CHAPTER XLIII.

"Yes," said Nora, with rather a curious smile. "If he does not recognize me, no one will. Do you know"—she laughed a little shamefacedly—"I'm a wee bit disappointed; the baby and I were such good friends."

In another minute or two the carriage pulled up at the door of Westleigh House. It flew open, and Milly, almost leaving her father's arm, stood with outstretched arms to greet her restored friend.

After dinner that evening, after the four had talked as if they had been parted for years instead of months, Vane went up to his room and put on his overcoat.

He had been thinking a great deal during the meal, notwithstanding the chatter, and his thoughts had been concentrated on the subject of Nora's fears.

He felt certain that not one of the "boys," or the other persons who had met "Ernest Mortimer," would recognize the Countess of Westleigh as that attractive young man.

Lady Florence was lured in Russia; and, indeed, if she had been still moving in London society, there were reasons why she should remain silent.

But there was one other person who knew of the "Ernest Mortimer" episode in Nora's life, one who had used it for his own base purposes.

Who might chance to do so again. That other person was Senley Tyers, the false friend; the Judas, whom Vane had spared at Nora's entreaty.

He had seen nothing of him since the day before that on which Vane and Lady Florence were to have been married, had heard nothing of

GIRL SUFFERED TERRIBLY

At Regular Intervals—Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured her.

Adrian, Texas.—"I take pleasure in adding my testimonial to the great list of cures and hope that it will be of interest to suffering women. For four years I suffered untold agonies at regular intervals. Such pains and cramps, severe chills and sickness at stomach, then finally hemorrhages until I would be nearly blind. I had five doctors and none of them could do more than relieve me for a time.

"I saw your advertisement in a paper and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took seven boxes of it and used two bottles of the Sanative Wash, and I am completely cured of my trouble. When I began taking the Compound I only weighed ninety-six pounds and now I weigh one hundred and twenty-six pounds. If anyone wishes to address me in person I will cheerfully answer all letters, as I cannot speak too highly of the Pinkham remedies."—Miss JESSIE MARSH, Adrian, Texas.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (containing) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

skeleton hand on Vane's shoulder, he pointed to the blotched canvas with the other. "Look! Isn't she lovely? Was there ever, since God first made woman as a scourge for us, a lovelier face? And she is to be mine. Mine! mine!" He thrust his face close to Vane's. "I'll tell you how Vane Tempest—she loves him. But you know that. You are Vane, aren't you? Of course you know. Now don't you think I'm clever? Don't you think she'll wish she'd taken that handkerchief?"

CHAPTER II.

"It is only for a minute, dear," she said, trying to speak lightly. "Anything of that kind made me sick and giddy even in my best days. I shall be all right in a moment."

"Can I be of any assistance?" said a deep rich voice close to Shirley.

"This is rather a formidable descent for an invalid."

Shirley turned quickly and saw that the gentleman who was addressing her was a tall broad-shouldered man of thirty or thereabouts, wearing a loose fur-lined travelling-coat, and looking altogether a very distinguished personage. He had been watching, with a pitying look in his dark-gray eyes, the progress of Shirley and her mother from the train, but he had not dared to offer his assistance until he saw that it was needed. As Shirley raised her eyes to his, she felt a thrill of gratitude which brightened her face.

"Thank you," she said earnestly, "you are very good. My mother is an invalid, and—"

"I am sure she does not like the idea of this descent," he said cheerily. "This ladder is so narrow that it does not admit of two abreast, or I would ask her to accept my arm; but, if she will allow me to carry her—I am very strong, and for some years I was accustomed to carrying an invalid sister."

"You are very good," Shirley repeated hesitatingly, "but I ought not to trouble you."

"It will be no trouble," he said earnestly and kindly. "Pray allow me," he added, bending over Mrs. Ross, and speaking in a very winning voice. "I will be very careful."

"Thank you," she responded, with a smile which lighted up her pale face and made it beautiful exceedingly. "I shall be very much obliged. I am so weak and nervous."

"Not at all," he said gently. "Will you go first," he added to Shirley, "and lead the way to the ladies' cabin?"

As he spoke, he lifted Mrs. Ross lightly and easily, as if she had been a child, and followed Shirley as she went down to the ladies' cabin, presently placing his burden carefully on a couch.

"You must let me have the same pleasure when we arrive at the end of our voyage," he said, in the dearest voice which seemed to carry strength and support to poor Shirley with every word. "Is there anything more I can do for you?" he added, bending over Mrs. Ross for a moment.

Cruelty to Animals.

Teamsters and horse owners generally are complaining bitterly of the condition of Water Street, and direct the attention of the Inspector for Cruelty to Animals to it. They claim that it is a great hardship on horses drawing heavy loads along that thoroughfare. Since the advent of snow the Reid Company, through their street car sweeper, have sprinkled sand and salt all over the belt line for the purpose of preventing as much as possible their street railway from being interrupted, but to the detriment of horsemen. As already mentioned, this material is a great impediment to horse traffic. The Cruelty to Animals Society, through Inspector Balfour, should take prompt action in this matter and not have our public streets a mere convenience for railways.

Healthy and Unhealthy Lighting.

Gas, it may be said, vitiate the atmosphere. True. But it also helps to purify it. Its purifying power is greater than its vitiating power. Electricity does not vitiate, nor does it purify. Hear what three eminent men have said:

"Much evidence has lately been adduced to show that gas is more useful than the electric light in promoting efficient ventilation of air. It is for this, amongst other reasons, that gas is being frequently substituted for the electric light. The latest example is, perhaps, the Society of Medical Officers of Health, which has recently installed gas on its premises, after experience with the electric light.—Dr. Jamieson B. Hurry.

He would merely add, that no member who had experience of their meeting room under the old conditions could deny the improvement that had taken place since gas had been substituted for the electric light and the new system of heating and ventilation had been installed.—Dr. Reginald Duffell, before the Society of Medical Officers of Health.

I have my mind's eye, at the moment, a hall which, in the old days, was lighted by gas, and in which a large audience could, with comfort, sit through an hour's lecture, or with pleasure through a three hours' dinner, but which with the march of civilization, had its illumination changed from gas to electricity. The latter been employed with all the latest refinements to effect the lighting under the best conditions, with the result that any large gathering within its walls leads to a state little short of apoplexy.—Vivian B. Lewes, Professor of Chemistry at the Royal Naval College, Greenwich.—Nov. 11

Adamo Brothers Shot to Death.

Detroit, Nov. 24.—Vito and Salvatore Adamo, brothers, were shot to death to-day, the assassin using a sawed-off shot gun. The two men were found lying in a street in the Italian colony, but residents of the vicinity declared to the police they heard no shots fired. The weapon was found nearby. This is the fourth shooting of a similar nature in Detroit's "Little Italy" in two weeks, though the victims of the previous assaults were not fatally injured, and all are attributed by the police to a feud of long standing.

The Universal Language.

By RUTH CAMERON.

A few weeks ago I happened to be in the room where a man was talking to one of his woman friends over the telephone. She was not a woman whom he had long known, nor was his name linked with hers in the talk of the day, but the moment I hear him speak to her I said to myself, "That's the woman he is going to marry—if she will let him."

This morning I received the cards announcing their engagement. What did the man say over the telephone? Nothing but the merest commonplace, but he said them in a tone which gave the secret away.

What wonderful things one's tones and facial expressions are, to be sure! They are the universal language. A smile or a frown is understood the world over. A friendly or unfriendly tone of voice carries its message with infallible accuracy though the hearer understands not one word of what is said. A little baby comprehends this universal language long before he knows one word from another, and isn't it wonderful when you come to think of it that as soon as a baby takes any notice at all he responds to a smile? Who taught him the meaning of that particular facial contraction? Why doesn't he coo and laugh when you frown at him? That is, if anyone ever does frown at a baby?

