

THE TRUE PATRIOT; AND LONDON DISTRICT ADVERTISER.

"Pro Rege, Lege, Grege."—"For the King, the Law, and the People."

Established to advance the Improvement of the Province generally, and the District especially;—to uphold British Principles;—to support that Liberty, conformably with a proper respect for the pure Administration of Justice, which affords "an Asylum against Despotism on the one hand, and Popular Licentiousness on the other;"—to contribute to the diffusion of Political Intelligence;—to advance Religion, Science, Agriculture, and Domestic Manufactures;—and to impress upon the minds of all Classes, that wheresoever the English Language is spoken, "the Liberty of the Press is the Palladium of all Civil, Political, and Religious Rights."

Office—King-street, corner of Thames-street, S. W. angle of the Square.—John & George Washington Busted, Brothers, Proprietors.

herein directed, in respect to any application to be made for depriving a defendant of the benefit of the limits; and provided also, that after such second admission, or any future admission of a defendant to the limits under the authority of this Act, similar proceedings may be adopted by reason of any new facts discovered for again depriving the defendant of the benefit of the limits, or for again admitting him to the limits, as the case may require.

THE TRUE PATRIOT, AND LONDON DISTRICT ADVERTISER. "Mollitate viget, viresque acquirit eundo."

LONDON, FRIDAY, MAY 23, 1834.

We would beg to direct the attention of the Freeholders of this County to the address to them from their representative, Colonel BURWELL, soliciting the representation of the County, for the FIFTH time.

Although we consider it as almost unnecessary on his part, thus early to announce publicly his intention of again offering himself for the representation; still as we are aware that some of the designing republicans, who dread his influence and his integrity, are strenuously exerting themselves against him, without the least regard to truth, or even to decency, we are placed at this expression of his sentiments. We advocate Colonel BURWELL's return from principle, satisfied that the County could not select an individual better, perhaps not as well fitted for that important trust; if, however, it should be made appear to us that in this opinion we were induced by friendship or otherwise to judge erroneously, we would freely and readily acknowledge our error.

Now that Colonel BURWELL appears avowedly as a candidate, and we profess our intention of supporting him in our columns, we feel it a duty which we owe to the public, as well as to ourselves, to state the grounds which induce us to do so; they are these, that we have taken, and at much pains, a review of his parliamentary conduct—that we have found it to be upright, honorable, and consistent—in the various measures discussed in Parliament calculated to advance the prosperity of this section of the country, he has been persevering and zealous in his exertions for their attainment; and in measures of more general utility, he has in the conduct he pursued, proved himself to be a reflecting and impartial senator, keeping one great object in view—the advantage and prosperity of the Province; such is our view of his conduct, and under that view it we freely give him our support.

We do not mean to say that Colonel BURWELL is inflexible;—that he has never erred;—that his views or sentiments were never erroneous; or that we give a most implicit approval to every vote of his while in Parliament. Far from it; but we do think, that whether right or wrong, he acted conscientiously, never losing sight of the general interests of the Province, and the particular interests of the County of Middlesex;—never yielding to the clamour of a faction, or allowing his private feelings to influence his conduct or his vote;—that if in error, he erred in judgment and not by design; and that his votes have been as generally beneficial to his constituents' interests, and as much in accordance with their wishes and their feelings as the votes of any other member of the senate, and influenced by the strictest principles of political integrity. Having thus assigned our motives for supporting him, we shall now only add, as a matter of justice to his political, for we believe he has few, if any, personal opponents, that we pledge ourselves, if we cannot refute their positions and representations, we will become converts to their opinions, determined only to support Colonel BURWELL, or any other man, so long as, and no longer than he may appear to us to deserve it.

