the Mediterranean which the "Empress of France" made this winter, or even for three months as in the case of the cruise around the world to be made by the "Empress of Australia" this year, nothing is lacking to ensure the complete happiness of all on board.

An instance of the way in which modern ships are equipped is shown in the laundry department of the "Empress of France," which is well worth comment. It cost $25,000 and its complete plant and large staff of workers make it probably the finest of its kind afloat. In addition to the large amount of work undertaken for passengers at shore prices, it deals with 100,000 pieces of ship's linen per week. This new department is under the management of G. Dawe, junior, who controls its staff of six men and thirty women. Three washing machines form part of the equipment, and one of these, the largest ever fitted to a liner, is capable of dealing with 3,000 pieces of linen at a time, each piece being subjected to the entire washing process without removal. There is also a huge ironing machine which will iron and dry sheets at the rate of 400 per hour after they have been passed through a power wringer. This machine is operated by a team of nine girls. The higher class of laundry work is done by skilled ironers with press machines and electric irons, while shirts and collars, etc., are starched and finished by machines specially fitted for the purpose. All machinery is electrically driven and their work is controlled by a central control for starting, stopping and regulating the machines. In the case of the washing machines, electric motors are fitted to the top of them, controlled by an electric timing device which regulates the revolving and reversing of the inside cylinders. The oil-burning "Empress of France" has a length of 571 feet, beam 72 feet, depth 42 feet, and gross tonnage of 18,481. The speed which made her such an asset to the navy during the war is still maintained, and Captain John Gillies, her commander, is the hero of many an exciting race to port. Once aboard the "Empress" one has nothing to do but enjoy life while awaiting the end of the journey which usually arrives all too soon. She is a beautifully appointed ship with seven first class public rooms, including a lounge, smoking room, card room, and library. Provision is made in the second-class quarters for three public rooms, and spacious deck space affords all passengers more than sufficient room for open air games and exercise. Her stowage accommodation is in many ways about equal to the best of any liner of her size. The ship is a fine example of modern ship building and her first and second-class provisions every conductor that has been served.

Spring Impurities Due To Poor Blood

A tonic medicine is necessary at this season.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an all-year-round tonic for the blood and nerves. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the winter months. There is no other season when the blood is so much in need of purifying and enriching, and every dose of these pills helps to enrich the blood. In the spring one feels weak and tired—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give strength. In the spring the appetite is often poor, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills develop the appetite, tone the stomach and aid weak digestion. It is in the spring that poisons in the blood find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions and boils—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In the spring anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia and many other troubles are most persistent because of poor, weak blood, and it is at this time when all nature takes on new life that the blood most seriously needs attention. Some people dose themselves with purgatives at this season, but these only further weaken themselves. A purgative merely gallops through the system, emptying the bowels, but does not help the blood. On the other hand, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich the blood which reaches every nerve and every organ in the body bring new strength and vigor to weak, easily tired men, women and children. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills this spring—they will not disappoint you.

POLITENESS REWARDED

A young salesman in the neckwear department of the T. Eaton Co., Ltd., whose employment by the firm was both temporary and of short duration, was one day attending a customer who seemed to be unusually hard to please. The prospective purchaser who was a prosperous, middle-aged man, tossed the ties around, and apparently desired any shade or style than those offered for his approval.

The clerk patiently displayed a varied assortment of goods, cleverly knotting the ties and holding them out to show the shimmer and color effect of the silk or satin, searching through boxes for the desired colors, and, in spite of the rather fretful manner of his customer, never for a moment lost his smiling good nature. Finally, a half-dozen ties were selected, and, with a pleased businesslike expression, the salesman asked the usual questions.

"Take them with you, sir?"

"No! Send them—D. A. account No.—"

"What name, please?"

"R. Y. Eaton."

The new salesman almost gasped with surprise, and probably does not know to this day that his subsequent promotion was owing to his sincere politeness and patient endeavor to serve his employer and please his customer, both of whom combined in this case happened to be Canada's foremost merchant.

A KOUGH WINTER
Conductor Albert Logan who has been railroading for nearly forty years, first with the old Canada Eastern and afterwards with the C.N.R., says that the present winter beats anything in his experience. He recalls that the winter of 1887 was a fairly rough one, but he thinks that 1923 has established a record for cold weather and depth of snow.

COST OF A KICK
A writer in Wallace's Farmer calls attention to some very expensive kicks by the farmers. An examination of the meat from hogs showed a very large per cent of bruises due to kicks and rough handling, while being taken to market. The figures show that it costs about 75 cents a kick on a 20 pound ham.

PREPARING FOR WATER
Town Workmen are preparing for the rush of water which is expected as soon as the warm weather arrives. They are busy digging drains and opening up culverts in different sections where there is usually a large flow of water in the spring. The work is commendable as it will relieve a lot of unnecessary trouble and anxiety when the flood comes.

KENT NORTHERN RAILWAY
The Kent Northern Railway, the only branch railway in New Brunswick remaining under private ownership, is shortly to be taken over by the government. Premier Veniot had a conference on Saturday with representatives of the Trust Company, who operate the railway for the bond holders, and the matter was discussed. It is alleged that Premier Veniot intimated that the company, must either allow the road to be taken over by the federal government at the price, which was formerly offered but refused, or else provide satisfactory service. It is said at the time of recent negotiations in connection with the railway that the price and the consideration was $80,000.