This universal language is also the language of truth. Anyone can lie with words. Lying with tone and expression is infinitely harder.

Weariness, impatience, nervous ten-

Open Air Rinks for City Schools.

Calgary, Nov. 21.—That every public school in Calgary having more than eight rooms should be provided with two open air skating rinks one for boys and one for girls, is the decision of the playgrounds committee of the board of education of this city.

The board has gone extensively into the playgrounds business and the rinks are in charge of a supervisor who arranges for some teacher to take charge of the playgrounds connected with each school after the hours of study. The plan is one designed to keep the children off the streets between the time they leave school and the supper hour. The committee is starting to deal with this problem for the winter months, decided that establishment of skating rinks would be the best way to get around the difficulty.

Thinks Captain Should Follow Weather Wisdom.

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—The first of a series of investigations into the lake disasters will be begun by Captain Lindsay, Wreck Commissioner, at Kingston, to-morrow. It will deal with the loss of the Turret Chief, an English-built vessel, which stranded on Lake Superior, the crew wading ashore.

Discussing the criticism directed against captains for going out in the face of storm signals and the degree to which this could be regarded as negligence, Captain Lindsay stated that if a skipper did not know enough

12 Tumors Removed Without An Operation

Silver Lake, Ont., Sept. 20, 1908.
 Dear Mrs. Currah.—I am enjoying better health than I have for eight years, and I think I am entirely cured. I have none of the old symptoms. I am very grateful for my present health, and think Orange Lily is the greatest treatment for women. The world knows the use in my case caused 12 tumors or growths of some sort to be expelled. Some were as large as a hen's egg, and others smaller, down to the size of a walnut. You may use my case in your advertisement for it in the future. The truth is, and you cannot describe all the good it has done for me. Mrs. Louise E. Bolte-ridge.

This letter gives an indication of the positive benefits that always follow the use of Orange Lily. It is an applied treatment and comes in direct contact with the entire organism. It produces results from the start in all cases of women's disorders, including painful periods, falling womb, irregularities, leucorrhœa, etc. I will send a sample box containing 10 days' treatment absolutely free to any suffering woman who has not yet tried it. If she will send no bar address. Enclose 4 stamps and address MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

"Humanity" Writes

Some Suggestions Worthy of Consideration.—Care of the Poor, &c.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—The sad death of the man and woman who died last week under conditions that surely must cause blame to rest somewhere has set me thinking and has brought to my mind the subject of a letter written by me for your paper over a year ago, and kindly published by you. That letter drew attention to what seemed then and is now proven to be, a crying shame, nay more, a disgrace to any community. I refer to the practice followed here, and possibly in many other places in the island, of placing old people who have become a burden on the Colony in the home of another dependent, often a pauper, where they are supposed to be looked after and receive a certain sum, said to be in the neighborhood of $2 a month is paid for the board and lodging of each.

How on earth can one poor person who is depending on the miserable pittance allowed by Government be expected to feed, clothe and attend to another poor person sick and helpless for that sum? Is it not clear that the greatest poverty, misery, etc., must exist there? The duty of finding a home for these old and unfortunate ones rests, I suppose, with the Relieving Officer, who is held responsible for the amount agreed to be given. How many cold days or nights will the Relieving Officer visit these homes and see for himself how these poor unfortunates are clothed and fed, and go further and ask to be shown the sleeping chamber of the poor who are really under his care, and who is responsible if through hunger and cold they pass into the other and no doubt a better world?

The same thoughts and questions hold good when speaking of a little bundle of humanity occasionally ushered into the world under sad circumstances. It is considered and is a burden on the Colony. But who can tell the possibilities that lie before it, if given a chance to live and be helped to develop itself. But the poor little thing must be found a home, and that duty falls on the Relieving Officer. I have heard of cases where a child was placed by that officer in a home where there was a great lack of food, dirt and neglect. The sum of $2 a month was paid, but how could that old woman do for that little infant as it should be done for—clothed, fed and looked after for the sum of $2 a month. How often does the Relieving Officer visit the home, see the clothes, food and sleeping place of that little human being. What provision is made a few years after for its schooling. Is it not destined to be always a burden on the Colony? A law in force to have such children transferred to the happy land just as soon as they arrive here, would seem to many to be cruel, but to the mind of the writer the present practice of putting them out in miserable homes, to be in many cases brought up in squalor and misery, with all prospects of leading a better life far worse. We know of cases where these poor little things are well cared for, as they should be even for the small amount paid, but they are few.

The only remedy I can see is to give the Relieving Officer a larger salary and make it incumbent on him to visit the old and young who are thus put out to keep, and if they are not properly looked after to find their homes for them and to lay the blame to him when people who are known to be in distress are found dead, as the old couple were last week.

Yours, &c.

last twenty years. It has a dozen stores, varying in size from 10 to 100 acres. It has sidewalks 30 feet wide, and usually two layers deep with humanity. State street pedestrians are geared higher than any others on earth, and the guileless foreigner who attempts to participate in the double track marathon race always in progress on its walks retires after a few blocks with skinned heels and a bruised disposition.

State street is twenty miles at the least calculation, but tourists are not supposed to bother with more than a mile of it. For one mile State street is a humming, buzzing, roaring cavern, with a jagged and glittering sky line and show windows filled with the luxuries of five continents lining its walks. The other nineteen miles are, like Front street, Podunk, considerably strung out. With the aid of an automobile fitted with wings, a man might navigate the street from end to end, but he could employ his time more profitably, no matter what he did with it.

Bishopric Wall Board.

BEATS LATHS AND PLASTER. MADE TO LAST.

Bishopric Wall Board is made by imbedding kiln-dried dressed lath in hot Asphalt-Mastic, under a pressure of 500 lbs. to the square inch. The other side of the Asphalt-Mastic is surfaced with smooth, heavy sized cardboard.

COSTS LESS.
 Bishopric Wall Board saves 75 per cent. of the labor cost and about a month's time in finishing walls and ceilings. With it there is none of that expense for repairs and re-decorating that you incur so often when plaster cracks or falls.

DRYER AND WARMER.
 The layer of Asphalt-Mastic in which the laths are embedded is absolutely air-tight and damp-proof. It blocks all drafts, and keeps the inside of the house dry, warm and cosy.

RAT AND VERMIN PROOF.
 These pests find it impossible to gnaw or bore through the tough, gummy Asphalt-Mastic.

EASILY DECORATED.
 Bishopric Wall Board is surfaced with heavy sized cardboard, which forms the ideal surface for Wall Paper or Burlap. Artistic paneling adds to its attractiveness.

THE ONLY WALL BOARD MADE WITH LATH.
 Laths are positively necessary to back up wall board and Bishopric is the only Wall Board that has them. They make it rigid and substantial and prevent it from working, cracking or pulling away at the joints.

INVESTIGATE.
 Whether you intend to build or remodel, don't overlook this opportunity to get a better house—at lower cost—by using Bishopric Wall Board. Ask your dealer for information. Write or phone for sample and descriptive circulars to

Goodyear Glove RUBBERS!

A Billion Dollars Lost Each Year.
 Dry Feet Could Save The Most of it.

The International Congress on Tuberculosis that met in Washington last winter discussed the financial side of consumption as well as its medical aspect. Prof. Faber, Professor of Political Economy at Yale, made the statement that tuberculosis cost the United States a billion dollars a year. He based his figure on the cost of doctors' fees, medicines, nurses, etc., and added the loss of earnings during the patient's period of sickness. He went into the question in great detail, and nobody disputed his figures.