THE TALBOT ANNIVERSARY. On Wednesday last the TALBOT Anniversary took place at the Mansion-house Tavern, the particulars of which we would have been glad to have received from the St. Thomas Liberator of yesterday, which, from being printed on the spot, will, no doubt, contain a very interesting and detailed account of the assemblage which generally embraces the most respectable portion of both sexes, not only from that neighbourhood, but from most parts of the district; as, however, we will not receive that paper until after we go to press, we must afford such a limited account as our private sources of information afford to us. In the large dining-room of the tavern, a table was laid in the form of an M, capable of affording full accommodation to 114 persons, which, at a little after four o'clock, was occupied by a most respectable assemblage. The President, Mr. CAYLEY, presided, having the Episcopal Clergyman of St. Thomas on his right, and the Hon. Colonel TALBOT on his left hand. Colonel BURWELL, M. P., Vice President, occupied the foot of the centre table; Mr. GRYM and Mr. HEZBY RUSSELL, as Stewards, occupied each the bottom of an end table. The dinner was in quality and quantity of the best

General Election.

TO THE EDITORS OF THE TRUE PATRIOT.

Port Talbot, 19th May, 1834.

Gentlemen, You will please insert this note...

I am, Gentlemen, Your obedient servant, M. BURWELL.

INDEPENDENT FREELANDERS OF THE COUNTY OF MIDDLESEX.

GENTLEMEN, Were it not that within the last three...

different parts of the County have asked me...

the question—whether I intended to be a candidate...

for the County of Kent, at the approaching...

General Election? I should not have felt...

it necessary thus publicly to state that such...

is not, nor has it ever been, my intention. It...

is true that many of the Freelanders of Kent...

for whom personally, and for whose opinions, I...

have a high respect, have requested me to offer...

myself for that county, but I have respectfully...

declined, and uniformly told them, that I would...

rather lose an election in Middlesex, than gain...

one in a county in which I did not reside. I...

choose rather that the people, among whom I...

have lived since the commencement of their settlements...

and who have had the best opportunities of knowing...

me as a man, both in a public and private capacity...

should decide upon my fitness for a Member of Parliament...

such decisions to persons who are not so fully acquainted... with me. I am told that it had been stated in some...

of the public papers which I have not read, that I...

intended offering myself for Kent—I do not know...

what has given rise to such a statement, and I...

Lands in Upper Canada. TO BE DISPOSED OF BY THE CANADA COMPANY.

THE CANADA COMPANY have Large Tracts of LANDS to dispose of, which may be classed as follows:—

1st.—SCATTERED CROWN RESERVES. These consist of Lots or Farms of Two Hundred acres, or less, in almost every Township in the Province. They are a fair average of the other Lands in the Township, as they formerly belonged to the Crown, and were selected on a principle fixed on previous to the Lands being surveyed.

2d.—BLOCKS OF LAND. Of from Two to 16,000 acres.—These are chiefly situated in the Western District, and are of a very rich soil. They are well worthy the attention of Communities of Settlers, who, from relationship, or from neighbourhood are anxious to live together.

Among these may be mentioned the Township of Guelph, which, under the management of the Company, has been settled in an unprecedentedly short period, and contains a village of nearly 500 inhabitants and a population amounting to nearly 2,000.

3d.—THE HURON TRACT. This is a Fertile Tract of about a million of acres and already containing from 2 to 3,000 inhabitants. The Land is rich and well watered, and possesses every advantage that a Settler can require. The Town of Goderich, its capital, founded in 1828, already contains upwards of 100 houses, with good Stores;—Inns, Schools, and a Place of Worship open to all sects. A Steam-boat to communicate with Lake Erie has been built; Mills are established in various parts of the Tract; and the roads are as good as it is possible to have them in a new country.

Any further information that may be required, will be furnished at the Company's principal offices at Toronto, Guelph and Goderich, or at the following agencies in the Huron Tract.

Avon Mills, Township of S. Easthope. Bayfield Mills, Tucker Smith. McConnell's Mills, Hay. Canada Company's Office, Toronto, (late York) May 1st, 1834.

CLOVER SEED.

THIS year's growth, warranted good, for sale by LAWRASON & Co. London, 14th March, 1834.

LAND AGENCY OFFICE.

JOHN BUSTEED and BROTHERS, respectfully announce to the Public, that they have opened a General Agency Office, in connexion with their establishment of "The True Patriot" Newspaper; and that most prompt and ready attention will be paid to all commands with which they may be favoured.