A billion dollars every twelve months! That's a stupendous national loss, and all the doctors agree that this disease could soon be stamped out as effectively as yellow fever and cholera have been. There are four very simple things that will prevent consumption. Pure air, wholesome food, cleanliness and avoidance of cold. AND THE SUREST WAY TO AVOID COLD, ESPECIALLY IN WINTER, IS TO KEEP THE FEET DRY.

There were 100,000 deaths from tuberculosis in the United States last year. Probably one-half of those unfortunate people would have been alive and well today if they had taken so simple a precaution as putting on a pair of rubbers every time they went out into the rain or snow.

Let the Government Take Notice.

One of the outrageous features of the last session of the House of Assembly was the delay in furnishing information asked for by members of the Opposition. We now tell the Government and the heads of the different departments that this will not be tolerated at the next session of the House. The Opposition will insist on a prompt furnishing of all information necessary for the proper and full discussion of public affairs in the House of Assembly, and the Leader of the House, Sir Edward Morris, and the heads of the departments should now take notice of this and govern themselves accordingly. The Opposition will not wait till the closing days of the Session and be satisfied by the dumping of a table full of Board of Works returns when there is no proper time for a consideration of their contents. Copies of such returns can be prepared before the Legislature meets and be in readiness for tabling. The book of expenditures for the last fiscal year can be tabled as easily the first days of the Session as later. The Auditor General's reports can be tabled on the opening of the session. It is only fair to the members of the House that they should be put in possession of all facts which will enable them to get an intelligent grasp of the public affairs of the Colony, particularly financial matters, and the Financial House is the proper place to make inquiries and to obtain full information. The oldest function and the most important function of that House is the function of inquiry. The House of Commons has always been looked upon as the Grand Inquest of the Nation; and in like manner, the House of Assembly is the Grand Inquest of Newfoundland.

It is up to the Government to be prepared. All formal matters that are matters of routine inquiry should be ready when the Legislature is opened, so that the Department may be ready to prepare answer to question, which are right and proper, but cannot be intelligently anticipated.
Last session, particularly, there was a disposition on the part of some heads of department either to shirk or even to refuse information. This attitude is unjustifiable and will not be tolerated. The Opposition is strong in numbers and in debating power, and they will not permit either estimates or measures to pass until information which is justly due them is furnished. Last session the conduct of certain Ministers in this respect was the subject of frequent protests both in the press and in the House of Assembly. We have given those concerned timely notice and they know what to expect unless they treat the Opposition with fairness.

G. H. GADEN.
The death occurred this morning of one of our best known and respected citizens in the person of Mr. Garland H. Gaden, who passed away at his home, on Queen's Road, following a severe attack of bronchitis. Deceased had been only ailing for a few days. He was 66 years old and was the eldest Telegram Operator in the country, being engaged as such up to the time of his death with the Anglo-American Company. To the bereaved relatives and friends we extend our sincere sympathy.

Congratulations!

To-morrow Rev. Dr. Cowperthwaite, one of the oldest clergymen in Newfoundland, celebrates his seventy-fifth anniversary of his birthday. In the many congratulations already offered we wish to extend ours in advance to the venerable and esteemed cleric, who, although beyond the allotted span, is yet hale and hearty. To-morrow night he will preach in Gover Street Church, taking as his subject, Reminiscences of long life in the ministry. We feel safe in asserting that his discourse will be ably delivered and one of the most interesting ever listened to.

WASHINGTON, To-day. Washington had as guests of honor yesterday Premier Borden of Canada and Mrs. Borden who spent the day and evening at the Capital, on the way home after a month's stay at Hot Springs, Virginia. The visitors went directly to the British Embassy upon their arrival. Soon afterwards Secretary Bryan called and escorted the Premier to the White House to meet the President. Later, Borden was given a club luncheon by Secretary Lane of the Interior Department, an old personal friend, and like the Premier, a maritime Province man. Last night Secretary and Mrs. Bryan gave a dinner at their home, Calumet Place, in honor of the Premier and Mrs. Borden and Sir William Tyrrell, Private Secretary of the British Foreign Secretary. The Premier is much benefited by his sojourn in Virginia Mountains. While here he stopped at the British Embassy as a guest of Ambassador Spring Rice. To the inquiry as to the possibility of negotiations between Washington and Ottawa regarding changes in the Canadian tariff or a renewal of the efforts to secure a reciprocity arrangement between the States and Canada, Borden said he had no such purpose in mind in his present visit to Washington or did not care to make any prediction as what was likely to happen in advance of formal consideration of the subject by the Canadian Government.

DUBLIN To-day. Bonar Law addressed an immense meeting last night at the Theatre Royal, and also an overflow meeting. He argued the attitude of Ulster alone justified the demand for an appeal to the country and challenged the Government if they believed they had moral right behind them to arrest Sir Edward Carson and suppress the armed movement in Ulster. The streets last night were crowded with students who marched in procession, smashed windows of tram cars and buildings. Some shots were fired and one woman wounded. The police were kept busy preventing affrays of various kinds.

Back From Mediteranean.

The s.s. Nascope, Capt. Meikle, arrived back from Mediterranean ports at an early hour this morning. The ship left Gibraltar on the 15th inst., and had good weather until Sunday last when a strong north-westerly gale and snow storm was experienced. The ship was then about five hundred miles off St. John's and for the next three days very little progress was made as the weather was terrific. Yesterday morning the Nascope was seventy miles off port but could not venture to come in owing to the thick snow storm that raged and had to put to sea again. The vessel throughout behaved splendidly and never sustained the slightest damage. She brought a cargo of salt from Santa Feo.

An Irish Captain of Industry.

"The leader of the capitalists in the Dublin fight is Mr. William M. Murphy, formerly a Nationalist member for the city, and owner of one of the Nationalist newspaper organizations," says the Manchester Guardian. "He is an intimate friend and follower of Mr. Tim Healy. His commercial interests are unusually various and widespread."

"A railway contractor whose concern extends from South Clare to West Africa, a tramway constructor and director with interests in Lancashire and Kent as well as Dublin, hotel proprietor, newspaper proprietor, draper, his career is a rather ironical comment on the theory that all the wealth and business talent of Ireland belong to the classic minority."

An Irish Labour Leader.
"On the other side the leader is Mr. James Larkin. He is not an Irishman, as his opponents are fond of remarking. He began as labour leader under Mr. James Sexton among the Liverpool dockers. He came to Ireland and set up for himself. He is a leader of the Mann-Tillett school—that is, he preaches Sir Edward Carson's principles regarding the right of humanity to defy the law when the law is distasteful."

"This is the man who has won for himself a big following of working men in Dublin and established the nucleus of a Labour Party in the City Council. The dock labourers are his bodyguard. He has led the carters to victory. Under his leadership the agricultural labourers of the county Dublin have without a strike, aided by their fellows in the city, established a standard wage of 17s. a week 'with perquisites throughout the country.'"

Reply to Mr. A. H. Murray

Dear Sir,—We consider there is no argument in your letter, in last evening's Telegram, to anyone knowing anything about Motor-engines.

When you tell a fisherman that a light little engine like the Ferro, speeded up to run almost fast as a dynamo to give its power, is as good for heavy duty work in a "trap skiff" as the heavy FRASER, Mr. Fisherman simply laughs at you.

It is nothing to boast of to say 600 Ferris have been sold in Newfoundland. The Ferro agents have been six years selling this number, with no opposition the first four years.

We are in the business, and we know what our customers are looking for. The FRASER burning kerosene, and as evidence of this we may say, that we sold over three hundred FRASER engines from June 1912 to June 1913 and by June 1914, or in two years we will have sold more FRASER engines in Newfoundland than the Ferris sold in seven years. "There is a reason."

Regarding using kerosene. The FRASER introduced the Kerosene adapter last spring, it was a tremendous success, and practically every make of engine this year, excepting the Ferris, has an imitation of our adapter. The explosion in the Ferro takes place in the crank chamber all soot and carbon remaining in the engine cutting valves and bearings and making the engine dirty and hard to start. With the FRASER adapter the explosion takes place on top of the piston, the charge going out the exhaust leaving the engine clean and no engine can use kerosene satisfactorily otherwise. Every fisherman now knows this to be a fact.

The Ferro engine was one of the first introductions at the Battery, St. John's—How many have been sold there since? Practically none, we have sold fifteen FRASERS at the Battery in the past fifteen months—There is a reason.

Last week two fishermen (whose names we will give you), belonging to Alexander Bay, B.B., walked into our office and bought two FRASERS. We asked them the names of engines being used at their place; they said the FRASER and Ferro—but everybody says the FRASER is by far the best engine. They bought the best. "There was a reason."

About a month ago a large number of schooners were held in the harbor awaiting a change of wind. When they sailed they carried with them thirty FRASER engines. Our salesman reported this to be five times as many as all other makes combined. "There is a reason."

We sold two hundred and fifty engines the past year fitted with the kerosene adapter. We have reports from one hundred all of whom ran the entire season on one to two gallons of gasoline. Their names and addresses we can furnish you. We defy the Ferro to produce under oath one such record.

These are facts right down to the minute, the engine the Ferris grandfathers made, have no bearing on the situation to-day. The FRASER is in, and the above evidence should satisfy anybody that the Ferro is not in the FRASER class for fishermen. It may suit allright for little pleasure boat but is not at home in a fishing skiff.

A Cube to a Cup

Every minute of every day and night Oxo Cubes are being used to strengthen—to invigorate—to save time and trouble. Much better than Beef-Tea.

Every invalid—old and young—every busy man and woman desirous of maintaining health and "fitness"—needs Oxo Cubes. They combine the rich nourishing protein with the stimulating beef-essence—the very elements that build up health and vigility and keep the body "fit."

UNLIKE OTHER FOODS, NONE OF THE STRENGTH THAT OXO CUBES CREATES IS LOST IN THE PROCESS OF ASSIMILATION.

Simple—handy—delicious—no cooking—no measuring—no waiting—no waste—just add hot water—and stir. Ready in one minute.

Trade Mark of Oxo Cubes.

Big I.

How pleasant 'tis to meet the gent who does not talk of things he's doing, whose thoughts are not forever bent on schemes that he may be pursuing. I always dodge my neighbor Jinks, who, with the long power of a Stentor, talks of himself all day, and thinks that of the world he is the center. What Jinks has done, what Jinks will do, is all of which the man will blather; of that he'll talk the long day through, until his lungs are in a lather. And so he makes the people tired, and when he dies they'll murmur gaily: "It is a thing we've long desired, a thing that we have prayed for daily."

How pleasant 'tis to meet the sport who talks of music, art, the drama; whose knowledge runs from camp and court to books by some Tibetan lama. Who talks of Ibsen and of Shaw, interprets Robert Browning clearly, distributes wisdom from his jaw, and lets the "I" alone severely. There are so many bores on earth they make us mutter things immoral; refreshing men we greet with mirth, and deck their saintly brows with laurel.

DUBLIN, Nov. 28. The Unionist Party to-day carried war into the enemy's camp when Bonar Law, Sir Edward Carson and other prominent men arrived to deliver in the Irish capital a series of speeches against Home Rule. In reply to a deputation which welcomed him, Bonar Law reiterated that Unionists had opposed consistently the whole idea of the separation of the United Kingdom and insisted that the Government must seek sanction of the people before attempting to make a change. During the speech in the afternoon before the Unionist Association he said Asquith's speech of the preceding day seemed to him a complete acceptance of the order of John Redmond for full steam ahead, and if that were so the dissenting members of the Unionist Party were gone. Suffragettes attempted to reach Law as he was driving to the residence of Lord Iveagh. They bombarded him with pamphlets. Mrs. Skiffington and Mrs. Conroy, leaders of suffragettes in Dublin were arrested.

Portia Back.

The s.s. Portia, Capt. J. Kean, arrived back from Western ports at 11 o'clock to-day. The ship, after leaving here, made a good run to Bonne Bay, her terminus, and reached there on Sunday night last. A rain storm was then raging which alternated to a blizzard the next morning when the Portia left to come east. Favorable weather prevailed on the return trip and none of the storm similar to what we had in St. John's was experienced on the south coast. She brought a full freight and these passengers: Messrs. O'Brien, S. K. Bell, R. G. Ross, Geo. A. Bartlett, G. W. Penney, J. Inkpen, W. Chancy, Marjorie Duggan, Capt. W. H. Hollett, Capt. Inkpen, Mrs. Nash, Miss Kitty Kennedy and 61 second class.

Cable News.

MEXICO CITY, To-Day.
Like General Salas after the battle at Toluca in March, 1912, General Rabago, military Governor of the State of Tamaulipas, killed himself after the loss of Victoria. The suicide of Rabago is not admitted by the Government, but the news is contained in a private telegram to relatives here, who do not question the authenticity. General Rabago as military Governor was responsible for the garrison when Victoria was attacked by the rebels on November 17th. Not until this morning did the newspapers of the Mexican capital publish any intimation that Victoria was taken. Among the incidents connected with the capture of Victoria by the rebels, one is related to the execution of Captain James. He was told that his life would be spared if he swore to the Government. He refused and was given an hour for mediation. When the hour elapsed and the guards had come for him, he asked to be taken before the man who had ordered his execution. He embraced the military judge, assuring him that he cherished no resentment, and then marched to the place designated for his death. There he distributed among the firing squad all but one of a package of cigarettes. This one he lighted himself and signalled the officer in command to give the order to fire. The Government still pretends to have most meagre information regarding the fighting at South Juarez. This is characteristic with regard to military operations throughout the country. That Tampico is seriously menaced by the rebels is indicated by private advices, which say they are moving southwards from Victoria to-day to cut the railroad forty miles north of Tampico, wrecking at that point a train of twenty oil tanks. According to late dispatches, the several industrial concerns in the interior are in a serious situation owing to their inability to get from Tampico coal, coke and oil stored there. Reports from the north continue to indicate increasing rebel strength in South Saltillo. Since dynamiting the troop train yesterday no effort has been made to resume the traffic, railway men refusing to take out trains. It is reported after dynamiting the train the rebels attacked the troops, who numbered a hundred, thirty or forty women and children belonging to soldiers, killing every one of them. This report is not confirmed.

New Treatment for Eczema.

The treatment of skin diseases, and especially of Eczema and Psoriasis is one that requires the very best remedies that can be had. Modern science has provided such a remedy in Zylex, the result of many years experience with skin diseases. Zylex has the form of an elegant ointment made with such skill as to be absolutely smooth and gritless, which applied to irritated surfaces at once exerts its soothing effects in a way that some sufferers from eczema have called marvellous. If you have any skin trouble especially of eczema-like nature, we strongly urge you to try Zylex. Zylex may cure where other remedies have failed—relief will certainly give. And not alone for eczema and kindred troubles, but for boils, local inflammations, piles, etc., etc. Its qualities render it of special value in the treatment of Eczema. Zylex Soap contains in a modified form, many of the virtues of the ointment, and may be used with Zylex in many cases of skin disease. Both may be had from your druggist; the ointment at 50c. a box, the Soap at 25c. a cake. Zylex, London. —nov22, eod. 12m

Highlanders Dance.