The very advantageous position of the Town of Toronto, is admirably situated in one of the most populous, extensive and flourishing Districts of the Province, renders it peculiarly well adapted for a respectable Land Agency, while the advantages which the Messrs. B. possess, enable them to obtain and afford more general information than can be procured elsewhere; in constant correspondence not alone with every Town in the Province, but with the greater number of the Towns of Lower Canada, and the other portions of British North America, with the principal Ports in the States, and with the Old Country, and in constant receipt of above fifty Periodical Journals, they necessarily possess means of supplying useful and correct information both to the Emigrant desirous to purchase, and to the Proprietor wishing to dispose of his property.

They have opened a direct correspondence with the Principal Societies formed for the encouragement of emigration, and for assisting the Emigrant on his arrival, and will at all times afford every assistance in their power to the new comers. While those among them who may feel desirous to work previous to locating themselves will be pretty sure of obtaining information where they may receive employment, either as domestic servants, Labourers, Tradesmen, or Mechanics.

A Book of Registry will be kept at the office where all settlers may have their names entered, together with their place of location, &c., free of any expense, so that their friends may on enquiry immediately find them.

Persons who may want the assistance of Domestic Servants, Labouring men, or of Tradesmen & Mechanics are requested to communicate to this office, free of expense, the number of persons they may require, for what particular purpose they may be wanted, how long it is probable the employment may be continued, and the wages which they intend to pay, so that persons seeking employment may be referred to them.

No land or other property will be conveyed until the Messrs. B. have first ascertained that the title is good, so that persons purchasing through them will have no need of apprehension as to title. U. E. rights and Pensioner's location tickets will be treated for, and the possessors enabled to dispose of them conformably with the late order of Government.

Every Description of Conveyance will be executed in a legal and correct form. Office, at [The True Patriot Office] S. W. corner of the Square, where every information will be afforded by JOHN BUSTEED & BROTHERS, Proprietors.

London, U. C. March 19th, 1834.

General Election. TO THE Independent Freeholders OF THE COUNTY OF MIDDLESEX.

Your reception of my circular letter of the 25th ultimo, and personal interview with a great portion of you during my recent tour, by convincing me of your determination to assert and maintain your constitutional rights and privileges, has excited the warmest feeling of my esteem and respect, so as to insure to you my confidence and regard, and the expression of my grateful thanks.

My principles being defined by positive rules which are strictly regulated by the liberal spirit of the constitution, within such limits and improvements as are consistent with the true interests of a good government, are responded to by every man of sound sense and patriotic sentiment, with a cordiality of feeling and unity of purpose which I can venture to assert must and will undoubtedly triumph over all opposition.

I would therefore most earnestly recommend to my brother freeholders, to avoid the stigma of being regarded as factious revolutionists on the one hand, or of the mercenary time serving passive instruments of corrupt and unworthy use of power, tending to undermine and destroy the true character of that authority which they would vainly use to impose upon your understandings—that place and power were only meant to be enjoyed by a chosen few, and that honest independence was to be branded with a character of opprobrium and disgrace—but trust me, I know the country better, and that a feeling of cool reflecting determination at this moment exists amongst the Freeholders of Middlesex, which will not fail to exhibit its loyalty and attachment to our Sovereign, and prove it by supporting useful institutions, but reserving the right of the people to correct and amend all the visible imperfections of the law, to economise the public issues in every department, and generally to appropriate every available fund to improve the condition and resources of the colony in every respect.

But remember, brother Freeholders, to do this we must be active, energetic, and united. And I conclude, by assuring you, that I mean the words used in my circular, of "moderate, rational, and constitutional Reform," to extend to the correction of every abuse now existing in the representation, and to the most effective advocacy of the rights of the people.

I have still to regret my inability to obtain a list of the Freeholders from any official source, to enable me to wait upon you personally, and must claim your indulgence for the omission.

I remain, Yours very faithfully, ROBERT JOHNSTON. JOHNSTON'S, Bear Creek, Acland, May 8th, 1834.