Last night the Highlanders' dance took place in the British Hall. It was a most enjoyable social event, as it was, in every respect, an unqualified success. Fully three hundred persons attended. The ballroom was artistically decorated, the colours of the Brigade being prominently displayed. Dancing commenced at nine o'clock, and the music discoursed by the Myron O'Grady orchestra was pleasing. At two o'clock this morning the affair was brought to a close. The Warrant and Non-Committee officers of the Brigade, who promoted the dance, are to be congratulated on the success achieved.

There is an enormous amount of suffering from liver and kidney derangements and stomach troubles that could easily be relieved by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. If you could only realize the scores of everyday ills that arise from a sluggish condition of the kidneys, liver and bowels you would not be long in giving this medicine a trial.
Mrs. Edward West, writes: "I want to tell you how thankful I am for using your Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for stomach troubles and backache caused by weak kidneys. I was unable to wash any clothes for over two years on account of my back being so stiff. I read the Almanac and began using these pills. Two boxes made a complete cure. ### At the City Hall.

The weekly session of the City Council took place yesterday afternoon. Deputy Mayor Martin presided in the absence of Mayor Ellis. Permission was granted F. Dodd to use a garage on Catherine Street formerly occupied by M. Connolly. A Harvey & Co. can use new system in watering ships on the lines suggested by the Engineer. Miss Pike can erect porch subject to be removed at will of Council. Mr. J. Hiscock will be summoned for not complying with sanitary regulations. A complaint was made that the Inspector of public lavatories was not attending to his work properly. The official will have to explain matters at a special meeting of the Board. Councillors Martin and Ryan learned that outportmen, non-residents of St. John's, were given Council work in preference to our city workmen. Matter will be enquired into. It was decided on motion of Councillors Ryan and Coaker, that the sanitary inspectors get new suits of clothes. The Board of Works will be written again for an answer to Council's letter re boundary lights. A letter was received from Mr. John Browning with enclosing cheque for $200 as contribution for the sprinkling of oil on the streets to keep down the dust during the summer months. Mr. Browning intimated in his letter that the Council had not carried out its part of the contract. It had been agreed that he was to be present when the experimenting with the oil was to be made, but that agreement, he said, was not carried out. He roasted the Council over the affair and winded up his comments thus: "It is hopeless to expect the Council and its officials to do anything within any degree of intelligence. Ignorance and insolence abound in profusion, but effective, intelligent work, none." The Councillors expressed their bitterest contempt for the "tribute" that was paid them.

"Here's the dandiest Christmas Box I could find for you, Daddy"

"You're a good guesser, Son! A Gillette Safety Razor is exactly what I wanted"

The Gillette has played the star part in thousands of happy Christmas scenes, and will be more in evidence than ever during the coming Yule-tide celebration.

It works so well! The velvet-smooth Gillette shave wins instant approval the first time a man tries it. No other is so quick, so safe, so comfortable, so satisfactory. If your gift be a Gillette, it will pleasantly recall the giver 365 times a year.

It looks so good! From the case of rich grained leather or shimmering gold or silver plate, to the trim, business-like razor and the handy plated blade boxes, it looks worthy of its reputation as the world's best razor.

Nearly 40 styles from which to select. Standard Sets at $5.00—Pocket Editions at $5.00, $5.50 and $6.00—Combination and Travellers' Sets at $6.50 up.

Ask your Druggist, Jeweler or Hardware Dealer to show you an assortment. If he cannot, write us and we will see that you are supplied.

A Record.

The Portia brings word that the herring fishery on the West Coast this season will be the best on record, as the outlook appears to be at present. At Bonne Bay when the Portia was there the fish were abnormally plentiful and fisher folks were reaping a rich harvest. At Bay of Islands, especially at Three Arms, herring are very plentiful and good work is being done with nets by those engaged. At Bonne Bay now there is a dozen foreign vessels seeking herring cargoes although there were many times that number there other seasons.

Not Yet Paid.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—You would hardly believe me when I tell you that some of the lands owned by citizens, here through which the North Shore railway runs, have not yet been paid for. The titles of ownership have been proved, the amount of awards declared in due form, all necessary legal documents signed, sealed, etc., yet for reasons known only to the Government, the lawful payments have not been forthcoming. Surely a Government that could lighten the taxes in a single year to the extent of nearly $400,000, can pay the poor man his just and lawful right.

At the City Hall.

The weekly session of the City Council took place yesterday afternoon. Deputy Mayor Martin presided in the absence of Mayor Ellis. Permission was granted F. Dodd to use a garage on Catherine Street formerly occupied by M. Connolly. A Harvey & Co. can use new system in watering ships on the lines suggested by the Engineer. Miss Pike can erect porch subject to be removed at will of Council. Mr. J. Hiscock will be summoned for not complying with sanitary regulations. A complaint was made that the Inspector of public lavatories was not attending to his work properly. The official will have to explain matters at a special meeting of the Board. Councillors Martin and Ryan learned that outportmen, non-residents of St. John's, were given Council work in preference to our city workmen. Matter will be enquired into. It was decided on motion of Councillors Ryan and Coaker, that the sanitary inspectors get new suits of clothes. The Board of Works will be written again for an answer to Council's letter re boundary lights. A letter was received from Mr. John Browning with enclosing cheque for $200 as contribution for the sprinkling of oil on the streets to keep down the dust during the summer months. Mr. Browning intimated in his letter that the Council had not carried out its part of the contract. It had been agreed that he was to be present when the experimenting with the oil was to be made, but that agreement, he said, was not carried out. He roasted the Council over the affair and winded up his comments thus: "It is hopeless to expect the Council and its officials to do anything within any degree of intelligence. Ignorance and insolence abound in profusion, but effective, intelligent work, none." The Councillors expressed their bitterest contempt for the "tribute" that was paid them.

The snow cleaning question then came up for discussion. Councillor Mullaly said that the Council should take a determined stand on the matter, as the act calls for it. Continuing, he said that there were piles of snow on the South side of Water Street which was a disgrace. He said he saw the law being broken with impunity by certain parties and concluded by exhorting the inspectors to do their duty properly and help to stop some of the undeserving criticism that was being made of the Council by the press. Councillors Ryan, Myrick and Martin endorsed the remarks and emphasized that inspectors of Water Street take immediate action and summon to court parties who would not clear the snow from the sidewalks in defiance of the law.

Councillor Mullaly referred to last Sunday's street car accident near Adelaide Street, which is a notable place for such mishaps. He said that in the interest of public safety, a change should be made for the transfer of passengers, who come over Theatre Hill en route to Water Street. He suggested that the car track be extended up North Gower Street and that passengers be transferred on Queen Street, which would be most feasible in the event of a car being out of control on going over Theatre Hill. The Councillor also referred to the habit of conductors collecting fares coming over inclines instead of attending to their brakes. Councillor Mullaly's remarks met with unanimous approval and it was decided that a committee, consisting of Mayor, Councillors Martin and Coaker, Mullaly meet the Reid Co. and discuss the matter fully. The meeting closed after the passing of bills, etc.

Falling Hair Means Dandruff Is Active
Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderline right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp, or dandruff that swirls about. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderline to-night—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderline from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Poems by Mrs. Browning.

COWPER'S GRAVE.
It is a place where poets crowned may
feel the hearts decaying;
It is a place where happy saints may weep amid their praying;
Yet let the grief and humbleness as low as silence languish;
Earth surely now may give her calm to whom she gave her anguish.

O poets, from a maniac's tongue was poured the deathless singing!
O Christians, at your cross of hope
a hopeless hand was clinging!
O men, this man in brotherhood your weary paths beguiling, Groaned only while he taught you peace, and died while ye were smiling!

And now, what time ye all may read
through dimming tears his story, How discord on the music fell, and darkness on the glory,
And how when, one by one, sweet sounds and wandering lights departed,
He wore no less a loving face because so broken-hearted.

He shall be strong to sanctify the poet's high vocation,
And bow the meekest Christian down
in meeker adoration,
Nor ever shall he be, in praise, by wise
or good forsaken,
Named softly as the household name
of one whom God hath taken.

INCLUSIONS.

Oh, wilt thou have my hand, dear, to lie along in thine?
As a little stone in a running stream,
it seems to lie and pine.
Now drop the poor pale hand, dear,
unfit to plight with thine.

Oh, wilt thou have my cheek, dear,
drawn closer to thine own?
My cheek is white, my cheek is worn
by many a tear run down.
Now leave a little space, dear, lest it should wet thine own.

Oh, must thou have my soul, dear, committed with thy soul?
Red grows the cheek, and warm the hand; the part is in the whole;
Nor hands nor cheeks keep separate,
when soul is joined to soul.

MY KATE.
She was not as pretty a woman I
know;
And yet all your best, made of sunshine and snow,
Drop to shade, melt to nought, in the long trodden ways,
While she's still remembered on warm
and cold days—
My Kate.

Her air had a meaning, her movements
a grace;
You turned from the fairest to gaze on
her face;
And, when you had once seen her forehead and mouth,
You saw so distinctly her soul and her truth—
My Kate.

She never found fault with you, never implied
Your wrong by her right; and yet men
at her side
Grew nobler, girls purer, as through the whole town
The children were gladder that pulled
at her gown—
My Kate.

None knelt at her feet confessed lovers
in thrall;
They knelt more to God than they used,—that was all.
If you praised her as charming, some
asked what you meant;
But the charm of her presence was felt when she went—
My Kate.

The weak and the gentle, the ribald
and rude,
She took as she found them, and did
them all good;
It always was so with her—see what you have!
She has made the grass greener even here—
My Kate.

My Dear One! when thou wast alive
with the rest,
I held thee the sweetest, and loved thee the best,
And now thou art dead, shall I not take thy part,
As thy smiles used to do for myself,
my sweetheart—
My Kate?

Dear Little Heart.

There was once a Dear Little Heart
and it was tender and loving and true,
And that Dear Little Heart said to itself:

"I wonder what makes me so sunny and so very happy? I should like to know so I could tell all the other little hearts in the whole world. I must find out."

So the Dear Little Heart went on a journey to find out.

"Why am I happy, blithe lark?" said
the Dear Little Heart to a bird in the tree.

"Because you love the sun," said the lark as he raised his voice in a proud song.

The Dear Little Heart was not satisfied, so on it went.

"Why am I happy, pale lily?" asked the Dear Little Heart of the sweet flower.

"Because you love the flowers of the ground," said the lily, as she gave her fragrance to the air.

But the Dear Little Heart trudged on.

"Why am I happy?" it asked the soft downy rabbit.

The bunny cocked his two ears.
"Why, because you love the animals and the birds," he said as he hopped away.

The Dear Little Heart was still mystified.

"Why am I happy?" asked the Dear Little Heart of the honey-bee.

"Because your words are of love and have no sting," said the honey-bee, as he disappeared in a flower.

"Why am I happy, O green, green leaves?" asked the Dear Little Heart.

"Because your touch is as gentle as that of a babe," answered the green leaves as they rustled a melody.

The Dear Little Heart went on.

"Because you give to others of your sweetness," said the wind.

Then a Great Wise Man passed by.
He knew the whole world.

"Why am I happy, O man?" asked the Dear Little Heart timidly. It felt that the Great Wise Man knew everything and could make no mistake.

At last the truth would be known!
The Great Wise Man looked at the Dear Little Heart long and thoughtfully.

Then he spoke slowly.
"Little Heart," he said, "the reason you are happy is because you know the Greatest Secret in the World. The reason you are happy is because you are made of Love, and Love is the Greatest Thing in the World. I would that every little heart knew what you
know."

The Dear Little Heart then knew that the Great Wise Man had told the true answer, and that the honey-bee, the downy rabbit, the sweet lily, the gay lark, the green leaves and the gentle zephyr had all told the truth.

Then the Dear Little Heart said to itself:

"Now that I know, I shall tell every other little heart in the world. I shall say 'Put Love in every corner and crevice of you. Say to yourself all the time, I am Love; I am Love. And then, other unhappy little hearts, if you say and believe that, there will be no room for unhappiness. When envy or hurt or other unhappiness comes, I am Love, will drive them
away."

"Then," smiled the Dear Little Heart happily, "I shall not be anymore, for there will be many thousands of happy little hearts in this beautiful world, and each will give out so many dear thoughts, so many sweet words, so many kind deeds, that Love shall be everywhere."

Of Such is the Kingdom.

Children are necessary for those who wish to be childlike, who desire to recover the lost simplicity of the spirit. Simplicity is rare and vanishes rapidly. In fact, simplicity is a grace, that must be renewed every day. When you come into touch with a child you lose touch with the fastidious of life,
and you feel a stirring of the heart that makes you strong again. There is nothing in the world so restorative as the virtual freshness in a child's eyes. It is a severe test to be close to a child's mind, and that is why many of us dread children. Children are our consciences, and as a rule they are our guilty consciences, those terrible consciences that make cov-ards of us all. We can kill our con-sciences, but we cannot kill our children. Their still, small voices are never hushed in our hearts. That is why children are necessary. They keep the world young and pure and gentle and simple.

If the time of the present be spent in vain,
In the time of the future must sorrow be borne.
—Old Japanese Song.

Give us, oh give us, the man who sings at his work. Be his occupation what it may, he is equal to any of those who follow the same pursuit in silent sullenness. He does more in the same time—he will do it better—he will persevere longer.

—CARLYLE.

Breathing.

(By Earle William Gage.)

"And the Creator breathed into his nostrils the breath of life and man became a living soul."
Breathing is the first and last act of man. One might say that breath is the symbol of life. It is given us at the beginning and taken at the end. The meaning given by Orientals to respiration is significant;
their interpretation being, Inhalation,
"God in us," exhalation, "We are in God." It is in the degree that we breathe that we are fully alive.

Elizabeth Browning said: "He lives most who breathes most." Taking air means taking in life; power comes through full breathing. The Greeks held that the body is cleansed by bathing. Whether we understand breath or not, we know that the body is purified by breathing fresh air. It is an ethical duty to be pure and clean; breathing is a natural purification. Many suffer because of air starvation as a result of shallow breathing;
deep breathing increases vibration—an index of vitality.

Since breath is given us at the beginning, should a person be obliged to learn how to breathe? The mere fact that any one can breathe is enough to satisfy the majority of people; they feel that they know all that is necessary on breathing. We have proof that shallow breathing is one of the primary sources of disease.

A person cannot breathe sufficiently so long as the body is not poised rightly, or if he "is keyed up,"
"tense," "rigid," in mind and body, or if muscles are weak. Children breathe correctly until nervous tension and tight clothing interfere with the intercostal and abdominal muscles.

Breathing of bad air is considered a cause of disease. Fresh air is a safeguard; a person may be in the air and yet get little of it, because of stooped shoulders and depressed chest. The lung apices are inactive in those who breathe weakly. We live under daily stress, and because of it become shallow breathers. If we would give attention to the breath we would find that in emotion, anger, or hurry, the breath is short and quick; while the trustful, happy state of mind will be conducive to tranquil breathing.

It makes a difference on what the attention is fixed while taking exercise; power is increased by joyous-ness; it tends to health. Practical health culture is training of body and spirit alike. Deep breathing can hardly be over-rated; it is a panacea for ill; purified blood stimulates function, and gives tone to the body.

Breathing exercises increase the width and depth of the chest, and give power to resist disease; and when the habit of deep breathing is established, it will go on independently of any extra-effort of will. Happy mental states are conducive to deep breathing; thought of worry and fear, weak
breathing.

Suppose the Creator asked: How did you like the air which I gave you to enjoy, did you make breathing a burden? "What would be our answer? Something like this: "No, I did not appreciate the blessing of air;
I breathed weakly and formed the habit of taking short breaths."
—Health Culture.

What is an Educated Man?

(A Study in Culture, by the Bishop of Birmingham.)

An educated man must know something of history. He must have studied science, and he must have a feeling for the finer arts. So says the Bishop of Birmingham in the Commonwealth.

The result of this kind of study to a man, who may be far short of anything that can be called a scientific man, or an adept in science, is that the world, in his imagination, becomes the scene of great and constant forces which admit of being repeatedly explored and so guided and directed, that they may be made to minister to an almost indefinite extent to human progress.

You know, of course, Lord Verulam's great maxim—that sort of prophecy word by which he interprets so much that is greatest in modern scientific investigation—that "Nature can be controlled by being obeyed."

That means that Nature is a source of great and constant laws which will laugh at you if you seek to violate or ignore them, but which, in proportion to the reverent study you give them, can be guided or controlled to infinite possibilities of human convenience, advantage, and progress.

Well, thus the imagination of the educated man is enriched and enlightened; and the effect of this kind of conception, if it once gets hold of a man, not only of his mind
but of his imagination, is enormous.
It lifts a man altogether out of that practical acquiescence in things, as they are which is so enervating.

fires his whole being, possesses his whole outlook, with the idea of knowledge yet to be won, power yet to be acquired, transformations yet to be made.

Beyond history and science, it is required of the truly educated man that his soul shall be nourished by "a sense of the eternal"—as by poetry, music, or art, or other channels of culture.

I think an educated man, by means of art, or music, or poetry, or by whatever means, must hallow in his soul a sense of the Eternal—a sense of that "which was, and is, and evermore shall be," lying beyond all the changes in human history and natural progress—"the Eternal not ourselves," in which we live and move and are, which is both beauty and power, righteousness and goodness.

You know what it is, when you are worried, and occupied with the infinite details of life, and have the opportunity of listening to some great music, how slowly, if you can be quiet enough to surrender your spirit and lead a listening ear to the music, there steals upon your soul a sense of the eternal harmony—something greater than the discords and the details of the life in the midst of which we live.

Or it may be that some single line
of poetry, with its unpeppery truth, recalls you to the depths which lie in Nature. Or it may be by some work of art, only a little colour and just the outline of some figure—a mother and a child—that, if you have the quiet eye to look at it, there is smitten into your soul a sense of

Great Men and Women.

Elizabeth Barrett Browning
(1806-1861.)

England's greatest woman-poet was born at Conhoe, in the County of Durham, on March 6, 1806. Her childhood and youth were unusually happy, and the early ripeness of her mind gave promise of her later fruitfulness. At eight she was reading Homer in the original, dreaming of the Greeks and writing verse.
From an early age an invalid—largely due to an accident to her spine—
her health gave chronic anxiety till she was thirty-four, when her nervous weakness was increased by the death of her only brother by drowning at Torquay. Hawthorne described her as "a small, pale person, scarcely embodied at all, at any rate
only substantial enough to put forth her slender fingers to be grasped, and to speak with a shrill yet sweet tenuity of voice." As a poet she was more widely known than Robert Browning, when she first became interested in his work: Their friendship deepened into love, and though against her father's wishes, the two great poets were married in London on September 12, 1846. This fortunate marriage belongs to the ideal things in life. A beautiful and dignified love sustained them during all their wedded years, and after the birth of their son, in Florence, early in 1849.

Mrs. Browning gained a fresh lease of life. For many years they lived in Florence, Italy, with intervals in London and Paris, and latterly at Rome, and it was in her loved Florence, the city of her Casa Guidi, that,
on June 29, 1861, Elizabeth Barrett Browning died, after a frail life prolonged to the fifty-sixth year by the power of love and happiness.

It is often said, that her most popular work was—even that it still is—
"Aurora Leigh." It is incredible, however, that the inner circle which loves poetry for its own beauty should rank that diffuse if beautiful work, or any other of the author's longer writings with the matchless
"Sonnets from the Portuguese," the highest and finest expression, in English or any other literature, of a woman's love. It is surely on this exquisite sonnet-sequence that her fame will enduringly stand. Out of all the mass of Mrs. Browning's poetry—none of it worthless, little of
it uninteresting, most of it delightful, and some of it beautiful and fragrant with genius of a rare and lovely kind
—one or two poems or lyrics as the
"Dead Pan" (1844) and "The City of the Children" (1844) are as yet untouched by time. It is difficult to believe that time can ever affect the "Sonnets from the Portuguese," unless it be to change the life names.
This surely is the lasting monument of England's greatest woman-poet.

Question Column on Musical Matters.

Readers of The Evening Telegram are invited to take advantage of this column in which a fully qualified professional musician will, every Saturday, answer all questions relating to Music, Vocal or Instrumental; advise on the selection of music; help beginners over any difficulties; and give any information required on Musical matters. Questions should be addressed,

"B.A.T.O.N."
Care The Evening Telegram,
St. John's.

Initials or a nom de plume will be required in order to distinguish the answers.

Questions And Answers.
Can you suggest six simple good
Christmas carols for a small choir?
—Eros.

The following are published, at
from one penny to two-pence each,
by Novello's, London:

OLD.
"God rest you merry gentlemen."
"From church to church."
"Good Christian men rejoice."
MODERN.

"A Carol of the Nativity."—Stanford.
"On Christmas morn."—Mackenzie.
"As with gladness."—Stanford.
"The Cowley Carol Book" (Mow-bray's, Oxford) is excellent.

What does a pause (C) mean when placed in the music but not over a note?—C.
When placed over a rest it simply prolongs it.
Over a double-bar line it means that the piece ends there, especially after a repeat.

Over an ordinary single-bar line it means a break both in the time and the sound. This use of the pause is quite modern.
Can every child be taught music?
—Crotch.

A difficult question to answer.
Some teachers say yes and some no.
Personally I have grave doubts on the subject. I certainly would not force an unwilling child or one who showed a real dislike of music to receive lessons. In such a case I should play simple but good music,
such as folk songs and old dance music, in the hope that the child might after a while show some interest in it. "Rule-of-thumb" teaching would be quite fatal.

"B.A.T.O.N."
GREAT THOUGHTS.
Common men talk bagfuls of religion, but act not a grain of it, while the wise man speaks little, but his whole life is a religion acted out.
—Ramakrishna.

Never to tire; never to grow cold;
to be patient, sympathetic, tender;
to look for the budding flower and
the opening heart; to hope always,
like God, to love always—
This is Duty.
—Amiel.

Man is not as God.
But then most God-like being most
a man.
—Tennyson.

Is Disease a Blessing?

(Sir Frederick Treves Says "Yes.")

It is a little startling to find the virtues of diseases championed by so high an authority as Sir Frederick Treves; but no one can read his paper on this subject in the Grand Magazine without feeling convinced that he has made out his case. If it were not for disease, he declares,
the human race would soon be extinct.
As a first instance of this startling proposition Sir Frederick Treves takes the case of a man who is wounded in the hand by an unclean instrument. The one dread fear is that inflammation may set in. Yet the inflammation is nothing but a blessing in disguise. What has happened within the man's hand is this:
First, an army of malignant germs has entered into the wound, possibly to multiply itself millions in a day.

The invasion is met by a rush of blood to the invaded part, so that it becomes swollen and inflamed; and the corpuscles in the blood, called leucocytes, which are born microbekillers, fall upon the enemy.

There now takes place a battle the like of which no pen has ever attempted to describe. Millions are opposed to millions, and the fighting is to the death. The hosts of Amal-geddon would be a mere handful to the uncountable hordes which fill the battlefield about the confines of a wound. The leucocytes destroy the germs by eating them—and thus it is they are sometimes called "phagocytes." They also, by sacrificing their living bodies to the poisons of the enemy, save the country they defend. The mortality of this combat is beyond the limits of reasonable computation. The arena is piled up with the dead, until at last the living, the dead, the poisoning, and the poisoned, are thrown out in the form of what is known as "matter" or pus.

The common cold supplies another instance of a malignant disease.
The cold germ enters through the air-passages, promptly develops, and soon brings about sneezing, catarrh of the throat, coughing, and malaise.
For this state of disease Sir Frederick Treves bids us be grateful; for without these symptoms a common cold might prove fatal.

The copious catarrh, the persistent sneezing are practical means of dislodging the bacteria from the nasal passages, while the cough removes them from the windpipe. The inflamed state, I would venture to believe, is the outcome of an action aroused in the blood for the purpose of neutralising the poison engendered by the invading host. He who grumbles about his cold is finding fault with a measure of relief to which he owes his life. What he may justly grumble at is the undoubted misfortune that he is the subject of a bacterial infection, and he may also with reason complain of the discomfort incident to being poisoned.

Schoolroom Humour.

Dr. Macnamara, M.P., tells some more amusing stories.

Not So Far Out.
"The Court of Chancery," wrote another, "is called this because they take care of property there on the chance of an owner turning up."
—Etc.

"What do we imply when we use this abbreviation?" asked the teacher. "It is a sign," said the young one very sentimentally "which is used to make believe you know more than you really do!"

Why They Punch the Ticket.
In a piece of composition on "A Railway Journey" a girl writes:
"You have to get a ticket, which is a piece of paper, and you give it to a man, who cuts a hole in it to let you pass through."

Get On, or Get Out.
"Were there a vill there's a way,
This is a very old proverb that has to do with what I'm writing. If we nearly always succeed, we always
are getting on, but if we don't succeed, we're getting out."

We should try till we do, and then we should do it again which is a very wise way to persevere. People who sits down never gets on and
People who gets on don't sit down.
We should all get on because it is the best thing to do at all times. We will have trials (trials) but we must try again until their trails is gone.

Questions and Queer Answers.
Ques.: "What are the chief mountains of Scotland?" Ans.: "Ben Nevis, Ben Lomond, and Ben Jonson." Ques.: "How many senses have we?" Ans.: "We have two senses, wrong and right." Ques.: "How is silence expressed in music?" Ans.: "Silence in music is expressed by putting your feet on the paddles." Ques.: "What is a blizzard?" Ans.: "The inside of a towel."

It is estimated that in two years time there will be two Germans for every Frenchman in the world.
The first stone of St. Petersburg was laid in 1703.

Special Evening Telegram.

FARMINGTON, New Mexico, November 28.

An Indian runner has arrived here with the first news of the movement of the 12th Cavalry, acting as escort to General Scott, and ordered to the Navajo Indians' reservation to aid due the incipient uprising. General Scott, accompanied only by an Indian interpreter, left the Noel trading post at the foot of Beautiful Mountain, an Indian stronghold, for a pow-wow with the Navajo chiefs. Scott left his cavalry escort fifteen miles away, proceeding on horseback to the top of the mountain. The outcome of his conference will decide whether the Indians will surrender without fighting. Should Chief Beshoshe, with whom Scott is conferring, spurn his overtures of peace, the Indians will move against the Indians immediately. Many Indians are reported to have recently joined the band of recalcitrants on Beautiful Mountain.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 28.

Some 1,500 unemployed men gathered in Market Square to-night to attend a meeting called by Labor men. Addresses were made and a resolution passed asking the Mayor, Aldermen and Controllers to use their influence to relieve the serious situation which confronts the city, by the opening of relief works, or in any other way they may consider fit. We don't ask for charity, we want work.

JARROW, Eng., Nov. 28.

The largest oil-carrying vessel in the world, having a capacity of 15,000 tons of oil, was launched today and christened San Hilario by Mrs. Carr, of New York City. The new ship is one of ten tank-steamers of the same size, now being constructed for the Eagle Oil Transport Co.

TOKIO, Nov. 28.

Confirmation has been received of a conspiracy in the island of Formosa to overthrow Japanese rule there. The plot is widespread. The instigators planned to organize an army of 100,000 to massacre the Japanese, and restore Formosa to China.

ALPENA, Mich., Nov. 28.

The heavy seas and high winds which prevailed yesterday, made it impossible for tugs to release the steamer Nicholas which is on the rocks at North Point in Thunder Bay. She has a cargo of flax, valued at $353,000.

NEWCASTLE, Nov. 28.

The Chilean battleship Almirante Latorre was launched at Elswick shipyards today. She has a displacement of 28,000 tons and her engines are expected to develop over 37,000 indicated horse power. The contract calls for a speed of 23 knots.

Wreckage Picked Up.

Deputy Minister of Customs LeMessurier received the following message last evening from the Sub-Collector at Port au Port:—

"Twelve barrels of flour, a small dory or river-boat, and a companion ladder were picked up in this bay yesterday. The letters K and the word Gaspe, on the barrels, are the only marks on the wreckage."

Wesley Bible Class.

The Adult Bible Class of Wesley Church will hold its regular session to-morrow afternoon, at 2.30, in the body of the Church. Owing to the large increase in membership the regular place of meeting was found too small, and they now have the body of the Church at their disposal. Capt. Saunders, who is a Lloyd's surveyor and who will be in the city for about two months, will deliver a series of lectures to the class. The orchestra which has been lately formed will furnish the music. A hearty invitation is extended to all young men and visitors here from the outports.

A Challenge.

FERRO SPEAKS.

Dear Sir,—As we notice that Two of our would-be competitors are offering each other challenges, containing all kinds of stipulations and conditions.

BE IT KNOWN THAT FERRO ENGINES WILL CHALLENGE ANY OTHER MAKE OF ENGINE at present in Newfoundland of same weight and price for a race anywhere and WILL GIVE ANY OTHER ENGINE a start of one mile in Ten.

And further, we will pay any stake our competitors like to put up to any public charity to be named.

Two races to be held and we have no objection to both changing engines in second race, any type of fishing boat and not only to Cape Spear but around the Island, if necessary.

We make this offer, knowing that we have three times as many engines running here than any other make, and that they are the fastest engines in Newfoundland to-day.

GOOD ADVICE.

It is necessary to always have a bottle of good Brandy at hand.

What Brandy will you buy?

The medicinal Brandy "Sanator" is not a properly so-called medicine, but it has been selected from amongst the best French growths for their effective principles, and it is distilled so as to develop its tonic and digestive qualities. It is really the FAMILY BRANDY, which name the public has, for a long time, bestowed on it.

The celebrated French physician, DR. PHARZELLE, Inspector-in-chief of the Great Medical Services, says: "The medicinal Brandy "Sanator" is eminently an easy digestive drink, remarkable for its tonifying and reinvigorating properties."

Ask for Medicinal Brandy Sanator from your liquor dealer; he has it.

DIRECTIONS.

Against weakness and bad digestion: a liquor glass at each meal.

Against Cold, Influenza: take as a hot drink, viz: one ounce and a half of Brandy, one ounce of hot water, with a little sugar.

Against summer complaints: use with chopped ice, or cold water.
